Value of Advertising

By W. Holt Harris, Chairman of Mercantile Commercial Sec. Assn.

It is easy enough to distinguish between the store that advertises and the one that does not. One is packed with customers who eagerly buy the goods for sale while the other is conspicuous by the absence of purchasers. Nowadays the merchant who does not advertise is doomed to certain commercial death and while the demise is sometimes slow and without clamor it is inevitable nevertheless. Up-to-date men of business realize this and yearly set aside a fund for advertising. The money appropriated for this department is looked upon as an investment rather than an expense, just as a person sometimes invests money in real estate or stocks and bonds. It is sure to come back with interest, providing of course the merchant delivers the goods.

Advertising is of little account unless the goods are behind it.

Going Some.

Below is a genuine love letter with name left blank, written to a Brownfield girl, and shows in what contempt a girl holds a boy who has never tried to get an education. Go to school boys.

_____, Texas.

March 31, 1911.

Miss _____,

Dear Sweetheart

Hallo! Cid how ar you.

I am fine and dandy gess you thenak I am dead far not writing you.

But I have been going aroun so fast that I spit in my face—that is going the liment I think.

How do you like out thar. is that a pretty country.

Is Brownfield a large place.

Im not having much of a good time since you left here.

Gess you ar having a good time out thare.

It is raining here and I cant get out to go no where it rains some times when you are not here if you were to come back here it would rain a flood. So gess you had better not come if you dont want to see me droanded.

I was at a party last night it was a good too thare were five girls and about a dozen boys.

This is Sunday and tomur row is my birthday what do you know about a april fool eny way.

Wish you could be here far dinner as I am the cook you can gess the rest but I am going to have sompthing good wind pudding and walk about if you dont know how to cook that I will tell you later.

What ar you doing far your self ar eny one else.

Going to school wish I culd go gess you see I shud from this letter.

As this is the third or fourth time I have wrote you gess I wont write eny more until I here from you. You said you did not know whether you would are not gess you could if you will try hard enough.

I have to go got to my pudding aser soon be good

Prof. Moody, hypnotist that was here last week, said he aimed to meet a government expert here, to test this country for oil and gas. He believes there is a strata of oil and gas through this country that begins at the Rockies and extends to the Gulf.

Domestic Science

By Mrs. E. P. Turner, Chairman Rural Homes and Schools, Farm Life Commission.

We should give more attention to beautifying the home and its surroundings. Nature has given us every facility for making the premises attractive. The most beautiful and luxuriant vegetable growths in the world abound in their natural state in Texas and they are easily transplanted and cultivated. The wonderful variety of ornamental shrubbery permits a full expression of our aesthetic tastes.

It is a sad day for the family when the head of the home gets too busy to make the flower bed, plant a tree and fence the hogs out of the yard. We dislike to think of a mother going through the summer without gathering roses and the children whose sweet faces are never brightened by flowers and who have no shade to play under.

Unkept premises always make the home dreary and lonely. There is nothing more repulsive than weeds where there should be flowers and grass. No matter how humble or poor, Nature, with a lavish hand, has provided entertainment for us all.

Brownfield will look as bright as a new coined dollar when the painting is done. Let's keep 'er bright.

Two things at one time may be too much, but after our road building sorter ebbs, let's scalp some jack rabbits. We believe that rabbits are doing ten times more damage than coyotes in Terry county.

Several papers have been complaining lately of little mischievous stunts by the boys in their town. Brownfield, no less than any other town is blessed (?) by a bunch of the same calibre. These boys probably started out to just have some innocent fun, but as usual their pranks have gone too far, and it is due time to call a halt. Some of these pranks have developed in to real harm to the recipients, and the attention of the Grand Jury will be called to same. We hate to see parents pay fines for truant boys, but a few heavy fines will remind parents to look more closely after their boys. Boys will be boys is an old saying, but they may be boys in every sense of the word, without destroying property.

Herald has just received a catalogue and other literature advertising the Panhandle State Fair at Amarillo, and they are offering just as good premiums practically as the Dallas Fair. We firmly believe it will pay us better to exhibit at Amarillo than Dallas, for the simple reason we are a part of the Panhandle country and the people who come to Amarillo, will do so to see what we produce and to see the country at the same time, whereas at Dallas, we appear as only a small portion of a great State and the people who see our exhibits have no more idea how our country looks than the man in the moon. We think it would pay to exhibit at both places, but the Amarillo State Fair would be our choice. Let's hear from others.

R. M. Clayton, of Lubbock, and his partner, W. D. Johnson of Kansas City, passed through Tahoka on the north train Wednesday morning. They had been down in the south west part Borden county where they bought the old Abney ranch. They only stopped in Tahoka about twenty minutes, but it was long enough to make a dicker with S. N. McDaniel, "the man on the track" for prices on half a train load of kafir corn and maize. Tahoka will ship out more feed stuff this fall and winter than any other town in West Texas. Why? Because our farmers in Lynn and Terry counties have it to sell and our grain men know where and how to market it. Come to Tahoka.—Tahoka News.

Just as soon as the surveyor's stakes are set, work will begin immediately on the Lubbock road to the county line, and it is expected that all wagon and auto travel will turn over this road and Lubbock will be asked to come across with their part of this work, as the road will certainly be a great thing for them, and we believe the business men will fall in line.—Terry County Herald.

There should be delay in meeting the road workers from this end of the line. There should be a graded road all the way from this point to Brownfield. Lubbock is the place the Terry county people want to trade if they can get the right kind of road to travel over, but they are going to the place where the road is better, and we don't blame them. If the Terry county people are anxious enough to put their road in good condition to the county line, then Lubbock surely will meet them at the county line. Now is the time to get busy.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Wise and Otherwise.

If you should invite a friend home with you to dine, and your wife should have had the misfortune to burn the bread or fry the steak over done, unless you have the skill and tact to mention same in a way to relieve your wife of the mortification she already feels you had better hold your tongue.

Every man should conduct himself in a way that his fellow man will hold a higher opinion of him than he has of himself.

Never incline to boast of being a self made man. Lest some critic observe that you must be an inferior Architect.

Never let the idea take up with you that you are it with a big capital I, or the only frog in the pond, lest you awake later to the fact that you are only a mere miniature tadpole.

A straight forward man has only one face while the hypocrite has two, yet its not hard for the steady calculating eyes of the public to pierce the saintly mask and behold the face of his satanic majesty lurking behind.

If you are blessed with only one face be it ever so humble you have much to be thankful for and unless times change one faced men will soon be at a premium.

To spend hundreds of dollars of the county funds building clay roads and ignore the fact that the Jack Rabbit is doing a far greater injury to the farmer and fruit grower than a net work of clay roads would prove beneficial, appears about as logical to the average farmer as Pat the Irishman's method of lengthening out his blanket, who on finding it too short cut a strip off one end to lengthen out the other.

Sweet William.

Percy Spencer of Brownfield, was over Monday visiting at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Spencer.

Last week Green Earhart closed a deal for the Benson house in the north part of the city. This building was formerly the Cunningham residence.

Last week we failed to mention the arrival of a fine boy baby, which was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dickinson, Jr., Saturday the 9th inst.

J. E. Vickers, Jr., arrived in our city Friday, and at present comfortably domiciled in the home of his parents South Second and Calveston streets. He is a robust healthy fellow and bids fair to become one of the leading orator among the rising generation.

JUST received, the prettiest and best line of enameled granite ware ever seen at the Brownfield Hardware. Glad to show 'em to you.

A combined magician and hypnotist was here last week and pulled off several stunts at the courthouse a couple of nights to a fair sized crowd.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

City Building Notes

By L. M. Ward, President Texas Commercial Executive Association.

The greatest regrets come from the things we overlook.

Labor is the principal ingredient in the wine of happiness.

One noble action is worthy compensation for many failures.

The Press and Commercial Club are the master of the City's fate.

Dreams of development will oftentimes bring means of doing it.

The whirl and hum of industry are sweet music to the ears of capital.

Boosting the city we live in should be the most natural thing we do.

Those who strive for wealth alone seldom occupy space in the annals of great achievements.

To conquer local conditions and help build a prosperous municipality should be the ambition of every young man.

Enthusiasm has been known to draw the sluggish blood from the veins of the demagogue and transfuse in its stead corpuscles that will eventually bring vigorous action in behalf of progress and development.

To organize a commercial club is worthy of mention, but to bring a dead organization to life and place into it new thoughts, action and execution, is a work of the master hand and should be included in the annals of great deeds.

Chasing the phantom factory has caused more commercial clubs to disintegrate than any other reason. A club could well afford to spend its entire time in agricultural development, for in that direction there can be no failure or dissolutions, if the proper methods to be employed.

Harris Happenings.

Misses Nancy and Lizzie Dumas came up last Friday, bringing their sister, Mrs. Brit Clare, and little ones, who had been visiting them the past two weeks. The girls visited here until Monday morning, when they left for their home in southwest Terry.

F. M. Elington's parents came down from Meadow last Saturday and returned home Monday. Miss Grace, who has been visiting here returned home with her parents.

Brit Clare says it is simply awful to have to batch when you are out of practice, and he is very glad to have his family home.

Only a small crowd was out at Sunday School last Sunday. We hope for a better one Sunday.

Ye scribe was in Gomez last Friday and had the pleasure of talking with West Wind.

Messrs. McLane and H. L. Hooker left for Lubbock today (Monday). They came by and gave two big watermelons to this hungry scribe and family. The melons were great and we sure did appreciate them.

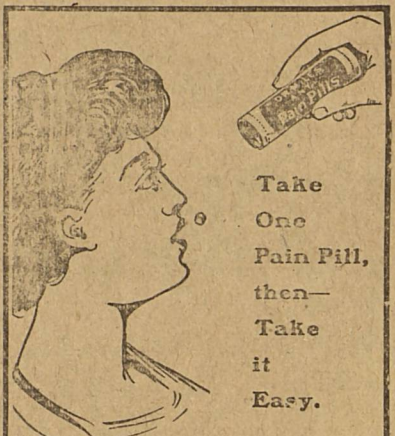

Letters from the Misses Fitzgerald, say they are having a delightful visit in Lubbock. We wish for them all the merry times possible.

A refreshing shower fell here last Friday, but we still want a big, rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Easton Wolfarth and family, of Lubbock, are at the ranch attending to business and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wolfarth.

We are glad to announce that Bro. Dixon has been retained by the Association as Missionary, as he is not only a good preacher but a splendid citizen and Brownfield is proud of him.

BEST BREED OF BABY CHICKS

Much Depends on What They Are Intended For—Plymouth Rocks Lead in United States.

In answer to a query as to the best breed of day-old incubator chickens for the market, the Kansas Farmer makes the following reply:

There is no data at hand whereby one could determine which breed of baby chicks sell the best. It would all depend upon what the customer wanted to do with the chicks; to raise them for broilers or to keep them for breeding purposes. If for broilers, the the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Orpingtons and Rhode Island Reds are all good. If wanted for breeding purposes, the demand would call for a great variety of breeds, according to the individual preference of the purchaser. In order to find out which was the most popular fowl in the United States, the American Poultry association, some six years ago, promised to publish an exclusive standard for such breed. It sent to the secretaries of all the principal poultry shows for the number of fowls of each breed that were exhibited at their shows. From the reports received, the Plymouth Rocks were decidedly in the majority, and won their standard. Similar reports were called for the next year, eliminating the Plymouth Rocks, and the Wyandottes were found to be the next popular fowl to the Plymouth Rocks. The next year the Leghorns won, and this year the Orpingtons came in ahead. Therefore we find that the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Leghorns and Orpingtons in the order named, are the most popular fowls in the United States as determined by the greatest number exhibited at poultry shows. This might guide one as to which breed of baby chicks are most popular, as naturally the preference for the young chicks would be in about the same proportion as the liking for the adult fowls.

SAVING FEATHERS MADE EASY

Virginia Woman, in Picking Geese, Uses Barrel With Top Covered With Sacking Tightly Nailed.

Picking poultry is not a pleasant job at best, and particularly on a windy day. Even in a closed room feathers are apt to fly about and are difficult to gather up.

We once saw a Virginia woman picking geese, and she had beside her a barrel, the top of which was covered with sacking, nailed around the edges, and a cross slip in the middle, through which she dropped the feathers. In this way she managed to save all of the feathers, and the barrel was kept solely for this purpose.

This Will Save Feathers.

Raising Pigeons.

Pigeons must have clean water for bathing once every day. It should be given them early in the morning. The birds cannot live without it.

The bathing dishes should be emptied after the birds have used it as it quickly becomes foul and should not be allowed to stand.

The pigeon that goes about with drooping wings is a sick bird.

At the first sign of sickness the birds should be taken out of the pens and placed by themselves. Unless they are very valuable they should be killed at the end of three days if they are not entirely well.

Squabs are pretty well covered with feathers when three weeks old.

Before engaging in the pigeon business go and spend a week or two with some successful pigeon breeder. One can learn more in this way than from three months' reading in a book.

Planning Better Things.

Some stormy evening, when the whole family is gathered about the fire, take up and discuss the feasibility of modern conveniences in the home. The kitchen sink, with hot and cold water; the bathroom, hot air, steam or hot water heat, are as much of necessity for convenience and comfort in the country as in the city, and may be had as cheaply. Every farmer's family may and should know the facts regarding these desirable improvements.

Parsley in Winter.

A fine supply of parsley can be had for winter use by lifting several plants and placing them in a small box of soil in a sunny cellar window. Treat as one would house plants.

Sword Imbedded in Plank.

Embedded in the heart of a plank of wood taken from a railway station at Oakley, Fifeshire, says the London Standard, there has been found a sword measuring over two feet long. The plank had been in use for at least fifteen years.

Today the Appointed Time.

"The future is an illusion; it never arrives; it flies before you as you advance. Always it is today—and after death and a thousand years it is today. You have great deeds to perform and you must do them now."—Charles Ferguson.

Covered the Ground.

A man who was dunned by a bookseller for a book delivered some time before, returned the bill with this written on it: "I never ordered this book. If I did, you did not send it. If I got it, I paid for it. If I didn't, I won't."

J. V. Newsom came in this week from Bell county as he has a case in County Court. J. V. says this country looks better than that, as the crops are almost a failure down there, and he also said he might move back out there, with much emphasis on the might.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Adams went down to Mr. Duke's in the Southern part of the county, one day last week after some peaches. They report that Mr. Duke will have no more for sale until his Oct. peaches ripen. Uncle Horace remembered the editor with a couple of nice ones on his birthday.

Atty. W. D. Benson and O. L. Slaton, Pres. Lubbock State Bank, were in Brownfield Wednesday. This was Mr. Slaton's first trip to Brownfield, and he expressed himself well pleased with our town and country. They went on to Plains where Mr. Benson wishes to meet and have a talk with Com. Robinson, General Land Agent.

Dr. Treadaway came in Wednesday morning and reported a well developed case of scarlet fever, in stead of small pox, at the Will Arnett ranch. There was a case in this house last year, and it was well fumigated, but it seems this case must have come from the same house. There being no Board of Health in Terry county, we print this to warn people to stay away from these premises.

The School Land appraiser, Mr. J. T. Robison, of the General Land office, and two appointees of the Governor, were here this week taking in the situation. These men gave out no information whatever, but said we had splendid crops compared with other sections visited and we are afraid that this means our people will be disappointed in the amount of reduction.

Messrs. F. L. Baker and E. M. Scheneker, of Abilene, Texas, were registered at the Hill Hotel this week. Mr. Baker represents the Remington U. M. C. Co. in this territory, and can prove beyond a reasonable doubt that Remington arms and U. M. C. cartridges are the best made. Mr. Baker has many friends in Brownfield that he is always glad to meet and converse with aside from his line of business which is constantly pushing.

Will Fly Again.

CHATTANOOGA, August 25.—(Special)—The Chairman of the Grand Army Entertainment Committee, has closed a contract with Johnnie Green, famous Cardui birdman and waterfowl, to make three flights in Chattanooga during the G. A. R. Reunion, to be held in Chattanooga September 15-20.

Green is the man who made the record flight in the Cardui Flyer No 1 over the Lookout Mountain during the U. C. V. Reunion last May. He was the first man to attempt that dangerous flight, refused by so many other prominent aviators. A feature of his exhibition next month will be a flight in his Cardui No. 2, equipped with hydroplanes, up the Tennessee River. This will be the first hydroplane flight ever made by any Southern aviator.

Visitors to the G. A. R. Reunion will do well not to miss these flights by the famous aviator, free to all, and should look out for the dollar bills, which he drops among the crowds below as he goes hurtling through the air.

A Dying Jack Rabbit.

A pioneer Jack Rabbit
Lay dying on the plain
Not thro lack of vegetation
Nearby waved a field of grain.
To a group of long eared brethren
His voice came weak and low
I am drifting to that country
Where all peach tree peelers go.
Yes it is sad, so sad to leave you
And his voice was full of pain
For I was born in Terry
Terry County on the plain.
No more I'll lead you B. etherin
To the field and melon patch
No more for big yam taters
In the garden I will scratch.
The fruit and juicy melon
I'll never taste again
For soon I will leave dear Terry
Terry County on the plains.
The commissioners of Brownfield
Will be sad to hear I know
Their old engine of destruction
Chilled shot has laid so low.
They have been our dear protectors
With a strong and mighty arm
Ignored a bounty on our scalp
To shield us from all harm.
A clay road will soon be complete
Thro Terry south to Gaines
For autos and our long eared tribe
To travel across the plains.
Let havoc be your watchword
Destruction everywhere
'Tat there may be no exhibit,
Sent to the Dallas fair.
And when the road is completed
Which I predict next fall
The county funds will all be gone
And we'll leave no grain to haul.
Sweet William.

Primrose.

Mr. Jim Bristow, from Haskell county, is prospecting in this neighborhood and visiting his father-in-law, H. L. Smith.

E. Z. Thorp, the Primrose teacher, moved in Monday and will open up school the 1st Monday in Sept.

The water question is becoming quite an object, there being no wind, and some of the stockmen are changing cattle from one pasture to another. Some of them are keeping gasoline engines going day and night to have a supply of water. This is some thing out of the ordinary in west Texas, but a great many tanks have become filled with mud, consequently the water has got low during this continued drouth and still weather.

Lee Cowan is driving his cattle three miles every day for water. Lawrence Christopher says he has about enough water to last about three days, then he will have to drive unless the wind blows or it rains.

Miss Clara Cowan, who was taken sick at Brownfield, is very much improved, and hopes she will be able to start to school real soon.

We failed to mention in our last items that Miss Grace Ellington received her teacher's certificate and we understand she has a school secured.

What is the matter with our president, Sweet William. We haven't had a line from his pen since the correspondent's meeting. Take heart of grace and come again.

The Retirement of Peter Radford.

Peter Radford, in retiring from the Presidency of the Farmers' Union leaves a record of official conduct and ability that will be hard to match by his successor. He has taken the organization from comparative obscurity and advanced it to one of influence and power. The objects and methods of the Union are better understood and more fully appreciated by the public than ever before, and a large majority of our citizenship now stand ready to co-operate with the Union in promoting the interests of agriculture.

The American press has recognized Mr. Radford as one of the most vigorous thinkers of the age, and his views on agriculture have been accepted as authority throughout the State and Nation. Mr. Radford has a record of efficiency that is hard to beat.

Broken-Hearted Dog.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Monticello, N. Y., will exercise its authority by putting an end to the sufferings of a little cocker spaniel named Buttons, which has apparently lost its mind, following the death of its master. The little dog for years has been the steady companion of Louis McGrain of New York, who succumbed to tuberculosis here last summer. Buttons since the death of his master has been grief stricken, and has refused to be petted or to take food from friends of Mr. McGrain. After she had roamed the streets for several months the animal's half starved condition was brought to the attention of the society. It has been decided that the only way to solve Button's problem is by taking its life.

More Appropriate.

Representative Henry, condemning the international marriage, said at a dinner in Waco:

"What kind of men are these dukes and earls, anyway, that they can frankly admit marrying helresses for their money?"

"I heard a story the other day, a story about an heiress who said to her titled fiance:

"My dear, I'm rather a new woman, you know, so do you mind asking the bishop to omit the word 'obey' in our wedding ceremony?"

"Lord Lucian stroked his mustache, smiled cynically, and answered:

"No, I don't mind, my love. I'll just tell the old boy to make it 'love, honor and supply.'"

Pocketbooks in Walking Sticks.

The latest styles in society walking sticks are practical as well as ornamental. One of the new canes is fitted with a coin box and a match box these being contained in the head, which is provided with a skillfully concealed lid. The coin box is so arranged that a person can easily deposit or remove the coin by a slight pressure of the thumb. Men who have used these canes say they are practical and convenient, for they do away with the annoyance of fishing for coins in the pocket when boarding a street car.

In France there is quite a variety of uses which the cane is made to serve. A clever Frenchman has made a cane with a handle containing a complete outfit of the game known as "petits chevaux."

Mercenary.

"You'll never again be the fighter for once were," said the expert in pugilism.

"Well," replied the man with bulgy muscles, "I don't want to be. A man never gets a chance to make big lecture money till he's been."

The profit in a cow comes from the extra amount of milk she will yield over what she ordinarily gives on common pasture or the coarse feeds usually given her.

Always keep the earliest and best bred pullets for the home flock. There is also a good demand generally for nice pullets in the fall by those wanting them to keep. Get rid of all undesirable stock and miss no opportunity for improving the flock.

The disposition of a horse is bred in him. He may have behind him long generations of heredity, that has bad manners in it, and they will crop out, but a good deal of the disposition of a horse is a matter of development by the people who handle him.

Mr. Morman is reported to be a gentleman that anyone should be glad to welcome into their neighborhood, and as there is several young ladies in the family, they will be a welcome addition in our community, as nearly all the girls have either married or moved away.

The meeting at J Cross school house has been postponed one month on account of there being one in progress at Willow Wells, seven miles south. This reporter, together with Mrs. R. K. Benton and family, Geo. Snodgrass and family, attended the meeting at later place, Sunday, and listened to two splendid sermons by Bros. Tate and Kerr.

Well, it is sure getting dry in this part of the county, now and some corn that gave promise of a big yield ten days ago, is a total failure, and other fields are suffering for rain, while the still, hot days without sufficient wind to turn the windmills, is causing many tanks to get low and stock water is getting scarce.

Mrs. R. K. Benton is visiting Miss Ada Cherry, today.

Messrs. Day and Taylor helped H. L. Ware move the house recently purchased of Hugh Snodgrass, one day last week; and it is now located at Tokio. Mr. Ware says he will keep feed in it for a short time, until a Mr. Lovelace, from Parker county, arrives, who will put in a stock of merchandise.

Mr. Snodgrass has sold his mule coats to Marvin Lane at $60 per head.

Messrs. W. B. and Will Saodgrass are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carr Surginer, of Floydada, this week.

Digger.

Arthur and Misses Nettie and Ora Sawyer, and Miss Irene Speegle will leave the last of the week for Lubbock, where the two former will go to Amarillo to enter school, and the latter will go to Eutaw, Ala.

LIST OF 100 WORST BOOKS

Suggestion is Offered That Some Wise, Broadminded Man Make Up the List.

There are some who have a passion for making lists of the "greatest," the "best" men, books, paintings, musical compositions. There is a famous list of the 100 best books, and any one reading them night and day to the exclusion of others would be a tiresome prig.

A list of the 100 worst books drawn up by a man of true critical acumen and catholic taste, a human being, would be much more to the purpose, although it would include some volumes now ranked as classic and invaluable. Charles Lamb's essay on books is too familiar for quotation. M. Anatole France alluded to Gabriel Piquot of Dijon as a man who, writing volume after volume about books, yet wrote no book. Oscar Wilde divided books into three classes—books to read, books to reread and books not to read at all—and among the last he included Thomson's "Seasons," all John Stuart Mill except the essay on liberty, Hume's England, "all argumentative books, and all books that try to prove anything."

To tell people what to read is, as a rule, either useless or harmful; for the appreciation of literature is a question of temperament, not of teaching; to Parnassus there is no primer, and nothing that one can learn is ever worth learning.—Phillip Hale, in Boston Herald.

SHOES MADE OF SNAKESKIN

Fashionable Women of London Being Tempted to Conquer Their Aversion to Reptiles.

From all reptiles the ordinary woman shrinks in disgust. Yet fashionable women are now being tempted to conquer their aversion to the extent of wearing snakeskin shoes. One of the smartest boot shops in the west end of London is "featuring" these shoes; but up to the present it seems to be uncertain if the fashion will really establish itself on widespread lines.

Choice of quite a variety of skins is offered. There is the dark and heavily-marked skin of the deadly cobra, or the lighter skin, with its more delicate pigment markings, of the rapacious python. The skins of the viper and the boa-constrictor have also been made up.

Snake skin is very soft, pliable, and durable. The shoes are expensive, of course, for the skins are not too plentiful, but this factor should rather commend itself to smart people, as it renders it much more difficult to copy the fashion on cheap lines.

The cheapest ration for the dairy cow is a combination of corn silage, alfalfa hay and cotton seed meal.
