Best Business Day of Year Is Enjoyed By Stores Saturday

Scores Of Rural Citizens, It Is Pointed Out, Failed To Come Into Colorado After Roads Became Sloppy

Saturday was the best business day for Colorado merchants during 1935, despite misty, sloppy roads connecting with rural communities of the territory and the further handicap that the day was cold. That a high peak for the year was reached in trade channels was suggested late that night after conferences with heads of several stores and shops.

The days business, it was suggested in several quarters, would have gone to even higher totals had weather conditions been favorable. Hundreds of rural citizens, along with shoppers from towns in the area, who did not mingle with the busy shopping throng here Saturday afternoon, came to the city during Monday and Tuesday for their gift selections, boosting business for the holiday season to higher level than for the past several years.

So busy were practically all of the larger department and other stores that the sales people were unable to wait on the trade. Hundreds of shoppers made selections from stocks on display, went to the wrapping counter and paid the bill without assistance of store help. They just could not be all waited on for several hours during the afternoon.

As a rule the heavy sales record represented cash transactions. The ratio of charge items was relatively small, merchants have stated, again indicating that the farmer, rancher, worker and other citizen is well along into better times. From some of the stores came reports that business was from 20 to 30 percent higher than on the same week-day a year ago.

As a convenience to belated shoppers stores remained open to a late hour Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights. It was noticed that much of the last minute Christmas shopping was attended to after the usual closing time.

Purchases went more strongly toward the higher grade merchandise and items of a more serviceable character. Demand for the gift representing small outlay and little service for the receiver was relatively small as compared with seasons of the past, especially during the last three Yule holidays.

With passing of the Christmas shopping season merchants are now turning their attention to the task of clearing their shelves of gift merchandise and replacing them with seasonable items. Late Winter and early Spring apparel is being featured in displays at several of the stores while the grocers, hardware dealers, jewelers and others to be mentioned are changing aspect of their places of business from that of Santa Claus to the more formal of routine business.

New Cotton Ruling To Junk Presses, Coloradoan Says

Manager Of Interests Here Expresses Concern Over Proposed Changes

Jas. H. Guitar, resident manager of corporation controlling extensive cotton oil, compress and ginning interests at Colorado, Friday expressed his opposition to a proposed rule which allows railroads to carry cotton by compresses up to 100 miles.

Adoption of such a rule, Mr. Guitar declared, would force them out of the compressing business. He stated that where the present requirement of railroads halting cotton at the first compress enroute from point of origin was beneficial to compresses in both the smaller towns and cities, the proposed rule would work for benefit of the city plants alone.

Country bankers, too, would lose in the proposed rule, Guitar went on to say. As cotton is now handled, it is compressed and shipped to market points from points in which the banks carrying paper against the commodity are located. The change, sought by special interests in the larger cities, he outlined, would eliminate much of this important factor that now favors the country bank and makes borrowing by the grower more flexible.

RESETTLEMENT LOANS REPAID IN MITCHELL AMOUNT TO $10,000

Collections to date on Resettlement loans made last spring in Mitchell county amount to $10,000.00, according to John Barbee, supervisor for the Resettlement administration in Mitchell, Howard, and Glasscock counties.

In the three counties, according to Mr. Barbee, there are 126 families being served under the Resettlement administration, which is a reorganization of last year's rural rehabilitation program. Counting an average of six people in each family, 756 persons are being benefitted by the program in these three counties.

During the past year there have been only two employees of the Resettlement administration in the three counties. In anticipation of a larger program for the coming year, three additional employees have been added in this county alone.

To be exact a total of $65,851.50, represented in 1,455 checks, went out from the office of Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, to these citizens who during the year had cooperated with Uncle Sam in campaign to reduce cotton production and subsequently restore stability on the farm. The remittances marked final pay-

SORE FOOT, NOT OLD AGE OCCASIONS USE OF CANE

It was due to sore foot and not old age, as some charged, that prompted C. M. Thompson of near Lorraine to employ use of a walking cane while in town Saturday morning. ORDER TO CLOSE DISTRICT RELIEF OFFICE JAN. 1 HAS BEEN ISSUED BY DIRECTOR

Mitchell And Other Counties Of This Section Affected; Skeleton Organization For Territory Be Set Up

The District 13-B relief office, composed of Coke, Fisher, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Sterling counties, will be closed January 1, according to Roy F. Formway, District Administrator, in a formal statement issued Tuesday.

Only unemployables, approximately 300 or 400 in the seven counties, will be retained on the relief rolls, and they will receive directly from the state office at Austin only enough for subsistent commodities.

A skeleton organization, with Miss Nellie M. Henderson, at present District Case Supervisor, as District Administrator will be set up, to be known as District No. 19. Three additional counties will be added to those now in District 13-B, making ten counties in the new set-up. The three additional counties are to be Rannels, Jones and Taylor.

This new organization will not likely last more than three months at the most, possibly closing on April 1. There will be a few case workers retained in each of these ten counties under the direction of Miss Henderson.

As a result of orders to close the relief office, merchants holding Disbursing Orders are instructed to have these orders in the hands of the District Relief Office not later than January 8th.

The District Relief Office positively will not pay these Disbursing Orders after January 13, but merchants failing to turn them in will have to await payment from state headquarters, which will mean delay, Formway said.

Merchants are reminded that the Disbursing Orders will be valid after the close of the District Relief Office, but payment will be delayed because of the necessary wait in handling in the state office.

All unemployables will be retained on the rolls in the counties over the state. Several hundred employables will be lopped off entirely from the rolls. These will have to be absorbed by industry, or else each local political sub-division will have to work out a program to take care of them.

Canning equipment under the old set-up will be left in each of the counties, to be used in any program these political sub-divisions see fit to inaugurate, Mr. Formway explained.

That these several hundred persons who will be cut off the relief rolls without any form of aid, must be blamed on the Works Progress Administration, the Administrator said.

Many of them are not accessible to WPA projects now underway. These persons cut off will have to work out their own problems, since no program has been announced either by the national or state administrations to take care of them.

In closing the Relief Office in Sweetwater, thirty employees within the organization will be left without jobs. Each county unit will release a number of office workers. Miss Henderson will retain headquarters in Sweetwater.

Unemployables are reminded that their aid, after the closing of local agencies will come directly from the state office, the checks to be mailed out twice each month.

No disbursing orders will be issued after December 31, to those now on direct relief.

Postal Business Is Larger Than During Past Several Years

Peak Of Annual Yule Rush Passed Sunday; Hours Of Overtime For Employees

Business at the Colorado postoffice during the holiday season was heaviest since the "good old days" of 1925 and 1926, employees at the office stated Monday afternoon. Peak of the annual Christmas rush was passed Sunday when the largest parcel business, both incoming and outgoing, was taken care of.

Employees at the office have been putting in overtime during the past week in order that patrons receive their gift packages and other Christmas mail without delay.

"We have handled the biggest business registered during the past several years and it is evident that considerable delay in dispatching the mails would have been encountered were we still in the old building," Edwin J. Moerer, chief clerk, stated.

Good Will Affair Slated For Friday Evening; Governor Allred And Congressman Mahon Among Speakers

Annual banquet of the chamber of commerce to be convened Friday evening in the Earnest building on East Second street gives promise of being the largest attended of such functions in history of the organization. Jim Greene, chamber secretary, stated Tuesday afternoon that reservations had passed the 300 mark and "I am expecting a number of others to yet conclude plans to be present."

The affair, to be sponsored by the organization as a good will gathering of all interested citizens of Colorado and adjacent territory, will assume an air of Spain. Spanish foods are to be served and the specialty entertainment features are to be strongly suggestive of the customs and traditions of those people. Menu to be found at the places is being printed in Spanish.

Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, will call the assembly to order and is to preside. Among prominent Texans to have places on the speaking program are Congressman George Mahon of Colorado and Governor James V. Allred of Austin. The program is to open at 7:30 and the Reverend W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church is to offer the invocation.

During the time dinner is being served specialty numbers, including costumed dancers and singers, are to be presented. Mrs. Bill Martin of Lorraine will sing a solo, accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Latham at the piano. The songs are to be in Spanish costume.

Address by Congressman Mahon, who is to speak for the subject, "My Trip To The Far East," will follow. In this address Mr. Mahon is to give some of the impressions that he recently received during a visit to China, Japan, the Philippines and other countries of the Orient.

Little Miss Daphne Mahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahon, with other children, are to represent the various countries in pantomime during delivery of the address. While visiting in the Far East Daphne received dresses of the type worn by little girls there and these are to be used in the program.

Mrs. C. A. Wilkins will sing a solo, with Mrs. Latham at the piano. The address of Governor Allred will follow. The chief executive has not announced the subject of this address.

After the governor's address a floor show will be given, including the Spanish dance skit "Jarabe Tapatio," with Susie Beal Snyder, Jane Axtell, Hunter Brandon and Dub Crow included in the cast. Music by a Spanish orchestra and specialties under direction of Mrs. Martin are to close the evening's program.

"On Comes The Music," will be in order at 10 o'clock.

"The chamber of commerce is highly pleased with reception given our plans for making this annual banquet an outstanding event and it is the sincere wish of every official of the organization that the program be enjoyed to the fullest," Greene stated.

"We are coming to the close of another year and in looking out into the future may we so arrange our program of activity to make 1936 one of material progress for Colorado and Mitchell county" he continued. "The chamber of commerce hopes to have part in one of the most ambitious development programs this county has ever experienced."

Two Christmas Services Given In Churches Of Town Sunday Evening

Two Christmas services were given in churches of the town Sunday evening, a pageant at the First Presbyterian church and a White Christmas service at the First Baptist.

An impressive setting of unusual beauty was arranged for the Baptist service. Evergreen branches were twined in the trellised arches on either side of the baptistry, which was itself decorated to represent a blue sky studded with silver stars. The entire choir and halustrade were covered in white. From behind tall Christmas trees on either side of the choir indirect lights burned, giving a soft reflected glow to the white choir and the thirty white-robed high school girls who sang Christmas carols under the direction of Mrs. Charles Moeser.
For the White Christmas offering period the indirect lights were turned off and blue lights burned on the two tall trees, on a smaller tree on the offering table, and in the blue arched baptistry.

Two readings, one by Jean Wallace Manning and the other by Natalie Hanks, were given as beginner and primary pupils marched down one by one with departmental offerings. Following the offering the Rev. P. D. O'Brien preached a Christmas sermon in the softly lighted setting.
Church decorations were arranged by Miss Violet Moeser, Mrs. Charles Moeser, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rose, with Mrs. Jake Fields making program arrangements.

Over twenty children took part in the pageant at First Presbyterian church. Mrs. J. Fred Mercer was in charge.

An offering to be sent to the endowment fund for young ministers in honor of John Elliott was taken.

ROBERT T. CATHCART DIES IN TRAFFIC MISHAP NEAR CITY CHRISTMAS MORNING

Trucking Contractor Crushed When His Machine Is Lost From Control; Rites Held At Parent's Residence

Robert Truman Cathcart, 25, son of R. L. Cathcart, prominent farmer of Longfellow community, was killed when his truck became lost from control and overturned at a curve on a country road a few miles northeast from Colorado at 1:30 Christmas morning. Cathcart had been in Colorado and was driving home.

A brother, who was also returning to the Longfellow community in another machine, came upon scene of the wreck a short time later. It is accepted that Cathcart was killed instantly.

Funeral was conducted from the residence of his father Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, officiating. Kiker & Son were in charge of funeral plans.

Brothers and sisters surviving include Virgil and Myrtle Cathcart, Mrs. Hattie Hogue and Misses Della, Maud, Lucy, Jesse and Vera Cathcart, all of Colorado, and Mrs. Nina Hearn of Corpus Christi.

Pall bearers were Claud Miller, Jess Dearen, Earl Burk, I. G. Haines, Jack Delaney and Red Shelton.

Better Business Is Reported At Office Of Roy E. Warren

November Tax Receipts To Higher Total Than Last Year, Collector States

Business at the county tax collector's office during November was considerably better than during the same period of 1934, Roy E. Warren, assessor-collector, stated Saturday.

During the month this year collections, representing portion credited to the county, were $3,000 more than total for same time last year.

"The $3,000 increase does not include State or school taxes but represents that portion of the assessed taxes due Mitchell county," Mr. Warren said.

Warren stated that he had not completed compilation of all tax receipts for the month and did not have estimate on total collections for all funds.

ANOTHER BIG STEP OUT OF THE MUD

Highway engineers of Jackson County, Missouri, are lifting more farmers out of the mud with a new process of low-cost road construction. Asphaltic oil is injected several inches below the surface by a specially designed sub-oiling machine. The oil penetrates evenly to the surface, making a smooth, mudless and dustless road and a firm, stable base, five or six inches thick on which a riding surface or pavement can be laid. The photograph shows the finished road with a light bituminous surface. The inset shows the sub-oiling machine in operation.

NEW ROAD BUILDING PROCESS PROMISES TO LIFT AMERICAN FARMER OUT OF MUD

New Highway Development Seen as Solution of Mud Menace. Waterproof, Mudless and Dustless Road Built For Less Than Cost of Graveling

KANSAS CITY, MO.—An upside-down process of road construction in which asphaltic oil is injected or "planted" several inches under the ground and allowed to penetrate or "grip" to the surface has been developed by highway engineers of Jackson County, Missouri, with the cooperation of the state highway department.

The process has attracted the attention of engineers from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and from state and county highway departments who see in it possibilities of removing the mud menace from America's roads. Farmers and motorists see hope of finally being taken out of the mud, in view of the tremendous road-building funds available through federal agencies for extensive use of the process.

"Initially successful experiments," states F. V. Reasel, materials engineer of the Missouri Highway Department, "give promise of transforming the clay road surface into a smooth, firm and stable base. Preliminary results indicate the possibility, under certain traffic conditions, of eliminating, or greatly reducing the use of expensive types of road materials."

The usual method of oiling roads merely by spreading oil on the surface has been reversed. In the new process, asphaltic oil, carefully suited to the soil by laboratory experiment, is spread several inches below the surface by a machine which operates in the manner of a corn or wheat planter. The oil penetrates smoothly and evenly to the surface, leaving an oil impregnated layer of earth of a predetermined thickness.

After a short period of curing, the road is compacted by rollers and by traffic, leaving a firm and waterproof mixture of asphaltic oil and earth—mudless in rain or snow, dustless in the driest summer heat—a durable all-year road, capable of withstanding heavy traffic shocks.

Ordinarily, the road will be further improved by the addition of a bituminous surface or pavement except on roads carrying the lightest traffic.

The preliminary development reveals that smooth, mudless and dustless roads can be constructed with the new process for an original investment much lower than the cost of graveling. Maintenance costs will be far lower than for gravel. The cost will be still further reduced, engineers point out, when the process is used over an extensive network of roads.

The process has other advantages in that it lengthens the working season, as weather conditions offer a minimum of interference. Some of the test sections were constructed in the late fall when other road construction was halted. It is unnecessary to add gravel or crushed stone to the road base—a fact which further reduces the cost.

Range And Feed Outlook Better In Texas Than At Any Time During Past Ten Years

Winter range and feed prospects in Texas are the best since 1926, and cattle are going into the winter in excellent condition, according to the December 1 report from the U. S. department of agriculture agency at Austin. The report said that the Plains area received needed rainfall in late November and early December, and the outlook for that section is brighter than for the past several months.

Ranges and feed: Texas cattle ranges, generally, are in exceptionally good condition for this time of year. At 85 per cent of normal on Dec. 1, condition is 6.4 points above the 10-year average on that date and compares with 87 per cent a month ago and 52 per cent, the extremely low condition of a year ago.

Although ranges in the north deteriorated three points further to 68 per cent of normal during November, rain late in the month and early in December have brightened the outlook considerably. Reports are that from one to one and one-half inches of rain has fallen over the entire Panhandle, which makes prospects for wheat pastures better than for several years. Most of this district will go into the winter with very little grass available; and wheat grazing, although it will be late, will assist materially in carrying stock through the winter. Condition in all other districts is almost uniformly good, ranging from 83 per cent of normal to 92 per cent. Grain fields in the north central grain area are affording considerable grazing, as are fields from which crops have been harvested.

Apparently, Texas will have ample feed to carry stock through the winter. Practically all areas report an abundance of feed. Even in the northwest there is a large amount of forage and roughage available although comparatively little grain matured. Only areas where feed is not grown and a few other scattered localities will have to ship in feed.

Sheep ranges also are above average. Dec. 1 condition is 90 per cent of normal; which is a decline of two points from that of a month earlier but is 11.7 points above the Dec. 1 ten-year average and compares with 45 per cent a year ago. Sheep raisers are very optimistic regarding prospects for winter ranges.

Livestock: Cattle are going into the winter in stronger condition than for a number of years. Dec. 1 condition is reported at 86 per cent of normal, compared with 88 per cent a month ago, 60 per cent a year ago, and 81.8 per cent the 10-year average on Dec. 1.

marked tendency to hold heifers and heifer calves for restocking. A number of cars of cattle have been imported from Mexico to go on understocked ranges.

Sheep condition is reported at 90 per cent of normal compared with 91 per cent a month ago, 62 per cent a year ago, and 83.5 per cent the Dec. 1 ten-year average.

Range and feed conditions are almost ideal in the main sheep territory, and stock is expected to come through the winter in good shape. There are very few sheep and lambs left to be shipped. Most ewes and ewe lambs are being held, however, there are reports that some old ewes are being sold to discharge obligations. Losses have been about normal, although some areas report heavy losses from worms during the fall.

The Dec. 1 condition of Texas goats is 90 per cent of normal, compared with 91 per cent on Nov. 1, 66 per cent a year ago, and 84.1 per cent the 10-year average.

Undeclared in two seasons, Tarleton expects to have another successful year in view of the fact that four lettermen and seven men from Varsity and Jim squads of last year return. NO TRACE OF BIG SPRING MAN, MISSING EIGHT DAYS FOUND. AUTHORITIES SAY

Is Truman Cannon Dead Or Alive, West Texas Peace Officers Ponder; Car Is Found Near Snyder

Is Truman Cannon, Big Spring liquor house representative, dead or alive? That is the question that Thursday at noon continued to be pondered by officials at Colorado and scores of other West Texas points as search for the man, missing since Wednesday of last week, was continued.

From Snyder, near where his car was found Thursday of last week, comes the theory that Cannon was murdered and robbed. He is known to have had several hundred dollars in cash in his possession when last seen.

The blood-spattered automobile of Cannon was found Thursday of last week on a detour road between Snyder and Post. A blood-stained hat, found near the car, was later identified by Mrs. Cannon as that worn by Cannon when last seen by her.

Meanwhile Claybourne Pirtle, 25-year-old Justiceburg man, who allegedly attempted to sell liquor to a filling station operator and drug dealer in Snyder, had been arrested by Sheriff F. H. Newman of Scurry county and held for questioning. That Pirtle and Cannon had quarreled in Big Spring before the latter left to make his whiskey deliveries was charged.

Newman found a 45 calibre revolver on floor of the abandoned car. It was laying on the floor board underneath the steering wheel. Two of four shells in the chamber had been fired. On the running board of the car lay a 41 calibre bullet with a flattened nose. Window on the driver's side had been broken out, apparently by a bullet.

Cannon left Big Spring Wednesday morning of last week with a load of liquor to be delivered to towns in the area and was due to return that night. T. J. Settles, manager of the West Texas Wholesale Drug Company, which employed Cannon, stated to officers later that he had loaned checks in payment of three deliveries, and totaling $564 were cashed Wednesday afternoon at an O'Donnell bank.

Cannon, who formerly resided in Sweetwater, where his wife is a member of the school faculty, had been in employ of the Big Spring drug company three months. The car that Cannon was driving belonged to himself. The drug company lost a truck and cargo of liquor near Albany last Summer when drivers of the machine were stopped by hijackers.

Citizens Urged To Pay Poll Taxes As Elections Are Due

Next Year Will Bring Long List Of Contestants, Ranging From President Down

Mitchell county citizens are being urged to pay their poll tax before expiration of the legal date for meeting this requirement for suffrage. The year 1936 will be an important one in politics, due to fact officers ranging from president down are to be filled by ballot.

Poll tax payments may be made through January, but in order to assist in keeping down the annual last minute rush, citizens are invited to attend to this duty at an early date.

COLORADOANS HEAR FAMOUS JAPANESE

Two cars of Coloradoans were in Lubbock Monday to hear Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese pacifist and social worker who has attained worldwide fame.

Going from here were the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, John Elliott, Myra Brown, and Rebecca Smoot in one car; the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, the Rev. Willis J. Ray of Big Spring, the Rev. J. W. Ware of Abilene, Juanita Barton, and Doris Wayne O'Brien in the other. Miss LaVada Baze, student in Texas Tech, came home in the O'Brien car.

Dr. Kagawa's entrance into the United States was held up for three days by immigration officials at San Francisco after it was discovered that he was suffering from a contagious eye disease which he contracted among the slums of Kobe. For a time, it was thought his tour might have to be cancelled.

President Roosevelt took a personal hand in arranging for Dr. Kagawa's release from quarantine under care of a physician. He came to Texas in a chartered plane. Those attending the lecture from here stated that no one was allowed to approach the "famous Japanese. He lectured on "Religion and Youth."

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH We were happy at the privilege of saying "Merry Christmas" to Buckner Orphans Home, this year with a check for $170.00. Our White Christmas program was well attended and well received. It was probably the most beautiful we have ever had, and the offering was very liberal. Those who did the decorating and otherwise contributed to the success of the program asked that their names not be mentioned in connection with it, as they felt that He should have all the glory. We have been happy in the privilege this Christmas of making many homes brighter by baskets of food and other gifts. Practically every organized unit of our church adopted one or more families to help, and the response was very satisfactory. Next Sunday all regular services will be held on schedule throughout the day. At the evening service, which will be the last of the year 1935, a special message for those who have had losses in their homes during the year, will be given. This will be no maudlin message or doleful dirge, but a sincere effort to brighten skies which have been clouded by death or disaster. Visitors always welcome to our services. DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

COLORADOAN ACCEPTED AS AUTHORITY ON PHILIPPINE STATUS BY DALLAS PAPER

The Journal Publishes Long Interview Given By George Mahon On Affairs Of That Island Republic

That Congressman George H. Mahon of Colorado is considered an authority on national and international affairs that just now are so closely tied in with America is accepted in a feature news story carried by the Dallas Journal in its edition for Saturday afternoon. Mr. Mahon, in company with Mrs. Mahon and their daughter, Daphne, were visitors in Dallas enroute to Colorado from a visit to the Orient.

Frankness of the Coloradoan and his store of information on conditions as they affect the Philippines and other countries with which the United States is more or less directly concerned was given stress by the Journal.

The following statements are reprinted from the Dallas Journal article: Philippine independence, from the standpoint of the Filipinos, is one of the tragedies of the century, but is probably a good thing from the standpoint of the United States, in the belief of George H. Mahon of Colorado, Texas Congressman for the Nineteenth District of Texas, who stopped briefly in Dallas Friday after a trip to the Orient with Vice-President John N. Garner and party.

Mr. Mahon was remarkably frank in giving his impressions of the Philippines and Japan. He was a member of Garner's party by virtue of his membership on the House committee charged with the duty of sponsoring legislation with reference to the American island possessions. He saw no prospect of war with Japan soon, and advised the United States to stay out of war and sell the Japanese more cotton.

While in Dallas, Mr. Mahon visited his brother, D. D. Mahon, an attorney here. The congressional party arrived in Seattle on the return trip Dec. 15, having been gone two months. "When we pull down the flag in Manila, the white man's hope in the Orient will diminish tremendously," Mr. Mahon declared.

"The Philippine independence act was passed in 1934 and before my term of office began, but the United States is responsible for the islands for a ten-year period beginning Nov. 15, 1935.

"As far as war between the United States and Japan is concerned, I do not anticipate such a thing soon. Japan would have her hands full should she attack us, and Russia and China would, no doubt, seize this opportunity to fly at her throat. The Japanese have, no doubt, thought about this.

"From our standpoint, why should we want to fight one of our best customers and our best cotton customer? Japan bought $133,000,000 worth of cotton from us last year. This was about one-sixth of the value of the whole American crop. The Japanese cotton market is indispensable to us in Texas. The Japanese bought considerably more than $200,000,000 worth of products from us last year while we were buying somewhat more than $100,000,000 worth of imports from Japan. This is not a bad balance for us.

REPUBLICAN LEADER IS THROUGH HERE MONDAY

Congressman W. A. Ekwall, republican, of Portland, Oregon, and among the leaders in his party, drove through Colorado late Monday enroute east. He stopped briefly to ask how far it was to Abilene and declare that this section of Texas had wonderful highways. The congressman was accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Joyce and Jacqueline.

YOUNG HITCHHIKER ROBS BENEFACTOR OF MACHINE

Officials at Colorado and other West and North Texas communities Tuesday were requested to be on the lookout for a young hitchhiker who stole a new DeSoto sedan from Abilene. The car, property of C. C. Chenoweth of Abilene, was driven from in front of an Abilene filling station after the owner had stopped and gotten out of the machine. The thief had been picked up a short time before in Sweetwater. The boy escaped Mineral Wells officers after a lively chase through residence sections of that city several hours later.

SANTA CLAUS HAD HARD TIME IN NEW YORK CITY

The following news story dated Saturday at New York City, was carried in newspapers circulating at Colorado Sunday:

The Rev. Mr. Santa Claus, 48, may be a Santa Claus, with honor in his own county of Marshall, Mo., but all he got from Broadway today was a baleful eye and a couple of "oh yeahs."

Mr. Claus is really Mr. Claus. And he was christened Santa by his thoughtful parents, but the wise men of Manhattan regarded him only with the tinselly, cynicism of the Times Square yule.

An ordained minister in the Church of God, Mr. Claus arrived in New York today for a radio appearance. Alighting from the train he telephoned an advertising agency.

"This is Santa Claus," he told the operator. She giggled and hung up. Discouraged he trekked to a hotel. Suave desk clerks started as they looked at the register. An assistant manager restored propriety only after Mr. Claus had procured letters of identity, one from the chamber of commerce of his home town.

He called up a newspaper office. "I'm Santa Claus," he said wanly. "Sure, sure, I'm Haille Selassie," said his listener.

Into the bank went Mr. Claus to cash a check. The teller handed it back. "Take it over there to Mr. Lydia Pinkham," he suggested.

Tonight, as Yuletide wreaths and candles were twinkling in the windows of Manhattan's residential canyons, Santa Claus sat alone brooding in his hotel room.

"I'm glad now I didn't name any of my children Santa," was all he felt moved to say.

COLORED ROCKS FROM LONE WOLF MOUNTAIN USED IN PARK WALL

Construction of a wall of colored rocks hauled from Lone Wolf mountain is the most recent work done in the beautification of Mitchell county's highway wayside park near the C. H. Thomas place between Colorado and Lorraine.

The park, which is to be called Earnest park in honor of the late Judge C. H. Earnest, now has twenty-four growing elm trees, a number of stone tables and benches, several rock-bordered flower beds, and a newly drilled well. Improvements are made at the expense of the state highway department. P. D. Warren, highway superintendent in this county, is in charge of the work.

As county highway beautification chairman, Mrs. H. B. Broadus has been instrumental in securing the donation of trees and shrubs and rose bushes for the park site. She states that the park has enough trees already, but evergreens and rosebushes are still needed.

The establishment of highway parks is a part of the program of Texas highway beautification in preparation for the Texas Centennial.

Work Of Making County Tax Survey Begins With L. A. Costin In Charge

With the appointment late last week of L. A. Costin as head of the WPA tax survey in Mitchell county everything is in readiness for the beginning of actual work on the project. The project, which will require about a year for completion, will give employment to fourteen persons in addition to Mr. Costin. Miss Lona Lippe and Miss Lillian Bean will be typists, with Miss Bennie Ruth Montgomery and Miss Juanita Barton as stenographers.

Survey work will be done by the following: Earl Lee, Robert Dolman, Clarence Lindsey, T. A. Tolson, James N. Hood, Mrs. William Summers, J. E. Beasley, M. L. York, Robert Prescott, and Thelma Miller.

dar due to fact everything that is high and uplifting had its origin through influences of He whose anniversary the day is, the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, outlined during and address at the Lions Club Friday.

"That first Christmas Day, that 1,935 years ago came into being in a lowly manger at Bethlehem, marked the beginning of the principles of true Democracy as against the doctrine of the jungles," he declared. "Prior to the days in which the ideals of Christ came to be accepted by man, might was right, but, down through the intervening ages since His birth, justice has prevailed wherever the ideals He enunciated have entered into the consideration of men."

Referring to the tragedy of war the speaker declared that if the spirit of Jesus prevailed today among the nations of earth we would not be thinking in terms of armament, but, rather in terms of everlasting peace on earth and the "beating of our swords into plowshares."

"There was never a hospital in this world prior to the day on which Jesus

Appointment of Costin as head of the survey came through R. B. Anderson, head of the tax department of the state of Texas. Purpose of the work is to make accurate descriptions of all improvements on every piece of property outside the city limit areas of the county.

Information secured will be used by the county commissioners' court in determining taxable value of property in the county. One main purpose in the launching of the statewide survey was to check up on Texas lands and discover the reason for a surplus of several thousand acres on state tax rolls.

Headquarters of the survey work will be in the courthouse.

was born, nor were there any public schools to bless the people who lived in those far removed days," he declared. "With the birth of Christ darkness began to recede and in its place there gleamed across the earth's horizon a bright light of hope."

Presented on the entertainment program were vocal selections by Betty Hodge, Frances Cooper and Evelyn Moore with Mrs. Chas. Moser playing the piano accompaniment, and solos on the Saxophone by Hunter Brannon of Salem, West Virginia with Mrs. B. H. Meskimen at the piano.

Visitors presented included Roland Burchard of Los Angeles, California, Truett Barber of Colorado, Jno. A. Thompson of Colorado, County Judge Chas. Lewis of Sweetwater, Horace Wade of Sweetwater, and Albert Neimier of Sweetwater.

Congressman George Mahon, recently returned after a trip to the Orient, was presented and spoke briefly.

COTTON PRODUCERS FOUND BETTER DAYS AFTER THEY ACCEPTED AAA, HE STATES

J. W. Watson Outlines Rise Of Farm Stability Due To Influences Of Federal Act As Applied In Mitchell

"The price of cotton always has been controlled by the law of supply and demand and will continue to be controlled by the same law in the future," said J. W. Watson today while discussing the new cotton adjustment contract and program to be offered to producers in Mitchell county within the near future by the Division of Cotton of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

"The experience of the last three years with cotton programs demonstrates the need for continued adjustment in cotton production for 1936, and succeeding years," Mr. Watson continued.

Mr. Watson recalled how many farmers were forced to mortgage their farms following the bumper crops of 1904, 1914, 1920, 1926, and 1931 when the supply of cotton greatly exceeded the demand, resulting in ruinously low prices. He said that before the mortgage could be paid off following a period of overproduction and low prices, another period of overproduction and low prices would develop. As a consequence, farm buildings and equipment were allowed to run down. Cotton acreage was reduced because many farmers could not finance their usual size crops, necessity thus bringing about adjustment.

"The adjustment was long drawn out," Mr. Watson said, "and it frequently was accompanied by distress on the farm. However," he pointed out, "some farmers who were in better financial circumstances grew their usual acreage or even expanded it, and benefited by the reduction forced upon those who were least able to carry the burden."

"Business men in Mitchell county also suffered losses during the years of bumper crops and accompanying low prices," Mr. Watson said. "Debts went unpaid. Store sales declined, and credit was hard to get at the bank. Schools ran short terms and business generally was bad."

Mr. Watson pointed out that cotton farmers are learning more about the law of supply and demand; that they are learning to adjust the supply to the demand, a practice that business men have been following for years. He stressed the fact that farmers have used the machinery of government for the last three years to adjust production and supply of cotton to the demand for it. This machinery has taken the form of adjustment contracts with adjustment payments; bringing the farm income from cotton near to the comparative level of the prices farmers pay for non-farm-produced goods. This, Mr. Watson said is only a partial offset to the practice that manufacturers have followed for years adjusting production and maintaining their prices, often under the protection of high tariffs.

HONEYMOON IN JAIL IS FARE FOR THIS COUPLE

They were locked up again in separate cells, there to enjoy their honeymoon.

Hesperians Combine Christmas Party And Bible Day At A. L. Whipkey Home

Combining its Christmas party and its Bible-day program, the Hesperian club met at the home of Mrs. A. L. Whipkey Thursday afternoon in its last session of the year.

Christmas pot plants and Christmas wreaths furnished a holiday setting. Guests were received by Mrs. Whipkey and her daughter, Mrs. Bert Robertson, who is here from Eagle Nest, New Mexico. Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon and Mrs. Robert M. Webb were guests in addition to club members.

During the club's business session roses were reported planted at Ruddle park and members voted to offer a prize in the Walter F. Woodard Centennial essay contest for school-children of the county.

Mrs. J. Ralph Lee and Mrs. E. H. Winn had visited Dorp school, taking candy and peanuts for the school Christmas tree. Mrs. J. A. Sadler and Mrs. John E. Watson had made a similar trip to Seven Wells. A book on Texas was also taken to the former school and a picture to the latter. The club is to help the latter school get a start of shrubs and trees, now that it has a new windmill.

Religious experiences were related during roll call, conducted by the lesson leader, Mrs. J. Ralph Lee. Mrs. Sadler offered the invocation, following which Mrs. Charles Moeser sang "If With All Our Hearts" with Mrs. E. L. Latham accompanying.

Tonics were as follows: "Does It Pay To Do Right?" Mrs. A. L. Whipkey; "The Parable of the Talents," Mrs. Nat Thomas; "The Parable of the Vgins," Mrs. Arlie Martin; "The Parable of the Prodigal Son," Mrs. J. G. Merritt; "The Parable of the Good Samaritan," Mrs. E. H. Winn.

Mrs. Robertson poured tea from a lace covered table centered with red Christmas flowers. The tea was served with two kinds of cookies and cake.

Dinner At C. P. Gary Home First Affair Honoring Mahons On Their Return Home

First of a series of affairs commemorating Congressman and Mrs. George Mahon following their return from the Orient with Vice-President Garner's party was a dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gary Saturday evening.

Covered with Mosaic linen, the dinner table was centered lengthwise with a row of red tapers in silver holders, with the tallest tapers in the center. Around the holders on a strip of red cellophane was an arrangement of mistletoe, fruits, and autumn leaves. A tiny lighted Christmas tree, bearing a gift for each guest, stood at one end of the table.

Places were marked for the following by novelty Santa Claus made from eyes, drops, suckers, and red cellophane: Congressman and Mrs. Mahon, Judge and Mrs. Benton Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, and the host and hostess.

A five course dinner was served, including tomato cocktail, poineetta salad, turkey and dressing with asparagus imperial, creamed potatoes, cranberry and pickled peach mold, glazed capcied carrots, rolls, coffee, fruit cake and Christmas sauce. Diversion was furnished by the passing of the gifts from the tree. Each gift represented, in a humorous vein, some hobby or some incident in the life of the recipient, and to each gift was attached a stunt to be performed.

Congressman Mahon received a donkey and had to "bray," Judge Templeton an elephant because he collects miniatures of the animals, Mrs. Mahon a ship because she was seasick on her trip to the Orient. Mrs. Templeton's gift was a toy dog, Mrs. Thompson's a fisherman, Mr. Thompson's a pig, Jack Smith's a cow, Mrs. Smith's a cat, and Mr. Gary's a tiny bale of cotton.

After dinner bridge and forty-two were played until time for the exchange of gifts from the Christmas tree. The club presented Mrs. Sterling Williams of Gail, who was Miss Gladys Mitchell of this place until her recent marriage, with a buffet set in crystal.

Present in addition to club members were Miss Dora Whaley, who recently came from Sweetwater to take Mrs. Williams' place as bookkeeper at Mills Chevrolet; Mrs. B. H. Meskimen and Mrs. W. H. Turner.

Shakespeare Club Exchanges Gifts

The exchanging of gifts and a variety of games furnished entertainment for members of the Shakespeare club at their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. T. W. Stonerod, Jr., Friday afternoon.

Christmas symbols and a bright Christmas tree decorated the home. Games were played at tables covered in red and green. Gifts were passed from the tree by Mrs. Jack Smith and each one present had to perform the stunt written on her gift before receiving it.

"Silent Night" was sung by members as the entertainment opened and "Auld-Lang Syne" as it closed. Mrs. W. R. Motley was accompanist.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a lace covered table centered with pearl-like imitation flowers on a reflector, flanked by red tapers.

Memories To Be Recalled As Thompsons Of Loraine Celebrate Golden Wedding

location just east of Loraine for the past ten years. Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and eight of them are living and will be present at their parents' celebration. The eight are Mrs. T. R. Bennett of Loraine, W. B. Thompson of Dublin, Mrs. Cora Hall of Loraine, C. C. Thompson of Colorado, Mrs. K. L. Taylor of Loraine, Bill Thompson of near Colorado, Miss Rilla Thompson of Loraine, and Mrs. Floyd Griffin of Burford.

The celebration, which is being arranged by children of the couple, will be held in two divisions. The first will be the family dinner at the home of a daughter, Mrs. T. R. Bennett of Loraine, at noon. The second will be a reception which many friends of the couple have been invited to attend from 3 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of another daughter, Mrs. K. L. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were really married fifty years ago on January 6, but the celebration will be on December 29 because it is possible for all children to be on hand at that time.

Failure, success, death, and adventure have come to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson during their fifty years of life together, as they must come to anyone during that much of a lifetime. But as the fifty years are rounded out they can look back over what they have accomplished in the rearing of their children and recall all of the fifty years except the deaths with a laugh.

Their romance took place near Altman, the Erath county settlement that was named for Mrs. Thompson's father, Bradford H. Altman. As Annie Altman, Mrs. Thompson had lived there since coming to Texas with her family from Sercy, Arkansas, when she was only seven years old. She and Mr. Thompson became sweethearts when he came to Altman from Smith county as a young man.

Mr. Thompson had been reared in Smith county, where he was born. He was an orphan and he likes to recall that he worked a full year for his first $20 when he was just nine years old. His employer was "Uncle" Virgil Roberts, then a Smith county rancher. Mr. Roberts later moved to Loraine and died there about two years ago.

By the time Mr. Thompson was eighteen he owned his own stock farm with no debts against it. He sold it the day after he was twenty-one, and then he and his brother, Lynch Thompson, set out for Erath county.

Before leaving Smith county Mr. Thompson had had a wagon built in which to carry food and supplies. Never having been to West Texas, he didn't know what a chuck-wagon was, so he called it his "calf-wagon." He and his brother drove this wagon and a yoke of blue speckled steers into Erath county with 200 head of cattle. It was the first chuck-wagon ever seen in that county. The trip was around 250 miles and they made it in four or five months, stopping whenever they had the notion to let their cattle graze on the open range.

A year before his marriage, back in 1855, Mr. Thompson recalls having shipped 300 head of cattle from Erath county to El Paso county, passing through Colorado when the T. & P. railroad was brand new.

One of the first wire fences in Erath county was built by Mr. Thompson. Stock raising—cattle, sheep, and horses—has been his life-work, and he followed it diligently until the last fifteen years or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson "ran off" to get married—not because her family objected but just because that was the way they wanted to do it. They went to Cleburne and were married there early on the morning of January 6, 1886. Mr. Thompson's brother, Lynch, and Mrs. Thompson's cousin, Judson Henderson, went with them to the justice of the peace.

Until 1906 Mr. and Mrs. Thompson made their home near Altman, except for two years spent in Cooke county around 1893. They came to Loraine in 1906, living in Loraine for twenty years and at their present
