80th Birthday

Grandpa Shrock was eighty years old last Monday, thus he has become an octogenarian; he has lived ten years over the allotted time. There was to have been a nice dinner in his honor by his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Randal, at which several of his friends were invited, but owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Randal at that time, this part of the program had to be deferred. He received several nice presents in commemoration of his birthday that always comes on "All Fool's day" and he says he was an April fool to his parents:

Phillip Marmaduke Mitchell Shrock is of high German decent but his father didn't know a syllable of German so long has he been in America. His great-grandpa was one of the colonizers of the so-called Dutch colony in North Carolina; Grandpa, however, was born in Madison county, Mississippi on April 1st 1832. His father was a frontier missionary in the early days of Louisiana, discoursing Methodism to the colonists and often ran counter to the wilderness toughs which more than once nearly cost him his life, but he kept on. The name in German is Schrock.

Grandpa Shrock served with distinction as a Confederate soldier in the Civil War being chief gunner in a company of Texas artillery. He has been a strict and conscientious member of the Methodist church for more than 50 years and still insists on paying his part in the church affairs. He has been a Mason for 54 years, being made Mason in 1858 and has helped to organize many new lodges, and even now is regarded as a bright member of that order.

We hope for many more happy birthday returns for Grandpa Shrock.

A Call to the West.

Prize Poem by Sweet William.

If you're seeking a home friend,
Then come to the West;
Out to God's land of sunshine,
And where you can rest.

There are thousands of acres
Awaiting you now,
Broad, rich fertile prairies
Untouched by the plow.

Yes come up to Terry
The Gem of the plains
For the garden and vineyard
And big fields of grain.

For the far famed Nile valley
Her crops wont outyield
The products of Terry
Orchard, vineyard and field

Here the great big red apple
Is growing in reach
Great clusters of grapes
And the Elberta Peach.

We grow thousands of melons
As lucious and fine
As you ever saw bloom
And mature on the vine

Come out to Gods country
And farm your own land,
Don't stay where you're packed
Like Sardines in a can.

Dont stay there and worry
With fever and chills,
Where it takes all you're earning
For big doctor bills.

But come to the blue
Ribbon county of Terry,
Watch your pale sickly children
Grow Brown as a berry.

Where the cool breeze in summer
Keeps fanning your brow
As you hoe in your garden
Or follow your plow.

Tho' my letter is lengthy
E'er closing I'll tell,
I'm not a land Agent,
I've nothing to sell.

I'm just a plain farmer
I subsist by my toil
My beloved occupation
Is tilling the soil.

Dont listen to knockers
Tell with a long face
Who seldom have stayed
For twelve months in a place.

They are always a knocking
Always on the go
Till they stop you to tell you

Their long tale of woe.

Take the tide at its flood friend
And happy you'll be,
Pass your old age beneath
Your own vine and fig tree.

Well this is April and was urshed in by a general phone ring all over town everybody run and "Hello April fool" was all the news.

The good rain last week sure was appreciated, but today's sand storm forcibly reminds us that we are still in the land of wind and sand.

Mesdames L. T. Brooks and Bragg, also Hobart Tubbs left Tuesday morning for the Southwest. Mrs. Bragg and Hobart are going to El Paso where Hobart's parents reside and Mrs. Brooks will pay a brief visit to her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Cleveland who lives near Kermit in Winkler county.

While Geo. Bragg was splitting kindling wood Monday morning a stick flew up and hit his eye, inflicting a painful but we hope not serious wound.

The children enjoyed a party at the residence of Mr. Will Moore on last Saturday evening in honor Lloyd Moore's birthday. They all report a splendid time playing games and drawing candy; cake and other light refreshments were served.

Jim and Paul Davis went out to their place in Yoakum county last week to put in a crop out there.

Elmo Davis was up from Lou visiting the home folks last week.

The young folks are planning a grand Easter egg hunt but the exact place they will have it at is not decided.

from the race for representative of the 122nd district, giving as his reason that other business keeps him from becoming an active candidate, but he intimates that his hat will likely be in the ring at some future campaign. His many friends in Terry county will learn of this decision with regrets as they not only aimed to vote for but actively support him. This will leave Hons. F. E. White, of Crosbyton, and J. J. Dillard of Lubbock in the race.

Holland's Magazine of Dallas Texas, has put one over this time. The publishers offer one thousand dollars in cash to towns in Texas that will clean up—and stay cleaned up, that is all. The towns that can enter are divided into three classes. For those of 1000 and under 2000 the publishers offer $200; for the cleanest town of 2000 and under 4000, $300, and for the cleanest town of 4000 and under 10,000 population $500. No entry fees are required to enter the Holland Contest. It is the opinion of this journal that there is never a time when a town shouldn't concern itself with this problem. We can prevent epidemics. We can attract people to become residents of our town because we are cleaner than other towns.

With the death of U. S. Senator Robt. L. "Fiddling" Taylor, of Tennessee, goes one of the most unique characters. He served three terms as Gov. of that State and while some said he paid more attention to duck hunts than legislation, somehow he always made good in his administrations and only suffered defeat at the hands of his constituents once, and that was two years ago, when he became a candidate for the Patterson faction against Ben Hooper a Fusion candidate, and that only by a small margin of 8000. His oratorical powers were wonderfully developed, and his description of natural scenery superb. It is recorded that it was no mean feat for him to cause his audience to shed tears one moment and convulse them with laughter the next.

During many interviews with a number of our orchardists we learn with sorrow that the peach crop will be very light this year and that there will not be an abundance of plums if there are no more freezes. With no more bad weather the apple crops will be safe it is believed and of course we will have the usual crop of grapes. The later seems to be a never failing crop in Terry county and should be more planted. One prominent west side farmer told us recently that it was pure laziness that we did not have fruit this year as with the abundance of ice we have had this year, he could have iced his trees and held them back a month. We believe he will give this method a trial anyway in the future.

Dick Brownfield's handsome 2-story bungalow is nearly completion. This beautiful residence will add greatly to the appearance of our little town.

In the proper column of this issue of the Herald, will be found the announcement of Hon. John H. Moore, of Lubbock, for the office of district judge, subject to primary election July 27th.

This is an important office, and the people of the district should be careful as to the man that they place in the office, and knowing this he asks that the voters make a careful investigation of himself, believing that the more they investigate the matter the better it will be for him.

He was raised on the farm, in Grayson County, Texas, though a native of Cherokee County, Ala. He remained on the farm, and teaching school till he was nearly thirty years of age, and then took a course in law at the University of Texas, from which institution he graduated eight years ago. He practiced his profession at Van Alstyne, in Grayson County, until his removal to Lubbock, three years ago, where he has been connected with some of the most important cases in the courts of that county, as well as cases on appeal in the higher courts of the state. His practice has been a successful one, and he is well equipped for the office of district judge. He is an active young man near forty years old, frank and open in his relation to every issue before the people.

It will be remembered that he was one of the applicants for the appointment last year, when the district was created, and had very strong endorsements for the place from the bench and bar of Texas, among whom was the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, who has known him for a long time, and knew of his practice and his life.

The Lubbock Avalanche, his home paper speaks of him in the highest terms, and says:

"Mr. Moore has been a citizen of Lubbock for about three years, and has impressed all with whom he has come in contact, with his sterling character, soberness of thought and legal ability. Those who know him best, both as a man and as an attorney, think most of him and are his best friends.

"He seeks the office on his own responsibility solely. And his education, legal knowledge, strict morals, vigorous mind and body, habits of life and thought, make of him a judicial temperament, and peculiarly fitted for the office of he seeks."

Mr. Moore is in the very best years of his life, and since the office requires a man of vigor both in mind and body, together with the legal ability for which he is known, we bespeak for him the careful consideration of the voters of this county, and the district, when they are making up their minds as to whom they should support, for the office of district judge. He is a man, who will reflect credit upon himself and the office, should he be elected, and the people will be pleased that they have such a man as the judge of the district.

He submits his candidacy to the people, to whom the office belongs, firm in the conviction that if they will honor him by placing him in this office, he will be able to give them such an administration of the office as will meet their hearty approval, and that will result in the saving of the peoples time and money. Consider him well before you decide to cast your vote.

KEEPING BOYS ON FARMS.

Government's Corn Club Movement Found to Interest the Youngsters.

In a farmers' bulletin describing demonstration work on southern farms the United States department of agriculture declares that "one of the outgrowths of the demonstration work is the boys' corn club movement. We were in a position, through our organization and our force in the field, to perfect the corn club idea and give the instructions necessary to systematize it. Under our supervision every boy enrolled works a definite piece of ground under definite instructions that will give him an exact knowledge of how to work large crops. One of the strong features of the demonstration work is that it is co-operative, and in the boys' work we frequently find the other vital forces of the county—the superintendent of public education, the teachers, the business men, the newspapers and the parents—all giving aid and support.

THE BOY AND THE CROP—FIRST THE BOY BECAME INTERESTED; THEN HE GREW THIS CORN.

[From bulletin United States department of agriculture.]

"In Holmes county, Miss., in 1909 our boys' corn clubs produced crops averaging seventy-six bushels of corn per acre. The corn grown by their fathers and the neighbors averaged about sixteen bushels. This, with the results in other counties, was sufficient to arouse the state of Mississippi and create an overwhelming public sentiment in our favor. From a total enrollment of 10,543 during that year the movement grew until the year 1910 recorded an enrollment in the various states of 46,225 boys.

"We have some cases where the boys of one county are challenging the boys of another county to a contest in corn production.

"One of our requirements, which has had a very beneficial effect, is that the proceeds of the acre shall go to the boy.

"We have also a system which will prove equally effective for the girls of the rural schools, so that the whole school can be instructed in a practical way."

A small plot of rich land produces more crop than a larger plot of poor land and costs less in taxes.

It is estimated by investigators in the employ of the biological survey at Washington that damage to the amount of $10,000,000 is done in the United States annually by ground squirrels. The bulk of this damage is done in the western states to cereal crops, pastures and orchards, while in California this squirrel is known to be a spreader of the bubonic plague.

We received a card from the Terry bunch in California this week and showed a good photo of Leedy Q. Almon and Railroad Hughes standing on either side of a big "perliceman" with a big shalalah. The report goes on to say that Almon was arrested for mistaking the San Diego sidewalks for spittoons, which so scared Hughes that he swallowed his quid, which has laid him up a few days—in the locker. We bet they'll come back to where they don't have to look where they spit.

Harris Happenings.

April 3rd

McPhaul Bros. and Ellington Bros. sold their steer yearlings to T. C. Ivey at $24 per head.

We have learned that A. V. Mabry of Grapevine Texas, who was out looking at the Childress land some time ago, really traded for it. Since then Mr. Mabry traded one section of the land for a 200 acre farm in Tarrant Co., which he values at more than $10,000. He says he can just as easily dispose of the other 3 sections.

Mr. Wingo and family of Plainview, arrived last Sunday and are now living on the Alley place which Mr. Wingo's mother bought last year. We are glad indeed to welcome these good people in our midst.

Some time ago we heard C. H. Burrus of Lubbock had sold his four sections of land here. We have learned it to be a fact and Mr. Meridith who bought the place has moved in with his family.

Misses Caroline McDowell and Eva Harris went to Plains last Friday.

McPhaul Bros. sold T. C. Ivey a nice bunch of mares and young mules last week.

Brother Trammell wishes us to state that there is not yet any definite understanding about the two sermons and dinner on the ground at Meadow the 3rd Sunday as announced by our Primrose correspondent. He says he left the proposition up to the Lakeview folks to decide on and that he did not want anybody to make any preparations only to be disappointed.

TEXAS APPLES BRING SPLENDID DIVIDENDS

NO PRODUCT PAYS ANY BETTER
TEXAS FIGURES SHOW.

5,000,000 TREES BEARING

The apple has always played an important part in the history of the human race. It was an apple rosy and red that attracted the attention of Eve and she gave to Adam, who according to Holy Writ, "did eat" and ever since that eventful day the apple has been a favorite diet of mankind. It was an apple falling to the ground that stirred the brain of Newton and he gave us the laws of gravitation. It was an apple tree upon which grafters first plied their vocation and so successful were their operations that the profession has since flourished so rapidly as to menace civilization. It was a Texas apple that was awarded the first premium at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1904 and no State has ever been able to wrest from us this undisputed evidence of our superiority as an apple producing State.

It is the most obedient plant in the vegetable kingdom and yields implicitly to the genius of man; it will change color, size, flavor, maturity and durability at the touch of a master hand. It is undoubtedly the most universal, resourceful and profitable of commercial fruits.

The northern tier of counties has long been known as the banner section in apple production, but is now dividing honors with the Pecos country and the Panhandle.

Some idea of the increase in the apple industry in Texas may be gained when we consider that the number of trees in the State today is more than five millions, while in 1870 there were less than 300,000 trees. The following table, taken from the reports of the Department of Agriculture, shows the progress of the apple industry by decades:

1870.....	290,000
1880.....	550,000
1890.....	662,000
1900.....	1,485,000
1910.....	5,000,000

Texas offers to the orchardist a soil and climate that will give vigor and productive power to the trees, color and flavor to the fruit and an established reputation to the product.

The Prairie Dog Law.

The law providing for the killing of prairie dogs in substance this: The people of any county sends a petition to the Commissioners Court; they order an election; when held if a majority vote is; its so declared by the Court, a proclamation is made by the County Judge; one year from time the Law takes effect. Each man should kill the dogs on his own land, and on the land he has leased. If he fails, and the dogs

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XI. ENTERTAINMENT

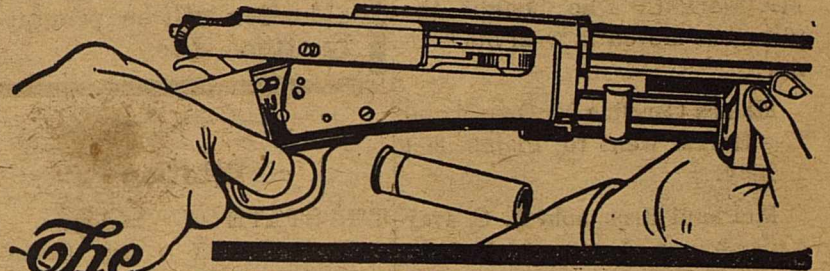

WHEN Themistocles was asked by his host at a dinner party to entertain the guests by playing the lute, he replied that he "could not play the fiddle, but that he could make a small town a great city." We have in Texas many politicians who are good "fiddlers," but they cannot make a small town a great city. We are overrun with orators who can play upon the passions of the people, but they can't put brick and mortar together. We need builders.

A FAVORITE PASTIME OF POLITICIANS.

Let those who hunger and thirst for power understand that the highest glory of the statesman is to construct, and that it is better for a man that he should build a public highway than that he should become Governor of the State, and that he start a plow than that he become the author of a law. The true test of statesmanship is the plow and the hammer, and let those who would govern, first build. Texas needs great men.

go over on his neighbor, he is liable to him for $2.50 per acre, for so many acres as the dogs go onto. No number of dogs is named at all, nor any amount of damage figures. All the requirements of the law have been complied with, the law has been effect for two years. Many of the citizens of the county have, and are killing their dogs; many others desire to but hesitate thinking the other will not. Some complaints have been made. Now we hope everybody will strike as one blow and kill every dog in the county, it will be better and easier on all.
