PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

It's a sure sign of senility to be harking back to the "good old days," I realize full well. . . . But when the old year died Thursday night and the new one came in I just couldn't help thinking of the way Colorado used to receive the New Year back "in my day." . . . All the church bells rang—not everybody approved, it's true, but they rang, just the same. . . . The fire bell added its blood-curdling toll. . . . Some sick student managed to get to the school bell and "gave it fits." . . . Somebody sat down on the whistle of the switch engine. . . . The oil mill and gin whistles joined in. . . . Pistols were fired. . . . Cars formed two steady streams on "main street" and went honking up and down, with Roman candles shooting out of one every now and then. . . .

But not so last Thursday night. The Christmas lights downtown went off at midnight just as if it weren't New Year's eve. . . . Except for those going to the midnight matinee the streets were quiet and deserted. . . . The only bell I heard was the fire bell. . . . A few firecrackers tried to be pistol shots. . . . And that was all. . . . Not a whistle screamed. . . .

Well, one has to remember that church bells are scarce nowadays. . . . The old Baptist church bell, the Christian church bell, the Presbyterian bell have gone the way of most good church bells. . . . The school bell days are only a memory. . . . Only the bells at the Methodist and All Saints' Episcopal church remain—and, if memory serves me right, they were always the hardest to get to on New Year's Eve, so maybe people have stopped even trying. . . . I wouldn't know because it's been many moons since I did my last sprint to beat some other "gang" to any particular church bell. . . .

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Perry Barber, who has recently surrendered to the ministry, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church next Sunday morning. He will finish his law degree at State University late in this month, and immediately enter the Southwestern Seminary for Theological training. Although he spoke in the University Baptist church on a recent Sunday evening, this may be considered the official beginning of his ministerial life. We are asking Mr. Jimmie Greene to present him to the congregation. Tell your friends for all will be interested to hear this home town boy launch his ministry.

At the evening hour Dr. Lee R. Scarborough, for more than twenty years president of the Southwestern Seminary, will speak on his recent tour of the South American mission fields. Dr. Scarborough is one of the ranking preachers of the age, and one of the most interesting speakers on any sort of platform today. As stated last week, our Methodist friends are giving way their evening service to hear Dr. Scarborough. All of our friends in and around Colorado are invited to hear him. There will be no collection. Our district missionary Rev. J. J. Strickland is to be present and will introduce Dr. Scarborough.

Mrs. Latham will play a fifteen minute organ concert beginning at 6:45 Sunday evening.

We have just arrived at Olney for the revival and ask an interest in your prayers for the success of the meeting.

DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Sunday school at 9:45.

Worship and sermon at both 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Young People at 6:30 p.m.

The pastor not being able to be at the services last Sunday asked Bro. Bryant to deliver the message at the 11 o'clock hour and conduct the communion service which he did splendidly. Our people were very pleased with the service he gave them. The pastor also appreciated his kindness and thanks him very much.

At the 7:30 hour John Franklin Elliott, son of the pastor, at the request of his father brought the message. The people expressed themselves as being pleased and we have heard, as with Bro. Bryant's message, many compliments. This was John's first sermon to any congregation. John is a ministerial student in the senior class at Austin college, located at Sherman, Texas.

W. M. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Rev. Alex B. Hanson, Minister Sunday services in All Saints' Church, Protestant Episcopal, will be: Morning Prayer and sermon by the Rev. Alex B. Hanson—11:00 a.m. Church School—9:45 a.m. Everyone is most cordially invited to attend the above services.

METHODIST LEAGUE NEWS
The Methodist League met last Sunday night, with Frances Elliott leading the program. The theme of the program was "The New Year and prayers as a help in keeping our resolutions for the New Year." Shirley Kiker read the scripture, and Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon told a story pertaining to the New Year. Frances Elliott and Ruth Elliott discussed the theme of the program.

There will be no League meeting Sunday night as there is to be a district meeting in Big Spring Saturday and Sunday. The gasoline for the trip will be paid by the League for any one who is willing to take his car. All League members are sincerely urged to attend this district meeting.—Reporter.

HOSPITAL NEWS

TOMMY DAWES BETTER
Tommy Dawes, who has been in the hospital since December 26 suffering from double pneumonia has recovered sufficiently to be up part of the time in a wheel chair. He will remain in the hospital about one more week, then return to his teaching duties.

MRS. BODINE HOME SOON
Mrs. Pat Bodine, who suffered the loss of her left arm as the result of a Christmas auto accident previously reported, is convalescing nicely and will be able to return to her home in Midland in a week or ten days.

FARMERS FEAR BUMPER CROPS MAY MEAN LOW PRICES DURING 1937

Farmers fear that overproduction in 1937 may result in a crash of prices, since short 1936 crops caused higher farm prices.

Department of Agriculture officials believe that only another drought can prevent a bumper 1937 crop, as acreage limitations have been taken off all crops except corn in all of the states except ten where the soil conservation program is under way.

As a result of extensive droughts, normal yields were reduced 20 per cent this year, but increases in prices brought the total farm income to $9,530,000,000, the highest income for any one year since 1929 and an increase of $1,022,000,000 over last year and almost twice as much as the depression low in 1932.

Wheat production, increased the comparatively small amount of 117,000 bushels, but income climbed from $103,106,000 to $624,325,000. The highest since 1929, December wheat prices reached $1.37 per bushel. In 1935, production totaled 616,344,000 and in 1936, 626,561,000.

Hardest hit by the drought was the corn crop, but an increase of 50 cents a bushel during the past year raised the farm value of that product from $1,505,396,000 in 1935 to $1,514,203,000 in 1936. Highest since 1928, the December Chicago Exchange price was quoted at $1.09 per bushel.

With the exception of 1934, corn production this year was the lowest since 1901. For a total of 1,523,317,000 bushels, the average yield was 16.5 bushels per acre, as compared with a yield of 24.1 bushels per acre last year for a total of 2,296,669,000 bushels.

Despite the fact that little change was made in the cotton price this year over last, farmers in the south will realize $760,386,000 from this year's crop of approximately 12,407,000 bales, as compared with $590,136,000 received from the 1935 crop of 10,638,000 bales.

The Federal Crop Reporting Board announces that the farm value of other crops and increases over last year included: Hay, $775,213,000—an increase of $11,609,000; potatoes, $347,000,000, an increase of $136,332,000; oats, 634,610,000, an increase of 634,020,000.

Gross income for 1936 was $9,530,000,000, realized from $3,870,000,000 of livestock products and $4,800,000,000 from benefit payments for compliance in 1935 with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Payments for compliance this year with the soil conservation act are being made at the rate of 1,000,000 a day, but the greater part of the $5,000,000 appropriated for that purpose will be paid out in 1937.

Estimated total of 1936 income was set by Secretary Wallace at $9,200,000,000 in his annual report to President Roosevelt.

Surpluses of most crops during the past four years of below normal production have been reduced to the lowest figure in a number of years.

Although prices to consumers this winter will be up 10 per cent, Wallace said that food supplies will be only about three per cent below last year.

Virtually no control over crop production is provided by the new soil conservation act. Wallace will attempt to limit acreage to approximately that of this year in the 1937 program for the corn belt.

Unemployment Compensation In Texas

Editor's Note:—Following are questions and answers prepared by R. B. Anderson, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, which is an interpretation in simplified terms of the various provisions of the recently-enacted Texas Unemployment Compensation Act.
 Further questions and answers in this series will appear in this paper from time to time.

WHEN BENEFITS TO WORKERS BEGIN

QUESTION 1: "When will the payment of benefits to workers start under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act?"

ANSWER: Payments will begin on January 1, 1938. This is a very important fact for every employee to remember. Why? Because your possible compensation, if you become unemployed during 1938, will be figured on the basis of your employment record during 1937.

If you have steady employment during 1937, you will be entitled to more benefits in case you lose your job in 1938. On the other hand, if your employment record for 1937 is poor, your compensation will be strictly limited until you have improved your record of employment.

Just how this system of "credits" works will be fully explained in a later article. The important fact to remember now is this—your employment record during 1937 will have an important bearing on the credits you build up.

Unemployment compensation may be compared to a savings account. Until you have put something in, you cannot draw anything out.

You, as a worker, will want to understand the other sections of the Texas law so that you will know what to do to build up the best possible record. The aim of unemployment compensation is to keep men in jobs. This fact will become clearer as these articles proceed.

WHAT BENEFITS CAN I EXPECT?

QUESTION 2: As an employee, suppose I become unemployed in 1938. What benefits may I expect when the Commission begins payments to the unemployed?

ANSWER: In the first place, you must realize that to receive any benefits at all, you must meet certain eligibility requirements. Questions concerning these eligibility requirements will be discussed later.

But suppose that you are eligible. The law sets up a maximum and a minimum for benefits, but the average rate of benefits is 50 per cent of the weekly wage.

With the following examples, you may take your own present wage and determine just what you could expect to receive if you become unemployed:

(1) All persons who have a wage of more than $30 a week will receive the maximum benefits—$15.00 a week.

(2) Those whose wage falls between $10 a week and $30 a week will receive an amount equal to one-half their weekly wage. If your pay was $20 a week, your benefit, if totally unemployed, will be $10.

(3) Those whose wage is between $10 a week and $25 a week are entitled to benefits of $5 a week. Those whose wage is less than $25 a week will receive an amount equal to three-fourths of the weekly wage. If you are getting $6 a week and become unemployed, then you will get $4.50 a week.

THE EFFECT OF PART-TIME WORK ON BENEFITS

QUESTION 3: "Suppose I lose my job, but had a chance to get another at considerably less money, say a part-time job. Would my taking the part-time job deprive me of benefits? In other words, could I make more money by not working?"

ANSWER: As was said before, this law was designed to encourage employment, not unemployment. Therefore, it has been worked out so that the man with part-time work will have a larger income than the man who is totally unemployed.

You are eligible for limited benefits if you are "partially unemployed." The law says a man is partially unemployed when he earns, in a new job, an amount "less than six-fifths" of the amount he would have received in compensation had he been unable to find part-time work.

Example: Suppose you were making $30 a week and lost your job. Being totally unemployed, you would be entitled to $15 per week as compensation. However, you get a part-time job paying $18 per week. The sum of $18 equals exactly six-fifths of $15; therefore, you would not be entitled to any benefits.

But if your new wage is only $12, your wage is less than six-fifths of the compensation you are entitled to. Therefore, you are entitled to "partial employment benefits." The question now is—"How much will I get?"

The law says that in such cases the benefit shall be an amount equal to the difference between the possible weekly benefit ($15 in your case) and five-sixths of your new wage. Your new wage is $12. Five-sixths of $12 is 10.

The difference between $15 and $10 is $5, which would be the amount of your benefit. Now, this $5 added to your wage of $12 gives you a total income of $17.

Therefore, it paid you to get part-time employment.

HOW LONG CAN I DRAW BENEFITS?

QUESTION 4: "If I lost my job and was unable to find another, how long could I continue to draw compensation under the Unemployment Compensation Act? Indefinitely?"

ANSWER: In answering this question, it becomes increasingly plain why the worker must guard his "credits"—the possible benefits or compensation he may draw—and save them for a rainy day. These compensation benefits are meant to reduce unemployment, not to encourage it; and benefits are designed only to help tide a man over from the time he loses one job until he finds another. The number of weeks you can draw compensation depends entirely upon your record of employment in previous months.

To be more exact—for every week you work, you build up a "credit" of one-fourth of a week of benefits. You must work four weeks to build up one week of benefit credit.

But there is another restriction—you cannot use more than 15 of these benefit weeks in any one year.

However, if, in any one year, you are unemployed for longer than 15 weeks, it still may be possible for you to get additional weeks of compensation. The "15" is your previous record of employment.

Under the first provision you built up credits at the rate of one week of benefits for four weeks of work. But after you have used up all your benefits, you still may draw benefits at the rate of one-twentieth of a week of benefits for each week of employment during the preceding 260 weeks or five years.

Let's see how this works out: You have been employed for 260 weeks or five years; then you lose your job. For the first 15 weeks you are out of work and drawing benefits, you use up sixty weeks of credit (at a rate of four-to-one), leaving you a credit of 200 weeks.

Now, the rate changes to twenty-to-one, and at the rate of one week of benefits for each 20 weeks you have worked, you still can draw ten more weeks of benefits.

Therefore, the positive maximum of benefits that a person can draw during any one year is 25 weeks.

HOW CREDITS ARE USED UP

QUESTION 5: "In the previous article, you described the system of credits. Suppose I am only partially unemployed, and receive only partial benefits. Do I use up four weeks of credits; or twenty weeks as the case may be, for each week of partial benefits?"

ANSWER: No. Your use of credits is based on the actual amounts to which you would have been entitled had you been wholly unemployed.

In other words, if your partial benefits are only $7.50 per week when you are entitled to $15 a week for total unemployment, you will be charged with only $7.50. You will, in such a case, use up two weeks of your credits rather than four.

If you have any questions concerning the operation of this law as it affects employers or workers, you can have your questions answered by writing to R. B. Anderson, chairman, Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Austin.

PENNY PITCHERS HAD A TOUGH TIME IN OLD DAYS, WELLS REVEALS

Illegal and punishable by law "to steal anything from a neighbor without that neighbor's consent or to pitch pennies or play marbles for keeps"—and a criminal offense "for any person, male or female, brown or white, married or single or any derivation or degree thereof to wade, paddle, swim, dive or duck into the water of any irrigation ditch within the city limits!"

Thus did the first mayor of El Paso undertake to "clean up" what is now one of the Southwest's greatest cities, the history and attractions of which Carveth Wells will describe at 6:30 Saturday night over station WFAA, Dallas, in the second of the new series of "Exploring America" radio programs sponsored by Continental Oil Company.

"El Paso is a metropolis of sunshine and health," says the internationally known explorer, "since it can boast of 331 days of sunshine annually and a health-giving altitude of 4,000 feet. It is a land of January shirt-sleeve golf. Yet, within a three-hour drive to the snow-blanketed timberland of the high Sacramento at Cloudercroft, you can use your ski, toboggans and snowshoes."

Furthermore, Wells declares, El Paso serves as excellent headquarters for side trips to nearby Carlsbad Cavern, White Sands at Alamogordo, the old missions of Ysleta and Socorro east of El Paso, the remarkable salt lakes known as Crow Flats northeast of the city, and Juarez, Mexico.

COLORADO STUDENTS IN TARLETON RATE HONORS

STEPHENVILLE.—Sam Venable, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Venable, and Charles Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, both of Colorado, have been named to the John Tarleton College scholastic honor roll for the second preliminary period in an announcement from Registrar Gabe Lewis today.

Venable, a senior in the department of chemical engineering, and Walker, a junior in the department of Business Administration, were among 106 students, from John Tarleton's student body of more than one thousand, to merit the honor roll by making grades of at least 80 on each course taken.

After a two-week holiday visiting at their respective homes, the boys have returned to Tarleton to complete their first semester's work. Registration for the second semester will not begin until January 25.

Other Tarleton students from Colorado are: Frank Blasingame, son of Mrs. E. Blasingame, junior, chemical engineering; H. H. Bodine, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bodine, junior, General Agriculture; J. L. Galey, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Galey, senior, veterinarian medicine; Memphis Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porter, senior, social science; Darroll Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith, senior, agricultural education; Vestal Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, junior, home economics; Louis Taylor, son of Mrs. Lou Taylor, junior, mechanical engineering; John S. Venable, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Venable, senior, electrical engineering; and Jack Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wood, senior, chemical engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Keathley have moved from the Alamo hotel, where they have been living since their marriage, to South Colorado. They have bought the home at 804 Concho street formerly owned by Dr. Havens. They will raise chickens and livestock and also continue to operate their store.

BRIGHT DAYS PREDICTED FOR THE OIL INDUSTRY

ly speaking, is the 1937 business horizon of the petroleum industry. Almost without exception, its leaders agree, the many-sided business faces the best prospects in history.

Barring unforeseen developments, they look forward to an even higher peak in the prosperity to which it climbed in 1935 and 1936.

Just one cloud, in the immediate foreground of the picture, has oilmen concerned today. That is whether the 17-cent advance in crude prices, initiated by Continental and effective Jan. 4, will be followed by other major companies.

Barnsdall followed Continental's lead but resistance to the hike maintained unofficially by other major companies, was apparent.

General predictions a month ago were that other companies would await action of regulatory bodies in setting January allowables. Then the Texas Railroad commission increased the state's allowable for January to 1,248,907 barrels daily, compared to the bureau of mines estimated demand of 1,170,000 barrels. Louisiana also increased its allowable for January.

The new year will find the industry divided into two camps on the question. It was a problem expected to be disposed of speedily.

Foremost prosperity prediction was the statement of Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission and interstate oil compact commission.

"The greatest prosperity in the oil business that America ever has seen," was his prediction, followed with the statement that oil reserves in storage had been reduced 50,000,000 barrels, with only 50 days supply above the ground.

WIRES SENT TO HIGHWAY COMMISSION REGARDING SURVEY FOR ROAD SOUTH

Wires asking the State Highway commission to give immediate consideration to the making of a survey to determine the route of the recently designated Highway 101 from Colorado to Robert Lee were sent to the commission by various Mitchell county and Colorado officials while it was in regular session Monday.

One wire was sent by Judge A. F. King, representing Mitchell county. Another was signed by the highway committee of the Colorado chamber of commerce—Bob Fee, C. C. Thompson, and Benton Templeton. A third was signed by J. A. Sadler, mayor of Colorado.

So far nothing has been heard concerning the survey.

NEW CONSTITUTION OF COLORADO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPLACES FORMER DOCUMENT

Replacing the provisions under which the Colorado chamber of commerce has operated since its organization, the chamber's new constitution was released for publication last week. The new constitution reads:

BE IT ORDAINED by the members of the COLORADO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE of Colorado, Texas:

THAT the existing constitution and By-Laws of this organization be, and the same are, hereby in all respects repealed, and in lieu thereof the following constitution be, and same is, hereby adopted.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I
 NAME: The official name of this organization shall be "COLORADO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE."

ARTICLE II
 PURPOSE: The purpose of this organization shall be to organize the citizens of Colorado for the purpose of co-ordinating efforts, and, through a unified, democratic organization, work together in the sponsoring and promotion of all things pertaining to the welfare, betterment and continued growth and prosperity of Colorado and Mitchell County. Further: and to further the interests agriculturally, industrially, socially and educationally.

ARTICLE III
 LIABILITY OF MEMBERS: This organization shall be non-profit-sharing; shall not constitute a partnership; the members shall in no sense be considered as joint adventurers in any enterprise, and no member shall be legally liable for any obligation of the organization unless such liability be evidenced in writing duly executed by such member.

ARTICLE IV
 MEMBERSHIP—Dues: The minimum annual dues of a regular voting member shall be twelve dollars ($12.00) per year, payment of which shall entitle the member so paying to one membership vote, providing further that any person, firm or corporation holding membership is entitled to one membership vote for each twelve dollars paid; providing, however, that no firm shall be entitled to more than ten membership votes regardless of the amount paid, it being further understood that any firm desiring to claim the privilege of casting more than one membership vote, and provided said member is entitled to more than one membership vote, shall before and prior to such voting file the names in writing of each person entitled to casting a vote by such membership dues. Upon such certification, such representatives as above named whose names shall have been filed, if and when conditions are met complying with payment of dues, are entitled to full representation as the principal numbers; it being further understood, however, that any person present may cast all of the votes for any firm if and when such person has been authorized by such firm.

ARTICLE V
 BOARD OF DIRECTORS—Powers: The control and management of this Chamber of Commerce shall be vested in a Board of Directors composed of twelve men to be elected by the membership. Such board shall control all funds, shall employ a manager and shall be vested with all powers not herein excepted, it being understood, however, that the manager shall have the right to employ and operate all office help. The above directors shall be elected by the membership by ballot in a manner prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time, it being understood, however, that any member can nominate any member for a director at any regular election, and the membership will have a right to vote upon such nominated candidate whether or not his name has been placed on the ballot. No director shall have a right to more than one vote.

BY-LAWS: The Board of Directors shall promulgate and adopt all By-Laws deemed necessary, which By-Laws, when so adopted, shall be carefully preserved and attached or bound to this constitution, which constitution, together with all adopted By-Laws and the amendments, shall stand as the regulatory law governing all business of this Chamber until repealed.

QUORUM: A quorum of the Board empowered to transact all business shall be seven members. A two-thirds affirmative vote of the directors present in any meeting of a quorum of the Board is sufficient to pass such resolutions and such resolution then becomes legal.

ARTICLE VI
 THE PRESIDENT: The Board of Directors shall annually elect one of their number to serve as President, and he shall serve as Chairman of the Board, preside at all Board and Membership meetings, and perform the other customary duties of a president and presiding officer of a Chamber of Commerce, providing further that no person shall serve as President of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce more than three consecutive years.

This said board shall also elect a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President and a Treasurer. In the absence of the President, the First Vice-President shall serve as President. In case of the absence of both the President, and the First Vice-President, the Second Vice-President shall serve as presiding officer. In case of the absence of the President, First Vice-President and Second Vice-President, the Board may select one of its members to act as presiding officer.

The President shall appoint all committees subject to the approval of the Directors. The President shall call a meeting of the Board of Directors at his pleasure.

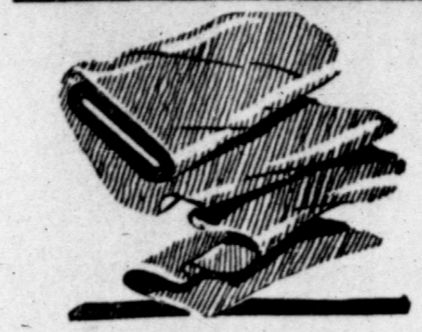

ARTICLE VII
 MEMBERSHIP SUPREME: All matters pertaining to the Chamber of Commerce of Colorado, Texas, are subject to the will of the membership, which membership is supreme. Upon vote of the majority present of a quorum of directors, the Secretary is hereby authorized to call a membership meeting. The Secretary is also authorized to call meeting upon the written request of twelve members of the Chamber of Commerce upon the refusal of the Presi-

ARTICLE VIII
 The present Board of Directors of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce shall serve at the time of each individual member in accordance with his election. The President shall appoint a committee known as the Nominating Committee whose duties shall be to accept suggestions from the membership and prepare a ballot of not less than eighteen names, said names to be selected from the members, which ballot shall be used at the annual election of officers, or in some other manner prescribed by the Board of Directors, personnel of such Nominating Committee to be approved by such Board of Directors. The President, subject to approval of the Board of Directors, shall have complete charge of directing all details of the election, canvassing of the returns. It shall further be the duty of the retiring President to administer the following pledge to all selected Directors:

"I, _____, consider my election to serve as a director in the Colorado Chamber of Commerce as a trust which I will faithfully discharge to the best of my ability for the good of Colorado and Mitchell County; and I solemnly promise so long as I remain such officer, to make an earnest attempt to attend all business sessions and to assist in the transaction in a businesslike manner of all things coming before this Board."

ORGANIZATION OF BOARD: Immediately upon the election of the six members annually, and upon their having taken the pledge, the retiring President shall call a meeting of such Directors for the purpose of electing officers as provided in Article V of this Constitution. In the absence of the retiring President, the Secretary of the organization or any member of the Directorate is hereby authorized to call such meeting. Each Director so elected shall serve for a period of two years. The six members receiving the largest number of votes cast shall be declared elected, said declaration to be made by the President of the organization. If any selected officer is absent at the time of election or installation, such officer shall be installed by the president at any meeting during thirty days after such election, it being understood, however, that such place shall be declared vacant at the discretion of the President provided said officer fails to qualify within thirty days from his election. It is further understood that if a vacancy occurs on the Board of Directors of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce from any cause, the Board of Directors by a two-thirds vote of a Quorum meeting of the Board of Directors elects any member of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce to fill such vacancy, such person to take the pledge prior to an installation by the President.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION
 This Constitution shall remain in full force and effect until amended in the following manner: All amendments must be presented to the membership in writing, a copy of which must be presented to the Secretary not less than ten days prior to the meeting at which a constitutional change is to be recommended, and that no constitutional change shall be made at any membership meeting unless due notice has been given to the membership that a constitutional change or amendment is proposed.

Time Out For A "Pick-Me-Up"

By Mabel Love

FRUIT Juices are important says the doctors and dietitians, and Betty Furness, charming M-G-M star featured in the screen success "The All-American Chump," thoroughly agrees with them.

When feeling fatigued after long hours before the camera, Miss Furness has found that a glass of pineapple juice provides a remarkably quick-acting energy restorer. The vitamin content of the juice is a big help in keeping her fit, too, she says.

As a "pick-me-up" or an appetizer she likes the chilled juice, but she also suggests the following recipe for a delicious beverage for chilly evenings:

Mulled Pineapple Juice
1 inch of stick cinnamon
3 whole cloves
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 quart canned Hawaiian pineapple juice
Pinch of salt

Tie the spices in a small piece of cheesecloth, add them to the pineapple juice and bring to the boiling point. Add salt. Serve hot with crackers and cheese, 4 to 6 servings.

Daughters of Colonists Meet

When officers of the Daughters of the American Colonists met for a luncheon in the lounge of the Ford building at the Texas Centennial Exposition, in Dallas, which will close on Saturday, they were photographed as a group. Seated in the foreground, S. Calfee, national president, who lives in St. Louis, has been the honor guest. From left to right, the others are: Mrs. Charles H. West, honorary state regent; Mrs. E. E. Chrestman, honorary state regent; and Mrs. Alvin Valentine Lane, state regent.

And Can They Harmonize!

They're not "one eye hands" not when they get together for a little real harmony. They visited the Texas Centennial Exposition and during their stay in the Ford building played to big audiences. From left to right: Dan L. and Billy, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown, of Dallas, Texas. Billy has had a few music lessons, but his brother plays expertly by ear. They have appeared on radio programs since they began playing as a trio.

Bond Election

Required Number Of Signers
To Be Presented To City Council Monday

Voters of Colorado are being given an opportunity this week to sign a petition asking the city council to call an election on the issuance of 4% bonds in the amount of $12,000 to be applied on a city auditorium and community club house.

The law requires that such petitions shall be signed by at least 10% of the number of voters in the last city election.

Plans are to present the petition with the required number of signatures to the city council at its regular session Monday night.

Mrs. J. A. Sadler, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs, stated Wednesday that clubwomen are willing to cooperate fully in securing an auditorium for Colorado along with their community clubhouse if such is possible. Plans for the filing of a project application for construction of a building as a WPA project. Rural Electrification In Parts Of County Assured Following Meeting

Electrification is to be brought to a number of farm homes in the northern part of Mitchell county and in the southern part of Scurry county in the near future.

This was assured at a meeting of rural electrification committeemen interested in farm home owners and Texas Electric Service company officials at Dunn Wednesday afternoon. The committeemen and farm owners were from both Mitchell and Scurry counties.

All agreements made by the power company, however, were conditional that projects shall be properly worked out in each interested community.

Although the arrangement which was reached is an outgrowth of agitation which was begun several months ago to secure benefits of the government's Rural Electrification Administration in this section no government funds will be sought or involved in the work of bringing electricity and its conveniences to these rural homes.

Waters also was under consideration.

The committee believes adoption of a uniform vehicle code of traffic regulation, as approved by the National Conference of street and highway control, would effect better control of traffic throughout the nation, and make it easier for motorists to drive from one state to another.

Waters said he was opposed to compulsory liability insurance for drivers which could develop into a "racket." However, the committee hopes, he said to evolve some method of requiring drivers to show financial responsibility.

One suggestion was to give the state authority to revoke the license of a driver who failed to satisfy a court judgment for damage resulting from an accident.

Long Distance
Rate Reduction in keeping with a long-standing Bell System policy

A series of rate reductions in the last ten years has substantially cut the cost of Long Distance telephone service.

Reductions have been made nearly every year since 1926, except in the depression years 1931-1934—in accordance with a long-standing Bell System policy to reduce Long Distance rates whenever improvements in telephony and the volume of business allow it to be done.

The latest reduction becomes effective January 15, 1937. Savings are possible on many, not all, interstate calls. Long Distance will give you the new rates after the change is effective.

TROPHIES FOR CAGE TOURNAMENT SHOWN
Trophies which are to be awarded in the sixth annual invitation basketball tournament of Colorado High school Thursday, Friday, and Saturday have been on display this week in the J. P. Majors show window.
All trophies were furnished through donations by Colorado business men, according to G. A. Wilkins, principal of Colorado High school.
Trophies are provided for the following:
Winners of the championship and the consolation rounds, runners-up of the championship rounds; third and fourth place teams of the championship round; individual awards to the five players chosen on the all-tournament team; the five best players in the consolation round; the high point man; the player displaying the best sportsmanship.

JOHN DEFFEBACH TO ACCEPT POSITION IN FORT WORTH OFFICE
John A. Deffebach, who has been assistant manager of Burton-Lingo lumber yard here for the past eight years, will become assistant manager of the Fort Worth yard on February 1, it was announced this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Deffebach and daughter, Carol, are planning to move to Fort Worth late this month.
Deffebach's place here is to be filled by Roy Oxford of Stephenville. Oxford arrived Monday and is now learning Deffebach's duties.
Deffebach is vice-president of the Colorado Lions club and holds other civic offices. Mrs. Deffebach is prominent socially, belonging to the Bridgettes and other clubs.

LONG-PREDICTED BLIZZARD IS HERE IN FULL FORCE
Just as Coloradans were beginning to believe that balmy weather was usually to be counted on when the radio and newspapers predict a blizzard the season's first serious cold spell arrived Wednesday night—exactly as weather reports had said it would.
Thermometers Thursday morning stood at 18 and 20 degrees. Exposed hydrants were frozen and a fine sheety mist, almost imperceptible as it fell, was giving grass and trees, pavement and sidewalks a coating of white ice at noon.

VISITS IN KERMIT
Mrs. Doug Rutherford spent last week with her husband in Kermit. She was a guest while there in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ekas, former Coloradans.
J. M. DORN ABOUT THE SAME
"About the same" was the report given on the condition of J. M. Dorn Thursday morning. Mr. Dorn is seriously ill at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Rube Hart.

POST IN SYLVESTER'S PLACE IN TOURNAMENT
The place which Sylvester's team was to have filled in Colorado High school's sixth annual invitation basketball tournament this week-end will be taken by Post. It was announced Wednesday afternoon word was received that Sylvester's team would be unable to take part.
Hayes Holman, former principal of Colorado Junior High school and now superintendent at Post, will be here with the Post team. Post will play Abilene Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

DAVISON PROMISES HIS COOPERATION IN GETTING HIDE, ANIMAL INSPECTOR
A promise to cooperate with Mitchell county cattlemen in bringing about the re-establishment of the office of hide and animal inspector in this county was implied in a letter received this week by J. H. Greene from Howard Davison of Rotan, state representative from the 117th district.
The letter was in reply to one written by Greene, manager of the Colorado chamber of commerce, in mid-December at the request of Mitchell county cattlemen, headed by Lay Powell and others. The cattlemen are trying to secure the services of a hide and animal inspector for the county.
"I have purposely neglected answering your letter of mid-December with the thought in mind that I would be in Colorado soon after receiving it," Mr. Davison wrote, "and discuss the matter of re-establishing the office of hide and animal inspector with you and others that were interested in this matter. You and the cattlemen of that area and the rest of Mitchell county decide what you want and what is best for the cattlemen and the county and you can depend upon my cooperating with you as I have in the past."

40th Anniversary of Diesel Power

(1) Diesel engine, first ever to finish 500 mile Indianapolis grind without stopping for fuel.
(2) B. C. Heacock, President, Caterpillar Tractor Company, world's largest builder Diesel engines.
(3) New 10-car diesel Denver Zephyr.
(4) Plowing with a Caterpillar tractor, one of hundreds of "Dieselized" farm jobs handled at low cost.
(5) 48-foot cruiser powered by twin Diesel engines.

Diesel power is 40 years old in the United States. More than 300 of the country's leading engineers and industrialists met at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, recently to celebrate the anniversary—and to honor the memory of Dr. Rudolf Diesel, inventor.
Diesels are internal combustion engines, but differ from gasoline engines, in that they operate on cheap low grade fuel oil which is fired by the heat of compression rather than by electric ignition.
Modern lightweight zephyr type trains, capable of sustaining speeds of 100 miles per hour or more, are diesel powered.
A small diesel powered passenger car has been driven from Los Angeles to New York on $7.63 total fuel cost. A 32-passenger bus has made the same trip East to West on less than $25.00 fuel cost!
Trans-Atlantic line ferries, tug boats, large and small yachts, fishing vessels, freighters, naval craft, and others employ diesel power to extend operating ranges and to lower fuel cost.
Nearly 100 American manufacturers are building these economical "power giants" in units of from 10 to 20,000 horsepower. One of these, Caterpillar Tractor Company, Peoria, Illinois, has in five years become the world's largest producer of diesel power, employing a continuous assembly line for the purpose, the only one in the country.
Caterpillar alone has built nearly 1,500,000 horsepower, represented by more than 21,000 diesel engines. On countless farms, in trackless mountains, at Alaska mining claims, in city pumping stations and lighting plants, in hundreds of mobile and stationary power jobs, these are working dependably, characteristically free from breakdown, at one-fifth normal internal combustion engine fuel cost.
With American production this year 21 times greater than the 1932 output, the future of Diesel power is brilliant indeed according to Charles F. Kettering, Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker, B. C. Heacock and other well informed experts who addressed the anniversary meeting.

Permanent Markers for Famous Old Cow Trail Suggested By Oklahoman
Bluebonnet Girl Points Way

Frances Nalle, official Bluebonnet girl at the Texas Centennial in Dallas, which closes November 23, is wearing a real blue bonnet here and a dress of the period when great herds of cattle were moved over the Chisholm Trail out of Texas. Miss Nalle is standing beside a marker which was sent to the Ford exhibit by P. P. Ackley of Elk City, Oklahoma, who as a one-time cattle driver is interested in permanently marking the famous cow trail. Miss Nalle is an employe of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, co-exhibitor in the Ford building.

Helping preserve the history of the old Chisholm trail, one of the most famous cattle trails in the United States, P. P. Ackley of Elk City, Okla., who as a youth worked as a cattle driver, is interested in a movement to mark the cattle route. He has sent one of the markers to the Ford exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, where it has been installed on a reproduced section of the Chisholm trail.
The Ford exhibit includes nine reproductions of famous "Roads of the Southwest." The Chisholm trail is particularly well known to the older residents who engaged in the cattle business.
Ackley, who for years helped drive great herds of cattle over sections of the Chisholm trail, has been trying to stir interest in marking the cattle route permanently. He has made several of the markers such as has been installed on the replica of the trail at the Ford building.
The era of Texas cow trails was well under way by 1867. They followed the natural water courses and connected producing and consuming areas. From 1867 to 1898, more than 98 million cattle and 17 million horses were driven from Texas to northern markets and sold for more than 243 million dollars. Texas was the chief producer of livestock in the western states.
The Chisholm trail was named after John (Jesse) Chisholm, a half-breed Cherokee trader and frontier stockman of Paris, Texas. He was the first to use the trail in supplying the frontier forts of Kansas with foodstuffs. The trail ran from the Rio Grande in Cameron County, Texas, to Dodge City, Kansas.

C of C Directors Approve Petition For Higher Bonds
Body Also Accepts Budget Of $6,000 At Breakfast Meeting Thursday
Holding a breakfast business session at the Colorado hotel Thursday morning, members of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce approved a petition asking the city council for an election on $12,000 instead of $8,000 worth of bonds for a city auditorium and accepted a chamber of commerce budget of $6,000 for the year 1937.
The organization is sponsoring a petition asking the city council to call an election on the issuance of 4% bonds for the city's part in the proposed city auditorium and community clubhouse. As originally worked out the petition specified $8,000 worth of bonds but a recent change in rules governing WPA projects made $12,000 worth of city bonds necessary if the project is to go through. The full $12,000 worth may not be used, it was pointed out, but that amount should be voted as a precautionary measure.
The change was made before any signatures were placed on the petition. The proposed bonds would run from one to fifteen years and would cost each taxpayer less than 40¢ per $1,000 per year, according to those sponsoring the petition.
The $6,000 budget with the directors accepted was worked out and submitted by Tom Stonerod, chairman of the finance committee.
LOGAN HATCHERY MEN ATTEND CONVENTION
Jesse Welch, hatchery operator and poultry specialist with the Logan & Son hatchery here, and B. C. Ward, one of his assistants, were in Fort Worth this week attending the annual Purina Mills convention.
Latest poultry feeding methods were studied at the convention. The two Colorado men were to come home via Stephenville and Dublin to inspect hatchery plants in those places.

RURAL CLUB GIRLS TO HAVE DEMONSTRATIONS ON POULTRY, CLOTHING
Plenty of educational activities will be fostered by the club girls. A "Get acquainted party" for all club girls will be held Feb. 20. In June 29-30 an excursion will be held to feature special recreational activities. In September the Clothing and Poultry demonstrations will hold achievement days. To honor those that complete all of the demonstration goals a special party will be given in December by the clubwomen.
Each girls' club will be met once a month by the county home demonstration agent, once a month by a selected local sponsor. A yearbook with outlined programs will be issued to each girl in January.

Changes announced this week in positions of several officials at the district WPA office in Abilene were noted with interest here because WPA projects in Colorado and Mitchell county are controlled through the Abilene office.

W. B. James, director of district 13, has made R. C. Hoppe, formerly project supervisor for the district, his assistant director. Hoppe will continue to supervise the district of operations, however. The position of assistant director was formerly held by John M. Hendrix, who returned to become assistant manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

Doyle F. Brooks was appointed supervisor of emergency education succeeding Nolan Schilze, who has been transferred to the Brownwood district.

Hugh V. Henning, well-known here because of having been stationed here by the state highway construction department before becoming connected with the WPA office at Abilene, will continue in the position of field supervisor and will also act as assistant to Hoppe.

CHANGES IN WPA OFFICE AT ABILENE NOTED HERE

COLORADO, TEXAS, JANUARY 8, 1937

WHIPKEY PRINTING CO.

SERIES OF ADS ON CURATIVE POWERS OF MEDICINE IS BEGUN

Designed to impress the people of Colorado with the fact that modern medicine can conquer virtually every ill of mankind if treatment is begun soon enough by a doctor of medicine, a series of ads released through the Colorado Drug store by the Physician's Expansion Bureau begins in The Record this week.

The series is known as the RX series and each ad aims to instruct Colorado people on important matters of medical care.

While in Colorado making arrangements for releasing the series Lloyd C. Thompson, National director of the Physicians' Expansion Bureau, stated that the Colorado Drug, with Jack Mayes as manager, maintains an ethical pharmacy where prices are kept as low as possible consistent with the high quality of merchandise carried.

1937 AUTOMOBILE PLATES HERE AND WILL BE SOLD AFTER FEBRUARY FIRST

License Plates Must Not Be Put On Cars Before April First, However

Twenty-six hundred 1937 license plates for Mitchell county cars have been received at the office of Roy Warren, tax assessor-collector, according to Jack Helton, deputy.

They won't go on sale until February 1, however, and aren't to be placed on cars before April 1—but they must be in evidence on and after April 1, which is making many Mitchell countians wonder if midnight March 31 won't be a busy occasion for car owners.

The plates have a black background with cream numerals and they begin with 807-251 and run through 2600 counts.

Ten states will feature "taxpayer blue" in the color schemes of the 1937 automobile license plates.

Other colors will include Erin green, Moscow red, and oriental yellow. Silver and gold have increased in popularity, the American Automobile Association reports.

Most of the states using "taxpayer blue" have high gasoline sales tax rates. One state has a 6c tax, three states a 5c tax, four a 4c tax, and two a 3c tax.

COUNTY, CITY OFFICIALS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN LUBBOCK ON FRIDAY

County, city, and chamber of commerce officials of Colorado and Mitchell county plan to attend a called meeting of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' association in Lubbock Friday afternoon.

Consideration of relief problems now facing counties and cities with particular regard to proposed curtailment of WPA activities will occupy the group.

Among those planning to attend from here are A. F. King, county judge; Jack Smith, Frank Crowder, J. E. Skelton, and J. S. Boyd, county commissioners; J. H. Greene, manager of the Colorado chamber of commerce; and J. A. Sadler, mayor of Colorado.

The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock at the Hilton hotel in Lubbock. Judge Alvin R. Allison of Levelland, president of the judges-commissioners organization, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Wallis of Sweetwater visited Mrs. J. D. Wulfjen Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Gunter Gives Her Report For 1936 In The Form Of A Legacy To Her Clubs

In writing her annual report of home demonstration club work for 1936, Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, has chosen to give it the form of a legacy outlining the benefits which her club women and club girls have received from their work.

Bearing the title, "A Legacy of 1936," Miss Gunter's report follows: "Realizing the many benefits which do accrue unto those who faithfully follow up in detail a well outlined plan of work.

"1. To the women in the eight clubs and the girls in the seven clubs, I bequeath the memory of 206 demonstration meetings with a total attendance of 2410.

"2. To the club girls I will better health and a more lasting interest in farm living as a result of demonstrations and talks on vegetables. Yellow, green, and leafy vegetables were used as a special study for their nutritional value. In these groups the yellow crookneck squash, pumpkins, sweet potatoes, and carrots, greens of all varieties, snap peas, English peas, and green asparagus. Each club girl had a goal to plant enough of one yellow and one green vegetable to supply her family. Two containers one of type of vegetable was canned to be exhibited.

"3. To the women and girls taking bedroom improvement work, I bequeath more efficient, interesting, and comfortable rooms with a saving of $1600.00. This demonstration has been more far reaching in its influence than any phase of improvement work. Thirty-three (33) women and girls have acted as demonstrators for their clubs in 14 different communities the past four years. Special stress has been laid on better beds and bedding, clothes closets, and back grounds. Refinishing, reupholstering, rugs, constructing study, reading, and bathing centers, have also been studied.

"4. To the women club members and their families who have worked in yard improvement, I bequeath cleaner premises, a leveled yard with 20 native rock walks and 293 shrubs and trees that stand out as monuments of your labor.

"5. To all club members, both women and girl, I will the memory of good times at picnics, parties, and tours. I devise recreation and social contact in the regular club meetings. To the people of the town and county, I bequeath a thanks for use of the Legion Hut.

"6. To the families of all club members, I bequeath better menus, fewer doctor bills, the satisfaction of living in a comfortable room with individual interest, a pride in having a more inviting farm yard and a lasting determination to continue to 'Live At Home,' even after prosperity has made his appearance well 'around the corner.'

UNCLE OF MRS. R. D. BRIDGFORD SUCCEUMBS

Mrs. R. D. Bridgford received word last Thursday afternoon that her uncle, Will Arledge, had died suddenly in Seagraves. Mr. Arledge was in a Seagraves drug store when stricken about 2:30. He had lived in Seagraves about ten years, being in the grain business.

Funeral services were held at Seagraves at 3 o'clock New Year's afternoon. Mrs. Bridgford attended, going with an uncle and aunt from Robert Lee.

Three brothers, Harve Arledge of Blackwell, Joe Arledge of Sweetwater, and T. E. Arledge of Roscoe, are among survivors, the last named being Mrs. Bridgford's father. The wife and two children, a 16-year-old son and an 11-year-old daughter, also survive.

CROSLIN AND WITTEN GO TO WASHINGTON

Lloyd Croslin, secretary to Congressman George Mahon, and Otis Witten, his assistant, left last Friday morning for Washington, D. C.

They closed Mahon's district office here before leaving and planned to have the Washington office ready for the Congressman's arrival a day behind them.

MAYOR SADLER ILL
Mayor Sadler was confined to his home all day Wednesday by illness but was able to be out most of the day Thursday.

HOSPITAL PAPERS DELAYED

Through a misunderstanding which has now been corrected the papers giving W. S. Cooper, Record editor, admittance to the veterans' hospital at Albuquerque, New Mexico, were not received last Friday as was expected, so he did not get to leave at the time he had planned to. He confidently expects to be able to leave the latter part of this week, however. He has not been able to be at his desk in the Record office since

DELL BARBER MOVES OFFICE

Dell Barber, who finished his two terms as county attorney when new officers were sworn in last Friday, now has his law office open in the Thompson & Barber building, returning to the law firm of Thompson & Barber. Miss Billie Wyatt, his secretary for the past two years, retains that position.

Christmas, when he became ill while visiting his mother at Tyler.

Farm Agent Aids In Terracing 390 Acres In 3 Days

Baskin Spends Day Each At Loraine, McKenzie And Landers

Spending his days helping farmers to run terracing lines and his evenings at farm program planning meetings in various parts of the county, B. J. Baskin, county farm agent, is in the midst of a busy season.

Baskin supervised and assisted in the running of terracing lines on 390 acres of Mitchell county farm land during the first three days of this week.

He spent Monday at Loraine, Tuesday at McKenzie, and Wednesday at Landers. His time on other days will be devoted to any part of the county to which he is called.

FUNERAL HELD FOR SON OF FORMER COLORADOAN

Funeral services were held in Big Spring Tuesday afternoon for Morris Bass, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bass of Big Spring. Mrs. Bass formerly lived in Colorado, being best remembered here as Eudonia O'Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. O'Daniels, who moved from here to Coahoma some 20 years ago. They were in the ranching business while here.

Mrs. Bass is a niece of Mrs. J. M. Terry of Colorado. Attending the funeral from here were Mr. J. M. Terry and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Terry. Other members of the Terry family attending were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Rutherford from Kermit and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Waddell from Midland. Robert Haley, employee of the Shell Pipeline company here and a former schoolmate of the dead youth, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crocker were also present from Colorado.

The youth died in a Big Spring hospital after having been ill since October. Burial was in the Coahoma cemetery. Besides his parents and maternal grandparents he is survived by a brother, Walter Prentiss Bass, and a sister, Mrs. Lowell Baird, both of Big Spring.

W. W. PORTER ATTENDS DIRECTORS' MEETING OF STATE FARM BODY

W. W. Porter boarded the midnight train Tuesday to attend a meeting of directors of the Texas Agriculture association at College Station beginning Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Porter is director of District 6, which includes 39 counties.

The meeting was to last through Thursday afternoon. Completion of plans for the coming year's work is the meeting's objective. Those attending will confer with officials of the A. & M. Extension service.

Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon has been confined to her bed since Sunday with an attack of flu.

School Officials Attend Meeting In Austin This Week

Merits of Proposed 12-Grade School System Discussed By Superintendents

Three school officials of Mitchell county were in Austin from Sunday until Wednesday attending the annual state convention of school superintendents and administrators.

The three were Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent; Ed Willmore, superintendent of Loraine schools; and Ira Lauderdale, superintendent of Westbrook schools.

One of the most important matters discussed at the meeting was the proposed 12-grade school system for Texas.

Jno. E. Watson, superintendent of Colorado schools, planned to attend but was prevented by pressing business matters here.

CONNELL ANNOUNCES NEW PAYMENT PLAN ON SEIBERLING TIRES

A new time payment plan on Seiberling tires was announced this week by the Connell Service station, which has the local Seiberling agency.

Details of the new plan appear in an advertisement in this week's Record. Payment periods of as long as five months is a feature of the new plan, according to A. C. Connell, owner of the Connell Service station.

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE 25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

25 YEARS AGO

Seven Loraine business houses had been destroyed in a fire originating in the S. R. Pickens barber shop twenty-five years ago, according to the Colorado Record for January 12, 1912. Other business places destroyed by the fire were the W. S. Thomas racket store, the R. Estelle tin shop, the E. E. Tidwell blacksmith shop, the J. W. Howell blacksmith shop, the W. W. Coker leather shop, the A. G. Blakenship grocery store, the general merchandise store of D. K. Nelson. No water was available and the fire was Loraine's second one of major proportions within two weeks.

Mrs. Brooks Bell's father had died in Sweetwater. . . . Virginia Stone- road, a very new baby then, was "pumped around" for the approval of the Hesperian club members when they met with her aunt, Mrs. J. G. Merritt. . . .

There had been two fires on one Saturday in Colorado, one destroying the new home of Mrs. Bellah and her daughter, Minnie. . . . It had burned at 3:30 one afternoon when everything was so frozen that no water could be gotten to the blaze. . . . The other was at the Farmers' Union warehouse, where several bales of cotton burned. . . .

Somebody had fired two shots at Rev. J. Frank Norris of the First Baptist church in Fort Worth while he sat in his study. . . .

Lillian Allen was visiting in Mexico City and wrote friends of attending a banquet in honor of the German Ambassador there. . . . She had also been to a dance and box party given in honor of Woodrow Wilson's daughter. . . .

Licenses to wed had been issued to R. S. Porter and Miss Annie Burdick and to J. M. Rogers and Miss Allie Harvey. . . . Ben Plaster had been in from his ranch looking much improved in health. . . .

Low awnings were being put before the buildings occupied by the picture show, the telegraph office, and Annis' saddle shop. . . . Champ Carter was home from Snyder, where he had been working in a drug store. Ben Morgan was selling hot drinks, magazines, papers, and confectionery in one of the Simpson buildings. . . . Walter Martin of West, builder of the first high school building in Colorado, had been here looking after the Winn estate. . . .

Ed Jones had sold his interest in the barber shop of Jones & Harris and had bought a half interest in the City Barber shop at Ballinger. . . . He and his family were moving there. . . .

Editorials were being run in The Record protesting the neglect of the town clock. . . . Miss Etta Doss had surprised her mother with a birthday tea on Saturday. . . .

15 YEARS AGO

Two famous picture shows were coming to the Best theatre in Colorado 15 years ago, according to a front page ad in the Record for January 13, 1922. . . . One of them was Rupert Hughes' "Dangerous Curve Ahead," the other was "The Old Nest."

Beginning the day with an automobile trip to "the oil well" at Iatan, the Colorado chamber of commerce was planning to have a county-wide mass meeting on Thursday. The day was to be given over largely to a Poultry-Livestock campaign with officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the A. & M. extension service, and others among those attending. . . . There was to be a banquet on Thursday evening at the Baretto's with music by an orchestra under direction of J. Lee Jones. . . .

B. A. McKinney, newly elected governor of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas was a brother-in-law of L. W. Sandusky, local attorney, a front page story said. . . . The stock of the Chemali and Jabor Popular Dry Goods company had been damaged about $10,000 by fire one night that week. . . .

C. M. Adams was having a big sale. . . . W. S. Stoneham asked again for election as county and district clerk. . . . Thos. R. Smith, commander of the local Legion Post, called a meeting. . . .

The Harmony club had met with Mrs. Frank Lupton, the Merry-Wives with Mrs. L. C. Dupree, who had as guests Mesdames D. H. Snyder, H. S. Beal, Bert Robertson, P. C. Coleman, Jesse Prather, and J. C. Ethridge. . . .

A miscellaneous shower for Mrs. J. C. Ethridge, nee Miss Abbie Thomas, had been given by Mesdames M. Carter, E. H. Winn, and K. O. Pearson. . . . Refreshments were served by Misses Ewell Gary, Mabel Smith, Ruby McGill, Bernice Terrell, and the "little daughter of the house," Laura Louise Pearson. . . .

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robinson had died in San Antonio on Sunday morning. . . . Lawrence Simpson, member of the Record office force, had visited his family at Leesburg. . . .

W. A. Dulin was leaving for Brownwood to attend a meeting of West Texas county farm agents. . . . Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Elliott had their second daughter. . . .

City National Bank had added Charles E. Pritchett to its staff as assistant cashier. . . . D. N. Arnett had been to Sweetwater to see about some cattle on feed there. . . . Mrs. J. A. Sadler was able to be out after two weeks of illness. . . .

F. C. Coursey had bought an interest in the R. U. Bean grocery. . . . Mitchell county ginnings had reached 23,824 bales. . . .

HERE FOR LONG VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bell and grandchildren of Fort Worth are here on an indefinite visit with their daughter, Mrs. Bobby Rees, and Mr. Rees. The Bobby Reeses have moved from a farm on which they have been living east of Westbrook to a farm in the Carr community. Mrs. Rees continues her work as old age pension investigator, spending alternate weeks in Fisher and Mitchell counties.

ON BUSINESS IN SANTONE

Earl Morrison and his nephew, Charles Morrison, spent the early part of this week in San Antonio on business.

TEXAS GROVES YIELD FRUIT FOR ORANGEADE

DAIRY BELIEVES IN STATE SLOGAN

A practical application of the truth that "what Texas makes—makes Texas" is contained in a recent announcement made by Rogers Dairy.

"As distributors of Bireley's Orangeade," says Mr. W. H. Rogers, manager, "we are pleased to advise our customers that beginning in the near future this popular bottled fruit beverage will contain juice from Texas-grown oranges. The superlative flavor of our State's citrus fruit has led the makers of Bireley's Orangeade to establish facilities for extracting juice from oranges in the Rio Grande Valley. Bireley's Orangeade hitherto has been produced exclusively in Hollywood, California. It is marketed nationally through the exclusive channel of dairy-distributors, who bottle and deliver it daily to homes, schools, restaurants, grocery stores, fountains and drink stands. Nearly 3,000 of Rogers Dairy, not only because dairies in all the forty-eight states of the Union have included Bireley's Orangeade among their products. And the beverage is enjoying wide popularity in Canada, Hawaii and Europe. Texas, however, has the honor of being the first state to distribute Bireley's through dairies."

Not only is the fruit carefully examined for quality and condition, but every orange is subjected to an antiseptic bath after which it is scrubbed and dried before going into the reaming machine, or Citromat. This ingenious machine captures all the juice and eliminates pulp, seeds, peel and oil, which might tend to contaminate the delicate juice flavor. The Citromat extracts the juice from a ton of oranges in twelve minutes. One of these machines, developed and patented by Bireley engineers, is now being installed in the Texas Bireley Orangeade plant. Dairies handle Bireley's Orangeade under the same exacting sanitary conditions required for milk. The housewife gets her Orangeade bottled, chilled and ready to drink, with her morning's milk, cream and other products. It contains no artificial preservatives or flavoring extracts—just pure orange juice, lemon fruit-acid, cane sugar and water.

"We chose Bireley's Orangeade for our customers," says Mr. Rogers, "not only because it is the largest selling fruit beverage in the world, but because it is a wholesome refreshing beverage that we can endorse wholeheartedly for children and adults alike. It gives us added satisfaction to know that Texas oranges will contribute to the delicious flavor of Bireley's Orangeade."

HOLIDAYS IN VALLEY
Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Simpson, son, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jenkins, all of the Fairview section, some relatives from Lubbock returned last Wednesday after spending holidays with Mrs. Simpson's parents, the Jenkins' parents, the Gebors Goodwins, at Mission. The Goodwins are former Mitchell countians.

'TEETH' PROPOSED FOR DRIVERS' LICENSE LAW

AUSTIN.—A state traffic control committee appointed by Gov. Allred will submit bills to the legislature in January to put "teeth" in the drivers' license law.

Also the committee proposed to recommend adoption of uniform traffic laws to conform with those in other states.

R. G. Waters, state casualty insurance commissioner, a committee member, said the group would meet prior to the convening of the legislature, Jan. 12, and at that time hoped to have bills drafted.

Objectives of the committee, he said, were a uniform driver's license law which would require amendments to the present statute; revamping highway laws, many of which are obsolete; and regulations to assure the financial responsibility of drivers.

The committee is studying amendments which would give the department of public safety, as well as courts, authority to revoke licenses of drivers who repeatedly violate traffic laws, and vest authority for issuing licenses in a central body, possibly the highway department.

Examination of new applicants for licenses also was under consideration.

The committee believes adoption of a uniform vehicle code of traffic regulation, as approved by the National Conference of street and highway control, would effect better control of traffic throughout the nation, and make it easier for motorists to drive from one state to another.

Waters said he was opposed to compulsory liability insurance for drivers which could develop into a "racket." However, the committee hopes, he said to evolve some method of requiring drivers to show financial responsibility.

One suggestion was to give the state authority to revoke the license of a driver who failed to satisfy a court judgment for damage resulting from an accident.

PENSIONS DUE TO BE PAID AFTER JAN. 10TH

AUSTIN.—Orville S. Carpenter, acting director of old age assistance, says that he expects January pension payments to start about January 10 and continue through January 20.

Carpenter says a new policy of spreading payments will be tried in an effort to facilitate work of the treasurer's office which was inundated by mail the past month.

December payments were made with two checks because the state borrowed its share of the funds. One represented a loan from a Dallas bank and the other federal match money.

Carpenter expects social security board approval about January 10 of a quarterly grant of $2,677,000 instead of a monthly allotment as in the past.

He bases a requisition on 100,000 cases at $17 a month and said the total probably would remain under that figure because reinvestigation of pensions would reduce the rolls as rapidly as new applicants were approved. December checks were mailed to 92,000.

Carpenter says the quarterly payment of funds was provided by the social security act but the Texas commission had operated on a monthly basis because of difficulty in estimating growth or reduction of the rolls.

The Choral Club survived Christmas and the excitement of the New Year's celebrations. To begin the new year right, they all resolve to do their best to sing better. The songsters have made three appearances lately. The appearances were made on the tour before Christmas, a program Friday before Christmas, and at the Lion's Club Thursday. The club is planning other entertaining programs for the new year.

Bells! What a wonderful message they bring and what glorious inspiration. Bells that seem to say to us, "Happy New Year!" Bells full of meaning. How strange they are! Bells that ring below stairs and say, "Come up and serve me!" Excited bells in the early morning that call, "Get up! Get up!" The telephone bells—"Who's there?" Brisk, optimistic, wedding bells. Slow, mournful bells that cry, "He has gone, he has gone." But most significant of them all is the silent bell for each of us to hear all alone. They seem to say to us "Be careful!" "Look out!" "Don't do that!" Or the chiming of bells ringing out in our hearts, "This is love!"

Of all the lovely mysteries of life, there is nothing more blessed than the coming of a clean, new year. The blessings it brings, the heart aches, and the joys are all before us. Some of us think that the new year is a book, but others think it is a clean, white page; still others think it is a room, a road, another change, or just another year, or a stretch of time. It is a clean, white page on which you will write nothing this time, you hope, that is untrue. Make everything you do simple, pure, and honest all year long. And then, have nothing hurried and messy, but beauty there—poise and grace. Art of living, style, a sense of timelessness, kindness, thoughtfulness, goodness, strength, anxiety and soberness must go on that long page, this year. Have courage, too. You write your book, each year a page. Make it live! Make each year show improvement! On that Great Day when the books are gathered together for all men to see, you'll be so ashamed if yours is shallow, and trashy; ashamed before yourself.

EDITED BY PUPILS OF COLORADO HIGH SCHOOL Editor: Frances Merle Cooper. Reporters: Doris Wynne, Joe Lee, Ewing Lee, Betty Helge, Dale Simpson.

SIXTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT Coach Christian's Wolfpack is certainly drilling hard this week. Coach is looking forward to placing high in the tournament this year. As you know Big Spring has won our annual tourney every time but once; Colorado has kept the trophy at home only once. But this year everyone may look for a different story.

The favorites are Forsan, Abilene, Colorado, Roby, and Sweetwater, but everyone need not be so sure for there are some strong teams entered in this tournament. Trophies will be given to teams winning first, second, third, and fourth place, while a trophy will be given to the winner of the consolation and runner-up in consolation round. Gold basketballs will be given to the all tournament and also to the high point man and the best sportsman. We hope to see some of those balls given to our team. The tourney begins this afternoon at 5 o'clock and goes through Saturday evening late.

HONOR ROLL Students who made five errors or less on the ten minute speed-test which was given Thursday, December 31: 3rd period: Geneva Campbell, John Colson, Evelyn Hamer, Mary Caddell, Hardison Allmond, Lovine Conaway, Maxine Braswell. 5th period: Robert Stell, Warren Anderson, Grace Dossey, Betty Joyce, Lucille Goode, Sam Richardson, Willard Welch, Robert Lacey, Aubrey Franklin, R. THE CUP The Colorado High School Band now has those red and black uniforms that were mentioned sometime back and most of the members of the band just can't wait to show them off. Mr. Rose, "the master of the baton," has decided to take his band to Lubbock some time soon, for the West Texas Band Contest. They will probably stay there for a couple of days. Won't Colorado High school be proud of them when they bring that cup back with them?

BASKETBALL NEWS The week-end of January 7th, 8th and 9th Colorado is to have the largest basketball tournament of its kind in this part of the state. Twenty-one towns have already signed to be present, and thirty-six games are to be played through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Admission to the games for students and adults alike is twenty-five cents. Rooms furnished for these boys to stay will be greatly appreciated.

RING OUT THE OLD AND BRING IN THE NEW Another year is nearly past. Think back over it for a minute. Try to remember the kind things you've done and the cheerful words you've spoken to other people. Are they many or few? Have you reached the goal you wish to reach? Are you satisfied with yourself?

But now let's forget the past year and turn our faces toward the future. Think of all the things you want to do and set your mind to do them. It will be much easier. Be the strong kind of person, stand up for your rights and don't be led into anything that you think is wrong. For the next year try to speak a kind word each day, do a kind deed and see how you feel at the end of 1934. Do not go around with a frown on your face, but smile and be happy. 1937 can be a "joyful year" if you sincerely want it to be. Let us throw away the past and work toward the future—ring out the old and ring in the new.

Horn's Chapel News Sunday school was well attended Sunday, but there are still several families that are not represented. We hope there will still be a better attendance next Sunday. We are very sorry to lose Mr. Humphrey as our Sunday school superintendent. We hope he will be back with us soon.

Don't forget that we have singing each Sunday night. Last Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. Jim Waters and son Billy from Conway were with us. We are always glad to have visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Horn of Mission, Texas, have been visiting their children here during the holidays. Mrs. Horn said, "It seems mighty good to be back at my old home." They returned to their home in the Valley Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hannah from Houston have returned home after visiting in the Cochran home. They carried Mary Elizabeth home with them. We are sorry to lose her from the seventh grade in our school.

Billy Waters of Conway spent the week-end with Victor McWilliams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Robertson.

Miss Margaret McWilliams had as her guest Sunday Misses Frances Humphrey, Ruby Gordon Coe, Charlotte Hensley.

EDITORIAL

ABOUT THOMAS PAINE

In December this column had an article on Thomas Paine and in that article we had this paragraph:

"Some publicists are now contending that Thomas Paine originated the idea of independence for the American colonies and first published books and tracts advocating the same. This is so far from the facts that it needs to be corrected. Tom Paine arrived in America in October 1774. His first publication was in January 1776, less than six months before the Declaration of Independence. In March 1769 Thomas Jefferson wrote a paper that was so radical for independence that it could not be published. In the same year Jefferson began his work to abolish slavery. Paine's first utterance on slavery until March 1775.

"Before August 1st, 1774 Jefferson wrote his 'Summary View' of the Rights of the British in America. This was equal to the Declaration of Independence made in 1776. In 1773 Jefferson, Dabney, Carr, and others joined in an effort and appointed a committee of correspondence. This was the beginning of confederation of the colonies. Why brush away Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Carr, the Lees, Otis, Samuel Adams, Washington and others and give Paine credit for things that happened prior to his coming to America? Why indeed?"

Now comes a letter from our good friend W. M. Turner out at Westbrook in a critical, optimistic eulogy:

Westbrook, Texas
Dec. 2, 1936

Dear Uncle Fred:

If you will accept a bit of eulogy, I will say that your column is edifying and refreshing. I am with you in reference to the economic situation, and progress in general.

In The Record of Oct. 30 you reviewed interesting war history; and finally Thomas Paine came upon the scene.

I am grateful that you did not slander Paine as most Christians usually do. Records show that Paine arrived in this country Nov. 30, 1774. He carried a letter of introduction from Benjamin Franklin to the latter's son-in-law Richard Bache. Franklin told his son-in-law that Paine had been recommended to him "as an ingenious worthy young man."

Franklin's letter of recommendation we find: "In a way of obtaining employment as a clerk or assistant tutor in a school, or assistant surveyor of all of which I think him very capable"

In the second number of the Pennsylvania Magazine, Paine, as editorial writer boldly attacked the evils of chattel slavery. He defended rights of women; an attack on the barbarous custom of dueling; a protest against the cruelty to animals.

The spirit of the "Rights of Him" (Paine's pamphlet) is denoted by the following reflections on great titles: "The Honourable plunderer of this country, or The Right Honourable murderer of mankind create such a contrast of ideas as exhibit a monster rather than a man. . . . The reasonable freeman seen through the magic of a title, and examines the man before he approves him. To him the honours of the worthless seem to write their masters vices in capitals and their stars shine to no other end than to read them by." The above has a smack of originality.

Paine belonged to the Philosophical Society founded by Benjamin Franklin where the scientific and literary minds of Philadelphia exchanged views and visions. From the very start after Paine's arrival in this country, he voiced his sentiments against England. In a letter to Franklin he said: "For my own part I thought it very hard to have the country set on fire about my ears almost the moment I got into it."

Thomas Paine loved peace but not the kind England offered us. When the battle of Lexington occurred, Paine not only saw the inevitable war, (which was not even then generally regarded as possible), but what was more remarkable, he visioned clearly the cause of independence. If records are dependable, "it was Paine who first proclaimed the necessity of independence to the American Colonies." To Franklin's remark, (who was in England at the time), "Where liberty is there is my county," Paine made that magnificent reply, "Where liberty is not there is mine." Paine inspired by an emergency, wrote the pamphlet "Common Sense," which is a masterpiece of political argument. Dr. Benjamin Rush, one of the leading patriots of Philadelphia, said that it "burst from the press with an effort which has rarely been produced by types and paper in any age or country."

George Washington writing to Joseph Reed from Cambridge Jan. 31, 1776, declared: "A few more of such flaming arguments as were exhibited at Falmouth and Norfolk (the British set fire to these towns), added to the sound doctrine and unanswerable reasoning contained in the pamphlet, Common Sense, will not leave numbers at a loss to decide upon the propriety separation."

John Barlow another eminent American who was in Yale College at the outbreak of the Revolution, wrote that "Common Sense," "gave spirit and resolution to the Americans who were then wavering and undetermined to assert their rights, and inspired a decisive energy into their counsels. We may therefore venture to say without fear of contradiction that the great American cause owed as much to the pen of Paine as to the sword of Washington."

Edmond Randolph, first Attorney General of this country, wrote that next to the conduct of George III American independence was due to the efforts of "Thomas Paine, an Englishman by birth, and possessing an imagination which happily combined political topics, poured forth in a style hitherto unknown on this side of the Atlantic, from the ease with which it insinuated itself into the hearts of the people who were unlearned or of the learned."

James Madison spoke of Paine as a man, "whose writings have so much contributed to enforce and foster the spirit of independence in the people of America." Even Paine's libelous American biographer of that period, James Cheatham, says of "Common Sense": "Speaking a language which the Colonists had felt but not thought, its popularity, terrible in its consequences to the parent country was unexampled in the history of the press."

Let's hear the late President Wilson in his book, The American People, when he called Paine a "great American." Paine was one of a group of creative spirits who "made the American Revolution."

Uncle Fred, your records are wrong. Paine arrived in this country Nov. 30, 1774, as mentioned in the foregoing. He was a Quaker and an irregular preacher, and failed to enter the Church of England for lack of Latin. He was never an atheist according to his own words. He was a Deist. His words: "I believe in one God and hope for pleasure beyond this life." You are entirely wrong in reference to Paine being forced to leave England. Franklin suggested that he should come to America.

In reference to his conduct in France here it is: He became active in the interest of the Revolution as he had done in this country. He did vote to save the life of the king, but not the kingdom, and came near losing his own life there in his opposition to mob violence. Paine ventured out on the street without his cockade and was pounced upon by the mob.

His words: "Kill the kingdom but not the king." He worked diligently in France till the Revolution was won.

Uncle Fred, I wish you would carefully examine the foregoing and place it in the COLUMN, with or without comment. I will feel grateful.

Truly yours
W. M. TURNER.

A person does not have to have such a vivid imagination to see that women of West Texas are, in a manner of speaking, pioneers. To be sure, the women who came to West Texas with the men who were to become the earliest settlers, were pioneers in the truest sense of the word. In fact, when the Hon. Horace Greeley told the male of the specs to go West, he might as well have included the women because by the time the men hitched the horses to the wagon, got together a few necessary provisions and loaded their trusty rifles, the women had dressed their children, packed their household equipment and were ready for the long trek to the promised land.

CHURCH OFFERINGS

Last Sunday we noticed a member on his way to church, he passed a drug store and went in, called for change for a dime, the clerk gave him the change and said, "Hope you will enjoy the sermon." At the same time a lady member had made ready for church when she asked her husband for money for the collection plate, he gave her a nickel. She said I don't want to put in a nickel and he told her to go ahead as he didn't have anything smaller.

PERIODIC HEALTH CHECK SAID TO BE IMPORTANT

AUSTIN.—"Check up on your health assets and liabilities during the first month of this new year, and establish a working balance in health that will carry you through the year," is the advice urged upon all citizens of Texas by Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Destruction of human beings by the forces of nature is often unavoidable, but sacrifice of life to preventable diseases results from neglecting the principles of health," he said, "and is due largely to man's supreme indifference to his physical welfare."

"The purpose of the periodic health examination is not the diagnosis of a disease but the detection of physical defects or predisposition to disease and faults in living habits, the correction of which would have even a remote, beneficial action on the life of the person examined. Disease, physical failure, and ultimate death are due not to time alone, but to definite physical causes. The periodic examination endeavors to determine the causes or defects so that they may be removed or corrected.

"Innumerable surveys and examinations have been made of preschool groups and of children in school to detect conditions that might lead to illness later on or to a physical handicap of some sort, if allowed to run on without correction.

"The annual physical check-up is the great bulwark against death dealing conditions of middle-life such as certain heart ailments, diabetes, nephritis, and other so-called degenerative diseases. These maladies oftentimes sneak up on one, so to

ROScoe ACCIDENT KEY FOR LARGE DAMAGE

Five suits asking damages of $48,650, were filed last Tuesday with District Clerk Mrs. Myrtle Morrison by members of the Grissom family of Wink and Eunice, Newlin against F. F. Watt, prominent farmer in the Roscoe territory, for injuries assertedly received in an automobile accident near Roscoe on Dec. 1.

Five members of the two Grissom families were injured as was Morrison Watt, 19, son of Frank Watt, when the Grissom car and one being driven by Young Watt collided.

The damage suits include one for $16,000 filed by Maggie Grissom, et vir.

The suits ask for $16,000, $14,500, $6,000, $8,650 and $3,500, and were filed by Mrs. Maggie Grissom, et vir, Nell Grissom by M. A. Grissom, M. A. Grissom, Frank Grissom, wife and child, and M. A. Grissom for James Grissom.

The plaintiffs' petitions allege that the defendant's son was driving from one side of the road to the other, and that the Grissom car was stopped with two wheels off the pavement when the collision occurred.

speak, and work unannounced, up to a certain point. It is during this period that they are discoverable by the trained diagnostic ability of the physician.

"The unfortunate increase in premature deaths of middle-age and beyond, in a measure at least, can be credited to the public's lack of appreciation of the inestimable life-saving and disease-preventing value of the periodic physical examination."

The helpful idea we're talking about will give you extra protection against a freeze-up in your car's gasoline system. The smart thing to do first is to have your carburetor drained—a quick, simple operation for whoever takes care of your car. He will also empty the little glass filter bowl, or "trap." And if you want to be real careful, you will have a certain amount drained from the bottom of the gasoline tank. Thus you get rid of any water that might freeze on the first cold day.

This water was not in the gasoline originally, if you are careful where you buy. But you know that the air always contains more or less moisture, which can gradually form water in your gasoline system. There is less chance of this when you keep too much air out of your gasoline tank, by having it filled close to the top. It is still just as important as ever to get a gasoline that always fires away lickety-split in any cold . . . not dripping and flooding wastefully . . . not draining your battery by a lot of "false starts" . . . not thinning your oil by needless choking. The most helpful thing you can do for yourself right there is to keep your tank full of sure-firing Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze. Continental Oil Company

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"How does a Bank handle out-of-town checks?"

WHEN you deposit a check written on a distant bank, your bank ordinarily routes it for prompt collection to a city correspondent bank with which it maintains an account, or to a Federal Reserve Bank. The following steps are usually taken:

1. The account of your bank is credited with the amount of the check at the correspondent bank or Federal Reserve Bank.
2. The check is charged against the account of the bank on which it is written.
3. It is sent to the bank on which it is written, and charged by it against the account of the person or firm which issued it.
4. The amount is then credited to your account as soon as advices are received that the check has been honored.
