Amusements at the International Fair.

In the amusement world no organization has greater prestige than the Pyrotechnic Company which this year is producing that thrilling spectacle, "The Battle of the Clouds", at the International Fair of San Antonio, November 6th to 17th. In these days, when aerial navigation is coming into its own, a production of this character is timely and should make the interest therein all the greater, for nowadays nothing seems to have greater fascination than the efforts to conquer the air.

"The Battle of the Clouds" is a forerunner of what might occur in the future. Warfare in the clouds offers greater possibilities—in fact, some unheard of possibilities—that only time itself can bring to a solution or a state of perfection.

The fact that a spectacle of this character is to be produced by the "Pain" Company is sufficient guarantee that not even the slightest detail will be neglected in order to make production complete. There has been a great outlay of money to complete this spectacle and bring it to the highest possible stage of perfection in order that the spectator may follow its meaning without the aid of explanation or a program.

This spectacle will be followed nightly by a magnificent display of pyrotechnics embracing everything that is newest and best in the way of brilliant and awe-inspiring fireworks. Several hundred people are employed in the production and a special train is required for its transportation.

All railroads will have low rates to the International Fair.

FISH AND OYSTER EXHIBITS.

Those who are not familiar with the fish which they have been catching for years in the old mill pond or down at the river will have an opportunity of learning something of the finny tribe at the International Fair at San Antonio.

The exhibit at San Antonio will be under the auspices of the Department of Commerce and Labor of the United States Government. The fact that the United States Government is participating gives more than a passing distinction to the San Antonio Fair and, in a large measure, is a recognition of the merit and worth of the big exposition, as the Government participates only in those fairs that have established worth or are international or worldwide in their importance.

The fish that are to be found in all Texas streams and along the gulf coast will form the essential features of this exhibit and, therefore, should be of great interest to those who in youth or in later years have sat on the bank and awaited patiently a bobble of the cork or cast the fly into some shady recess of a limpid stream to tempt the bass.

All railroads throughout the Mexican Republic and in Texas will offer low excursion rates to the International Fair which opens November 17.

FARM PRODUCTS.

No fair or exposition in the great Southwest will give the same attention to products of the farm as will the International Fair of San Antonio. For months preparations have been underway to make the agricultural section of the Fair complete in every respect, and that is especially to show what may be grown on various Texas soils and how the best results are to be obtained.

It should be understood distinctly that this particular part of the Fair is far from being merely a "pumpkin show". It is an educational feature from which every agriculturist, farmer and truck grower may learn a lesson. This monster exhibit will require three large buildings on the fair grounds, each of which will be a matter of pleasure to the visitor at the Fair. Low rates will be in effect on all railroads from points in Texas and the Republic of Mexico.

Increase Cost of Living.

The wage earner is up against a hard problem these days. He must try and make a dollar go as far as two formerly went. This is hard to do when we consider the fact of the advance in price of all the necessities of living. Wages do not as a rule keep pace with the advancement of other branches. The wage earner must battle for his rights. This makes for unrest and gives rise to the cry of socialism.

Socialism is held up as a panacea for all political ills. Many things that would not appeal to the ordinary intellect can be saddled onto the public where a question of bread and meat is concerned. If this government is to endure in the pursuit of happiness some radical changes must be effected. Mankind will not quietly submit to the absorption of all his prerogatives. Liberty is dear to each one of us and the encroachment that is being made on this most cherished of all traditions is viewed with alarm by the really deep thinkers of today. Todyism of the supposed representative men to the supposed powers of the country is one of the prime causes of so much unrest. The real strength of the government rests on the intellectual development of its common people. Any condition that tends to dwarf the mentality of the people tends also to weaken the standard of citizenship. If the common people are forced to devote all of their time to obtaining the bare necessities of life and no time is found for the development of the mental forces it leaves a good opening for those who are preaching socialism to add weight to their arguments by the presence of the forces that are continually striving to increase the burdens already manifest and in this way we are apt to be confronted with unpleasant conditions that will take years to eliminate. Increased cost of living would be alright, provided the wage earner was correspondingly compensated. If this is not done we may expect nothing but unrest that bodes no good for the future.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Travels of W. T. Rankin.

W. T. Rankin, brother of our esteemed townman, F. E. Rankin returned the first of the week after an extended tour through three zones, and an absence of many months. His travels and his observations were too extensive and too numerous for us to give synopsis thereof for he is the most appreciative and the closest observer with whom we have ever conversed evidencing this by a memory which is most remarkable for its retiveness. During his travels he collected many curios and mementos, products of varied parts of the western hemisphere, the history of which he has always ready for the edification of the curious inquirers, and his explanations are of wonderful interest. From the southern portion of Mexico and further, he traveled to the shadow of the north pole at Gnome, Alaska. From the source of the famous Yukon river, where he could and did span it with his hand and drank from its rippling purity he traveled its course for two thousand miles to its Amazon breadth of sixty miles, thence back to view the wonders of his native land. Sure-footed as in the days of his boyhood, he clambered down into the bed of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and strolled through the petrified forests of Arizona, the ninth wonder of the world. Here, huge logs seven feet in diameter and 200 ft. long, petrified to the hardness of flint, lay in massive ruins, awe-inspiring and grand.

It is indeed a pleasure to converse with Mr. Rankin, and many of his souvenirs may be seen in a window of the Midland Hardware and furniture Company.—Midland Livestock Reporter.

Money in Hogs.

A panhandle farmer has marketed $2,500 worth of hogs in three years ago with one Berkshire sow, and she has yielded pigs that have brought him $2,500 and he now has 170 head of hogs which he is feeding. This man raises feed as well as live stock, making a combination that is bound to win. This is a fine hog country; all kinds of feed stuff do well here, and if our farmers will turn their attention to stock farming and not attempt to raise so much cotton, in a few years we will have a prosperous country.

Hogs are selling higher now than they have ever sold and fat cattle are demanding a good price and always will, as the great ranges are gradually growing smaller and in a few years range beef will be a thing of the past. Good horses and mules also command good prices and find a ready market. Feed and stock require much less labor to raise and market than cotton, and the returns are much more satisfactory.

$5,000 For a Whipping.

It does not pay to beat up a West Virginia editor. A short time ago in the Daily Leader, published at Bluefield, W. Va., there appeared an article that was not to the liking of Dr. H. R. Hatfield, one of the leading citizens of the town. Dr. Hatfield forthwith beat H. B. Kitts, editor of the Leader, and it is said, the job was a perfect one. Then the battered editor brought a suit for damages in the amount of $5,000 against Hatfield.

The case was tried at Bluefield, and the jury, after deliberating only eight minutes, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount.

Buckeye Editor Honored.

Governor Harmon of Ohio has honored Chester E. Bryan, editor of the Madison County Democrat of London, O., by appointing him to succeed Lee J. Evans as trustee of the State Institution For the Deaf. Mr. Bryan has served as president of the Buckeye Press association and is one of the most aggressive newspaper men of the state.

Just watch old Terry come to the front.

Don't be a mummy, but open your mouth and it will talk Terry.

After the Dallas fair is over there is going to be considerable moving toward the South Plains. Be sure your ticket reads Brownfield.

We note the Sweetwater Reporter is a hummer this week. With three great trunk lines, it will surely make a fine city.

We have the best schools, best paid teachers and the brightest scholars in the state; the best citizens and the richest land in the world; the prettiest women and the sweetest babies ever. What else can you wish for?

Among our exchanges this week, we notice the Lubbock Avalanche comes out with a large railroad edition. This special is well gotten out and illustrated with some fine cuts, showing that there is really something doing in and around Lubbock. Hail for Dow & Turner.

To those who had no faith in sending products of the Terry county soil to the State Fair at Dallas will probably after reading the following extract from Tuesday's News, scratch some of the moss off their backs and go to work with a will to more fully advertise our splendid advantages. What tickles us most is that old Terry is mentioned first in the list of counties that are well represented:

It was the "Llano Estacado" Day. There was no special program for the honoring of the new country, rapidly settling, steadily gaining in railways, abundantly supplied with subterranean water in what was once reckoned a sterile section, but the counties in that region have their exhibitions at the Fair. These places were much sought, and the visitors were amazed at the evidences of the productiveness of the great area, its limitless possibilities, its cattle industries and allied wealth. Terry, Lubbock, Crosby, Hale, Castro, Deaf Smith, Potter, Dalham, Brisco and Gaines counties were well represented in many ways and other counties are creditably exhibited. Many hundreds of visitors came from those counties to the Fair, honoring the occasion.—Dallas News.

Ferry County Herald (Brownfield): Our paper did not come in till late this week, therefore we had to use about 250 posters. If you receive a green, yellow, red or blue paper this week, just cuss the editor and charge it to the pleasant sensation of running a newspaper 100 miles from a railroad.

Our copy was pink, but we didn't "cuss" the Herald man. On the contrary, we commended him for his resourcefulness. Of course it is inconvenient to run a newspaper 100 miles from a railroad. It is inconvenient to run a news paper anywhere, but it would be just about as trying on one's nerves to have to run a railroad a hundred miles from a newspaper.—Dallas News.

There is a thought in the last sentence that is a deep one. Just consider for a brief moment the possibilities of a modern railroad builders constructing a line of road that far from civilization. He would have to seek out the most barren part of the African desert, or else invade the land of the Tartar and then he would have to use a mass of secrecy to keep the printing press 100 miles in his wake. Verily the press is a co-partner with the ploughshare as the herald of civilization.

The Chats' Corner.

We came very near being blankety, blank, this week but the Professor came in late to our assistance and saved the day. We thank the Prof. from the depth of our heart for the nice tip he gave us. Gee! it makes one feel fine to find a man once in awhile that appreciates one's honest efforts. Most people are continually telling an editor what to do to improve his flimsy sheet, until it is quite a relief to receive such an encouraging, complimentary letter.

Yes, we do believe the Meadow people are the "dough", and when they get ready to build a school, it will be the kind that they will not be ashamed to show a man from Ft. Worth, Dallas, Lubbock, Brownfield, or any other seaport.—Editor.

Meadow School Notes.

"Thanks awfully", Mr. Editor for your expressed confidence in and appreciation of the genuine enterprising public spirit of the Meadow people! We dont mind tossing you a bouquet and telling you that we think the Herald is fully keeping peace with—or rather leading in the general spirit of progress in her portion of the West. So there!

By the way, I wish every patron especially in my district, would take the Herald; for we need a medium of communication so that we might connect the circuit of good will at least once a week, through the great batteries of the press. Dear Mr. Editor, let's convert Terry county into a Grand Mutual Aid and Admiration Society.

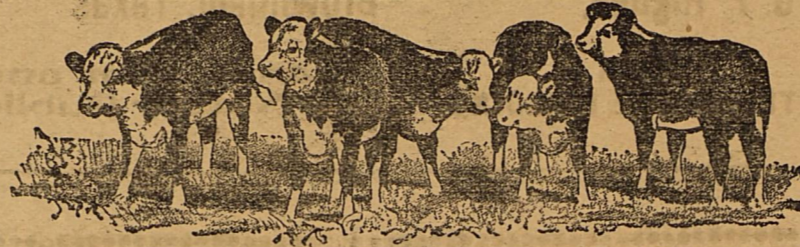

Just in this connection and by way of responding to request of Judge Neill's I will offer a suggestion to the committee on program for the coming institute. I should like to hear a good paper, or a talk, under something like each of the following captions "The Evil of Public Visiting among Each Other during the School Week", "Should Our Rural Schools, with One Teacher be Limited as to Grades?", and "The Importance of Observing

MILLINERY!

I wish to call your attention to the line of up-to-date hats exhibited daily in my department. They are going fast notwithstanding the fact it is yet early in the season. Come before the stock is low and while you can get your choice.

Arbor Day in Beautifying School Grounds.

The Meadow School is still diligent in its business and expects to stand before kings. "All work and no play makes jack a dull boy". Last Saturday (We taught on Saturday to make up for time lost on our trip to Lubbock the week before) we had a few recitations by the little folks, after which Mrs. J. W. Peeler treated us to some nice stories to which both children and visitors listened with suspended breath.

Last Monday at noon we were favored with a visit by Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Lindsey. Mr. Lindsey is one of our trustees and came to see how the "chilly ones" were enduring pitching cold. His visit resulted in our having a good friendly warm stove the next day. In the afternoon, Monday, we were honored with a visit by our superintendent, Judge Neill. He promised us another visit and speech before the session closes. A cordial welcome awaits you anytime, Judge! To visit the school is part of your business.

Two dignitaries of Plainview, Judges Kinder and Penery "blew into" Meadow on the little rain and hail storm last Sunday night and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peeler. These district officers were on their way via Brownfield and Gomez to Plains to hold the fall term of District Court at that place.

Rev. Mr. Riley preached two fine, farewell sermons for us last Sunday. His report shows most excellent work on this charge this year.

J. W. Taylor.

A Card of Thanks.

I ask for space this week in your noble little country paper to thank my friend and patron at Plains, Yoakum Co. for their liberal purchases of my beautiful high class up-to-date splendid stylish hat that I opened up at Plains last Saturday Oct. 13, 1909 and also of their kindness and beautifully treatment shown to us while we were in their fair little city.

Very Respectfully
Mrs. Arthur S. Alexander.

W. T. McPherson has been spending the past week with his Gomez friends. He will not return to Big Springs until after District Court.

W. R. Harris instructed us to send the Herald to his son, Will E. L., who is attending the South-eastern University at Georgetown.

Laughing Joe Marsh, who is herding sheep on the Jno. S. Powell ranch, came in Thursday to attend the Woodmen meeting but was disappointed.

Mr. M. V. Brownfield moved about 600 steers last week from his Terry county ranch to a pasture in the southeast part of Yoakum county.

The Brownfield Mercantile company had their furniture building moved alongside their other business and will begin to fill it with up to date furniture right away.

Will Anderson and wife, of Brownwood, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Anderson's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bryant, in the Groves Chapel neighborhood. They seem to like Terry county fine.

The Methodist and Baptist ladies will serve dinner and supper together on Tuesday, Oct. 26. Everybody come and eat a good meal to help out on the two churches. Meals 35 cents at Longbreak's store.

We beg to direct your attention to the new "ad" of the Brownfield Pressed Stone Company on the first page. This company is a fine addition to the many enterprising firms of our city and should receive your support.

G. E. Lockhart was in town yesterday making preparations for District Court. He is impleading several important cases which will be disposed of during the coming term.

J. R. Chambers and W. E. Henderson of Tahoka, were in Brownfield this week looking over our little city. Mr. Chambers said this was his first trip to Brownfield, and he thought we had a nice little city.

The term of district court in Yoakum County this week was of very little importance. No bills were returned by the grand jury and no criminal or civil business was disposed of except the removal of a minor's disabilities.

The T 4 ranch people are preparing to start to Bovena with 1100 four year old steers. This is said to be the best herd of steers on the Plains and will go into feed pens. They have been bought by Will Harrell of Amarillo.

Ed Neill and wife came in Thursday afternoon from their home in Yoakum county. This is the first visit Mr. and Mrs. Neill have made to Brownfield since their marriage, and will spend several days with their relatives and friends.

Capt. Jack Cross of Lamesa, accompanied by his wife and baby, came over Thursday and returned yesterday morning. Capt. Jack is agent for the Maxwell automobiles and has a good prospect to sell two or three cars in this county.

J. L. Chapman, cashier of the First National bank of Farmersville, and also holding large shares in several banking institutions in Central Texas, was in Brownfield this week prospecting.

We call attention to the announcement of Brownfield Land Co., a new firm recently organized in our city. The President, J. R. Hill, is too well known in this vicinity to need a recommendation, and we will say that Mr. Winston is a well known business man recently of Rosenberg, and comes to us with a fine recommendation. We hope the new firm a full measure of success.

Judge Spencer returned Sunday from El Paso, where he and Mrs. Spencer went to attend the G. O. of E. S. They separated at Big Springs, the Judge coming home and Mrs. Spencer going to Brownwood to visit her mother.

Rev. P. E. Riley will leave for conference within the next few days, and will preach his farewell sermon Sunday. He has a host of friends in Brownfield and vicinity who would regret to see him go elsewhere the ensuing year should the church authorities conclude to remove him. His work here is appreciated as it has left a lasting influence for good in the community.

Mr. A. L. Hill brought into town today the first two wagon loads of hay ever baled in Terry county. This is a very fine quality of millet and was raised on the farm one mile south of town recently sold by Mr. Hill. He raised a fine crop of millet which is bringing him a good price.

Judge Spencer and Mrs. Spencer attended the meeting of the Grand Chapter of the order of the Eastern Star at El Paso, last week. The Judge as Past Worthy Patron and Mrs. Spencer as Worthy Matron and representative of Wade Chapter O. E. S. of Brownfield. The Judge served in the committee on Credentials and Millage and Mrs. Spencer was granted a certificate of proficiency in the Secret and Ritualistic work of the order and authorized to teach the Esoteric Work. The Judge returned last Sunday and Mrs. Spencer went on to Brownwood where she will visit her mother and relatives for a few weeks. The Judge reports a Royal time and is enthusiastic about El Paso.

J. G. Mallard is making arrangements to start with his family to the mountains of New Mexico where he will spend the winter hunting. On his return we may expect a series of hunting stories second only in interest to those of Teddy Roosevelt coming from far off Africa.

The coming term of district court promises to be the most important court ever held in the country. There are several criminal cases to be disposed of, besides a number of important civil cases on the docket, and it will probably require more than a week to dispose of the business.

Ed Neill and wife came in Thursday afternoon from their home in Yoakum county. This is the first visit Mr. and Mrs. Neill have made to Brownfield since their marriage, and will spend several days with their relatives and friends.

Luther French, the efficient book-keeper of the Brownfield State Bank, accompanied by ye editor, took a spin into the country Sunday on the former's automobile. Of course Luther was off to visit pa and ma, but we curved to the left some and visited at the home of our old friend J. E. Bryant. We found pretty good crops in that neighborhood and lots of good chuck to eat, and therefore we had a royal time.

Commissioner S. B. Johnson came in the Herald office and informed us that he had recently returned from an extended trip over a good portion of Central Texas. He said cotton was very sorry and they scarcely had any corn at all. He visited his old home in Coryell county and the old settlers there report the shortest crop ever known. He says we ought to certainly be satisfied in Terry county, for we have the best crop he saw on his entire trip.

Newspaper a Town Builder.

If a member of your family died would you print the resolution on a billboard?

If your wife entertained would you send an account of it to the theatre program man?

If you were going to enlarge your business would you advertise it in a hotel register?

If you were going to have a wedding in your family would you get out a handbill?

You would send such items to a newspaper, wouldn't you?

Then why don't you put your advertising in a newspaper?

The newspapers build up your town. Why not help build up the newspaper. There is no better advertisement in the world for a town than a newspaper. A newspaper is a barometer of a town's industry. Show us a good paper full of advertisements and we will show you a good town full of live merchants.

Newspapers are now builders. town advertisers, fortune makers, news disseminators, sermon deliverers, prosperity forecasters. They are a necessity, not a luxury. They must be maintained. Without them we would retrograde to the medieval days.

Don't patronize them from a charitable standpoint. Patronize them because they deliver the goods—that is if they are the right kind.

Cut out the foolishness and work for the upbuilding of your town and states by upbuilding your newspaper.—Ex.

Bill White's Philosophy.

The thing to do is to pull together; help one another, help the world, help the town, help the State, help the nation, help yourselves. The prosperity of one is the prosperity of all. Pull down your neighbor and you will pull down yourself. Pull a wire across the path of progress and you will break your own neck. Jump the rich man and you will suffer from poverty. Be helpful, big hearted and broad-gauged. There is nothing that hurts business so quickly as the prominence in the world of a tight-laced, claw-fisted, hawk-eyed, cat-footed, hog-hearted, penny-saving, man-hating, cross between a glue pot and a vinegar jug, who never spends a dollar and ninety-eight cents in sight.—Emporia Gazette.

Why Texas Is Great.

Mr. C. A. Beasley, president Texas Bankers' Association, for the Texas Bankers' Journal, Houston, writes in a very interesting way concerning the greatness of Texas:

"The part Texas has played in the past is indicative of what she will do in the future. Her cotton crop, including the by-products, for last season amounted to about hundred and twenty-five million dollars; do you think the English spinners could buy Texas? They might as well try to buy Heaven and the blue skies above us. There are several counties in Texas which, during the season just closed, raised corn, oats, and wheat more than sufficient for home consumption and 100,000 bales of cotton besides. With about onetwentieth of her lands in cultivation. Texas produced in 1906 about 4 000 000 bales of cotton; she grazes 9 000 000 head of cattle and can feed the world on beef, she raised hogs enough to turn the eyes of Chicago packers green with envy; she made wheat enough to feed her own people with a surplus for the markets of other states; she made corn in abundance; she grew vegetables, oranges, strawberries and other fruits in quantities sufficient for home consumption, and sold surplus crops in the North. She fed the cities of Illinois, Missouri and other states with fresh vegetables and delicious fruits, while their citizens were snowbound, or skating upon ice; she has a free school fund worth $50,000 in gold; she made sugar enough to supply every family within her borders, and rice enough to feed Japan for twelve months. She has iron in inexhaustible quantities; it is estimated that in one country she could run fifty 100 ton furnaces one hundred years and still have ore to spare; she has granite enough to build a wall around China and timber in quantities sufficient to house American people.

One Texas cotton crop is equal in value to one-twelfth of the entire farm products of the United States. These are facts and fancies; they can be substantiated by statistics. No thoughtful man can study the situation and not expect to attain our supremacy without a severe struggle, but we will attain to it by our industry and pack

Gould, president of the Gould system of railroads, in speaking of the car shortage, says the South and Southwest is growing faster than any other portion of the United States, and it is almost impossible to keep pace with the demands of such people.

And Texas constitutes the richest and most prosperous section of the Southwest. We congratulate this able financier on his generous statement of the Lone Star State's superior advantages and bright outlook of the future. The three million or more loyal Texans will always be proud to do him honor, and extend the glad hand of welcome to him on all occasions.

How to Advertise.

Members of the Ad. club heard talks by two advertising experts at the weekly luncheon at the Hotel Iroquois, says the Buffalo Express. Fay L. Faurote of the E. R. Thomas Motor company told about automobile advertising and A. N. Drake, president of the Wyekoff Advertising.

The two men seemed to differ slightly as to the value of picture advertising. Mr. Faurote said in selling autos pictures were absolutely essential and that some pictures were better than whole pages of descriptive matter. On the other hand, Mr. Drake spoke for descriptive advertising, admitting, however, that it was an open question which was the better. He asserted that advertising aimed to create a desire and that pictures alone, without cogent arguments, would not turn the trick.

The Buffalo Ad. club will visit Cleveland on Saturday, Oct. 23 leaving at 11 o'clock on the evening preceding. Members will remain in Cleveland until Sunday afternoon. An entertaining program has been arranged. The Detroit ad. men will also be on hand to join in celebrating the first of the series of joint meetings arranged for this winter.

$30 For Cotton Seed

Waxahachie, Tex., Sept. 30—The price of cotton seed on the local market took another bound upward yesterday, when the two oil mills authorized the payment of $30 per ton. So far as known this is the record-breaking price for Texas this season, and is probably the most that has been paid for a ton seed in the State in several years. At the opening of business this morning the mills instructed their buyers to pay $20

LOMBARD PIANOS The Pianopos With The Sweetest Tone Praised by Press and Pulpit

No Piano has ever been more enthusiastically endorsed. The Artistic Case, the Easy, Responsive Action, and above all the deep, sweet, rich Tone, captivates performer and listener. The united verdict is that

LOMBARD PIANOS ARE THE BEST IN THE WORLD !!

Mrs. Helen M. Slaker, 24 Grand Ave., Aurora, Ill., says: "I cannot find words in the English language to express my appreciation to you for having sold me such a beautiful instrument. I really think it is the most beautiful case I ever saw, and the tone is simply grand. I shall be glad to give you any testimonial, as I think the Lombard should take the lead."

Rev. Geo. Doubleday, Pres. Corpus Christi College, Galesburg, Ill., says: "We are using the Lombard in our College work at Corpus Christi, and it is a pleasure to recommend it. It is a beautiful instrument with a deep, sweet, rich tone."

J. W. Purviance, Editor McNairy County Independent, Selmer, Tenn., says: "The instrument (Lombard Piano) fills our most sanguine expectations. It is not only a rare beauty in its outward finish, but the tone is round, full, rich and sweet. Your firm has proven to be prompt and reliable in its dealings with me."

J. Ernest Paxson, Editor Press, Parkersburg, Pa., says: "I must say that the Lombard sent me is a beautiful instrument, and a credit to a standard firm. We are more than satisfied."

R. S. Knapp, President Federal Charter Co., Washington, D. C., says: "We now realize after a careful and comprehensive trial of the Lombard by many musical artists of Washington, that it stands second to none, regardless of price or make. Every one who has tried this instrument is enthusiastic in its praise."

These are samples of hundreds of enthusiastic letters received in every mail.

per ton for seed, an advance of $1 over yesterday's quotations, and in the afternoon the price was raised to $30.

Although the cotton market has shown a downward tendency the last two days, local buyers today paid $4.90 per hundred for cotton in the seed.—Dallas News.
