

SURVEY FOR ROAD FROM ROBERT LEE TO COLORADO GRANTED BY COMMISSION

Actual Highway Location Will Be First Big Step Toward Attaining Long-Sought Goal

Elation in Colorado greeted the news Monday that the long-sought survey and location for a state highway connecting Robert Lee and Colorado had been granted by the state highway commission in Austin.

J. A. Sadler, mayor of Colorado, and A. F. King, county judge, were present at the commission hearing in Austin when the survey was granted. Granting of the survey and subsequent location of the highway route makes actual construction of the proposed road a virtual certainty, it is believed here.

Designation of state highway 208 from Robert Lee to Colorado was secured some time ago. Highway 208 will connect with highway 101, which runs from Colorado northward to Snyder, thus giving Colorado state highways leading north and south for the first time in her history.

Mayor Sadler and Judge King stated Wednesday that the route which the highway would follow out of Colorado would be left entirely up to the highway department surveyors. Highway 101 runs into the Broadway of America, Highway 1, at intersection just west of Lone Wolf bridge. The Snyder highway follows Hickory street after entering Colorado's northern limits.

T. H. Webb, assistant to Gib Gilchrist of the highway commission, assured Sadler and King that work on the survey will begin in the next few days.

Probably the first trip made by Coloradans in an effort to secure the highway survey was that of J. H. Greene, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Charles Moeser, city alderman, to San Antonio months ago.

Twenty Years On Law Force Ended In Hickman Death

Colorado Loses One Of Its Most Familiar Figures As 'Dad' Hickman Dies

One of Colorado's best known figures was lost in the death of T. A. (Dad) Hickman at his home here Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Hickman, who would have been 89 years old on May 23, served as night-watchman until stricken with his final illness on December 16.

His death ended 20 years of continuous service as a peace officer in Colorado. He was elected city marshal in 1916 and served in that capacity for seven years. In 1925 he was made nightwatchman, a position held until his death.

With his watch clock hanging around his shoulders and his dog by his side, Mr. Hickman was a familiar night figure in Colorado. The loss of his favorite dog about a year ago caused him considerable grief.

Although he was always reluctant to talk about himself, Mr. Hickman was known to have had a colorful life. It is a matter of record that he was a graduate of the Gordon Military Institute of Barnesville, Georgia, and was at one time a member of the Barnesville Blues, famous military organization of its day. He is known to have worked for a railroad in Florida while a young man. He was proud of being the son of a Confederate soldier.

Mr. Hickman was born in Barnesville, Georgia. He and his family moved to Colorado 32 years ago from Waco.

One of his sons, H. S. (Dick) Hickman has been chief of police in Colorado for a number of years, carrying on the law enforcement traditions begun by Mr. Hickman 20 years ago.

Business houses of Colorado closed for the funeral hour Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services were held from the family residence with the Rev. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church officiating and Harvey Childress of the Church of Christ assisting.

Burial was in the Colorado cemetery, the following being pallbearers: H. A. Cook, Ed Majors, Hugh Nixon, Dick Gregory, Jack DeLaney, Porter Moseley, J. L. Pidgeon, Tom Goss, and P. A. Burnett.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Hickman are: two sons, A. O. and H. S. Hickman of Colorado; three daughters, Mrs. Elliott (Alma) Dixon of Colorado, Mrs. Udell (Emmie) Moore of Colorado, and Mrs. Walter (Hallie) Yarborough of Albany, Georgia; a brother, John A. HYMAN H. D. CLUB NEWS

Those present were Miss Emma Gunter, Mrs. Thomas Vest, Mrs. Otto Schuster, Mrs. Edna Andrews, Mrs. Carl Lowery, and the hostess, Mrs. Frank Andrews.

COUNTY CAGE CHAMP TO BE DECIDED ON FEB. 5, 8, AND 9

The Interscholastic League cage champion of four independent schools of this section—Colorado, Westbrook, Loraine, and Roscoe—will be decided in a round robin series of games to be played on Feb. 5, Feb. 8, and Feb. 9, it was announced this week.

Champion of the series will represent Mitchell county in the sectional playoffs for the Interscholastic League on Feb. 12 and 13. Championship in the double round robin series which has been played by teams of this football district since the beginning of the basketball season has nothing to do with the Interscholastic League championship.

Play-off games for the western division of this Interscholastic League district will be held at a place yet to be designated. Play-offs for the eastern division are to be in Abilene.

Permission for Roscoe to be classed with Mitchell county independent schools in county contests was granted by Interscholastic League officials several months ago.

7B ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Two comedy skits were presented in the assembly period Tuesday afternoon by the pupils of 7B. The first, "After School", pictured a school room sixty years ago. Mackie Loving played the part of the teacher, Miss Finch; Oatherine Reese was Miss Barr, the music teacher; and Lloyd Buckalew was Mr. Hiffleberry,

"the school board." The pupils of 7B took the part of the pupils in the play. These pupils gave all of the answers, except the right ones, and made a good impression on the school board.

Joyce Compton, Billy Wade, Phyllis Berman, John DeGarmo, Helen Farris, and Alfred Edgar Maddin presented a pantomime, "Swinging the Votes". Every one enjoyed these comedies very much.

BINDING LIBRARY BOOKS

The library books are in better condition now than they have been at any other time this year. Several Boy Scouts and some of the librarians have been binding the books that have been read so many times that they had become worn. These books look very good now. The Madeline Brandies books are especially attractive since they have been rebound.

P.-T. A. NEWS

The Westbrook Parent-Teachers' Association met in regular session Thursday, Jan. 14th, with an attendance of 43 members. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Foy Castleman.

A special number presented by the fifth and sixth grades was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed.

After the business session Rev. Clyde Childers gave a very interesting and helpful talk on "Forcefulness."

When the meeting adjourned refreshments of pecan pie and coffee were served.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames O. T. Bird, Ed Clifton, H. H. Gainey, Tullie McAfee, and Terrel McKenny.

The P.-T. A. is really a vital organization and is doing many worthwhile things for the school. Some of the things which the organization has accomplished thus far are:

- Bought cooking utensils which were needed for the cafeteria.
- Paid three dollars to the 5th and 6th grades for securing the most members.
- Furnished a reading table for the first grade room.
- Paid $8.00 on magazines for the school.
- Bought a pencil sharpener for the 9th grade.
- Paid the freight on two traveling libraries for the school.
- Bought six steel folding chairs for the 7th grade room.
- Our next meeting is to be held at night so that more may have a chance to attend. This is to be Feb. 11th at 7:30 p.m. A musical program is being arranged by Mrs. Lee Brown and Mr. Johnny Hood.
- Let's all come and make it a success.

MATH PUPILS AT WORK
 Much is happening in the Math department this week but maybe that's because it's mid-term exam week and everybody is trying to "learn something quickly." Review well and remember, these exams may tell the tale. The plane and solid geometry students are certainly going to miss Mr. Coffman after mid-term but all wish him much success in his new position.

MR. COFFMAN COMMEMORATES ROBERT E. LEE'S BIRTHDAY
 To commemorate the birthday of that great statesman Robert E. Lee, who is so loved in the hearts of all Southerners, Mr. Coffman very appropriately reviewed the "high lights" in Lee's life. Lee's many admirable and lovable traits of character were singled out to us. Among these were his tenderness and his many abilities to make friends and to get ahead in the world. In conclusion Mr. Coffman hoped that we would endeavor to successfully mold our lives, using Robert E. Lee as a model. We are sorry that we have not taken advantage of Mr. Coffman's ability as a speaker in the past but are glad to have had the opportunity to have heard from him before he left our faculty.

SOPHS TEACH LESSON IN COURTESY
 Thursday morning, Jan. 14, in assembly the Sophs presented a purpose play, "The Award," teaching good manners at home and school. Three Sophomore girls, Willie Grace Doss, Ruth Elliott, and Lettisha Crabtree, pointed out to the high school some acts of discourteous behavior that characterize a few students in C. H. S. such as boys wearing their hats in the house, wrestling, and playing, and running in the hall nearly knocking others down. After a scene in the high school hall, attention was then given to a dining room which showed some violations of the rules of etiquette in eating. Dick Lowe Jones demonstrated the feat of eating beans with a knife, Mary E.

Big drink coffee from a cup containing a spoon. Theda Howell and Nathan Welch pictured the greedy person. All in C. H. S. should be benefited by this lesson in courtesy.

NEW HOPES
 What would a year be like if there were no new hopes? New hopes for the future? A hope to do our best in whatever we attempt to do?

At the end of each day when we turn weary feet toward home we are tired, ill at ease, restless, and irritable. But when comes the morning we are rested, and refreshed and we have new hopes for the day.

So much like the end of a day is the end of a semester. We are tired of school, restless, worn out, and wish that we were finished with school. But when mid-term exams are over and we all have made fairly good grades, a load is off our minds and we feel relieved and refreshed, ready to begin the second semester with our hopes aiming high. So let's begin this second semester with smiles on our faces and with a determination that we are going to pass. Don't be a quitter!

BAND NEWS
 The High school band had the pleasure of entertaining the Lions Club with a program Friday. The following numbers were played: "Our Honor," "Blue Danube Waltz," "Business in F," and "Raggy Trombone."

Monday the band received some new music. Among this music there was one of the contest numbers "Spring Time."

THE HIGH SCHOOL CAMERA
 This is your high school camera revealing the carryings-on of your classmates. Be careful that it isn't yours.

As the camera starts unreeing, we see a school house. Why, it's C. H. S. and it's 4 o'clock too! Look! there goes a tall boy running around the north-west corner of the school building. Wonder where he is going? Why there he is back in a car and he is picking up that little freshman girl. Take it from an experienced fisherman "Don't get the wrong hook."

Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet have not died. They are living still. You can see them going down the halls arm in arm, strolling across the campus or most any place you look. All the high school lacks is a balcony for them.

All social life in high school is not dead. There was a slumber-party given for a group of Senior girls. But to my certain knowledge it was a slumberless party with five in one bed.

This must be all, the camera has stopped turning.

COMMERCIAL WORK
 The typing students are almost snowed under with work. There are budgets to be handed in, accuracy and speed tests to be taken, and so many other things to do.

"I've lost my account book" or "I've made a mistake and will have to do this all over" are some of the groans of the bookkeeping students, but Mr. Brazel comes to the rescue and soon everything is going smoothly on the road to success.

In shorthand, Miss Clemons reports that her pupils are doing very well now but at first she preferred trying to translate the longhand.

THE END
 The first year clothing girls are finishing their print dresses and reviewing for their mid-term exams. Of course, they are each secretly hoping to be exempt and at the same time are sure that they won't be. They are going to have a style show the week after mid-term exams to give proof of their accomplishments. The first year foods girls have made some very delicious desserts and ties Miss Hargrove says. What the faculty thought about their samples of these should not be put in print. The girls have also had some lunches this week.

The second year girls have finished their pre-school child's garments and are now studying the baby's layette. The third year girls have been feeling rather happy lately because they thought they had finished with the "Care and Welfare of Children," but they learned recently that they are to have a thorough review before mid-term test, much to their disappointment.

MY OPINION OF C. H. S.
 Coming into an entirely new town and school and making new friends is already, to me, an interesting and sometimes an uncomfortable experience. Naturally, one's opinion changes many times during the first few days in a new school.

I came to C. H. S. my first year with exceedingly high hopes, but they were shattered very soon when I learned that two of the subjects which I had formerly taken were not offered here. My hopes lifted once more, however, when I began to recover from my first disappointment and really noticed my new surroundings, my new mates, teachers, and other interesting things to my surprise and pleasure. I need not tell everyone very friendly toward me.

I suppose everything has its ups and downs. My first day was certainly no exception to the rule. Upon going to my classes I discovered that I not only had different books, but that I was somewhat behind in several of my subjects. Then, too, the girls who had been so nice to me were either ahead or behind me in my classes. Therefore at the very first, I stood alone which was fortunate, otherwise I should not have met and made so many friends.

As days grew into weeks, I began to feel more at home, to take more interest in my work, and to forget somewhat my former friends and school. Yet this was a difficult task and for a while I had to force myself not to compare the two schools for I knew that the comparison would not have been fair.

As I am now a full fledged student of Colorado High school, I can say honestly that it is a grand school and I hope I may be a student of which it will be proud.

INTERESTS OF HISTORY
 Having ended the American Revolution, Mr. Cline's American history class prepares to set forth in an era of progress and expansion. To study the beginning of a great nation is the next incentive.

The history classes this year have been made interesting by source reports. These reports were made by different pupils chosen by Mr. Cline, and their subject matter was the important events or outstanding men from the founding of America through the Revolution.

Another entertaining feature of the history class is the daily disputes which arise between either Mr. Cline and Beeman Dockery, or between Mr. Cline and Ed Morrison. These disputes usually concern important dates, battles, or the achievements of some man. However, Mr. Cline always manages to show the two historians that they are wrong.

JUNE COX SELECTED AS CONTESTANT

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in the state of Texas are conducting the D. A. R. Good Citizenship, Pilgrimage to be held in Washington, April 16, 1937.

The Senior class met one day last week to select three girls from the class to be contestants in this pilgrimage. They were: Annetta Lacy, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, and June Cox. The faculty met Monday morning to select the one with the best qualifications. June Cox was selected to represent C. H. S.

She will not have the opportunity to attend this pilgrimage unless she is chosen from among all the Texas contestants in Austin, Texas. C. H. S. hopes June will be selected.

CHEMISTRY CUT-UPS

Another six-weeks' exam is over, and as we are just starting to take a deep sigh of relief, our sigh is abruptly cut into by the thoughts of mid-term. Yes, that's what I said. One half of the school year of 1935-36 has sped by on golden wings, and we are studying very industriously for the mid-term exam. Mr. Wilkins has a very brilliant chemistry class. In fact, it is the best class he has ever had in the year 1935-37, and the grades range from 100 to 18.

"COME ON BOYS"

Tuesday, January 12, the Colorado Wolves and Jackrabbits went to Merkel to play the Merkel varsity and 13 teams respectively. The Wolves won their game to the tune of 14 to 15, but they did not play a good game of ball. The Jackrabbits lost their game 40 to 8. They played a bad game also. Wednesday night both teams went to Sweetwater, the Wolves to play for first place in our "round robin" schedule. They lost to the Mustangs 25 to 16, therefore giving up first place to Sweetwater and going to second place. The Wolves played a very poor kind of ball. The Jackrabbits won over the Ponies 19 to 18. Friday night the Roby team came to play the Wolves for second place on the ladder. The Wolves won 25 to 20, and retained second place, but giving another poor exhibition of basketball. The Jackrabbits showed some poor basketball against the Roby team the score being 12 to 22. The Jackrabbits were leading at the half 9 to 8 but lost their pep and fine playing in the last half.

What's the matter Jackrabbits? We know that you can do better than this. The school's behind you. Come on let's go places.

FARM GROUP OBJECTIVES LISTED BY W. W. PORTER

Objectives of the Texas Agricultural association for 1937 were listed as follows by W. W. Porter, director of District No. 6, when he returned from a state meeting in College Station recently:

STATE
 1. Equable taxation. We keenly resent the injustice of the present taxation system, whereby only 25% of the property is paying more than 75% of the taxes of the state; and as a remedy, we recommend a broadened basis of taxation, whereby taxes may be levied upon the ability to pay. We favor a severance or natural resources tax of sufficient amount to bring relief to over-taxed real property, on crude oil, natural gas, sulphur and other natural resources of the state.

2. We favor adequate appropriations for A. & M. College and its branches, the Texas Technological College and other state educational institutions, to the extent that farm youths of Texas who earnestly seek an education may be properly accommodated; and we urge the Legislature to make appropriations in keeping with the tremendous increases in enrollment in these and other institutions of higher learning.

3. We favor a measure for adequate rural aid for education.

4. We favor adequate legislation for the encouragement and development of the dairy industry.

5. We propose to maintain real farmers, who are members of this organization, in Austin during Legislative sessions, to work for the enactment of measures favorable to our program, or to oppose measures detrimental to agriculture.

FEDERAL

1. We favor parity of income, which means to the farmer assurance of permanent, adequate prices for his products.

2. We favor production and distribution control as a part of the broad national agricultural program.

3. We request that the present temporary interest rates for rural credit be maintained or reduced, on a permanent basis.

4. We favor adequate means to assure every deserving farmer a home of his own, free of debt.

5. We endorse the present Agricultural Conservation Act, but it should be supported and broadened by adequate crop and distribution control and a parity of prices.

6. Because of the tremendous social and economic changes which have taken place in recent years, we favor liberal Federal rural aid for education.

STANDARDS FOR LIGHT EXTENSION ARE HERE

The long-awaited light standards for the extension of Colorado's curb lighting system to the top of Lone Wolf hill arrived Thursday morning. Mayor J. A. Sadler said that work of installing the standards will begin as soon as the weather clears and the extension should be completed within six days after work is resumed.

Disclosure of Forger's Mistaken Identity Proves Rightness of 2 Colorado Women

The rightness of two Colorado saleswomen who'd said all along "She's not the woman," was proved in a story that broke in the headlines of the Dallas Morning News Wednesday, recounting "one of the strangest cases of mistaken identity ever unfolded in Texas."

The Mrs. Harvey of the following story was brought from the Vernon jail to Colorado by H. A. Cook, deputy sheriff, and Jack DeLaney, constable, last August for identification as the woman who had passed forged checks at the Max Berman Department store, the J. C. Penney store, and other Colorado concerns in the summer.

Mrs. Heubert Gunn of the Max Berman store and Mrs. H. C. Pendergrass of the J. C. Penney store looked at her. Their verdict was, "She's not the woman."

So far as could be learned Wednesday Mrs. Gunn and Mrs. Pendergrass and an Electra furniture dealer were the only persons in any of the towns concerned who failed to "positively identify" Mrs. Harvey as the passer of the forged checks.

Having been previously billed by the district court grand jury here, Mrs. Harvey was brought back here on Nov. 6 and lodged in the Mitchell county jail pending her trial in the November term of district court.

The trial was postponed, however, because of the absence of important witnesses, so Mrs. Harvey was returned to the Vernon jail. Here, in part, is the story as unfolded in the Dallas News by Vera McNew Bickerstaff of Wichita Falls: "Mrs. Nelle Harvey, 45, wife of E. C. Harvey, well-known oil operator of Wichita Falls and Dallas, is back at home here after almost six months spent in various Texas jails and after being tried in District Courts in three Texas counties, found guilty in each trial and sentenced to nine years in the Texas penitentiary, all the outgrowth of one of the strangest cases of mistaken identity ever unfolded in Texas.

"Climax to this strange trail of circumstances that hovered over an innocent Wichita Falls woman, threatening one of the gravest instances of miscarriage of justice ever recorded, came in the State penitentiary of Arkansas at Collegeville, near Little Rock, Sunday. Within those grim walls another woman, resembling in many ways the woman at that time held in jail at Marlin under charge of passing a check on the Marathon Oil Company of Tulsa alleged to have been forged, signed a written statement in which she admitted that it was she and not Mrs. Nelle Harvey of Wichita Falls who had passed checks alleged to have been forged, as a result of which Mrs. Harvey had been arrested, held in various Texas jails for six months, three times tried and found guilty, and at that moment was waiting in jail at Marlin to face trial a fourth time.

tiary Sunday Mrs. Billie Bell, alias Billie Swor, an inmate of that institution, signed the statement that brought freedom to Mrs. Harvey. Billie Bell admitted in that statement that she had passed forged checks on the Marathon Oil Company of Tulsa at various points in Texas. Sixty such checks have come to light in as many cities and towns. . . . "On Jan. 12, Mr. Kuntz, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Harvey, was electrified while glancing idly through the pages of a magazine of True Detective Stories as his eyes fell on the picture of a woman strikingly like his client in appearance. The accompanying story told about the arrest at Beaumont on charges of forgery of a man named Edward Bell, alias J. D. Thomas, and his wife Billie Bell, alias Billie Swor.

"Kuntz was galvanized into action. Here was something that would throw some light on the strange case of his client. . . .

MRS. MAUD FINCH SUCCEUMS AT HOME HERE MONDAY

Mrs. Maud Finch, age 70 years, fell dead in her home here Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She was found dead by her daughter, Mrs. Joe Bryant, who had only been absent from the house a few minutes.

Although uncomplaining it was known Mrs. Finch suffered from heart attacks occasionally and in attempting to leave her chair to walk into another room she fell and expired within a few minutes.

She is survived by four children, two daughters and two sons, who are Mrs. Edd Shultz of Lorainne, Dee Finch of Lone Star, John Finch of Abilene and Mrs. Joe Bryant of Lorainne, who made her home with her mother. All were present for rites held from the Baptist church at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Warren Capos and Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of the Lorainne Methodist church conducted rites. Interment under direction of G. W. Hendrick, local undertaker, was made in Lorainne cemetery.

Grandmother Finch was well-known and well-liked. Friends and neighbors were shocked to learn of her sudden death and many called at the home Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

She is survived by 6 grandchildren. Relatives, nieces and nephews from a distance who were here for funeral rites were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Musick, Paul Musick, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Effects of General Motors Strike Felt Keenly By Colorado Dealers

Pinch of the General Motors strike is being felt keenly by those Colorado auto dealers who are supplied by General Motors, although business at all car agencies is going on almost as usual. In fact, the used car business seems to be benefitting from the strike.

It is probable that no strike of recent years has been more directly felt in Colorado and other towns because the margin between supply and demand, orders and sales, is closer in the new car business than in most others, those connected with the business point out.

No new cars at all are being received by Mills Chevrolet, it is reported. Any cars received before the strike is broken would have to come from the St. Louis plant, but no shipments are scheduled from there. News dispatches say that the St. Louis plant can supply only about one-third of the demand.

Shipments of new Dodges are off about 60%, according to Wimberley Motor company, which has the agency for Dodges and Plymouths. The companies handling these cars are not completely tied up by the strike as are some others, but manufacturing has been slowed down by strikes in the glass-making factories.

Colorado car dealers were hopeful that Monday's meetings in the strike areas would settle the strike. They expressed keen disappointment when efforts at settlement failed.

ALONG THE BOY SCOUT TRAIL IN COLORADO

(This report had to be omitted last week because of lack of space.—Editor.)

TROOP NO. 21
Troop No. 21 has some proud facts to acknowledge for this week. There has been quite a bit of advancement in the past three weeks in this troop.

The following boys have made and accomplished the seemingly impossible. One member has succeeded in passing his Star rank. There have been four members advanced to First Class rank. The boys that have made the advancement are: Harold Jones First Class; John J. Smith, First Class; Robert Kirschbaum, First Class; Joe H. Smoot, First Class; Fred Jones, Star Scout.

Incidentally, it takes five merit badges to pass the Star scout rank and Fred passed two of these four requirements in a period of twenty-four hours. This is quite a record for some of the other members in Scouting to work at.

One thing funny that happened at the Board of Review which was held for these boys up for advancement was this. Robert Kirschbaum came prepared to pass his work in Signaling and every one was ready. The requirement says that a boy must pass thirty letters of the English alphabet in one minute. Well—Robert signaled his message so fast that no one who was present could read it. Not even the officials. This is also some record for a Boy Scout.

TROOP NO. 21 HELD BOARD OF REVIEW

The above members of this troop were reviewed before the local board of review last Monday night at the Scout Hall with headquarters in the Levy building on East 2nd street. The members of this Board were composed of the following men:

Morris Kirschbaum, chairman; J. A. Ferguson, Dick Hickman, Marvin L. Majors, Acting Scoutmaster; Gene Smith, Asst. Scoutmaster.

There were no failures and all members of Troop No. 21 should sit up and take notice lest they fall so far behind in the advancement program that they will never catch up.

HANDICRAFT

Joe Henry Smoot, Patrol leader of the Indian patrol, submitted a piece of art made by himself at Scout meeting last Wednesday night. The article is a model of a Drum and Bugle Corps composed of Boy Scouts. The images were cast from lead and mounted on a neatly designed board. Each figure has one or the other, drum or bugle, individually painted to signify the Boy Scout uniform. It is a real piece of art, just one of the many things done in Boy Scout work. Troop 20 met Monday night and made plans to carry an exhibit of handicraft to the council scouters meeting at Big Spring on Tuesday night, Jan. 19. The display will be made up of the best work of the troop. The collection and selection will be made next Monday night.

Every member of troop 20 who was interested in taking a savings bank in which to place his money earned and saved to apply on his camp fee this summer was given one. There will be an opening exercise just before camp time and then the thirty scouts will be discovered in the troop.

The regular board of review and court of honor for Troop 20 will be held on Monday night, Jan. 25. The advancements in rank passed on that night will be awarded at a court of honor held at the annual scout banquet which will be held Feb. 12.

The scouts and scouters of Colorado are combining their efforts to put on the best scout banquet that Colorado has held in several years. Every scout is planning to do his best to make the banquet an enjoyable night for everyone in attendance.

Bus Passenger Victim of Purse Snatcher On Colorado's Main Street Saturday Noon

The scene was Colorado's main street. The time was high noon.

The characters were three in number—an aged Stephenville man who had ridden into Colorado on the noon bus and two companions who had sat by him at lunch and who were leading him to some of his "relatives" here, said relatives being ones he hadn't known about until they told him.

Near the alley that crosses main street at the Penney corner the Stephenville man took out his purse for some reason not quite clear. One of his companions snatched the purse and, accompanied by the other companion, made away down the alley. The victim gave chase but they got away. It is believed that his companions had a car waiting for them.

By Seventh Grade
The Rev. Matthews of Roscoe filled his appointment here Sunday.

There were 24 at Sunday school Sunday. We hope there will be a better attendance next Sunday and all the teachers will be in their places.

The county superintendent, Mr. Roy Davis Coles, visited our school Monday. He assisted in erecting a flag pole and repairing the swings. This completed the improvement of the school. The building has been painted on the outside and finished according to state requirements on the inside.

The teacherage has been papered and a new kitchen cabinet added. We are very proud of all our new equipment.

We wish to thank all the business men and merchants for their help in making it possible for us to have our beautiful new curtain hung last Friday. We also wish to thank Mrs. D. L. McWilliams for her valuable help. Christine Webb of Conaway enrolled as a new pupil in the seventh grade, Monday.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Although we have probably not been missed from the community except by the twins and a few others, we are mighty glad to be back in Colorado after two weeks spent in Olney engaged in a revival. We had a good meeting. There were eighteen conversions, and fifteen of these were adults. In spite of the extremely bad weather we did not miss a service in the meeting.

In our expression of appreciation to the Methodists for yielding their Sunday evening service for the special service in which Dr. Scarborough was supposed to preach, we did not mention our Presbyterian and Christian friends who also attended. This is explained by reason of the fact that we were in Olney when we wrote that statement and did not know at the time that the other churches gave way. We assure them, their pastors and everybody concerned that we deeply appreciate this gesture of good fellowship, and pray that this spirit of brotherly love shall always obtain among our several church organizations.

All regular services will be held at our church next Sunday, if Providence permits. We want you to worship with us.

DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

METHODIST LEAGUE NEWS

The Methodist League met Sunday night with Van King leading the program. The subject was, "These Things I Do." Walter Grubbs read the scripture and Van King and Gilbert Grubbs gave talks. The subject next Sunday is "As You Have Need," to be led by Shirley Kiker.

The district meeting has been postponed until Saturday and Sunday, January 30 and 31.

It seems that this reporter always has some criticism but a wish has been expressed by those who lead the programs that those who have parts please come. If one is absent, who has a part, there is a defect in the program and the entire lesson is not fully comprehended. Please cooperate with the leaders and prepare your part and be there to present it.—Reporter.

Mahon's Bill On Land Bank Loans Given To Congress

Re-Amortization For Loans
Provided; $48,000,000 In Payments Now Due

WASHINGTON. — Congressman George Mahon on Monday, January 18, introduced in Congress a bill providing for the re-amortization of certain Land Bank Commissioner loans. He explained that since 1933 the Land Bank Commissioner had refinanced loans on farm lands in the sum of about $800,000,000 in the United States wherein it was provided that borrowers should pay only interest for three years and liquidate the principal in ten years thereafter. Principal payments are now becoming due on these loans and Mahon believes that it will be impossible for the average holders of such loans to liquidate them in 10 years. His bill provided that these loans shall be reamortized giving borrowers from twenty to thirty-five years to pay them as is now the case with regular Federal Land Bank loans.

Mahon explained that there are now in Texas about $48,000,000 outstanding in these short time Commissioner loans; that in the 19th Congressional District, there are about 5200 such loans representing about $8,700,000.

C. A. PIERCE, FORMER COLORADOAN, SUCCUMBS IN DALLAS ON SUNDAY

News was received here Monday of the death of C. A. Pierce of Plainview, former Coloradoan, in a Dallas hospital early Sunday.

Mr. Pierce and his family lived in Colorado from 1900 until 1917. He clerked at the old Edmondson dry goods store and later in the F. M. Burns store. When he moved from here to Plainview in 1917 it was to operate a dry goods store in which he and Mr. Burns were partners. Later he bought out the Burns interest. While here the Pierces lived in what is now the F. B. Whipkey place.

Both Mr. Pierce and his wife were very active in church and civic affairs while here and later in Plainview. They were members of the Baptist church. He was vice-president of the board of trustees of Wayland college, Plainview, at the time of his death. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce visited their close friends, the Jerold Riordan, during the home-coming in August.

They lost a son in an automobile accident in Plainview about a year ago. A little daughter, Lucy May, died while they lived here. Two sons, Charles C. Pierce of Dallas and W. F. Pierce, a student at New York university, survive Mr. Pierce in addition to Mrs. Pierce.

Funeral services were held in Plainview Wednesday afternoon, according to a wire received by Mr. and Mrs. Riordan from Charles C. Pierce.

'Bank Holiday' Looms In Coloradoans' Memories of Inauguration 4 Years Ago

Since history itself uses presidential terms as time divisions, it is likely that many Colorado and Mitchell county citizens remembered the highlights of "four years ago" as President Roosevelt's second inauguration was held this week.

It was not exactly four years ago, of course, because that first Roosevelt inauguration took place on March 4 and this one was on January 20. But we'll call it four years ago, just as radio announcers and newspapers have been doing during the last few days.

Looming large—and dark—in most memories of inauguration week four years ago is the nation-wide "bank holiday." The Record got out an extra on the eve of inauguration to assure Coloradoans that the City National bank hadn't closed its doors because it was not able to open them but because it was obeying orders. Oddities attending the "financial moratorium" were listed in a Record story on March 10, 1933.

One Colorado druggist took a check for a quarter after the purchaser of a cigar found that his last quarter was unexpectedly missing. . . . Payroll checks were being used for merchandise exchange, with the merchant giving his own check for the amount of change due the purchaser.

Roy Dozier and other barbers had been receiving checks for shaves and haircuts. . . . A busy time was predicted for bank clerks after the close of the "holiday."

CHS BAND INVITED TO TAKE PART IN CONTEST AT HARDIN-SIMMONS U.

ABILENE.—The Colorado High school band was invited this week by Hardin-Simmons university to enter once again in the annual playing and marching contests featured in the annual High School Band Festival.

The tenth annual festival will be held April 9 and 10 with approximately thirty-five bands participating, Marion B. McClure, director of the Cowboy Band, estimates.

Although the contest is open to all high school bands in the state, the Colorado band received a special invitation because of its participation in the festival in the past.

Returning again this year to assist in the festival will be H. A. Vandercook and H. E. Nutt of the Vandercook School of Music in Chicago.

WOMEN IN THE STUDY CLUBS

Hesperian

Immediate enlargement of the Hesperian club's student loan fund was decided on when the club met with Mrs. J. G. Merritt Friday afternoon.

Members will pay their loan fund dues at this time instead of at the end of the year and the club will repay its loan from the fund immediately. These steps were decided on because of the needs of the two students who are using the loan fund this year.

Mrs. Ed Majors presided in the absence of the club president, Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, whose mother was ill.

Mrs. E. H. Winn and Mrs. S. H. Millwee reported having delivered 100 magazines to Longfellow school. A meeting of the Sixth district board in San Angelo on Saturday, Jan. 29, was announced. District chairmen who plan to attend from the Hesperian club are Mrs. S. H. Millwee, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, and Mrs. Charles Moe- ser.

The lesson, a continued study of World Courts, was led by Mrs. J. W. Randle. Programs of Hitler and Mussolini were compared by Mrs. Doyle Williams. "The King and the Pope" was Mrs. Winn's topic. Mrs. S. H. Millwee told of woman's place in Nazi and Fascist movements. Biscuits filled with ham and butter were served with plum pudding and coffee to club members and the following guests: Mrs. C. E. Jameson, Mrs. Ford Merritt, young David Sanders Merritt, Doris Ann Coffey, and Dana Marie Merritt. The last two named assisted the hostess in serving. Mrs. Millwee is to be hostess this Friday.

Shakespeare

Scandinavian countries furnished the Shakespeare club with its study topics in addition to the regular Shakespeare lesson during the regular meeting with Mrs. W. R. Motley Friday afternoon.

Items of interest about Scandinavia were given during roll call. Mrs. T. W. Stonerod was lesson leader. In the illness of Mrs. D. H. Snyder, Mrs. John Arnett read a paper on "Norway and the Norwegians." Mrs. J. Max Thomas told of "Sweden, Land of White Birch and White Coal."

The hostess and her daughter served refreshments following the lesson. Mrs. Jerold Riordan will be the next hostess.

Zetaghian

Discussion of plans for sponsoring the bridge party which is to be held in connection with the President's Birthday ball on Jan. 30 occupied members of the Zetaghian club during most of their business hour at the home of Mrs. Charles Wyatt Friday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Joe Pond, named Mrs. Bill Oswald chairman of the bridge party committee. Mrs. Oswald's assistants will be Mrs. Troy Patrick and Mrs. Charles Wyatt.

"Religion of Mexico" was the study topic. Mrs. Troy Patrick told of "Ancient Religions," Mrs. Jack Christian of "The Virgin of Guadalupe," Mrs. Oswald was leader.

Mrs. Frank Mackey was a guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wylie Kinard.

1921 Study

Continuing their study of the poems of Archibald MacLeish, members of the 1921 Study club met Friday with Mrs. Albert Norred.

Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr., was leader and program parts were as follows: Reading—"Not Marble Nor the Gilded Monuments," Mrs. W. W. Rhode; paper—"Conquistador," Mrs. U. G. Harrison; readings—"Burying Ground by the Ties" and "Ars Poetica," Mrs. Harry Ratliff.

The president, Mrs. P. K. Mackey, appointed the following to decide on the course of study for next year:

Poem By Mrs. Sam Majors Is Winner Of Second Place In State Contest

"Mary's Smile," a poem by Mrs. Sam Majors of Colorado, has been adjudged winner of second place in the state-wide poetry contest of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, according to a letter received by Mrs. Majors from the state poetry chairman.

Mr. Majors, who served as poetry chairman of the Sixth district last year and as such compiled the district's first anthology of poetry, has won several other honors with her poetry writing in the past. She writes under the name Edna Coe Majors.

The poem winning this latest prize follows: "The hush of evening falls on them, Two strangers in small Bethlehem, Who, when denied the sheltering inn, Sleek rest where late a manger's been."

"Beside a mound of fresh, sweet hay The gentle Mary kneels to pray, And there before the gray of dawn, The fair young mother, pale and drawn, With misty eyes and tranquil smile Looks on her infant son the while The shepherds from the hills draw near To offer homage and good cheer."

"Could she but scan the coming years And know Him king among all peers, Her Saviour and the hope of men, And see Him crucified—what then? Think you her smile would vanish? Ah, no! A mother first was she."

Beware The Cough That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Did you know that one of Colorado's new residents—a feminine one—such a talented artist that she rates membership in the American Penwomen's association? That newcomer is Mrs. F. R. Sproule, wife of the head of the emulsion asphalt department of the Col-Tex refinery. The Sproules came here last October from Boston, Massachusetts.

To belong to the above-mentioned association, I understand, a woman must show unusual talent in writing, painting, composing music or some other creative art. . . . Not only that, but she must also turn out work that sells, which is quite another thing, as any would-be artist or writer can tell you. . . .

Retired in North Dakota, near Grand Falls, Mrs. Sproule received her preliminary art work in the University of North Dakota. . . . Later she took private lessons in San Francisco. . . . Water-color landscapes are her specialty, and she has sold quite a bit of work on both the east and west coasts. . . . She was admitted to the penwomen's association while living in San Francisco, but her membership at present is in the Boston branch. . . . She paints usually by special order and now has an order waiting to be filled. . . .

Center of the Sproule household is two-and-a-half-year-old Susan, who most always decides that mother should take her walking just as mother's painting hours draw near. . . . Mrs. Sproule is described by friends as a slender person, very neat and trim, the possessor of a most pleasing manner. . . . She is extraordinarily well-read, keeping up with the latest books and magazines. . . .

Just the other day I settled something that has rather bothered me for years. . . . It was something most other folks have probably known the answer to all the time, but it has been a mystery to me ever since I was little enough to think I'd done something smart if I happened to be looking at the street lights the instant they came on in the evening dusk. . . . That something was this: What made the lights come on? For a long time I thought somebody turned them on every evening, and I wondered what would happen if that somebody should forget. . . . But it doesn't turn out to be that way at all—in justice to myself I must say that I'd begun to suspect it might not be. . . . It seems that there's an automatic switch back of the light company's office that takes care of the whole business. . . . The timing of the switch is changed as the days grow longer or shorter. . . . This is hereby recorded just in case somebody else is as slow to catch on as I am. . . . But then maybe nobody else ever wondered. . . .

"Dad" Hickman has made his last round of Colorado's alleys in the strange quiet hours of the night. . . . Hourly, night after night, he and his dog went into the town's darkest places, where any danger might lurk, and made sure the town's business back doors were locked and unmoled. . . . And each time they went around they punched the watch clock that will henceforward be hanging around somebody else's shoulders. . . .

And now it's too late for that story we always thought we'd some day write about "Dad" Hickman and all the years that he's been connected with Colorado's law enforcement. . . . Working by night, "Dad" wasn't much in evidence during daylight hours and so wasn't easily found for a talk during our working day. . . . So the story was never written. . . .

Death came to three former Coloradans in different parts of Texas during the week-end. . . . All three were prominent residents here in the earlier days. . . . One was Mrs. F. S. Oxsheer, who died in Ft. Worth Saturday night. . . . The second was Mrs. T. C. Collins who died in Houston Sunday afternoon. . . . And the third was C. A. Pierce of Plainview, who died in a Dallas hospital Sunday morning. . . .

Death claimed another former Coloradan Sunday afternoon when Mrs. E. T. Collins, early pioneer resident here, died at the home of her son, Harry Collins, in Houston at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Collins and her late husband, who is buried here, and their son lived in Colorado for about 20 years. Mrs. Collins and Harry moved from here to Houston about 20 years ago. While Mr. Collins lived he was in partnership with the late B. F. Wilson in the Western Windmill business. Like her husband, Mrs. Collins was a native of England. Both were prominent members of All Saints' Episcopal church while they lived here. Their home here was what is now the A. J. Hagler place. Harry Collins married after he and his mother moved to Houston but has no children. Funeral services were held in Houston.

DON'T GIVE A COLD AN EVEN BREAK!

Reports from health authorities warn against the danger of the common cold. It is an illness that should be regarded with utmost seriousness. With the warning comes the startling information that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a common cold. If you do catch cold consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

If your home is inadequately heated . . . if you "huddle" in one or two rooms . . . if some rooms are kept warm while others remain cold, your family cannot avoid sudden temperature changes as they go from room to room. Quick changes of temperature within the home make it easy for the cold germ to attack. Therefore, don't give a common cold an even break. Take the important precaution of providing adequate heat and proper ventilation of fresh air in every room of the home during the treacherous weeks ahead.

EDITORIAL

KING EDWARD AND WALLY SIMPSON

Because of their recent episodes which filled the papers we herewith give a brief historical review.

A hundred years ago Peggy O'Neill was a pretty young girl, daughter of an inn keeper at Washington. Our statesmen of that period frequented her father's tavern and Peggy was a great favorite with all of them. She married a young lieutenant and was soon widowed. She was very pretty and very popular. She was gossiped about, even after marrying Andrew Jackson's Secretary of War. President Jackson was her firm defender, and the result was a break-up of his Cabinet. The Cabinet ladies couldn't abide Peggy, so they walked out on her. But her new friends stood by her, believing in her. So much for Peggy. In 1785 Marie Anne Smythe, known in history as Mrs. Fitzbert, a twice widowed English lady, was secretly married to the Prince of Wales, who subsequently became King George IV. Maria Anne was quite rich, on account of her two previous husbands. But it developed that she was a Catholic lady, so her marriage to the Prince was declared invalid under the terms of the royal marriage act. But the King loved her nevertheless even though his official marriage was later well liked by his subjects, even though he didn't like it himself. About 1950 years ago Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt, fell in love with Julius Caesar, and after Caesar was assassinated she became enamored of Marcus Antonius. (Known in history as Mark Antony) the greatest man in Rome after Caesar. He returned her love with fervor, and when he lingered too long in her company, his army was defeated by a competing Prince and Marc committed suicide. Cleopatra, learning of it, killed herself. A few hundred years before that, King David, beloved monarch of Israel, looked out of his palace window and saw a lady taking her bath. He decided to marry her, although he already had a houseful of wives. So he discovered the lady's identity, sent her husband Uriah, into a dangerous post in battle and got him killed. Bathsheba became the King's favorite and their son, Solomon, succeeded to the throne when David died. Edward VIII and Wally are not unique.

ABOUT LAWYERS

Lawyers have fallen into disrepute in recent years. Colorado has never been able to use her lawyers on the school board or on the city council. Of all mean creatures, deliver us from the lawyer who perverts truth, ferments discord, thinks only of his fee, tampers with witnesses and bribes jurors. The lawyer who knowingly uses false testimony, knowingly misleads the judge, knowingly takes unjust advantage of the other side has done an unprofessional thing and made himself a party to a crime.

But lawyers are the most unselfish class of men to be found. They will devote more of their time, energy and money to the public good than any other business or professional class of men. (Ministers are not business or professional men; they are called to their work.)

In ancient times the lawyer was a citizen who traveled on foot from land to land, enduring every privation and incurring every danger in order that he might learn the laws, customs and manners of other people. The best of it all he brought back to his own people. He gave his life for his country in the strictest and noblest sense. The Roman world had lawyers of a lofty type and the loftiest ideals. When Nero ordered a Roman lawyer to prepare to justify that tyrant's murder of his mother the lawyer drew his mantle about him and went to his death rather than stain his hands with the ghastly work.

France had many heroes who led her from Feudalism to liberty. If you crown these heroes each of them will be found to be a lawyer. In England the battle for personal liberty was carried on by a great galaxy of legal giants that fought against the divine rule of kings and the special privilege of the nobles. The people of the English speaking world owe their individual rights and privileges to legal principles hammered out on the anvil of experience by the lawyers of the land.

Coming to the New World the lawyers during Colonial days fought hard for the rights of English liberty. The signal fires of the Revolution were lit by lawyers; the Declaration of Independence was written by a lawyer. So was the Constitution. And the principle of equality before the law was thought out and established by lawyers. American rights and liberties were developed, have been and will be maintained by the legal profession.

These are some of the ornaments of the legal profession. Lawyers should and do glory in their opportunity to do good. Lawyers work hard, live well and die poor. A man married to the law had rather be a lawyer with bread than Croesus with his riches.

Here is a judgment rendered in the High Court of England about the time of the establishment of the government of the United States:

"The court doth adjudge, that you be drawn upon a hurdle to the place of execution; that you be there hanged by the neck, but not until you are dead; and that being alive, you be cut down, and your bowels taken out, and burnt before your face. That your head be severed from your body; and that your body divided into four parts; and that your head and quarters be disposed of as the king shall think fit."

The arguments, pleas and eloquence of lawyers stopped such brutal punishment. Anyway lawyers are not so bad when you need one.

I STOOD ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT

Last June I stood before a company of young women and men who had completed the high school course of study and had gathered to receive their diplomas. And what a happy-faced, what a jolly ensemble of youth it was. Not a line of care on the brow, and the smiles on their lips showed plainly that every heart was singing a song of gladness. To myself I said, how delightful if the stretch of human life could be one continuous morning, with eternal springtime in every heart, the smile of hope on every lip, and the velvety softness of youth on every cheek.

Some weeks later I sat with a man and his companion who had lived over more than the allotted years of mankind. There were furrows on their cheeks and brows, their voices were weak and their footsteps tottering, but they were happy. It was not the vigorous, noisy happiness of youth, but the subdued and peaceful joys of eventide. They craved nothing, they put forth no efforts for pleasures or for gain, they only smiled, and loved, and waited. And then I asked myself whether the joys of youth transcend the joys of age.

We congratulate vigorous, noisy youth, we commiserate the aged and feeble, but after all, is morning lovelier than evening? Is L'allegro sweeter than Il pensive? Do the major chords minister to our hearts more than the minor notes? Aurora indeed is gorgeous, but sunset is sublime. The swelling notes of the Elijah Chorus thrill and inspire but do they fall upon the heart in sweeter cadence than the minor chords of "Abide with me, fast falls the Eventide." Nature is kind. For the rosy morning of youth she gives glee and glitter and sunlit splendors, but for the gloaming of life's eventide there are the gentler scenes and the softer songs of peace.

POETRY

"Like cosmic wrecks from a distant sphere
Is the erring human race
Like atoms of dust we are drifting here
With blind unrest and haunting fear
Of the tomb as a resting place."

VOCABULARY CAMP

Our good friend H. L. Baker out on Route 1 asked this writer the other day if I did better work when "in the mood" for it than when I felt disinclined to tackle the job before me. I am always suspicious of a paragraph I write when ideas seem so tame I can put salt on their tails, and when the words that constitute my too limited vocabulary camp in order about my typewriter. No columnar concoction as toothsome that is not flavored with sweat. Of course if one has given thought to some matter, a chance happening may cause it readily to "jell." Housewives tell us that some days their work seems almost to do itself. All of us encounter periods when whatever we have to do seems difficult, period of frustrations, of failure and futility. Even then I think with Cassius that the fault is not in our stars but in ourselves. Once we owned a mule of many virtues who nearly always, in harness, sought to do his best. Occasionally he would with no apparent reason "balk." Perhaps he saw that he was getting nowhere. What he was doing seemed to him unimportant. While nothing appeared in the offing, whatever was there would be as well worth while as was the matter in hand—so he threw up his heels and quit. We all at times feel like that and either balk, or for the nonce make of work, drudgery. Yet work done under pressure may be quite as good as that done when all is well. The chap who fishes, perforce, for a living, catches quite as many of the big fellows as does the luckier angler who fishes solely for sport and maybe gets a bigger kick out of it.

A RICH UNCLE

Some visits we all naturally forget, but I am sure I will never forget my visit to my rich uncle back in old states in the late 70's when I was nearly grown. Having heard that my uncle was very wealthy, I was very anxious to see him, and saved up my Christmas and picnic money to make the trip. I had heard that he lived at one of the larger towns but when I reached the town I found he was making a share crop on a farm four miles from town. A fellow who lived in the same neighborhood agreed for me to ride out on his wagon. On the way out I asked the owner of the wagon if my uncle wasn't "well fixed." "Oh ye, he's very well fixed," the fellow replied.

"About how much do you think he's worth," I asked. "I hardly know, but he's mighty well fixed," said the man. "He has two good mules and a wagon, a good cow and calf, four good meat hogs and a sow that will bring pigs in a week or two. He must be worth something like six or seven hundred dollars." And he was.

HIGH PRICES

The prices of some things are far above their real worth but the prices of other things never reach their worth, no matter how high they soar. I have always believed the price of radium, platinum and eau de cologne to be far above the worth of these commodities, but if red ham gravy, the kind that wears a brine smile and giveth its color in the dish, should soar to a dollar a plate I should still contend that the selling price was far below the gravy's actual worth.

ARE YOU FAIR?

Are you fair with your home business men?

If you were in business here would you feel grateful to those who gave their patronage elsewhere?

Every wage earner and every citizen profits by the prosperity of other citizens of your community.

If the home merchant enjoys a better business it is reflected in increased clerk hire, in more improvements, in better stocks, and in many ways.

If patrons run to some other town, Abilene or Dallas, to buy merchandise that is sold here just as cheaply and of just as good quality, they are injuring their home community.

The person who gets his salary from school, city, county, or other public office certainly is not treating his town or community right if he or she spends what they make elsewhere. Do they think of this?

The way to build a town is to be loyal to its home institutions. They help on every community enterprise. They are called upon a hundred times to help some enterprise that helps the town. Suppose the business firms sent all their donations to some other city, would it not be a hard pull for all our civic and religious institutions?

Let us think of these things and help those who help us. Give your home business man a fair chance at your patronage.

Trade at home. If you really prefer to help outsiders to home people why not claim citizenship there? Surely, if a citizen has no local pride or no desire to help those who help the town, they should not claim to be loyal citizens of a community they do not support.

Trading at home is like swapping dollars. Think it over.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Are my banking affairs kept confidential?"

It is an unwritten law observed in this bank that no employee shall discuss the affairs of our customers with anyone except properly authorized persons. This is one of the first rules every employee of this bank understands and respects.

Banking, like medicine or law, is a confidential relationship. Not only must bank officers respect a customer's confidence when that customer gives information about his business or personal finances, but all other employees do not discuss customers' affairs outside the bank—and in the bank only insofar as is necessary.

Strict adherence to this policy is one of the basic principles in the management of this bank. We know that the only way we can continue to merit the confidence of our customers is by respecting fully their private business matters with us.
