Westex Editors Vote Down Resolution Offering Aid To The Texas Centennial

Midland, by the narrow margin of two votes, was chosen Saturday morning by members of the West Texas Press Association as the 1935 convention city. Lubbock was the runner-up. The 1935 meeting, held Friday and Saturday at Big Spring, was attended by more than fifty newspapermen and it was planned to increase the attendance for next year to 100.

E. B. Harris, publisher of the Rule Review, was named president; R. Henderson Shuffler, co-publisher of the Odessa News-Times, was elected vice president; Jake Smith, co-publisher of the Scurry County Times, Snyder, was elected secretary-treasurer.

A precedent was set by the association Saturday morning when it voted down a resolution to support the Texas Centennial. The vote indicated the feeling of West Texas newspapermen, and of West Texas generally, against allocation of practically all of the Texas Centennial funds to points in east and south sections of the state.

A testimonial breakfast was given Saturday morning at the Settles Hotel by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, honoring the West Texas newspapermen who compose the editorial board of West Texas Today, official magazine of the regional organization. Max Bentley, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, who is chairman of the editorial board of West Texas Today, was toastmaster. Paul Harmon, public relations manager of the Texas Electric Service Company and governor of the tenth district of the Advertising Federation of America, was the principal speaker. D. A. Bantecan, manager of the West Texas chamber, spoke on several phases of the organization's present program. Brief talks were made by all press representatives present.

The morning business session followed. T. Paul Barron, Midland publisher, gave the principal talk, on "Newspaper Problems," citing recent threats to traditional freedom of the press. As a result, the association passed a resolution praising the stand taken by Houston editors recently in upholding freedom of the press when they were fined for contempt of court, after being instructed by a district judge not to print proceedings of a trial.

Other resolutions passed included respects to Mrs. Will Rogers upon the

Funeral Services For Mrs. Lefevre Were Held Sunday

Last rites were said at the China Grove church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Susan Helen Lefevre, 83, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. C. Witt, in the China Grove community. The Rev. A. C. Hardin of Lorraine and Forest Huffman officiated.

Funeral services were William Brown, Forbes McInroe, Luther Rodgers, Lester Rogers, Raymond Witt, and Homer Witt. Interment was in the Rosee cemetery.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. R. R. Dodgion of Roscoe, W. H. Pruitt of Roscoe, Sam Pruitt of San Angelo, and Mrs. Witt. Several step-children also survive. Kiker & Son of Colorado were in charge of arrangements.

Vaccine That Will Conquer Ravages Of Infantile Paralysis Seen, Science Says

The scourge of infantile paralysis may at last be under control of science, the United Press outlines in news story out of New York City to The Record.

In the New York City laboratories Rhesus monkeys are being killed at the rate of 500 a month in the manufacture of a vaccine which was tested in the Los Angeles epidemic of last summer and is being used in the current North Carolina epidemic. If the North Carolina tests are extensive enough it may be conclusive proof for the vaccine.

None of the 2,000 children vaccinated in California contracted the disease, nor have any of the 500 similarly treated in New York and New Jersey. More than 500 doses were sent to North Carolina within 10 days after the outbreak there.

It requires thousands of tests in infected areas to be certain the vaccine immunizes, Dr. Maurice Brodie, discoverer of the new preventive, explained. He has been working with Dr. William H. Park in the laboratories there for two years developing the discovery he made while a professor at McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

Funds from the Warm Springs Foundation, in which President Roosevelt is interested, have helped carry on the research and development.

"It is a formalized and polio vaccine," Dr. Brodie said, explaining its difference from other attempts to immunize against the dreaded infantile paralysis. The organisms—polio virus—are "killed" and preserved in formalin, making the vaccine.

Scientists have tried for 25 years to find some way to fight the disease. They have attempted to use active

August 1 was 8,300,000 bales, and the Bankhead allotment this year, 10,983,264 bales. However, some private estimates of the 1935 crop run as high as 12,000,000 bales. If the crop should be that large, an official said, the Farm Administration would be confronted with a delicate problem.

Suggestions have been made that the Government take over cotton on which loans now are outstanding, and use this to establish the "ever-normal granary" sponsored by Secretary Wallace and authorized in the AAA amendments pending in Congress.

Since becoming chairman of the Texas highway commission four months ago Saturday, Hines has traveled approximately 21,000 miles. There are, he said, 22,000 miles of state and federal highways in Texas and 80,000 miles of unimproved lateral roads.

Hines pledged himself to give the people of the Lone Star state the best possible in highways.

Max Bentley, managing editor, Abilene Reporter-News, and toastmaster, said it was the best attended banquet of the association in recent years. C. A. Bulot, Big Spring, sang and Miss Evelyn Jackson, also rendered a folio number at the banquet accompanied by Helen Duley.

Dr. W. A. Jackson of Lubbock made a demand for "Justice" to West Texas in the allocation of Texas Centennial funds in a speech Friday noon before the West Texas Press association.

Dr. Jackson drew an imaginary line through Fort Worth to the southeast, and said the vast area west of it had been left out of the Centennial picture. In an appeal for a museum for West Texas, he charged lack of representation and solidarity were responsible largely for the "mal-distribution of funds set aside for the purpose of this celebration."

Cheers greeted his statement that he intended to "stand up and fight" for a West Texas allocation.

More than 50 editors were present at a luncheon at which G. A. Woodward of Big Spring presided. The convention had been opened earlier by E. B. Harris, editor of the Rule Review.

Ray Nichols, Vernoh, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, made a brief address at the Friday morning session, drawing attention to the region's resources, citizenry and potentialities.

Max Bentley, Abilene, was named head of the nomination committee and Douglas Meador, Matador, of the resolution committee.

During the afternoon session Ralph Shuffer, Odessa, conducted a round table discussion.

Cotton Loans Will Be Sought By AAA Leaders At Capitol

Strong political pressure for a 12-cent loan to help peg 1935 cotton crop prices descended today upon farm administration officials at Washington.

Some of the AAA bosses were disclosed to doubt the advisability of any loan at all. Others said privately they believed an advance of from 10 to 12 cents may be authorized.

Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, said the amount of the loan probably will be announced shortly after the Government estimate of 1935 cotton production. This will be issued Thursday.

Meanwhile, those favoring the 12-cent figure were reported to have turned their attention also to the White House and Congress, as well as the AAA.

What worried the AAA was the possibility that with the cotton loan policy, the AAA and the Commodity Credit Corporation may find themselves confronted with the same situation which gained criticism for the old farm board. The Commodity Credit Corporation has advanced directly, or had guaranteed through private agencies, 12-cent loans totaling $271,775,525 on 4,454,039 bales of cotton. These figures do not include advances made on cotton held by the producers' pool. The pool now has 675,000 bales of spot cotton and 933,000 bales of futures.

The loans were due early this year but have been extended until Feb. 1, 1936. Some officials said they did not believe that the Government would be repaid unless the price of cotton reached 13 cents a pound. The carryover of American cotton

Plans Mapped For Annual Tri-State Fair Next Month

AMARILLO. — Entertainment, of course, is a prominent feature of any exposition.

Men, women and children go to fairs to learn more about the country's greatest industry — the source, production and marketing of foods, agricultural and livestock, and to see the fine arts and other educational material.

But they also go to have a good time.

And so the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, September 14-21, the largest exposition in Texas this year, will be a well-balanced combination of both education and entertainment.

Among the major attractions will be Harley Sadler's three-ring circus, which will give daily performances.

Harley Sadler, long known in West Texas as the "emperor of entertainment," especially in the repertoire field, has purchased the entire equipment of Bailey Brothers' circus.

Under the new management—Sadler is the sole owner and manager—the circus will open August 23 at Tulsa, Okla., and will play 10 days in Oklahoma before coming into Texas and the Tri-State Fair engagement.

Every other day during the fair the circus will stage a mile long street.

On the midway will be the Beckmann and Gorey Shows, which will come direct from Detroit. This attraction has the latest riding devices, seen for the first time at the Century of Progress in Chicago and the Pacific exposition in San Diego.

Daily horse racing on one of the fastest tracks in the United States also will be featured.

There will be other attractions, too, so the Tri-State Fair will appeal to every amusement taste.

Prize exhibits and record crowds are assured.

BARNETT'S RETURN
Mrs. C. A. Barnett and daughter, Wilma, have returned from a trip on which they made stops in Bonham, Paris, Commerce, Wolfe City, and Hugo, Oklahoma.

RETURN FROM WEDOWEE, ALA.
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mize and their four children returned Wednesday morning to their home south of Colorado after a month's visit in Wedowee, Alabama.

MISS M'KELL HAS GUEST
Miss Hattie McKell had as her guest this week her cousin, Mrs. Smith, who arrived Tuesday morning from Meridian, Mississippi.

TO FORT WORTH
Mr. and Mrs. John A. Deffebach and little daughter, Carol Alexander, left Monday to visit relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

HOME FROM CLOUDCROFT
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fee and sons returned last Thursday from Cloudcroft, New Mexico, where they vacationed for about a week.

TO TEMPLE CLINIC
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tillar and children left Monday for Temple, where Mr. Tillar was to go through the clinic.

WOLF PACK TO NUMBER 50 AS SCHOOLS ARE OPENED

COACHES AND HIGH SCHOOL OFFICIALS ENTHUSED OVER PROSPECTS FOR THE YEAR

New Recruits Show Up Well Along With Veterans At Tuesday Workout

Colorado, back in Class B with a fine team of players, should show technique qualities of teams in recent years, should go places during the football season soon to open, C. Wilkins, principal of high school, stated Wednesday morning. "We ought to hold our own in Class B—and more," was his comment.

Tuesday afternoon at Cantrill field thirty men put in appearance for the initial work-out. Among the number were veterans of other seasons in the Wolf camp and new men who, potentially, offer much hope for the Wolf grid organization of 1935-36.

That not less than fifty men would be in line for places on the squad by time schools are opened September 9 was predicted by Wilkins. Several prospects for important berths on the first and second teams were detained Tuesday due to having employment.

Hopes of the Wolves as they came into their den to take up champion of Colorado high school during the season soon to open is built largely around a small remnant of letter men carried over from last year.

Captain Priestner who during the last season did some good work at quarterback and other assignments, is promising to give of his best in leading the squad to higher rating than might have been claimed for the Wolves during the last few years.

Ed Morrison, full of promise of doing outstanding work, is another letter man coming back. Morrison will be shifted from his old place at end last year to that of backfield.

Julius Smith and Regal Porter, still others to be lettered last year, will be back in uniform. Both of these men played at end and Smith may be there again this season but it is evident that Porter will be shifted. Roy Miller, last man in the letter group who is coming out for another season, will be moved from his old place at guard to the backfield.

Coach Jim Reese returned to Colorado Sunday afternoon after spending the summer in Dallas with his family. He and Principal Wilkins of high school were in Abilene Monday to purchase new equipment for the squad, but due to lack of finances were unable to get a needed quota of uniforms and other regalia.

"I cannot announce with any de-

Seven Questions Pend Consideration At The Polls In Election Slated Saturday

Mitchell county citizens voting on the seven proposed amendments to the State constitution Saturday, seemingly are centering their interest about two of them. The one proposing repeal of Statewide prohibition is being aggressively opposed here. Another, that to authorize old age pension of $15 per month, is receiving much attention, both pro and con.

The vote at Colorado and other election precincts of the county is expected to be light, due to sub-normal quota of qualified electors and the small interest that usually a large part of the citizenship evidence in such elections.

Following are the seven proposals as they are to appear on the official ballot:

For the amendment giving the legislature the power to provide a system of old-age assistance not to exceed $15 per month per person and to accept from the government of the United States financial aid for old-age assistance.

Against the amendment giving the legislature the power to provide a system of old-age assistance not to exceed $15 per month per person and to accept from the government of the United States financial aid for old-age assistance.

For the amendment of article 1, section 15, of the state constitution by adding to said section a provision to the effect that the legislature may provide for the temporary commitment of mentally ill persons not charged with a criminal offense by the county court without the necessity of a jury trial.

Against the amendment of article 1, section 15, of the state constitution by adding to said section a provision to the effect that the legislature may provide for the temporary commitment of mentally ill persons not charged with a criminal offense by the county court without the necessity of a jury trial.

For the amendment to the state constitution repealing state prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon, and providing for local option.

Against the amendment to the state constitution repealing state prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon, and providing for local option.

The voter will mark out the proposition he opposes, leaving unmarked the one he prefers.

TRANSIENT STROKE VICTIM CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER GRINDING FREIGHT TRUCKS

Bert Yeiser, 60, Met Death By Accident, Is Verdict Of Coroner Leach

Bert Yeiser, 60, transient stroke victim and a man with no home or relatives in so far as investigating officials could find, was ground to death under trucks of a west bound Texas & Pacific freight train in east end of the local yards Thursday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

The man, who drifted into Odessa August 1 suffering from effects of a stroke of paralysis, was not there long until he suffered a second attack. He was committed to a hospital there as a county ward and on the night of August 10 walked away from the institution. Yeiser was not heard of until he appeared in Colorado a few days later.

Coroner A. D. Leach stated Monday morning that he had found that the man met death by accident and that the Texas & Pacific and members of the train crew had been absolved of any blame in connection with the tragedy.

In company with two other transients Yeiser was resting under bridge spanning Lone Wolf Creek. He managed to mumble out the information that he was going to Fort Worth and asking a cigarette from one of the men, left. He walked with difficulty due to effects of the stroke, often times having trouble in stopping his momentum or changing his course, witnesses who had recently observed the man testified at the inquest.

Evidence given at the inquest by L. B. Hargam, conductor of the freight; D. S. Orr, engineer, and I. S. Bishop, fireman, was to the effect that Yeiser came onto the tracks in path of the train, moving into Colorado from the east on a down grade. As the whistle was blown and attempt was made to bring the train to a stop, Yeiser seemed to make desperate effort to walk from the tracks, but somehow could not control his bearing. He was run over and badly mangled.

Local officials who previously had observed Yeiser in Colorado sustained the belief that he changed his direction while walking with difficulty. Only a short time before being killed the man was seen being led about the street by a Mexican.

Identification was by R. D. Hart who a few days ago saw the man in the hospital at Odessa. Other Coloradans remembered him as having for several years frequented towns in the South Plains area.

Burial was in the Colorado cemetery Friday with brief rites at the graveside by Coroner Leach. The county and city bore expense of the funeral with Kiker & Son in charge of arrangements.

New North Water Well Soon To Be Placed On Pump

The new water well recently completed on the Tom Hughes lease north of Colorado is to soon be placed on the pump and connected with the city's water distributing system, Mayor J. A. Sadler stated Monday.

1,300 feet of four-inch pipe to be used in connecting the well with Northside reservoir was bought in Albany Friday by Councilmen Roy Dozier and C. D. Hornberger. The pipe was delivered here during Monday and Tuesday.

The Hughes well is the largest owned by the city, the mayor said. While no test had been made Sadler was of the opinion it would pump 125 gallons per minute.

ECHOES FROM SHORT COURSE ARE HEARD AT COUNCIL MEET

Echoes from the A. & M. short course were heard in reports given at the meeting of the county home demonstration council during its regular session at the office of Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, Saturday afternoon, August 3.

Five clubs were represented. Achievement days, when yards and bedrooms improved by the various clubs will be visited by club members and their friends, were designated as September 24, 25, 26, and 27. A prize will be given by the council to the club having the most people out to view its achievements.

The women voted to send an exhibit to the tufted bedspread and wool comfort exhibit in San Angelo in November. Information concerning this exhibit can be obtained at Miss Gunter's office.

WILLIAMS RETURNS FROM FFA TEACHERS' MEETING

Doyle Williams, head of the vocational agriculture department of Colorado High school and FFA sponsor, returned Wednesday morning from John Tarleton, Stephenville, where he was one of fifty vocational agriculture teachers attending a regional conference.

Williams was accompanied by Mrs. Williams and their sons, who visited his sisters in Brownwood while he attended the conference.

ROSCOE YOUTH TO LEAD IN REVIVAL OPENING AT 7 WELLS FRIDAY NIGHT

Minister Frank Taylor of Roscoe, a youth of 22 years of age, is to do the preaching in revival meeting to open at Seven Wells Friday night under auspices of the Church of Christ.

Services are to run through ten days. It has not been determined whether services are to be held on mornings of week days, but it is probable that such will be announced.

Sunday morning services are to open at 11:40. Evening services are set for 8 o'clock.

On the eve of the election U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard issues the following statement:

WASHINGTON—Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, and for many years an advocate of national and State prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors, issued a statement here Sunday addressed to the people of Texas advocating retention of State constitutional prohibition. In 1933 Senator Sheppard campaigned throughout a large part of the State opposing the Texas vote to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment, using a sound truck and covering 4,870 miles within the State. Senator Sheppard's statement follows:

"The failure of practically every assurance of improved liquor conditions which the wets said would come with the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment ought to serve as a warning to the people of Texas to retain State constitutional prohibition, and to continue the fight against liquor with every weapon at their command. "We may reasonably expect from repeal of State constitutional prohibition in Texas what by far the greater part of the Nation is already realizing from total repeal, State and national. "This repeal of local and national prohibition in the larger part of the Nation outside Texas has not been followed by anything like effective regulation or control. It has not decreased the consumption of alcoholic beverages. It has not promoted temperance. It has not reduced crime. It has not eliminated the bootlegger, the gangster, the kidnaper or the illicit distiller. It has not produced as much as half the revenue expected, while the diversion of earnings to the purchase of intoxicating beverages on an accumulating scale constitutes a frightful economic and moral disaster. It has been marked by an increasing number of arrests for intoxication, for driving while drunk and for the offenses growing out of the use of liquor, by the return of the saloon or its equivalent with women and girls conspicuous among patrons, servers, bartenders. Does Texas want a condition of this sort?

"How often were we told that the repeal of national prohibition was necessary in order to reduce crime? Undoubtedly our present national administration has made the most intelligent and determined effort to reduce crime that has ever been observed in our history. We are all gratified to note the progress it has made in apprehending gangsters, kidnapers and racketeers. We find, however, from official records that the volume of crime in the Nation has not been decreased by repeal of national prohibition and that the number of prisoners in our penal institutions is greater than at any prior time. Sanford Bates, director of the Bureau of Prisons of the United States Department of Justice, recently made his annual report to the Attorney General of the United States. He says in that report that repeal has failed to halt the United show sharp increases in the number of deaths and injuries due to driving while intoxicated, that in one large American city which has kept accurate statistics the number of arrests due to driving while intoxicated increased over 150 per cent and the number of deaths due to drunken pedestrians over 200 per cent, that in other parts of the country increases as high as 70 per cent in accidents caused by drunken drivers were not unusual. "The report of the company goes on to say that not only has the saloon returned since repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment but the regulation of the liquor traffic is probably the most lax the country has ever known and that in addition to the primary factor of the unnecessary loss of life and limb there has been a tremendous property loss. "Every dollar spent for intoxicating liquor means that much diverted from the amount available to the American people for wearing apparel, food, shelter, medical treatment and other necessities. "Take the case of milk. Scientific research has demonstrated that milk is one of the fundamental essentials of health especially for the young. Never has there been a sufficient amount of milk consumed to meet the demands of the human system. And yet the amount consumed has substantially decreased since the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Already the American people are expending more for intoxicating liquor than for this health-sustaining, life-preserving article. "Again it is well known that liquor drives millions of our people into the very conditions that lead them to swell the Federal relief rolls—rolls already crowded to such an extent as to constitute the greatest single financial burden the Nation has ever borne in time of peace. Directly and indirectly liquor may well be said to be one of the principal causes of the expenditure by the Federal Government of billions for relief while that same Government secures less than 300 millions in revenue from liquor, a poor proportion from a cold-blooded business standpoint, not to speak of the infinite human waste and misery involved. "What is to be gained by legalizing liquor in Texas? Bad as the existing liquor conditions may be in our State they are evidently not as chaotic and as demoralizing as in the rest of the Nation outside Texas and outside the few States left with constitutional or State statutory prohibition. Bad as these conditions may be they will be worse with the constitutional safeguard which we have erected against the liquor traffic in our State repudiated and destroyed. "Shall we ground our arms and give up the great struggle in the interest of humanity? Shall we surrender to an enemy of civilization on the false theory that it is stronger than civilization, stronger than laws and constitutions, stronger than all the machinery of law enforcement? "What proposal to make to the citizenship of a State which is about to celebrate the Centennial of Gonzales and Goliad, of the Alamo and San Jacinto. "In my judgment we cannot afford to lose prohibition from our Texas Constitution."

Record Of Twenty-Five Years Ago Looked Backward Itself 28 Years

This week's backward glance at old newspapers finds the Record for twenty-five years ago, August 26, 1910, glancing backward itself for twenty-eight years to Colorado's beginning.

A whole page in the Record was devoted to reminiscing and to cuts of Colorado's earliest buildings—the drug store of Dr. T. H. Lee and company in the present location of the C. E. Hammond hardware company; the Grand Central hotel just south of where Texas Electric Service now has offices; the first stone courthouse and jail of Mitchell county.

Basis for the article was a writup in A. H. Tolar's "Colorado Courant" of January 1, 1882. Among other things the article stated that the grading forces of the T. & P. railroad reached the Colorado River on October 15, 1880. That the first business house had been built here the preceding August. That the town was regularly laid out until May 20, 1881. And that there were only about 75 people in the entire county at that time.

One of the earliest stores here was that of J. W. Wilson, hardware dealer, who invented a cheap stove for quick heating, moved to St. Louis, and made a fortune out of his "Wilson" heater. No attempt had been made to cultivate the soil. The history of stock-raising in the county was said to have been given in the history of G. W. Waddell, who had moved here in 1877 from Callahan county with about 3,000 head of cattle. By the early part of 1882, when the article was first published in the Courant, the county's population had swelled to 3,500 persons. Medical waters had been discovered at the "junction of Champion creeks, where there are seven wells with undoubted chemical constituents. A town site has been staked off there. An analysis of the waters will be made. Then the 'boom' will be

When the sun is blazing hot, your motor heat goes up, too!

To protect your motor, use Germ Processed Oil, which has 2 to 4 times greater film strength and is less affected by extreme motor heat!

YOUR MOTOR runs lots hotter in Summer. That's why you must have oil that maintains high film strength under extreme temperatures to get safe lubrication. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear. Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing methods have even less. As motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength. You'll get better motor protection with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Timken machine tests prove that it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil and that heat above 225° does not lessen this advantage. More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil. You'll be certain your motor is safely lubricated even at high temperatures if you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Eighty Thousand Thrilled As Indiana Boyhood Wins Second Annual Trophy

AKRON, Ohio. — Eighty thousand spectators saw Indiana boyhood triumph for the second consecutive year in the All-American Soap Box Derby here when 13-year-old Maurice E. Bale, Jr., of Anderson, Ind., drove his scarlet and gray coaster to victory over juvenile champions of 51 other contending cities.

Seventy-pound Everett Miller, 13, St. Louis, was second, and Lonny Kline, 15, of Akron, O., third. The three finalists flew down the bricked slope to cross the finish line scant inches apart. The first Derby, in 1934 at Dayton, O., was won by Robert Turner, of Muncie Ind.

The winner of first place received a $2,000 four-year scholarship in any state university. Second was awarded a Master Chevrolet coach and third a Standard Chevrolet coach.

Each of the three boys reaching the final also received a silver trophy and a medal. A wrist watch was given to each of the 52 city champions. Other awards:

Charles F. Kettering Trophy (for the best designed and constructed car)—Dayton Rhodes, Philadelphia.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway Trophy (fastest heat)—Lonny Kline, Akron, 30.4 second.

J. D. Tew Trophy (best brakes)—William Spain, Rochester, N. Y.

Collins & Aikman Trophy (best upholstered car)—Keneth Shatto, Louisville.

Climalene Trophy (best balanced car)—Joseph Ogilvie, Cleveland.

The young contestants, eyes unblinking on the track and steering wheels in the grip of small determined fists, took the stiff 1181-foot roadway in their stride, and with only minor mishaps, to the roar of a swelling crowd of over 80,000 people that packed every seat and every foot of standing space.

The Ohio National Guard, State Police, uniformed county deputy sheriffs and Akron City Police guarded the course and handled the tremendous flow of traffic. The entire hill, and areas at top and bottom, were fenced in.

The radio program was disarranged when Paul C. Brown, Oklahoma City, developed side swing on the hill and lost control of his car after it finished, striking Graham McNamee and Tom Manning, NBC radio announcers. Both were removed to a field hospital and later to Akron City Hospital. Their injuries were found to be not serious, but both were advised to remain for several days. McNamee was unable to make his scheduled broadcast.

Youngest contestant was Jimmy

Federal Aid Given Rural Schools Of County Is Received

The $4,404 in Federal allocation to supplement funds of rural schools in meeting deferred teacher salary accounts was received Saturday by Roy Davis Coles, county school superintendent, who is making remittance of the fund to the benefactors.

A total of thirteen schools are participating in distribution of the fund. The money can not be used for any purpose other than that assigned, Coles stated Monday.

Penning, 8, third grade schoolboy from Milwaukee. A spectator was Dr. H. C. Giles, Cuahoga, O., whose son described each heat to him. The doctor is blind. Twenty of the contestants weighed less than a hundred pounds. The age limit was 16. Only two boys who won in 1934 in their home cities repeated in 1935 and had a second try to the title—Jack Furstenburg, 16, Omaha, and Walter York, 16, Knoxville, Tenn.

The cars themselves reflected adolescent imagination at its ingenious peak. Few of the inventive entrants departed far from the original soap-box idea.

Tommy Nimmo, Seranton, Pa., was the only boy whose car did not cost him a cent to build, and Leon Carlson, Rockford, Ill., managed it on a dollar.

The semi-final and final heats were broadcast by NBC over the coast-to-coast Blue network, telegraph companies strung special wires to the press stand, and the four major news reels caught the thrills and human interest for the nation's motion picture audiences.

Properly Stowed Bags Add to Comfort

Comfort, pleasure, and safety on a tour depend largely on efficient loading of the luggage, and modern body designs have done much to ease the problem, as these views of Chevrolet models reveal. In the upper left view, the suitcases have been fitted in snugly, the adjustable front seat having been moved forward to allow extra legroom, and the driver is now pushing back the seat to clamp the bags in place for the day. Upper right, the tourist is utilizing the baggage space back of the rear seat. The two lower pictures show the loading of a coupe compartment and a sedan trunk.

Dove Hunting Laws As Recently Wrote In Washington Cause Of Protest Here

There is the possibility that the Federal dove hunting season regulations, which have aroused a storm of protest at Colorado and other points in West Texas may be modified by dropping the prohibition against hunting after 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Senator Tom Connally, after conferring with Director Darling of the Bureau of Biological survey at Washington Saturday, wired sportsmen in West Texas "there appears little possibility of changing the season dates but I am hopeful that the prohibition against shooting after 4 o'clock will be waived."

Senator Morris Sheppard also wired that he had taken the matter up with Darling and was advised that no further changes this year were likely. He had advised a change af-

For your Health's sake... HEAT Your ENTIRE House

If you are susceptible to colds, and most people have from two to three each winter, you owe it to your health to heat your home adequately as a protection against sudden changes in temperature which are a contributory cause of colds.

One single illness to a member of your family will cost you far more in money and suffering than the few dollars you will spend for adequate heat to combat winter colds. So look over your heating equipment now. Some might need repairing. Some might need replacing altogether with modern equipment. Whatever it takes, do it now, for August is the opportune time to buy advantageously modern gas heating equipment. For your health's sake, heat your entire home.

Dan Beeman Interested In Oil Test In Nolan County, Spudded During The Week

Dan Beeman, prominent farmer of Longfellow community and owner of ranch lands in Nolan county, has prospects of merging into the oil business. Beeman owns 1,500 acres in block on which an oil test has just been spudded. The Sweetwater Reporter has the following comment on the venture:

Preparations were being made this morning to "spud in" Nolan county's first wildcat oil test in recent years—an exploration to find the black gold in the Champion vicinity. Actual drilling operations were expected to be started this afternoon.

Finding of oil would mean not only wealth for Nolan county and land owners in the Champion vicinity, south of Roscoe, but would bring untold riches to Georgia Institute of Technology, at Atlanta, Ga.

Section 89, block 24, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, is owned by the Georgia institution, and it is on that section that the test well is to be sunk. Definite location is 1550 feet from the west line and 330 feet from the south line of the section.

Acreege for the test has been blocked by N. B. Hall and A. Glenn of Sweetwater, and it was through their arrangements with independent operators that contract was signed for the test to go 4,000 feet into the earth.

Arrangements have been made, however, to carry the hole on down to the 6,000-foot level in event production is not found at a higher elevation, according to Mr. Glenn.

M. Harris and J. M. Sansom, the former of El Paso and San Antonio, and the latter of Dallas, were shown the acreage, liked the geological reports, and signed the drilling contract. A Star 30 machine is to be used in drilling the first 1,500 feet, after which a standard rig is to be used. The smaller machine is expected to go through the first 1,500 feet faster than could be done with the standard equipment, Mr. Glenn explained.

Mr. Hall, who worked for a number of years as a consulting geologist after studying in the Arizona School of Mines here, found encouraging surface geology on the block while bird hunting one afternoon. Returning to the land, he continued to make a study of the geological possibilities. After blocking the acreage, however, in company with Mr. Glenn, the two secured further geology reports; after which the independent drillers had their own geologists go over the tract to further satisfy themselves.
