VOL. 15.

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY FEBRUARY 5, 1920

NO. 29

ANNOUNCEMENTS

JOE J. MCGOWAN

We are pleased to be able to announce to the voters of Terry County that Hon. Joe J. McGowan is in the race for the nomination subject to the Democratic Primaries in July, for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio Superintendent of our county schools. Joe is too well known here to need any lengthy recommendation from us, other than to say that he is regarded as one of the most brilliant young lawyers of this part of the country, is a business man of no mean ability, and is regarded almost universally for his integrity and manly bearing. We believe him every way well qualified for the office he is seeking, and we ask that you give his candidacy the consideration that it deserves.

R. E. (Redge) BURNETT

Here is another old timer among the old timers that wants the office of Sheriff and Tax-Collector of Terry county, and he hereby enters the race for the nomination to the office subject to the Democratic primary on the 24th day of July, 1920. Redge Burnett has been in the county as long as most any of them and has always stood for law and order. As a business man he has made a success in life, and has been a moving factor in the upbuilding and advancement of this county from the frontier stage to its present stage. He served his people two terms as commissioner of precinct No. 2, and served them well. We ask that you give his candidacy due consideration before making up your ballot.

J. A. (Curley) GAMBLE

Subject to the action of the July primaries, Jim Gamble is asking for the important office of Public Weigher for the town of Brownfield, and promises if he gets the office that he will try to sustain the same rep as he has made for himself as an automobile mechanic, and most people here for whom he has worked in this capacity, are ready to swear by him as a "fix-em-all" in a garage, and he will no doubt do the same thing in weighing produce, giving both sides a square deal. Therefore we ask that you give his candidacy your full consideration.

AN IDEAL SON.

The fussy old gentleman turned to his chance traveling companion: "Have you any children?"

"Yes, sir; a son."

"Ah, indeed! Does he smoke?"

"No, sir; he has never so much as touched tobacco."

"So much the better, sir; the use of tobacco is a pernicious habit. Does he frequent clubs?"

"He has never put his foot in one."

"Permit me to congratulate you. Does he ever come home late?"

"Never. He goes to bed directly after dinner."

"A model young man, sir; a model young man. How old is he?"

"Just six months."—Ex.

J. W. Smith and family of Ralls, Texas, arrived in town Sunday, on their way to Gomez, where they will reside in the future. This family formerly resided in old Terry, and have never been real well satisfied until they got back. This is an excellent family and we heartily welcome them back to old Terry.

STRAYED: A Hereford bull, three years old, branded "J" and a "H" connected. Reward of $10. for his return. J. J. Head, City.

Thomas Bingham, one of the champion corn raisers of old Terry, gives us the price of his paper and for his land lord's Herald, one day recently.

R. O. Wilson got in the latter part of last week with a car of fine Jersey milk cows.

W. J. HASTINGS DEAD

W. J. Hastings, formerly of Okla., but more recently of the Ralls country, passed away about 4:30 p. m., the 2nd inst., at the family residence in the west part of town. He was 58 years of age and was born in Ark.

Mr. Hastings has been in poor health for more than a year, and has been confined to his room most of the time he has been in Brownfield, with heart disease, which resulted in death, after a deep stupor Monday afternoon from which he never did rally. The family has been here about two months.

He was a good man and a fine neighbor, and was a member of the Church of Christ. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor of the Baptist church, and the body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery.

He leaves a wife, three boys and four girls to mourn his departure, and this grief stricken widow and children have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

SOLVING THE PAPER PROBLEM.

Greater importations of paper and pulpwood from Canada and increased production in the West, where there are still extensive stands of suitable forests, would prove to be but temporary solutions of the paper problem, according to the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In the long run the country must solve the problem on the basis of a permanent wood supply. There are two ways, requiring a constructive national policy, of permanently solving the question. They are, first, regeneration of our forests on a more productive basis, and second, the greater utilization of mill waste for paper making.

WHEN WILL THEY QUIT CUSSING THE SAND?

Train load after train load of cattle from Montana and Wyoming are being shipped into this and adjoining counties to winter. A severe drouth has been raging on the ranges of those states this year, and many would have starved if not shipped to good ranges.—Terry County Herald.

Yes and there are several thousand head of aged steers near Seminole from far off Canada. Some people will continue to cuss the sandy loam of the South Plains, but we notice when they get up against a drouth or a blizzard they come as stright to the sand as they can. It is a long way from Wyoming, Montana and Canada, but we have what they are looking for.—Seminole Sentinel.

ABILENE ALSO HAS A MOONSHINE STILL.

All other sections of Texas have been reporting finding stills and moonshine whisky until it looked like Abilene was a back number. She just had to get in line, so Assistant Chief Felix Raines and some other local officers rigged up a raid and were enough discovered a small still in the edge of darktown last week. They found the still, the corn mash and the various ingredients and articles, and also some of the real stuff and we are still worrying about what they did with the last named article.—Taylor County Times.

BARN OF J. C. POWERS DESTROYED BY FIRE

J. C. Powers, who resides north of town, had the misfortune to loose his large barn by fire Wednesday morning about 3:00 o'clock. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Powers had butchered Tuesday and as a portion of the meat was missing, it is supposed that the same person or persons committed both acts. The live stock was rescued, but the harness, feed and a brand new Ford car was destroyed.

A Substantial purse was presented him by his friend, Wednesday.—Lynn County News.

Red Tudor informed us this week that he had let the contract to a Lubbock contractor for a 50x100 garage one-half block west of the public square on Hardin street, to be built of brick, and work to start in the next thirty days if possible. He informed us also that a balcony to contain four rooms would be built in the front end, and he and wife would occupy these and besides saving rent he would always be near his work, and could give his customers the very best of service. We congratulate this hustling firm and we hope in the next few days to be able to announce the erection of several new bricks on the west side of the square. In fact a hen is on now.

FINE "GRIDIRON" AT COBLENZ

American Soldiers Stationed There Have Facilities for Almost Every Kind of Sport.

Elaborate preparations were made at Coblenz, Germany, for the football season. Grounds and stadiums which were only partly finished a year ago have been made permanent playing fields, and many of them compare favorably with the best college gridirons in the United States.

The most elaborately finished ground is in Coblenz, known as "Carnival Island." It was on this ground that the Third Army championships were decided last season, but the ground at that time was not in as good condition as it is today. Neither were there proper facilities, such as dressing rooms.

At this island there are now two regular baseball fields, two football fields, a golf course of nine holes, a polo ground, a quarter-mile cinder track, with 220 yard straightaway, and outdoor basketball courts. On another part is a ring for horse shows and nine tennis courts.

Suitable bleachers to accommodate 5,000 spectators have been built, and there also are a large number of properly equipped dressing rooms with showers, rubbing tables and store rooms.

Not only at Coblenz are there grounds available for the soldiers, but at Andernach, Montabaur, and Neuwied the old grounds left by the A. E. F. have been taken over by the Y. M. C. A. and enlarged and remade in every particular.

PROBABLY THOUGHT A LOT

But really, Under the Circumstances, There Was Nothing the Actor-Manager Could Say.

The late Oscar Hammerstein, who had a genius for advertising his theatrical enterprises, used to tell a story about an English actor-manager's attempt to follow his example.

"My conferee," Mr. Hammerstein would say, "was having a new theater built in London. Casting about for some good way to advertise it, he decided that an admirable scheme would be to have the workmen while excavating for the foundation come across Roman antiquities. So he stole down to the operation at dead of night and deposited a number of costly, genuine Roman antiquities just below the surface of the spot being excavated.

"The next morning he arrived in haste to hear the news of the great find and report it to the journals. Seeing that the men had already dug well below his hidden treasure, he said:

"Good morning, foreman. Anything interesting this morning?"

"No, sir, not a thing, sir," the foreman answered.

"The actor-manager looked at the bulging pockets of the workmen and said nothing. What could he say?"

Scaw Fell Pike.

Scaw Fell Pike, Cumberland's mountain summit, is to be the property of Englishmen in perpetuity. The highest hill of England is the very noble gift made by Lord Leonfield to the men of Cumbria who fought in the war, and as a token of gratitude to those who gave their lives for the cause of the world's liberty. Truly a gift in the spirit of Ruskin and one which causes the Manchester Guardian to utter deepest appreciation—a gift, it says, through which "even we common people may get a momentary entry into the ecstasies of the poets and see the earth and everything in it mystically appared with the glory and the freshness of a dream." Scaw Fell Pike has the venerable distinction of being among the most ancient mountains of Europe, outdistancing the Alps in point of years.

Sh'fting Misery.

C. Winslow, a Terre Haute business man, recently went back to his hometown for a visit. While there he met an elderly village character, in the street. The man was bent and complaining. "Why, how are you?" began Mr. Winslow, genially.

"Not very well, fact I'm pretty poorly," whined the man. "You see I have the most terrible misery here," and he indicated his stomach.

"But I thought it was in your neck when I was home last," Mr. Winslow commented.

"Yes, it was there then," the man agreed, "but you see since then I swallowed that misery and it's been in my stomach ever since."

Boom in Lobsters.

Very extensive lobster catches are reported off the eastern coast of Canada. Recently the boats were taking these faster than the factories could pack them. The catch was divided over the various canning factories. One boat, belonging to a well-known fleet, took as many as 4,400 fish. A resident of Escuminac reports that he put 9,000 live lobsters, which he was unable to pack at the time, into a boat which he had transformed into a cage, and sunk it in order to keep the fish alive until such time as he could use them.

Chinese Trade.

The Foochow branch of the American Association of China was recently formed. The new organization will largely care for American commercial interests, which are rapidly expanding in the Foochow consular district, and will take the place of an American chamber of commerce, the number of local Americans being too small to support a chamber of commerce.

Father of Whist.

The modern game was evolved by Edmond Hoyle, who died 150 years ago. He wrote a treatise on whist which ran into five editions in a year, and achieved such fame as a coach to whist players that Byron once exclaimed: "Troy owes to Homer what whist owes to Hoyle."

Fertilizers in the Netherlands.

One source of the demand for fertilizers in the Netherlands that one is apt to overlook is the fairly extensive reclamation of waste land. The process of dyking and draining that has won large sections of the country from the sea and its culmination in the project to drain the greater part of the Zuider Zee are well known.

There is lots of flu in town, though much milder than last year. There are several pneumonia cases in town and in the country.

By authority of Secretary, W. F. Stewart, we are authorized to print this notice of a call meeting of the local Farmers Institute for Sat. Let there be a good attendance of farmers, and by the way, let each business house in town have at least one representative on hand. Show the old farmer that his interests are your interests. We business and professional men can't live without them.

Miss Lillie Mae Price returned to Lubbock, last Friday and will re-enter a sanitarium, where she has before been engaged as a trained nurse.

One of our grocerymen that got a delivery car burned up in the recent fire, Pat Brothers, returned last week from Paducah and Quanah, and he informed us that he succeeded in getting another jittney at the other place and in the meantime will deliver the groceries on his pleasure car. He reports good crops in that country and that the people are prosperous and in good spirits.

BROKE ALL MULISH RECORDS

If Animal Committed Suicide He Is the First of His Tribe Thus to Shuffle Off.

We are not prepared to accept without mental reservation the story from Brooklyn, that a mule, perhaps an ex-service mule, committed suicide by plunging through the plate-glass front of an undertaker's office, after imbibing freely of 2.75 per cent beer. We know the mule; have known him from an early age, and we know the decimal stuff that passes for beer. That is to say, we have heard about it. No self-respecting mule—particularly if he came from Missouri—would drink 2.75 in the first place, and in the second place, if he did drink it it would not go to his head. It might go to his legs, his hindlegs, which are naturally of a nervous temperament, and likely to reach out at any time. We can imagine no better way to put a "kick" in the brew than by first putting the brew in a mule.

The average mule is looking for an excuse for kicking, anyway. Feed him up on the beer of commerce and he the rest to his natural predisposition. He will register disgust in the obvious way.

And then again mules never commit suicide. We have heard of men committing suicide by twisting the mule's tail, but the hybrid himself is much in love with life. There's even a rumor in the South and Southwest that mules never die; that, barring accidental dissolution, they live forever. Be that as it may, we do not recall that we ever saw a mule suffering from age, or that was feeble in his right hind shoe. —New York Morning Telegraph.

MAGIC IN GOLD AND HUMOR

How Happy Combination of the Two Put End to "Run" on Famous English Bank.

A story is told, with some reservation, by a London paper, concerning the grandfather of the well-known Quaker peer, Lord Peckover. The story goes that, during a run on the bank of which he was a principal, at one time known as that of Gurney, Peckover & Co., he exhibited a little of the magic of gold and humor.

full of gold, surmounted by a peck measure, also filled with sovereigns. "You see," he explained to the depositors anxious to draw their balances, "that there is enough money for you all, and a peck over!" This is said to have terminated the run. Such is the magic of gold, and of humor. One feels by no means certain that stacks of "fivers" would have achieved the same happy result. Or, to revert to the time of George III, when the sum of twopence was represented by a solid two-ounce coin, would a large pile of these weighty "cartwheels" have allayed the fears of the small depositor? No! Not even a ware houseful!—Christian Science Monitor.

Hope Not All Abandoned.

Miss Threeyears was watching the grizzly bear in his new cage to the northwest of the lion house. A recently constructed chain of bear and other animal cages there has added immensely to the attraction of the place.

Somebody threw the old grizzly a peanut, and then another, but both nuts hit the bars and fell just outside the cage. The bear reached his paw through and tried to scoop the tempting nuts in, but his long, yellow claws seemed to be in his way.

He had to use his claws as a sort of rake, and the spaces between the prongs of his rake proved too wide, so the peanuts slipped through.

Miss Threeyears was most sympathetic. The poor bear couldn't get his peanuts. But there was yet hope. The keeper would be around shortly with the bear's dinner, and then—

"Maybe he can get it with a fork or a 'poon," she said.—Washington Star.

Didn't Work Out Right.

A languid swell was visiting a charming young society lady, and as they sat on either side of the fire his heart was full of the burning desire to say something not only complimentary, but brilliantly flattering. So, after revolving the matter in his mind, he said: "Ah, Miss Lillie, why are those fire-tongs so like me?"

He meant her to guess, or ask him to tell her, "because they were prostrate at her feet," or something of that kind.

Miss Lillie, looking solemnly demure, said she didn't know, unless it was because they had two thin legs and a brass head.

He was groping blindly for the front door before she had recovered from the shock of her own volley.

"The Woman Who Fed London."

One of the most interesting figures brought into the limelight of publicity during England's great railway strike was Miss E. M. Hopwood, now called "the woman who fed London." Miss Hopwood was secretary to a large commercial firm in the north of England, and her business ability was so well recognized that when the ministry of food was organized, she was called to the service of the government. She scored such success in her emergency warwork that she was appointed at the beginning of the railway strike as food distributing officer for the whole metropolitan area.

Depends on the Result.

"Don't you admire determination in a man's character?"

"That depends. If it brings success I praise it as splendid perseverance, if failure, I denounce it as confounded obstinacy."—Boston Transcript.

Flowers in Greenland.

Greenland, it seems, is a place of flowers as well as of ice, reports Gas Logic. Botanists have counted 120 specimens of flowering plants, growing in the land of the Smith sound Eskimo, on its northwest coast.

A Mild Call.

"I don't mind you writing gush letters in office hours," explained her employer, "but the management of the building complains that you put so much love in them that they block up the mail chute."

Pacific Coast Line.

The United States, with its islands, has a greater Pacific coast line than any other nation, possibly equal to those of China and Japan combined, says Gas Logic.

A Poser.

Priscilla postcards a little problem: "What becomes of a man's word when he won't keep it and no one else will take it?"—Boston Transcript.

When They Growl.

No one considers the high cost of pleasure, but after the dancing they growl when the fiddler asks for pay. —Atlanta Constitution.

Hide Italian Crown Jewels.

Brownfield is seriously handicapped in growth and development because of a shortage of homes.

Many families are living in camped quarters or hunting a place to live.

We overheard two people talking recently, and they were not making any secret of their conversation: one had recently sold his holding in this county and seemed to be on his way back to one of the old states, where he claimed that people were getting rich, sighting for instance that some of the old Confederate soldiers were just now getting back what they lost during the civil war. The other man informed him that he had made a trip during the summer through the old Southern States, but that he found their broken land very high as he thought, and that he had visited Central Texas to look for a home, and found that they were rained out and all of them talking of moving to west Texas. He therefore decided to return to west Texas and Terry Co. to be exact, and buy every foot of land that he could possibly handle. He did so. He bought a section of good land in the early fall, and has already cleared more than $2,000.00 on one-half of it. That also reminded us of another conversation. One remarked that the county was sure full of strange people who had bought homes here. The other fellow was a new commer and his answer was a hummer. He said: Yes the county is full of two classes of people, a well pleased set of recent purchasers and some other fellows that had sold their homes and did not know what in the world to do now.

THE EDITOR ANSWERED

In the beginning of this glad new year, as the delinquent list is being scanned, bills rendered the raising of advertising rates contemplated, and our tale of woe against the cost of paper, wages, et cetera, we hope none of our patrons will strike back with a letter similar to the one received by a local newspaper in the state of Pennsylvania, as follows:

"Dear E' tor—Your bill for the last subscription received and I for the following reasons, am unable to send you a check just now: I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, flattened out and squeezed, first by the United States Government for federal war tax, the excess profit tax, the Liberty Loan Bonds, the capital stock tax, auto tax, merchant's license, brokers' license and by every society and organization that inventive mind can invent to extract what I may or may not possess.

"The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined, re-examined, required and commanded so I do not know who I am or why I am here.

"All I know is I am supposed to be an exhaustable supply of money for every human need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg borrow and steal money to give away I have been cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, robbed and nearly ruined, and the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what in hell is going to happen to the Democratic party in 1920."

(Signed) I. O. Everyone.

Mrs. A. W. Endersen and baby returned from a short visit to Lubbock, last week.

ONLY ONE PRIVATE GOT D. S. M.
554 OFFICERS.

Representative Gallivan in a statement issued January 14 declared only one enlisted man had been awarded a distinguished service medal, while 554 officers and 33 civilians had been given this decoration.

"Let it be forgotten," said Mr. Gallivan's statement, "that the act creating the distinguished service medal abolished the certificate of merit, the oldest decoration of the American army which was for enlisted men only.

"I do not care to comment upon the figures which I append. It certainly is illuminating."

The figures quoted showed the following distribution of distinguished service medals: Generals, 3; lieutenant generals, 2; major generals, 69; brigadier generals, 12; colonels, 265; lieutenants, 3; chaplains, 43; sergeants, 1; corporals, none; privates, 1; civilians, male, 25; civilians female, 8.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

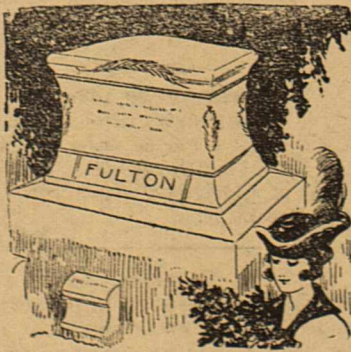

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui. . .

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. . . I decided I would try Cardui. . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

When in Lubbock---

STOP AT THE

Santa Fe Hotel

I am going to cater especially to the people of Terry and Yoakum counties. I want them to have the good service they've been used to at home when they come to Lubbock and at a reasonable price.

GUS RANDOLPH, Prop.

you consider the cost to you in the future, of the penalties for delay.

I shall not again face the people of Texas with excuses for text-book shortages. My advise to the schools next fall will be to the effect that if their books have not been delivered in time for the opening of school their best course will be to take immediate measures for legal proceedings.

If you have the faintest idea of what I have endured during the past six months, or the slightest notion of the increase of work which the delays have caused in my department, you cannot but feel that I am justified in my attitude in regard to next year and future years. The present plan of distribution from one shipping point has not been successful in the past, and we have no cause to suppose that it will be so in the future.

If you are willing to join a different plan to be arranged with me through your representatives, at a meeting in my office, I shall be glad to call such a meeting. If not I shall consider the matter closed until I can get desired changes in the present law; but I shall expect no more delays in text-book deliveries.

I wish to call your attention to the use of teachers employed in the schools, as book agents, and the practice of attempts of employes of book companies to act as teacher-placing agencies. There are few who have followed these policies, but their actions have caused criticism and discord.

Assuring you of my desire to cooperate with you for the good of Texas schools, I am

Respectfully yours,
Annie Webb Blanton,
State Superintendent."

MISS BLANTION GIVES PUBLISHERS NOTICE

"Gentleman:—One half of the scholastic year has passed and many orders for free text books for Texas schools still remain unfilled. It is useless to tell me that a sufficient supply of your text books is in the state, so long as this condition exists. I understand fully the adverse conditions under which you have, this year, attempted to carry out your contracts. I have explained these conditions to the people of my state, both through the newspapers and in public addresses. I have patiently the abuse heaped upon me as a result of the inconveniences to which pupils and teachers have been subjected. I wish now to suggest to you that you make sure that there shall be no repetition, next fall of the delays from which we have suffered this year, or that if you cannot fill your contracts promptly next year, you give them up and let us purchase text-books elsewhere.

It is true that our schools in sending in requisitions for books. I had no law by which to compel prompt action. But it is also true that we waited patiently during three months of delay, before making urgent demands upon you.

This year I shall enforce rigidly the law in regard to promptness in making requisitions. I expect then to demand that each school shall have its books before its opening day. I would respectfully suggest to you that you begin NOW to send to our state a supply of your books sufficient to meet demands. Do not wait till August to forward shipments.

Investigations of mine as to condition in the past show that delays in supplying text-books by the opening of the schools have been of frequent occurrence. My opinion is that delays will continue to hamper our schools, so long as distribution is attempted through one state depository. In any of our large cities car shortage and congestion at our freight and express offices will cause delay when vast numbers of books are to be shipped within a short time. The adoption of five different shipping points in many sections of the state us to avail our selves of more car space and five times as many freight and express offices with their additional forces of handling books. Most of the book companies pay the the cost of book distribution on a percentage basis. This plan would probably result in little or no increase in expense to you, and in the end might be more economical, if Elmer Roberts, wife and mother, Mrs. J. A. Roberts, of Coahoma, Texas, were here this week visiting their aunt and sister, Mrs. A. J. Stricklin. While here Mr. Roberts accepted a position with the Brownfield State Bank as bookkeeper and he and wife will move back in the next ten days.

One of our prosperous farmers left a nice big ear of red corn in the Herald office Sat. while we were out, with this note: "Take this home and feed your old poor chickens." And we did.

MORGAN NOT ALWAYS HARD

Great Financier Proved He Had Kindly Heart as Well as a Keen Business Mind.

There is no better test of a man's bigness than his way of handling subordinates who make mistakes.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the elder, had a clerk who, living beyond his means, sought to make up the balance through speculation; and, having failed, helped himself to the firm's money.

The culprit was called into Mr. Morgan's private office.

He expected arrest. Instead he was told to go home and tell his wife all about it. "And tomorrow morning," said Mr. Morgan, "see me again."

The clerk obeyed, and Mr. Morgan, to the young fellow's amazement, handed him in bills the full amount of his peculation—$5,400—with: "Put that back where you took the other from. It is a loan from me, and I expect you to return it as soon as you can. None of the other clerks know anything about it. Let me see if you can't be a man."

After many months the youngster restored to Mr. Morgan the last dollar of the debt.

After counting the pile of bills on his desk, to which he had added those just given him, Mr. Morgan observed: "Well, my boy, it was a bit harder saving it than losing it. I'll warrant. Now take it home and give it to your wife. It's a safe bet that she saved most of it."—Boston Post.

One Car to 24 Persons.
There is a motor vehicle in the United States for every 24 persons; in Canada the proportion is probably one to each 50; in England, one to 200; in Denmark, one to 300, and in France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Germany about one to every 400, says the Compressed Air Magazine, New York. In 1917 it was estimated that Italy had one car to each 1,000 of population; Portugal to each 1,600, Spain to each 1,900, Austria-Hungary, to each 2,650, and Russia to each 5,000. In Australia there was one for each 140 of population, and in South America, as a whole, one for each 1,430.

Many a minor city in the United States has more cars than the whole of China or Japan.

Origin of Names of States.

Connecticut is an Indian name meaning "Long River;" Maine is regarded as of French origin from the province of Maine; Massachusetts is an Indian word meaning "Place of Great Hills;" New Hampshire is English, coming from Hampshire county, England; Vermont is French, Vert Mont, meaning "Green Mountain." With reference to Rhode Island there is a difference of opinion, some claiming that it was named for the island of Rhodes and others for a prominent settler named Rhodes.

London's Housing Problem.

The London housing board has inspected 2,000 houses that may be converted into flats. Of these 1,000 have been approved and work is to be commenced immediately. Work has also been begun on 3,000 houses.

Tom May, local manager of the Magnolia Petroleum Co., has just returned from the oil fields, of the Wichita country. While at Matador he had an interview with one of the aviators who are to make the proposed mail route from Kansas City to El Poso, and the gentleman informed Tom that Brownfield would be made a filling station, after learning that we had a splendid landing ground just north of town on what we usually termed the fair grounds. The plane was expected here Thursday afternoon, but had to stop at Lubbock on account of a broken propeller.

We noted three especially long faces this week. They belonged to Messrs G. C. Wirtz, Tom Woodward and W. G. Meyers. Each have sold their homes, and we don't believe either wants to leave Terry, and they just don't know what to do. Buy raw

GOOD ROADS

There is a rumor afloat in Tahoka to the effect that a petition is soon to be circulated asking that a special election be held to vote bonds to work the roads in Lynn county. Every person approached on the subject (with the exception of a few moss-backs) are heartily in favor of voting bonds to give the county some good roads, and no one can deny that they are not needed in the worst way. The News columns stand open to any progressive citizen wishing to express his views on the all important subject. Lynn county needs the roads, and she needs 'em now. Bring on the petition it is our only hope.—Lynn County News.

WHY DO WE ADVERTISE?

Will Guest, dealer in dry goods and groceries at Aspermont, answers the above question as follows. "Not because you don't know us, for you do. Not because you don't realize the splendid values we offer in dry goods and groceries, for you do. Not because you don't know that economical buying is made exceptionally easy at our store, for you do. Not because you don't know that our stock is one of the most complete in this country, for you do. You know all these things because you know us. But there is a reason why we advertise. It is because you read the ads in the local paper. When you turn through its columns you look for OUR ad—you expect to find it and you want to know about our new arrivals.

"TIGER" OF FRANCE MAY VISIT THE UNITED STATES

George Clemenceau, present Premier of France, known as "The Tiger" and perhaps the most powerful man in the French Republic, is expected to be elected president and it is understood that in the event of his election to that office he will visit the United States to carry on a vigorous campaign in favor of the League of Nations. This is the substance of a recent telegram from Paris.

T. N. Bingham will read the Herald regularly from now on.

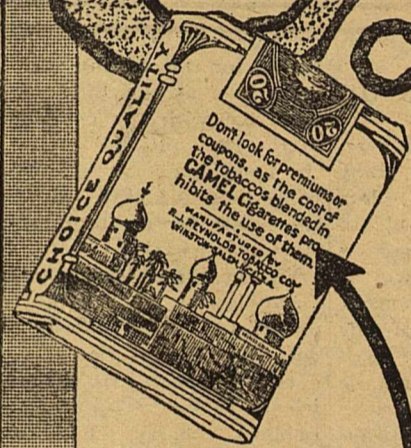

Mrs. J. C. Bohannon left last week for Crosbyton to visit a brother, who lives there and to see a sister who came from California to make a visit with the rest of the children. She will be away several days.

Mrs. R. R. Hughes left last week for Wilson, where she went to nurse her children who live there, who are down with flu. From what we could learn, they have a very bad epidemic of that disease over there.

BORROWED

A charming friend asks us to inaugurate a contest to determine the most beautiful young lady in this town. And right here is where we score in diplomacy—they are all guilty.

It is not however quite safe to announce the latest galloping entry in the presidential hurly-burly. There would be still a newer one before our paper could possibly reach its readers.

The "reds" may be taking to cover, as some one would have us believe. But we note; however, that they are still quite red.

If you hear a soft, gentle, soothing, pussyfoot purr emanating from some unknown source, do not be alarmed. It is nothing serious—merely a new presidential candidate topping the horizon.

Profiteering will cease when the public refuses to longer pay these profiteering prices. But Mrs. X, you know, just couldn't think of paying less than Mrs. Y. And there you have the pedigree of Old Hi Cost.

TEXAS PRODUCED OVER A BILLION DOLLAR CROP

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 20.—Texas is the only state which, in 1919, produced more than one billion dollars worth of agricultural products, a summary of crop reports from the United States Department of Agriculture discloses upon research-made by the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Texas raised one-fifth of the nation's cotton. One tenth of the country's sweet potatoes are grown in this state. To Lone Star farmers go the credit for growing more than one fifth of our broom corn. Nearly one-half of America's entire crop of grain sorghums is produced by Texas dry land farming experts while more than one-seventh of the rice crop of 1919 was grown in Texas gulf coast farms.

Lon Lumsden, of Wilson, Texas, who has considerable ranch interests in the east part of this county, was over the first part of the week.

LABOR AND SEDITION

Forces of organized labor headed by Samuel Gompers have taken offense at some of the drastic anti-sedition legislation proposed by some of our Congressmen, and they have done so at every inopportune time. We all know that organized labor is founded on fairness to all parties—that is most of us know it—and we are surprised to see this attitude. If Gompers hasn't any better reasons than he has given so far we are compelled to confess we have lost respect to some extent for "the Grand Old Man."

It is vital at this time that the government enact the most drastic legislation of this character. We deport a few hundred of the Reds who come out in the open and tell us they are going to try and destroy our government; we send a few others to the penitentiary and we talk a lot about how we are cleaning the land of agitators, but if we will stop and think a minute we will realize that we are really accomplishing very little for our officers have not the proper laws behind them. We need laws to cover all kinds of sedition and we need to make them so strong that the man inclined to preach revolutionary doctrines will be afraid to stay in our land for fear his thoughts will be found out on him. And such laws will not hurt a single one of the liberty loving true Americans that go to make up this whole nation. We all like at times to criticize our officials and our government as represented by these officials, but we can criticize without condemning and that is something the ignorant Reds will never understand.—Taylor County Times.

LUBBOCK SANITARIUM CONSOLIDATE

A deal of unusual interest was consummated the past week, whereby the West Texas Sanitarium, lots building and equipment was sold to the owners of the Lubbock Sanitarium, and the two institutions will be consolidated under one management, and as soon as the business of the West Texas Sanitarium can be finally wound up that building will be either sold or leased for other purposes and the business of the two institutions will be taken care of at the Lubbock Sanitarium on West Broadway.

As has been previously announced in this paper the Lubbock Sanitarium will greatly increase their capacity for handling the business by the addition of two more stories to the present splendid building, and the equipment of the West Texas will be transferred to these new stories which will equip them fully for business.

This will give Lubbock one of the strongest corps of medical men and specialist of any institution of the kind in the state, and it will mean much for the future of the sanitarium business of this city, as well as the entire western part of the state.

Dr. Overton has taken an interest in the Lubbock Sanitarium, and will move his office there in the near future as is made known by notice in another part of this paper. Dr. Overton has been in Lubbock longer than any other doctor in the city, and has enjoyed a very large practice and is still one of the most successful physicians in the State and enjoys the continued liberal patronage of people from all over the Plains of Texas and New Mexico.

Lubbock has been fortunate in securing for this section such a strong institution as the Lubbock Sanitarium, and with the combined forces of the two splendid institutions and the combined financial, physical and professional ability of these men, the future for the business is indeed very promising.

We have not learned what plans Dr. Waggner has for the future, but understand he will not be connected with the new associates of the Lubbock Sanitarium. He has made many friends in Lubbock and all over the Lubbock country, who join with us in hoping that he will continue to make Lubbock his home.—Lubbock Avalanche.

PIONEER CITIZEN DIES HERE JANUARY 16TH

Citizen of Tahoka and Lynn county, as well as the whole South Plains of Texas were greatly grieved on last Friday when the message went out that W. T. Petty, a pioneer citizen of this county, was dead. While it was generally known that he was failing in health the past several months, still we are never prepared for such a message.

Mr. Petty had attained the age of sixty-four years and a few months at the time of his death. He was born in the state of Kentucky, September 14, 1855, and came with his parents to Texas when one year old, locating in Tarrant county, where he grew to manhood. He resided in Crosby county, Texas for seven or eight years before coming to Lynn county in 1890, making his home here continuously since that time. He was manager of the famous T-ranch for a number of years, and served as Commissioner from the time the county was organized in 1903, until he resigned in 1918. Thirty five years ago last Thanksgiving, he was married to Miss Eva Baxter, who together with a brother, residing at Winert, Texas, survive him.

Chas. Acker recently sold one half of his land. That is that is the best way to settle old Terry. Most everyone here has too much land, and by all means ought to be willing to divide up with the land hungry world, providing of course the land hungry world has the price for the land—we did not mean the socialist way of division. Chas. also paid for his Herald another year, but asked that we keep this part of it. Alright.

And still the corn goes out.

HOW TO CURE A COLD

Begin early. The first symptoms of an oncoming cold are usually a slight headache, chilliness, feverishness, running of the nose and eyes, sneezing, hoarseness, and sore throat. When these symptoms appear take a dose of good laxative and at bed time take a hot foot bath and drink hot water or lemonade. Avoid chilling and go to bed immediately after the foot bath. Cover well and keep warm. If possible remain in bed from 18 to 24 hours. Avoid drafts, but be sure there is plenty of fresh air in the room. Eat very little for one or two meals and then eat plenty of fruits, vegetables, gruel and bulky foods. Drink plenty of water and keep the bowels and kidneys active. Avoid cold and catarrh "cures," heavy doses of aspirin or quinine, and patent medicine. In case of a chill and pain in the side, or if there is no improvement in 24 hours, a doctor should be called, since pneumonia may be developing.—The Progressive Farmer.
