BULLDOGS WIN OVER WOLVES
Last Friday evening a vast number of football fans from Mitchell and surrounding counties thronged to Cantrill Field to witness the eagerly anticipated encounter between the Colorado Wolves and the Loraine Bulldogs.

From the yells of the fans and the pep sounds and music of the band when the game started one knew that such enthusiasm could predict nothing but a real honest to goodness football game.

If anyone had entertained the least idea that Wolves have sometimes put Bulldogs to flight, his mind was rapidly put in a state of doubt, and belief. Through the entire half, back and forth surged the two teams. No score for anyone! Then the end of the half with still 0-0!

During the half the Bulldog's pep squad put on a performance that would have been a credit to a larger school. The enthusiasm of the pep squad and fans did much in regard to the outcome of the game.

In the first of the third quarter the Bulldogs went for a touchdown, but the kick for the extra point was blocked by the Wolves. The score remained 6-0 until the first of the fourth quarter when the tables turned and the Wolves made a touchdown and passed for the extra point making the score 7-6. Within the last few seconds of the whistle the Bulldogs slipped upon the Wolves with another touchdown. They passed for the extra point, completed the pass, but the backfield was in motion so the point did not count.

The game ended with a 12-7 victory for the Bulldogs. Which shows when one has the determination to win they can't be beaten.

Lois Eloise Burdine And Harold Bennett Recite Wedding Vows In Home Ceremony

Reciting their vows in a candlelit setting of impressive simplicity, Mr. Harold Bennett of Lorraine and Colorado and Miss Lois Eloise Burdine of Colorado were married Sunday morning at 8:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gary.

White tapers burned in tall, wrought-iron floor candelabra on either side of the mantle, which was twined and banked with ivy to form an altar of greenery. Each candelabrum held five tapers. Ten tapers, forming a pyramid of light, burned in a wrought iron candelabrum on the mantle among the trailing ivy branches. Purple thistles were arranged in baskets at the bases of the floor candelabra. Bowls of sage flowers were placed about the room.

The pre-nuptial solo, "All For You," was sung by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins with Mrs. B. H. Meskimen as accompanist. Mrs. Kirk Taylor of Lorraine, aunt of the bridegroom, played the wedding music.

Entering unattended, the bride and bridegroom were met at the altar by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church. They stood facing the small audience which included only close friends and relatives.

The bride wore a coat suit of novelty blue wool crepe with an aqua blue foxtail neckpiece. Her barefoot hat was of gray handmade felt and her blouse was gray matlasse satin. White tuberoses with a touch of pink formed her belt corsage.

The Rev. Mr. O'Brien said the single ring ceremony. Immediately afterward the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip which included the centennial celebrations at both Dallas and Fort Worth. They returned Thursday and are now at home at 536 Chestnut street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have lived in Mitchell county all their lives. Mr. Bennett in Lorraine until a few years ago and Mrs. Bennett in Colorado with the exception of her earliest years.

Wonders Of New York To Be Told By Carveth Wells

Noted Globe Trotter May Be Heard In Radio Broadcast Sunday at 12:30 P. M.

Via subway, bus and "L" train, Carveth Wells will take his radio audience on a tour through the "wonder city of the world"—New York—during his Continental Oil Company broadcast, "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells," on Sunday, October 11.

Speaking from experiences gained through extensive travel in many countries, Wells describes New York as "a great magical city that is utterly unlike any other great city in the world"—where a visit of only a few hours will leave a lasting impression. "London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Moscow and a host of other cities of world importance are capable of comparison one with another," Wells declares, "but New York is just as unique and incomparable as Baghdad, the City of the Arabian Nights."

Points of interest to be discussed by the famous globe trotter are Bowling Green, Fraunces Tavern, Trinity Church, the Ghetto, Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center, St. Paul's Cathedral, Central Park, the Bowery, Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the American Museum of Natural History. The latter two he describes as places that "no visitor to New York can afford to miss."

In the Museum of Natural History, Wells relates, "You can explore all the five continents in perfect safety yet with all the excitement of reality. You can explore the depths of the ocean, and then take a trip to the moon in perfect comfort—for the new Planetarium, built at a cost of nearly a million dollars, enables you to explore the universe while seated in a comfortable chair especially designed for star-gazing."

Local listeners who wish to tune in on Carveth Wells Sunday, October 11, may do so by dialing station WFAP at 12:30 o'clock.

DIXON WECTER TO WRITE NEW BOOK; IS GUEST OF CORNELIUS VANDERBILTS

Dixon Wecter, who will be remembered by many Coloradans as one of the most brilliant students ever graduated from Colorado High school, is gathering material for a new book, according to an item which appeared in a Waco paper Sunday.

Dr. Wecter recently received his Ph.D. from Yale university. His success has been such that he was recently an honor guest of General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt at their Newport villa and at a party given on their private yacht. He has studied at Oxford in London.

Following is the Waco news story about Wecter's latest accomplishments:

"Dixon Wecter, Baylor university graduate is now in New Haven, Conn., compiling material for his new book, Waco friends learn.

"Dr. Wecter, who recently received his Ph. D. degree from Yale university, has recently been a guest of General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt at their villa at Newport and was also their honored guest at a party given on their private yacht. The former Wacoan has also been a guest of Alfred Du Pont on Fisher island.

Dr. Wecter, who was to have sailed for London Sept. 1, postponed his sailing until he completes his book. "He plans to continue his course at Oxford university, where he studied when he was forced to return to the United States due to ill health, which is now improved. Returning from England, Dr. Wecter served as a professor at the University of Texas for six months, later going to Boulder, Colo., as professor of English in the University of Colorado."

aries, unchanged since 1876, to the level of other state salaries, and would give the governor $12,000 a year, instead of the present $4,000. The attorney general would be raised to $10,000. Salary of the land commission, comptroller, treasurer and secretary of state would be made $6,000. Each of these except secretary of state gets $2,500; he is paid $2,000.

Much favorable public sentiment has been shown toward this amendment, Mr. Woodul pointed out, and prospects appeared strong for its having a heavy majority throughout the state.

Mr. Woodul originally proposed the amendment while senator; and when Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston succeeded him, Moore presented this amendment, whose submission was voted by the legislature last year. Mr. Woodul is chairman of the statewide group supporting the salary amendment.

The Circus at a GLANCE

Ever want to ask a lot of questions of somebody or other when you were at the circus? Things that the program didn't tell anything about? An agent ahead of the Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty circus came to town yesterday to say that it is to exhibit in Big Spring, Oct. 14; Abilene, Oct. 15, at 2 and 8 p.m.

He was asked to jot down some odd facts about the Big Show. Here they are:

Travels on three trains of double-length steel railroad cars.

Out of 180 places visited in a season less than 20 are played for more than one day.

Travels 20,000 miles in a summer. Exhibits more than 800 jungle animals in its colossal menagerie.

The Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty Combined Shows is the only circus transported by railroad that gives a street parade.

More than 1,000 men, women, horses, elephants, camels, yaks and other strange beast of the forest and jungle seen in a spectacular street parade on the downtown streets at 11 a.m. preceding the first performance.

Smallest human member, Major Mite, 21 years old, stands 23 inches high.

Carries over 1,000 people on tour all of whom are given three meals each day in the circus dining tents. Daily expenses of show $7,500.

300 draft horses carried to move the show.

250 ring-stock horses in performance.

2,200 stakes driven and pulled each day.

A complete new set of canvas used each spring.

If you could set the elephants on one another's heads the topmost would reach to the roof of a 30-story building.

Opens its season in Chicago the last week in March or first week in April. Gives its final performance in some of the Atlantic seaboard states in late October or early November.

The tour of the Big Show ranges from Montreal in the northeast; Seattle in the northwest; San Diego in the southwest, and Tampa, in the southeast.

Devotes time and effort to the operation of only one circus; owners are the managers.

FORD'S NATION-WIDE SALE OF USED CARS PROMISES SUCCESS

Unusual success is being predicted for the nation-wide Ford Dealers' Used Car Clearance Sale as a result of the lively interest being manifested in Colorado and throughout the country as the sale gets underway, according to announcement of John Arnett of the Arnett-McLarty Motor company in Colorado. The sale is to continue throughout October.

"Special bargains in used cars drew crowds and have been drawing crowds to our display ever since the sale began," Mr. Arnett reports. "Our unusual display, coupled with the fact that this sale is part of a nation-wide Ford dealer movement, brought us greatly increased business. Scores of persons who have been planning to buy a better car for winter driving apparently are taking advantage of this nation-wide sale."

"We are very much gratified at the number of sales which we have closed since the sale began. Our used cars and trucks appear to have a ready acceptance with the public."

SISTER OF MRS. H. P. ALLMOND IN CYCLONE

After a week at the bedside of her 72-year-old sister who was injured in a cyclone near Cooper Saturday night, September 26, Mrs. H. P. Allmond returned home Tuesday morning. She left her sister, Mrs. M. F. Anglin, recovering in a Cooper hospital.

Mrs. Anglin received a fractured shoulder and other injuries when the cyclone demolished the home of her daughter, Mrs. Murphy Holdren, at Pickens' Store, a small community center between Cooper and Paris. Six houses, a gin, and other buildings were also destroyed. Mrs. Holdren received a cut on her forehead. No one else was injured.

"How others escaped from their demolished homes with minor injuries is mysterious," according to the Delta (Cooper) Courier. "Several people took refuge under a bridge when they saw the twister coming. The home of Murphy Holdren was blown across the road and crushed. Murphy Holdren, being at the store, had taken refuge under the bridge. As he came out he found his little 4-year-old girl standing in the road uninjured. How she was thrown from the house as it came across the road no one knows."

While with her sister Mrs. Allmond met a brother, W. C. Hogan of Ardmore, Oklahoma, whom she hadn't seen in forty years.

We've a silly sort of mind that sometimes jumps back to the craziest memories when it's jugged unexpectedly... For instance, when we read a Waco news clipping this week about all the honors which Dixon Vector's brilliant mind has won for him in the 15 years or more since he finished Colorado High school we remembered this, of all things: He wore knee pants the night he delivered the valedictory address from the cramped little stage of the Colorado High school auditorium.

Diminutive, lively, and a decided brunette is Mrs. Gound, who spends most of her time being a very efficient and conscientious mother to 20-month-old Joyce Elaine Gound... Before she became Mrs. Gound she was Herma Lea Norman of Floydada, which is also the home town of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. May.

Let us introduce you to two more new women in Colorado—Mrs. Jack Christian, wife of the Wolves' coach, and Mrs. W. A. Gound, wife of the new man at the Colorado Drug... Here's Mrs. Christian—a blonde whom you can really call a "beautiful blonde" in all truth... Her hair is really, truly, sure-enough like that—almost platinum... Already Mrs. Christian belongs to two of Colorado's leading clubs, the Zetaganian and the New Deal (Mr. Christian being included in the latter)...

Living Loses Some Of Its Color For Col. Adams As Another Baseball Season Ends

Baseball and "Colonel" C. M. Adams just naturally fall together in the minds of most seasoned Coloradans. And now that another World Series season ended, some of the color has gone out of daily living for "Colonel" Adams—who is "Colonel" because Coloradans dubbed him that. He is a Colorado pioneer who made himself a leading business man from the beginning without ever letting any phase of business come ahead of baseball.

Back in 1929 Col. Adams realized a life-long dream—he got to see a World Series. That was right after his retirement from business and he took Mrs. Adams along and they went to New York and saw the St. Louis Cardinals play the New York Yankees in Yankee stadium. The Yankees, who had Babe Ruth, won.

When this interviewer visited the Adams home Friday morning to check up on Col. Adams and the World Series Mrs. Adams and her daughter, Mrs. Roy Buchanan, were laughingly making plans to have their study club with the World Series radio broadcast as a background.

Back when he was somewhat of a ball player himself Col. Adams headed one local baseball team, the late B. S. Van Tuij the other. On appointed afternoons during the baseball season business took a back seat while Col. Adams and his baseball cronies climbed on wagons and in buggies and went over to the ball park in South Colorado. Once when he was laid up with a sprained ankle from too much baseball Col. Adams wrote a poem about the game that got quite a bit of notice.

Whenever there is a baseball game between local factions even now Col. Adams dignified figure is to be seen riding the truck with the players out to the ball park in West Colorado. He's always been willing to travel almost any distance in almost any fashion to see a baseball game and he's always been provoked over the fact that Colorado isn't more of a baseball town.

Always cheerful despite frequent illnesses, never failing to speak to those he knows, Col. Adams is probably one of the best-liked persons of his generation in Colorado. He lives quietly with Mrs. Adams and their granddaughters, Betty Byrd and Frances Hardison. Some of the time their one remaining daughter, Mrs. Roy Buchanan, and her husband, live with them. Their other daughter, Marian, died several years ago.

From the time he was born while his mother was a refugee from Georgia when Sherman made his Civil War march to the sea to the present Col. Adams has had a colorful life. His mother was trying to get to her people in Iuka, Mississippi, when Col. Adams was born in Barber county, Alabama. She died in Memphis, Tennessee, when Col. Adams was eight years old. He and his two younger brothers were brought up by relatives in Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama.

Col. Adams' father, W. S. J. Adams, was an officer in the Confederate army during the civil war. When a young man he lived a time in Texas, and after the war he came back to Texas, living in Dallas. He was one of the signers of the present constitution of the State of Texas during his earlier residence in the state. After Col. Adams' mother died he married Miss Ora Page of Comanche, Texas. They came to Colorado in 1822, and shortly afterward Col. Adams came from Selma, Alabama, to join them. When he first came here Col. Adams worked in Dan S. Parks jewelry store. His father died in 1883, and Col. Adams helped care for his stepmother and his half-brother and half-sister until they went to Fort Worth. In later years, as Mrs. Ora Adams, his stepmother served for a long time as society editor of the Dallas Morning News.

Col. Adams married Frances, better known as Fannie, Rix in 1887. Her father was the well-known pioneer cattleman, J. L. Rix. Soon after that Col. Adams became postmaster under Cleveland for a year and a half, and then went into the dry goods business in partnership with the late J. W. Hill. Later Hill sold out to Mr. Adams and moved to Lawton, Oklahoma, where he died over 30 years ago.

For many years Coloradans bought their clothes at one of two places—from the C. M. Adams Dry Goods store or from F. M. Burns. The friendship between Col. Adams and Mr. Burns in spite of their rivalry in business has often been commented on.

In the days when Colorado's mayor served gratis and for civic pride alone, Col. Adams filled that office for 12 or 14 years. He was a charter member and the first president of the Colorado Lions club, and is still one of its most faithful members.

Nowadays, since his retirement from active business, his "hangout" is the City National bank, of which he is a director. Before the Colorado National and the City National merged he was vice-president of the former. He's a Mason, both Knight Templar and Scottish Rite.

With his bright blue eyes twinkling good humor, he's ready to get through the winter somehow and make the best of it—because when winter is over there'll be summer again, and with summer there'll be baseball.

San Angel Paper Sees Silver Lining In Clouds That Darkened During Flood

That there is much good to result from the recent floods at San Angelo and over other communities of West and South Texas is depicted in the following editorial comment reprinted from a recent issue of the San Angelo Standard-Times: "Now that the floods are over—we hope—West Texas can turn to the brighter pages of its current weather history.

"While hundreds of head of livestock were still floating down the Conchos, the Pecos, the Devil's River, the Nueces, the San Saba, and the Colorado, the prices of lamb and calves were stepping up a quarter of a cent, half a cent, and a full cent in the fortnight of unremitting flood. Right now feeder lambs are into the $1.2-cent bracket while heifers have risen to 5 and 5 1/2 and steers to 6 and 6 1/2. Such prices will make thousands of ranchmen forget about the animals which went downstream when it is coupled with a 100 per cent and better improvement in their own range.

"The farmers are practically in the same happy boat. They lost some shocks of feedstuffs in their low fields and some cotton acreage was flood-swept. But skies now are clear. The soil is drying up enough that pickers can get their cotton sacks out again. And the feed crops—which many farmers planted a few weeks back with dust in their eyes and a prayer on their lips—are green with vitality. A crop is cinched.

"One can drive out from San Angelo 100 miles in any direction to-day and, except for the unpaved fill on some washed out bridge approaches, he can find no sign of the ill effects of the flood. But on every hand the grass is green, the fields are fresh and stately with growing crops,

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Leno, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theodor's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

The silo is to be filled with green maize stalks and hegarri heads. A demonstration to which the public will be invited is to be given within the next few days, Doyle Williams, director of the chapter, stated Wednesday.

Noel Madison who portrays the role of Nick Provas in "The Pace That Kills."

There is no doubt that the most vital question of the day is Juvenile Delinquency. This topic, which has recently been brought forcibly to the attention of the public by a series of atrocious juvenile crimes, over-shadows the liquor question, politics, everything—and the problem must be solved if society is to endure. The American people have lately begun to realize the seriousness of this situation and all leaders of thought have been deluged with urgent requests to do something about it. Yet up to the present, practically the only people who seem to have been making any sustained efforts in this direction are the Police and Juvenile Authorities who have long realized the gravity of the problem and have done everything in their power to remedy matters and salvage what human wreckage they can.

This work of the Juvenile Authorities is strongly depicted in the new production of "Pace That Kills" and is tremendously powerful and at the same time frank discussion of the subject of Juvenile Delinquency, traffic in Dope and human souls. It should do much to help the work of saving the youth of the nation by awakening the parents to the dangers that beset their children. Ritz Theatre Thursday Midnite, Friday Matinee and Night

MEASUREMENT OF FARM LAND IS WELL ON WAY

COLLEGE STATION—Work on measuring compliance with agricultural conservation plans which entitled farmers to grants of money is about one-third completed, it is estimated. This work began about the fourth week in August and the measurements have been made by using the same ways employed in measuring compliance in previous programs, except that in 20 counties aerial maps are being used. Officials are finding that the aerial map method is very satisfactory, being speedy, accurate, and practical.

Not every farmer has believed in this new-fangled method of measuring his land. But the results are justifying its use as illustrated by a story of a man who protested his payments being based on this method and—standing over the map—demanded to be shown how the thing worked and how many acres the instrument indicated that his farm contained. Being shown and told that his farm was 155 acres according to the calculations he said, "I knew it was wrong; I knew it couldn't do it. My farm has 185 acres in it. I bought it from Mr. So-and-So 15 years ago and paid him for 185 acres and have been paying taxes on 185 acres ever since." The Agricultural Conservation committee man with whom he was arguing thought enough of the man's word to take his chain and go out and measure the farm. The measurement turned out to be 155 acres. The farmer who had been paying taxes on 185 acres is now threatening to sue for the return of the purchase price of 30 acres of land which he did not get. It is planned to be through the measurement in the State of Texas by October 20. One district has completed the work already.

Man With Both Legs Broken Walks-- No Foolin'--Into Doctor's Office

When a man with both legs broken walks (we really said "walks") into a doctor's office for medical aid that's well, that's almost a "believe-it-or-not." But it actually happened in Colorado Tuesday morning.

A large Mexican man walked up the stairs to the office of Dr. C. L. Root complaining that his legs "hurt." He'd been run over by a car out on the highway near Morgan creek bridge and the driver of the car had brought him into town for medical aid. The Mexican also said his arm hurt.

X-ray pictures revealed that both legs were broken and also the right arm. The fibula of each leg was broken about mid-way. The fibula is the outer bone of the leg extending from the knee to the ankle joint and is not the main weight-bearing bone of the leg. Hence, the injured man could walk, but not without great pain.

It is extremely rare for both fibulae to be broken without any other leg injury to make walking impossible, according to Dr. Root.

But the Mexican isn't walking now and won't for some time. Both legs are in a plaster cast.

LORRAINE BULLDOGS DEFEAT COLORADO AS CONFERENCE CARD OPENED LAST FRIDAY

Attack Through The Air Gave Visitors Leading Score In Last Minute Of Play; Fans Stage Huge Demonstration

Lorraine high school had its red letter day last Friday as the gridiron club representing that institution met and crushed the Colorado Wolves, a traditional enemy through many years. It marked first time that the Lorraine schoolboys had taken victory over the local squad.

The laurels of victory were snatched from the five with only one minute of play left when the Bulldogs connected for their second touchdown after a withering attack through the air. The score was 12 to 7.

The winning play was a pass from James to James, brothers, with the ball being advanced fifteen yards to Colorado's five yard stripe. The remaining five yards to register touchdown was effected by crashing the Colorado line. Lorraine made her first touchdown, a twenty-yard pass behind the goal line, in the third period. This, too, was negotiated by the James brothers.

Colorado's only touchdown came late in the game when Miller went across from the Bulldog two-yard marker after the locals had paraded across the field in a series of gains. First downs stood 9 to 8 in favor of Lorraine, the Bulldogs picking up six during the last quarter.

Colorado dropped more than one opportunity to score during the first half. For the second time the Wolves marched to within a few feet of the enemy goal line. Tries at passing behind the line for the six-point counter went wild in both instances. Material reverses were lost to fumbles and penalties carried the Wolves and Bulldogs back time after time.

This was the third time for Colorado to lose a football game during the season, although the previous games were non-conference affairs. In the first game the Wolves lost to Snyder by one point and two weeks ago went down in defeat by seven points before onslaughts of the Midland Bulldogs.

Led by the Lorraine band and pep squad Bulldog fans staged an enthusiastic demonstration just as the game was over, to give expression to their feeling in the hour of victory. The visitors later made merry in the downtown district before leaving Colorado for Lorraine.

Death Of Mrs. Thos. Dawes, Native Mitchell Countian, Shocks Colorado

Few deaths in the recent past have shocked Colorado and Mitchell county as did that of Mrs. Thos. Dawes in a local hospital Sunday morning at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Dawes had been a patient in the hospital for nearly six weeks and had undergone a serious major operation nearly three weeks before her death. Although her condition was regarded as serious from the first, she was thought to be out of danger and on the road to recovery when she became suddenly worse last Wednesday. She grew gradually weaker and her life was despaired of for several hours before the end came.

All of Mrs. Dawes' life was spent in Mitchell county. She was born Eleanor Van Tuyl at the Mitchell county ranch home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Van Tuyl, on December 1, 1889. Later the Van Tuyls moved to Colorado.

Twenty-one years ago Eleanor Van Tuyl was married to Thos. Dawes. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes were widely known in West Texas because of Mr. Dawes' musical affiliations. The Dawes' studio home here has always been a gathering place for lovers of music and of tennis, which was Mrs. Dawes' particular hobby.

Funeral services for Mrs. Dawes were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from First Presbyterian church with the Rev. W. M. Elliott officiating. Assistant ministers were the Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church and the Rev. Cal C. Wright of First Methodist church. A special solo by Dr. C. L. Root, who sang "Does Jesus Care?" was included in the funeral service.

Palbearers were Thos. R. Smith, L. B. Elliott, Carey Prude, J. Ralph Lee, Roy Buchanan, William Simpson of Midland, Earl Cramer of Butler Camp, and Jerold Riordan. Interment was in the Colorado cemetery.

A 7-year-old son, Benjamin Van Tuyl Dawes, survives Mrs. Dawes in addition to her husband and two brothers, Anthony Van Tuyl of San Antonio and Stanley Van Tuyl of Cincinnati, Ohio. The Stanley Van Tuyls were unable to attend the funeral but Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Van Tuyl were here. Other survivors include two aunts, Misses Etta and Nellie Anthony of Plainfield, New Jersey.

Arrangements were in charge of the Jones, Russell Funeral home. Floral offerings were profuse.

ENTHUSIASM PREVAILS AT PEP RALLY HELD MONDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Colorado Is Backing Wolves, Squad and Coaches Told In Ringing Addresses; Defeat For Hamlin Is Predicted

Business and professional men joined with the student body and faculty in an enthusiastic pep rally at high school auditorium Monday morning, arranged by Wolf fans to boost morale of the team and students for second conference game of the season, to be played at Cantrill Field Friday night against the Hamlin Pied Pipers.

The meeting was called to order by C. A. Wilkins, principal of the school, who, after brief announcement, presented the Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church as master of ceremonies. After offering strong tribute to the Wolves and their coaching staff, the minister called upon several visitors for addresses.

W. S. Cooper was the first speaker to be presented by the presiding official. Mayor J. A. Sadler, Rev. Cal C. Wright of First Methodist church, A. C. Connell and J. B. Mills, members of the board of trustees, Captain Walter Rankin, Ben Baskin, Max Berman, E. R. Bibby, Jack Mayes, Bill Oswalt, J. Lee Jones, Walter Wilson and W. L. Doss, Jr., were other visitors to be heard, all of whom delivered stirring addresses; pledging continued support of the Wolves and offering the prediction that losing record of the boys would be changed into one of victory during remainder of the season.

Superintendent J. E. Watson of the schools, admitted the he was "down in the dumps as I walked from Cantrill Field last Friday night, but not due to any fault of you boys who played in that game, nor due to any lack of interest or leadership upon part of the coaches. Perhaps I had not evidenced the interest in you boys and you coaches that I should have," he concluded, adding the promise that the superintendent would reflect a different football spirit hereafter.

Coaches Christian and Clark spoke feelingly as they referred to the three games already lost by Colorado and of the enthusiasm that dominated the pep meeting. "Such a spirit will build a different fight quality in the person of every one of these boys and I know that there is not a one of them that has been whipped. The Wolves may have been defeated but they have yet to be whipped," Christian stated.

"I did not witness the game with Lorraine last Friday night and when I came home that night and was told by Mrs. Clark that we had lost, I just had to break down and cry," Clark stated. "I am restraining that feeling with some difficulty right now as I stand here to talk."

Charge that the student body had not been supporting the Wolves as they should was made by Baskin. "This is not only a fight for the Wolves as they meet the Hamlin club Friday night," Baskin declared. "It is a fight for you and if these boys are going to win, like we want them to you must get into the spirit of the game in earnest."

Wilkins called for recruits for the pep squad, adding that the plan was to enroll several boys in this rooting organization. Several boys and girls were registered as recruits to the squad after adjournment of the meeting and they will be in their places during the Hamlin-Wolf battle.

"You have a creditable heritage in the past," one of the speakers said in addressing the Wolves. "I recall that you have gone to the district and bi-district championship. And in those successful years you did not have abler coaching staffs than you have today and there has never been a finer group of boys to wear the Wolf uniform in history of this school. You can win if you will."

Forty Colorado Citizens Recruited As Leaders In County Boy Scout Activities

A total of forty citizens have recently been recruited to the active leadership forces of the Boy Scouts of America organization in Mitchell county. Additional men are to be registered for this work as needed. Dr. W. B. May, executive representing local troops, stated Tuesday afternoon.

The men just added to the Boy Scout organization are to be known as merit badge counsellors. Each has been assigned a definite place in general program of Scouting, assisting the individual Scout in earning his merit badge.

"In most cases the men have been chosen for definite work in the Scout program that corresponds to their own vocation," Dr. May stated. "This arrangement will be a great help to the boys and Scoutmasters as well, permitting the latter to devote more time and attention in planning work of the troops."

The counsellors are to serve for all of the Colorado district, embracing organized troops throughout Mitchell county. List of men already accepting the special work follows:

DOUBLE MURDER CHARGES FILED AFTER TWO KILLED NEAR LAKE SWEETWATER

E. R. Coker of Roby Driver Of Fatal Car, Posts Bond Of $3,000.00; Grand Jury Investigating Case

Charged with murder in connection with the death of two Sweetwater persons Sunday night, E. R. Coker of Roby posted bonds totaling $3,000 late Tuesday and was released, pending his appearance before the Nolan county district court grand jury Thursday morning.

Mrs. Mattie Earl Perry, 43, and Frank Kerns, 41, both residents of Sweetwater, were instantly killed while sitting on running board of Kerns' motor car on the Lake Sweetwater road. An automobile claimed to have been driven by Coker side-swiped the other machine.

Joe Boyd and Miss Bernice Hubbard of Sweetwater, sitting in rear seat of the Kerns car escaped without injury.

Coker was taken into custody an hour later in Sweetwater after having driven into town from scene of the wreck. Bodies of the victims were badly mangled, although the two automobiles did not touch. A ring identified as having been worn by Mrs. Perry was later found on running board of the Coker car.

The complaints were filed in Peace Justice S. H. Snook's court of Sweetwater by District Attorney George Outlaw. The accused waived examining trial.

Funeral for victims of the crash were conducted in Sweetwater Monday afternoon. Rites for Kerns were held at 2 o'clock and for Mrs. Perry at 4.

Little Damage To Field Crops Seen As Sequel To Rain

Fears That Grain and Cotton Seed Might Sprout Failed To Develop

Cotton and grain crops of this territory were not damaged to any considerable extent by the heavy rains that prevailed during closing days of September. A few days ago a number of farmers had expressed fear that their grain and cottonseed might sprout unless the rains stopped and sunshine was once again received.

Contrary to the previous opinion that damage would result, the rains have been a big boon to the average rural citizen. This is especially true in cases where there is acreage to late feed crops.

Soil Conservation Subsidies Are Yet Extended Citizens

Farmers Of Mitchell County Have Until October 31 To Enter Federal Option

Soil conservation farmers in Mitchell county who have been unable to plant sufficient acreage of soil-conserving crops and whose cropland has been idle during the year may plant winter legumes as late as October 31 and still classify as soil conserving cooperators, according to statement received from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Drouth and other unfavorable weather conditions have made it impossible for some farmers to plant a sufficient acreage to qualify them for full payments for diversion of soil depleting crops," the statement said. "By planting winter legumes, such as vetch, Australian winter peas, or clovers, they may build up their soil-building allowance and also be eligible for soil-building payments."

Some farmers in the county have not put into effect enough soil-building practices to use their soil-building allowances for 1936. Those needing a larger acreage to qualify or who have not used all of their soil-building allowance may seed some of these crops for these purposes, the agent advises. Rate of payment for seeding winter legumes is $1 per acre.

The United States Department of Agriculture sets forth five principles to be followed by farmers who have never successfully grown winter legumes. These factors are: Planting at the proper time; use of a proper amount of seed; thorough inoculation when planted on land that is not inoculated; favorable soil conditions (in many cases soil conditions may be such that the application of lime, phosphoric acid or other fertilizers will be essential for success); and correct method of seeding.

Friday morning, September 25, the band of Colorado High School reorganized, adding new by-laws and electing new officers, as follows: President, Mary Frances Mackey; vice-president, Joe Lee; sergeants-at-arms, Archie Mohler and Robert Stoll.

A talk was made by the president, boosting the band and giving her idea of what a good band should be.

The vice-president said a few words on the same subject and the director, Mr. R. P. Rose, made a short talk also.

The meeting was dismissed with a resolution to begin the new year with more real music and a better band than ever before.

The pep squad is making a strong effort to put school spirit in the hearts of everyone. They are learning to march well and are preparing a formation for Friday night.

The uniforms, black divided skirts, red blouses, black ties, tams, and shoes and red anklets, have been completed. The leaders are Fannie Fae Porter, Katherine Hodges, and Mary Frances Smith. Two boys, Boon Jackson, and J. W. Hodges, are to help the girls lead.

LA TERTULIA

The Spanish III students have organized La Tertulia which meets every Monday at the regular class period. The officers elected are: Janey Daniels, president; Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, vice-president; Nina Laura Smith, secretary; Hiram Duffer, treasurer; and Frances Elliott, critic.

The club has given current events about Spain and Mexico in answer to the roll call and read two Spanish plays. Three reports have been given by various members of the class on the people, customs, and sports of Spain.

Frances Elliott.

CLASS PRESIDENTS MAKE IMPROMPTU SPEECHES

It is the custom of the Colorado High School to have one of the local ministers to deliver a speech to the student body each Wednesday. However, last Wednesday the program varied. Mr. Wilkins called on the class presidents to make an impromptu speech. Annetta Lacey, Betty Hodze, Dorothy Morrison, and Beulah Frances Robinson expressed the aims and ambition of each class and told of the effort that each is putting forth in trying to make this school year a successful one.

Following the speechmaking, the Senior class yell leaders, June Cox and Beeman Dockery led the entire school in some yells. After the necessary announcements the students reported to their classes.

HOME EC. GIRLS GIVE DISPLAY OF SUMMER PROJECT WORK

Thursday the home economics girls that have been doing summer project work gave an exhibition, showing the results of their work. Some reported as many as 1100 hours work. The girls that did this work received an extra half credit in home economics. The projects consisted of cooking, canning, housekeeping, home management, gardening, family marketing, sewing, etc. Martha Nall displayed the most extraordinary exhibit, a rug made out of an old woolen sweater.

MUSIC CLASS WORKS FOR AFFILIATION

The music department under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Mooser is starting with much enthusiasm. Pupils who have a desire to study music and learn to sing by notes instead of by ear are showing a great interest in the class. For the first few days the class is taking up the fundamentals of the music. The class aims to follow the state requirements in order to make music an affiliated subject so the credit will count toward graduation.

CHORAL CLUB ORGANIZED

The Choral Club composed of about thirty high school boys and girls, also under the direction of Mrs. Mooser, is making a good beginning. They are learning for their first song, "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers." Throughout the year they plan to prepare several programs and operettas which will be presented to the public.

NEWS-ITES

The Freshmen wish to express their appreciation to the upper classmen for assisting them during these first weeks of Colorado High School, especially in "working" the lockers.

Beulah R. "Guess that my pen will have to go on itching."

Nancy L. "Why?"

Beulah: "I'm out of scratch paper!"

At the beginning of this year there was a great deal of talk and excitement among the pupils about the new teachers. What did they look like, what kind of personality did they have, did they assign many lessons. These and other questions were passing from the lips of the pupils.

Mr. Wilkins had these questions answered. In chapel, all of the new teachers were introduced and asked to make a talk. The pupils heard some real public speaking. By their conversations, they revealed their interesting and entertaining personalities.

The student body is very pleased with their new teachers and sincerely hope that the teachers will be pleased with them.

SECOND YEAR HOME EC.

The second year home makers have made a careful study of the clothing budget in the family income. The girls have resolved to keep a personal expense account for the entire year. After a brief review of lines, colors, and styles suitable to each figure: the girls selected wool, silk or linen material for tailored dresses and began sewing Monday.

THIRD YEAR HOME EC.

In the third year home making class the girls have been studying about homes for the past two weeks.

September 29th, the class organized a club which they named the "Future Home Makers of America." The officers elected were: President, Kathryn Hodges; vice-president, Marie O'Brien; and secretary-treasurer, Doris Wynne. Miss Hargrove appointed the following committees: Program committee: Blanche Bess Jones, Virginia Whipkey, and Adn Axtell.

Social committee: Doris Wynne, Fae Porter and Beulah Frances Robinson.

Refreshment committee: Joy Hinton, Armorea Whitmore, and Harry Etta Landers.

GLOOM CHASERS!

On Monday, October 5, the gloom chasers, Colorado business men and ministers, gave pep talks to the student body in an effort to raise them from the "dumps" and instill school spirit. The pep rally was very successful in chasing away the gloom of Friday night, as was shown by the yelling of the students afterward. Rev. P. D. O'Brien acted as master of ceremonies and Superintendent Watson and Coaches Clark and Christian also gave short talks. Everyone should be talking, thinking, and living football by next Friday night, so Hamlin had better watch out!

'Gone With The Wind' Is Among New Books In County Federation Library

Three current best-sellers in the world of fiction, including Margaret Mitchell's famed "Gone With The Wind," were added this week to the library which the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs sponsors at the city hall.

The other two added were J. B. Priestley's "They Walk in the City" and Louise Platt Hauck's "Whippoorwill House."

"Gone With The Wind" is known as the most-talked-of novel of recent months. It is an outstanding best-seller and is called the "Miracle book of fiction." Although it contains 1037 pages, it has been described by the New York Tribune as one of the most readable novels ever written.

"They Walk in the City" is said to be even greater than J. B. Priestley's previous best-sellers—"Good Companions" and "Angel Pavement."

These books, more expensive and more recently published than any which the federation library has attempted to furnish to Colorado readers recently, will be on a rental shelf for a time. A small rental fee will be charged each time the books are taken out until the difference between their price and the average price of books in the library is defrayed.

The library already contains nearly 1500 volumes of popular fiction. Books which have been added to the popular fiction shelves recently include Buck Billings' "Wolf of the Pecos," Charles Dutton's "Poison Unknown," Berta Ruck's "Sunshine Stealer," and Florence Riddell's "Silent World."

Membership in the library is $1.00 per year, 50 cents for six months. It is open each Tuesday and Saturday afternoon from 3 until 5:30.

6C ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

6C presented a program in assembly on Friday afternoon. Several members of the class discussed the folk songs of the different countries. Then the class sang:

"Slumber Song," an old French lullaby; "Oh Where, Oh Where Has My Little Dog Gone," a German folk song; "Santa Lucia," and "A Merry Life," Italian folk songs; "Volga Boat Song," a Russian folk song; "Peanuts" and "Polly Wally Doodle," American folk songs.

MISS BROADDUS ENTERTAINS

For the Tuesday assembly program 7A presented Miss Mary Broaddus. Miss Broaddus first gave some interesting facts about two children's poets, Robert Louis Stevenson and Eugene Field. Then she gave several readings. This was one of the most enjoyable assembly programs that has been given.

READING CERTIFICATE

A large number of the Junior High School pupils have started working for reading certificates. These certificates are offered by the state and have the seal of Texas and the signature of the State Superintendent of Education.

To receive one of these certificates a pupil must read twenty books during the school year. A list of books has been placed on the bulletin board in the library. These books are interesting and the pupils have found that the list is a good guide in selecting reading material.

SEVENTH GRADE CLASS WORK

The Social Science classes are still working on their King Cotton unit. Some of the pupils are interested in picking cotton, but all agree that it is much easier just to study about it in class. The boys are working on a model of Eli Whitney's first cotton gin and they are finding it as difficult as the inventor himself found it. The girls are collecting samples of different kinds of cotton cloth for a scrap book.

A study of the newspapers is the new unit in Language Arts. The pupils are reading newspapers and finding that there is more in them than the "funny" section. Some of the boys are studying the sports section to find the amount of space given to the different sports this season. Everyone is interested in the short stories about news reporters and their exciting work.

ORDER!

We wonder which seventh grade section is winning honors in good order in passing to the library now. 7B may have been a winner last week, but 7A and 7C are climbing to the top (very quietly). We challenge the sixth grades to have better order!

ORIGINALITY

The lazy pupil reads a library assignment and tries to write his review of the article in the words of the author. This pupil does not try to understand the author's words. He is so anxious to finish his report that he hurriedly writes words from the book rather than writing clear ideas of his own. He is embarrassed when he is asked to explain his report to the class or to discuss it on a test. His laziness is noticed by everyone.

The industrious pupil reads a library assignment carefully and tries to understand the author's idea. He classes the book and writes his report in his own words. Then when he is asked to explain his report to the class, he has no trouble in giving a clear discussion. The pupil's words are much better for his talk than the author's words would have been. His classmates know that he is an intelligent and industrious pupil because he did not have to "borrow" some other person's words.

Which pupil are you? Your classmates can tell whether you are lazy or industrious. You do not want your friends to think that you have no words of your own and must "borrow" words from some author. Be industrious. Be original.

CARD OF THANKS

In our recent sorrow and grief of the loss of our dear wife, mother, sister, and loved one. To our kind friends and neighbors, we thank each of you for every kind word and deed you did for us and for her. We also thank the Kiker Funeral Home, and for the beautiful floral offerings. You made our burden easier to bear. May God bless you and may you find such true friends in your hour of trouble.

BUT OIL-PLATING LASTS...

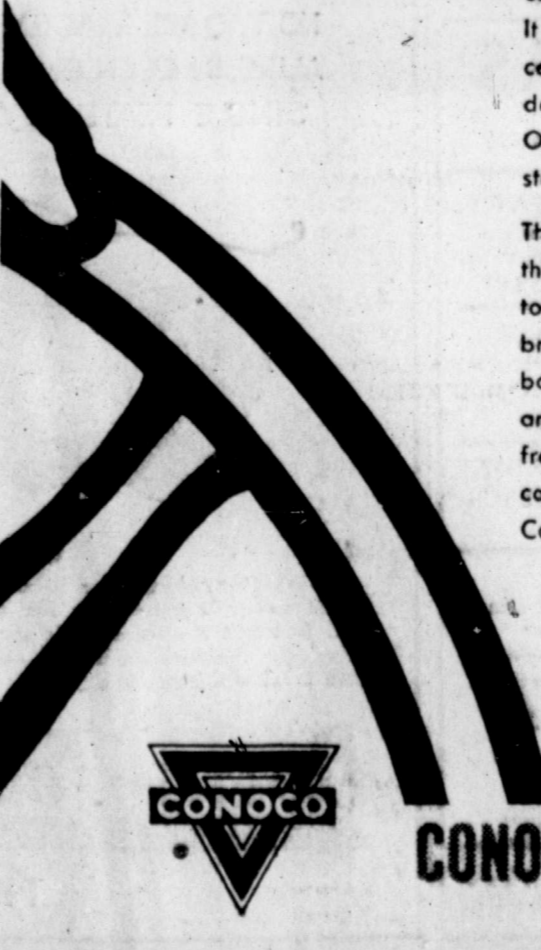

Change today

Right you are. The weather hasn't made up its mind yet. But you don't care, once Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—is Oil-Plating your engine for Winter.

Change to modern Oil-Plating today, for instance. Then every cylinder, piston, bearing and other part is completely Oil-Plated.

And today... tomorrow... next month... as long as you use Germ Processed, this Oil-Plating will still be up there. It gets there by means of the special "hyper-oily concentrate" which is alloyed into Germ Processed oil under patents. In circulating, this oil renews its genuine Oil-Plating, which doesn't return to the crankcase, but stays up all through your engine.

Thus the old cry of "get your right Winter viscosity" isn't the half of it, now that you can get exclusive Oil-Plating, too—a great big extra. Oil-Plating is all ready to lubricate before your starter even turns, and that lets your battery live. Oil-Plating doesn't run off in any weather, and that saves your engine and oil. You keep away from your next quart—your next battery—your next car, by changing today to Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company
