Chamber of Commerce

Last Thursday night the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce was formally born and put in the care of some dozen leading men of the town to look after, and through it, will work for the upbuilding of Brownfield and Terry county. W. L. Barclay was made president, B. Tidwell Sec., and W. A. Bell Treas. R. H. Banowsky, M. V. Brownfield, Dr. M. C. Bell, W. F. St. John and Will Adams were elected trustees.

After the constitution and by laws were adopted, the meeting was adjourned to meet Monday night of this week.

At the above meeting, the members got busy with business matters, and among other things, a committee was appointed to solicit members all over the county, and gather some good exhibits, to be used in connection with the best that are brought to the local fair, to be sent to the Abilene and Dallas Fairs.

The meeting was then adjourned to meet on the regular meeting night, which is the first Tuesday in each month, and at the next meeting, Mr. St. John will give us a good talk on building up the town and county. The Secretary reports a total of 42 members to date.

Surveyors are busy this week laying off the pasture just north of town, belonging to M. V. Brownfield, into town lots, and an addition will be opened up there in the near future.

W. F. Lange, of Post City, President of the Fall Exhibit Days at Post City, which will be held Oct. 11 and 12th, was here Monday. He stated that their fall exhibit would be opened the first day with a big decorated parade and a good time promised all who would attend.

About The Fair

As stated elsewhere in this issue, the Fair Association and the Farmers Institute met jointly last Saturday in the District Court room to transact business, and to make final arrangements for the coming fair. Concerning the Farmers Institute, the business men of Brownfield have asked us to boost it to you fare you well, and we are agreed with them that this is a fine thing for Terry county, and not only every farmer and ranchman in the county should belong to it, but every business and professional man as well, for out of the prosperity and happiness of the tillers of the soil, comes the prosperity and happiness of every other occupation on earth, and every time they advance a step, and get a better price for their products, we will all advance that much. Everytime they through their influence build a better school house or church, our whole social system advances that much. So let the Fair Association, the Chamber of Commerce, and every individual, as well as the Herald boost the Farmers Institute.

As to the coming Fair, the committee on arrangement wish to state that Mr. Judd, the movie man, has kindly consented to let us use the Queen Theatre for the fair, for which we are very thankful, as his building is 24x80 feet, and can easily be arranged for the exhibits. Exhibitors will therefore bring all exhibits to this building on the south side of the square.

There was more than sixty dollars raised last Saturday for premiums, and very likely by the time the fair comes off, more than one hundred dollars will have been raised for this purpose, making this the best fair from a financial standpoint that has ever

Mr. Johnson Says

"This morning I was in Bill's store when a stranger came in and asked him to cash a check for $1.00, but he refused— said that he did not know the man.

"A few minutes later another stranger came in and offered to send him a farm paper and give him a fountain pen for nothing, if he would pay the postage on the paper, which this agent said would be $1.00. Bill bit.

Why wasent it just as safe to cash a check as it was to buy promises? If I'd been Bill, I would have told that fellow to see the sheriff, a deputy or, the constable and get a note from him saying that his credentials were O. K. and I would have phoned some officer to look this fellow up and see if he was all right even if I had wanted to buy from him.

"But I know half a dozen people in this county who buy goods of Bill, and take subscriptions for first class farm papers and magazines, and who can always be found in case the paper dosen't show up, and it beats me why Bill should give his money to some body he never saw before and will never see again, instead of giving it to home folks who spend their money here.

On top of the fact, that you will get to see lots of good stock and poultry, and see what old Terry will do in the dryest year in its history, you will get one of those old Terry county dinners that have justly made the county famous. Every citizen in the county will bring a well filled basket on that date, and visitors from out the county need not fear that they will have to pay for their dinner.

Come one, come all.

The right-of-way committee is busy this week taking deeds, and think they will be ready in a few weeks to turn everything over to the company so they can start graders. They report that there are several that have not come through with their donations, and this is delaying more than anything else, their getting ready for grading to start. People, you must realize that there are several damages to be assessed, and that it takes money to pay them, and for every day that you hold up this committee on adjustment, just that long you keep the railroad out of Brownfield.

Thousands of wagon loads of citrons are now ripening in the golden sun of Terry county, and farmers are bringing wagon loads of them to town and selling for cow and hog feed, and it is said that they will make a cow give milk like green grass, only richer. If all this valuable feed was in some countries, every one of them would be stored for winter feed, but in abundant Terry, literally trainloads of them will rot where they grew. If they grew in New England, or most any of the northern States, like they do here, there would be a factory erected every few miles to turn them into eatable stuff, and sugared down for people to make their fruit cakes. In our fertile sand land, they need no cultivation and in fact, they are almost considered a pest, as they come up every year of themselves, and when the sand storms begin sweeping everything before them in March and April, and the hardy citron vines close their eyes, and as were, tell the wind and sand to do their worst, but when summer comes, and the storms are gone, there are car loads of them all over the fields.

Milton Jones Given Life Sentence

At the convening of District Court Monday morning the Milton Jones case was the first called. Contary to the public expectation a jury was selected by Monday night and the case opened Tuesday morning. Jones pled guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Judge Spencer delivered the charge to the jury and it retired. There was much speculation among the people as to what the verdict would be—whether life sentence or death. The deliberations of the jury show that on the first ballot there were five for death and seven for life imprisonment. On further balloting the sentiment finally changed to nine for death and three for a life term. At this juncture a deadlock was reached, and the jury being assured that the family of Miss Noble would be satisfied with a verdict of life imprisonment returned such a verdict about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The prisoner maintained a composed appearance during the whole time of court proceeding, and he showed to be in a normal condition mentally and physically. For the benefit of the new readers who may not be familiar with crime that Jones plead guilty to, we would say that on the 10th of May this year, he went to the Plainview school house at the close of school where Miss Noble was engaged as assistant teacher and in an upper room after all had gone and the two were alone, he shot the girl dead and wounded himself with a shot through the breast. For some time it was thought he would never recover but after being kept in the sanitarium here for a while and for a short time at Big Springs he was transferred to the Lubbock jail, staying there until his trial this court. After his conviction last Tuesday he was taken back to the Lubbock jail and will remain there until transferred to the penitentiary.

Thus ended one of the most tripartite deeds ever enacted in Dawson county. To contemplate it makes the heart blood run cold to think that the human mind can become so depraved as to shed innocent blood—much less that of a pure young woman. But the curtain is now down and may it never be raised upon another such scene.—Dawson County News.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

The Santa Fe railroad surveyors are here again this week, trying to straighten out some kinks in the town section. They say the town is not layed off stright with the world, and they will have everything to a gnat bristle. The head man says they will have every thing ship shape in a few days, when they get through surveying the streets.

Jessie Black and two neighbors passed through here last week, on their way to the railroad after supplies.

In conversation with M. A. Smith this week, he said he was highly elated with his coming to Brownfield, and was already enjoying a better business than he anticipated. He is also tickled with the society here, and with our splendid school, and that the longer he stayed here, the better he likes. He believes in the judicious use of printers ink.

MARKING SYSTEM FOR SHEEP

Convenient Method of Apprehending Ewes Which Have Neglected or Abandoned Lambs.

The farmer who has had trouble on account of ewes failing to give proper attention to lambs, thus losing track of them altogether, will find that a system of marks with paint will enable the ewes and lambs to be got together again at any subsequent day in case the lamb be abandoned. Simply give both ewe and lambs a touch of paint on the same part of the body, each ewe and her lamb being marked at a different point, says a writer in an exchange. We have marked as many as a hundred in this way and have often had occasion to use the system afterwards in apprehending careless ewes.

COSTS $100 TO KEEP HORSE

Estimate Given by Farm Management Department of the Nebraska College of Agriculture

The cost of keeping a horse on the farm for a year in eastern Nebraska is upward of $100, according to the farm management department of the college of agriculture. It cost $60 for feed, $7.50 for interest at 5 per cent on a valuation of $150 for the horse, $15 for 10 per cent depreciation on the horse, $12 for 75 hours care at 16 cents an hour, $7.50 for shelter and enough more for expenses to make it total over $100. In western Nebraska, on account of the lower cost of feed, the cost of keeping a horse is estimated to be somewhat less.

DOWNY WOODPECKER

Dryobates pubescens

Length, six inches. Our smallest woodpecker; spotted with black and white. Dark bars on the outer tail feathers distinguish it from the similarly colored but larger hairy woodpecker.

Range: Resident in the United States and the forested parts of Canada and Alaska.

Habits and economic status: This woodpecker is commonly distributed, living in woodland tracts, orchards, and gardens. The bird has several characteristic notes, and, like the hairy woodpecker, is fond of beating on a dry resonant tree branch a tattoo which to appreciative ears has the quality of woodland music. In a hole excavated in a dead branch the downy woodpecker lays four to six eggs. This and the hairy woodpecker are among our most valuable allies, their food consisting of some of the worst foes of orchard and woodland, which the woodpeckers are especially equipped to dig out of dead and living wood. In the examination of 723 stomachs of this bird, animal food, mostly insects, was found to constitute 76 per cent of the diet and vegetable matter 24 per cent. The animal food consists largely of beetles that bore into timber or burrow under the bark. Caterpillars amount to 16 per cent of the food and include many especially harmful species. Grasshopper eggs are freely eaten. The vegetable food of the downy woodpecker consists of small fruit and seeds, mostly of wild species. It distributes seeds of poison ivy, or poison oak, which is about the only fault of this very useful bird.

News From Plains

One of the most severe electrical storms ever seen in this country visited Plains last Thursday afternoon. No great damage was done but several hairbreadth escapes are reported. A bolt of lightning struck a tree in the court yard, splitting it all to pieces. The shock knocked a horse from beneath Thelma Kinciad, who escaped without injury. The same shock knocked down Ruth Boyd and Clara Durnan, who were about 100 yards north of the northwest corner of court house yard dazing, but not injuring them. The same afternoon a severe hail storm fell north of town about two miles. The area devastated was about a mile wide and about two or three miles in extent. Mr McGinity's and Judge Moreland crops were almost entirely ruined and grass was badly damaged. A roar like a cyclone could be heard at town for half hour or more and the lower edge of the hail was plainly visible. A slight hail fell at town and surrounding country.

A representative of the Kemp Lumber Co., came in this week and bought six business lots from Boyce Cardwell, just west of the bank. They report that they will begin building sheds and stocking with lumber in the near future. This company has yards all over west Texas and New Mexico, and this will make five companies that have already decided to locate yards in Brownfield.

A new real estate firm has been opened up in Brownfield, by the name of the South Plains Land Co., with Jno. King of this city and A. L. Harris, of Lubbock organizers and are having an office built just north of the Goree store. These are hustling young men and believe in boosting their country to the fullest extent, and first of all, believe in patronizing the home man, as is evidenced by a big lot of job work they had turned out at the Herald office. We predict a good business for this firm. Lumber is on the ground for their office.

Reports reach us from a Lubbock sanitarium, are to the effect that Easton Wolfarth Jr, is very low with typhoid fever.
