MEADOW SCHOOL NOTES

Our school is still impaired by the epidemic that struck us three weeks ago. Sickness together with the cold wave last week, afforded us another week of very light attendance. We are able to report only one pupil on the "Honor Roll"—Myrtle Long.

Notwithstanding the small attendance, we had our fifth monthly examination last week. After the strenuous labors of the examination, the little people spent the last period of Friday evening in an old fashion spelling match.

"Uncle Hardy Johnson" has been very low with pneumonia. The last message that we had from there today, he was not expected to live. Of course, every one feels the oppression of the sad news.

Miss Williams, of near Harris, is visiting Mrs. B. G. Glazier.

Brother Trammell preached another nice sermon to the Meadow people today. Mrs. Whitley brought enough dinner to feed a multitude, and quite a few accepted her impudent invitation to stay for dinner. When the dinner was cleared away, we had some fine singing conducted by Mr. F. A. Powell, in which the school children indulged heartily. Mrs. Way being the organist. After we were all tired of singing, Mr. Way treated us to some fine harp music, accompanied by Mrs. Way on the organ. To describe it mildly, the evening was highly enjoyed by all.

Mr. C. W. Dickinson brought in a load of fresh groceries and fancy stationery for the J. W. Peeler firm last week.

Messrs. R. G. Way, J. W. Long, J. W. Peeler, and W. G. Howard, the land man of Meadow, made a visit to Brownfield last Saturday, that Mr. Howard, whom the Commissioners' Court had notified that they had appointed to the office of Justice of the Peace, of Meadow, might qualify and make bond for that office. So Meadow now has a J. P., an officer we have sorely felt the need of for some time. Often we want some one to take an acknowledgment for us and have to wait until we can go to Brownfield or chance to catch some notary passing through here to fix up our business. And, besides, the scribe might want to get married, and of course, I wouldn't like to have to run away down to Brownfield.

In the absence of Mr. Peeler, I got to play the role of a clerk for one whole day. And sell goods? Well, I reckon I did. In the afternoon, I was "as busy as a switch engine". I am not much on wrapping goods, but I can bundle 'em to beat seven hundred dollars. Among my liberally patronizing customers were H. H. and, R. H. Timmons, Geo. W. Turner, W. G. Wood, L. A. Nettles, and J. O. Robinson—oh yes, and Mrs. Jonah Hamlet and Mrs. "Si" Hamlet; besides, I sold several bills by 'phone, and several to passing freighters. Meadow is the trading point for the freighters.

Vital Census Questions.

Washington, D.C., February 21, 1910.—The character of the questions concerning color or race, age at last birthday, conjugal condition, number of years of present marriage, the number of children born, and the number of children now living, to be asked by the enumerators in the Thirtieth United States Census beginning April 15, next, is clearly explained in the printed instructions to the censustakers, which have been prepared by the United States Census Bureau. All the questions relate solely to conditions existing on the "Census Day," which is April 15.

Answers relative to color or race are to be entered on the schedule as "W" for white; "B" for black; "Mu" for mulatto; "Ch" for Chinese; "Jp" for Japanese; and "In" for Indian. For census purposes, the term "Black" (B) includes all negroes of full blood, while "mulatto" (Mu) includes all negroes not of full blood, but having any perceptible trace of negro blood.

As to age at last birthday of the person enumerators are cautioned that this question calls only for the age in completed years at the last birthday. Therefore, a person whose exact age on April 15 is 17 years, 11 months, and 5 days should be returned simply as 17, because that is his age at his last birthday. In the case of children not two years old, the age should be given in completed months, expressed as twelfths of a year. Thus, the age of a child 3 months old should be entered as 3-12, a child 7 months old as 7-12, a child 15 months old as 13-12, etc. If a child is not yet a month old the enumerators are to enter the ages as 0-12. A child who is just a year old on the 17th of April, 1910, should nevertheless be returned as 14-12, because that is its age in completed months on April 15. The enumerators exact age of children.

If the person was born outside the United States, the enumerator is to enter the country (not city or district) in which he was born. Instead of Great Britain, he is told to write Ireland, England, Scotland, or Wales.

In the case of persons born in the double kingdom of Austria-Hungary the enumerator is cautioned to be sure to distinguish Austria from Hungary. In the case of those born in Austria proper, they are to distinguish also those born in Bohemia and those born in Austrian Poland. They should write Finland and not Russia for a person born in Finland.

The inquiry as to the number of children born applies to women who are now married, or who are widowed, or divorced. The answer should give the total number of children that each such woman has had during her lifetime. It should include, therefore, the children by any former marriage. It should not include the children which her present husband may have had by a former wife, even though they are members of her family. Stillborn children are not to be included.

The question concerning the number of children now living refers only to the children which the woman herself has had. The enumerator is required to include all of these children that are living, no matter whether they are living in his district or somewhere else.

Press Day.

Newspaper men like to have a "day off" now and then and see something of what's going on in the busy world. Not so much for the pleasure of seeing it, of course, as for the opportunity it gives them of telling their readers what is going on and how the world is improving.

Well, there's going to be something doing at Fort Worth next month, and it seems that the press gang are a part of it. For one day, at least, they are all of "it." The National Feeders and Breeders show, that is held from March 14 to 19, has set aside the 15th as Press day. Invitations and free passes have been sent to three or four thousand editors in the southwest (we have ours) asking them to come and bring their wives and have a good time. A barbecue is to be a feature of the day, so exclusive in its exclusiveness that nobody but editors will be allowed to partake of it. The menu shows that the Feeders and Breeders are pretty good feeders, anyhow, whether they are breeders or not. We are told that the waiters on this occasion will be the leading business men of Fort Worth, some of them millionaires. Wont it be a fine thing to have a millionaire bank president running around at our call! "Hi, garcon! Another glass—and step lively!" Fellow-editors, can we afford to miss the novel sensation of having a bond clipper trotting around at our call?

The same day, March 15, is Knights of Pythias day at the Feeders and Breeders show, when members of that order from all parts of the Southwest will gather there. The five lodges in Fort Worth, with a membership of 800 are going to take care of their brethren in the best Pythian style and that leaves nothing more to be asked for.

But suppose a newspaper fellow is a K. of P. too—isn't he going to have a hard time doing his full duty to both sets of hosts on that day? Unless he has an unusually large capacity, he will find that serving two hosts is as hard as serving two masters.

Literally True

"Young man," said the old business captain, "I made my start in life by aiming high."

"I know it, grandpa," said the bright youth, "pa tells me that the only reason you weren't put in jail and held back was because you shot two feet over the head of a man you thought was a deer."—Ex.

How many trees did you plant Arbor day?

Only this week one of our foremost contractors told us that he would have to import some carpenters to keep pace with the building movement.

Looks good to us to see lumber unloaded on vacant lots, faster than the carpenters can get to it, to transform it into beautiful dwellings, churches and business houses.

Tickles us to think that we are getting some of Lubbock's very best business men to locate with us. Its good for Brownfield and hard on Lubbock, as they are all boosters.

The trustees of the Groves Chapel school were in this week looking for carpenters to build their school house. Gentlemen you'll have to go elsewhere, we are afraid, as our boys are already up to their eyes in work.

We are in receipt of an invitation, accompanied by a season ticket to visit the coming Feeders and Breeders show at Fort Worth. We thank the management very much for the pass, although we may not be able to attend this far famed show.

We don't see much preparation being made to plant trees on the school campus this year. Have we forgotten this important duty in the rush of other business affairs? If so, we had better refresh our memory, and take another start.

We can remember—and we are not so very ancient—when the hen was considered an object of charity. Her gentle, domestic nature made a farm-yard incomplete without her presence. Then, to her lord and master told the sleepy, people when to get out of bed. The cow even, was kept in a matter-of-fact sort of way. A yoke of four year old steers did well to bring $40.

Science has developed a hen that would pay the national debt in twelve months and not half try, while the steer is a quality that has become so high that thousands of laborers in the cities have quit chewing his porters-houses, not to mention the role the HOG plays.

We respectfully call your attention to the notice of the meeting of the stockholders and Board of Directors of the Quanah Acme & Pacific R. R., to be held at Quanah, Texas, on April 19, 1910. This notice will be found on page four and we ask that you read every word of this notice carefully.

It will be remembered that some time ago a gentleman passed through here going west, and was supposed to be prospecting for oil, but his driver was back here about a week ago and said the man talked railroads more than oil, and that he had drove him from here to Roswell, and also had carried him over routes north and south of Terry and Yoakum counties, but had found serious objections to them. But was favorably impressed with the route through Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties.

Now what we want to do is to begin making preparations right now to send a boosting delegation to this meeting as it is now believed that the gentleman referred to above was representative of this company, and instructed that delegation to offer a bonus if necessary.

Let us get busy.

It is always expected that an editor will sometime during a hot campaign, pump a lot of dope into the columns for his favorite gubernatorial candidate, and give the opposition Hail Columbia. But we are not going to do anything of the sort. We do not believe that were either of our contestant elected that they would wreck the Commonwealth, insult the flag or speak disparagingly of our dead heroes. Of course we have our favorite, and when we get ready to vote, we aim to put in just "one" vote for R. V. Davidson, but farther than that we will just let the big dog have the bone.

Our ideas may be narrow, but we think a country paper will be performing its whole duty when it devotes its time and space to the local happenings, and the improvement of the town and surrounding county. Being conservative in all things, lest it harm one citizen trying to uplift another, Talking diversification, good roads good, homes, better stock, scientific or dry farming, and proper seed selection, is to our notion better than flinging mud for people they've probably never seen. Let the pie getters have the honor of using the "smooty gloves" and the large dailies the honor of reporting the scraps. The local paper covers a local sphere, and if they cover that thoroughly, they will have enough to do.

Some people think you are timid and have no backbone if you don't join the dirt-dobbers and fling mud, but we have concluded that Terry county people have sense enough to vote intelligently without our buttin' in.

Flapjack Days.

How dear to my heart are the flapjacks and bacon That mother constructed in days long ago, And how I would eat till my food shop was aching, And swallow the jack till the flap didn't show; The coffee and rolls and the fritters that sizzled, The cat that sat mewing for scraps now and then— Oh, you may have breakfast served up in three courses, But give me flapjacks and bacon again,—St. Louis Sar.

Wants to Be Judge.

It is with pleasure that we present the name of Judge W. N. Copeland to the voters of Terry county as a candidate for the office of County Judge. The Judge served the people in this capacity once before and proved

That Monstrous Fabrication.

The hookworm parasite has fallen upon the industrial South like a blight upon the growing harvests. The publicity given Mr. Rockefeller's generous proposal to give $1,000,000 to secure the extinction of the parasite has penetrated every civilized nation, arousing fear in the minds of prospective immigrants, turning them away from the garden spot of the world. If these slanderous misrepresentations are not checked the South will suffer even more than Africa is suffering on account of the tsetse fly or India on account of the bubonic plague. It seems that there is no end to an evil report and the farther it goes the worse it becomes, until it at length assumes hideous shape, swooping down in all its blackness and terror, overshadowing all good reports and making the South nauseous in the eyes of the world. If the parasite exists in the South, it exists all over the world, for there are lazy people everywhere. Some of the South's best immigrants come from the North and there is grave suspicion that the hookworm was hatched off and promulgated chiefly to check the Southern flow of immigration. However, the South has tasted the sweets of prosperity, and having set her face toward the rising sun, will live down this evil report and prove her wholesomeness to the world.—Trade Review.

The Crank.

The complete crank is a kind of collector of causes and it is difficult to discover the principle upon which he collects them. A new religion and underclothing and some insipid kind of diet are all the same to him, and he advocates them all with equal earnestness. He wants men to change their lives in every particular and protests against all the ordinary usages of the world both in great and small things. He does not believe that there is any instinctive wisdom in mankind, or any value in past tradition and experience. For his wisdom has only just appeared among men and she has revealed herself to very few.—Ex.

Popular Hatpins.

For everyday wear silver hatpins are popular. There are many shapes, some having long pentagonal or octagonal heads, others round and flat, others in cubic form, etc. Most attractive are those with chased designs. There are also many of these silver pins set with stones, round jade, cornelian, coral and lapis lazuli settings being the most attractive. Among the handsomer pins there are beautiful jeweled heads, quite large, and many of them set with pearls or pearl matrix, surrounded by several rows of brilliants. Colored stones are set in the same manner, so that the metal does not show at all. The flattened hemisphere seems to be the most popular in these handsome pins.

Notice is further given that an annual meeting of the board of Directors will be held at the same place and immediately after the assembling of the stockholders, for the purpose of electing and appointing officers of the Company, for the transaction of such other business as may come before them, and to carry out the instructions given them by said stockholder's meeting.

Queer Mistakes in Signs.

Ignorance of foreign languages is the cause of a curious misuse of words, as may be noted in many instances. Grocery stores again and again display signs which contain these mistakes. In one store recently at the delicatessen counter was displayed a sign which read "Fromage de Brie cheese." The maker of the sign did not know that "fromage" means "cheese," and his sign should have read simply "Fromage de Brie" or "Brie cheese." In this same line was the sign in another store which invited customers to purchase "Petit pois peas." "Pois" is the French for "peas," but the clerk in his ignorance had copied the label and added the name from what he knew the can contained. Mistakes can be found on signs which use English as badly as the foreign tongues, but these mistakes are often only of spelling like that tailor's sign which for years has assured customers that dresses, trousers and coats will be "soured," instead of "secured," at regular prices.
