TERRY COUNTY FAIR

Its Place in the Hearts of Our People. A List of the Awards as Given to The Herald.

The 4th Annual Terry County Fair is now history, and as has been the case from its inception it is becoming the more a part of our citizenship as it grows with age. Some even went so far as to say at its beginning that it would be the last meet, but he was counseling without taking into consideration a people who hold their county above everything. Even now steps are being taken to put our Fair on a permanent basis, and its officers and directors will ask the Secretary of State for a Charter. No the Terry County Fair is very much alive and don't you forget it and will be the next time you hear from it. Pshaw! we aim to rival even the Dallas Fair some day.

Below is a list of the awards, barring mistakes which we all make, Herald will be glad to correct any we make.

Married

At the residence of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bynum, last Sunday afternoon, Mr. Jno. Hays and Miss Ruby Bynum were united in marriage in the presence of home folks and a few relatives and friends. Bro. V. H. Trammell spoke the beautiful words that made them husband and wife.

Miss Ruby is a very charming young lady and numbers her friends by her acquaintances; is a graduate of the Brownfield High School, and will make Mr. Hays a faithful and beloved companion.

Mr. Hays is reckoned as one of the most successful stock farmers in Terry county, and lives in the southwestern part of the county, and where everybody is his friend. Herald wishes this couple much happiness and success.

OUR INDUSTRIAL NEEDS

$500,000,000 Wanted for Cotton Mills--Needed Factories Will Cost Billion Dollars

Texas is a great State. We do not fully realize the immensity of our resources. No one has ever yet announced a true conception of the greatness of Texas. The fact of the matter is, we try to measure Texas with a yardstick and the mind becomes confused in a maze of calculations without gaining the faintest conception of the State's greatness.

Our cotton crop (our money crop) is practically consumed in production and if the gross receipts of our cotton crop of the past decade were available for investments, it would not build and operate the factories necessary to manufacture the raw material now produced on the farm. An intelligent basis of calculation is necessary in order to approximately estimate our capital needed for factory investment. The latest Federal Census report on manufacturing gives the capital invested in cotton mills in the United States at $605,100,154 and the factories used $282,047,648 in raw material during the year. From this record, we develop the general rule that it requires two dollars of capital to manufacture one dollar's worth of cotton and to build the cotton mills necessary to manufacture the cotton we raise in Texas would require $500,000,000. Then there is our timber, our livestock and other materials and Texas is only one-fifth developed in agriculture, to say nothing of the raw material produced in other states and countries, which pass through our ports in search of the foreign factory, all of which should be manufactured in Texas, will require at least a billion dollars to build the factories needed at the present time in this State and then there are our minerals sleeping undisturbed, to make no mention of our railroad mileage, public highways, industrial enterprises and new cities and improved farms which will be necessary to our growth. To develop Texas during the present century will require an immediate investment of ten billions and when we have realized that this is a most conservative statement, which every man who studies the situation closely is bound to conclude, then we are ready to stand at our ports and look towards the sea and map out a comprehensive plan for the mastery of the world's commerce.

Some one has remarked lately that if we should see the Taboka road just now that we would change our mind in regard to it being such a fine road. Well we did not expect for this to always remain a fine road without some attention. We came from a country where rock-piked roads are used, and even they need their attention. A road that sustains heavy traffic, will no more keep in repair than a buggy or wagon will that does the hauling. In the first place there has been some unusually heavy rains this year on that road from Brownfield to the county line; sometimes water has stood over portions of it for weeks at a time, softening the earth and that matter of six inches of clay become cut deep.

Besides the usual freight traffic, ninetenths of the people who hike back and fourth between their bonuses in New Mexico to the sticks in Central and East Texas use this road, and they are numerous. Now a road that enjoys such traffic needs to be repaired occasionally and we suppose the Commissioners will take such steps at their next session.

We neglected to mention some time ago, that the Lubbock Good Roads League had written the Herald through their Chairman, Mr. L. D. Rankin, to draw on them for $50 on a better road to Lubbock. For ourselves in particular and Terry county in general, we wish to thank this league of hustling young men for their offer. Such encouragement from this source alone is bound to result in a good road to that point. Some two weeks ago the Lubbock Avalanche copied an editorial from us on the subject and said it was "sick and tired" of hearing what Lubbock's part was and what they ought to do. Well now if we can relieve that tired sick feeling, we shall feel we have done an act of humanity. Our explanation is simply this; in its first issue in September, the Avalanche had quite a write-up on the good road subject, and incidently mentioned that Lubbock should raise $200 or $250 toward a good road westward. We considered, this very, very liberal, and had that amount in mind—the Avalanche figures—when we mentioned Lubbock's part. We understand that this league is by no means all of Lubbock's business men who might contribute toward such an enterprise. We hope to announce something definite before long.

Big Fall Rain Visits Terry.

Some Say Biggest Rain of Season Falls Monday Afternoon

Now you talk about moisture but Terry county, and from what we can learn, the entire South Plains has it in plenty. A big cloud came up from the northwest and rained for about one hour just about as hard as one ever saw, and the grass is growing so fast you can almost see it move, and if frost stays off a few more weeks, we will have the best winter grass for years. This rain was followed by a good one that night almost equal to the first. Old timers believe the drouth of the last three years is thoroughly broken and that we are on the eve of a few fat years.

Some fears were entertained that a big lot of feed the farmers had just cut and thrown on the ground would be ruined, but after a big fog next morning, the sun came out and has been reasonably clear since, and we think there will be no serous results from it. Big dews, almost equal to rains have been falling since, and we noticed some morning glory vines pulled up Monday morning are still blooming, as if still in the ground.

Come to Terry.

Mr. Daniel Sparks, of Flavanna, once a resident of this county, and a friend from Hasell county, were up this week prospecting. Mr. Sparks informed us that the Flavanna country had almost a complete failure this year.

A million dollars a year awaits the farmers of every grain growing country in the United States with more scientific and business like management of the farms, says the report of the crop improvement committee of the United States brewers' association. The report says that the brewers are facing famine prices for the raw material because of the decreased barley production, due to soil exhaustion and with drawal of land from cultivation. The committee has established department bureaus for the benefit of farmers in nearly three hundred counties.—Stockman and Farmer.

Fair Directors Meet.

At an open meeting of the Fair directors on the afternoon of the 3rd inst, it was voted to incorporate the Terry County Fair Association under the State laws of Texas.

A committee of three were appointed to enroll as many people as possible at a fee of $1 each; such amount to be used for the maintenance of the fair.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. D. Winn, Pres.; J. C. Lewis, V. Pres.; W. H. Black, Manager, and Percy Spencer, Sec. The Directors are: W. H. Gist, W. M. Howard, A. M. McBurnett, Robt Holgate, W. B. Snodgrass, J. A. Parks, Jno. Burnett, R. H. Banowsky, Joe Fisher, Dr. H. T. Day, R. W. Glover, H. H. Timmons, S. H. Key, P. F. Whisenant, A. P. Moore, A. D. Brownfield, D. E. Roe and W. B. Gainer.

We consider this a long move forward and would be glad to see every man in the county enrolled as a member of the Association, especially will we expect the newly elected directors to put their shoulders to the wheel and help make the Fair a great success in 1913.

Brownfield Merc. Co.

Miss Lottie Banowsky of Ringgold, Tex., sister of R. H. Banowsky, junior member of the Merc., came in last week and has accepted a position in the ladies department of the above firm. Miss Lottie has that gentle, obliging disposition so necessary to a successful dry goods clerk, and we hasten to congratulate the Merc. on their acquisition.

Of course they are not straightened out yet, but we want to say the Brownfield Merc. Co. has the prettiest, most complete and the most up-to-date stock of new goods ever shown in Terry county by odds. Now we don't ask you to believe this assertion unless you want too; really we would rather you would see for yourself, and you will fully agree with us. It will take them all the week, hard work to put them up. See their ad in the Herald.

There is considerable improvement going on now in and around town. J. C. Green is re-arranging his premises. The editor is having his house weatherboarded and a new gallery added. The Gracey boys, recently of Dallas county, have the lumber on the ground for a neat little residence. J. T. May has just finished weatherboarding and painting his house. Jack Bryan is having a new room added and a garage built, and improvements in contemplation too numerous to mention.

NEW IDEAS ABOUT PARENTS

Becoming One Brings Increased Esteem and Regard for Them as Pillars of Life.

My new responsibility has brought me a variety of new appreciations. As a parent I find I have new sentiments about parents, and increased esteem and regard for them as pillars that uphold life and direct it. Beyond doubt, they are fine for upholding grandchildren. No doubt there would be considerably more grandchildren in our world if there were more grandparents who recognized their responsibilities and made provision, as a matter of course, to meet them. But that does not accord with the lively individualism of our generation. Not only are we all desirous of independent life, but our parents prefer it for us. Accordingly when we get above the social plane in which independent life for man and wife can be maintained for $20 a week, marriage is apt to come late. There are immense advantages about that social plane in which $20 a week is a complete living, and the wife is cook and housemaid, wife, mother and nurse all in one, and the state provides education, and the doctor adjusts his charges to your income, and all the man has to look after is food, clothes, shelter and pocket money! I hope the people who are born with a call on that phase of existence appreciate their luck. To rise to a $20-a-week phase must be full of satisfaction, but to drop to it is quite another matter. Whatever starting point is dealt out to us, it is from that point that we have got to go on, and, whether we like it or not, the point at which it behooves us to arrive is measured from the point at which we start.—E. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine.

Snug Mosquitoes.

Seated on the furnace in the warm cellar of the intelligent citizen's home, two New Jersey mosquitoes were talking things over.

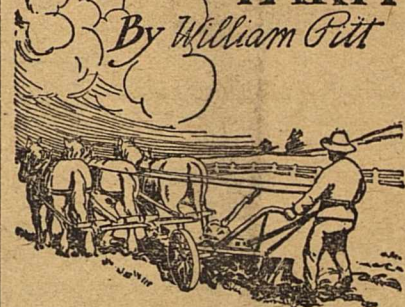

"They will never do anything to us," said the first. "Before they can be rid of us they will have to get together, and that will take them thousands of years."

"Then, too," said the second, "about the time they do begin to make things unpleasant for us, somebody will organize a Society to Protect Tender Little Insects from the Barbarities of Scientific Savages, and all the sentimental people will join, and we shall be spared many years longer. See the snow falling outside."

"Yes," answered the other mosquito, "Winter has set in at last, and spring will come almost before we know it. Then we shall slip out and lay our little 400 eggs apiece in an old flowerpot somewhere and be happy. How lovely and warm it is here."

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

Study your horse.

Salt is essential for cows.

The driver more than the horse is always more to blame for the animal's being vicious—if he ever is.

Leave a horse untied when hooked to a vehicle and he will be likely to be gone when you return for him.

You will appreciate the difference between low-headed and high-headed trees when you are picking the crop.

Decaying vegetables in storage under the living rooms in the cellar are apt to promote ill health in the household.

Keep both eyes open when near the gentle bull just the same as if he were ugly, or he may take you unawares.

The best dairy cow is the one that will convert the forage raised on the farm into the greatest amount of butter fat.

A dairy thermometer comes into good play any time of year, but is especially valuable to have around for winter churning.

The supply of vegetable matter is most easily maintained in the soil by the growing of green crops and by the application of manure.

Change in the conditions of carrying is driving many men out of the work because they would rather cut than improve their methods.

Horse breeding requires more capital, is more profitable if successful, and involves larger losses if not, than any other kind of stock breeding.

Moles in a garden prove an intolerable nuisance. While they may be trapped, the only sure way is to inject bisulphate of carbon into their runs.

GOOD ROADS

COMPANION AGENCIES IN MORALITY.

A good road is one of the greatest moral forces in the world today. It is a companion agency to the church and school house and as an elevating influence it is the equal of the pulpit or the rostrum.

Bad roads cause an unnecessary and useless waste of time and money, increase illiteracy, destroy society and encourage profanity in a community. A dollar spent in improving public highways will add more happiness, prosperity and morality to a community than any other form of investment. Build roads and be good.

XXXI. IMITATION

AT AN art exhibit in Greece the birds pecked at a cluster of grapes painted by Zeuxis, so perfectly was nature imitated; Apelles painted the picture of a horse so perfect that horses passing by neighed their recognition; in another instance one of the judges started to draw back the curtain painted by Parrhasius, and the Greek historians tell us that so faultless was their art, it deceived both men and animals. Since the beginning of civilization men have struggled to imitate nature, and we have perhaps more widely missed the mark in laws than in any other line of human endeavor.

GREEK ART.

Let those who aspire to awaken to vigorous activity the resources of State, draw a scene of justice and equity on our statute books so true to nature that industry will flock around it; paint a picture of property rights so perfect in its apportionments that capital will wave a generous recognition, and exhibit a code of laws that will parallel the statute of nature. Texas Needs Great Men.

Miss Rena Lewis who is teaching ten miles west of Seminole, sends greetings to her Terry Co. friends. She says the Herald is a much appreciated visitor to her for although she has a school that is pleasant in every way, she gladly welcomes news of home.

Well, we are one day later than usual this week but hope it won't happen again. We, as usual are real glad to be home again. Other places may be as good as Terry, but we are better satisfied here, and as far as possible will stay here in the future.

Mr. Robinson, the man who bought A. P. Moore's place east of Gomez, is out gathering the crop he bought from Mr. Hill.
