L. Templeton plans attending annual convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' association at Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday to fight for adoption of resolutions calling upon the Federal government to study seriousness of the question.

"I may not get my resolution through but nevertheless I shall go to the convention floor with the urge that public officials attending the sessions memorialize the National congress of the acute conditions ahead, as I see them," Judge Templeton stated. The resolution to be introduced follows:

Whereas the Texas Relief Commission has announced that direct state relief will end on April 1, and this means that about forty thousand unemployables will become the responsibility of local communities. And unless Congress makes provision for the continuation of a works program after July 1, we shall add an additional number presently employed by WPA, who are not absorbed by private industry, and we are informed that there are 140,000 now employed by WPA. The highest estimates are that only one-fourth of this number will be absorbed by private industry by July 1. FORD DEALERS PUT R&G GUARANTY ON USED CARS

"With Ford dealers the day of the 'used car' is gone," according to the Colorado Motor Co. "You are now offered an exclusive new standard of automotive quality in R&G cars, which you may buy with as much confidence and assurance of satisfaction as a completely new automobile."

"This new term—R&G—stands for Renewed and Guaranteed. It means that each car offered under it must meet a rigid set of specifications as to mechanical condition and appearance. And the result is a product so fine that it can be sold with a written guarantee of 'Satisfaction or Your Money Back.'"

"Under this guarantee, you are the judge of the car's quality. After purchase, you may drive it two days, and put it to any driving test you please. If it fails to measure up to your expectations in any way, you may return it to your Ford dealer's and have your money refunded in full—cheerfully, and with no questions asked."

"In addition, you will receive a written service warranty as a further protection. This double guarantee removes the elements of doubt and uncertainty that have troubled buyers of used cars for years."

"Now you can know the facts before you buy. There's no need to rely on the opinion of some one else, or trust to verbal claims. You know what you're getting for your money when you select an R&G car or truck at your Ford dealer's."

TEACHERS ATTEND OIL BELT MEETING; BABY TYPISTS DEMONSTRATE

With few exceptions, Colorado teachers were in Abilene Friday evening and Saturday to attend annual sessions of the Oil Belt Teachers' association.

Two Colorado students, Buster Slaton, and Sara Guitart, took part in the student program opening the convention Friday afternoon. Colorado teachers who took part in sectional conferences on Saturday afternoon included Miss Velma Barrett, Miss Gladys Miller, Robert Coffman, Alwilda Crosthwaite, Juan P. Mason, and Miss Octavine Cooper.

Miss Cooper took a group of her primary school typists to stage a demonstration before the commercial arts sectional conference. Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, second assistant state superintendent of public education, stated that she had come to the convention primarily to see the "baby" typists in action, and she praised their demonstration highly.

Miss Elizabeth Grantland and Miss Rilla Payne, typing supervisors in the primary and intermediate grades, assisted Miss Cooper in staging the demonstration. The little typists were Carl Phenix, Iva Helen Lee, Juanice Elliott, James Scott, Phynus Shurtleff, Harold Eudy Smith, Rex Beights, Eva Pearl Gale, Mildred Wynne, Dorothy Womack, Ralph Mann, Martha Jane Taylor, Jackie Thorp, Jimmie Pruitt, Dana Marie Merritt, Yvonne Ward, Aubrey Benson, Bobby Fee, Frank King, Betty Slagle, Betty Sue Vaught, Fern Guernsey, Stanley and Irvin Berman, Richard and Robert O'Brien, and Billy Jean Dorn.

Parents accompanying the group to Abilene included Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Beights, Mrs. Ralph Mann, Mrs. Ralph Lee, Mrs. Dean Phenix, Miss Macy Gale, Mrs. Andy Pruitt, Mrs. Ford Merritt, Mrs. J. C. Merritt, Mrs. D. N. Arnett, A. F. King, the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, Mrs. M. E. Gurney, Mrs. Henry Vaught, Mrs. H. P. Slagle.

CANNON TAKEN TO STATE PEN TO START SENTENCE

O. T. Cannon, former salesman for a Big Spring liquor house and who occasioned wide-spread interest in this section after his blood-stained car was found near Snyder several weeks ago, has been admitted to the State penitentiary at Huntsville to start doing time on a five-year sentence for robbery. Cannon was delivered to Bud Russell, pen agent, at Sweetwater, Monday.

SCURRY COUNTY'S FIRST LEAP YEAR BABY BURIED

Ebanell Lloyd, born February 29, to receive distinction as Scurry county's first leap year baby, died Monday morning in his mother's arms at the family home in the Pleasant Hill community. Burial was at Ira following services conducted from the Ira Baptist church.

LEGAL LIQUOR SALES IN BIG SPRING ARE BEGUN

Legal sale of hard liquor for beverage purposes went into effect at Big Spring Saturday night as two package stores authorized under law to handle the commodity were opened. It was just one week before that voters of Howard county had authorized sale of hard liquor.

GREAT SMOKY AND SHENANDOAH PARKS BROADCAST COMING

There is a spot in the United States where old pioneers are still living in log cabins built over 100 years ago—where women will depend on spinning wheels and men use rifles that were in service during the days of Daniel Boone.

That spot is the Great Smoky Mountains National Park of Tennessee and North Carolina, according to Carveth Wells, entertaining globe trotter now conducting a series of "Exploring America" broadcasts for Continental Oil Company.

In his program for Sunday, March 29, Wells will tell many little-known facts about the Great Smokies and about Virginia's Shenandoah National Park. Garden Week in the Tidewater state and Winchester's Apple Blossom Festival will receive special mention.

Frank Ventre's 14-piece Conoco orchestra will fill in the musical background. Local listeners who wish to hear Wells on Sunday, March 29, may do so by dialing station WFAA at 12:15 o'clock CST.

County Judge Will—

(Continued From Page One) on to provide for 145,000 cases in addition to approximately 5,000 cases that are now being cared for by County Welfare Associations, by the distributions of surplus commodities. Assuming that each case represents a family of four there will be 600,000 destitute people in Texas, when the relief and works program ceases; and, Whereas, there are constitutional and legal difficulties which prevent local communities from raising unlimited funds, and even the state is barred by constitutional limitations from granting aid; and,

Whereas, the Twenty Million Dollar bond issue known as Texas Bread Bonds is now about used-up, and another such issue would have to come through constitutional amendment and no amendment can be offered to the people before the next regular session of the legislature, which does not convene until January 1937; and, Whereas most of the counties and cities are already collecting the full amount allowed by law and are co-operating by sponsoring projects, furnishing hospitalization to paupers, furnishing quarters, office space, utilities, transportation, and storage, for both relief and works programs; and trying hard to take care of every contingency that cannot be cared for by either of the above agencies, and in so doing are now, in most cases, collecting the maximum allowed by law and spending all of it in an effort to carry on; now therefore be it,

RESOLVED by the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association in convention assembled in the City of Wichita Falls, that the congress be urged to continue the works program for another year, in order that many thousands of worthy

Texas families may have a chance to earn a living by work. That this resolution be spread on the minutes of this organization, and copies be furnished the press, and copies prepared and sent to the Texas delegation in the Congress of the United States.

ADVERTISING OF OTHER CENTURIES SET UP LIKE WANT ADS OF THIS TIME

Newspaper ads of years ago were set like our want ads. T. M. Marsh, manager for Safeway Stores, Inc., recently pointed out. Mr. Marsh offered one in particular, dated in 1857, urging the drinking of coffee and set in the following way:

"The grain of burry called Coffee, growth upon little trees only in the deserts of Arabia. It is a simple, innocent thing, condensed into a drink by being dried in an oven and ground to powder, and boiled up with spring water. About half a pint of it to be drunk at a time. It much quickens the spirits, and makes the heart lighter; it is good against sore eyes; it is good against the headache, and will stop any rheumatic condition; it will help consumption and the cough of the lungs. It is excellent to prevent and cure dropsy, gout and seury. It is known to be better than any other drying drink for people in years or children that have running sores upon them. It will prevent drowsiness and make one fit for business."

O'BRIEN IS SPEAKER AT LIONS CLUB CONVENTION

Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church, represented the Colorado club at district group meeting of Lions Clubs held Friday night in Big Spring. The local minister delivered brief address on the program. Other members of the local organization were present for the gathering.

Mrs. A. J. Payne of Slaton, one of Colorado's leading citizens years ago, arrived Monday morning to spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stonerod. Mr. Payne is secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Slaton Board of City Development.

BACKSTAGE

At Harley Sadler's

I sat backstage at Harley Sadler's show Tuesday evening—and that evening is now chalked up as one of the most enjoyable I ever spent.

You've wondered—I know you have because all Harley Sadler fans have and you wouldn't be reading this if you weren't one—how "Toby" and the Fox sisters and the Whitehouse Twins and Billie Sadler and all those others look "close up." So I'll assure you right here that they look better close up than they do from where the audience sits. . . . Incidentally, nobody is paying me to say this. . . .

I'd never been backstage anywhere before—not unless you count standing in the wings with watery-jointed knees and a fast-fading voice during some high school "production." All I knew of backstage life was what I've seen in the movies and you know the movie type—bitter, slangy conversation, jealousy, and all such. . . .

My first surprise came when I found a baby back there in the women's dressing room. . . . Seven-month-old Mickey Lou Kebele, little daughter of the older Fox sister, Mickey (the red-headed one) and her husband, the orchestra leader, Bob Kebele. . . . Mickey Lou was undergoing a "change" when I went in. . . .

In the dressing room there were Mrs. Roy Fox, Mickey Lou's grandmother, and the Fox sisters—the blonde Sunny and the red-headed Mickey. . . . Mrs. Sadler (Billie) didn't come in until later because she wasn't taking part in Tuesday night's play. . . .

There wasn't any excitement, there wasn't any worrying about lines and cues as I'd somehow imagined there would be—a hangover memory of mine from those nerve-racking high school productions, I guess. . . . Mickey Lou had the sniffles and she and her sniffles were the center of most that was said. . . .

Mrs. Fox was all dressed up for her part as the gooty sweetheart of "Checkers," the Toby part being played Tuesday night by Harley Sadler. . . . She wore a blonde wig and her teeth were fixed so that several in front appeared to be missing. . . . I learned that she was the feminine half of the second "tintype" specialty given between acts Monday night and that prejudiced me in her favor right from the start. . . . She and her bustle and her silly grin nearly threw me into hysterics in that act and I love that kind of hysterics. . . .

Various gentlemen told me, after learning I was going backstage Tuesday night, to bring back a truthful report on Sunny Fox's attractiveness, seen close up. Here it is—the truth, so help me: She's as pretty as she is on. . . . I only saw her made up, of course, but features show through the heaviest make-up.

The second part of my report on Sunny won't be so pleasing to those same gentlemen, though. . . . Sunny's married. . . . Been married about three months, and her husband is one of the Sadler advance men, Ray Whitlock. . . . Sunny's only 17, but if I know born actresses she is one. . . . From the wings I saw her in one of the serious scenes with real tears in her eyes. . . . She could have put the act over without them. Only an instant before she had been giving me a friendly, carefree wink as she went on the stage. . . . But there were the tears, summoned as only actresses can summon them. . . .

And as for Mickey, the older, red-headed Fox sister—she's even prettier close up than she is from "out front." Mickey doesn't seem to have one ounce of self-consciousness, and she's a grand comedienne—my favorite type of actress. . . . I hope it won't remove any of Mickey's glamour for you to hear how she could be wiping Mickey Lou's nose one minute and then be on the stage doing a comedy scene with all her heart the next. . . .

During the acts, when members of the orchestra were off duty, they took turns carrying Mickey Lou around. . . . If I were to say anything so trite as "just like a big family" someone would probably throw a rotten tomato—but you get the idea. . . .

Between acts I missed the specialty numbers to go back in the dressing room and talk to Mrs. Sadler, who had finished her duties in the reserved seat ticket stand and had come backstage. . . . After the play got underway she was the only one who had time to talk to me. . . .

She's a charming woman, Billie Sadler. . . . Tuesday night she was wearing a suit of dark green with a gray fur collar. . . . I never saw her looking other than very attractive and very pleasant and very poised, even when she was having a tussle with Mickey Lou over one of the numerous nose-wiping that the latter had to endure. . . .

I asked her about Gloria Sadler and learned that Gloria is now fourteen, a sophomore in Sweetwater High school. . . . Mrs. Sadler told me that Gloria was to appear in Wednesday night's show, and probably in one of the shows during the latter part of the week. . . . Mrs. Sadler's mother, Mrs. W. T. Massengale, lives in Sweetwater and the Sadler home is there. . . . Mrs. Massengale has been ill for a long time but was, Mrs. Sadler said, some better Tuesday. . . .

Graciously, Mrs. Sadler answered the questions I asked about the various members of the show troupe and about the show itself. . . .

It was quite a surprise to me to learn that a play on which rehearsals are begun, say Tuesday morning, is usually ready for the public on Friday or Saturday. . . . I'd had some vague idea of the company's hibernating somewhere for rehearsals days on end. Rehearsals are usually held around 10:30 or 11 of mornings. . . .

Personnel of Harley Sadler's company has undergone an almost complete change in the past few years. . . . Bud Nairn, who plays father parts now, has been with the company eight years. . . . He has a wife who is now visiting in Amarillo. . . .

One of the newest additions is Toad Thorpe, who joined here. . . . He plays trumpet in the orchestra and does special trumpet numbers. . . . His wife isn't along, being kept away by the illness of her brother. . . .

The Fox family has been with the show about three years. . . . Those who knew Roy Fox years ago when Harley Sadler was playing in his show say that the years have brought few visible changes in his appearance or actions. . . .

Paul Thardo, drummer and xylophonist in the orchestra, has also been with the company for years. He originally hailed from Fort Worth and his wife and son are along. . . .

From murmurings heard here and there over the audience on the opening night I judge that a number of english hearts will be glad to learn that the violinist, Joe Gofforb, is wifeless. . . . Gofforb is from Houston. . . .

Two other orchestra members are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Siler. . . . She's piano player, he plays saxophone and clarinet and sings with the orchestra. . . .

Chet Spaulding is the name of the trombone player, who hails from Longview. . . . He's single, too. . . . The tall, dark, and handsome fellow who plays the guitar is Denver Crumpler. . . . He has a mustache and he sings tenor. . . . Forgive me, but I failed to jot down his marital status and now I've forgotten whether it's positive or negative. . . .

Although he's secretary and treasurer of the company, Harry Phelps plays the bass fiddle in the orchestra as if he didn't have a care in the world. . . . His wife is in charge of downtown ticket sales. . . .

The man who takes tickets at the door is Ed Thardo, father of the orchestra's drummer. . . . Burnett Massengale, the tall fellow who helps Mr. Fox on the stage at candy sale time, is Mrs. Sadler's brother. . . .

I'm jumping from the stage to the orchestra and back to the stage in a dangerous and rather bewildering fashion, I'm afraid. . . . Excuse it, please. . . . And now we'll take up the Whitehouse Twins. . . .

To begin with, they aren't married. . . . The women all wanted me to ask about that, so there's the answer. . . . I don't like to get too personal, so I didn't learn about their loves, secret or not secret, but the fact remains that they're not married. . . .

The one who does the hero parts is "Big", the other, usually cast in the heavier masculine role, is "Lit." At least, they were cast that way both Monday and Tuesday nights. . . . They hail from Houston and Minnesota, and they have been with the show four years. . . . "Big" seems to get a great kick out of his acting. . . . "Lit" didn't seem so mean to me, because I saw him give the leading lady a smile the audience couldn't see just before they went into a "fight" scene. . . . If "Lit" didn't wear a mustache in his parts they'd look too much alike to play together. . . .

Seeing Harley Sadler act from backstage was perhaps the highlight of my evening. . . . From my place in the wings I saw some of his facial expressions that I'm sure weren't visible to the audience. . . . And in not seeing them the audience was missing something. . . .

Members of the orchestra and others of the company stood backstage during Harley's funny scenes and laughed as hard as I did. . . . I can't think of any greater compliment than that. . . .

For those who remember and wonder about Harley Sadler's leading players of years gone by I learned these things: Ethel Snow, who was leading lady for so long, is now Mrs. Charley Myers of Sweetwater. She and Mr. Myers have a 17-year-old son in school there. . . . A. C. Feffner, teamed with her as leading man, also lives in Sweetwater where he is manager of the Allen hotel. He is married but has no children. . . . Bart Couch is in Austin, working as assistant to Mr. Phares, state chief of patrol. Mrs. Couch works at Renfro's in Austin. Couch went to work in Austin this past winter after several months in the road show business in Wisconsin. . . .

And so I learned a little about life behind the scenes. . . . It was cold backstage, but no one complained. There was rushing about, but no one stormed. . . . Mickey Lou fretted—she had the sniffles, you know—but nobody frowned. . . . Strings got tied in hard knots, shoe buckles wouldn't fasten, somebody went on stage with somebody else's hat, but nobody lost control. . . .

Once, in a lull, I ventured a question about "stage fright." I had put that question down in my book before going backstage, so I had to ask it, no matter if I did feel silly as I said it. . . . Four pair of eyes turned on me, four pair of eyes trying to remember where they'd heard of that malady. . . . It was just my high school backstage memories cropping out again, I reckon. . . .

The curtain came down, the show was over. . . . I had seen the things behind the show—yes, I'd even helped put on the show. . . . You see, I loaned Sunny a safety pin, a very necessary safety pin that kept her trousers up during a special number. . . . It had been, for me, a great evening, but I left with the conviction that I'll never see another Harley Sadler show without a yearning to be backstage. . . .

"Beauty and the Beast" will be a midway sensation of the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas, June 6, according to showmen. It is an attraction imported from Europe featuring a nearly nude dancer performing in a cage of lions.

Mitchell County Farmers Benefited $100,000 From Growing Good Staple

The fact that Mitchell county farmers benefitted approximately $100,000 during 1935 by growing cotton from pedigreed seed must be largely credited to Colorado bankers, it is said by those in a position to know.

Local bankers, led by W. Stone, active vice-president of the City National bank, made it a practice in recent years to advise farmers to whom they make loans to plant their acreage with pedigreed seed if possible. The result has been added prestige for Mitchell county cotton, to say nothing of the additional income from quality staple.

J. M. New, official classer supervisor for the West Texas Cotton Growers' association of Abilene, stated here Wednesday that no county in his territory grows better staple than Mitchell, and many not as good.

Twelve years ago the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, through its agriculture committee, financed the bringing of pedigreed cotton seed to Mitchell county. It was a pioneer movement that has grown to a place of recognized importance.

HOSPITAL NEWS

DR. AND MRS. ROOT ON VACATION TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Root left last Saturday morning for a ten day or two week vacation trip to Austin and South Texas points. The hospital is remaining open during their absence, with Mrs. Bennett Scott helping Miss Elsie Walker, superintendent of nurses, in the management of affairs.

THREE ARE PATIENTS NOW

Three patients were in the hospital Thursday morning. They were Joyce Compton, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ora Compton; Weyman Moseley, son of W. H. Moseley; and Herman Dawson, negro who suffered a broken leg several weeks ago. Joyce is recovering from an appendectomy performed Saturday afternoon. Her condition was regarded for a time with gravity. Moseley is convalescing from a complicated appendectomy which he underwent over two weeks ago.

SEVERAL ARE DISMISSED

A number of patients were dismissed during the past week. Bob McClellan of the Spade ranch was dismissed last Thursday afternoon. He had had his tonsils removed. I. D. Webb, who was a medical patient Thursday and Friday, went home Friday afternoon.

Paul Beeman of Longfellow went home Monday after undergoing minor surgery on Thursday. Mrs. W. A. Taylor of Dunn went home Sunday. She had been given treatment on Friday. Mrs. J. H. Burrow and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen were both discharged Tuesday.

Convalescing from major surgery, Mrs. Burr Brown went home Wednesday, as did Mrs. H. E. Cockrell of near Colorado. Another dismissal on Wednesday was that of Mrs. Thos. Dowdy, who had been a patient for major abdominal surgery.

A. T. CAFFEY INFANT BURIED ON WEDNESDAY

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Kiker Chapel for Martha Ann Caffey, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Caffey of Austin street. The infant died at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, seven hours after birth.

Services were conducted by the Rev. A. F. Clek of the Westbrook Methodist church. The infant is survived by her parents, two brothers and two sisters—Clifton, Morris, Archie Lee, and Virginia; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Brinkley; and the great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Coe of Colorado. Kiker & Son were in charge of arrangements.

J. G. KEATHLEY BURIED AT SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

J. G. Keathley, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Keathley of Colorado, died Tuesday afternoon at San Francisco, California, following a brief attack of pneumonia. Burial was in the California city Thursday afternoon. Surviving, in addition to his parents, are his widow and one brother, S. F. Keathley of Colorado.

Authentic Southwestern cowboy and range music will be used in "Cavalade of Texas" the $150,000 dramatic spectacle to be staged at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. David Guion, famous Texas composer, arranger of "Home On The Range," will supervise the musical score.

Visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6 will find a real oil well in operation on the grounds of the $25,000,000 World's Fair.

The Texas mule is still vital to construction work in the Lone Star State. Recently heavy rains caused the miring of a huge tractor on the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Ten mules pulled it out after other tractors had failed.

People who believe that prehistoric monsters that once roamed Asia land's were peculiar to that part of the world will find reconstructions of the fossilized bones of huge elephants and saber toothed tigers at the Texas Centennial Exposition. A million years ago they roved the Texas plains.

Range Conditions Better Than Last Spring, Is Report

Rain Needed In This Part Of State, But Cattle And Sheep Are Fat

Prospects for spring and summer grazing are much better than a year ago and are about the average for March 1, the monthly range and livestock report issued Saturday by the Department of Agriculture showed.

The condition of ranges is rated at 76 per cent of normal on March 1, 1936, compared with 77 per cent a month ago, 47 per cent a year ago and 76 per cent of the ten-year average on March 1.

However, continued dry, cold weather over most of the State, coupled with high winds and dust storms through the northwest portion of Texas, has caused a further deterioration in range conditions. Grain fields have been damaged by freezing temperatures, high winds and dust storms, and only in a few favored areas are they furnishing grazing for livestock.

In most cases, however, with the exception of the northwestern and western districts, subsoil moisture is adequate and only surface moisture and warm weather are needed to start spring grass and weeds.

Due largely to supplemental feeding, cattle have about held their own during February. Some shrinkage occurred following the cold weather early in February, but an abundance of roughage and other feeds were available and feeding was general. Warmer weather has brought greatly improved conditions for cattle in nearly all sections. Heel flies are becoming bothersome in some counties and cattle in these counties are not making normal gains. Condition of cattle is reported at 80 per cent of normal, compared with 81 per cent a month ago, 61 per cent a year ago and 79 per cent of the ten-year average.

Condition of sheep March 1 was 82 per cent of normal, compared with 84 a month ago and 68 per cent a year ago. Goat condition is 83 per cent of normal, compared with 69 per cent a year ago.

FIELD MEETS FOR SCIENTISTS WILL BE AT GONZALES

GONZALES, Texas.—The Centennial celebration field meet for scientists will be held at Palmetto state park near Gonzales on March 26, 27 and 28.

Widespread interest has been shown in plans for the meet which is sponsored by the Texas Academy of Science and which will be directed by the Gonzales Palmetto Park board in cooperation with the Texas State Park board, the National Park Service, and Fort Sam Houston officials.

Field trips and auditorium programs will be important features on the three day program.

The first wild flower show in Texas was sponsored by the Gonzales Women's Study club in 1926.

"PRESCRIPTIONS CAREFULLY COMPOUNDED"

Remember when every village druggist used to run that phrase in his "standing ad" in the local paper.

Yes, it's a bit old fashioned in these busier days. But it aptly describes our service. We're proud to direct attention to our Prescription Department. For ours is primarily a Drug Store. We invite your prescription business and assure you of fair prices, prompt, exact service and fresh, potent drugs.

Shrub and Tree 'Epidemic' Sweeps County; Plants Delivered At Park

An epidemic of "shrubbery-itis" and "tree-ism" has swept Colorado and Mitchell county like wildfire in the past few weeks.

As a result there are 1600 more Chinese elms, 774 more crepe myrtles, 167 more arbovitae, 169 more rose bushes, 148 more bridal wreaths, and hundreds more of a dozen other shrubs and trees in the county's yards and parks than there were a year ago. The busiest spot in town isn't hard to find on mornings when trucks have returned from Arlington with shrubs and trees. It's at Ruddick park where the plants are being unloaded and delivered to those who ordered them.

The city of Colorado, the Chamber of Commerce, and Federated clubwomen of the town have worked together in making it possible for Coloradans and Mitchell countians to secure large, sturdy plants at a minimum cost. Orders are taken and payments kept track of at the Chamber of Commerce office by J. H. Greene, secretary, and his assistant, Mrs. Bernie Grable.

Trucking the plants has so far been careed for by getting Mitchell countians who take loads of livestock to the Fort Worth markets to stop in Arlington for a load of plants on the return trip. B. T. Parr of Colorado has brought in three truckloads in this manner.

The 1600 Chinese Elms sold in the county this year brings the total sold through the Chamber of Commerce in the past four years to 20,035.

In addition to the shrubs and trees listed at the beginning of this story the following orders have been sold: 110 amour river privets, 2 honeysuckles, 44 red buds, 3 Lombardy poplars, 84 nandinas, 57 vitex, 36 pomegranates, 12 pantolinas, 38 spirea, 12 flowering quince, 35 lilacs, 13 lavender, 2 lodensos, 10 pfitzer junipers, 100 tamarix, 8 abelias, 26 cypresses, 12 butterfly bushes, 2 Jap barberries, 6 red cedars, 88 willows.

J. H. Greene received word Thursday morning that Lon Fry and Will Noack of Hyman will arrive some time during Thursday night with another truckload filling latest orders. The shrubs will be at the park for delivery Friday morning.

CHS TYPISTS WIN 3 OF 6 HIGH PLACES IN CONTEST AT ABILENE

Competing with Big Spring, Abilene, and Brownwood typing teams, the last two being classed among the strongest in the state, Colorado High school's first and second typing teams took part in a practice typing contest in Abilene Friday afternoon and won three out of a possible six places.

The students were accompanied to Abilene by their teacher, Miss Octavine Cooper, head of the high school vocational commercial department.

Sarah Clark of Abilene won first place with an average of 146.82; Irene Dossey, of Colorado, second with an average of 143.57; Paschall Lynch, of Colorado, third with an average of 132.72; Dougie Edwards, of Abilene, fourth with an average of 132.28; Margaret Williams, of Abilene, fifth with an average of 131.38; and Hiram Duffer, of Colorado, sixth with an average of 130.47.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DAUGHTER

A Memorial to Martha Stevens, who passed away three weeks ago. When we saw you in the casket, lying so still and quiet, You seemed to be an angel, Martha, With snowy wings of white, We love you, oh, so dearly, You were so kind and good, Why you had to leave us, We have not understood.

The family circle has been broken, And time can never mend, But we can put our trust in God, And on Him we can depend. The flowers we laid on your grave May wither and decay, But the love we have for you Will never fade away.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Stevens
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright
Mr. and Mrs. M. Tankersley
Mrs. E. J. Groh and Family.

Business Women To Observe BPW Week; Local Club Has Luncheon, Plans Banquet

Once more Colorado women are joining with women of the nation in observing National Business and Professional Women's week.

The local club's observation is due to reach a climax with the annual Public Relations banquet Friday evening at the Colorado hotel at 7:45. Presidents of the study clubs and civic organizations of the town and others are to be invited guests at the affair.

A preliminary feature of the week's observance here was the Public Relations luncheon held last Thursday noon for just club members. Hostesses were Mrs. Rees Jones, Mrs. Bob Petrick, and Mrs. W. E. Reid.

Pear blossoms and hyacinths were decorations at the luncheon table. Places were marked with shamrocks bearing the date and time of the Public Relations banquet. Mrs. Jones talked on "National Business Week Topics," Mrs. A. L. McSpadden on a civic project, and Mrs. Leslie Crowder on "How May We Create Public Opinion for Cooperation in Civic Work?"

As their national week is observed each year members of Business and Professional Women's clubs review their achievements, both national and local. The Colorado club can list several achievements of its own—sponsoring the organization of a club at Big Spring, becoming federated with the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and the Mitchell county federation, giving a successful International Relations program tea, perfecting a choral club.

In July the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs will be seventeen years old, having come into existence in 1919. In 1920 the federation became a member of the Women's Joint Congressional committee; in 1923 it established the Lena Lake Forrest Fellowship fund for graduate research work in the problems of business and professional women; in 1930 the federation sponsored a movement which resulted in the formation of the International Federation of BPW clubs; in 1931 the Ten Year Objective was adopted; in 1935 membership passed the 60,000 mark.

"Miss Theresa March became the bride of John William Doss Saturday morning, the single ring ceremony having been performed by the Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, in the presence of immediate families of the couple.

"The service was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Murphy March, members of leading pioneer families in San Angelo and West Texas.

"Unattended, the couple stood before an improvised altar in the living room. Palms with baskets of snapdragons and gladioli provided the background for the altar.

"Following the ceremony, the wedding cake was served with coffee. The cake occupied the center of the dining table and was banked with lilies-of-the-valley and maiden hair fern. White tapers also added to the decorations.

"The bride wore an original Del Monty-Hickey suit of embossed Rodier's sheer wool. It was a two-piece creation, the yoke of the dress featuring hand-drawn work. The tailored collar was of white bengaline. The three-quarter length man-tailored box coat had a vestee and period collar of gray galayk.

"She wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley.

"Mrs. Doss is a granddaughter of M. B. Pulliam, prominent San Angelo financier and early day resident. She was born and reared here.

Several Colorado People At Annual Fraternal Parley

Sessions Of State Rebekah And Odd Fellows Bodies In San Angelo This Week

Several Coloradoans and other Mitchell county citizens were in San Angelo during the week to attend sessions of the State Odd Fellows and Rebekah bodies. Some of the local delegates have been active in the fraternal societies through a number of years.

Approximately 35 men and women from the two local organizations were in attendance. W. L. Doss estimated Wednesday. "One of the big thrills that we enjoyed came when one of the children sent by us to the orphanage at Corsicana was presented the assembly," Doss declared.

The gathering closed Wednesday. The next annual convention was voted Corsicana after a spirited contest between that city, Dallas and Waco.

BEEES NO BUSIER THAN HD CLUB YARD WORKERS

Bees are no busier than the yard improvement demonstrators of the various home demonstration clubs.

A yard that had taken on some new shrubs and had new changes in it is that of Mrs. W. L. Hall, yard demonstrator of the Iatan home demonstration club. The yard was so large that a division was made between the front and back by using salt cedar and cannas to make a hedge. The cedars were planted 3 feet apart so that they would grow to protect the roses from the West sun and wind. A bed of 12 well rooted roses of the Radiance, Talisman and Luxemborg varieties were set out 3 feet apart. Specimen shrubs such as the crepe myrtle and lilac are being used in the foundation plantings.

MARCHES ON!

A 1926 model car popping along is certainly a true picture of a "has-been." Contrast it with the streamlined models of today. Compare its performance. It fades out of the picture... outmoded and obsolete.

And so it is with gas ranges. In their manufacture science and engineering have wrought advancements just as striking as in the automobile industry. Appearance, structural details and performance have been radically improved, creating a new standard in a cooking appliance. Without this modern cooking appliance no kitchen—no matter how modern its architecture and other appointments may be—can truthfully be called modern unless its range is a truly modern gas range!

So go modern with a new gas range. You can afford to. Terms are surprisingly small. See the newest 1936 models now on display.

Grocers' Week Is Observed By Food Shops In Colorado

Nationwide Drive To Build Stronger Relationship Is Launched Monday

Development of the cross-roads store into the modern retail grocery of today is the subject of a nationwide campaign opened Monday and extending through Saturday.

Grocers of Colorado are cooperating with the Texas Retail Grocers' association and their national organization in the campaign, with special advertising, sales and store decorations.

National Retail Grocer Week is the result of a combined effort by retailers and their associated trades, manufacturers, wholesalers and brokers, to develop a clearer public understanding of the value and importance to the community as a protector of health, as a business man, and as a neighbor will be stressed in the educational campaign. Through it, the combined trades hope to bring back to the public a realization of the close link between the prosperity and development of the community and the prosperity of its retail grocer.

National Retail Grocer Week, occurring this year from March 16th to 21st, is planned as an annual event. Observances are being held simultaneously in stores from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and every member of the industry is being contacted by representatives of the association in a united drive to advertise the retail grocer.

Building Highways With Cotton Seen As Profitable Venture For Farm Industry

"I can well remember the days when cottonseed were of no use aside from being hauled out into the field, there to decay and be used as fertilizer," mused a prominent Mitchell county farmer Tuesday afternoon. "Now cottonseed is the basic commodity from which much of the South's farm wealth is derived. It feeds both man and beast and brings millions of dollars into the pockets of farmers annually."

"And this idea of employing the use of cotton for building highways is equally as interesting as was the first news that cottonseed had been developed into an important commercial factor," the farmer went on to say, pointing to headlines in his newspaper announcing that Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture at Washington had a few days before approved an expenditure of $1,300,000 to encourage new uses of cotton in highway construction.

The project provides for the diversion of manufactured cotton fabric for use as a reinforcement membrane in bituminous surface-treated highways and for cotton mats for use in curing concrete highways. These materials will be furnished on request to State Highway Departments so they may be tested in widespread use under all climatic conditions. If the results are as favorable as preliminary trials have indicated, these new fields of use would require large quantities of cotton in the future, said the announcement.

Under the program, cotton fabric for bituminous surfaced roads will be provided for a maximum of 1,000 miles of this type. An aggregate of 80,000 cotton mats for curing concrete in highway construction will be made available for an average of at least three projects in each State. The project will be administered jointly by the Bureau of Public Roads and the AAA.

Experimental work in the use of coarse cotton fabric as a reinforcement membrane in bituminous surface-treated roads has been under way for years in South Carolina. Experimental projects also have been undertaken in other States. The cotton membrane is used to prolong the life of the surface and to reduce maintenance costs by preventing cracks and holes in the surface and edge failures.

In recommending the approval of this project, Lawrence Myers, chief of the cotton marketing section of the AAA, said:

"There is no apparent reason why cotton mats should not find widespread acceptance for curing concrete not only in highways but in other construction work as well. As yet, however, very few are acquainted with these mats and their rather high first cost tends to discourage their introduction in areas where they have not been tried. To provide the maximum impetus to their widespread adoption in the near future, it is proposed that the Secretary of Agriculture enter into an agreement with State Highway Departments to supply each highway department on its request, with mats for demonstrational purposes.

"The reports of the Bureau of Public Roads and of the Texas Highway Department show that in addition to the low curing cost, these mats have the advantage of insuring proper moisture and temperature conditions during drying process, so the pavement has a greater compressing strength than that cured by other methods, and their use avoids the injurious results that come from several of the other methods of curing concrete.

"Laboratory tests made by the Bureau of Public Roads indicate the only way of determining exactly that the use of the fabric will prove economical is to have it tried out under widely varying conditions in amounts large enough so it will be possible to keep accurate record of maintenance costs. Moreover, this seems to be the most effective way of demonstrating the advantages which South Carolina highway engineers and other observers of these projects claim can be obtained from the use of cotton fabric.

"In order to have the fabric utilized widely in a way which will demonstrate the values and economies of its

Reasons For Suit Detailed By Texas Electric Official

Flood Control Feature Will Be Eliminated Under Plan Favored, Duncan States

"A suit filed in Washington today to restrain Mr. Ickes and other defendants from making certain expenditures on the Brazos and Colorado rivers was filed for the purpose of preventing development projects for these rivers from being carried out as hydro-electric projects whose natural operation would be such as to defeat the flood control program which the people of Texas have so generally expected on these two rivers," said Mr. A. J. Duncan, President and General Manager of Texas Electric Service Company, in commenting on the suit.

"Our company is and has been very much in favor of flood control and irrigation on these two rivers, but obviously the present designs of the Federal Government agencies dominating these developments will, if carried out, greatly restrict if not entirely thwart the flood control of these streams," said Mr. Duncan.

"Reservoirs and basins intended for flood control must, if they are to really check and hold flood waters, be maintained at low enough water levels to provide sufficient capacity to receive and restrain the flood waters during the rainy season and to permit the orderly flow of these waters down stream. The flood waters must be released as quickly as the capacity of the river channel below will allow, so that the reservoir capacity will again, and promptly, be available for subsequent rainfall and flood water. It has been recently determined, however, that the government-aided projects are now being planned to contain hydro-electric generating capacity designed to require keeping these reservoirs at high level for power purposes and in our opinion practically nullify their usefulness for flood control.

"A new set of plans for the development of these two rivers on a proper flood control and irrigation basis, will, we hope, result from our court action," said Mr. Duncan, "to take the place of the series of hydro-electric power projects which are being fostered by PWA and WPA for the principal purpose of competing unnecessarily and unfairly with already established, adequate electrical facilities.

THEATRE NEWS

BY SHERMAN HART "PERFECT GENTLEMAN"

Thursday—March 19th
A comedy wowed with sparkling lines, directed at a fast moving which never lags. Hilarious situations milked to the bone by a clever cast make this a genuine comedy for any man's audience. Frank Morgan, a retired English army major, visits his son, Richard Waring, vicar in a small hamlet. Returning to London, he meets Cicely Courtneidge, provincial actress about to make her debut in the big city. In the audience when she is about to flop, he jumps to the stage with some hokum; an appeal for fair play puts her over when they both sing a song. Through public demand they team up, scandal follows and Frank bows out. Frank meets Cicely again, however, and it is wedding bells for the finish.

"FRISCO KID"

Palace—Saturday Midnite, March 21 Sunday—Monday, March 23 and 24
Robust drama of early San Francisco wherein vigilantes rid the city of vice and corruption. Comedy, pathos, romance and tragedy, sharply etched on historical facts making for popular entertainment. James Cagney is at his best as the young sailor who senses the dog-eat-cat attitude of the coast habitues and outwits the sharpers and political bosses to become kingpin of the Barbary Coast. Geo. E. Stone, a second-hand clothes dealer, who befriends Cagney, gives an outstanding performance. Story moves at exciting and thrilling pace with mob scenes expertly handled to retain dramatic tempo. Except reformation of Cagney, which weakens purpose and determination of vigilantes, it is perfect entertainment.

"STARS OVER BROADWAY"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday March 24 and 25
Pleasing entertainment. Some sly comedy and a wealth of musical lure. A good-and-out talent producer hears a hotel porter sing. Realizing the lad's quality of voice, he takes him to a teacher who forecasts a great future if the porter is given five years to perfect his voice. Impatient to make money, the producer (Pat O'Brien) puts Melton, the porter, on the radio where he clicks and falls in love with Jane Froman, a blues singer. O'Brien falls for Jean Muir, a little gal who thinks she has a voice. Fast living gets Melton down and O'Brien sends him to Italy to study. He returns a success in grand opera and all ends well.

Do you know that Farmers may now buy RED BRAND FENCE under the National Housing Act

NO DOWN PAYMENT UP TO 3 YEARS TO PAY!

Good fence quickly pays for itself and shows a profit. That's why many farmers consider it sound business to buy fence under this new plan. The plan makes loans now available, on liberal terms, at most banks, for the purchase and erection of fence. No down payment. Up to 3 years to pay. It's a great nationwide offer to help farmers, and to promote recovery.

Red Brand is good fence. It fights rust in two important ways. First, its patented (that's treated) galvanized protective coating of zinc is MUCH THICKER than ordinary galvanized fence wire. Second, its copper-bearing steel fights rust at least TWICE as long as steel without copper. Red Brand fights rust clear to the core. It is built to withstand the bad corrosive conditions in this climate.

Largest Elephant In America To Be Seen Here Friday

'Vera,' Trained Giant, Will Visit City With The Webb Circus Today And Night

When Joe B. Webb's Circus, Menagerie and Wild West exhibits here on Friday, March 20, people of this vicinity will have an opportunity of seeing the largest elephant in America. In an interview with her trainer recently, Capt. Joe Riggers, who puts the big pachyderm through her act daily, said this of the famous elephant: "Big Vera is thirty-five years old, and calculated in the life of an elephant, means about middle age; she weighs seven thousand pounds. A most unusual thing about an elephant which the public does not know is that twice the circumference of her foot is her height. We use Vera to pull the heavy wagons on location, and she will push or pull as desired. Her daily ration is four bales of hay and every other day she is given grain. People often ask me as to the amount of water she will consume, but we usually refer them to the small boys that bring water to the elephant for passes. Oftimes, I am asked are elephants mean. My answer is that mean elephants are very few; they are a highly nervous animal and are frightened very easily." Capt. Riggers trained Big Vera to carry him by the head in her mouth the entire distance around the hippodrome track, which is approximately 800 feet, and local circus goers will have a chance to witness this exciting exhibition on Friday afternoon and night.

is any oil any different?

Different because it's

We don't mean one of those "talking point" differences. We mean a real difference. Alloying Germ Processed oil goes beyond refining and re-refining. After every harmful element is cleaned out, the patented Conoco Germ Processing element is scientifically put IN.

That's what brings you this alloyed oil, with its strange attachment for pistons, cylinders, and all other engine parts—including every known type of bearing. All these parts really become oil-plated!

This oil-plating is extra. It's a plus—added to the toughest, more slippery, heat-beating Germ Processed oil film. You've got this high-durability oil film, sliding on thoroughly oil-plated surfaces, and so you're that much farther from wear and noise.

You're facing hotter days and harder runs. Out with dirty winter oil! Only the Conoco man can change you—quickly—to Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

Three CHS Future Farmers Place 4th In State Contest

Local FFA Chapter Is Well Represented At Fat Stock Show's FFA Day

The distinction of placing fourth in a meat identification contest for FFA judging teams from all over the state was won by three Colorado High school FFA boys during FFA day at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show last Saturday.
Boys on the team were John Colson, James Pritchett, and R. C. Snively.
Eleven other members of the high school FFA chapter accompanied their teacher and sponsor, Doyle Williams, to Fort Worth to take in events of the day. They were Duff Chesney, Hall and Aubrey Franklin, Raymond Fuller, Billy Bob McGuire, Corley Rogers, Bill Galey, Joe Leonard Blackard, James Wulfjen, Billy Henderson, and Leon Callan.
The boys left here Friday by car. Those accompanying them in addition to Williams were Mrs. Mac Holt, Mrs. Essie Blackard, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGuire, and P. G. Fuller.

J. G. KEATHLEY BURIED

J. G. Keathley, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Keathley of Colorado, died Tuesday afternoon at San Francisco, California, following a brief attack of pneumonia. Burial was in the California city Thursday afternoon. Surviving, in addition to his parents, are his widow and one brother, S. F. Keathley of Colorado.

LEG IS IN CAST

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ledbetter have received word that their son, L. J. Ledbetter of Dallas is now confined to his bed with his leg in a cast because of a torn ligament which he suffered several weeks ago while playing on the volley ball team of the telephone office where he is employed. For a time after the injury he got along nicely but the leg was injured a second time while Ledbetter was playing golf several days ago and a cast became necessary.

ATTEND FAT STOCK SHOW

At least three groups of Coloradans were in Fort Worth during the week-end to attend opening features of the Fat Stock show. In one group were Mrs. Rees Jones, Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, Miss Cal Yates, and Miss Lillian Pond. E. H. Gunn, Jake Richardson, and Lee Lavender composed another group. Doyle Williams, FFA sponsor, and a group of his FFA boys and their parents who attended are listed elsewhere in this issue.

CARD OF THANKS

We appreciate very much the many acts of kind sympathy extended during the illness and death of our beloved relative, J. L. Williams. May the blessings of God ever attend each of you and may you have such friends when deep sorrow overtakes you.

Vocational Agriculture Training Listed As Important To Youths Living On Farm

Due to the fact that 98 per cent of the farm boys who enter the high school finish their education there, this is the most opportune time to offer them training that will better suit them for a farming occupation. Vocational agriculture instructors of this area have said.
The boys receive practical training in many phases of agriculture. They are taught how to contour soil through a system of terracing, contouring, strip-chopping, and crop rotation. They learn to run terrace lines and how to run-off water and help prevent erosion. They know that fibrous rooted crops such as oats, wheat and grain sorghums help to hold the soil together while tap rooted plants such as cotton do not pick it up and carry it into our creeks and rivers.
The boys learn to cull out the "boarders" in the poultry flocks. They can tell you whether or not a hen is laying at the present time or if she has had a long laying period the past year. They realize the importance of keeping good layers and disposing of those hens that do not produce enough eggs to pay for their feed.
Practical training in pruning fruit trees is received by the vocational agriculture boys, and they realize that through pruning the quantity is increased and the quality of fruit is improved.
The boys learn to take cow hides and turn them into a finished chrome leather that is of practical use on almost any farm. They realize that this leather can be tanned at a cost of 15 cents per pound while this same leather would likely cost fifty cents per pound if purchased.

Vocational agriculture boys know how to test milk and cream for butterfat. They know that it costs just as much to feed a cow giving milk of 3 per cent butterfat as it does to feed one giving 5 per cent. Training in the judging of all classes of livestock is one of the most valuable assets received.
The proper balancing of rations is also a part of the vocational agriculture course. The boys taking the course learn, for instance, that up to 25 per cent of dairy ration can be furnished economically in cottonseed meal; that cotton seed contains too much oil to be fed in large quantities to a dairy cow; and that wheat bran is cool, laxative feed that is highly desirable in dairy rations. Boys learn the causes, symptoms, and treatments for the most common diseases of animals, and they are taught that preventive measures are much safer and less expensive than treatment.
As a whole, vocational agriculture is a course offered to boys of high school age who are, or intend to follow farming as an occupation. It is the only study offered to farm boys which gives them actual systematic training in fitting them for the future job. Therefore, any school which has an enrollment of rural boys could well afford to include such valuable training in its study course.

JR. HI PATROL REPRESENTED AT ABILENE

We are very proud of Charles Stevens last Friday when he addressed the Oil Belt Teachers' Association on "Student Participation in Safety Work." Chief Stevens explained our complete Patrol set-up, including how the elections are held and the duties of the patrolmen. Everyone reports that Charles ably represented the school.
Miss Crosthwaite presented an art program beginning at 2:00 p.m. in the High school music room in Abilene. Following are the students who participated: Sara Guitart, Alice Womack, Catherine Slagel, Freddie Watson, Nancy Price, Doris Flo Doss, Beulah Robinson, Harriet Pritchett, Ethel Bodzin, Earnest Bodzin, Louis Porter, Mackye Loving.
The school has received some new balls and bats. From reports the seventh graders had a "wonderful" time at Abilene. The program was well received too. Read an amusing jingle recently--reminder of the Frontier Centennial:
"Born high up on the Guadalupe,
Raised on thorny prickly pear,
Quarreled with alligators--
Fought with grizzly bear."
Yippee!
7A will present a play, "The Initiation" Friday. We are told that it's a mystery and was to be given on Friday the thirteenth but was delayed. There was exceptionally good acting in the play presented by Miss Miller recently. One of the Eds was absent Monday but we bore up under the shock of not seeing her in her place. We missed you Freddie! Karnes King has appeared on deck after being below with the mumps. . . on both sides too! . . . We were proud of the Social Science exhibit in Abilene. . . Wanted: By Beulah F. Robinson--reducing machine. . . Wanted: By the teachers for Jack Long: rubber-soled shoes. . . Wanted: Better weather for tennis. Book reports have kept some of the students up rather late lately. . . 7A has a motto put on the blackboard each day by one of the students. . . Tennis tryouts were Monday and Tuesday. . . We are still wondering about: The "P" in Juan P. Mason. . . which of the seventh graders will receive the Legion award. . . if certain boys in the seventh grade could ever get "S" on conduct. . . Spring fever is gradually (?) becoming more apparent in the schoolroom. . . 7B's cobra orchid has been on the sick list for several days. . . We wonder if

BEAUTIFICATION OF GROUNDS

The Fifth grade began the beautification of the school grounds, setting a good example to the higher grades, by cleaning up their flower bed and planting shrubs and flowers. Before doing this, they spent an entire day to study beautification. They interviewed the committee for the beautification of Mitchell county. They discussed their part in making the city and schoolgrounds more beautiful. Then each student brought a penny to buy the flowers and flowering shrubs which were planted in their bed. The sixth and seventh grades should strive to make their flower beds as pretty as the one of the fifth grade.
The sixth grade, under the direction of Miss Crosthwaite, is taking a great part in the beautification work now in progress. Flowers are being reset; four crepe myrtles have been purchased and set out. Much effort is being made towards the improvement of the flower beds.
Since the seventh graders are the "Seniors" of Junior High they were given two flower beds on the campus to take care of. A meeting was held Monday afternoon after school in 7B to decide the plan of the beds. The boys are to do the plowing while the girls are responsible for the planting

Many a Friend Recommends BLACK-DRAUGHT

People who have taken Black-Draught naturally are enthusiastic about it because of the refreshing relief it has brought them. No wonder they urge others to try it! . . . Mrs. Joe G. Roberts, of Portersville, Ala., writes: "A friend recommended Black-Draught to me a long time ago, and it has proved its worth to me. Black-Draught is good for constipation. I find that taking Black-Draught prevents the bilious headaches which I used to have. . . . A purely vegetable medicine. . . . RELIEVES CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS
