HENNIN' AROUND AT MAX'S

Spring isn't fooling us a bit—we know she's just tantalizing us with these mild, sunny days (even as you read this you may be shivering your way back into your woollens again) . . . But these days do one thing that is permanent—at least to the feminine mind: They make the smartest winter clothing seem tiresome and heavy and just a little dowdy. . . . And that mood sticks.

'Round at Max's they're all set to help you do something about that mood. . . . And the remedies are delightful—new weave spring prints in colors that fairly sing. "Spring has come!" . . . Smart suits in softly woven wool and loosely woven plaids. . . . Dresses with just the right amount of color—they're joy itself subdued by good taste.

The far, romantic places of the earth furnish some of the names for these new prints. . . . Other names content themselves with being cute and catchy. . . . There are Kulespun and Himalaya and Killarney and Olympic and Halcyon. . . . Max has, they say, the greatest stock of new piece goods this spring he has ever had and he's never been short on such things.

Kulespun is a new kind of woolen weave, a lot like wool challis but with silkier finish. . . . It comes in rose, navy, yellow, gray, and red. . . . Gray, by the way, is the season's featured color, alongside the ever-popular navy blue. . . . $1.95 to $2.95 per yard.

If history repeats, as it is supposed to, there will be many not-warm-not-cold days when you will be thankful for a coat made of the new plaid woollens. . . . Big, little, and middle sized are the plaid designs on this loosely-woven material, nearly all of which has tan or gray for a background. . . .

'Unlimited' is the way the guarantee on the new ABC Clipper crepe is described. . . . It will, they declare, wash like a handkerchief, yet it will keep its body and not wrinkle as other wash silks so often do. . . . Sprigged patches of mingled blue, black, and white add surprising beauty to one pale blue piece. . . . Another piece is black, still another gray, both with bright splashes of red, green, blue. . . . And none over 89 cents a yard. . . .

Also in the 89 cent class is the Sportee fabric—a kind of corded crepe. . . . Mostly in solid colors, green, powder blue, white and coral. . . . 'Cream puff' is the descriptive name given the unique finish on the new figured pique, known as Olympic sport print. . . . In the same price range (39 cents) are the Himalaya prints, sanforized and with a crash finish and a rayon cross-wise cord. . . .

'Like mother, like son' will be the order of things when the wise mother buys the new Nublin suiting for her lighter weight spring suit and the same material for the young son's mannish outfit. . . . This and the crash-like Killarney prints with the linen finish are but 29 cents a yard. . . .

A desire to look slightly 'frothy' around the neck is as certain to come to most women as they plan early spring clothes. . . . Max's cobweb dimities, daintily touched with clusters of color, and the new Geneva lawns (just 29 cents) can be made into blouses that will furnish just the right amount of spring-like frothiness to any suit. . . .

Maybe, though, you want your spring wardrobe 'ready-made'. So come upstairs to the ready-to-wear. . . . Here, right off, are mannish-coated linen suits, red ones, navy blue ones, white ones, tan ones. . . .

LORRAINE MERCHANT BACKS CLAIM FOR SUPPORT UPON RECORD IN PRIVATE LIFE

J. N. Narrell Announces As Candidate For Sheriff On Platform Of Fairness To All In Administration

Upon the platform that his life during the thirty years of his residence in Mitchell county will stand for rigid investigation, J. N. Narrell, Loraine merchant and civic leader, authorizes the announcement that he is a candidate for sheriff, subject to mandate of the Democratic primary election in July.

Narrell established his home in Northeast Mitchell county in 1906. Until 1925 he engaged in farming when he disposed of those interests and entered business at Inadale. In later years he has been engaged in business at Loraine as an associate of Bob George in operation of a Red and White grocery.

"I have been a Democrat all my life and have ever stood for law enforcement, without favor to any special interests," the candidate stated while here Wednesday afternoon. "My life as a citizen of Mitchell county is my claim for consideration of voters in this campaign. I will, if honored by your approval at the ballot box, carry these same principles into the high office of sheriff. In offering my name as a candidate for the office I am not moved by any selfish consideration; neither do I solicit consideration of the electorate on any issue involving personalities. It is solely upon my own record and my ability to serve with satisfaction that I assume to ask that my bid for support at the ballot box be accepted."

Battle For Safety On Highways Taken Up By Car Makers

Chevrolet To Junk Obsolete Machines, Joe Mills States After Attending Meeting

How the Chevrolet Motor Company is cooperating in the war for traffic safety by staging a $1,000,000 old car scrapping program was described today by Joe Mills of the Mills Chevrolet Co., upon his return from an all-day meeting at Dallas, Texas, conducted by Mr. H. C. Howard, zone manager of the Dallas zone.

"Chevrolet's old car disposal program," said Mr. Mills, "is by far the most aggressive thing of its kind undertaken to date. For a limited time, under the Chevrolet plan, dealers will be reimbursed at a fair figure for every dangerously old motor vehicle taken in trade and scrapped. Since the program is in effect throughout the whole country, a tremendous reduction in the number of such cars on the highways is certain to result."

"Besides providing for the scrapping of outworn automobiles, the Chevrolet plan has a cooperative feature whereby the factory and the dealer set up a fund for salesmen who do an outstanding job on used cars this month. The fact that so many good used models have been taken in trade on 1936 Chevrolets has boomed dealer's used car business, enabling Chevrolet to break all records for November and December, while new car sales records were also hitting new high marks. The purpose behind the present plan is to maintain this fast movement of used cars, thus keeping the decks cleared for maximum new car selling."

Heavy advertising outlay in 1936, with the emphasis, as always on newspapers as the backbone of the entire program, is a major feature of Chevrolet's plans, Mr. Mills said. "During December," he explained, "the Chevrolet Motor Company made extensive use of newspaper space in selling used cars. The fact that the sales eclipsed anything heretofore accomplished in December has strengthened the conviction of the advertising department that the choice of a medium was wise."

Among the points of interest brought out at the meeting in Dallas was the fact that Chevrolet is already making use of the new manufacturing facilities installed in 1935 at a cost of $25,000,000. The output projection for this month is 119,000 units, and the condition of the market over the country as a whole forecasts equal or greater production for February, Mr. Mills said.

SHERIFF GREGORY OFFERED FOR REELECTION BY LOCAL FRIENDS OF THE OFFICIAL

'One Of Best Peace Officers County Has Ever Known,' Declared One Admirer In Statement To Public

Sheriff R. E. Gregory is being offered as a candidate for reelection by a group of friends of the official who Tuesday issued statement to the public urging consideration of "One of the best peace officers Mitchell County has ever known."

Gregory stated to a representative of The Record several days ago that he did not know whether or not he would be a candidate to succeed himself in office. "It is apparent that my mind in that direction has been fixed after a number of citizens have urged that I enter the race," the sheriff stated Tuesday in authorizing his announcement.

Gregory is placing his campaign on his record as a private citizen and public official. If the voters do not accept that he has made good in meeting requirements of one of the most important county offices within gift of the people, then he does not expect their consideration as they go to the polls to mark their ballots.

"If retained in the office it shall continue to be my policy to stand for law enforcement and the respect of good citizenship and society in this county," Gregory declared. "I will not change from my record of the past to expect every citizen to abide by the statutes of Texas, without favor to any individual or group."

The official expressed appreciation of interest manifested in his candidacy by several citizens of the county, "and I hope to merit such consideration at hands of all good citizens," he concluded.

BAUMAN WOMEN TOLD ABOUT BEDDING CARE

By Mrs. Ivan Barber, Reporter
"One of our goals as cooperators in clubwork for 1936 will be to improve our bedroom linens and protect our bedding with covers," explained Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, to members of the Bauman Home Demonstration club which met with Mrs. Verna Prescott January 8.

During the past few years most housewives have been negligent in keeping up their supply of bedroom linens. Simple pillow cases and dresser scarfs, not too elaborately decorated, are always appropriate. Miss Gunter showed the club members various classes of pillow cases suitable for family or guest bedrooms.

Club officers elected at this meeting were: Mrs. Dee McCollum, president; Mrs. Lester Webb, vice-president; Mrs. Oren Coon, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ivan Barber, reporter and council delegate; Mrs. Verna Prescott, yard-improvement demonstrator and Mrs. Coon bedroom improvement demonstrator.

Each club member will bring material to learn decorative stitching for pillow cases and scarfs to the next meeting which will be with Mrs. Lester Webb January 22 at 2:30 p. m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We are happy to announce that we are ready to apply for recognition as a Standard Sunday school. We feel that we are entitled to the honor for the first time. A close check of our organization seems to meet all requirements. We congratulate Geo. Slaton, our general superintendent, and his able assistants.

All regular services are to be on schedule next Sunday with a service at Rogers at three in the afternoon.

We appreciate your interest in Doris Wayne who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the local hospital Tuesday night. She is making very satisfactory progress today. Strangers and visitors always welcome at our services.

TREATING GRAIN SORGHUM SEED FOR SMUT

A number of requests have come to the FFA department for methods of smut control.

Most farmers are of the opinion that smut control is almost impossible but as a matter of fact it is the easiest of all plant diseases to control. Copper carbonate and a number of commercial preparations can be applied to the seed at rate of 2 to 3 ounces per bushel by means of a rotating barrel for 10 or 15 minutes in order to insure a thorough coating of the dust and a farmer can be assured of complete control.

Dedication Rites
from influences that would pull down and destroy.

"It was because of the church that education came into being and as such the church has been our salvation from the curse of ignorance," he said. "The house of God leads man out of ignorance and superstition into the light that beckons lost men along the path that leads to eternal life.

"America would drift back into a condition of heathenism were it not for the church and its influences in blending the lives of mankind. Today we hear of wars and rumors of wars in every nation of the earth. The church offers salvation from the scourge of war and when men everywhere follow the precept of that Man who two thousand years ago established His church on earth we shall hear of war no more."

The college president closed his address in strong appeal that people look to the church, first of all, as the one and only avenue through salvation from sin is to be found and influence in the community that upholds the traditions and realities of all that is good.

With Jim Bodine and the pastor, Rev. Grady Anderson, assisting, the presiding elder deposited a collection of books, records and other memoirs into niche behind the marble cornerstone. Included were a copy of the Bible, Methodist hymnal, a Methodist discipline, roster of the church membership and a number of religious pamphlets. An envelope contained names of "Christians who have rendered outstanding service in the building of this church," was also placed.

Tribute was offered the late Dr. Paul W. Horn of Lubbock, through many years a contributing editor of the Adult Student, senior Methodist Sunday school quarterly. A copy of the quarterly for 1928 was placed in the corner stone "in tribute to one of the greatest Methodist laymen in this age." The book contained an article from the pen of Dr. Horn.

After the stone had been placed the services were concluded by offering of the benediction by Rev. Louis Smallwood, pastor of Highland Methodist church, Sweetwater.

There was a total of thirteen Methodist ministers present, along with some 200 other citizens from Colorado, Buford, Dunn and other communities. The preachers included Dr. Brabham, Revs. Smallwood, Frank Storey of Hermleigh, A. F. Click of Westbrook, Young, Palmer, Wright, Ham Wright of Loraine, Anderson, M. M. Hudson of Hermleigh, Homer Sally of Spade, and Mason.

The church was organized on March 14, 1921 under leadership of the Rev. G. S. Hardy, presiding elder of the district, and H. G. Waldon, pastor. From a meagre beginning the congregation has grown to one of the largest and most progressive in the county.

Fair And Impartial Court To All Pledged If The Voters Return Him To Office

Peace Justice A. D. Leach is a candidate to succeed himself in office. He announced Wednesday morning that he would enter the campaign for a second term, pointing to his administration of the office during the past year as the basis upon which support at the polls is invited.

A fair and impartial administration of justice to all alike is his campaign pledge. "Such has been my policy during the time I have been justice of the peace at Colorado and such shall continue to be my policy," he said.

The official is launching his candidacy subject to the Democratic primary election in July. He solicits consideration of his claims for reelection by all voters of the Colorado precinct.

OWNERS OF FINE RANCH HOME ONCE LIVED HERE

Burning of the historic J. B. Slaughter Lazy U ranch house near Post last Monday recalled to many old-time Coloradoans the fact that the owner, Mrs. J. B. Slaughter, and her late husband lived in Colorado years ago, moving from here to Fort Worth about 1897.

The ranch house was regarded as one of the finest in West Texas. Mrs. Slaughter had collected many fine paintings, hangings, and objects d'art. A sunken garden valued at $10,000 was also damaged in the fire.

Colorado Had Plans Afoot To Secure Normal For Teachers In 1911

Plans were afoot to secure a Central West Texas normal for Colorado twenty-five years ago, according to an article in the Colorado Record for January 20, 1911.

A number of teachers from Mitchell, Nolan, Howard, Seary and Fisher counties had met here to discuss plans for the normal. Colorado was expecting competition from Sweetwater and Big Spring for the location of the normal.

COLORADO, TEXAS

Official Paper of Colorado and Mitchell County

lines and do time for them every year, but if the board ever dips up a conviction on you they can stop your pension. Many single term ex-convicts have been good citizens forty years and longer but the local board can bar them out.

Then the property qualifications of $5,000 real and $500 worth of negotiable property. Many quarter-sections in Texas are not worth over $5,000 but in the hands of a good tenant will yield an annual average of forty bales of cotton or 4,000 bushels of wheat and one fourth of this as rent at the ten-year average of prices will yield the pensioner a much greater income than both State and Federal pensions combined.

Many corner groceries, filling stations, cafes and other small lines of business are capitalized for only a few thousand and their negotiable property is never as much as $500 but they yield their owners a good living. It is possible for normally well-to-do people to get onto the pension rolls in dry years or slack times and then—well only the poor and friendless ever get kicked off of any public pay roll by most of these local boards.

But the most infamous part of this abortive law is the notorious "standard of living" clause which clearly brands it as invalid, which it certainly will be declared as soon as any court can pass on it. This clause makes it possible for the local board to say to one applicant, "Old man you always voted 'er straight, you're a good friend of ours and you've never gone hungry or ragged, so we'll write you up for the full $15 per month," and to the next, "Well, Dad, we're sorry, but you go around in rags and ain't had a square meal in five years; you never had anything to eat but corn bread and fruit and vegetables picked off the city dump—five bucks a month for you, old-timer."

The Legislature virtually told the old folks: "Come back next July and we'll see what we can do for you and may God help your soul till then."

And now watch. Next July a lot of old reliable straight party men will have been approved and each one will draw his princely $15. Straight-party they will be shining marks for re-election Senators and "reps" to "point with pride" to, and when the July primaries are over, then look out old-timers, for the courts will then proceed to "protect the taxpayers," even if the last one of you starve to death. I hope I am wrong, but judging by previous history I don't doubt I am right. No matter which way you think, say it with postal cards or a letter will do if you can spare the time and stamp.

POLITICS AGAIN
This is election year again as every other year is political year and we will be tortured by another political campaign. Some people contend that this is unfortunate, that elections should be at least ten years apart, and that during the intervening space politics should never be mentioned. These contend that political campaigns disturb business, excite the people and turn their minds from work, which should be the common and continuing lot of man. From this opinion I dissent. Truly political campaigns make us do uncanny things but they are by no means an unmixer of evil. We receive from them far more than we lose to their account. Political campaigns are educational, yes, they teach men the science of government, they introduce us to the poets and philosophers. The common run of people would know no more about how their government functions but for the political spell-binders but they would know of the Bible if there were no preachers. We are too lazy, or too indifferent, to study these things for ourselves. Political campaigns are real schools of oratory. They train and develop men in the graces of the orator's art. If we had only our prayer meetings, and the meetings of official boards, directors, etc., we would have no orators who could get up steam sufficient to electrify an audience and move men to deeds of valor. It is necessary for men to be swayed occasionally, and they can not be swayed without skillful and impassioned oratory. Scotland would not have struck that wonderful blow for freedom but for the oratory of Robert Bruce, neither would Magna Carta have been wrung from King John at Runnymede but for the impassioned addresses of the head-headed English barons.

Riding in A. J. Herrington's new Rambler car, a party composed of Herrington, W. L. Ellwood, and two Pennsylvania oil prospectors had gone on a prospecting tour of the Plains counties.

Death had claimed Y. C. Gray, superintendent of the cotton compress. Burial was in Cooper.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX
This is election year, better pay your poll tax.

If you don't appreciate your American privileges you may consistently neglect the duty of expressing your sentiments at the ballot box. If you do not qualify for the ballot by paying your poll tax or securing an exemption certificate, you thereby express indifference to your rights as an American. Let us remember that our liberty, our rights, our civic pride are within our own keeping.

PAY YOUR TAXES
As we have just passed through the tax paying season, this writer is thinking of how fortunate it was for King Solomon that he didn't live in the days of woman suffrage and poll-tax paying.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr., had been in Istans-on lodge work.

Export Debenture Farm Relief Plan To Be Sponsored By Senator Tom Connally

Senator Tom Connally has revived the export debenture farm relief plan as a substitute for farm relief legislation in view of the decision of the Supreme Court holding unconstitutional the Agricultural Adjustment Act. His plan is not exclusive but may possibly be linked with other farm legislation in order to make a complete program.

A bill embodying the export debenture will be introduced in the Senate by Senator Connally this week.

The export debenture for farm products is based upon the same principle as the protective tariff except

BAPTIST NOTES

There was an increase in attendance at Sunday school Sunday. Bro. Frott had charge of the devotional in the adult department which was very inspiring. Mrs. Tolson's class gave a very interesting program during the opening exercise in the junior department.

We had a large crowd in B. T. U. Sunday evening but dismissed preaching service in order to visit the Methodist people in their worship. Rev. Wright's sermon on "Influence" was very impressive.

Teachers' meeting and prayer service will be on Thursday evening of this week as Rev. Hardin is attending the pastor's retreat at Abilene.

We are hoping and praying that every one of our community will find it in their hearts to assemble somewhere for worship each Lord's day during the new year. We would be glad to have you meet with us.

COMMISSIONER W. D. McCARLEY DEAD

Funeral services conducted by Rev. N. E. McGuire of San Angelo, Rev. C. E. Lesley of Hermleigh and local pastor, Rev. A. C. Hardin, were held for W. D. McCarley, Mitchell county commissioner, from the Baptist church here Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Deceased had been in failing health for some time and suffered a heart attack while in Big Spring at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. He was enroute to Andrews county with his nephew, Delma Roberts, when stricken. He was returned to his home here within an hour and passed away at 1 o'clock Thursday, Jan. 9th.

He was born April 20, 1873 at Rockmart, Georgia. He moved to Alabama at the age of 12 years and came to Ellis county, Texas, in 1900, and to Mitchell county in 1904. He united with Baptist church at the age of 16 and was made a Mason at the age of 21. He was married to Miss Lula Roberts, Blount county, Alabama, Jan. 1, 1902. She survives him. He is also survived by five brothers and three sisters who are: J. M. McCarley, Happy, Texas; A. K. McCarley, Colorado, Texas; T. P. McCarley, Bell, California; M. G. McCarley and A. L. McCarley of Andrews; Mrs. S. H. Hart, Loraine; Mrs. C. L. Hudson of Colorado, Mrs. W. E. Watson of Lubbock. They were all present at the funeral.

Mr. McCarley was elected commissioner of Mitchell county in 1916 and again in 1918, serving until the spring of 1919 when he resigned to accept other employment. He was elected again in 1934 and was serving first term at time of his death.

Active pall bearers were: Commissioners M. C. Holt, J. E. Skelton, Jim Boyd; County Judge B. L. Templeton, J. M. Herrington, and T. R. Bennett.

You Can't Advertise Today and Quit Tomorrow

You're Not Talking To a Mass Meeting... You're Talking To a Parade!

Ceaseless hammering on the same spot helps win prize fights— it is the essence of advertising success. Not until enough individuals in the same neighborhood have been sufficiently saturated with a certain slogan, say, to cause them to react on one another does advertising become a social phenomenon.

The modern business man realizes that his best customers wear out at a rate of nearly 3 per cent a year. Advertising made prospects disappear far faster. Casual impressions, however favorable, dry like dew in the heat of competition.

'Cumulative' effects of advertising come not from one advertisement paving the way for another. This is negligible, to say the least. Cumulative effect, on the contrary, comes from salvaging as customers half-finished prospects.

Each advertiser is in much the same plight. If he quits successful, he loses money. If he quits unsuccessful he tosses away an equity in public recognition far more valuable than the money: So many thousand partly manufactured customers. The second group are spending as little money as they can and still keep their names before the public. They believe themselves wise spenders because they spend so cautiously—or perhaps reluctantly is a better word... THE BALD TRUTH IS THAT THESE RELUCTANT SPENDERS ARE, AS A CLASS, THE REAL OVER-SPENDERS IN ADVERTISING.
