Sadler Retained in Mayor's Post; Majors, Hornberger And Richardson Lead For Council Positions

The Colorado electorate Tuesday placed its approval on the administration of Mayor J. A. Sadler by returning him to office for his third consecutive term as chief executive of the city.

Two members of the city council, too, were asked as voters went to the polls to mark their ballots. They were E. M. Majors and C. D. Hornberger.

Jack Richardson, chief clerk at Col-Tex Refinery, was third member of the aldermanic board to be elected and will be the only new member of the city legislative body during the ensuing year.

J. F. (Smoke) Merritt, running for city secretary unopposed, lost only 11 votes out of a total of 732 polled. The Colorado druggist received 721.

The contest for mayor developed unusual interest after the first count was announced at 8:30 Tuesday night. Sadler was leading with 76 votes.

An hour later, as standing of the candidates was announced again, Greene had nosed ahead of Sadler with 141 votes to 136.

Another hour's wait and the election tellers announced results as shown in tabulation of 600 votes.

Lobby of the municipal building was filled with citizens as the tense wait ensued. It was 11:15 when an election judge emerged from the room in which the ballots had been tabulated to announce the counting.

METHODIST REVIVAL HOLDS INTEREST OF CHURCH FOLK IN URBAN, RURAL SECTIONS

Services Attracting Growing Crowds; Evangelist Opening Way For Spiritual Awakening, Pastor Notes

Revival campaign opening Sunday morning at First Methodist church under leadership of the Tucker-Martin party of Tennessee is bringing to this community an influence through which a great spiritual awakening should be realized.

Leaders in our congregation promised the people of Colorado and surrounding communities from the beginning of plans for this revival that we were bringing two of God's recognized leaders to direct us in the special services, and it has already been demonstrated that those pledges were to be sustained.

That interest in the revival is growing is reflected in fact that attendance mounts to higher figures with each of the evening services.

Tuesday evening chairs were brought into the church auditorium to provide seats for the worshippers. Sunday morning the evangelist and singer appeared before the Men's Bible Class of First Baptist church upon invitation of the pastor, Rev. Dick O'Brien.

The fact that people from both the urban and rural communities are going to church regularly during these series of revival meetings indicates to me that we are launching out upon a profitable mission in the work of our Lord here.

Among those who plan to go are Mrs. W. M. Elliott, chairman of the presbytery finance committee; Mrs. Clarence Gross, president of the local Presbyterian women's organization; Mrs. Lee Carter, presbytery chairman of foreign missions; and Mrs. Jerold Rieder, presbytery chairman of home missions.

EIGHTH ANNUAL FFA BOYS LIVESTOCK SHOW BE HELD IN COLORADO ON SATURDAY

Exposition To Open At 10, With Judging Starting An Hour Later; Calves Listed In Two Divisions

The Eighth Annual FFA Livestock Show for Colorado is set to open Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on lots of the Berry-Fee Lumber Company, west of the Alamo hotel building. Judging in the two divisions, with Milton Templeton of Sagerton in charge, is to be started at 11.

Twenty boys, members of the vocational agriculture department in high school, have entered baby heaves in the show arena. Doyle Williams, manager of the department and who will personally be in charge of the show, stated Monday afternoon that from 30 to 40 animals would be shown.

The FFA chapter livestock show has annually attracted large numbers of ranch and farm folk from this and adjoining counties and Williams anticipates no change in this interest as the show is opened Saturday morning.

"The public is becoming more and more concerned in this feature of public school training and their cooperation to the boys during other years, has done much to make the shows successful," the director said.

With "favorable weather prevailing, Colorado may reasonably expect several hundred visitors in town during the day."

The calves to be shown this Spring will not be as large as the average individuals seen in those affairs of recent years. However, the boys have finished out some good calves and the show, in so far as quality is to be reckoned, is expected to maintain its commendable rating.

Calves weighing 725 pounds and over are to be listed in one class and those weighing less than that figure in the other. A grand champion for the show and champions in each of the two divisions are to be designated. Plans for holding sale at the show lots have not been completed.

EXPANSION OF TRADE AREA FOR COLORADO IS GOAL OF CC LUNCHEON CLUB GROUP

Extension Committee Given Support By Others In Its Drive To Build For Better Business Relationship

Extension of Colorado's trade territory through the building of stronger ties between business interests here and citizens of the adjacent rural sections is objective accepted Tuesday noon by the chamber of commerce luncheon club.

Detailed plans under which the drive is to be opened and prosecuted are being mapped under direction of Manager Jim Greene and other chamber officials. The proposition was accepted by the CC after the organization trades extension committee had offered recommendation that such an objective be launched.

The matter was spoken to by Greene, J. W. Randle and others. One of the objectives to be sought will be to impress the purchaser with fact that he can obtain just as attractive prices in Colorado as are offered in any other trade center, including business going outside of the county and State to the mail order house.

"The mail order concerns of this country last year did the largest business in history, a fact that should be reckoned with concern by every citizen who would that his home community and county prosper," one speaker stated. "This money that is going out of this community is aiding in maintaining payrolls, paying taxes, supporting churches and schools in other localities, in lieu of those essential factors within our own gates."

The question was presented by President C. C. Thompson of the chamber of commerce who was presiding at the luncheon club. Greene outlined that the trades extension group, after "careful consideration," had approved such an objective and acting upon that oked directorate of the CC, too, had underwritten the proposal.

CHURCH OF CHRIST IN WESTBROOK
The regular meetings of the Church of Christ in Westbrook have been discontinued for some time. They will be resumed Sunday afternoon at three o'clock when Harvey Childers, minister of the Colorado congregation will speak. All members of the Church of Christ in that community are urged to be present for this service. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Sermon and worship at 11 a.m.
No services at 7:30 on account of the Methodist meeting. Rev. George Tucker is a good earnest preacher. Hear him. He will do you good.
The Young People will have their regular service at 6:30 p.m. All our young people are urged to have a part in this department of the church work.

Next Wednesday evening is the regular time for "the men of the church" to have their program. Come men and help put over this department of the church program.
The elected officers of the men of the church, the woman's auxiliary and those of the young people will be installed at the 11 o'clock hour. Come and bring your friend.
W. M. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
All services will be held on schedule at the First Baptist church next Sunday. Due to the fact that the attendance at the First Methodist revival will have grown to the proportions that their auditorium space will probably be taxed to accommodate the crowd, we plan to have our regular evening service to take care of the overflow. We want our Methodist friends to know that we are interested in the revival and pray that it will bring a general spiritual awakening to our community.
DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Bible school 9:45.
Morning worship 11:00. The subject at this hour will be "Looking For A Fixed Point In Life." The evening service will be at 7:30. "Yellow Streak, Blue Cord, and Crimson Thread" will be the theme for discussion. There will be special music by the girls choir, and in addition to this the pastor is arranging a new picture as a background for the song "The Church By The Side Of The Road." This alone will more than repay you for the effort made in coming.
The Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. H. B. Broadus Monday afternoon.

IN MEMORY OF DR. R. E. LEE
Mitchell county's friend to the suffering and needy. Truly the man who lived by the side of the road. Giving of his all to the rich and poor alike, always ready with a helping hand to the man that was down. Certainly it can be said of this friend to mankind, Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Long will he live in the memory of the people who knew him; and greatly will he be missed.
He was a friend to the poor and needy.
A friend to the weak and the strong,
He never turned away from the lowly they say.
For his work was to help them along.
The pain racked and suffering himself,
The weary sometimes with the load,
Unselfishly, "patiently" onward he went.
To lighten some brother's load.
Deeds of kindness that were then unnoticed,
Little things others passed by.
To him were the things that filled his life.
Of help and sacrifice.
In memory still will linger,
In the years that come and go,
And along the way we will miss him,
The man who lived beside the road.
—Unsigned.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

April will bring a wedding of considerable interest hereabouts. . . . I've a complex against using names in this column's matrimonial items, but you'll know who (or is it whom?) I mean by this description: The man formerly held a prominent teaching position here and now holds a more prominent place in a school on the Plains. . . . The girl is a Colorado graduate of Texas Tech who has been doing her first teaching in a neighboring Plains town. . . .

If you wondered about folks who dashed into Colorado drug stores as if looking for something Saturday night and then dashed out again and away here's the explanation: A treasure hunt was on, this being the means Texie B. Snyder chose to honor her husband, Dudley Snyder, on his birthday. . . . Some of the clues were in Colorado drug stores, others led the hunters all over the county. . . .

I hear that Ben and Virgie (Powell) Smith borrowed a pick-up to come from Pecos after their wedding presents during the week-end. . . . Those who saw the array of gifts which Virgie received at her shower at the Colorado hotel are surprised that a pick-up would do the job—there seemed to be at least a truck load. . . . The Lay Powells had to move out of one room to have a place to display the gifts until after the wedding. . . .

Triplet boys, 9 years old, were at Camp White for a few days last week. . . . They and their parents and two younger children were en route to the west coast when the two younger children became ill, hence the stop here. . . . Two of the triplets were said to be identical in appearance but the third, although like the others in size, was dark whereas his brothers were light. . . . I've not struck very many Coloradans this week who recall ever having seen triplets in the flesh. . . . I've never seen any myself, but I thought that was just because there are so many quite common things I've never seen. . . . Anyway, it's too late now to see these three because the family moved on westward early this week. . . .

Grief came to the Methodist parsonage Tuesday through the death of the beloved collie dog of the C. E. Jameson family. . . . Good-natured questions were raised because the dog was found dead in the yard at the Baptist parsonage, where the Dick O'Briens live. . . . But the truth is that the O'Briens grieved nearly as much as the Jamesons did, because the dog had come to consider both places his home. . . . It was a tragic day for the dog's young master, Jamie Jameson, who came home from attending the funeral of a little cousin in Paducah Tuesday night to learn that his dog had died. . . . The collie's "funeral" was held Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Jameson and J. Ralph Lee, the latter's laundry wagon serving as a hearse. . . .

MRS. C. E. JAMESON TO HER NEPHEW'S FUNERAL

Accompanied by her sons, Jamie of Colorado and Alfred of Abilene, Mrs. C. E. Jameson was in Paducah Monday and Tuesday to attend the funeral of her 6-month-old grand-nephew, Oran Leslie Doolen. . . . The infant died in a hospital at La Junta, Colorado, Saturday night. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Doolen of Springfield, Colorado. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Doolen, lives in Paducah. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. . . .

Federated Clubwomen Of Colorado Make Plans For District Meeting In Brady

All of Colorado's federated women's organizations are making plans to be represented at the annual convention of the sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in Brady next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. . . . Local women who hold positions on the district board have received invitations to a special dinner which will be held Monday evening at the Hotel Brady. Among these women are Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, Mrs. Charles Moeser, Mrs. S. H. Millwee, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Mrs. C. P. Gary, and Mrs. Sam Majors. Only four of these, however, are making definite plans to be present at the dinner, these four being Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Millwee, Mrs. Gary, and Mrs. Majors. As a member of the state board Mrs. H. B. Broadbudd has also been invited to this dinner. . . . Delegates from Colorado clubs have been elected as follows: Hesperman, Mrs. Sam Wulfjen; 1921 Study, Mrs. P. K. Mackey; Self Culture, Mrs. C. P. Gary; Zetaganthian, Mrs. G. V. Harrison. Most of the clubs have made provisions, however, to be represented by any clubmember attending if the elected delegate is unable to attend. . . . Mrs. J. A. No Recourse For Texas Lands Sold Under Federal Act

Stoneroad Gives Facts For Information Of Mitchell County Borrowers

Texas farmers whose land has been actually sold under foreclosure proceedings have no way to redeem it under the Frazier-Lemke Act, upheld by the Supreme Court this week according to T. W. Stoneroad, Jr., Chairman of the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee of this county.

News dispatches from Washington carried by the larger dailies stated that the decision would help farmers whose land had been foreclosed. The Debt Adjustment Committee stated that this is true in states where there is a period of redemption provided by the state laws, but that no such redemption period is provided in Texas. He urged farmers who were threatened with foreclosure to take prompt action as they must avail themselves of the moratorium privileges provided in the Frazier-Lemke Amendment before actual foreclosure has taken place.

Farmers interested were invited to get in touch with the county supervisor of the Resettlement Administration, or directly with the Farm Debt Adjustment committee, which is composed of volunteer, unpaid workers. This committee will endeavor to bring about an agreement between the debtor and the creditor, under which the debt will be adjusted and possibly refinanced. If a voluntary agreement cannot be reached, the Debt Adjustment committee will assist the farmer in placing his case with the Conciliation Commissioner.

The Conciliation Commissioner holds a hearing with the farmer and his creditors in further effort to bring about an agreement which will provide a composition of debts and a further extension of time. If this fails, the farmer is allowed to amend his petition and ask that he be left in possession of all or any part of his property, and that appraisers be appointed to fix a reasonable rental for the property left in his hands. This rental must be paid into the Conciliation Commissioner for the account of mortgage holders, and distributed according to priority of claim. The farmer is allowed to continue payment of this rental for a period of three years, at the end of which time an agreement must have been reached for final settlement. In the meantime, if the mortgage holder feels that his rights are not being protected, he has the right to ask that his property be sold immediately.

Hundreds of farms in the state are on the verge of being foreclosed because their owners do not understand that the Frazier-Lemke act gives them the privilege of a three-year moratorium, the committee asserted. The price of farm land has recently advanced and some creditors who formerly were willing to let matters rock along are now showing a tendency to seek possession, he said.

WESTERN UNION NOW AFFORDING 24-HOUR SERVICE THROUGH TEXAS

Full 24-hour service on outgoing messages is now being offered by Western Union through the local Texas & Pacific office, according to an announcement issued this week by L. M. Guest, manager of the local Western Union office.

This service became available to Colorado as a result of recent changes in the set-up of the local T. & P. office. Guest points out. These changes became effective April 1. Three T. & P. telegraph operators are now working here 24 hours a day. The operators will become permanent on April 10, when bids for the positions are to be opened by the T. & P.

Western Union has an arrangement with the T. & P. for handling its messages. This is the first time in several years that 24-hour Western Union service has been available to Coloradans, however.

The Western Union office will continue to handle all messages during its business hours, Guest says. Facilities of the T. & P. will be used when the office is closed. The 24-hour service applies only on outgoing messages except in case of emergencies or death messages.

UNANIMOUS CALL TO STAMFORD CHURCH IS RECEIVED BY O'BRIEN

A call to become pastor of Stamford's combined Baptist churches has been received by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church here.

By secret ballot the church membership made the call unanimous Wednesday evening, according to a message received by the Rev. Mr. O'Brien late Wednesday night.

"I want to remain in Colorado—that's my personal preference and it's what I would do if the matter were left up to my own desires," the Rev. Mr. O'Brien said Thursday morning. "But a call of this nature must be given serious consideration. I cannot be guided by my personal desires. Due to the fact that I have a full schedule ahead of me I do not expect to give a definite answer to this call until late next week, after the close of the state Sunday School convention in Dallas."

The two Baptist churches in Stamford, the old First Baptist church and the five-year-old Memorial Baptist church, have combined and both pastors have resigned. The combined church has a membership of between 1,200 and 1,400. The church proper-

Clever Ruses Practiced By Pioneers To Frustrate Raids By Indian Bands

Interesting high-lights entering into early history of this section is interwoven in the following article, reprinted from a recent edition of the San Angelo Standard-Times: "The dog was the pioneer mother's most faithful ally during those perilous times. Every person kept two or more dogs. Adam Bradford, who settled on the San Saba in Menard county at an early day, kept a pack of 18 or 20. He told the writer that in the fall he laid in meat for his dogs the same as he did for his large family. No Indian or wild beast could come within a mile of his ranch without discovery. Those frontier women could always tell where danger lay by the actions of the dogs. If the Indians were far off the dogs would rush out some distance from the house and set up a furious barking. If near, the dogs would crouch near the door and, with low growls and restless movement, give warning of the savage presence. "The Indians employed many ruses to entrap the unwary. In 1873, on Pecan Bayou in Brown county, a lady who chanced to be alone at night with her little children, heard a calf bawling down at the cow lot as if a wolf had caught it. She went to the door and listened and detected the voice of an Indian. He was trying to mimic the bawl of a calf that he might decoy the woman to the cowpen. The next morning she found moccasin tracks all around the premises. Her shrewdness saved her.

MITCHELL AUTO OWNERS LAX IN GIVING REPORTS

According to the latest available report from the Highway Planning Survey, 150 car owners of Mitchell county have mailed the post cards which were banded to them at the time they paid their 1937 automobile license fees at the office of Mr. R. E. Warren, Tax Assessor and Collector. Since the number of cards thus returned from this county are insufficient to give complete proof of the real needs of the county, every car owner should request one of these self-addressed, postage-free cards and should fill it in and mail it at once because information so collected, together with information compiled by other branches of the survey, will be used by the State Highway Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in allocating federal funds, which will soon be spent in improving the secondary road system and in planning the future construction and maintenance of the roads and highways. Throughout the State the car owners have been returning these cards in a highly satisfactory way. This county, in order to furnish information which places it on a comparable basis with other counties, should return these post cards as high a percentage of its car owners as its neighboring counties. REPORT THAT HIGHWAY TO BE REROUTED DISCREDITED BY CITIZENS OF COLORADO

Loraine, Roscoe Public Look Upon Situation With Some Concern, However, After Rumors Spread

Current rumors to effect that Highway One might be rerouted to miss Roscoe and Loraine that during last week received prominent mention in the press and occasioned considerable concern in those two communities were later dispelled in announcement out of Austin by officials of the State Highway Commission that such a move had never been discussed by members of that department.

The report failed to receive serious consideration in local chamber of commerce and other circles. The CC discredited the report due to fact the State and Federal governments own an excellent paved thoroughfare over present designation of the highway valued at an estimated $25,000 per mile. To build a parallel road only a short distance to the north would entail expenditure of public funds for a project carrying little, if any merit, it was suggested.

Warning that serious effort was being made to divert the highway around Roscoe was given the Lions Club there Wednesday of last week in an address by County Commissioner E. K. Willis of the Roscoe precinct. It was stated that the plan was to reroute the highway along north side of the Texas & Pacific from underpass four miles east of Roscoe to underpass in western edge of Loraine.

Divisional Engineer W. A. French of Abilene told The Record Monday morning that the rumors were not to be traced to any authoritative source. "The department has appropriated money to resurface Highway One from the Mitchell-Nolan county line

Loan Ass'n Affair Attended By 400 Citizens Of County

Anniversary Celebration At Ruddick Park Saturday Is Given By Thompson

Barbecue and entertainment program featuring twentieth anniversary of the Federal Land Bank at Houston, held Saturday morning and noon at Ruddick Park was attended by four hundred Mitchell county citizens, C. C. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Colorado National Farm Loan association and host to the affair, reports.

The program opened at 10 o'clock in the morning with addresses and music going to make up an entertainment feature of strong merit. From 10:30 to 11 o'clock radio broadcast out of Houston, in which the speaker depicted history and progress of the bank, was heard through courtesy of J. Riordan Company. The program was carried to all parts of the amphitheatre through use of the chamber of commerce public address system. Towery Brothers were heard in a twenty-minute program of typical barn dance music.

Col. W. A. Dulin of Valley View, first president of the local association, was presented and spoke of efforts attending organization of the association here several years ago. History of the organization was noted by Thompson and the Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church, delivered a humorous address.

At noon a barbecue dinner was served to the visitors by Thompson. The sandstone that a short time before developed had passed at that time, easing fears entertained by Thompson and others present that a liberal share of West Texas sand would be mingled with the food.

COL-TEX PRODUCTS ALONG WITH 15 CARS BURN NEAR ABILENE FRIDAY MORNING

Fast Freight, Operating As Special, Had Left Colorado Short Time Before; Broken Flange Caused Trouble

Fifteen tanker cars carrying Col-Tex gasoline, fuel oil and distilled in a 41-car special oil train derailed in a spectacular fire three miles west of Abilene at 8:30 Friday morning after the train derailed and the cars piled up in a huge spectacle of wreckage along the right-of-way. A broken flange is said to have caused the wreck.

The train was made up at Colorado and had left out of the local yards for the east about two hours before. As the cars began to buckle and pile up a deafening explosion rocked the countryside and immediately flames leaped high into the air. Heat from the inferno was intense. Seven cars that left the track were not burned.

It was twenty-four hours before wrecking crews, sent out of Fort Worth and Big Spring and intermediate points, cleared the wreckage and passenger and freight traffic on the Texas & Pacific was restored. The wreck was near Highway One and motor traffic over this thoroughfare was detoured over a country road by way of Tuscola.

State highway patrol officers kept constant vigil at scene of the wreck to keep spectators away from the danger zone while the highly inflammable cargo was burning and later as some seventy-five laborers set themselves to the task of clearing the debris.

It is not believed that any persons other than the train crew was riding. A member of the crew stated after the wreck that he had not seen any burns on the train. "If there were any on those cars that exploded and burned, no one will ever know about it," he suggested.

GROUP HAS LEAGUE ALL THEIR OWN

Friday, April 5, the following girls went to Little Blue and held a League all their own.

Annetta Lacey won in the olive eating contest. June Cox won the second race by two sandwiches. Virginia Reese proved she could chew more than two pieces of gum at a time. Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon stated that only one jar of pickles wasn't enough for all so no one else got any. Marybel Crosthwaite won by a nose the onion contest. Etta Fern Harkins gave proof that she was the best man when it came to ice tea. Mary Eleanor Rogers, of course, won by a potato chip. Lucille Bodine in the event of peppermint candy won by a sweet tooth. Eloise Cooper won the cookie eating contest.

The tired but happy girls proud of their victories then started home. After the long six miles of tramping, they decided that riding was the best policy, so they rode the rest of the way home in Rogers' pickup.

That night they all spent the night with Eloise Cooper.

F.F.A. SWEETHEART TO B7 SELECTED

The Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes met Wednesday afternoon to select a candidate for the F.F.A. Sweetheart contest. Those chosen were Katherine Hodges, Junior candidate, Fannie Fae Porter, Sophomore candidate, and Beulah Frances Robinson, Freshman. Each vote will cost one penny. The one having the most money or the most votes will be the F.F.A. Sweetheart, who will have the privilege of attending, as a guest of honor, all F.F.A. activities such as the annual banquet, trip to the Pan American Exposition at Dallas, and other events.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRL CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Cheers and songs arose from the throng of Home Economics girls who went to Sweetwater Saturday. Fannie Fae Porter was elected district president. A free show given in the afternoon was one of the main features of the very interesting programs.

The girls are now beginning their plans for their trip to Ft. Worth on the 28th of April to the state meeting.

PLANS OF THE BAND

The High school band, now practicing on the Abilene contest for April 10, plans to leave in full uniform Saturday morning. Three of the band's own choice pieces will be played and then two numbers will be sight read. During the week of April 4, heavy plans and practices were being carried on, all for better benefit to come from the trip Saturday.

April 29 and 30 the band will play in an annual band contest in Lubbock. Also the band and the orchestra are going to give a concert over the Big Spring radio hook-up. April 21, they are going to make an all day trip visiting the surrounding towns of Colorado.

COLORADO WINS COUNTY DEBATE

The Colorado High school boys' debate team won first place in the county meet which was held in Colorado last Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights. The teams entered were Roscoe, Lorraine and Colorado. The debates were carried on in "round robin" form, each team debating twice. In the first round Lorraine beat Roscoe, Roscoe beat Colorado, and Colorado defeated Lorraine. This placed the teams in the same position they were in at the beginning. The teams were called back the next night to start all over again. In this round Colorado defeated Lorraine and Roscoe defeated Lorraine. Thus the results of the boys debates were: first place, Colorado; second place, Roscoe; and third place, Lorraine.

The results of the girls' debates were different from that of the boys. The winner of this was decided the first two nights when Colorado was defeated by Roscoe and Lorraine, and Lorraine beat Roscoe. The results were Lorraine first, Roscoe second and Colorado third.

All of the debates were very good and most of them were very close. One of the most comical debates ever witnessed was carried on between the Roscoe and Colorado boys in their second debate.

On Friday, April 9, the boys will go to Sweetwater to compete in the district meet.

ROSCOE'S PLAY WINS

Roscoe's one-act play, "The Flower Shop" was awarded first place over Lorraine's play last Thursday afternoon in the High school auditorium.

Last Tuesday Lorraine won over Westbrook and Wednesday Roscoe won over Colorado. The winners of the two contests gave their play last Thursday.

"The Flower Shop" was given in a beautiful stage setting, a room or office in which glass cases were filled with flowers. The plot pertained to a beautiful girl, who worked in the flower shop and loved to make people happy. She saved a romance by sending flowers to a lady who had been engaged to a prominent man for fifteen years.

The play was enjoyed by everyone, and as a surprise, afterward Mr. Christian presented his baby girl before the audience.

Hesperian

Reminiscences of her quarter of a century in the nursing profession were given by Mrs. Bennett Scott, registered nurse, on the health program of the Hesperian club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sam Wulffjen.

Among other things, Mrs. Scott pointed out that nursing is a changing profession because hospitals are more generally used for all kinds of illnesses now than they were a few years ago. Mrs. Scott has nursed in seven different states and has been a hospital patient in six of them.

In a humorous vein she pointed out two of the "great changes" in nursing methods. A few years ago, she said, patients who had undergone appendicitis operations could not have water for a long period after their operation and were not permitted to turn over. Now they are given water and are allowed to turn as soon as they feel able.

She suggested that patients should be taken to hospitals for nursing care, rather than having nurses sent to the homes. Laughingly, she said that there is a growing tendency to consider the patient first and not the nurse.

Mrs. Scott was introduced by Mrs. Ed Majors. Before her introduction the club had a short business session, voting $1 to the Francis Fiske art fund and hearing plans of Mrs. Puris Bass and Mrs. Rees Jones to visit the Longfellow school.

Guests were Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, Mrs. C. E. Jameson, Mrs. Dale Warren, and Mrs. Ralph Henson of Roscoe. A salad course and fruit cake were served. Mrs. Willis Shropshire will be hostess this week at the Dale Warren home.

13,000! TEXANS

The Humble Company lists approximately 13,000 Texas men and women on its payrolls. If you could gather all these folks and their families into one place, they would make a city with over 50,000 people. Happily, they don't all live together; they are scattered through the length and breadth of Texas so that the work they do, the money they earn, contributes to the building up of a hundred or more Texas communities. Through them, as through many other activities, the Humble Company, a Texas institution, plays its part in the sound development of our common state.

Visiting Teachers Note Appreciation Of Club Reception

School Superintendents Are Presented At Lions Club Friday Noon

Superintendents of the Westbrook, Lorraine and Roscoe schools and a faculty member of McMurry college, Abilene, Friday expressed pleasure in being a guest of Colorado and of reception accorded them by citizens of this community. They were here to attend the University Interscholastic League meet at High school and were guests at the Lions Club.

The visitors were: I. R. Hutchinson, superintendent of the Roscoe schools; Ed Williams, superintendent at Lorraine; Ira Lauderdale, superintendent at Westbrook and R. L. Williams of Abilene.

That the Mitchell county league, embracing Roscoe, be made a permanent affair was suggested during address by Mr. Hutchinson.

Newby Pratt, athletic director in the Lorraine High school, was another visiting teacher to attend the club. Pratt spoke briefly of the league events.

Larger And Better School Plant Is Goal To Which Westbrook Public Is Building

WESTBROOK.—This farm, ranch and oil community in Western Mitchell county prides in the material strides attending development of its public school system. The commendable rating held by the school is due to cooperation given the cause of education by citizens over a wide section extending from east of town west to the county line and from northern end of the district through the Spade and Hyman common school districts.

Roy Davis Coles, county school superintendent, and a representative of The Record visited the school Wednesday and were informed by Ira Lauderdale, superintendent, that construction would be started soon on a modern gym building for the school. Several additional study rooms may be provided once this building is completed and the present auditorium moved into it.

Additional credits of affiliation have been received and it is planned to add further to courses of study offered students. In the latter respect Westbrook provided some major departments with opening of school last Fall, one of which was a commercial department.

Busses bring students from the Latah, Spade and Hyman districts to the high school. A faculty of trained teachers is employed, all of whom were this week reelected for another school year.

SPOOKINESS TO PREVAIL AT PALACE ON APRIL 14

Howls of delight and mysticism will echo through the Palace Theatre, Wednesday, April 14th, when the Durso Spook Show is presented at a special midnight performance beginning at 11:30.

An expert in his field, Durso the Great has left a trail of pleased—and mystified—audiences wherever he has appeared with his thrilling "spook show."

At a lift of the eyebrow, Durso causes chairs to rise and float through the air, chains to rattle, and ghosts to dance in weird rhythm.

The screen offering at the midnight show is also of a weird nature and is designed to send chills down the spines of even the more hardy spectators. The picture is entitled "The Ghost Walks," and deals with the happenings in an old, deserted mansion on a stormy night when a lunatic escapes from a nearby asylum and haunts the inmates of the house. Jane Collyer has the role of the heroine, while John Milian plays the detective who solves the mystery.

With these stage and screen offerings, the management of the Palace Theatre guarantees a chilly evening, regardless of the thermometer, for all who attend the midnight show.

EDITORIAL

APRIL NINTH

The most important day recorded on the calendar. It is the writer's birthday. Yes I'm seventy-seven. I wasn't consulted about coming into the world, but after finding out that nothing could be done about it, I decided to make the best of it and in my 77 years journey from the cradle to the grave I have had ups and downs. In the journey I lost an eye and then lost my hearing and next my reputation and now my friends (?) say I'm losing my senses.

Nearly 60 years I have been a member of the church and have lounged with eternal hope.

Hope! the wreck condemned with life to part
Still, still on hope relies
And every pang that rends the heart
Bids expectation rise.

From birth to death is a journey through the world whether long or short. The only paying investments are salvation through faith and treasures awarded for righteous conduct. Pride, wealth and temporal power are delusions through which multitudes pass to destruction.

For nearly 60 years I have tried to so live that I meet my pilot face to face when I cross the bar. And when the army of the just, made perfect with blood-flecked banners and dented armor shall file across the bridge of death for the last grand review by the Lord of Hosts, I expect to be among the foremost, with peace in my heart, a palm within my hand and a crown upon my brow. I shall stand the calm, the cloudless, the immaculate spirit in the presence of my maker.

Old age when men usually look back upon a life of many mistakes and a few achievements and look ahead with either a veiled or a frank dread of death, is generally considered an unhappy condition. An environment of younger, still hopeful and less disillusioned folks doesn't help matters, perhaps makes them worse. But the last few years can be like a rosy sunset, given the right environment and health.

I used to think that growing old was reckoned just in years But who can name the very date when weariness appears? I find no stated time when man obedient to a law Must settle in an easy chair and from the world withdraw Old age is rather curious especially to the poor I know old men at forty-seven and young men at seventy-seven.

So much to do, so much to learn, so much in which to share With twinkling eyes and minds alert, some brave with time and care

And this I've learned from other men that only they are old Who think with something that has passed the tale of life is told For age is not alone of time, or we should kick Men old and bent at forty-seven and men young at seventy-seven.

Yes this columnist had a birthday today, April 9th. Seventy-seven years ago we were born among the hills of Southern Illinois in what is known as Egypt at the old homestead. It was a beautiful place beside a stream, or as we called it, "creek". It was said my birth was the cause of the Civil War, April 1860 and also Abe Lincoln chose my birthday on which he issued his emancipation proclamation. Be that as it may, 77 years is a long time to live. Since our advent into the world many things have happened. You know we would kinder like to live a little longer to see when we would get the Townsend pension.

APRIL A MARTIAL MONTH

Gen. Jackson was born this month and April this year brings us to the 20th anniversary of America's declaration of war on imperial Germany. A great many things could be said about that anniversary; but at the moment what occurred to us is chiefly the odd, sinister fate that seems to hang over the month of April in American history.

The American revolution began on April 19, 1775, with the battle of Lexington. The war with Mexico got under way on April 24, 1846. The first shot in the Civil war was fired on April 12, 1861; Lee surrendered and Lincoln was shot almost exactly four years later, in April of 1865. The war with Spain began on April 21, 1898. And we got into the World war on April 6, 1917.

What kind of jinx is it that makes this month of April so momentous in America's tale of wars?

It was in April that a bunch of so-called Roman high-up citizens jumped on Julius Caesar with their butcher knives and stabbed him to death. They didn't give him a dog's show.

When they began to stick their bilhooks into Julius, he fought them, but when he saw Brutus, whom he thought was his best friend whittling on him, he gave up and died. Brutus was the most outstanding double-crosser of Roman history.

You see, Julius Caesar was president (emperor) of Rome. He was a friend to the forgotten man and had been giving him a New Deal.

Brutus, Cassius, Casca, and a lot of others said that the New Deal was unconstitutional and that he was trying to pack the court, so they killed Julius.

Mark Antony made a great speech at Caesar's funeral. Among some of the things which Antony said was "Brutus said that Caesar was ambitious, and Brutus is an honorable man."

Sixty years ago Josh Billings wrote: "I don't think there iz enny rule for long life. I hav known men tew die before they wuz 40 from the effek ov a vegetabel diet, and I hav known men tew liv 75 years on salt pork and sieder brandy and then quit the pork on akount ov thare helth, and liv 15 years longer on sieder brandy alone."

"Being Massachusetts-born, Josh Billings was no doubt acquainted with New England rum, a potato vastly popular in that bleak region one hundred years ago. But when he said he had known men to live seventy-five years on salt pork and cider brandy, then leave off the salt pork and carry through for 15 years with the support of the brandy alone we imagine he exaggerated the facts.

When I get old, if e'er I do
I ain't a going to die
I'll take a long lease residence
In a mansion in the sky
Where I can watch the friends I've left
And guide them o'er life's sea
So when they're old and want to quit
They'll find a home with me.

Almost daily I take long walks of miles alone, and then believe it or not, I meditate.

As I stand in the glow of life's sunset, things look different to me from the time of 60 years ago. In my meditations I build air castles and go into solitude. The human machine needs oiling with the lubricant of rest and solitude. Goethe knew it and declared: "No one can produce anything important unless he isolates himself." It was Wordsworth who wandered lonely as a cloud that he gained his vision of the dancing daffodils the light which brought to him repeated delight, as afterwards the golden flowers glanced upon his inward eye which is the bliss of solitude.

The amazing thing to me is that anybody thinks I'm old. When I was a lad, men wore long, unkempt hair and beard, and looked old at fifty. Now a man reasonably sane never gets old. He may get feeble, but youth is a state of mind, rather than a badge of younger days.

I never thought I'd live this long and my lengthening years have brought me perennial surprises. As a boy, I thought all old men were good. At seventy-seven, I know that age never helped a man to goodness. In some ways, I am not as good as I was when I was younger. Having reached a high estate of wisdom, I am less patient with the callow youths, who at ages twenty-five to forty, think themselves wise when, from my vantage-ground of seventy-seven I know they haven't much sense.

How does it feel to be seventy-seven years old? Not a whit different from how I felt to be twenty-six years old. One of the disillusionments I enjoy is that man is the same no matter how young or how old he is.

The body grows old, the eyes grow dim, there comes inevitably the time of tottering step and slow, but the spirit is immortal and it is the soul of man that craves the love and affection of his friends, of his helpmeet and of his fellow Christians.

When I was young I thought old people were out of the game of life, had lost their youthful cravings and inclinations, and were waiting expectantly and eagerly for life's end, desirous the while of shuffling off just as soon as they could. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Solomon speaks of the time when "the grinders are few" and when "the grasshoppers will be a burden." Solomon evidently was referring to men with false teeth and the early days in Kansas. I have as many grinders as ever and the grasshopper has never been a burden to me.

This leads me to say that my resilient and persistent youth is quite largely dependent upon my persistent sense of humor. Of Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry I assimilated to that psychology and have laughed off many a burden and many a care.

I am singing that grand old song:

"I would not live always,
I ask not to stay,
Where storm after storm
Riseth dark o'er the way."

Truth to tell, I constantly try to be a better man and labor to conquer all my weaknesses, but my weaknesses persist and while I hope in many ways I am a better man, I am not the kind of good man I thought I would be if I lived to be this old.

And I never liked the old song about wanting to live always, because I do. I've never envied Enoch and Elijah, but I do congratulate them. I know I'm not good enough to be taken up in a chariot of fire and I haven't walked long trips with God, like Enoch did. But if I could get out of this fleshly tabernacle without dying, I'd yell, "Hallelujah!" so loud it would shake the pyramids.

I've never been afraid to die. I look across the western hills with expectant heart, and yet, at seventy-seven I no more want to die than I did at sixteen.

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for me
And may there be no moaning at the bar
When I put out to sea—Tennyson.

Biologists, Psychologists and Theologists have figured it out that there remains but a few more grains of sand in my hour glass, of time and I submit with the thought of That Life beyond the Grave shall this Life far transcend; Death is the Beginning, not the End.

I could go on talking about myself here until I was black in the face and your eyes were tired with reading, but I forbear.

This columnist has the flu. We consulted one of the best doctors in Colorado and he prescribed this remedy: "Go to bed, hang your hat on the foot of the bed and drink good whiskey until you can see two hats." Some friend said I went to the wrong doctor. Should have seen Dr. Cooper the horse doctor.

A COLUMNIST

There are two reasons for a columnist to write. One is for the money in it and the other is simply to be a boondoggler. "Raunbling Remarks" in the West Texas Baptist does not write for the money in it so there is only one other reason left. So

Bernard Shaw says he has found writing laborious and also profitable. There is something for ambitious writers to consider, whether one shall write in exalted mood or whether he shall write boondoggily. Fame and fortune may await the exalted writers while nothing in particular awaits the boondogglers.

WATSON EXPLAINS

Up at the High school while the class in Rhetoric was in recital, one of the class said they had heard over the radio the word "dither" used and asked what it meant. After considerable discussion the class called in Superintendent Watson to explain it and here is what he told them.

Dither is a perfectly proper word. It expresses excitement tinged with hysteria. It may have derived from dithyram. A dithyram is a sort of carnagole, a shrieking chant sung by inebriated celebrators of revolutionary hopes of achievements. The French mob did car-nagole during their celebrated revolution. The old Greeks voiced dithyram when doing honor to Bacchus, their wine god. They had to get full of wine before they felt in the spirit of song, and something of the same impulse remains until now. Most drinkers when drunk enough to lose contact with their brains like to hear their own voices. It may be that we have gone far afield in search of dithers origin, nevertheless it's a good word, whether recognized by the dictionaries or not. It describes a condition of mind. It is better to speak of a person as being in a state of dither than to speak of him as having mental fidgets. In brief, to be fidgety is to be dithery. There are degrees in both, of course. One or two fidgets can hardly be considered as being a dither.

VITAMIN B MEANS HEALTH FOR QUINS

The Dionne Quintuplets are miracles of modern science. For this reason the entire world is interested in everything these five wonder babies do, every incident in their lives, every decision made for them by the Dominion of Canada. No wonder that, when the staff of scientific experts who care for them chose oatmeal as the Quins' cereal, it became of nation-wide interest.

Why was oatmeal picked as the cereal for these irresistible little ones? Because of its remarkable richness in Vitamin B. The importance of Vitamin B has been proven by medical authorities and food editors of leading publications. It is essential for healthy childhood. It is Nature's best defense against nervousness, constipation, and poor appetite due to lack of that vitamin in the diet.

Further, oatmeal with milk is full of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, and energy-making carbohydrates. So the Quins are building health by eating Quaker Oats.

VISITS IN ABILENE

Miss Mabel Smith and Miss Hattie Tankersley spent the week-end in Abilene. Miss Smith was the guest of Miss Elsie Hooper and Mrs. J. E. Hooper.

GOOD WRITERS REPORT

The last report of the Good Writers Club was received this week. There are only twenty-five pupils in Junior High who have not passed the Good Writers test. Last year at this time the school had 86.2% membership, while this year it has 92.6%.

Sam Coker and Leatrice Towery are the new members in 7A, giving the room 94.4% membership. 7B has 97.2% membership, and 7C has 100%. In 6A, 94.6% of the pupils are members of the Good Writers Club, and Bonnie Whiton is the only new member. In 6B, 95.1% of the pupils are Good Writers, and Billy Jean Fry is a new member. Juanita Hunter, John Doss, and Charles Womack are the new members in 6C, giving the room 100% membership.

The new members in the fifth grade are: Bobbie Hemly, L. A. Herrington, Rex Beights, Johnnie Morgan, and J. D. Leach. 5A has 82.8% membership in the Good Writers Club, 5B has 85.29% membership, and 5C has 85.26%.

6C HAS PICTURES MADE

The second room in Junior High to have 100% membership in the Good Writers club is 6C. A picture was made of the pupils in 6C, Miss Locker, and Mrs. Clark to send to the American Penman Magazine. A picture of the pupils in 7C was recently made, and it will also appear in this magazine.

CHATTER

The Beech-Nut circus came to our school and the pupils seemed to enjoy it. The souvenirs, Beech-Nut chewing gum, were the best part of it all. Why does 7C keep the room so clean, especially in the afternoon?

Who gave Betty Cook a present and what was it? How do Alfred and Louis like the back seats? The girls say that they like the front seats fine. We wonder how a 7A boy broke his front tooth. We've heard several different stories. Did the girls on the playground ball team walk much last Friday? Did they like the sun and sand? The laziest boy in Junior High says he would like a job as elevator boy in a one-story building. What is a good thing with which to part? A comb. The mail carriers didn't dislike their jobs last Tuesday. It was fun to have such difficult work to do.

TIPS ON SPORT CLOTHES LISTED FOR CLUB GIRLS

Tips on sport clothes have been listed as follows by Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, for 4-H club girls of Mitchell county.

Sport clothes have a place in each girls' wardrobe today for recreational activities of some type that are part of each girls' program.

Various types and styles are used for specific activities. The clothes are a costume that can be used for picnics, hikes, fishing jaunts, tennis, bicycling, and horseback rides.

The sport skirt with the shorts and blouse makes a three piece combination that can be used for the above activities also. It is used for auto trips in vacation times.

The slacks have been used for a number of years and perhaps range third as to popularity.

The pleated skirt and middle and shirt blouse have returned this season. Also different colored overalls are being shown.

Thus it appears there is no end of sport styles. Every 4-H Club girl can choose the type she desires and wants to make, for her work in making a sport costume not only teaches her how to construct the garment but will give her a chance to see various types modeled on other girls. Hats, bonnets, and shoes will also be modeled with the costumes when the girls have their encampment in June.

When a bank
accepts deposits

—it enters into human relationships that make it unique in business life.

It assumes toward its depositors an obligation to safeguard the funds placed in its keeping, with all humanly possible diligence. It assumes toward its community the obligation to employ those funds, through good business loans and advances for sound public financial requirements, to serve the vital needs and broadest welfare of the community. It assumes toward its stockholders the obligation to protect their capital and earn a fair return.

Sound, honest management offers the only way to meet these three obligations. There are no substitutes for them in banking laws or financial practices.
