LAKE PROJECT PLANS ARE HELD IN ABEYANCE BY C-C AND CITY PENDING REPORT

PWA Engineer's Opinion Is An Important Factor In Reaching Solution

Whether or not Colorado is to proceed with construction of a lake on Champion Creek, south of town, to be used as a water supply and resort property, rests largely on attitude of the government, city and Chamber of Commerce officials have stated. The project was discussed at length by these officials at conference held at the city hall Friday night.

City officials are represented as being in favor of the lake project but the matter of finances remains to be determined, said statement given The Record Tuesday afternoon from the chamber of commerce.

"There are those officials of the city who maintain that it would be proper to call for a bond election as Colorado's method of financing its share of the construction cost, but the chamber of commerce would await recommendation from PWA engineers as to the most acceptable source through which our part of the expense would be taken care of," Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, declared.

Pending final adjustment of the question, the city authorized E. D. Buchanan, resident engineer, to complete the project proposal and file same with Julian Montgomery, State PWA engineer with headquarters in Fort Worth. Skeleton application was filed with Montgomery several days ago.

Among citizens meeting with the mayor and city council as representatives of the chamber of commerce were Greene, Thos. R. Smith, Dr. Dave Bridgford, A. L. McSpadden and Dale Warren.

Tom Goss, representing property owners against the project, met with the council to urge that the proposed lake and pipe line construction be not prosecuted further. "I am of the opinion we should let well enough alone," Goss suggested.

CANTRILL FIELD ELECTRIC LIGHTING PROJECT STARTS AFTER FINANCES ASSURED

Wolves To Play First Night Game September 27, With Snyder High Tigers

Cantrell Field, the Wolf stadium, will within the next few days take place among the modernly equipped football arenas of West Texas with completion of the electric lighting equipment, now under construction.

Dewey Geer of Sweetwater, directing installation of the equipment, stated Thursday morning that construction work would be rushed to completion, assuring use of the field for the Wolves' initial night game Friday of next week when they are to entertain the Snyder Tigers, one of the strongest Class B clubs in this part of Texas.

Realization of this improvement was assured after more than fifty Colorado business and professional men underwrote surety of the project, to cost over $1,200. These public spirited men accepted the responsibility in the faith that local fans would patronize home games of the Wolves sufficiently to retire the obligation within two years.

"The lighting equipment at Wolf stadium will rate with the best in this section of West Texas and its construction is to be accepted as a definite asset that Colorado is going to back her football boys to the limit," Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, stated Thursday morning. Greene's organization sponsored the project.

A total of 32 reflectors, throwing the aggregate of 48,000 watt candle power will light the stadium. The lights are to be suspended on eight poles, four on each side of the field, and standing fifty feet high. The poles will be placed fifteen feet from the side line.

COLORADO BANKERS, STORE KEEPERS JOIN WITH RURAL FOLK IN OPTIMISTIC NOTE

Fat Cattle, Large Production In Fields Along With Fair Prices Seen

Colorado bankers, merchants and other citizens identified with the community's industrial life are lining up with cattlemen and farmers of the area in the general feeling that one of the best seasons in several years is just ahead. The feeling of assurance is considerably more defined than at any time since inception of the depression.

Cattle on the range are sleek and fat and will merge into the winter months in excellent physical state, ranchers here are telling The Record. Along with one of the best grass crops recalled in some time in September there is ample surface water on the range. There will be little feeding during the months to follow.

Farmers are coming into town from all sections of the territory to report that the outlook is in advance of conditions at any time during several years. One of the largest feed crops recalled is being harvested and cotton yields will easily reach the AAA allowable of approximately 25,000 bales.

Coupled with the physical outlook is another bright hue, affecting both the cattlemen and his farmer neighbor. Prices for the commodities they produce give added hope that the year is to bring better times financially.

Anticipating return of better times Colorado merchants have bought heavily in all lines represented. Colorado is determined to demonstrate conclusively to the people of a wide territory that the stores and shops of this city can compete with legitimate competition anywhere, to quote manager of one of the larger department stores.

The Colorado cotton and seed markets are to maintain their distinction as being among the most attractive in this part of West Texas, buyers handling these commodities have announced.

ANNUAL BEAN FEED TO BE GIVEN BY LEGION POST ON TUESDAY NIGHT, OCT. 8TH

Commander Quinney Hopes To Have All Veterans Of County Present

Annual bean feed and social program of the American Legion will be given on Tuesday night, October 8, Floyd Quinney, commander of Oran C. Hooker Post, announced Saturday. Date for the affair was set at meeting of the post held the night before.

"It is our sincere hope that every ex-service man of this county will attend this annual affair," Quinney said. "It will make no difference whether or not you be a member of the Legion. These annual affairs have always been for all the veterans of this county and we do not plan to offer any change in that policy."

Three Injured

Mr. Cowden, also given first medical attention at the Root hospital and later flown to Temple by plane, received a wrenched back, dislocation of four vertebrae and a severe head cut. Misses Tankersley and Cowden were brought to the hospital in a Kiker & Son ambulance. Young Cowden was brought to town by Louis Cooper, who arrived at scene of the crash within a short time after the two cars collided.

When the crash occurred the Midland brother and sister were enroute to Austin to enter State University. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott F. Cowden, preceded them in another car. Parents of the Midland young people were reached by telephone in Sweetwater and told of the accident and hurried back to Colorado.

Miss Cowden was flown to Temple in a plane piloted by George McEntire of Sterling City, who flew from the Midland airport to Colorado in 45 minutes after receiving the emergency call. He took off from the landing field here at 2:35 p. m. Father of Miss Cowden and Dr. Root were other passengers.

Plane bearing Wright Cowden to Temple came from Abilene. The ship, piloted by C. W. Rodrick, took off with Cowden, his mother and Dr. R. E. Lee aboard at 4:20, arriving at Temple at 6:45—after bucking a strong south wind.

Both of the planes returned Sunday night, Rodrick driving direct to Abilene and McEntire to Midland. The latter ship returned the Colorado doctors to Big Spring where they were met by members of Dr. Root's family and driven to Colorado.

Cantrill Field

Committees to prosecute campaign to sell the admission cardsboards are to leave the chamber of commerce Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Proceeds from the sales are to apply on cost of installing the lighting equipment.

Along with the grid contest Friday night of next week is to be given a special program in tribute to the Wolves and the fans who will be credited with realization of the improvement. Congressman George Mahon is to deliver the principal address.

John E. Watson, superintendent of the schools, and Greene, are to be in charge of the program, the former presiding as master of ceremonies. C. Wedgeworth, superintendent of the Snyder schools, is to speak and a concert by the Snyder band is another entertainment feature to be included.

A committee composed of W. S. Cooper, C. A. Wilkins, and E. R. Bibby has been charged with responsibility of publicizing the game and "doing all that they may in cooperation with the ticket selling committee to get Colorado's population out to the game," according to Greene.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To The Record:

The "back to the land" movement was no idle boast. A twenty per cent increase in the number of farmers within the last four or five years, speaks worlds for the "back to the land" movement and augurs well for the future of the country. Many families who recently moved to small farms, own their teams, tools and equipment, have sufficient feed to make another crop and are out of debt. Up in Martin county subsistence farmers went the "early bird" one better, and brought in the early bale. When enough people go "back to the land," where they are assured of becoming self sustaining and independent, this country will whip the depression before breakfast.

Names Of Pioneer Cattlemen Numerous In Article Written By D. C. Earnest

Names that flash through the early cattle history of Mitchell county and surrounding counties were recalled in an article written by D. C. (Dave) Earnest of Edinburg, Texas, brother of the late Judge C. H. Earnest, prior to the Cowboy reunion in Big Spring recently.

The article written by Mr. Earnest appeared in the Big Spring Herald, in which he was quoted as writing: "Over fifty years ago, from 1883 to 1887, I ranged on Wild Horse Creek about three miles north of Intan tank. The Earl of Aylesford owned the RUSH ranch on the head of Wild Horse creek about eight miles above us. Our brands were MEM and DAD. Big Spring was the nearest town. . . .

"Our outfit was known as the Deep

Creek outfit, having originally had its headquarters on Deep Creek where Snyder is now located. I was a kid of 17 when I first saw Big Spring in 1883. . . . Among the cowmen and cowpunchers I knew were Gus O'Keefe of the C. C. Slaughter Long S ranch; Tom Martin, D. P. Atwood, Tom and Bob Deats, John and Dan Watson, Dock West, Monroe and Bev Stewart, Seth and Jeff Mills, Lump and Bill Mooney, Jim Parks, Bob Coats, Sam Camp, Tom Adair, Joe Adair, Ike Adair, Clay Adair, "Widder" Bob Hunt. . . . We traded with J. & W. Fisher in Big Spring. . . . John Birdwell, who was proprietor of the Long Wolf saloon in Colorado when I first knew him, later ran the T. & P. depot hotel in Big Spring. He was the Earl of Aylesford's most intimate friend. . . .

WINTER RANGES SAID TO BE EXCELLENT OVER ALL OF TEXAS, REPORT NOTES

Cattle In Good Flesh, With High Feed Production In Every Part State

Ranges are in good condition and prospects for winter range feed are very good for Texas as a whole. The condition of cattle ranges on September 1, 1935, was 80 per cent of normal compared with 85 per cent a month ago, 50 per cent a year ago, and 76.4 per cent the 10-year average on September 1. Ranges declined more than the usual amount during August this year.

Sheep ranges declined the usual 5 points during August. The condition on September 1, 1935, was 82 per cent of normal compared with 50 per cent a year ago and 77.5 per cent the 10-year average on September 1. Sheep ranges are in good condition for most of the sheep area. Prospects for winter range feed are good also. Recently beneficial rains fell in most of District 6, and prospects have improved somewhat there.

The condition of cattle declined 2 points during August. The condition on September 1, 1935, was 84 per cent of normal compared with 60 per cent a year ago and 81.5 per cent the 10-year average on September 1. Cattle are in good flesh and in good shape to enter feed-lots. There is an ample supply of feed available to provide for a long feeding period to produce good weight cattle for market.

Sheep declined 1 point during August, when the usual decline is about 3 points. The condition of sheep on September 1, 1935, was 86 per cent of normal compared with 64 per cent a year ago and 81.8 per cent the 10-

Colorado 'City' Played Important Role In Cattle Industry Of Half Century Ago

That Colorado played an important part in the cattle industry of four and five decades ago, is again reflected in the following article, reprinted from a recent edition of the San Angelo Standard-Times:

The gold- and silver monetary standards didn't mean so much to West Texas stockmen and traders back there 40 to 45 years ago. When you could get yearlings for $3 a head, cows for $10, it looked as if a man could take a few hundred dollars and get rich. But you didn't have the money. Instead you learned how to trade.

It was on a "one-for-one" followed by 10-for-one ratio" that enabled W. D. McNeill to make money back in those days when San Angelo, Sweetwater and Colorado City were the leading "cities" of this section of West Texas and Colorado City, incidentally, was larger than Sweetwater.

Mr. McNeill, who was 80 years old Aug. 8, was one of the very first "straight-out" professional livestock traders to come to this section.

Mr. McNeill made a great deal of money through this often repeated formula: trade your cattle for big mares or good mules, take them to Louisiana and trade the work stock to the Louisianans at the ratio of one big mare or one good mule for 10, or 12 head of cattle; then return the cattle to West Texas and trade them off at one-for-one for the mares and mules, which were plentiful in this section at that time, just as there was an excess of cattle on range in Louisiana.

The depression of four decades ago was worse than this one, the old-time trader declares.

"The government had to feed the people then. They had to go up and take an oath and then would be issued rations. But there probably weren't as many people on rations then in all West Texas as there are in Tom Green County today. There are maybe 5,500 or 6,000 people on relief here now; in those days that was a lot of people for West Texas. That was during Cleveland's last administration," Mr. McNeill said.

"And talk about drouth—why, in those days I couldn't buy a bundle of Johnson grass in many of the towns for the horse I had hitched to my buggy. I had to carry a good supply of oats with me in order to be sure of getting to my destination.

"But if there was a drouth one way, there wasn't in another," the old-timer recalls. "Sweetwater and San Angelo had plenty of saloons. But Colorado City, up in that section, was the wide-open town. It had a street car line. It was there that the cowboys of the Old West congregated for wine, women and song. There was one man who owned a dance hall and resort there who made plenty of money."

Before he went into the trading business, Mr. McNeill tended bar at Sweetwater. He worked for Ben Jones first. It was in front of Jones' saloon that McNeill saw the late Jim Newman, Nolan County sheriff for many years, shot down. Newman had started off the plank sidewalk into the street when a load of buckshot struck him in the small of the back, crippling him permanently.

A boy on the other side of the street was knocked down by one of the shots but he got up and "did some tall running." It was never proved who shot Newman. Two men from Roby and another from up on the Plains were tried for the killing attempt but there was no conviction. Though crippled, Newman continued as sheriff for a time. He was the father of Mose Newman, noted Sweetwater trapper, and Cap and Auti Newman, all of whom are wealthy and well-known now.

Mr. McNeill came to San Angelo about 37 years ago, about nine years after he first came to Sweetwater. He was in the cattle business here for a time. F. O. Perry and a brother of Pat Dooley bought the first cattle McNeill shipped in here.

The pioneer San Angelonian was on a freight train coming into San Angelo that was wrecked. And in connection with this, Mr. McNeill had one of the strangest experiences of his life. He was sitting in one of the cars, wondering what he would do if the train should wreck. He decided that if the train did crash, he would throw himself into the aisle and grab on to the legs of the seats. An instant later he was doing just that. He was unhurt. The crash hurt some of the cattle. McNeill told Dooley, the freight agent here, that he would let him set the amount of damages. Dooley paid him $50. Harry Lyman and Billy Williams, who also had some stock on the train, tried to get higher damages from the railroad and went into court. But they lost the suit.

Mr. McNeill was the first caretaker that West Texas Baptists named to look after the Christoval Baptist Encampment grounds at Christoval. It was there that he was stricken with asthma. He has a bad heart now but he doesn't look his 80 years. In recent years he has been serving often as a grand jury door bailiff.

or crossing the streets. The responsibility for their safety rests entirely upon the shoulders of the motor drivers of Colorado and Mitchell county. Cars are a great blessing when properly driven, but they become a menace in the hands of reckless drivers when they snuff out the lives of small tender children.

School attendance itself increases the use of streets by children, therefore creates added hazards during morning and afternoon. These should be hours of extraordinary precaution for Colorado motorists. A person who does not respect the rights of the children is inhuman. The humane driver, not wishing to maim a child and destroy the usefulness for life of one or more of his or her limbs, will drive cautiously on all the streets of Colorado and the highways of Mitchell county, as well as all other streets and highways. Be sure to keep your car brakes working properly so that you will never be compelled to use the old alibi "the child darted out in front of me and I could not stop." Drive slowly and keep a keen lookout for children for remember, we love our children and desire to keep them healthy and pretty, so do be careful drivers for their sakes.

Campaign Launched By Safeway Is Far Reaching In Scope

While Federal agencies are studying new uses for cotton and its products the Safeway Stores organization steps forward with a suggestion that many thousands of dollars can be poured into the pockets of cotton farmers if we will use those products we already have tested and found to be acceptable.

On September 16 Safeway launched a great producer-consumer campaign, organization-wide in scope, to acquaint American housewives with the myriad uses of this useful oil of the cotton seed. The Safeway Stores in this community will join in the campaign and for one week will emphasize the wide range of products made from cotton oil.

This is not the first such campaign staged by the Safeway organization. Several years ago Western sheep men went to Safeway officials and told of a vast "over-supply of mutton." Unconvinced that there is such a thing as an over-supply of food the Safeway officers, however, saw an opportunity to serve both the producer and the consumer—and took advantage of it. The result was a remarkable promotion that placed mutton and lamb on thousands of American dinner tables. The result was that the over-supply vanished in a short time.

The principal has been applied to beef, to potatoes, to fruits and other products, with invariable success. The American housewife and the Southern planter literally are joining hands in a great co-operative effort that is fore-ordained for success.

So important and so far-reaching has become the cotton oil campaign that it has gained the interest of State and Federal agricultural officials, agricultural news writers, farm organizations and women's clubs. It is unanimously supported by the cotton oil manufacturers.

WATCH FOR CHILDREN
By A School Friend
Now that schools have opened for the fall and winter term throughout Colorado and Mitchell county children will be constantly upon the streets and highways, therefore all motorists are requested to beware of CHILDREN.

Children do not always possess the presence of mind that one would expect adults to have. Also, children are usually interested in playing and therefore subject their little bodies to dangers while playing in the roads

FFA Boys To Give Huge Exhibit Next Year At Centennial

DALLAS, Texas.—Ten thousand Texas farm boys, members of the Future Farmers of America, will stage the most comprehensive junior farm exhibition in the history of the Southwest at the Texas Centennial Exposition next year.

The 435 chapters of the Future Farmers in Texas are already organizing for a seven day special show under direction of Paul G. Haynes of Austin, State Director of Vocational Agriculture. County and sectional shows to select the best products for the Dallas Exposition will be held.

Dairy and beef cattle, horses and mules, sheep, goats and swine, all pedigreed animals raised by the junior farmers, will constitute the livestock exhibit. Scientific feeding of livestock will be demonstrated. The agricultural show will display the results of scientific farming. There will be milking contests in the dairy department and egg laying competitions in the poultry section.

The farm boys will converge on Dallas in special trains, buses and automobiles. They will be housed in dormitories built for their benefit. A two hundred piece band, composed of young farmers, will provide music.

Future Farmers Week at the Exposition, which opens June 6, has been tentatively set from November 21 to 28. It will be one of the closing features of the $15,000,000 show.

Texas has been under seven flags; instead of six as heretofore recorded in history. The Comanche flag also waved there, finds Author Mary Jordan Atkinson.

A. D. Muse, farmer living near Floydada, Tex., reported he crawled on his hands and knees beneath a tractor to escape huge hailstones while a high wind pushed the machine along.

This country has more than 366,000 World War veterans on its pension rolls; dependents of World War veterans total nearly 116,000.

Several veterans in the Wolf camp are to be in action Friday night as Colorado enters her initial football contest for the season at Midland with the powerful Bulldogs defending title of a grid organization that in other years has given the Wolf pack plenty to worry about.

Probable line-up of Colorado will give an average of 161 pounds in the line and 162 pounds in the backfield. In the starting line will be seven men who have opposed Midland during either the season of 1934 or 1933. Wolf coaches Tuesday afternoon announced the following set-up for

'EVERY COLORADO CITIZEN WILL BE SOLD TICKET' IS OBJECTIVE OF COMMITTEE

One-Half Cost Of Lighting Cantrill Field Sought At Snyder Game

"We are going to expect every man, woman and child in this town to purchase an admission to the Colorado-Snyder football game at Cantrill Field on the night of Friday, September 27, as their contribution in paying cost of installing electric lights there for night playing."

That was ultimatum to come from a group of fifty-three Wolf fans Friday at the Lions Club, who a few days before had signed contract with the Texas Electric Company calling for installation of a lighting system to cost $1235. The information that every citizen would be called upon to buy a ticket for the contest was made by W. W. Whipkey, publisher of The Record and one of the citizens making possible installation of the equipment.

"We have concluded contract with Snyder for our initial game after the lights are installed and in bringing the Snyder club to Colorado we have assurance of a good game," Whipkey said. "Our neighbors there plan lighting their grid next year and we are under obligation to take our Wolves to Snyder and assist them as they are going to help us."

In speaking to the announcement by Whipkey, Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, announced that his organization had concluded plans for supplying "ineligible" placards for all persons who did not have time to work in drive to sell the tickets.

"If you do not have time to devote to this worthy cause, call at our office and we will sell you an ineligible card that may be affixed to front of your automobile. This sign will make you immune from worry by those who do have the time to give."

The football field equipment is to be paid for out of gate receipts, Whipkey outlined. "In the event we have not paid this obligation of over $1200 at the end of two years, those of us who signed the contract will go down in our pockets and pay the balance," he explained.

Dr. William May, Colorado dental surgeon, was received as a new member in address delivered by Dr. Howard Lindley. T. W. Stonerod who with members of his family was visiting in New Orleans at time of the Huey Long assassination, told of reactions news of the shooting had there.

J. E. Watson, superintendent of the schools, recalled that the system had just started on another year's work with the largest enrollment in history. About 250 more students than at the same time a year ago, he recalled.

Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church and Jack Helton, club secretary, were others to speak. Helton outlined tentative plans for ball to be given at the American Legion building as a benefit for the football field. Proceeds from the dance will go to pay for lighting equipment now being installed there.

Suggestion offered by W. W. Porter that the club be host to Boy Scouts carried and a melon feast at Ruddick Park on the following Monday night was decided upon.

Gus brought samples of the kaffir to this office Friday morning.

Roscoe Plowboys Look Plenty Tough Since Pony Victory

The Roscoe Plowboys, a Class B aggregation that has always given the Wolves something to worry about, are looking more formidable than ever now. It is all because the Plowboys defeated the Sweetwater Mustangs Saturday.

The Sweetwater Daily Reporter described the Plowboys as a "fighting, determined bunch," and the six to nothing win over Sweetwater indicates that much and more. A 20-year pass brought victory to Roscoe.

That the Roscoe lads were fighting may be indicated in news report of the battle that A. J. Roy, 180-pound Mustang fullback suffered a dislocated shoulder during last half of the game.

Two Color Schemes Featured By Mrs. Lockhart In Six-Table Party Thursday

Featuring an autumn color scheme of warm yellows and oranges and green in one room and pastel shades ranging from orchid through pink in another, Mrs. H. L. Lockhart was hostess to six tables of bridge last Thursday afternoon at her home, 1105 Chestnut.

The autumn scheme was used in the dining room, where yellow artichokes, yellow and orange zennias, and deep yellow cosmos were arranged. The dining table was laid with imported lace and centered with yellow and orange zennias in a Mexican blue glass bowl on a blue reflector. Flanking the bowl were crystal and sterling candelabra each holding five yellow tapers.

Petunias, roses, snapdragons, and bachelor buttons in graduated shades of orchid and pink were arranged in the living room.

Prizes in the games were as follows: For high score, a yellow flower bowl, shot with silver, to Mrs. Austin Bush; for second high, a cut glass candy dish to Mrs. Bun Pritchett; for low, a silver nut dish to Mrs. R. J. Wallace.

Mexican drawnwork table covers in yellow, orange, green, and white were used at the refreshment hour. The plate consisted of crab à la Newburg with sherry sauce in individual heart-shaped patties, tomato aspic salad, little crackers, cheese balls, and mints, served with coffee.

Only routine business was taken up at the brief meeting of the Arnett-Wulfjen circle, for which Mrs. J. E. McCleary led the devotional.

In the absence of its chairman, Mrs. Dick Gregory, the Mary Martha circle was presided over by Mrs. J. G. Merritt. Plans were made for a rummage sale downtown somewhere Saturday. Members are to put their bundles of old clothing out on their porch for gathering up Thursday. This circle's new study will be "That Other America."

Fourteen attended the Rainbow meeting, hearing Mrs. F. E. Crabtree lead the devotional on "Mission Schools an Evangelistic Force." Another bake sale was planned for Saturday at Piggly Wiggly's. TO MY FRIENDS IN THIS SECTION

For seventeen years I have been trying to be of service to the Amusement Loving Public of Texas. I have endeavored to merit the good will of the substantial citizenship in the territory in which we played by presenting a clean, wholesome family entertainment at popular prices.

Recently, I had the opportunity to acquire the entire equipment of the Bailey Brothers' Big Three Ring Circus, which bears an enviable reputation in the circus world, and known to circus fans in Texas as presenting a high class, clean, wholesome worthwhile circus performance.

Believing there was an opportunity and a need for such an entertainment in this section, I have added many features and will bring to you, I believe, the biggest and best entertainment of its kind ever offered at popular prices.

One of the oldest and most cherished traditions of the circus world was the old-time street parade that every man, woman and child looked forward to seeing, how they would pack the sidewalks, anxiously waiting to hear the blare of the trumpets, the martial music of its bands, and the highly colored parade wagons, animal cages, beautiful horses, funny clowns, and a thousand and one thrills that the old-time circus parade offered.

The first thing I did upon purchasing the Bailey Brothers' Big Three Ring Circus equipment was to augment its rolling stock, buying parade wagons, miniature animal cages, drawn by Shetland ponies, and many other features in an earnest endeavor to revive the old-time circus parade.

This beautiful parade will be given each day at noon, preceding the afternoon performance. Don't miss the old-time circus parade.

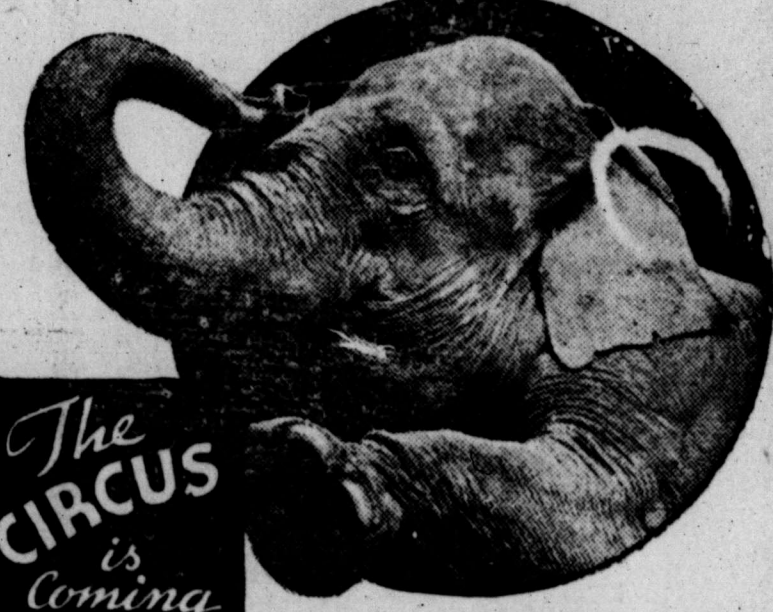

Hoping that you will bring your family and enjoy an afternoon or an evening at Bailey Brothers' Big Three Ring Circus, and remember, I promise you we will endeavor to make it the biggest attraction of its kind ever offered at these prices. Thanking you for your past support, and hoping that we may continue to have your good will.

Yours for a good entertainment,
HARLEY SADLER.

Horse With Human Mind With Bailey Bros. Exhibition

The Bailey Bros. Circus has purchased a group of wild horses, and out of this group one was picked and named Smokie. An Apache Mexican Mustang, a very rare animal he was purchased from Pawnee, Oklahoma with others.

Smokie has now been trained and can multiply, add, subtract, answer questions, tell time of day and pick out colors. When Smokie was brought in he was a wild horse and had never been roped, haltered or been under a saddle, out of the horses brought in Smokie was roped by Mexican Joe, one of the cowboys who has been on Pawnee Bill's ranch for over forty years.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Dr. M. E. Dodd in the Watchman Examiner says: Church attendance will help the health of the body by causing one to forget his troubles. It will produce peace of mind and joy of spirit by concentrating thought for a little while upon eternal values.

Church attendance by all the people will do more to prevent social and political disturbances than all the concerts and shallow entertainments that can be given away.

Church attendance in the time of distress should be appreciated and magnified by all leaders of life and thought in the community.

No silly, shallow excuse should be allowed to keep any church member from the house of God on the Lord's day. Real men and women ought to be ashamed of themselves to even mention some of the excuses they do not go to church.

The pastor is expected to be at church at every service. The Lord has promised to be there in the presence of his divine Spirit. They have a right to expect the other members of the family to be present.

No husband is the right sort of husband who does not go home regularly. No child can accomplish anything who does not attend school regularly. No business would prosper without regular and faithful attention.

No church member can be the right sort nor prosper spiritually without regular church attendance. No church can accomplish its highest end in any community nor for the sake of humanity nor for the glory of God whose members are not regular, loyal, faithful attendants upon the services.

The great promise in God's Word is pronounced on those who "forsake not the assembling of themselves together." Every Christian heart should leap with joy as did David's when he said, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

A want ad in one of our exchanges reads WANTED—Room heated by two girls.

In looking over our exchanges we note the following mishaps and accidents: Mrs. Jones of Plainview let a can-opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry.

A mischievous lad of Westbrook threw a stone and cut a Mr. Pike in the alley. A Colorado carpenter climbed on the roof of a house last week looking for a leak, and fell, striking himself on the back porch.

While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last week at Lorraine a savage dog attacked them and bit Harold on the public square.

While Chester Thomas was harnessing a young colt last Saturday the colt whirled and kicked him near his corn-crib.

A peachtree limb properly applied to a boy in the Tom Sawyer days was probably alright but times have changed and boys have changed too.

There is one word in the English language that is pronounced wrong by everybody. Teachers and preachers always pronounce it wrong for the word itself is WRONG.

To pass on a curve, may result in a swerve That will ring down the curtain for you Or in case of a smash, or a head-on crash You may kill other motorists too.

Now there may be a thrill, to pass on a hill When you think the highway is clear, But sometimes its not clear and your Hunch may be a bum steer.

Under no circumstances should drivers take chances On roads where the vision is blurred The graveyards are filled with folks who were killed. By auto unseen and unheard.

Nine times out of ten you may make it, but then The very next time you try A big motor truck may wipe out your luck And for you its sweet bye and bye.

Yes there's many a girl on the curve and hill And the reapers scythe gives no quarter Reflect on the haste and cut down the waste Life is too short, why make it shorter.

Governor Told Of Pension Costs In Auditor's Report

"Old-age pensions could cost Texas taxpayers as much as $56,073,402 yearly if each of the 283,129 people 65 years of age and over received the full $15 monthly allotment provided for in the recent Constitutional Amendment," State Auditor Orville S. Carpenter said today.

At the request of Governor Allred, Carpenter and R. B. Anderson, State Tax Commissioner, prepared the report "Cost and General Plan for Old Age Pensions." Upon the Governor's suggestion it was mailed to members of the Legislature September 10.

"Experience of other states has shown that they have attempted at first to take care of only those actually in need of assistance. Requirements made of applicants have been with a view of eliminating those who, although of eligible age, did not actually need assistance. In this way other states have greatly reduced the costs from the amount necessary to pay if all persons of the required age had been included," Carpenter said.

"As there are 41,787 persons 65 years of age and over on the Texas Relief Rolls, this apparently is the minimum number able to qualify for old-age pensions. At $15 a month and with 10 per cent administrative cost added, this would be $8,273,826 yearly," Carpenter explained.

Carpenter believed the figure 62,933 most nearly represented the actual number who probably would receive old-age pensions in Texas. He determined this figure by considering the experiences of other states. If 62,933 people in Texas 65 years of age and over were to receive the full $15 a month, the yearly cost to the taxpayer would be $12,460,734, Carpenter calculated. In this he included 10 per cent administrative expenses.

CLARENCE DARROW Here is a eulogium or ecumion on Bryan and Darrow which will be profitable for every one to read.

It was the popular thing to ridicule William Jennings Bryan for his "monkey trial" in Tennessee which marked the close of his life. Clarence Darrow came in for a great deal of praise. Of course the double statement could be turned around. Bryan died and died gloriously with head up and face forward. He died a Christian and with the light from another world lighting up his countenance.

In his last fight he may have been trying to stop the onward march of thought, but in his heart and mind he was defending a cause that was dearer to him than life, a cause for which he did give his life. Mr. Darrow is sitting in his rocking chair today with the sands of time fast slipping from beneath his feet. He says, "When I die, as I shall soon, my body will decay, my mind will decay and my intellect will be gone. My soul? There is no such thing." This then is Mr. Darrow's obituary, and it is a pitiful one. A surrender of the Spirit is tragic, and Mr. Darrow has surrendered. If he is a materialist he also is a defeatist, conquered by age and hugging his philosophy close to his heart as he waits for nothing. What a tragic failure! What a shipwreck of brilliant intellect? We are made to think of the old man of Ecclesiastes as he exclaims, "Vanity, vanity, all is vanity." Before actually going, however, the writer of Ecclesiastes turned to the youth of the land besought them, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say I have no pleasure in them." And then "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter; Fear God and keep His commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." May the light of God's countenance even yet illuminate the face of the poor, old, defeated man. Bryan and Darrow. Jacob and Esau. The Godly and the Godless. Mark the end and choose your pathway.
