That Lubbock Road Proposition.

A Chance to Have A Good Road to Lubbock. Co-operative.

Mr. A. Marcy was down last week and in conversation with the editor he said, "Speaking for Marcy Bros., we are willing to give $50 toward removing a mile of sand in the Dr. Miles' pasture." This put us to thinking, and we not only promised to mention the fact in the Herald this week, but told him we would feel the pulse of Brownfield and Gomez and as we were going to Lubbock this week, we would have a talk on the subject with the business men of that town, which we did and they were all heartily in favor of the move, and ready to put up the cash, both wholesaler and retailer, hardware, groceries, coal and grain dealers, lumbermen and druggists. Also Mr. L. D. Rankin, who is chairman of the good roads movement in that city, promised us to put the question to the members of its meeting tonight.

Now what are Terry county people going to do about the matter? It is altogether a question of civic pride that will show strangers the progressiveness of our people when they travel the road. On the other hand it will show our non-progressiveness if they have to travel a road that is not a decent hog path. As for the Herald, it is ready to put up some cash and a lot of encouragement. Let's get busy on this move.

What are the business men of Brownfield and Gomez and the freighters going to do about it? Mr. Freighter it will save feed and your team. Mr. Merchant it means much to you.

Moonlight Picnic.

On last Saturday evening the young men very delightfully entertained the young ladies with a moonlight picnic in the court yard. Those participating in the pleasures of the evening were: Misses, Jonnie Mae Harper, (Lubbock) Nettie Sawyer, Ruby Crawley, (Slaton) Irene Speigel, Gaster Randal, Iva Harper, Catherine and Mayme Powell, Anne Hamilton, Messers Will Powell, (Marshall) Bill Adams, Doc. Powell, Heary French, Roy and Fred Scudday, Charles Steward, Percy Spencer, Choc Hamilton; With Mr. and Mrs. Wright as Chaperones.

Miss Lydia Chote, of Ralls, who has been visiting her cousin Miss Dollie Duke, the past two weeks, returned to her home this week. She was accompanied to Lubbock by Miss Dollie Duke and her brother-in-law, Jake Johnson, who will meet Mrs. Johnson there. She has been visiting at Ralls, for several weeks.

Quite a crowd of little folks enjoyed a picnic out at Ben Glasier's place Tuesday.

Our Trip to Lubbock.

We did not find business altogether as good as we expected, still the business men without an exception informed us that business was picking up every day, and if present prospects holds good, will be going some by the next first. We were only able to ad six more regular ads to our Lubbock list, but have reasons to believe that many more will be in by Oct. 1st.

The Western Windmill people were in the big middle of exhibition of the wonderful Majestic range and we partook of some fine biscuits, butter and coffee made on this range.

Their first bale of cotton came in Tuesday and the business men raised something like $40 as a premium. The cotton will not be ginned until next week.

Mysterious Surveying Party

Considerable speculation was aroused the first of the week by the appearance of a railroad surveying crops which came into Slaton with a line from the northeast Saturday and left town Monday surveying to the southwest. In response to several inquiries as to what they were doing, the inquisitive one was referred to the chief engineer of the party. When appealed to for information, that gentleman always replied that he and his men were paid to work and not to talk. That kind of surveying looks good to the Slatonite.

GOMEZ DOTS

Sept. 3rd.

Professor Harrison's mother, who came here last spring, for the benefit of her health, was taken sick last Thursday and died Monday afternoon about 4:00 o'clock. Her only daughter, Mrs. Wilson, who lives at Sunset, Texas, was phoned for on Saturday evening, but did not get here till Monday night, after 10 o'clock. They carried her back to Sunset, Texas, to bury her; leaving here Tuesday morning on a car (just after sunrise) for Lubbock, where they will take train. Prof. Harrison and wife accompanied Mrs. Wilson back to Sunset. Grandma Adams was 82 years old and had been in feeble health for years; and during the past year her reason had been unbalanced. The many friends of the family here, extend sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

Mesdames Matt McPherson and Will Mathis, of Brownfield, were visiting in Gomez on last Monday.

Eugene Davis is suffering with a bilious attack at this writing.

Mr. West, came in this week from Roswell, with a load of apples. They were windfalls; but so far that is the only kind brought here.

Bro. Jameson and wife came in Saturday from Plains.

Mr. Clayborne, has moved into the Garrison house this week to put his children in school. Their home is 18 miles northwest of Bronco.

The Methodist protracted meeting will commence at the tabernacle on next Sunday. Rev. Charley Jameson will be here to assist in the meeting.

Bro. Simm's sons, Arthur and Frank, who have been visiting their parents here, left on Monday for Bowie, Texas. From there Mr. Frank will go to Oklahoma City to attend school.

Professor Harrison's boys will stay out at Mr. Will Black's during their parents absence. The girls are here in town.

A letter from Mrs. Bragg, at El Paso, reports that she is well also that this has been an unusually rainy season there.

Miss Ergie Rambo, will leave next week for Belton, where she will attend Baylor Female College.

News is scarce this week; only the farmers are begining to haul in loads of maize heads for sale and watermelons are plentiful.

to do about it?

The Terry County Herald of Brownfield has just purchased a new home and will hereafter be issued under its own vine and fig tree. Editor Stricklin is to be congratulated on the success of the Herald and the people of Brownfield and Terry County on having Stricklin. The Herald has sent forth good cheer in good season and in bad, and has prospered under the efficient management of Editor Stricklin. — Barnhart Book, Dallas.

That Terry county has all of its neighboring counties badly bested on crops is another plain demonstration that it is the central star of the South Plains, around which all the lesser constellations revolve. We cannot and will not say nothing of a disparaging nature of any county on the Plains, for they're all good providing they have abundance of moisture, but Terry shows its superiority in that it produces the goods on less moisture. Come to Terry.

We understand that school will start Monday and once again we want to call your attention to the importance of the parents attendance. Remember you have given your promise to close up your place of business for an hour or two on that date in order to lend encouragement to the pupils and teachers alike. Even if we have been somewhat handicapped by late election of teachers, if we will work with a will we can overcome all these obstacles and make it the best yet. The presence of parents on the first day bright and early spells encouragement to teacher and pupil alike, whether you open your mouth or not.

Let this rule apply to every school in the county. Be on hand the very first day, and then make regular visits throughout the term.

VOICES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Prune the trees as needed.

Spraying fruit trees is a science.

Soil that is poorly drained suffers more in both dry and wet seasons than that which is well drained.

The orchardists should become more familiar with the most approved method of producing more and better fruit.

Records of the performance of dairy cows form the only accurate and safe basis for judging their value.

There is no line of general agriculture in which well directed effort will pay so large a profit as in dairy farming.

As a matter of fact, barnyard manure commences to ferment and undergo changes the moment it is dropped.

From twelve to twenty-four hours before churning you should commence to ripen the cream, according to the time of the year.

Every owner of live stock should be prepared to treat the more common ills to which live stock of different kinds are subject.

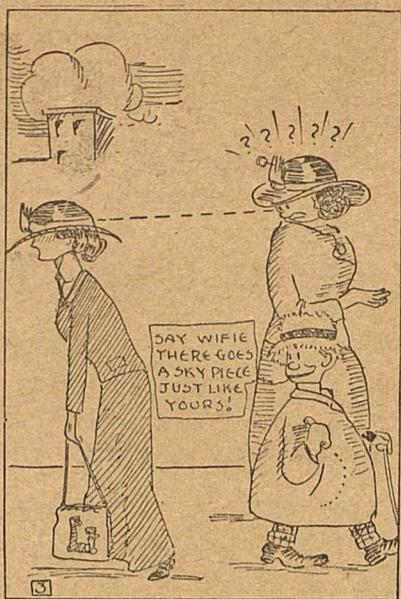

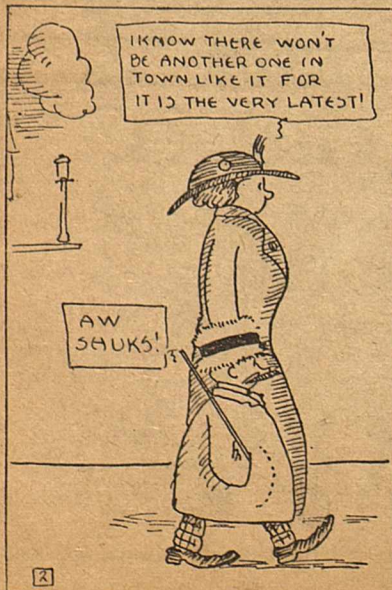

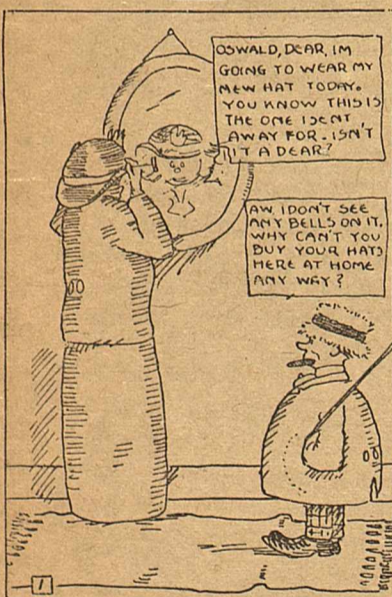

Colds with poultry often lead to roup and when once roup gets a good start we are likely to have quite a task to get rid of it.

The fertilizer problem is getting to be a big one, and could be greatly reduced by keeping more stock and selling less hay and straw.

Many of the orchard tracts of the central as well as the extreme west are owned and operated by women, who are happy in their work.

Have some way of marking every turkey. They may get with neighbor's turkeys and you will want some way of proving your property.

WHY YOUTH BOOSTED CARY

New Reason Advanced for Advocating Election of Candidate for Political Office.

There are many reasons advanced by friends of political candidates why their favorite should be elected to office, some of which are humorous as is the following:

Nearly a year ago, Congressman William J. Cary announced his candidacy for the office of mayor at the next election, and immediately his friends started boosting him for the "job." Whenever they could get a man "cornered" they would immediately expound the virtues of Mr. Cary.

A little boy approached a voter near the North-Western depot.

"Say, mister, will you vote for Mr. Cary for mayor?" he asked.

"Well, seeing as how you were kind enough to ask me, I will, my little man," returned the man good-naturedly.

"Thanks," said the little boy happily, and he started to walk away. The man, however, stopped him with a question.

"You seem to be interested in Congressman Cary?" he said.

"Yep," answered the "kid."

FEAR MIX-UP OF FALSE HAIR

Why Women, Apparent Strangers, Insist on Occupying Adjoining Berths in Pullman.

Nobody can tell funnier stories about the false-hair craze than railroad employes.

"For some time after women began to swell their heads out with such enormous quantities of hair," said a Pullman conductor, "we couldn't quite understand why women who were apparent strangers to each other should insist upon occupying neighboring berths, even bargaining to exchange with other passengers to obtain the desired accommodations. Finally a girl wearing about a bushel of blonde hair enlightened me.

"Have you noticed," she said, "that a blonde insists upon sleeping near another blonde, and a brunette near another brunette? They do that to prevent ludicrous mistakes in an emergency that necessitates quick dressing. Supposing there should be an accident in the night and everybody would have to throw on their clothes and hair in the dark. If I am shut up in the same compartment with a brunette I am likely to mix some of her black hair with my blonde puffs and she mine with hers. What we would both look like can be imagined. That happened to me once, so now I insist upon sleeping near a blonde neighbor, even if I have to pay extra for it."

Measuring Light From Stars.

Starlight has been measured in comparison with sunlight and the following results have been announced: The light received from a star of the first magnitude like Vega is about one forty-thousandth-million of the sun's. Young places the total starlight received by the earth at the value of 3,000 first magnitude stars, thus making the whole starlight to be one-sixtieth that of the full moon. Light has an actual mechanical pressure, and can be measured in the laboratory. It has been found that the sun's light in itself presses against the earth with a force something like 70,000 tons. As the surface of a sphere varies as the square of the radius, and as the volume of mass varies as the cube of the radius, and as the mechanical pressure of light on the whole surface varies as that surface, and as the force of gravity varies as the mass—if a sphere were made smaller and smaller it is easily seen that the pressure of light would not decrease so fast as the force of gravity; so bodies beyond a certain minuteness could not reach the sun, but would be repelled by the mechanical force of its light.

Harris Happenings.

Sept. 4th.

Last Tuesday little Miss Fern Harris celebrated her 8th birthday. Her mother had prepared a splendid dinner and a number of little friends, some big ones too, enjoyed the occasion with her and departed wishing her many happy returns of the day. Fern received many nice birthday post cards and presents, her nicest present being a beautiful doll from her father and mother. Her doll-ship was named "Thelma Mae" in honor of little Miss Thelma Mae Patterson.

Messrs. Harlin and Murray, from the south part of the county, were at Harris Tuesday.

East Texas Notes.

The Brownfield Herald makes its weekly visits down into the pine clad hills of old East Texas. We are always glad to see this little weekly. It always comes with a good word from the far west and it surely stands straight up for the county of Terry.

Last week the Herald gave a sort of write up of the history of the paper, or a kind of biography like of its life. This was good reading and shows the pluck and makeup of the man behind the gun. In newspaperdom the road to success is micademized with the bones of men who failed. The man that succeeds in anything is a success.

Not many papers are gold mines. Some of the great dailies are money makers only. If the Herald has held its own, it has done well. A thousand others under better conditions have gone to the bone yard. Good for the Herald.

Hardship is a fine schooling. It is one of the best trainers we have. The strongest characters we have go through these testings. Even the Christ man spent forty days all alone with the devil in the mountain. He had no food but severe temptation. Suppose he had failed. But he didn't. When he came out of that mountain, he cast out devils, healed the sick, raised the dead, walked on the waters, calmed the storms and fed 2000 people on five barley loaves and three little fishes.

The man that finds a fortune in the road may be lucky, but it is no special credit to him. Any fool might do that. The man that makes it by hard licks and care and judgment is the real hero. Of course he is.

"The heights by great men gained and kept
Were not obtained by sudden flight
But they, while their companions slept
Were toiling upward through the night."

This is not mine, but Long-fellow's.

Now as the Herald has done so well, it wants a permanent home. How natural that is and how right it is too. Out of our 95 million people in the U. S., nearly 70 percent have no home. That's a pity, isn't it? Dr. Tal-mage used to say, "It's a great pity for a child to be raised up and never have a home of its own." Wonder if the Dr. was right?

Well, if the Herald keeps its head and grit and don't backslide, it will surely have its home. That's the stuff that gets it. We hope to see the Herald have a brown stone front and hang out as not only the mouth piece of Terry county, but the Bell Weather of the lower plains country.

Backslide! no never. Baptist don't preach backsliding but practice it. The Methodist both preach and practice it. The Herald can't afford to go with either in this. Thanks to the Herald for its pluck and push.

It is hot down here, but crops are good and fruit fine. My wife has been making jams, jellies, preserves and conserves all summer.

Texas Needs Great Men

XVII. QUARRELS

THREE hundred times the Imperial City of Rome witnessed the triumphant procession of her victorious generals celebrating conquests in all parts of the world, and for nearly a thousand years she levied tribute upon three continents; but, weakened by the quarrels of her Senators and the strife of her leaders, she became an easy prey to the barbarians. There is no more pitiful sound than the moan of a nation writhing in the throes of internal dissension.

QUARRELSOME LEADERS

Let those who search for power understand that no nation can endure leadership that plunges in the tidal wave of unrest, like a maddened soul bellowing with rage and belching forth flames of spite and hatred hot from hell, and that no country can prosper while cringing under the leaden heel of partisan and factional strife, which blights it like terrors fresh from the devil and are as bitter as the dregs of sin. Texas needs great men.

Mr. A. J. Stricklin,
Brownfield, Texas.

I am coming to see my old Terry county friends. Yes I still love West Texas, for I got Mrs. Durst out there, and a happier man never was. I have a right to love the Plains haven't I, besides I love all the Brownfield people. There isn't a town in the great State that has better people in it than old Brown.

I am just only speaking part of my sentiments.
With best wishes to you all,

Many Fossils Found in Texas.

Plainview, Texas.—The Yale expedition which has been searching for remains of prehistoric horses in this vicinity reports that several specimens have been unearthed and that the search has proved a success in every respect. The members of the party will leave for other parts of the state in a short while to continue research work and it is expected that several relics of bygone ages will be discovered in Texas which will be of great value to the university in its study of conditions before man inhabited this continent.
