

COLORADO PEOPLE CALLED UPON TO OBSERVE PIONEER DAYS DURING CELEBRATION

Official Proclamation Cites Honor Brought County In Presence Of Old Timers; All Courtesy Due Them

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week has been officially dedicated as "Pioneer Days" in Colorado and every citizen of the community is called upon under terms of proclamation issued by Mayor J. A. Sadler to so respect the days and accord every courtesy to honored guests here to attend the home-coming celebration.

"The public of this city could sponsor no greater ambition nor cherish a tradition of greater sacredness than that of stopping in the busy affairs of our commercial endeavor to pay just homage to the lives of those men and women who gave us Colorado and Mitchell county," the proclamation stated.

"We are proud of the heritage that these hardy pioneers gave to the history and progress of Mitchell county. Like those before them who came into Texas before the tyranny of Old Mexico was broken, those who established meagre homes along the western outskirts of civilization to give us the land that is now our homes, are ever to be cherished by all good citizens.

"Appreciating the importance of this celebration in lives of our honored guests and realizing that before time for another such gathering next year there are those of them who will be called to the last 'Home-Coming,' I, J. A. Sadler, mayor of the City of Colorado, hereby call upon every citizen to manifest strong interest in their welfare and do all that might be right and proper to the end of causing their stay in this community to be delightful.

"Every facility of the city will be placed at disposal of our honored guests during the three days and nights they are visitors in Colorado. I feel that the public will take up this idea. Give them the feeling that comes through application of genuine western hospitality. It will be one of the best investments you have ever made, in so far as doing good unto the deserving is to be reckoned."

Light Vote Will Be Polled In Election Saturday, Is Guess

Only Four Candidates Have Place On Ballots In This County's Run-Off Contest

Probability that Mitchell county will register a light vote in the runoff primary election Saturday is being advanced by local political leaders, in view of the fact only four names are to appear on the ballots and each of these contests affect candidates for nomination to State office.

Ernest O. Thompson, of Potter county and Frank S. Morris of Dallas county are opponents for nomination to the office of State railroad commissioner and J. E. McDonald of Ellis county and George B. Terrell of Cherokee county are in the runoff for State commissioner of agriculture.

All twelve voting boxes in the county are to open at 8 o'clock and close at 7 in the afternoon. Election judges presiding at the July Democratic primary are to be in charge.

Texas Centennial Observance To Carry Strong Points During Colorful Jubilee

The three day celebration opening at Colorado Thursday morning, while offering strong tribute to the lives of Mitchell county pioneers, is to reflect in strong aspect the traditions of Texas early day history as suggested by the Texas Centennial Commission. The jubilee is for every citizen to enjoy and have a part in, the chamber of commerce outlined Tuesday afternoon. "Ideals that are being fostered by the Texas Centennial programs are

ANTEDATED GUNS, PICTURES AND OTHER RELICS RECALL PIONEER DAYS TO VISITOR

'Window Shopping' Is Holding Interest Of Colorado Folk, Too, As Memoirs Of Other Years Are Being Viewed

An attraction that is already established for universal approval and will go a long way in recalling men and events of the long ago is the antique displays to be seen in a number of downtown show windows. The collections were arranged under direction of Mrs. J. G. Merritt chairman of the Mitchell County Centennial committee.

In the displays are to be seen pistols, rifles and other guns that were in popular usage a half century ago. Some of these arms, now showing the effects of time and the elements, are represented by their owners as having played important role in moulding epochal events of those days.

There are to be seen Indian relics, including stone beads, hatchets, and pottery. Menacing knives and other equipment for the hunt and war are to be seen. There are regulation government rifle bullets that have deteriorated through the years.

Then, the public may be reminded just what Milady wore when she attended a fashionable ball in Colorado fifty years ago. The fashion plates and family group pictures will readily furnish the answer to that question. There are pictured dashing young maidens and ambitious swains of years ago who today are being numbered among honored guests attending the home coming celebration.

The collection is already proving one of the big attractions for pioneers here to attend their celebration through Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. They are finding pictures of people and relics of historic events that readily parade in their memory scenes of the long ago that had been forgotten in the passing years.

Merchants cooperating in this feature of the celebration will be pleased to extend every cooperation to visitors in viewing the collections. Most of the antiques are identified by cards, giving its name, age and where first in use or found.

One of the old pistols on display is said to have been picked up in Trinity river bottom near cabin occupied by Sam Bass. On its ivory handle are a number of notches. These facts add considerably to interest attached to the arm.

REPLICA OF DRUG STORE OPENED IN 1882 SHOWN

A replica of the Hunt & Doss drug store, opened on Oak street in May, 1882, on display in show window at the John L. Doss Pharmacy, is among the interesting attractions in Colorado this week as pioneers are converging here. The miniature building, said to be an exact reproduction of the pioneer drug store, was made by G. V. Harrison, pharmacist at the drug store. John Doss continues active in the business after 54 years.

EXCELLENT HONEY FROM APIARY OF H. L. BAKER

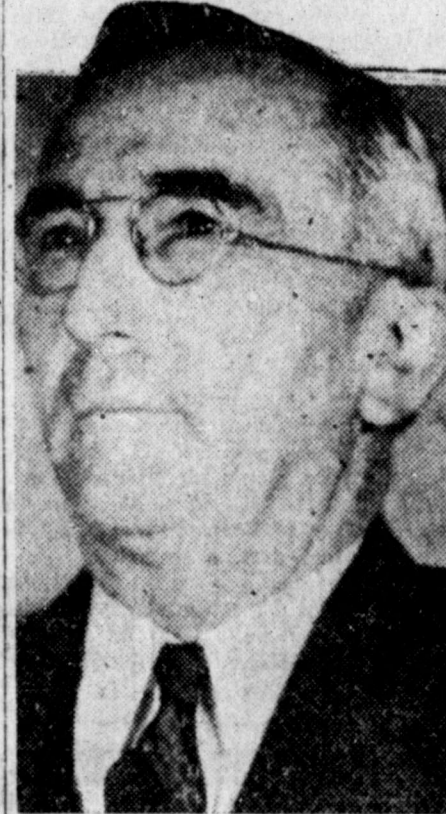

H. L. Baker, living near Colorado on rural route 1, continues to produce excellent honey in commercial quantities and finds the business a good money maker. Baker has been keeping an apiary several years and his honey is rated with the best offered on the Colorado market. He brought each member of The Record force, including Uncle Fred, a pint container of the honey Saturday morning with his compliments.

Long Hours Of Attention To Centennial Plans Tell On Secretary Jimmie Greene

Long hours of tedious devotion to his duties as chamber of commerce secretary and directing head of the Mitchell County Centennial Home-Coming, have sent Jimmie Greene to bed. Mr. Greene, described by his physician as having been worn out from overwork, left his office Wednesday morning a short time before noon and has since been resting at his home.

President C. C. Thompson of the chamber of commerce immediately called a number of business men into conference at the chamber office to take up task of carrying out the three

Woman Charged In Series Of Forgery Jobs Is Arrested

Colorado Business Men Faked By Stranger Who Visited Stores For Purchases

A woman who during the recent past fleeced local business men out of cash through passage of forged checks on well known citizens of the county, has been arrested at Marlin, local officers were advised last week. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Robert W. Granger. She will be returned to Mitchell county for trial, in event Marlin officers agree to release her.

Visiting in several local stores a few weeks ago the woman is said to have made purchases and offered checks drawn against well known citizens of the county. The checks were later found to be forgeries. Later she again put in an appearance here, visiting stores in which the previous checks had not been passed, and sought to cash vouchers represented to have been issued by an Oklahoma oil concern.

MITCHELL COUNTY PIONEER HOME-COMING OPENED FOR THREE GALA DAYS, NIGHTS

Visitors From This And Other States Converging Here For Centennial Jubilee; Varied Attractions Are Open

Colorado was in gala attire Thursday morning as opening day of the Mitchell County Centennial Home-Coming dawned. Tri-colored pennants, heralding "Welcome Centennial Visitors," were unfurled from business buildings and the Stars and Stripes, floating from atop of poles along the curb, added an air of patriotism to the scene.

Already vanguard of the hundreds of guests expected for the three days had moved into the city, with arrival of others expected to mark an unbroken trek during the day. By nightfall a large ratio of the honored guests were expected to be within gates of the community.

Opening of the Centennial celebration set in motion a stream of colorful pageantry and historic portrayal to continue through three days and nights. Every hour of the gala occasion will be filled with entertainment features of the highest quality and greatest proportions ever attempted here.

Entertainment chairman having re-ty of staging the entertainments announced they were away for the show to open. Citizens from rural communities, from Lorraine and Westbrook, have united with civic leaders here in will that the jubilee shall be successful and reflect the traditions of old time western hospitality.

Messages by letter, wire and telephone have poured into the chamber of commerce office during the past several days from many points in Texas and outside the State indicating that former residents of the county are to converge here in large numbers. Among the visitors will be several pioneers who have attended each of the preceding home-coming celebrations here.

Scores of Colorado homes have been thrown open for entertainment of the visitors. Relatives and friends arriving for the celebration are to spend their stay in some of these homes while pioneers having no relatives here are to be received into others. Report from the chamber of commerce indicated there was still a shortage of available rooms for use of the visitors.

BUFORD METHODISTS TO BEGIN MEETING SUNDAY, CAL WRIGHT PREACHING

With the Rev. Cal C. Wright of the First Methodist church at Colorado doing the preaching, a revival meeting is to open at the Buford Methodist church Sunday morning, according to Rev. A. F. Clegg, who serves the Buford church as pastor of the Dunn Methodist circuit.

Rev. I. T. Hucklebee of Fluvanna, widely known as a singer and leader, will have charge of song services. The meeting is expected to last about two weeks.

Services will be held twice daily, with morning week-day services at 10:30 and evening services at 8:30. Everyone is invited to attend any and all services.

THE word "boycott" has established a firm place for itself in the English language, although it made its first appearance only a little more than fifty years ago. The word derives from a Captain Boycott, a land agent in County Mayo, Ireland, whose difficulties with the Irish Land League in 1880 brought it into use. The word, in varying forms, is also found in the French, German, Russian and other European languages.

Stars Broadcast from Gulf Radio Studios

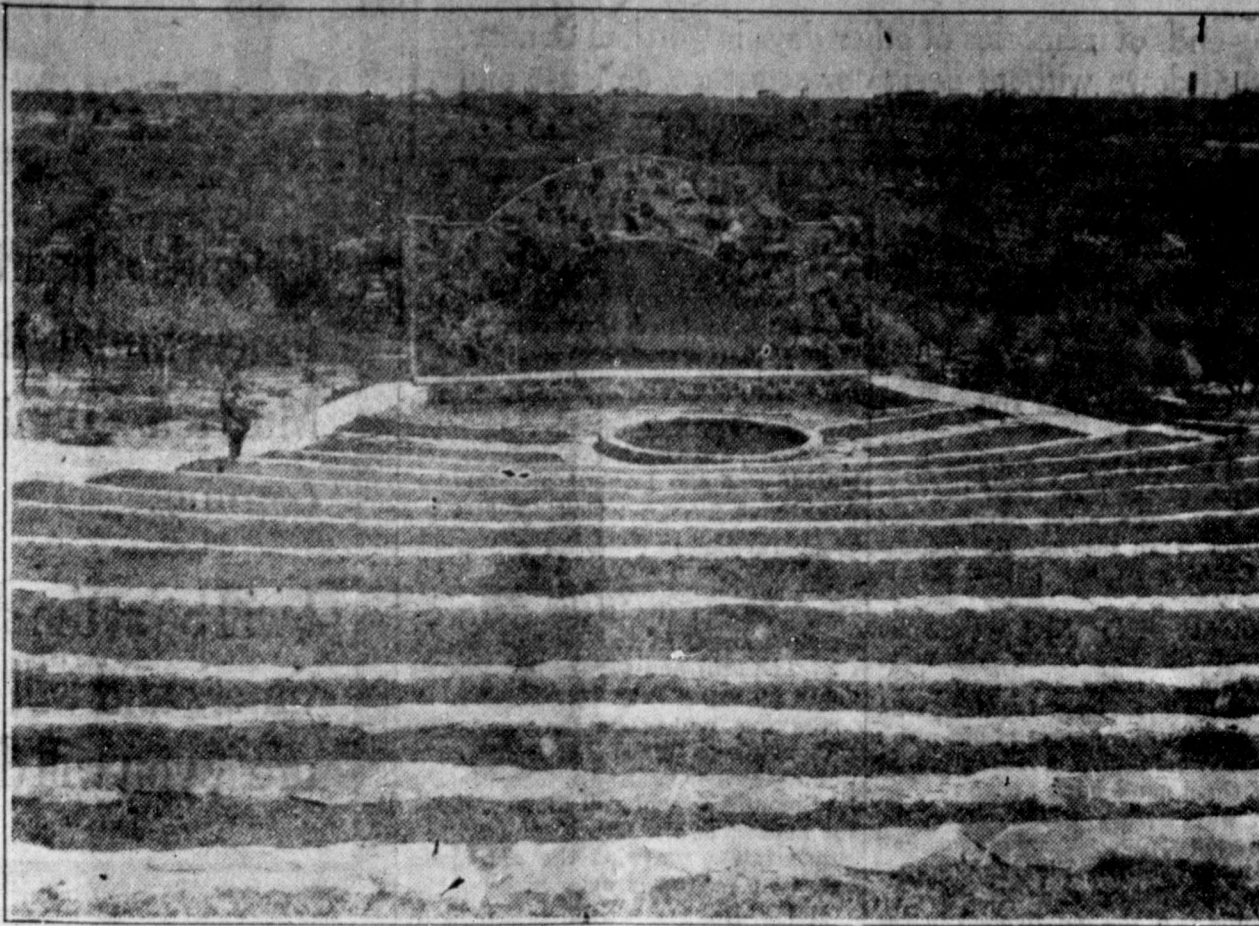

Before the Summer is over, thousands of visitors to the Texas Centennial at Dallas, will have been entertained by a host of stars including Ted Husing, ace announcer; Rudy Vallee, and his Orchestra; Jan Garber; Duke Ellington; Cab Calloway; Ted Lewis; and by such Hollywood favorites as Robert Taylor, Lupe Velez, and Ginger Rogers.

The visitor to the Centennial will be able to see and hear the performers. For the beautiful Gulf Radio Studios, located in the heart of the Exposition Grounds, are enclosed in glass so that every movement of the performers, engineers, and sound technicians may be observed.

More than a hundred programs a week are produced and broadcast from the Gulf Radio Studios, many of these programs being broadcast for well-known companies. On numerous occasions the performers are garbed in colorful costumes. The Gulf Studios have been adjudged among the finest in the nation, having the most modern equipment and being complete in every detail. They are truly "The Voice of the Centennial."

WHERE PAGEANT AND MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE TO BE HELD

Pictured above is the amphitheatre in Ruddick Park where the Centennial pageant is to be staged Thursday evening and the memorial rites held Friday evening. The open air theatre is one of the largest and most complete in West Texas. It will seat 2,500 people.

INFANTILE PRAALYSIS IS ON THE WANE IN TEXAS

AUSTIN. — Texas is practically free of infantile paralysis while that dread disease and particular foe of young children is reaching epidemic proportions in Alabama and adjoining states. Reports to the State Health Department disclose that there have been only 18 cases from 18 widely separated counties in every geographical section of the State since January 1. Only one case in Texas was reported last week from the entire State. There were 36 cases of the disease in Texas during the first six months of last year.

"The disease is endemic in Texas," Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer said, "and scarcely ever assumes epidemic proportions."

"Children under five are more susceptible to the disease and all children under 12 should be watched for suspicious symptoms. There are important things to do when a child shows symptoms. A physician should be called at once and physician should report all cases to the health authorities immediately. When the disease occurs all cases should be isolated for 21 days. All milk should be boiled unless it is pasteurized.

"Children should not visit homes where the disease exists or there are symptoms of it. Flies should be killed and their breeding places destroyed. Promptness in diagnosis of poliomyelitis is important in preventing spread of the disease."

Texas fields of cotton, the burial place of Bonnie Parker, Southwestern cutlaw, and the home of the Southern Methodist Mustangs are proving most popular attractions to Texas Centennial Exposition visitors in their "rubber-neck" trips over and near this city.

MEMORY'S 'KALEIDOSCOPE'

Tag-ends of memories of other days in Mitchell County, jotted down without design or sequence, to tease and stir the thoughts of those who remember when . . .

Buggies splashing and bouncing up main street in mud hub-deep . . . Youngsters swimming at the deep river hole just west of the south bridge . . . Dives from the rock ledge there into 12-foot water . . . Troop trains passing through . . . War weddings . . . "Till We Meet Again" . . . "Beautiful Ohio" . . . "Over There" . . .

The fire bell ringing out the first false news of the signing of the Armistice . . . The night parade that took place when the real news came . . . Burning of the kaiser in effigy . . . Popularity of the first boys home . . . Donald Sheath, Grady Newman, Tom Nunn . . . The reception given for them by Mrs. Harry Landers, who said when the boys were going away that she would give a reception if any of them came back . . .

The bay horses which drew the fire wagon from the old fire hall which stood where Piggly Wiggly's is now . . . Prince and Charlie . . . The chills that the old firehall in the middle of the night brought forth . . . Moving the old firehall west of the old Jeffries place to become part of Dr. Phenix's sanitarium . . . A rooming house there later . . . A flood stage on the Colorado river . . . The boy who tried to swim it and drowned near the west bridge . . . His body found weeks later near Bronte . . .

Rescue of Mrs. Fred Whipkey and Miss Belle Dozier from drowning in the river near the Harness place in south Colorado, with Andrew Cooksey the rescuing hero . . .

Calls of the parrot in the trees at the old A. J. Coe rooming house where the postoffice building now stands . . . Beauty of the Jake Mauer place near the river, with its quarter block of lawn and trees and the tall cottonwoods around the earthen tank in its front yard . . .

Dirt floors and tent tops and false fronts in Colorado's earliest stores . . . Women making garments to be sent to orphans' homes by the Needlework Guild . . .

Cottonwood trees along Second and Walnut streets before the pavement came . . . Livery stables here and there downtown . . . The flagpole that used to stand near the depots . . .

Clouds of dust rolling behind the endless string of cars returning from the shooting of Mitchell county's first oil well on a Sunday afternoon . . . A continuous rumble on the west Colorado bridge as they passed over . . .

Wild cowboys racing their horses over the wooden bridges in the early days . . . Fearful housewives calling their children in and barring the doors as the thundering hoofs, the wa-hoos, the pistol shots, and the whirling sombreros went by . . .

The ball that opened the opera house the same night the St. James hotel opened . . . The opera house a three-story building just east of what is now Berman's Ben Franklin store . . . Stores beneath, the opera house on the second story, rooms for rent above . . .

Fire that destroyed the opera house building and an adjoining theater building on a sandstormy Saturday afternoon . . . The D. L. Buchanan home burning just as those flames died down . . .

Birds on women's hats . . . Over-skirts . . . Empire waist-lines . . . "Rats" in "ear-puffs" and "pompadours" . . .

The cyclone . . . Volunteer nursing at the improvised hospital in the Baptist church . . . Simultaneous funerals for the dead . . . Twisted and stunted mesquites years afterward in the storm's path . . .

Tea at the Bellview farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Root for a district meeting of women's clubs in the then new Baptist church in 1907 . . . All afternoon required for a surrey trip to Seven Wells and back . . . The palacious dwelling the Webb place in East Colorado used to be . . . The night the G. N. O. club met there and the boys "haunted" the house . . .

A grand ball given at the K. of P. hall in the opera block by the firemen of the "Sul Ross Hose Company No. Two" . . . September 10, 1886 . . . Bob Terrell, F. H. Lancaster, Walter Vaughan, and H. S. Shepperd on the invitation committee . . .

Baseball stars in the persons of Bob Terrell, Dick Pearson, and Will Spicer . . . They wore white knee-length pants and flat black hats . . .

The South Colorado school house where Prof. Stith, Sadie O'Hara (now Mrs. W. R. Dawes of Big Spring), Mrs. Largent, and Prof. Skinner taught (in different years) . . . Mrs. Charles Mann, Sr., Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, Stoneham Beal, Mrs. Lewis Pond, Mrs. B. F. Dulaney, Elsie Hooper, Mrs. Henry Doss, Jr., Mrs. H. G. Towle of Snyder, Mrs. D. H. Snyder, Leslie Crowder, Byron Byrne, Mrs. Robert Terrell among the pupils there . . .

The spirited horses that Mrs. Will Doss, Sr., and Mrs. George B. Root used to drive . . . The time Mrs. Doss turned over in one of Colorado's first cars making a corner without applying the brakes . . .

The fire horses racing through town at practice time each evening, Macon Allmond setting back on the reins . . . Mr. Tilley delivering milk in his buggy . . .

Watt Collier's black horses, Rock and Rye, drawing the hearse when J. H. Greene was undertaker . . . The dignity with which the Terrells continued driving their buggy after cars became fairly common . . . Informal evening and Sunday gatherings with the "Smith kids" at the rambling Jim Smith home . . .

Mary Arbutnot's kindergarten teaching at the lovely, shrub-hidden Arbutnot place on Oak street . . . C. H. Lasky's grocery number—111. Schools out, churches closed because of influenza epidemics . . . Death of the two Davis girls . . . Triple funeral in the Phillips family . . . The still and paralyzing fear of death hovering over every home . . .

Carving names in the sandstone rock at Seven Wells . . . And on the Colorado river banks . . . Mrs. Martha B. Smoot's annual fall flower shows for benefit of the Baptist church . . . Home talent plays at the old opera house on Walnut street . . .

Helen Holmes' thrilling serials at the Opera House theater . . . Buggy horses shying from the first cars . . . The car caps and "dusters" that were prime requisites for every lady riding in the early, open cars . . . Days when all car tops went "down" in the summer time . . .

Lavish dinners on the courthouse lawn on singing convention days . . . Ice water in huge tanks in the courthouse shade . . . Fourth of July programs at the tabernacle . . . Eleanor Thomas riding a milk-white horse as Joan of Arc . . .

Baptizings in the Colorado river . . . Fishing parties—with plenty of fish—on the river south of town . . . Dr. Root's first hospital on the cliffs overlooking the river in South Colorado . . .

Throngs at the funerals held for Oran C. Hooker and other World War victims brought home from France . . . Gathering peach seeds for use in making gas masks during the war . . .

The two boots that Fred Myers, early justice of the peace, used for filing his cases—one boot for criminal cases, the other for civil cases . . . Fred Myers' dog . . .

The Cowboys' New Year Ball at the St. James in 1902 . . . The parody on Larry Chittendon's famous Cowboys' Ball poem that was included in the souvenir booklet of the ball . . .

When the D. H. Snyders lived at the top of East Hill . . . E. F. King's glasses . . . The C. D. Juds . . . The first football games in South Colorado . . . Running the special train to Cisco for a sectional game there . . .

City Marshall "Morg" Stoll on his horse . . . Dr. Coleman's wolf hunts . . . Mexican celebrations down by the West Bridge . . . Walking on the railroad trestles on Sunday afternoons . . . Kodinging on the hills above the refinery site before oil ever came . . . Hammocks . . .

REPLICA OF JUDGE BEAN BUILDING IS C-C HOME

A replica of the Judge Roy Bean court and bar building, known as headquarters of "The law west of the Pecos," has been constructed in Pecos by the chamber of commerce as office of that institution. Ben Smith, secretary of the Pecos chamber and a former Coloradoan, directed construction of the building.

COTTON BURS AS FERTILIZER

ROBY.—Curry McCain, farmer of the Capitola community in Fisher county, recently demonstrated to his own satisfaction that cotton burs have a value in adding organic matter to soil.

McCain planted two acres of sudan, according to T. H. Roensch, county agricultural agent. On one acre cotton burs were applied to the land and the other acre was left in its natural state. On the acre on which the cotton burs were used, the sudan is now about waist high; while on the other acre, the sudan is about six inches high and is practically dead.

Texas is generally known as a large State. But when Miss Colleen Moore visited the Texas Centennial Exposition she was presented a key by the Mayor of Dallas to everything within the 265,000 square miles. The key was gold with a diamond studded seal of Texas forming the handle.

The radio network on the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition sometimes is put to strange uses. Recently a young lady demanded that a certain doctor be paged. She explained he had proposed, had given her only until midnight to answer. She wanted him to know it was "yes."

Softball Contests Costs Lions $10.85 President Reports

Total of $103 Realized From Gate Receipts: Expense Is Listed At $113.85

It cost the Lions Club $10.85 to sponsor the recent county league softball contests, played at Cantrill field during the past several weeks. W. W. Whipkey, president of the club, stated in report to the organization Friday.

Whipkey stated that gate receipts totaled $103. He listed operating costs, including balls and bats, electrical current for illuminating the field and other items at $113.85.

Texas Is Becoming Mecca For Artists Of National Fame

Gulf Radio Studios, Dallas, Produces High Quality Of Entertainment Programs

HOUSTON.—Texas has become the mecca for radio and entertainment talent of the country.

Since the Gulf Radio Studios on the grounds of the Texas Centennial in Dallas were opened less than two months ago, 759 live talent radio shows have been produced there. These broadcasts include more than a score of programs which were carried all over the United States over the National Networks.

They include one international broadcast, which necessitated the crossing of the water five times.

The publicity Texas has received as a result of these broadcasts has become national and international in its scope. Radio magazines and the radio sections of newspapers throughout the country have carried stories about these broadcasts and about the unique radio and public address system installed by the Gulf Company at Dallas as its contribution to the celebration of the Centennial year.

Dozens of celebrities whose names are household words throughout the United States have been heard over the Gulf Centennial Network. This network includes a system of miniature radio stations called "singing towers," which cover the Exposition grounds, and an intricate system of remote "pick up points" centered in and controlled from the Gulf radio studios.

The list of celebrities who have appeared in the studios and over the network reads like a "who's who" of the radio and entertainment world. Included among those who have appeared are Ted Husing, famous Columbia Broadcasting System announcer and sports analyst; Robert Ripley, creator of "Believe It or Not"; Robert Taylor; Lupe Velez; his orchestra; Jose Manzanera and his orchestra; Jan Garber and his orchestra; Buddy Rogers and his orchestra; Ted Lewis and his orchestra; Ace Brigode and his orchestra; Art Kassel and his orchestra; Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway.

Heading the list of famous personages from the political arena are President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who spoke over the system June 12; and Secretary of Commerce, Daniel C. Hooper, who represented the President on opening day. Included in the list are Governor James V. Allred and the Governors of a half dozen other states.

Such interesting personalities as Barney Oldfield; David Wark Griffith; Amelia Earhart; Clyde Pangborn; Colleen Moore; Elizabeth Arden; and Mouan and Van of the Two Black Crows fame, have been interviewed.

Among those who are scheduled to appear within the next few days are Bob Burns, the Arkansas Philosopher and comedian; Ginger Rogers, Texas born movie star and dancer; Harry June Knight; Allan Jones, and other famous movie stars; Rudy Vallee and Richman, and Max Baer.

Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra are scheduled to begin a national broadcast from the studios early in August, and many other famous orchestra leaders, musicians and entertainers have been definitely scheduled for appearances later in the year.

An elaborate program of athletic events, including professional and intercollegiate football games, has been scheduled for the Cotton Bowl within the Exposition grounds this fall. Broadcasts of these games will be handled through the facilities of the Gulf Oil Network.

CENTENNIAL SHOWS PROVIDE VARIETY OF ENTERTAINMENT

Three continuous Texas Centennial celebrations, major attractions of Texas' 100th anniversary year observance now are in progress. In the order of their openings they are the University Centennial exposition, Austin, June 1 to December 1; Texas Centennial exposition, Dallas, June 6 to November 29, and Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, July 18, to November 29.

tion at Austin is a series of exhibits and displays emphasizing the natural and civil history of Texas, all preliminary to the erection of the Texas Memorial museum. On the campus of the University of Texas, site of the exposition, valuable displays of scientific material are housed—open to the public each day and evening.

The Centennial exposition at Dallas, $25,000,000 composite exhibit and entertainment plant, has already been judged by 2,000,000 visitors as being unexcelled. The beauty of its architecture, splendor of its lighting, artistry of arrangement, and variety of entertainment hold the attention of all.

TWO VERY SUCCESSFUL REVIVALS CLOSED BY CLICK SINCE AUGUST 1

Two highly successful revivals have been closed by Rev. A. F. Click, pastor of the Dunn Methodist circuit, since August 1.

A meeting conducted by Rev. Mr. Click for the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Fluvanna closed on August 9. Seven additions resulted from the meeting. Services were held in the Fluvanna gymnasium. Rev. I. T. Huckabee of Fluvanna, who is fast becoming one of the best-known singers and preachers in this section, was in charge of song services.

Sixteen additions resulted from the revival meeting which the Rev. Mr. Click closed at Union church west of Snyder Monday night. At this meeting also the Rev. Mr. Huckabee conducted the song services.

FT. WORTH UDC INVITES CHILDREN OF VETERANS

All Colorado sons and daughters of Confederate veterans have been extended a special invitation to attend the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial on Confederate Day, September 10.

On that day all such visitors will be received by the Julia Jackson UDC chapter of Fort Worth at the Little Church, according to word received by Mrs. Jack Smith of the Colorado UDC chapter.

CATCH 34-POUNDER

A 34-pound catfish was caught by one of the following who fished in the Utilities lake at San Angelo from Monday until Wednesday: Dale Warren, Rev. A. L. Haley, Judge Benton Templeton, Ford Morris and L. B. Elliott of Colorado; Rev. Grady Anderson of Big Spring and Rev. D. A. Ross of Coahoma. Each of the group gives the rest of them credit for the catch.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. V. (Moco) Grantland Sunday night at their home. He is to be called Emmett Vaughn, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grantland are paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Grantland are paternal great-grandparents.

School parties are organizing throughout the state and visiting The University Centennial Exposition, and are greatly impressed by the exhibit of the State Department of Education, which has been arranged by C. M. Elwell, assistant superintendent of the department, in charge of statistics.

HE WAS NOT AN OLD TIMER THEN

CHARLES M. ADAMS

The above picture of Col. C. M. Adams, retired merchant and banker, was taken years ago and depicts Mr. Adams as scores of visitors in Colorado for the celebration knew him. Colonel Adams is among the Colorado pioneers who through a long period of public service did much for development of the city and county.

These Mitchell County 'Amateurs' Behind-the-scene stories of prize winners at the weekly Chamber of Commerce "Amateur Hour" at Ruddick Park

A child who can walk away as easily on her hands as on her feet should be rather disconcerting to have around the house—think of where a well-aimed paddle might land—but the mother of 10-year-old Mary Ellen Brown of Snyder, winner of first place in last Friday night's "amateur hour," doesn't seem to mind.

Although she has been singing in public since she was 3 years old, Mary Ellen has been taking dancing lessons only two years. She's always been able to do the most seemingly impossible things with her body—and to do them smoothly and gracefully.

She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brown of Snyder and she was born there. Her father is a printer in Snyder.

The first year Mary Ellen took dancing she won a bronze medal for her work in acrobatic dancing. The medal was awarded by her teacher, Mrs. Elaine Rosser Lambert, to whom the Browns give all credit for Mary Ellen's success.

Again last year Mary Ellen won first place in a class of twenty-five second year pupils under Mrs. Lambert. The prize this time was a silver medal.

Those who attend this Friday night's amateur program will get to see Mary Ellen repeat her drum acrobatic number of last Friday night and will also hear her sing a request number.

The "goofus" act Porter Richardson put on Friday night to delight the Ruddick park audience into giving him second place in the amateur hour wasn't so funny to his mother, Mrs. J. Ed Richardson—partly because she sees him like that quite often at home and partly because she was "nervous" . . . She said to Mr. Richardson that she wished Porter would "hurry up and get through" . . . Most mothers can understand that feeling.

Porter plays anything—violin, guitar, ukelele, bass horn, trumpet . . . He took music four years and has played in bands here and in college for six years . . . In his mother's own words he's always "acting the fool" . . .

But his ambitions are serious . . . He wants to be an electrical engineer, and he has already done nearly three years of college work toward being one . . . He does quite a lot of work on electric refrigerators and other things electrical in addition to his work at the Colorado Drug during the summer . . . Last year he attended Texas Tech at Lubbock, where he hopes to enroll again this year . . . Two years before that he went to Hardin-Simmons, Abilene . . . The first year he was out of Colorado High school he took a business course.

He was born in Gatesville March 7, 1915—forgive us for telling you his age, Porter—and he's the only child the Richardsons have, though they lost a little girl five years older than Porter about twelve years ago . . .

Mrs. Richardson is dietitian at Root hospital, Mr. Richardson is a ginnee. The skeleton in his closet—to his own way of thinking—is the fact that he wrote poetry quite prolifically back in his early teens . . . It was good poetry for a youngster, they say, and absolutely not mushy . . .

In fact, it leaned to the comic . . . He has never been backward about making public appearances—he'll probably mind this article about himself a lot more than he ever minded facing an audience . . .

EVEN lexicographers—the people who prepare our dictionaries—are sometimes guilty of mistakes. Dr. Samuel Johnson, probably the most famous of them all, defined "pastern," meaning a tether, as "the knee of a horse." When asked by a lady how he happened to make such an error, he replied, "Ignorance, Madam, pure ignorance."

The mistake was corrected in the fourth edition of his dictionary, but Dr. Johnson never altered his definition of excise—"a hateful tax levied upon commodities, and adjudged not by the common judges of property, but by wretches hired by those to whom the Excise is paid."

As a result of his heliose definition, Dr. Johnson narrowly escaped being prosecuted for libel by the infuriated Commissioner of Excise.

TEXAS DENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM IS PLANNED

AUSTIN.—Mouth care is an integral part of the nation wide public health program and the dentists of America are keenly aware that strong teeth of the citizens of tomorrow are dependent upon health education of today. Dr. Edward Taylor, director of the dental health division of the State Department of Health said recently upon his return from San Francisco where he was among ten thousand dentists from Canada, Mexico, and the United States attending the annual meeting of the American Dental Association. Dr. Taylor heads a division of the Texas Health Department that was established in March and he has formulated a program to be launched at the beginning of the school year. "We are beginning our work in Texas at an opportune time," Dr. Taylor said, "for there is universal recognition just now that no public health program is well balanced that does not include dentistry. Strong emphasis was placed by the association president, Dr. George W. Winfers, on dental education in his address and it was urged that more attention be paid to dentistry for children, a field which has been neglected in the past." Plans for a dental health program in Texas contemplates work in the public schools and free examination of the mouths of school children. "It will be our aim," Dr. Taylor said, "to give every school child in

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE 25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

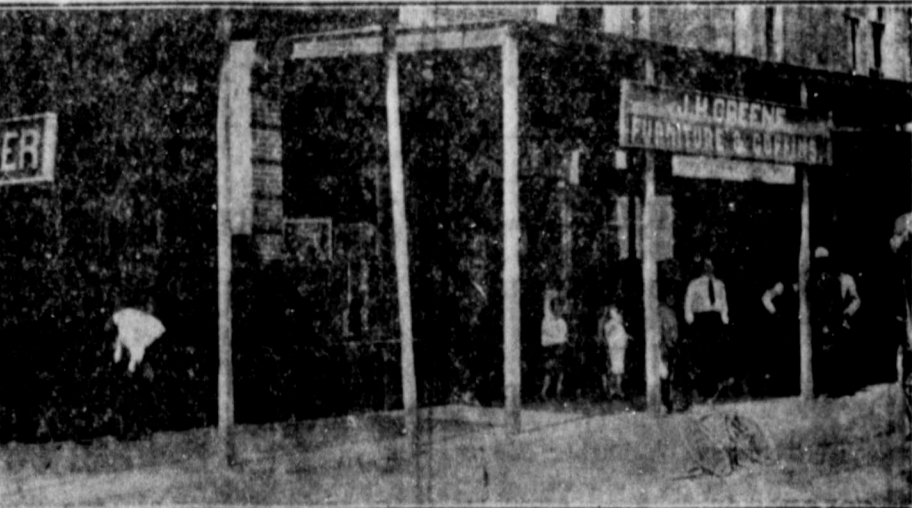

25 YEARS AGO The "worst wind, rain, and hail storm that ever hit Abilene" was told about on the front page of the Colorado Record for Friday, August 4, 1911, twenty-five years ago. Only one person had been killed but hundreds of dollars worth of damage was done. Other towns in this section received only heavy rains. Joe Smoot and his mother and a group of visiting relatives were fishing down on the HS ranch. Dr. T. J. Ratliff and family, L. W. Sandusky and family, John Sims and family were to fish 10 days on the Concho.

Mrs. J. W. Pearson of Hot Springs, Arkansas, was here to spend the summer with her son, Dick Pearson. Mrs. C. H. Earnest, Mrs. George W. Smith, and Miss Mildred Coleman had spent Friday visiting relatives in Hernleigh. Sam Majors, Cap Hall, W. M. Greene, and Fred Harris had attended a "big picnic" at Eastland. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Adams and Miss Byrd Adams had left in their Rambler car on an extended trip through Dallas and Alabama and on to the New York market. The G. E. C.'s had met with Mrs. Floyd Beal. Little Fanny Bess Earnest assisted the hostess in passing prizes to Mrs. Garner Hamcock, Miss Isla Smith, and Miss Marguerite Looney. Mrs. Harry Landers and children had returned from a visit with an uncle at Hereford. Omeira and Eva Terry were visiting relatives in Roscoe. Mrs. Hollis Haltom had left on Sunday for her home in Fort Stockton after visiting Mrs. Samuel Gustine. Miss Belle Dozier was leaving for her new home in Dallas and "quite a number of her admirers regret that she is to leave Colorado." Ed Jones had an auto and it was rumored by some of his wise-cracking friends that he would put his barber chair in the back end and go from house to house after business.

15 YEARS AGO Fifteen years ago Colorado's water improvement and sewer bonds had been adopted by an overwhelming majority. The news was carried in a two-column article on the front page of the Colorado Record for August 5, 1921. Three projects were embodied in the proposed improvements. One was the damming of Lone Wolf creek, another the improvement and extension of water mains in North Colorado and into South Colorado. Sewer lines were to be laid in the major portion of the city, as far north as Ninth street. Speakers at a Booster club rally at the tabernacle on Monday night had been J. H. Greene, Judge C. H. Earnest, O. Lambeth, Dr. P. C. Coleman, Dr. T. J. Ratliff, C. M. Adams, Judge M. Carter, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, and others. The boosted ob-

Ben S. VanTuyll had been checked in as acting postmaster, succeeding John W. Persons, who was to live in California. Joe Y. Fraser and Robert Brennand had announced their intention of taking examinations for the job.

O. M. Mitchell had sold his home in Colorado to C. L. Jones and the Mitchells were leaving to live in Aberdeen, Mississippi. Mrs. C. T. Harness and children had gone to visit in Dallas and Fort Worth while Mr. Harness was in Houston on business. Mrs. C. P. Conaway and daughter, Hattie, had been guests in the J. B. Farmer home for the Epist meeting on Sunday.

Members of the Presbyterian church had honored their departing pastor, the Rev. Guy B. Duff, and Mrs. Duff with a lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin. These assisting Mrs. Sherwin in serving refreshments were Mrs. Thos. Dawes, Miss Mildred Coleman, the Misses Riordan, and Eleanor Thomas. On Monday evening Mrs. Eleanor Thomas and Maxwell Thomas had entertained a crowd of young folks honoring Julia Shepherd of Cisco, Pauline Felker of Eastland, Frank Hall Root of Sherman, and Helen Frances Douthitt of Sweetwater.

Mrs. Dan Lewis, nee Mrs. Inez Nunn, had been showered on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. J. Pithiff. At Rev. Mr. Pithiff's farewell service at the Presbyterian church Mrs. J. W. Green became a member and little Mary Jane Aycock was baptized. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McKenzie had moved into the Episcopal rectory. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whipkey were home from a visit in Oklahoma and North and Central Texas. J. H. Latham and Mrs. Latham had returned to Dublin after a business trip here in connection with the Latham ranch properties near Sandoz. Alice Blanks, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Blanks, had been ill for several days. It was feared she had pneumonia.

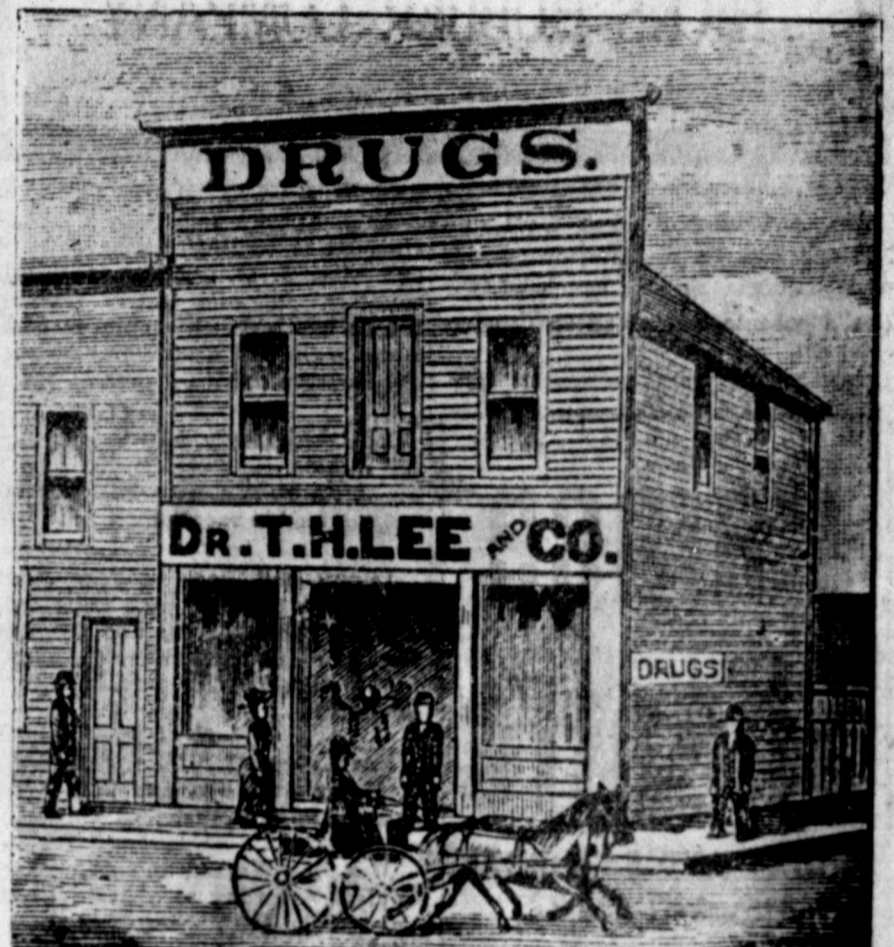

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dozier had gone to visit in Fort Worth. W. M. Green of Rogers had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Smith.

TRENT SLAYING SOLVED AS SUSPECT CONFESSES GUILT TO NOLAN COUNTY OFFICER

Body Of G. J. Jones, Filling Station Operator, Is Taken From Lake Sweetwater 76 Hours After Killing

One of the most gruesome murders with which officials of this section of the State have been called to deal with in many years was solved at an early hour Saturday as body of G. J. Jones, 52, Trent filling station and store operator, was taken from waters of Lake Sweetwater. Clarence Duncan, 28, Trent farmer, charged with his wife and brother-in-law in the killing stood manacled near by directing officers to spot where he had dropped the weighted body of his victim in the lake 76 hours before.

Duncan is charged with first degree murder. Similar charges against his bride of 19 years and her brother, Winifred Allen of Stamford were reduced to accomplice charges after Duncan assumed full responsibility for the slaying. Duncan said that Jones, former employer of his wife, had been trying to induce her to leave him and had recently offered him $100 to "leave the country."

Jones was listed as missing early Wednesday morning of last week after his motor car was found on Highway One between Trent and Sweetwater, with the lights burning. Arrest of the three followed in Stamford that afternoon and they had since been under questioning in the Nolan county jail. Duncan was the first to break and related to officers that he had beaten Jones into insensibility on the highway, using a rock, loaded him into rumble seat of his car, drove to shore of Lake Sweetwater, again beat his victim with a stone and club, tied a rock about his neck and swam with the body some distance from the shore, there to let it submerge.

Discovery of Jones' body ended an intensive three-day search by officers of the area in which all roads had been patrolled and water holes dragged. A set of false teeth, found Wednesday on the ground in front of Jones' car and identified as his, convinced officers he had been attacked. Ground and grass around the car also gave evidence of a struggle.

Jones, who for two months had operated a beer and soft drink stand near Sweetwater, three weeks ago opened a combination grocery and filling station one mile east of Trent. Billie Lorene Allen had worked for him at both places before her marriage last June 29 to Duncan. Jones former wife, divorced, and two children are thought to be in Denver, Colorado. Duncan's first wife died in April last year when fire destroyed their farm home near Trent while Duncan was in his barn milking his cows. Complaint charging Duncan with murdering his wife was filed at Abilene Monday.

Miss Mary Broadbent left Saturday to spend this week with friends in Fort Worth.

Application from another Colorado citizen for active membership in the Lions Club was passed after the first reading Friday. During the recent past some four or five Coloradans have joined the service organization.

THIRTY NINE PROSPECTS ON GRID ROSTER AS CHRISTIAN CONCLUDES TRAINING PLANS

Nine Letter Men Will Report Monday Afternoon For 1st Field Work-Out; Clark Is On Job As Assistant

Jack Christian, mentor of the Wolves for 1936, has issued call for his charges to report at Cantrill Field Monday afternoon for initial field work of the season. A total of 39 men, nine of whom were lettered last year and the season before, are included in the list.

Christian stated Monday that indications suggested a fair reserve corps from which to muster his Class B machine for conference battles during the Fall. Additional recruits will report for try-out places on the squad as school opens September 14.

The nine letter men, some of whom are remembered as stars on the Wolf pack last year, include John Farquhar, Ewing Lee, Van King, Earnest Burdine, Walter Rankin, Beeman Dockrey, Billie Miller, Charles Carter and Joe Cox. Cox was lettered in 1934 and the others last year.

The thirty prospects to report, not listed as letter men are Hunter Brannon, Bob Wright, George Mallard, Jack Morrison, Eroy Cathorn, J. W. Dunlap, Clifford Greener, Thomas Chadwick, Billie Bob McGuire, Quinton Hamrick, J. W. Hodges, Dale Simpson, R. H. Montgomery, Rudel Glover, Douglas Richardson, Jack Foster, Voyd Beights, Billie Mann, Albert Melton, Glenn Churchill, Virgil Easterwood, R. E. Walker, Curtis Wood, John Henderson, J. W. Blasingame, Jack Smith, Burl Ballard, Clifton Haggard, John Mac Payne, and Howell Moore.

Christian stated during an address at the Lions Club recently that he earnestly invited cooperation of Colorado people in sincere effort to build a football organization of which the community would be proud. "Come out to Cantrill Field and watch the boys in action as we open our training camp August 24," he suggested.

Adrian Clark, recently of Denison, elected last week as assistant coach, arrived in Colorado Tuesday and will be at his post Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock as the field work is opened.

Pioneers Over 70 Be Guests Special Matinee Saturday

Ross D. Dixon Inviting All Such Citizens In Memory Mr., Mrs. F. E. McKenzie

All pioneers seventy years of age and over here for the Mitchell County Centennial Home-Coming are to be invited to attend a special matinee Saturday afternoon at the Palace Theatre, in memory of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McKenzie, pioneer ranch people, both of whom have passed on during the past few years.

Ross D. Dixon, manager of the theatre, stated Tuesday that he had arranged the matinee in tribute to aged pioneers, many of whom were closely associated with Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie during their lifetime. Prior to her death, Mrs. McKenzie operated the Palace for some time.

No admission tickets nor identification will be required. Pioneers qualifying for the guest entertainment are invited to call at the show where they will be received by attendants and passed to their seats.

INDIANS AND BUFFALO HAD NOT LEFT THIS AREA THEN WIDOW OF PIONEER WRITES

Mrs. J. L. Shepherd, Oldest Living School Teacher, Has Interesting Reminiscences Of 'Colorado City'

"Colorado City" was still a place where folk talked of the Indians and Buffalo when Mrs. J. L. Shepherd came here to live in the 80's, she writes in a recent communication to the chamber of commerce. Mrs. Shepherd is believed to be the oldest school teacher to have connection with pioneer education in the county.

And speaking of Indians, Mrs. Shepherd stated in her letter that her husband, for thirty years a prominent jurist and citizen of Colorado, came to the area "before Colorado was organized, as member of a surveying crew. I have often heard him tell of seeing a band of Indians while on that trek into that then frontier country."

Mrs. Shepherd stated that she had been prompted to write the letter after reading in The Record that funds were being raised to buy a piano and loud speaker for use at Ruddick Park. "I am enclosing my check for $5 on that fund." Quoting further from the letter:

"I read with interest about preparations that are being made for your celebration in August. I consider myself an old timer, as I went there in 1888 and taught school. In later years Mr. Dawes bought the school building and remodeled it for his home.

"I notice they are to have a memorial service for the old settlers who have passed on. Please see that my husband's name is added to this list. My son, Robert, plans attending the celebration if business does not prevent. I wish that I could be there, but am leaving for a trip to California."

Referring to her identification with the Colorado public school in 1888, Mrs. Shepherd suggests that she feels she is the oldest living former teacher here. In event there is one who taught here prior to 1888, Mrs. Shepherd would be pleased to have that information.

MUSICAL PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY NIGHT SERVICE

A special musical program will be observed at First Baptist church Sunday evening beginning at 8:30 in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dick O'Brien, who is conducting a meeting at Burkburnett.

Pipe organ numbers, choruses by the choir, and special song numbers will make up the program. Mrs. B. H. Meskimen will be at the organ console and will play during a 15-minute devotional period preceding the beginning of the service.

The choir will be directed by Chester Thomas. Jane Meskimen, Frances Merle Cooper, and Marie O'Brien will sing a trio, Mrs. C. A. Wilkins and Mrs. Charles Moerer a duet.

HD CLUBS TO HAVE PART IN PAGEANT

Members of home demonstration clubs of the county will take part in the Mitchell County Cavalcade of Progress Thursday evening portraying a modern home demonstration club.

Those scheduled to have part in the club will be Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Mrs. Emfinger, and Mrs. Will Berry of the Fairview club; Mrs. Lee M. Jones and Mrs. Roy Howell of the Plainview club; Mrs. J. T. Vest of the Hyman club; Mrs. Trudo Webb and Johnnie Burk of the Looney club; Mrs. Vernie Prescott and Mrs. Ivan Barber of the Bauman club; Mrs. Phillips of the Iatan club.

MESKIMEN FAMILY MOVING TO ABILENE

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Meskimen and daughter, Jane Clare, are making their preparations this week to leave about Monday for Abilene, where they will make their home in the future.

New headquarters for Mr. Meskimen's work with the Investors' syndicate will be in Abilene. Mrs. Meskimen, who has taught piano here for the past nine years, plans to continue her classes here. She will be in her Colorado studio on two days each week, the days to be announced later.

Mr. Meskimen will continue to represent Investors' Syndicate with Abilene as his headquarters, and also will continue to represent the company in this and other towns in this section. He is moving his headquarters to Abilene at the request of the company, in order to more effectively handle their rapidly increasing business in this section.

MEMORY'S 'KALEIDOSCOPE'

Tag-ends of memories of other days in Mitchell County, jotted down without design or sequence, to tease and stir the thoughts of those who remember when . . .

Red glow of lamplight at night at night through the tents that were Colorado's first homes . . . Hauling drinking water from Seven Wells and selling it at as much as $1 per barrel . . . Milk delivered in huge cans and poured from them into the buckets which customers hung outside their front doors . . .

Days when no "nice" woman ventured west of Walnut street in the downtown section . . . The street sprinkler with Grandpa Barnett driving . . . Boys paddled for getting under it with their fresh shirts on . . . Circuses in South Colorado . . . Carnivals and tent shows on the vacant lots at the T. & P. depots . . . Roy E. Fox's . . .

Moonlight picnics at Seven Wells . . . How many proposals took place during them! . . . Dances in the "club rooms" over Burns & Bell (now Max Berman's) . . . The leaky roof there . . . Party after party at the old R. H. Looney home, social center of the town when the Looney girls were growing up . . . The day the white, towered, two-storied home burned, near noon . . . The Church of Christ standing there now . . .

Kindergarten in the courthouse, Lillian Morrison teaching . . . Oyster suppers and pie suppers given by women of the town to support the kindergarten . . . Lillian Morrison's wedding at the Methodist church with all her kindergarten pupils taking part . . .

The gorgeous and lavish trousseau which Mrs. Brooks Bell brought to Colorado after her marriage in Sweetwater . . . She was Samiah McCauley of that place . . . The special coach that carried Coloradans to the Brooks Bell wedding . . .

Lawn parties at the stately John C. Prude home . . . Nobody too poor to be invited if the Prudes liked them . . . The social highlight that was Brookie Burns' wedding to Dr. Gray of El Paso in the old F. M. Burns home . . .

Long papers at the first women's study clubs . . . Hostesses had to fill the lamps and carry on night sessions at times . . . Elaborate refreshments at just as elaborate dining tables . . . Leaping flames and excitement the night the St. James hotel burned . . . Days when the St. James was known to cattle barons far and wide . . . Its opening with the cattlemen's convention . . . John Prude, Brooks Bell, Fred McKenzie, D. N. Arnett, Harry Landers among those there . . .

The board sidewalk that ran northward up Oak street from main street to the old Robertson home . . . Grassburts that bordered it and overran the north part of Colorado . . .

B. F. Ware going to his farm in his buggy and bringing back greens and onions . . . Abe Mulky's revivals . . . The time Dr. George Truett preached for a revival here and stayed in the Smoot home . . .

The social event that an invitation to spend the week-end at the Arnett home on the Rendenbrook ranch used to be . . . Four hours to get there, four hours to get back by buggy . . . Fires at the oil mill every now and then . . . Razing of the old Rendenbrook hotel near the depot . . . Surveys and buggies sent after guests when Frank Ball Root and Pauline Root gave birthday parties . . .

Band concerts on the courthouse lawn . . . The alligator in the fountain at the courthouse . . . Ice cream sold during the concert by church and club women . . . The band seated in the bandstand, J. Lee Jones directing . . .

Tow sack dressing rooms built at the Round Rock pool by the Ladies' Swim club . . . No decent woman went in without ruffled bloomers reaching below the knees, black stockings—and a skirt topping all to insure modesty . . . Boys swimming "au naturel" in the Round Rock hole in the noon-day sun . . .

The war . . . Khaki a thrilling sight . . . Liberty loan drives, with patriotic zeal running high at tabernacle meetings . . . Conscription, and the trains that took away the first drafted boys . . . Lunches packed for them at the home of Mrs. J. G. Merritt . . .

All the populace turning out to meet the trains . . . Days when the passenger depot was where the freight depot now is . . . Spooky atmosphere around the old courthouse tower . . . The clock there that never ran . . . Gaping windows, falling bricks . . . The lawn that was mostly sun-baked earth . . .

T. Q. Mullin in his umbrella topped buggy and wearing his straw sun-helmet, delivering papers . . . Always clothed in dignity . . .

The wit of "the beautiful Miss Lucy Hamm," a Texas belle who became the bride of Dr. P. C. Coleman after visiting here . . .

Shocked grief in Colorado over the murder of Dr. N. J. Phenix . . . The hospital that stood south of the old Jeffries place . . .

Graduating classes of five and ten people . . . Burning of the old high school building . . . Later days when two small buildings held all Colorado school children . . .

"Aunt Rose" Whipkey singing in the Baptist choir and in Tommie Dawes choral club . . . The home-coming she gave teachers who ate with her year after year . . .

Sunday "beer" parties held down on Champion creek by men who were tied down by jobs during the remainder of the week . . . The informal—and often grumbling—sessions that the "beer" widows held on those Sundays . . .

J. RIORDANS VISIT MARKET IN DALLAS

While in Dallas at the Centennial exposition last week Mr. and Mrs. Jerold Riordan bought a new line of gift goods for their variety store here.

They returned home Saturday morning. They also attended the Frontier Centennial in Fort Worth while away.

FORT WORTHIAN SPEAKS FOR ERNEST THOMPSON

John McLean, young Fort Worth attorney, delivered an address here Saturday afternoon in support of the candidacy of Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, candidate for reelection to his second term as railroad commissioner. Private and public records of Thompson and his opponent were discussed.

IN MEMORY PIONEERS HAVING PLACE ON SCROLL OF HONORED DEAD

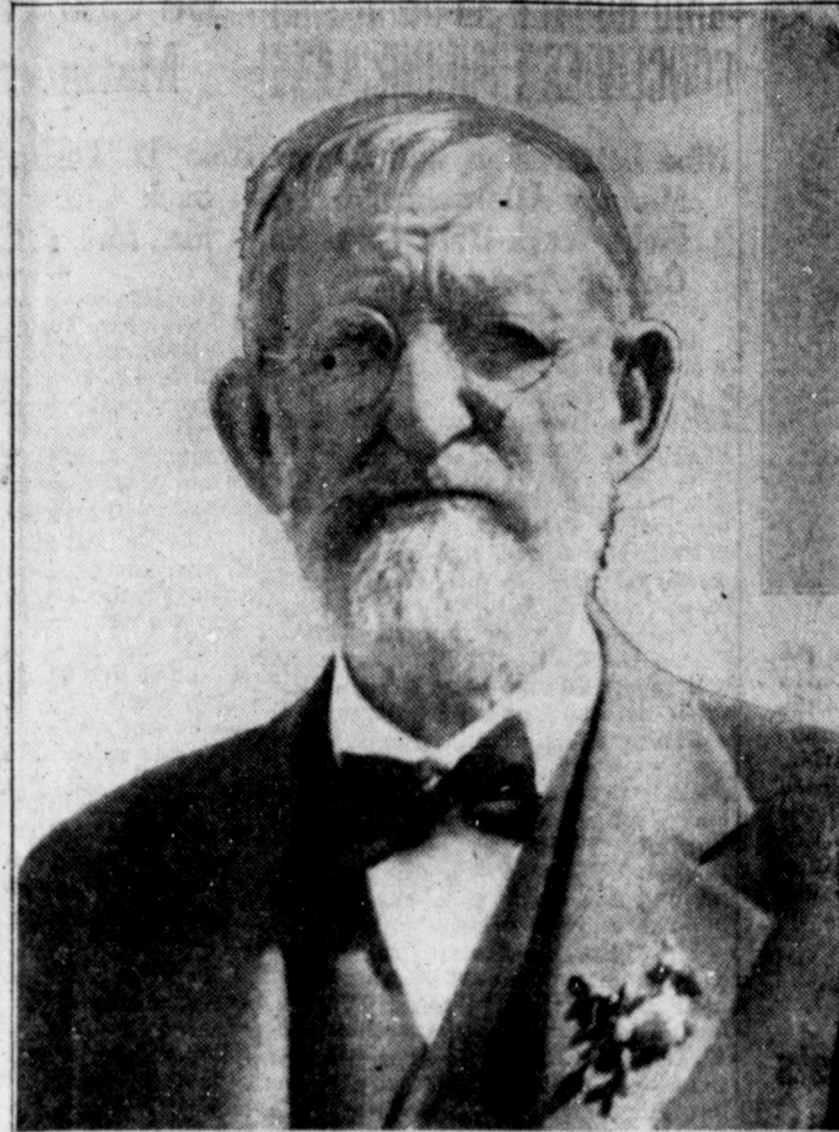

When the first Mitchell County home-coming was held in August, 1931, the pictures of a number of prominent pioneers were printed in The Record's special home-coming edition. Twelve of those pictured at that time have died in the five years since then. The pictures of those twelve are re-printed below, along with a list of other old-timers to be honored in special memorial services at Ruddick Park Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

RANKS OF EARLY PIONEERS THINNING AS GRIM REAPER ADDS RECRUITS TO SCROLL

There Will Be Faces Missing As Friends Of Other Days Gather At Colorado During Home-Coming Celebration

There will be faces missing and staunch friends through a long period of years will not again strike hands as honored guests of Colorado's home-coming celebration mingle here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Slowly and surely, ranks of these honored citizens are being thinned as the grim reaper goes ahead undisturbed with the task of affixing new names to his scroll of the dead. Listed in the sacred roster are men and women who many years ago blazed the trail leading to development in this county and city. Some of them have died during recent years in Mitchell county. Others have come to the end of their way in various parts of the country.

One of the impressive high-lights on the three day program will be a memorial in honor to the memory of these pioneers who have died. The service is to be held at Ruddick Park amphitheatre at 7:45 p.m. Friday evening with Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce presiding. The Rev. J. G. Griswold, pioneer Methodist preacher, is to deliver the memorial address. Dr. Griswold, retired, is a resident citizen of Baird and will be remembered among old timers as one of the early circuit riders to carry message of the cross into this western cow country.

The Record is pleased to publish pictures of several of the cherished citizens to be honored in this service. Others would have been included had their photographs been available. Citizens of Mitchell county who appreciate the traditions of our pioneers and feel that fitting tribute be paid their lives, are invited to attend the memorial service.

Read This Carefully

Due to the fact that we have been established in Big Spring such a short time, and are utilizing a new method in treating the sick we are making each and everyone a liberal offer in order that we become better acquainted with the citizens of West Texas and give you an opportunity to learn just what Scientific Massage is.

We are Scientific Masseurs and thoroughly massage the muscles of the body, and in doing so we release all pressure from the nerves, free the circulation of the blood, which removes the cause for most bodily diseases and then nature can, and will go to work and heal your body.

We have been in this work for a long time and know our business. We have cured many cases when other methods failed.

We have a nice large apartment house and are well prepared to care for patients coming from a distance.

Our treatment is painless and harmless. We treat and cure most all diseases.

Now you people who are ailing are urged to give us an opportunity to cure you. Come and learn for yourself just how we can help you. Our charge is so small that nearly anyone can afford to take our treatments.

For Cash we give 15 treatments for $10.00 or 30 treatments for $20.00.

Our office is located in our Apartment House at 1301 Scurry Street in Big Spring, Texas. Telephone 939.

Oil Field Workers Die In Tragedy At Odessa Saturday

Four Men Killed By Gas As Plans Made For Acidizing Well

Four men were killed Saturday when they were overcome by gas fumes in an oil well near Odessa.

The dead are: D. B. Striplin, 30, general superintendent of the Chemical Process company of Odessa; Granville Torbert, 29, head treater; Charles Dewey Hall, 36, and Bertis (Bull) Magness, 28, truckers. Magness was a former football star at Breckenridge and Rice Institute.

The men were preparing to treat the Magnolia No. 6 Edwards well with acid. Torbert was first overcome when he went below the derrick floor to inspect arrangements for the treatment.

Striplin noticed him fall into the four feet of oil standing in the cellar and called to Hall and Magness for aid. Before they could arrive on the scene, Striplin crawled into the cellar and was overcome.

Magness went after Striplin but sank into the oil before reaching his goal. Hall, another member of the acidizing crew, jumped into the cellar after Magness only to be overcome by the gas fumes.

Ed Stueget, Hobbs, N. M., oil field worker, started down into the cellar, and having been gassed before came out of the hole as soon as he realized what was wrong.

Diary, Horn Collection, And Ranching Love Of H. C. Landers, Sr., All Unusual

Probably there is no richer storehouse of facts in Mitchell county than the diary which Harry C. Landers, Sr., pioneer Mitchell county ranchman, has faithfully kept since he was 17 years of age—long before he came to Mitchell county.

Probably there is no other such collections of horns—cow and otherwise—as that which Mr. Landers has stored in a room of his ranch home.

Probably there is no one else in the county who has clung so tenaciously to ranch life as has Mr. Landers, who has steadfastly refused to live anywhere but on his ranch and who still spends hours daily in his saddle despite his 78 years.

Mr. Landers, and his brother, Byron Landers, first came to Mitchell county from Bridgeport, Vermont, where they were born and reared, in 1882. In 1883 they came back to live, settling on the ranch which is still their home.

In his collection of cow horns, elk horns, guns and other such things Mr. Landers has many things whose history would shed interesting sidelights on early-day life in Colorado. Some of them he acquired from saloons and homes of years ago.

His diary is said to include the birth, marriage, and death dates of many Coloradans. Through its pages must be written the ups and downs of more than fifty years of ranching.

Forty-one years ago he recorded his marriage to Miss Etta Robertson, who was herself a member of a prominent pioneer family of Colorado.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted Upon By Texas Electorate

The following proposed constitutional amendments are to be submitted to the Texas electorate in an election next November. Mitchell county citizens might find interest in clipping the proposals and saving them for future reference.

S. J. R. No. 3-a A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas by striking out Section 20 thereof; providing for local option on the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; providing that spirituous liquors, or liquors composed in whole or in part of the products of distillation shall not be sold for private profit, except to the State; providing that the Legislature shall pass laws relative to the sale, possession, transportation and manufacture of such spirituous liquors; providing for the establishment of State dispensaries; providing for the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors which are exclusively products of the fermentation process; providing that intoxicating liquors shall not be manufactured, sold, bartered, or exchanged for beverage purposes in any county or political subdivision where the sale of intoxicating liquors has been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws in force at the time of the taking office of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, until a majority of the qualified voters of such county or political subdivision shall determine such to be lawful at an election held for that purpose; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and prescribing the form of ballot.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XVI. Section 20: (a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and/or liquors compounded and/or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

"The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing no more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature."

Sec. 2. Such proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas, on the third day of November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment, shall write, or have printed on their ballots the words:

"FOR THE AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE DISPENSARY SYSTEM HAVING THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF DISTILLED LIQUORS, AND PROVIDING FOR LOCAL OPTION."

And those voters opposed to said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE DISPENSARY SYSTEM HAVING THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF DISTILLED LIQUORS, AND PROVIDING FOR LOCAL OPTION."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand ($8,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

S. J. R. No. 18 A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an Amendment to Section 48, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing the establishment of Teachers' Retirement Systems, and making an appropriation for the election.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto immediately after Section 48, a section to be known as Section 48a, and to read as follows:

"Section 48a: In addition to the powers given to the Legislature, under Section 48 of Article III, it shall have the right to levy taxes to provide a Retirement Fund for persons employed in public schools, colleges and universities, supported wholly or partly by the State; provided that the amount contributed by the State to such Retirement Fund shall equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each such person, and shall not exceed at any time five per centum of the compensation paid to each such person by the State, and/or school districts, and shall in no one year exceed the sum of One Hundred Eighty ($180.00) Dollars for any such person; provided no person shall be eligible

For a pension under this Amendment who has not taught twenty years in the State of Texas, but shall be entitled to a refund of the moneys paid into the fund.

All funds provided from the compensation of said persons, or by the State of Texas, for such Retirement Fund, as are received by the Treasury of the State of Texas, shall be invested in bonds of the United States, or cities of this State, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States Government, the payment of the principal of and interest on which is guaranteed by the United States; provided that a sufficient amount of said funds shall be kept on hand to meet the immediate payment of the amounts that may become due each year under such retirement plan as may be provided by law; and provided that the recipients of such retirement fund shall not be eligible for any other pension retirement funds or direct aid from the State of Texas, unless such retirement fund, contributed by the State, is released to the State of Texas as a condition to receiving such other pension aid."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the next General Election to be held on Tuesday, after the first Monday in November, which is November 3, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"FOR THE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING RETIREMENT AND THE CREATION OF A RETIREMENT FUND FOR PERSONS EMPLOYED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES SUPPORTED WHOLLY OR PARTLY BY THE STATE."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING RETIREMENT AND THE CREATION OF A RETIREMENT FUND FOR PERSONS EMPLOYED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND IN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES SUPPORTED WHOLLY OR PARTLY BY THE STATE."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary Proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

TEXAS TREES

Last week this column was devoted to Texas towns, this week we give it to Texas Trees.

Poems are made by fools like me But only God can make a tree.

Our own American poet, Bryant, speaks of trees as "God's First Temples." In Texas we might speak of trees as the First Courthouses or the First Halls of State.

At Columbia, where rest the old ruins of the first Capitol of Texas, there is an oak which played an important role in the historic drama of one hundred years ago.

To be eligible, the tree must be one hundred years old or older, but the youngsters are provided for, too; for they belong to the "Junior League" section of the society until they are of age.

Although unique, this tree society is a wonderful idea. Texas has enough historic live oaks to have a chapter of its own.

POLITICAL MUD SLINGING

Although they didn't mean to Tom Hunter, Roy Sanderford, Judge Fischer and Brooks proved to be the most powerful aids that Governor Alfred had in the recent campaign.

In most all the speeches these boys made, they flung mud at Jimmy. They didn't know that mudslinging had come out of style.

At Columbus is a stately old oak, known as the Court Oak, because under it was held the first District Court in Texas.

Still standing in Austin is the Treaty Oak. Beneath its spreading arms Sam Houston and the Indian chiefs smoked their peace pipes and discussed their proposed treaties.

On the San Jacinto battlefield near Houston is an historic tree which marks the spot where one of the momentous events in Texas history took place—Santa Anna's surrender to Sam Houston.

Matagorda has carefully preserved the grove of salt cedars which marks the spot where LaSalle landed in Texas.

Leaving the historic trees, we might go to San Saba to see Jumbo, said by many authorities to be the largest pecan tree in the world.

San Saba has another famous tree—the Matrimonial Tree. Tradition has it that prior to the coming of the white man the Indian warriors and maidens met under this tree.

Another "pecan tree of note is located in the very heart of the business district of San Antonio. The owner of the property upon which the tree stands, wishing to erect a large business building on his property and unwilling to destroy the tree from which nuts were gathered by Texans and Mexicans more than one hundred years ago, simply built around the tree.

In the extreme western part of the State is a thorn tree, called by the Mexicans the Honca Accused, because of their belief that Christ's crown of thorns was made from this tree.

Recently a dwarf oak but two feet high was discovered in the Longhorn Cavern, about a half mile from the entrance.

On the highway between San Augustine and Jasper is a freak tree, half cedar and half china, and still another freak at Port Arthur—three trees which have grown to maturity plaited together.

There are many trees, interesting, odd and historic in Texas yet to be visited, but we shall visit them another time. After viewing the historic old live oaks, it would seem that Texas has many of them, eligible for membership in that very unique organization—the Live Oak Society.

The members of this society are giant live oaks; its officers are trees, with the exception of the secretary-treasurer. This office is filled by Dr. Edwin Leslie Stephens of Louisiana, the originator of the society.

Each member tree is represented by an individual who looks out for the preservation and well being of that tree. Dues are acorns, gathered each fall and planted in a live oak nursery.

The chances are that this November three will be an Achilles sulking in a tent whose Democratic pennons are threadbare and faded.

The Baptist Standard over at Dallas says: Any person who goes to a picture show and registers for a chance at an automobile or a sum of money is a gambler, whether he or she wins or not.

The reason that there are more marriages than divorces is that there are more optimists than pessimists.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functions of the body are restored, and women are helped to get back to good health.

L. B. Russell down at Comanche in his letter writes: Some of the letters condemning vituperation and mudslinging in a political campaign remind me of a sign I once saw in the office of a wag.

Down in the 17th congressional district they are fighting it out. One of the candidates is of the ebullient type.

He boils constantly and sometimes boils over. But some people like a bubbler better than they like a pot that never boils.

The first hotel was the Grand Central, situated where the ice house now stands. The Hamilton operated back of the present Ritz theater location during the same time.

The first home that wasn't a tent was that of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller, parents of Mrs. Y. D. McMurry. They came to Colorado on March 1, 1881.

It was in the Miller home that the first Sunday school was held in Colorado. The Millers went from house to house and asked children to gather in their home the first Sunday they were in Colorado.

The first church was organized soon after by Rev. O. F. Rogers, father of the late Mrs. Clara Smith. It was Presbyterian by denomination and the organization was in a dugout south of the railroad tracks.

The first women's club was the Standard, organized by Mrs. Martha B. Smoot in 1897.

Dick Ware, famous Ranger and brother of the late Mrs. Moses Carter, was the county's first sheriff. Y. D. McMurry was his deputy and later became the county's second sheriff.

The first Ranger camp here was in East Colorado on Lone Wolf creek. It was a permanent camp and from it Ranger companies chased horse thieves, desperadoes, and Indians all over this territory.

The first baby born in the county has never been quite determined and probably never will be. Some say it was Jim Latty.

Some of the earliest ranches were the Adairs' CA-Bar ranch around Pecan Grove and the LA Pens ranch southeast of Colorado.

Lack of both space and facts prevents the recording of a number of other interesting "firsts."

Kyle, director of the local Federal reemployment bureau, accompanied by Mrs. Kyle and the children, left Saturday for a trip to Dallas and points in Louisiana where they are spending vacation.

'FIRST EVENTS' ATTENDING CITY'S HISTORY DEPicted FOR PLEASURE OF GUESTS

Old-Timers Attending Jubilee Will Recall Many Of High Spots Listed As Reprinted From Aged Paper Files

For the entertainment of old-timers attending the home-coming The Record attempts to list a few "firsts" in Colorado.

This is done in the full knowledge that corrections will be flung at us on many scores. There is no authentic record of any of these things.

But these "firsts" should furnish entertainment for old-timers either way. The ones that are correct will furnish food for talk, those that aren't will furnish food for argument.

The first store was Dunn & Coleman. Lumber and supplies were brought overland from Coleman by J. E. Rogers, who died two weeks ago in Phoenix, Arizona.

Federal And State Dove Laws Not To Conflict In 1936

State Official Gives Hunting Information For Interested Citizens This Territory

Will J. Tucker, game, fish and oyster commission secretary, expressed confidence this week that federal and state laws on the dove hunting season would be concurrent this fall.

Last year regulations prescribing open season for mourning doves did not coincide, but this season, Tucker said, "hunters may rest assured there will be no conflict."

With the opening date not far off he reminded hunters that the season for the north zone is September and October. In the south zone the season opens December 1, and closes January 16.

Commenting on the federal attitude toward concurrent seasons, Tucker said a bill awaited approval of President Roosevelt.

"All game matters are usually presented to the president by the department of agriculture at one time and I think the biological survey, a part of the department is still working on duck hunting statutes.

"The game commission, of course, can make its own duck hunting regulations, but it will follow the federal edicts in this respect."

Hunters should enjoy a good season this year on doves, he continued. "We have the largest supply of birds in years," he said.

He said, however, there would be practically no prairie chicken hunting this year. From personal observations in the plains sections, the habitat of the chicken, he found the supply nowhere sufficient to warrant hunting.

Snicide is often resorted to by a Chinaman for the sake of arriving in the other world first and presenting his side of an argument before the opposition has an opportunity.

SCURRY' FIRST BALE RAISED ON FARM OWNED BY MRS. C. H. EARNEST

On a farm belonging to Mrs. C. H. Earnest of Colorado, Scurry county's first bale of cotton of the season was raised, being picked, ginned, and sold on Mrs. Earnest's birthday, August 12th.

With one exception, 1934, this is the earliest in the last ten years that a bale has been brought in in that county. The tenant, Mr. Raymond Lloyd, has heretofore farmed in Borden county.

Merchants of Snyder, where the cotton was ginned and sold to Hugh Taylor & Company, donated $51.00 to Mr. Lloyd as a premium. He states that it was doubly appreciated as a baby boy had arrived on the place the previous Sunday.

The bale weighed 530 pounds; the boy, nine.

FIFTEEN 4-H CLUB GIRLS ATTAIN GOAL IN CANNING OF FOOD

Each of fifteen 4-H club girls of the county brought two jars of canned vegetables into the office of the County Home Demonstration Agent Saturday as one of the goals accomplished under 4-H food preservation plans for 1936.

One jar was filled with a yellow vegetable and the other with a green vegetable. The jars were scored by Miss Emma Gunter, County H. D. agent with the girls and some of the mothers present. Yellow squash and tomatoes were canned for the yellow vegetables while snapped beans and peas were canned for the green vegetables. Special emphasis on the nutritive value of the green and yellow vegetables in the diet was given during club meetings.

Those girls who are to be in the 4-H car in the Pioneer parade were designated as Club Work, Head, Hand, Heart and Health and were named as Lillie Miles of Looney, Dorothy Thompson of Looney, Norma Jean Compton of Valley View, Dorene Adrian of Landers club and June Hinton of Dorn club.

As a part of the club girls activities this summer adult H. D. clubs of the county sponsored a free picture, "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." Some of the club girls preferred a swim to the picture.

Those girls who did not get their two jars in on this date will be asked to get them in September 12 so that they can get their goals finished before school begins.

BAUMAN WOMEN TOLD ABOUT FROZEN DESSERTS

By Mrs. Ivan Barber, Reporter
"Sherberts and fruit ices are more refreshing for hot summer days than ice cream or frozen desserts made with a custard foundation," remarked Miss Emma Gunter, Mitchell County home demonstration agent, to members of the Bauman Home Demonstration club which met with Mrs. Jim Lee August 12 at 2:30 p.m.
A demonstration was given for making "Apricot Ice" using the following recipe: 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups water boiled together to make a syrup; apricot pulp, made by pressing a No. 3 can of apricots through a sieve, 1/2 c. lemon juice, two stiffly beaten egg whites. A small piece of lemon rind may be boiled in the syrup. The apricot pulp, syrup and lemon juice were frozen until mushy, then the egg whites were added and the mixture was frozen until well blended and hard. A tablespoon of gelatin may be added for smoothness. Such a dessert makes a very fitting climax to a summer meal. Ginger ale may be used in place of fruit pulp.
Ice cream may be varied by addition of chocolate, coffee, caramel or fruit. A demonstration was given for making coffee ice cream. Both frozen desserts were served to club members.
Two club members were appointed by the president to represent the club in the Centennial pageant to be given at Ruddick park August 20.
Six club members, two guests and Miss Gunter were present for the meeting. The next regular club meeting will be postponed due to the pageant in which the club will participate. The club will meet September 9 at 2:30 p.m. with Mrs. Ernest Meadows.

Mrs. Clyde Toon and children, Johnnie Sherman and Alfred Coolbaugh are visiting in Stanton.

The Methodist meeting which has been in progress for the past week closed Sunday night.

Pioneers Should Register As They Arrive For Fete

Free Barbecue Friday, Along With Other Features To Be Extended Honored Guests

Pioneers who during the last three days of this week are to be honored guests during the Centennial homecoming celebration are requested to call at the chamber of commerce upon arrival and register. Attention to this matter is of considerable importance, the C-C secretary has pointed out.

No old timer nor members of his family can be admitted to the barbecue unless properly identified through registration and issuance of ticket, Greene has stated. There will be no cost for the registration.

Another reason why these guests should call at the registration desk is given in fact they will from there be assigned to their rooms for entertainment during the home coming celebration.

CHISMS TO BE HONORED BY LOONEY COMMUNITY

The Looney community as a whole plans to honor Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Chism with a picnic and shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miles Saturday evening. The Chisms recently resigned from the Looney school faculty after teaching there six years.

They are to arrive Saturday from Commerce, where they have been attending East Texas State Teachers' college this summer. Mr. Chism is to teach at Pattonville, near Cooper, next year while Mrs. Chism goes on with her studies at Commerce.

Mr. Chism, president of the Mitchell county teachers' association last year, has been a leader in school, church, and other community affairs at Looney during his six years as principal of the Looney school. Largely through his efforts the school has become one of the best equipped and most attractive, especially in regard to playground facilities, in the county.

VALLEY VIEW NEIGHBORS MAIZE-GROWING RIVALS

Emmett Hale and A. K. McCarley of Valley View community in Mitchell county are close neighbors and close competitors in growing prize maize. At the Dallas fair it has been up to the two for first and second in showing the best gallon of maize and the best dozen heads. If Hale can beat McCarley, he wins, and vice-versa.

At the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, Hale's maize took first in 1932 for the best showing of 10 heads, and in the same event in 1935 McCarley's 10 heads took first.

The two men produce enough pure-line seed of an average year to plant from 10,000 to 15,000 acres, and sell it all near home.—Abilene Reporter News.

FATHER SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Bert Wulfjen returned recently from Georgetown where she had been attending her father, D. D. Fowler, 87, who has been seriously ill for some time. George M. McDaniel, brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Wulfjen, is also seriously ill at Georgetown. The mother of Mrs. Wulfjen died at Georgetown a few weeks ago.

Doss Brothers Have Been In Business At Colorado Through Over Fifty Years

HERE OVER FIFTY YEARS

There are scores of pioneers in Mitchell county who have been here for half a century and among the number are two brothers, J. L. and W. L. Doss, Colorado druggists. They have passed the half century milestone in their continuous relationship with Colorado.

J. L. Doss, elder of the brothers, first came to what later became Colorado and Mitchell county in December, 1876. Traveling by wagon from Fort Griffin, he and ten other men arrived on east bank of the Colorado river where later the booming community of Colorado City was located, on December 15 sixty years ago. A halt was made and their teams fed and the noon meal eaten.

That afternoon Doss and his associates drove to Deep Creek where a buffalo hunting camp was established. During that winter more than 3,000 of the animals were slaughtered and their hides shipped by wagon to Sherman, by way of Fort Griffin. The hunters received a dollar per hide.

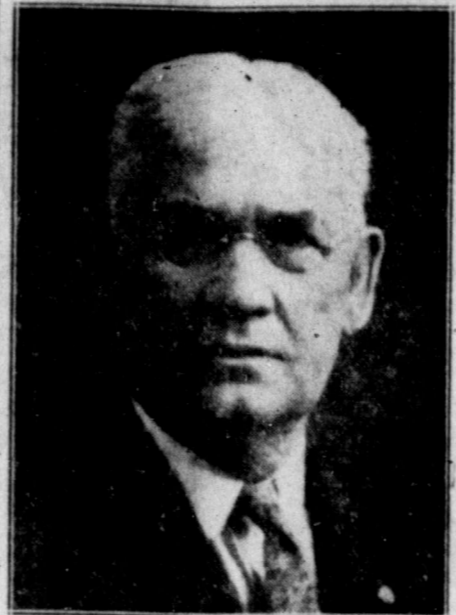

In February, 1877, the hunters moved camp to location on Sulphur Draw, near where Big Spring was later founded. There they built a hut of buffalo hides to live in. One night as Doss and his men slept a band of Comanche Indians raided their corral and stole all of the horses and mules. One of the men volunteered to walk back to Fort Griffin and bring a wagon and team to rescue the stranded men. He was gone fifteen days.

Doss later went to the trading post of Henry Jacobs on North Champion Creek, in what is now the Landers ranch, remaining there for several months. He returned to Fort Griffin during latter part of 1877.

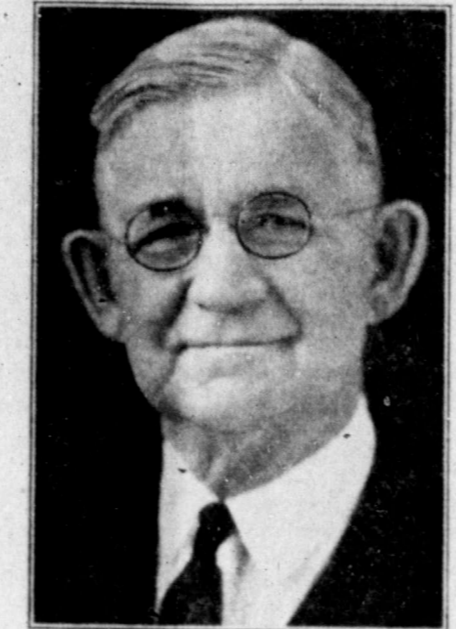

In April, 1882 Doss formed partnership with R. B. Hunt at Weatherford to engage in the drug business at Colorado. They opened their store in May of that year on Oak street. Three years later W. L. Doss purchased equity of Hunt in the business and followed his brother from Weatherford. The brothers continued in partnership business until 1906 when each acquired his own drug store. Both are being operated today under personal management of their owners.

Several years ago J. L. Doss entered the banking business here and for a few years was a directing official of the City National. But there was something about the smell of arnica and the art of rolling pills that beckoned and he returned to his drug store.

During the fifty-one years of his residence in Colorado, W. L. Doss has taken an active part in fraternal and church affairs. Singing has been one of his hobbies through the years. The Mitchell County Singing association was organized by him forty years ago and he has been an official in the organization ever since.

Pioneers will receive a genuine welcome at the store of either of these men. They are inviting their old friends to call while attending the Centennial celebration.

This veteran Coloradan pioneered in railroading, serving as agent for the Texas & Pacific at Colorado 35 years. Retired, he devotes attention to his bees and the church.

CARR NEWS

Rapid progress is being made toward the rebuilding of the Baptist church building. Quite a bit of work is being donated which is greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Fred York and small daughter, Ila Lee were week-end guests of Mrs. York's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Westfall of Coahoma.

Mrs. Oran Ashenurst, of Forsan is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Putman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lambert, Darrell Lambert, Bruce McCallum and Misses Evelyn Smith and Ruthie Miller, of Westbrook, attended singing here Wednesday night.

Mrs. Julian McNew and small son, of Westbrook, Mrs. Dora Morris, Mrs. K. Morris and children, were guests Monday afternoon in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ellett, and Mr. and Mrs. Flem Anderson of Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Ellett, formerly of this community, are the parents of a new son, born Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baron and baby daughter and Mrs. O. G. Baron, of Coahoma, spent a few hours in the W. M. Turner home Monday night. Bessie Merle Baron who has been visiting Viola Turner, returned home.

I. G. HAINES' FAMILY GRATEFUL TO FRIENDS

Gratitude to all their friends who have helped in any way during I. G. Haines' long illness and especially to those who have given skin for grafting on his burned leg was publicly expressed by Mr. and Mrs. Haines Tuesday.

Those who gave skin were listed as follows by Mrs. Haines: Porter Richardson, Hope Herrington, J. M. Herrington, Horace Womack, Rex McKinney, Bobbie Earl Wulfjen, Curtis Haines, Joe Cox, Dick Shelton, Patsy Doss, Pete Warren, Dick Jones, Jesse Jones, and Francis Simpson.

E. W. BOUNDS STILL ILL

Word comes from Fort Worth that Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bounds, Colorado old-timers and parents of Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Earl Powell, continue to be seriously ill, showing little improvement.

SNYDER MAIL DELIVERY ROUTE GIVEN EXTENSION

Twenty-four additional blocks have been added to the Snyder mail delivery route, effective Monday of this week. The Scurry county city has had this service for several years. There are now a total of 144 city blocks covered by the free delivery service.

Misses Tommie Barrier and Lillian Barrier, both of Mount Pleasant, were guests of Mrs. Bryant Lawlis in the Jack Smith home Tuesday. They visited in the Rogers community where Miss Tommie Barrier formerly taught Monday. Miss Barrier is to teach at Mount Pleasant next year.

TO ILL GRANDFATHER

Mrs. Virgil Moser and son, Bobby, left Sunday for Spur in response to a message that Mrs. Moser's grandfather was seriously ill.

ONE OF FIRST CITIZENS TO LOCATE HERE

J. WRIGHT MOORAR

Mr. Moorar, for many years a resident citizen of Snyder, was among the first pioneers to establish homestead in what is now Mitchell county. He hunted buffalo in this county before arrival of the Texas & Pacific and when Colorado was unknown.

William S. Rhode, Recently Of Kansas City, Selected Colorado As Home City

Dr. William S. Rhode, recently of Kansas City, Mo., has found that Colorado is an ideal community in which to live and plans establishing his permanent residence here.

Accompanied by his mother, Mrs. W. W. Rhode, and brother, Alfred, a youth of 13, Dr. Rhode arrived in Colorado Saturday. He has since been busy directing placing of his office equipment in the Thompson & Barber building, where offices are to be maintained.

Dr. Rhode is a graduate of the State University. In 1933 he graduated from the medical school of that institution. For two years he was member of the staff at State hospital in San Antonio. During the past year he was associated with the general hospital in Kansas City.

He and mother are members of the Methodist church. Mrs. Rhode is a sister of Mrs. George Mahou. They have taken an apartment at the Mrs. W. M. Merrell residence, 742 Locust street.

RED HILL LOOKING OVER HIS CHARGES AT SNYDER

ONE OF LOONEY'S MOST SUCCESSFUL REVIVALS CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

One of the most successful revivals ever held at the Looney church closed Sunday night when the Baptist meeting conducted by the Rev. Royal E. Brown of Abilene came to an end.

Visible results were 16 conversions, 3 reclamations, and 1 addition by letter.

Rev. Mr. Brown was assisted in conducting the revival by the church pastor, Rev. R. E. Heddin. W. Keith Miles led the song service. Rev. Mr. Brown is recently from Missouri, having been in Texas only six weeks. He is highly praised by the Looney people.
