County Judge Templeton and C-C Secretary Heard Last Tuesday In Appeal Calling For Unit 1 Goal Objective

Projected State highway connecting Colorado with Robert Lee and points beyond in South Texas is of such importance to Colorado and this section of West Texas as to rightfully merit the support of every good citizen, County Judge B. L. Templeton declared Tuesday in an address at the chamber of commerce luncheon club.

"Designation of State Highway 208, extending from San Angelo to Colorado by way of Robert Lee has been accepted by me as among the important milestones in our strides of progress and I have reason to believe the designation is to be improved into an important thoroughfare within the next year," Judge Templeton stated.

"Designation of the highway is the first step in the direction we have striven for months, and we may or may not ultimately realize our hopes of witnessing completion of the road," he continued. "We have, however, made this initial step and somehow I have faith in the project to extend that leads me to believe the State will authorize other steps, leading to its realization."

Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, offered tribute to Judge Templeton and members of county commissioners' court for the loyal support ever given efforts to obtain designation and construction of a State highway leading south from Colorado.

The chamber secretary, supplementing the appeal that citizens of Colorado extend full cooperation in all things having to do with further promotion of the road.

Reference was made to progress attained by other communities in this section of the State in highway matters. "They have succeeded, largely, because they continued in their effort to obtain the objective sought, and I feel that this same rule will apply to Colorado," Greene stated.

A SMART FOURSOME

There's youth appeal and sport appeal in this powerful Hudson Eight convertible coupe with its power dome cylinder head motor and 124 horsepower. It's just the thing for a day at the golf links or for a cross-country trip. There's utility, too, for the top can be raised quickly and easily, transforming it into a closed car, with the same smart lines that make it as an open car. Three can ride with comfort in the front seat, for the electric hand does away with the gear shift lever and the parking brake is located conveniently at the left, under the cowl.

New Relief Order Set In Operation By Harry Hopkins

State Officials Will Direct Policies Under Plan Given Approval At Washington

Putting much of the responsibility for administering the new WPA program in the hands of state administrators, Harry L. Hopkins Tuesday at Washington directed them to select relief workers from the unemployed on relief or those certified as "in need of relief."

Quotas fixing the number of workers and the amounts to be spent in each state will be fixed shortly, officials said, adding that WPA would provide an average of 2,300,000 jobs during the 12 months beginning July 1.

This program, contrasting with the peak of 3,038,973 WPA workers at the end of last February, will permit only a few thousand not now employed by WPA to obtain jobs, officials said.

Greater flexibility in selection, however, will be possible to provide for some needy who under the present rules have difficulty in obtaining either work relief jobs or direct relief from local or state governments. Hopkins told state administrators to disregard his previous requirement that everyone given a WPA job must have been on the dole before November 1, 1935.

In contrast to the eight months required last year to get the present $4,000,000,000 program under way, Hopkins' order virtually completed plans for spending the new $1,425,000,000 fund even before President Roosevelt signed into law the deficiency bill containing the relief appropriation.

Under the decentralized WPA, state and local administrator not only will select workers but will decide how many hours a month they must work and which of the $4,000,000,000 worth of projects already approved but not begun, will be carried out.

THREE MILLIONTH FORD V-8 DRIVEN TO DALLAS FOR CENTENNIAL SHOW

The 3,000,000th Ford V-8, which was driven overland from the Ford plant in Dearborn, Michigan, to Dallas, has arrived. Its entry into the city and the Texas Centennial Exposition was observed with colorful pomp and ceremony at the city hall and again at the Exposition gates.

Touching Texas soil first at Texarkana, the epoch-marking Ford V-8, driven by James Rooney, enjoyed an official police escort across the state and from the Dallas city limits to the Exposition gates. Seven cars traveled with the 3,000,000th car from the Texas-Arkansas state line. Stops were made in many towns and cities en route.

The 3,000,000th V-8 with smiling Rooney at the wheel received its first formal welcome at the city hall where distinguished Dallas officials, including Mayor George Sergeant, City Manager Hal Mosely, Chief of Police R. L. Jones and Dallas County Sheriff Smoot Schmidt, participated. All officials spoke highly of the 3,000,000th V-8's part in publicizing the Exposition. Afterward the city leaders rode in a parade to the Exposition grounds.

Fred Florence, president of the Centennial Central Exposition, greeted Driver Rooney and his car at the Parry street Exposition gates and presented the car the "Ambassador of Goodwill" scroll, heretofore given only to prominent persons who have contributed generously to the success of the Exposition. Nathan Adams, chairman of the board of the Centennial Central Exposition, was one of the many outstanding persons who officially welcomed the car to the Fair grounds.

A parade circled the "Roads of the Southwest," the nine famous cattle trails and highways which have been reproduced opposite the Ford building, and afterward the 3,000,000th V-8 was placed in the court of the building where it will remain during the Exposition.

Your merchants will be glad to give you your auction money when trading with him. Call for it.

MOORE AFFAIR ENDS IN MARRIAGE AT LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK.—More Moores than more often you'd expect to encounter figured coincident with the marriage here Monday afternoon of Thurman W. Moore, 18, of Lubbock and Miss Georgia Mae Moore, 18, of Level-land.
Dr. B. F. Moore issued Thurman Moore a medical certificate. Louie F. Moore, deputy county clerk, issued the license. Moreover, Mrs. Callie Moore's signature was necessary to issuance of license for her minor son, as was Mrs. G. E. Moore's for her daughter, the bride-elect.
Armed with the license, Thurman Moore and Georgia Moore went in search of a Moore empowered to marry. More'n likely they couldn't find him—so they resorted to J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace.
At any rate, they're Mr. and Mrs. Moore now.

GARRETT'S TO DELEON FOR FAMILY REUNION

Attending a reunion of her nine brothers and sisters and their families on the occasion of her father's ninetieth birthday, Mrs. W. H. Garrett was in DeLeon Sunday, accompanied by her husband and her son and daughter, J. C. and Nelda.
It was the first time that the ten Morton children and their father, the Rev. U. J. Morton, had been together in the twenty years since the mother died. Over 100 were registered in attendance.
A striking gift was sent to the Rev. Mr. Morton by the First Methodist church of Weatherford, where he used to visit frequently. It was a huge birthday cake in the shape of a Texas map, iced in patriotic colors and decorated with flags. It bore a greeting to the Rev. Mr. Morton in his center. Around the large cake were ten smaller Texas-shaped cakes for each of the ten children. Each of the small cakes also bore a Texas flag.

Contracts Calling For River Project Have Been Closed

Eight Million Dollars Will Be Spent On Colorado, Is Information Given

An $8,000,000 construction schedule will be put into effect by Lower Colorado River authority at once on flood control dams in the Colorado above Austin, under contracts just completed by officials of the authority with Harold L. Ickes, public works administrator.

The program does not conflict with a temporary restraining order secured by utility companies in a suit against government financing of a power program, under which trial of the utility suit has been reset for next Dec. 1.

The $8,000,000 program includes the return of $5,000,000 to the authority of its loan and grant fund which had been matched with $5,000,000 given the reclamation bureau directly, and which now will be used by the authority itself to complete Buchanan dam and to start work on Roy Inks dam.

It also includes arrangements for reclamation bureau to build the Marshall Ford dam in Travis County, on which $2,000,000 can be spent under terms of the injunction, prior to Dec. 1.

The third item is a change of the loan and grant agreement to allow a 30 per cent grant on the total cost of the project, rather than on labor and materials, accounting for the remaining $1,000,000.

Chairman Roy Fry, Gen. Mgr. Clarence McDonough, and Raymond Brooks, a director and secretary, of the authority, have returned from the meeting in Washington when the new agreements were executed. A. J. Wirtz, general counsel, will be back in Texas Monday.

Congressman J. P. Buchanan of the Austin district, who sponsored the construction program, in cooperation with the state officials, termed the group of contracts second in importance only to the original allocation of $20,000,000 to the project.

The present construction program, to be supplemented by the remainder of the $15,000,000 loan and grant, and the remaining $3,000,000 of the reclamation bureau's outright grant, if not blocked by the utility suit against the government financing plans, will approach the $20,000,000 total. Already, the half-finished Buchanan dam, and lands in connection with its lake and with Inks dam, have been purchased. More than 300 men have been employed by the reclamation bureau at the Buchanan and Inks sites. An additional 300 will be put on clearing the timber from the Buchanan lake, and about 200 others in producing sand and gravel for construction work.

THREE A OFFICIAL WILL SPEAK AT SHORT COURSE

COLLEGE STATION.—H. R. Tolley, newly appointed administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, will speak Friday, July 24, on "Phases of the Agricultural Conservation Program" at the Centennial Year Farmers' Short Course to be held at A. and M. College July 20 through July 24.

Tolley, who was formerly assistant to the administrator, Chester C. Davis, and also director of the Program Planning Division, directed much of the development of the regional and land-use plans which are now being utilized in working out the Agricultural Conservation program. He was born on a farm in Howard county, Indiana, and taught country schools for several years following his graduation from Indiana University.

Also at the Farmers' Short Course again this year will be the three-day meeting of the Texas Institute for Cooperatives, starting Monday and running through Wednesday. The program is based around topics relating to effective organization and management.

Some of the outstanding men to appear on this program are E. E. Schell, director of Extension from Oklahoma A. and M. College; Sterling Evans, president of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives; C. F. Huff, president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, Chicago; Harold Hedges and V. N. Valgren, both from the Farm Credit Administration, U. S. D. A., Washington, D. C.; and Maurice R. Cooper, agricultural economist from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. D. A.

NEGRO VETS FAILED TO CELEBRATE AS PLANNED

There were several negro veterans at Colorado who during the first of last week made elaborate plans for celebrating Juneteenth. Some of them, after confidently expecting the bonus bond checks to arrive before the holiday, had contracted for cars, dress-up suits and other requisites to having a big time on emancipation day. But the checks failed to arrive and their previously arranged festive program went on the rocks.

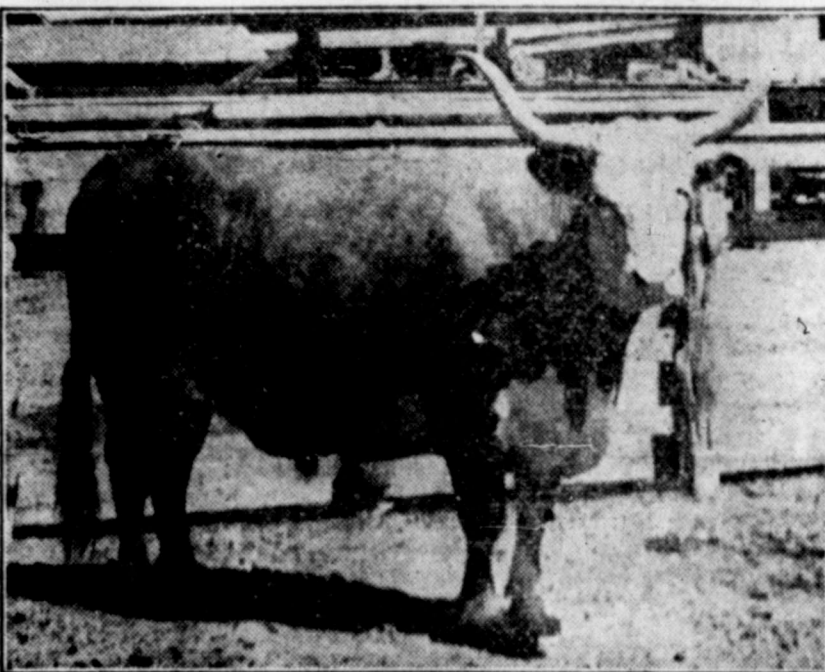

Advertising has established values and confidence.

Perfect Score Unbroken As Total Of Six Contests Are Played In Tourney

Loraine continues well ahead of all competitors in parade toward pennant in the Mitchell county senior softball league, with a total of six games played and that many won. The games are being played on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights, starting at 8 o'clock. Sponsors of the league are urging that fans register larger attendance at the games.

TWO OF A KIND

Texas has been host to the nation's chief executive and has enjoyed the experience. The charm and personality of Roosevelt has been as captivating to Texans as has been the courage of his policies and his determination to lift this nation from the bogs of depression into which it had drifted at the time he took over the reins.

Loyal Texans have found occasion to take increased pride in our own Chief Executive since the President's visit. As host to the Roosevelt, Governor Allred left nothing undone. Both in statesmanlike stature and in honest sincerity Governor Allred ranks well alongside the Chief. The glamour of the white light of publicity, which is an adjunct of such affairs, did much to bring to the fore the best in each man.

Governor Jim Allred and President Roosevelt make quite a pair when together. Their records, courage and application to the affairs of the masses are parallel in many respects.

The fine compliments paid the Governor by the President left no doubt in anyone's mind that the leader of Democracy is sanctioning as best he may the political cause of Allred.

The approval of the President will mean a great deal to Governor Allred.

It may mean that he can clean up the field in the first primary and then be left free to carry the torch for his party in the so-called doubtful States.

President Roosevelt will certainly approve of that procedure.—Kenedy Advance.

Larger Quota Ranches In This Section Financed Through Loans By Uncle Sam

Cattlemen and farmers of Mitchell and other counties in this section of West Texas think the United States government is ok. For Uncle Sam has come to the fore during recent years in the field of agriculture and ranch financing.

It was estimated recently that $15,000,000—speaking conservatively—and possibly $20,000,000 had been loaned, directly and indirectly by the federal government's agencies in the section. That is to say, that much in Federal Land Bank, Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, Production Credit Association and Farm Credit Administration paper, including the feed and seed loans under the last named agency's activities, is outstanding in this area today.

Between 60 and 70 per cent of the ranchmen, and certainly that percentage of the ranch properties, in this section have their primary loans from governmental agencies, an authority said here. These loans in the estimate, are on both land and livestock.

A recent dispatch stated that the Federal Land Banks was creditor on half of the farm and debts outstanding in the United States, including the debts against ranch lands. The land banks have an even larger portion of such financing in West Texas, primarily because of the largeness of many of the "farms," as Washington calls even the 100,000-acre ranches in West Texas.

That private banks would have difficulty in financing the bigger ranchmen is evident from the size of the indebtedness against some of the ranches and the ranchmen. There are many big West Texas ranch operators who have loans of from $150,000 to $300,000, and there is one who has about $300,000 in government loans. It is probable, say authorities, that the acreage of farms—as West Texans term farms—that is financed primarily by government lending agencies is less than the volume of ranches so financed. But even the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and the Resettlement Administration and the FCA, through its feed and seed loans, have loans on farms in this section, and some believe that considerably more than 50 per cent of the farms have some sort of government lien against them.

If farmers receiving the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and soil conservation subsidy payments were included among the "farmers" (farm and ranch operators) depending on Uncle Sam for financing or subsidy aid, there would be at least 7 out of every 10 of the operators of "farms" getting help from the federal government.

That is one good reason why the Democrats justly don't have to worry about how West Texas is going in the November elections.

Soil Program Is Given New Name Baskin Informed

Agricultural Conservation Program Has Been Given As Title

"The Agricultural Conservation Program" has been given as the new name for what was formerly known as the soil conservation program, Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, has been advised. In the future the State committee will be known as the State Agricultural Conservation Committee and the county committee as the Mitchell County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The program has been called the 1936 soil conservation program since the passage of the Soil Conservation and Allotment Act. The change in name has been brought about by a revision of material in the program.

A bulletin from the state conservation office gave an interpretation of the establishing of a cotton soil-depleting base for a farm. The conditions under which the base may be established are:

"If one whole acre or more cotton was planted on such farm in 1934 or 1935 or both, or

"If the entire base cotton acreage was rented in both 1934 and 1935 to the Secretary under a Cotton Acreage Reduction Contract, or

"If failure to plant thereon in 1934 or 1935 was caused by flood, drought, or excess rains, which, for the same period of time, prevented the commercial production of other agricultural commodities on the land so affected, provided that cotton was planted in either or both of the years of 1932 or 1933."

TEXANS SUPPORT FIGHT TO RETIRE DUST FILM

One of the most important actions taken by the Texas delegation at the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia Tuesday was the unanimous approval of a resolution presented by Eugene Worley, Shamrock, asking that the motion picture showing the Panhandle as a dust bowl be withdrawn.

These pictures, Worley explained to the caucus, were unjust to his section and a misrepresentation. Worley put the blame upon Rexford Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

After Worley spoke briefly, Mrs. Volney Taylor, Brownsville, declared she is in sympathy with the Worley resolution and knew the picture were unfair.

"Those pictures try to make out that the entire Panhandle is as barren as a desert," Worley said, "which is entirely incorrect. But the propaganda has so spread out that at times tourists write to the Panhandle to inquire whether they may get sufficient water for cars in traversing that section."

"The so-called dust bowl is splashing in welcome rains with many lakes dotting its broad plains," the resolution reads, "with generous and bountiful crops at hand, with thousands of sleek, fat cattle grazing on every ranch, with fine and hospitable citizens in high optimism and spirits."

The resolution directly demands that the Department of Agriculture withdraw the films and make new pictures truly representative of the area. The resolution will be offered to the convention's committee on platform and resolutions.

TO MY FRIENDS OVER THE COUNTY:

I take this means to publicly announce my withdrawal from the race for District Clerk, and to express my deepest appreciation to you for your many evidences of loyalty to me in my campaign.

"For ten years or more a terrific struggle has been going on in my inner life of which my most intimate friends have known little or nothing. After these unhappy years I have finally made a complete surrender of my life to the Gospel ministry. I feel that I cannot in good conscience, longer give myself to personal pursuits and at the same time give a full measure of service to the supreme authority. You who are familiar with the scriptures, will recall that it is written, 'No soldier on duty entangleth himself with the affairs of this world, that he might please him who appointed him to be a soldier.' And again the aged apostle Paul wrote to young Timothy concerning the ministry of preaching the Gospel, 'Give yourself wholly to these things.' Certain that my friends will understand and I trust, give me their sympathetic help, I now cast myself henceforth and forever upon the wisdom and providence of almighty God. I am not unmindful of the efforts that many of my friends have made in assisting me in this campaign, yet I feel that my highest allegiance is to God, and I trust that you will feel as I know, that my action is not a matter of personal choice, but is in obedience to him. He being my witness, I cannot do more and dare not do less.

HOWARD LINDLEY.

Farm Population Higher In United States, Is Report

Statistics Indicate General Trend To Rural Life, Notes Federal Officials

The Nation's farm population of 31,800,907 persons on Jan. 1, 1935, was the largest ever recorded by a census and exceeds the figure of five years ago by 1,335,557, statistics released Monday by the Dallas office of the Department of Commerce disclosed.

In 1931 the total was 30,512,000 and the year following it was 31,260,000 persons.

Gains during the last five-year period in the number of persons living on farms occurred around industrial centers, mining sections and in areas often designated as subsistence farming. Territories showing large increases in farm population include the Southern Appalachians, Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, the Grarks, Eastern Oklahoma, Birmingham industrial area, New England, Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Puget Sound and Willamette Valleys.

This increase reflects the back-to-the-farm movement of more than 2,000,000 persons and the checking by the depression of the flow of farm-folks to the cities. During these five years thousands formerly employed in factories, mines and other industries moved to unoccupied farms or returned to the farm homes of their parents or relatives. Farms abandoned during the years when industry prospering have been resettled.

Areas showing decreases in population included the tobacco-cotton area in Northeastern North Carolina, Yazoo-Mississippi Delta, Black Belt of Texas, Southwestern Oklahoma, the old plantation section of Georgia and the drought-stricken area extending from Montana eastward to Western Iowa and Southwestern Minnesota.

In the various shifts that have altered the population picture, thirty-five States have made gains and thirteen have shown losses. Northern and Western States as groups had a slightly larger proportion of the Nation's farm population in 1935 than in 1930, while the percentage of the total farm population residing in the sixteen Southern States decreased from 53.6 to 53.2 per cent.

Although Texas reported fewer persons living on farms than in 1930, its farm population of 2,332,693 was larger than that of any other State. North Carolina with 1,623,481 ranked second and Georgia with 1,405,944 ranked third.

Average number of persons per farm was 4.67 in 1935, compared with 4.52 in 1930. In every State except Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Arkansas and Utah the number dropped from 1930-35. This suggests a decline in the birth rate and an increase in farm population largely from the gain in the number of farms.

The total farm population was composed of 27,058,851 whites (including Mexicans) and 4,742,056 colored, which includes Negroes, Indians, Chinese, Japanese and other nonwhite races.

In the West South Central section, Texas reported a population of 2,332,693, Arkansas 1,180,238, Louisiana 859,351 and Oklahoma 1,015,562.

SPANISH SIESTA FLANS GOOD IN HOT WEATHER

Colorado folk who during the past several days have sweltered under a torrid sun might find profit in the following suggestions, offered by Dr. J. W. Bass, Dallas city health officer, who said that people would be much happier if they would adopt the Spanish siesta custom.

"It restores energy, tends to keep one from over-exertion during the day's heat, and is in itself a very pleasant treatment," he said.

Dr. Bass listed some hot weather "don'ts" which he said would improve tempers and aid in keeping healthy. They follow:

- Don't overeat.
- Don't drink ice water that is too cold, but drink plenty of water.
- Don't wear too many clothes, particularly the kind that bind.
- Don't drink beer if you are in the sun a great deal.
- Don't take too much exercise.
- Don't get excited.
- Don't talk about the heat or look at the thermometer every few minutes.

Two Coloradoans Seriously Burned During The Week

I. G. Haines, Johnny Miller
Victims Of Accidents, Are Reported Doing Well

I. G. Haines, manager of the Haines Auto Parts Company on East Second street, and Johnny Miller, employee at Col-Tex Refinery, were sent to a local hospital during the week after receiving painful burns.

Haines was burned about both legs, both arms and the face Sunday night while soldering gas tank on a motor car. The tank contained gasoline and exploded, hurling the burning liquid about Haines' body. His condition was regarded with seriousness at first. Thursday morning he was reported as doing well.

Miller accidentally stepped into a barrel of hot asphalt while working at the refinery plant Wednesday afternoon. His right leg from four inches above the knee to the top tips was badly burned. Attending physician reported at noon Thursday that his condition was satisfactory. It required an hour to remove the asphalt from Miller's leg after he had arrived at the hospital.

FREEPORT, Texas.—Wide interest in plans for the first Kingfish rodeo on record, to be staged at Freeport July 1 to 5, indicates a large number of participants in the deep-sea event which is a gulf coast feature of the Texas Centennial year observance.

While other deep-sea fishing rodeos, roundups and contests have offered prizes for the most or largest fish, the Freeport rodeo will be the first in which the kingfish is elevated to the top. Usually the wily tarpon heads the prize list of the finny kingdoms at Gulf rodeos. During a rush day last season when the kings were hitting heavy, more than 1,000 kingfish were landed in a day.

RARE OLD THINGS ARE SHOWN PLAINVIEW HD WOMEN AT JONES HOME

By Mrs. L. M. Jones, Reporter

Things whose quality and beauty have been mellowed to rareness by passing years were exhibited by Mrs. J. Lee Jones when she entertained the Plainview Home Demonstration club at her home Wednesday afternoon, June 17.

A sugar bowl over 200 years old, and other plates, bowls, pitchers, vases, dishes, and shakers of varying ages were shown and their histories given. Mrs. Jones had two hand-woven coverlets 75 years old and a home-spun counterpane 100 years old. The women were specially interested in a daguerrotype made of Mrs. Jones' great-great-uncle in 1849.

From the practical standpoint the women were interested in examining the handmade and highly durable wedding vest worn by Mrs. Jones' father.

Miss Grace Neely of College Station Spends Wednesday With Miss Emma Gunter

New methods on food preservation are finding their way into scores of Mitchell county homes through agencies of the extension service, A. & M. College. Miss Grace Neely, food preservation specialist for the department, spent Wednesday in conference with Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent as to recently approved methods for preserving foods.

Demonstration on leafy, green and yellow vegetables are being given to 4-H club girls of the county in order that they may know the best manner of canning these non-acid vegetables.

Miss Neely stresses the adequate and nutritional farm pantry. Since Mitchell county did not have Spring garden that afforded a supply of surplus vegetables to can it is most important that the Summer and Fall vegetables be conserved for Winter use. Therefore, safe canning equipment and methods must be adhered to carefully, Miss Gunter suggests. Good rubbers, lids, containers and proper processing times are important.

'COLORADO TO DEVELOP AS PEOPLE REFLECT LOYALTY IN COMMUNITY,'-WRIGHT

Loraine Minister Tells C-C Luncheon Club Progress Is Dependent Upon Faith They Hold In Home Town

"Selling Our Community To Ourselves," was subject of an address delivered Tuesday on program of the chamber of commerce luncheon club by Rev. Ham. Wright, pastor of the Loraine Methodist church. The guest speaker was introduced by Jim Greene, presiding.

"We must first learn to appreciate our home town before we can consistently offer its good qualities to others," Rev. Mr. Wright stated. "There are scores of resources in and about Colorado that should be extolled and when you unite in such a worthy undertaking more people and more outside capital will come your way."

Wright referred to Lake Sweetwater as an outstanding attraction in this section of the State. "They tell me that the other day more than one thousand people merged about the shores of that lake and most of them were non-residents of Nolan county. Travelers are driving through Colorado every day and they are coming from off the Plains to visit Lake Sweetwater."

"Colorado and other communities of the area might find profit by emulating the progressiveness of our neighbor city. You have an attractive park here and there are improvements, I am sure that should be made there. The big factor in attracting people to your home town and selling them on the proposition to join with you in developing your resources is friendliness. Be friendly to the visitor who comes your way and let him know that he is welcome in Colorado. He will come back again and bring another with him."

There were thirty-five present at the club meeting, an increase over the attendance record of two weeks before. Robert Earl Wulfjen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, entertained the club members with a selection of accordion solos.

Program committee for the month of July is to consist of Floyd Quinney, J. Y. Fraser and Harold Bennett. O. H. Majors is to preside at the meeting scheduled for second Tuesday in July.

COTTON ADVANCE BRINGS SMILES TO THE FARMER

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE 25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

25 YEARS AGO

Death had claimed Mrs. A. B. Maxwell, sister of George and Charles Goodwin, at her home in Colorado Wednesday morning, June 21, 1911, according to the Colorado Record of 25 years ago.

Athletic events were to be the feature of Colorado's Fourth of July celebration that year. It was to be called the Normal-Town meet. Some of the athletic rivals named were Cecil Watson of Big Spring, Newman of Roby, Calloway of Colorado, and Hamilton of Colorado.

Evelyn, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. U. Bean had died on Tuesday. Under the heading, "Run Away Marriage," the wedding of T. A. Wimberly and Miss Viola Humphrey, both of Ira, was written up. They'd eloped in true fiction style, meeting at the Sulphur Creek bridge at Dunn.

Mrs. Martha Buckholtz Smoot had died at the home of Mrs. H. B. Smoot on June 19. Her obituary said that she was the "granddaughter of an eminent revolutionary soldier, a member of one of the first families of Mississippi." Her husband, Joseph Smoot, had been an officer in the Confederate army.

She had lived in Colorado 28 years, ever since the death of her husband in Bryan, Texas. She was referred to as the "mother of clubs" in Colorado. Leonard Simon was home after a week's visit with Marshall Nichols in Ballinger.

Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson had entertained at 42 in honor of Mrs. Sam Shannon and Miss Shannon of Dallas.

Six tables of 42 had been entertained by Miss Lucille Stonerod at the home of Mrs. A. J. Payne. Leila Smith won the lone hand prize. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Misses Marguerite Beal and Pauline Payne.

15 YEARS AGO

Celebrating Juneteenth, negroes of the county had spread a barbecue in the Wallace pastures.

Stumps and rocks had been removed from the Lorraine road by a group of car owners including Judge C. H. Earnest, George B. Root, Charley McSpadden, Fred Miller, C. R. Earnest, F. S. Keiper, and Ralph Beal. When the stumps and the "big rocks" were removed, the Record stated, what remained made a "fine auto drive."

O. M. Mitchell, C. H. Earnest, and others were home from a fishing trip. Those elected to offices in the Royal Arch chapter were J. R. Sheppard, J. A. Buchanan, J. B. Enderly, F. M. Burns, H. E. Grantland, F. B. Whipkey, C. M. Adams, L. W. Sandusky, J. M. Shuford, Frank Lupton, M. C. Ratliff, Dean Phenix, and H. C. Mann.

15 YEARS AGO

Front page space in the Colorado Record for Friday, June 24, 1921, was given to some reminiscences of early day Colorado by J. Wright Moor of Scurry county.

He recalled setting out cottonwood trees along Walnut street in 1884. "In 1885 I did a livery business of $36,000 in that building," he said in speaking of the old livery barn which he operated for several years in the block south of the present postoffice.

Continued Heat Is Beneficial To The Texas Cotton Crop

Pests Being Brought Under Control and Fields Made Clear Of Weeds

The third consecutive week of seasonal hot, dry weather was mostly favorable to Texas cotton growth and fruiting, speeded removal of grass and chopping of the crop to a stand, but was offset by a steady drain of scant subsoil and top moisture over the upper two thirds of the State.

Strong, hot winds have become prevalent when rain is needed over most of the State. Although the crop is not suffering at this writing, it must have moisture before entering July.

The South Plains received rains in some counties which will help much, but more is needed. The central blackland counties still report cotton as two to three weeks late. There is much unevenness of height of plants, from two or three inches to two feet. South Texas' cotton averages about two feet tall with 50 per cent squaring, 30 per cent blooming and 15 per cent showing bolls.

While flea hoppers and weevils are widely reported the heat is controlling these pests for the present.

Oklahoma cotton growth is good, but the crop is from two to three weeks late in all sections. There is too little moisture reserve in the West and only little more in the East. Plants range from two to eighteen inches tall, with 20 per cent squaring in the South. Fields are mostly clean. There is scattered heavy grasshopper damage in western counties, with farmers poisoning.

New Mexico cotton is largely on schedule, with growth satisfactory, chopping well advanced, fields mostly clean, with Dona Ana reporting chopping finished and 50 per cent squaring.

FEDERAL HOUSING LOANS TO MITCHELL CITIZENS

SAN ANTONIO. — Federal Housing Administration had insured 32 modernization notes, valued at $7,243, in Mitchell county through April 30, 1936, it was announced today by H. P. Drought, state director of the National Emergency Council for Texas. For the entire state, $3,829 modernization notes valued at $11,108,322.10 had been insured.

It was estimated that through the Federal Housing Administration some 30,000 Texas property owners have been enabled to obtain loans required to repair, improve or modernize their property while more than 2,000 families have been enabled to finance the building or purchase of homes.

BIG SPRING ADVERTISES JULY FOURTH CARNIVAL

Big Spring representatives by the carload deployed through West Texas Wednesday, visiting scores of towns and inviting their residents to join this city in its first annual water and sports carnival on the Fourth of July.

Territory covered in the advertising campaign has been greatly extended because of designation of the city as a center for sectional elimination in the statewide queen of the Centennial contest. Girls from a territory extending from above Amarillo to Del Rio and from El Paso to Breckenridge will gather for the sectional competition.

Since each town may enter as many girls as desired, the event is expected to draw a large crowd.

CONFESSION AND CORRECTION

Week before last I read a news item which made a misstatement, and remarked that was about as near correct as newspapers generally get things. Last week I wrote that Joe Bryant married in Dallas and was in the office of the chief of police and that his wife taught in the public schools of Dallas. I should have said Ft. Worth and that he was in the office of the assistant to the chief of police. The editor published my write-up verbatim, so I am to blame for the error. One thing I am not guilty of calling the Colorado Record "The Colorado Headache," but have repeatedly said we have one of the best county papers I ever saw.

Give Attention To Your Spark Plugs, Is Advice Offered

Hudson-Terraplane Dealer Is Advocating Better Service And Safety To The Public

The spark plug may seem to be an insignificant bit of equipment, but it plays a mighty important part in making the car run smoothly and economically. As Doug Leineweber, Hudson and Terraplane dealer here, says: "Spark plugs can make an 'old plug' out of your car, or keep it as fit as a race horse.

"If the spark plugs are kept clean, with the points properly adjusted, a sweet-running motor will result, providing the rest of the car is in shape mechanically," said Mr. Leineweber, "but if they are neglected, then excessive gas consumption and even a 'bucking' motor may be looked for.

"Poor acceleration, misfiring, spark knock or pre-ignition, hard starting and engine overheating are a few of the conditions that may be attributed to neglect in the care of the plugs. "Spark plugs should be cleaned periodically, for any plug will become at least partially fouled with long service. Fouling consists in coating the firing tip of the porcelain to an extent which makes it easier for the high tension ignition current to pass along the porcelain to the shell than it is to spark across the gap between the electrodes. It may be caused by excessive oil in the combustion chamber or by continuous operation at low speeds or long periods of idling the engine."

Mr. Leineweber emphasized the importance of using as far as possible the same kind of plug as that used in the original equipment, pointing out that car manufacturers spend considerable time and money to determine the proper plug. "However," he said, "no one plug can suit all operating conditions of a given engine, and changes in driving conditions may occasionally demand a different kind of plug. The plug specified for a given engine will not cause pre-ignition under normal operating conditions, but if the carburetor mixture is lean or the ignition timing late, pre-ignition may occur. This may also happen if a slight leak has developed either between the central electrode and the porcelain or between the porcelain and the shell. What might appear to be only a very small leak will increase the temperature of the firing tip of the porcelain to a point where pre-ignition will result. In order to meet these conditions, however, spark plug manufacturers have provided plugs which, under given conditions, will operate with the lower end of the porcelain at different temperatures. Therefore, if continued difficulty is experienced, it is wise to consult an authorized service station to see if a change may be advisable."

Mr. Leineweber stressed the importance of spark plug maintenance from a standpoint of safety. "With safety being stressed more than ever," he said, "it is important that every motorist keep his car in the best of driving condition, and a car that is slow to accelerate, due to fouled plugs, cannot be termed a 'safe' car."

Greater Variety Of Foods Available By Canning, She Notes

Miss Emma Gunter Offering Timely Pointers To Ladies And Girls Of County

Miss Emma Gunter, Mitchell county home demonstration agent, offers the following suggestions to women and club girls:

Home canning affords a greater variety of food than otherwise possible, provides a food supply which in many instances would be lacking in these hard times and improved canning methods make home canning safer, more efficient and cheaper.

It pays to keep up with the new canning methods and improvements. We know more now than we did 10 or 15 years ago about what makes for safe, sure canning. A woman used to expect to have a certain amount of what she canned spoiled in one way or other. Now the pressure cooker does away with the spoilage of non-acid vegetables provided the sure methods are followed closely.

The demonstrations along the lines of Home Food Supply are being given to the 4-H Club girls and women in Mitchell county so that they may have a nutritional as well as an adequate supply of vegetables served to them each day. The two classes of vegetables being stressed in canning and cooking this year have been the green vegetables and the yellow vegetables. Which are included as follows: Green vegetables — spinach, English peas, string beans, green pepper, asparagus and snap peas. Yellow vegetables — carrots, pumpkin and cushaw and squash. All of these vegetables are non-acid and require a pressure cooker canning to insure a safe product. The use of tin cans in canning is less expensive, less time required for processing and quicker for more cans can be put in a cooker than glass jars. However if the housewife has glass containers on hand and can use them without buying new ones she will purchase new rubbers and lids.

Demonstrations were given this week to the Landers club girls, Loomis and Fairview club girls.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"How do banks figure checking account charges?"

Banking studies by banking experts... especially by the Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association... have shown what it costs the average bank for overhead, stationery, checkbooks, salaries, safekeeping of funds, etc.—to handle each check and deposit item. These studies also revealed how much interest is earned by an average bank on each dollar of its available funds when invested at current rates.

With such information as that hand banks are able to ascertain which of their accounts cost enough to pay their cost of handling. On accounts, whose earnings do not cover their handling costs, a moderate service charge is ordinarily made. Consequently, these accounts pay their own way and are welcome at the bank because they conform to sound banking principles.

OF THE EARTH, EARTHY

Man being "of the earth," as Paul remarked in one of his Corinthian letters, he possesses attributes that he received from the material elements composing his body, which he gets from plants and the meat of beasts. Also he must suffer from the same reason. Man of old time, like the brutal and tyrannical Roman Emperors, dressed his body in refined clothes before he clothed his mind in refined and virtuous ideas.

One feels that man has progressed up to this time faster in the first than in the last; that he is better equipped sartorially than mentally. At any rate his clothes often suggest a better intellectual state as to the average man that he at present enjoys.

Man maintains himself physically largely by killing and devouring other creatures. He used to eat them raw. He still eats them, but cooks them first. It is none the less objectionable to the animal, for the reason that notwithstanding the more civilized way of preparing and eating beasts, man kills and eats them just the same.

He once took the hide of the animal and wrapped it in a crude way about his body and feet to protect him from the elements. Now he tans it and fabricates it into beautiful, useful and protective wear. However, the animal has to die to furnish the material for his shoes just as it does to furnish man food. Man's method of killing the animal whose flesh he uses for food, is much less brutal, but that probably is of little importance to the animal. It is not much consolation to a condemned man to know that up to the time he is to be killed he will be kept in as great comfort as possible.

It can be said to man's credit nevertheless that he has devised more humane methods than formerly of taking the lives of criminals. Probably the most merciful is that employed in Colorado, Nevada, Arizona and Wyoming. In these States what is called lethal gas is used. It is a fery from the barbarous methods employed centuries ago to this mild method, which is said to be painless and quick. Anciently the idea seems to have been to make the criminal's death as horrible as possible.

Man now seems to consider himself as having about reached the pinnacle of attainment possible by him. This is not true nor any more than it was 2,000 years ago. No doubt Greek and Chinese philosophers imagined that they had reached the summit of Parnassus, and that they had drunk such deep draughts from the Pierian Spring that it had become a tiny rivulet with the prospect of losing itself in the sands just a little farther on.

A thousand years from now man will find that Mount Parnassus looms higher than ever, and that the Pierian Spring has become a mountain torrent of life-giving and life-prolonging water. The more we learn the more we find there is to learn. We have come but a little distance on our way to the mountain-top of knowledge, where the sunlight of Truth shines with ever-increasing splendor. —Editorial in Dallas News.

TO OUR LADY READERS

When a mechanic and a salesman form a partnership to make and sell toys, it is agreed that in the kind of work he can do most profitably. The mechanic works at a bench making the toys, and the salesman stays in the front part of the shop and deals with the public.

The salesman gets the money from customers, but his right to it is no greater than his partner's. He cannot say: "I am the one who takes in the money, and therefore it is mine. You must be satisfied with any portion of it that I choose to give you."

Yet that is the attitude of many men in the partnership called marriage. In nine-tenths of America's homes, the wife does more work than the husband.

Her day begins before breakfast. When breakfast is done, the dishes washed, and the kitchen set in order, she makes beds and sweeps and dusts and cleans up the messes made by her husband.

When these chores are done, it is time to begin the preparation of dinner. (It isn't lunch in her home.) Dinner finished, and the dishes washed again, she has a few hours of "leisure" for mending and sewing before time to begin supper. And the supper dishes are there to wash and the kitchen to be set in order long after her husband's day is finished.

Unless she lives in the section where cheap servants are abundant, she does the washing and ironing. She makes many of her own clothes. She does the marketing. And if there are children, the number of her tasks is doubled.

Modern "conveniences" lighten her toil, but do not rob her of exercise. Watch a fat salesman demonstrating a vacuum cleaner and see how he sweats and pants.

Housework is hard work. Twelve hours of it, with its endless going to and fro, stooping and reaching, using every muscle in the body would send the average man to the cleaners.

Yet he comes home to his easy chair after seven or eight hours of lighter and more interesting work and tells his worn-out partner that he earns all the money. If he does, the conductor who takes your fare is the fellow who makes the train go. —Robert Quillen.

BOONDOGLING DAYS

I was surprised at the Texas Democrats passing a resolution condemning Republicans. It looks to me like the Republicans are about all going to vote for Roosevelt, and they should have been commended.

The trouble with the Democrats is that there are too many of them. They have created a lot of new offices and still there are not enough to go around. The Republicans are in much better shape as they hardly have enough voters to fill the post offices. A Republican convention these boondoggling days doesn't get as many folks together as a special venire summoned to try a kidnaping case.

It has just about got to where any Republican is a leader. There are no followers. A friend of mine assures me that at the final showdown Americans will be found rallying 'round their Constitution. But my observation is that you will always find the biggest gang around the marble machine that pays off in cash.

AUSTIN CALLAN

preachers, was selected to open the Hall of Religion at the Texas Centennial and in his address said:

Texas has now the largest Baptist family of any state or province in the world. At the end of a century, there are nearly one million members, white and colored, in our Texas Baptist churches. This is not a fact to be recited in the spirit of boasting and vainglorious pride, but to summon us to renewed thankfulness and to more devoted service, side by side with our fellow Christians of every communion. The spirit of Texas Baptists was thus unanimously voiced by a vast company of messengers, assembled in annual convention, some years ago: "We hold the immemorial position of Baptists that all true believers in Christ are saved, having been born again; and this, without the intervention of preacher, priest, ordinance, sacrament or church. Therefore, we profoundly rejoice in our spiritual union with all who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity and truth. We hold them as brothers in the saving grace of Christ, and heirs with us of life and immortality. We love their fellowship and maintain that the spiritual union of all believers is now and ever will be a blessed reality. This spiritual union does not depend upon organizations, or forms, or rituals. It is deeper, higher, broader and more stable than any or all organizations. We hold that all people who truly believe on Christ as their personal Savior are our brothers in the common salvation, whether they be in the Catholic communion or in the Protestant communion, or in no communion at all."

PUFFS COB PIPE

BROKEN BOW, Okla.—Mrs. Belle Airington, celebrating her 106th birthday Friday at the home of a niece near here, declared she is ready for an old-age pension "any day now."

"I've heard a lot about pensions," she said at the home of Mrs. Pearl Wilson, "and I've waited a long time, but I haven't seen any pension yet."

Puffing away at a cornob pipe, which she says she prefers to a cigarette.

Mrs. Airington smokes an occasional cigarette, she said, just to "keep up with these flappers," but prefers her cob pipe.

A Chicago jury recently convicted a woman of theft and sent her to jail for a three-month's stay. The evidence adduced at the trial showed that the woman stole a black veil and a black shirtwaist to wear to a funeral. There isn't as much gallantry or chivalry in the jury which convicted this poor woman as can be found in the little finger of a dead negro. If a woman must attend a funeral and hasn't the correct habiliments, she ought to get them in some way. Pray tell me what a woman draped in a red shirtwaist, a purple veil and white hose would look like at a funeral? The make-up might turn the solemn occasion into a picnic party.

While all matters of politics are barred from this department, please let me say that I hope some day we can harmonize. And it ought to be easy for us to harmonize. There's nothing to do except to harmonize the "crazy" with the "drazy," the free-traders with the protectionists, the States' Rights with the Federalists, the Bill-of-Rights with the Reformers, and the Stand-Patters with the Progressives. If we can do this, the postoffices are "ourn."

Aristotle once said: "Tell me what you read and I'll tell you what you are." Poor old Aristotle! If these days, for the sake of a few good citizens read absolutely nothing but newspaper or crossword puzzle and they say, "American people are the bulwark of civilization." Aristotle didn't read a great deal. There wasn't much for him to read.

Frank Ramsdell Is First Up In Lions Convention Ticket

Jake Richardson, Boyd Dozier and Marion Chapman Get Numbers At Drawing

Frank Ramsdell, Colorado jeweler, Friday won first place when the Lions Club turned attention to drawing for designation as delegate to annual International convention to be held at Providence, R. I., next month. Jake Richardson, Boyd Dozier and Marion Chapman, drew alternative places in the order named.

Names of Lions eligible for the trip were placed in a box and the numbers drawn by Jeff Curry, winner of the prize last year. Walter Whipkey, incoming president of the club, automatically received the trip. Both delegates are to attend the convention with expenses paid by the club.

In event Ramsdell does not make the trip, Richardson will be next in order, and so on as to the third and fourth alternative.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Halle, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'so-less'. ### PAYROLLS GAIN DURING MAY, CAPITOL REPORTS

An increase in employment and payrolls during May in contrast to usual seasonal trends was reported Tuesday by the labor department at Washington.

The department said that 88,000 workers were returned to employment last month and total weekly payrolls increased approximately $6,700,000 over April.

Secretary Perkins said that such an increase for May had not been registered since the boom May months of 1922 and 1923. Usually, she added, employment and payrolls fall off in that month.

The labor secretary attributed part of the increased employment in the building material industries to repair work being done at summer resorts which she said indicated they expected a good summer trade.

The department reported that during May there were 650,000 more workers employed than in May, 1935, and that there was a weekly payroll increase of $36,000,000 over May of last year.

Factory employment during May, the department said, continued the up-swing such as has been reported monthly since January.

Widespread employment gains were reported in the durable goods industries.
