31ST YEAR—NUMBER 46

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1936

WHIPKEY PRINTING CO.

FITTING HONOR SHOULD BE PAID MEMORY OF PIONEERS CAVALCADE LEADERS PLEA

Sponsors Address Gathering At Ruddick Park In Appeal That Centennial Jubilee Be Made Outstanding

"It is right that we should cherish the traditions of the Alamo, of Goliad, San Jacinto and other spots that have lived as sacred shrines in the heart of every loyal Texan. The outstanding acts of patriotism staged in those eras of Texas history are colorful and inspiring to such degree as to extend their influences for good citizenship around the world.

"But why not stop now in the busy affairs of our progress to offer tribute to the pioneer men and women who gave us Mitchell county and Colorado? They lived and died in a new land, faced privations that were hard to endure in that you and I of this age enjoy the advanced civilization so well defined here. Our Cavalcade of Progress Centennial celebration to open August 20 for three days should have the active and patriotic support of every citizen, just for the sake of paying tribute to our forebears, if nothing more."

Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, offered that appeal to over 3,000 citizens assembled at the amphitheatre in Ruddick Park Friday night. Other local leaders, including officials of civic and study clubs, addressed the gathering along similar lines.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt, chairman of the Mitchell County Centennial Committee, referred to plans for exhibits, antiques as a part of the Cavalcade program. Citizens of the county having antedated articles of any character were invited to deliver them to the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Bill Martin of Loraine, general chairman of the Cavalcade pageant, spoke briefly, urging continuation of the liberal cooperation that has been realized during the past. Mrs. Martin is devoting much of her time and effort to the show.

MUNICIPAL BUDGET SCALED OVER $14,000 AS COUNCIL SETS OPERATING ESTIMATE

Miss Frances Jones Presented In Piano Recital At Spade Ranch Monday Evening

The Spade ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Jones was the setting Monday evening for a piano recital given by their daughter, Frances, who has studied this past year under Joannette L. Tillett of the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music.

More than sixty guests were seated in the three front rooms and on the spacious porch of the ranch home. Bluebells and maiden hair fern were arranged in all prominent places. Miss Jones, wearing a blue evening dress, sat at the grand piano visible from all three rooms.

She played three groups of selections, including the first movement of Bach's "Italian Concerto," Beethoven's "Presto," the "Largo" from his Sonata in D Major, and his "Rondo: Chopin's "Opus 28, No. 13, No. 3, and No. 24," Debussy's "Wind on the Plains," Palmer's "May Night," and Balakirev's "The Lark."

After the first group Mrs. Charles Moers sang three bird songs by Lehmann—"The Wood Pigeon," "The Yellow Hammer," and "The Wren." Her accompanist was Mrs. Cecile (B. H.) Meskimen. The bird songs were very fitting and were well-received in the country setting.

Five piano pupils of Mrs. Meskimen, who taught Miss Jones for five years before her study in Fort Worth, served punch from a huge hollowed ice square into which bluebells had been frozen. Maidenhair fern was banked around the punch container. Those serving were Virginia Whipple, Frances Merle Cooper, Jane Clare Meskimen, Shirley Kiker, and Betty Hodge.

Musical authorities who have heard Miss Jones predict for her a great musical future. She is said to have an unusual interpretation for a person of her age, being capable of producing both the faintest and the most dramatically powerful effects of which the piano is capable. Her velocity has been termed "almost uncanny." She won the Euterpean contest in Fort Worth in the spring and placed third in the Dealy piano contest last fall.

Her piano training was begun under Mrs. Ed Dupree when she was in the first grade and was continued under Mrs. Meskimen until she enrolled in the Fort Worth Conservatory last year. She plans to enter C. I. A., Denton, this fall and continue her study under Miss Lenka of the C. I. A. music faculty.

She is 17 years of age and a junior in Lamesa High school. Her father, Fred Robertson, works in a Lamesa lumber yard. She is the second of three daughters. Last year she was football queen of Lamesa High school. During Christmas holidays and the summer time she has worked in a Lamesa variety store.

Safeway Continues Campaign To Build Better Farm State

Higher Commodity Prices Is Result Of Cooperation By Food Dealer Concern

Creation of wider markets for Texas agricultural products by stimulating increased consumption has been the object of five intensive farmer-consumer campaigns waged by Safeway Stores, Inc., during the past six months, it was announced here today.

The campaigns which have been praised by farm leaders throughout the country were conducted in behalf of various industries representing beef, lamb, citrus fruits, dairy products, and canned peaches.

L. B. Harris, Divisional Advertising Manager of Safeway Stores, Inc. in announcing results of these five campaigns said that additional farmer-consumer crusades would be waged during the balance of the year.

"This plan to help agriculture was originated by Safeway nearly five years ago when sheep men were faced with financial ruin because of enormous surpluses," he said.

"In that critical period Safeway through extensive newspaper advertising and increased sales efforts marketed in excess of 15,000 lambs in two days.

"This cooperative movement resulted in immediate financial salvation for the sheep industry and led to the inauguration of these farmer-consumer campaigns which have so successfully demonstrated the advantages of the chain store method of distribution.

Praise for the help extended to their respective industries as a result of these farmer-consumer campaigns have been voiced by officials of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Pacific States Livestock Marketing Association, California Fruit Growers Exchange, Utah Wool Growers, Idaho Wool Growers Association, Montana Wool Growers Association, Arizona Cattle Growers Association, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, American Livestock Association, Nebraska Stock-growers Association, and many other agricultural groups throughout the country.

R. C. Pollock, secretary of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, in a communication to R. W. Doe, vice president of Safeway, said in part:

"Your campaigns have been very complete, well organized, and without doubt very effective. I know that your activity along this line is appreciated by all branches of the livestock and meat industry."

Summarizing the effect of the campaigns, Mr. Harris said Safeway is striving continually to reduce living costs to consumers; and at the same time provide the farmer with an easy and profitable distributing system without paying unnecessary in-between expenses.

The worst thing about being a parent these days is seeing your child wrong and not being able to do anything about it.

Cattle and Sheep Shipments Lower But Hogs Treble

Texas Ranchers Offer Less Animals During June Than Same Period In 1935

Total shipments of Texas livestock to the Fort Worth stockyards and interstate points declined during June in comparison with the like month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The drop in forwardings was restricted to cattle and sheep, while hog shipments almost trebled, it was stated.

Reports from about 1,500 Texas shipping stations show total forwardings of 4,280 cars, against 4,501 cars in June last year, a decline of 5 per cent, the bureau's report said. Cattle alone totaled 2,707 cars, a decline of 16 per cent from a year ago; and sheep 493 cars, a drop of nearly 16 per cent. Hog shipments during the month were 200 per cent greater than a year ago, and prices showed an upward tendency throughout the month which has continued into July.

"This falling off in shipments of Texas cattle is in marked contrast to the sharp increase in cattle marketings in the country at large," it was pointed out. "According to the Federal Department of Agriculture, receipts of cattle in seven leading markets were 44 per cent larger than in June, 1935, and 13 per cent larger than the five year average. Inspected slaughter was greater than for any previous June on record.

"These huge receipts, largely of distress animals from drought stricken regions, depressed prices sharply. Fortunately for Texas cattlemen, range and feed conditions in this state are such that livestock need not be dumped on the market under present depressed price conditions. There is every indication that cattle prices will strengthen materially when the forced selling now under way is completed."

"HELLSHIP MORGAN"
Thursday—August 13th

George Bancroft returns here to a rough and ready role but before the film has run its course he goes softie and clears out to make it easier for his wife, Ann Sothern, to continue her romance with Victor Jory. There is a thrilling episode, excellently staged in a small fishing smack during the height of a storm, but its not enough to compensate for the slow pace and bare scenario. Story has Bancroft befriending Jory after the two find mutual sympathy in disappointed love affairs. Bancroft suddenly topples for Miss Sothern, much to the astonishment of Jory, and when the latter tries to break it up Ann falls for him instead.

"MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN"

Palace—Friday Saturday, Aug. 14-15
Hilarious humor to lighten a highly original story packed with human-interest values, relieved by a quite believable romance. It concerns one Longfellow Deeds (Gary Cooper), a small town dreamer who inherits twenty millions and comes to the big city to administer his estate. He is immediately besieged by crooked lawyers, conniving "relatives," opera impresarios, and newspapers, all whom he successfully withstands until a girl reporter (Jean Arthur) poses as a destitute stenographer to win his confidence, which she betrays by writing of his eccentricities for all of her paper. He decides to give all of his money away to the poor, is accused of being insane, stands trial and wins—not only a verdict of sanity, the gratitude of his beneficiaries, but the love of the girl.

"PRINCESS COMES ACROSS"

Sunday Only, August 16

Chalk up another winning mark for the team of Lombard and MacMurray. Carole posing as a Swedish princess, meets Fred aboard a ship bound for the States. She finds herself involved in a blackmail plot when the perpetrator is murdered in her cabin. MacMurray discovers the real murderer and saves the princess from embarrassing investigation. Upon arriving in New York, she reveals to her greeters that she is not of royalty, but is little Wanda Nash of Brooklyn. Fred gives a sigh of relief and proposes.

"GHOST GOES WEST"

Palace—Monday Only, Aug. 17
One of the most delightful bits of nonsense the screen has seen. Robert Donat, especially, gives a fine performance in the title role—one in which good looks and charm have full play. Jean Parker and Eugene Pallette, also, do their best film work to date as an American girl and her noisy, newly-rich father who buys an old Scottish castle from an impoverished nobleman and have it transplanted, stone by stone, to Florida. The castle, however, is haunted by a ghost that is forced to wander through its halls until he expiates a past act of cowardice. On the way to America the ghost is mistaken for the nobleman, causing many hilarious complications.

"BRIDES ARE LIKE THAT"

Ritz—Sunday-Monday, Aug. 16-17
Hilarious comedy of courtship and marriage from Barry Connor's stage success, "Applesauce." Ross Alexander, wealthy apple-grower's nephew, goes through life complimenting people, earning a reputation for "Applesauce," though his disparagers also fall for his chatter. Jobless, he marries Anita Louise, daughter of Gene Lockhart. In spite of bills and criticisms of both families, he keeps her happy with his line. The bills bring a showdown and Ross surprises them with an invention he has secretly perfected. Selling the old folks a share for a half-interest in their business, he proves he has something to deliver besides baloney.

Pioneers And Families To Be Guests Of City and County At Barbecue August 21

Mitchell county pioneers and members of their families attending the Cavalcade of Progress here on August 20 to 22, are to be special guests of the city and county at a barbecue in Ruddick Park on afternoon of August 21, it was determined by the chamber of commerce luncheon club Tuesday.

It was announced that already ten prime calves have been donated by cattlemen of the county for the barbecue. Others will be available if needed. Committees will give Colorado business and professional men opportunity to subscribe to a fund of $225 to pay expense of preparing the meat, purchasing the "trimmings" and other costs incidental to the barbecue.

"If ten cattlemen of this county are interested to the extent of offering without solicitation ten choice baby beefs for this barbecue, I am sure that the business and professional interests of Colorado will readily supply the estimated expense of $225 needed," Secretary Jim Greene of the chamber of commerce declared.

Only pioneers—citizens having resided in Mitchell county for twenty five years or longer—and members of their families, are invited to the barbecue. Plans are to be made to feed 3,000 of these guests.

The city has agreed to furnish wood to cook the meat and will otherwise cooperate in entertaining the special guests on that occasion.

'BETTER NOT ADVERTISE UNLESS MEAN BUSINESS'

"If they ask me I will suggest they had not better advertise in The Record unless they mean business," remarked J. H. Parker Friday morning, after informing that a classified ad run in the paper for that date had produced results. "A reader of The Record called me on the phone before I had awakened early this morning, to ask about a house I advertised for sale or rent. By the time I got out of bed and into my clothes he was there and we made a deal in a jiffy."

The state of Texas has 40,000,000 acres of land under oil lease.

Celebration To Open

pageant will open that evening at 7:30.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock the annual old timers memorial is to be held at the Palace Theatre. Pioneers will have opportunity to renew acquaintances and reminiscence on pioneer days during this period. That afternoon the water-carnival activities are to open at the municipal pool in Ruddick Park. Free barbecue for pioneers and their families at 6 o'clock. The usual amateur hour program, composed of an all-star cast, is set to open at 7:30.

Feature of the Friday evening program will be address by the Honorable Bill McCraw of Dallas, Texas attorney general. He is scheduled to speak at 8 o'clock. Selection of "Miss Colorado" will be included also on this evening's offering. Contestants for the honor are to parade before the judges reviewing stand, set up in front of the stage.

Saturday will be largely devoted to visiting and rest for the distinguished visitors. Additional water-carnival events are to be staged from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and the closing social affair, a street dance, is to begin at 9.

Honoring Pioneers

Mrs. Grady Whitmore, representative in the 1921 and Self Culture Clubs, told of the part those organizations are to have in the pageant, including the recreation of the first school, first wedding, first wagon caravan and the pioneer and his family arrived to establish home in what later became Mitchell county and other interesting historical features.

That strong interest in the celebration is being reflected among club women throughout the county was indicated in address by Mrs. J. A. Sadler, speaking for the Mitchell County Federation of Womens Clubs. School children of the county are to have a conspicuous part in the parade, Mrs. Sadler stated.

The Business & Professional Women are interested in the jubilee and will continue to render active service in carrying out the colorful three-day program to best advantage, stated Mrs. Rees Jones, another lady representing Colorado's civic organizations to address the meeting.

Home Ownership Made Easy With Federal System

'This Is New Home Year,' In This Territory, Says FHA District Representative

The safety, economy and convenience of building now is emphasized in a statement by R. E. Sikes, field representative of the Federal Housing Administration, stressing "this is new home year." Moderate costs for materials and labor are big considerations, he said. Payment is in easy monthly installments.

The insured mortgage plan, unlike the old style, reduces the obligation to equal monthly installments, and these include interest, taxes and other requirements until the home is completely cleared of debt. These rent-like payments are figured to come well within one's income and may be extended over a period of as long as 20 years.

The same sensible financing arrangements apply to buying, if one prefers this method—with convenient monthly payments. Many desirable new houses can be bought today, and many old homes—with a little remodeling—can be turned into attractive, modern homes. The appraisal service of the Federal Housing Administration is designed to assure you of full value—not only on the construction of the house itself, but also on the desirability of the neighborhood and its schools, transportation and other facilities. Now you can buy a home with confidence that you are getting what you pay for—and that you can achieve full ownership while keeping within your income, says Mr. Sikes.

IN MEMORY OF VERGIL ROBERTSON WHO DIED AUGUST 6, 1936

Eight short days he lingered Days that were filled with pain We did our best to help him But all our help was in vain.

A chair is vacant in our home A voice we loved is stilled. Its oh so hard to part from him And say, "Oh Lord be it thy will."

He is gone where they have no sorrow or pain; or tears can dim the eye. Gone and we can't call him back

But I know we will meet him In the sweet bye and bye.

Weep not dear loved ones Tho your circle here is broken Go to God in prayer, He your trials will share

When of them to Him you have spoken.

Tis sweet to think of your loved ones in Heaven The beautiful mansion of rest Where we know we will meet Vergil around the throne of the Blest. MRS. S. J. R.

Texas Cotton Crop Helped By Weather Conditions, Claim

Another week of hot weather with little or no rainfall was mostly favorable for Texas cotton and the crop outlook now is average to good except in the south and east portions where excessive rains retarded progress and increased insects, the weekly summary of The Dallas News ended Friday shows.

Cotton has shown only slight improvement in the south and east, and prospects are generally for a decrease in production from last year. Elsewhere present condition of the crop indicates a larger output. Cotton in many parts of the northwest, north and northeast is suffering from lack of moisture, high temperatures and hot winds. Plants are wilting during the heat of the day and shedding more than average on poorer soils. Cool nights gave the crop some relief, but rains are urgently needed in some portions to assure an average yield.

In the lower half of the State weevil damage is heavy. Leafworms are increasing on fields where control measures have not been applied, stripping the cotton in many sections. In the northern part of Texas hot, dry weather has checked insects, and only light damage is reported. Leaf worms are appearing in northeast, and farmers are preparing to poison. Continued drought, as bad in some counties as in 1934, has caused rapid deterioration of Oklahoma cotton. The grasshopper menace is still bad in some sections. Local showers the last week were of immaterial benefit.

Favorable weather conditions make the outlook average to good in New Mexico, and an increase in the crop is expected compared with last year.

FORMER TEACHER HERE

Visiting many of her former students here, Mrs. Floy Jones of St. Louis, Missouri, was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Foster on Thursday until Tuesday. She was accompanied by her son, Jerry Lee. CHEVROLET SPENDS HUGE SUM IN EXPANSION MOVE

Chevrolet's expenditure of $25,000,000 on the expansion of manufacturing and assembly facilities during the second half of 1935—the greatest single expansion operation that the automotive industry had seen in years—has already proved its value, according to officials of the Chevrolet Motor Co. Only the increase in output made possible by the gigantic expansion has enabled Chevrolet to produce cars in sufficient numbers to make possible the new all-time sales records that have been established in the first six months of 1936. Even with the stepped-up production, however, it has not been easy for Chevrolet to build cars fast enough to keep pace with the dealers who now have in stock no more than a three weeks' supply of units.

FEDERAL COTTON GUESS IS HIGHER THAN CROP OUTPUT FROM LAST YEAR ACREAGE

Estimated 12,481,000 - Bale Crop Announced Saturday At Washington; Texas Yield Placed At 3,850,000

A cotton crop 1,842,000 larger than was produced in the United States last year was forecast Saturday by the department of agriculture at Washington. Report of the estimate caused considerable speculative comment when received here due to fact a lesser total had been expected.

In its first production report of the season the department estimated the amount to be grown this year at 12,481,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, compared with 10,638,391 last year and 9,636,000 in 1934.

A larger yield per acre and better crop conditions generally than the average were also reported.

The department said the indicated yield per acre was 199.7 pounds, 13.4 pounds more than in 1935, 28.1 higher than 1934 and 29.8 higher than the 10-year average of 1923-32.

The condition this year at 72.3 per cent of normal was slightly under the 73.6 percentage for last year but well above the 1934 average of 60.4 and the 10-year average of 67.7.

States adjoining the Mississippi river were said to "have especially favorable prospects." Record yields were forecast for Missouri and Mississippi.

Better than average yields per acre were listed for all states except Virginia, the Carolinas and Oklahoma, the latter being hard hit by the drought.

The department said dry weather also affected cotton in Virginia and the Carolinas and parts of the crop in North Georgia.

Earlier private forecasts of the crop had ranged from 11,500,000 bales to 12,700,000.

The crop in Texas, largest producing state, was estimated at 3,850,000 bales, well above the 1935 crop of 2,956,000.

Loss caused by boll weevil this season was indicated at less than average.

RUDDICK PARK MECCA FOR OVER THREE THOUSAND AS AMATEUR PROGRAM GIVEN

People From Mitchell, Other Counties Attend Feature At Amphitheatre, Given By C-C Last Friday Evening

Thirty-five hundred people converged at Ruddick park Friday night to hear the chamber of commerce weekly amateur hour program. The chamber Saturday morning estimated that easily that number filled the large amphitheatre and overflowed the projecting lawns.

The specialty entertainment feature was launched a few weeks ago under personal supervision of Jim Greene, secretary of the chamber of commerce. For the most part local entertainers have been booked and cash awards given winners for first and second places. The Colorado band, under direction of R. P. Rose has had an important part in the programs, giving a thirty minute concert each Friday evening before opening of the amateur hour.

Approximately 500 of the visitors attending Friday night were from points outside Colorado, in Mitchell county. Another 150 people were from outside the county. These figures were estimated after those attending from outside the city and county were requested to stand.

"I am more than delighted in reception the people are giving these weekly out-door entertainment programs and if it was not for the co-operation extended by scores of interested folk we could have never registered for success as we have," Greene stated Saturday morning. "We want to build this amateur hour feature into a county-wide—even area affair, in which entertainers from a wide section will accept invitation to have part on the program."

Guest artists heard on Friday night's program included Mrs. Earl Louder of Snyder, Robert Earl Wulf, son of Colorado and Arnold Marshall of Lorraine. Mrs. Louder gave three accordion solos and then she and Wulf, her student, played duets on those instruments. Marshall, rated as one of West Texas' popular bass soloists, sang a collection of solos, with Mrs. Bill Martin of Lorraine at the piano. The singer is a student of Mrs. Martin.

LORRAINE CLUB FOLDED UP BY COL-TEX IN FIGHT FOR MITCHELL LEAGUE TROPHY

Bennett Aggregation Trained Locals In Sensational Soft Ball Battle Staged Friday Night At Cantrill Field

Harold Bennett's Lorraine softball contenders were folded up under withering attack from ranks of Col-Tex Tuesday night as the two teams fought for county league pennant at Cantrill Field. The visitors were outclassed in every department, especially in the pitcher's box.

Mathena, veteran twirler for Col-Tex, was at his best in the league final, giving spectators his best technique of the entire tournament. Lorraine would have accounted for additional runs, perhaps, and certainly given Colorado stronger resistance in the latter's parade to the championship position, had she been stronger there.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic fan aggregations to be admitted to the field witnessed the classic. Both clubs had more support from the bleachers and sidelines than ever before. The score was nine to four.

In addition to giving good account of his prowess in the pitcher's box, that fellow Mathena performed with all the qualities of a star at the bat and on the bases. The only home run credited to Col-Tex was made by him. Johnnie Rector, playing on third, and P. J. Burrus, center field, were other locals to turn in a creditable showing.

Baird of Lorraine, one of the best players seen in action as the contest was settled, did some splendid work. He made the only home run for Lorraine and proved good entertainment for fans on the field.

Col-Tex presented another dominating wall that was hard for Lorraine to break down—the masterful playing of Roberson behind the bat. He also produced some of the thrills that occasioned noise from the sidelines.

There were three umpires in charge of the game. Buzz Mathena called strikes and balls behind the bat. Coffee of Lorraine dominated at first and second, and Wilson of Colorado settled arguments at third and home base.

Gate receipts were well up to expectations, according to Morris Firschnbaum, manager of the local league. Col. C. M. Adams, an authority in ball games for many years, was on the sideline and pronounced the championship fight one of the best Colorado fans have been privileged to witness.

These Mitchell County 'Amateurs'

If Cary starts mean anything the two winners of last Friday night's chamber of commerce "amateur hour" at Ruddick park stand a good chance to go places . . . Barbara (Bobbie) Barber is only seven years old and Gloria Lee is only five . . .

Winning amateur hour prizes bids fair to become routine in the R. H. Barber household—or would if there were a few more Barber children . . . Barbara, more commonly known as "Bobbie," was the third of the Barber children to win in the weekly contests, and three gets all of them . . . Billy Barber was the first one to win, taking a second prize with his "singing" dog several weeks ago . . . DeVada Barber won first place with a tap dance number on skates two weeks ago . . .

A born mimic, Bobbie imitates everything and everybody she sees and hears . . . Recently she went with the Barber family on a trip to California and her family says she's just now beginning to get rid of her California "lingo" . . .

She'd rather play than to practice or perform any time . . . Went to school last year and will be in the second grade this year . . . Skating and playing paper dolls are her favorite pastimes . . . Right now her mother wades daily through stacks of cut-out quintuplets and Shirley Temples . . . With them Bobbie carries on long monologues and dialogues, always with appropriate gestures and facial expressions into which she puts her whole heart . . . She loves her dolls, too—dozens of them are lying around now waiting for her to grow a little tired of the Shirley Temple and quintuplet cut-outs and turn back to them . . . Practice time is never much fun for Bobbie, though she likes her tapping . . . She's been taking tapping and singing from Mrs. W. R. Martin for five or six months . . .

Quite another kind of child is 5-year-old Gloria Lee, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee . . . She practically lives for her lesson days and even ailing tonsils can't make her forget what days the lessons come on . . .

Gloria cares little for the sort of play that usually interests children of her age . . . Dolls have no charms for her . . . The center of a large family of grown-ups, she cares more for older people than she does for other children and Mrs. Lee never has to worry about someone for Gloria to play with . . .

Just about her favorite grown-up is "Jim" Greene, who usually officiates at the chamber of commerce amateur hours . . . When she received her prize money Saturday morning Dr. Lee asked her if she was going to buy him something with it . . . She replied, quickly, that she was going to buy "Jim" Greene a soda-pop . . .

Her eyes are so blue they're often mistaken for brown . . . Her birthdate was February 18, 1931 . . . She's adopted . . . Has been taking tapping and singing from Mrs. Martin about 10 months . . . Likes both, but shies far away from making speeches or reciting . . . Her voice is considered very good . . . Skating, dancing, singing fill her hours . . . Won't go to school for a year yet . . .

EMERGENCIES part of the day's work

A telephone operator in a small Southwestern town did these things on a recent busy day:

She called a doctor for a distracted mother whose baby was ill. She helped locate a barge so a farmer could save 37 head of cattle on an island about to be flooded. She handled a call that rushed workmen to strengthen a crumbling levee. And she told an anxious motorist that the highway to the west was still above water.

To her, this was all in the day's work.

Some other things that are "all in the day's work" in the Bell System are the staff work of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the researches of Bell Laboratories, the skillful manufacturing and buying of Western Electric.

You seldom think of these organizations. Yet without the help they give to the men and women who furnish telephone service here, it would be difficult to make that service as fast, as clear, as far-reaching, and as low in cost as you have learned to expect.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted Upon By Texas Electorate

The following proposed constitutional amendments are to be submitted to the Texas electorate in an election next November. Mitchell county citizens might find interest in clipping the proposals and saving them for future reference.

S. J. R. No. 3-a A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas by striking out Section 20 thereof; providing for local option on the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; providing that spirituous liquors, or liquors composed in whole or in part of the products of distillation shall not be sold for private profit, except to the State; providing that the Legislature shall pass laws relative to the sale, possession, transportation and manufacture of such spirituous liquors; providing for the establishment of State dispensaries; providing for the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors which are exclusively products of the fermentation process; providing that intoxicating liquors shall not be manufactured, sold, bartered, or exchanged for beverage purposes in any county or political subdivision where had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, until a majority of the qualified voters of such county or political subdivision shall determine such to be lawful at an election held for that purpose; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and prescribing the form of ballot.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "Article XVI. Section 20: (a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and/or liquors compounded and/or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes. "The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law. (b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content. (c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing no more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature."

Sec. 2. Such proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas, on the third day of November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment, shall write, or have printed on their ballots the words: "FOR THE AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE DISPENSARY SYSTEM HAVING THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF DISTILLED LIQUORS, AND PROVIDING FOR LOCAL OPTION."

And those voters opposed to said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE DISPENSARY SYSTEM HAVING THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF DISTILLED LIQUORS, AND PROVIDING FOR LOCAL OPTION."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution. Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State. Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand ($8,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election. The above is a true and correct copy.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"Can a non-depositor borrow money from your Bank?"

YES, we are glad to have loan applications from non-depositors. Naturally, our first consideration is to take care of the credit requirements of our own customers. We feel that we owe them this consideration and they, of course, through their dealings with us, have usually established credit standing.

But a non-depositor need not feel himself barred. If his reputation for integrity and honesty is established, if his credit standing is such to justify a loan of the amount which he needs, this bank will be glad to consider the application.

Whether or not you are a depositor in this bank, if you wish to borrow, we suggest that you come in and discuss the matter with us. We welcome the opportunity to employ our loanable funds for sound purposes.

Mitchell County's Wayside Park Termed One Of Most Beautiful In West Texas

Largely because of its naturalness, the Earnest Wayside park on Highway One between Colorado and Lorraine is fast becoming known as one of the most beautiful of the many such parks which have been built by the State Highway department in West Texas during the past year.

In the beginning the park site had the advantage of an unusually beautiful setting, with West Texas shrubs, trees, and vines growing in profusion over its entire area. P. D. Warren, Mitchell county highway supervisor, was careful to retain the natural atmosphere as he directed the building of barbecue pits, stone tables, arbors, and rock-bordered flower beds.

The State Highway department made the park improvements at its own expense after the site had been provided through the joint efforts of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thomas and the Colorado Lions club. It was named by the Lions club for the late Judge C. H. Earnest of Colorado.

Practically every club and civic organization of Colorado had a hand in furnishing trees, shrubs, and flowers for planting in the park. A number of Chinese elm trees have been set out to furnish more spacious shades than the native mesquites will ever afford. Rose bushes and other plants are growing beside the lattice-covered shelter houses.

Near the gate of the park there is a lattice-covered well with an old-fashioned hand pump. The three barbecue pits which are in different parts of the park. Near one is an unusually inviting shelter house with a stone table and benches in one end and a spacious fireplace in the other. Tree limbs were used in making an arched lattice shelter for one small table and its benches. Some of the larger trees are surrounded by circular rustic stone benches.

Centennial tourists and Mitchell countians have already taken advantage of the park facilities in great numbers. One day there were twenty-six out-of-county cars which entered the park from 11:30 to 1:30. Many were from out of Texas, there being at least one car from both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts—Virginia and California being the particular coastal states represented.

The State Highway department, with P. D. Warren as its Mitchell county representative in charge, is to maintain the park in good shape. These wayside parks and historical markers bearing a brief history of each county's name were the State Highway Department's Centennial gifts to the various counties of Texas.

Annual Meeting Of Company 'D' Vets Held At Big Spring

Reminiscences Of Service In France Recalled By Supply Train Buddies

Thirty-two members of Company D, 117th Supply Train, 142nd Division, held their annual reunion at City Park, Big Spring, Sunday, and relived some of the stirring incidents that attended their days of active service along the Western Front in France.

It was one of the most enjoyable and largely attended of these reunions held in several years, many of the veterans held. There were 176 men in the original outfit and fact that 32 of them converged at Big Spring for the meeting proved of interest. Six of the vets were from Mitchell county.

Appearance of W. W. Kelley of Eastland, a buddy who had been reported dead, created an unusual situation. Many pounds lighter than when his buddies last saw him, Kelley was recognized by only one of his companions in war as he walked toward a group of men in the park. It is needless to say that the Eastland man received a rousing welcome.

Captain James T. Brooks of Big Spring, who organized the company by volunteers from Mitchell, Howard and Nolan counties, was present to greet the men who in other days served under his command. With several of the veterans were members of their families.

Attending were A. H. Ladd, Stamford; Roy Denman, Roscoe; Lloyd Brown, Cuthbert; W. W. Kelly, Eastland; Thomas E. Steel, Midland; John W. Miller, Knott; R. A. Powell, Petersburg; Floyd Williams, Lubbock; E. E. Terry, Plainview; Wallace Williams, Mexia; Bill Etheridge, Stanton; John B. Majors, M. D. Hampton, and James H. Brown, Sweetwater; J. F. Quinney, J. B. Pritchett, Cullen Powell, Roy Dozier, and W. C. Key, Colorado; and U. G. Powell, James T. Brooks, C. W. Deats, Buck A. Hull, Roy Carter, Pitt Gardner, R. L. Nall, C. L. Wasson, J. L. Terry, Jack Wilcox, A. L. Woods, Dee Foster, and F. E. Marchbanks, Big Spring.

SEE THE DOCTOR

There is something seriously the matter with this column writer. Tom Goss says we act sorer Zioncheckish and Rube Morgan came right out and said, "You're crazy." While Dick O'Brien said we were affected with neuritis, which properly translated means, super-sensitiveness to ridicule and criticism.

So we went to see the doctor. The first called on Dr. Lee who said we had "fatty degeneration of the heart." We figured this out to be caused by wealth, luxury and ease so we knew he was wrong.

We next called on Dr. Root who said we were affected with "pernicious anemia" which interpreted meant lack of blood in your theology and in the fight with sin.

We then went to see Dr. Ratliff the family physician and he said our trouble was "cerebrospinal meningitis." My medical dictionary showed this to be destruction of backbone and brain and we guessed he was about right but still another doctor said we were wholly under the influence of Dr. Einstein Relativity which means, the empirical quantum of the material eschatology by subliminal energy evolved co-ter-clockwise out of analogous infinities.

So that having been settled our mind has been able to grasp the problems of life, the new deal expenditures and indebtedness.

THE LITTLE TOWNS OF TEXAS

The little towns of Texas, What pretty names they bear: There's Echo, Garland, Crystal Springs, Arcadia, Dawn and Dare; There's Ingleside, Prairie Home And Bells and Rising Star. God keep them childlike, restful, clean,

Pure as the prairies are. So wrote the late Clyde Walton Hill in his delightful poem, "The Little Towns of Texas." Yes, some of the Texas towns do bear pretty names, musical Spanish names, beautiful English names and entrancing Indian ones. A study of the names of Texas towns will reveal that there are many oddities in names, mirth-provoking names, historical and ecclesiastical names as well.

Much has been written about the naming of the counties and cities of Texas, but very little concerning the towns, so why not take a journey to these little towns and find out for ourselves something about their names?

The sturdy pioneers who carved the little towns out of the pathless wilderness often came alone, their only possessions a gun and a horse, but we shall see as we travel along, that they did not forget the loved ones and friends at home. Particularly were the mothers, wives and sweethearts remembered, for our travels take us to Nancy, Alice, Dolores, Catarina, Melissa and some thirty-five other towns bearing girls' names.

Here in our own West Texas we have Happy, Wink and Muleshoe.

From a very long list of queer, odd names we have chosen to place on our itinerary Dime Box, Fate, Teacup, Razor, Nursery, Dimple, Bee House, Bug Tussle, Necessity, String and Lemonville in Orange County. Another oddly named town is Baby Head, a little town near Baby Head Mountain. It is said that the Comanche Indians in the early days beheaded a white baby, placed the head on a pole, and put the pole on the summit of the mountain, and because of this outrage the mountain and town were so named. Then there is Blanket, named for a near-by creek. Again the Comanches are responsible for the name, for we are told that after a hard rain the Indians spread their blankets on the bushes near the creek so that they might dry, and because of this custom the creek received the name—Blanket Creek.

Birds and animals were not forgotten when names were sought for the Texas towns, for we visit Eagle, Swan, Antelope, Calf Creek, Coyote, and even "old Dobbin."

The dictionary and grammar taught us that the names of things, persons and places were nouns, but in Texas we find the exceptions to the rule. Several of the towns which we are to visit have adjective names, and here they are—Jolly, Divine, Happy, Loving and Sublime. There is a strong point in favor of the adjective names that town-namers of today might consider. Towns so named require little advertising to promote them. The name tells it all.

In the early days of Texas the sword and the cross went hand in hand, and in the naming of the towns of the State the church was not overlooked, for we find Chapel Hill, Angel City, Mission, Monkstown, Cross, Church Hill, Bishop, Box Church, Byrd's Chapel, Allen's Chapel, Jericho, Palestine, Lebanon, and a number named for the saints.

There must have been some foreigners in our Association of Town Namers, for the following towns bear royal names: King, Queen City, Royalty, Knight and Nobility.

Undoubtedly there were some music lovers in the "Association," too, for we visit the towns of Verdi and Wagner. In Jim Wells County we found Ben Bolt, and we wonder how he could forget "Sweet Alice," for we found Alice in the very same county.

Writers having Texas towns named for them are Hawthorne, Scott, Irving, Dumas, Bronte, Dickens, Tennyson, Longfellow, Milton, Wadsworth and Browning.

Other names of celebrated people appearing on the map of Texas, in addition to those named for Texas heroes, are Breckenridge, Wellington, William Penn, Ben Franklin, Webster, Columbus, Livingston, La Salle, Barnum, Robert E. Lee, Grant and the following Presidents: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Tyler, Roosevelt and Coolidge. In the naming, these American shrines were remembered: Mount Vernon, Monticello, Stratford and Arlington.

F. B. W.

After the young lady has emerged from Ye Olde Beauty Shoppe, the swain had best take into consideration that when she has parted with several seeds for a permanent wave, a face lift, a Marcel, a massage and tiful English names and entrancing Indian ones. A study of the names of Texas towns will reveal that there are many oddities in names, mirth-provoking names, historical and ecclesiastical names as well.

The people of this age are trying to drink their way to prosperity, to destroy their way to plenty of food and clothing, to war their way to peace, to hate their way to love, to sin their way to God and happiness, to drift their way upstream.

Zioncheck has taken his long last walk.

We suggest that when Coughlin makes his next speech that he turns his collar around.

There are ten times more women in church than men, but there are thirty times more men than women in jail.

The champion hen is the one that lays the most eggs, not the one that has the loudest cackle or the longest tail feathers.

THE FORUM CLOSES

To the observing public the announcement by James E. Ferguson that he will close the Forum, his personal newspaper for nearly a score of years, will be regarded as political vaudeville. From time to time in the past few months Editor Jim has stated more strongly than hinted that additional subscriptions would be needed to maintain the Forum. As long as the organ could be politically serviceable, few believed it would be closed out. It was in fact at least maintained through the first primary, with which closed the present race of Roy Sanderford whom Ferguson supported for Governor.

Throughout the early months of this year there have been unbiased opinions expressed that there is no longer a coherent Ferguson machine. It is probable that the retirement of "Ma" Ferguson in January, 1935, marked the close of a political era in Texas. Certainly the inability of Ferguson's personal and Forum support to elect Sanderford or to force a run-off against Allred bears out that theory. Jim the Editor's philosophical retirement from Forum cares to a "vacation" is added proof.

Political burials of the Fergusons have been so frequent and so futile in the past that the cautious commentator is wary of writing an obituary, even while the casket is being lowered. But Jim the Editor has himself put the Forum among the mortuary notices. While there is always a possibility of a return to life, for the present it is practicable to care upon its tombstone the traditional "Here lies Jim's Forum."

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains and monthly blues? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hum, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense I would almost faint. I would feel so weak, so sluggish and so tired. My Cardui helped to give me Cardui. I began to feel that I had a new lease on life. The pain disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." If Cardui does not help you, consult a physician.

Chevrolet's Record Continues To Hold Outstanding Pace

Twelve Millionth Car Is Made Recently; Machine Be Shown At Dallas

FLINT, Mich.—Spurred by a record-breaking demand continuing month after month, the production of Chevrolet cars and trucks passed the 12,000,000 mark here, the last million of that all-time total having been built in almost exactly eight months. The announcement was made by M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. The number of cars and trucks built since introduction of the 1936 model is now 1,182,000, he said.

Achievement of the 12th million-car milestone in the company's history was hastened, Mr. Coyle said, by the sustained demand which these products are enjoying all over the country, and the increased production facilities which, installed a year ago, have enabled the company to keep pace with that demand. Even with those facilities, he said, it has not been easy to build cars and trucks as fast as they were wanted in the field.

shown by production figures from 1912, the company's first production year, down to the present time. It took until 1923, eleven years, to build the first million units. The second and third millions were reached at two-year intervals thereafter, and the fourth and fifth millions in 1928. The sixth, seventh and eighth million were attained in the three years succeeding the ninth in 1933 and the 10th in 1934. The 11,000,000th car was built Dec. 1935, and like the 12,000,000th, just completed, was a 1936 model.

Number 12,000,000, Mr. Coyle announced, will be displayed in Detroit and at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland prior to being driven to Dallas for exhibit at the Texas Centennial.

Mack Fisher Elected Principal Judson School, Located In East Texas Oil Fields

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Fisher, teachers in the Iatan school during the past seven years, have resigned and are to move within the next few days to Judson, near Longview, where Fisher has been elected principal.

As superintendent of the Iatan school, Fisher is credited with having developed one of Texas' unique rural high schools, in that with a scholastic population of less than fifty accredited high school subjects are taught and units of accredited affiliation have been granted by the State department.

The Judson school, composed of two modern brick buildings, is to serve a consolidated district in the oil fields. There are twenty teachers on the faculty. Fisher is to have charge of the commercial department. Seven buses will be used in transporting students to and from the school.

Young Valley View Farmer Dies From Week-Old Injuries

Virgil Robertson, 32, Was Fatally Hurt In Falling From Horse July 30

Injuries which he sustained when thrown from a horse on Thursday, July 30, proved fatal to Walter Virgil Robertson, young Valley View farmer, in a Sweetwater hospital late last Thursday.

Funeral services were held from the Dunn Baptist church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. A. A. Watson, pastor of the Coahoma Baptist church and former pastor at Dunn, officiated. Burial was in the Dunn cemetery beside an infant son. Pallbearers were Ewell Coles, Lige Thomas, Delmer Hamilton, Delma Coles, Harold Montgomery, and Amos Oakes.

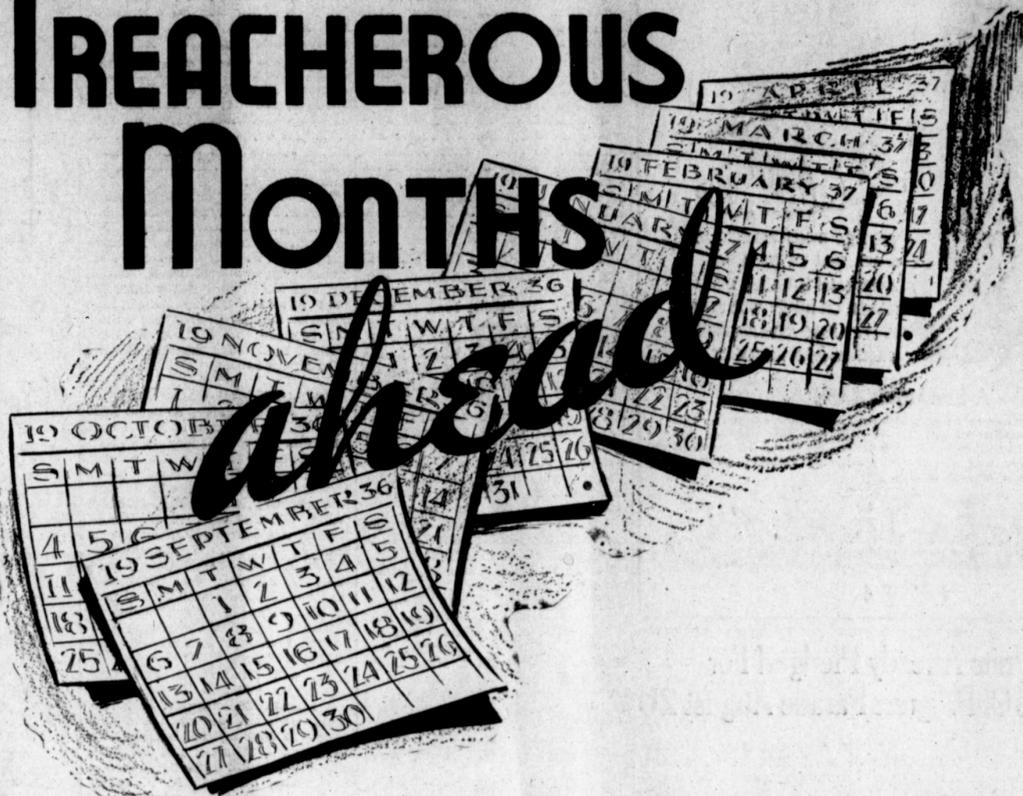

Mr. Robertson, who had farmed in the Valley View section since 1929, was driving mules from one pasture to another on his farm when his horse threw him. His leg was broken near the hip. He was 32 years of age.

His wife, the former Miss Angie Dennins of Valley View, survives him in addition to a son, Harold Walter, 5, and a daughter, Charlene, seven months. Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Robertson of Valley View; four brothers, Earnest, Marvin, Alton, and Charles, all of Valley View; a sister, Mrs. Leonard (Mamie) Hallman of Midland.

Dr. M. B. Nall, dentist, was absent from his office this week, being away on a week's fishing trip.

TREACHEROUS MONTHS

Why do people "catch cold" more easily during winter than in summer? In most cases it is due to indoor living conditions.

The generally accepted theory of "a cold" is that you carry cold germs in your throat constantly. As soon as you become tired, overheated or chilled you are susceptible to attack. Any sudden change in temperature disturbs the heat-regulating apparatus of the body and the cold germ rises to the opportunity to undermine your health. Therefore, quick changes of temperature should be avoided.

The threat of the cold germ is limited during summer months largely because warm weather living habits make it exceedingly difficult for cold germs to become active. In summer, there is an adequate circulation of pure, warm air throughout the home. Since the temperature is approximately the same in each room during the warm weather season, your family is not subject to sudden changes.

The common cold germ is responsible for more than two hundred million illnesses each year.

On the other hand, UNLESS you provide adequate heat and proper circulation of pure, warm air in every room of the house during winter, sudden temperature changes are unavoidable. Members of your family go from a heated room into a cold hall or unheated adjoining room. Then shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. Each time this happens during the winter season, they have unnecessarily subjected themselves to the vicious attack of the cold germ.

It is good health insurance to take the simple precaution of providing adequate heat and proper circulation of pure, warm air in every room in the house during cold weather. Use your home to the fullest this winter as you have during the past summer. You will find it of valuable assistance in protecting your family from America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ.

Chemical Solution For Branding Taking Place Of Wood Fires In This Territory

The branding iron is not going to be lost to West Texas ranchmen after all. The new chemical branding system, in use three years now and a proven addition to the livestock raising business, consists of the use of a caustic liquid preparation into which the branding iron is daubed instead of in a wood fire. The rest of the system is much the same.

Approximately a fourth of the ranchmen now are using the branding chemicals. Some find some criticism because areas larger than the branded space have been cleared of hair by the branding fluid, but others who have used more care in avoiding spilling and the application of excess amounts of the preparation, have found only laudation for the faster, easier and cleaner system.

One of the principal secrets of the system is in the actual application of the fluid. Rules state that the fluid should be poured out in a flat pan so that an eighth of an inch of the branding iron may be immersed. Care should be exercised that surplus amounts of the fluid are not carried out of the pan and scattered over the animal's side or face.

The same pressure should be applied as used on a fire branding iron. Shortly afterward the hair will come off and in about two to four weeks a firm scab will start peeling, leaving a smooth, even brand which becomes legible and permanent as in the case of the hot iron brand.

In the branding of long-haired animals, points out Ed Wyckoff of the Texas Stockmen's Supply Company, the areas to be branded should be moistened with a damp cloth to lay the hair down so that the brand will contact evenly and the caustic preparation penetrate properly.

The branding chemical is used on horses as well as on cattle, and for branding sheep across the nose.

Record Want-ads for results.
