CARTER ENTERS CAMPAIGN FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY ON PLEDGE FOR FAIR SERVICE

Colorado Citizen Enters His Name To Roll Of Political Aspirants After Admirers Promise Their Support

B. N. Carter, member of the Texas bar since 1903 and a resident citizen of Colorado during the past 18 years, is a candidate for county attorney, subject to mandate of the Democratic primary election next July. Mr. Carter authorized the announcement Thursday morning that he had entered his name as a candidate for this office.

"I am entering my name as an aspirant for the important office of county attorney under the pledge that if elected it shall ever be my sincere purpose to administer affairs of the office in fairness to all people alike, at the same time giving unbiased attention to the fact that the laws of Texas must be enforced," Mr. Carter stated.

The candidate made reference to support given his candidacy in elections of the past along with expressions of his appreciation of the consideration prompting voters to mark their ballots for him. "I shall never forget the reception given me at the ballot box in other years," was his comment.

Friends of the Coloradan are offering his candidacy to the county electorate. "Mr. Carter is making this race solely upon his own merits and with the satisfaction that he is well qualified to represent the public with distinction," to quote one of his supporters.

Mr. Carter hopes to contact every voter of the county before the primary election in July. In the meantime he cordially invites an investigation of his qualifications, as reflected from both that of a private citizen and as an attorney.

"ALIAS BULLDOG DRUMMOND"
Thursday—January 9

Although the title of this British production is certain to attract patronage, the serio-comic note inherent here, as contrasted with the more serious treatment usually accorded the real Drummond is bound to be disappointing generally. Each of the dramatic sequences, of which there are many ably presented, are lost in a maze of burlesque with highly unconvincing results. Jack Hulbert plays the role of Alias Bulldog Drummond in place of the real Drummond when the latter is injured. He is suddenly projected into a series of complications involving the attempts of a notorious gang to force an innocent jewel expert and his daughter separated in childhood while crossing the plains. One becomes a bad man, and the other is head of the vigilantes to rid the trail of desperadoes. Plenty of fast action, adventure and excitement as the two brothers finally recognize each other and fight shoulder to shoulder. Picture is filled with thrills and spills and some of the finest horsemanship ever recorded on celluloid.

"HARD ROCK HARRIGAN"
Palace—Friday and Saturday
January 10 and 11

Dynamic action melodrama with George O'Brien out of the saddle and deviating from his typical western role. The action concerns a pair of tunnel digging rivals ready to fight at the drop of the hat and for the hand of the camp's fair cook. The fight is scheduled but O'Brien is delayed by a cave-in. He is rescued by his opponent, Fed Kohler, and both men are eager over the chance to clash with each other. The camp doctor warns O'Brien that Kohler has a weak heart. O'Brien, supposedly turns yellow, takes it on the chin. The doctor finally explains and Kohler makes good with O'Brien who gets the boss post and the girl.

"LAST DAYS OF POMPEII"
Palace—Saturday Midnight, Jan. 11
Sunday—Monday—January 12-13

Magnificent production that will undoubtedly go down in the motion picture industry as an artistic achievement. While the story has been given entirely different plot motivation than the Bulwer Lytton classic, it ends with Vesuvius belching forth flames and the destruction of Pompeii. Preston Foster, a smith, loses his wife and boy through death because he lacks money to pay a doctor. Bitter at life, he turns gladiator then slave trader and horse raider. He makes money his god and accumulates riches in partnership with Basil Rathbone. His life and love bound up in his adopted son is destroyed when the latter tries to free slaves; is captured, and forced into the arena. Eruption of Vesuvius ends the games with Foster saving his son and his sweetheart.

"SPECIAL AGENT"
Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday

A G-Man story packed with action and suspense. It should more than satisfy the customers. Story deals with federals running down racketeers through income tax convictions, undoubtedly based on the life of Al Capone. Geo. Brent, as a newspaper reporter, is an undercover G-man assigned the job of getting Ricardo Cortez, who has always managed to escape the law through the aid of his crooked attorney. Brent accomplishes the task by securing photostat copies of the racketeer's books disclosing profits and evasions of income tax

STATE DEFICIT HIGHER THAN EVER IN HISTORY

Texas' deficit in the general revenue and Confederate pension funds reached a new high Wednesday with prospects it would assume even greater proportions unless additional revenue was provided at a forthcoming special session of the legislature.

A financial statement issued by the treasury at the close of the year's business disclosed a deficit of $11,595,532.78 in the general revenue fund and $5,397,560.62 in the Confederate pension fund, an aggregate deficit of $16,993,092.

The deficit at the close of the last calendar year was $15,334,638.18. Fiscal experts estimated it would be necessary to raise about $25,000,000 in new revenues to place the state on a cash basis at the end of the current biennium.

The deficit to be met was payment of old age assistance, estimated to cost a minimum of $10,000,000 annually.

Much of the deficit was attributed to increased appropriations by the regular and two special sessions of the 44th legislature. Appropriations for departmental, judicial, elementary and educational branches were $5,064,388 in excess of appropriations for the previous biennium and in addition the legislature voted $3,000,000 for centennial observances and increased rural aid by $2,000,000.

The only major revenue bill passed during the session levied a tax on liquor and wines. It was calculated to yield approximately $4,000,000 annually, three fourths of which would go to the pension fund.

While the general revenue and Confederate pension funds were deep in the red, other major funds showed healthy condition.

EDUCATION TO BE EXTENDED

SAN ANTONIO.—Seeking to extend educational privileges to 100,000 adults in Texas, Works Progress Administration officials today had enrolled 1,700 teachers from the Texas Relief Commission program which was closed December 26.

"We intend to employ 2,500 teachers on the WPA emergency education program and are hopeful that all sponsors will have all teacher applicants registered with the National Re-employment Service as quickly as possible," declared A. A. (Pat) Bullock, state director of the education project.

Previously operated by the Texas Relief Commission, the Texas education program gave employment to 2,000 teachers and extended educational advantages to 84,000 persons, it was estimated. Under WPA the project will be financed by grants of $1,865,650 for general adult education and $94,430 for nursery school projects.

In addition to the extending of free school facilities to thousands of Texans, this project is proposed for the purpose of providing work for teachers and persons competent to teach who were receiving relief during May, 1935, and those certified for relief subsequent to that time and whose eligibility has not been cancelled by the Texas Relief Commission. Unemployed needy teachers who were on relief rolls at any time between May 1 and November 1 may be given jobs on the program if all available eligible relief teachers have been employed.

Types of training which will be considered by project officials are freshman college centers, general adult education, literacy education, nursery schools, parent education, recreational and leisure time education, vocational training, and workers education.

"WESTWARD HO"
Ritz—Friday-Saturday, Jan. 10-11

Splendid action picture; one of the best westerns released in many moons. Story deals with two brothers separated in childhood while crossing the plains. One becomes a bad man, and the other is head of the vigilantes to rid the trail of desperadoes. Plenty of fast action, adventure and excitement as the two brothers finally recognize each other and fight shoulder to shoulder. Picture is filled with thrills and spills and some of the finest horsemanship ever recorded on celluloid.

"ALICE ADAMS"
Ritz—Sunday-Monday, Jan. 12-13

Excellent entertainment with general appeal and should hold the interest of any audience. Superbly acted by Katherine Hepburn, with flawless action and script, commendably directed. Hepburn is the daughter of Fred Stone, who has not prospered along with his boyhood friends, is shunned by most of the socialites. Living a romantic life of her own, she meets Fred MacMurray who falls in love with her, despite gossip poured into his ears. Stone's wife, Anne Shoemaker, nags him because of his failure and the detriment it is to Katherine until Fred breaks away from his boss, Charley Grapewin, opening a glue factory and using a formula claimed by the latter. Fred faces financial ruin, but they get together and all ends well.

Old-Age Pension Law Explained In Auditor's Letter

Major Provisions Checked In Statement By Orville Carpenter At Austin

AUSTIN.—"Many provisions of the Texas Old Age Assistance Law were taken directly from laws previously existing in other states of from the Social Security Act, which President Roosevelt sponsored," State Auditor Orville S. Carpenter, appointed pension chief, said this week. "Major provisions are the following:

1. A qualified applicant must be 65 years of age and a citizen of the United States.
2. He must have lived in Texas five out of the last nine years, and have lived in the State continuously one year preceding application.
3. He must not at time of receiving aid be an inmate of a public or private institution.
4. He must not have made a voluntary transfer or assignment of property to qualify for aid.
5. He must not be a habitual criminal or habitual drunkard. 6. He or she is not eligible if he or she has a husband or wife able to furnish him or her adequate support.

"The property restriction," Mr. Carpenter continued, "as well as that of cash or security ownership, must be clearly understood."

"A qualified old-age pension applicant—
"Does not own property, real, personal, or mixed, the fair value of which, taking into consideration assessed valuations for State and county tax purposes less all incumbrances and liens, exceeds, if the applicant is single, $5,000, or if married, $7,500."
"Does not have or own cash or marketable securities, the fair value of which exceeds $500 if the applicant is single, or if married, $1,000," Mr. Carpenter stated.

"All applications will be handled through local agents after the new law goes into effect February 14," he added.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reddin and family have moved near Colorado. Don't forget about the box supper, and a one-act play that will be at the Lone Star school house Friday night. T. J. Blair spent Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Richardson. Those who were on the 5th and 6th grade honor roll were as follows: 5th grade A: Leland Hamilton; B: Russell Coffee and Alene Walker; 6th A: Wayland Bennett; B: Louise Linnam, Nellie Prosscott, Vern Preston, and Willie Dean Mearse. The Loraine basketball boys defeated the Lone Star boys 23-15 Thursday. The Valley View Junior boys and girls played Lone Star Monday and the boys were defeated 6-0 and the Lone Star girls won by a score of 14-4.

FARMERS TO CONCLUDE FORMATION OF NIGHT CLASS FRIDAY EVENING

Organization of a farmers' night school, sponsored by the Colorado High school agricultural vocational department, will be completed at a meeting Friday night at the high school at 7:30, according to plans made at Tuesday night's meeting.

The ten farmers who were present Tuesday night voted to take up the need of an effective cotton program in 1936 and soil erosion as principal study topics. Doyle Williams, head of the sponsoring department, will lead the study.

Williams had planned to start the class with discussions of the 1936 cotton acreage reduction program, but the supreme court's ruling Monday on the invalidity of the AAA made that discussion pointless.

The frequency with which the class will be held will be one of the things decided at Friday night's meeting.

GRANDFATHER DIES.
Mrs. Jeff Dobbs was in Bluff Creek, near Winters, Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of her paternal grandfather, the Rev. W. W. McIver, who died at his Bluff Creek home early Monday morning. The Rev. Mr. McIver, who was 90 years of age, was a Confederate veteran.

Try a Record want-ad.

What star in the movie firmament would not be proud of this Court of Honor? Interest professed in the Texas Centennial celebrations by Ginger Rogers, Texas girl whose next Hollywood picture is "Follow the Fleet," has been rewarded by Governor James V. Allred in her appointment as Honorary Admiral in the Texas Navy. It's a real commission in a real navy, Texas having once been an independent republic with its own national fleet patrolling the seas; modern statutes perpetuate the naval militia, and Ginger now becomes its first honorary admiral. Charming co-eds of the University of Texas were in the capitol when the commission was signed, and the Governor promptly appointed them to Ginger's staff. The governor is holding the signed commission and the girls are posing with the six flags that have flown over Texas. Left to right: Katherine Frank of Dallas, Eloise Ely of Abilene, Katherine Letteer of Corpus Christi, Governor Allred, Janet Pilcher of San Angelo, June Ross of Fort Worth, and Isabelle Thomason El Paso. Inset is Ginger herself.

TAKING THE FARMER OUT OF THE MUD

Federal, state and county highway departments are turning to the asphaltic or bituminous mat in their gigantic task of taking the American Farmer out of the mud. Smooth and durable, bituminous mats like those illustrated, are proving far more economical than gravel when investment and maintenance are considered. Their cost ranges from $1,000 to $5,000 a mile. The high type asphaltic surfaces are used extensively on the main arterial highways and city streets.

ASPHALT ONCE ENTIRELY IMPORTED NOW PRODUCED BY PETROLEUM REFINING

Discovered by Ancient Egyptians Asphalt Now Paves City Streets and Highways—Its Purity and Strength Determined by Laboratory Tests.

Washington—One more industrial product which the United States formerly imported is now obtained almost entirely through domestic manufacture. The U. S. Bureau of Mines reveals that more than nine-tenths of the asphalt used in this country comes from petroleum refining. Less than one per cent is taken from the native deposits such as the famous pitch lake on the island of Trinidad, British West Indies.

Man no longer relies on Nature in his needs for asphalt. It is manufactured to specifications as exacting as those for gasoline and lubricating oil. Laboratory tests and precision instruments determine its purity and strength. Skilled engineers apply mathematical formulae to its use.

Asphalt, natural or refined, has been used for centuries as a cement or binder, a preservative or waterproofing material, according to the National Geographic Society. Native asphalt was used by the ancient Egyptians to impregnate mummy wrappings. The ark in which the child Moses slept in the bulrushes was waterproofed with asphalt and it is believed Noah coated his ark with asphalt to make it sea-worthy.

Asphalt was first used as a paving material by Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, when he decreed about 600 B.C. that the wheels of his golden chariots should roll over asphalt surfaced streets. Today asphalt is the cement or binding material used in almost 90 per cent of our city streets and about half of our state and local highways whose surfaces are of a higher grade than untreated gravel. Indication of its adaptation to modern as well as ancient civilization is seen in the use of asphalt runways on improved airports.

Although the product enters the fields of sports, entertainment, fine arts, field surgery, electricity, building and flood prevention, its greatest use, and the one with which the public is most familiar, is as a paving material.

Asphalt type highways vary from the simple application of "road oil" on the country lane to the very high type paving on arterial highways and city boulevards. A federal engineer said recently that "asphalt surfaces laid on an adequate base are equal to the highest type pavement and cost $12,000 less a mile to build."

Extensive use of the low cost asphalt type construction is being made by state and county engineers in the farm-to-market road program.

Chemical research and laboratory experiments are constantly discovering new uses for asphalt and improving present methods of manufacture and application.

An Old Roman Law And Its Present Day Significance

Always among the first to adopt new banking practices designed to safeguard the funds of its depositors, this Bank now provides the benefits extended by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to individuals, firms and corporations.

The protection thus made available is a permanent feature of Federal banking statutes and offers an important attribute of sound banking to all banks. It applies to all accounts up to and including $5,000. Larger deposits are insured up to the maximum of $5,000.

In extending this additional safeguard of deposits to our customers, we are keeping step now as in the past with all new developments of constructive value to modern banking.

ON TEXAS FARMS
By Minnie Fisher Cunningham Extension Service Editor
Earl Thompson, Rusk county 4-H club boy, planted one acre of broom corn which produced 640 pounds of straw. This was made into brooms by the use of home made machinery. Cash cost for material was $25. Sales brought $190.50 for the brooms.

Robert Helmers who lives near Garfield in DeWitt county recently sold a litter of pigs that averaged 225 pounds each at five months and eight days of age. These pigs were raised on sudan pasture supplemented with skim milk and corn and were finished for 38 days on a self-feeder with shelled corn and a protein supplement of tankage and cottonseed meal, according to Mr. Helmers.

"Peas planted in alternate rows between corn for two years doubled the production of cotton on that land for me in 1935," says J. D. Fitzwilliams of Bastrop county. Fitzwilliams planted peas and corn on land for two years where he had been gathering a bale of cotton to seven or eight acres.

MUMPS REPORTED
AUSTIN—The State Department of Health reports show that several sections of the State have reported many cases of mumps, and in some instances epidemics are expected.

While we do not ordinarily think of mumps as a particularly serious disease, it is a condition fraught with some real danger through its complications. The disease is usually spread by direct contact, rarely if ever by a third person. The period of incubation, that is from the time of exposure to the onset of the disease, may be placed at twenty-one days. Mumps is contagious before the symptoms appear and for some time after the symptoms have disappeared. As long as the patient has any symptoms isolation should be enforced.

Remember it is a mistake to think that children should have the so-called children's diseases. Everyone of these diseases is full of great danger for the very young children, especially children under school age.

To prevent complications, one should remain in bed until the swelling has entirely subsided.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

HEALTH FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW
C. R. Farris
Health Department, City of Colorado

While we carefully guard the individual health of our children, are we neglecting to consider community health conditions, upon which depend, in so great a degree, our children's health?

This is a plea to parents throughout the land for community-wide consciousness of adequate health standards, the establishment and maintenance of which means increased safety from the dangers of diphtheria, tuberculosis and other preventable diseases to which children are especially liable.

To awaken this community to health consciousness a nation-wide campaign has been inaugurated by the National Health Council, an organization made up of all national health agencies, to cooperate with the work of state and local health officers and thus to promote awareness of adequate health standards. In many cities a campaign for Health Today and Tomorrow is in progress, taking the form of a thorough community-wide inquiry by lay and professional health workers, followed by a town meeting to discuss the facts revealed by the inquiry.

First, to benefit by the results of such awakening in matters of community health will be the children, as they are the most ready victims of epidemics and other communications of disease. For example, underlying a parent's care to protect the child, individually, against diphtheria should be his demand that the entire community in which his family lives shall be protected against diphtheria by immunization. An epidemic of diphtheria is a threat to all. The way to prevent this is by general immunization.

Maintaining an adequate public health service means spending more money, both tax funds and private funds, to safeguard health. The average annual expenditure today in the United States for this purpose, including money appropriated from taxes and money supplied by private contributions, is about one dollar per person. With an annual expenditure of $2.50 to $3.00 per person we could be reasonably assured of adequate public health services. We spend $4.52 per person each year on police protection, and $3.32 each year on fire protection. Is not health protection deserving of at least an amount equal to either of these public services? Health can be purchased. In 1900, 170 out of every 1,000 babies in this country died during their first year. Within thirty-two years, because of advancing community health standards that rate has been so reduced that in 1932 only 58 out of 1,000 babies died during their first year. It is also true, that besides lessening the infant mortality rate the average length of life for all inhabitants of the United States has been greatly increased in the past two decades. There are two factors which contribute to these causes besides the increase in better knowledge by most every one in the care of the human body. First, medical and scientific advancement has accomplished great things in the very recent past and will continue at an even greater speed of advancement in the near future. Secondly, improved methods of home sanitation in recent years have aided medical science coming in doing their good work.

At this time every state and county in this country are putting forth a strenuous effort to aid rural populations which promises to be one of the most far reaching programs in the history of government, and at the same time give to people who are "down and out," employment that is so needed in the great country of ours.

It is requested of everyone in Mitchell county who needs sanitary devices of any kind to call on WPA Rural Community Sanitation or phone 211, Colorado, and see what we can do for you. Bring us your problems. We think them out for you.

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR ELLIS LEE VAN ZANDT

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Spade Methodist church for Ellis Lee Van Zandt, 20, who died in a San Angelo hospital Friday morning.

Death was attributed to pneumonia and complications following an appendicitis operation. Van Zandt had been in the hospital since the operation, performed six weeks before his death.

Burial was at Westbrook. Cousins of the deceased were pall bearers.

Van Zandt was the son of Samp Van Zandt of Spade. His mother, Mrs. Stagers, also lives in that community. He is survived by his wife and a four-week-old child.

Riker & Son were in charge of arrangements.

Improvement Along Three Lines Were Stressed In 1935 HD Work In County

A birds-eye view of home demonstration work in Mitchell county during 1935 reveals extensive work done in three major demonstrations—bedroom improvement, yard improvement, and gardening.

In bedroom improvement in both organized clubs and unorganized communities better bedding was stressed as the main demonstration. A mattress making demonstration was given to bring out the importance of well made mattresses. Proper care and sanitation of bedding were stressed, and the use of mattress covers and pads was brought out. Light weight covers for winter use, such as wool filled and feather comforts, were stressed from the standpoint of health and comfort.

As a result of these demonstrations the following accomplishments were reported: 125 picture frames made and pictures framed, 87 chairs repaired and reseatd, 25 tufted bedspreads made, 20 woolen hooked rugs made of discarded clothing, 25 wool and feather filled comforts made.

Many other articles bought and made in bedroom improvement work were results of the programs carried out. $1059 was reported spent by the women and girls on bedroom work. This small amount distributed among 125 individual homes does not go far but it does show that something was done to make the rooms more comfortable, convenient and interesting.

Twelve lawns were sodded during 1935; 36 walks were laid, most of them 3 feet wide of native rock; 239 trees were planted for shade and background; 213 nursery shrubs for foundation and specimen plantings were set out; 70 roses, mostly of the Radiance variety, were ordered and placed in special beds to the side or back of the yards.

Payne Citizen Out For Nomination As Co. Commissioner

Porter Hammans, Resident In County 29 Years, Well Qualified, Friends Note

Porter Hammans, citizen of the Payne community and a resident citizen of Mitchell county during the past 29 years, Tuesday morning announced his candidacy for nomination to the office of county commissioner, precinct 1. He is placing his candidacy subject to the Democratic primary elections.

Friends of the candidate are advancing the claim that Mr. Hammans is well qualified for this important county office and join with him in inviting voters of the precinct to make due consideration of his claims for support at the polls.

"If elected it shall be my purpose to make duties of the commissioners' office my chief concern, looking at all times to an administration of which the people might well be proud," Hammans declared. "I believe I am qualified for the office, and cordially invite an investigation of my record as a citizen in this county during the past 29 years."

Over Hundred Boys And Girls Received Gifts During Xmas

Lions Club Committee In Role Of Santa Claus To Poor Kiddies Of City

Christmas cheer was brought into the lives of 127 underprivileged boys and girls of Colorado at Christmas through benevolences of the Lions Club, Jim Ferguson, chairman of committee directing the program announced at meeting of the club Friday.

"I was privileged to have one of the most enjoyable Christmas seasons that I recall, due to fact I was a member of this committee and as such had opportunity of seeking out these unfortunate children and delivering presents to them," Ferguson stated.

"I wish that every Lion could have been with us and seen the expressions of joy sweep across faces of those boys and girls as we visited their meagre homes and impressed distinctly that there was a Santa Claus."

Worth visited her brother, Bryant Fulkerson and family here during the holidays.—Dawson County Courier (Lamesa).

Mrs. Neal Prichard and Mrs. W. R. Oswald of Colorado were week-end guests of Mrs. Oswald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Martin.—Abilene Reporter-News.

APPRECIATION GIVEN TO LIONS FOR COOPERATION

Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, expressed appreciation to members of the Lions Club Friday for cooperation extended by the club in annual banquet of the chamber held recently. "I want every Lion to know that our organization appreciates your interest in our affairs," he said. "Your cooperation aided materially in making the banquet successful."

FIGHT QUELLED WITH GAS
Tear gas was brought into use by Big Spring police the other night to quell a free-for-all fight in the municipal jail. Three drunks lodged in the lock-up are said to have "rauced" an elderly man.

Since Mitchell county has a scarcity of orchards, tomatoes were chosen as a garden fruit.

The Porter and Earliana varieties were selected as the two types best for the girls to plant. Sub-irrigation was tried out in one garden to see if the fruit would set and mature earlier, but due to the periodic rains and other weather conditions a fair test could not be reported. The total value of garden products fresh and canned was reported to be $495.02.

Through the various agencies of extension work, more people have been reached this year than last. Demonstrations on rug making, tufted spreads, sewing, canning, refinishing floors, chair re-seating, repairing walls, recreational leadership and charity visits and calls have touched 668 farm and village people in Mitchell county during 1935.

Demonstrations for 1936 will be based on those of 1935 and a continuation of the same will be made with enlargements on subject matter and demonstrations.

UNSELFISH SPIRIT NOTED
"Christmas is gone, but the spirit of unselfish love for their fellow-men still lives in the hearts of Texas citizens, as is proved by the steady stream of letters containing money for Christmas Seals which is pouring into the office of the Tuberculosis Association."

This statement was made by H. A. Wroe, Austin, treasurer of the Association, in a report of the progress of the 29th annual Christmas Seal Sale for the support of tuberculosis work in Texas.

It is not too late to join in the fight against tuberculosis and to pay for the seals months or even years after they are received, Mr. Wroe said. He pointed out that a recent delivery of mail to the Tuberculosis Association contained letters from two contributors each of whom sent a check for $4.00. Each donor wrote that last year's seals had been misplaced and forgotten until the current seals arrived and he remembered that he had not paid for the ones received in 1934.

GLASSES OF . . . WATER!

Suppose someone threw a glass or two of water on your walls and furniture every hour. Literally, this happens in your home if you are troubled with "sweating" walls during the heating season.

All air contains some moisture and "sweating" walls are caused by too much moisture in the air of the room. Water vapor is exhaled by everyone at each breath and additional water vapor is given off by the fuel as it burns in your heating appliances. The water vapor from these sources combines with the moisture already present in the atmosphere and when the room air reaches a super-saturated condition the excess moisture or "sweat" collects on walls, doors, furniture and other cold surfaces.

"Sweating" walls are most commonly experienced in homes that use open flame types of individual room heaters exclusively but fail to provide adequate ventilation. This type of equipment is rarely vented to a flue and all the water vapor from the burning fuel is expelled into the room air. The unvented open flame heater is practical for quick heat in one room and can be used with great satisfaction if sufficient ventilation and circulation of air is provided to keep the room air from becoming over-loaded with moisture.

Moving air favors evaporation and helps prevent heat stagnation by keeping the temperature within normal limits. Therefore, open the window nearest the heater in each room slightly at the top and bottom. Keep connecting doors open so that a natural circulation of pure warmed air prevails throughout the house. With these simple and healthful methods of winter air-conditioning you will be able to reduce "wall sweating" to a minimum.

For your health's sake, and to obtain the greatest value from the fuel you are using, heat your entire house during the short winter season and provide adequate ventilation.
