Advice Regarding Silos in Southwest.

Washington, D. C. A special demonstration in cattle feeding in Amarillo, Texas, has led to the compilation of certain data, on how and when to fill a silo, which should be of interest to farmers in the Southwest. In western Texas, Oklahoma, Ariz. New Mexico, California, Colorado Utah and western Kansas, there are undoubtedly many farmers who are about to fill silos for the first time this year and for such the following should be timely.

The proper time to cut this feed for silage is when the seed are in the stiff dough stage and the bottom leaves begin to turn brown, for at this stage the plant will have its maximum nutritive value and yet be green enough to keep well in the silo. This advice applies particularly to the silage in the Panhandle of Texas, the greater part of which is made from kaffir, milo, feterita and sorghum.

When there is a large amount of feed to be cut, the work should be done with a row binder, this being the most economical method. In hauling the feed from the field to the silo, a wagon with a low down bed is much better than one with a regular hay frame, as the green bundles are rather heavy to lift. Use sufficient wagons to haul feed as fast as cut. It should not be allowed to wilt or become partly cured before putting into the silo. It will not keep as well if allowed to become dry. Wagons should be well loaded each trip, otherwise the expense of filling the silo will be greatly increased. If one has strong wagons, four-horse teams may be used to advantage.

Silage should be cut into one-half inch lengths, as it packs in much closer than when left longer, thus crowding out the air, and the silage keeps better. The capacity of the silo is also increased and there is less waste in feeding, as all will be eaten.

The power required to run the silage cutter, with blower attached, is ordinarily figured at one horse-power for each inch of cutter—that is, a 15 inch cutter will require a 15 horse power gasoline engine, but in filling a pit silo where no blower is required, only about half this power is needed.

One of the most, if not the most, important part in filling a silo is the packing of the silage. The silage must be packed well if it is to keep, for this packing forces out the air and the essential thing in making silage is the exclusion of the air. If air spaces are left in the silo, large amounts of silage will be lost. In a silo 12 feet in diameter and with a small cutter, use two or more men. In large silos and filling with large cutters, keep three or more men in the silo and see that they tramp all the time. Pack the edges next to the wall; the middle will take care of itself.

When the plants are green no water need be added in making silage, but if the silage has begun to dry or cure in the field some water should be run into the silo while being filled. This is done to bring the moisture content of the silage nearer to its natural state, to make it pack down better and help exclude the air. One safe rule in this matter would be if in doubt, run in some water. Water will not hurt the silage if there is no excess, and every silo should have either a dirt floor or a drain, which will let any excess water escape. The best place to add the water is to run it into the blower while cutting.

As six or more inches of silage at the top will spoil, it is some times advisable with some cheap or worthless material. A layer of cut oat straw is sometimes run in for a covering for the silage and wet down and well tramped. This forms a seal and preserves all the feed. When feeding is begun, all of this top layer of spoiled stuff should be thrown aside.

It is advisable to tramp the top of the silage every day for ten days or two weeks after the silo is filled, as this helps to force out the air and tends to prevent the silage from settling away from the wall.

SUMMARY.

Cut crops for silage when seed are in the stiff dough stage.

Keep up with binder in the field; do not let feed lay in the field for several days.

Haul as large loads as possible and keep all men busy all the time.

Cut in one-half inch lengths.

Pack silage well around the edge. No man ever lost anything by packing, and many have lost much silage from lack of it.

Tramp the top of the silage every day for ten days or two weeks.

If in doubt as to moisture, run in water.

A Grave Injustice

Do those who advocate the absolute prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic liquors realize the seriousness of the social and economic crisis that would be precipitated by such legislation? Are they aware of the fact that the heads of families aggregating probably not less than three million people would suddenly be deprived of their sole means of livelihood, and that properties valued in the aggregate at perhaps two billion dollars would as suddenly become worthless?

It is doubtful if they do fully realize this, yet these are figures given by no less a writer than Dr. Henry Smith Williams in an article in the "Ladies Home Journal," reviewing the prohibition movement. And he adds: "Personally I am at a loss to understand how anyone who has the slightest grasp of economic questions can contemplate with equanimity the anarchistic possibilities—nay, certainties—which reveal themselves through the slightest use of the imagination in connection with these figures. To me, at least, it seems obvious that the only thing which has kept the prohibition movement before the people of the United States is the simple fact that prohibition does not prohibit."

Thinking men and women who seek the truth and are unswayed by prejudice, and who give the foregoing facts the consideration they deserve cannot escape a like conclusion. —Paid Advertisement.

Judge Neill says he was recently over at W. D. Winn's place and the later was digging a 14x25 silo and throwing the dirt out without the aid of a derrick. Anyway, Messrs. Winn, Shepherd and others in that vicinity have or are digging silo's to hold one hundred tons or more and have gone in on some silo machinery. Hurrah for these stock farmers!

Good Rains

The rains of Sunday and Tuesday nights came just in time to keep the crops from going back on account of the three weeks of hot, dry weather. The gauge in Brownfield registered .57 Sunday night, and .63 Tuesday night, making a total up to this writing of 1.20 inches, or a splendid season, that insures bumper crops. From what we can learn by phone and conversation with parties coming into town, the showers have been very well distributed over the county, and old Terry is going to toot 'em up this fall at the Fair.

Lots of corn and maize would have made good without these showers, but now all the old stuff will fill out better and young truck will make a good crop, as the cool night coming on will hold them up without any more rain. Come to Terry.

Well yes, things are looking lively in old Terry these days. Thank you. Even the candidates who took the trip look gay.

Some good old Texas county, and they are the best on earth, will have to set a pace this fall to outstrip old Terry. In fact the odds are odds by right of "priority."

Jno. W. Baker got the best vote in Terry county of any in the State; his home county not even in comparison, though giving him a splendid vote. If he had run over the State like he did in Terry, out of 400,000 votes he would have gotten 381,400 and Edwards 15,600 votes. Jno. W. owes the voters of Terry a card of thanks.

The underground silos that are going up in old Terry these days are so numerous that it is hard to keep up with them, and we're not going to try, but the buyers are going to find it out when they price cattle here next year.

Those old juicy mellons for which we are justly famous, and on which we won the blue ribbon at the Dallas Fair, have begin to come into town. Lor' man, a Louisiana negro would weep for joy to behold one of their shining countenances. We have done run our gums up and down their rinds and soiled our shirt front, and pronounce them par excellent.

We have heard many and various plausible explanations of the reason for the defeat of all the prohibition candidates for State offices, but the most prominent one is that they failed to get enough votes. Some have said the people are tired of agitation and are crying out for some legislation, and probably this is nearer right than anything else. Some have said the Ratford-Lewis articles influenced quite a few, and may have; still others have laid the defeat of Col. Ball to the butting in of the Administration at Washington, which we doubt changed many votes one way or the other. Possibly one of the main things that defeated submission and all the candidates that stood for it, was the fact that the candidates stressed prohibition more than democracy, of which this State is hidebound. Also, there were those who abhorred the system of election this year, which probably removed some favorite candidate from the race. Another thing that no doubt encompassed the defeat of Mr. Ball, was the fact that the farming class of Texas, which is the least noisy but the biggest voters, came to Mr. Ferguson's rescue, believing him the most logical candidate for the toiler in the field; we believe this especially true as regards the renter farmer. Another thing we believe that fooled such leaders as Drs. Rankin and Gambrell, was the election of Mr. Shepherd over Col. Wolters, which they attributed to the strength of prohibition, when in fact it was the Woodmen of the World. Anyway, we believe the safest plan for the pros to follow, is to let agitation cease for a season, and refrain from antagonizing the Governor elect, or they will be defeated worse next time.

THE SOURCE OF CHEAP MONEY

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the second of a series of Articles on AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS prepared by Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the Texas Farm Life Commission.

Suppose one wishes to borrow on land security, $10,000. It is not easy to find one person who has that sum to lend. When he does, he finds a man of affairs who will lend the money only on such rates as prevail in that community. It is easier to find twenty persons with $500 or a hundred with $100 each. In Eastern states and in European countries working people and persons of small means put by their savings in saving banks which pay 3 and 4 per cent on time deposits. The savings banks assemble many hundred millions of dollars. The deposits in the Postals Savings Bank of this nation already amount to $40,000,000 although they pay only 2 per cent interest. People of small means are the greatest source of cheap money. Their money builds sky-scrapers, factories, ships, railroads, telegraph, telephone systems and so on, which is assembled in this wise: The enterprise is incorporated and issues mortgage bonds. A million dollars may be put into bonds of $50 each, bearing 4 or 5 or 6 per cent interest. Concerns which make a business of selling such securities furnish the money desired and sell these bonds to investors in such securities among whom will be clerks, book-keepers, laborers, school-teachers, preachers, professional people, and all kinds of non-business persons. Thus is capital assembled which finances big enterprises. The rich do not, as some suppose, furnish cheap money; they borrow and use the money of non-business people.

Every one of Uncle Sam's industries except his greatest, agriculture, has worked out methods of getting to the source of cheap money, and he has decided to work out a system for that neglected industry. He sends his agents to all parts of the world. Some of these in the countries of Continental Europe have reported that the people there have systems of rural credits which manage to tap this great source of cheap money just as other industries do, and receive copious streams of finance which give new life and vigor to agriculture, causing the fields to bring forth five-fold. Desiring to see what light these systems might shed on our agricultural problems President Wilson sent a Commission last year throughout Europe to investigate the systems there. This commission saw that land mortgage securities when issued in small denominations so that people of small means could purchase them with their savings were the favorite of all securities. People everywhere love the soil; they dwell upon it, from it comes their food and raiment, and they have faith in it above all things else, even above the government itself. Hence they who went on this investigation found that land securities everywhere commanded cheaper money than the bonds of the governments, and these securities have stood the test of a hundred years.

The methods are so simple and the benefits so great and widespread that one seeing them wonders why we should not long ago have adopted some similar method suited to agricultural conditions here. This Commission has prepared a plan which is now before Congress and which I will explain in my next article.

Texas farm property increases in value at the rate of $3,500,000 per day.

The value of the average Texas farm is $5,311; of this amount $3,909 is invested in land, $503 in buildings, $136 in implements and machinery, and $763 in livestock.

Our natural gas industry is yet in its infancy and many new fields are being discovered.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight.

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

The district must bear all expenses of sea-wall and purchase of the land and expense of filling (filling) same and other expenses, and the same shall not in any way involve the credit of the county or be a basis for a tax by the county on general lands of the county unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the property taxpayers of the county voting at a special election therefor. It is further provided that any owner of land in a proposed district may subscribe and pay for the district commission, when organized, as the pro rata of his land of the expense of the wall, reclamation, platting as town lots, on a basis as such area of land is to be to the whole land of the reclamation district and sea-wall, and at any time before the completion of the district may surrender the bonds and receive from the county a bond for title for his land in town lots, less streets and alleys deducted therefrom, for which on surrender deed may be demanded from the county after the district is walled, filled and platted into streets, alleys and lots, and bonds so bought shall so provide. It is further provided that no district shall be formally designated by the County Commissioners' Court until owners of at least one-half of the proposed area of district petition therefor, and subscribe out for bonds for repurchase from the county as herein provided. This amendment may be acted on without delay of legislation in aid thereof or legislative action may be had in furtherance thereof if desired by the county, acting through its Commissioners' Court.

Last week was the hottest weather we have seen in our ten years residence in Terry County.

We had a fine rain here Sunday night and the temperature is much cooler since then.

H. L. Ware and wife took dinner at the hotel Monday, also went to Brownfield to have some dental work done.

The Terry county hotels are sure reaping a harvest from the tourists this season.

Most everybody here attended the meeting at Brownfield last week and all report a good meeting.

Messrs. W. D. Winn, Bert Shepherd and O. Curlin are having silos dug this week.

Charlie Currier is gone to the railroad for Mr. Curlin this week.

Mrs. J. M. Currier received news last week that her daughter, Mrs. Ed Neill, of Haskell City, was quite sick. Mrs. Currier and little J. M. left for Haskell immediately.

Mrs. D. J. Broughton and little Misses Fay and Onie Maud spent last week here the guests of Mrs. Ed Moore.

Mrs. Dee Hunter visited out at Ben Hursts last week and Mrs. Hurst accompanied her home and stayed until Monday.

Earl Hill was over from Brownfield Sunday accompanied by his sisters Misses Delorous and Lela also Misses Katie Bryant and Grace Truman Green.

Will Mathis and family and Mr. B. McPherson visited out at Geo. McPhersons on last Sunday.

Rev. McReynolds and wife and sister visited here last Friday.

Mrs. S. H. Key seems to be some better this week than she has been but is yet very sick.

Arthur Moore and Alvin Duke left last Friday morning for an extensive trip through New Mexico. Mrs. Duke and little Bert are staying with Mrs. Arthur Moore during their absence.

The Christian Meeting begins here at the tabernacle next Saturday night.

Married at Brownfield last Monday night, Mr. Tom Glover and Miss Phyllis Holgate, both of Gomez. Tom is the son of R. W. Glover our hotel man, and needs no introduction to our readers; he has been mostly raised here and has the respect and good will of all who know him. Miss Phyllis is a sister to Robert and S. H. Holgate here. She has made her home here for the past three years and has taught in our school the past two terms. Her charming manners and sweet disposition has won the love of all who know her. Their many friends join in wishing this worthy young couple a long and happy life. They will leave Wednesday for a visit to relatives at Brownwood.

Mr. Will Moore and family came in Tuesday for a visit to his fathers family and other relatives here. Mr. Moore formerly lived here, but two years ago moved to Hamilton county.

A party at Mrs. Reeves Tuesday night, a good crowd and all present say they had a real nice time.

Miss Katie Copeland is visiting here at Mrs. Reeves this week.

Mr. D. J. Broughton spent Tuesday night here.

J. T. May brought in a sample of his Feterita this week, which he said was just an average of his crop. The stalks are somewhat taller than maize or kaffir, but the heads seem to be larger and more of them. It is also said in favor of this cereal that it will stand a more severe drouth than either of the above crops. Mr. May says that he will harvest a bountiful crop of everything he planted.
