VALUE OF CO-OPERATION. were advanced at the recent meeting of the bone disease. Fifth is the bane Some timely hints on the above topic the Texas State Horticultural society by Professor F. W. Malley of Hulen, and Mr. C. Faulkner of Waco. The former gentleman has been doing a good work in the coast country by organizing the truckers and fruit growers by the formation of local societies. The secretaries of these societies are to keep posted as to conditions of supply and demand at the various markets for the benefit of the members, and shipment will be made accordingly. Mr. Faulkner and Mr. Malley each spoke forcibly and entertainingly on wthe necessity of organization and cooperation among orchardists. "It frequently happens," said Mr. Faulkner, "that fellow townsmen are competing against each other by sending their products to a market which perhaps is badly glutted." "At the same time each is very likely passing by nearer and smaller, though better markets, at home. This latter," said he, "is a very common mistake. It frequently happens for instance that a shipper will send his stuff to Denver or some other are on dunghills. large market, and ignore a good, flourishing little town at home where just at the time the same goods may be proper organization would obviate such mistakes as these. "I now own 400 acres, all told, of which about 200 acres are in orchard. and from time to time I expect to plant enough to reach between 300 and 400 Kiefer pears next. I also have 20 acres in berries and plums-the latter mostly Japanese, which are a great success." "Please tell something of your packing and shipping operations."

'I shipped four solid cars of fruit by fast freight during the past season, also about half a car a day by express. The solid cars, consisting mainly of Mamie Ross peaches and Burbank plums, were shipped to Chicago, Denver and Minneapolis. Express shipments during the season averaged 600 baskets and packages per day. National Live Stock Reporter: The Fort Worth Live Stock Reporter takes exception to an article of ours upon the subject of cattle export from Galveston. We have no objection to the exception. The Fort Worth people are working for the Galveston export route and we are willing to confess that we do not understand why they do it. Fort Worth, in our opinion, will lose every chance of being a great market center whenever the traffic turns south. The principal advantage Fort Worth now has 1897, C. & A......1204 cars is in being on the line of traffic be tween large supplies and greater markets and it is enabled to get-a chance to handle stock which are billed through and which Fort Worth as a market could not at present attract on its merits. When the drift of trade is towards Galveston, Fort Worth will have no attraction beyond what local interests can command and will not have any advantage over Seymour, Mineral Wells, Albany, San Angelo or Kerrville as a shipping point to Galveston and will not get a pound of cattle from the great feeding districts, as all such would go to the coast without feeding or watering at Fort Worth The people of Fort Worth had better 1896, Santa Fe 409 cars

Wonder how many voters there are in Irion county and acre and are easily rented at from $15 it will bring. How can we secure it? whether if every man, woman and shild turned out it could even be properly termed a mass meeting?

The sheepmen are probably satisfied with the duty placed on wool in the present law. That law has stood with the sole view of the largest returns. A strong endeavor is being made by opponents of the irrigation amendment to defeat the measure by urging that it jeopardizes the homestead law. The same argument would apply with equal force against the levy of any tax for educational or any other purpose from which the homestead is not exempt. The proposed amendment is of purely local option-nothing more, and if the people of any section desire to voluntarily tax themselves they should at least be allowed to express themselves accordingly.

John H. Reagan says: "From personal observation and study in the past I am fully satisfied as to the great value of irrigation as a means of increasing the number of homes for our people, which may be irrigated. In all that part of Western Texas to which the irrigation amendment will apply, farmers have been impoverished by successive years of drouth. Their lands possess all the elements of fertility. A provision that would enable them to obtain water supply when needed would give splendid success instead of wretched failure. Surely they should have the right to say whether they will impose upon themselves the tax for such provision.

Cure for Hog Cholera.

Wagoner's Disinfectant Co., of Emporia, will prevent every occurrence of cholera among hogs and will guarantee to cure 95 per cent of all cases of this most dreaded disease. We kill the germ, and the hog usually after the second dose will go to eating and get well. This preparation has had no equal in Indiana for three years. It is a dry preparation and is given in slop or dissolved in water. It the hog is too far gone to stand he must be drenched. If the instructions are followed there is no use of any one losing a si gle hog. The price of one hog which you are likely to lose will buy enough of this pre paration to cure a thousand others. TWO WISE COUNTY BOYS.

Dear Mrs. Buchanan: We live near Bridgeport, in Wise county. Papa is a farmer. Me and my brother Virgil went with him the other day over to Decatur. It was the first time we had been in Decatur since the new court house was put up. It is very fine. We met Mr. Collins and papa signed for the Journal. We have received one copy and very well pleased with it. Household department.

Dear Mrs. Buchanan and Household Friends: Since writing you last I have We boys, Virgil and myself, like the been one of a pleasant party which spent a few days at the little seaside town of Corpus Christi. Perhaps I can give you an idea of what the town is like. Near the bay the ground is very low. This is the business part of town. Further back is a considerable elevation, termed the bluff. From the bluff one can command a good view of the surrounding country. On moonlight nights the tranquil bay is like a great sea of silver extending far beyond the scope of human vision. Situated in this part of town are many beautiful dwellings. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet line@meta

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Pill Clothes.

The good pill has a good coat. The pill coat serves two purposes; it protects the pill, enabling it to retain all its remedial value, and it disguises the taste for the palate. Some pill coats are too heavy; they will not dissolve in the stomach, and the pills they cover pass through the system as harmless as a bread pellet. Other coats are too light, and permit the speedy deterioration of the pill. After 30 years exposure, Ayer's Sugar Coated Pills have been found as effective as if just fresh from the laboratory.
