KARL HAEFFNER OF PETROLIA TO BE BURIED TODAY

—Clay County Leader.
Mr. Karl Haeffner, 80, died in his home in Petrolia Tuesday night. Mr. Haeffner came to America about 1893. He was born in Odessa, Russia, August 7, 1857. He was married about 55 years ago, and four of his nine children were born in Russia. He settled first in Henrietta, later moving to a farm in the Hurnville community. In 1923 he retired from farming and moved to Petrolia where he has lived since.

Surviving him are nine children: Mrs. John Bachman, Petrolia; Mr. Carl Haeffner, Campo, Colorado; Rev. Lawrence Haeffner, Donna, Texas; Otto Haeffner, Mills, New Mexico; John Haeffner, Hurnville; August Haeffner, Byers; Willie Haeffner, Henrietta; Mrs. Pete Moser, Henrietta; Fred Haeffner, Henrietta; his wife, 39 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of Rev. Lawrence Haeffner, but are expected to be held some time Friday afternoon at the Baptist church in Hurnville under the directions of the Moore Funeral Home.

Services will be conducted at the house at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and at 3 o'clock at the Baptist church in Hurnville.

MRS. MITCHELL BAZELL PASSED AWAY AT BORGER

Lester, of Byers, to whom The Journal offers condolence.

Political Pot Is Simmering And Will Soon Begin To Boil

—Clay County Leader.
Word to The Leader direct from Ray Phagan, of Bellevue, states frankly that he will again be a candidate for sheriff of Clay county and will make his formal announcement through these columns at a later date. It will be recalled that this young man ran a wonderful race in 1934, losing in the run-off by what was reported as only eight votes. Some of Ray's friends, at the time, urged him to demand a recount, but Ray was "too smart a politician" and stated he preferred to await his turn and run again. Watch The Leader for his announcement.

Another well known citizen whose friends are urging him to run for sheriff is Mr. Fred Hilburn of Shannon. When asked, on a recent visit here, if he was likely to run, he replied that he had not fully decided at this time, but would make his decision and let his friends know at a later date.

MAURICE PRICE OF PETROLIA GRADUATES AT N. T. S. T. C.

—Clay County Leader.
The Leader acknowledges receipt of invitation to the commencement exercises of North Texas State Teachers College at Denton from Miss Maurice Price, of Petrolia, who is among those graduating at the August 20th date commencement. Miss Price is a daughter of Mrs. Price, postmistress at Petrolia, and is an accomplished young lady. The Leader congratulates her upon her accomplishments and wishes for her much success in her scholastic endeavors.

Forty-Six Bales of Cotton Ginned In Henrietta Already

The Leader is glad to report that the cotton season has arrived and both Henrietta gins are very busy. Forty-six bales have been ginned to date.

The reason the cotton is coming in early this year is because of lack of rain, and it opened earlier. A good rain just now would help the late cotton.

Following is the report up to Thursday morning at 9:30 A. M.:

Around About Town

—Clay County Leader.
Since the revivals have started in Henrietta, everyone is rather church conscious. The three churches are holding simultaneous revivals in your interest. Have you been to church lately? All three of the preachers are creditable and interesting speakers, making the evening an educational and pleasant experience, a pleasing combination. Go to church and join with them in making this one of the best revivals possible. Not only will you be encouraged by doing so, but you will help in making them feel that they do not toil in vain.

each of the four precincts.

In Precinct No. 1 the names of Messrs. F. F. Green and J. V. Boyd are heard mentioned as probable candidates. Each of the four precincts will most likely have as many as two candidates for each office, with a likelihood of several being in each race.

Already the political pot is beginning to simmer and will reach the boiling point right around the first of the year.

Methodist Revival Began Last Sunday

With the pastor Rev. L. G. Hagard delivering interesting messages each morning and evening, and Mr. Bob Watkins, of Hedley Texas leading the song service, the Methodist revival got off to a good start last Sunday and will continue for two weeks.

Rev. Hagard and Mr. Watkins were pleasant callers at The Leader office Tuesday, and extended an invitation to attend the services and hear Mr. Watkins lead the song services and hear the pastor, Bro. Hagard, deliver his inspirational messages.

The meeting will continue for two weeks, to which the public is invited.

Harper Knight To Teach in Bowie

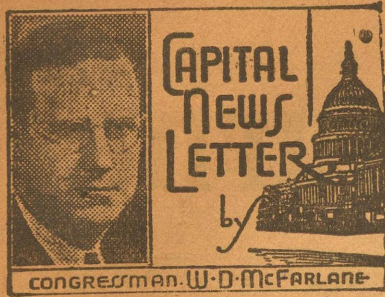

The Leader is grieved to learn that Prof. Harper Knight, our Vocational Agriculture teacher left Henrietta Tuesday for Bowie, where he will teach in the Bowie Schools the forthcoming term.

Prof. Knight has done a great work here and has built up the Vocational Agriculture course to where it was recognized as a leader in that line, and the many F. F. A. projects proved it very outstanding in merit.

Mrs. Knight and little daughter joined Prof. Knight at Bowie Wednesday.

What is Henrietta's loss is Bowie's gain. The Leader extends best wishes to Prof. Knight in his new field of labor and commends him to the citizens of Bowie as an excellent teacher and a good man.

Go to church Sunday.

CONGRESSMAN W.D. McFARLANE

PARTY HARMONY

Last Tuesday Evening the Democratic elders of the Senate threw a party with the Vice President as Toastmaster, hoping to restore party harmony and to woo back the friendship of the President and of their colleagues who have followed the New Deal Administration. The excuse for the meeting was to honor the new Democratic leader, Senator Barkley.

The President was due to drop in and pay his respects and he did, with a friendly note, praising the new Senate Leader. The President's opening sentence reads:

"The quality of a man's friendship is always a safe barometer of his character and in the case of Alben Barkley this is particularly true."

The President in his message to the party harmony meeting failed to give much encouragement to those Senators who have sabotaged the Administration's program this session. By the votes of a majority of the Senators this session one would believe that Landon was elected and the Landonites, since they have blocked the program are now wanting the President to go along with them. The President in his note to the Barkley meeting, further said:

"BARNSTORMED TOGETHER"

"We have traveled together; we have barnstormed together; we have known the exultation of victory and we have been together in times of mutual commiseration".

To many, the above sentence seemed to have a deeper significance and especially in the light of later events. The President is known to be greatly disappointed at the legislative accomplishments of this session and he is scheduled to speak over the Radio September 17th on the Constitution. Many believe he will take advantage of this opportunity to express his thoughts on the Constitution and the way constitutional powers have been usurped by the Supreme Court. Many believe that the President will further carry his program to the people through a series of radio fireside chats. It is well known that farm, wage-hour, housing and other important pieces of legislation carrying out the pledges of the platform of last year have been completely blocked by the Senate in holding up judicial reform and reorganization.

The last part of the President's message is significant: "Party harmony is aided and abetted by close harmony".

In last week's letter I quoted from the closing campaign speech of the President of October 31st, at Madison Square Garden, in which, in keeping with the Democratic Platform the President clearly set forth the objectives of the Democratic party. The Apostles of special privilege have completely blocked this program for this session. It is believed by those who know, that the President will again take this matter to the people. If he does there is no doubt in the minds of many what the results will be—the next Congress will put through the program in keeping with the Democratic platform.

JUSTICE HUGO L. BLACK

Last Thursday, the President sent to the Senate the nomination of Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama to fill the vacancy existing on the Supreme Court Bench. Senators Burke and Johnson broke a precedent of 20 years standing and opposed his immediate confirmation. Previously no Senator had opposed, under such circumstances, the immediate confirmation of a sitting Member when appointed to any position. On Friday a Judiciary subcommittee voted five to one favoring the Senator's confirmation. It is believed he will be confirmed this week without serious opposition.

TWELVE CENT COTTON

On Friday, the House and Senate Agricultural Committees in conference with the President agreed upon a satisfactory resolution by which the President agreed to act under authority previously granted to peg the price of cotton. As soon as this announcement was released the price of cotton rose on the exchange more than $2.00 per bale. The agreement provides that control production legislation must have prior consideration at the next session of Congress.

WAGE-HOUR AND HOUSING LEGISLATION

Wage-Hour and Housing Legislation is before the Rules Committee asking for consideration at this session. Five Democratic Members from the South are blocking this program. Another important Reorganization Bill passed the House Friday and now goes to the Senate for consideration. It is definitely known that the Congress is driving hard to adjourn August 21st. Nothing short of a miracle will stop this course. The last week of Congress is always a hectic session. All possible high pressure methods are used to force through a lot of useless legislation. This session will be no exception to the rule.

Miss Doris McDonald returned Thursday from a five weeks stay in New York City and Kingston, Rhode Island where she studied piano and visited her sister, Mrs. K. L. Knickerbocker. While in Kingston she gave two private concerts for faculty members of Rhode Island State College. Miss McDonald will open her piano studio here the first week in September.

Rep. D. M. Harris of Archer City was a business visitor in Henrietta Wednesday.

HE IS A POET
(To Hilton Ross Greer)

And to be a poet is no simple thing:
To look deep into one's own heart and write
The music for its surging words—to sing
Them ever clear and true—to lift the white
Flaming torch of passion that will burn
Like some high beacon on a windy hill
Long after the hand has failed, when at some turn
The voice of the singer suddenly grows dim.

To be a poet is no easy thing:
To speak authentically that others may Become aware that a hand has reached to fling
Their hearts' door wide, and startled, each will say:
"I, too, am a poet—I have known for long
That burning flame—the substance of the song!"

EARTH COLORS

I cannot wear Thy colors, Lord.
Here on the earth.
But there awaits extravagance
With never dearth
Of changing color hung for me,
Lord, in Thy house.
No drab, nor dun of mole,
No gray of mouse,

But apple green and morning pink,
Sea blue, sun red,
The smoky purple of the hills,
Gold of the bee-bread,
In ranks and rows! No paradise
It were, unless Thou give Thy children color for Their daily dress!

It only has a flower;
But, oh! what joy to give the world
Such beauty for an hour!

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Why did the Fredonian rebellion so signally fail?

A. It was supported only by a few colonists with grievances and a small number of Indians; the Mexican government was aroused to strong opposition, believing it was inspired by the United States to get possession of Mexico; the other Texas colonies did not wish to encourage such a feeling and refused to aid Edwards and his rebellion was easily suppressed by stronger forces.

Q. What became of the first San Augustine Episcopal church and do you know the history of the bell?

A. The church was wrecked in a storm in 1859. The bell was cracked and sent to New Orleans to be used in making Confederate cannon. It was seized there by Gen. B. F. Butler as contraband of war and sent to Boston.

Q. What was the Fredonian flag?

A. Strips of white and red cloth signifying the alliance of white people and Indians. On the white (above) were the words "Independence, Freedom and Justice," and beneath these words the names of these Fredonians: Hayden Edwards, Harmon B. Mayo, John Dunn Hunter, Richard Fields, Martin Palmer, Benjamin W. Edwards, Joseph A. Huber, Burrill P. Thompson, John Sprow, W. B. Legon, Ne-Ko-Lake, Cuk-To-Keh, and John Bags (the last three Indians.)

Q. What became of Jean LaFitte?

A. When he established himself on Galveston Island, he had orders not to interfere with American cargoes, but his men and vessels grew so troublesome that a United States brig was sent, in 1821, to notify him to leave the island. When he found the order was imperative, he paid off his men, and with 100 men sailed out of the harbor on his favorite ship, the Pride. He died at Silan, near Merida, Yucatan, in 1826.

EDUCATION AND SCHOOL SPENDING

"The Texas State Teachers Association will continue to fight for liberal support of the public schools. It is committed to the theory that any effort to 'peg' the school fund is contrary to the Constitution of the State and to wise public policy. Education can not become static."

This is the concluding paragraph of a report by President A. W. Birdwell of the Texas State Teachers Association, of his appearance before the Automatic Tax Board, published in the current teachers' magazine, The Texas Outlook.

It is significant as revealing the psychology of the school lobby, which identifies school spending with "education."

Education—that is, spending for schools—must never be allowed to become static—that is, to quit growing. On that issue the taxpayer will be forced eventually to battle it out with the school men, who are so far from satisfied with the rise of the schools to first rank in government spending that they are seeking to perpetuate the processes by which this rise was accomplished.

Home Demonstration

Miss Margaret Stewart, Clay County Home Demonstration Agent.

The following is the story of Ernestine McCord's Wardrobe Demonstration. Ernestine won second place in the County on her Wardrobe work.

"At the first business meeting of the year, I was elected clothing demonstrator. I have always been fond of sewing and was glad of the chance to serve in this capacity.

As a clothing demonstrator, the first thing I had to do was to plan my record book. I often used it as a reference book, and it also helped to organize my work for the year. My wardrobe expense from October 1st 1936 to July 1st 1937 have been $26.75.

I have checked D-105 "Good Looks for Girls" every week during the year. It has helped me to take better care of my skin and watch my eating more closely.

One of the requirements of the demonstrator was to improve her storage space. I did very little because I already had enough closet and shelf space; however, I straightened my closet and shelves and added shoe and hat racks. These were of no cost. The hat rack was made from a cigar box and the shoe rack was made from an apple crate.

For my sewing I have made three dresses, one blouse, two slips, a pair of pajamas and three cup towels, all of which cost me $4.17.

Since my work this year as a clothing demonstrator I was to plan my school clothing, my dress and slip were chosen easily. For my dress, I chose a pink, blue and white print. It was trimmed with white organdy and buttons. For accessories I chose a pink hat and all white sandals and pink anklets.

For my slip I chose a pink cotton material with slightly silky finish, which did not cost more than a common print. The cost of the slip and dress together was $9.1.

The members in the club to which I belong have filled the following goals:

- 1. Equip sewing boxes.
- 2. In improving storage space the following articles have been made:
 - 1. Hat racks 5
 - 2. Shoe racks 3
 - 3. Shelf space 0
 - 4. Hangers 1

3. Nine girls have checked D-105 "Good Looks for Girls" every week during the year.

4. Two girls have planned record books for school clothing and kept clothing expenditures during the year.

5. There have been twelve dresses, ten slips, and three pairs of pajamas made.

As clothing demonstrator I have learned much that has been helpful to me. First of all, I have learned much that has been helpful to me. the fundamentals of sewing and how to use them in various kinds of work. Second, I have gained experience by sewing more than I ordinarily would have. Third, I have learned to sew, not to get it done, but with a thought toward the critical judgement of others. Lastly, through the careful guidance of Miss Margaret Stewart, County Home Demonstration Agent, I have learned to overcome my impatience in sewing by trying to correct the mistakes that she has pointed out to me.

Taken as a whole I think I can think of nothing that has been as profitable to me as my work as clothing demonstrator.

The social was enjoyed by everyone.

CASE IN A NUTSHELL

Col. Geo. Robinson—Houston Post
Corn and cotton, pigs and poultry, rice and rutabagas, wheat and wool—these are the things that feed and clothe the whole of the United States.

And these things are not like the mumps and measles; they don't come along without formal invitation, but represent too in summer's heat and through winter's cold.

Maybe the rest of us are pursuing tasks not altogether essential to living on the sphere which we call earth; maybe we could suddenly disappear without any great cataclysm.

But no so those in the fields and on the ranches; they are essential to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Leading up to what? Simply to this:

The corn and the cotton, the wheat and the wool, and all the rest, go into the world's market's in competition with like products from Asia, Africa, Europe, South Central America, Canada and Australia.

Anything wrong about that? Nothing in the world; it's the natural order, just as natural as for water to run down hill. But having sold his cotton in Liverpool or Lyons, Bremen or Tokyo, naturally and necessarily the grower of that cotton stands in need of supplies, but is told by his government that he must buy in the home market.

And thus he is boubly taxed; first the foreign buyer could have paid him a better price had he not demanded gold, a thing costly to get; and second, the home market takes all the traffic will bear.

And so, instead of a fairly prosperous condition, the result of a fair exchange, the cotton grower is under compulsion to go up to Washington and plead for aid to save him from bankruptcy.

That's the whole case in a nutshell.

A girl may wear a golf skirt and never play golf, or wear a bathing suit and never go near the water, but when she puts on a wedding gown, boys, she means business.

Children are natural mimics. They act like their parents in spite of every effort to teach them good manners.

SENATOR TOM CONNALLY HELPING TENANT FARMERS

The House appropriations committee is putting the double cross on tenant farmers by its refusal to make an appropriation to aid them in buying farm lands as was authorized in the law granting Federal aid to tenants for land purchased which was passed several weeks ago. The tenant aid act itself omitted making appropriations. The act did provide that ten million dollars should be available the first year for loans to tenant farmers in acquiring lands of their own, and ten millions dollars for the retirement of submarginal lands.

The committee's excuse for refusing to make the appropriation, namely, that there is no emergency, is not valid. It certainly was the understanding of all concerned when this act was under discussion in Congress when it was passed that the ten million dollars for tenant aid would be made available immediately. The amount of money allowed was cut down to a mere pittance. Senator Tom Connally tried to get the sum raised to $75,000,000 for the first year, but congress would not authorize but ten million.—Houston Post.

LOAFERS IN COLLEGE

The growing idea that a large percentage of young men now in college would be better off elsewhere was emphasized by no less an authority than Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, in an address at Brown University, from which he was graduated in 1881.

He roundly criticized the many modern college activities which have nothing to do with education, and which attract the mental loafers whose only ambition is to get by and obtain a diploma. Referring to such a student, Mr. Hughes said: "I should take him out at once and tell him to make his own way. Those who are not disposed to make good use of their college years would be better off elsewhere."

Neither Mr. Hughes nor any other sensible person would disparage the value of a college training.

They might as well quit school and engage at once in sodajerking or in whatever simple tasks their mentality happens to fit.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Mexico City, August 14, 1937. By the time you read this, we will be back in Texas and, notwithstanding the wonderful privilege it has been to visit Mexico, happy to be back home. We are particularly anxious to see little David, our second son, and baby Sam Houston.

It is difficult for us to realize that it is so hot in Texas. Mexico City is 7500 feet high and the weather is ideal. They tell us it is this way the year round—little cooler in winter than summer. It was a little chilly for us at first—believe it or not we asked for a fire at lunch; now, however, we are accustomed to it and the weather is lovely. Occasionally when the mountain tops are clear of clouds, we can see two snow capped volcano peaks in the distance.

Although Ambassador Josephus Daniels is in Europe, he wired his assistants here to insist upon our staying at the American Embassy. So here we are—and we have never been privileged to stay at a lovelier place. Our own Government officials have been almost as marvelous to us as those of the Mexican government.

Last week I told you how hospitable these people had been to us in the early stages of our visit; this hospitality has increased in warmth at every stage. We have been entertained by seven governors in as many state capitols, and by officers in the President's cabinet here in Mexico. It clearly demonstrates that these people believe in the Good Neighbor policy inaugurated by President Roosevelt.

President Cardenas of Mexico is absent from the capitol. He is in the state of Yucatan, which is the most southern Mexican state, working on agrarian, or agricultural problems. He sent us a warm telegram of welcome then commissioned the Governor of this Federal District to call on us officially as his representative. Mrs. Allred is visiting the President's wife today. Everywhere these people seem to realize that they have more in common with Texas than perhaps any other state; I think if we take the same position, it can only result in more business and better relations for all of us.

It would be impossible in this short space to even refer to all the interesting places we have seen on this trip. I really believe we could spend a month right here in Mexico City and not see half of all we should see. The old churches or cathedrals, the palaces, the public buildings, the theatres, the gardens, the parks, the flowers, the schools, the public markets—the people. It is the people who most interest me. They are picturesque with their music everywhere, their arts, their dress which has changed but little for centuries, yet all this maintained alongside a twentieth century civilization of modern highways, railroads, hotels, tourist camps and conveniences of every kind. We have driven over highways as well constructed and maintained as any in Texas, yet in fields adjoining they still plow with oxen; peons trudge alongside the road plying whips over the backs of burros loaded with wood or cargoes larger than the beasts themselves.

The history of Mexico is as interesting as that of any nation. The struggles of the people for liberty and freedom have been just as brave, if not braver, than our own. It has been such a privilege to us to journey over the very ground travelled by Cortez, the Spanish Conqueror, hundreds of years ago; to see the palaces and the churches he built. One of the most inspiring and stupendous things we have seen was driving over the mountains to Puebla, looking out upon a valley where Cortez had built a church for everyday of the church year—260 of them, beautiful, massive things of stone with shining burnished domes; one built on top of a pyramid.

I shant tell you of the bull fight they staged for us. I am glad I saw one—in fact I enjoyed it, but I can't say that I want to see one again. One of the nicest entertainments given us was yesterday at the Department of Communications. First, of course, a nice luncheon; then young ladies who worked in the department paraded before us dressed in the colorful native costumes of each of the 28 Mexican states. Then they entertained with music, songs and dances. It was better than a professional show since those who played the parts actually came from the states they represented.

We have met lots of people here from Texas. I hope more will be able to come in the future. We were particularly happy to find the Cowboy Band from Hardin-Simmons College at Abilene playing at one of the local theatres. They are also going to play at a reception given for us here at the Embassy tomorrow.

We will, of course, be back in time to vote at the election Monday, August 23. Six constitutional amendments are to be voted on: All of them are important, and I hope my friends will vote for them. I am particularly interested in seeing the one adopted which will authorize the legislature to provide for payment of county officers by either salaries or fees. The present salary system hasn't worked as satisfactorily as the old fee system. It costs the taxpayers of the state as a whole 70 per cent more—and I'm interested in trying to save that money!

Mr. W. P. Callaway, prominent Methodist layman and youngest member of Mary's Merry Quartette, paid The Leader office a call Monday. He reported the Methodist revival off to a good start last Sunday with the pastor Rev. L. G. Haggard delivering some forceful messages. The singer, Mr. Watkins was to arrive Monday night, Mr. Callaway stated. Mr. Watkins is well known at Petrolia and Byers, having conducted the singing in meetings held at Petrolia last year.
