Last Sunday Oct. 27, President Roosevelt was forty-nine years of age. A quiet family rejoicing at the White House was all the celebration given.

An express package containing $10,000 was lost in South Carolina sometime ago, and was recently found in the room of the detective who had been sent to work up the case. It was found by him in his room after he had just returned from an investigation of the case.

The Republicans of West Texas at Abilene last Saturday, organized themselves into the West Texas Republican Club, and adopted the "Teddy Bear" as their emblem.

On Oct. 25, at Mount Pleasant Tius County, Texas, 1,000 bushels of peanuts were marketed, at 85 cents per bushel.

When God Made Texas.
 Congressman Jack Beall, of the Dallas District, is a word-painter and an orator, as well as a deep-dyed Texan. In a recent speech he told his hearers how God made Texas, and this is how it was done: "God must have made the balance of the world first and then made Texas. He looked over all that had come from His hand and gathered together the best of every clime—of sunshine and air and mountain and soil, of forest and ore, and shaping and moulding it with his omnipotent hand, He planted it down where the waters of the Gulf laved its shores and breezes of the Gulf fanned its prairies and then He tolled the fairest angels down from Heaven to be the helpmates of Texas men and looking down upon His work and beholding it good, He cried out in a very ecstasy of joy 'I will christen thee 'Texas.'"
 —Ex.

The nude unknown body of a young white man was found floating in a creek near McKinney Texas last Friday. There were several gunshot wounds on his body, and knife cuts on his face.

In his speech at Abilene last Saturday, Senator Bailey sharply criticised Attorney General Davidson with regard to the Standard Oil Company, stating that he has known that it has been doing business in Texas for the past twelve months, and has never raised a hand against it.

J. E. Parish of Rotan was killed by a runaway team at Clairemont last week by being trampled to death, falling between team and wagon.

The skating rink at Colorado City was destroyed by fire last week. At the time of fire it was stored with merchandise. Total loss was about $10,000.

Miss Julia Aldridge of near Roscoe fell from a pecan tree last week and was killed,

Gov. Campbell, Senator Bailey Cecil O. Lyon and W. H. Atwell were speakers at the Abilene Fair last week. West Texas is not altogether unknown and unnoticed by the world. The more it is known the more it is liked.

A runaway switch engine crashed into a passenger train at Baird Texas last Saturday, instantly killing Engineer McKinney and seriously, if not fatally injuring Fireman McCaren, both of Big Springs.

Both engines were completely demolished: the mail car, and a combination baggage and smoker containing fifteen persons, were thrown from the track, but none of the passengers were badly hurt.

Missing Word Contest.
 Not to be out done by any of its esteemed contemporaries, the Common or Not department has decided to institute a missing word contest. Below will be found several pieces of poetry in the shape of "Limericks," with the final word missing in each one of them. The object is to supply the best obtainable word Here goes.

There was a young fellow from Nile
 Who wearily walked a long mile.
 At the end of the stant
 He remarked with a grunt
 "It seems to be time for a—"

The first prize is a set of three bone collar buttons, the freight must be paid by the winner. Second prize, a copy of the president's St. Louis speech. Third prize, a mental photograph of the Mississippi river pilot whom the president discharged. Contestants will be required to send $11 with each answer, which in no case will be returned. We need coal. Make all drafts, checks postal notes and promissory notes payable to the architect of this department.

Richard Pierson Hobson, Captain, Congressman, Hero of the Merrimac and Jingo war talker started from San Angelo and Abilene a few days ago, in an auto, and when fifty miles out it balked, and he had a strenuous ride back to Angelo in a farm wagon pulled by a span of farm mules. He missed an engagement in Oklahoma on account of it.

Gov. Campbell's enemies have made attempts lately to create discord between him and Culbertson and Bailey in efforts to defeat his re-election, but have utterly failed. The Governor is some politician as well as a law-maker.

When a young girl first has beaux
She is happy as every one kneaux
And the ecstasi? bliss
Of her lovers first kiss
Runs down from her head to her teaux

She loves to ride out when its sneaux
Dressed up in her very best cleaux
But it worries her much
When Jack Frost's touch
Produces the red on her neaux.

The meat packers sat down to a $10,000 dinner at their convention. Wonder who paid for it—Ex-Oh, what's the use. Does it concern us?

The coal man comes, the ice man goes; the zephyrs fly, the north wind blows; the alpaca coat and the drop stitch waist were hustled off with hurried haste; the low cut shoes and hose with mesh so big that it showed the pink white flesh—all these and the sleeve that meant no harm, by showing so much pretty arm.—All have flown, for Boreas rude, came to kiss, and they skidoed.—Ex.

Now would't that make you shiver?

Quite a money panic was feared in New York a few days ago, a large trust company failed, and millions of deposits were withdrawn, but an ex-stenographer at Washington, who guards considerable money came to its rescue, and all's well, at least in Texas anyway.

It is estimated that nearly 100,000 people attended Dallas Fair last Tuesday.

The International Harvester Trust was ousted, but the same machiner, same employees, same attorneys, are still doing business at the same old stand, with Joseph E. Cochran at the head of it, in Dallas. Guess it must have re-organized.

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods, there came unto him great multitudes from all the regions round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it they marveled among themselves, saying: "How be it this man is busy while we loaf idly about our doors?" And he spake unto them "In this fast age of push and rustle it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."—Ex.

A cold wave struck Texas a few days, but dont get "skeered" it was only Fairbanks spent a day at Dallas.

There are just a few who have permitted their subscriptions to lag behind. Don't do this. You will die one of these fine days and your family will want a column obituary published free, and then your daughter will soon be getting married and you will expect your home paper to give her an Alice Roosevelt write up. How can you expect an editor to write such articles when you are behind with your subscription?—Ex,

In a Tennessee court an old colored woman was put on the witness stand to tell what she knew about the annihilation of a hog by a railway locomotive.

Being sworn, she was asked if she had seen the train kill the hog in question.

"Yessah, I seed it."
"Then," said the counsel, "tell the court in as few words as possible how it occurred."
"Yo honah," responded the old lady, "I shore can tell you in a few words. It jest tooted an' tuck him."—Success.

Mrs. Mills wife of Ex-Senator Roger Q. Mills died at her home in Corcicano Texas last Monday. She was 70 years of age. The devotion between herself and husband was noticed by all who knew them. Senator Mills for several years has lived a private and happy life at his home at Corcicano.

The Five Million Club met at Dallas last week. They are doing much to settle up Texas.

Mrs. King, the greatest land owner in Texas bought 190,000 acres of land near Corpus Christi a few days ago. She now owns some two million acres.

Don Cunningham Dead.

Mr. Don Cunningham a young stockman of the South part of the county, died at his home last night. He had only been sick about two weeks with a seemingly slight attack of slow fever, and his death was rather unexpected.

He was a son of Mr. D. S. Cunningham, one of the oldest settlers in this county, and was married on June 2 last, to Miss Myrtle French who survives him.

His remains were laid to rest in the Pride Cemetery to-day.

Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife and family in their sad affliction.

A letter from Dr. John Norris formally of Gomez, but now of Erich Okla says the banks up there are closed and a money panic is feared. Daily papers say the same, which indicate that financial matters are in dangerous condition.

Nov. 16, the president will proclaim Oklahoma a state of the union, thus ends triumphantly a long fought struggle.

Birmingham Ala voted dry last week.

The will of Nelson Morris, the Chicago packer, was set aside, and $50,000,000 the amount of his estate, will be distributed by his heirs among them. Morris in his will provided that his eldest son should be the trustee of the estate or twenty-five years, for the benefit of the other heirs. But in making his will he provided that the bevests in it should be operative from the probating of his will, and not from the date of his death. For that reason it was held to be invalid, and the division of this great wealth was accomplished. Morris had money enough to hire a good lawyer who could write a legal will, but wills, like pie crust, are made to be broken.—Dallas News.

Women's Pains

"I was a total wreck," writes Mrs. Beulah Rowley, of Champoeg, Oregon, "from pains I had suffered, for 4 years, every month. Sometimes I would be unconscious for 12 hours at a stretch. I did not know that anything could stop the pain entirely, but Wine of Cardui did. I advise all women suffering with painful periods to use Cardui and be relieved."

It does this by regulating the functions and toning up all the Internal female organs to health. It is a pure, specific, reliable, female remedy, with a record of 70 years of success. It has benefited a million others. Why not you? Try it.

Don't forget that the Herald can do your job work.

The following beautiful stanzas were written in memory of Robert Hurst, who died at Aldie Oct. 12, by Mary Hurst.

I am waiting, only waiting
For the summons from on high,
Till I go and greet the, darling,
In thy home beyond the sky.
Waiting till thy little treasurers
Have attained a few more years,
Ere I go away and leave them,
In their loneliness and tears.

Waiting till I've kept the promise
Made thee on thy dying bed;
That I'd teach them where to find thee,

When their years of life are sped
Waiting till I tell them Jesus,
Only called thee on before;
That at home we'll soon be gathered,
To be parted never more.

Waiting till the sun is setting,
And the shadows deepen fast
Till I've finished up the labors,
That on earth shall be the last.
Waiting till I've kissed the children
And have put them in their bed
Then I'll come and sleep beside thee,
In the city of the dead.

A Peep Into the Future.

From K. Lamity's Texas Tales.

The rapid strides being taken by women to run things on this alarms me. During the past ten years you find women occupying nearly every position which a decade ago was considered only proper for men to hold,

They have invaded the business places to an alarming extent, and, in fact, there is scarcely a position in the mercantile world which you will not find a "woman holding down. Wherever she is physically able she does the man's work just as well, if not better, and gets less pay, for the simple reason that her boss is a man and not a woman.

If things keep on at the present rate, the positions of men and women so far as work is concerned, will be reversed, and that is what frightens me. I know I would hate to get up early in the morning, dress half a dozen children, cook breakfast, get several of them off to school, wash the dishes, and then sit down and sew while I was resting before getting dinner. But the way things are going, that's what we are coming to, and don't you make any error about.

Again, women are growing so very strong minded it scares me. They are forming clubs, and they want to vote, and I believe they are going to do it. The only consolation that I have is the fact that perhaps I may clean up my hook before they finally take charge of the composing room, and cash in my string at the great business office above, where all good newspaper men have to go before they ever get paid for their work.

Just imagine how the daily papers will read one hundred year hence. I don't want to be living then and I don't believe I will. Just for amusement, I have turned my mental observation car down the track of the future for a century, and I will reproduce a few clippings taken from the morning "Daily Fin De Siecle" of March 1. A. D. 2007.

"A shooting scrape was narrowly averted on North Blank street yesterday evening. The trouble arose on account of an alleged insult to Algernon Horace, son of Mrs. Judge Westingholms. It seems that Miss Amazona Rhodes, who for some time had been paying marked attention to young Algernon Horace, is accused of not only attempting unwarranted liberties, but of using language entirely unbecoming a gentlewoman. The offence was promptly reported by Algernon Horace to his mother, and also to his sister, Miss Rebecca Westingholms. The latter subsequently met Miss Rhodes in the pool rooms of the Squeeze Club, when an altercation ensued. Miss Rhodes drew a pistol, but was fortunately disarmed by chief of police, Mrs. Martha Weatherall, before she had done further damage than shattering a mirror and shooting off one of her own toes."

"Only two cases were passed on today in the recorders. Mrs. Mary Lease Perkins was fined $10 and given ten days in jail for cruelty to her son and her husband. The recorder Mrs. John Lucy Smith, also fined Miss Carrie Nation Shelton $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly."

"Society is all agog over the approaching marriage of Miss Frank Lillian Forrester to Mr. Bobbie Willie Patterson, eldest son of Mrs. and Mr. John Henry

Patterson, services to be held at the St. Jehosaphat church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, the Rt. Rev. Mrs. Mary Sophronio Cartright officiating, Miss Forrester is one of Bloomertown's most energetic and business like young ladies, while her fiancee, Mr. Robbie Wille Patterson is universally acknowledged to be the most accomplished and fascinating young man in the city. His social modest manners and domestic accomplishments endear him to every one. It will be remembered that he not only won the prize at the Flat Iron Cooking School, but also was an easy winner of the elegant diamond necklace offered last year by the Bloomertown High School of Embroidery. The reception at the residence of the grooms mother, will, no doubt, be an elegant affair. A reporter of Daily Fin De Siecle interviewed the bride, who stated that shortly after the marriage she would take her husband to Florida, where she has large landed interests.
