Runaway Horses Furnished Greatest Excitement Of Fourth 25 Years Ago

Runaway horses, hitched to a dray wagon loaded with furniture, afforded Colorado her greatest excitement during the three-day carnival with which the county celebrated the Glorious Fourth twenty-five years ago.

The accident occurred, according to the Colorado Record for July 8, 1910, just after the fireworks display closing the carnival on Saturday night. W. W. Porter was loading furniture at the carnival grounds in South Colorado when a chair fell and struck one of his dray horses.

Bolting wildly, the team struck out for town. The bridge was crowded with wagons, cars, and pedestrians, and it was dark. Miraculously, no one was killed. A buggy in which Mrs. Henry Cook and a child were riding was struck and the rear wheels demolished, throwing the occupants out on the bridge. Furniture from the loaded wagon was scattered all the way to town.

Two weddings were detailed on the Record's front page. One was the marriage of Miss Sudie Nunn and Will Boatright, which had taken place at the Vivian Shropshire home. Miss Byrd Blandford had sung with Ruth Nichols playing; Annie Mary Mann and Robert Nunn had been ribbon bearers. Mary Roberta Terrell flower girl. The Boatrights were to make their home in Mary Neal.

The other wedding was that of John Farmer and Miss Hattie Barnhill, both of whom lived here.

Misses Lela and Irene Whipkey had entertained a house party during the carnival, including as their guests Miss Mary Musgrove and Miss Fay Dulaney of Sweetwater and Miss Velma Wasson of Big Spring. Paul Matthis and Bill Barrow of Sweetwater had been over on Sunday.

Misses Roxie, Jessie and Etta Coughran had left for Howard county to spend the summer on their ranch.

Miss Claudia Rogers had been to Stanton to plan a music class for the next year.

Charley Goodwin had returned from Mineral Wells, where he had been for treatment of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Webb and Miss Eleanor Van Tuyl had returned from a visit in the north.

Radio Broadcast Is Being Dedicated To Old Texas Rangers

AUSTIN.—A special three times-a-week radio program, marking the 100th anniversary of the Texas Rangers was inaugurated Monday at 5:45 p. m. when Governor James V. Allred dedicated the new series in a speech delivered from the executive offices in the State Capitol at Austin. The broadcasts were heard over WFAA, Dallas; WBAP, Fort Worth; WOAI, San Antonio, and KPRC, Houston, Texas Quality Network Stations.

The Governor, whose reorganization plans for the Texas Rangers have attracted national notice, sketched a brief history of the adventures and development of the Rangers during the last century, as well as outlining some of the plans for the future of the body as a highly efficient modern unit of the newly created State Department of Public Safety.

Governor Allred's speech was the feature attraction on Monday afternoon's program which introduced a radio series known as "Riding With the Texas Rangers." Also introduced on the opening program were "Curly" Sims, accordionist and cowboy tenor, whose songs will be featured during the series and "The Colonel," engaging pioneer character who will tell the Ranger stories which are to be a part of each program.

Historical accuracy will mark the presentation of each episode, according to the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, sponsors of the series. Exhaustive research in the state files at Austin, in contemporary newspapers and documents, will provide facts for the series. The authenticity of each episode is vouchered for by the office of the Adjutant General in Austin, thus giving the series a definite historical value.

Opening episodes of the series carry a Centennial flavor, dealing with the creation of the Texas Ranger force and its Indian conflicts in the 1830's.

"In this strictly Texas broadcast," said A. H. Wilde, Southwestern representative of the sponsors, "we plan to present in the most interesting manner possible, a chronological account of outstanding events in Ranger history. Primarily for boys and girls, we know that every Texan is proud of the Rangers, and we believe that many listeners of all ages will welcome an opportunity to hear well-told factual accounts of the exploits of this world-famous group."

The broadcasts will be heard over WFAA and WBAP each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 p. m., and over KPRC and WOAI, at 5:45 p. m.

MRS. HALTOM RETURNING

Word comes from Mrs. Hollis Haltom, San Antonio artist and former resident of Colorado, that she will return to Colorado to teach an art class this summer. The class is now being worked up by Miss Juanita Cook.

Mrs. Haltom plans to paint a Colorado scene to send to Anderson's in New York and to continue work on a story of West Texas which she began while here last summer. An article which she wrote on the life of C. H. Lasky was read recently at a meeting of the West Texas History society by the society president, R. C. Crane of Sweetwater. It is to be published in the West Texas Historical magazine this summer.

Mexican Grandmother Has Learned To Read Primer In Class Closing Friday

A grandmother who has learned, just this year, to read an English primer after years of living in Texas attracted almost as much attention over in Little Mexico Friday afternoon as did the exhibit of quilts and handwork which a number of Colorado women went over to see.

The exhibit was put on by Mrs. Percy Bond and her class in Mexican adult education, which has been carried on for the past seven months as a relief project. The class closed Friday for the summer.

Including in the exhibit were fourteen quilts, pieced by women of the class during the last two and a half months, several silhouette pictures, and some pillows. The exhibit was held in the long, frame structure which serves as the public school building. Mrs. Bond has held her class each afternoon after the close of school, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

There has been an average enrollment of twenty in the class this year. Only persons past school age are eligible to attend. Mrs. Bond says that she has found the Mexican grown-ups pathetically eager to learn. She has taught them reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, history, and other school subjects in addition to handicrafts.

Those enrolled in the class have attended faithfully whenever possible, taking off only when they found some temporary job and returning to class afterward. A number of girls employed in town have attended after working hours.

Time has been taken off by some women in the class to have babies. They've usually returned with their infants in their arms to go on learning.

INDICATIONS POINT TO GOOD YIELD IN COTTON STATION MANAGER SAYS

Northwest Texas cotton prospects will be difficult to estimate until September, although present indications are for a big crop with normal weather for the next three months, according to R. E. Dickson, director of the Spur experiment station. Following a trip over much of this area, Mr. Dickson commented:

"Crops in the Seymour section are in good condition, but a little late. Much the same is true generally except for part of Jones and Fisher Counties, where much of the crop is very late. There is more danger from excessive rains than from dry weather over a large portion planted very late.

"There is much danger of a rank, sappy plant with little fruit. Early frosts would catch a big crop of sappy bolts. Fields generally are much cleaner than would be expected with such heavy rains."

LEADER IN RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS VICTIM OF HEART ATTACK

Rev. Hubert Mann Smith Of Crystal City Buried Here Tuesday

Rev. Hubert Mann Smith, 73, an outstanding leader in Southern Methodism for almost a half century, beginning a notable career in Georgia in 1888 of building churches, schools and other institutions for benefit of humanity, died suddenly during Friday night at his residence in Crystal City.

Mrs. Smith awoke at 6 Saturday morning and looking into her husband's bedroom noticed him resting in his easy arm chair, as he had done many times before. Quietly he sat there with his hands on the chair arms and his head resting against the high back.

Electing not to disturb him, Mrs. Smith went about her domestic duties. She prepared breakfast and came to awaken her husband. There was no answer to her calls and when she came to his side she found that her husband had passed away. Rev. Mr. Smith had apparently been dead several hours.

Funeral rites were conducted at the Crystal City Methodist church Sunday of which he had been pastor two years. The body, accompanied by his widow, a son, E. R. Smith of El Paso, and Mrs. Smith's brother, C. H. Meaders of Atlanta, Ga., arrived in Colorado Monday afternoon by train and was taken in a Kiker & Son funeral coach to residence of his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ratliff, at East 11th and Locust.

Funeral services, brief but impressive, were said at the Ratliff home Tuesday morning by the Rev. Cal C. Wright of First Methodist church. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery with Kiker & Son in charge of arrangements. Active pall bearers were T. W. Stoneroad, J. W. Randle, W. L. Doss, Jr., Chas. C. Thompson, J. Lee Jones and Chester Jones.

Born in Sparto, Georgia, October 28, 1862, the late pioneer launched an active life while yet a youth. Completing his high school work there he entered Emory University, graduating from that school in 1884. He received his M. A. degree from Vanderbilt and later was awarded theological degree at University of Chicago.

Returning to his native Georgia the young man established Rhinehardt college in 1888. This same year he held his first pastorate, the East Cobb circuit, and built his first church.

He later accepted offer of vice presidency of LaGrange college, LaGrange, Ga., and filled that office until 1910, resigning to move with his family to Roswell, New Mexico, to join the New Mexico conference as an active pastor.

During later years he served pastorates at Alpine, El Paso, Uvalde and San Antonio. He was stationed at El Paso for some time, later serving as presiding elder of the district. Eight years he was pastor of churches in San Antonio.

Surviving are three brothers; Alwyn M. Smith, head of the music department, LaGrange college; Clifford L. Smith, educator, and Leon P. Smith, dean of Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., and one sister Miss Maidee Smith, former missionary to Brazil.

In addition to his widow, two sons, Eugene R. Smith, El Paso attorney, and Guy L. Smith, attorney in Denver, Colo., and one daughter, Mrs. Ratliff, survive. A third son, Hubert M. Smith is deceased.

A few days before his death Rev. Mr. Smith returned from Denver where he had gone to baptize his third grandson, all three of whom carry his name. Previously he had officiated at these rites for the other two boys, one of whom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff.

Rev. Mr. Smith was active in the founding of McMurry College at Abilene and served as a member of the institutions first board of regents.

Among out-of-town relatives here for the funeral rites were Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Dowda of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Birdwell of Nocona, Archie W. Meaders of Abilene, C. W. Meaders of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Agnes Powers of Abilene.

Miss Bradford, a honor student at the University of Texas for several years, received her B. A. degree in the class of 1934 and an M. A. degree during the summer session of the same year.

Miss Wanna Wade and her guest, Miss Mavis Blount of Palestine, accompanied by Mrs. Baxter Seogin and Miss Jenks Spaulding, spent Wednesday in Snyder.

ANOTHER ALLOCATION AAA FUNDS IS RECEIVED HERE

COTTON PRODUCERS SHARE IN DISTRIBUTION FEDERAL CERTIFICATE POOL CHECKS

1,200 Mitchell Counties To Receive Payment Out Of $24,000 Fund

Another allocation of Federal money, totaling $24,032.06, and in the distribution of which 1,200 cotton growers of Mitchell county are sharing, is being distributed through the county farm agent's office this week. Receipt of the checks was announced the first of the week by H. E. Goodwin, in charge of AAA program in the county.

The payment marked second and final remittances on certificates pooled by the growers and was computed on the basis of 4 cents per pound. There yet remains 31 per cent of the total number of certificates issued in hands of the government that will be either returned to the producers or placed in a special pool, at option of the farmer.

Goodwin advanced belief that all certificates surrendered would be sold. Receipt of the allotment was expected here last week but did not arrive until Monday. Announcement that the checks were here and being distributed to farmers was made Tuesday morning from the county agent's office.

Status Of Tax-Exemption Certificate Pool As Outlined By The County Agent

The following statement dealing with this county's account with the tax-exemption certificate pool, was issued Thursday morning from the county farm agent's office:

No. of Producers surrendering certificates 1249
Pounds surrendered 3,394,845
Pounds sold 2,321,892
Net equity of unsold lbs. 1,072,953
First 2c payment $67,897.00
Net Final Payment $24,032.06
Total Payment $91,929.06

The above listed figures are the totals for Mitchell County. The payments and the unsold equity in poundage will be distributed among the producers according to their prorata share of the total surrendered and the total sales.

The expense incident to the sale of these certificates through the pool, was about 20c per bale of certificates sold.

There will be returned to this county 1,072,953 pounds, if the producers so desire it, in the form of 1935 certificates. It is assumed however, that all of this poundage will not be needed to gin the 1935 crop. For this reason a Special Pool has been formed, and the producers can re-pool their unsold equity in the Special Pool. The sale price for the Special Pool will be $0.05 per pound or $25.00 per bale, and will be liquidated in about 90 days.

We are expecting final checks in the next few days.

Hog Market Up But Mitchell Breeders Have None To Sell

Mitchell county farmers who during other days rubbed their palms and wondered when they would realize a fair market offering for their hogs, this week are reflecting just how it might feel if they still owned the porkers. The animal has entered the barnyard drama as an important factor in bringing profit to the farm.

Hog prices recently exceeded $10 a hundredweight. Supplies are the lowest in a generation. Another can pile up. Corn prospects are favorable. This sets the stage for farmers to make money on hogs, at least until production catches up with demand.

Market observers predict the price of hogs will hold up this summer. Economists say much of the hog price situation depends upon the consumer. Some believe consumers will not pay a higher price for pork.

Receipts at markets show that farmers have withheld from sales a relatively large number of sows and young females. This is expected to bring a fall pig crop increase over last year. The fall crop, however, is not likely to be normal because breeding stock is short. Prices therefore are expected to hold up for another year.

The size of next fall's corn crop will influence the farmer's chance of making money on hogs. If corn yields are high, the price of corn will make hog production profitable at present hog prices. Economists warn that such an improved corn-hog feeding ratio and the rising price level may trap farmers who rush into hog production. They point out that the basic ailment that made the hog reduction campaign necessary—the loss of the export market—still must be cured.

Simpson has been identified with business interests here several years. He was at one time co-owner and operator of a drug business here. Several months ago he was associated with the Model Shop, leaving that position to accept the hotel job.

"The Model Shop will continue to merit consideration of the exacting patron and we cordially invite the public to call on us there," Simpson stated after confirming report that he had accepted the store position.

No work has been done on the Methodist church.

USE OF WEALTH "We might all of us give far more than we do"

Without being a bit the worse It was never yet loving, that emptied the heart Nor giving that emptied the purse."

A thought worthy of much study was uttered by Henry Ward Beecher when he said that a man "is rich or poor according to what he IS, not according to what he HAS."

The truth of this statement is at once apparent when it is reflected that the goal of us all is happiness, and we know that happiness is far from him whose sole ambition is to accumulate material possessions. Recognition of this fact was given centuries ago when it was said, "Set your affections on things above, and not on things on the earth."

He who is greedy for gain is doing the opposite of what the great Apostle admonished us to do. Such a one is trying to lay up "treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal."

The avaricious man's valued possessions are like his thought—bare of happiness—because they are devoid of the elements which create happiness.

He, like others, is influenced by the attributes of the god he worships, and since there is no life, love or mercy in material things, they do not affect him like one whose life is filled with spiritual longing. James Freeman Clark accentuates this thought when he says, "When we put ourselves into right relations with God, with truth and the laws of the universe, all things are working with us and for us."

Martin Luther gives strong testimony here, "Wealth is the smallest thing on earth, the least gift that God has bestowed on mankind. What is it when compared with God's Word? What in comparison with health, beauty, understanding, wisdom? Yet men are so eager after it that no labor, pains nor risk is regarded in the acquisition of riches. Wealth has in it neither material, formal, nor efficient cause, nor anything else that is good. Surely of course it can be and is made to a growing degree the means of inestimable good, and that is what it is for. One of the most gratifying and beautiful evidences that men are understanding as never before the duty of wealth is that there are many men who are using their millions for the good of mankind. They are devoting stupendous sums to scientific investigation and experimentation in every branch of human activity and need, and doing it for the common good.

Sure it can be said that in this respect at least man now, more than ever before realizes that he is, to the extent that he is able and has opportunity, His Brothers Keeper and is acting accordingly. The wealthy man's great and good fortune is not that what he possesses gives him means by which he can supply his material needs, satisfy his longing for travel and other things that are beyond the reach of most of his fellows, gratify his appetites or revenge himself for real or fanciful wrongs done him by another, not in these.

His satisfaction, his gratitude, his appreciation and happiness should come from the fact that he is in position to do so much more of good than he otherwise would be, and he is realizing this more and more.

GLORIOUS POSSIBILITY What a marvellously glorious thing it would be if all would get this view of their responsibility; if they could realize the possibilities for blessing mankind that they possess proportionately to their possession of wealth and talent!

Wealth of mind, wealth of genius, wealth of talent, wealth of material possessions, when combined constitute the greatest, the most prodigious, the most powerful, the most glorious agency for good that it is possible to conceive. Even the imagination is inadequate to picture the beneficent results such a combination is capable of achieving.

But it is gratifying beyond measure to know that this splendid combination is at work NOW, and that its power and possibilities grow greater as discovery after discovery is made, institutions for the amelioration of suffering, the lessening of ignorance, the promotion of scientific achievement, are established in rapid succession.

Despite what has been done and the great wealth that has been and is now being employed in this glorious work, there comes the cry from many wonderful men and institutions that their facilities are greatly short of their needs. Laboratories and much other sorely needed equipment for analysis, experiment, exploration and discovery are indispensable to the accomplishment of great things which are almost within their reach.

SORROW OF SCIENTISTS There are few who are able to conceive of the heartbreaking regret of one of those self-sacrificing, self-abasing, patient, studious and humanity-loving scientists who is conscious of what could be done if he had only added equipment and means to sustain him while he pursued his studies and experiments!

What a wonderful sorrow is his—not that he hasn't money with which to buy luxuries, or spend in the pursuit of pleasure, or satisfy sinful appetites that are sure sooner or later to be his ruin—nothing of that sort. But his is a most unique sorrow. He grieves because he hasn't the means to sustain him while he gives himself to the pursuit of achievements that are to bless mankind. He is a potential friend of all humanity. Glorious is such a man. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

USE WEALTH FOR GOOD The Rockefeller Foundation, the Carnegie Foundation, the Russell Sage Foundation and many others have been for some years, and are now, expending great sums in the endeavor to discover, devise and invent means by which mankind generally shall be benefited. Already inestimable blessings have in this way been conferred upon the world by these great institutions. A golden stream of money is constantly flowing forth for the promotion of the greatest work it is possible for man to do—bring blessings and happiness to his fellow-man.

There is nothing so great in its potentiality for good as an awakened conscience along with the intelligent apprehension of what man's great duty is. Could there be a greater cooperative effort for the achievement of human betterment than genius, wealth and the resplendent human virtues devoted to the discovery and employment of means for the promotion of the happiness of mankind? Great, really great, is man when he devotes his possessions of material wealth, mental wealth and spiritual wealth to the carrying out of the admonition of Him who loved us all when He said, "Whatever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

The greatest man in the world is he who does most for the world. E. S. H.

We're not Crazy

What's this? Heating equipment advertisement in this July heat? Yes, and we're not crazy! It's like this: Many homes are using worn-out equipment. We want to help them modernize. It's easier for them to buy early and pay later. So we're making our most liberal terms in July!

Buy modern gas heating equipment in July... save

Comfort and health are two things every man wishes for his family, especially during the winter season. Right now is the best time to make sure that your home will have a healthful, comfortable temperature next winter. During July, your gas company is making price concessions and offering the most liberal terms on modern gas circulators and floor furnaces. With either of these units your home will have care-free, uniform, healthful heat at small cost, annually.

Natural Gas will maintain this Comfort Zone at low cost

BUY IN JULY! Begin Monthly Payments in OCTOBER! Telephone your gas company now for a heating man to visit your home and advise with you on proper equipment, or better still, visit our showroom and see these advanced circulating heaters. Pay only a small amount down and equipment will be installed at our convenience. Balance in monthly payments beginning in October.

FLOOR FURNACE—ideal for homes without basements because it furnishes furnace-type heat. Easily installed beneath floor. Heats one or two rooms.

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. E. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."
Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. It does not benefit YOU, unless a physician.

LET US MAKE YOUR VACATION TRIP SAFER

BEFORE you start on your holiday trip, let us completely inspect your car. There is no charge for this service and it will assure you of a safer and more enjoyable trip.

For the convenience and safety of car owners Firestone has established more than 500 Auto Supply and Service Stores throughout the country, and thousands of Firestone Dealers are also equipped with complete Auto Supplies and complete Service Departments, to test and service your tires, brakes, batteries, spark plugs, in addition to power lubrication and crank case service.

AVOID THE DANGER OF BLOWOUTS

Firestone removes the danger of blowouts by preventing their main cause—internal friction and heat. This is accomplished by Gum-Dipping.

THERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY:

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

—Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death.

2 "Are they blowout-proof?"
—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles, averaging 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 125°; without tire trouble of any kind.

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

—Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. In fact, unequalled mileage records of thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Equip your car with a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid Tires, the safest tires ever built and avoid the dangers of skidding and blowouts.
