Bob Lovett The Student.

"I have known Bob Lovett ever since he was a barefoot boy on his father's farm in San Jacinto County" said J. S. Rice, president of the Union National Bank of Houston. "His father came from Alabama and settled in what we called the 'big thicket.' The wild animals were quite a menace to the early settlers, but Bob knew every animal trail and bridle-path in that great forest. He knew the thicket like a book and the denizens of the forest knew him. They used to skulk away from his presence like the bulls and bears, of Wall Street now rush for the canyons and jungles when he walks down that noted Broadway.

"Bob got his early education studying borrowed books by the light of a pine knot on the floor of his father's log cabin. His early life was full of hardships and disappointments but through it all he was never known to become idle or discouraged. When I see youths loitering around and men complaining for lack of opportunity, I always want to tell them the story of Bob Lovett."

BOB LOVETT THE TIE MAKER.

I have known Bob Lovett ever since he began his railroad experience making ties for the Houston East and West Texas" said Neal Robinson of Houston. "He was then a lad about fifteen years of age, but he knew how to wield an ax. That man could step out of his Wall Street office today and split one hundred rails, cut a cord of wood or hew a dozen ties in a day and live on branch water, cornbread and bacon.

Bob Lovett in many respects resembles Abraham Lincoln and Old Abe had none the best of him in the way of honesty, industry and frugality.

"In east Texas, we feel like we have contributed our share towards civilization by giving the world Robert Scott Lovett."

LOVETT ON WALL STREET.

"Robert Scott Lovett brought the noble spirit of the Southwest to New York, where he was always known as 'Harriman's mind', relates Mr. Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway.

While Harriman summoned other people to his private office, he always went up to see Judge Lovett and sat down with him in consultation. In the last years of the railroad magnate's life, he leaned heavily upon the broad shoulders of his valued advisor.

Mr. Lovett always told Wall Street the truth and he brought to this financial thoroughfare an integrity of character and strength of purpose much needed in its fiscal transactions and there is no man in the nation more influential in the industrial world than this gifted Texas, Robert Scott Lovett."

News From Yoakum.

Lum Hudson secured pasture this week in the west line of Terry county for 600 steers, belonging to Messers. Rickman & Gray, of Carlsbad, New Mexico

The editor of the News has recently received a letter from Prof. W. G. McConnell which states that he and his family will remain in Dallas another year, he having procured a job of book-keeping there.

Contractor Copeland moved his teams and grading outfit last Monday over from Gomez and has commenced grading the road east of Plains for which he is under contract with the Commissioners' Court.

Claud Criswell, one of Brownfield's liverymen, came over last Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday. Claud has many friends and acquaintances in Plains who are always glad to see him.

A good rain covered a portion of Yoakum county Thursday night. At Plains and in the north east and southeast parts of the county it was very light, but in the south, southwest and western portions of the county the ground is said to have been wet to a depth of several inches. Indications are still good for rain, but as this editor has been in west Texas for the past twenty years he makes no prophesis.—Yoakum County News.

V. H. Trammell Withdraws.

To the voters of Terry county: The causes that induced me to ask the people for the Tax Assessors office has been removed by my parents, and I hereby publicly withdraw from the race, and leave Jim Burnett and Bob Glover to court the "Dear People" and finish out the race. To my friends and supporters I wish to publicly say that I am grateful indeed for their support, and wish to thank each and every one of you for what you have done or would have done for me.

Respectfully,
V. H. Trammell

Good Showers.

Fall Over Terry Last Thursday
And Again This Week.

A good shower fell over the greater portion of Terry county last Thursday afternoon that was sufficient to wet the ground enough for the moisture to meet and which started vegetation to growing. This was followed by a great deal of cloudy weather which held the moisture. The clouds became dense enough again about midnight Tuesday and a good slow rain fell for several hours, and began again after sunrise and showered until 11 a. m., which on top of the other, makes a real good season. We learn that the southern part of the county received a good rain two weeks ago. The rest of the county is wonderfully blest with moisture. Indications are good for some more rainfall.

Lubbock Lanchetts.

From the Avalanche

W. K. Dickinson returned Monday from Terry county where he went to look after cattle interests.

Candidates, Ferguson, Moore and Robinson, all asking the dear voters of the 72nd Judicial District for the high honors of the Judgeship, returned Friday from a campaign trip into Lynn county.

Miss Ella Dillard, niece of Mrs. W. K. Dickinson, who has been teaching school in Terry county the past school term, is visiting at the Dickinson home a few days. She will go from here to her home in Buffalo Gap, where she will spend the summer vacation.

Married.

Mr. F. M. Ellington and Miss Caroline McDowell, living in the northeast part of the county, were married by Rev. B. F. Dixon, in Plains last Tuesday. Mr. Ellington is a prominent young stockman in the northeast part of the county, and his bride has been teaching school in that neighborhood for the past year, and both are very popular where they are known. The News joins in extending them congratulations.—Yoakum County News.

Mrs. J. T. Hamilton left this week for Plainview, where she goes to attend the sick bedside of her little grand-daughter, who is reported very sick.

We were fortunate enough last week to receive an invitation to accompany Ed Berry, of Amarillo, to that city, in the latest model "Velie 40" car, which is built for power, durability and speed. We accepted and left Knowles Sunday night and driving to within six miles of Bronco where we retired for the rest of the night with a nester. Next day we ate breakfast in Plains, dinner at Lubbock and supper in Amarillo. The car and driver were both good performers and did some remarkable work. The Lubbock Plainview and Brownfield countries are all well supplied with grass and appear to be building up. We would like to have direct mail connections with these live towns—Knowles (N. M.) News.

This is a day of advertising. People are advertising everything from a poodle-dog to a hundred section ranch, yet it is not a fad as it has been in vogue for centuries and is generally growing all the time; double quick of late years, until today a town of 2000 souls that does not sport an ad club is a slow go. Some of the larger firms are spending thousands of dollars for advertising each year, and the next year always finds them appropriating more money to this fund. They are our greatest business men and if it failed to pay them, they would "cut'er out," as they never consider the money thus spent their portion of a charitable appropriation toward sustaining their local newspapers and printers. No they are cool, calculating business men that have passed the age of a "sympathy fund" for a newspaper. Withal there are still very curious things about some advertisers. For instance there is a famous cigar that you see advertised on almost every bill board, plank fence, hotel lobby and occasionally they use a page of some daily paper, and yet on the box lid and posters in big letters we are astonished to read, "not advertised." Just what they mean by such an open or shielded falsehood, we leave them or some one else to explain.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Baptist Sunday School children, joined by friends and others who desired to do so, boarded buggies, hacks and wagons Tuesday morning with full baskets of dinner and hied away for an all day picnic. The children carried their hooks and lines but we learn that few fish were caught as they did no seining. At the noon hour a fine dinner was spread and all enjoyed the repast hugely after a strenuous morning's play.

Late in the afternoon they wined their way homeward with sunburned nose, cheeks, and lips, but withal very happy.

Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Balch has formally announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lennis, to Rev. Almus Day Jameson, which will be celebrated at Hermleigh, Texas, on Tuesday afternoon June 18th, 1912.

A railroad is indeed a great asset to any country, but plenty of moisture just at the right time is a much greater one. Without rain there is no people, and without people there will be nothing to haul and a railroad will not cross a desert except to reach another prosperous country. Give this country plenty of moisture and the crops people harvest will become such a com-

In conversation with Ben Glazier this week he informed us that Col. John Slaughter had passed over our new road from Tahoka to Brownfield recently and classed it above every thing in West Texas. He guessed the construction cost $18,000, when in reality only about $2,200 has been spent on it.

HATS! HATS!! hats!!! Hats of all descriptions, sizes, colors and styles. Latest imported velvets, fuzzies, felts and woolens, and full line Jno. B. Stetsons just arrived at the Mercantile. You'll have to see them to appreciate them.

Misses Kate Hooker; Moran Wright, Ora Stewart and Mr. Drew Phillips, of Lubbock, came down Sunday in the latter's car and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Banowsky. Miss Ora will spend the week here as she was a childhood playmate of Mr. Banowsky. The girls informed the editor that they had visited all the boarding houses in quest of bachelors, but hadn't found any. Now the Herald believes that as fine looking girls as they would never have to leave Lubbock to find all the bachelors they are looking for. However we invite them to visit Brownfield again.

The Proud Mother.

"Come hither: little Mary Ann," the doting mother said; I have about three quarts of jute to put upon your head. I see the neighbors' daughters go to school fixed up so fine. I won't have it said, my dear, that you are not in line; so let me kalsomine your face with pigments rich and rare, and put some red paint on your lips, and cook and curl your hair, and push you in a narrow skirt that shows your every curve, so you will get from rubbernecks the notice you deserve. And you must wear your snowy shoes that advertise your feet, and take the crazy hat that scares the horses on the street, for I won't have the neighbors say that my dear little maid is not as good as any, or as stylishly arrayed. Of course you don't look like a child with all your paint and curls, but you're upholstered just as well as any other girls; of course you cannot rue or play as children used to do, but we must show the neighbor girls they have no edge on you; of course you're like a monkey; dear, of course it is a shame but since the neighbors turn out apes, I have to do the same.—Ex.

WINTER BEES OUT OF DOORS

Method Found Satisfactory Where Temperature Has Gone to 15 Degrees Below Zero.

A satisfactory arrangement for wintering bees out of doors is illustrated. This method has been found useful even where the temperature has been known to reach 15 degrees below zero and the weather to vary considerably from week to week, says the New England Homestead. As shown the hives are mounted on stands in pairs and covered with a packing case. The stands and the hives remain in position all the year round, but the packing case is removed in the spring. The case has neither bottom nor top when first placed in position. This permits the spaces between the case and the hives to be packed with hay, which is much more convenient than chaff, sawdust, etc. As shown in the smaller drawing, the entrances to the hive are open, but some distance back from the outside wall and protected by a little porch. In the upper part of the drawing is also shown the hive packed with hay and with the loose cover partly removed. If there is much danger of wind the covers should be weighted with stones or bricks.

For best results boxes should be deep enough to take in not only the ordinary hive but the super or second story as well, together with the regular hive cover. There should also be several inches between the hive tops and the top of the packing case. Between the walls there should be spaces of four inches at back, front and sides. Between the two hives eight or ten inches is allowed. From the hive entrance to the outside there should be a bridge terminated by an alighting board. If the corners of the packing case are hinged the case may be stored flat from spring until the following autumn and thus occupy very small space in the apiary. If this method is adopted screw eyes and hooks should be on one corner, so the sides may be loosened and folded. Water should be carried away quickly from the stand. This can be easily done by having the case fit down over a raised portion of the stand and by having the outside slope toward the edge. This is not shown in the drawing. The roof should also slope from front to rear.

Saving Manure Values.

On the subject of hauling manure, Professor Gilmore of the New York experiment station, says: "We think, all things considered, it is better to haul the manure directly from the stable to the fields than it is to pile it up for any length of time. If well rotted manure is desired for trucking purposes or for top-dressing for hay lands, then it must be stored, but under ordinary conditions for this purpose losses from 25 to 45 per cent, in the fertilizing value of manure occur, and if it is not kept reasonably wet and stirred from time to time, excessive fermentation results, to say nothing of dry burning and leaching. Losses amounting to 35 to 57 per cent, have been recorded when manure has been exposed to weather. This loss refers mainly to the fertilizing material in the manure. It is still available as humus or organic matter when applied to the soil."

BEEES AND FARM NOTES

The long-headed farmer is the one who has hay to sell in the spring. To maintain normal soil fertility the supply of humus must be conserved.

There is nothing that gives a man such safe anchorage in life as a good wife.

The sort of seed corn to select is the kind that produces bushels per acre.

Onions, unlike potatoes and other root crops, will not keep in a moist cellar.

Low ground drained can be cultivated earlier than high ground not drained.

Diversified gardening is the safest course for growers supplying local markets.

Decaying organic matter in the soil adds to its warmth and stimulates plant life.

Keep the hoe going in dry weather and you will not need the watering pot often.

The wheel hoe will save many a backache and do the work of three hand hoes.

Plan your farm to reduce the necessity of buying additional feed to the lowest point.

A mixed cover crop of nitrogenous and non-nitrogenous plants is often used to advantage.

There are only two ways manure can lose in value, namely, by fermentation and by washing.

Do not plant short rows, but let them run the whole length of the garden if need be—why not?

Lend your crops to your live stock and see what a big interest they will pay and how promptly they pay it.

Harris Happenings.

June 12th,

On last Wednesday Miss Caroline McDowell and F. M. Ellington were quietly married at the home of Rev. B. F. Dixon, of Plains. The bride is a charming and accomplished young lady whose friends are legion. She came to us last autumn from Pennsylvania, and took charge of our school, since then she has made a host of friends, who are truly glad to have her locate here. The groom is one of our most enterprising young men and we congratulate him, on having secured such a prize.

W. H. Harris made a trip to Lubbock last week after groceries.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ellington, left last Saturday afternoon to visit Mr. Ellington's people.

Some of our neighbors received good rains last Thursday and Saturday afternoons. The rest of us are still hoping for rain. Local showers are more welcome than a general drought.

Bro. Jameson filled his appointment Sunday, and delivered two good sermons to an interested audience. Miss Olga Fitzgerald was admitted into the Methodist Church.

E. E. Simms came out from Gomez with Bro. Jameson and attended church here Sunday. They both enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, on Saturday night.

Brit Clare went to Lubbock the first of this week after wire and post.

Messrs. Jim Moore, Tom Glover, Emmet Green and Roy Green of Gomez, attended church here Sunday.

Mr. John Slaughter from near Post City, went through our country last week, looking for pastures for his cattle. We understand he will move a number of his cattle up this way in the near future.

Peanut Producers Prosperous.

Washington, D. C. - A report given out today by the Federal Census Department shows there were a million bushels of peanuts produced in Texas in 1909 and they yielded the producers on an average of $1 dollar per bushel. Texas ranks sixth in peanut production compared with other states in the union. North Carolina leads with an annual production valued at approximately $4,000,000.

TEXAS FARM VALUES GAIN $1,000,000,000

Population on Farms Increases Nearly Half a Million.

We have on the tax assessors' rolls of Texas 156,946,934 acres of land, leaving approximately 11,000,000 acres of land not on the tax rolls which is owned by the State, exempt from taxation, or assessed at town and city lots. The assessed value of land has increased from $3.02 per acre in 1900 to $6.51 per acre in 1910, making a total increase of $550,000,000 in assessed land values and when we consider that land is assessed at probably less than 50 per cent of its true value, we find an actual increase in farm land alone of $1,100,000,000. The Federal Census reports verify this estimate by crediting us with a net gain of $1,130,939,000 or 163 per cent during the past decade.

According to the reports of our Railroad Commission we have built 3952 miles of railroad during the past decade and it is estimated that a mile of railroad will add $64,000 per mile to adjoining property. Railroad construction alone has added a quarter of a billion dollars to land values. The facilities on all roads have been increased, enabling the products to reach the market earlier and in better condition, thereby increasing the value of production. The improvement of our public highways has had its effect in increasing values and the immigration agents are entitled to a large share of credit for our development.

Our rural population in 1900 was 2,488,838 and in 1910 the census reports give us 2,958,838, making an increase of 469,992 people on our farms. The wealth per capita of our rural population in 1900 was $160 and in 1910 it was $347 per capita, making an increase of $187 per capita or 117 per cent, which measures, in a way, the prosperity of the Texas farmer. We have opened up during the past decade 64,187 farms and now have a total of 416,477 farms in operation and the average size of our farms shows a decrease of from 357 acres in 1900 to 262 acres in 1910, or an average of 95 acres per farm, all of which has undoubtedly had a strong influence in increasing the wealth per capita of the Texas farmer.

GOMEZ DOTS

June 11th.

Professor Harrison received a phone message last week to "come at once" to see his mother. She is 83 years of age and has been in bad health for quite a while. He left on Tuesday evening for her home in Montague county.

Mr. Will Black and family; also Joe Black, will leave this week for a months visit to relatives and friends back east, in Stephens county.

Messrs. Robert Holgate and D. B. Watson left Tuesday, on a business trip (we did not learn where) but west of here. They will be gone a week or more.

Mr. Archer Terrell who lives in East Yoakum, came in town last Saturday and stayed over until Monday morning.

Mrs. Dumas and Miss Lizzie came to Gomez last Saturday to meet Miss Nancy, who had been visiting out in Yoakum county. Miss Nancy reports that the rain which was so here, was only light showers at Plains.

Mr. Artie Shepherd and wife are visiting out at Mr. Horton Leache's this week.

Rev. A. D. Jameson left for Hermleigh Texas, so we are informed, and the current report here in town is that he has gone there to get married.

Vance Glover is on the sick list this week, though so far is not confined to his bed.

Mr. John Slaughter of Post City, was here this week. He was looking for grass, and has leased quite a large block of grass out due west of here on the line of Terry and Yoakum counties.

Mrs. Meadows left for her home in Beckenridge last week. She carried her daughter Mrs. Lemley home with her.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Broughton last Sunday morning, a girl.

Quite a lot of our people are now trying to talk up a picnic to be held here on the square the 4th of July. We hope they will succeed and if they decide to have it, will tell you next week.

There will be held at the Baptist church on the 4th Sunday in this month at 4 o'clock p. m. an old fashioned experience prayer

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXVII. CORRECTIONS

WHEN Appeles was exhibiting a beautiful painting a cobbler directed his attention to a fault in the shoe and the master immediately corrected it; the shoemaker then criticised the shaping of the leg and Appeles said, "Shoemaker, stick to your last." The advice of the painter stands as good in government as it does in art, but unfortunately many of our legislators have no last and others insist on legislating the most on things they know the least about. If our legislators would "stick to their last," we would soon have "fewer laws and better laws."

APPELES EXHIBITING A PAINTING.

Let those who aspire to write our laws struggle with their subjects like a soul working out a plan of salvation for the human race; soar in the bright crisp atmosphere of the practical and light on the mountain peaks of progress with the unerring accuracy of an eagle in its flight; rise from the low dusky horizon of suspicion to the star-lit heights of genius and kneeling at the feet of the ruler of the Universe study nature's laws from divine demonstrators. Texas Needs Great Men.

meeting; everybody is invited.

Mrs. Fulbright, wife of the gentleman who bought out Mr. Eldridge Maddux, was in Gomez Tuesday.

Mr. Oral Adams carried Willie out to the ranch with him last week to help look after the cattle. So one more boy is gone from Gomez. My! My! between normal schools, farm work and riding after cattle, Gomez is about depopulated of the school age of young people.

Well every body who will work sure has a job now and there is yet more work to do. No excuse for idlers here since the rain. West Wind.
