NOTICE OF ELECTION

Of the Brownfield Chapter, American Red Cross, Brownfield Texas.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with rules of the Society, a nominating committee appointed by the Executive Committee of the Chapter, has nominated for the membership on the Executive Committee, for the ensuing year, the following persons whose names appears hereafter, to-wit:

For Chairman: R. H. Banowsky, J. B. King.

Vice-Chairman: Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, Mrs. J. E. Shelton.

Secretary: Mrs. Boyce Cardwell, Mrs. J. F. Winston.

Treasurer: W. H. Dalias, Fred Smith.

Chairman of Executive Committee: Mrs. S.H. Holgate, Mrs.

J. L. Randal.

Any other nominations may be in writing within seven days, addressed to the undersigned, and signed by ten or more members in good standing, within this Chapter. Such names will then appear on the final ballot along with the above selected names.

The 2 candidates who shall receive the highest number of all the votes cast, shall be declared elected to that office.

The election will be held at the Red Cross Hall (Morrison-Smith Lumber Co. office) on Sunday November 24th, the polls to be open between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and six o'clock p. m.

All members of the Brownfield Chapter are entitled to vote.

M. A. Smith
Mrs. W. L. Barclay } Nom. Com.
Mrs. W. B. Downing }

ELECTION RESULTS

The vote of Terry county was very, very small. There was 87 votes cast, of which there were two Republican and one Socialist, but all the votes went to the county officials, none but Democrats being represented in the county election. Senator Shepherd received all but one of all votes cast, but one democrat (we use a lower case "d") scratched both Hobby and Johnson, the Democratic (note the cap "D") nominees for governor and lieutenant governor, respectively.

The amendment to Sec. 10 Art 1 of the State Constitution, relating to criminal procedure, received 56 votes and 11 against. The amendment providing better school funds and Free Text book received 76 votes for and 7 against it.

BROWNFIELD CELEBRATES.

Last Thursday, when the news came in that Germany had surrendered, there was not much doing, except a few ho-wees from the strong lungers, as the message had not been confirmed, but not so Monday, when the good news came over the wire from several sources, and was latter confirmed.

It was handed out among the boys that there would be a celebration, beginning at 8 p. m., and all the boys were on hand. Let us say right here that we did not know there were so many old forty some odd sixes, automatics of all makes, rusty old shot guns etc., in our little city, as there was on hand, and it seemed everybody brought one along. The sheriff and County Judge suspended the six shooter law for the night, and and the old betsies, bleached with the accompaniment of the yells of the boys and girls, the beating of improvised drums and the ringing of bells. Even the West Texas gin plant had put up their whistle during the afternoon, and they tied 'er back.

It finally occurred to the jubilee crowd that they were not making enough noise, and the sticks of dynamite of the Brownfield Hardware Company was brought fourth, and then the real earth quakes came off. As high as six sticks were shot at once, which were distinctly heard twenty mile from town.

The only damage done fell on Dock Powell and the Bank, as the old Merc. building and the old bank building had several windows lights smashed by the concussion.

Six Questions With One Answer

What Oil Company is advertising in your home paper? What Oil Company buys Liberty Loan Bonds in Terry county to help out the Quota? What Oil Company spent 15 or 18 thousand dollars in the city of Brownfield, mostly for your convenience? What Oil Company is it that gets their oil and gas in tank cars and avoids a terrible mixture of water? What Oil Company is it that guarantees everything they sell? What Oil Company gives you quick and good service, and appreciates your trade enough to advertise for it, and is ever ready when you want an order

P. D. Q.

The answer is very simple. The Magnolia Petroleum Co., phone 10. We have the stuff and want to sell it. ### MORRIS SHEPPARD, ON WAR WORK.

To the People of Texas:
At the request of President Wilson the various organizations engaged in welfare work among our armed forces have united in a common effort to secure funds needed for the continuance of their activities. These organizations are performing an essential and glorious part in the conduct of the war for liberty and humanity. They are brightening the lives of our boys at the front. They are carrying to the camps and trenches as much of the cheer, the inspiration and the comfort of home as is possible under the circumstance. They are keeping before our soldiers the principles and ideals which warriors of righteousness and truth should preserve and exemplify. They are providing our boys with pure and helpful forms of recreation which constitute a perpetual shield against the evils and temptations that in former wars debauched and ruined so many young men. They are moulding and stimulating character amid the crash and roar of battle, and they deserve our enthusiastic and universal support. It is more necessary today than ever to our complete triumph that our boys should feel our continued interest, and be given every evidence of our increasing gratitude and love. Let everyone contribute to this campaign, not only as a duty but as a blessed privilege.

Morris Sheppard.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

Hog-killing time is approaching and soon the farmers will begin calling on the merchants for salt petre to use in curing their meat.

Salt petre (Potassium Nitrate) is used extensively in the manufacture of explosives and is covered by the Federal Explosives Act of Oct. 6, 1917, which provides that certain explosives ingredients will not be sold in quantities of an ounce or more unless the purchaser produces a license. Quantity less than an ounce, however, may be purchased without a license.

Those desiring to buy salt petre to use in curing meat can obtain it in sufficient quantity to meet their requirements by taking out an explosives license, the cost of which is only 25 cents. Mr. J. C. Green, of Brownfield, Texas is the local Explosives Licensing Agent, to whom they should apply for the necessary license.

Merchants should call attention of their customers to this matter, so they may not be caught unprepared.

This law also covers all kinds of explosives and explosive ingredients, and any and all violations of the Federal Explosive Law should be reported to me promptly.

Chas. B. Watters, U. S. Explosives Inspector, San Antonio, Texas.

Milton Brown Jr., and family left this week for Clovis, where he will take charge of a Kemp Lumber yard. Milton has had charge of the Kemp yard here since its inception, and their many friends here were sorry to see them leave. Boyce Cardwell is now the local manager for the company here, and we congratulate him on his promotion.

Cotton and cotton seed are being shipped out by almost every train now, which augments the money from feed sales that have been coming in for some time. Farmers, keep plenty planting seed, for they will be in demand in the spring.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co., was assessed $10.00 by the local campaign managers for the United War Work, and this week the local agent, Tom May received a check from the Company for $50.00 for their share in Terry county. Great for the Mag.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Head, and baby, left yesterday for a visit to friends at Snyder.

Jno. P. Lewis and G. C. Barrier, two of Lubbock's most progressive merchants, were here on business this week.

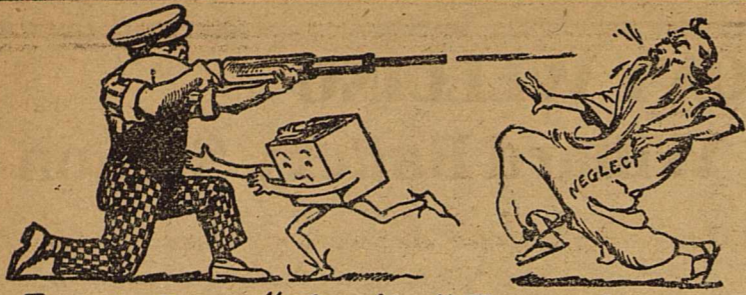

Marion Newberry, who has been out in New Mexico working for some time come in last week.

M. A. Smith and wife, left yesterday for Lubbock, on business.

A wire was received here Wednesday that Phillip Allen was killed in action in France the 8th of October, it is supposed. Phillip was a brother of Harry Allen of this county, and worked a number of years on the L7 ranch near Meadow, but when war with Germany came on, he volunteered his services in the National Guard, and went overseas with the 36th division. Phillip was a good hearted, West Texas cowboy and had lots of close friends here, who will deeply sympathize with his relatives in their sorrow. Thus, another Terry county boy has paid the supreme sacrifice for World's Democracy.

MRS. HOBBY INDORSES WAR WORK.

Austin, Texas, No. 11—Mrs. W. P. Aobby, wife of the Governor of Texas, heartily indorses the United War Work Campaign for funds continue welfare work among the soldiers and civilians of the allies in this country and abroad.

"The merger of the seven war work association that are doing such noble work," said Mrs. Hobby, "is a most beautiful example of the brotherhood of man. There is no doubt that morale has been one of greatest assets of the allied armies and executives of all the countries fighting Prussianism have acknowledged the work of these organizations and said it must continue."

"America has shown the world how to fight in a new way and has shown the world that by caring for the soldires at that front and at home it is helping win the war in a new fashion."

"These welfare organizations are not confining their work to the fighter, but are aiding the relatives of the men and other civilians who are directly affected by this stupendous conflict."

"Even if peace soon develops, there will be many moths of this work as it will take time to demobilize and the readjustment of social and business affairs must be met."

"I heartily indorse the work being done by the Young Mens' Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association, National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board and the Salvation Army."

"United, they are helping the united Allies win."

"GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend." The quotation found in the Gospel of John is applicable to the men who represent the organizations now making an appeal for funds.

They are the great army of volunteers, who, being unable for various reasons to enlist with the front line fighters, are subjecting themselves to fire to bring peace and comfort to our unfortunate soldiers. They might appropriately be termed the great mother of our army.

They make the army life as near home life as possible. I consider this combination of organizations the greatest force for sustaining the splendid morale of our forces over sea.

Realizing the great work that they are doing, a simple appeal should be necessary only to swell the financial chest to overflowing. No man can call it sacrificing to aid the boys who are doing their utmost to make the world safe for democracy.

By R. T. Craig, Editor Review, Athens, Texas.

What has become of the old man who used to set on the throne of the German Empire and brag that he would take no foolishness off Uncle Sammie after the war.

And it used to be said that an Emperor had more power than any body, but in latter days, a kindly president at Washington caused the said throne to be vacated hurriedly.

Of course we had to start from the ground, but in less than nineteen months, the little old United States has cleaned up on all the scalowages of Europe.

In a few more months, our conquering heroes will be coming home, but without a few that we sent away so proudly, but grim old disease has taken more Terry county boys than the Hun hordes have.

If the Republicans can get any satisfaction out of the recent election, although getting control of Congress and the Senate, it is more than we can see, and we notice they are not boasting. We won the Governorship of two of the banner eastern States, New York and Massachusetts, together with the Senator of the latter. Also, we might just mention the fact that in almost every instant of defeat, it was a bottlenecked Democrat that had not supported Pres. Wilson.

Maximilian Harden, a leading German socialist says: "We started the war with a dirty trick. William II is a film hero and Germany a vulgar cinematograph show; All the world knew this four years ago but it is refreshing to hear the Germans, themselves, admitting it.—Santa Anna News.

We can also agree with the German writer as expressed in the above sentence. In fact, when Germany gets to where she is ready to tell the truth about the war we can find many points of agreement.—Abilene Times.

COLD LEMONADE FOR THE WOUNDED

MANY LIVES SAVED BECAUSE SALVATION ARMY FURNISHED COOL DRINKS TO SOLDIERS.

THEIR FEVER IS KEPT DOWN

Crates of Oranges Broken Open and Strawn Along Road for Soldiers Marching Into Battle.

BY CAPT. HAROLD MILLS.

The American forces met their great test on the Chateau Thierry-Solemes line with a valiant success which must make every American heart swell with pride, and so did the Salvation Army. I have just come from that sector. Everywhere I heard stories of the intrepid courage with which the "Amex" soldiers bore the brunt of the attack. Ever, where, also, I heard stories of the Salvation Army girls, their calm indifference to danger, their unending untiring work among the wounded. These stories came mostly from the soldiers themselves.

The call came suddenly. There had been an unusual amount of troop movement preceding the drive. Salvation Army huts and supplies were for the most part packed and ready for instant dispatch to any point where the troops might finally be stationed. Among men, and among officers of lesser grade, there was a feeling of uncertainty and much discussion as to where they would be sent, but there was always to be heard the hope that it would be to hold the German advance.

"If you go, we shall go also," said the girls. Then, one night, the division disappeared—vanished as though into thin air.

A few days later word came to B— that the — Division, together with other French and American forces, had smashed its way into the German lines and forced the enemy to retreat. At noon Capt. Violet McAllister and her sister, Alice; Adjt. "Bill" Hale and Capt. Edward Margetts took to the road in Staff Capt. Coe's Ford, others following as rapidly as possible in big supply trucks. All through the night and until half past 1 the following afternoon they traveled toward the scene of action. At sunrise the auto rolled over the brow of a hill and there, before them, lay a wide fertile valley carpeted with ripening grain and lush, green meadows. Three roads climbed gently along its slopes and over them moved all the varied transport of a battling army—ammunition trains, supply trucks, guns, wheeled cook stoves—from which appetizing aromas spread on the breeze—a calvacade of trench mortars hauled by Missouri mules, companies of marching men, all traveling toward the front.

At 2:30 p. m. the machine drew up at an improvised evacuation hospital in a small town from which the enemy had been driven only a few hours before. While the men were unloading a crate of lemons and a sack of sugar, the lassies reported to the doctor in charge and asked what they could do. Ambulances in an endless train were bringing in the wounded—American, French and German alike—and as rapidly as their wounds were cleansed and re-dressed they were loaded into other ambulances and shipped to the rail-head, to be carried to base hospitals in splendidly equipped American hospital trains. Doctors, men of the Hospital Corps, were all working against time to keep pace with the ambulances.

"For God's sake get them something cold to drink—something cold," snapped the doctor. So while the girls squeezed lemons into a bucket Billy Hale commandeered a gallon tank at the wheel of his Ford and went out to look for water. Some kilometers distant Hale found a spring as clear and cold as ice. Within less time than the teeling takes lemonade was ready to serve. Time after time he made the trip for water, heedless of the gunfire and of bombs dropped from enemy planes. Between times he loaded the Ford with food, which he carried to the trench and distributed among men actually engaged in fighting.

The trucks arrived shortly afterward, loaded with tons of oranges and lemons, the lemons being used in the hospitals while the oranges were piled up at points passed by troops just before going into action after a long march from the rear. The fruit was handed out by Salvation Army lassies and no gift could have been more appreciated. So great was the hurry of one company that they could not stop, and so a whole crate was flung at them as they passed. It was pounced upon with cheers.

When they had disposed of their loads the Salvation Army trucks were placed at the disposal of the Hospital Corps and for four long days and four sleepless nights these men drove continually between field dressing stations and the evacuation hospital. The lassies tell of these trucks going, trip after trip, pale faces looking out over the tall boards, but always quick to smile in spite of pain.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS AND THE LAW

There is a Police Court Judge out in El Paso who believes in law and War Savings Stamps. Whenever a person is arraigned before him on a technical charge, the Judge carefully considers the case and if a decision of guilty is reached, he fines the prisoner and requires him to invest the amount of the fine in War Savings Stamps.

"The best way a man can help his country and himself is to buy War Savings Stamps," declares the Texas magistrate. This court believes in giving a start in the right direction—personal economy.

Had Won the Right.

A mother of my acquaintance suggested to her five-year-old daughter that she pray for a baby sister or brother. Time passed and the five-year-old was rewarded for her prayers, and when the question of a name arose, the little miss demanded the right to name the baby, saying: "I'll name that baby; I did the praying."

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

"WRITING HOME"

When the soldier is off duty he may employ and amuse himself in many ways, but one of the first things he is sure to do is to write to home folks. Writing paper, envelopes, ink and pens are furnished free to the men by the Army Y. M. C. A.

This is a picture of a "rush hour" of letter writing and magazine reading in a "Y" building in a large camp of the Southern Department.

T.C. Cates, Jr., Ben Y. Anderson, J. A. Shumaker and J. M. Wicknor, of Yoakum county, came in Monday, taged and sleeved out as recruits for the National Army, and aimed to take the train here Tuesday morning for San Antonio to Camp Travis, but were turned back here, as Uncle Sammie says he don't need any more soldiers at present. But when any other nation takes a notion that they are going to put a ban on the world's freedom, these Terry and Yoakum county boys stand ready to show them the way to the back door.

J. M. Estes, of Clillacotha, Texas, who brought the north-west quarter of the old Dynamite section, ten miles north of town, three years ago, came in this week to start putting up his improvements preparatory to bring his family. He is figuring on putting up a nice country home, and became a real citizen.

The Commissioners Court of Terry county has been in session this week, and besides the other business of the monthly session, that they usually have before them, they made the official count of the recent election, found elsewhere in this paper.

We have been requested to notify our readers that they will find the Cartons or little boxes officially recognized by the Red Cross, in which they can send their packages to the boys "Over There". We might also remind the readers that if they have received the sticker from the boy or boys, to get their packages off at once in order that they may reach them by the holidays.

Remember this dear reader, in making your pledge to the United War Work, that while the boys in all probability, will not have to fight Huns any more, that they will be inactive, and will need the good motherly comfort that these war societies can and will give them, more than ever, now.

Mrs. W. M. Parks and the children had business in Lubbock, Sat.

J. W. Nowlin made a trip to Lubbock, Sat.

P. G. Stanford of Plains brought his brother, C. L., of Canton, Texas, over Saturday, who took the train for home. These brothers are making some extensive investments together in Yoakum county real estate.

John Pulliam, one of the most progressive merchants of Plains, died at his home last Friday of pneumonia following influenza. John had many friends over this part of the State, and has always done his share in the upbuilding of his community. We understand that he was a member of the Methodist church, and a Woodman. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss, as well as hosts of other relatives and friends.

Oral Adams, of Gomez, took the train for Lubbock, Saturday.

Geo. Tiernan, who is now working out at the Rafter Four ranch, was in Monday night to visit home folks, and to help us pull the big celebration.

CAMP TRAVIS, Texas, Nov. 8.—Thanksgiving is at hand and Christmas is coming soon. Mothers and sisters and sweethearts already are planning the big boxes of "eats" they are going to send their loved ones in Camp Travis. In order that these "goodies" get to those for whom they are intended and that they are in fit condition to be enjoyed when they arrive, it will be necessary that the greatest care be taken in selection of things that can be safely shipped that they are properly packed and correctly addressed. Camp Travis as well as all other army postal authorities are anxious that there be no repetition of the experiences of last year when jellies, jam, and fruits escaped from poor containers, not only being lost to those for whom they were intended, but smearing the entire contents of mail sack after mail sack into one sticky mess. Many parcels also failed to reach their destinations because of being improperly addressed.

Confusion and missending of mail due to incorrect addresses has reached such a point that the first assistant postmaster general at Washington has issued the following order:

"Postmasters are hereby instructed to withhold from dispatch in the mails all ordinary insured or C. O. D. parcels which are addressed to members of the Regular Army, National Army or National Guard which are not specifically addressed to company or regiment or other military units."

Therefore great care should be taken that the number of the regiment and the letter of the company are given if the soldier is in the Division; and the number of his company and battalion if in the Depot Brigade. Care should be taken that every portion of the address is carefully and legibly written.

Return address of the sender should be given in the upper left hand corner of the addressed side of the parcel.

Here is the proper way to address the parcel so that it will reach its proper destination:

From Mrs. S. S. Smith,
1432 Miami Street,
Dallas, Texas.

Private Samuel S. Smith,
Company "M", 19th Infantry,
Camp Travis, Texas.

To the end that things sent the soldiers may be delivered in the best possible shape, the following rules should be followed:

Under the general caption of "eats" cake sent should be packed so stand the trip. Food packed in such flimsy containers as shoe and hat boxes is food wasted. Only the heaviest kind of cardboard, on better still, light wooden boxes, should be used in packing eatables. DO NOT send liquids through double faced corrugated paste board boxes, well packed.

Cartridges and other explosives, liquor, live animals, etc., will not be transported in mails. Writing in parcels also is prohibited.

In case articles are sent by express, even greater care should be taken in their preparation and packing and nothing except strong board containers used, owing to the rough handling to which they will be subjected.

Instead of sending cigarettes, or tobacco of any kind, chewing gum, candies and toilet articles, it will be much better for the folks at home to send the money for such articles to the men in camp and let them make the purchase at the army exchange in Camp Travis. Not only do the exchanges sell articles much cheaper than they can be bought at home, but the added expense of packing and postage is eliminated in this way. Furthermore, the soldiers profit in all sales made by the exchanges as all profits go into company fund from which extras are purchased for the men.

RED CROSS NOTES

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—The demand for Red Cross workers in the military camps in the United States and at headquarters of the organization in Washington, has increased so enormously, that the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross has established special recruiting offices in forty cities of Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas.

Men are wanted in the military camps to help soldiers who are worried about their families, to cheer up men in the base hospital, and to supervise the distribution of Red Cross supplies.

Men and women are wanted in Washington to work as accountants, stenographers, secretaries, clerical workers, buyers of drugs and hospital supplies and as clerks. Men thoroughly experienced in commercial office practice along merchandising lines, especially are wanted.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The American soldier have advanced so rapidly in the present fighting that supplies are being carried to them by airplanes. When the roads to the front are congested with vehicles carrying munitions and fresh soldiers it becomes necessary to send supplies by air.

When this emergency arises food and supplies held by the American Red Cross are sent by air to the soldiers. Included in these provisions, dropped to the soldiers, are pressed beef, chocolate, cigarettes, and other articles.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The American Red Cross mourning brassard, a black arm band with a gold star, to be won in lieu of regular mourning by relatives of men lost in the service, has met with general approval, the demand for the brassards indicates. They will be given to parents and widows of the men without charge, and to other relatives at cost by the Red Cross Chapter.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—The forming of nutting clubs is urged by Eugene Pettus, director of conservation of the American Red Cross for the Southwestern Division of the organization. Nut shells and fruit pits are used for the making of gas masks for American soldiers. Pettus points out that the Government is greatly in need of the shells and pits and asks that the campaign to collect them be carried on with more energy.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—The American Red Cross Christmas membership campaign program will be announced shortly. It is the aim of the organization to enroll all Americans as members the week of December 16-23. Funds will not be sought during the campaign. The demands on the Red Cross have increased so enormously that a campaign to obtain sufficient money to meet the expenses of the organization may be made in the spring.

"PULLED A BONE"

Last week, Dean and Leland Kirk, of this city, were down in Swisher county, near Tullia, looking at a piece of land when their attention was attracted by something projecting from a nearby sand bank. Upon investigation, the "something" proved to be a bone and it is safe to say that if the rest of the animal belonging to that bone had been present in the flesh, the Kirk Brothers would have hotfooted it out of that vicinity in defiance of all the speed laws and cops in the U. S. A.

About 19 inches of the bone was broken and crumbled off in getting it out but the piece that they brought home with them is 31 inches long and 9 inches in diameter at the joint. Originally, it was one of the lower leg bones of some cadaverous prehistoric critter which disported itself over the Plains after the fashion of the owner of the famous "seven-league boots" and a look at it will readily convince the most pessimistic individual that there are compensations in living at the present day and age.

The bone has been on display in the window of the White & Kirk store and has been the object of much curiosity. There are said to be many such bones in the section where this one was obtained. —Southwest Plainsman.

MAGNESIUM PRODUCTION LARGE.

Metallic magnesium, which is commonly used as a flash light in photography, is used also in aerial bombs and rockets for lighting battle fields at night.

Burning magnesium makes a dense pure white clouds, and it is put into shrapnel shell so that observers and gunners may know exactly where the shells are bursting. It is a veritable cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night on the European battle fields.

Magnesium is made by the Norton Laboratories, Inc., at Lockport, N. Y., the American Magnesium Corporation, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and the Rumford, Metal Co., Rumford, Maine. Report made by these three companies to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, show a production of 50,384 pounds of metallic magnesium in the first quarter of 1918, and 66,554 pounds in the second quarter, making a total of 116,938 pounds in the first half of 1918. The total production in 1917 was 115,800 pounds.

Lorell Brownfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, happened to a painful accident one day this week while helping her father carry a herd of cattle to the stock pens. She was riding a good cow horse, and you know that they know their business pretty well. The horse started under a guy wire, which although very low was plenty high to pass under by ducking, but Lorell tried to guide him over to a higher place, and the result was the wire caught her under the chin, and on the cheek, inflicting an ugly wound. The doctor took nine or ten stitching in sewing up the wound.

SHELTON SAYS SAVE

There prevails among the Americans the widespread belief that the end of the War will bring to an end the necessity for food control and conservation. This belief is causing grave concern to responsible officials in Washington, and unless this belief is corrected it will bring disaster to the Nations associated with America in the war.

Export to Europe of foodstuffs during the year has been limited to a large extent by the scarcity of ships. There will be no lack of ships to carry food from this country, now that the war is ended but there will be a shortage coming to this country or from other countries to Europe for the reason that our boys will have to be returned home.

With all the shipping that we shall have at our disposal, it will only be possible to return about 250,000 per month, hence we will not be able to use any shipping for the purpose of transporting foodstuff from those countries that have a surplus to France and Belgium. Last year the United States exported to the allied nations about 11,820,000 tons of foodstuffs. During the next few months it will be necessary to export at least 17,350,000 ton in order to feed the starving millions. Despite the popular belief to the contrary the stock of food in America is no greater this year than it was last year, in fact on the face of the returns it is about 200,000,000. shorter on the staple foods. You will see from the above that it is up to the United States TO FEED THE WORLD until another crop is made. All people are urged to conserve as never before, altho there may be some foods that will be more plentiful now that peace has come.

The Food Administration will continue for several months.

J. E. Shelton,
Food Administrator.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN THE GREATEST.

The United States Government asked a loan from the people of the country of $3,000,000,000, an amount unprecedented in all the history of the world. In three weeks' time, in spite of an epidemic of influenza which prevented public meetings and cost the people many millions of dollars in medical bills and lost time, and in spite, too, of the peace rumors that in some instances had a tendency to make the success of the loan seem less vital, some 21,000,000 of the American people offered to the Government $6,866,416,300. Each Federal Reserve district oversubscribed its quota. Thousands of cities, towns, and communities oversubscribed their quotas. Secretary McAdoo says that the Fourth Liberty Loan is the greatest single event in financial history.

The Fourth Loan was called the fighting loan; it is a record of Americanism comparable with the record that our soldiers on the battle fronts and our sailors on the seas are making. The people at home have given loyal support to our fighting men.

Our soldiers are holding every acre of ground they take. Let the people at home hold every Liberty Bond they have taken.

A Liberty Bond is a certificate of patriotism; keep it to show our boys when they come back from Europe.

REHABILITATION OF OUR WOUNDED.

The United States Government is resolved to do its best to restore every wounded American soldier and sailor to health, strength, and self-supporting activity.

Until his discharge from the hospital all the medical and surgical treatment necessary to restore him to health is under the jurisdiction of the military or naval authorities, according to the branch of the service he is in. The vocational training, the reeducation and rehabilitation necessary to restore him to self-supporting activity, is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

If he needs an artificial limb or mechanical appliance the Government will supply it free, will keep it in repair, and renew it when necessary. If after his discharge he again needs medical treatment on account of his disability, the Government will supply it free. While he is in the hospital and while in training afterwards the soldiers or sailor will receive compensation as if in service and his family or dependents will receive their allotment.

A wounded soldier or sailor, although his disability does not prevent him from returning to employment without training, can take a course of vocational training free of cost and the compensation provided by the war risk insurance act will be paid to him and the training will be free, but no allotment will be paid to his family.

Every Liberty Bond holder who holds his bond is keeping up a part of this great work of restoring to health, strength, and usefulness the men who have suffered for their country.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.
