HOGWALLOW NEWS

DUNK BOTS, Regular Correspondent

Hereafter, all who have their shoes half soled by Luke Mathewsla will have to remove them from their feet while the work is going on.

The artificial cherries on Miss Ftutie Belcher's hat have caused quite a stir among the jaybirds of this section the past week.

Yam Sims, who on his mule, usually kicks up more dust along the roads during the summer months than any other social favorite in our midst, is preparing for the on-rush of spring and summer by ordering a new derby from Chicago. He got a right flat one so that he will not look so tall.

The hive of bees owned by Tobe Moseley are starting out with renewed energy, after a winter's rest. However, Tobe himself has not decided yet just what he will do this summer.

Isaac Hellwanger has issued orders around his place that there is to be no noise of any kind for several days as one of his geese is on the nest.

The Hogwallow Improvement Association meets next week, and will no doubt have a long session as there is nothing of importance to come up. All winter they have been working on some ways and means to try to get rid of the mud hole in front of the post-office, but have laid the matter on the table, having decided to let nature take its course.

The Excelsior Fiddling Band is learning another new piece. This shows progressiveness on the part of this sterling organization.

With the advent of the garden seed and onion sets, the Post master has slowed his stove down to about half horse-power.

Raz Barlow, who is one-third Irish, acted green at Tickville on St. Patrick's Day.

Smoke always travels in one direction, but it is easily changed in its course, as there is nothing at all substantial or permanent about it. That is the reason it is not in demand.

Raz Barlow now passes Miss Fruzie Allsop's house with his head turned the other way, thinking about some other girl.

Sydney Hocks has got a job working at night and has purchased two lanterns, which insures him of a bright future.

One of the wheels on the Tin Peddler's wagon broke down while he was trying to sell Mrs. Columbus Allsop a dishpan for half price last Monday.

The Deputy Constable made an important discovery Monday morning when he unearthed an old watch from an abandoned house on Musket Ridge. The watch had been buried for about twenty years, and while it had been stolen, the only clue to the identity of the thief is that the watch stopped at 8:15 o'clock.

The Hogwallow Improvement Association, which is always foremost in every movement, is making arrangements to cut the weeds that are to grow at the side of postoffice this summer.

The Deputy Constable was summoned yesterday to go to a gully near Rye Straw and arrest a lot of his friends that were having a game of seven-up. He will leave for the scene some time next week.

Columbus Allsop, who recently took an important stand in the defensive on the east end of the Excelsior Fiddling Band, has been asked to play a little softer as nobody can hear Raz Barlow and his small fiddle.

We can now let you have the daily and Sunday Star-Telegram for eight months, or until December the first for $2.25. This offer will be withdrawn May 1st.

Work was started this week on the addition to Mr. Brownfield's residence.

Judge Neill was on the sick list last week, but is around this week.

Editor Visits Plains

For the first time in five years, the editor of the Herald visited the capitol of Yoakum county, leaving here Monday noon with Marvin Cox, who runs Uncle Sam's jitney between this point and that, returning Tuesday afternoon (between two lawyers) Attys. Lockhart and Spencer, in the former's car.

We went for several reasons, first and foremost of which was to meet old friends and form new ones. Then, of late, since the suspension of the News, we have been called upon to publish some legal papers for that county, and with a small circulation over there, we sought to increase it by visiting the town, which we did, to the tune of nineteen, with the prospect of several more in the immediate future, providing they do not get a paper of their own, now pending, and we hope will succeed, as they need one. We believe it would have been possible to have added 35 or 40 had the petit jury been called, however we appreciate the following new ones: M. R. Robinson, D. C. Keller, M. E. Dumas, E. S. Rowe, Carl Forkel, W. K. Calahan, J. M. Pulliam, T. C. Ivey, D. B. Tingle, J. J. Kendrick, T. W. Hague, W. J. Satterwhite, J. P. Earnest, S. E. Langford, J. H. King, Dr. L. C. Beeson, D. T. Cates, W. P. Lupton and R. L. Knight.

There has been vast improvements since our last visit, as several several buildings have gone up on the south side, and all are occupied. To begin, there is the Plains Garage, with Lum Hudson and son, John, giving the people good service with their well assorted stock of supplies and tools. Next comes the drug store, with the most up-to-date stocks and fixtures we ever saw in a town of that size. Carl Forkel, a true red blooded business young man is proprietor, specializing in kodaks, of which he is selling many. The next is the neat little store of J. M. Pulliam, and consists of a clean stock of groceries and notions, and is presided over by another coming young man of our country. Then there is the home of one of the best banking institutions on the Plains, guided by two trusted men, A. J. Bureson and R. M. Kendrick. There are two splendid little hotels, run by Porter Earnest and Mrs. Long, and they give you more grub than style, all of which suits us very much. The other dry goods and grocery is owned one of the Commissioners, D. B. Tingle, a most obliging and genial gentleman, who is making good. The postoffice is run by Mr. Hague, who is giving good service. Mr. Lanford is a new man in the country, and is fixing to open up an ice plant, a cold drink and confectionery. He says he will be able to deliver 100 pounds of ice in Brownfield or Gomez in three hours after it is made, with a minimum waste, in a refrigerator auto. Dr. L. C. Beeson has recently located over there, and will practice his profession; see his card in this issue.

The surrounding country is in fine shape, and there is good prospects of bumper crops of feed and fruits, and they expect to see their country full of home makers this fall and winter. The only serious drawback they have is bad water on the square, but Birthday Dinner.

Last Friday was Rev. M. D. Williams' 52nd birthday, and the editor and family, together with the Welch, Cardwell, Bridges, Bernan, McDaniel and Adams families, were on hand to enjoy the dinner with him. This family have long had a rep for hospitality in the home, and this occasion was no exception to the rule.

The dinner was superb, being that old style of country dinners that have some backbone behind them, the principal ingredients of which were, turkey and dressing, boiled ham, cabbage, potatoes, together with pies, cakes, whipped cream and fresh peaches to set it all off. After dinner, the men viewed the preacher's orchard and herd of live stock, which are considered the best in the country while the ladies gossiped in the parlor until time to go home.

Each upon parting with this hospitable host and hostess, expressed themselves as having enjoyed themselves as much as they ever did in their lives.

Herald hope Rev. Williams many more birthdays.

We understand that the lady who was accidentally shot recently, has lockjaw from the wound, and is in a bad shape.

Mothers Club

Last Friday afternoon the Mother's Club met at its stated time at the school house. An interesting program was carried out on Child Welfare.

This meeting ended the contest for attendance which has been going on for the school year. Miss Lowe was winner and in the near future her room will be finished upon the inside in beautiful style. Miss Treadaway came second in the contest, winning the handsome large picture offered by the President, Mrs. Will Alf Bell. It is a copy of the Sistine Madonna and will be hung next week. The following officers were elected for next year: Pres., Mrs. Will Alf Bell. Vice President, Mrs. C. Criswell; Secretary Miss Bertha Lowe; Treasurer, Mrs. R. H. Banowsky;

No more regular meetings will be held until September.

J. R. HILL will pay you 30c each for your hens.

Mr. and Mrs. Tandy, of Plains, left this week for a business and pleasure trip to Seminole.

Mrs. Marvin Cox came over this week with her husband to carry over an extra car that will be repaired in the Plains garage.

District Court

District Court convened in Plains last Monday, and Judge Spencer gave the grand jury a splendid charge and at once set them to work, with District Attorney G. E. Lockhart, assisted by County Attorney Rowe, to help them in their deliberations.

There was no petit jury called as there were no jury cases on the docket, thus saving the county considerable money. What cases there were on the docket, three in number, we believe, were passed till the next term.

The Grand Jury adjourned Tuesday afternoon, having returned two bills of indictment, two misdemeanors and one felony. In their report, they complimented the vigilance of the officers, and reported that crime was on the decrease.

Grandpa Randal, father of Horace and John, of this city, is visiting them.

Rev. J. C. Lewis was in this week after supplies.

W. E. Barkley, of Mitchell county, is here this week looking over the town, but we never learned any business.

During our trip to Plains this week, we noticed several bad places in the road in both counties but the officials of both counties are busy with the roads and in time will have them in good shape again.

J. J. Kendrick, the hustling real estate man of Plains, remarked this week that people were freezing out the old sand storms, and actually made fun of their efforts for the past year. He said we were hanging on here so well that the sandstorms were getting ashamed of themselves.

As we passed through the little city of Gomez, this week, we had occasion to talk with some of the business men over there, and they seem to be very enthusiastic over this year's outlook for business. Mr. Simon Holgate who runs a dry goods and hardware store, says that people are dressing up in the seasons latest, and the farmers are buying new farm implements and harness right along. Mr. A. P. Moore, the groceryman says he is doing a good business, and that collections are good. Let prosperity reign in old Terry.

Mrs. R. L. Verner has been on the sick list this week.

THE FOUNTAIN AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION
THAT SYMBOLIZES THE BUILDING OF THE PANAMA CANAL

The labor that went into the building of the Panama canal is symbolized in the Fountain of Energy, by A. Stirling Calder. This heroic sculpture stands in the center lagoon of the three lagoons of the South Gardens and faces the main entrance gates. The waters were first released on opening day, February 20, coincidentally with the opening of the portals of the exhibit palaces and by the same means: the electric spark transmitted across the continent when President Woodrow Wilson opened the great exposition at San Francisco by wireless.

Dr. Norris, the dentist, left this week for his home in Weatherford, after a two weeks stay here, following his profession.

Will Alf Bell, cashier of the Brownfield State Bank, is visiting relatives in Marshall this week.

Mrs. Percy Spencer, and little daughter, of Lubbock, are visiting their parents, J. L. Randal and wife, this week.

Among those who passed through here from Plains to Lub

Dick Brownfield and family, have moved into their new home, though it is not completed.

Mr. Anderson, the tailor, informed us this week that he had a big run of suit orders recently, besides a flourishing cleaning and pressing business. He further said that the tailoring companies had notified him that several of their samples of the cheap variety, were exhausted on account of so many of the working people in the cities buying cheap clothing on account of hard times.

A man headed west, spent the night here Monday, who was either drunk or crazy, as he was caught prowling around people's houses. Sheriff Jim Lewis was called out, and after some difficulty, made him leave the premises of Lemmie McDaniel, and Jim and Jack Drinkard had to guard him at his wagon till about 3 a. m. before he ever went to bed. Somebody will just about take a shot at this fellow some time.

F. E. Walters, of the south side, came in after the Herald family, Saturday, and of course we never disappoint anyone when we think there is a chance of relieving the monotony of a country editor's chewing, and this time we were not disappointed, for we simply lived on fresh hog, boiled ham, yellow legged chicken and other good things too numerous to mention while out there. Mr. Walters is a native of the State of Kansas, where prohibition and prosperity reign supreme, and he is making good in the Lone Star State with a well regulated little ranch of two fine sections, stocked with some good stuff, which he is constantly improving. It is a real pleasure to visit this hospitable home.

Mrs. H. L. Ware spent the day at Mr. Ellington's; also Nettie Benton.

Add Cox and wife spent Sunday at E. W. Cherry's.

Dick Lovelace and wife spent Saturday night at his father's.

Mrs. Armstrong went to Mr. Currier's Sunday afternoon.

IF you want the best coal and grain at the lowest prevailing price, go to the City Grain & Coal Company, one block south of square, Lubbock, Texas. W. J. Luna is the proprietor and will treat you right.

It is hard for a new comer to believe this a corn country. A few weeks ago, we heard a gentleman say, "last year was my first crop in this county, and I had so little confidence in corn production, that I only planted three acres for roasting ears, and made five loads of corn." He will plant heavily, this year.

SUDAN SEED: Will sell you pure, recleaned seed at 10c per pound, that grew in a field far separated from all sorghum plants, and free of Johnson grass. See or write C. S. Cardwell, Brownfield Texas.

After hitching up a team to come to Sunday School last Sunday, the team ran away, breaking a breast strop and ran the tongue in the ground, overturning the wagon and throwing out the occupants, consisting of Jim King, wife and little son. None were seriously hurt but Mrs. King, the wagon catching her, and it is thought it fractured her shoulder, and her thigh was badly lacerated. Dr. Treadaway was called out and recommended that she be taken to a Sanitarium at Post City, where she could have the best of surgical attention.
