

FFA CHAPTER IS CREDITED WITH WIDER APPRECIATION OF LIFE'S BASIC FACTORS

Boys 'Digging Out' Facts On Livestock That Will Ever Profit, Director Of The Department Declares

There are several distinct factors that would sustain the FFA in this community but none of them will surpass in lasting value the technical knowledge that the boys are "digging out" as they give consideration to the livestock industry as affecting present day proportions and in the years that are to come.

Doyle Williams, director of the vocational agriculture department in high school, gave that and other tangible deductions during an address at the chamber of commerce luncheon club meeting Tuesday at noon. He opened his address with reference to plans for staging annual FFA baby beef show at Colorado next month.

"The boys identified with this department in your public schools have forty calves on feed and are looking ahead with considerable enthusiasm to their day at the calf show," Williams declared. "Some of the boys are making their calf feeding project the major FFA project for the year and there is no doubt in my mind but that they will assemble at the show arena here in April an aggregation of baby beves to reflect with distinction upon the boys and the work they are doing."

Date for the show may be changed from Saturday, April 11, to the following Monday in that it become a part of the chamber of commerce trades day program, Williams stated. "We are anxious to cooperate in every way with you in your own plans, because through your agriculture committee, of which R. F. Fee is chairman, we are receiving every consideration."

The show is to be grouped into two classes, with animals of over 900 pounds competing in one and those of less than that weight entered in another, Williams explained.

That a total of 31 Colorado merchants were cooperating with the trades day committee through purchase of "auction money" coupons was announced by Ben Smith. Smith stated that up to that time coupons valued at $77,555 had been bought.

COUNTY JUDGE TOOK THE 'SHOW' IN TRIAL COURT OFFERINGS DURING WEEK

County Judge B. L. Templeton may not rank as high in official jurisprudence as does District Judge A. S. Mauzey, but, nevertheless, the former took the "show" in so far as public interest was manifest during Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Both tribunals were in session. Judge Templeton called a criminal cause for trial and so persistent were spectators in crowding into his court chambers that he appealed to the district judge for relief. "What you say about a swap of court rooms?" Templeton appealed.

Judge Mauzey agreed and moved hearings on matters before him to another floor of the court house, while the county court resumed business in the larger tribunal chambers.

Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, stated Monday that census blanks have already been delivered to most of the rural trustees over the county but a few remain uncalled for in his office. He urged trustees not yet having census blanks to get them at once.

Children who are or will be six years old on or before Sept. 1, and who have not or will not have reached their 18th birthday on or before Sept. 1 are to be listed on the census.

Closing a life which had been strongly colored with the adventure of Texas' frontier days, death claimed Mrs. W. M. Green, 76, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Burt Smith, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Green had been ill several weeks from a type of rheumatic infection which centered in her arm. She had her own home here but had been at Mrs. Smith's during her illness.

She was married in Bell county and she and Major Green lived there and in Johnson and Coleman counties before settling in Mitchell county about 30 years ago. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from First Methodist church with the Rev. Cal C. Wright, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery beside Major Green. Pallbearers were grandsons—Jerry Harding, Pat Harding, Herbert Green, Morley Green, Ray Green, and Boley Green.

Among those coming from out-of-town for the services were: Gene Love, Mrs. Lucian Love, and Mrs. Lamar Evans, all of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Ross McDonald and Mrs. J. R. Hasting of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson of Lorraine; Mrs. Steve Baker, Mrs. Seth Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clere, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McKinney, and J. B. McKinney, all of Big Spring; Elton Smith, Mrs. J. H. Ratliff, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ratliff, Mrs. John Peery, Mrs. Buddie Klinger, Mrs. Jerry Hobson, Mrs. George Elliott, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown, all of Odessa; C. L. Richardson of Wink; Mrs. Lee Green, a daughter-in-law, from Dallas.

Grandchildren and their families attending from out-of-town were: Mrs. V. H. Wolf of Iraan, Mrs. George Ashburn of Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harding of Big Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Terril Shafer of Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cawthron of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Green, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pritchett of Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harding of Vincent.

BARBERS OF TEXAS INVITE COOPERATION IN DRIVE TO CHECK CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

Aims Of State Legislation Is Outlined In Talk Tuesday By Inspector; Campaign Is Just Started, He Stated

The barbers of Texas, through an almost universal will to build their profession to the highest possible plane of perfection, are inviting full cooperation of the public in campaign to make of their places of business an example of sanitation, the doors of which shall ever be closed to contagion. J. H. Taylor of Abilene, inspector for the State Department of Public Health, division of barber shop control, declared during an address at the chamber of commerce luncheon club Tuesday.

"Back in those days before the present State barber control act became operative there was much contagion and contamination having its origin in the barber shop," Taylor stated. "But such is not true today. Through administration of the law and a will upon part of practically every barber of the State to profit through its benefits, Texans today have at their service some 13,000 barbers whom themselves are clean and sanitary and whose shops and tools are wholesome in every respect.

"Every good barber will invite your full cooperation in this campaign to rid our profession of any criticism from the standpoint of sanitation. Before the law went into effect communicable disease, including a few cases of leprosy, prevailed in the bodies of men employed in some of our barber shops. That condition cannot be found in Texas today.

"The barber, operating under influences of this law, is more than a barber," Taylor went on to say. "He has equipped himself to detect contagious disease and there are few instances now when a person suffering from some germ infested malady gets into a barber shop and gets away with it. It is for your protection that they are thus qualifying their profession."

HENNIN' AROUND AT MAX'S

Fairies—no bad ones—and Mother Goose figures could appropriately be scattered about in this week's hennin' chatter. . . . Because said chatter is to deal with Max's smart new things for the very, very young.

Getting that "just right" touch of cute smartness into small daughter's dress used to stich deep wrinkles in to mother's already burdened brow. . . . A pattern looked "so-cute"—until it became a dress and then it didn't "hang right," or it lacked that essential something that gives the right touch to tiny frocks. . . .

Now that sort of thing can be relegated to the "forgettables" . . . It's a safe bet that your worries about your young daughter's early spring and Easter frocks will disappear when you see the new assortment of tot apparel, ranging from the cradle upward, at Max's. . . .

Starting from scratch—"scratch" in this case being the aforementioned cradle—there are the new baby blankets. Believe it or not, styles in baby blankets are changing right before your eyes. . . . You'll love the new ones—a soft, crocheted in pink or blue or white, with satin ribbon edgings and dainty embroidery touches here and there. . . .

The bright idea of getting becomingness into baby caps has evidently struck someone connected with their making, judging from the quantities of new ones being shown by Max. . . . Coming in sets with very price-ful and very smart little jackets and booties, the crocheted caps have that fall effect that is so flattering around the face. They should be a great help to both fond mamma and the object of her fondness during those rather trying days when the latter is taken out for his or her first "inspection" by the general public. . . .

The same shifts now and the character becomes not "he" or "she" but just "she" . . . And this shift finds "she" ready to do her first toddling—and also finds various ones exclaiming, "She is going to be cute, after all. Do you remember how she looked that first time, with her face all puckered?" . . .

For that first important toddling there are the briefest little creations with the really full skirts that diminutive dresses simply must have for cuteness—the kind of fullness that, a few years back, was hardly ever found in "society makes." . . .

"Chickie" pockets are in vogue in garments. Features a tiny blue dotted swiss with smoked pork and a round collar that matches the pockets. . . . A round net collar, with a front section marked off by two slanting lines of yellow fagoting, makes a yellow embroidered voile irresistible. . . .

A dandy way—or we thought it pretty good—to lead this hennin' See HENNIN' AROUND Page 4

COOPERATIVE CAMPAIGN TO REFLECT CIVIC PRIDE WILL BE LAUNCHED MARCH 23RD

City Take Initiative In All County Objective To Leave Pleasing Impression Upon Centennial Visitors

Launching of a county-wide campaign with the objective of transforming the area into an example of civic attractiveness, "in that we leave a pleasing impression upon Centennial visitors who shall pass this way," was announced Thursday morning by Mayor J. A. Sadler and a group of civic leaders.

Drive to remove obstacles and conditions that are unsightly and set up in their place the attractions that suggest beauty and a progressive people is to be formally opened Monday morning, March 23. During that week every citizen of the county will be expected to make contribution to the general objective of eliminating the bad features and setting up the good, as visualized by the visitor.

"The appeal for cooperation in this most worthy campaign is going out to every organized unit and individual of Mitchell county, including the schools, chambers of commerce, service clubs, American Legion, Boy Scouts, churches and others that might be listed," Mayor Sadler stated. "It should be the goal of every citizen to evidence strong concern in an objective of such strong merit."

Sadler stated that the city council had voted unanimously to offer its trucks to haul off trash and rubbish that will be collected in Colorado. Owners and occupants of property within the corporate limits of Colorado will be expected to collect all this refuse about their premises and place it in the alley. The trucks will pick it up and remove to the dump grounds.

The truck service will be started on Monday of the clean-up week on west side of town, operating by alley ways, eastward, until every section of the city has been covered.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt, chairman of the Mitchell County Centennial commission, is anxious that the public extend full cooperation to this campaign. She has devoted considerable attention to work in this direction, addressing service clubs and other organizational meetings on the importance of making the city and county attractive during months of the Texas Centennial celebration.

around into the just-a-little-bigger dress group—would be to describe a "Big Sister, Little Sister" set. . . Both dresses are of navy blue voile dotted with white and with rows of tiny white braid for trimming. . . In both dresses the belt line—well below the arms—is marked by three rows of braid. . . The square neckline of the little sister dress is marked by three similar rows that run down the shoulders to the brief puffed sleeves. . . The big sister dress has a wide round collar piped in white and with a little red ornament in an inward dip at one side. . . Both have very full skirts. . . They can truly be termed "creations"—these little Patricia Moody and Kate Greenway frocks. . . One is a navy blue voile with a double collar—there are lots of double collars. . . The top collar is white batiste piped in blue, the bottom is red piped in white. . . The sleeves are puffed, the skirt pleated, the sash high. . . Repeating the double collar idea is a yellow dotted swiss. . . This collar is of net, the lower part having a two squarish juttings of lace flanking two dips that center the upper collar. . . A round collar of white net with an orchid net ruffle, dipping upward in the center front, features another dress in orchid, daintily splashed with yellow roses. . . Bright blue dimity is the basic material for a striking little frock. . . The collar again is the thing. . . It's of white batiste, large and triangular with points on each shoulder and in front. . . A fold of bright red is fagoted around the edge, and in front are three applique leaves—a blue leaf upward on the white part, white leaves outward on the red. . . And in the center of the leaves three bright, dangling beads. . . The short puffed sleeves are bound and tied in red. . . Entirely unusual is one of the larger (4 to 6) numbers, a white pique combined with a red linen-like material. . . The round white collar and the cuff of elbow length puffed sleeves are piped in red. . . Set in the front, from neck to hem, is a width of red, beginning as a wide inverted pleat at the hem and tapering upward to be adorned with white scallops held down by round red buttons. . . Cherries furnish the "motif" for a figured dimity in brown, yellow, and warm orange. . . The white collar has a wide border of yellow, orange, and brown folds fagoted together. . . The last glance at this group fastens on a green linen that is an eye-fel of delight. . . Narrow white braid and tiny "marble" buttons form the sole trimming, but they're enough. . . The braid goes in rows of two and three and it loops itself where looping will be most noticed. . . Three rows and loops and a button on the flared sleeves, two rows on the green border of the white collar. . . Leading downward from the triangular piped yoke line to the beginnings of three inverted pleats are as many braid rows, ending in "clover leaves" centered by the round buttons. . . So the scene changes again, and this time "she" is a big girl—oh, all of seven or ten or twelve. . . Dresses mustn't be "babyish" any more, but they must have a simple smartness that is absolutely necessary in the "long-legged" years. . . Here's a yellow silk, pleated from the yoke, with a square net collar ruffled at the edges. . . And a dotted pink organza with a double net collar. . . A figured silk with an ashes of roses background and an organza collar that extends down the front in a tailored square jabot held down by tiny pearl buttons. . . Mothers who are clinging to "simplicity" in their daughters' apparel, warding off the frivolous years, will love the polka dotted navy blue silk. . . The plain yoke is smartly piped in white, and white buttons are shoulder ornaments. . . Keeping his very young Spanish daughter satisfied with frock that become her years presents a problem that Max's "junior misses" by Kili Fisher and Patricia Moody do much to solve. . . They're in bright prints—pique, a crash-like material of sur-

Approximately 175 Attend FFA Banquet, Hearing Judge Jas. P. Stinson Of Abilene

Approximately 175 persons gathered in the Colorado High school gymnasium last Friday evening to attend the annual Parent-Son banquet of the local chapter, Future Farmers of America. The boys and their parents heard Judge Jas. P. Stinson of Abilene compliment FFA members on their early choice of a profession and admonish them to "stick to it" and help guide the farming business back to what it was originally intended to be. Ivy Jones, president of the FFA chapter, was toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor First Baptist church. Guests and visitors were introduced by Doyle Williams, chapter sponsor and head of the vocational agriculture department. Those introduced included J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce; C. C. Thompson, chamber president; Mayor J. A. Sadler; John E. Watson, superintendent of schools; Miss June Cox, FFA "sweetheart"; FFA sponsors and FFA presidents from Roby, Dowell, Sylvester, and Rotan. R. C. Sively gave the welcome address, which was responded to by W. J. Chesney. Duff Chesney gave the FFA creed and James Pritchett told of the "FFA Improvement Contest." An accordion solo was rendered by Malcolm Summerlin, FFA student from Roby. Quinton Hamrick talked on "Colorado FFA Club's Part in the Texas Centennial." Judge Stinson was introduced by J. H. Greene. Judge Stinson termed the FFA organization "one of the greatest agencies in America for the guidance of youth." He paid tribute to Texas forefathers, especially Houston and Travis. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the district FFA string band. The meal was served by home economics girls, directed by Miss Pauline Hargrove, head of the home economics department. Table decorations were in red, white, and blue, with a centerpiece of flags.

Citizens Lagging In Attention To State Drivers License Act

Only Fifty Percent County Quota Issued To Date, Roy Warren Announces

Mitchell county citizens who, under provisions of the State motor vehicle driving license act are expected to call at the tax collector's office and register for one of the permits, are lagging in this respect, it was reported Thursday by Roy E. Warren, collector. At that time 3,500 of the driving permits had been issued. Warren estimated that the county quota would reach 7,000. April 1 is the dead line for obtaining the license if the motorist would remain within the law and avoid possibility of prosecution. There is no charge for the license, but the act makes it specific that every person operating a car obtain the requisite permit.

Chevrolet Prides In Fine Finish On All Fisher Bodies

Cars Present An Attractive Lasting Lustre, Making The 'Used Car' Popular

The greater depth, richness and lustre provided by pyroxiline finish, plus its durability and ease of re-touching without refinishing the whole car, are the reasons advanced by C. E. Wetherald, vice president and general manufacturing manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, for Chevrolet's adherence to that type of finish. "The processes used by Fisher in finishing the bodies for Chevrolets have required years to develop," said Mr. Wetherald. "They start with the preparation of the metal by the removal of all grease, and other foreign substances, to insure adhesion of the finish. On this clean surface, successive coats of red oxide primer and surfacer are applied, the whole body then being rubbed down to a good surface with wet sandpaper, of a grade that will leave no scratches. After inspection, the body is given a double coat of ground color, followed by repeated double coats of lacquer in the final color. Thorough polishing of the lacquer completes the job.

"This method assures a finish that is not only free from 'pockmarks' or 'orange peel' effect, but rich, deep and lustrous—a finish suggestive of the quality that goes right through the car. Further, lacquer finish lends itself to easy, inexpensive touch-up, making it unnecessary to refinish the whole car should the body become dented or scratched through mishap."

OLD-TIMERS MENTIONED IN DALLAS NEWS COLUMN

Two old-timers of Colorado and vicinity have been mentioned in the 50 years ago column of the Dallas Morning News during the past week. In Wednesday's paper there was the statement: "J. W. Nunn of Scurry county has purchased school land in Hockley county at $1.15 an acre, giving Donley a cash school fund of $20,000." Last Thursday's paper had the notation: "Conrad Harness of Colorado stood a rigid examination at Cisco and received the appointment of cadet at Annapolis."

H. Haley, Real Old-Timer, Dies New Time Monday While Alone At Home

Alone as she had lived, Mrs. Haley, 74, one of Colorado's old-timers, passed away some Monday at her home on the eastern outskirts of Colorado. Her death was discovered around Tuesday when Mrs. B. C. Murphree, stopped by for one of her frequent visits. Unable to see Mrs. Haley and knowing that she must be at home because the door was latched, Mrs. Murphree went and peered in at the bedroom window. She saw Mrs. Haley in bed. She summoned Mrs. W. F. Robinson, another close friend and neighbor of Mrs. Haley's, and with Allen Soper's help they forced their way into the Haley home.

Mrs. Haley was lying in bed, well covered and fully clothed except for her shoes. Physicians set the time of her death at some time between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday. They attributed death either to a heart attack or apoplexy, with most circumstances indicating the latter. She was last seen alive, it is thought, by a neighbor child who went to her home Sunday morning. She appeared well at that time. Because of Mrs. W. M. Green's funeral neighbors who habitually visited her on Sunday afternoons did not do so last Sunday.

Since Mr. Haley's death in 1920 Mrs. Haley had lived alone, caring for her garden, her flowers, and her bees. She had lived in Colorado 54 years, having come here as a bride in 1882. Her marriage to Mr. Haley took place in Buffalo Gap. It is thought that she was a native Texan, though the exact place of her birth is not known. Her maiden name was Nannie Decker.

Among her closest associates were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Byrne. Byron Byrne's father, and Mr. Haley met in St. Louis years ago and came to Colorado together. Mrs. Haley had placed many of her affairs in Byron Byrne's hands since Mr. Haley's death.

It is thought that Mrs. Haley was a charter member of the Eastern Star. She belonged to the Methodist church. She had no children and has no known surviving relatives other than three nephews in Sonora and a cousin in San Angelo.

Funeral services were held from the Haley home Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Hamilton Wright, Loraine Methodist pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery beside Mr. Haley.

Active pallbearers were Zeb Wood, Jerome Pond, J. B. Pritchett, R. B. Terrell, T. W. Stoneroad, and Dr. B. F. Dulaney. All old-timers were listed as honorary pallbearers.

Kiker & Son were in charge of funeral arrangements.

THESE BROTHERS FIGHT ON OPPOSITE SIDES AS COURT CASES ARE TRIED

Among the interesting attractions the spectator often notes during progress of county and district courts at Colorado is the fact that two brothers, Truett and Dell Barber, are often pitted one against the other as defendants are arraigned for trial on some criminal charge.

Tuesday and Wednesday an interesting case was heard before County Judge B. L. Templeton. Dell Barber, county attorney, ably represented the State and his brother, Truett, was equally determined that the defendant should not be proven guilty.

"I won my case but believe me I had to put up a determined fight and contest every inch of the way," mused Truett Barber after the jury had reported a verdict. Some sixty witnesses were summoned in the case.

RUBBISH DISPOSAL IS DISCUSSED AT HYMAN

By Mrs. Edgar Andrews, Reporter

That there should be selected places for rubbish to be thrown was brought out by Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, in speaking to Hyman Home Demonstration club women at the home of Mrs. Carl Lowery on Friday. She said that burning tin cans before they are thrown away causes them to rust more quickly.

Present were Mesdames Edgar Andrews, Vest, Walter Averitt, Frank Andrews, Shuster, the hostess, and Miss Gunter. The next meeting will be the first Friday in April with Mrs. Otto Shuster.

Barbers Invite
Taylor was introduced by Bert Frazier, incidentally a local barber, and chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Willis Shropshire gave two readings of the program, Doyle Williams, director of the vocational agriculture department in high school, told of plans for the Spring FFA call show and Ben Smith spoke on plans for the second monthly trades day, April 13.

Rules governing operation of the postoffice were discussed by Postmaster J. Y. Fraser.

The night before Taylor addressed meeting of barbers from Colorado, Loraine and Roscoe, here to attend district conference to discuss sanitation as applied to barber shops and recently invoked rules by the State Board of Barber Examiners.

The meeting was called to order by Burt Smith, president of the Colorado Local, Union Barbers. Every other official and practically every member of the local unit was present. The meeting was held at the city hall.

"The State barber law was passed to protect the public as well as our gentlemen," Taylor stated in an address before the group. "It should be interesting to recall that when the law became operative in 1929, 67 per cent of the skin diseases prevalent were traced to a barber shop. Today there is only 2 per cent of this disease having origin in these establishments."

In discussing local conditions with The Record Tuesday afternoon the inspector stated that he had found in Colorado a high type of gentlemen representing the barber trade. "I am led to believe they are doing all within their power to cooperate with the State in making for further progress along the lines of efficiency and sanitation," he said.

the supervision of Miss Octavine Cooper, head of the high school vocational commercial department. The teachers were introduced to the conference. Dana Marie Merritt was introduced as the youngest typing student. The Berman and O'Brien twins were also introduced.

The primary students typed drills and sentences and the intermediate students typed paragraphs, all work being passed to the audience.

Parents who accompanied the young typists to Big Spring were Mrs. H. P. Slagle, Mrs. M. E. Guer-

GALLANTRY OF TEXANS AT THE ALAMO PROTRAYED IN ADDRESS AT SERVICE CLUB

Traditions Of Austin, Bowie, Houston And Others Given Praise As Lions Observe Anniversary Last Friday

The heroic ideals prompting Austin, Bowie, Travis, Houston and others of their patriotic band to lay their all upon the altar of service in that Texas colonists might find freedom from an oppressive Mexican tyranny are to live through the ages as among the colorful traditions in history, Joe W. Earnest, Colorado attorney, outlined during delivery of an address at the Lions Club Friday.

Mr. Earnest was presented on the club entertainment program to speak of the Alamo and the developments centering about that old mission one hundred years before. He painted a vivid picture of the siege begun on February 21, 1836, by General Santa Anna and his Mexican army of some 7,000 men, against the 182 Texans defending the fort.

"They did not surrender until the last man within those sacred walls had been slaughtered and their blood had flown freely through the courts of this Texas shrine to forever make sacred their deeds and the purposes they cherished," Earnest declared.

The speaker followed the Texans at Goliad and other spots made famous by the revolution. Vividly the successful engagement fought on April 22, resulting in rout of the Mexican army and victory for the colonists, was recalled.

"Texas is the largest State in the Union in size, a fact that has been the source of favorable comment," Earnest stated. "We are greater in other respects. Here are to be found the largest cattle ranches, cotton fields, and oil fields within the union. All of these, however, fall in coming up to the glories of our historic past. The history of Texas is the most thrilling of all the States."

Under direction of Doyle Williams, chairman of the program committee, Misses Mary Frances Mackey and Elizabeth Pidgeon and Hunter Brannon were presented in a musical offering, Miss Mackey and Brannon playing the saxophone and Miss Pidgeon the piano accompaniment.

Among visitors presented the club were Otto Brahn of Waco, of the accounting department, Hicks Rubber Company; J. L. Tucker, member of the Big Spring Lions Club; Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, and Rev. A. H. Haley, pastor of First Christian church.

Plans for sending a delegation to group meeting to be held at Big Spring on the following Friday evening were discussed. Several members of the club pledged to attend. Report from the club secretary covering activities here is to be a part of the program.

Local Baptists Prominent On Program Of First Combined Convention In Big Spring

With Colorado Baptists filling a number of prominent places, a district convention which will be the first of its kind ever held in the history of the Southern Baptist convention is to be held in Big Spring next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The convention will be the first combined meeting of four district Baptist divisions which have heretofore met separately—the W. M. U., the B. T. U., the Sunday school, and the Laymen's Brotherhood. An organization of the four bodies was perfected here last March at the district B. T. U., and Sunday School conventions. Over 1000 Baptists are expected to attend the Big Spring session, which will in reality be a miniature state convention.

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, is secretary of the combined organization. Mrs. J. Lee Jones is district W. M. U. president, with Mrs. Jack Smith as district W. M. U. corresponding secretary.

As chairmen in the district W. M. U. organization, the following Colorado women will submit reports during Tuesday afternoon: Mrs. O'Brien, chairman of young people's work; Mrs. Bob Hubbard, chairman of publicity; Mrs. C. P. Gary, historian; Mrs. C. B. Reeder of Lorraine, W. M. U. president of the Mitchell-Scurry association, will give the associational report. The principal address of the W. M. U. session is to be given by Mrs. B. A. Copas of Fort Worth, state W. M. U. president.

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien is to respond to the welcoming address at 10:15 Tuesday morning. Rex Ray of Amarillo, returned missionary from China, is to deliver a missionary sermon at the morning session. Mrs. O'Brien is to conduct the Tuesday evening devotional. Dr. J. Howard Williams of Dallas is to speak Tuesday evening.

Miss Pearl Bryant of Colorado will take part in B. T. U. conferences Wednesday morning.

"The Colorado Record will continue to build for the future, striving in every possible manner to give the public a newspaper of which they may well be proud," W. W. Whipkey, publisher, declared Monday. "It is the ambition of the publisher to realize his ambition to have The Record become a welcome visitor into every home of this territory."

Business Concerns Show Interest In Trades Day Sales

'Auction Money' Being Taken Generally, Committee Head States Tuesday

Strong interest in Colorado's monthly trades day event, the first of which was held here Monday, is being reflected through the general approval given the plan by business men of Colorado. E. R. Bibby, chairman of the directing committee, stated Tuesday.

At that time a number of merchants had contracted for supplies of "auction money" printed coupons to be used in purchase of articles of merchandise to be sold during the second trade day gathering on April 13. The coupons are given five to one on all cash purchases made at cooperating stores.

'LET US COOPERATE FOR BUSINESS PROCEDURE IN COURT,' JUDGE SUGGESTS

Operating the courts should, like the successful business enterprise, be conducted along lines that call for economy, and efficiency, suggested Judge A. S. Mauzey of 32nd district court Monday morning as he addressed opposing counsel in an important case being considered.

The attorneys were discussing at length the technical points as to whether or not certain documents should be accepted as evidence. They were taking up valuable time that the court believed should be diverted to the business at hand.

The district judge has often recalled his position that "justice and common sense" should be given more consideration in court procedure, lessening costs to the taxpayers of operating the tribunals.

Far above other low priced cars in all but cost! TERRAPLANE

Yes, different from other low priced cars—and far ahead of the rest—in style and everything else that counts! Can we prove this? Just look at a few facts about Terraplane.

Wheelbase, over-all length, inside leg room, head room, shoulder room—unmatched by any low priced car. Untouched by some costing $125 and $145 more.

"Extras" At No Extra Cost
Of all low priced cars only Terraplane gives you—at no extra cost—a rear opening baggage compartment with more room than the average trunk model, with spare tire lying flat inside.

Power—the same story. Terraplane is ahead of other cars in its price class by as much as 18 horsepower. And no vibration at any speed! Terraplanes with 125,000, 150,000 miles and more to their credit show you what that smoothness means in long life.

23.95 Miles per Gallon
Interested in economy? Here is Terraplane's latest—23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over 352 miles of mountain roads, with three passengers and baggage, in the recent Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run.

More... Terraplane is the only leading low priced car with body all of steel and seamless steel roof. And no other car in its whole price range has Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for) . . . Radial Safety Control (patent applied for) . . . Tru-Line Steering . . . or The Electric Hand, optional at small extra cost.

Basketball Crown Taken By Cushing Over El Pasoans

Thriller At Austin Ends In Marginal Lead Of Four Points

Cushing high school Saturday night won the basketball championship of the University of Texas Interscholastic League by defeating El Paso in a tense, thrilling game, 33 to 29.

The game was stubbornly contested all the way through and the teams were virtually tied in a knot from start to the final gun. 3,000 fans cheered as first one team and then the other forged ahead. Neither quintet had more than a four point advantage at any one time and most of the time the score was tied.

Cushing lead 8 to 7 at close of the first period and at the half the score was evened with 11 points to each contender. It was again knotted at close of the third with 25 points allotted to each.

Jeff Davis of Houston placed third in the State championship race with a 41 to 21 victory over Carey.

THEATRE NEWS

BY SHERMAN HART
"TALE OF TWO CITIES"
Palace—Friday and Saturday
March 13 and 14

Embracing both art and entertainment, this is one of the finest pictures to reach the screen in many months. Producer David O. Selznick brings to the screen a vivid portrayal of the Chas. Dickens story, blending the spiritual with heroic and tragic drama with grand finesse. The offering moves forward with absorbing interest, gathering momentum as it builds to the outbreak around the Bastille, and the sacrifice of aristocratic heads to the hungry blade of the guillotine. The stark realism, however, or rabid revenge never once destroys the impressionable love scenes or personal sacrifice, making the entire offering one of sweeping power and tragic beauty. Entire cast is superb.

"COLLEGIATE"

Palace—Saturday Midnite, March 14
Sunday-Monday, March 15 and 16

A gay and frivolous musical that makes no pretense at making sense, yet is full of the little niceties that sends an audience out in a gentle and amused humor. It has a generous quota of comedy, girls, dances and songs; its story, while of no particular consequence, keeps these departments moving along briskly. Only the family rascal finds that his aunt's will leaves him heir to a girl's seminary; he can own it at the end of a year if he can build it into a paying proposition, something she couldn't do. He and his pals find an "angel" in Penner, amnesia victim whose checks don't bounce. Together they turn the school into the ultra-modern charm factory, with the prim Langford, school secretary, finally falling for Oakie.

"MAN OF IRON"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday
March 17 and 18

This one deals realistically with life, strife, and hard knocks. Virile fare, vividly portrayed. Sure to wow the "working class." Barton McLane, foreman in a steel mill, is the man to carry out expansion plans and he becomes general manager. His wife, Dorothy Peterson, feeling they are plain working people, prefers things as they are. But Barton joins a country club, builds a fine home and tries to entertain his superiors in social life. Realizing his shortcomings, Dorothy tries to persuade him to resign. He becomes so interested in the new home and social ambitions that he neglects business. A strike results, with Barton coming to his senses and all ends well.

"RAINMAKERS"

Ritz—Sunday and Monday
March 15 and 16

Where these madcap comedians are popular their latest non-sensical effort will be sure to please. However, fast-talking Bob Woolsey and mild-mannered Bert Wheeler have been saddled with an even more illogical story than usual and it is to their credit that they garner a fair share of laughs. Woolsey plays a scientist who comes to the aid of the farmers in the sun-parched area of California with his rain-making machine. Assisted by Wheeler he gets the best of a nefarious villain who hopes to defraud the farmers out of their land and, after several ridiculous mishaps, the heavens finally open and pour down rain and then snow. Picures high spot is the boys' wild and laughable ride on two locomotives loaded with dynamite.

"ONE WAY TICKET"

Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday
March 17 and 18

A programmer that deals, as the title implies, with prison life. The convict is played by Lloyd Nolan. He is arrested and convicted for robbery of a bank, which institution had failed, costing his father a large sum of money. He takes exactly the amount his father lost. In prison he is resentful but falls in love with the daughter (Peggy Conklin) of the captain of the guards (Walter Connolly). She aids him in escaping and marries him. Expected complications that drift into the life of a fugitive are experienced. Ending finds the wife forcing him to finish his term, thereby saving her father's reputation and hoping to make all of their lives happier in the final analysis.

A BIT OF JEWISH HISTORY AND THE REBUILDING OF JERUSALEM

In these days of tottering nations, with perplexity, men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth, it is refreshing to think of a little corner of the globe where peace and security reign.

The east side of the Mediterranean (a name which mans the middle of the earth) there is a little country called by its creator "a pleasant land," and misnamed by man "Palestine" and "Canaan."

In the Holy Land there is neither depression or unemployment, neither government debt or perplexity. In the east Jerusalem simply meant the Weeping Wall, the tallow candle, a multitude of Arab children crying "bakshesh more bakshesh," with poverty between every line.

Occasionally there is a little flare, as when a tourist last summer showed the new "Palestinian" coins to an Arab gentleman. On these coins are the words "Aleph" and "Yod," meaning "Land of Israel."

Caesar. Some few years ago a Jew began to teach and advocate the study of the Hebrew language. Today Jews all up and down the country speak this language.

Jerusalem is observing her Sabbaths now, as she could not in the lands of her banishment. The gates are closed at sunset Friday and not opened until sunset Saturday.

Man has spanned every ocean, traversed the weary waste of every desert and scaled the heights of mountains that are so high and lifted up that they seem almost to touch the great white throne of God.

Scientists with deft fingers have reached up and gathered electric currents that obey the will of man and imprisoned in incandescent globe vie with the noonday sun in radiating light and beauty.

The most enchanting harmonies of music, the highest creation of art depicted upon canvas, the most beautiful garden, rich in color and rare in perfume, the proudest ship that rides the wind and waves of ocean's gray and melancholy waste are

FROM AN OLD MAN The girls—God bless them—are always pretty and sweet, as sweet as candy. It is the opinion of most men, however, that these candied creatures look much better when they have a lemon-drop appearance than when they are powdered so heavily that they resemble a marshmallow.

When a thing is going good it is the time to let some one else have it. Bankruptcy and ruin await the man who believes a fad will endure and holds on to it like a miser grips his gold.

A BIT OF ANCIENT HISTORY It would have been just right had the Pope and the King had a modern Archimedes to test the souvenirs they were to send Mussolini.

Archimedes' discovery should be an encouragement to those who may be reluctant about taking baths, they might discover something.

an encouragement to those who may be reluctant about taking baths, they might discover something. If King David had not seen Bathsheba taking a bath there would have been no Solomon and none of the modern woman, she does not take her baths where a King might watch her perform her ablutions.

One who knows anything about sanitation would naturally think they needed the bath worse when they came out than when they go in. However the fate of Marat, one of the leaders of the French revolution, might have a different influence.

It was there he was found by Charlotte Corday, who stabbed him to death. It is a coarse human being who has no sentiment.

WERE THEY DISAPPOINTED A boy slipped around and crawled under a circus tent and when he got inside he discovered that it was an evangelist tent and a revival meeting was going on.

A family over in Ohio decided to move to Kansas during the grasshopper days when they heard their little girl praying "Good-by God we're moving to Kansas."

Some philosopher said: "It takes centuries to win a little freedom and a very few minutes to lose it." To which we add this addendum that it all depends on how long it takes the minister to go through with the ceremony.

His CAR O, why should the spirit of Mortal be proud By a swift fleeting roadster with Siren so loud A flash as of lightning the brakes Wouldn't hold Man passes from life to his Ultimate goal.

Doctor Connor, who is lecturing at the Baptist church, made the statement that the preacher was the freest man in the world but he added this postscript, "Unless he is married."

Ethiopians are reported to be awaiting a religious revival. In Italy? Our guess is that when both the old folks start drawing pensions they won't be able to keep son-in-law from moving in on them.

The fellow who said that everything that goes up must come down, had evidently never been a taxpayer.

A.B.C.D.—Always Be Careful Drivers. In reading the scriptures we find that Elijah was not fed by the ravens. It was a crow that brought Elijah his food. But Elijah did not eat the crow.

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE 25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

25 YEARS AGO A full half-page of the Colorado Record for March 10, 1911, twenty-five years ago, was devoted to Congressman W. R. Smith's speech on the tariff.

Featured on the society page for that date was the shower given on Thursday by Mrs. H. E. Grantland honoring Mrs. Dimmitt, who was Miss Lola Vaughan before her marriage.

Listed among those taking part in recitations at a meeting of the Juvenile Missionary society with Nora Blandford were Alice Majors, Charlie Blandford, Greaset Collier, Lillian Myrtle, Carlock Annis, Ruth Davis, Ford Merritt, Ima and Lovee King, and Ada Shaw.

Misses Alma and Willie Wyatt and Mrs. W. R. Eudy visited Mrs. M. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wyatt in the Union community on Sunday.

Traveling in a big wagon loaded "to the guards with guns, ammunition, fishing tackle, and plenty of bait," Dan Beeman, D. L. Buchanan, and other had left on Tuesday morning on an overland trip through Brewster and El Paso counties in search of school lands.

R. W. Mitchell had accepted a position in the Greene furniture store and was "making good." G. A. Christian and family had moved to Temple.

Front page news items in the Record fifteen years ago, March 11, 1921, dealt with the following happenings: The S. E. J. Cox company and the Cox Realization company had secured a 5-year mineral lease on 35,000 acres of land in Mitchell and Howard counties.

Officers of the newly organized Retail Merchants' association had been elected with H. L. Hutchinson as president, O. Lambeth as vice-president, W. S. Cooper as secretary-treasurer, H. S. Beal, J. W. Dorn, and James Sherwin as directors.

Judge A. J. Coe had entered the race for mayor. Large crowds had attended Lorraine's trades day. W. B. Broadbuss, A. J. Coe, J. M. Thomas, and E. Keathley were on committees to arrange for the Booster club's next meeting.

Dr. P. C. Coleman was not to enter the race for state senator from the 28th district, in spite of numerous requests to do so. The first well of the Renot Oil and Land corporation, the Little No. 1, had been spudded Saturday afternoon, three miles southwest of Westbrook.

Commissioners' court, composed of J. C. Hall, U. D. Wulffjen, E. Baiber, H. A. Lassester, and S. M. Hallmark were to make an inspection tour of road work in various counties.

The Junior class of Colorado High school had been guests of the Seniors at a party in the T. J. Ratliff home.

The Hesperian club had met with Mrs. W. L. Doss, the Bayview with Mrs. E. F. King, the Standard with Mrs. G. W. Smith, the 1921 Study club with Mrs. Stewart Cooper, the Tuesday club with Mrs. Mary Meeks, the Harmony with Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr.

Mrs. N. J. Phenix had returned from a visit with her son Bruce, in Paris. Dr. D. R. Hardison had been to a district Christian Endeavor meeting in Abilene.

Miss Minnie Bellah, chief manager of the telephone company, had been visiting in Abilene. George Oederholz, accompanied by Will Singleton and "P. T. Barnum" Altizer, had gone to a show at Hamlin.

Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest were home from a week at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. The Looney school honor roll included Albert Hiser, Thelma Casey, Edwin Story, Blane Morgan, Claud Jordan, Elgin Jarnagan, Hester Stephens, Gladys Story, Inez Cary, Orlean Cary, Lola Jordan, Dessie Casey, Mirtie Jordan, Nannie Moore, and Mabel Moore.

BIG SPRING COPS GIVEN PLENTY TO PONDER OVER AFTER TAKING THIS MAN

BIG SPRING.—Police scratched their heads Saturday and wondered how the new drivers license law could affect the prisoner they arrested on a drunken driving call.

On an emergency call to 5th and Main streets to pick up a drunken driver they discovered a trash hauler, thoroughly intoxicated, had overturned his wagon and tangled his span of donkeys.

Officer L. A. Coffey, who made the arrest, speculated on what could be done with the offender since he has no license which must be surrendered after two convictions for drunken driving.

GLEANERS S. S. CLASS

The Gleaners S. S. class held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, March 10, in the home of Mrs. Earnest Meadows with Mrs. John Mahon assistant hostess.

Mrs. Marvin Martin, president, called the class to order.

Mrs. T. C. Wilson brought the devotional, reading Luke 12: 22-31 followed by a beautiful comment on "Life and What Makes It."

Very little business was transacted on account of absence of officers because of illness and the last rites of a sister of Mrs. Alice Honea, a beloved member.

A total of 8 trays, 3 floral offerings and 11 visits were reported for this month.

An intensely interesting Bible lesson, Gen. 21 to 26 was led by Mrs. Roy Edwards. Wonderful interest and enthusiasm is being shown in these Bible studies. We live again the scenes of some three thousand years ago, and are stressing, not only the stories of these patriarchs of old, but their spiritual meaning also.

The class will meet in Bible study March 24, with Mrs. Roy Edwards at her home at 3 p.m. The lesson for this date will be Gen. 26 to 31.

We are also having a lively "air race" between Col. Lindbergh (Mrs. Arlie Martin), and Amelia Earhart (Mrs. John Mahon) with their respective student pilots. Miss Earhart was slightly ahead in the race from "Hawaii" to "Midway."

The hostesses were assisted by Misses Doris and Jane Meadows in serving a beautiful St. Patrick refreshment plate of chicken salad, olives, wafers, cherry pies with whipped cream, and mint julep.

A box of love gifts were sent to the twin daughters of Mrs. Henry Beights.

All members please be on time at 9:45 Sunday.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST SERVICES

Regular monthly services will be held at the church in East Colorado next Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and Sunday at the 11 o'clock hour. Pastors, Elder T. A. Dunn and L. L. Bodine will be in charge.

GLAD GIRLS S. S. CLASS

The Glad Girls Sunday School class had their regular meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Batsie Hall. Devotional, 121 Psalm, was read by Miss Ruth Britton. Vacancies were filled by those in attendance.

A number of games were enjoyed following close of meeting.

Easter motif was carried out in refreshments consisting of pinacito and cheese sandwiches, olives, potato chips, cookies and hot chocolate topped with marshmallows.

Easter rabbits featured favors.

MARRIED SATURDAY NIGHT

Hoyt Britton and Miss Rachel Price were married at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Hardin Saturday night. The pastor performed the ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bullard, Mrs. Reynolds and others.

Elvis Narrell was brought home from Hardin-Simmons university Monday. He is confined to his bed with the mumps. Several local families have reported cases of mumps at their homes, both in and out of town.

Mr. C. J. Martin received message of illness of his sister last Wednesday and accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Emma Land, left immediately for Kemp, Texas, where his sister, Mrs. C. C. Blythe passed away at her home Sunday.

Objection To Used Car Gone, Factory Official Announces

Chevrolet Dealers Offering Better Machines To Public Than Ever Before

Never in the history of the automotive industry has there been a time when the old assertion: "Used cars are unused transportation" was so true as it is today. This is the conviction of W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, whose sales of used cars in the past three months have broken all previous records. Mr. Holler believes that the high volume achieved by Chevrolet dealers has come about largely by reason of the public's recognition of that fact.

"It is common knowledge," said Mr. Holler, "that automobiles have undergone great improvement in the past few years. Cars of recent manufacture have more miles built into them originally than their predecessors had. There is more 'transportation' there to start with, by many thousands of miles.

"And so the ideal combination, from the standpoint of a used car buyer, is a fairly recent model that has traveled comparatively few miles. The balance of unused transportation is then unusually high. The number of used cars answering that description has been exceptionally large since the Chevrolet announcement last November, because many owners of 1935 and late 1934 Chevrolets and other makes turned those cars in after using only the first few thousand miles, placing the remainder of their built-in transportation at the disposal of thrifty used car buyers.

"One thing the depression did for the country was to eliminate from the public mind any objection to used car buying from the standpoint of pride. The public recognizes today that any car becomes a used-car the instant it is driven, so that even if the owner's neighbors could identify it as 'used'—which they can not—its purchase would still be no cause for embarrassment. This is a healthy situation, for everybody concerned. It is helpful to the industry at large, to the dealer, and far from least, to the public."

the family reunion held at the home of their mother, Mrs. L. T. Britton, Sunday. Thirty-seven relatives were present for this occasion and a very fine dinner was served at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chlumsky are spending the week here from Houston with Loraine and Hernleigh relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Narrell of Abilene visited his mother, Mrs. J. D. Narrell, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Swafford moved on Tuesday to the home of Mrs. W. C. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob George visited here from Sweetwater Saturday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lawrence, a boy, Friday night and to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beights Friday night were born twin girls.

EDITORIAL—SELF RELIANCE

To depend upon another for assistance throughout the school days weakens and deforms, whatever originality one may have had and renders one totally unfit for life outside the school campus.

Often when the teacher asks a question in the schoolroom, are you afraid to answer when you have original ideas? Then when he passes on and asks another who gives exactly the same answer as the one you were thinking of, aren't you disappointed when the other student is praised for his answer? Then learn to rely on yourself and not someone else.

Remember, when you step outward over the threshold of school into the waiting world, you will be "on your own." There will be no helping hand to solve the problems you will find in the social, business, and political worlds. You will do your own thinking later in life—so why not begin now?

CATHERINE SLAGEL. EARLY TRACES OF MAN

"Do you know that the earliest trace of man on the North American continent was really found on Lone Wolf creek in Colorado, Texas? From this discovery scientists have proved that man was here before the Indians, and that this man did not come from Asia." This interesting fact was brought to our attention by an essay recently written by Nina Katherine Quinney.

Every Colorado Lion Will Be Expected To Attend Club On Friday, April Third

Friday, April 3, is to be "One Hundred Percent Attendance Day" at the Lions Club.

On that day every member of the service organization will be expected to put in his appearance unless detained by an acceptable reason. Plans for observing the occasion were outlined during meeting of the club executive committee Friday.

"We plan having every Colorado Lion present at this meeting, if he has to ride to the club meeting place in a hearse," was comment of W. W. Whipkey, member of the executive board. "There are to be no excuses considered, excepting, of course, those that actually prevent the Lion from attending."

For Position VIII, Charles Stevens, the former Chief Patrolman, received (by a write-in) thirty-three votes. This shows the appreciation of the students for the work he has done for the Jr. Hi Safety Patrol.

BELTS PRESENTED
The Patrolmen were presented with special belts Monday before going on duty at noon. The chief was given his belt in chapel Friday. These belts are of black leather. Attached is a strap going over the shoulder on which is fastened the badge of authority. The belts were bought by funds from the P. T. A. which we wish to thank for bettering the looks of the patrol force in this way.

THE NEW CHIEF

Leroy Myers was elected the new Chief Patrolman in the schoolwide election held last Friday. We are proud of our new chief and know that he will do every thing he can to make our safety system one of the best we have ever had. However, students, he will need your cooperation in all he does. By obeying the safety rules we can give him our help.

We are still looking forward to the book of poems which is soon to be published. These poems were written by Jr. Hi students so of course you'll want a copy. See one of the editors.

TEXAS UNIT AND PAGEANT

For the past four weeks the sixth grade has been making a study of Mitchell county. At the end of this study the class presented a short pageant called "Through the Years in Mitchell County" representing the various people who have come to live in this county. These people are: The Comanche Indians, the Spanish, the filibusters, the buffalo hunters, the cowboys, and Texas Rangers, the rancher and family, the farmer, and lastly the oil scout and business man.

Recently Miss Bradford was requested to present a unit at the Big Spring curriculum meeting and to bring along her class for a demonstration. Eighteen of us have been selected to go to Big Spring to present this pageant.

CARL MOORE, Guest Reporter.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right balance from the food they eat. Mrs. C. Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl, got cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Better Wolf Pack For Next Season Seen By Wilkins

High Principal States That Improved Material Will Be Available To Coach

One of the best football squads to wear the Wolf colors in recent years is seen for the next season by Principal C. A. Wilkins of High school. Wilkins stated Saturday that material from which the Wolf machine would be constructed was improved over that offered during the past few seasons.

"Colorado should not expect to develop the formidable grid club that several years ago stood out in this section of the State, but I am convinced that we are to offer customers an improved club over those of recent years, due to fact we are to have stronger material from which to develop the team."
Wilkins did not list any specific men who in the next season are to be eligible for places on the Wolf pack. There are several promising pigskin toters, however, he suggested, who are just now holding out promising possibilities.

BEER SIGNS TAKEN OUT AFTER VOTERS' DECREE CALLS FOR DRY COUNTY

Scores of attractively colored lithographed signs, heralding why this or that particular brand of beer should be called for as one was wont to buy his thirst, are being taken from their places inside and outside several places of business in which the beverage was formerly sold.

One Colorado business man suggested Saturday that it was evident he would not have occasion to use the advertising collections again soon. "So I am getting them down and out of the way." Some of the signs had hung undisturbed through several months.

Mitchell county has been dry over 30 years and indications suggest that the electorate are satisfied with continuation of such a regime.

Do you know that Farmers may now buy RED BRAND FENCE under the National Housing Act

NO DOWN PAYMENT UP TO 3 YEARS TO PAY!

Good fence quickly pays for itself and shows a profit. That's why many farmers consider it sound business to buy fence under this new plan. The plan makes loans now available, on liberal terms, at most banks, for the purchase and erection of fence. No down payment. Up to 3 years to pay. It's a great nationwide offer to help farmers, and to promote recovery.

Red Brand is good fence. It fights rust in two important ways. First, its patented (best treated) galvanized protective coating of zinc is MUCH THICKER than ordinary galvanized fence wire. Second, its copper bearing steel fights rust at least TWICE as long as steel without copper. Red Brand fights rust clear to the core. It is built to withstand the bad corrosive conditions in this climate.

HYMAN PTA MEETING ON FRIDAY, MARCH 6

By Mrs. Carl Nance, Reporter
On Friday evening, March 6th, the patrons, members and students met at the school for the regular Parent-Teachers meeting. Every one joined in the singing of "America" and "The Laugh Provoker." Our president, Mr. Claude Anderson took charge and called the house to order for regular business after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting had been given. As there was no further business the remainder of the program was given by the students of the school.

The following program was presented:
Reading, "Smile" by A. J. Roach, Jr.; some snappy poems by five Primary girls; dialogue, "Too Many Bosses" by Celestine Richards, Leona Teman, Agnes Schuster, Mary Ellen Andrews, and Fannie Myrl Reed; reading, "The Wind, the Crooked Man, and the Farmer," by Vida Mae Colebank; reading, "The Land of Counterpane," by Viola Estelle Felts; dialogue, "Seein' Ma Off," by Garland McAlpine, Ruth Andrews, Agnes Schuster, Charles Bell, Barney Holder, Billie Bob Waggoner, Leona Teman, and Howard Lee Boyd; reading, "Dinah and Sambo," by Ruth Felts; reading, "A Rose For Regret," by Lillie Smith; song, "The Three Fishermen," by Fifth, Sixth and Seventh grades; dialogue, "The Spelling Class," by eight boys and girls; reading, "I'm Only A Hornet Bee," by Gillmer Harkins; dialogue, "The New Hired Man," by Fred Andrews, Charles Bell, Howard Lee Boyd, and B. B. Mills.

The boys and girls presented the program very creditably and everybody seemed to enjoy it. There were many good laughs to be had especially when the New Hired Man tried to set an old rooster.

On Friday evening, March 20th, the grown-ups of the community are going to present the play "Fingerprints," which has been forecasted to be very good.

Banking Principles Be Listed In City National Bank Ads

Institution Starts Feature With This Edition Of Colorado Record

The City National Bank announced today that the bank is inaugurating in this newspaper a series of forthcoming advertisements on "Questions That Are Asked about Banking," together with brief answers.

The purpose of this series is to give the readers of the Record further information about banking services and the fundamental principles and practices that are essential to sound banking. The bank believes that a better understanding of these banking matters will enable them to render a better financial service to its customers and to the community as a whole.

A bank is primarily a community enterprise. Unlike the merchant who buys his stock of goods from a few sources, the bank obtains its stock of goods—money—from many depositors. In turn this money—which belongs to depositors—is loaned to other people.

Good management and good service are essential to a well-managed bank but it cannot operate successfully without the confidence and support of its depositors—and confidence is based on understanding.

Banking is a business of human relationships and while we deal in money and credit we serve people. Consequently public understanding of the particular aims and problems of a bank are just as essential to soundness as are good loans and good investments.

There has been a nationwide improvement in the attitude of the public towards banking during the past year. This has been due, in part, to a better public understanding of banking problems and services. Helpful, accurate information develops understanding which is the basis of confidence. To further this improvement in public understanding and confidence, the City National Bank has planned its new series of advertisements on questions and answers about banking.

Gasoline Contains Varied Ingredients Gulf Official Notes

Motor Fuel Changed When Weather Conditions Alter In New Service Plan

A number of interesting facts about gasoline not generally known to the public have been revealed by one of the world's top producers and refiners of oil, in connection with a series of advertisements begun in the Record this week.

"In adopting the phrase, 'Kept in Step with the Calendar,' as our newspaper advertising theme for 1936," explains W. R. Huber, Gulf's advertising manager, "We believe that few people realize that gasoline is a mixture of more than 1,000 different substances, and that certain of these chemical properties must be carefully controlled according to weather conditions to give the best possible performance.

"It is impossible for anyone to manufacture a single gasoline which will start easily in Maine in February and which will not cause vapor-lock in Texas in July. It is expensive to manufacture and market different gasolines for different climatic conditions, but to properly serve the motorists' best interests, this cannot be avoided.

"That Good Gulf Gasoline sold in Massachusetts in summer is not the same gasoline sold there in the spring and fall. And this, in turn, is not the same gasoline sold in winter. Furthermore, our gasoline sold in Ohio in winter is not the same as the gasoline sold in Florida in winter.

"Gasolines that are ideal for quick starting in cold weather may be quite inferior in hot weather. To insure perfect performance and the highest mileage throughout the country and at all seasons, that Good Gulf Gasoline is 'Kept in Step with the Calendar'—hence all of it goes to work—none of it goes to waste."

WHEN BLADDER IRRITATION WAKES YOU UP

Strike at the cause. It's nature's way of saying "Danger Ahead." Make this 25c test. Use Buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., to flush out excess acids, and impurities. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. You are bound to feel better after this flushing and you get your regular sleep. Get buchu, juniper oil, etc., in little green tablets called Bukets. In four days if not pleased, your druggist will refund your 25c. J. L. Doss, Druggist, Colorado Drug Co. B-155.
