A TRIP TO SAN ANTONIO

The following parties left Brownfield at 12:30 p. m. to visit the boys in kahkai at Camp Travis.

Mrs. G. W. Ellington, Misses Girace and Pearl Ellington, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Ellington, all of Meadow, Texas. J. F. Winston of Brownfield. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Ellington and daughter, Miss Eva Harris of Harris Texas and Miss Mintie Reed of Spur, Texas.

We had two good autos, a Buick and Dodge, and a complete camping outfit. The first day out we passed thru Tahoka the capitol of Lynn county, thence to Post the Cotton Factory town of the West, when we passed down off of the Cap Rock into the Breaks we saw thickets of Mesquit, Cedars and different kinds of Cacti in full bloom.

Thence we passed thru Justiceburg, Dermot on to Snider where bought supplies for supper and breakfast, and went about three miles east of Snyder and camped for the night.

Sunday the 26th, we passed thru Hermleigh, Lorain, Rosco, Sweetwater, Nolan, Hylton, near Wingate about 4 p. m. one of our cars broke down and we had to go to Ballinger for repairs. Come back Monday and trailed the broken car into Ballinger, 36 miles for repairs. Camped on the Colorado River until 5 p. m. Tuesday, having gotten our car in traveling shape, we started for Paint Rock, so called from ancient Indian paintings on large rocks near the town; crossed the Concho at this point. Thence we passed thru Eden, Menard on the San Saba and camped near Mason.

The next day we passed through Fredericksburg, Waring, Boerne, Leon Springs, and arrived in San Antonio at 5 p. m. drove through the city to Camp Travis. Sergt. Millard Ellington secured leave until Revile next morning, and we passed through Camp Travis to a large Artesian well, two miles beyond where we camped during our stay.

Thursday morning May 30th, we visited the Alamo and other places of interest and returned to Camp Travis at nigh noon, where we met Sergts. Ellington, Winston, Telford, Cardwell, Brooks, Bryant, Johnson, Parks, Stephens and Williams. We talked with all the boys they seemed to be in high spirits and were very anxious to leave for France as they all want to get a German for a souvenir before the war is over. We never saw any where than at Camp Travis. It is an inspiration to be with them. We ate dinner at Sergt. Ellington's Barracks, and it was good and wholesome. No wonder they are as fat and stout as lions.

After dinner Sergt. Ellington secured leave until next morning at Revile, we then proceeded to the Court House, where the writer secured Marriage License for Sergt. Ellington and Miss Eva Harris, we next proceeded to find the pastor of the Central Methodist Church, being the Rev. C. Wesley Webdell, who united the young Sergt. and his accomplished bride to be in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony, at about 4:15 p. m.

We then visited the Aviation Headquarters at Kelly Field, where at times hundreds of Flying Machines are in the air darting about like hugh birds. Returning to the city, we visited the Buckhorn Saloon, which has lately been transformed into one of the finest Cold Drink Emporiums in the city. The Buckhorn has the largest collection of mounted heads and horns in the world. The owners have refused over $30,000 for the collection.

Friday morning May 31st we went out to Breckinridge Park, which is about four miles from the city, and consists of several thousand acres of timber with creeks, bluffs, with nice drives converging in all conceivable directions. Has several large Artesian wells for the water supply. Here we saw Deer, Elk, Moose, Sea Lions, Buffalo, Mountain sheep, Llamas, Monkeys, Gray and Black Cavote Wolves, Brown, Black and Grizzly Bears, Pea Fowls, Swan, Fish and almost all kinds of small animals.

We returned to the Barracks for dinner which was a good one. After dinner we bid the boys good bye, returned to camp, packed up our camping outfit and began our homward journey about 3 o'clock p. m. We camped the first night on our return on the Gaudeloup River, some of the party enjoyed fishing until bed time, but had poor success.

The next morning after a hearty breakfast we began climbing the mountains toward Fredericksburg after about three hours we reached the top of the

Gladly furnished upon application

Any erroneous reflection upon the character or standing of any private individual, firm or corporation, will be gladly amended if brought to the attention of the publisher

Jim Ferguson said that Gov. Hobby didn't have sense enough to make a speech. Hobby merely replied by saying he had sense enough to tell his private accounts from the State funds. That was the 42 centimeter that cooked Farmer (?) Jim's goose.

Jim Ferguson was the main guy at St. Louis in July 1916, that led the fight against the National Democratic Convention adopting a resolution favoring Woman Suffrage. Hobby, the next Governor of Texas, gave them party primary suffrage. Will the women of Texas vote for their bondsman or their liberator?

It becomes the sacred duty of every woman of proper age to go into the primary and vote to sustain the record of the recent legislature. We have confidence in the women of the country and believe that the acts of that body meet with their approval. To return Mr. Hobby to the governor's chair is but the reward of a servant whose work has been good and square. To elect one Ferguson means taking the lid off and another "rule of terror."—Abernathy Breeze.

Some of the Ferguson men will try to leave the impression in their arguments that because the indictments against Jimmie were quashed in the District Court of Travis county, that he was "not guilty" and everyone knows that they were thrown out on the technicality of not having indicted him in Bell instead of Travis county. It is also well known that Jimmie admitted under oath at the DID missappropriate the Canyon Normal funds, and Jim, nor none of his spellbinders are denying it.

Governor Hobby replying to Mr. Ferguson's statement that he, (Hobby) was a weaklin, that the creator had slighted him when he created him, and failed to put much brains there, said that he at least had sense enough to know his money from that which belongs to the people. Hobby has made Texas a fair governor. He has submitted measures that has been asked by the people—given them a chance. He is in perfect harmony with the federal government and is helping to win the war. He will be nominated in the July primary by a great big vote. We believe him to be a safe man in the governor's chair.—Lubbock Avalanche.

"Ferguson stirs old Bosque county," headline in the Temple Mirror. Yes Ferguson's mission seems to be to stir and yet his methods of stiring are far from commendable. His campaign is being waged on the assumption that the Texas people are a bunch of dern fools. His very utterance is an affront to an intelligent people. Sure he is stirring the various elements of the state in an endeavor to array class against class. What care he for war time conditions if he can realize his own selfish ambitions. His defeat at this time will recore the passing of the last of the old guradof antis.—Abernathy Breeze.

One of our friends a prominent local Fergusonite, handed us the following one day this week, as he says he never sees and Ferguson dope in this sheet. It is only a sample of how a paper from brewery soaked south Texas can shoot the Ferg. bull.

"The people are flocking" to Ferguson's support in every county in Texas, and he will be elected by a larger majority than ever, while the bunch of renegades who thought they had him down and hog tied have discovered that their rope was made of sand. Strange as it may seem the real prohibitionists are supporting Ferguson. But perhaps that shipment of booze from Ft. Worth to Hobby headquarters in Dallas opened their eyes and they prefer a dry anti to a wet pro.—Corpus Christi Times.

The Canal Winchester (Ohio) Times, supposed to be a Democratic journal, takes the South to task for voting the Democratic ticket and for general nonprogressiveness. Does the Times know or care to know that the South is sending her sons to France faster than the North, population considered, and that lots of southern State counties had no men left to draft? The writer also remembers that in our little brush with Spain in 1898, Tennessee boys had to go Ohio to get in the service, as the former filled her quota in a few day. Did the Times know that the South has gone over in every Liberty Lone, and that the South and Southwest has led the country in every Red Cross drive? That the Lone Star State, overwhelmingly Democratic—notice our capital d—stand near the top on War Saving Stamps, and is on a voluntary wheatless ration? Did the Times now that because Uncle Sam chooses to train the bulk of his soldiers in the salubrious cimate in the birth place of Democracy, that Texas one of the two remaining wet States, has kicked whiskey and her consorts, bad women and gamblers out of the cities where traing camps are located. That Texas is appropriating some two million dollar auxiliary school fund every two years to help the rural schools? That Ohio had best clean up her own machines in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus before advising us, and that the South like unto the North, wishes the American privilege of voting as she dern please.

The Herald is fourteen years old, and under the present management nine years.

The Grouches.

Two men sat glaring and growling at each other in a provincial Y. M. C. A.

"Who are the two grouches?" a salesman asked.

"One is our hotel proprietor," a native answered, "and the other is the editor of the local paper."

"What's got their goat?"

"Well," said the native, "it seems that at our school treat last evening the magician asked for the loan of a handkerchief, and somebody handed him up a big square of muslin."

"The magician unfolded the square and said:

"Thank goodness there's at least one clean sheet in this town."

And ever since then the editor has insisted that the magician was alluding to the hotel bedclothes, and the hotel man has insisted that it was the editor's paper was being knocked.—Washington Star.

INSECTS TENACIOUS OF LIFE

Are Able to Survive Injuries Which Would Cause Death in Higher Forms of Animal Life.

The unusual success of insects in the struggle for existence has been a subject of much discussion in scientific circles. Just why it is that these little creatures have survived the ravages of birds and other enemies, as well as the ingenious contrivances of man for their destruction, and form today the most numerous class of animals on the face of the earth, leaves a wide field for argument and conjecture.

Two important reasons for this have been pointed out by naturalists, i. e., their prolificacy and their extraordinary adaptation to environment. Another just as potent reason, which has received less attention, is their amazing tenacity to life, many species being able to survive injuries which would cause almost instantaneous death in the higher forms of animal life.

WAR SAVINGS SCHEMES.

In Amarillo, each boy who pledges himself to buy Thrift Stamps, receives a poster to hang up in his window, reading, "Thrift boy here, I am working for Uncle Sam,"—then he gets a card signed by Mr. Mayer, Chairman of the Potter County Division which shows he is a member of the army of boys in Amarillo who are ready and anxious to work; who need everything they can get to do and who have promised to save that money for Uncle Sam.

Abe Sobel, a twelve-year-old newsboy at Beaumont, Tex., won the $5.00 prize offered by County Chairman Jas. F. Weed, in the Thrift Contest there last week. In five days he earned $3.79. The only requirement stipulated in Mr. Weed's prize who won must earn the money and submit a statement showing how he earned it. Abe was the first boy to turn in his results, and as a consequence, he now owns two Government securities that in 1923 will be worth $10.00.

Mine Echoes Voice 16 Times.

There are many salt mines in Transylvania. The ones in Marosujvar produce, says the National Geographic Magazine, a hundred million pounds of salt a year. In the one at Tordo there is a gallery known as the Joseph gallery, where one may hear his voice echoed and re-echoed 16 times.

Huge Rattlesnake.

The largest specimen of the rattlesnake in any collection in the world is said to be that at the state museum at Raleigh, N. C. It measures 6 feet 11 inches in length. It weighs 7 pounds 11 ounces. There are 12 rattles.

SCHOOLS FOR RURAL CHILDREN

Every citizen whether a parent or not should now be impressed with the improvement of our rural schools. The poor schools are driving many thrifty farmers to the cities and towns there is no doubt. Education is so important to neglect, hence farmers are making any reasonable sacrifice to give their children a chance to attend schools that in a measure meets the requirements.

That the state and nation can ill afford to have many of our progressive farmers to leave the country and cease their interest in production need hardly be argued. There are good reasons for believing that the country's urgent needs would be better served if many laborers and salaried ed men in cities and towns would find it to their interest to move to farms. But is doubtful whether higher prices for food and better prices for crops and animals will make a greater appeal to city people than the city public schools. Be that as it may, those who are bearing the burdens of greater production should have the benefits of adequate rural schools. Unless our schools are improved and better facilities provided for the children who are forced to work in the fields a portion of the year the nation will reach a time when it will find its economic and financial resources below its need for the commercial welfare of the people.—Farm & Ranch.

STORMS DO NOT SOUR MILK

There is a wide spread belief that thunder sours milk, for testimony is not lacking that after a severe electrical storm, milk that should have been sweet is found to be soured. It is quite natural that the souring should be attributed to the thunder but we shall need to look elsewhere for the cause of this phenomenon. Souring is caused normally by the acidity which results from bacterial growth and sterilized milk will not sour in a thunder storm. The probable explanation lies in the fact that during storms of this kind, the temperature is raised sufficiently to favor the multiplication of milk souring bacteria where the temperature is not regulated by the use of ice.—W. H. Feldman, Colorado Agricultural College.

Brownfield is thriving and has just completed a most successful Red Cross drive. There seems to be a most harmonious public spirit there. This will make a good town any where. What we need in Lamesa is a broader vision of town building. This is not two towns but one and every lick you hit to injure the other fellow is a lick at the town. Every institution in the town is yours. If competition galls and makes you jealous, it should be an indication to you that you are in a town too large for you. Move to a place where where you have the only business of the kind and be happy. Lets pull to one end and to build a town worth while.—Lamesa Reporter.

and they wanted to know if they were for his own use. They were from Pittsburg Pa.

RED CROSS WANTS 22,000,000 CHILDREN IN ITS MEMBERSHIP

Resolutions requesting the governors of the five states in the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross to make official proclamations, if they have not already done so, recognizing the Junior Red Cross as an important element in the work of the schools of these states and calling special attention to the Junior Red Cross drive from Feb. 14 to 22 were adopted by the advisory committee of the Junior Red Cross at a conference in St. Louis recently.

The committee also urged the various boards of education, state, county and city, in this division, to recognize the Junior Red Cross as the one official organization for war relief activities in schools, and asked the United States Bureau of Education, through its department work for community centers, to give all possible help to work of the Junior Red Cross.

It was requested that the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association in its meeting in Atlanta recognize the work of the Junior Red Cross.

Slogan of the Campaign. "Every school a Red Cross auxiliary and center for national service" is the slogan of the intensive drive for the enrollment of all public, private and parochial schools as Red Cross school auxiliaries. George W. Simmons, manager of the Southwestern Division, who has gone to France for Red Cross information, said since the Southwestern Division passed all other divisions in the country during the Christmas membership drive the juniors must "go over the top" in the same splendid way. The goal is for 22,000,000 junior members in the United States, which, with the present Red Cross membership of 22,000,000, will make the total 44,000,000.

Mrs. E. R. Kroeger, director of junior membership in the Southwestern Division, says each school will be enrolled as a unit, all of its pupils becoming junior members of the Red Cross, the school unit assuming the obligation to raise a sum equal to 25 cents for each member. This fund remains in the school treasury to be administered by the pupils themselves in the purchase of raw materials with which to work or otherwise, as they, with the advice of instructors, may elect.

What Children Can Do. "There are many definite things which the junior membership can accomplish within the range of their scholastic activities," says Mrs. Kroeger. "It is not the intention to encroach in any way upon the pupils' play time, but to deflect the courses in manual training, domestic science, etc., into some form of Red Cross production."

President Wilson Sept. 15, 1917, issued a proclamation to the school children of the United States offering them the privilege of membership in the Red Cross. Dr. Henry H. MacCracken, president of the Vassar College, developed the idea of junior membership.

TO BUILD GIN THIS SUMMER

Brownfield, Texas,

Dear Joe:—Your letter of the 6th received, and wish to thank you very much indeed for the information contained therein.

In view of the present prospects in your territory and the investments we have already made at Brownfield, think I can safely say that we will build the gin there this summer. The only thing that would prevent is the unforeseen, and do not anticipate any such occurrence.

I will probably be in Brownfield the latter part of this month and will look you up when there.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

TO DISCOURAGE SATURDAY HOLIDAY IN THE SOUTH

"Enroll for farm work on Saturday" is the slogan of a campaign now being carried on in some of the Southern States by farm help specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the State Agricultural colleges. The time honored custom for the Southern negro to spend Saturday in town is being discouraged during this emergency when every man is needed every day for farm work. The request to do away with Saturday holidays is meeting with every response, and many thousands of negro workers are answering the Government's call for increased food production.

The Brownfield Herald had a correspondent, "West Wind," who furnished items from Gomez for seven years. Week in and week out for that period West Wind contributed from one to two columns of news that was good reading for every body, whether they knew the Gomez community or not. West Wind moved to N. M. and will not appear in the Herald any more. She was what we term an ideal correspondent for a country newspaper, and we have often wished that she might move into the Slatonite's territory so we could enroll her as a news contributor to the Slatonite. Good community correspondents are like some artists; they are born with talent.—Slaton Slatonite.

SAN ANTONIO TRIP CONCLUDED

mountain about 14 miles from the said town where the railroad has tunnelled through the mountain for about 3-4 mile, here we stopped the cars and all hands slid down the mountain to the tunnel and passed through to the other side of the mountain, where we left the ladies to wait until we went back and got the cars and brought them over the mountain. We soon reached Fredericksburg, a strictly German town, 72 years old. They all seemed to be very patriotic and had put the Red Cross over the top. They said they had sent about 100 of their boys to the colors. When we reached the San Saba Saturday we found it bucking a 10 ft. head rise so we camped for the night.

We crossed soon next morning and soon came to Menard, then to Paint Rock, and when we reached Ballinger the Colorado was nearly up to the bridge caused by the head rise. We left Ballinger and soon struck the rain belt with muddy roads, bridges washed out, and our cars didn't forget to "stick" several times. We camped Sunday night about 10 miles south of Sweetwater. We rushed early the next morning to Sweetwater to catch the 8:15 for Cisco which Miss Reed took for a visit to her sisters.

When we reached the Brazos River, Monday evening near Justiceburg, we found a head rise on and had to wait until nearly night to cross, came across and camped about 14 miles east of Post.

We arose early Tuesday morning and headed for Brownfield, and after slipping, sliding, sticking and almost swimming through mud and water, we arrived home about 3 o'clock p. m. having been on the trip about 11 days. We came in tired and worn out but proud that we had made the trip and would like to make a similar one when we get rested.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

When it comes to fixing responsibility for the war there is small room for argument. The facts speak for them selves and action talks louder than words. In an action for murder intent may be shown by the acts of the person accused. Germany was caught with the goods. The murdered corpse lay at her feet, the blood stained knife in Germany's hand. About the still body no weapon was found only a "scrap of paper." Having deliberately prepared to crime, Germany could have intended nothing else less than crime.

Certainly England was not prepared. No more was Russia or France. Belgium but refused to open the gate that, bent on ravishing a neighbor's home, the ravisher might pass. Then heroically, did Belgium bleed, sacrificing nobly in defence in defence of honor. The the thundering noise at Belgium's gate awoke the French. Across the narrow English channel the British lion sniffed fetid scents of sulking blood mad, wild hyenas, first kulture fed then turned loose up on the unwarned victims, Yet Germany claims that she was about to be attacked. Yet every reckless killer attempts to shield his crime in subornation of perjury.

It is the same old plea of self defense, as old as criminal history as false as criminal testimony. Possibly we are next to be told that France had made a motion, or that England had reached a hand in the general direction of a hip pocket. Both are familiar pleas in murder trials. But the fact remains that of all the nations, Germany alone had prepared to kill. Having made ready to kill, time and place only was wanting. Pretext is easy of fabrication, but Germany was caught with the goods. Actual and circumstantial the proof is conclusive. An impartial jury of world opinion render the verdict. A court of human right backed by our country's might, will properly sentence the criminal.—Farm & Ranch.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. . .

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134
