Soldier Boys' Entertainment

As announced in last week's paper, it come off on schedule time, with probably two hundred people present, and a good time for all.

Early Tuesday morning, every thing was in a hustle at the suburban home of Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Williams, with the assistance of some of the neighbors' to get things in readiness. Here is where the neighbors fell down on Bro. Williams. Everyone expected the other fellow to go and help seine fish, and as a consequence, one young man, Homer Winston, responded, and there was about a third enough fish. There was an abundance of every thing else including fish, but they were in the tank.

After supper—we mean the old seven p. m. kind, Luncheon and six p. m. dinners were started by foreigners, probably Germans, and make us tired—a good program was opened in the front yard, headed with soul stirring "America" and including hat sailing and Rebel yelling Dixie.

Spur of the moment addresses were made by Revs. J. B. Vinson, and M. D. Williams, both of whom are furnishing sons, and who will go themselves if their country needs them; also, Judge W. W. Price, R. H. Banowsky, Jno. S. Powell and Homer Winstons, the latter of whom will be called to the colors the 18th. The latter said he had never been noted as a "scrapper" but the Kaiser had to have a licking, and he was the one to help do it. He said a whole mouth full. Homer is one of the quietest and best natured boys that ever graduated from our high school, but you watch his record on the field of battle, if he gets there, as well as the brawny son of every other Terry county mother.

Some people want us to wait till Germany comes over here. Yes, just like they did in France and Belgium, to ravish our mothers, daughters and sisters, hang and starve the old people, shell our hospitals and burn our homes and make us pay a war indemnity to the cruel, bloodthirsty Hohenzollerns that will keep us ground down under a yoke of bondage for years to come. Oh! let's wait till we are attacked, says Apronstring Pacifist. Attacked? Well, most folks calls spitting in ones face being attacked, but there is a yellow streaks, soft marrow variety who have to have the spit rubbed in with a mailed fist.

Uncle Sam has stood enough insults, as any literate man or woman knows, and instead of Germany dictating the peace terms and the amount of indemnity, our brave young manhood and our nation's wealth have pooled their interests to see that Uncle Sam dictates terms, sets price and that on German soil.

He or she who hinders our nation in this war by word or deed, will have about the same statute in society and politics when our brave, victorious lads come marching home, as the tory, north or south, did after the Civil War. Yes sir, our German war vetrans will control our country's destenies after this affair, and the Stars and Stripes will be in safe hands.

Six of the fifteen boys to leave next Tuesday, were lined up, and the congregation sang "In the Sweet By and Bye," and then came a course of cream and cake, of which there was an abundance for every body.

Died

Mrs. Hallie Stephens, wife of J. Will Stephens, of Yoakum, county, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Miller, of this city, died at 7 a. m. Sunday, at the residence of the latter, of typhoid fever. Deceased was about twenty years of age, and had only been married a few months. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Funeral services were conducting at the family residence at 4 p. m. and at the grave at 5 p. m., by Rev. J. B. Vinson.

Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Married

William Peters slipped off to Central Texas, some time ago, and has been keeping his whereabouts pretty secret, but he got in Monday, and with him came Mrs. Peters, one of the beauties of that part of the State, and will make her home in Brownfield. We are unable to learn Mrs. Peters' maiden name, when they married or where her home was, at this writing, but the Herald joins their many friends in hearty congratulations, and welcome her to our little city.

ANNOUNCEMENT. Mrs. J. P. Rhodes will begin a music class after Sept. 1st., near the High School building. Those interested will please see her before the opening of the school term.

Everybody had a good time, and the Herald uses the proxy of all present in voting Rev. and Mrs. Williams together with their son, Earle, thanks for this intertainment.

Editor and Preacher Visit Seminole

For some time Rev. J. M. Fryar, local pastor of the Methodist church, and the writer have been planning a trip to Seagraves and Seminole, and the editor made his old job press hum all day Saturday in order to be able to get of Monday.

We left here in the Fryar jitney at one p. m., and landed in Seagraves at about 3 o'clock with no other mishap than hubbing another jitney, for which we blamed them and they blamed us—after we parted—and each still contends they gave half the road, and that the other fellow will give half the road next time, and that the other fellow got the worst of it.

Seagraves is on a beautiful hard section of land, is well layed out, with well graded streets, has several building completed, among which is a bank and a wholesale grocery warehouse. They are surrounded by a good farming country and are destined to make and always be a good town, as in a few more weeks it will be the terminal of the Santa Fe branch that passes through Brownfield. There is yet considerable work to be done on Sulphur draw fill, down to which steel has been layed. School apened there Monday morning with about 25 pupils, and Miss Wee Belle Hargett, a former Brownfield girl as teacher.

There is very little farming done from there on to Seminole, and despite the dry weather, the country is full of cattle, which are in good shape.

Seminole is a beautiful little town, with real cityfied stores, well kept modern homes, the best school building we ever saw in an inland town, a neat court house and a big heated set of western citizens, not to say anything about a jim-dandy newspaper, edited, published and deviled by Harry N. Stone.

Here we met several former Brownfieldites, such a Dr. M. C. Bell, L. D. Levy and Rev. J. B. McReynolds; also, L. L. Cobb cashier of the Seminole bank, and Floyd Stark, a merchant, both of whom stole one of our town girls, while A. B. Bynum had his back turned.

Although as large as Brownfield a year ago, it has not kept the pace lately, although getting a railroad the same as we. The Midland & Northwestern is graded into town, and steel is layed within 16 miles of town. We forgot to mention that they have real electric lights.

We spent the night at the very hospitable home of Rev. and Mrs. Cole, and suppose we were expected to set up and look dignified while these two preachers told yarns on one another during college days at Georgetown—but we didn't—we laughed nearly as they. If you ever go to Seminole, be sure you see Bro. and sister Cole, and spend the night with them—if they'll let you.

Leaving Seminole at 10:30, we landed in Seagraves at noon, ate a good hearty dinner, and arrived in Brownfield at 3 p. m., finding pretty good roads all the way, but the worst ones about three miles south of Gomez. Let Terry do some road work.

Uncle Horace Adams put lumber on the ground Monday for a neat little five room cottage just east of his son, Will's, residence on the same block.

FIND NEW AMERICAN WONDER

Explorers in Rocky Mountains Discover What They Believe Is Biggest Glacier in Whole System.

We had reached a point of vantage whence we could overlook the whole of the unexplored region of the Rockies from Laurier pass on the south to the Liard region on the north. No great secret could be concealed from us, Paul L. Howarth writes in Scribner's.

What did we see?
A glance showed us that there was no heaven-kissing peak "taller than Mount Robson."

But there were several magnificent mountains higher than any along the Finley. Much of the finest of all these lay far to the northeastward. It was a vast affair with three great summits, two of them peaks, the third and tallest an immense square block.

This mountain was big enough to have aroused our enthusiasm, and yet we gave comparatively scant heed to it.

For down the south slope of it, filling a great valley miles and miles wide, there flowed a perfectly immense, glistening glacier.

"That is what makes the Quadacha white," Joe conceded.

There could be no doubt about it. For a long time I had realized that it would require a good-sized rock mill to grind up enough silt to color such a big stream as the Quadacha, but here was a mill big enough for the job.

We were at least forty miles from it, for we were now fully twenty miles west of the forks, and from the forks to the glacier must be at least twenty more. We were eighty as one must travel in that region. Yet there that great white mass loomed up far and away the most notable phenomenon in that whole magnificent panorama. It is the biggest thing in the whole Finley country. I venture to predict that when the glacier has been more closely examined it will be found to be one of the biggest, if not the very biggest, in the whole Rocky Mountain system.

Meaning of "America."

What does the word "America" mean? Few know. It is derived from the word Amabric, a proper name which represented the old Germanic ideal of heroism and leadership. Then the Norman French softened it to Amaury. Then in Italy they changed it to Amerigo. But the juxtaposition of the "l" and the "r" bothered the Italians, and it became Amerigo, and finally with one "r." Thus it became the name of Amerigo Vespucci, a Florentine merchant and explorer. And it is in honor of his voyages of exploration to the new world that a German geographer, Martin Waldseemuller by name, gave the name America to the continent.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Earth Still Growing.

In the early days of its history the earth grew rapidly by the addition of meteoric matter. It is still growing in the same manner, though scarcely to an appreciable extent, for the mass of meteoric matter added yearly is reckoned to be only 20,000 tons. In the course of ages the larger planets have swept up practically all the fragments of the original disruption, and the only available source of supply of meteoric matter seems to be that brought by comets.

Survival of Old Memory.

The ideas of divine warning, of divine vengeance, and of a recreation of at least the face of the earth, in connection with a universal destruction by water, recur so often and in such widely separate parts of the world, that many have thought the only explanation must lie in the survival of a common memory of primeval mankind, based upon a tragedy which overtook the human race when it was still united and confined to some limited locality.—Garrett P. Serviss.

Ostrich Ways.

It is no uncommon thing to see a male ostrich strutting about followed by three or four distinct broods, all of different sizes. When the incubating process is completed the cock bird leads his young ones off and, if he meets another proud papa, engages in a terrific combat with him. The vanquished bird retires without a single chick, while the other, surrounded by the two broods, walks away triumphantly.

Insects Greatest Jumpers.

The beings that can leap the greatest distance in proportion with their sizes are insects—the flea and grasshopper. The former can hop over an obstacle 500 times its height, which is the same as if a man could hop over a mountain 3,000 feet high. A grasshopper can jump 200 times its length. How tall are you? Four feet? Well, if you were a grasshopper you could leap 800 feet.

Teacher's Joys and Tribulations.

A teacher of English tells in the New Republic of his tribulations, one of them being that among the 30,000,000 words he has passed upon in students' papers, "athletics" has appeared 100,000 times! On the other hand, one of his pleasant memories is that of "a delightful lass who defined esthetic as 'something to kill cats with,' and illustrated her definition by the sentence, 'We gave the cat an esthetic.'"

The Husky.

Husky is the name by which English settlers along the Labrador coast long knew the Eskimos who live there or spend the greater part of the year there fishing and catching seal. The name has been transferred from man to the dog and today it is the common name for the wolflike dog of both the white and the red men of the far Northland.

Draws Zinc From Metals.

A Belgian engineer has invented a new electric process for the extraction of zinc. Raw materials to the extent of about ten thousand tons have been secured to start the new zinc works at Brammen, Norway, and ores containing from 8 to 30 per cent zinc, hitherto considered worthless, will be given special attention.

Moral Courage.

"Moral courage is more worth having than physical courage, not only because it is a higher virtue, but because the demand for it is more constant. Physical courage is most of the time in the lumber room. Moral courage is needed day by day."—George Buxton.

The Old Door Plate.

The invention of modern apartments is said to have sounded the knell of the old-fashioned door plates, but in the old times in America no man of any importance had his door undecorated by a plate upon which his name was engraved for all to see.

Useful Kerosene.

A disinfectant ready at hand and cheap is plain kerosene. As a germ killer for kitchen drains, sick room floors, as a gargle diluted with water, as a quick destroyer of bacteria on a raw cut, kerosene is ever useful.

Art of Letter Writing.

The art of letter writing is well defined by James Howell, who held that a true familiar letter is the art of expressing one's mind as if he were discoursing of the person to whom he writes in succinct and strict terms.

JOB WORK

Brownfield School Opens.

Owing to a death in the vicinity, and the fact that one of the teachers had not arrived, the Public School did not open on Monday as usual. Tuesday morning, bright and early, school children were seen with books under their arms, making their way towards the schoolhouse. Patrons, visitors, trustees, and pupils assembled in the Auditorium, a delightful program was carried out in full. After the singing of the patriotic song "America", Rev. J. B. Vinson opened the exercises with a prayer. Following, excellent addresses were made by different members of the Board of Trustees. Those speaking were Messrs. Chas. Triplett, Geo. W. Neill, M. A. Smith, Judge W. W. Price, and Mr. Halley, respectively.

Each speaker stressed the possibilities of the school, and each felt that the term of 1917-18 would be the most successful in the school's history: The only drawback is insufficient room, but the brick schoolhouse will come in due time.

The introduction of teachers followed, viz. Mr. J. P. Rhodes, who will be the Supt., Mr. Chas. S. Lofton, who will teach Spanish in addition with the regular courses, Misses Mary Lou, and Hennie Meriwether, Miss Howell and Mrs. Maree Miller. The Supt. remarked that it was the most favorable opening he ever had.

Terry County will have an exhibition at the Texas State Fair this fall. The movement was inaugurated by W. L. Barclay and J. E. Shelton. Our citizens and business men have given unqualified endorsement to the movement. All farmers of the country are requested to save samples of all kinds of crops including fruits and vegetables. Either bring them in or instruct where they may be found, as everything should be ready for shipment by Oct. 5th.

A Great Fair

That the Panhandle State Fair is to be held at Amarillo, Oct. 8th to the 13th, will be much better than ever before, is now an established fact. There will be upwards of $18,000 in premiums and purses to be contested for. There is $10,000 in cattle division alone, $6,500 of which is offered in the Hereford classes. Already enough entries have been announced to make the coming exhibition in the class with the Chicago Fat show and the Royal at Kansas City, and it will be better than the Denver and Ft. Worth shows. If the people of the Southwest can be brought to realize this fact as many as 75,000 people should pass in at the gates at the fair to see this feature alone. But this is only one of the main attractions. One of the best agricultural displays ever shown is already promised all over the Panhandle section. Never in the history of the fair has the amusement end received so much attention as is being given it this year. Secretary J. L. Van Natta informs us that there more than fifty horses already entered in the harness races and he expects to see the number increase to eighty before the closing of entries. There is $4,000 in purses hung up for the races. Then Mr. Van Natta has secured several clean amusement features which will make "something doing" every minute. Among these latter, Mile La Bella and Dare Devil Hurly appear twice in their great automobile cloud swing, which has to be seen to be appreciated. Bell and Eva, do acrobatic and clown stunts, that are right up-to-now; Grace Ayer said to be the premier roller skater of the world puts on two exhibitions every day. These are all free entertainments for those who attend the fair. Other free attractions are being sought. If the people of the Southwest will take hold of this great fair as they should we will soon have as great an exhibition right here at home as the State Fair at Dallas. Get busy, tell your friends about it, and make arrangements to be there with the whole family!

Abstracts of Title Are a Necessity Today

Not so very long ago very few people thought it necessary to possess an ABSTRACT OF TITLES to lands. This probably was on account of land not being so valuable, and it was thought unnecessary to have more than a Warranty Deed from the vendor. But today almost every tract or parcel of land in Terry County is worth double its value eighteen months ago, for people are realizing more and more every day that we have the best County on the Plains to produce yearly crops with or without rains. You should know that your Chain Of Titles to your land is perfect, for your land is worth a bunch of money today. "A chain is no stronger than the weakest link in it." Probably your title has a flaw in it that could be easily cleared up now, and if so, now is the time to look into the matter; Later on it may be too late. If you were to die tomorrow do you know that your children would inherit a good title to your possession? Let us prepare an ABSTRACT OF TITLE for you that you may look into your title and ascertain whether it is ABSOLUTELY O. K.

Major Littlefield Visiting Here.

Major George Littlefield, of Austin, is here this week looking after his large land and cattle interests; he and Phelps White, of the Yellow House ranch were the founders of the great L. F. D. ranch interests on the Plains; he is one of the regents of the State University, a courtly gentleman, democratic in politics and democratic in his associations with his fellow man. Major Littlefield is taking no part in the controversy at Austin and is only interested in the development and strengthening of all our educational institutions.—Littlefield News.

Magazines For The Army

When you have finished your magazine just put a one cent stamp on it "For the Army" on the cover with a pencil, and drop it in the mail box. Don't wrap it. The post office department will forward it to the point where it will be most needed.

The newspapers of the west are almost unanimous in a clamor for a division of Texas. A dozen years ago the writer suggested that Texas should be divided in four parts, and set forth our reasons, not one of which was political. Newspapers from one end of the state to the other roasted us like $700. We are still of the opinion that the state is too big and unwieldy as a unit. However we want the western suburbs of Abilene to be the state line, as that town might hang a handsome reward on a plum bush for the capitol. An agricultural college and a state capitol is too much for that city.—Abernathy Breeze.

Soon after taking charge of the Herald, we began an agitation of this question, but at that time it seemed so unpopular with both press and public, that we shut up, knowing that, time would some day bring up the question of division, when the people of West Texas get tired of being the second fiddler for Cinderella. We even went so far as to agitate a debate of the question between some school boys, and this editor don't deny coaching the boys who affirmed that Texas should be divided and they won too, despite all the sentimentality that could be infused in the negative side. Now that the subject is becoming real popular with the press and public, we believe that the subject should be kept up, till like the saloons, West Texas, can get rid of the boss end of the State.

V. Brownfield and the Merc. will put in one between the Merc. and the Tidwell Furniture store, Mr. Tidwell will try to get the owner to build one in front of his store, and efforts will be put forth to get the owners to build one in front to the old printing office on the corner, and then Brownfield can boast of having a solid block of concrete walks.

Mr. and Mrs. Uyles Sawyer's baby is not doing so well again, and it was carried back to Post City this week to a Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Graves, of Roswell, are here visiting their son, Robt. L. and family, and looking after his ranch interests.

J. E. Moore, who sold out to Aut. Graham some time ago, is loading out his stuff this week for his old home in Anderson Co. Mr. Moore says he likes the west fine, but the altitudes is too high for his wife.

D. M. Thomas left this week for Plainview, where he has accepted a lucrative position. Herald will keep him posted on the doings in Brownfield.

Dr. L. A. Linsey believes in advertising alright, even if the ethics of profession does keep him from carrying anything more than a card in the Herald. In the first place he don't "send off" after his stationery, he came in last Saturday, subscribed for the Herald for himself and six of his friends in Central Texas, and announced that he might think of some more latter. Come to Terry.

There was a little mistake in the watch ad we have been running that was lost. The slide in the chain was gold with a pearl set. If anyone knows of this watch please bring it to the Herald office, and get your $5.00 and no questions asked.

The foundation is being excavated for the McBurnett Brick Garage, just east of the square, this week. This garage is to be 50X140, with concrete floor and metal ceiling, making it well near fire proof, or as near fireproof as they can be made.

W. A. Swink says the Herald is the best advertising medium he ever saw. He put an ad in for the owner to call for their hogs he had up for several weeks and before the ad came out, the man called for his hogs. Mr. Swink thinks the Herald has some suggestive power as result getter, and was quite willing to pay for the ad.

Discovered

There are a good many dull days in the office of the small-town newspaper. Even when the city has 40,000 complacent souls and is picturesquely mounted on the Mississippi—which Opie Reed characterizes as the river of romance and folly—there are times so dull that the bell of the scissors grinder would be hailed with joy.

For a long season I was sentenced to the daily task of getting out the Herald in Quincy. Of course I didn't get out the whole paper, but I thought I did, or at least felt responsible for it, and when neither the telegraph nor the local end was able to pan out any gold I began to worry about my growing flock of readers.

When things looked pretty stale we would often turn hopefully to the road river which flows irresistibly past our gates. It was always good for a fish story and at flood seasons it furnished thrills. But fish tales wane in interest, and flood time is so short, so there were long periods when one had to be a pretty good skirmisher to dig anything out of the stream.

One summer we had more than a week of intolerable dullness. It seemed that nothing could possibly happen. Every grass widow in town was on her good behavior and even the dogs were licking noses instead of scraping. Our little force would meet mornings to discuss possibilities and every man could feel in his bones that the day was a dead one. So one morning when the situation was becoming serious from the standpoint of a newspaper man I announced that I was going down to the river in person and by the immortal gods I would bring something back that would make the town talk for a week. My partner wished me well, but shook his head doubtfully and suggested that I take a couple of shots of cocaine before starting. But I waved him aside and started bravely forth.

I came back with the long-lost casket containing the remains of Hernando de Soto, companion of Pizarro and discoverer of the Mississippi river!

That was some find.

Most folk along the stream were familiar with the romance and legend surrounding the De Soto expedition, and the tragedy and mystery of his passing and the disposition of his body—how at midnight his corpse was consigned to the river he had found lest the Indians should doubt his claim to supernatural power and massacre the remnants of the expedition. The spot was not even known nor was any record kept in a general way.

Yet here we were, four and a half centuries later, blithely discovering the bony remnants of the discoverer!

The river at that time was lower than it had been for years, and this furnished the excuse for the find. Capt. Jack Arntzen, who was in command of the ferry plying to the Missouri side, was a good old scout, and said he would swear to and substantiate anything I said, even if he had to go to the electric chair for it.

There was hardly a passenger on the ferry that morning and every now and then the craft would kiss a sand-bar, hang for a moment, and then the venerable engine would shake her free. About midstream the captain and I put on rubber boots and got out on a hump-backed bar that impeded the channel. We dug out a couple of lengths of stovepipe half-filled with sand and bore them carefully and tenderly back to the Illinois side, where we locked them up into a waste room in the basement of the waterworks plant. So much of the proceedings were observed with idle interest by a few persons lounging at the ferry landing.

Then came the story.

We told it in the paper that evening with an abundance of detail. The captain of the ferry was given full credit for the find. He had noted the curious object on a previous trip and had resolved to investigate. Then he had made the discovery and had realized its importance. He had stood with bared head on the lonely bar as he had uncovered the rude casket of the great explorer. There could be no mistake—On a metallic plate could still be traced the legend, "Hernando de Soto, 1542." With the assistance of a man from the boilerworks he had opened the casket and there found the somewhat disintegrated bones of the explorer. Also within was found a Spanish doubloon of the reign of Carlos the Magnificent, a metal gauntlet and a button resembling a Grand Army emblem.

The story was told with a careless wealth of words and there were pictures of the captain and his ferryboat to back it up.

That did for the first day.

When the paper came out the large majority of readers considered it a merry jest, but there also were many others who took it seriously. That made room for an argument—something to talk about. And they had it. All day at the waterworks there was a straggling procession of curious people who would rather shame-facedly ask if they might view the remains. One man came from a hundred miles

Nursing Sickly Plants.

Sickly plants, like sickly people, cannot stand extremes. Sickly pot plants may often be more quickly brought back to health by watering with very warm water only. Low vitality will not be raised through the use of chilly water or less than 110 degrees of temperature.

Secret of True Industry.

"How profitable is it for every one of us to be reminded, as we are reminded when we make ourselves aware of the derivation of diligence from 'dilligo,' to love, that the only secret of true industry is love of that work."—R. C. Trench.

It Sounds Reasonable.

"What is a furrier, Willard?" asked the teacher of a pupil in the juvenile class. "A man who deals in furs," answered Willard. "That's right," said the teacher. "Now, Ralph, you may tell me what a currier is." "A man who deals in curs," was the reply.

No Surprise to Him.

Little Jack came home and announced to his mother that Willyum had chicken pox. "But, gee, mam," he added solemnly. "It's no wonder. You jest ought to see the chickens that live in his yard."

Some Compensation.

The weather may oftentimes be exceedingly warm in summer, but that is one season of the year that is immune from elections, political, social or any other kind.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Substitute for Radium.

Thorite, a mineral found principally in Norway, has been found to possess some of the therapeutic powers of radium and to serve as a less expensive substitute for it.

Reasonable Grounds.

"My client appeals for a new trial." "On what grounds?" "On the grounds, your honor, that he is not apt to do worse and might fare a great deal better."

Place to Work.

If you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where you are; if you do not intend to go to work, you cannot get along anywhere.

A Pessimist.

The pessimist is a man who wants more of the things of which he has little, and less of the things of which he has much.

Misses Edna Fowler, Althea Fulton and brother, Lee, left last week for Canyon City, to attend the Northwest Texas Normal, this term.

Bert Ingram, Joe Whitley and W. W. Spear, left last week for Magdalena, N. M. They expect to work out there this fall and winter.

Billie Crowder went to Plainview last week and has not returned yet. His boys, Tom, Frank and Earnest are at work there.

Mr. Randolph moved into town last week for the school term.

Dr. Summit, whom we reported as quite sick last week, is able to be up. His children, Miss Clara and Doyle, came in last Saturday and entered school here this week. Also, his daughter, Mrs. Slaughter, of Sipe Springs, is here for a visit to the family.

Joe Black, wife and Ed Black left Tuesday. Mrs. Black will visit her mother, Mrs. Noble Bridges, at Sherman, Texas, for several months. Joe and Ed are to attend a mechanical school in Kansas City, where they expect to perfect themselves in auto work.

Rev. J. C. Lewis has purchased an auto. He was here Tuesday, but not "joy riding." He said he did not understand running it yet, and was taking no chances on getting hurt.

School opened here Monday morning with quite a large attendance of patrons, and we are told the enrollment was near 100. We could not attend, so we cannot report the opening, but the prospects are bright for a pleasant and profitable school term, as we have an excellent faculty, and best of all, everyone seem to be pleased with the selection the trustees have made. Eleven grades are now taught here.

Robert Griffith and wife left last Saturday for their home at Datil, N. M., after a week's visit to Mrs. Griffith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Simms. Robert shipped his cattle that were here to his new home.

A. C. Copeland and Charley have gone north with a bunch of horses.

We are busy canning beans and making chow-chow, so didn't have time to rustle many locals. Say, we have the finest garden in the county; if you don't believe it, come and see.

Kaiser Dragon Mentioned in Bible.

Every once in a while some genius of vast field of research uncovers something more than passing attention, and many of the discoveries would seem to be so detached and arbitrary that the wonder is how the deliver ever unearthed them.

The peculiar correlation which follows seems to be one of these. To work the puzzle, or more fittingly to unearth the prophecy, set down the name of the kaiser each letter separate as in print, in perpendicular form, thus:

K
R

Next set out a little to the right of these letters, the number of each as enumerated from the beginning of the alphabet. As a result you will have:

I	9
S	19
E	5
R	18

Having done this, because there are six letters in the kaiser's name, add a six to each of the above numbers, thus:

K	116
A	16
I	96
S	196
E	56
R	186

Total this column of figures and you have the number 666.

Now get your Bible and turning to Revelations, thirteenth chapter; read the fourth, fifth, and sixth verses. The result is most astonishing.

But perhaps there might not be a Bible handy, for which reason these verses are herewith set forth.

Chapter 13, fourth verse, reads: And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: saying, who is like unto the beast, who is able to make war with him?"

Fifth verse: "And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue 40 and two months."

Eighteenth verse reads: Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man and his number is six hundred, three score and six."

The great war has now continued 38 months, and if this peculiar reckoning is to be believed it will continue 4 months longer, since power was given to the beast to "continue 40 and two months."—Ex.

See Barrier Bros. before you sell your eggs, hides, butter and poultry.

J. W. Gordon, one of our prominent ranchmen and oldest settlers accompanied by his brother, Martin, was in this week. While J. W. was here he handed in his $1.50 to keep 'er comin', and said he could not get along without the Herald.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists. NC-132

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
