Cattle Fed On Ensilage Score

C. O. Keiser of Canyon Sells Herd For Highest Prices Ever Paid For Texans

Advocates of ensilage fed cattle in the Panhandle have scored heavily by announcement from Kansas City that C. O. Keiser of Canyon, Texas, sold in the stock yards of that city a large herd of ensilage fattened cattle at the highest price ever paid for Texas cattle.

The Kansas City Drovers Journal in its issue on the date of sale printed the following:

C. O. Keiser of Canyon, Texas, sold today the highest priced Texas Cattle ever marketed on the Kansas City yards. This consignment consisting of several car loads of yearling steers and heifers were splendid types of the Hereford breed, and the very high class of cattle that are now being raised in the Panhandle country. In this transaction there is illustrated the fact that on the big cattle ranches of Texas not only is the very best class of cattle produced, but also the feed to finish them to a point where they will command the top price on the largest live stock market in the country.

These cattle were raised on the Keiser ranch from Panhandle cows and were fattened on silage, kafir corn and cottonseed meal, all products of that country. Late last fall, about the first of December, these calves were put on a ration of silage, with a little forage feed. On this ration they were fed until a few weeks ago when they were finished on cottonseed cake and kafir corn. The weight of the calves at weaning time was approximately 400 pounds thus clearly showing again in seven months of about 565 pounds of finished beef of the highest quality.

"This is a lesson that economy in keeping a beef animal growing and maturing, at the same time preserving the calf flesh symmetry of the animal to its most valuable maturity is the true economy of reducing the cost of production, while raising the standard of quality," said Col. W. P. Anderson, live stock agent of the Santa Fe Railroad today. "Such practical demonstrations on Mr. Keiser's feeding experiments show the Panhandle can do at home what has been done heretofore with Panhandle calves in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois."

A car load of steers averaging 965 pounds, sold at $9, or $86.85 per head. Two carloads of 877 pound steers brought $8.85 and a carload of heifers averaging 689 pounds sold for $8.85.

The bunch of handsomely marked calves, as they were referred to, attracted much attention when the packers gathered around and bid on them. They all went to three local packers.—Amarillo Daily News.

Other States Watch Texas

The Texas Industrial Congress is an object of interest in so remote a province as Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada. In a letter to the Congress, the editor of the Saskatchewan Farmer compliments the organization and requests further information concerning the methods where by its results are obtained.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce also comments upon the work of the congress as a result of a study of the 1913 map showing contestants in 215 counties. In a personal letter the agricultural committee requests a supply of these maps and other printed matter for distribution.

That the work of the congress is attracting national attention is further evidenced by the following from the Cincinnati Times-Star in an editorial outlining the general plan of the congress and closing with this praiseworthy paragraph:

"The value of such a system should commend itself to agriculturists of other states. The Texas Congress furnishes an excellent mode. This institution disseminates instruction to the farmer-students by means of personal letters and printed bulletins, the cost being covered by the organization, which believes that already the agricultural output is on the threshhold of a material increase.

'Use brains as well as brawn' is the keynote of the Texas Industrial Congress. The prizes it gives away each year are merely incidentals. There are a few who claim that prizes, not prizes, are what the farmers want. We might as well say that the college student wants education without honors; that the professional man wants money without prestige. According to the price theory the principle of giving premiums at the Great State Fair of Texas, an institution that has proved its usefulness to the farming classes, is wrong and unsound. The man who is willing to be taught, or better still, teach himself how to make one acre of crops prove more profitable to him than five acres did before, is not only helping himself, but he is aiding in the solving of the world's economic problems.

The Texas Industrial Congress is doing much for Texas. Its usefulness will be greater, as the years roll by. It stands for brains as well as brawn. The right combination of these two elements in man means success, both in prices and prizes."—Texas Industrial Congress.

"Our cup runneth over" just at the present time. Let us all be merry and filled.

The white chalk dirt in our draw makes the best side walks imaginable, and we hope our citizens will make good use of it.

Some of our progressive citizens got busy last week and built some sidewalks. All praise to the beginners, but let others follow suit.

The jig is about up with the Texas wholesale whiskey house, as one can tell by the number and frequency of circulars our citizens receive asking them to hurry their order. However, be as it may, the Herald believes it an unjust discrimination against Texas houses to enforce our State law before the Webb Federal law takes effect. In other words, if Missouri and Kentucky whiskey houses are to ship in, let Texas saloons do the same, and when we close out the traffic of home people, close out also the outsiders.

Right on the heels of a big debate between two East Texas editors, at Dallas, over the merits of buttermilk and potlicker, came a big wrangle between editor Dow of the Lubbock Avalanche and a teacher-farmer on the one the affirmative, and editor Edgell of the Slaton Slatonite in the negative. Subject: "Resolved that a man's heart is in the right place who tends a truck patch and his own business." The Herald hereby declares for the affirmative side of the row. Go to 'em Dow and you pedegoging agriculturist; flank 'em! uppercut 'em! then deliver the solar plexis by making him add another page to his paper next time.

People generally imagine a trust to be a million dollar outfit, located on or near Wall Street but there are good and bad trusts and they are located everywhere. A bad trust is one that operates in restraint of fair trade. For a near home example, the two Amarillo ice factories consolidated recently and put ice up to 75c per hundred. One at Lubbock saw a good opening up there and sold their ice in Amarillo at the usual price. To retaliate, the Amarillo concern put in a storage in Lubbock and are selling ice for 25c per hundred, and are, or have been asking their home people 75c for the same product. There is a genuine octopus for you, and the attention of the proper authorities should be called to it. We shall admit that it is good on the consumer at Lubbock, to be sure, but both companies are bound to be losing money, and are making the consumer some where else put up for the fight, which will ultimately ruin both companies if kept up.

Upon several occasions, Herald has explained that it charges half price for local advertising of church or school socials, where a revenue is to be derived from the entertainment, and we believe Brownfield people understand it, but of course it is not expected that all of our correspondents do, for only this week one sent in enough advertising dope to amount to about one dollar. Our advertising space is our stock in trade, but when merchants began giving away sugar, ice, milk, flour, tea, bunting for decorating purposes, candies etc, for such purposes, then we will also open up our hearts. Privately, if we can attend an affair of this kind, we generally spend as much money as any poor man, to help the cause, but professionally, we must protect our advertising columns or quit business. Herald likes to help the schools and churches as much as anyone, and will be glad to on any occasion where a revenue is not charged people for interance or otherwise, but when money is to be derived from the accasion, then any publicity becomes advertising. We hope all understand our position.

The Herald desk would be piled high with literature pro and con the proposed educational amendment, if it were not for the rescue of a very large and a very accomodating waste basket. Now if these good people would please "enclose check" to cover, we would feel obliged to fill our precious columns with their dope. Whether their eagerness for or against the amendment is from a selfish, patriotic or political aggrandisement, it is hard for a country editor to fathom, and while we like to be as accomodating as our columns and our pocket book will allow, we will in justice to ourself and themselves, have to turn the whole mess down. However, personally we believe the amendment should carry, not only because we need more funds to hire plenty and good facutiles and equipment, but also because the inmates of many of our state institutions, noticably the orphans, blind, deaf and dumb and reformatory, all occupying regular fire and death traps, and many of our insane are being confined in jails, which is at the same time a humiliation to the insane person and their people, and a shame and a disgrace to the great state of Texas. Besides our State University, A & M College, the four Normals and the College of Industrial Arts, are poorly equipped and maintained in comparison to those of other States not so wealthy and powerful as Texas. Texas being the greatest of all States, should have the best of all institutions, when this will not cost the tax payer a cent more. The Herald has never heretofore opposed any educational movement and dosen't propose at this late date to throw any stumbling blocks in the way of future generations.

Yoakum County Items

From The Yoakum Co. News.

Judge Gainer and J. M. Pulliam made a trip to Brownfield and Gomez, this week.

J. F. Merrett has brought a herd of 2000 sheep, which he bought on the north plains, to his ranch in the northeast part of this county. He will graze them on his home pasture and in the Cone twelve section pasture.

Will Belcher has sold about 75 steers to Pat McHugh, that were cut-backs from the cattle sold to Mr. Lumsden. They are said to be better cattle than many that were left in herd, but were cut back on account of color.

We are having what may properly be called "a wet spell." It has been raining at frequent intervals during the past week and is still showering. These rains, added to the season already in the ground, are a great advantage to crops and stock ranges, and promises to be the best year for good crops we have had on the south Plains for many years, and will have a great tendency toward bringing about a season of prosperity to our people.

Harvey Hamilton and Milton Robinson have bought Charley Bedford's ranch in northwest corner of the county. This property consists of two sections owned and 28 sections leased, well fenced and finely watered. Mr. Robinson will move to the ranch as soon as Mr. Bedford can give possession which will be in a very short time, and we understand it is his intention to move to some place near Plains in order to get the benefit of the schools.

Dots From Tokio.

There was enough dinner at J Cross school house, Sunday, for three times as many people as there were, to eat it, and Bro. Cox preached two good sermons.

Another good rain fell here Sunday evening, filling some lakes that had not been full in six years; and it is still cloudy.

Mr. Copeland's mother is visiting him. He come home Saturday from his road work on the Plains and Brownfield road, and stayed over until Monday morning. We noticed he had built a cosy little house, on wheels. He must have been expecting it to rain all summer.

Mrs. J. V. Riley, of Snyder, Tex., is visiting her daughters, Mesdams R. E. Burnett and W. G. Meyers.

The recent rains have not only put smiles on the face of the farmers, but cattle buyers are becoming numerous, and the stock men are asking more for their stock, and they will get it too. Beef steers sold in K. C. last week at $9.20. Who said cattle were going down?

Raed Wolforth is helping Mr. Copeland scrape the road between here and Plains. Good roads and good crops are a sure thing in Terry, and Yoakum, this year.

L. Townsend passed this morning with a load of freight for parties in Plains.

A party of prospectors, consisting of M. A. Hill of Yoakum County, P. P. Keith of Keithville, La., and J. D. Wroton of west Terry Co., are preparing to make

EXCELLENT POINTS IN STEER FEEDING

The initial cost per hundred of calves is greater than that of older cattle.

The length of time necessary for finishing steers decreases with the increasing age of cattle.

The rate of gain and the cost of gain increase with the increased age of the cattle.

The proportion of roughage to concentrates consumed increases with the increased age of cattle.

The amount of gain necessary in finishing cattle of equal conditions decreases as their age increases.

The difference in total quantity of feed necessary for finishing cattle of different ages and fed to the same marketable finish is negligible.

The average margin required between buying and selling prices to prevent loss was $1.60 per hundred on calves, $1.71 on yearlings and $1.55 on two-year-olds; the margin secured on a stationary market were $2.20 on calves, $2.22 on yearlings and $2.09 on two-year-olds, resulting in a profit of 42 cents per hundred on calves, 51 cents on yearlings and 54 cents on two-year-olds.

The increase in live weight necessary to make calves prime was 103 per cent.; yearlings, 54 per cent., and two-year-olds, 43.6 per cent. of their initial weight at the beginning of the feeding period.

At a uniform price for feeding the difference in costs of grain between calves and yearlings was $1.35; between yearlings and two-year-olds, 28 cents per hundred pounds.

The experienced farmer who feeds cattle should handle older cattle in preference to calves; while the farmer who produces and finishes his own cattle may find calves more preferable.—Indiana Experiment Station.

Fattening Cattle on Bluegrass.

Cattle fattened on bluegrass pasture will make double the gain on the same grain for the first three months of the pasture season as compared with the late months of the feeding period. This important factor as well as the influence of age, nitrogenous supplements and the margin of profits are discussed in bulletin 90 of the Missouri experiment station. The bulletin was written by Dean F. B. Mumford and records the results of five years experiments in fattening cattle of various ages on bluegrass pasture. This extensive investigation involved the feeding of 262 cattle divided into 36 distinct experiments and is the largest and most complete investigation of this subject which has ever been made in this country. The bulletin will be sent on request by writing to the director of the experiment station, Columbia, Mo.

A brother at Arlington, Texas went with him, but another Texas brother could not attend. Wheat responds to the use of fertilizers more readily than most farm crops.

There are many crops which may be sown in the spring and make excellent pastures.

Wood ashes may be applied at the rate of 25 to 50 bushels, 1,000 to 2,000 pounds to the acre.

Fall-plowed ground can be planted fully ten days earlier than ground that is plowed in the spring.

One ton of good wood ashes will contain about 140 pounds of potash and 40 pounds of phosphoric acid.

Wood ashes should not be placed under hen roosts or in stables, because potash liberates the manure and the ashes as fertilizers is deteriorated.

Wet Weather

After the Herald went to press last week, we had showers all along till Saturday afternoon and then two big rains fell in rapid succession. In the two rains, it is estimated that more than one and one half inches of rain fell. Anyway there was more water on our streets than ever seen there before, by the writer. It reached from one side of the street to the other, was over a foot deep in places and rolled and roared like a real river. In the last three weeks we have had at least six inches of rainfall in and around Brownfield, with less or more in different parts of the county.

Farmers coming in say they have as good or better prospects for a crop than they ever had before in their lives. Corn is waist high and as black as a cloud.

The range conditions are excellent and will in a few weeks, be better than in years. Here on the town section where it is heavily stocked with both town horses and cattle, the grass is seeding, something quite unusual. Truly the future outlook is flattering, and we firmly believe Terry and the whole Plains country is entering into an era of prosperity, like she has not seen in six years.

Primrose.

Primrose had four big rains last week. We began to feel uneasy, until we saw the rainbow Saturday evening. Meadow failed to get any rain until Saturday, but now every thing is lovely and the goose hangs high.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith attended the debate at Tahoka last week, and of course said their side was a head, the primitives, when they left, which was Friday. But the judges were not to decide until Saturday.

Mrs. A. W. Blankenship has returned from Erath Co., where she had gone to see her sick sister. She brought two of her little nieces back with her, and her sister will come as soon as she can travel.

Mr. Christopher sold his little bunch of cattle the other day to George Carter, of Lubbock, for fifty dollars around.

Mr. Christopher received word that Mr. Baker, who is located in Dixieland, Calif. is well pleased with his new home. It does beat all how folks will swap places. Just now read where Mr. Forrester had returned from Calif. Terry is a fine country, but if we were inclined to growl, we could say it is to wet now.

We herd Mr. J. N. Farris had purchased Mrs. Johnson's land. Mrs. Johnson was married last Sunday, but we failed to learn the bridegroom's name.

Mr. Boyd's mother, from Lubbock, is visiting him now, and intends staying a month or two.

Miss Wright, from Lubbock, is making Miss May Parker a visit.

Mr. Lee Cowan made a business trip to Lubbock Saturday. He says he has plenty of corn tassels in his roasting ear patch. It is the early sweet corn variety.

The trustees of the Primrose school have employed Mr. Z. E. Thooper from Dawson Co. to teach our next term. We consider ourselves fortunate in securing Mr. Thorpe. He comes highly recommended. He says he will improve our school grounds, set out trees and shrubs, cultivate same and have a school garden in connection with our school. Each child to have a plot of ground to cultivate, and be taught agriculture, not only in theory, but practice. If we could have had a teacher of this caliber four years ago, when the school house was first built, we would have had a beautiful school ground now, not to mention the delightful shade it would afford the pupils all this time. All patrons should put their shoulders to the wheel, and held. The teacher can't do it all. He needs some help and lots of encouragement to do his best work.

Well, Editor, congratulations are in order, for the little editor. Here's wishing him luck, and do hope he will make a president of the United States. If he cries for the moon, rattle the dishpan to attract his attention away from the moon—of course.

Metals In Texas In 1912

The value of the mine output of gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc in Texas in 1912, according to Charles W. Henderson, of the United States Geological Survey, showed an increase, compared with the yield in 1911, of $66,132. The output of silver, which represents 87 per cent of the value of the State yield, was 406,067 ounces, valued at $249,731, a decrease of 18,327 ounces in quantity but an increase of $34,802 in value. The yield of lead was 65,308 pounds, compared with 122,800 pounds in 1911. The yield of gold and copper was nominal. The output of zinc was 489,232 pounds. The greater part of the metal output was from the Shafter district, Presidio County, except the zinc, which came from the Sierra Blanca district, El Paso County.

Miss Kathrine May left Wednesday for Lubbock where she will visit relatives.

Finds Cure for Epilepsy After Years of Suffering

"My daughter was afflicted with epileptic fits for three years, the attacks coming every few weeks. We employed several doctors but they did her no good. About a year ago we heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and it certainly has proved a blessing to our little girl. She is now apparently cured and is enjoying the best of health. It is over a year since she has had a fit. We cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine."

MRS. FRANK ANDERSON, Comfrey, Minn.

Thousands of children in the United States who are suffering from attacks of epilepsy are a burden and sorrow to their parents, who would give anything to restore health to the sufferers.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is one of the best remedies known for this affliction. It has proven beneficial in thousands of cases and those who have used it have the greatest faith in it. It is not a "cure-all," but a reliable remedy for nervous diseases. You need not hesitate to give it a trial.

STIRRUP-SADDLE IS USEFUL

The stirrup-saddle is one of the most convenient things to have about the farm, as it comes in mighty handy where there is no other saddle left in the barn in a time of emergency.

It is simply a pair of stirrups buckled to a strap. Put a blanket on the horse, throw the strap with the stirrups over this, and get into the saddle. It's a good sight better than riding bareback. Try it and see.

Production of Rice.

A few years ago the rice produced in the United States was less than 100,000,000 pounds per annum. In recent years it has reached 600,000,000 pounds. Like bread, rice is the staff of life—the more of it the better.

Pink Chickens.

Bright pink chickens and eggs with red yolks and pink whites, both perfectly sound and wholesome, were a novelty shown in the poultry exhibit of the Oregon Agricultural College at the state fair. These are a result of an experiment in feeding coal tar dyes to the birds. The day after being fed the eggs show a difference. It is a vivid illustration of the immediate effect that the quality of food has upon eggs, and even on the flesh and feathers and toenails of the fowls.

Need for Enthusiasms.

GOMEZ DOTS

Rev. Lovelady stopped over with friends here several days last week, on his return from a prospecting tour out in N. Mex. He reports that he found a fine county and excellent people out near Fort Sumpter.

There has been an unusual amount of travel in autos through here from Roswell, bound for points east and north of here. Some past here in mid-afternoon that left Roswell that morning—that's going some.

Mrs. Copeland was trading in town on Tuesday.

Joe Lane was here Tuesday, and went on to Brownfield. When asked what the news was down there, he said "rain." Mr. Rufe Roy, of Plains, was here on Monday.

Water Gainer has gone to Lubbock for frieght.

Our public well has been giving trouble for some time, and its now a tri weekly job to keep it in repair, and after each job, the pump again fails to bring up water.

Grandma Willis, mother of E. E. Simms, who was quite sick last week, is able to sit up now, and we hope will soon be well.

Joe Black spent last week in Plains, continuing his art studies under Dr. Blackmore. He came in home Monday.

The Gomez Art Class will meet at the school house every Saturday afternoon to continue their studies.

Tom Conally, of the Harris community, spent last Sunday in Gomez.

J. O. Jones, of south Terry, was here Tuesday, buying groceries for his ranch.

Singing at Simon Holgate's last Sunday night was well attended and good singing.

Our Odd Fellows lodge has just been organized two years this spring, with five charter members. Now there is something over thirty, and the lodge is entirely out of debt and has some money in the treasury. They and the Woodmen combined own their lodge room; not a bad showing.

Mrs. Copeland's mother, grandma Haley, came in on the mail hack last Thursday from a long visit to her children at Sweetwater, Fluvanna and St. Louis, Mo. Grandma has many friends here who are glad to welcome her home.

Messrs. W. Pulliam and J. T. Gainer, of Plains, spent several days of last week visiting among old friends in Gomez.

Last Friday a whole auto load of Mr. Copeland's relatives came in from Colorado City, for a visit. Mrs. McGuire and two sons, Mr. Copeland's mother, Mrs. Green, and a Miss Smart. They all left for home on Monday, except Mrs. Green, who will spend some time out here.

Mrs. D. J. Broughton, who has been here and out to Ben Broughton's since her return from Post City, has improved so much that she will return to her home in Brownfield, this week.

Miss Sarah Hudson was quite sick last week, but we are glad to know she is able to be in school again.

Harris Happenings.

We extend our heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Editor on the addition to their home circle, and being a woman we are naturally interested in babies. Please tell us the Junior Editor's name. A. J. Jr.—Ed.

McPhaul Bros. have sent their outfit to New Mexico to receive a herd of cattle. Roy Harris is working for them on this trip.

Mrs. McMillan spent last Friday with Mrs. W. H. Harris.

Misses Ethel and Eva Harris and brother, Glenn, attended church at J Cross last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ivey and Mrs. Martin of Lubbock, passed through Saturday on their way to the ranch in Yoakum County and stopped for a short call with Mr. and Mrs. B. Clare. Mr. Ivey is steadily improving.

It continues to rain and it seems like we have a veritable garden spot.

Jno. B. Slaughter has leased 9 sections of grass from Mrs. Wingo at 8c per acre, and he will do some fencing and other work there soon. This is the Old Alley and Lemond place.

Sand Bur.

Don't wait for a headache to go away. Use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and save suffering. [Advertisement.]

Among the other nice things to be connected with the new Merc. building, will be a genuine concrete sidewalk, swinging awning and an elevator to run from the basement to the second floor. Everything is to be as modern as is possible in a town the size of Brownfield. They will probably use the latest improved gas lights.

FOR SALE. 2 Duroc Jersey boar pigs.

CARE OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

All Machinery Should be Overhauled as Soon as Season is Over and Repairs Made.

One of the most serious leaks on the farm is in the poor care taken of farm implements when not in use. As soon as the season is over binders and other machinery, no longer needed this year, should be carefully cleared; the grease and dirt should be removed from the bearings, and these should be carefully oiled and all bright parts greased, to prevent rusting. Preparations should be made for replacing any broken or defective parts.

If time does not permit of all this, make a memorandum to be governed by on some stormy day, and then see that everything is put in readiness for the next harvesting or haying season. Get the repairs and place them on the machines at once. Take care of the plows. Get them under cover. Clean and grease the bright parts, so that, when wanted next spring, they will scour and save the time so many farmers lose in putting their implements into working order.

Importance of Humus.

Remember the importance of having plenty of humus in the soil, and that it is best and most economically supplied by growing clover and making good use of the manure that results from keeping live stock to consume the crops grown upon the farm.

The Man That Does Things.

"It is not the critic who counts—not the man who points out how the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again because there is no effort without error and shortcoming, but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worth cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat." —Roosevelt.

Milk for Flesh Reduction.

The simplest article containing complete nourishment is milk. That is Dr. Mitchell's cure for obesity, but he puts his patients to bed while he gives it to them. An amount of milk sufficient for the nourishment of a healthy, active person presents digestive difficulties for many. It is not the simple liquid diet it seems, but presents a solid mass of curds in the stomach. Lime water makes it more digestible. In the form of buttermilk, it is easier to digest and makes a very effective reduction diet. It is wise to take with it a little gluten bread with butter, since the fats have been removed from the milk.—Harper's Bazar.

A piece of tarred paper or wire netting should be fastened around the stem of all spring and fall planted trees. Tie the tarred paper closely at the bottom and at the top. This will prevent field mice and rabbits gnawing the tender bark of the trees when deep snows cover the ground.
