Just Peaches.

While the photo this engraving was made from is three years old, it speaks for itself, and we are glad to say that we will be able to give our readers a bunch of new pictures on Terry county fruit in a few weeks.

Several varieties of peaches do well here, and those the boys love so well grow the whole year round, but as we have given several discourses on that variety from time to time, we will confine ourselves to those you eat can and preserve in this article.

Of course we have our peach failure here the same as any where else, but we have a crop just about as often as in any other parts of Texas, and more often than in Missouri, and states further north, and there don't seem to be any variety but what is at home here, whether it be buded or seedling.

Those shown in this photograph, grew on the Brownfield ranch, six miles south of town, had an average weight of ten ounces, and one of them measured 13 inches in circumference, and are of the Elberta variety. These facts can be attested to by several reliable citizens in this county. While 10 12 inches in circumference is the largest we have seen or heard of this year, it must be remembered that the trees are unusually full this year, and we had an unusually light rainfall in July, the month when most moisture was needed, as July was a very hot month, compared to others.

Peach trees grow off well here,

"SEEING IS BELIEVING"

SOME TEN AND TWELVE OUNCE ELBERTA PEACHES

and begin bearing well the third year, and once well started, we have never seen a dead tree. There is one tree in the county that beats 30 inches in diameter at the butt, and has a spread of 40 feet, and there are hundreds of them that have reached an enormous size, considering the age of our orchards.

Now, don't get it into your head that peaches are the only fruit that do well here, for apples and grapes rarely ever fail; in fact the latter has never been known to fail.

In a few weeks, we are going to tell you how other fruits grow here and show photos of them.

Compare figures on rule in this picture to the size of the peaches.

The Peanut Assists.

Recent experiments with the peanut have led to discoveries which tend to show that we have been overlooking one of the best opportunities in agriculture in Texas. According to the Extension Service Bulletin E. S. 3 issued by the A and M College of Texas, the peanut produces abundantly in many sections of the state and is cultivated easily and at very little expense. But about the only market so far developed is the peanut stand man on the street corner, so our acreage has been low.

The School of Domestic Economy at the University of Texas has been experimenting with the peanut as an article of food. It has been found that by devious means of preparation many delightful and nutritive dishes for the table can be made from peanuts. Not only are these dishes pleasing to the taste, but they have a food value more than six times greater than beef steak, and three times greater than milk.

A book of recipes ranging all the way from peanut biscuits to peanut candy has been prepared by the School of Domestic Economy, which are distributed upon request free of charge. It is hoped that this will result in a greater variety for the table, cheaper food and an increased demand for an agricultural product that will aid materially in carrying out the proposed diversification program.

By Sand Bur

We were away last week visiting home folks in South Terry and of course missed sending in our news letter. We expected to have a substitute but she, not being accustomed to it, forgot to send the letter until too late for publication. As we only came home Saturday we are short of news this week.

A young Mr. Larson, who is working for Oscar Boyd near Meadow, visited in the Harris community last week.

T. W. Smith and wife accompanied by Ed McPhaul, went to Roswell, New Mexico, last week. We understand Mr. Smith and wife will not return here at all. We regret very much to lose this splendid couple.

Leslie Green brought fifteen head of fine heifer yearlings, which he recently purchased from Noah Bell, down last Sunday morning and put them in Brit Clare's pasture. We like to see a young man start out in life as Leslie is starting.

Mr. Brister, Mrs. J. M. McMillan's father, took seriously sick Saturday night and they carried him to Lubbock Sunday for medical treatment. We sincerely hope he will get better soon and return to finish his visit here.

F. M. Ellington and wife visited at G. W. Ellington's near Meadow last week.

Raymond Simms of Gomez visited at Harris the latter part of last week.

A large crowd attended the ice cream supper at W. H. Harris' Saturday night. All present spent a very pleasant evening.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer. For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

be built upon their own efforts. Granting that our children can all go to public or private schools for a certain number of years, till they are educated, what then? Does our present educational system prepare men and women for life real living? Most emphatically no. Our children must be educated toward life and not away from it. The things that they are taught in the schools must be correlated with daily life, have to do with the ways they will have to make their living. They must be taught the finer things of honor and integrity, and justice in dealing with their fellows. They must be taught the nobility of work and that all work alike is noble. There is no work that is menial or disgraceful so long as it is honorable and honest and well done.

I will cut the items short this week as I have written a piece on education.

EDUCATION.

Education, what is it? Something to learn; something all desire, is an education. Schooltime again, right here before you realize it. Make preparations for the children, for there is only ten years of teaching and learning for a child from seven to seventeen. But how precious the time of those years, or should be. What a vast lot of knowledge can be learned in those years. Statistics says there are in this country 5,500,000 men, women and children over ten years of age, who cannot read and write. One-fourth of the people of the United States today without education. It is high time that everyone should be interested in our school work. Not only should our children be taught in books, but should have practical education as well. They should be taught to be self-reliant, and must be taught to be beholden to no one but themselves, for their education must Agriculture should be taught and put into practice in all our public schools. A small plot of ground to demonstrate the work is all that is necessary. Just the school campus could be used that way, laid off in small plots for gardens and trees. Our boys could be taught how to prune and set trees, which would be useful to them all through life. They could get an inkling of Horticulture, before they are sent to high school.

It is the parents duty to see that the children go regular to school. Just one lesson lost is a great loss sometime. The way to get the children enthused about school is to be interested in school yourselves. Don't depend on the teacher to do most of the work. Help Johnny and Sallie with their lessons at night. At times this helps a lot, for they can understand readily from parents when per haps it is very difficult from the teacher.

Now lets all get interested in school work. Enough to help our children to get that education that they stand so much in need of. It must be disgraceful ignorance that is the cause of all the wars across the waters or at least in part. Here is hoping peace will forever reign in our fair land, the U. S. A. Lets educate.

PLAINS

By Carl Forkel

Since the last issue of the Herald another good rain has covered the county which practically places crops at a stage where more rain will not be needed.

This rain has caused our crop and fruit reports of last week to be too conservative, we suspect, but we will let it go at that. The superior quality of our fruit crop is being evidenced, each week more forcefully. Our county Treasurer, J. P. Long, had on exhibition this week some peaches grown in his back yard which weighed one half pound each, and measured 10 inches in circumference. George Cleveland was in town Saturday and was treating his friends to a basket of peaches grown on his ranch this season which for beauty, flavor and uniformity of size cannot be surpassed. Inquiry is disclosing that in many corn fields in this community 40 bushels per acre are in sight, so what's the use to worry.

Mrs. N. M. McGinty of Aspermont Texas, is visiting her son, Marion McGinty of this place, and contemplates remaining until winter. Grandma is 68 years of age but appears hale and hearty.

T. J. Rutledge, Geo. and I. H. Worley, father and son, and W. B. Bashum, all of Paducah, Cottle county, were pleasant visitors in Plains recently. They all speak in terms of praise of this part of the South Plains country, and Mr. Rutledge has already purchased a nice section near town which he is intending to improve by the next season.

D. T. Cates gave the writer a fine "ripe" melon Saturday in lieu of a similarly fine melon presented some days ago which had been pulled a week too soon. This is evidence that his word is as good as his bond, and the treat was very much appreciated.

A protracted meeting was begun last Friday at the Methodist church and will continue through out the week. The meeting is being conducted by Elder A. E. Armfield of Lamesa, assisted by the local pastor, Rev. H. L. Hughes of Brownfield. A special sermon on Lodges will be delivered on Wednesday night and all lodge men are especially invited to be present.

Services throughout the week will begin at 10:30 a. m., and 8:30 p. m., each day. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Quite a number of Yoakumites attended the three days' picnic and roping contests at Lovington N. M., on the 19th to 21st, and all report having enjoyed a good time.

Pete Beal, Plains' representative in the roping and branding contests, brought away the first prize offered which consisted of $100 in the coin of the realm. In this roping contest there were celebrities from all parts of the west, some of which had won World Championships, but they were met and vanquished by this native plainsman of the Texas side of the line.

Uncle Drew Woody who formerly lived here, and who for some time has been interested in some oil operations in the Louisiana field, has had the good fortune to bring in a well recently which is producing 1200 barrels per day.

E. G. and O. P. Martin of Crafton and Stamford Texas, are visiting their old friend, J. A. Rushing of Tokio, and are looking out a location in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Parker of Ft. Worth, Texas, are visiting Mrs. Parker's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. T. Gainer, this week. Also Mrs. Newkie Biggerstaff, wife of Clarence Biggerstaff, who preceded her to Plains some months ago, has been spending some time visiting her husband and the family of Judge Gainer.

Mrs. Biggerstaff has returned to Poetry, Texas, where she is engaged to teach in the public schools there for the term, after which she will join her husband in California where he goes soon to make his home.

Misses Nora Garner and Ruth Webber are at present conducting a large music class at Ranger Lake, N. M., whither they went upon the closing of their second term at this place for the summer.

Elmer Davis, who had the misfortune of dislocating his shoulder on account of the falling of his horse last week, was able to be in town one day this week.

At a short session of the county court last week, Judge Gainer being disqualified, Col.

Jas. W. Hoppes was elected and served as special judge in the deliberation of court proceedings.

H. M. Haskew, who has been in Hot Springs Ark., for his health for the past two months, has returned home so much improved in health that his friends are surprised as well as delighted at the progress he has made in these short two months on the high road to a restored health.

A Mr. Butler of Turkey, Tex., was here last week for the purpose of winding up the affairs of Dr. L. C. Beeson, deceased.

Percy Spencer of Lubbock was in attendance at the recent session of the county court here.

W. Moreman was right sick for a few days last week, having to come in from his ranch to his home here in town for treatment, but he is now no longer confined to his bed. Mrs. Moreman has also been suffering some inconvenience from tonsillitis this week.

Uncle Dave Benton, of Ralls, came in last Friday in his Ford after his daughter, Mrs. R. H. Banowsky, and the whole family left that night with him, as he was going to have a family reunion at their splendid country home near Ralls. They came in Monday afternoon, and report a grand time, with something like 50 children and grand-children present to help in the celebration and help eat the good things prepared. The reunion took place on Mrs. Benton's birthday.

Messrs. Plaster and Grant of Amarillo, were here last Saturday, introducing the new $100.00 Royal typewriter.

The Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce, is preparing a big blowout at the opening of their big Lake Trammell, on Sept., 7th and 8th, and we understand that many will go from here, as a chuck wagon picnic will furnish to food and drink (soft) to all the old free grass ranchmen. This editor has a pressing invitation to attend, and don't see hardly how he can miss it.

The Herald finished up a batch of 200 school announcements for the board this week, and turned them over to the trustees for distribution, and if you don't happen to get one, ask, write or phone. R. H. Banowsky, president of the board.

Roy and Fred Scudday came in this week from Sweetwater to visit their parents for a few days. Fred is running a barber shop in that city, and Roy will teach one of the Nolan county schools.

Gus Farrar paid relatives a short visit here this week before beginning his school at Maryneal, the home of his father.

J. M. Weaver and son, of Fort Wayne, Ind., were here last week, looking after their interests in the northwest portion of this county, that they have owned a number of years, this being the first time they had ever seen their holdings. They were very favorably impressed with this county and its people.

Dr. Treadaway carried Fred Lowe to Port City, Wed where the latter will undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Eva Anderson, of Floydada, Texas, came in this week with I. C. Surginer and wife, and is visiting her parents, J. R. and Mrs. Hill.

The Baptist people at Needmore closed a very successful meeting last Sunday night, with several converts.

J. W. Welch and son, Robert, came in last week from their present home near Snyder, and were looking after their property here. They carried home a big load of fruit.

What came near being a serious accident took place last Friday night when Dr. Treadaway, J. W. Welch and Mesdames L. McDaniel and J. R. Burnett were returning from preaching at Needmore, in the former's car. A big shower of rain had just fallen, and in coming down into the draw near the cemetery, the car skidded and turned half over. Mrs. McDaniel suffered a fracture of the collar bone; Dr. Treadaway had his right forearm badly wrenched and the little Burnett baby was bruised about the head. If the car had turned on over, the accident might have proved fatal to some one. Mrs. McDaniel is resting well.

You will note the Brownfield Merc. is talking to you about kitchen cabinets, of which they have a number of very handsome designs.

M. B. Sawyer and E. A. Graham went to Tahoka yesterday, on business.

Rev. Vinson of Waxahachie, who was holding a meeting at Needmore, came in to see us last Saturday. Bro. Vinson was profuse in his praise of Terry, and informed us that he was going back home and persuade some of those good renters to come out here and buy them a home and not listen at their landlord's wild stories of starvation in the west. Such missionaries as he is the kind we need.

A big crowd of hungry Brownfield people went to Needmore, Sunday, and got their faces fed.

Mr. and Mrs. Mourry Lewis have asked us to thank the good people for them, through the Herald for the liberal way they donated useful household articles at their shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randa.

S. H. Key was over this week on business.

Several farmers and business men were out at the Fair meeting last Saturday, and what they lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, and it is hoped that a much larger crowd will be on hand at the next meeting, on Saturday, the 4th of Sept.

We have been requested to thank the people of Terry county through the Herald for Mrs. E. T. Stapp and children for their help and sympathy, during the recent illness and death of their beloved husband and father, and to say they appreciate the kindness beyond anything they are able to express in words

A. V. Taylor passed through last week with his last load of lumber for his improvements in the west side of the county.

THE VITAL PROBLEM OF AGRICULTURE

By Peter Radford.
There is no escaping the market problem and the highest development of agriculture will not be attained until it is solved, for a market is as necessary for the producer as land on which to grow his crop. Governmental and educational institutions have spent $180,000,000 in the United States during the past ten years for improving soil production and improving seeds and plants, but very little attention and less money has been given to the marketing side of agriculture.

The problem is a monumental one and one which will never be solved until it gets within the grasp of a gigantic organization where master minds can concentrate the combined experience and wisdom of the age upon it. It is a problem which the farmers, merchants, bankers, editors and statesmen must unite in solving.

The Farmers' Union stands for all there is in farming from the most scientific methods of seed selection to the most systematic and profitable plans of marketing, but does not believe in promoting one to the neglect of the other. We consider the work of farm demonstrators valuable and we ask that governmental and commercial agencies seeking to help us, continue to give us their assistance and advice, but we believe that their influence should be extended to the marketing side of our farm problems also.

We cannot hope to develop manufacturing by over-production of the factory; we cannot build up mercantile enterprises by the merchants loading their shelves with surplus goods and no more can we develop agriculture by glutting the market with a surplus of products.

Result; they don't seem to know how much is enough, or else they enjoy the fun of canning.

Panhandle State Fair to be held at Amarillo Texas, Sept. 21 to 25th. They have issued a splendid catalogue, and are offering several thousand dollars in premiums, in this catalogue of 100 pages. We believe that if the Terry County people send an exhibit anywhere, that it ought to be to this fair, for the people that come to it will be those who are interested in the Panhandle and Plains, while those who go to the Dallas Fair are only interested in Texas as a whole, and Texas is a great big old state.

Showers just keep falling enough to keep truck booming, and the atmosphere cool enough to make the plains like one long summer resort, without the high cost of travel and the hotel robbery.

R. R. Lewis, one of our old Confederate friends from the "show me" state, made us happy by a dollar contribution to the missionary box, this week.
