Ontario Mothers In Race For Prize Left By Bachelor

Charles Vance Miller, robust jovial bachelor-lawyer of Ontario, Canada, died Oct. 31, 1926, leaving an estate of $500,000.00 to the Toronto woman producing the greatest number of babies in ten years.

Mother's, all over Canada, got busy.

The ten years have passed. The winners just announced are Mrs. Lilly Kenny of Toronto, who scored twelve babies in ten years. Mrs. Kathleen Nagle tied for second place with ten babies, with Mrs. Alice Timleck, who also scored ten babies in ten years. It is said that attorney Miller made the will to fight race-suicide and encourage the rearing of large families.

Mrs. Kenny plans to buy the little home in Toronto in which Mary Pickford was born and turn it into a museum to attract tourists.

The Kenney's at present, are on relief. The father's last job was five years ago in a factory.

They could use $500,000.00 handily.

Farmers Reaping Benefits From Co-operative Gin

—The Clay County Leader

Clay County Leader,
Henrietta, Texas.

Dear Sirs:

I wrote you that I was working to establish a co-operative gin in the Henrietta ginning territory. I have been working on this matter since that time and have made progress and will appreciate it if you will so notify the cotton growers of your territory.

The co-operative gin at Petrolia ginned 1200 bales in 1935. It paid all expenses and fixed charges, placing about $800.00 in reserve for repairs and 1936 operations, and has paid a profit of $3.60 per bale back to the farmers who ginned with them. This dividend was paid on each bale ginned regardless of whether the farmer owned stock or not.

I consider that the farmers in the Henrietta territory are entitled to receive the same benefits and about 150 cotton growers have advised me that they want to go into the proposed co-operative gin.

I will appreciate letters from cotton growers who are interested in this program. They may address me at Petrolia, Texas. President Roosevelt is sponsoring the establishing of co-operative gins for the benefit of the farmers and hasten recovery, and the government is furnishing facilities for the establishing of such gins, when a sufficient number of farmers want it.

Very Sincerely yours,
W. C. POPLIN

Screw Worm Control

Cases of screw worms in livestock have been known in the United States since 1843, according to Harry S. Myers, district worm supervisor, whose headquarters are at Wichita Falls. Authentic cases with positively identified specimens date back to 1882. The screw worm fly inhabits the southern United States, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies and South America, including Uruguay and Argentine.

The pioneer cattle raisers of Texas recognized the screw worm as a serious pest of livestock, and there are many references made by the early entomologists and veterinarians to it in literature. One of the first materials recommended for treating cases was calomel, which was placed directly in the wound. Later, the use of chloroform and carbolic ointments was adopted. None of these substances is now recommended.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, recommends the present methods of treatment and control as the result of research work conducted by Dr. F. C. Bishop, Entomologist, and his associates of the Division of Insects Affecting Man and Animals. Other important contributions have been made by entomologists and veterinarians of various agencies.

In 1916, Mr. D. C. Parman, Entomologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Uvalde, Texas, began studies of benzol, the present accepted material for screw worm case treatment. At the same time he and his associates developed the use of pine tar oil as a wound dressing and fly repellent.

In 1933 a contribution of great importance was made by Emory C. Cushing, Entomologist, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, when he discovered that there were two species of screw worms that had previously been confused as one species. The two flies, although almost identical in appearance, are entirely different in habits. One designated as the true screw worm infests only the wounds of living animals. The second species, called the secondary invader breeds in carcasses and decaying flesh. This discovery placed emphasis upon controlling infested wounds in living animals, thereby reducing the population of true screw worm flies, and upon preventing wounds in domestic animals and livestock.

From time to time outbreaks of screw worms have occurred outside the territory normally infested by the fly, in Louisiana, Mississippi,

Tennessee, Kansas and other states. In 1935 a serious infestation occurred in Georgia, Florida and other southern eastern states. The forces of the Bureau of Entomology and plant quarantine were immediately centered in that section an expensive control campaign was begun. This control campaign was successful and the losses from screw worms in that area were greatly reduced.

At the present time the U. S. Department of Agriculture personnel working on the control of screw worms is directed from San Antonio, Texas. The problem is being approached through the use of proper animal husbandry practices and proper materials for treating cases. You can assist in this campaign by cases in your livestock to your local county agent or to the district screw worm supervisor, who will be glad to give you any information you desire concerning screw worm control.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends benzol to kill screw worms in wounds, after which the wound should be coated with pine tar oil, specific gravity 1.065, to hasten healing of the wound and aid in repelling further attacks of the fly.

Q. What is the largest tributary of the Brazos River? E. F. B., Waco.

A. Little River, which is formed by the Leon and Lampasas, is the largest and most dangerous of the many streams flowing into the Brazos.

Q. Where was Fort Mason and when was it occupied? T. H. Meridian.

A. It was erected about 1856 by the Federal Government at Mason, about one-half mile from the courthouse, and for a time was commanded by Gen. Robert E. Lee. No battles were fought there and it was abandoned in 1868, only a few stones remaining to show its location.

Q. For what purpose is the monument to be erected near LaGrange?

A. To commemorate the decimation of the Mier expedition victims and the Dawson massacre the Texas Centennial Commission is erecting a tall shaft to cost $10,000 at the spot where the bones of the victims lie buried in a stone-lined vault. The monument will overlook for miles the part of the Colorado valley where the victims had lived.

Q. Why do treasure hunters persist in their efforts to find buried gold around San Saba? G. J. Brownwood.

A. Following building of the San Saba Mission near the present town of Menard, in 1756, rumors and legend persisted as to Spaniards having buried vast stores of gold and silver somewhere along the San Saba River near and below Menard and of occasional discoveries by mining explorers. These stories retold bring many new adventures.

Have a Variety of Vegetables

Do not limit your fall gardening to the planting of turnips and collards. Carrots and beets are two hardy vegetables that withstand cold weather. A good variety of carrots in the Denver half-long; of beets is the Detroit dark-red. Early Alaska Peas mature in 40 days, as well as stringless green pod beans. Onions sets can be planted now, and you will have green onions for the table through the early winter. Icicle or China Rose Radishes will add another variety to your table. If lettuce does not do or grow successfully, try a planting of endive. This is a hardy salad plant that is a good substitute for lettuce. Mustard, tendergreen variety is a better green than turnip for the fall. Lucullus swiss chard and darf curled kale must not be left out of your fall garden.

Vegetables

Take an inventory—12 vegetables in your garden. Won't that prove a variety for your table?

PRIDE BEGINS AT HOME

We all take pride in our country, because it is a great country—the greatest of all others.

But what constitutes this country.

The forests, and the fields and the mountains, and the valleys and the prairies, and the lakes, and the rivers, and the hamlets, and villages, and the towns, and the cities, and all the human and other life that exists therein and thereon.

This town is a part of this country and our pride of country should extend to the community in which we live.

Our individual homes are a part of this town, and our pride of country should begin with the homes in which we live.

If we make them as near perfection as our resources will permit, then the town and the state and the country reflects the warmth and the glory of our firesides.

We look at the big cities and marvel at their immensity—at their wealth, and their enterprise, and their growth.

But do we remember that before these cities became great they were small even as we are?

Their citizens saw the opportunities that were before them, and were quick to grasp them. Pride in their improvements impelled them to press onward and make other and greater ones.

As the giant oak sprang from little acorns, so have great cities sprung from what were only little hamlets and vilages—Often from barren waste land.

But they did not spring up of their own accord.

The people of the tiny hamlets took pride in their homes and their surroundings, and worked to make them better and more prosperous. It is this stalwart quaity of thrift and energy that has made them what they are today—metropolitan centers of population and commerce which are known all over the civilized world.

And the root of all was pride. Few things are impossible to a people who have the will to accomplish. But without the will to perform no great endings will come from little beginnings.

Mr. Frank Hurn who resides in the Hurnville community was a pleasant shopper in Henrietta Saturday.

"THE JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRAT" MAKES ITS INITIAL BOW

The Leader is in receipt of Volume 1, Number 1, of "The Jeffersonian Democrat," mailed out of Austin, where headquarters of this organization are maintained.

The purpose of this "so-called" disgruntled group of former democrats is to seek to defeat President Roosevelt in the November election.

This first issue is so full of misrepresentations and mis-statements of facts that it is almost beyond even the least bit of recognition from life-long democrats. But we must say that if they will just put enough copies of this first issue out so the people will note to what extent those putting out the 4-page 8-column sheet would go to mislead the people, there will be no reason for those in charge of President Roosevelt's and Mr. Garner's campaign in Texas to spend a dime as their sheet will do the work and give the party its greatest majority ever recorded in the annals of Texas Democracy.

The fact that the mast-head carries the name of Frank Kell of Wichita Falls as one of the leaders in this move to defeat Mr. Roosevelt in Texas and in the nation, will be enough to Texas voters in this West Texas section to know what is behind this move. The Leader will give more information on this subject in issues to follow.

Clay County Cattle Shipped to New Home

A cattle deal was perfected when Clint Craft, Jack County rancher, bought 60 head of 2-year old steers from Fred Wynn of Clay county. The steers averaged 800 pounds and were removed to the Craft ranch in trucks, which is eight miles south of Newport on Burton Prairie.

Craft said that he will hold the cattle on his grass lands and probably will feed them next spring before sending them to market.

Indians Call on Newspaper
Editor Sid O'Bryan has the following in last issue of the Clay County Leader, published at Henrietta:

A group of Comanche Indians from Walters, Okla, paid the Leader a pleasant call Thursday. Chief Oliver Plymouth is with them. We enjoyed our conversation with them. They stated that they knew our good friend Hon. Jim Nance, editor of the Walters Herald. Fred Codnah and Edward Oda, in the group, inspected the Leader office while they were here. We enjoyed their visit very much and hope they will be with us at the 1937 reunion.

Sidney's grandfather, Rev. S. G. O'Bryan, was in the Waco country during the time Indians resided here having been a preacher and teacher. The Indians had been down to Henrietta to the Clay county reunion. The Indians and the rest of us are the best of friends now.—Fred B. Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

Our maternal grandfather, Col. John Stepp McClain was also there as a pioneer in McLennan county, living at Moody, Texas where he owned 2,000 acres of choice black land. We tell you this to keep the record straight. We are proud of the good names left us by both of our grandfathers.

Hon. James M. Pitillo, postmaster of Waco, and editor of the Waco Farm and Labor Journal was in attendance on the state Postmaster's meeting at Dallas Sept. 10th, and 11th, and wrote as follows in his paper, The Farm & Labor Journal:

Tom O'Bryan was there from Henrietta. He is editor of a newspaper, manager of a job printing shop and postmaster. Tom gives his time to the postal service and Sidney O'Bryan, brother, looks after the newspaper. They are former McGregor boys, sons of that Democratic Leader, the lamented Col. W. C. O'Bryan.

Our Postmaster said he enjoyed the Postmaster's meeting and was indeed glad to see Messrs. Pitillo, Amsler et al from our old home towns, Waco and McGregor.—The Clay County Leader

The lurking cold germ is waiting for your defenses to be lowered. Leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, strikes with such viciousness that sixty per cent of the population has three or more "colds" each year. Think of this startling total of over two hundred million illnesses—many of which could be avoided with adequate heat and proper ventilation throughout the home.

BURLINGTON-ROCK ISLAND ANNOUNCES ZEPHYR SERVICE BETWEEN DALLAS HOUSTON

Fast Zephyr service between Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth was announced here today by General John A. Hulen, President of the Burlington Rock Island Railroad and Chief Executive of the Joint Texas Division of the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railways.

One of the world-famous Zephyrs will be placed in daily round trip service between Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth, starting October 1st.

This stainless steel, diesel powered, streamlined train, which will be known as the Sam Houston Zephyr, will trim one hour and twenty minutes from the fastest service now in effect between these points which is made by the Burlington Rock Island's "Short Line Flyer". The Zephyr will furnish an additional service over this run supplementing and not supplanting the "Short Line Flyer".

The running schedule, which will have the practical effect of bringing north and south Texas considerably closer together, and which calls for exactly a mile-a-minute average speed between Houston and Dallas is as follows.

7:55 a.m. Lv. Houston Ar. 11:10 p.m.
12:05 p.m. Ar. Dallas Lv. 7:00 p.m.
12:10 p.m. Lv. Dallas Ar. 6:45 p.m.
12:55 p.m. Ar. Ft. Worth Lv. 6 p.m.

Intermediate station stops will be made at Waxahachie, Corsicana and Teague, but only for long haul passengers.

The Sam Houston Zephyr will feature all the latest daytime travel innovations introduced by the streamlined area to further the comfort and luxury of modern rail travel. Completely air-conditioned throughout, this stainless steel speedster is built with articulated trucks which give the three care the riding quality of a single unit.

The Zephyr is constructed with low center gravity which causes it to hold the rails remarkably well and makes it possible to enter curves at much greater speed than conventional trains, without any discomfort to the passengers.

The very latest improvements in the science of air-conditioning have been used through this train. No windows in any of the passenger cars can be opened—in fact there is no need to open the windows as a generous supply of outside air is constantly being drawn in by means of an electrical suction fan, filtered and cleansed of dirt and other impurities.

The wide Zephyr-type windows in all the passenger-carrying cars are of double safety glass. They are hermetically sealed, and the space between each of the double windows is filled with dry nitrogen, which prevents frosting of the windows regardless of the outside weather and assures passengers an unobstructed view of the landscape at all times.

The Sam Houston Zephyr affords accommodations for 22 parlor car and 56 white coach passengers, and will have a separate compartment for 16 colored coach passengers. Due to this limited capacity and the undoubted popularity which the Zephyr will find with Texas travelers, all the seats both in the coach and parlor lounge will be reserved, sold by number and individually assigned in advance, but there will be no excess fare.

Both dinette and lunch counter service will be available to passengers on the Zephyr, and a trained hostess, who will doubtlessly soon be familiarly referred to as the Zephyrette, will be on duty at all times to look after the comfort of the travelers.

Plans for this Zephyr service have long been in the minds of officials of the Burlington-Rock Island and affiliated railroads. General Hulen pointed out that preparations for this service have been rushed in order to accommodate the great numbers from Houston and southern Texas who are expected to visit the Centennial celebrations at Dallas and Fort Worth during the closing months of October and November.
