The Editor Inspects Some Good Crops.

East Side of County Strictly In It.

After the press work was over last Friday, and the paper was mailed out to its readers, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Scott drove in from nine miles east of here after the editor and wife to go out and spend the rest of the week with them and of course we accepted very heartily.

First, we want to say that Mr. Scott's home is set off by that very necessary adjunct,—to our notion—a large, private fishing tank, well stocked with the finery tribe of the cat variety, and we want to say further that we had plenty fishing while out there and not only that, but we had three squares of pound and larger fish, which were the first for some time, and which we enjoyed to the full extent of our 150 pound capacity.

As Sunday is a favorite day in old Terry county to look at crops, we took the opportunity to see as fine 135 acre crop as a man could wish to see on that amount of ground. Now let us say right here for the benefit of readers in the North and East that Mr. Scott planted and cultivated this crop by himself, except perhaps one month's hired help, but it will take three or four men to harvest it. That is the general rule in old Terry; one good farmer can make as much as three or four can possibly gather. He has about thirty acres of white maize now ready to harvest, and he will probably head this, but it will make all he will have barn room for; the rest will be cut with a row binder and shocked.

His broom corn, a fancy variety of the dwarf, is also about ready to head and in another week or two he will, like all other east side farmers, have work for two or three extra men. He will probably make three tons or $240 worth of broom corn, but if he had got a stand, he would just as easily have gotten double that amount.

His corn just now getting in roasting ear, while good; does not average with the rest of his crop. Some of it in little sinks has, had too much rain, as shown by looking light and sickly. He also has a small strip of Egyptian wheat, which he is trying out, and which promises an abundant yield, and we believe it will be planted extensively in Terry county in the future. On this farm we saw cane so dense and heavy that a row binder will not move over three feet without shedding a bundle.

To sum it all up, Mr. Scott's crop is easily worth $1200 like it stands, or will bring as much money when harvested as the land on which it was grown. Mr. Eastener or Northerner, will your $100 per acre land do that? Will it? We pause for reply. No you say; it will not pay a fourth of its value., and in many instances will not pay a tenth, nay, the interest and taxes. Then why persuade yourself to remain there longer. Catch some sucker on your land and come to Terry, purchase a home and pay for it with the first crop. It has been done more than once, and you can do the same. Excuse us for this variation.

We want to say that we had a splendid time and appreciate very much their consideration of us, the outing etc. In coming back we got to see the splendid crop on Dr. Miles ranch and their 20 acres of peas that have covered the ground thoroughly. They have the best crop out there raised in several years, and like last year, Dr. Miles can ship several cars of feed from his ranch in Terry county to his farms in McLennan county if they have fallen short.

Rev. DeLong Visits Terry

Is Well Pleased With Every thing; Only Need A Railroad.

About two weeks ago, the editor received a letter from the above gentleman who lives at Chicago, asking where to get off the Santa Fe to visit Brownfield, and on last Friday noon he came in on the mail hack from Lubbock.

In conversation with Rev. DeLong, he informed us that when he and his wife were teaching in Pennsylvania about 33 years ago, an uncle of his wife wrote her to send him a trifle (less than $100) and he would purchase her a section of land," which she did, and as a consequence she owns Section No 57 in Block D 11, a splendid section of dirt that is now worth $6000,00 and probably more, and with the advent of a railroad will be worth many times that amount. In giving his opinion of Terry, among many other things he said:

"First you need the iron horse to move these abundant crops and to bring in cheap lumber, implements etc., and with the natural fertility and productivity of your soil, it will bloom like a rose. I am more than pleased with my land and the country in general and a great future is foreshadow for this county on every hand. You need not tell me that Terry county people are scaloways, for I don't see any jail and don't believe you need one for your officers told me that you haven't got a criminal case on the docket, and I shall tell the people when I return home that I actually slept with doors and windows wide open at your hotel with no fear of thieves or slugs. I keep my taxes paid up and am willing to contribute my part to any enterprise for the upbuilding of your county any time."

Rev. DeLong is a minister of the Gospel, being pastor of the 1st Congregational Church of Oak Park, one of Chicago's beautiful suburbs. He filled the pulpit at the Methodist Church Sunday and Sunday night to good crowds of interested hearer.

Call Meeting of Fair Directors.

The Terry County Fair Directors are hereby called to meet on Saturday, Sept. 7th at 2:00 o'clock p. m., at the Court House at Brownfield, for the transaction of such business as may come before the meeting.

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to the public and all who have the interest of the county at heart, to come and sit with us.

Respt,
W. H. Gist, Pres.

A stranger can usually distinguish between the store that advertises and the one that does not. One is crowded with local and out-of-town buyers while the other carries a woe-begone look of dissolution and decay.

Just why real poor people will bring up their offsprings in idleness is a dark mystery to all thinking people, but we find it a bold faced fact, and the practice growing day after day. To bring a boy upon the streets, is to school him on the vices of every nasty mouthed old hobo in the city, and to make him an expert cigarette, coupled with a rising profainist and a burr patch garnest. Even if he should reform of the worst of these, would you want him for a future partner of your daughter? No. Why he is as far from knowing how to make woman a decent and honorable living, without stooping to deception or fraud, as the frozen Arctic is from the Sunny south. In spite of a few well wishing friends and relatives, such a specimen of young manhood is liable to drag the purest of womanhood to degradation and ruin.

But many beautiful and loving daughters are ruined by the same indulgent parents intertaining that delusive idea that work will ruin their daughter. It is all right for the girls to be accomplished in the art of looking beautiful; art, music, and literature, but she should also know how to make bread, quilts and beds. Some day these daughters are going to marry, and there is just about one chance in every ten thousand that she will get a man of wealth sufficient to keep a rotine of servants. So dont begin to figure that she will get one of these ten thousand, but prepare her for a man of your own means, and then, if she is so lucky as to capture one of the ten thousand, he will think the more of her knowledge of domestic arts along with other arts. Nine in every ten of the divorce suits are instuted because of the inability of either the husband or wife to perform their duty properly in the home, and childhood was when they should have been taught their duty. A woman will not put up with a makeship husband very long who sets the goods boxes all day and comes in late nights, maybe half or wholly intoxicated. Neither does a good man feel altogether domesticated with a wife that makes biscuit hard enough to knock the horns off a billey goat.

Even the very rich are learning their children what work means. One of our great railroad magnates, Mr. E. H. Harriman, we believe, sent his son to his great machine shops at San Francisco and put him to work in overalls and instructed his superintendent to make the boy work as long as his co-workers and to especially see that he was on hand at work hours. From the railroad shop this boy worked upward until today he is fully equipped and able to take his father's place at the head of this great railroad system. Otherwise he would have been wholly insufficient, and the directors would have had to look elsewhere for his father's successor. Another example is that of Theodore Roosevelt, whose income from private property is said to reach $50,000 per year, not to say anything about his $75,000 per year as editor of the Outlook Magazine. One of his sons wanted to be a big carpet merchant in New York City, and instead of setting him up in business entirely ignorant of the carpet industry, he sent him to one of the largest carpet mills in New England, where the young man learned the carpet business from the ground up. Now young Roosevelt is ready to become a carpet merchant, which may grow to be worth millions in the near future.

Seeing that rich people are learning their sons trades and professions and their daughters domestic science, we cannot for our lives see why poor people will keep insisting in bringing up their offsprings in idleness with the false and dangerous argument that to work is to disgrace themselves. Learn the children to work, and in after years they will not only make capable citizens and good husbands and wives, but will thank you all their lives for bringing them up as you should.

Some cities lack the very things that could add materially to their growth, health and prosperity, such as down town parks shade trees, sidewalks and attractive public buildings. The aim of the citizens seems to be to develop the commercial side and to skip by the very things that build. Health as well as wealth should receive attention.

Shade trees will enable a town to boast of the delightful cool evenings encountered in its locality. Trees create breeze, and a breeze brings relief from the heat.

TEXAS PEACH CROP SELLS FOR $7,000,000

OVER 4500 SOLID CAR LOADS SHIPPED FROM STATE

TEXAS PEACH IS A WINNER

The Texas peach is the King of Fruits and the fruit of kings. It is invited into the parlors of the great and is welcomed in the hovel of the poor of both hemispheres. It has met its rival at home and abroad on most every table on the globe and by its natural beauty and delightful personality it has conquered all competitors and today its appearance in the market is an annual event of importance in every household in America and its disappearance is the consumer's regret. Public interest is so deeply centered in its arrival at the market that it travels in special trains running at full speed in order to relieve the anxiety of the waiting public and its welcome is so cordial that cold storage plants have been erected in order to prolong its stay in the community. Canneries and evaporating plants are run day and night during the peach season in order to preserve its eating qualities for the table of the nation during the entire year.

The family peach tree can be found in most every county in the State, but the commercial peach belt is confined largely to East Texas. The exact number of bearing peach trees in the State is not of record but competent authority estimates it at seven millions. During the peach season of 1910 we shipped to the market 4500 cars of peaches and supplied our local wants as well as run our canneries during the peach season.

The peach industry has been pouring into the channels of trade a golden stream of wealth. The farm value of the peach production in 1910 is estimated as high as $7,000,000. The rapid growth of the industry during the past decade and the wide extension of the commercial peach belt has been one of the marvels of our development.

At first the Texas peach entered the market under an assumed name, masquerading as a California product, but it soon threw off its disguise and like all native Texans, outstripped its competitors and today it is master of the world's trade.

The recent meeting of Dry Farmers Congress which met in Southern Texas, was one of the greatest ever held, and the exchange of ideas and lectures are bound to be worth thousands of

SELECTING THE DAIRY BULL

Many Farmers Make Mistake in Trying to Buy Cheap Scrub Rather Than Good Strong Animal.

A great many farmers who buy a registered dairy bull make the serious mistake of trying to buy a cheap pure-breed scrub rather than a strong foundation animal on which to build the future herd. The only thing they look for is the fact that the bull is registered and is offered at a low price. But if ever a man needs a first-class animal it is when he is starting. Most men start out with the idea that they can buy such an animal for $50 to $100. But if one was offered them for $200 that had come through a long, careful line of wise breeding they would refuse to consider it. Right here is where they make their mistake. When men start to look for a bull price is the last thing to think of. So many farmers look at this important subject wrong end foremost. Let them really investigate the breeding policies of different men and they will see what a serious difference there is in the money value of one animal over another. Don't let a few dollars come between you and prosperity.

from one place to another. It could be strongly constructed and of any size desired. The rack and frame are made separately and when inverted the rack can be used as a chicken-coop, and the stand for a number of purposes, such as holding tubs, boxes, and other receptacles. A convenient size is about four feet long by two and a half feet deep and the same width. The handle should extend at least two feet beyond the end of the rack.

Timothy-growing means exhaustion of land, because it is now grown as a commercial crop.

USE OF SANITARY MILK PAIL

Much Easier to Produce Pure Milk by Keeping Dirt Out Than to Clean it Afterwards.

Only those farmers who either fail to profit by the lessons taught in producing sanitary milk, or who have never learned such lessons, continue to milk in the old-fashioned open pail, into which falls filth from the cows' flanks and which allows the milk to absorb all the odors that surround it.

By the use of sanitary milk pails dirt can be kept out of the milk, and that is the main thing. It is much easier to produce pure milk by keeping the dirt out of it than to attempt to take it out after it has once fallen in.

day, and their udders washed and dried just before milking. The milking must be done in absolutely clean sheds, or in the open, preferably on a grass plot, and the milk removed to a clean house, where it can be quickly cooled.

One of these things is good enough in its way, but all must be observed if we desire to produce an article that is absolutely clean.

HOED CROP PROFITABLE

Will Accomplish All That Bare Fallow Possibly Can and Still Show Considerable More Profit.

(By W. M. KELLEY.)

The more I study the value of intense culture and thorough cultivation given some hoed crop the more I have come to appreciate its value in our crop rotations. No practical farmer, who has given some hoed crop thorough cultivation during the whole of a growing season has failed to note the good effects upon the succeeding crops in the rotation that they are practicing.

Years ago the old practice of bare summer fallowing found favor in many farming sections, but during recent years the decreased price of farm products and the decreased cost of labor has made its use actually prohibitive, besides the practical farmers have discovered that a hoed crop will accomplish all that a bare fallow possibly can and still pay better than any other crop that is raised in the rotation.

The purchaser of a bull should select an animal that is a good individual and whose dam and granddam on his sire's side have good butterfat records.

Single purpose animals carry their functions with greater economy than do so-called dual purpose animals. These facts belong to the domain of breeding.

After the first week of sleeping and resting the young calf should be allowed to exercise freely in the open air, in order to develop muscles, lungs and heart.

The Minnesota experiment station has found bran to be an excellent feed to combine with corn fodder and timothy or wild hay, as a ration for the milch cow.

Let the new-born calf stay in the stall or pasture with its mother for several days, and she will let it feed at times and in amounts best suited to its needs in life.

A SET OF WARE FREE!

If you will call at our store during Majestic Demonstration Week and let us show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this Set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during the Demonstration Week, only.

REASONS WHY THE GREAT MAJESTIC YOU SHOULD BUY

(1st) It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy. (2nd) It not only has the reputation but is the best range made, and we will prove this if you will let us. (3rd) It is constructed of Malleable iron (material you can't beat) and of Charcoal iron (material that resists rust 300 percent better than steel), is riveted together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work. (4th) The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot, it can be moved away from the fire.

MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water—and heat it hotter; cost practically nothing for repairs; lasts three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and give better satisfaction than any range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a majestic at once? Come in during Demonstration Week and we will prove it to you.

City Building Notes.

A modern sewer system will increase the population by giving disease and pestilence a serious set-back.

Some Boosters make a lot of noise but attract very little attention for the reason that they cannot go into detail and exploit the resources of the adjacent country as well as the home town. A general knowledge of the whole section is necessary to systematic promotion. Capital demands definite details.

You may have been a city knocker all your life, but remember, its never to late to boost.

Misses Goldie and Maud Day were pleasant callers at the Herald office Monday. Miss Maude will leave in a few days for Big Springs where she will attend school.

Vernon Seitz is in Lubbock a few days this week on business.

Johnnie May Harper, of Lubbock, is visiting her cousin, Miss Tommie Harper, this week.

Next week the Teacher's Institute will meet in our little city and we kindly ask that everyone throw open their homes to these great workers in the course of education and good citizenship. Make 'em feel at home.

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXVI. REGRET

TITUS, having let a day go by without having accomplished anything is said to have exclaimed reproachfully, "I have lost a day." When our Legislature adjourns without having accomplished anything "we have lost two years." It is a far cry from a government whose private citizens mourn over the loss of a day to the present time when members of the Legislature boast of filibustering tactics that result in losing two years and by playing truant, permit measures that would have built public highways, railroads and needed industries to die on the calendar.

TITUS MOURNING OVER THE LOSS OF A DAY.

Let those who stand like weeds in the thoroughfares of civilization wither under the scorching rays of public censure and be trampled into the earth under the iron heel of progress; may their ambition smoulder in agony; their hopes linger in perpetual torment; their folly pursue them like a sheeted ghost and may they forever eat the bitter bread of strife, that they may feel how more terrible than the wages of sin it is for sworn servants of the people to trifle with the destinies of their country. Texas Needs Great Men.

ing the Ball place. We welcome them to our midst.

Mr. McEachern, who lives 16 miles northwest of here, passed through here Tuesday on his way home from Lamesa.

Boss Key, who moved to a line camp on the S ranch in Hockley county in July, became dissatisfied with his job and moved back this week.

Dee Hunter has gone to Plain view this week and his wife is staying in town with her parents.

County Court.

In the county Court proceedings last week, the case of First National Bank, of Lubbock, against Lum Hudson was continued, and the case styled J. V. Newsom vs M. B. Sawyer went to trial and gave the plaintiff judgment for $30, but inasmuch as they did not specify who should pay cost, and owing to some misunderstanding about a judgment in the County Court being lower than the Justice Court in which case plaintiff should pay the cost in County Court, Judge Neill may grant a new trial.

Put not your money in a dead town-quoth Experience.

A Commercial Club would be a failure without the aid of the local newspapers, for the success of any community depends largely on the quality and quantity of publicity received.

With prospects of bumper crops on every hand, the city building movement should receive a great impetus. Join the Commercial Club.
