BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY AUGUST 15, 1919

NO. 5

New Bank Opened For Business Last Saturday

We are pleased to announce to our readers that Brownfield is now well supplied on banks, as we now have two good ones in actual operation.

The First National Bank of Brownfield, Texas, opened its doors for business, Saturday morning, August 9th, at 9 o'clock, under the directing of R. M. Kendrick, formerly the cashier of the First State Bank of Plains, Texas.

Now that we have two banking houses in Brownfield we want to see every Terry County dollar come in home to roost. There has been lots of Terry county dollars laying in the vaults of neighboring town banks for years, and while we do not know that they were staying away for the reason that they had any objection to our home bankers they, they were at least helping out the financial problems of neighboring town just to that extent. No that we have another good bank, bring it back home, and lets all do and say all we can for the upbuilding of the best county, in the best state in the world.

Mr. Kendrick, and in fact most of the other stockholders are too well known locally to need any introduction, but most of them are either citizens of this county or adjoining counties. Enough to say that this new bank is at the service of our citizens and that as a result of the bank, we have added a new family in that of Cashier Kendrick, and it is an estimable one too.

And maybe you have noticed that as a usual thing, banks are the pioneers in the construction of decent houses wherein to do business, and it is the coming of this bank that means more buildings and more homes in Brownfield.

We believe that the Brownfield trade territory is one of the best on the Plains, and will for the next few years develop very rapidly, so that the coffers of both banks will at no great future date be full of the yellow metal.

We welcome the First National to our fine little city, and Mr. Kendrick and family to our community.

Raymond Barrier and wife are in Lubbock this week. We understand that they are on a deal for a store in Plainview, which will give them four stores, Brownfield, Lubbock, Floydada and Plainview.

Grandma Darden left Saturday for the north plains, where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. J. C. Criswell and children of Plains, visited relatives and friends here last week.

Mrs. Walter Scudday and children, left Saturday for Lubbock, where she will visit her mother, Mrs. B. F. Dixon, as the later is fixing to move to El Paso in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dallas were passengers to Lubbock, Saturday, where the latter will undergo treatment at a sanitarium.

Mr. Roy Spires, of Roscoe, Texas, shipped four cars and Jim Brabham, one car of cattle from Seagraves to the Fort Worth market, Saturday.

Russell Stapp, who has been visiting his mother at Plains, Texas, left Saturday for Vernon, Texas, where he is making his home at present.

WANT: Your empty syrup buckets. Will pay you market price for them. T. J. Price, City.

Mrs. N. B. Nesbett, of Colorado, Springs, Col., is here visiting her sister, Mrs. A. M. Crews. They paid the Herald office a pleasant call last Saturday.

Mrs. Chas. Boone ordered the Herald started to her sister Mrs. Van Jones, of Abilene, Texas, as her daughter, Vera is down there visiting her aunt and wants to keep up with all that is going on in Brownfield.

J. M. Shields, our genial station agent renewed for his subscription one day this week.

We went up stairs over the State Bank Building one day this week to have a peep at the new dental office, recently established by Homer H. Hughes, and we wish to say that this hustling young man is putting in a dandy outfit, and is getting prepared to extract 'em so easy and so fast that you won't know when you get back on the street but that you was just up there sweating with him for a few minutes. But what we started out to say was, that when in need of dental work, don't run off to some other town; we have a good dentist right here in Brownfield in the person of Dr. Homer Hughes.

Mrs. Ross Kensie and children, of Lawton, Okla., who have been here visiting her father, S. I. Hunter, left Saturday for her home.

Miss Olga Fitzgerald, of Plainview, has been here this week visiting her friend Miss Mozelle Treadaway. We understand that Miss Fitzgerald will teach the Tokio school the coming term.

Mrs. Long of Abernathy, Texas, who has been here for some time visiting her uncle, Bert Shepherd, of Gomez, left Saturday for her home.

Misses Ina Howard and Era Warren, returned Tuesday from near Seagraves, where they have been visiting Mrs. Eulous Sawyer.

V. E. Hargett, of Seagraves, passed through here Tuesday, on his way to Lubbock, where he went to have some work done on his teeth. You don't have to go that far now, Mr. Hargett.

Jim Lewis left Tuesday for Gorman Texas, where he will visit relatives and look after business matters.

One of the little sons of Dr. Summitt, of Plains, passed through here Tuesday, taking the train here for Gorman Texas, where he will visit. He seemed to be by himself, and although small, seemed to have the utmost confidence in himself, and that he would get there without a hitch. It so happened that Sheriff Jim Lewis, an old friend of the Summitt family was going to the same place, and the little fellow seemed happy to strike up a partner.

Paul Randal and family, of Balmorhea, Texas, came in Monday in a car to pay a short visit to his brother John of this place, whom he had not seen in eighteen years. In fact, as John had not seen his brother since he was a little shaver, he had to be introduced. They left on Wednesday for Seymour, to visit his father and another brother, whom he has not seen in about nine years.

Mill Trammell and John Spear, of the Harris country, shipped two cars of cattle from here on Tuesday.

Mrs. Oscar Jones and Baby, left on Tuesday for Clayton, N. M., where she will visit her parents.

Jack Evans and family, of Oklahoma, are here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Evans.

F. L. Boyd, formerly the County and District Clerk of Yoakum county, but now a ranchman of that Co., happened to the misfortune of getting rattle snake bit Monday. He was rushed to a sanitarium at Lubbock some time during the night, as it was feared that the wound would be serious.

Mrs. Oscar Allen, of Floydada, and children, are here this week visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Kinard, and other relatives.

Clarence Lewis got in Tuesday, some time during the night, from Honolulu, H. I., where he has been doing servie as a coast artilleryman for Uncle Sam for more than a year. He got his discharge before he left, and of course was proud to get back to the States and especially to Terry and Brownfield, and mayhap a pretty maiden in particular. Clarence has half interest in the Sanitary Barber Shop, and of course as soon as he has rested a bit, will be found by his many friends and customers in that shop.

Ezell Huckabee, of Snyder, Texas, is here this week visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lewis. Ezell went over with the 36th division, and was reported killed in action but after the armistice, it was found that he had been captured by the huns, and later was released. He don't seem any worse for the wear at this time, but that isn't saying anything about how he rooked when he got back to his own lines.

There has been a persistent rumor here for the past few days that sure enough oil has been hit at Tahoka, 28 miles east of here, but the report seems to lack confirmation, and we ask our readers to please hold their breath and pocket books till the Herald gets the right dope on the matter

The road crews, are now on the Lubbock road leading out north of town, and in Commissioner H. H. Timmon's district, where they are doing some good work. People who have been over the road lately state that with possibly a few short places our end of the road was already better than the Lubbock end, and with this additional going over, we hope to have our end up in bully shape, and we hope our neighbor to the northeast will also get busy on their end.

We are one day late with the paper this week for about three reasons, among them being the fact that we—the proprietor, publisher and editor—are also the compositor, pressman, job man, solicitor and office cat. Then we have had an unusual run of job work and more trouble with our gasoline engine than Carter had oats, and it is said by old people that Carter had lots of oats. Anyway we are late and it wont do for you to have much to say about it for "we" are all mad.

We noticed that the Lynn County News used the word "immense" in two adjoining locals this last week. Well, what other word can fitly describe the great south Plains and its doings this year. Yet the last "immense" described the size and quantity of weeds on the vacant lots in Tahoka. Well, we have a remedy for that too, Haynes; turn your cows, goats and sheep in on them like we do in Brownfield, and "pronto the monk" or sleight of hand words to that effect, they—the weeds—are all gone.—Terry County Herald.

Tahoka has a stock law. Brother Stricklin, and any time a bovine seeks to devour a few of our weeds, she is quickly run in the "pound" and it costs the owner the sum of $1.00 to obtain her release, and ditto with all other livestock. However, our city is in need of something of this sort to get shot of the "snaky places about the town. Any time you come to Tahoka, let us know in advance, for we can't see very far on account of the "immense" weeds hereabouts.—Lynn County News.

We'll try and signal you from our airplane Bro. Haynes.

We had a letter this week from R. H. Banowsky, stating among other things that they had just spudded in their well, and while he had no hope of being in the John D. class in the next thirty days, he nevertheless had hopes of being real classy, o.k. He also stated that there was nothing standing in his way of returning to old Brownfield as soon as he was done chasing butterflies. Also he says they have a way of sorting out their own mail down there that is left by the carrier in the big office buildings, not unlike the people used to sort it out here before there was a post master in Brownfield.

The three little children of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cobb, of Seminole, who have been here for some time visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bynum, boarded the train Monday for Seagraves, at which place their father was to meet them.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

Of course we only have the sum of three trains each way per week, but we think just as much of those three as some of the big burghs think of their one every fifteen minutes, and probably more. The Ford Car inspector for this State, with headquarters at Dallas, was here this week looking after the interests of the company at this place. Red Tudor, the local manager of that company says that the gentleman made him clean up some junk in the rear of the building, and to remove and repaint some of the signs. Red says it is a pity that all of the business houses in the town hasn't a higher up boss to institute a clean up campaign occasionally, and we are right with Red in his wish. For some of the rears of some of our business houses sure need some attention. Why do so many of us try to fool people that we are decent store keepers, when we just clean up a little in front? Don't we ever suspect that our customers ever go to the rear and see for themselves.

We are printing this week an interesting article from the pen of the former County Judge of this county, Geo. W. Neill, and hope it will be appreciated by our non-resident readers. He is having several thousand copies of it printed and aims to distribute them out to people in the oil fields around Gorman, Texas, and try to get some of the farmers who have made a fortune there in oil to come to Terry. We hope he will send a car load every day. We need 'em.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and daughter, Lillian, and Mrs. Coston and Miss Jewell Hudson, of Cooper, Texas, are here visiting their relatives, the families of Dr. Treadaway and Will Adams.

A deal was consummated this week wherein O. T. Halley became the owner of the H. H. Longbrake residence and five acres of truck and orchard plats on Lovers Lane. We did not learn the consideration. In conversation with Mr. Longbrake, he informed us that he will either build or buy outright, but that with other business to look after, he did not have time to look after so much territory. This is one of the most desirable trucking places in the city.

One of the biggest town property deals in the history of the town was pulled off this week through the real estate firm of W. A. Wooley & Co., when Will Alf Bell became the owner of the Hill Hotel which carries with it two lots on one of the most valuable corners in town. In the deal J. R. Hill, who has owned the property since the town was established, gets $6,500.00. Of course the improvements do not amount to very much, but Mr. Bell has some very valuable lots.

R. W. and Ed. Baird, and latter's son, and a siser, Miss Baird of Canyon, Texas, brothers and sisters of Mrs. A. B. Bynum; also Misses Lola and Brucie Bladley, her cousins, of Hereford, have been here visiting the Bynum family.

We learn with sadness that Mr. Mangum, an honored citizen of the Tokio country, passed away about eleven o'clock, Wed. night, after a long seige of suffering. More next week about the deceased.

Oscar Covey was here this past week from the oil fields around Cad-do Texas, where he and a brother-in-law are conducting a grocery business.

F. F. Risinger, of southwest Terry was in this week after supplies, and informed us that he was fortunate enough to have another good crop this year. Mr. Risinger is one of the best farmers in the county,

You know the Herald mentioned an especially fine little crop of 320 acres a few weeks ago, and since that time we have learned that it belonged to C. O. Bergman, one of our farmers that always does things on a large scale. We asked him one day this week how he aimed to harvest that much crop, but we got no satisfactory answer. It is a lot easier to make than to gather in this country.

Mr. H. C. Green, of Whitesboro, Texas, who has been here for some time looking after his property interests, left Saturday for home. He employed his nephew, Homer Scott to erect a residence for him on the place and he and family may move out here. Anyway there is another place for settlement in old Terry county, and every little bit helps.

Miss Arline Maupin, of Post City, who has been here visiting her cousin Albert Darden and other relatives, left for her home Tuesday. However, we thought at one time that she had been visiting our two most popular bachelors, Dockey Powell and Yon Yohnson, as they accompanied her to the depot. But, you understand that appearances don't always pan out just right.

Mrs. Lee Almon left last Saturday for her home in Floyd county, after a ten days visit here with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Gracey. Her daughter, Carman will remain here for a few weeks.

She'd Kill the Kid

The Rev. M. M. Beavers gave a very strong plea for the careful raising of the child, during the exercises of the Cradle Roll Day at the Methodist Church, Sunday, and illustrated the object lesson as to the way some people want to kick children out of the way, with a story of a Canadian lady, and the story had a most remarkable climax.

The Canadian lady's husband, a Santa Fe man, was transferred to Amarillo temporarily and she went there to secure an apartment of two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. They have one small child. The lady secured a list of such places for rent and spent a weary day visiting offices and climbing flights of stairs, always to be confronted with the question: "Have you any children?" "Well, we can't admit people with children." Nothing for you."

At last worn out physically and frazzled mentally by such a situation she visited the last place and the last chance to secure rooms in Amarillo; she was greeted by the usual question by the gentleman who had the rooms: "Have you any children?"

"Yes," she replied fiercely, "but I'll kill it. I have walked this town over from one end to the other, and this is my last chance; I MUST have the rooms to live in and if the baby absolutely stands between me and living, I'll have to kill it."

"Forgive me, madam," the man replied, "I didn't realize what the question meant before. I'll never ask it again. You are welcome to the room."—Canadian Record.

We have been informed that Clyde Lewis awarded the material bill for the construction of the Dalton Lewis residence to the R. H. Kemp Lumber Co., this week. The bill amounted to about $4,000.00. To our readers who do not know Mr. Dalton Lewis is a son of our esteemed townsman, R. R. Lewis and wife, and a brother to our popular sheriff. Until the last year, Mr. Lewis was a farmer of just average circumstances—just a good liver—as the old saying goes, but it so happened that his farm lay in the new giant oil field, now known as Desdemonia, but before the oil boom, it was just plain old "Hogtown" and it promises to rival either Ranger or and his estimable family, will say he

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

TERRY COUNTY

By Geo. W. Neill, Brownfield, Texas.
(County Judge For Ten Years)

Situation: Terry county is situated in the big middle of the great South Plains of West Texas; forty miles southwest from Lubbock; 90 miles southwest from Plainview, on a branch of the Santa Fe railroad, connecting with the main line at Lubbock. The county is also crossed by and is the junction of two Continental Auto Highways from north and east to Roswell and El Paso. The county is 30 miles square and contains 900 sections of land, none of which are waste except four sections on which are some mineral lakes which may prove to be most valuable as a large company is now developing them for potash and other chemicals.

Topography: The county is generally level prairie country, though slightly undulating gentle rises and scattered basins small in area with two or three dry draws similar to small creeks, none of them waste. There are no mountains, hills, roughs brakes or streams.

Vegetation: The country is covered with a solid turf with over 20 varieties of native grasses, many of which can be found together, and many of them seeding grasses, and all of them eatable by live stock, but mostly mesquite and gramma grass, reaching heights of a few inches to a foot, carrying cattle and other live stock to late winter without feed. Mesquite bushes of small sizes are scattered in places and some scattered spots of post oak shinnery and cat claw bushes. All but the mesquite can be plowed through and cultivated without grubbing.

Soil: The soil generally is a red loam; however it ranges from hard mesquite tight land to a deep red sand. No hard pan land. The tight land is noted for its solid turf of mesquite grass, feed stuffs and cotton; the sand for its corn, fruits, melons and vegetables. There is what is known as a "half breed" between the hard and sand land that makes a splendid blend of soil for general farming. The soils are spotted in small areas so that almost all sections have some of each, though many sections can be had all of one kind of land. The soil is from 4 to 18 inches deep then under layed with rich clay. Much of the top soil is decayed vegetation very fertile and productive of any crops know to Texas; on account of its level, loamy condition seems to tank up the water from rains, thus not requiring much and holds its moisture through drouth.

Crops: The crops most generally grown are Indian and June corn, maize, kaffir, feterita, sorghum, and kindred feed stuffs and cotton. Apples, peaches, grapes, melons, and all vine varieties do extra well, are excellent. Gardens are unsurpassed in Texas.

I make this personal statement, that I have lived in Terry county the past fourteen years, coming from Central Texas, and have visited Central Texas often during the time, and will readily make an affidavit that the crops in Terry county during each and every year of the above time were equal if not superior to those of Central Texas in quantity and quality per acre and per year.

Livestock raising is engaged in successfully on both large and small scales. Cattle of which practically all are high grade Herefords do exceptionally well. Mules, horses, hogs, and poultry are raised extensively. Many stock farmers preserve their crops in silos, many using underground silos successfully and economically. One man usually cultivates 100 acres and more, using cultivators, and plows the crop from one to three times, there being no grass or weeds after once put in cultivation.

The average yield of crops are one half to one bale of cotton per acre, one to two tons of headed grain, 25 to 30 bushels of corn, on an average of $10 to $20 per acre. This county has taken several first and second premiums on its products at the Dallas and Amarillo fairs.

Climate and Water: Good, pure, cold water can be had all over the county at depths of from 80 to 125 feet in inexhaustible supplies, and brought up by windmills that run all the year, except a few days of still weather. A gentle breeze blows almost all the time, sufficient to turn a windmill. One windmill and well will furnish water for several thousand head of cattle. The ever flowing stream of cool water is not only good for livestock but a healthful and useful and refreshing adjunct to the household.

The winters are no more severe than Central Texas, though possibly a little more windy, but are dry and harmless. The springs are usually dry and windy, making crops late, but the summers and autumns are so pleasant, agreeable and healthful one soon forgets the past. The summer rains bring the crops through to an abundant yield. No more pleasant place in Texas than the Plains in summer and fall.

The rainfall has been sufficient for the past several years has been sufficient for the grass for cattle and the average crops.

Population: There are about 3000 people in the county, all white and Americans; no negroes or Mexicans. Good country schools are in reach of every community that average 8 months each year, as we have a large permanent school fund. Brownfield the county seat, has about 1000 population and a splendid high school, with a new $30,000.00 school building now under construction. There are four church organizations and buildings—Methodist, Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian; two banks, stores, telephone connections, four lumber yards, large $15,000.00 gin completed last year, and an up-to-date weekly newspaper.

Land Values. The lands are divided into one-fourth, one-half and whole sections, and can be had in tracts as high as twenty sections. Many three to six section ranches, well improved, watered, fenced etc, making splendid ranches and stock farms. These are priced from $12.50 to $35.00 per acre, depending on improvements and proximity to town schools etc., the titles to all which are straight and short having been protected from the beginning.

General: The people are intelligent, hospitable, accomodating, enterprising and modern; came here to build home and make a country that is worth living in, and have about succeeded. The society is clean, clever and polite. Terry county now in existence fifteen years has never had a murder. District Court seldom holds more than three days. The tax rates are among the lowest in the State; good roads all through the county. Have no malaria, fever, mesquitos nor the sufficating heat of the east being 3200 feet above sea level.

For the purpose of business, making a living, raising a family or "just living" we had much rather be here than any place in Texas off the Plains.

Terry county received no drouth relief last year, other than purchases on time; some seed in 1917 all of which has been repaid and she shipped two car loads of seed the winter of 1918-19 to eastern counties. Terry county SHIPPED OUT in the fall of 1918 (a dry year) over 25 cars of good corn, about forty of headed maize, kaffir, etc, 20 of baled feed stuff and over 700 bales of cotton, and has several times that amount this year. While the people of Terry county felt the effects of the recent drouth they did not suffer the want or have the total failures that was the regrettable fate of many counties east of us.

It may be difficult for some people to believe these favorable claims, but a short visit to the county will satisfy the most skeptical.

To reach Brownfield by train, come via Lubbock, thence by auto mail line or train. To come overland from the east, come via Post City and Tahoka. From the north via Lubbock.
