Indian Setting For Annual Junior-Senior Banquet Friday Night With 165 Attending

With Indian teepees and West Texas wild flowers carrying out the Lone Wolf motif and with the colorful evening dresses of the girls adding further beauty to the setting, the annual junior-senior banquet of Colorado High school was held Friday evening at the Colorado hotel. One hundred and sixty-five attended.

The Indian motif was carried out in the program as well as in banquet decorations. Quinton Hamrick, master of ceremonies, was called "Chief-tain." The invocation by the Rev. A. L. Haley was "Appeal to the Great Spirit."

As a welcoming address Betty Hodge, junior president, had the topic, "I Offer You the Peace Pipe." Annetta Lacey, senior president, responded with "I Accept the Peace Pipe."

"Indian Love Call" was sung by Frances Merl Cooper. A talk, "In Your Ward I Leave Behind Me," was given by June Cox. Hunter Brannon played on the saxophone, "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water." Nina Laura Smith, valedictorian of the senior class, revealed "All the Secrets of the Future."

Guests were introduced under the program heading, "Wise Chieftains' Council." Among those introduced were Supt. John E. Watson and other high school faculty members; Dr. W. S. Rhode, school doctor; the Rev. P. D. O'Brien of Stamford; the Rev. Mr. Haley; Adele Traylor of Santa Anna and Jane Clare Meskimen of Abilene, both former class members; Beulah Frances Robinson and Dorothy Morrison, freshmen and sophomore presidents; Eddie Pylant, Charles Edwin Root, Miss Pauline Hargrove of Ansonmout, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moeser.

An informal dance at the Colorado Country club followed the banquet.

ACCURATE SURVEY TO BE SPONSORED BY ACC HEAD
COLLEGE STATION — Accurate measurements of farm lands in Texas will be available for future agricultural programs through the system now employed by the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, according to E. N. Holmgreen, executive secretary of the committee.

In 91 counties of the State, measurement will be by plane table, and only those farms which are participating in the current Agricultural Conservation Program will be measured. Aerial surveys will be made on 80,000 square miles, or approximately 100 counties, and in this case all the land in the counties involved will be measured. The remaining counties in the State will check compliance on farms entering the conservation program on the system used in previous years.

The aerial survey will be continued in 1938 in all counties which have enough participation in the program to warrant the service, Holmgreen said. The aerial survey enabled the state committee to have on hand permanent and accurate maps of each farm and will eliminate the annual expense of costly chain measurements.

Holmgreen indicated that farmers who participate in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program will receive a blue print of their farms when located in counties where aerial surveys are made.

Brisk Business Is Reported By Norge During This Year

239,413 Appliance Units Are Shipped During First Four Months Of 1937

DETROIT.—Again Norge leads, according to Horwar E. Blood, executive vice president, Borg-Warner Corporation, parent company, with 239,413 unit household appliance shipments for the first four month period this year, compared with 190,568 units in the comparative period of 1936, a gain of better than 26 per cent. April Norge All-product unit sales totaled 67,562 units compared with 57,992 units in the like month of 1936.

"Norge sales increases so far this year," said Blood, "reflect the increased buying power of greater employment and higher wages. They also indicate the greater public interest in home modernization and new residential construction. There is a national spendability at last twelve billion dollars greater than in 1935 and much of this is going into the home. Not only do more people desire the convenience and health protection of Rollator refrigeration but they are replacing washers and ranges, and adding new heating equipment in a larger way than before.

"Norge washer sales, for example, showed a 59 per cent increase for the four month period compared with 1936, while washer shipments of the industry for the first quarter are reported to have increased approximately 11 per cent over 1936. Sales of Norge furnaces for the four month period, compared with last year, gained 157 per cent; oil burners, 113 per cent; commercial refrigerator installations, 124 per cent; ranges, 19 per cent.

"Interesting, too," reported Blood "is the fact that Norge opens orders at the end of April for all products exceeded total shipments for the comparative month of 1936 and represented 99 per cent of April sales."

Big Increase In Bank Deposits Recalled By One Of Nation's Leading Financiers

After comparative quiet during 1933-34-35, commercial loans of banks of the United States have turned upward definitely during the last twelve months. The volume of commercial loans dropped precipitantly from the middle of 1929 until the middle of 1932, losing approximately 50 per cent of the 1929 peak. Since that time the volume of commercial loans has been probably the most obdurate of the business factors in refusing to turn upward. While the gains since the early part of 1936 have not been great they have been distinctly encouraging. The year 1929 represented the peak in the volume of commercial loans, but the rise from 1922 to 1929 was much less than any other business factors. As a matter of fact, while the present level of commercial loans is still much below the level of 1929, the increase during the last twelve months has been more rapid than at any time during the 1922-1929 period.

TWO HONORS WITHIN WEEK FOR FRANCES E. PRICE AT TEXAS TECH

Two of the highest possible honors at Texas Tech, Lubbock, were awarded to Frances Elaine Price, Tech junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Price of Colorado, within less than a week.

On Friday night Miss Price was crowned queen of Tech's cotton carnival, an honor to which she was elected by popular vote of the student body. After her coronation by Jack M. Randal, Lubbock attorney, she reigned over the cotton carnival.

Members of Miss Price's family attending the coronation were Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Price, Misses Kack and Loyse Price, Mrs. Bob Fee and sons, Bobby and Rory.

The second honor coming to Miss Price was her initiation as a member of the Texas Tech Forum Sunday morning. Only twelve girls were chosen from the entire membership of Tech's junior and senior classes for Forum membership. A high social and scholastic rating is required.

Miss Price is majoring in government.

Mrs. Emmett Grantland and sons are spending this week with her mother in Ballinger.

Mrs. Cantrill Is Honoree At Party Given Wednesday

A surprise honor for Mrs. R. H. Cantrill was the four-table bridge party with which Mrs. A. L. McSpadden entertained Wednesday afternoon.

Roses were arranged throughout the home, a pink and white color scheme being carried out. When the games were over it was announced that Mrs. Cantrill had made high score. She received a large box of gifts tied with a satin ribbon.

She was also presented with the Tweed toilet water that Mrs. Blue Goodwin received as traveling prize and with the City's bath powder which went to Mrs. P. K. Mackey for low score.

Miss Emily Dulaney of Big Spring was a tea hour guest. Apricot cream and butter scotch cookies were served to the following: Mesdames P. K. Mackey, A. C. Anderson, Joe Pond, Bill Oswald, Jack Christian, Lester Manning, Frank Kelley, Bob May, Oscar Price, Ace McShan, Baxter Scoggins, Jake Richardson, Goodwin, Austin Bush, Bill Dorn, G. V. ## PLANS TO ORGANIZE THE COUNTY IN AGRICULTURE ASSOCIATION CONTINUED

"Looks like we are not to have much of a meeting, since there is no place for us to assemble," W. W. Porter, State director for the Texas Agricultural association, explained Saturday afternoon to a group of farmers who had congregated in corridors of the court house to attend recessed meeting of the proposed county unit.

It was all because a special session of district court was being held in chamber of that tribunal on third floor of the building and the county court room, on second floor, too, was in use.

Porter stated later that the farmers were invited to come back to Colorado on a date yet to be announced, when it is planned to perfect organization of the association.

DRUNKS AND ACCIDENTS DRUG JURY'S ATTENTION

Charges of taking on too much liquor and the often times sequel—motor car accidents—are taking considerable attention by members of the Nolan county grand jury these days, a Sweetwater newspaper for Tuesday afternoon noted. ## PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

When The Record stated recently that the death of James H. Harris left but one Confederate veteran in Mitchell county it was, it develops, in error. . . . There are two left, one being R. E. Grantland, who was named as sole surviving veteran. . . . The other one is T. Y. Pool, Mitchell county pioneer who now lives at the corner of 8th and Pine streets in Colorado. . . . I'm going to write a story some of these days about "Grandpa" Pool, who is said to be quite an interesting character. . . . He and Mrs. Pool are the parents of Mrs. Sam Smartt of Colorado and Mrs. Hoodie Webb of near Colorado. . . . Mr. Pool didn't begin drawing his pension as a veteran until April of this year because in years past he "didn't need it." He farmed near Westbrook until moving to Colorado about a year ago. . . . He's 89 years old. . . .

An interesting incident in the life of Clyde Hines was recalled by Mrs. Witt Hines of Stanton after his death May 1. . . . It seems that he went to Hardin-Simmons university (then Simmons college) on a horse which had been given to the school by the late C. P. Coraway. . . . Joe Bell (grandfather of Ray Bell at Dorn) had also given the school a horse. . . . Mr. Hines, then a youth, rode one horse and led the other all the way to Abilene to enter school. . . . Those horses drew the old Simmons stage or carried from college to town and back again for years. . . .

"The thrill that comes once in a lifetime" came to Dwight Moody, 11-year-old son of J. M. Moody of Route 1, recently when he caught his first bass. . . . The catch was made in Deep Creek northwest of Buford, where Mr. Moody and his son and Dwight's grandmother, Mrs. S. E. Carstensen, live. . . . The bass weighed 4 pounds. . . . It was the first time Dwight had ever used a rod and reel. . . . Dwight goes to school at Little Sulphur and is in the sixth-grade. . . .

The popularity which has come to Frances Elaine Price at Texas Tech, where she is a junior, can be judged from these excerpts picked at random from the "Personalities" column of "The Toreador," Tech newspaper: "People often tell her she looks like cinema's Sylvia Sydney . . . no need telling you that she was crowned Queen of the Cotton Carnival last night. . . . Her Majesty Queen Frances Elaine of the House of Price is one of the few girls at Tech who has chosen law as her profession. . . . belongs to Las Chaparritas social club, Pre-Law club, Book Reviews. . . . vice-president elect of AWS and attended its 8th biennial national convention in Los Angeles Easter . . . secretary-elect of Pre-Law club . . . spent Christmas holidays in New York. . . . has captivating personality and squirts at you when you speak to her. . . . has freckles and cunning eyes. . . . one of those people whom you are proud to know. . . . friendly, patriotic, energetic. . . .

When the Jake Richardsons started to Abilene Saturday, Mrs. Richardson and Bobby rode the "choo-choo" as far as Loreine. . . . What youngster doesn't thrill to his first train-ride? . . .

"It said that the senior and junior girls all so young and gay in colorful evening dresses, made a riot of loveliness in the hotel lobby Friday night as they waited to go into the junior-senior banquet. . . . Quite a few townpeople went wandering among them, just to glimpse what it might be like to be young and thrilled and on the verge of graduation once more. . . . Sophisticated folks, these youngsters of today. . . . In my day, which wasn't, believe it or not, more than a dozen years ago—we played "Flying Dutchman" and held contests as diversions after our junior-senior banquet. . . . This year's young ones went dancing at the country club. . . .

Envy did a run-around in my soul when I heard Mrs. C. C. Thompson telling about that boat trip she and the George Mahons had down the Potomac river while she was in Washington recently. . . . They were on the boat overnight, taking the Mahons' car along and driving back to Washington overlaid when they got off the boat, 200 miles from Washington. . . . Visited Jamestown, Williamsburg, and other places that I have only met in American history. . . .

DORN SCHOOL CLOSED FRIDAY WITH PROGRAM

Three playlets in which all pupils took part marked the closing program of Dorn school Friday night. . . . A picnic was held for the pupils Saturday afternoon. . . . All three teachers, Mrs. Joe Dolin, Mrs. Benton Templeton, and Miss Louvenia Wilcox, have been reelected for next year.

Conoco Finds That Country Paper Has Effect In Business

Advertising Campaign Will Be Carried Into September By Oil Corporation

Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium for merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales of Conoco germ-processed motor oil following past newspaper advertising campaigns, Continental Oil Company is again launching a large scale advertising campaign in some 1400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation. The campaign will continue into September and will be distinguished by the fact that it will feature the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

Surveys conducted by Continental's advertising department showed two factors which decided the nature of the forthcoming campaign. First, it was ascertained that the best sales results followed the use of newspaper advertising; and second, that the motorist is far more concerned with the mileage he obtains from his motor oil than any other single factor.

Correlating this information with the fact that Continental distribution is now conducted entirely through local independent dealers, the advertising campaign will stress that each dealer is a "mileage merchant" who, in order to retain his customers and gain new ones, must sell mileage in the form of a motor oil which will give efficient service.

EVERY-DAY HAZARDS DISCUSSED BY H. D. WOMEN AT FAIRVIEW

By Mrs. P. H. Pace

"Everyone should know the signals, and use them when driving a car, to prevent as many accidents as possible," Miss Emma Gunter said in a meeting with the Fairview Home Demonstration club May 14.

There were round table discussions on articles that cause accidents around the house, yard, and kitchen. Miss Gunter also talked on water systems simple enough to be installed. Mrs. Claude Willis was elected delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration Association annual convention, with Mrs. C. C. Berry as alternate.

Sunday met with Mrs. J. L. Strain with Mrs. Fay Jenkins, Mrs. P. H. Pace, Mrs. C. C. Berry, Mrs. L. A. Strain, Mrs. Claude Willis, Mrs. W. C. Berry, and hostess as members present; Miss Elizabeth Mosely, Miss Vest, Mrs. Willis and Miss Gunter as visitors present.

The club will meet May 28 with Mrs. L. A. Strain.

Letter From Stansil Whipkey Gives Some Interesting Facts About Shanghai, China

A letter from S. E. Whipkey, Shanghai, China, to his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey of Colorado, gives some high lights about this little known country.

Mr. Whipkey left here in February to take the management of the American Express Co.'s offices at Shanghai.

He had just spent the week-end at Hongchow, which is a "resort" town 120 miles from Shanghai. The city of Hongchow was founded 600 B. C., and from the pictures sent in his letter is a beautiful and wonderful place. Among other historic places he saw he mentions the tomb of Yao, famous Chinese General of the Song Dynasty, about 1100 A.D.

While he had been dining on bamboo sprouts (which he said were delicious) this was the first chance he had had to see a genuine bamboo forest. These grow in great forests, and so close together a person cannot walk through except by paths that have been chopped out by the natives. Some of them are 12 to 18 inches in diameter, down to the "fishing pole" size and the tender sprouts just coming up which are used for food.

He had tea in one of their famous gardens, buildings with straw roof and paper walls. The famous "Hill Drive" at Hongchow was very beautiful, he said, all the hillsides literally covered with flowers, mostly azaleas, but a great variety, and were everywhere.

The Lakeview Hotel, a magnificent building, is owned by a Chinaman who went to school in the U. S. A. for five years, and is a Christian (Methodist).

He is well pleased with his work. He has three assistants, a secretary, five guides, ricksha boy, and house boy, and he has no trouble with languages. Most of world tourists speak English and any local business with Chinese is done by interpreters.

A demonstration that the "world is small" was shown when he got a letter from Mrs. C. A. O'Keefe of Fort Worth. The old timers of Colorado will remember the O'Keefes, as they were prominent citizens of Colorado and moved to Fort Worth about 1906-7.

Mrs. O'Keefe had known Mrs. Whipkey, and when she saw the story in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram about Stansil going to China, she wrote him in regard to round-the-world trip and that she would arrive in Shanghai on a certain date, and wanted to meet him.

Stansil's letter was mailed at Shanghai on April 17th and received here May 17th via S. S. President Jefferson to San Francisco.

Feeders Day To Be Featured At State Station Next Week

Annual Event At Big Spring Set To Be Held Friday Of Next Week, CC States

The fifth annual feeders day program will be held at the U. S. Experiment station at Big Spring on Friday, May 28, according to Fred Keating, superintendent. DIONNE QUINTUPLETS THRIVE ON OATMEAL

No money or effort has been spared in providing the five "Dionnelets" with the best, and only the best, of everything. And, of course, one of the most important considerations from the day of their birth has been food.

Oatmeal has been the Quins' cereal, because oatmeal with milk contains an abundance of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, energy-making carbohydrates, and Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Food editors and medical authorities have proved that Vitamin B is essential for healthy childhood. It is nature's best safeguard against those dangerous enemies of childhood—nervousness, constipation, and poor appetite due to lack of vitamin in the diet. So the Quins are every day growing healthier and stronger, eating Quaker Oats.

New Dignity For Fish Magazine, 'Just Fishin' As Final Copy Of Year Is Out

Clothed in new dignity because of the praise which it has received from high education officials during the year, "Just Fishin'" freshman magazine of Colorado High school, made its final appearance of this school term Monday.

In lieu of a high school annual, a copy of the magazine was presented to each member of the senior class as a graduation present. The magazine includes, among other things, personal sketches of each high school teacher.

Juan Mason, member of the high school English faculty, has sponsored the publication of "Just Fishin'" each term this year. It is mimeographed and bound pamphlet-style. All work in it, including poems, sketches, editorials, and jokes, is done by freshman students.

A display of the magazine at the state teachers' convention in Fort Worth recently won notice and praise from Miss Madge Stanford of Abilene and Miss Sue B. Mann of Alpine, both deputy state superintendents.

The final issue is bound in red with a mimeographed sketch of the Colorado High school building on the cover. Sketches and stories are by Catherine Slagel, Sara Ann Pond, Ruth Griffith, Nancy Price, Doris Flo Doss, Mary Beth Gilpin, Billie Chaney, Harry Etta Landers, Beulah Frances Robinson, Harvey Hicks, Freddie Watson, Doris Montgomery, Harvey Cook, Jo Walding, Burl Ballard, Harriet Ann Pritchett, Bobbie Lou Gosper, Claudia Compton, and Alice Womack. Poems are by Billie Chaney, Bonnie Bell Holt, Marie Duffer, and Bernice Barr. Catherine Slagel is editor. The staff is composed of Harvey Cook, Alice Womack, Burl Ballard, Nancy Price, and Juan P. Mason.

NEW MEDICAL HEAD IS EX-COLORADOAN

A doctor closely linked with Colorado once more heads the Texas Medical Association with the election of Dr. Ernest Bertner of Houston as president during the recent convention in Fort Worth.

In the association's history it has been headed twice by former Coloradans, once by a Coloradoan.

Dr. Felix P. Miller of El Paso, brother of Mrs. Y. D. McMurry and son of Mrs. W. J. Miller, both of Colorado, is a past president. He was elected delegate to the American Medical Association in Atlantic City during the recent convention. The American body meets in June. Dr. Miller was reared in Colorado.

Dr. Bertner, the new president, was also reared here. He has been house doctor for the Rice hotel in Houston for a number of years.

The late Dr. P. C. Coleman, pioneer Coloradoan, served at one time as president of the association.

LUBBOCK CITIZEN GIVES SILVER FOR AUTOMOBILE

Coloradoan Learns That Irvin S. Cobb 'Covered' His Graduation Back In 1900

Something that has been worrying L. W. Sandusky for a great many years was settled when he received the following letter from Irvin S. Cobb, writer and humorist:

"Yes, I'm the same fellow you knew in 1900—only a dam' sight older."

Back in 1900 Mr. Sandusky was the honor law graduate of the University of Louisville in Kentucky. As he delivered his valedictory address in the manner which later made him known as "the silver-tongued orator of West Texas," notes were taken by a young reporter from the Courier Journal. That reporter was named Irvin Cobb.

Ever since the name of Irvin S. Cobb became nationally known, Mr. Sandusky has been wondering if the famous author of today and the Courier Journal reporter of 1900 could be one and the same. He wrote Cobb a letter of inquiry recently and now he knows.

Irvin S. Cobb's letter will take its place among Mr. Sandusky's treasured possessions, among which are his memories of the part he played in developing the oil business in West Texas.

Although ill health has kept Mr. Sandusky from active work during the past few years, there was a time when he was one of the busiest men in West Texas. Born and reared in Versailles, Kentucky, he received his first degree from the University of Virginia, then his LL.B. from the University of Louisville—both before he was 21. He had to wait two months after graduation before he was old enough to begin practicing law.

In September after his graduation from the University of Louisville he moved to Oklahoma City, and from there, in 1902, he came to Decatur, Texas, to work in the office of the county attorney, who was Frank J. Ford at that time. In September, 1905, he came to Colorado and has lived here ever since.

Mr. Sandusky's ability as a lawyer had won him the widely-used title, "Silver-Tongued Orator of the West," a long time before West Texas' oil boom days, but it was his work in promoting oil developments in West Texas that made him really well-known.

He has been called the "father of the West Texas oil fields." His interest in oil development began in the war days when the government was sending him over this section to use his speaking talent in getting people to buy Liberty bonds. This part of West Texas was in the grip of a devastating drought and there was little money for bonds. He did most of his selling in the oil boom section around Ranger.

Through the contacts he made there he built up the interest of oil men in possibilities farther west. It was a great day for him when Mitchell county first gave definite promise of oil in 1921 and then burst forth with a "boom" when the Morrison No. 2 came in early in 1922. This section of West Texas was never called the "oil man's graveyard" after that.

With oil a reality, Mr. Sandusky went after an oil refinery for Colorado. His untiring work helped the Colorado chamber of commerce out over its drive to secure the site for the Col-Tex refinery, now Colorado's largest single industry. He was instrumental in organizing the first refining company which, after several reorganizations, became the Col-Tex Refining company.

'On To El Paso' Was Theme For Business Women's Dinner Held On Last Thursday

By Elizabeth Kirkpatrick

The Business & Professional Women's club regular luncheon was held at the Colorado Hotel Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Misses Lillian Pond and Elizabeth Kirkpatrick were the hostesses.

The theme of the program was "On To El Paso." Special convention songs were sung and Mrs. Ida Kirschbaum, chairman of the special committee, gave information in detail on the convention to meet in El Paso June 3, 4, and 5. She gave the estimated expenses and the fare on the special train to run from Fort Worth to El Paso.

Mrs. Rees Jones read a very interesting and instructive article on "Charm." After her reading a round table discussion of the subject was enjoyed by all.

One of the most entertaining features of the evening was the unique place cards especially designed for each individual by Mrs. Kirschbaum and Mrs. McSpadden.

The caricatures were especially suited to each member, all El Paso bound by various ways and vehicles. Mrs. Dawson was first in the contest as she was pushing a cart with her three children to El Paso and Mrs. Kirschbaum won second place leading a faithful pack mule heavily loaded with baggage.

Hopes Of Building Colorado
Thru 'Going Organization'
During Address

Lionism in Colorado has achieved well and made for itself a place in the sun, simply because the men listed on membership roster of the service organization have accepted that to become a Lion carries responsibilities, C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, stated during address at the club Friday. He referred to the recent election of Joe Pond as district governor as one of the honors Colorado Lions have brought to themselves and their community.

"I have the great ambition to build the chamber of commerce into an equally important organization in this section of Texas," he continued. "It is the sincere purpose of myself and each member of the board of directors to reorganize your chamber of commerce into one of the best to be found anywhere in this section of Texas—one that will lead every citizen into the universal will to build."

Thompson outlined that every Coloradoan would be given opportunity to have part in the objective. "We are going to call you together in the near future and give you opportunity to express your views on this problem. It is not the purpose of myself nor any other person interested in this campaign to high-pressure any person. But we do feel that you will unite with us in the sincere undertaking of doing an outstanding thing for ourselves and this community."

The CC president announced that Joe Pond was absent from his place at the club due fact he had been appointed on an important committee to lead the organization in contacting the able manager desired. "And in

Controversy Opened Here In Special Session Saturday
Remains Unsettled

Legal battle by heirs of the late J. J. Handley, pioneer Mitchell county rancher who died a few years ago at his home near Cuthbert, Saturday was continued to regular session of 32nd district court to open Monday, May 31.

Heirs in the estate are seeking to break provision in the will designating John J. Handley as administrator. Evidence seeking to support contention that such a court edict should be ordered was introduced during a special setting of court opening Saturday morning with Judge Albert S. Mauzey of Sweetwater on the bench. R. H. Radloff represented the plaintiffs and Leon R. Smith was attorney for the defendant in the hearing.

STANLEY NOTES SUPPORT EXTENDED HIGHWAY ASSN

This community, through its chamber of commerce, has continued among the active supporters of the Broadway of America association since its inception, a fact appreciated by friends of the route from one end of the international highway to the other, Henry W. Stanley of Dallas, president of the association, stated while in Colorado Saturday.

A similar expression was voiced by Frank O. Mackey, Douglas, Arizona, hotel operator, and a former president of the organization.

this as in all other duties imposed on this great Lion, he is working at the job. Joe requested me to say for him today that he regrets that duty called him out of town."

President Whipkey and Jack Helton spoke briefly on the recent district convention in Big Spring. Both thanked the Lions who attended and assisted in furthering candidacy of Pond for district governor. Whipkey announced that 52 Colorado Lions were in attendance at the model luncheon held by the club on May 2.

W. B. May, one of the Boy Scout leaders working with troops sponsored by the club, stated that the boys wished to express their appreciation for cooperation given by the Lions Club in making it possible for them to attend the recent area round-up at Big Spring.

Texas Highway Patrol To Hold Tests During Two Days, Legge States

A Texas Highway Patrol safety lane is to be conducted in Colorado Friday and Saturday, June 11 and 12, W. W. Legge, Lubbock, district chief, stated while in Colorado Saturday. He stated that cooperation by the public would be invited in that traffic hazards as existed in condition of cars and trucks be curtailed.

The tests are to be open to all motorists free of cost. Brakes, lights and other features having to do with safety measures will be examined and recommendations for remedial measures given.

Legge recalled that this would be first time for one of these tests to be conducted here. It is probable that the lane will be established on East Second street in vicinity of Lone Wolf Creek bridge.

DEMENTED PRISONER IN
LIFE WITH CRUDE KNIFE

William Chester Davis, Oklahoma transient being held in county jail who several days ago put in his appearance at the City National bank to demand cash on a $5,000 Federal warrant, because he was "President Roosevelt," Saturday attempted the life of a fellow prisoner by slashing at his back with a crude knife fashioned from a safety razor blade and an old toothbrush.

The attack came as the other prisoner passed by cell in which Davis was confined. Quickly extending an arm through the grated bars, Davis struck at the man's back, slitting his shirt several inches and graining the skin. Another of the knives, made from a razor blade and a piece of wood and a sharp instrument fashioned from a large safety pin, were found in the demented man's possession.

Officers had difficulty in taking the weapons from the man. After several minutes he was subdued and the knives and spear recovered. They were being exhibited later by Police Chief Hickman who arrested the man here on April 14 shortly after he appeared in the bank. Davis was found insane and committed to a State hospital on April 20 but due to crowded condition of those institutions the county is experiencing delay in placing him.

COMPETITION SEEKING OUR TOURIST BUSINESS CHIEF
CHARGES IN ADDRESS HERE

Cities Located On Broadway
Of America Face Test, So
President Stanley States
To Caravan Travelers

The Automobile Club of Southern California and the Chicago Motor Club have united in a well organized campaign to divert the great tourist business from lanes of the Broadway of America to the north and unless the public spirited citizens of Colorado and every other community through which this route passes do something definite to arrest that condition, "they are going to make a cow trail out of the Broadway between Fort Worth and the Pacific Coast," Henry W. Stanley of Dallas, president of the highway association, declared during an address at the Colorado hotel Saturday at noon.

Stanley quoted figures to indicate that the American tourist would spend $4,750,000,000 during 1937, a large portion of that staggering sum finding its way into the channels of trade along the Broadway, if the public concerns itself with the situation at hand and acts to counteract influences of competitive travel units.

While cities and towns throughout the country are clamoring for new industries to "boost their local payrolls, it is fitting to call to attention of our public spirited citizens the advantages of tourist business, a new industry which will, if properly cultivated, leave in every city and town, including Colorado, a payroll often exceeding that of any industry that could now be secured, he stated.

The motorcade arrived in Colorado at 12:30 p.m., 45 minutes late due to a wreck near Odessa that morning. One of the San Diego, California, cars was demolished when crashed into by another machine, but none of the occupants were injured.

The road boosters were met a few miles west of Colorado by a delegation representing the chamber of commerce and citizens. President Thompson of the CC headed the group. The trippers were brought into town by two State highway patrolmen and Police Chief Dick Hickman. The band played a short concert as the caravan turned into Walnut street and came to a stop opposite the Colorado hotel.

All members of the party were guests of the chamber of commerce at luncheon. Thompson acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Mrs. Bill Martin, Miss Nina Katherine Quinney and young ladies of the Dixie Debs, who entertained with dance and song numbers. Tribute to those men along route of the highway who had made material contribution to popularizing the route was offered by Truett Barber, member of the CC executive board, as he delivered address of welcome. Stanley spoke in response.

Two State highway patrolmen, L. F. McCasland and J. C. Ferguson of the Lubbock division, accompanied the caravan from Odessa to Colorado. Here George Morhan and Sam Guyenes, patrolmen from the Abilene divisional office, took charge of the motorcade. W. W. Legge, chief of the Lubbock division, was with the trippers here and accompanied them over most of the route through his territory.

Stanley joined the caravan at El Paso Friday driving through from Dallas earlier during the week. Among prominent personages in the motorcade were William Hart, member of the California State Highway Commission; Byron Sweet, supervisor of the city of San Diego; officials of the San Diego, California, city government; Frank O. Mackey of Douglas, Ariz., a former president of the Broadway of America; T. L. Colford, mayor of Bisbee, Arizona, and others. Several ladies were in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Grable joined the caravan here and accompanied them to Memphis, Tenn., to attend the annual convention. Friday night the trippers were guests of Pecos.

Double-Header Tilt Slated
On Opening Card As Lions
League Is Opened; Total Of Six Clubs Entered

Jack Christian, skipper, and members of his Lions Club softball league executive committee Thursday evening were to have gone into huddle with captains of the six league clubs to map final details for formal opening of the schedule Monday night at Cantrill Field. Christian stated Tuesday afternoon that captains of the six clubs had registered 20 players each, from the ranks of which were a number of men giving promise of developing strong competition for the league pennant.

Clubs entered include the Standard Oil of Texas, J. E. Coles, Col-Tex, Shell, Young Business Men, and Gulf Oil. Each of the clubs have perfected organization and some of them have been doing strenuous work-outs during the past few days.

The conference was to have been held at the Colorado hotel. At the meeting all of the 120 men listed on roster of the league are to be checked for eligibility and their captains given dates on which they will play during the season.

Opening the round of contests will be a double-header, starting at 8 o'clock Monday night. The Standard Oil vs. J. E. Coles are to be the first clubs seen in action as Colorado ushers in another softball season. Starting at 9:15 will be contest between Col-Tex and Shell. The double-header card was arranged in order to not conflict with program at high school attending observance of commencement week. The Col-Tex-Shell battle had been scheduled for Tuesday night. The Young Business Men vs. Gulf Oil melee, at first set for Tuesday night, has been stepped ahead until 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

Christian stated that Colorado was ready for softball and "We mean to give these fans a round of entertainment to merit their liberal patronage. I have never received finer cooperation in a similar project and feel confident that some fast and exciting contests are ahead out at Cantrill Field."

Christian and John Baze have been elected as umpires and A. L. McSpadden will be on the gate during first week's schedule. Christian will leave Colorado soon after June 1 for Camp Stewart, near Kerrville, where during the summer he is to act as counsellor in riflery. An umpire to take his place will be announced later by the executive committee, composed of Ralph Lee, M. L. Kirschbaum and McSpadden.

The skipper spoke with elation as he outlined details for opening the league card and expressed hope that Colorado would lend liberal support to the games. A price of ten cents will be charged.

SENIOR GIRLS TO BE

Coinciding in aims of internationalisms and "good neighborliness", the Pan American Student Forum and the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition will open on the same day. Originally the Forum planned to meet in Atlanta, Ga., but the site was changed to Dallas so that the delegates might obtain first hand knowledge of the countries in which they are interested as fifteen Latin American nations are participating in the Exposition.

Federal Loan Assn Ends Second Year During This Week

Loans In Mitchell Totaled 228, Aggregating $43,016 County Supervisor Notes

This week marks the end of the second year of the Resettlement Administration, which, in Mitchell County, has made 228 loans to farmers for a total of $43,016.

Vernon Slocumb, county supervisor, announced that during this two-year period the Resettlement Administration had also made 189 non-renewable grants in the county for a total of $3,071, in addition to the loans.

The supervisor said when Resettlement Administration was set up two years ago, its first job was to take over farm families formerly on relief, and to make these families again self-supporting. Detailed plans of farm and home management were worked out with each family, and backed by loans for the necessary supplies, livestock and equipment.

"More than 18 per cent of Texas farmers have incomes ranging from $400 down to less than nothing. A typical member of this group," the supervisor said, "spends on an average only $1 a month for food, only fifty cents a month for clothing, and only five cents a month for medical care."

He pointed out that these families can develop, in the aggregate, an enormous purchasing power, if properly financed and supervised.

"Many farmers included in the Resettlement program last year had never before known what it was to grow a garden or to own a cow or chickens," the supervisor said. "Most of them had no team or tools. Resettlement plans worked out last year enabled such families in Texas to buy 26,599 horses and mules and 7,932 milk cows. These families planted 19,762 gardens and put up more than five million pounds of dried meat and vegetables as well as more than three and a half million cans. A total of 57,540 loans to such families were made in Texas during the past two years by the Resettlement Administration for $11,878,854. The amount of non-renewable grants was 105,900 for $1,547,082."

The Debt Adjustment Section of Resettlement in Texas, working through volunteer committees in each county, has not only assisted in saving 916,131 acres of land from foreclosure on 3,589 farms, but has also brought about refinancing through which $258,409 in delinquent taxes has been paid to state and county treasurers.

To help put land into the hands of low-income farmers, and a small group of the more successful type of tenants, Resettlement has accepted options on 34,000 acres of land in Texas and has paid for 22,625 acres of this. The land was bought at a price which will return six per cent above taxes and insurance, with crops and prices equal to those of the last three years. Construction of buildings is now in progress on 125 of these farms and 145 families are now working them, living in temporary quarters. Most of them later will be given opportunity of buying, with forty years time to pay and interest at the rate of three per cent.

In an area of worn-out and eroded land in Fannin County, options have been accepted on 12,623 acres of land and payment has been made for 5,335 acres. More than 500 men are able to make a living any longer by farming this land as employed, converting it into demonstration projects, the improvements including fences which will impound 1,168 acres of water.

Cooperative loans involving $126,358 have been made by Resettlement to 163 groups of Texas farmers, to buy equipment too large or expensive for small individual farmers, or to purchase pure-bred sires or set up other community projects which could not be financed through any other public or private agency.

A HISTORY BOOK TALKS

"Yes, my poor heart is broken as well as my back," wailed the poor history book. "If some of these students realized how much they have to depend upon me for their grade they might think twice before treating me so cruelly. I don't know which is worse, to be used slightly and abused much or not to be used and appreciated at all. We have all summer, usually, to rest after our much use during the nine months of school and the way some of these students treat us we need a hospital bed for the rest of our lives after one year. Will they never learn to appreciate us?"

A WREATH

Decoration Day and I am far removed. Your lonely grave will wait in vain with sunshine, rain, soft breezes and the creeping grass Alone to comfort you.

The flowers that I would bring wither unplaced And, though you long for them, Let those of other years now cover you In soothing memory.

Be comforted! Beside forgotten ones In this far place, I'll stand by you, Reaching through unhappy hearts in every land All lonely dead in far, neglected graves.

For this reason the Seniors urge everyone who possibly can to attend. The play will be presented Tuesday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. Petroleum oils, refined and other gasolines were the largest class of freight that moved over the Texas & Pacific's more than 1,900 miles of track during 1935 and 1936, according to annual statement recently issued by President John L. Lancaster of the system. Col-Tex refinery, located here, made large contribution toward attaining that record.

Business in other freight classifications were larger during the period than before, Lancaster noted. This, he indicated, is a "dissection funder" in so far as trend of the country's economic status is concerned.

Products of agriculture, animals and products and miscellaneous items were others listed, a share of which was developed in Mitchell county.

Lions To Cooperate With FFA Chapter In Annual Barbecue Friday Afternoon

Colorado Lions and Lionesses are to converge at Ruddick Park Friday afternoon to join with boys of the FFA chapter in the latter's annual barbecue program. Invitation that the service organization attend the affair and designate it "ladies night" was accepted last Friday.

The park meeting will take place of the regular Friday noon luncheon meeting, President Walter Whipkey has announced. Whipkey and Doyle Williams, director of the host organization in high school, are urging that every Lion, accompanied by a Lioness, attend.

Williams is doing an outstanding work with the boys in his Future Farmer of America chapter, so members of the Lions Club are reminded, and the presence of every Lion at the barbecue and entertainment program to follow will be accepted as a gesture of appreciation of that fact. Entertainment features to be given will be under direction of the Lions Club program committee for May. The affair is set to begin at 7:15 o'clock. Williams is advancing the assurance that there will be an abundance of good things to eat, prepared and served under personal supervision of experts in the culinary art.

Buick Deliveries To Highest Total In Car's History

Over 2,700 Dealers Offering
Sales and Service To The American Motorist

FLINT, Michigan.—With a gain of eighty-six dealers during April, a record for any single month, the Buick Division of General Motors Sales Corporation now has the largest dealer organization in its history. W. T. Hufstader, General Sales Manager, disclosed today.

At the same time, Buick sales and service facilities have been extended into new territories and more complete and efficient coverage of established areas has been accomplished, Mr. Hufstader said.

"The Buick retail organization in the field now numbers 2,756 dealers, the largest group ever to represent Buick," he said. "The previous high was in April, 1928."

"While the growth has been steady during the last three years, there were more franchises granted during the past month than in any other similar period in our history. Moreover, it now appears likely that our dealer force will be further expanded within the next six months until approximately 3,000 dealers will be selling and servicing Buick cars in the United States."

"With this organization, Buick will be represented by authorized sales and service establishments in virtually every town and city of 5,000 population or more."

The new high mark is the result of steady growth and not a dealership "campaign," the executive said.

"It has been Buick policy not to 'pack' dealers in the larger markets nor to place franchises that could not be justified by the sales potentials in the areas where new representation was wanted," he said. "The first would be unfair to already established dealers and the second would be detrimental to the Buick franchise."

"With our entry into a lower priced field three years ago the potential market for Buick cars was greatly enlarged. Retail volume has grown more than four times and is continuing to expand with the prospect that 1937 will be one of the biggest years, from the standpoint of unit sales, in Buick history."

"In 1933 a total of 43,000 Buick cars were retailed in the United States; the volume rose to approximately 65,000 in 1934; in 1935 a domestic retail volume of approximately 92,000 cars was reached, while in 1936 we delivered 165,000 cars. Thus far the 1937 volume is exceeding that of last year by more than twenty-five per cent with an unprecedented demand that taxes production capacity."

"This tremendous increase in sales has been accomplished with only a nominal increase in the dealer organization, which at its lowest point numbered 2,029 dealers and which now is at an all time high of slightly over twenty-seven hundred."

"We are pleased to have a record volume of Buick cars being sold in the United States, and we are confident that the future holds even greater promise for the Buick franchise."

MOTHER'S DAY

A little late to write about Mother's Day but the bonehead down at the office was the cause of the delay. Here is what we wanted to say:

The greatest human love is that of a mother, and its divine meaning is God. From the moment when the promise of maternity strikes the chords of heavenly music in a woman's heart until the time when darkness holds the closing eyes, a love is manifested in motherhood the meaning of which no man can fully understand, and the like of which finds no analogy except in divine love that always and everywhere embraces His creatures.

Here it is to love the child because the child is hers. The life she begets at the pain and peril of her own she nourishes and cherishes without care or thought of her own. Toil, weariness, privation, suffering, anxiety, her the chords of a chorus of hallowed glory and heavenly joy when they serve the well-being and happiness of the child of her heart.

She asks no reward, nor expects any, but the privilege of lavishing her maternal affection where the instinct of her heart directs. In the simple word, mother, is a mystery of unselfish and unending affection which no coarser soul or grosser mind can solve. Men stand amazed at the presence of its manifestations, and angels gaze with admiration upon the outpourings of a mother's love, while only God can fathom the meaning of its sweetness and its strength. There is an enduring tenderness in the love of a mother for her son that transcends all other affections of the heart.

It is neither to be chilled by selfishness, nor daunted by danger, nor weakened by worthlessness, nor stifled by ingratitude. She will sacrifice every comfort to his convenience, she will surrender every pleasure to his enjoyment, and if disgrace settle upon his name she will still love and cherish him in spite of his disgrace; and if all the world beside cast him off she will be all the world to him.

Mother! What a world of meaning is contained in that one little word!

Its magnitude is wonderful, consider its height and breadth, its duties and obligations. Who can measure its possibilities or gauge its meaning?

God could not be everywhere, no language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of its quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.

I want to say to my friends whose mothers are living, you can wear a flower in your hair in it, today, in your mother's honor. But that is not enough. You can do more than that. You can whisper in her ear "the tenderest words that ever blossomed in human speech" laden with the assurances of your unflinching appreciation and unmeasurable devotion. You can fill her arms with the fairest flowers that you can secure—while she may see their beauty and enjoy their fragrance.

The sad heart cry of many mothers in this fair land today is—

"I would rather have one little rose
From the garden of a friend
Than to have the choicest flowers
When my stay on earth shall end.

"I would rather have one pleasant word
In kindness said to me,
Than flattery when my heart is still
And life has ceased to be.

"Bring me all the flowers today,
Whether pink, or white, or red,
I would rather have one blossom now
Than a truckload when I'm dead."

One bloom in the hand of the living is worth two wreaths on the grave of the dead. Cover her face with kisses. Pay back a few of the many she showered upon you in infancy and early childhood.

Fill her heart so full of gladness today that she will forget all the sadness she reaped along the way.

But this is not enough. One thing more you can do. Wear the spotless lily of purity in your heart—let it adorn your life the rest of the way—in her honor.

"Honor thy Father and thy mother, that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth."

Mothers choose lovely, simple things
When they would make a home,
Fires on the hearth, a kettle's song,
Lamps for the feet that roam,
Chant of a lullaby in the dusk,
Cookie jars on low shelves,
Prayers that are coined with praying words,
Stories of kings and elves.

Cakes where the birthday candles shine,
Secrets that child-lips speak,
Brief wounds that need a healing touch,
Marbles and hide and seek—
Mothers give up their hearts' deep dreams,
But women can understand
That there is a compensating joy
In the clasp of a small child's hand.

VACUUM OF VERBIAGE AND VERBOSITIES

We asked our friend L. W. Sandusky to help us fill this column this week and this is what he wrote:

It was during the darkest days in the history of Kentucky. Yes, when a matchless Goebel had dealt the Republican administration a death blow and was walking to the executive office to take the oath of office as governor when an assassin's bullet, fired from an office in the capitol building, terminated his career, that I met a young Scotch-Irish newspaper reporter.

The last time I looked into his face was while standing on the stage at the old Macculey Theatre in Louisville, bidding farewell to classmates and faculty, receiving my last college degree, and saying goodbye to schooldays. He was there taking notes of the occasion to become a story in Mars Henry's paper—the "Courier-Journal." Since that time our paths have been along different roads. Many have been the ups and downs, sorrows and joys, failures and successes. In fact, much water has turned the old mill-wheel and gone on down the stream, singing its little song of duty well-performed. Since then, many times I have seen my friend's name at the bottom of a prominent column in some national daily and heard his voice and name through the radio. To make sure that this party, whose name is on more lips than any other man in America, was my old friend of the long ago, I addressed a letter to him at his old home town down among the hills on the old Ohio and in due time received the following answer:

1717 San Vicente Blvd.
Santa Monica, California
May 3rd, 1937

Mr. L. W. Sandusky,
Colorado, Texas.
Dear Mr. Sandusky:

Yes, I'm the same fellow you knew in 1900—only a dam' sight older.

With cordial regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Personally signed) IRVIN S. COBB

Friend Cobb, may that same wonderful power that properly directs the destinies of all true Kentuckians continue to be your pilot and may you, in the future, as in the past, fill to the uttermost every position where fate may see fit to place you, whether it be among the caeti of the desert or mid the sweet-seated flowers in the balmy atmosphere of the golden seashore.

L. W. SANDUSKY.

Continuing the verbiage we take the following from the Abilene Reporter:

Irvin S. Cobb's letter will take its place among Mr. Sandusky's treasured possessions, among which are his memories of the part he played in developing the oil business in West Texas.

Although ill health has kept Mr. Sandusky from active work during the past few years, there was a time when he was one of the busiest men in West Texas. Born and reared in Versailles, Kentucky, he received his first degree from the University of Virginia, then his LL.B. from the University of Louisville—both before he was 21. He had to wait two months after graduation before he was old enough to begin practicing law.

In September after his graduation from the University of Louisville he moved to Oklahoma City, and from there, in 1902, he came to Decatur, Texas, to work in the office of the county attorney, who was Frank J. Ford at that time. In September, 1905, he came to Colorado and has lived here ever since.

Mr. Sandusky's ability as a lawyer had won him the widely-used title, "Silver-Tongued Orator of the West," a long time before West Texas' oil boom days, but it was his work in promoting oil developments in West Texas that made him really well-known.

He has been called the "father of the West Texas oil fields." His interest in oil development began in the war days when the government was sending him over this section to use his speaking talent in getting people to buy Liberty bonds. This part of West Texas was in the grip of a devastating drouth and there was little money for bonds. He did most of his selling in the oil boom section around Ranger.

Through the contacts he made there he built up the interest of oil men in possibilities farther west. It was a great day for him when Mitchell county first gave definite promise of oil in 1921 and then burst forth with a "boom" when the Morrison No. 2 came in early in 1922. This section of West Texas was never called the "oil man's graveyard" after that.

With oil a reality, Mr. Sandusky went after an oil refinery for Colorado. His untiring work helped the Colorado chamber of commerce put over its drive to secure the site for the Col-Tex refinery, now Colorado's largest single industry. He was instrumental in organizing the first refining company which, after several reorganizations, became the Col-Tex Refining company. He still draws a retainer's fee from the company.

A BONEHEAD

Our old friend Uncle Bill Kellis down at Sterling City is president of the bonehead club and we asked him who was eligible for membership and what was a bonehead. Here is his answer:

A BONEHEAD

A Bonehead is a person whose head is a solid bone without a single brain cell to function.

Critical Bonehead is the guy who is loping through life looking for perfection in men and measures. He never saw a man or woman who was perfect, as if there were such a thing on this mundane sphere. Yet, Crit is worrying about it and is wearing himself out in the search of a perfect man or woman.

Crit is also worrying about the government. He is looking for a perfect administration of governmental laws and measures, but he has never succeeded in finding them. Critical Bonehead sticks his finger in a tub of water, pulls it out and then looks for the hole he made. The failure to find the hole does not discourage him.

Crit buys a doughnut, eats it, and then complains of the baker because the doughnut had a hole in it which he couldn't eat or use for fertilizer.

Mr. Crookley Bonehead is a member of this thinkless family who imagines he can get by with crookedness. He thinks he can get by with sheepstealing, poker playing or bootlegging. Yes, he knows that his brother, Sheeper Bonehead was caught sheepstealing. He knows that Pokeasy Bonehead, his uncle, was soaked for playing poker, and his cousin Jug Bonehead hubbed a powerful lot of grief for bootlegging, yet, Crookley thinks they will never catch him in any of his crookedness. He thinks he is too smart. The fact is Crookley can't think. His head is a solid bone with never a brain cell to work.—Uncle Bill.

Lee Carter was explaining to a customer, the merits of a Norge refrigerator and said, Yes sir, I can guarantee that this refrigerator will actually pay for itself in a short time. (The customer said, put it away for me, and when it has paid for itself send it out to the house.

We overheard two Colorado men talking. Jim and John, and they decided to become teetotallers. John thought it would be best if they had one bottle of whiskey to put in the cupboard in case of illness. After three days Jim could bear it no longer and he said, John I'm not very well. Too late Jim I was very sick myself all day yesterday.

This writer has lost his hearing and reputation and now losing his eyesight. They have "gone with the wind."

A pun is the lowest order of wit. An imbecile makes the best punster. Webster says an imbecile is a person who is extremely foolish, hence our puns.

A great many people are like a brass drum, with plenty of noise, but nothing on the inside.

Some people cause happiness wherever they go, others whenever they go.

State Press in the Dallas News has turned poet—Listen: Chiggers are red and bluebonnets blue. Spring has arrived and the poets, too. Go to the picnic with your Sunday school class, but be wise in your wisdom and keep off the grass.

John Baze down at the Record office last fall borrowed a rifle to shoot doves. He bagged quite a few and set the rifle aside, forgetting all about it until one day this week he set off up the street with the rifle on his shoulder to return it and the first ten persons he met hurried down to the Record office to settle their back subscriptions.

Tons of Hot Water To Bring Up a Family

HAS YOUR FAMILY OUTGROWN YOUR WATER HEATER?

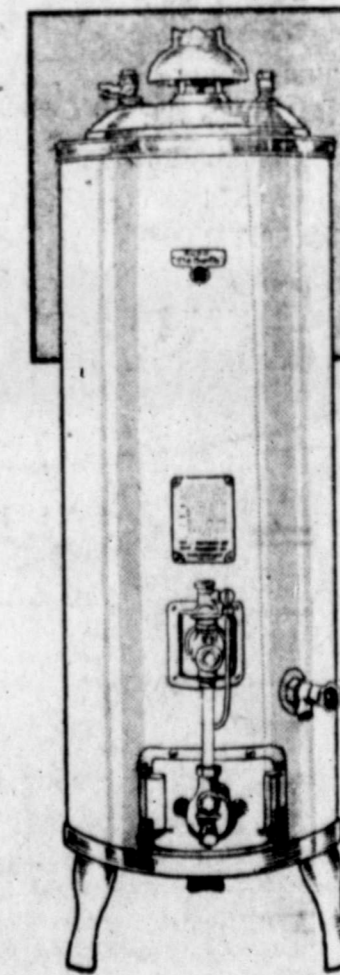

CHILDREN who have a good time in this world have to get dirty from head to foot every day, but as a great concession to the grown-ups they are willing to take a scrubbing at intervals with hot water soapsuds. It takes tons of hot water to bring them up with these rosy-skinned intervals. A baby starts out by using ten times his weight in hot water every day, for bath and laundry.

Is your hot water supply playing out, due to a growing family or worn-out heater? You enjoy very cheap hot water when you live in a natural gas town, and it can be still cheaper with a good, modern Water Heater. Won't you come in and see the new improvements that lower your operating costs and increase the service?... Heavy Insulation; Heat Travel all around the inner tank; Patrol Valve; Snap-Action Thermostat. It may be that your housekeeping is taking hours a week of unnecessary time, all because of a poor hot water supply. Trade for a new RUUD and let it wait on the household hand and foot, from dishwashing to the children's baths.
