

SOIL CONSERVATION PLANS STUDIED AT MEETING HELD IN COURT HOUSE SATURDAY

Election Of Young, Wulfjen And Hale As Directors; Ben Baskin Is Speaker

Purposes of the Federal soil conservation program for 1937 and conditions to be met in obtaining benefits listed were studied at meeting of executives of the Mitchell county conservation unit Saturday afternoon. The meeting, presided over by County Farm Agent Ben J. Baskin, was convened at the court house at 2 o'clock.

Election of an executive committee that will be charged with responsibility of steering the farm and range lands conservation program in the county was announced. E. B. Hale, of Loraine, chairman of the farmer committee group, elected here several days ago, was made chairman of the executive body. U. D. Wulfjen of Seven Wells, member of the rancher's organization, and A. L. Young of Westbrook, member of the farm committee, were others elected.

Members of the executive committee attending the session included Hale, Wulfjen, Young, Homer Hart of Loraine, H. Williams of Payne and Carl Lowry of Hyman.

Task of signing farmers in the 1937 program is to be started Monday at the county agent's office on second floor of the court house. Baskin suggested this week that it was important that all planters enter a work sheet now whether or not he plans entering the soil conservation program. "The work sheet contract entails no obligation whatsoever and the farmer may or may not continue with the program for 1937," Baskin stated. "However, should he want to enter the program later, it will be mandatory that he be registered as having entered one of the sheets."

Ranchers of the county planning to enter the program are believed to have practically concluded their acreage listings. A total of 285,000 acres is represented in these contracts on file at the county agent's office.

Byron Byrne, Jr., has been elected inspector for the Federal range conservation program and will enter actively upon the duties involved within the next few days. It will be his duty to personally inspect ranch lands entered in the program. Byrne, Baskin and Wulfjen are to attend a three-days special training school set to open in Big Spring Monday, at which government representatives will detail plans under which the law is to be administered.

Heating plants in the several buildings of Colorado's school unit are safe, according to information listed in the office of Superintendent J. E. Watson. Watson stated Wednesday morning that thorough examinations of the plants were made periodically and were, at last inspection, reported in good condition.

Considerable concern has been expressed throughout the country as to possible danger involved, since the disaster at New London Thursday afternoon.

Steam heat is used at the high school building. The other buildings are equipped with individual gas steam radiators.

REGISTRATION OF AUTOS TO OFFER ANNUAL RUSH

There is grief ahead for attaches at the county tax collector's office, suggested Jack Helton in addressing the Lions Club Friday as he recounted laxity in car registrations. "We are offering the appeal that owners of motor vehicles attend to this duty without further delay," he pled. "It would require the registration of 200 cars every day to conclude the task by end of the month."

Secret Group To Direct Soliciting Permits For C-C

Business Interests Continue Cooperation In Campaign To Curb Practice

The special services were opened Friday evening of last week with Roy Cogdill of Dallas doing the preaching. Services are held each morning at 10 and the evening worship opens at 7:45. The revival is to close Sunday night and Minister Cogdill will leave for Hayesville, La., where he is to lead in another evangelistic meeting.

In addition to these special awards, the two regularly awarded association banners, for efficiency and for attendance, will be presented.

Presbyterian Services Will Be Concluded Sunday; Dr. Guy Duff, Pastor Here In Other Years, Is Leader

Young people of First Presbyterian church, active sponsors of revival being held at the church this week under leadership of Dr. Guy B. Duff of LaGrange, are extending every invitation to older people of the church and community to join with them more fully in campaign to bring the revival to a successful end, the Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor, stated Thursday morning.

"Only thing lacking in the pre-Easter services that the young people of the church are sponsoring, and that is an insufficient number of our own people in attendance and receiving the spiritual benefits of the wonderful messages of Dr. Duff bring," Mr. Elliott stated.

The revival was opened Sunday morning. Services are being held twice daily, at 10 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. Special prayer circles are meeting at 7:15 each evening for a fifteen-minute devotional service before the sermons are delivered. Tommy Dawes is in charge of the music.

In further reference to the revival, Rev. Mr. Elliott said:

Dr. Duff is an earnest, consecrated minister and his message is direct, simple and convincing. All who hear him are loud in their praise. Many people are being more interested in their Christian development and the unsaved are thinking seriously over the matter of their salvation. The young people of the church are hoping and praying that great results along those lines are to result."

Young people of the church issued this statement:

"We, as your young people, are anxious for all our church to get the full benefit of the great spiritual messages being delivered by Dr. Duff. Come and hear him and you shall not be disappointed."

The following sermon subjects have been announced by Dr. Duff:

Thursday evening he was to have spoken on "The Atonement of Christ." For Friday evening the speaker has announced "Wilt Thou Be Made Whole," and "Christian Loyalty" is to be subject of his address Friday morning.

Two great services are planned Sunday as the series of revival meetings are brought to a close. At 11 o'clock Dr. Duff is to speak from the subject, "Christian Love." "Christ, the Only Hope of Salvation," will be the concluding theme Sunday evening.

Chevrolet Looking To Effective Used Car Sales Drive

Factory Representatives To Assist Local Dealers With This Feature Of Business

Chevrolet dealers throughout the United States are going into their major selling season in the best position in regard to used cars that they have enjoyed in many months, figures released by the company showed this week.

A marked reduction has been made in the used car stocks on hand, as of the last reporting period, the figures revealed. This condition has been attributed to the functioning of Chevrolet's national used car department which has been in operation for over a year.

At the same time, dealers are looking forward to an even greater reduction in used car stocks through the operation of the new division of the sales department which will devote itself exclusively to used car sales under the leadership of W. G. Lewellen and T. H. Kenting, new assistant general sales managers in charge of used cars.

The current reduction of the number of used cars now in dealers' hands was accomplished despite the heavy volume of new car sales in 1936, officials pointed out, and in the face of the unusually high volume of sales that followed the announcement of the 1937 models last November.

A reduction of several thousand in used car stocks was accomplished over January of last year, the figures showed, and an additional reduction of 30,000 was accomplished over February, 1936.

"Our dealers are in an enviable position to move new cars this spring," Mr. Kenting declared, "and our used car organization has been set up in such a way as to give them every possible aid in maintaining that position through the balance of the year."

Hotbed Management

TURN over and shake apart the manure to be used in the hotbed. If it is dry, water it, allow it to stand a few days and turn it over again. This is to achieve a uniform degree of fermentation.

Spread and tread down the manure carefully. Unless it is evenly distributed and well packed in the hotbed it will not heat evenly. Leave the sash partly open a day or two, before putting in the four-inch layer of soil, to allow steam and rank heat to pass off.

Soil for the hotbed should be well dried and friable. Each shovelful must be spread evenly. At first heat in the hotbed will be above 100 degrees. When it has fallen to about 80 degrees, seed may be planted.

Avoid overheating. Temperature in the bed climbs rapidly on a still, sunny day even though the temperature outside is below freezing. On cloudy, windy days, however, the sash must not be open too wide, for the bed can be chilled as well.

Watch moisture in the bed closely. In cloudy weather, water may not be needed for several days, while with the sash open on a sunny day the bed may dry up in an hour.

Harden off plants by gradually lengthening ventilation period each day and by letting them become quite dry for a day or two. But give an abundance of water a few hours before they are taken out. Exercise care not to destroy roots in transplanting, and never transplant just after a rain.

In hotbed culture, hardening off is of extreme importance. If temperature change is too sudden, growth is checked. In that case, all efforts to procure early growth, by starting in a hotbed, are nullified.

FOULTRY INDUSTRY GETS BOOST IN THIS SECTION

Rural and town folk are giving more serious attention to poultry breeding and feeding, indicating that this industry is staging a come-back in Mitchell county. Local hatcheries report brisk demand, from both local and foreign buyers. Egg and poultry continue in good demand as a food commodity.

Young Methodist Women Had Charge Of Methodist Missionary Meeting Monday

With members of the young women's circle in charge, the Methodist Missionary society had its monthly business meeting Monday afternoon. The opening feature was a violin solo by Weldon Hunt with Hazel Grubbs as accompanist. After a hymn Mrs. C. E. Jameson, circle leader, led the Bible study on "Christ and the Royal Problem."

A playlet based on incidents in the life of Mrs. J. G. Merritt was presented. It's title was "Mrs. Merritt Goes To Her First Conference." Those taking part were Mrs. Ferris Bass, Mrs. Martin Grindstaff, Mrs. N. H. White, Mrs. Wayne Gound, and Mrs. Merriman.

Following the playlet Mrs. Merritt reported on her recent trip to the woman's council in Columbia, South Carolina. Mrs. J. T. Pritchett reported that the study courses have been completed with around 50 women having taken part. Prayer group reports were made by Mrs. W. H. Garrett.

Circle reports showed that the women are planning to furnish cookies and eggs for the McCall mission's Easter egg hunt.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson's Arnett-Wulfjen circle again won the Looney dollar for having the most members present.

The closing prayer was by Mrs. D. N. Arnett.

Bridgettes And Husbands Entertained By Mr. And Mrs. James Logan Thursday Night

Including members of the Bridgettes and their husbands on their guest list, Mr. and Mrs. James Logan entertained with a thirteen-table bridge party at the Colorado hotel last Thursday evening.

Spring colors and Easter symbols decorated the party setting. In the games Mrs. John Summers made high for Bridgettes, receiving Houbigant bath powder and sachet. Mrs. Ed Jones, Jr., made high for women guests with Yardley's water softener as the prize. Yardley's shaving cream was men's high score prize won by A. L. McSpadden while shaving cream and lotion constituted men's low score prize for John Summers.

Cherry salad, cheese sandwiches, minis, and candy were served to Messrs. and Mmes. R. D. Bridgford, Joe Pond, Raymond Gary, Bill Dorn, Ed Jones, Jr., John Summers, V. Hopkins, Truett Barber, Charles Moeser, Jack Christian, Wylie Kinnard, A. C. Anderson, Farris Lipps, C. A. Wilkins, Fred Brown, G. V. Harrison, Bill Oswald, Grady Newman, Harry Ragan, and A. L. Three Honorary Members Of 1921 Study Club Hostesses To Dinner Friday Night

THREE HONORARY MEMBERS 8 Three of the 1921 Study club's honorary members, Miss Mabel Smith, Mrs. J. E. McCleary, and Mrs. W. R. Martin, entertained members of the club with a dinner and games at the home of Miss Smith Friday evening.

Violets, sweet peas, and other spring flowers were used with yellow, green, and blue candles to give the home a spring setting. The dining table centerpiece was of spiraea. Each of the quartet tables where the four-course dinner was served was centered with a blue bowl of violets and sweet peas.

Table prizes were awarded in the bridge and 42 games which followed the dinner, prizes being the blue table bowls and flowers.

Playing in the places of absent members were Mrs. E. H. Winn, Mrs. R. S. Brennan, Mrs. R. O. Pearson, Miss Katie Buchanan, Mrs. R. H. Looney, Mrs. P. C. Coleman, Mrs. J. Ralph Lee, and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell of Roswell, New Mexico.

Hints to Gardeners

by Harold Coulter Plant Expert Ferry Seed Institute

Starting Plants Indoors

GARDENERS impatient for the planting season may start plants indoors. This practice prolongs the short gardening season and makes plants earlier than those grown from seed sown in the open.

The following flowers are best for indoor planting: Verbena, petunia, aster, snapdragon, stock, pansy and salvia. Vinca rosea, scabiosa, carnation, lobelia and salpiglossis are also good. In the vegetable division, tomato, cabbage, broccolli, egg plant and pepper are best.

Any wooden box, about three inches deep, may be used to hold the "window sill garden." Bore holes in the bottom of the box to let in water, for moistening from the bottom is best. Place broken flower-pot pieces, brick crumbings or other roughage in the bottom and fill with loose, fairly rich soil.

Make top soil very fine, then plant seeds in rows about two inches apart. Put only a light covering of soil over the seeds. Place the box before a light, sunny window. Temperature should be kept as uniform as possible, preferably around 70 degrees.

To water, place the bottom of the box in water until the soil has become well moistened. This should not be done too often, for excessive dampness is injurious. When the sun is hot it will be necessary to water more frequently, perhaps every day.

When plants are about one and one-half inches tall they should be transplanted into larger boxes or into a cold frame, and set three or four inches apart. Later they should be hardened off. This is of vital importance. Boxes should be placed in the open on mild days before the seedlings are transplanted into the garden. If the temperature change is too sudden when plants are set outdoors, growth is checked.

SKIMMED MILK AND CALF MEAL PROVIDE THRIFTY CALF FEED

The natural food for baby calves is whole milk as it comes from its mother. Today, several factors make the "natural way" the "impractical way." Newer and sounder methods of feeding calves are being offered.

Today, milk has attained a commercial value that makes it almost prohibitive as a calf feed. At present day milk prices one gallon of whole milk testing six percent contains about one-half pound butterfat, and has a market value of around 20 cents. When you stop to consider how many gallons of milk each calf requires for fulfilling body needs, the impracticability of such a feeding program is immediately apparent.

Scours Are Likely

But there are other reasons why whole milk is not the best feed for baby calves. Because butterfat does have such a high commercial value, dairymen are, and have been, breeding cows which produce milk with a higher fat content. Research shows that high test milk is really a dangerous feed for young calves since the high percentage of fat makes it difficult for the calf to digest. Consequently, scours develop, leaving the calf sick and weakly. Scours may be outgrown but their results show up later in disease and lower production.

The calf raising problem becomes even more serious when one realizes that removing the cream from the milk doesn't do much good. Skimmed milk falls far short of being the ideal calf feed. In feeding skim milk, one of the causes of scours is avoided, but skim milk alone does not provide the essentials calves need, and must have. If they are to grow and develop into money-making cows. When cream is removed, Vitamin A, the growth and health vitamin is taken away. With plenty of Vitamin A in the diet, calves slow down in growth becoming weak, scrubby animals that lower the herd average when they finally mature and become milkers.

Butterfat Substitute Made

A great deal of research has been conducted at the Purina Experimental Farm to find an answer to these troublesome questions. Since feeding high test milk is both dangerous and expensive, and since skimmed milk does not provide sufficient Vitamin A to properly develop a calf, some digestible and inexpensive ingredient to replace butterfat was to be added for skimmed milk to do an acceptable job. Through years of research and experimentation with numerous calves, scientists at the Purina Experimental Farm have answered the calf-feeding problem satisfactorily in the form of a new calf chow meal to add to milk.

This newly developed calf meal contains pura-tens, and is actually made so high in Vitamin A that there is more Vitamin A in the skimmed milk and meal mixture than is in whole milk. Calves fed on this new calf chow meal have more vigor, vitality, and are more resistant to disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smith and children of Sweetwater spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Burt Smith and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson.

The Chevrolet Purchasing Department bought enough tires in 1936 to make a stack 466 miles high. Or if divided into 1,500 equal stacks each pile would be higher than the Empire State building.

If all the upholstery and cloth used to trim Chevrolet bodies in 1936 were in one roll a foot wide, that roll would stretch from New York to San Francisco. This same upholstery would make 6,500,000 overcoats.

City Political Pot Sizzles As Annual Election Is Near

Candidates For Mayoralty Devoting Time To Shaking Hands With Voters

The municipal political pot is warming up considerably as date of the annual election draws near.

And these three gentlemen are going to take credit for bringing out a full vote, or practically so, as electors of the city go to the polls early next month.

There are no issues involved in the race for mayor and almost daily two or more of the gentlemen may be seen jostling each other as to the outcome.

Candidates for alderman, and there are five, with three to be elected, have not evidenced the aggressive campaign that has entered into the chief executive race.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Dr. R. E. Lee was moved from Root hospital to his home Thursday morning. He is improving but is not yet able to be up.

E. S. McCord, who underwent major surgery two weeks ago, was moved to his home Tuesday.

Hoyt May is able to sit up this week. He is recovering from chest and arm burns.

"Still serious" is the report issued on the condition of Mrs. E. S. Hudson, a medical patient from Westbrook.

The condition of Mrs. W. P. Burleson of Lorraine was regarded as grave Thursday morning. Mrs. Burleson was admitted to the hospital Saturday and underwent major surgery Sunday night.

Mrs. M. H. Venus of near Colorado was readmitted to the hospital Wednesday night. She underwent minor surgery last Thursday morning.

"Doing fairly well" was the Thursday morning report on Mrs. D. L. Beeman, who was admitted on last Friday following an illness of pneumonia.

It is now believed that two-year-old Tom Banos, who was burned up to the waist in a gasoline explosion Wednesday of last week, will live. His condition was extremely critical for a few days. His mother, Mrs. Gus Banos, who suffered leg burns in the same accident, is doing all right.

I. G. Haines continues to make slow but steady improvement from leg burns which he suffered some time months ago.

Additional funds are needed to care for attention for Texas crippled children. B. E. Glamery conferred with officials of the Lions club as to child welfare work in Mitchell county while here.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

The consequences of this column's matrimonial hints are not always too comfortable. . . . But, being of the stuff from which heroes are made, I herewith submit the latest rumor to reach my alert (I hope) ears: A former Colorado girl now employed to the eastward and a former Colorado man ditto to the westward are said to be making their wedding plans for the near future. . . . The girl was born and reared in Colorado and the man worked here several years before moving westward. . . .

When the Ohio river flood hit Paducah, Kentucky, so hard I had a feeling that the J. D. Harveys might be wishing that they'd stayed in New London, Texas, from which place they went to Paducah. . . . But when the New London school tragedy struck last week I knew that the Harveys must be thankful indeed that they were in Paducah, rather than New London. . . . They suffered property losses in Paducah, it's true, but in New London they might have suffered the far, far greater loss of their two younger daughters. . . . I'm sure that both are of high school or junior high school age and to would have been in the ill-fated school building. . . .

If Coloradans aren't becoming Sweetwater Reporter-conscious these days it isn't The Reporter's fault. . . . Two times since the first of the year the Reporter has had extra editions on Colorado's streets in a few hours after events of wide interest had taken place. . . . The first time was when the body of the kidnaped Mattson boy was found in January. . . . The second was following the New London school tragedy Thursday night. . . .

So restless and excited were some of Colorado's first-graders on Friday morning after hearing grown-ups discuss the horrors of the New London school tragedy that their teacher, Miss Pearl Traylor, finally took them for an outing to quieten their little nerves. . . . They visited the hatchery and the Colorado Floral company and then returned to school, their minds full of chickens and flowers and their hands full of "posies."

Fierce indeed was the radio service hereabouts from Friday until Monday. . . . Some folks said it might be atmospheric conditions resulting from the "equinox." . . . The real cause was discovered when a powerful electric motor used in a local business concern burned out Monday. . . . Radio peace immediately descended. . . . The motor's "dragging" before burning out had caused all the static—or so my electrically-minded friends explain. . . . Me, I don't know anything about electricity. . . .

BIG SPRING IS FAVORED IN JUNIOR COLLEGE ACT

Approved by the house of the Texas legislature Wednesday was a senate bill providing an additional method of creating junior colleges—one designed to permit establishment of such an institution at Big Spring. It provides for creation of a junior college district if there are more than 5,000 scholastics and a valuation of more than $9,500,000—if the district is 75 miles or more removed from a similar district. Big Spring interests had sought the measure after it was found that the county could not meet scholastic and valuation provisions of the present junior college bill. Move for creation of a junior college district in the county was inaugurated more than a year ago.

Planters Running Regularly In The Colorado Section

Rural Citizens Looking To Another Crop With Strong Optimism

Planters are running overtime in all parts of the Colorado territory this week as farmers take up the task of seeding their early crops of feed in earnest. Reports received from over the county indicate that fields are in good condition and ample moisture for germinating the seed is in the soil. There are farmers of the more conservative mind who are advancing the opinion that planting now might be a bit hasty. "When it is too cold for cockle burrs to come up, you had better not be putting field seed into the ground," was statement by Jake Chesney of Dorn community the other day. "There is little green vegetation in my community as yet, and I am going to wait a few days before starting to plant."

Two Dogs Help Scientists Build Finer Dog Food

Travellers returning from New Guinea smile as they recall the favorite dishes of the Papuan natives—sardines, salmon, and dog food—in the order named. Ring and Red, two experimental dogs, here in our United States, join with Papuans in praising prepared dog food, but without the sardines and salmon. For ten years that's all they've had. Today they are in perfect health, and their chances for living to a "ripe old age" seem far better than that of dogs fed ordinary rations.

In June, 1926, Ring and Red were taken to the Purina Experimental Farm at Grays Summit, Missouri, a research plant where the constant testing of feeds for livestock, poultry, and small animals is carried on. Ring and Red were put into a pen and given their first meal of what is called dog chow—a compressed checker form of feed containing a balanced ration of dried meat, dried milk, cod liver oil, cereals, vegetable fibre, molasses and minerals. Once a day, 365 days a year for the last five years, Ring and Red have received the same feed. With it they get all the fresh clean water they want, summer and winter. Today they are in "top" condition. Regular examinations show their teeth, gums, hair, and hide to be in excellent form. Brightness of eye and sleekness of coat are other evidences of Ring's and Red's good health.

For hundreds of years dogs got only table scraps and a bone a day. Later prepared dog feeds were introduced to help careful dog owners to balance out their pet's diet. Ring and Red were two of the cooperating agents who helped in the development of modern dog feeds.

Posting Birds Is Surest Test For Worms in Flock

Roundworms Easily Seen When Intestines Are Split

"The surest test for worms in poultry is to kill one of the birds and remove the intestines," says Grafton Lothrop, head of the Sanitation Department at Purina Mills. "Split the intestines from end to end. If large roundworms are present they will show up readily."

Worms Rob Poultry Roundworms are white or yellowish-white and vary in length from one to six inches. They are among the worst enemies of poultry. Worms rob birds of feed and lower the vitality of the flock, thereby causing both feed loss and lowered egg production. The intestinal lining is irritated by worms, and in some cases pus pockets form, giving disease germs an easy entry. Worms themselves give off poisons that weaken the bird's system. Many fowls infested with worms become blind, go lame, or become paralyzed. Loss of body weight is an indication of worms. Nervy flocks are never thrifty flocks, and no poultryman can make money feeding worms.

Government Recommendations "Both the United States Department of Agriculture and the American Veterinary Medication Association recommend tetrachlorethylene as the quickest and most effective treatment for removing large roundworms from turkeys and chickens. To aid poultry owners, this recommended wormer has been placed in testicles, obtainable at stores handling Purina feeds, in exactly the right amount to remove worms with a minimum shock. Of course birds are never wormed when in high production. Complete worming costs less than one egg per bird when it's done this way," Lothrop says.

The timing bought in a year, by Chevrolet, if laid out in one piece would extend more than 12,500 miles—halfway around the earth at the equator.

TRUSTEE ELECTIONS DUE IN ALL DISTRICTS SOON

Patrons of the several independent and common school district of Mitchell county will be called upon to go to the polls on Saturday, April 3, to mark ballots for one or more trustees to serve for a term of three years. In some of the districts interest is so lax as to suggest to observers that few votes are to be polled.

Importance attached to these elections was stressed recently by the county school superintendent. "The public school stands with the church and the home as an institution that we could ill afford to lose and as such should receive more serious consideration of the public," he stated.

THE DIONNE QUINS THRIVE ON OATMEAL

For many weeks every man, woman and child watched with intense interest to see what would happen to the Quins. The fate of these famous babies was a source of speculation and wonder. The Dominion of Canada, making their welfare a National obligation, put them in the care of a top-notch staff of child experts. The amazing result of this special care is that the Dionne Quintuplets are miraculous examples of the glowing health that science can give. Their diet is composed of things which do them good and which they like—such as oatmeal.

Oatmeal was given to these charming babies by the dieticians because oatmeal with milk contains such an abundance of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, energy-making carbohydrates, and Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Vitamin B is the best safeguard against those dangerous enemies of childhood—nervousness, constipation, and poor appetite due to lack of vitamin in the diet. Therefore the Quins thrive on Quaker Oats.

Why a Hotbed?

The hotbed is useful only to the gardener who must save time and procure earlier vegetables.

A "hotbed" properly constructed lives up to its name. Therefore, where climates are not severe, a cold frame rather than a hotbed should be employed, for with the manure bed of the latter the temperature would become too warm for seedlings. The cold frame is useful for wintering over small plants; also for hardening off plants from a hotbed.

A hotbed three by six feet is suitable for the average home garden. For timber, one-inch cypress or yellow pine is recommended. The backboard should be 14 inches wide, the front 19; end boards must be cut to fit front and back measurements.

Board ends may be painted to procure a seal. Screws should be used to fasten the frame pieces if it may be desired later to take it apart for storing away. Pointed stakes, 2" by 2", may be fastened to inside corners of the frame. They should reach from the frame top to 19 inches beneath the lower edge. Drive into holes, which should first be made for them by an auxiliary stake, the stakes will hold the frame securely in place.

Set the frame over a two-foot bed of fresh horse manure which contains a liberal quantity of straw bedding and which has been forked over. Cover the manure bed with four inches of fine soil. Also bank soil or manure about the sides of the frame to within an inch of the top. The bank should extend 12 inches from the frame.

Cold frame and hotbed construction is similar, except that the former has no manure bed. A suitable, ready-made sash for either may be purchased at a lumber yard. Advice on hotbed use and management will be given in a subsequent "Hints" article.

LITTLE ATTENTION GOES TO STATE BOARD APPEAL

Out of approximately 3,500 vehicles affected by the registration law, car owners of Mitchell county have returned to the Highway Planning survey at Austin only 40 of the post cards handed them at the time they paid their 1937 license fees. The information sought is considered important and since the cards are self-addressed and require no postage the board hopes for better cooperation hereafter.

"Count Your Chicks Before They Hatch" Is Expert's Advice

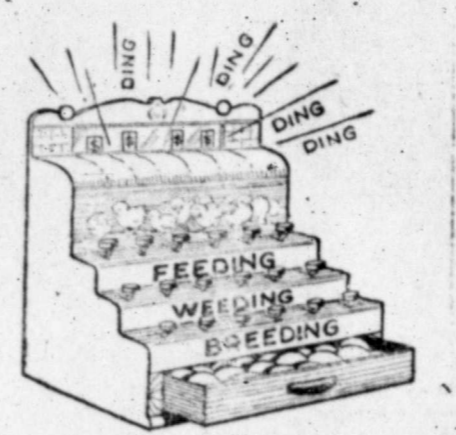

Good Stock, Careful Culling, Good Feed Are Basic.

"Count your chicks before they hatch," says C. S. Johnson, head of the Poultry Department of Purina Mills, "for it can be done by giving hens what they need for building eggs that will hatch.

"Greater hatchability means greater opportunities," Johnson points out. "Poultry raisers don't have a chance with any chick until he's out of the shell. Every chick that doesn't hatch is a lost opportunity—a lost opportunity at six weeks when the chick should be ready to launch into a real money-making bird, a lost opportunity next fall when those expected extra pullets are missing that would put extra dollars into your pocket. The profits made next fall are largely dependent upon the care given that 'spark of life' while it is still in the egg."

Three-Point Program

"Breeding, feeding, and weeding—those are the three keys of success in producing eggs that will hatch. To begin with, good stock is a prime requisite. No one can expect first-class hatching eggs from second-rate birds. A thrifty, vigorous flock of high-producing birds will lay hatching eggs that hold vast opportunities. Discarded, weak hens can't do that.

Feeding, weeding and breeding are three important steps in "ringing up" more profits.

"Culling is highly important in maintaining a profitable breeding flock. The poor layers, the weak birds, all diseased fowls, scrubs, and other abnormalities should be weeded out. Only the best birds should be kept. The old adage, 'like produces like' still holds true. All roosters should be examined carefully to make sure they are in good health before mating them with the hens." Johnson advises, "Ten to fourteen days before eggs are saved for hatching the males should be placed with the hens. Two weeks are required for the sperm cells to travel up the ovary and fertilize the eggs."

Vitamins Give Vigor, Vitality

All confined breeding hens need cod liver oil in their ration to get a sufficient amount of Vitamin D to meet their needs. Vitamin D plays a big part in giving enough stamina to live after they are hatched. The ideal feed for breeding fowls also contains dried milk, for its Vitamin G content. Resistance to disease, colds and rump, can also be partially built up for the chick before he is hatched, if the breeding hen gets from the feed her share of putting resistance into the egg. Many fatal diseases—rump, bronchitis, colds, laryngotracheitis—get a foothold in the flock because of a lack of Vitamin A in the ration. Common sources of Vitamin A for poultry are alfalfa, yellow corn and greens. Many times these are not available in amounts sufficient to supply all requirements. The result is low vitality, lowered production, and decreased chances of good hatchability. Eggs laid by hens with a Vitamin A deficiency hatch out thin scrawny chicks, with hardly enough strength to pip the shell, and many do not hatch at all.

Assure Hens Plenty of Vitamins

"Poultry feeds should contain an abundance of these all-important vitamins," Johnson says. "In Purina laying mash we have stepped up the vitamin content by adding para-tene, a rich Vitamin A concentrate. Para-tene is a yellow-colored substance called 'Pro-Vitamin A.' By a patented process Vitamin A is made available in plentiful amounts to put extra vigor and vitality into laying birds, baby chicks, and growing stock."

"You can count your chicks before they're hatched," Johnson promises, "if you follow a good feeding program that will provide adequate nourishment for the embryo before it ever leaves the shell, and for the first few days after pipping out."

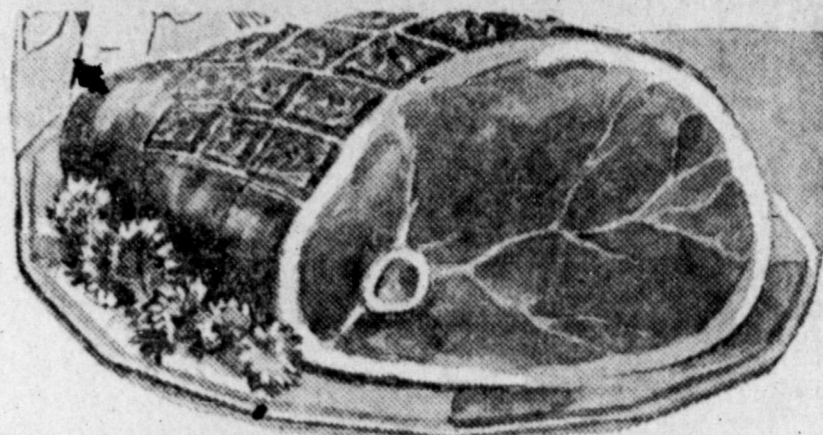

CALVES REQUIRE LITTLE MILK

"With good cows as high as they are today, and the milk markets taking all the milk that is produced, dairymen everywhere are beginning to feel that the most profitable way of maintaining a herd is by raising their own heifers," says W. R. Arends, calf raising authority at Purina Mills. "And many milk producers are finding out how easy it is to raise their future cows by modern methods."

"Today's methods make it possible to raise calves with little milk," Arends points out. "Modern calf feeds supply everything that milk and grain do—and at a much lower cost. Our own latest calf feed is an all-in-one product that's fed dry and puts an end to the fuss and worry of messy greens and bucket washing. This new calf startena is ready to feed right from the bag. All one has to do is to pour it into feeders and let the calves help themselves."

CITIZENS OF DUNN, BUFORD SECTIONS ELATED AS HIGH LINES BRING ELECTRICITY

Service Being Brought Into Use In Both Rural, Town Homes; Others Plan To Contract For Current

Citizens of the Buford and Dunn communities, north of Colorado, are expressing elation over fact that they now have electrical current for light and power usages in their homes. The service was started only a few days ago by the Texas Electric Service Company over high line built out of Colorado.

"One of the most effective strides that the people of our community have ever realized," was comment by Jim Bodine, dairy farmer of one mile east of Buford, when seen here Monday afternoon. "Citizens living further to the east of me, even as far as Valley View, are interested in the progressive move and I am confident that this rural electrification project is the forerunner of extensive building in that line within the next few months."

Highline serving Dunn and Buford was built by utilities company from junction with its Colorado-Sweetwater trunk line three miles north of Colorado. Service for citizens of Dunn and that area became available at the same time current was switched on at Buford.

Erection of service line extending from the Bodine farm, one mile east of Buford, into the Valley View area, was predicted by Bodine. "I have the information that citizens of Ira community are looking to stringing of service lines from Dunn into that section."

The Buford-Dunn project is said to be the first rural electrification project put into service west of Fort Worth. Farmers and business men in those communities are receiving full

Business Women Climaxed Observance Of National Week With Banquet Friday

Final and largest feature of the observance of National Business Women's week by the local Business & Professional Women's club was the public relations banquet held by the club and civic leaders at the Colorado hotel Friday evening. The principal speaker was Mrs. J. A. Sadler, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs.

Arrangements for the banquet were supervised by Miss Emma Gunter and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, members of the club's public relations committee. Miss Gunter was mistress of ceremonies.

Green and white were featured colors at the banquet table, which was T-shaped with ivy trailing down the center. Bowls of plum and peach and pear blossoms were arranged at intervals along the ivy center. Shamrocks adorned programs and place cards.

The invocation was said by the Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor First Methodist church. After the singing of "America" Mrs. W. R. Martin was presented in two Irish solos, "A Little Bit of Heaven" and "Top of the Morning."

Two Irish group songs, "My Wild Irish Rose" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and an Irish jig by Armoria Whitmore preceded Mrs. Sadler's talk. Her subject was "Team Work for Social Progress."

Singing of "Auld Lang Syne" closed the program. Thirteen persons representing various business and civic interests of Colorado were present in addition to club members.

LIONISM AT COLORADO LED OTHER CLUBS IN DISTRICT DURING THE PAST QUARTER

Joe Pond, Deputy Governor, Of The Area, Offered For Chief Official At Meeting In Midland Friday Night

That Lionism at Colorado led all other clubs in Group 5, District 2-T, Texas, was shown by reports heard at meeting of the group in Midland Friday night. President Walter Whipkey of the local service organization listed an active membership of 72, finances totaling over $1,100 and activities covering a wide range of civic and benevolent objectives.

Fitting glasses to ten indigent school students of the county, whose eyesight through defects was retarding the children in their classroom work, the active sponsoring of two Boy Scout Troops, the placing of funds for meeting cost of tonsil operations to children in need of such surgery and other activities were listed by the president.

Deputy District Governor Joe Pond of the Colorado club was offered as candidate for governor of district 2-T at the annual convention in Big Spring in May during an address by Whipkey. He recalled that the Colorado club offered "one of its most capable and most influential citizens for that high office a few years ago but we were not successful in that undertaking."

Whipkey described Pond as a Lion possessing all the qualifications necessary for the kind of administration that all good Lions of the district had a right to expect. Pond's long service to Lionism, his devotion to the high principles about which the organization is built and his record as a citizen, both in private and public life, were pictured.

Omer Burleson, judge of Jones county and for several years prominent in affairs of Lionism, was another West Texan to be nominated for the office of district governor. Judge Burleson was unable to attend the Midland meeting but other Lions from that club were present.

There were seventy-five Lions, representing the Colorado, Anson, Big Spring, Hamlin and Midland clubs, present at the meeting, held in the Crystal ballroom at Hotel Scharbauer. Arlie Cassell of Hamlin, group chairman, presided. Hamlin was selected as site for the next group meeting to be held in June.

Visitors to the meeting were welcomed in an address by Mayor M. C. Ulmer of Midland. Grover C. Dunham of Big Spring delivered the response and announced the district convention there May 2, 3 and 4.

The high principles of Lionism were stressed by Deputy Governor Joe Pond in his inspirational address which was a highlight of the meeting. Pond took as his topic, "Preparedness," stating that district and club officers must be prepared to defend their clubs as is the nation prepared to defend itself against invasion. Individuals must also be prepared to serve their respective communities, Lionism preparing the individuals for such service. The speaker also urged his listeners to prepare the youth of today for future service.

The fact that Lions International is creating a spirit of friendliness and fellowship among the nations of the world was lauded by the speaker, who urged those present to preach, practice and promote the brotherhood of man.

A musical program was given by a group of entertainers representing the host club. Reports on club activities were heard by secretaries of the units represented. Colorado sent thirteen Lions to the meeting. Big Spring, with a delegation of 16 Lions, headed the list.

That Colorado will be in Big Spring strong for the district convention was indicated by statement made by President Whipkey. "I have just told secretary of the Big Spring club that we would register not less than sixty Lions at the district meeting, and I would not be surprised if we did not attend one hundred per cent," he declared.

Remaining stocks in the Model Shop were loaded out early Saturday night and Sunday morning for removal to Odessa where the owner, J. P. Summers, has consolidated his Colorado and Odessa stores. Mrs. Summers and their little daughter, Darris Louise, have joined Mr. Summers in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lister Ratliff and son have moved from Sweetwater to Odessa, where Mr. Ratliff plans to do electrical work.

This breakfast was served Friday and another one was served Monday to a different group. Tuesday they plan to have a laboratory of soups. After deciding whether she should wear red, blue, or yellow each first year clothing girl has chosen the pattern and design for her print dress. They plan to live up to their expectations and make them very lovely. Even Coach Clark smiled pleasantly as he ate the delicious fish steaks, oysters, and beef and lamb steaks that the second year girls served him and the other teachers Thursday.

Wednesday, March 17, the try-out for declamation was held in the third floor study hall. The judges were Mrs. Bass, Miss Swope, and Miss Price. Mr. Watson and Miss Barrett were also present. Mr. Watson stated that he believed that they were the finest he had heard for a great while.

Those finally chosen for places were: First place, Kathleen Phillips whose declamation was "Pioneer Mothers"; second place, June Cox, "Hours"; first place, J. B. Marshall, "The Homes of the People" and second place Albert Melton, "I Believe in America." Those receiving honorable mention were: Virginia Gurney, Mrs. Frances Mackey, Willie Grace Doss, Theda Howell, Jimmy Harrison and J. B. Williamson.

DEBATE TEAMS DISAPPOINTED

The debate teams were disappointed very much when the Eldorado teams did not arrive last Saturday. The Eldorado teams were supposed to have been here at 1 o'clock and when they had not arrived at 2:30 the Colorado boys and girls went home regretting very much that they did not get to debate. But being disappointed won't hold them back. When they meet the Big Spring teams this week they will be keyed up more than they were last Saturday.

GIRLS DEBATE TEAM CHOSEN

The two girls chosen to represent Colorado High school in debate this year are Beulah Frances Robinson and Mattie Bell Harvey. The girls have been working very hard on the question and the debating club sincerely believes that they will defeat every team they meet this year.

Last week during the practice debates between the boys and girls the rules of debate were completely forgotten and before the debate was over it seemed that it was going to end in a fight. Finally there came a calm and a decision was made that neither team had won.

All the other "serious stuff" is out, if you take just one thing seriously about your engine oil... In selecting it—for a '37 model or anything else—be guided by things you really know for yourself.

You know that a plating on metal cannot come off like any mere liquid. Thus Oil-Plating, formed in your engine by Conoco Germ Processed oil, cannot come off the working parts like any mere film of oil. Though the patented Germ Process puts abnormal strength into the so-called movable oil film, it goes much farther and gives you exclusive Oil-Plating.

With this firmly fastened layer of lubricant always maintained on cylinders, bearings and other parts, it stands to reason that friction never finds them naked. They remain all covered constantly with slippery Oil-Plating, as though they were built with it on. It's on, every time you start the engine, because Oil-Plating can't run down "between times." And it's on throughout your hardest run, because Oil-Plating isn't liable to the usual "squeeze-out, scrape-off and burn-up." None of those worries any more, as you change to Conoco Germ Processed oil—and Oil-Plating economies. Continental Oil Co.

Horrors Of East Texas School Blast Depicted By Former Loraine Citizen

The following article depicting horrors of the New London school blast, that killed 455 students and teachers, was written for The Record by Samuel C. Harris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Harris, former residents of Loraine.

The first report of the New London School disaster reached me just as I and several other students attending Kilgore Junior College were preparing to leave in the college bus to drive to our homes in Gladewater. We immediately rushed to the scene of the disaster thirteen miles away, arriving only a short time afterward to find the million dollar rural school plant in ruins where thousands of parents, oil field workers and East Texans were quickly gathering, digging frantically, cutting steel with acetylene torches, using winches, trucks, shovels and axes in an attempt to rescue the dead and dying.

Report cards, examination papers, and office records were blown upward and covered the grounds. Bricks, masonry, steel and stone were scattered over the countryside for several hundred yards.

Immediately after the explosion, as quickly as bodies were recovered, they were placed in sheets, lined in rows on the ground, and later removed to temporary morgues in fire trucks, pick-ups, ambulances and delivery trucks.

The roof of the building on several rooms fell in one piece, resting on the desks across the room, after having crushed scores under the heavy weight. Bodies were brought out, the clothing torn off in some instances or in shreds, arms and legs twisted and mangled, and bodies often so torn and twisted as to be unrecognizable.

A temporary first aid station was established in the gymnasium for the treatment of the less seriously injured, where only a few were treated for burns.

Two students were blown out of the window in the manual training shop and lived to tell of it. They were almost incoherent in expressing their feeling and thanking their "lucky stars" for a miraculous escape. One had jumped from a second story window and was the only one to escape totally uninjured, but, as there is usually a "but", his vocal chords are temporarily unable to function.

Scores of trucks ran winch lines into the wreckage and pulled the large concrete blocks and steel girders and supports from the debris in an effort to rescue the children. Workers extracted bodies from the toppled building, rushed them to waiting ambulances and returned to the wreckage for more shee-covered bodies.

Pitiful moaning sounds came intermittently from beneath large heaps of desks, plaster, boards, brick and other debris. Workmen struggled in cramped quarters trying to move heavy steel and concrete supports. Those who had no other equipment dug frantically with bare hands in frenzied effort to remove the mangled bodies.

A number of cars parked near the building were demolished by falling masonry and brick. One car was overturned by three huge blocks of concrete and a block six feet long and more than a foot thick, weighing approximately 5 tons was blown through the body of the car.

Press-planes and photographers flew over the scene, circling and watching the work, while reporters and cameramen rushed to and fro gathering reports and incidents of the tragedy.

Although the working crews were not definitely organized until after martial law was established later; nevertheless, the rescue workers worked with precision and accord. Scores of trucks were rushed to the edge of the wreckage and began the work of removing the heavy material by winch lines. Acetylene torches were used in cutting the heavy steel construction loose from the buried wreckage, and caterpillars milled about pulling and dragging the mass of heavy concrete slabs which weighed many tons. Baskets were used in gathering up the smaller fragments of material as quickly as heavier materials were removed.

Lights from the near-by athletic field were set up around the building by crews of men who realized that the rescue work would continue until far into the night.

All available firemen, policemen and law officers from the surrounding vicinity were quickly enlisted to aid in directing the rescue work and in turning back the continual line of the thousands of people who thronged the community and highways in an attempt to view the disaster. Later

MC-CORD TAKEN HOME

E. S. McCord, who underwent major surgery at Root hospital two weeks ago, was moved to his home Tuesday.

In the evening a military guard was thrown around the grounds, as martial law was declared and soldiers and national guardsmen moved in. Boy Scouts, Red Cross, and the Salvation Army quickly set about the task of preparing food and drink for the rescue workers throughout the night. Radio communications were established with New London, and emergency messages, announcements and bulletins were broadcast continuously throughout the night.

Rain slowed up the progress of the workers early Friday morning, though the men continued the task of clearing up the rapidly diminishing pile of debris, without stopping. Heavy oil field truck motors droned and the wheels spun and skidded in the deep mud, but as quickly as one dump truck left the wreckage, another took its place.

Throughout the day, reporters swarmed around the scene, newsreel men ground out reel after reel of film, press planes circled, photographing the work as it progressed. Parents wandered aimlessly through the confusion, looking at each body as it was passed out from beneath the buried classrooms in futile attempts at identification, while sleep-ridden workers toiled ceaselessly at the mass of dirt, plaster, concrete and wreckage.

Planes, special trains, and messengers brought serum, bandages and medical supplies to the territory, while doctors and nurses from every section of the state answered the plea for assistance. Slowly the work turned to the care of the injured and dead instead of the recovery of them. The horrible tragedy reached a crisis.

Five hundred was its toll of victims, thousands was its toll of sufferers. The million dollar school plant was ruined, the $250,000 building demolished, and the lives of the largest number of school children ever swept out in a single disaster were suddenly snuffed out. The building can be replaced, but the loss of the youth of East Texas will be felt forever.

Magic Wonder Of Grand Canyon To Be Told America

Carveth Wells, Explorer and Traveler, To Speak on This Marvel Saturday Afternoon

Imagine standing on the brink of a chasm 15 miles wide and a mile deep filled with mile-high mountains whose peaks are level with your feet!

That's the way Carveth Wells pictures the immensity of Grand Canyon—"greatest natural wonder on earth"—the southern rim of which he will describe in the Continental Oil Company broadcast, "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells," at 6:30 Saturday night over radio station WFAA, Dallas.

"Nothing in all my experiences can equal the tremendous spectacle of the Grand Canyon," declares Wells, who is famous for his world-wide explorations. "It is impossible to compare it with anything else on earth because there is nothing on earth that even resembles it."

Exciting exploration, he says, can be enjoyed in Grand Canyon National Park, where "you can read a great chapter of the story of creation and even see the footprints of prehistoric dinosaurs that roamed Arizona a good many million years ago."

First One-Act Play Contest Of County League To Be Held Monday and Tuesday

The first one-act play contest ever staged in the Mitchell County Interscholastic league will be held at the Colorado High school auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, according to plans announced this week by C. A. Wilkins, director-general of the county league.

This is the first year that any school other than Colorado has had an entry in the county contest. Four plays are to be presented, one by each of the four independent schools in the county league.

Loraine and Westbrook will present their plays on Monday night, Colorado and Roscoe theirs on Tuesday night. Loraine's offering will be "The Kettle Singing," Westbrook's "The Telegram," Roscoe's "The Florist Shop," and Colorado's "Moonshine."

At Monday night's performance

the Loraine High school band will play and on Tuesday night the Colorado School band will play. A full evening of entertainment will be offered on both occasions. The first play will begin at 8 o'clock each evening. A small admission charge will be made.

The plays will be judged by visiting judges. Casts for the four offerings are as follows:

A SOURCE OF COMMUNITY PROSPERITY AND HOW TO ENHANCE IT

This is our second article on Buy At Home. If you were asked to name in order of their importance the sources of our community wealth and prosperity, would it occur to you that Colorado stores belong at or near the top of such a list? Most of us take the stores of our community very much for granted. If we think of them at all, we think of them as a convenience. Unless we are asked to pause and consider, it simply never occurs to us that they are an indispensable community asset. Approximately twenty-five per cent of our total population depends on Colorado stores for a livelihood. The annual payroll of merchants of Colorado runs into tens of thousands of dollars annually. And on top of that, in the way of community assets are other thousands spent every year for store taxes, license to do business and other operating costs. We frequently hear it said that Colorado needs more factories, and she does. We hear it said that our agricultural system should be improved and enlarged, and it should be. But few of us have ever thought seriously about how important it is that we encourage and enhance the source of community wealth represented by Colorado stores. Store overhead is approximately the same on large volume or small. If we subscribe at all to the belief that active retail trade is valuable to a community, then each of us owes it to himself and his fellow citizens to contribute to that larger volume which means more wealth in the community and a general spirit of prosperity. Quality and price being equal—and they almost always are—let us patronize Colorado stores! Let us resist the temptation to buy in other cities the very things that can be purchased here to equal advantage. We should ever bear in mind that anything our merchants do not have they will get for us on very short notice, and from the same wholesaler or manufacturer that supplies the merchants of the adjoining towns and cities. It is simply a matter of (to use a homely expression), "feathering our own nest."

MORE ABOUT FARM TENANCY

Recent Texas tenancy studies by the Resettlement Administration, based on the 1935 agricultural census, show that the problem is not confined to one section of the State, for in Terry County, near the New Mexico line, 72 per cent of all farmers are tenants; at the opposite corner of the State, in San Augustine County, the figure is 65 per cent. In Haskell County and in Jones County, the heart of Central West Texas' most fertile cotton area, 70 per cent and 68 per cent, respectively, are tenants. In the famous blackland belt, where more than a million bales of cotton are normally raised within a 100-mile radius, Ellis County has 68 per cent tenancy, Navarro County 72 per cent, Hill County 67 per cent and Williamson County 66 per cent. The lowest per cent of tenancy is in the hill country, where the farmers grow their living first and make cash crops more of a secondary matter. Typical of this type of county are Gillespie, Kerr and Kendall Counties, where the percentage of tenancy ranges from 21 to 27 per cent. Some comparatively low-tenancy areas also are found in Southeastern Texas, where there is another area of small live-at-home farms. In five counties just north of Beaumont the percentage of tenancy runs from 32 to 38 per cent, as compared with an average for the State of 57 per cent. The Resettlement Administration is carrying out a three-point program to improve the conditions of tenant farmers and help them toward eventual ownership of the land. These activities are: (1) Rural rehabilitation, which resulted last year in lending $9,010,974 to 29,653 Texas farm families for the purchase of teams, tools and equipment they would have been able to obtain in no other way. The loans also included funds with which to finance their food, feed, clothing and other purchases while they were making their crop, the loans bearing interest at only 5 per cent, whereas these tenants had frequently paid 30 to 40 per cent interest in the past. Around 30 per cent of the loans have already been repaid, although they were made to run for a period of from one to five years. The central feature of this program is guidance in live-at-home methods, such as have kept certain sections of the State low in tenancy and high in per cent of owner operators. (2) Debt-adjustment committees, organized by the Resettlement Administration and working under its supervision, are preventing hardpressed landowners from losing their farms through foreclosure and thereby swelling the ranks of tenants still further. Action of these committees already has resulted in closing 3,315 cases in which an original indebtedness of $11,649,376 was reduced by $1,551,293, enabling farmers to continue operation in their own name of 857,508 acres.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A farmer was telling us Saturday the R.F.D. carriers were loaded nearly every day with mail order goods, said he did not know how they got the money, but they were buying and paying cash, which is natural in case of hard times. When money is plentiful people are not so particular about bargains but in hard times they make every penny count. We newspapermen believe that the home merchants should advertise their prices and let the public know how low they can sell. The mail is crowded with mail order catalogues, most folks call them wish books.—Jewett Messenger.

It is cheaper to profane the merchants who advertise and get the business than it is to pay for advertising. But those who indulge the profanity and save the difference don't worry their more successful competitors, who do advertise and who do get the business. Advertising is no longer a dubious adventure in search of customers. It is a required expenditure without which customers fail to deliver their custom. There is such a thing as word-of-mouth advertising, such a thing as the drop-in trade, such a thing as personal acquaintance to help a non-advertiser's business. But it is a slow process and insolvency is the outcome. Advertising is a new science, and its practitioners are in a new profession. There was, of course, advertising of a sort as long ago as Nineveh, as far away as Tyre. But it had small circulation. It was painted on lintels, engraved upon damo bricks. It didn't get anywhere. Modern advertising requires skill in the preparation, wisdom in the wording, accuracy in the general. It must be addressed to a need in the first instance and to a wish in the second. It must satisfy a want and stimulate an interest.

MORE AUTHORITY

Mr. Roosevelt made at the Democratic dinner an ingenious plea for more authority to do more things, all of them costly. The deficit is huge and a close neighbor to the President, but he has the faculty of ignoring the unhappier things and enlarging upon the happier. Mr. Roosevelt is kind of heart, eager for a conspicuous place in history, but he should remember that Uncle Sam cannot be a philanthropist without charging the philanthropy to the taxpayers. A hundred nations have decayed because of extravagance at the top, extravagance which industry and agriculture, and waged labor could not support. When in any country that country's nationals have to borrow money on next year's credit to pay last year's taxes that country is in danger.

WEST TEXAS POLECAT

Our old friend Uncle Bill down at Sterling City don't like the sit-down strikers. Here is what he says: "Since kind words, gentle manhandling and tear gas has failed to cause the sit-downers to sit up and take notice, might I suggest a bag of polecats to relieve the situation? I believe that if these cops were to introduce a few West Texas polecats in the room among the sit-downers, they would run over one another in getting out of there. I have never known a living man or beast that wouldn't get out of the way of a West Texas polecat except a small boy or a young ignorant dog. However, some seem to think that a polecat would not stay in the same room with a sit-downer. Even a polecat has some self respect."

PRORATION IN EAST TEXAS

Our children will never know what East Texas was before this age of golf clubs, limousines and society columns, and of good cement roads and bridges, or how their fathers in the good old horse and wagon days, with Ma in her home-made calico dress and sun-bonnet, and sitting in a chair with cowhide strips for a bottom, made the seragery teams pull and haul and halt in the sandy roads, or bogged down, or otherwise stuck in the sloughs and slashes and puddles of the muddy bottoms that beset them, while the squirrels spied on them, the jay birds laughed at them, and the woodpeckers hammered out razes as the outfit passed by. But nowadays! Next week or two East Texas will be clad in the daintiest new green of a new spring. The cardinal redbirds will be bird loving with clarion song; the redbud bushes will be ablaze with color. The white dogwood, like the dainty lace of a lady's collar will be adding white trimming to it all.

Up at Washington they tell this one on Congressman George Mahon: Mrs. Mahon was suddenly alarmed in the night by an unusual noise, she sat up in the bed and hollered George! George! There's a robber in the house. George sleepily said, No all the robbers are in the Senate but in the House never.

Dr. Root who sometimes poses as a poet was asked by this writer to give us an opus in verse on health and he wrote this:
Methuselah ate what he found on his plate
And never, as people do now,
Did he note the amount of the calorie count—
He ate because it was chow.
He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat,
Destroying a roast or a pie,
To think it was lacking in lime or in fat
Or a couple of vitamins shy.
He cheerfully chewed every species of food,
Untroubled by worries or fears
Lest his health might be hurt by some fancy dessert,
And he lived over nine hundred years!

Jack Christian the football coach walking along talking to him self and this is what he said:
Just take this comfort in your soul
In the midst of worries and frets
The football never could score a goal
Were it not for the kicks it gets.

We attended a dance over at Rio Spring and overheard two ladies talking. The younger one said, dances are quite different from what they were years ago. Yes said the older one indeed they are, in my days when a woman had nothing to wear she stayed at home.
This was like the husband who gave his wife a lot of money and said now you can buy some decent clothes. The wife replied, I'll do nothing of the kind, I'll buy the same kind of clothes other women wear.

PUBLIC INTEREST DEMANDS FAIR PLAY!

Texas now has good state laws for the regulation—in the public interest—of all transportation. These laws are helping to stabilize transportation, and all business and industry that has to use transportation. These laws are helping to reduce the terrible accident toll on your highways. They are helping to conserve your investment in your highways.

without any resulting benefit to the people of Texas.

Texas railroads obey the rules of the game,—those imposed by the agencies of government and those taken on voluntarily in the interest of public safety.

Texas railroads are spending this year, large sums of money for new and modern equipment—locomotives, freight and passenger cars, improved rail and roadbed facilities, and are expediting freight and passenger schedules to meet growing public demands. All of this is being done in the interest of improved service to the public and at the lowest rates in twenty years.

YOU ARE DUE GOOD HEALTH, SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS

But you cannot enjoy these things if you have allowed your system to get to such an extent that your bowels and liver do not function properly, causing you to suffer with headaches, loss of sleep, backache, coated tongue, bad breath, rheumatic pains, biliousness and gas pains brought on by inactive clogged bowel organs. Lagatone is an efficient stimulant for increasing the flow of bile. Lagatone also stimulates liver action, relieving biliousness, worn out feeling and sick headache caused thereby. Lagatone acts on bowels as a laxative and helps clear out old decayed food waste. Lagatone is a compound of several ingredients. Thus Lagatone is like several medicines in the same compound. No wonder people begin to inform us of the good results they are receiving after using it a short time. If your system is lagging and run down, your food disagrees with you, if you are tired and sluggish and lacking energy, Lagatone will clean accumulated poisons out of your system and restore your vitality, your appetite and your good health. Go to your drug-gist today and buy a box of Lagatone and if after you have followed directions, written on the box, for ten days, you are not pleased with the results and if you do not feel new pep and energy, go back for your money. Price, 1 box 36 capsules $1; 6 boxes $5. Lagatone is on sale at the Colorado Drug store, Colorado. Please do not accept a substitute for Lagatone, for your own good. LETTERS RECEIVED

The seventh grade is now receiving letters from different parts of the United States. Letters from sixteen states were taken from the Post Office Monday morning. Doris Reese in 7C and Melba Mize in 7B were fortunate because they received letter showers from an entire class of boys and girls in a distant state. Some letters were entertaining. One boy from the drought-stricken area of South Dakota wrote: "In our part of the country we raise tumbleweeds, sunflowers, and creeping-jenny. We play ball, go to shows, when we get the money, and we don't like school. We ride in autos mostly. The country is not any good. Dad says it is good only for Indians and jackrabbits. Most everybody is on relief."

One hundred and twenty-five letters were written to small towns over the United States. To date fifty answers have been received.

HARVEY CHILDRESS SPEAKS IN ASSEMBLY

Mackye Loving introduced Harvey Childress minister of the Church of Christ, who spoke to the students last Wednesday at the assembly period. He discussed the importance of getting an early start in everything that one does. He first told about getting an early start in training for track events, in the Interscholastic League contests, in doing school work, and then in living a good life. Everyone enjoyed this helpful talk.

After the talk Mackye called on W. B. Crockett to make announcements.

SEVENTH GRADE BOYS ENTERTAIN

The seventh grade boys presented a very entertaining program Friday morning. Alfred Edgar Maddin played a piano solo. A trio composed of W. B. Crockett, James Paul Cooper, and Johnnie Grubbs sang two songs. Charles Watson played a clarinet solo. Alfred Rhode then introduced the officers of the three seventh grade classes.

VOLLEY BALL PRACTICE

The volley ball team played three practice games with the Junior High teachers last Thursday afternoon at 3:30. These games afforded as much fun and amusement as they did practice. Although the teachers won all of the games, the school team did some good work.

ORDER IN ASSEMBLY

Junior High has been very highly complimented in the past on its order in assembly. This compliment was probably deserved then, but we wonder if any one could make a statement like that now.

We enjoy programs when everyone in the auditorium is quiet and still. We do not enjoy programs, no matter how good they are, if there is noise or disturbance. Visitors will not want to come to our programs unless we have better order. Let us try to behave like we did at the first of school and have good order in assembly.

CHATTER

We hear . . . the seventh grade girls are to give an assembly program soon. Will it be as good as the one the boys gave? . . . Ask Mr. Glover if W. B. has much nerve. Does he know what kind of questions to ask? . . . Whose big beautiful ring has a 7B boy been wearing? He certainly takes good care of it. . . . Some very good health covers have been made in 7C. . . . Tommy Ratliff had quite an array of pictures on his desk last week. One looked especially interesting. (The others were just his boy friends). . . . Did you see the teachers play volley ball? If you didn't, you missed some fun. . . . Muriel King and Helen Marie received some interesting letters in Social Science. . . . A number of pupils are working on their Graves papers now. . . . Who are the industrious pupils in 7A who are always trying to clean the room and make it look more attractive? They are doing good work and every one in the room thanks them. . . .

After checking the results Watson Cotton has given in this section we found it has proven highly satisfactory in such qualities as earliness, heavy field production, linting percent, staple and drouth resistance. Because of these and other outstanding qualities we believe this variety cannot be beaten for this territory.
