Drilling Deep Wells

Earl Hill who is helping the McRhea Company put the five deep wells done in the lake in the Singleton pasture, came in home last week to make some shipments of water and formations taken from the well to a laboratory for analysis. The formation in a can he was shipping out look like a concrete colored sand at first appearance, but there is not a particle of grit in it, and it will discard water like quick sand in an instant, and fluff up like flour. A pinch of it to the tongue will make you wish you hadn't. Earl says they have been going through this substance for 75 feet. He also said that men having the appearance of men of means and influence visited the boreings almost daily, and that while he is just working for what there is in the business, he can tell from conversations that he cannot help hearing that there is going to be something stirring in the future. We might also add that the State has a surveyor here from the A. & M. College making maps of all that country, around about the several lakes in the east and southeast part of this county.

New Postmaster

Named For Seminole.

Judson Roach last week received notice from the Post office Department stating that he had been appointed postmaster at this place. He expects to enter upon his duties as same in a few days—Seminole Sentinel.

TRY a package of Life O' Wheat.—Brothers & Brothers.

Mrs. Cunningham and daughter, of Abilene, who have been visiting her daughter here, Mrs. H. C. Zorns, left Saturday for home.

Boys Getting Home.

Among the boys who arrived home the latter part of last week were: William R. Spivey, Olan Cardwell, Thomas Brooks, Arrel Williams and Homer Winston. This batch of our boys were the first of the National Army from here who began their training at Camp Travis, and ended it by wiping up the Huns on their own chosen grounds, and of course they, like all the other boys from Terry who saw service over seas, are the idol and envy of all the boys. No one envies them in a jealous way, but in the way of admiration. But in a few more days, all our heroes are to be at home, even Laurence Green, Scott Walker and Geo. Smith, who were transferred to the Fifth Division to occupy Germany, for it is now an assured fact that this terrible war has been made null by the signature of the German envoys, in a peace treaty, which only remains to be ratified by the countries involved.

Total Casualty List

Placed at 289,016.

Washington, D. C. June 24.—Total casualties of the American expeditionary forces reported to date were announced today by the war department as 289,016, including:

Killed in action (including 381 lost at sea), 33,754.

Died of wounds 13,570.

Died of disease, 23,396.

Died from accidents and other causes 4,942.

Total deaths, 75,662.

Wounded in action, 210,981.

Missing in action, (not including prisoners released or returned), 2,370.

Miss Elizebeth Whitaker, of the Seagraves country, was the guest of Mrs. D. M. Judd during the past week end.

Methodist Meeting Closes

The two week's revival of the local Methodist church, came to a successful close Sunday night amid great rejoicing, and it was pronounced by all who attended these series of meetings to be a success from every point, not only for the moral betterment of the town, but from many other angles.

We understand that near 100 re-claimations and conversions were the direct result, and about one dozen were received into the Methodist church and we understand that there will be additions to several of the other churches as a result.

Rev. Hawkins left early Monday for Tahoka to take a train for Fort Worth, as he could not get a train out of here before Tuesday, as he wanted to be with his family as much as possible before they start a meeting at the Union Gospel Mission at Ft. Worth. The singer, Mr. Johnson however, stayed over till Tuesday in order to attend a picnic, at noon Monday with an organization of youngsters called the Boosters, under the Welch shady park, and then at evening, another with an organization of grown young men and women, called the Laugh-a-lots and Smile-a-whiles at the old Sawyer ranch, which lasted well into the night.

Sam Pyeatt, son of Uncle Bill Pyeatt, a member of the 36th division who has been very ill at Camp Travis for some time with something like stomach trouble, is reported to be on the improve.

WHAT IS the use to have a starter on your car that won't start? See Gist for electrical work.

Prof. Zorns came in one day this week and had his paper changed to Abilene, Texas, as he is moving their where he and Bob Bowers will likely establish a business.

Baptist Fifth Sunday Meeting Now in Progress.

The Baptist Fifth Sunday meeting of the Brownfield Association, began at the Baptist church here last evening when a sermon was delivered by Rev. J. Pat Horton of Post City.

Nearly all the out-of-town people on the program have arrived in the city. Miss Faith McCormick, a Sunday School expert of Dallas, arrived here yesterday and will have a part on the program during the meeting. Immediately following the close of the Fifth Sunday meeting the revival meeting will begin and will last for two weeks and much interest is being manifested already in it.

The general public has a cordial invitation to attend all services—Slaton Slatonite.

Santa Fe is Leading In "No-Accident-Week"

W. H. McKirahan of the local Santa Fe offices, received a telegram yesterday from Isaiah Hale, stating that after the fourth day of "No-Accident week" the Santa Fe is leading all others of the sixty two lines in the Central Western Region.

During the same four days of last year the Santa Fe had two killed and sixty two injured; this year ten injured and none killed. The Slaton division up to last night did not have a single accident to report—Slaton Slatonite.

We knew there was some very important item that we were leaving out of the Herald last week, and it came to us suddenly Saturday when we noticed Pat Brothers sending an unusual amount of nicknacks down to his house. Well, their first son arrived at home on the 21st inst., and of course Pat wants to feed him good.

Cattlemen's Day At Fair To Be Big Event

"Cattlemen's Day" at the State Fair of Texas, to be designated later by President John N. Simpson, will be one of the biggest of the entire fair, according to the plans of the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas. This was the statement yesterday of A. C. Williams of Fort Worth, assistant secretary of the association, who was here closing up some Cattle Finance Corporation matters.

"This is the first time a day has been set aside for our organization," Mr. Williams said. "We are determined to make its celebration one long to be remembered. Our executive committee, fifty strong, will meet here on that date. All our officers and members will be planning from now on how to make the day most successful.

"It is peculiarly fitting that the association should have a day set aside for it. This is the first year that Colonel John N. Simpson, who called the organization meeting of the Cattle Raiser's Association so many years ago, has been president of the fair. The cattlemen will come to honor him. Also a large sum has been set aside for premiums for cattle this year than ever before."

Mr. Williams believes that the $2,000,000 corporation for financing breeding cattle on the range will be successfully organized.

This was brought up at a meeting of the board of directors held recently at Victoria and president W. W. Turney was authorized to name a committee to further the plan. This committee will canvas the sentiment of the membership of the association.

"A corporation of this size could carry $15,000,000 worth of paper," Mr. Williams said. "It would be quite a relief to cattlemen who have been obliged to renew loans on breeding stock every six months."

Power of Bolsheviki is Nearly Over, Says Major.

That the power of the Bolsheviki in Russia is nearing its end and that the peaceful rule of Admiral Kolchak will prevail in the near future, was the message brought to the United States by Major George W. Simmons, manager of the southwestern division, American Red Cross, who returned to his home in St. Louis recently, after spending six months in Siberia at the head of the Red Cross Mission.

Major Simmons paid high tribute to Admiral Kolchak, who, he said, was an honest, efficient leader, with an army of 450,000 drafted men which has penetrated into the interior of Russia and driven the Bolsheviki back at every step.

"America's policy in Russia is a laughable stock to the Russians and the Japanese who are doing all they can by propaganda through newspapers and in other ways to increase the lack of respect for America," declared Major Simmons. "Japan has thousands of soldiers scattered throughout eastern Siberia and surrounding country, while there are only 2000 American troops guarding 39 tunnels on the trans-Siberian railroad at Lake Baikal."

The newspapers in Vladivostok are being filled full of articles telling of lynchings, crimes and riots in America, to create Russian distrust of the United States. The Japanese are disliked by the Russians and every other nationality in that part of Asia. England has been helping Kolchak and his army with supplies and arms. France has also been helping as much as possible, while the Americans sit by, holding their thumbs and doing nothing.

Major Simmons declared that it was a mistake to consider Bolshevism as a political movement. It is not," he said. "It is murder, robbery and personal tyranny, with less personal freedom than under the rule of the Czar. We have accepted the Bolshevist definition of Bolshevism in good faith and tried to discuss it. The trouble is that Bolshevism is not a carry-out of those principles."

Major Simmons urged that the United States immediately send supplies and equipment to Admiral Kolchak. "If you don't make it impossible for Bolshevism to succeed in Russia you will have it here," he declared. "The Germans intend to utilize to the fullest advantage the condition in Russia. They will be prepared the moment peace is signed to overrun Russia economically and establish a commercial union with Russia."

National Buttermilk Day.

Washington, D. C. July 1st.-July 1st is National Buttermilk day. Buttermilk, the United States Department of Agriculture thinks, is one of the best drinks in the world—nutritious, palatable and full of zest and vim. The man who drinks buttermilk regularly and copiously is doing a good term for himself. That is one of the purposes of proclaiming National Buttermilk Day. The other is that the dairy industry in the United States will be encouraged.

Buttermilk Day, it is hoped, will remind many people of this drink, introduce it to others, and be the beginning of a greater consumption of buttermilk that will contribute to the health and happiness of the consumers and, at the same time, help dairy farmers to develop production.

To insure an ample supply of buttermilk, both for homes and for hotels and restaurants on July 1st, the Department of Agriculture requests creameries, milk plants, and other dairy establishments to cooperate in the plan to popularize the drink.

It is pointed out that, while strait buttermilk is an excellent drink, there are a number of delicious combinations. Buttermilk lemonade is obtained by adding the juice of two or three lemons to a quart of buttermilk, with sugar to taste. Buttermilk may be combined with lemon juice, orange juice or eggs and sugar for making frozen dainties.

Aside from its food and beverage qualities buttermilk is said to possess medical qualities. Many physicians prescribe it in the treatment of certain intestinal disorders. The bacteria that brings about the chemical change by which buttermilk is produced is believed by many physicians and bacteriologists to destroy certain other organisms that, in the human body, tend to hasten senility. Many prominent men drink buttermilk regularly as a tonic. One of the most widely known lecturers and writers in the United States drinks buttermilk as regularly as he brushes his teeth and declares that he feels himself getting younger with every glassful.

Marketing Weeds.

The man who has a few sheep on his farm will find them a valuable medium for marketing a considerable portion of the weed crop which seems so prolific this year. In fact, a few sheep, kept in proper proportion to the number of cattle which should be grazed on each acre of pasturage will not only market the weeds, but will not detract from the value of the grazing for the other animals.

Sheep have a valuable place in the Texas farm scheme and time is impressing this important truth upon the farmers.

If you are not now keeping a few sheep talk to your county agent or write to the extension service of the A. and M. College of Texas about their possibilities in their section.

It is futile to lament the lost opportunities while permitting those at hand to be neglected.

The Extension Sheep Specialist will take pleasure in locating and selecting a herd suitable to your conditions as well as help in the solution of other problems regarding the care and production of sheep on the farm.

Editorial Poll For Return of Rails.

New York, June 20.—Public opinion is very strongly in favor of an early return of the railroads to their owners, as shown by the vote of nearly 6,000 editors of daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country. A questionnaire sent to every editor in the country (13,424) brought replies from 5,922, or 44 per cent, and 83 per cent of the editors reported their communities in favor of a resumption of private management.

The questionnaire was conducted on behalf of the Association of Railway executives, and was completed before President Wilson announced in his recent message to congress that the government would relinquish control of the railways at the end of the year.

Editors were asked not to give their personal opinions, but to appraise the sentiment in their communities. The four chief questions were as follows:

1. Does public opinion in your judgment seem to favor the return of railroads to private ownership and operation as soon as this can properly be accomplished?

2. If so, is this opinion in part based on the desire to see competition in service and facilities restored?

3. What is the present sentiment in your community on government ownership and operation of railroads?

4. What has been the feeling regarding the proposal to extend the period of government operation for five years?

On the first question, "Does public opinion in your judgment seem to favor the return of railroads to private ownership and operation as soon as this can properly be accomplished?" 83 per cent voted yes, 11 per cent voted no, while 4 per cent were doubtful and two per cent expressed no opinion.

On the second question, "If so, is this opinion in part based on the desire to see competition in service and facilities restored?" 75 per cent voted yes, 6 per cent voted no, and 5 and 14 per cent doubtful and blank respectively.

On the third question, "What is the present sentiment in your community on government ownership and operation of railroads?" 78 per cent estimated public sentiment as against government ownership, 11 per cent for, with 7 per cent doubtful and 4 per cent blank.

On the fourth question, "What has been the feeling regarding the proposal to extend the period of government operation for five years?" the vote was as follows: Against, 74 per cent; for, 10 per cent; doubtful, 9 per cent; blank, 7 per cent.

That public opinion on the railroad question is not divided on party lines is plain from a study of the vote from the various states. In Texas, for example, although only 3 of the 331 editors replying are Republicans, the number in favor of the return of the roads is 88 per cent considerably higher than the percentage (84 per cent) in the strong Republican state of Pennsylvania.

Tennessee voted 97 per cent as compared with 83 per cent in Maine.

Of the 5,922 replies, 2,052 were from Republican papers, 1,689 from Democratic, and 2,181 independent and scattering.

The writer once heard Secretary of State John Hay say, "The highest victory of great power is self-restraint." The expression is one which America and our Allies in their hour of triumph need to have much in mind. It was the humiliating peace which victory drunk Germany forced on France which, in President Wilson's phrase, has unsettled the pace of Europe for forty years. The military masters of Germany who brought on this war should be severely dealt with, and we should insist upon the establishment of a government in Germany which will not menace the world's safety, but with the German people themselves we can afford to be generous. And such generosity will not only make them content to keep the peace but it will convince them that America is a truer friend of theirs than the war mad Kaiser whose Caesar-like ambition, after four years of bloody sacrifice, has served only to bring them to the brink of ruin.—The Progressive Farmer.

Mrs. H. T. Brooks carried her son, Thelbert, to Lubbock this week for treatment, as he has not been strong since he had flu. They will visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Maurie Lewis, at Ralls, Texas, while away.

Cotton Was Not Treated So Well As Wheat

All over the North and West a most unjust and unfair misunderstanding as to war time wheat and cotton prices seems to prevail. "The government fixed the price of wheat but allowed cotton prices to soar without let or hindrance," is the charge constantly repeated and reiterated by men and papers who ought to know better.

The facts are that after the war began the price of cotton did not advance so much as the price of wheat. The war began on August 1, 1914, and on that date a bushel of wheat was only 6.1 times the price of a pound of cotton. On August 1, 1915, the 6.1 times in wheat's favor had increased to 13.1, while on August 1, 1916 it was 8.5; Aug. 1, 1917, 9.4; and August 1, 1918 7.3.

The first effect of the war was to drive cotton to bankruptcy prices and the government did nothing to relieve the condition, whereas when prices began to rise to a parity with wheat in the fall of 1918, committees were named and given large authority to "stabilize" the price of cotton. A government committee assumed control of the buying for our government and the allied governments, and the threat to fix the price of cotton, if necessary, so discouraged all speculators who were inclined to boost the market that prices dropped until they have since been much lower than what they should be as compared with prices of corn and wheat.

The gist of the whole matter may be given in a very few words:

(1) Cotton, the great staple of the South, fared worse than corn or wheat after the war began. The effect of war on corn and wheat was to boost prices, while the cotton-growing industry is the only national industry either in the agricultural or manufacturing field, which had a whole year's product forced to bankruptcy figures as a result of the war.

(2) Since 1914 wheat prices have consistently remained relatively higher than cotton.

(3) Early in the fall of 1918, when (owing to the almost total loss of the cotton crop in vast drought-stricken areas of the South) cotton prices for a few days became relatively higher than wheat prices, the Government took the situation in hand and took steps which seriously and Southern farmers believe, unjustly, beat down prices.

(4) To say that the government "did not regulate prices," therefore, is manifestly misleading and untrue. Without naming a definite figure, such as was named and guaranteed for wheat, the government did regulate cotton prices in a more pernicious way. It simply prevented prices not only from attaining abnormal levels of profit, but from attaining levels which would make the cotton grower's war profits equal to those of the wheat or corn farmer. In other words, the cotton farmer got the disadvantages with out the advantages of price fixing.—The Progressive Farmer.

Heinie's Dodging "Flies."

Coblentz, May 28.—The doughboys of the Army of Occupation are keeping the Heinies busy dodging hot "flies." There are about ten divisions of the A. E. F. in the Rhineland at present. In the first division alone there is a baseball league of 130 teams, which keeps not less than 2,000 to 2,500 men in actual play a number of afternoon each week. There is also a basketball team for each regiment making not less than eight teams for each division, engaging more than 100 men in play daily.

Savings Campaign Is Boon To Women

The average family in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico is not wealthy enough for the "lady of the house" to have all the little conveniences she wants. Through Thrift and War Savings Stamps, however, the Government has provided a way for the housewife to fit up her kitchen, paint the house, furnish her spare room or embellish the parlor.

Those women who were so wise as to begin saving systematically early in 1918 have nice little sums invested in War Savings Stamps by this time. Eleven War Savings Stamps, some of which cost as little as $4.12 apiece, will buy a first class kitchen cabinet. In many instances, the housewife would not have saved anything to speak of, had it not been for the War Savings Stamps.

Some of the banner Savings Societies in the Eleventh District are in women's clubs or church societies. Women are quick to grasp the benefits from habits of Thrift. Numerous reports have been received at District Headquarters of the Savings Division at Dallas of women who have started in by putting quarters in Thrift Stamps and who have been enabled to buy desired articles to brighten up their homes. As soon as a War Savings Stamp is bought, it begins earning more money. War Savings Stamps are ready money. They are redeemable with accrued interest at the post-office on ten days' notice, but the longer they are held, the more money they make for their holders.

The First Thousand Is Hard To Get

When a man gets $1,000.00 saved up there are always opportunities for a good investment. It is hard to place much less than that. That is why wealthy men who are self-made advise young men to begin early and save the first thousand.

Until we went to war, it was hard to get started toward that $1,000.00 unless at least one dollar could be put away at a time. Small change was restless and acrobatic and kept jumping out of our pockets into somebody else's.

Now, however, there is an easy way to get that first thousand. The answer is Thrift Stamps. They cost only a quarter apiece and can be converted into War Savings Stamps. The Government of the United States backs these War Savings Stamps with a guarantee of 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly. Save and Succeed.

Who Is Best Man To Do Your Work?

The best way to have anything is—do it yourself. The best way to get ahead in the world is—save regularly and invest wisely. Your children may be buying Thrift Stamps but the nickels and dimes and quarters they are able to save won't buy a home or a new automobile or a new cultivator. The money to do that will not be saved—unless you save it.

It's easy enough to save if you do it the W. S. S. way. Quarters planted in Thrift Stamps grow into War Savings Stamps and the interest makes them grow like rain does a summer weed. Save for that happy opportunity. If you're not in a War Savings Society—get in one. Be with the crowd. Save.

Farmers Find Easy Method of Saving

Farmers who are making a habit of getting a few Thrift Stamps every time they market anything from their farms are finding that they are able to save regularly and that they do not miss the small amounts invested. The average farmer in this section of the country depends largely on his "money" crop, which he harvests once a year. Almost every one of them, however, grows something else which he markets at odd times.

An occasional load of hay may be taken into town and sold. The thrifty farmer also plants peas, beans, okra, lettuce, beets or some of the other vegetables which thrive in the Southwest and for which there is a ready market. Butter and eggs form staple articles to be marketed between seasons. By buying just a few Thrift Stamps each time the farm-wagon makes a haul to town, the farmer or his wife is providing a fund which they will be able to turn to good account later on, for when these Thrift Stamps are exchanged for War Savings Stamps, they increase in value automatically, and may always be turned into cash on ten days' written notice to the postmaster, although the longer they are kept the more they earn.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN JUSTICE?

Were you, dear reader, ever on a train or in a hotel, and did you happen to notice some passenger or guest take a little pasteboard box out of his pocket and carefully spit into it? Were you one of those who became frightened and carefully avoided this person, possibly going to the conductor or hotel proprietor and making a vigorous protest against that person being allowed around? We hope not, but if you did not do this you may rest assured that someone else did.

The person who used that sputum cup possibly was a consumptive, but he was being brave enough, sane enough and man enough to do what he knew would protect others from infection from his sputum. Possibly he was not a consumptive but an ordinary citizen with some regard for the rights of others, but we doubt it.

At the very time this (possible) consumptive was taking such care to dispose of his sputum without endangering others, a hundred other people in his vicinity were spitting promiscuously, and incurring no blame. Yet they were spreading the germs of disease—pneumonia, catarrh, influenza, consumption—thick and fast. THINK IT OVER.

I. C. Burgess is building a 26x38 warehouse, adjoining the ice house, and we understand he will conduct a cold storage and commission business on a good big scale. Mr. Burgess has not been in our little city very long, but he has the utmost confidence in her future, and we are glad to see him take the lead in making Brownfield the trade center she deserves to be.

FOR SALE or trade, the Swink lot and two shacks south east of court-house; price $400. Would take a pair of gentle mules if not too old. Mules must be well worth the money. If interested see Roy Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Covey left last week for O'Donnell, where they will visit Mrs. Covey's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hurst, who have been making their home in Colorado for the past year, are moving back to old Terry.

Homer Scott and wife made a trip to Lubbock last week to have some dental work done. Hardly a day passes that we do not hear some one ask for a dentist. Do you know of any hustling young dentist just out of college that wants a good place to start in his profession? If so head him for Brownfield.

Mr. Hogue's team ran away in his field one day last week with one of those long knived weed cutters that he worked four horses to, and one of them got his leg cut off which necessitated his destruction, and another horse was badly cut, and the harness badly torn up. Mr. Hogue said he was nearly done weeding that field that is close to his house, and went to get a drink of water, and he thinks a fly bit one of the young horses and started the runaway. The old family horse that did not want to run was the one that was killed.

W. W. Ditto has purchased the two little mules from W. F. Fenton, and has put them on the dray line, with Ed Spears in charge, and hopes to merit the patronage of the public in general, when in need of any hauling.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin came in this week from Fort Worth. While away Frank purchased several hundred dollars worth of boot making and finishing machinery, material, etc., and is now much better prepared to take care of his fast growing trade. We congratulate this progressive firm on their advancement, and predict for them one of the biggest and best boot making establishments of its kind in the west.

FIVE HORSE Power Gasolene engine and pump jack for sale worth the money, good as new. See E. M. Flemming, Gomez, Texas.

C. N. Vance, formerly of this place, who went over with the 36th, came in this week. He like most of the other boys, has no regrets that he went over to cure the Kaiser of the war fever, but is glad to get back home and has enough of war for a time, anyway.

Experts representing the four great building material industries have compiled statistics showing how war conditions affected the market. Comparison of price variations cover a period of six years. As was expected, the figures show steel far in the lead of other building materials in its climb skyward since 1912, with an advance of 148.5 per cent. Cement is up 55.5 per cent, brick 38.1 per cent, and lumber only 17.07 per cent.

People Should Strike.

A vote announced at Chicago last week from the labor unions of the United States states that the Labor Unions will strike July 1st unless Thomas J. Mooney is freed, which brings us to the conclusion that it is now time for the people to strike. When a few hundred thousand people belonging to a union can set aside the decisions of the Supreme Courts of the United States and say, "right or wrong, our members must not be punished," then it is time for the several hundred millions not belonging to the union to call a halt. God pity a country whose people makes its laws and then let a bunch knock them into a cocked hat.—Miami Chief.

Killed By Lightning

Chas. Burch shipped out six cars of cattle this week to his pastures at Hereford, Texas, that he recently purchased from I. H. Hudson.

W. M. Goldston came in this week from the Burkburnett country where he has been working in the harvest. He says it is sure hot down there, and that it was making nearly all the boys from the plains country sick.

All at once this week our two dray men took the Burkburnett fever, and began to make their arrangements to move down there to work in the oil fields with their teams. All right boys, but don't cut no bridges, as we will have plenty room in our new school building for the children this fall, as we look for you both back by then. ### Body of Talking Ape Brought To Museum.

New York—Nearest approach to man, but with the shape and actions of the ape that he said he had ever encountered during the many years of traveling the jungles, was brought home today by Prof. R. L. Garner of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, when he arrived on the Chicago from Bordeaux. Unfortunately the near man was not alive, but stuffed, and New Yorkers, Philadelphians, and Washingtonians, as well as those from the rest of the country will have to take Prof. Garner's word for it that the thing of which he has the stuffed likeness was actually able to talk, even though it was not exactly in the queen's English.

According to the professor, the near man had a language of its own which Professor Garner readily assimilated after several nights and days spent in the jungles. It was a sort of native jargon and the natives so the professor said today, was able to understand the near-man ape even better than he could himself.

After several nights of patient waiting Professor found that the creature, when calling its mate called out: "Woo hoo?" This, according to the professor, was equivalent for, "Where are you?" The answer invariably came back from the lady near-man ape in the two words "hoo hoo". This, so Professor Garner said, meant "Here I am."

No first names were evidently used by the near-man, and his lady friend, while shouting their greetings through the virginal jungles of the French Congo. It must be remembered that the French equivalent for "where" is "ou" so that the art of the art of the brief exchange of words may possibly be a jungle patois of pure Parasian.

Be that as it may, Prof. Garner was unkind, heartless, ungalant enough to be on the job one night when the near man ape called out his usual "woo-hoo" and answered right off the bat, imitating the lady near man soft voice as best he could, with the "hoo-hoo". Then the foolish near man ape appeared, thinking he was on the right trail and never for a moment thinking a Smithsonian Institute camouflage in the person of the aged professor. One shot was all that was necessary and history repeated itself about Adam and the apple, with Prof. Garner's fake "hoo hoo" as the fruit of temptation.

Professor Garner scoffs at the old missing link theory. He believes that his captive stands distinct in a class by himself. It will be shown to interested Americans at the Smithsonian Institute as soon as it can be mounted there.

Describing the man animal, or animal man, which ever way one so wish to put it, Prof. Garner said it walked like a man, acted like a man, and was about as tall as the average man, about five feet nine inches.

"It wore no clothes of course, not even summer underwear. A smile and a dense growth of hair all over the body was its sole bodily adornment.

On the way from Bordeaux Prof. Garner amused himself by teaching the soldiers who were returning on the vessel "monkey talk."

The doughboys with nothing to occupy their minds on the voyage except to watch the sea, which proved an unwelcome sport at times, soon mastered the intricacies of Prof. Garner's simian efforts, and when the vessel arrived at her pier today were able to understand the babel of voices arising from the group of Longshoresmen perfectly. After the lessons they received from Prof. Garner they should have no trouble in understanding the language used by the elevated subway guards or the train announcers in the principal railway centers."

Fluvanna Man Killed By Justice of The Peace.

Snyder Texas, June 24—On parole from Fort Leavenworth prison, where he had been interned a year for pro German utterances, Joe Stahl, a blacksmith of Fluvanna, was shot to death yesterday by J. F. Dowdy, a justice of the peace.

Stahl reached Fluvanna yesterday morning from Leavenworth. It is declared he started trouble that led to the shooting. Dowdy used an automatic pistol five shots taking effect.

Andy Lee, of Seagraves, who went over with the Ninetieth to make the world safe for democracy, passed through here last week on his way home, having been joined by his wife at Plainview. We repeat, we are so glad to see our boys coming home, though a few will never return, and they will always be considered by free men and women everywhere as martyrs of freedom.

Who Lost

A druggist found a five-dollar bill on his way home from his work; he gave the bill to his wife to do some marketing with next day, the wife gave it to the butcher for meat purposes; the butcher owed the paper man a bill of five dollars, and this bill paid it; the paper dealer, in putting up his pay roll, enclosed the bill in his office boys envelope, the boy took it home and gave it to his mother; needing an umbrella, the mother sallied forth bright and early Monday morning and bought it with the five-dollar note; the umbrella store man on his way home that night, stopped at the store of the druggist who had originally found the five dollar bill, and bought a couple of boxes of candy, handing the druggist the aforesaid bill. After the umbrella dealer had left the druggist made the discovery that the bill was a counterfeit. Up to this point thirty dollars worth of perfectly legitimate debts had been cancelled by one counterfeit five-dollar bill; no one had any kicks coming at all; even the druggist who got "stung" at last remembered that he had found a five dollar bill a few days before and considers that he was even up and no loser.

Now, the question is, who lost—and how? Did any person lose? If not, why not?—Ex.

W. J. Lee, of the Seagraves country was here so early Saturday forenoon trading and attending to business over at the court house, that we thought he stayed here the night before, for we had not been up very long, and we believe yet that he came up on the train.

15,000 Philippine Volunteers.

Manila—Fifteen thousand brown men of the Philippines, many of them descended from Filipinos who fought against the flag in '99, volunteered at the call of Uncle Sam and would have been in France long ago, had not the armistice been signed. They were mobilized at Camp Thomas Claudio, six miles south of Manila, where American troops made ready twenty years ago for the occupation of the city. The Y. M. C. A. huts at Camp Claudio, were built with "sawali" or braided bamboo sides and "nipa" or thatched roofs, and provided all the conveniences enjoyed by soldiers in camps in the United States.

Sunday School sessions conducted by the "Y" were polyglot. Of eleven classes, four were conducted in English, three in tagalog, two in Ilocano, one in Cebuano and one in Illongo. Christian pledge cards printed in all of these tongues were signed by more than 900 men and 1,100 men were registered in Bible classes.
