BIG PACKERIES AT FORT WORTH.

Next week, during the Cattlemen's convention, the cornerstones of the big packing plants to be built at Fort Worth by Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. will be laid. The ceremonies are expected to attract a large number of distinguished visitors and John W. Springer of Denver, president of the National Livestock association, has been invited to deliver an address.

The location of the big plants in Texas is welcomed by both the cattlemen and the farmers of the state. Since the earliest development of the cattle interests of Texas the cattlemen have been forced to seek northern markets in order to dispose of their animals. The demand of the small packeries in Texas heretofore has been insufficient to materially affect the market for Texas cattle. The long hauls, delays and shrinkage incident to shipments to northern markets have caused very heavy losses to the Texas cowmen who have long hoped to see the establishment of a home market. The feeding of Texas cattle for market has been left in the hands of a few men, rarely being attempted by the small cattlemen and never by the farmers. Feeding operations are in the main carried on at the oil mills. When a Texas market is established it will enable the farmers to fatten their cattle on the farms and ship them direct to the packing points.

The swine growing industry of Texas is yet in its infancy but it is capable of remarkable development and the opening of a Texas market will do more to encourage hog raising on the farms than anything else that could be devised.

The swift and Armour companies are known throughout the entire world where American meat products are consumed, and that they have entered the Texas field gives assurance of its full development.

The cut shown on this page is of the Swift plant at Fort Worth as it will appear when completed.

The Swift packing house will stand about where the hotel and exchange building at the Fort Worth stock yards has stood for many years. The hotel is to be moved down the street railway track to the foot of the hill and a substantial brick building erected in a substantial brick building erected instead of the present wooden structure.

Each of the new packing plants is to have ten acres of ground, and the Armour plant is to be erected along the route of the street railway beyond the Swift plant.

The present stock yards pens, as soon as the fat stock show is over, will be torn up and the ground will be given up to railway yards and switches. The new stock pens will be laid out on a 40-acre tract of land lying west of the packing house locations, and the yards will be fully equipped with sheds, alleys, water, and up-to-date improvements of all kinds. No better yards, it is claimed, will be found in any market in the country than the new Fort Worth yards when completed.

The contracts for the greater part of the material for the new packing houses have been let and the work on each is to be pushed as rapidly as is consistent with the erection of first class buildings. The plants will be fitted throughout with new machinery of the finest type and when finished are to be model institutions of their kind. Each plant will have a capacity of 500 head of cattle and 2500 head of hogs daily.

The old packing plant at the Fort Worth yards, it is understood, will become the property of the Armour company. What disposition of it will be made has not yet been announced.

Both the Armour and the Swift companies have immense packing plants at Chicago, Kansas City and other points and their brands of meat products are recognized as the standard for American meats the world over. Both companies have been long looking to Texas as a fruitful field for packing operations. The Armour people took the lead in the developments at Fort Worth but they were speedily joined by the Swift company and the two companies have since worked in perfect harmony though the two plants are to be run as entirely separate institutions.

From 1890 until his death in 1901, Kirk B. Armour, the famous Hereford breeder, was general manager of the Kansas City plant of the Armour company. He was succeeded by his brother, Chas. B. Armour, who is also the present owner of the Kirk B. Armour Hereford herd.

College Station, Tex., Feb. 28.
To the Journal:
The following brief report is given for the benefit of the farmers in the grain belt in advance of the regular official report.

For the past two months almost daily inspections of wheat fields in the "green bug" infested counties, have failed to reveal a single specimen. Many rumors have been circulated. These have been traced down in as many instances as possible and in all cases has not been found that some other insect has been mistaken for the so-called "green bug." After careful investigation I feel assured that except for special unforeseen climate or seasonal developments from date, there will be no recurrence of the "green bug" this season. The fall and early winter were unusually dry and warm, as also are present weather conditions. All of these conditions have been and still are against "green bug" development. Furthermore, the time for their first appearance is really already past, and there is every reason to believe that the grain crops this year are safe from "green bug" attack.

Concerning the wheat mite or the so-called "red spider" will say that the oat crop which is being sown now is entirely safe from its ravages. The mite begins hatching from eggs in November and December, and hence lands which have not had a growing crop during or since that time are perfectly safe for sowing oats now. Owing to the mite being wingless its ravages are confined to spots, from which, as centers of infection, it gradually spreads further and further. Just now many of the older mites have finished egg-laying and are disappearing, but before many weeks there will be thousands in the infested spots, where there is now one. Oats not sown close to infested spots in adjoining wheat fields are perfectly safe from the "red spider" attack this season. There is therefore no reason from the standpoint of the known insect pests why a full acreage of oats should not be sown. With high prices prevailing, and the Texas harvest the first to enter the new market, it would seem that now, of all times, is the time to put in large acreages of this grain crop.

EXCELLENCE

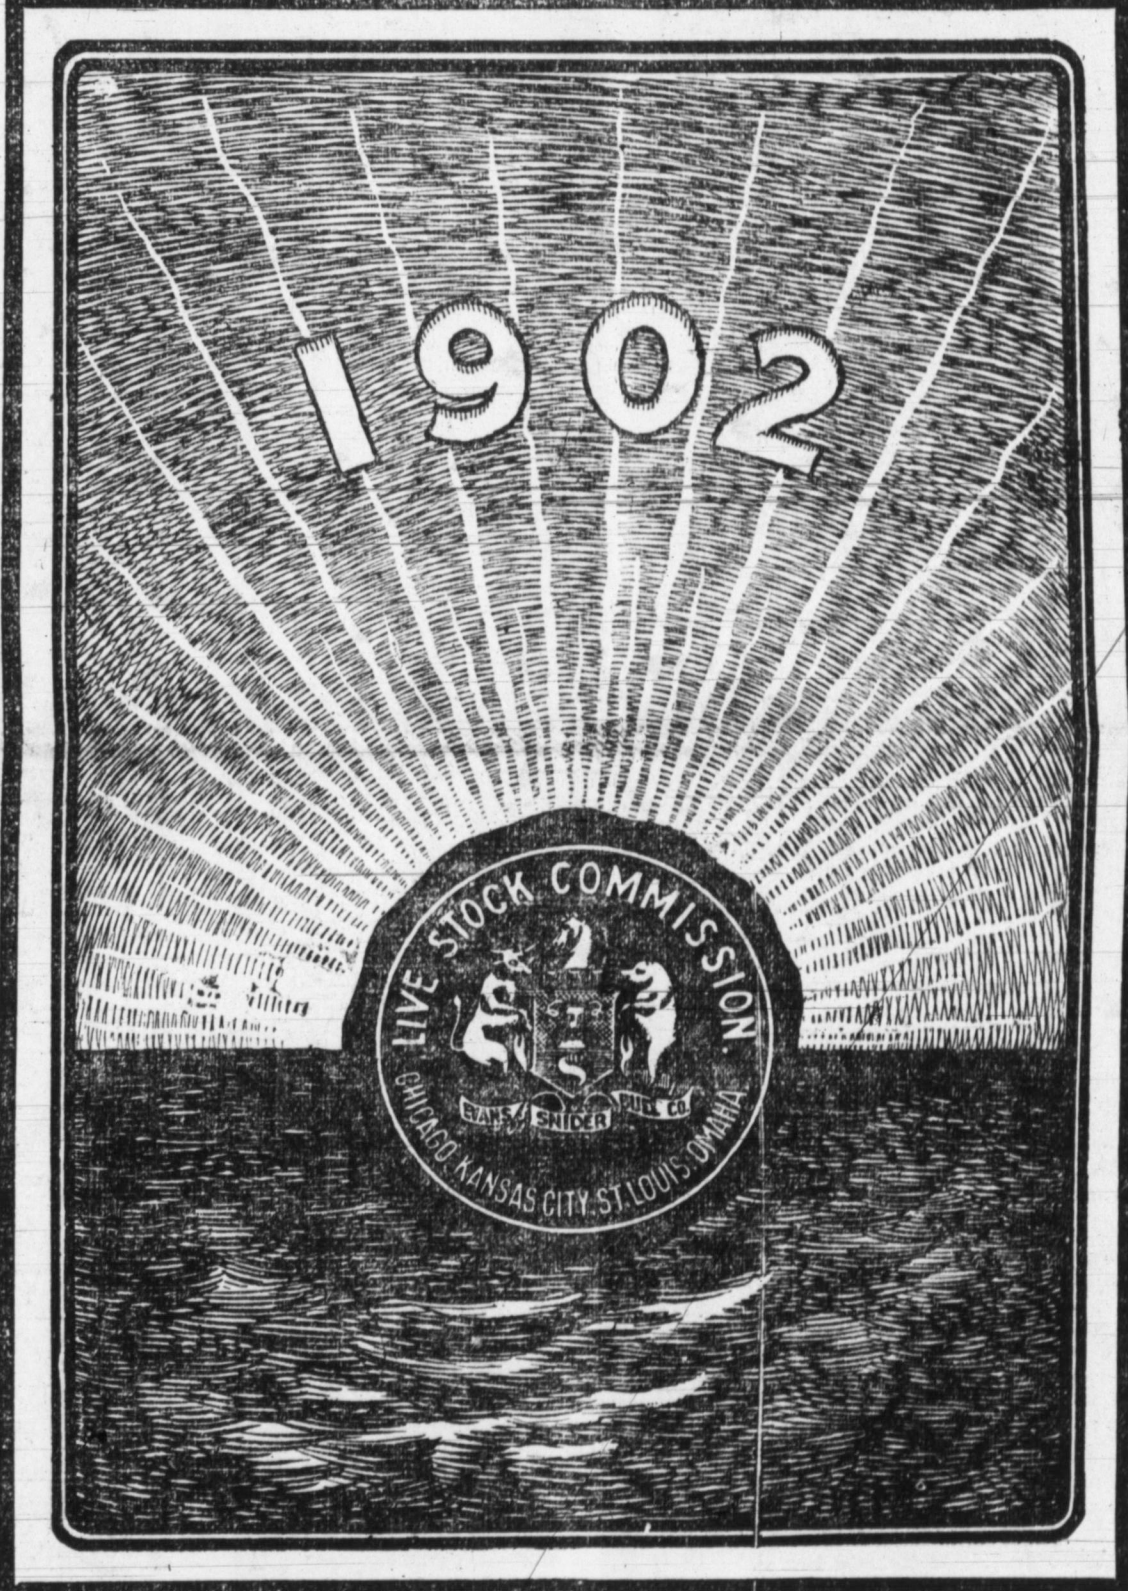

Is Our Guiding Watchword.

THE intelligent, wide-awake, up-to-date raiser, feeder and shipper of live stock who demands competent, prompt and profitable service must necessarily patronize a house that can and does furnish the high class facilities and ability required to make the live stock business a success.

The shrewdest handler of cattle, hogs and sheep will certainly seek the house that has made a successful business record. Ours is a growth of twenty-five years of constant, painstaking, faithful work in the interest of patrons. Thousands testify to the wisdom of our advice; the accuracy of our market reports, and the truthfulness of our information, all furnished regularly, promptly and free.

Our devotion to Texas business and the appreciative manner in which her people have responded to our efforts to please and satisfy, have placed us far and away in the lead of all houses doing business in this State, and we desire an opportunity to prove how highly we value TEXAS TRADE. A shipment of one car load or a train load will enable us to do this.

Our salesmen of Texas cattle are specially engaged to do that and nothing else. They are men of brains and wide experience, and they bring to this department a high degree of broad common sense and intelligence that is absolutely unequalled when it comes to judgment of markets, values, and the BEST TIME TO SHIP.

Your name and post-office address filed with us will put you in touch with the best system of market information extant, and with people whose every moment is devoted to the watchful, personal care of your interests and business.

If this kind of consideration is vital to your success, can you afford to be without it? We think not.

SPECIAL FRIENDS OF THE TEXAS LIVE STOCK TRADE.

During the convention of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association in Fort Worth next week ceremonies will be held marking the beginning of a new era in the livestock industry of Texas.

How such a measure could be termed class legislation in the face of the passage of the anti-oleomargarine bill, imposing infinitely greater restrictions, is a little hard to understand.

It is highly probable that at the cattlemen's convention next week some other cities will attempt to capture the meeting for 1903, but Fort Worth is the home of the Cattle Raisers' association and it is not greatly inclined to run after foreign household gods.

A reward of 5000 pounds has been offered by the department of agriculture of Queensland for the discovery of a method for the eradication of the prickly pear in that country.

The anti-oleomargarine bill proposes a reduction in the tax on the uncolored product, which is the kind largely purchased by the creameries, while a prohibitive tax is placed on the colored article.

The dignity of the senate was of course greatly shocked by the Tillman-McLaurin outbreak, but no doubt there was enough sporting blood in the senate to cause a lot of distinguished statesmen to crowd up in order to get shocked.

fact that it will be brought up without the house amendments may in the end tend to weaken it in the senate and give it less support than it would have otherwise received in the upper house of congress.

The southern senators, who realize the injustice imposed by the bill on the farmers and stockmen of the South, will at least not allow it to become a law without an effort to defeat it.

THE SHODDY BILL

Notwithstanding the fact that the anti-oleomargarine bill, which is class legislation of the most pronounced type, was passed by the house by a considerable majority, the opposition to the shoddy bill is making "class legislation" its chief cry and apparently has a fair chance to defeat the measure on that ground.

The shoddy bill, which was introduced by Congressman Grosvenor, is the bill which was indorsed by the National Live Stock association and was designed to protect the wool growers of the West and the purchasers of mixed and woolen goods from impostors.

The bill simply demands that goods containing shoddy shall be plainly marked so as to show such content.

It is said that Miss Stone has already been offered $35,000 for six magazine articles. Being held by brigands must be great for developing literary ability.

The British papers have again announced that the Boers are practically subdued and the British government has placed an order for 5000 more Texas horses for cavalry service in South Africa.

THE BABY'S BEDTIME

Sweet the children in the morning, in their dainty frocks of red and blue, or gowns of simple white; In their play in the yard or on the lawn, But they're sweetest when their bedtime, and they get their "nightsies" on.

Oh, the clear notes of their laughter, and the patter of their feet, As they romp and chase each other in the moonlight, and the stars are bright, Gives a hint of faint suspicion of the world that they're "nightsies" on.

PICKWICK, Terrell, Tex.—Frances Hodgson Burnett is now Mrs. Stephen Townsend. She resides in England. Her husband is a successful writer also.

SARAH, Austin, Tex.—Avoid cheap colored glassware as you would hair cloth furniture or paper flowers. Yes, we are told that a fine glass should be kept in a close cabinet and handled very little, but it seems there would be little pleasure in possessing pretty things merely for a distant view of them.

BLU-GRASS GIRL, Ardmore, I. T.—The author of "My Old Kentucky Home" is John R. Collier. He is a native of Pennsylvania. Foster was the son of a farmer. He made a fair fortune from his songs, but was dissipated and died in poverty when only thirty-eight.

CARRIE NATION 2, Ballard, Tex.—I'm sorry, but I haven't time to join in your crusade; I'll lend you a hatchet, however. After all, is the saloon keeper the only man who makes trouble? "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink, remember."

self? Why, you poor thing! You do look a-wful! Now a "hounded" looking-glass had told me that until I had barely refrained from shattering it, I knew it was true, but if she had said, "I think you have picked up a little since I saw you last," I would have liked her better, though I knew it to be a pious lie. But she went on, "it's this steam heat; it is going to kill you all."

Black and white combinations will be worn again the coming season, and separately, both black and white retain their old supremacy over colors.

With the new spring millinery, we will again see the graceful style of lace or chiffon falling from the back of the hat to rest on the back of the hair.

ODDS AND ENDS

MISS STONE has at last been released. She can now retire to a country mansion and live the rest of her days telling us all about it through the columns of the popular magazines.

THE LATEST fad originated by King Edward is vaccination, smallpox being prevalent in London. The king wears, as do all vaccinated Londoners, a narrow ribbon around the sleeve as a sign to the passerby that the arm must be "handled with care."

REAR ADMIRAL Mrs. Schley has been presented with a mahogany piano, "on the sly." The piano was delivered with an unsigned note from the unknown donor, and no clue to his identity has been discovered.

THE BILL introduced by Congressman Grosvenor, of Ohio, and known as the "shoddy bill," proposes that every yard of cloth, carpets, blankets, dress goods, and all knit goods, produced in woolen mills and containing any cotton, reworked wool or other "filling" shall bear a tag stating the facts of the case, and giving the exact proportion of wool and other material in the bargain counter. Can we give up the protection of the buyer of wool goods, so-called. But it will be violently opposed by the feminine world if it curtail the delights of the bargain counter.

ROOSEVELT'S informal manner has brought upon him much criticism of the kind that makes the critic more ridiculous than the one criticized. Some one tells a story now that when "an exalted personage" called on him, he found him just returning from a walk "with soft hat on his head."

The water problem is a question that confronts the farmer, the stockman and the business man. Water is an absolute necessity to all of us. David Harrell of Austin, proprietor of the Durbin herd of Short horns, reports the following sales: To Eckhardt & Son, Yorktown, 2 bulls; to G. J. Uppright, Manor, Texas, 5 heifers, among them a 12-months Scotch heifer at $400; to Mr. Rainey of Bonham, 5 heifers and two bulls. Mr. Rainey paying $300 for the yearling Scotch bull, Austin Herd. Mr. Harrell writes: "The demand for Shorthorns is very brisk and I look for a rousing sale in Fort Worth at the Texas Breeders' first sale now have consigned 3 heifers and 2 bulls and extra good ones. I expect to see some record prices at the sale March 13th. Everybody is going to the stock show."

W. R. Boldt of Rabke, DeWitt county, writes: "The first of March has come as a dream but spring is a good way from here yet. The prairie is looking as brown as in January. But cattle have wintered remarkably well. No losses are reported from poverty and only a few cases of blackleg as usual every spring. There is not much doing in cattle trading yet but there are some consigned to the yearling steers and old cows. Prices for yearlings only are reported to be $11.50 for April delivery. Farmers are making good progress. Corn is about all planted. Some are talking about planting cotton next week. We have had good rains that put the ground in good shape to plant all kinds of crops. All we need is more warm weather. We had tremendous sandstorm the 27th of February that blew away all loose ground in sandy land. The air was almost dark with sand."

Ben Sowell of Crockett county has sold his ranch and cattle to Wm. Childers, receiving $3000 for the ranch and $15 a head for the cattle.

J. D. Earnest of Mitchell county has sold to Bourn & Shannon 100 cows at $16 around, April delivery.

A dispatch from Uvalde, Tex., says: Like T. Pryor left here yesterday for San Antonio. Mr. Pryor has closed a deal with the Western Union Beef company for its 7-D ranch, containing some $6,000 acres. This land lies in Lavigne and Zavalla counties. The price paid for this land is said to be $2 per acre.

The press committee for the Texas Cattle Raisers' association, which is to meet next week, has issued the following: The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association will be convened in Fort Worth on the second Tuesday (11th) in March. The indications are that it will be the largest in point of attendance of any in the history of the organization. This important occasion is the greatest organization of its kind in the world. Its membership exceeds thirteen hundred, and the amount of capital invested by its members has been said to exceed that of the Standard Oil company. Its members are made up of cattlemen from many states and territories and the annual gatherings are attended by representatives of the industry from a large number of states and territories. It is the business organization, its objects and aims are mutual benefit to each other. The meetings held every March are marked by business. The cattlemen meet each other, trade and traffic, and for this reason the attendance of the annual session can be depended on to reach into the several thousands.

Fort Worth this year is promised an enormous crowd, and the executive committee says that when the word "enormous" is used it is done so advisedly. Already hundreds of letters have been received here reserving rooms and accommodations at the leading hotels for the meeting.

Delegations will be on hand from Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Omaha, Denver, and other live stock points. The commission men will predominate in all of these delegations, but from Chicago advice are received to the effect that John A. Spoor, president of the national stock yards company, will accompany General Manager A. G. Leonard, General Agent W. E. Skinner and others in a special car. It will be his first trip to Texas.

St. Louis will be represented by General Manager Charles T. Jones, Assistant General Manager L. W. Krake, Traffic Manager Oliver F. Brown and others. From Kansas City will come General Manager Eugene Rust of the stock yards company and a number of livestock commission men. The St. Joseph crowd will be headed by M. B. Erwin of the stock yards company. Information received from Denver is to the effect that President John W. Springer and Secretary Charles F. Martin of the national association, Fred P. Johnson, editor of the official organ of the association, together with a dozen or more representatives of the stock yards will come down in a special car.

It is the opinion of many of the cattlemen that a large number of deals will be made at this session. In view of the fact that comparatively few trades have been made up to this time. Where negotiations are pending they invariably answer "meet me at Fort Worth and we will do business there." It is stated by those in a position to know that buyers from the northwest will be on hand for the purpose of buying stuff for their grazed the Dakotas.

The feature of this year's meeting and the one of paramount importance to the citizens of Fort Worth and

WORMS IN HOGS.

Swine plague, Hog Cholera, etc., yearly kill a great many hogs, but also many die each year simply from worms, and in nearly every instance the loss is laid to the real cause. A hog will support a certain number of worms without apparent injury, but he will not make the same gain on the same amount of feed, for part of the feed goes to support them—and this year feed is too high to give to worms—but in a great many cases the worms get too numerous and they prey on the animal itself, then comes paralysis of hind quarters, coughing, loss of appetite and general decline in condition. The hog is losing instead of gaining flesh. Now we haven't any remedy for genuine hog cholera, but SECURITY WORM POWDER for hogs is the best remedy on earth for worms. It has surprised a great many feeders to find that worms, not cholera, was affecting their hogs—it may be the same with you. Don't take chances of loss, but when first symptoms appear, ask your dealer or write us for SECURITY WORM POWDER for hogs, and if you are not satisfied with it, we will refund your money.

HEREFORD BREEDERS TO MEET.

To the Journal: You please state that the third annual meeting of the Texas Hereford association will be held at Fort Worth, March 11, at Hotel Wirth, 8 p. m. All breeders of pure-bred Hereford cattle are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Anyone owning one registered female is entitled to become a member.

A western writer says: "It has been said that for big money, breed horses; for sure money, cattle; but, for quick money, hogs." Yet to-day we might combine all three sayings in the latter, as the breeding and feeding of hogs more assuredly pays the general farmer better, surer and quicker than any of our domestic animals, not even barring the hen or dairy cow."

MARKETS

FORT WORTH. (Reported by the Fort Worth Live-stock Commission Co.) Fort Worth, Tex., March 3.—The receipts of hogs the past week were more liberal than the week before and while the northern markets were depressed the first of the week, we sold top hogs at $6.25. The northern market came in 5 to 10c higher on hogs today and there is practically no change in our quotations since our last week's market letter. We feel safe in saying you will get more money on your hogs here than any other market.

As shown by our last week's sales the receipts of cattle on our market were more liberal this week and the quality ranging all the way from canner cows and steers and bulls to the finest kind of fat steers and a few offerings of well fattened cows and prices have ruled higher all around. Our butcher market is on as high basis as it has been for years. Fed cattle are rapidly thinning out of the feed lots and we look for still higher prices on the good kinds. We quote our market as follows:

Choice fat steers $3.50@4.00, medium $3.00@3.25, choice fat cows $3.00@3.25, medium $2.25@2.75, bulls, stags and calves $1.75@2.50, canners $1.25@2.00; choice sorted hogs $6.10@6.25, heavy mixed hogs $5.75@5.90, light mixed hogs, 125 pounds and up, $5.25@5.50.

DALLAS. (Reported by the National Livestock Commission Co.) Dallas, Tex., March 3.—Receipts of both cattle and hogs have been very light for the past week, and what were on the market were of poor quality. There was not a top load of steers or cows on the market. The packing houses and wholesale butchers are all short on butcher stuff, and something good would sell readily at prices quoted. Strictly finished heavy steers would sell for $4.25@4.75, and top cows and heifers at $3.25@3.50. Demand is also good on feeders, stags and bulls. The supply of hogs was not half sufficient to meet the demand, and everything offered found ready sale at strong prices. The week closed on the same basis as the opening, the decline reported on Tuesday and Wednesday being regained. We did not have any top hogs in the offerings last week to test the market, the best sale made being $6.00. Our market is badly in need of more hogs, and we will appreciate any consignment you have to offer. Northern markets reported to-day as follows: Chicago, 30,000 hogs, 10 to 15c higher; 17,000 cattle, strong; Kansas City, 40,000 hogs, steady to 5c higher; 5,000 cattle, steady to strong. Quotations as follows:

Prime steers, 1000@1300 lbs, $4.25@4.75; choice steers, 800 lbs up, $3.25@4.25; stockers and feeders, $2.25@3.00; choice cows, 1000 lbs up, $3.25@3.50; choice heifers, $2.00@3.25; medium fat cows, $2.50@3.00; fair to good cows, $2.25@2.75; choice mutton, $3.00@3.50; bulls, $2.00@3.00; canners, $1.00@2.00; sorted hogs, 200 lbs up, $6.00@6.25; choice hogs, 170 lbs up, $5.85@6.00; mixed packers, 150 lbs up, $5.75@5.85; rough heavy hogs, $5.45@5.75; light fat hogs, $4.15@5.35; masted hogs, $3.50@4.00.

NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, La., March 1.—Receipts the past week have been light, and especially so of fat steers and cows; the demand has been active and HORSE.

An order has been placed by the British government with stockmen in the vicinity of El Paso for 500 head of horses and mares to be used in the service in South Africa.

At a meeting of the San Antonio Horse Show association held last week, it was decided to incorporate with a capital of $5000 and apply for a charter as soon as possible. The date for holding the first show was fixed on April 21, to continue three days. D. J. Woodward was elected president, Homer Ladd vice president and D. J. Strauss secretary.

J. Haines says: When a horse balks, no matter how bad he sulks or how ugly he is, do not beat him, do not throw sand in his ears, don't use a rope on his front legs or even burn straw under him. Quietly go and pat him on the head for a moment, take a hammer, or even pick up a stone; take the reins and hold them quietly while you lift up either front foot. Give each nail a light tap and a good smart tap on the frog, drop his foot quickly and then chirp him to go. In 99 cases out of 100 the horse will go right along about his business, but the driver must keep his lines taut and not pull or jerk him back.

We illustrate in this issue a pumping engine recently put on the market by the Weber Gas and Gasoline Engine Co., Box 1114 Kansas City, Mo. The exclusive business of this company for the past sixteen years has been the building of gas and gasoline engines. A novel feature in this little engine is that it is shipped from the factory crated up with all the necessary water and gasoline tanks, pipe fittings and fixtures attached all ready to bolt down and go to work. There is no erecting for the purchaser to do, and it is unnecessary for him to employ a skilled mechanic to set the engine up. Full instructions accompany each engine for setting and operating.

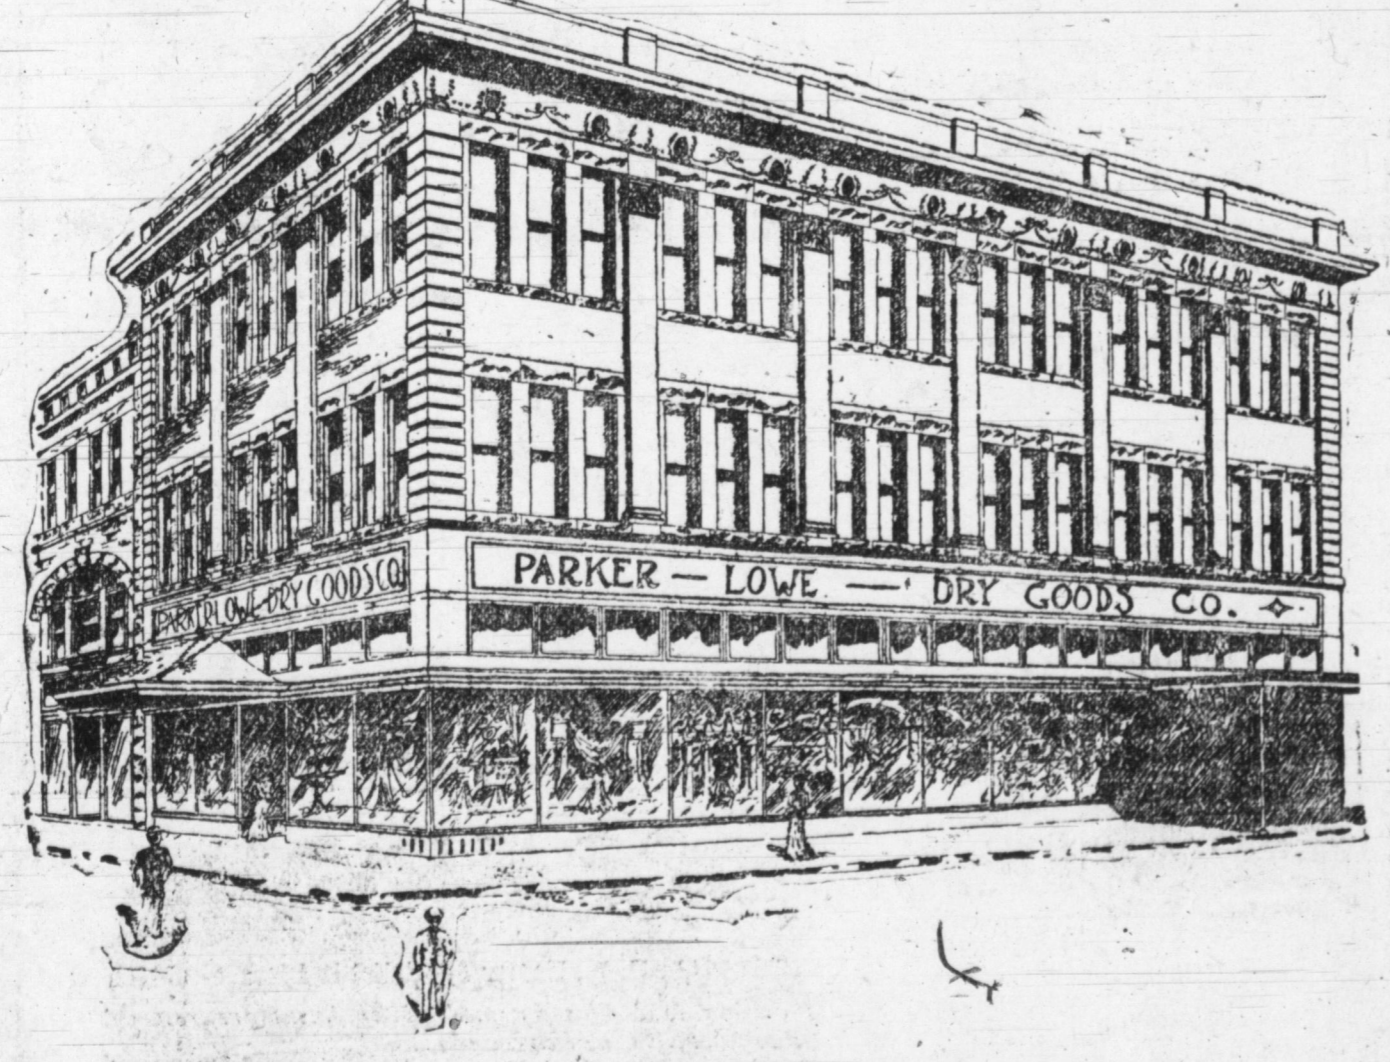

A remarkable feature in this engine is that parties who only need one horse power will find it to advantage

PROGRESSIVE INSTITUTION.

A concern that expects to build up a business in this day of rapid advancement must be progressive. If anything must be done, it must be done in a way that is profitable to the investor. The fact is, the progressive institution is the one that is most likely to succeed. It is the one that is most likely to be profitable. It is the one that is most likely to be successful. It is the one that is most likely to be a success.

PARKER-LOWE D. G. CO.'S NEW STORE

THE BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME OF THE PARKER-LOWE DRY GOODS COMPANY.

This beautiful building, located on the corner of Seventh and Houston, rises three stories above the sidewalk, and with a full and complete basement makes a virtually a four-story building. It is of buff brick, trimmed with Lueders limestone, buff terracotta being used for the base and capitals of columns and for the cornice, over one hundred feet of the frontage being devoted to show windows, and under these the windows for lighting the basement. To aid in lighting the basement, prismatic lights are set in the sidewalk and a prism curtain suspended from the ceiling for deflecting the light to the darkest corner of the room; the end of the deep show window is filled with a French plate mirror, the walls covered with art burials. They are lighted by over one hundred incandescence lamps, backed by corrugated mirror reflectors.

The entrance to the store is protected by a canopy covered with Spanish tiles and suspended by heavy chains. On entering the store the visitor is impressed with the idea that no expense has been spared in the interior fittings, the spacious stairway to the bargain basement is surrounded by shelving of polished plate-glass enclosed by plate-glass walls and mirrors, so that the view across the store is unobstructed; back of this is the counter showing in the modern style of low fixtures, surmounted by a plate-glass case for the display of lace, trimmings, ribbons, etc. From this section a pneumatic tube station carries the cash to the office.

On the left of the entrance is the most unique feature of the store. This section is devoted to the display of gloves. The counter is topped with a single sheet of plate-glass under which is a display of first-class gloves; above the glove cabinet is another display case with handsome nickel fixtures; adjoining this is the silk department with showcases above, next the dress goods, wash goods, linens, etc.

On the right of the entrance is the handsome plate-glass umbrella cabinet; adjoining this the hostery and underwear section, surmounted by plate-glass cases with nickel fixtures; "silent salesman" showcases line both sides of the center section.

One of the features of the store is the glass front shelving built on the plan of the sectional bookcases, the fronts lift up and slide back out of the way; all trimmings, laces, embroideries, white goods and napkins are protected in this manner. The showcases on this floor are lighted by electricity; the wood work in the entire building is a quarter-sawn olive oak. An Otis elevator carries one to the Mezzanine floor, where are located the cashiers. The office department, the bookkeepers, the proprietors' office, and the ladies' writing room. This latter feature is the one that is most unique. The room overlooks the store, and is furnished with a white velvet carpet, easy chairs, desk and stationery of the handsomest and newest design. The offices of the firm are on the top floor.

It is a beautiful, home-like place, having no equal in Texas. No drugs, no knife is used in any case. Hundreds have been cured here during the last three years, of the very worst diseases and deformities combined. Science is the remedy used. Everything without drugs, and proves Dr. Duncan the wonder of Texas, and superior to all others in the West. Electric lights all through. Everything is modern and up-to-date. Newly furnished throughout. Many Fort Worth people who have been afflicted with diseases pronounced incurable, will gratefully remember this picture of the Sanitarium, as the place where they were cured by Dr. Duncan, who alone in Fort Worth understands this method that has become unanimously popular.

TEA CULTIVATION

IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Harold Weddell of London, Eng., visited a number of South Texas points last week on a tour of inspection to determine the adaptability of the soil for tea growing. He is largely engaged in tea culture in Ceylon and India. Through the experiments made in South Carolina he recently became interested in America as a possible tea growing country. Speaking of the experiments in South Carolina he said:

"An invitation was recently extended to me to visit Pinehurst tea estate at Summerville, S. C., by Dr. Chas. Shepard, the proprietor who is experimenting with the possibility of tea culture with the aid of the United States government department of agriculture. Summerville is situated 23 miles from Charleston, S. C., a most delightful spot surrounded with lofty pine trees. The soil is admirably adapted for tea growing, being rich and loamy. Dr. Shepard has found that tea can be grown in America, but admits that better results could be obtained further south, where more even temperature predominates and less disposed to sudden changes where the thermometer does not reach below 25 degrees Fahrenheit. Pinehurst is divided into several sections of tea growing, owing to experiments in the seed obtained from India, Ceylon, China and Japan, both hybrid and indigenous. The best results so far obtained are from Dayeeling seed, a hill region of India. But excellent results have been obtained from seed which the United States government procured from a celebrated tea estate in China, known as Dragon's food, where the tea is never exported, being entirely consumed by wealthy Chinese. The tea bushes are grown to a height of about four feet and are vigorously pruned and all the soil is sub-drained. Dr. Shepard is an enthusiast and benefactor to his countrymen in undertaking so thoroughly a research in tea cultivation. His motives are purely for the advancement of scientific discovery, without pecuniary gain to himself. And the United States department of agriculture, realizing this, offer every possible aid to facilitate him in furthering the industry. The main difficulty now that is to be overcome, being the cost of production on a basis of competition, to meet foreign grown tea is labor, as the heathen and Hindoos receive wages about equal to 8 cents per diem. However, Dr. Shepard has nearly overcome this obstacle by the employment of several negro children, who live with their parents on the tea estate. The children are educated and fed, which in turn is another step toward the solution of the negro problem. The children are taught to pick the leaf and in many ways are well adapted in the tea fields. "No expense has been spared at Pinehurst in adopting modern machinery for drying and preparing the leaf after it is picked. Having imported from England the very best tea machinery in use in India and Ceylon, Dr. Shepard has recently completed a machine of his own invention, whereby green tea can be made without the handling as in vogue in China. Its simplicity appears at once to those understanding the manufacture of tea. There is absolutely no sense in artificially coloring tea green, as it comes from China and Japan. The flavor can be obtained naturally with the aid of Dr. Shepard's machine.

"The cultivation of tea is undoubtedly feasible in America, and if carried out on a large scale and the expense of labor saved, there is no reason to doubt that in course of time it would become a great and paying industry. One of the important facts is that the tea plant lives longer than a human being and can be gathered from when over 100 years old. We begin to gather the leaf at five years old, but Dr. Shepard told me that he had so cultivated and grown it that he gathered the leaf and it was good after one year."

Mrs. Rebecca Fortune of Pella, Montague county, Texas, who has been totally blind for seven or eight years, has recently been in Fort Worth, seeking treatment that would restore her sight. Her blindness was caused by a cataract and all treatment previous to coming to Fort Worth had proved fruitless. It appeared that she would be compelled to spend the remainder of her life in darkness. The operation necessary in her case, is a very delicate as well as difficult one, the eyeball having to be cut open in order to remove the cataract. Under the treatment of Drs. Frank Mullens and W. C. Mullens, 600 Main street, who performed a successful operation removing the cataract and restoring her sight. This is certainly a very remarkable operation considering the age of the lady, she being in her seventy-sixth year, and the strongest possible endorsement of the skill of these specialists, that she should be restored to sight without much suffering or any serious complications. In expressing her gratification over the results of the operation, the lady said that the pleasure of looking even for one time, on those whose faces she had not seen in eight years, more than compensated her, and that in truth her joy was indescribable. It is confidently believed that she will have entirely recovered from the effects of the operation in a few days.

A great deal of the stock man's attention is required to the matter of providing his cattle with a good supply of water. In a great majority of cases it is necessary for this water to be pumped, and consequently the should be very much interested in the character and quality of machinery that he buys. The Texas Challenge Wind Mill Co. of Dallas makes a specialty of furnishing only the best goods on the market for pumping purposes, and they devote their attention exclusively to wind mills and gasoline engines. Stock men attending the fat stock show would do well to run over to Dallas and post themselves on the quality of goods that this reliable company handles.

THE ACHIEVEMENT OF A QUARTER OF A CENTURY.

The inexorable law of progress teaches us that, after all, commercial prestige is only a question of the survival of the fittest. This seems to us not only a fair proposition, but clearly a just one as applied to the efforts of mankind and the manner in which he exercises his intelligence and energies in the direction of accomplishing all that he undertakes. Our faith and belief in the part of rewarding those who truly and honestly work by designating them fittest to survive, is strongly emphasized when we look around us and observe the wide difference in the way business men work and the results they accomplish. For instance, when we see a wide-awake, hustling concern keeping fully abreast of the times and reaching out for the lead at all times, and then keeping it; when we see this same concern lending all possible assistance and encouragement to those engaged in the industry it represents; when its reputation and service are all that could be desired—its business methods up to date, its patrons and friends invariably have only good things to say about it, and its business men work as winners in every feature and detail; then, we say, such a concern engages our attention and approval and justly deserves to succeed. We have such houses on our lists, but none answers our idea of the "fittest to survive" any more clearly nor more nearly the highest ideal of a high-class commercial concern than that widely-known and popular livestock commission house, Evans-Snyder-Buel company, with offices in St. Louis, Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha. See the full page advertisement of this immensely up-to-date concern in this issue of the Journal. Its officers, salesmen and shareholders value the splendid Texas business the company has built up in the past twenty-five years, and many of them come to Texas every year and attend the annual meetings of our livestock associations for the purpose of personally meeting patrons and friends and the trade generally. The Journal unhesitatingly declares its faith in such a concern, and believes it is entitled to the most substantial support that the livestock people of Texas can accord it. We heartily commend this progressive company to the people of this great commonwealth, because we are sure it is worthy of our esteem, confidence and business.

I CURE DISEASES

THAT DESTROY MANHOOD

Varicocele, Stricture, Contagious Blood Poison, Nervous Debility and All Reflex Complications and Associate Diseases and Weaknesses of Men.

The man who has been positively cured of a malignant malady peculiar to his sex knows that a great light has been lifted from his life. He realizes that he has at last escaped from that slavery which has so long held him captive, and which has ever been a stumbling block in the way of his social success and business prosperity. Having thus regained the great God-given power of complete manhood, he re-enters the race for life with renewed hope, ambition and courage, and with that vim and vigor which make victory possible, in every undertaking. This has been the happy experience of regions of men whom I have recently cured for life of Varicocele, Specific Blood Poison, Nervous-Sexual Debility and associate reflex diseases. In the treatment of cases of this character, my success has been called "phenomenal," but it is only natural and what should be expected from a physician who possesses special knowledge, expert skill, vast experience, thorough scientific equipments and an earnest, industrious mind conscientiously devoted to the welfare of his-patients.

VARICOCELE

Under my treatment this insidious disease readily disappears. Pain ceases almost instantly. The pools of stagnant blood are driven from the dilated veins and all soreness and swelling quickly subside. Every indication of Varicocele soon vanishes, and in its stead come the pride, the power and the pleasure of perfect health and restored manhood.

STRICTURE

My cure dissolves the Stricture completely and removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, allays all inflammation, stops every discharge, reduces the prostate gland, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys, invigorates the weakened organs and restores health and soundness to every part of the body affected by the disease.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

My special form of treatment is practically the result of my life work, and is endorsed by the best physicians of this and foreign countries. It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicines of any kind. It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of impurity. Soon every sign and symptom disappear completely and forever. The blood, the tissue, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed, purified and restored to perfect health and the patient prepared anew for the duties and pleasures of life.

WEAK MEN

I can restore your lost vitality. All disorders of the Nervous System arising from excesses of any kind and associated with symptoms of exhaustion, General Debility, Nervousness, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Loss of Memory, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Irritability of Temper, Sexual Weakness and other functional disorders, yield to my method of treatment with surprising rapidity.

LOST MANHOOD I have a copyright given me by the Government on a remedy for Lost Manhood and Seminal Emissions which never fails to cure. Will give a thousand dollars for any case I take and fail to cure if patient follows my instructions.

REFLEX DISEASES Many ailments are reflex, originating from other diseases. For instance, organic weakness sometimes comes from Varicocele or Stricture, innumerable blood and bone diseases often result from contagious taints in the system or physical or mental decline frequently follow lost manhood. In treating diseases of any kind I always remove the origin—I cure the cause.

30 Years Experience Enables me after a thorough personal examination, free of charge, to tell you if your case is curable. If it is not I will tell you so; if curable and I take your case, I will give you a written legal guaranty of a positive cure.
