Brownfield Mercantile Company

Our Big Cattle Industry.

Terry county is primarily a stock country, and that is why we are going to give you a cattle scene for the first photograph of our series of weekly pictures of interesting scenes of Terry county, as promised last week.

It is estimated that there are close to 20,000 head of cattle of all kinds in Terry county, and that there are enough horses, sheep, goats and hogs to run the total live stock business to 30,000 or twenty head of live stock for each man, woman and child in the county.

In this picture you will note about a general run of the cattle in Terry county, and while they are a mixed bunch, they include only the two leading breeds of this county, Herefords and Durhams, and you can readily see that we are getting them remarkably well bred when you take into consideration the fact that only a decade or so has passed since the long horn held full sway in this country. Now it is a hard matter to find a steer in the whole country, that shows the least resemblance to the original roaming herds of the Plains.

Our stockmen are a progressive bunch as you will find anywhere, and consider it nothing out of the ordinary to pay several hundred dollars for a registered bull to turn with his fast improving herd. They read the very best journals on the live stock industry, and almost every man belongs to one or more of the live stock associations, and attend them annually. It is a pleasure to see them return from their annual conventions, for they are so full of enthusiasm and renewed courage in their great undertaking to supply the world in the greatest of all meats, that they work with a will and determination for the next twelve months in friendly contest with his brother stockman, to produce the best, and a two year old is as large as the four of former days.

Our stock men are not now and never have opposed the settlement of the small stock farmer in their midst, for in a pinch, they can obtain provender for their herds through an unusually bleak winter, and the feed-at-home business has grown to such an extent, that there is not a sizable ranch in the county that depends on three wires for protection during winter, but they employ farm hands and store their own feed, either in the dry state, or in silos, and as a consequence, the cattle come through the winter in good shape and are strong, so that grass has its effect at once, and they are soon ready for market.

The old story of big stampedes in the west is all off, since the advent of the registered breeds, and the "get out of the way little-un" stunt is never heard of these days.

The silo in the photograph is that of Frank Proctor, three miles east of town, and one of our hustling young stock farmers, who has made good on the Plains. The steers in the scene are those of Tiernan and Scud-day, as Frank sold them the ensilage the first year, but fed his own stock last year. Besides filling his two hundred ton silo, Frank and his two small boys usually fill their large graineries full of feed, and have bundle stuff stacked all over the place. They raise no cotton, thereby saving lots of hard labor all fall, and the children start to school the first day.

"SEEING IS BELIEVING"

Come to Terry.

That Glorious Picnic.

Brownfield has been busy this week, and is now joined on the by all Terry, for our annual big stunt, that means more to people who visit us on that occasion, than mere noise, for Terry always delivers the goods.

This picnic will be under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World and Ex-Confederate soldiers, jointly, and while the programs which will include some good oratory, and a fast baseball games between Brownfield and Slaton, two of the best teams on the south Plains, this picnic is for and by every man, woman and child in the county, and as heretofore, all are expected to come together to entertain the many visitors that will come to our beloved county on that date.

This county is different from most places where we have lived, as the country people don't sit down and expect the town people to do it all, neither do the town people lay down on their job and expect the country people to feed the crowd, but all join hands as real neighbors should, and feed the crowds, you can bet. There is no sectional strife in Terry county that we are aware of, but if there is, you will never be able to detect it on picnic day in old Terry, for all sections come together to have a good time, and they have it.

Now neighbors, several beebes have been bought and will be cooked by the town people, together with hams, cakes, pies, etc, and the country people can fall in with good old yellow legged chickens, turkey, roast pig, and the usual dainties but be sure and let us know if you bring that roast pig and we will sure have a glorious dinner again this year.
Come ever ybody, on that date, and bring the yellow dwag if you want to, on that date. There can hardly be an excuse as you are now through with crop. Come bring mamma and the children, and if the program committee falls down on entertainment, the yellow purps won't.

Remember the date, next Friday, August 6th.

Remember next Friday is picnic day.

Don't forget to bring a well filled basket.

A well filled basket is the most important part of a picnic.

None of us are out much at our annual picnics, and we have something to talk about for months.

Don't forget that old Terry will be on parade before the visitors next Friday, and a few extra loaves and a few extra fishes will be convincing.

Terry has never yet fell down on her picnic, and she won't on this one, for she has a united citizenship. Most all the neighboring towns have hopelessly fell down this year but we must not and will not. Bring a heaping basket or box full, and let's pull off a good one.

Surprise Wedding.

Last Thursday evening, Mr. Ray Hughes and Miss Ola Couch Forded it over to Brownfield, and there assumed the holy bonds of wedlock. The wedding was quite a surprise to the friends of both parties.
Mr. Hughes has been identified with the commercial interests of Tahoka for some time past, and has been one of the boys for several years, although he has been away a good portion of the time. He is a quiet steady boy.

Mrs. Hugnes, numbers her friends by her acquaintances, and having played several seasons on Tahoka's winning basket ball team, has a large circle of friends and admirers. When Mr. Hughes won her for his bride, the team lost the best center it has ever played. She is the daughter of W. J. Crouch of the V Bar stock farm, west of Tahoka.

The News joins their numerous friends in wishing them a tranquil cruise on the matrimonial sea.—Tahoka News.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Dr. Treadaway and Will Adams took the latter's father over to a sanitarium at Post City, Tuesday afternoon, where he will be thoroughly examined. The doctor returned during the night and reports his patient stood the trip fine.

Elbert Proctor brought in some of the finest plums this week that we have ever seen in any country, and was showing them over town. The largest of them measured seven inches in circumference, and there on a twig eight inches in length. Elbert is very optimistic over the future of this country, and says that he who says it takes a section or two of land to make a living here does not know what he is talking about.

One day this week, we were out at the beautiful suburban home of H. H. Longbreak, and took a few snap shots of his orchard. He has one of the best orchards in the county, and despite the fact that the family is rushing the canning business, and neighbors who have no orchard, are buying them right along, peaches are litterly ripening and wasting. He is also going to be one of the boss grape men too, before long. We will have some scenes from this orchard, in the Herald, in the near future.

Most Rapid Photographs Ever Taken.

The most remarkable set of speed photographs ever taken are a part of the war department's exhibit in Machinery Hall at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. They are pictures of a shell from a 12-inch coast defense gun in flight, the set including the various phases of the flight beginning just as the great projectile pokes its nose out of the muzzle of the gun.

The pictures were taken with a lens having an exposure period of one five-thousandth of a second, this being the fastest shutter ever manufactured. The exposure at the proper time in the flight of the projectile was made by breaking an electric circuit in a wire stretched across the trajectory at the desired point and connecting with the shutter.

One picture shows the shell half-way out of the muzzle before any smoke and gas has escaped. Another was taken when the shell was two feet from the muzzle but hidden by a heavy ring of smoke. A third shows the shell in flight a hundred feet from the muzzle. The photographs are so perfect and the exposure so rapid that scarcely any blur is perceptible. They were taken at Fortress Monroe, Va., under the direction of Capt. F. J. Behl of the coast artillery corps and head of the department of enlisted specialists at the Coast Artillery school at Fortress Monroe.

NATIVE LIFE OF THE FAR PACIFIC.

The photograph shows the bells of the interesting Samoan village at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. The structures in this village, comprising the native thatched huts of the Samoan, or as they were formerly called, the Navigator islands, were brought intact from the native villages and are absolutely faithful in all their features. There are many native families living in the village who for the edification of visitors perform the aquatic feats in which the islanders excel, and dance the rhythmic native dances. The life of the people of the Pacific ocean is wonderfully illustrated at the Exposition, and of all the races none are more interesting than the Samoans who exhibit many traces of Aryan descent. No Exposition visitor should fail to see these unique tribespeople.

One Dead; 2 Wounded

One of the most serious shooting difficulties that has taken place in this country in a long time, occurred in east Yoakum county, Wednesday morning between Sheriff D. C. Keller, Dr. L. C. Beeson and Boss Ray, all of that county. As a consequence Dr. Beeson was almost immediately killed, having been shot through the hip and lower bowels. Sheriff Keller was shot through the left hand, and the right arm was shattered with the same shot. Boss Ray was shot through the right breast, and physicians say both lungs and liver was punctured, and his condition critical.

The stories of the shooting are somewhat conflicting, but the one most heard here is that Sheriff Keller had Dr. Beeson drive him out to the Carlyle ranch to get one of the Carlyle boys, who was out on his honor in a pistol case but did not find him at home. In some way a difficulty arose between Keller and Ray, with the result that the sheriff was put out of commission by a shot from Ray; Ray was then shot by Dr. Beeson, and Ray then shot Beeson, this last exchange of shots, resulted in Beeson's death and Ray's disability to prolong the affray. We cannot vouch for this story of the shooting, but was the best we could do before going to press, and to get the true version, one will probably have to await the trial.

Carl Forkel and another gentleman passed through Wednesday afternoon with the body of Dr. Beeson, taking it to Lubbock to embalm, and will likely be shipped to Lovelady, for burial.

Dr. Treadaway and Sheriff Jim Lewis left here almost immediately for Plains after the shooting, and have not returned up to this, Thursday morning. Besides Dr. Treadaway, Dr. Clayton and Overton of Lubbock, are in attendance on the wounded.

There is more people traveling in and across Terry county this summer than we have ever seen here. And from the number of moving wagons going east we judge that the honey ponds west of here are not full this summer. Well, the sand-burs grew over the ponds in Terry, but if a person has enough energy to hoe out the burs there is plenty of roasting ears, beans sweet and Irish potatoes and big juicy peaches to make up for all Terry's deficiencies in other ways. Oh! yes, too, we forgot the apples and melons, and a big juicy watermelon is just about as near a honey pond as an ordinary mortal needs to get.

Use Bank Checks and Printed Letter Heads.

Let the Banker be your book-keeper. A canceled check is a good and a double receipt. The check and its stub are both silent, sure witnesses that you paid the bill if anyone disputes. The farmer ought to have a check book, and his name and address printed on the checks. That is the way the business man does it. The farmer must learn the art of being a business man.

Farmers are getting printed letter heads. They are adding their wife's name. They also add the name of the bank at which they do business. It's both dollars and sense. The best credential a farmer can have is the name of his bank printed on his letter heads.

Try it, Mr. Farmer. It costs little. It's worth a lot. The Agricultural Commission believes that it is the farmer's duty to be a business man in every sense of the word.—Ex.
