

WPA INTERESTED IN CITY'S EFFORT TO CONSTRUCT AN AUDITORIUM, HOPPE SAYS

Allotment To Be Available, However, Less Than Under Prior Contracts, District Supervisor Tells Group

The government is interested in project to build and equip an auditorium building at Colorado and would, should the project receive the requisite approvals, cooperate financially to an extent ranging from thirty to forty per cent of the expense represented, R. C. Hoppe of Abilene, district supervisor for WPA, told a group of county, city and club officials here Friday morning at the court house.

The government official came to Colorado upon invitation by Mayor J. A. Sadler, who discussed the city's hopes of erecting the plant after voters had authorized issuance of $12,000 in bonds. All members of the city council, county commissioners' court were present for the conference, as were W. W. Whipkey, architect, and ladies representing the Mitchell County Federated Clubs.

Hoppe stated that WPA would cooperate to the extent of approximately forty per cent, based upon certain conditions. Later it developed that this ratio would be reduced from five to ten per cent.

Mayor J. A. Sadler stated Monday night soon after adjournment of meeting of the city council that no action had been taken by that body on the auditorium project. The matter was held in abeyance due to wish of the city to obtain a more detailed cost estimate from the architect, it was stated.

County Judge A. F. King told The Record Tuesday morning that commissioners' court, then in session, had taken no action on the project. Just when the city, as sponsor, is to proceed with formal project application is not known.

It is the plan of the city to proceed along lines to not incur any expense until such time it is determined to proceed with the building program, the mayor explained. He said that services of Whipkey as architect in an advisory capacity, was being extended the city without cost. Unless a special meeting of the council is called by the mayor, the matter will, in all probability, remain dormant until the next regular meeting of the body, slated for the night of April 12.

CC LUNCHEON CLUB LOOKS TO AMIABLE COOPERATION WITH ALL GOOD PURPOSES

Persons Sponsoring 'Rackets' And Cash Gathering Drives Of Questioned Merit Will Be Checked, Leaders Aver

One of the biggest problems with which a committee of the chamber of commerce has to do is directing policies of the organization in sponsoring or turning away propositions couched in the ordinary solicitor's appeal, J. W. Randle, chairman of the committee, stated at the C-C luncheon club Tuesday.

"If any of you gentlemen have reason to suspect that ours is not a hard task, I wish that you would come and sit in with us some time," he bantered, after reports having to do with merits of first one and another proposition had been detailed.

Merchants of Colorado, it was indicated by expressions heard, are going to sustain the chamber of commerce in its determined will to curb activities of certain classes of promoters. It is not the purpose of the CC nor any business man connected with the organization to turn a deaf ear to legitimate and worthwhile proposals, but there is one thing that must be remembered—the solicitor will not get very far in Colorado unless he is armed with accredited credentials as issued under direction of the committee.

"This committee gave soliciting permit to certain party yesterday about which there has been some misunderstanding," Randle stated. "We accepted that the party could take his proposition to the business men, but we, under no condition, gave endorsement to his enterprise."

J. V. Glover, principal of junior high school, recalled experiences that were his during time he was associated with rural schools of the county. "I know that your merchants of Colorado have paid for curtains for some of the schools costing you considerably more than the commodity was worth," he declared. "The man starting this project might have been on the level, but then there are others who, in my opinion, might have made a racket out of the sales." Glover

TEXAS SOIL CONSERVATION BILL SHOULD BE ACCEPTED BY SOLONS, SPEAKERS SAY

Urge That Mitchell County Folk Support Legislation Given During Addresses At Lions Club Friday

The proposed Texas Soil Conservation Act, pending consideration by the legislature and known as House Bill 4 and Senate Bill 24, should receive the enthusiastic endorsement of every Mitchell countyman having interests of the future stability of this section at heart, members of the Lions Club were told Friday by speakers addressing them on the subject.

Jim Greene, manager of the chamber of commerce, was first speaker to be heard. Greene is representing the West Texas chamber in territory between Eastland and El Paso in campaign to win popular favor for the bill. He outlined some of the principal factors incorporated into the measure and concluded with the appeal that citizens of the county get in touch with Howard Davidson, representative, and Wilbourne B. Collie, senator, respectively, with request that they support the bill.

"This is the first time in history of this State that a bill has been projected in the legislature proposing to expend monies collected right on the farms paying the tax," he declared after explaining that under provisions of the bill, if enacted into law, the ten-cent State ad valorem tax suggested to maintain the soil conservation program, would be expended under personal supervision of the county commissioners.

"As to these monies collected within a corporated city, fifty per cent of the amount would be spent, either within the city, under direction of the county commissioner and through approval of the city administering body, or outside the city limits for benefit of the city, if so widely deemed proper. The remaining fifty per cent would be diverted to the State Board. All tax monies collected in rural areas would be

(Doc) Wimberley, Colorado motor car distributor, in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages in the sum of $10,000 for alleged personal injuries.

There have been larger damage claims heard in the local court during years of the past, but, in so far as information available Thursday morning was concerned, this case featured one of the largest suits against an individual to be brought to trial here.

The trial is sequel to a motor car accident on East Hill near the Round Top Cafe on night of July 1, 1936, in which Hill is alleged to have been run down and injured by a motor car driven by Earnest Smith, claimed by plaintiff to have been employed by Wimberley at the time.

That the plaintiff sustained permanent personal injuries as result of the incident is alleged in petition filed with the district clerk. Questioning of prospective jurors Thursday morning by attorneys for the plaintiff indicated that such a trial would be brought into trial of the case.

Wimberley is represented by Thompson, Knight, Baker & Harris of Dallas and R. H. Ratliff of Colorado. The law firm of Thompson, Barber & Barber of Colorado are attorneys for the plaintiff.

All four of Colorado's school principals were reelected Tuesday night by the school board, along with the coaches and Doyle Williams, head of the high school vocational agriculture department.

DANGER OF KITE FLYING NEAR ELECTRIC POWER LINES IS POINTED OUT

With the kite flying season at hand, Texas Electric Service Company issued today its annual appeal to parents to warn children flying kites to keep away from electric power lines.

"That the innocent pastime of kite flying can be exceedingly dangerous is brought out forcibly by the fact that many fatal accidents occurred in the year just past because of children getting their metalized kite tangled in power lines," according to L. J. Geer, district manager of Texas Electric Service Company.

"Too often children use metal wire in the place of string on their kites and when this wire comes in contact with a power line the result is instantly disastrous. Even plain kite strings sometimes carry current, especially if the string is wet. The best idea, regardless of how the kite is built or what kind of string is being used, is to see that it is flown in open spaces where no power lines are located," Mr. Geer stated.

"If a kite should become entangled in power lines, be sure that children do not climb the poles or use long sticks to try to get the kite down. Call our company office and a trained lineman will be sent to rescue the kite if it is possible to do so."
Employees of the electric company will pay their annual visit to local schools shortly and will make a detailed explanation of the dangers of flying kites near power lines.

100 Trees and Additional Evergreens Planted In Windbreak Demonstration

One hundred deciduous trees, including Chinese Elms, black walnuts, and chaste trees, were set out at three-foot intervals in a straight row west of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Daughtrey in a windbreak planting demonstration held there Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Twenty feet in front of this row the permanent planting of red cedar was made, the plantings being 19 feet apart. The demonstration was carried out with the help of Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Gunter explained that for windbreaks the evergreen trees are the most effective. The combination of the evergreens and deciduous trees is held more desirable, however, because of the slow growth of evergreens during the first few years.

Other work done on the Daughtrey yard included some foundation planting, including red cedar, coral berry, winter jasmine, and spirea. A screen planting of vixen, desert willow, and red bud was made in the northeast corner. More plantings are to be made in this year when the yard is filled in and the garage moved.

A grease box is to be made of concrete for the subirrigation of some of the trees with drain water from the sink. Mr. and Mrs. Daughtrey plan to carry on a long-time improvement demonstration and are working to make their farm not only productive but a livable place for their children.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Certain hitherto smothered ambitions that would, if carried out, add considerable spice to some Ruddle park amateur program this summer came to light this week. . . . Dr. C. L. Root, it is reliably reported, has a yen to do a tap dance. . . . Bill Cooper (he won't put his own name in the paper but I will—) makes no secret of his singing aspirations. . . . All in favor of seeing these two ambitions realized say "aye." . . . My "aye" is already on record. . . .

The excitement of being "granda" combined with that of getting Charles Edwin off to the factory after a new Buick proved too much for Mrs. C. L. Root one day last week. . . . She started from the office and was nearly downstairs before she discovered that she was wearing Charles Edwin's overcoat instead of her own. . . .

An "Easter mystif" was carried out in the old postoffice building this week when around 3,000 baby chicks from the Logan hatchery moved in. Their peeping (or do baby chicks chirp?) could be heard for several feet outside the building and you'd be surprised how many people stopped to look in and how long they looked. . . . Nothing's much cuter than a healthy baby chicken getting acquainted with its brothers and sisters. . . .

Grief permeated the Harry Ratliff household this week following the death of young Hubert Ratliff's "Christmas present" Boston bulldog. . . . What grownup doesn't remember the poignant tragedy of losing a pet puppy? . . .

Since corn syrup—the clear variety that makes some folks think of castor oil—has always been a weakness of mine I got quite a kick out of seeing a huge barrel of the stuff in the back of the Farmers' candy kitchen recently. . . . Miss Maude, the candy-making member of the Farmers' firm, uses corn syrup in all her candy recipes. . . . She never has a failure—only that isn't attributed to the corn syrup but to an array of thermometers plus tried and true recipes. . . .

And so I make people think of cabbages—well, well, isn't that nice! . . . That Geneva (Mrs. G. D.) Foster is the heartless soul who brought the fact home to me. . . . She stoutly denies any devilish meanings but the fact remains that she was walking from the grocery store to her car with the grocery boy and when she saw me she said, "Oh, yes—that reminds me! I forgot the cabbage." . . . Now what would you think? . . .

I've never met this Mrs. Nyle Mickley, who moved here last November when her husband became connected with the Colorado Sand and Gravel company, but of late I'm hearing quite a few nice things about her. . . . One lady whose opinion I respect said of her that she's "quite worthwhile." . . . The Mickleys, so I learn, lived in Waco before coming here. . . . Mrs. Mickley was reared in Thurber, her maiden name being Myra Rhodes. . . . There's a Mickley daughter, Mary Alene, in the junior class of Colorado High school, and two Mickley sons—Nyle, Jr., in Colorado Junior High, and Howard, who's several years younger. . . .

Sweetwater Patrol Car In Crash After Fugitive Gets Through Trap Set Here

D. C. (Doc) Fulkerson, veteran Sweetwater police officer, was seriously injured Wednesday morning when the car he was driving at clip of 80 miles per hour became lost from control and crashed into curb on corner of the public square. Fulkerson and another officer were chasing car reported having been stolen in Pecos. . . .

The alleged car thief had escaped officers in Colorado earlier during the night and headed east under high speed. The machine was spotted in Sweetwater by the two officers who were cruising in a patrol car. They gave chase with the accident following.

METHODIST LEAGUERS GIVE CHURCH PROGRAM
By Reporter

The Methodist young people, remaining true to their colors, prepared a splendid program for the church service last Sunday, as it was young people's day. Mr. Bert Smith, Mr. Mason, and Miss Annetta Lacey made talks, the quartet sang one song, and then there was a playlet. The young people showed that they were eager and capable in the church work.

Two Sundays in succession "open house" was held in the basement of the church. Fifty or more were present each Sunday, and more came later to League. This is a marked increase over the ordinary attendance and such improvement should be permanent.

Young people, you have shown what you can do. Now, it is your duty to keep on doing—to attend all young people's services. You are greatly needed at choir practice every Wednesday night at 6:30 and in the choir on Sunday nights. Come on, and show that you have the right spirit.

Next Sunday the Baptist young people are to present a program during the League hour. Everyone is invited to attend.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Dick O'Brien, Pastor
Special efforts are being made by departments and classes to have our Sunday school and B. T. U. attendance back to normal next Sunday. Now that the bad weather and illness seem to be waning we are hopeful of having an increase in both attendance and interest.

The pastor will be in the pulpit at both hours next Sunday, and you are cordially invited to worship with us.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
C. E. Jameson, Pastor
We were delighted with the marked increase in attendance in Sunday school and church attendance last Sunday. That is the way it should be, and now let us continue the good work. Our Young People rendered a splendid program at the evening hour. They are an "up and coming" group.

We welcome every one who will look to worship with us. Will be looking for you next Sunday. Our revival begins April 4th and we invite the cooperation of all who will. Rev. George Tucker, one of our outstanding general evangelists of Memphis, Tenn., will be with us. Mr. E. H. Martin of Jackson, Miss., will be in charge of the choir and Young People's services. Let us be praying for and talking about the meeting.

An inspirational meeting was held by the Presbyterian auxiliary at the home of Mrs. P. C. Coleman Monday afternoon. "All Things to the Church," with a scripture based on the first chapter of Ephesians, was the theme for Mrs. B. T. Daugherty's devotional.

Mrs. Clarence Gross, who is closing her first year as president of the auxiliary, gave her final message of this year. She is to serve next year. Instead of having each officer give her report, Mrs. Gross had each to tell of the greatest blessing which has come to her during the year. Mrs. Gross also read a poem on friendship from Browning's works.

Representing the young people of the church, Myra Brown asked the women to pray for and assist in the pre-Easter revival which the young people are sponsoring.

The foreign mission lesson from The Survey was led by Mrs. Gross with the following having individual parts: Mrs. Roy Davis Coles, Miss Hennie Merriwether, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Jerold Riordan, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Mrs. L. M. Guest, and Miss Nelle Riordan.

SUICIDE, CORONER REPORTS

J. H. McEntire Fires Fatal
Bullet Into Head Shortly
After Leaving Residence In Sterling City Thursday

James H. McEntire, member of a pioneer ranch family of this section and well known to the citizenship of Mitchell and Sterling counties, was found shot to death in the garage at his home in Sterling City Thursday noon of last week. Justice T. E. Carr of Sterling, who conducted an inquest, reported his finding that McEntire died by his own hand. Information brought out during the coroner's hearing was that Mr. McEntire stated to his wife that he would drive to the school building to bring their two daughters, L. Jean and Jamie Sue, home for lunch, as was his custom. He did not appear at the school building and the children arrived home without having seen him. One of the children, Jamie Sue, 10, found the body of her father on floor of the family garage with a small calibre pistol grasped in one hand. A bullet had crashed into his brain. Funeral services were conducted from the Sterling Methodist church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial was in the Sterling City cemetery. Several citizens of Mitchell county, friends and relatives of the family, attended the rites. McEntire was a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McEntire of near Colorado. Two brothers, R. B. McEntire and W. R. McEntire, are residents of Colorado. Other survivors are his widow, the two daughters and one brother, E. F. McEntire of Sterling. Deceased was 40 years of age. He owned a seven-section ranch near Sterling City and his business affairs are said to have been in good condition.

Judge Looney Provided That These Share In Residue Of His Estate

Children of the late Judge R. H. Looney were included as beneficiaries in his will and article in this newspaper last week reporting trial in district court should have so stated. The article left impression that widow of Judge Looney had been listed as sole heir to the estate. The following paragraph, last provision incorporated into the will, provided residuary estate should be devised as follows: "After paying all my debts and paying the bequest in paragraph five hereof I direct that the residue of my property be divided into six equal parts, one of which portions to be paid to each of my five children or their heirs, and the other portion to my wife, Gertrude C. Looney, share and share alike." WATSON AND DOSS HOLD EXPIRING BOARD POSTS; ELECTION SET APRIL 3. J. W. Watson, president, and J. M. Doss, secretary, respectively, of the Colorado independent school board; hold places on the board to expire with the election April 3. Neither of the trustees have stated for publication whether or not they will be candidates for reelection. Frank Kelley, D. H. Snyder and A. C. Connell are members of the board whose terms are to expire in April, 1938. Members holding terms to run for two years are J. E. Mills and R. J. Wallace. All of the trustees are elected for three years.

TENANTS REPRESENT SIXTY
FOUR PER CENT MITCHELL COUNTY FARM POPULATION

Federal Supervisor For This Area Notes, Too, That Soil
Is Deteriorating Rapidly On Field and Range Lands

Tenants constitute sixty-four per cent of the farm population in Mitchell county, according to figures released Wednesday by Vernon Slocomb, county supervisor for the Resettlement Administration. Slocomb gave no figures to indicate comparison of these figures with those of years in the past but it is accepted that Mitchell county's tenancy population has ranked high through several years. The farm tenancy status, however, does not present the problem to rural stability as does the rapidly deteriorating effect by wind and water on field and range lands of this county, it was noted. The latter condition was described as appalling, not alone in Mitchell county but throughout this entire section of the state. "The Mitchell county public will act in wisdom when they lend serious consideration and cooperation to the government, both Federal and State, in campaign to arrest soil erosion in this section and put an end to a factor that is taking an appalling toll in their properties," it was suggested. "There are farms that a few years ago were topped with a deep, rich soil, containing the qualities for producing as good farm crops as might have been grown in any section, on which today are to be found large gulches winding through fields left barren through effects of erosion." The survey shows that in many counties of Texas more than seventy per cent of the farmers are tenants. The high per cent of tenancy is confined to no one part of the State, for in Terry county, near the New Mexico State line 72 per cent of the farmers are tenants and in San Augustine county, in opposite corner of Texas, the figure runs to 65 per cent. In Haskell county and in Jones county, the heart of central West Texas, most fertile cotton area, 70 per cent and 68 per cent, respectively, are tenants. In the famous black land belt where more than a million bales of cotton are normally raised within a 100-mile radius, Ellis county has 68 per cent tenancy, Navarro county 72 per cent, Hill county 67 per cent, and Williamson county 66 per cent. The lowest per cent of tenancy is in the hill country, where the farmers grow their living first and make cash crops more of a secondary matter. Typical of this type of county are Gillespie county, Kerr county, and Kendall county, where the percentage of tenancy ranges from 21 per cent to 27 per cent. Some comparatively low tenancy areas are also found in Southeastern Texas, where there is another area of small live-atom farms. In five counties just north of Beaumont, the percentage of tenancy runs from 32 per cent to 38 per cent, as compared with an average for the state of 57 per cent. The Resettlement Administration is carrying out a three-point program to improve the conditions of tenant farmers and help them toward eventual ownership of the land.

Varied and Entertaining Program To Be Given Free At High School Friday Night

Packed with a variety of entertainment, a free program is to be presented by student musical and dramatic groups of Colorado High school at the high school auditorium Friday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. This program was originally scheduled for two weeks ago but had to be postponed because of illness in the family of one of the principal participants. First on the program will be two numbers by the High School Choral club with Mrs. Charles Moser directing. These numbers will be Canning's "Just Been Wandering All Day Long" and Lane Wilson's "Carmena Waltz." A saxophone solo, "Le Secret," will be played by Hunter Brannon, after which the choral club will sing three more numbers—"Chinese Lullaby" from "East is West" by Bowers-Rieger; "The Glow Worm" by Lincke; and "Bells of St. Mary's" by Adams. Revolving about a "misplaced" baby, a one-act play will be staged under the direction of Miss Gladys Miller, member of the English faculty. Cast of the play includes Joe Robertson, Catherine Hodges, Armorina Whitmore, Quinton Hamrick, and Meta Hudson. Two numbers by the school band under direction of R. P. Rose will come next, these being a march, "His Honor," by Fillmore, and an overture, "Daphnis," by Holmes. Between these two band numbers and the final three band numbers three songs will be sung by a girls' duet composed of Betty Hodge and Frances Merle Cooper. They will sing "Roses of Picardy," "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "Moonlight and Shadows." The final three band numbers will be: A novelty number, "Business in F," by Bleyer; a trombone oddity, Jewell's "Trombone Blues"; and a march, "The Man of the Hour," by Woods. This program has been worked out to show school patrons and the general public what Colorado High school students have accomplished this year. Everyone is invited to attend.

Later a farmer of the Divide section, south of Sweetwater, reported loss of 200 hens. The sheriff and a deputy trailed the thieves into San Angelo, arrested two men and recovered the poultry.

Mrs. Harvey faces charges of passing forged checks here and other cities. She was arrested several months ago and within a few weeks the Arkansas woman announced that she was the guilty person. Victims of the forgery, however in one North Texas city, refused to accept statement of the Arkansas woman, maintaining she was not the person alleged to have passed the worthless vouchers on them.

PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

One of the liveliest one-act plays of the year (so the characters say) is to be presented Friday night at high school. The name of the play is "The Bachelor's Baby." The play must be good because Miss Miller is sponsoring it, and everyone knows that any play that she sponsors is always a success.

TEAM TO FORT WORTH

The meat identification team has entered the state contest at Fort Worth F.F.A. Day at the Southwestern Exposition. For the past three years the team has placed 3-4-5. The winner of this contest will represent Texas at Kansas City Royal Livestock show.

C. H. S. EXTENDS SYMPATHY

All the members of the Colorado High school wish to extend their greatest sympathy to the following students: Misses Irene and Grace Dossey, Miss Lucille Goode in the loss of their loved ones.

STUDENTS INCREASE SPEED

"Time will tell" must be a true saying for it seems that the commercial students are going on to success by leaps and bounds. Some are even saying that bookkeeping and shorthand are the two easiest subjects offered and as for typing, almost everyone increases his speed a word or two with each speed test.

GETTING INTERESTED?

Exclamations of astonishment arose from the home economics foods laboratory a few days back when Miss Hargrove demonstrated the making of omelet. This first year class has also had a round with waffles and criddle cakes and came out victorious.

To their great delight the first year clothing girls have nearly finished their silks and Miss Hargrove complimented them. They have begun the study of different lines and styles for their print dresses which they will begin soon.

Stews, roasts, fish, and other meats will be prepared by the second year girls soon. They are planning these laboratories now and, although they eat meals every day, they never dreamed they would be so difficult now.

The more dignified class, the third year group, is looking forward to next week when they will begin the making of their Easter frocks and evening dresses. They made a joyous trip to town last week to examine patterns and materials.

TRACK, SPRING FOOTBALL START

March 1 thirty-five boys reported for spring training in football, and twenty for track. The football is directed by Mr. Clark, the assistant coach, the track directed by Coach Christian.

SENIOR REPRESENTATIVES CHOSEN FOR DECLAMATION CONTEST

The smoke has died away in the English IV room, and everyone is smiling again, with the exception of about six good public speaking students who consider themselves very fortunate in being the best Senior declaimers. Every Senior was required to learn a declamation and say it everyday last week.

interpretation. The senior boys receiving the greatest number of votes were J. B. Marshall, Walter Rankin, and Joe Leonard Blackard. The girls were Elna Womack, June Cox and Mary Frances Mackey, Verda Bohannon, and Janice Tate. The best girl and boy will be chosen from this group to compete with the best boy and girl from each of the other classes.

The inter-class contest will decide the representatives of C. H. S. in the Interscholastic League Declamation Contest to be held April 2.

SOME JUNIORS MAKE IMPORTANT CHANGES

Some of the Juniors have made many alterations in English grammar on this six weeks' test papers. Did you know that Washington Irving was ironed and simile? Did you know that Lofacadio Hearn changed his name to Hern? Did you know that exaggeration has three or four different ways of being spelled.

GRUBBS CHILDREN BACK IN SCHOOL

Hazel, Walter and Gilbert Grubbs returned to school Monday morning after having been absent for the past two weeks. Hazel had diphtheria which quarantined the family thus keeping them out of school.

MINISTER ADVISES AGAINST SMOKING

Last Wednesday the pupils of C. H. S. enjoyed a talk delivered by Mr. Childress of the Church of Christ. The program was begun by everyone singing "Home on the Range," led by Miss Roberta Hamrick, and accompanied by Miss Inez Rogers at the piano.

DOES BLADDER IRRITATION WAKE YOU UP?

It's not normal. It's nature's warning. "Danger Ahead!" Make this 25c test. Use health boxes, instant-act, and 4 other tests made into Bladder Irritability Tablets. Flush out excess acids and impurities. Excess acids can cause irritation resulting in swelling, up nights, scanty flow, frequent desire, burning, backache, and leg pain. Just say "Blocks" to your druggist. In four days if not changed your 25c will be refunded. J. L. Doss, Druggist, Colorado Drug Co. B172 do these telephone mishaps ever happen to you?

Your telephone bell rings... you pick up the receiver, and... there is no one on the line. Here are some ways to avoid this... for yourself and others:

- 1. Someone may have asked for your number by mistake, discovered the error, and hung up. REMEDY: If you are not sure of a number, look in the directory before making a call.

- 2. Someone called you, but got impatient and didn't wait a reasonable time for you to answer. REMEDY: When you make a call, wait about a minute (10 rings) for a reply before you hang up.

- 3. You may not have answered your telephone promptly, by the time you answered, the person calling had hung up. REMEDY: Always try to answer your telephone promptly.

Simple remedies, these... but important. They help us give you better telephone service. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN HELPS IN FLOOD RELIEF

Praise for the flood relief work done in Natchez, Mississippi, by a former Colorado woman, Mrs. Sam Geisenberger (Louise Wulfjen) was contained in a recent editorial in the Natchez Democrat.

The editorial was entitled "Salute" and a portion of it reads as follows: "Natchez has been the base for flood emergency relief many times but never yet has the work been so splendidly done as at present. . . . While the Democrat cannot give honor as it wishes it can tell of the fine tribute given to the Natchez chapter of the American Red Cross . . . and to the disaster relief committee headed by Mayor William Byrne and Mrs. Sam Geisenberger. . . . The outstanding work of Mrs. Geisenberger is continuing from day to day."

Mrs. Geisenberger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wulfjen of Colorado.

Enroute To Visit Ill Mother, Youth Has Foot Crushed

Tragedy Overtakes Rider On Freight Train Near Roscoe Friday Night

A Tennessee boy lies in a Sweetwater hospital grieving the loss of his right foot which was crushed under the wheels of an east bound freight train near Roscoe Friday night.

The youth is Herbert West, 19, who was traveling from California to Lafayette, Tennessee, to visit his mother who was ill. He lost his balance and fell between box cars and the member was crushed beyond recovery. Amputation was agreed upon soon after he was received into the hospital.

The youth lay for some time beside the tracks crying for assistance. He advanced the belief that people were afraid to approach him, believing he might be trying to put over an old robbery ruse.

Reports from the hospital picture the youth as being more saddened in fact he cannot go to bedside of his ill mother than over loss of his foot. The fact, too, that he cannot now contribute to her welfare financially is a source of dismay.

Mr. Glover was one of the speakers at the West Texas State Teachers Association in Lubbock on March 5 and 6. "What is Being Done in the Colorado Schools with the New Curriculum" was the subject that he discussed before the elementary division on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Webb, Principal of the Slaton Junior High school, told Mr. Glover that he would like to bring some of his teachers to visit the Colorado schools soon.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE PLAYGROUND

The Junior High boys are trying to improve the schoolground. For the last week they have been working on the playground equipment and good results have been noticed. The old volleyball net has been repaired and a new one has been bought. The back stops on the tennis courts have been repaired and the lines have been painted. Dirt has been put around the tennis court. The Junior High pupils want to thank Mr. Sadler for having this last improvement made.

SPRING FOOTBALL AND BASKET BALL PRACTICE STARTED

Coach Jack Christian invited all of the seventh grade boys who were interested in football or basket ball to take part in the Spring practice at the high school. In his talk to the boys last week he explained the purpose of Spring practice. A large number of boys has already started training.

SPRING FEVER

Spring weather and Spring fever seem to be arriving early this year. We have had only a few warm days, yet many cases of Spring fever have been noticed. This seems to be a contagious disease and we are wondering how serious it will get before the season is over. Some of the victims of this fever forget that they are in school and that they have lessons to prepare. If more serious cases develop, the teachers may have to find a remedy for this dreadful disease.

Moisture Placed In Range, Field Lands By Rains

Fall Totaling 1.25 Inches, However, Did Not Put Out Much Stock Water

Rains of the recent past left from one to one and one-half inches of moisture in the range and field lands of Mitchell county. Both farmers and ranchers seen in Colorado since the rains have expressed elation over the benefits in prospect. Ranchers, however, state that they did not receive but little stock water in surface reservoirs.

At Colorado the rainfall was registered at 1.25 inches. It came slowly and was absorbed by the ground as it fell. Range vegetation and early field crops will be given a decided advantage in growing.

ABOUT HANTS

The writer of this column was raised on a farm in the heavy timbered country in southern Illinois. There were five of us boys in the family, all as mean as could be and when mother wanted to punish us she would threaten us with a ghost or han't, in fact she taught us to believe in han'ts.

Some people do not believe in han'ts for no better reason than that they have never seen one. I have never seen the Carlsbad Cavern, a wampus cat or my backbone, but I do not doubt their existence. Another contention of the skeptics is that there are no han'ts today, which is proof positive they never existed, so they say.

What about the buffalo, the old fashioned hoop skirts, bustles and side saddles? They are gone never to return, but no one doubts that they once existed. I know at least a dozen men who, when boys, were chased by han'ts.

Some of the boldest and most daring han'ts that ever snaked around after dark were in the river bottoms near my house, when I was a boy. All han'ts are nocturnal and never come from their hiding places until after dark, which accounts for so little being known concerning their existence and habits. It takes a mighty bold han't to appear before a crowd of men and women no matter how dark the night. A crowd of boys could sit all night near a graveyard and never would see hair or hide of a han't, but let just one lone boy pass the same graveyard after dark, (regardless how loud he whistles) and right straight a han't would bob up in plain view, impelling said boy to save himself by instantaneous flight.

Uncle Pete Duncan stoutly maintained that it was foolish to run from han'ts since they were made of an airy substance and could go through a rock wall without checking their speed. But Uncle Pete was mistaken, there was not one of us boys who couldn't have outrun a han't. When I was about thirteen years old I outran a han't on a dark, drizzly night while handicapped with a set of plow harness and a horse collar. I had borrowed the harness from a neighbor and was on my way home when without warning a snow-white han't about sixteen hands tall appeared from behind a dense thicket. I did my best to shed the harness, but couldn't get my head free of the collar. Realizing what I was up against I made a run for it and came tearing in home with chains, hames and collar inextricably twisted about my body. My folks claimed I had seen no han't, that it was our neighbors old white mule. But how was I to know that it wasn't a "shore" enough han't.

As old as I am today I wouldn't care to antagonize a han't. I once took an active part in poking fun at a han't, but it came near ending in a tragedy. Four of us boys agreed to go in a body to an old deserted house known to be haunted and demand an audience with the han't. It was an ideal night for our adventure, so ideal, in fact, that our hearts almost failed us when we came in sight of the old shanty. It was our intention to walk boldly up to the abode of the han't, take hold of him by the collar and demand an explanation. Dear reader these high resolves were made in broad daylight when the sun was shining brightly and our courage beat high.

The night of our adventure was dark and windy. We proceeded slowly and with extreme caution. When within fifty yards of the haunted house we halted and went into a whispered conference, wherein it was unanimously agreed that we should address the han't from where we stood, at a distance of about 150 feet. We started out by whooping and yelling at it to stick its head out at the window so we could talk to it, but no han't appeared. Then we bombarded the house with rocks and dared the han't to come out and fight us. Pud Jenkins finally made a mark on the ground with his big toe and dared the han't to cross it. Receiving no response, he gave a double-dog dare and then the trouble started. A tall gaunt looking han't, waving a white sheet came from behind the house and began shooting at us. It was at least six hundred yards to Jeff Moore's house, but we made it in record breaking time, coming in so close together that we jammed the doorway. That was the last han't that any boy in that crowd ever poked fun at or offered a double-dog dare.

As a general thing han'ts are peaceable and attend to their own business if let alone, but look out if you make one mad. One night a crowd of us boys were possum hunting in the river bottoms and had built a fire to warm our hands when the subject turned to han'ts. Every boy present was afraid of han'ts except Frank Meadows.

"You boys make me sick," said Frank. "Fear of han'ts are you? Well all I've got to say is you are a bunch of blame cowards. Why are you afraid of them? They won't hurt you if you will stand your ground. If a han't was to come stepping out of the brush and walk right up to where we are now sitting, I would kick it in the seat of its pants, if it was wearing pants, and ask it what it wanted. The idea of you fellows being afraid of a blame han't. You don't catch me running from one of the things, especially when I got pa's musket, like I have tonight. Now, let me tell you blame sissies something else and—But then a tall han't with a cap pulled down over his eyes, stepped from behind a thicket and asked in a deep guttural voice:

"I'm looking for Frank Meadows, please point him out to me." Instantly we were on our feet and without giving the han't any information about Frank, went tearing down the creek, never looking back or slacking speed until we came to the schoolhouse, at least a mile from where we saw the han't.

Strange as it may seem, Frank Meadows led the race, throwing away his old musket while the race was young and reaching the schoolhouse steps 200 yards ahead of any of us.

You don't catch this writer poking fun at han'ts or claiming he's not afraid of them. He shall play safe and say nothing that might offend them.

Bill Oswalt says the paint some women use, bought at some other drug store, would be put to a better use if used on the barn.

The press dispatches say a Tennessee woman, eighty years old, has never seen a motor car. This may be the reason she is eighty years old.

B. J. Baskin, the agricultural teacher asked his class, which of you can name five things that contain milk. I can shout one of the Boy Scouts, a freckle-faced youngster, "Butter and cheese, ice cream and two cows."

One of the O'Brien twins asked: Father, my Sunday school teacher says if I'm good I'd go to Heaven. Father: Well?

The twin, well you said if I was good I'd go to the circus; now I want to know who's telling the truth?

News broadcasters have made much progress but they still walk to the post office for the Colorado Record.

News commentator says the G.O.P. is trying to solve the recent election landslide. Well in the words of F.D.R. that didn't just happen. It was planned.

C. A. Wilkins was explaining to his class that an object could both be round and square at the same time. To be sure. This may have an anomalous ring, but it's true nevertheless. The "all-round man" who is also square is the earth's best piece of furniture and the noblest work of God.

It seems to this writer that about the only friends cotton has left are these Helpy Selvy laundries (not in Colorado). Some of them tear up shirts and collars so fast there is bound to be a fair demand for cotton as long as these wearables are made of cotton and these laundries see to it that they are not worn too long.

Mr. A. E. Madden the other day met Dr. Ratliff and said: "Where have you been? Ain't seen you about lately?"

"I've been laid up with the influenzy."

"Influenzy! What's that?" asked Madden.

"Well," said Dr. Ratliff, "I don't know that I can exactly explain it. It takes all the fight out of you. You feel sort of tired like. Don't seem to want to do anything."

"Why I've had that disease for the last twenty years," said Madden, "but this is the first time I have ever heard its name."

One of the lady teachers in the school last week said to a nearby grown boy, "You have been very naughty and I am going to keep you after school for an hour every day this week."

"Oh I don't care for myself," replied the boy, "but ain't you afraid folks'll talk about us?"

I am not a pessimistic wailer, and am not saying that times are hard in Colorado. We have already been warned against the oncoming boom. If it is true that one extreme follows another, and the pendulum swings as far out as it did in the opposite direction, then I am sure that when the change comes we will have to have our greenbacks baled in hay presses in order to handle it more conveniently and that our tamales will be wrapped in dollar bills.

These great United States keeps on strengthening its army and navy a little. We still cling to the policy of preparedness, but keep it in mind, dear reader, that we are preparing against war, not for war. We prepare against war just as the fellow who provides a stomach pump prepares against drunkenness. The fellow gets a jug of whiskey, it may be said prepares for a drunk, but not if he also provides a stomach pump for removing the whiskey. Our country provides against war by gathering the things that make other nations afraid to talk sassy to us or point their guns in our direction.

THE DARK SIDE

Of all the texts of the Bible I know of none that requires the attention of "the children of this world" more at this time than the one found a Zechariah 4, 6.

The streets of the cities are lined with thieves, the lanes of the world crowded with highjackers, the legislative assemblies filled with pickpockets and the ships of state manned by Captain Kidds.

The sit-down strikers deny all property rights to the citizen; Hitler, all spiritual rights; Stalin, all property, spiritual and personal rights; Mussolini rapes Ethiopia, and Japan mercilessly dismembers China. At no time since God created the world have there been such exhibitions of human greed and displays of human powers as there are today. What will the end be?

The world needs to see what Zechariah saw—the candlestick of seven lamps, fed by the oil of two olive trees—and hear the angel of the Lord say for the builder's instruction, "It is not by great inherent power nor by external force that success can be achieved, but in the Spirit of the Lord God Almighty." Unless God builds civilization they who attempt to build it labor in vain.

Now comes Chas. Brooks up in Oklahoma who says, "If the people of the United States permit the President and the Congress to pack the Supreme Court with hot dogs, it will be the sorriest mess of pottage any nation ever sold its birthright for."

TALL TALES

We have received a paper from the north in which a lady politician writes a scathing article in which she accuses Roosevelt of being in league with the Reds.

If one were to take stock in her statements, it would look very bad for the President, but fortunately for Mr. Roosevelt, her tales are so coarse that even a nutty nitwit can see that the wool and warp of her yarns were woven in a G.O.P. loom. They are as coarse as the grapevine with which the proverbial gal sewed up the corn sack.

Not only is Mr. Roosevelt in league with the Reds, but she states that the "Methodist church as well as all other Protestant denominations" are dominated by the Reds. When and if this sister goes to confessional at the sanctum of Father Coughlin or some other Roman priest, it is to be expected that lying will be the chief sin in her confession—provided she confesses the truth. But I don't blame this old girl. Writing is her calling. The G.O.P. is in the market for big campaign lies. She had the lies, and the party had the money, so they made the deal and made the mistake of sending me a free copy which I have laid away with my books of Tall Tales, Baron Munchausen and the anecdotes of the Kilkenny cats and other works of refreshing prevarication.

CCC ENROLLMENT TO BE HELD IN APRIL

According to C. J. Sweeney, Administrator for the Texas Relief Commission in Abilene, word has been received that there will be an enrollment for the first part of April for youths for CCC Camps.
"The same requirements of eligibility as formerly are in force, i.e., the applicant must be from a family receiving assistance from some government agency, and between the ages of 17 and 29, and able to pass a physical examination." Mr. Sweeney further stated, "Actual quotas have not been established, and will not be until an accurate estimate can be made of the number of boys available. Consequently, all those who desire to go at the next enrollment should immediately call at their county welfare office and make application."
The present session of Congress has appropriated funds for continuing the CCC Program for several months, and there is no doubt that it will remain one of President Roosevelt's major programs. Those boys who apply themselves will receive promotions and increases in pay that will be more than they would be able to earn in private employment.

LOCAL DEALER SPONSORS FARM 'TALKIE' PICTURE

"Hidden Treasures," new all-talking sound on film farm picture, will be shown at the Palace Theatre Friday afternoon of this week at 2:30 under sponsorship of the Berry-Fee Lumber company, local dealer for the Keystone Steel & Wire company, makers of Red brand fence, steel posts and other wire products. The feature picture, "Hidden Treasures" is the absorbing, human story of a young man who believed in the treasure that lies buried in the soil—and who found it. In his successful search for the treasure, the successful soil handling and farming methods that unlock the treasure in any soil. It's said to be an even finer picture than "Tom, Dick and Harry Co.," the last Keystone "talkie" that ran with great success for three years.

Added to this feature will be a trip by motion picture through the modern Keystone steel and wire mills—showing the huge open hearth furnaces that pour forth tons of flaming molten steel, to be cast in ingots, rolled into billets, rods and finally into wire, which is converted into fence, barbed wire, nails, etc. It's a remarkable picture, and decidedly worth seeing.

The evening's entertainment will be completed with a fast-moving "talkie" featuring the "Hoosier Hot Shots"—clowning, singing, playing stars of radio and stage, and an animated cartoon comedy. There are two full hours of high-grade entertainment. Admission is free to farmers, land owners, their families and friends.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"How are Banks started?"

A GROUP of citizens apply to the state or federal authorities for a charter. Those who wish to form the bank must furnish the required capital. When the charter has been issued, by the proper government authorities, the capital stock paid in, the directors elected, and officers appointed, the bank is ready to equip itself for operations.

It would appear from long experience that the following questions may properly be asked by state-federal agencies before a new charter is issued:

1. Is there a definite need in the community for the proposed institution?
2. What are the character and banking experience of the management?
3. Is the capital structure adequate; are earning prospects such as to justify the investment?

If the answers to these questions are favorable, then, and only then, in the opinion of leading banking authorities, should a new bank come into being.

It's farther between filling stations in the Ford "60"

The 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!
