

'I HAVE TAKEN THIS POST BECAUSE I HAVE FAITH IN COLORADO,'—CARL BLASIG

C-C Executive, Wife, Little Daughter Arrive Monday; All Presented Luncheon Club Tuesday Noon

Carl Blasig, new manager of the chamber of commerce, told members of the C-C luncheon club Tuesday noon that he had accepted appointment to that position and established his residence in this community, because he had strong faith in the citizenship.

Blasig, Mrs. Blasig and their little daughter, Anne, were presented members of the club by C. C. Thompson, president. Mrs. Blasig spoke briefly of her interpretation of the people here. "I have heard many things about the fine people here, including your women, and they have all reflected folk of progress and refinement," she stated. "We are proud to become citizens of Colorado."

"I have arrived definitely at the conclusion that we are going to put the chamber of commerce over in a big way, now that we have our manager on the job," Thompson stated. "He is digging in down at the office, acquainting himself with the conditions existing here and it will be a few days before major objectives are announced. I know that citizenship of this community is going to cooperate with him and us to the fullest."

Thompson stressed importance of concluding drive to boost annual budget to $5,000. He called for a board meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock to consider plans for bringing that drive to a close and look into other matters about which the organization should be concerned.

Blasig assumed his new duties Monday afternoon within a short time after he, Mrs. Blasig and their little daughter, Anne, 5, arrived from their former home at Brady. They have registered at the Colorado hotel.

"I have no statement to make for publication as to objectives for the immediate future due to wish that I acquaint myself with programs of the chamber of commerce before getting down to the business at hand," he answered in reply to questioning. "I plan conferences with President Thompson and other executives of the chamber as one of my first duties on the calendar. Of course I shall find plenty to do—a chamber of commerce manager ever does if he is on the job, and that is just what I plan doing in this splendid community."

Mr. Blasig was manager of the Brady chamber of commerce nine years before resigning in 1935 to accept appointment as assistant manager of the Brownwood district WPA office. He held this position until a few days ago when the office was discontinued by the government.

UNITY OF PURPOSE WILL BRING SUCCESS TO C-C, BLASIG TELLS CITIZENS

The chamber of commerce will succeed in such degree as the citizens making up this community extend their cooperation in obtaining the objectives ahead, Carl Blasig, manager, stated during a brief address before a group of business and professional men here Tuesday.

"It shall be my policy to invite your expressed interest in the organization and the objectives we may strive to attain," he stated. "Cooperation and that feeling of assurance that ever attends unity of purpose among a people must be reflected in our chamber of commerce if we are to go ahead as we should."

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL CLOSES APPLICATIONS FOR TEXAS HOSPITAL LOCATION

Inspection Of Sites In This Section Will Be Started During The Week, Austin News Report Outlines

Applications for location of the new $817,000 hospital for the insane to be built west of the 100th meridian in West Texas, have been closed and personal inspection of sites offered by Mitchell and 13 other counties in the territory affected will be started during the week, outlined report received Wednesday afternoon from Austin.

The proffered sites are scattered all the way from Amarillo to Laredo and several contestants for the coveted plumb are offering as many as three and four sites. Colorado is listed among the few cities near which four proposed locations are held under option from which the board may elect its preference.

Lubbock unofficially was said to have proffered the largest free site of any other city, when proposal filed by that city disclosed that 2,000 acres of land would be donated the State in event the hospital was established near there. Largest site offered by this county embraces 640 acres; another contains 530 acres, either of which is believed sufficiently large to meet requirements of the board.

Location of the hospital near Colorado would bring a substantial payroll into Mitchell county, a factor not to be reckoned lightly, Carl Blasig, manager of the chamber of commerce, suggested. The CC manager is urging that the already established enthusiasm prevailing among citizens here in drive to land the institution be continued. Judge B. L. Templeton, chairman of the county-city hospital locating committee, assures that his group will extend every cooperation to the board when they arrive for inspection of the sites near town.

The board has been given unlimited time in which to make its selection, but plans acting promptly in that actual construction work on the buildings may start at the earliest possible time after the appropriation of salaries and maintenance costs becomes effective September 1.

A superintendent, to have charge of operating the hospital, after its erection and equipment, is to be designated within the near future. This official will assist members of the Board of Control in arriving at determination as to which of the several sites should be designated.

The board is to inspect the Colorado sites on Friday, July 2, according to telegram received Thursday from Claude Teer, chairman. The inspections are to be started at San Angelo Monday.

Pair Arrested After Porkers Missed By Coloradoans; Court Session Will Be Closed Saturday

District Judge Mauzey reconvened the grand jury Thursday morning to investigate charges against two Colorado negroes, arrested earlier during the week on charge of hog theft. Information furnished by officers involved the blacks in a series of thefts extending through several weeks.

Bronson Gregory and Howard Rogers, local butchers, were victims of the thieves. The hogs were taken from feeding pens and as a rule sold locally. Some of the stolen porkers have been recovered. Police Chief Dick Hickman stated Wednesday morning that a total of nine hogs had been stolen and source of their disposition established.

But little business held attention of the court as he opened fourth and last week of the term Monday morning. Robbery cases of B. W. Hall and E. R. Cawthon were the first called and forfeiture of Hall's bond in the sum of $1,000 was ordered when the defendant failed to appear. Hall was later arrested in Sweetwater and returned to Colorado, entered a plea of guilty Tuesday to an amended charge of theft from the person and received a four year suspended sentence. Cawthon, indicted under the same count, entered a guilty plea Thursday morning and was assessed a similar sentence.

The circular portion of the chancel rail of the church was draped with ivy and flanked by tall baskets of dahlias, fern, and double larkspur. Ferns stood on pedestals above the baskets and on other pedestals at the front of the church. A large bowl of shaggy white daisies with yellow centers was arranged above the altar. Bowls of roses were on the piano and in the church windows. The pre-nuptial solo, "At Dawning," was sung by Miss Winifred Key of Marshall, her accompanist being Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia. Lenn Bodine, Jr., played wedding music by Mendelssohn as the wedding party entered. Miss Key wore a green dress with a white lace yoke. Her corsage was of feverfew and sweetheart rods. Advancing to the altar first was Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of First Presbyterian church, who was to say the ceremony. He was closely followed by the bridegroom and then the best man, John Elliott. Other attendants entered simultaneously, the bridesmaids in pairs and the ushers in pairs. Rainbow colors were carried out in the dresses of the maid of honor, Miss Lucille Bodine, and the bridesmaids. Their dresses were of organdy, made with fitted waists and large puff sleeves, and back fastening of crystal buttons from neckline to waist. The skirts were gored, fitted at the waist and flaring at the hemline. Each girl wore a matching braid of organdy about her head, halo style, the braid being caught above the forehead with a cluster of sweet peas. After the ceremony guests went to the Bodine home for the cutting of the wedding cake. The newly married couple and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bodine and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pickens, greeted guests at the door. The cake was white and two-tiered. A miniature bride, groom, and minister stood in the cake's center, a rainbow arching over them. The table was covered with Irish lace over pink. Sweet peas were banked around the cake. The bride and all the attendants and close friends of the married couple cut the cake, which was served by the bridesmaids. Punch was poured by Mrs. J. G. Merritt. Mr. and Mrs. Pickens left after the reception for a wedding trip to unannounced destinations. For travel Mrs. Pickens wore a redingote dress of brown net over a figured slip of green and brown. Cotton Is Growing Rapidly In Every Section Of Texas

Planting Late On The Plains With Rains Injuring Crop In Other Parts Of State

Making up for lost time during a dry April and May, the Texas cotton crop is growing perhaps too rapidly under favorable weather conditions for both plant growth and insect activity. The Dallas News' weekly summary for the period ended Friday indicates.

Since the rains, insect pests are present in all parts of Texas in larger numbers than in several years. County agents all over the State are organizing drives to poison fleahoppers, grasshoppers and weevils. The leaf-worm is expected to become formidable by July 20 in the major Texas cotton belt. It is now spreading rapidly on the Gulf Coast.

O. F. JONES, Mgr. tfe.

Farmers are busy cleaning out grass and weeds which have grown rapidly since the rains. They also are repairing washed fields. Chopping on the whole is well advanced, but blooming is considerably behind. In North, Northeast and Central Texas about 30 per cent of the cotton is squaring and 5 to 10 per cent blooming. South Texas reports 90 per cent squaring and 70 per cent blooming. In East Texas 45 per cent is squaring; 15 per cent blooming.

Everywhere, almost, some farmers are poisoning against fleahoppers, weevils and other pests, especially in the southern half of the State. While temperatures now are ranging in the 90's, the air is quite moist and favors pests.

Over South Plains region too much rain has injured stands severely and will necessitate wholesale replanting in some counties due to washing and hail.

Oil Test Located Near Westbrook; Rinear Contractor

Harris and Anderson, Fort Worth, Owners; Other Wells Planned In Area

Location for Harris-Anderson A. F. King No. 1, on the farm of County Judge A. F. King a short distance south of Westbrook, was being staked Thursday. The well is to be drilled 660 feet east of the west line and 660 south of the north line of section 11, block 28, top-1s, TP survey. Earl Morrison, Colorado independent oil operator controlling extensive properties in the Westbrook section, stated that he anticipated to see considerable activity in that area. "I have reason to believe that several wells are to be drilled there and in other parts of the county," he stated.

George Rinear, local drilling contractor, is to sink the test. Contract calls for a depth of 3,100 feet, unless oil or gas in commercial quantities be encountered at a lesser depth.

Building Of Santa Fe Line Curtailed City's Trade Area

Dirt Broken For Line From Sweetwater To Northwest 28 Years Ago

It was 28 years ago last Sunday that dirt for the Santa Fe rail line extending from Sweetwater northwest onto the Texas Plains was broken, an event that marked the beginning of curtailing Colorado's trade territory and the phenomenal development of the Panhandle.

Judge R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, who delivered principal address attending the dirt breaking ceremony in a pasture near Sweetwater, was in Colorado Wednesday and recalled the occasion. Before the Santa Fe built into Northwest Texas long lines of freight wagons moved out of Colorado regularly carrying supplies to ranches and small communities as far away as Lubbock.

Judge Crane recalled that many of the first homes and business buildings in Lubbock were constructed with lumber freighted out of Colorado. "And to think that those days seem as if they were only a short time back," the pioneer West Texan chuckled as he waved goodbye and climbed into an automobile to accompany a delegation of citizens of his home city here on a good will mission.

The World's Fair in San Francisco will open February 18, 1939.

HER CLOTHES

SPARKLE WITH SMARTNESS

... yet her kitchen is 12 years behind the times

From the tilt of her hat to her trim shoes and ankles, she has style. Her voice, her every gesture have a way in making a favorable first impression. One day she invited a foursome in for bridge. Through an open door they saw her kitchen. Ugly, old-fashioned and obviously inefficient, it all but ruined her reputation for smartness. It is surprising how many women, particular about every detail of costume and grooming, are careless about their kitchens! This is unforgivable, because any woman can now afford to glorify her kitchen with today's gas range—the range fashionists and designers everywhere hail as the most beautiful cooking appliance . . . the key to kitchen beautification, as well as cooking modernization. It takes mighty little money to put your kitchen ahead in style. See the new gas ranges today!

Colorado Girl Succumbs In Big Spring Hospital

Minnie Anderson, 19, Said To Have Been Victim Of Poison

Drinking of a disinfectant proved fatal to Minnie Anderson, 19, former Colorado girl, in a Big Spring hospital shortly before midnight Wednesday.

Miss Anderson, who formerly worked at George's cafe, had been employed in a Coshona cafe for about two weeks. Her death occurred two or three hours after the disinfectant, presumably Lysol, was drunk.

The daughter of Mrs. John Buzbee, she was reared in and near Colorado. Mrs. Buzbee is the former Mrs. Ollie Anderson.

Only meager details of the tragedy were available here Thursday noon. It was expected that a Kiker & Son ambulance would go to Big Spring for the body late Thursday.

GRATEFUL YOUNGSTER
 AUSTIN.—"Mother, God's a swell fellow to fix a place like that for daddy." Those were the words of a grateful youngster as he drove away from the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium with his mother.

To the little boy it must have seemed heavenly—the cool, clean wards; the doctors and nurses, all in white, with their kind faces and their words of hope and cheer; the peace and comfort of the whole big hospital for the treatment and cure of tuberculosis.

Yes, it is swell—swell that Texas has a place to send tuberculous patients where they may hope for recovery, and that the case finding program of the tuberculosis associations is helping to locate the disease in the stages when it is most readily curable—swell that the death rate from tuberculosis is declining.

Most of us take these blessings for granted. "Out of the mouths of babes" come fitting words of praise.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

When Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pickens witnessed the marriage of their grandson, Sefton Pickens, to Aldred Bodine Sunday morning, they had to look back over 54 years to recall their own wedding day, Feb. 20, 1883. . . . Incidentally, the wedding almost coincided with the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bodine, parents of Aldred. . . . Theirs was a June wedding in 1912.

If you got out of hearing of a radio during the fight Tuesday night I'll bet you had to get out of town to do it. . . .

My authority for this story is Mrs. Harry Ratliff. . . . It seems that a certain Colorado housewife acquired a new negro maid who boasted that she could cook any and everything and cook it well. . . . The housewife left the maid with instructions to bake an osgood pie. . . . When she returned there was no pie, and the maid explained, in all seriousness, that there wasn't "nary a can of osgood on them shelves."

The largest attendance yet to be registered at weekly entertainment and religious programs at Ruddick Park were realized Friday and Sunday evenings of last week. Three thousand people were in and about the open air theatre to hear amateur hour program and some two thousand attended religious services.

The Rev. John Elliott, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church, delivered the sermon address Sunday evening, announcing as his subject, "Burning Hearts." The speaker read his Scripture lesson from Luke 24:13-32. He was introduced by his father. John received his B.A. Degree from Austin College a few weeks ago, at same time that the elder Colorado minister was awarded an honorary degree of D.D. Miss Winnifred Key of Marshall, a guest in the Elliott home, sang "The Holy City" as a solo with Thos. Dawes at the piano. The Rev. C. E. Jameson of First Methodist church offered the invocation and Rev. W. M. Elliott gave the benediction. The

Indian Speaker Contends That His Race Ever Sustained High Ideals Of Integrity

Vivid pictures of the American Indian as a savage bent on killing and the disregard of all principles of honor and integrity, as have been painted into the pages of history, should not have been, Charles Eagle Plume, gifted Blackfoot Montana Indian told three thousand Mitchell county citizens at Ruddick Park Friday evening. The guest speaker accepted invitation to appear on the amateur hour program after members of the Lions Club had heard him at noon.

CHARLES EAGLE PLUME

The Indian is good will ambassador for the Fort Worth Frontier Field but during his thirty minute program of interpretation of Indian lore, life and culture, makes little reference to that exposition. He devoted his time, and in an unusually gifted respect, to dealing with traditional history and practices of the race from which he came.

Plume drove here from Big Spring late Friday in order to appear on the park program. He was introduced by Robert Kirschbaum, member of one of the local Boy Scout troops. His dances, songs and folk-lore references were given in costume.

That the American Indian had played an important part in giving to the white man his present high state of civilization and progress was claimed by the speaker. He described conditions in Europe at time the Pilgrims came to this country as most depressing, due to lack of sanitation, proper food and a social tradition that caused "a man to either be born a prince or a serf."

"The white man came to America without food and without clothing, but the Indian gave him these," Plume declared. "He built his home from the Indian's trees, his cities with the Indian's rocks and obtained his food from the Indian's mountains. Forty-one of the principal articles of food in this country, including corn, tomatoes, potatoes and others that I might mention, were given the white man by the Indian."

The American Indian did not stop at supplying the white man with the material necessities of life and civilization, the speaker continued. "Not only did he but many of the articles of our constitution were taken from the 'traditional government of the Iroquois Indian,' he stated. "There are chapters in our Federal constitution today that found place within pages of that beloved document after the Indians had sustained them through the ages and brought them to the American colonist."

"Charge prevalent in the writing of commentators and minds of many Americans of today that the Indian was a savage, bent on destruction and an individual not to be trusted were attacked by the speaker. "There massed choir was heard under direction of Mr. Dawes.

Next Sunday evening First Baptist church is to have charge of the park program. Director R. H. Barber stated Monday that in event attendance continues to grow difficulty may be experienced before long in providing seating capacity for the worshippers.

MITCHELL COUNTY OFFERS FORMAL APPLICATION FOR LOCATION STATE HOSPITAL

Options Obtained On Total
Of Four Proposed Sites;
Brief Filed Friday With State Board Of Control

Formal application requesting the State Board of Control at Austin to consider claims of Mitchell county for location of the new hospital for feeble minded to be located in this section of Texas was transmitted through the mails Friday by Judge B. L. Templeton, chairman of the county-city hospital committee.

An open letter addressed to members of the board over signatures of County Judge A. F. King and Mayor J. A. Sadler outlined that both of the political subdivisions are working cooperatively in campaign to obtain the institution. Full cooperation with the board, in event site in another county is designated, was assured.

The brief carried a wealth of interesting historical and industrial information on the county and city. A number of photographs showing places of interest in Colorado and in the adjacent rural sections are included. The schools, churches, hospital facilities, recreation centers, including the country club and Ruddick Park, along with illustrated data depicting the county's commercial resources of agriculture, ranching, oil and other industrial assets are given consideration.

Briefs asking for location of the hospital had to be on file in office of the Board of Control by June 20. Within a short time after that date members of the board plan making personal inspection of the several sites offered and it will, in all probability, be several weeks before announcement as to location of the plant is made.

A total of four proposed sites on which the committee has obtained options are being submitted for consideration of the board. Three of the tracts are located east of Colorado and the fourth adjoins the city limits on the northwest.

Designated as site No. 1 is a tract of 530 acres five miles east adjacent to Highway One and the Texas & Pacific railway. Lands owned by J. T. Comer, J. C. Hall, J. M. Page and A. J. Herrington are included.

Site No. 2 embraces 450 acres out of the C. H. Earnest estate located about three and one-half miles east of the city. The other proposed site east of Colorado contains 640 acres, 480 of which are out of the Winn holdings immediately east of the cemetery and 160 acres out of the C. H. Earnest property along Lone Wolf Creek.

The fourth site contains 640 acres and lies along the Colorado river northwest of Colorado. This land is owned by Corry Brown.

Judge Templeton stated that either of the proposed sites would meet all requirements of the State, with probable exception that one or two of them might not be situated as close to rail line as the board would require.

Other members of the committee include Truett Barber, Earl Gunn, Joe H. Smoot and Max Berman of Colorado; J. C. Hall of Lorraine and Van Boston of Westbrook.

AGED PENSIONERS HERE TO HOLD ATTENTION ON STATE BOARD AS ROLLS REDUCED

Several Thousand Texans To Be 'Weeded Out' Within The Next Few Months In Thinning Process

Scores of aged citizens in Mitchell county who are receiving benefits under provisions of the old-age pension act will be centering their attention about the State capitol during the next few weeks as process of weeding out from 25,000 to 30,000 Texans from the rolls is under way.

Responsibility of reducing the pension rolls has been delegated to the State Board of Control after it was found that the number of beneficiaries carried must be materially reduced in order to meet Federal requirements. It is accepted that Mitchell county will be affected but the number to be dropped here cannot now be estimated, due to complications through which the weeding process must go.

In fact, it is probable that already some of the aged pensioners here have been dropped from the rolls. Wednesday it was reported at Austin that 2,000 Texans had been dropped from the list of 125,000.

It is known as "justifying" the rolls, a check of eligibility of the pensioners under restrictive federal regulations limiting pensions to the "needy."

"It is just projected relief," one official explained. The state law was deliberated last October, from earlier lenient regulations that would have admitted over 200,000 persons to the rolls.

Federal actuaries recently have exhibited tables showing that while the average state had 200 per cent of the relief load, Texas had nearly 400 per cent. While New York state, with 7,000,000 population, has only 95,000 old-age pensioners on federal-state matching grants, Texas with three million people, had 125,000 in May.

There can be no arbitrary dropping of 25,000 or 30,000 pensioners in a single month; but the process is to go on steadily as all the borderline cases can be studied, as good crops and improving economic conditions change the status of many now on the rolls, and as the normal number of the aged die. The factors of better income, better economic conditions, and normal mortality will have much to do with thinning the rolls within limits acceptable to the federal government, it was indicated.

Board of control members told legislators, that when all the questionable cases have been "justified" and disposed of, and those left on check squarely within eligibility provisions, the state will stick up for retention of the rest, whether an arbitrary 30,000 or 25,000, or any other specific number have been taken off. But board members were convinced the reduction, for all causes, will exceed 25,000, in the course of the summer and fall months.

Half a dozen members of the legislature went into a meeting with the board of control soon after reports were given lawmakers that it will be necessary to reduce the rolls in order to avoid federal complications.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH Five Coloradans Are Listed In The Newest Edition Of 'Texian Who's Who'

Barely kept a swallow of coffee from going the wrong way when Scott McKinney, drinking at the Keybrook, picked up Neta Mae Davis' very feminine, wide-brimmed kghorn hat, put it on, and gave vent to an Indian war whoop.

A wedding trip that began in a milk delivery truck will be something that Sefton Pickens and his bride, the former Aldred Bodine, can tell their descendants about one of these days. Aldred's father, Jim Bodine, got in the car which the newly-married couple was to have used and went dashing across the countryside with the "plotting" friends of the couple in hot pursuit. . . . While this chase was on Sefton and Aldred climbed in the dairy pickup and sped away to meet Mr. Bodine and their own car, at a prearranged and very secret spot. . . . The plotters left Mr. Bodine's trail cold after discovering whom they were chasing and returned swiftly to the house, only to discover that Sefton and Aldred had made good their get-away. . . .

"Biking" has been quite a popular pastime hereabouts these moonlight nights. . . . A group of bikers (is there such a word?) including Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, Mrs. J. W. Randle, Mrs. B. J. Baskin, Mrs. Walter Whippley, and, I think, Mrs. E. L. Latham, seemed to be having a grand time of it one night early this week. . . . Mrs. Whippley, Mrs. A. L. McSpadden and others have been getting up at 5:30 for early-morning bicycle jaunts, which sounds to me like a lot of fun. . . . But if I tried it I'll be sure to

Names of five Coloradans appear in the newest edition of "Texian Who's Who," which is published by The Texian company of Dallas.

The five are Mrs. J. G. Merritt, F. B. Whippley, George Mahon, B. N. Carter, and Mrs. H. B. Broadus.

A brief sketch of the life and accomplishments of each of these is given in the book.

The Dallas Morning News recently said of the book: "The Texian Who's Who . . . is not a mug book. Its doughty editors, when they sent out their requests for biographical data, attached a notation stating that it did not make a tinker's tarantula difference whether you bought a book or not."

The 500-odd pages of the book contain some 2,700 biographies. The book was compiled by Sam H. Acheson, Herbert P. Gambrell, Mary Carr Toomey, and Alex M. Acheson, Jr., all of Dallas.

All But Two YWA's Present At Meeting

By Billie Wyatt, Reporter

All but two of the Y. W. A. members were present for a business and social meeting at the home of Billie Wyatt Monday evening. Both leaders, Mrs. Dell Barber and Mrs. Fitzgerald, and little Mercedes Fitzgerald were also present.

The roll call was answered with verses of the Bible beginning with the letter "Y", followed by a business meeting and discussion for plans on going to the district Y. W. A. meet at Snyder in August. Enthusiasm was shown in plans for making this trip as well as for the on-going and growth of our local Y. W. A. Miss Catherine DeLaney was heartily welcomed as a new member and there are several prospective members.

After the election of officers and general discussion, lawn games were played and "pink lemonade" was served.

At the close of the meeting "Big Nickels" were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Alene Arnold, corner of 4th and Locust.

Friday Moring Club Dines At Coffee Shop

Rainbow Reception and Shower Largest Prenuptial Affair For Aldred Bodine

Largest of the prenuptial affairs which complimented Colorado's bride of the week, Mrs. Aldred Bodine, who became the bride of Sefton Pickens Sunday morning was the reception shower with which Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Miss Henrie Merrivether, and Miss Julia Mae Foot entertained in the parlor of First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon.

A rainbow motif was cleverly carried out in arrangements for the occasion. Baskets of flowers in rainbow colors were arranged in the reception room. Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Merritt. The receiving line included Mrs. Elliott; Mrs. Jim Bodine, mother of the honoree; Miss Bodine; and Mrs. J. A. Pickens, mother of the bridegroom-elect.

Registrations were in a rainbow bride's book tied with rainbow-colored ribbon and presided over by Miss Annetta Lacey. Punch and cookies were served by Misses Mary Alice Mickley, Virginia Reese, Mabel Majors and Frances Price. The crystal punch bowl centered a novel arrangement of ivy crossing the table diagonally, with a carpeting of flowers in rainbow colors filling in the resultant triangles. Rainbow-colored, snapdragons and fern formed tiny corsages pinned on each guest by Miss Josephine Chesney.

Other members of the houseparty were Misses Betsy Lee, Ella Fern Harkins, June Cox, Lucille Bodine, Frances Jones, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, Marybelle Crosthwaite, Mary Eleanor Rogers, Laura McKinney, Nita McKinney, Winifred Key of Marshall, Melba Slaton, and Frances Lupton; Mesdames C. L. Root and J. T. Pritchett.

A program including the following numbers was announced by Mrs. Merritt: Piano solos, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon; vocal solos, Miss Pidgeon; Miss Winifred Key of Marshall, and Miss Gladys Miller. All but Miss Key were accompanied by Mrs. O. B. Price. Miss Key's accompaniment was by Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia.

Dana Marie Merritt and Peggy Sue Bodine, dressed as fairies in rainbow colors, entered and announced to the honoree that they had found the rainbow and would lead her to it.

The reading given by Dana Marie was as follows:

"We have found a rainbow big and bright
With pots of gold at either end;
And the fairies told us to say to you
They are filled with gifts from your loving friends
Come quick before it disappears from view
For we have something nice for you."
A screen was removed to reveal a long table covered in rainbow colors and with a huge, realistic rainbow arching over it, either end being in a pot of gold. The table was laden with gifts. Toasts were given by Misses Price, Majors, and Cox before the gifts were opened.

Over 100 guests were registered those from out-of-town being Miss Key of Marshall, Mrs. W. M. Elliott,

Stock Liability Is First On Ballot To Be Used In August

Other Proposals Are Given Place During Drawing In Austin Monday

A constitutional amendment which would eliminate double liability for stockholders in state banks will have first place on the ballot when voters pass on six amendments August 23.

A drawing in the office of Secretary of State Edward Clark at Austin Monday determined the order.

Place two went to the proposal to aid destitute children up to 14 years of age. An amendment authorizing the legislature to abolish the salary system of remunerating district, county and precinct officers and revert to the fee plan in any county won place three.

That providing for a system of discount to encourage prompt payment of taxes went into place four, and one authorizing Harris county, after a vote of its residents, to levy a tax for support of a five year road and bridge program annexed place five.

Last place on the ballot will be occupied by an amendment providing state aid, in cooperation with the federal government, to needy blind 21 years or older, who might receive $15 a month.

A seventh amendment will be voted on at the general election next year. It proposes to abolish the duelling section of the constitutional oath.

TOURISTS TURNING MORE TO USE OF CAR TRAILER

That the American tourist is encouraging popularity for the trailer is to be observed almost any day on Second street, thoroughfare over which the Broadway of America passes through Colorado. A wide range is reflected in the home on wheels passing through the street. They are to be seen from the deluxe factory types down through the scale to crude home built affairs.

Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, Mrs. J. L. Robinson and Miss Virginia Robinson of Dallas, Mrs. Arlie Martin of Loraine, and Mrs. J. Franklin Wylie of San Antonio.

The entire cost of administering the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission is paid by the Federal Government. The money is deposited by the Federal Treasury in the State Treasury, to the credit of the Unemployment Compensation Administration Fund on a quarterly budget requisition, earmarked for administrative expenses.

fire in Colorado for many years."

late, saw smoke issuing from the roof.
... Escapes had to be made by means of fire escapes and ladders from ground to windows. ... Flames cut off escape by the stairways. ...
Destroyed with the hotel was Harvey Means' barber shop, G. B. Harness' office, the Jones barber shop,

Ben Morgan's confectionery. ... Jake Maurer gave the fire boys $25 for saving his restaurant. ...

Ralph Lee, Presiding, Leads
In Club Fights and Banana
Eating Stunts

Members of the chamber of commerce luncheon club turned backward to become boys again in characteristic make-believe fashion Tuesday noon to enjoy a unique program, concocted and presented under personal direction of Ralph Lee, presiding officer for June.

All members of the club listed as not having obtained one or more new members in the chamber of commerce were singled out and caused to stand beside the wall. The "groats" as Lee dubbed them, were placed into two groups. The first group was taken to the stage and blindfolded. Then they were led onto the main floor and each armed with a large, long club fashioned out of old newspapers.
They were directed to engage in a free-for-all fight. It is doubtless to recall that the spectacle was well staged.

The next group, too were blindfolded and each was presented with a peeled banana. Each man was directed to feed the man standing opposite him. As the tussle was on several of the men received liberal portions of the fruit in their ears, hair and about their faces. One of the men was bitten on a finger by his hungry beneficiary.

R. H. Barber, director of the amateur hour program at Ruddick Park, was so impressed with the banana eating stunt that he announced that it would be feature entered by the chamber of commerce on Friday night.

BRANCHING OUT

The vast oil industry of Texas is primarily dependent upon the widespread use of the automobile for its welfare, but not entirely. Its ramifications are many. There is kerosene for cooking and for lighting; there are the industrial lubricants, ranging from heavy greases to special oils so carefully refined you could use them in a salad dressing if you chose; there are numerous specialties for the home and car—from body polishes to window cleaners; there are fuel oils, diesel oils, spray oils for fruit trees—the list is endless. And almost daily, the engineers, the chemists, the whole army of the oil industry's technicians are adding to it. ...
It's a far cry these days from the "coal oil" can with a potato on its spout.

The Humble Company keeps abreast of all the new developments. Its Baytown refinery is one of the largest, most up-to-date, in the world. But Humble technicians still leave no stone unturned in their day-to-day efforts to improve the products you buy under the

OUR PROSPERITY DEPENDS ON COLORADO STORES

Mr. Professional Man, twenty-five per cent of your clients depend for their livelihood on Colorado stores.

Mr. Service Station Operator, one person in every four who drives into your place bought his automobile and will pay for his gasoline and motor oil out of the annual payroll of Colorado stores.

Mr. Realtor, of all the homes in Colorado one in four is occupied by a family supported by Colorado stores.

Price and quality being equal, it unquestionably behooves any Colorado citizen to buy from Colorado stores. It is plainly a matter of good business, of self-preservation. When any citizen buys elsewhere the resources of this community are depleted by the exact amount of his purchase. When he buys from Colorado stores a part of the money goes into the huge fund for salaries and wages to Colorado citizens, a part is profit for the merchant and still another part goes for items of overhead expense—all put back into circulation right here in Colorado.

Stores in other cities offer you nothing that Colorado stores cannot furnish. Do you realize that the source of almost all merchandise is the same? That if Colorado merchants do not have it on hand, it can be obtained for you.

Think before you buy from stores in other cities. You are striking at yourself more directly than you realize. Our prosperity is not only closely related but absolutely dependent on the prosperity of Colorado stores.

Pay your bills promptly! A good credit record is your greatest asset—guard it.

BALLYHOO

The Panjandrum of this column desires to state an apothegm is applicable to some experts but not to others. We desire to take issue with State Press who in telling about a fishing trip uses the word "icthyologists". State Press says he is using "icthyology" because he was pained recently to witness a large class of newspaper folk unable to spell that commonplace word before a large audience. It was pitiful. Let the remiss journalists read this piece and learn how to spell a word that all fishermen use and think nothing of. It was no easier to impose upon the confidence of a catfish in '85 than it is now, and no '85-er would presume to say he could apprehend catfish with copper wire or bear grass today. However, we feel like remonstrating with the Clarendon veteran for trying to put the Lubbock oldster in the hole by saying no one had ever seen copper wire in '85. When one ancient upsets a tale told by another ancient, it is an unkind service. There should be an esprit de corps among the old-timers, a fraternity of confidence calculated to make one believe all that another tells.

BE CAREFUL

In quest this week for this columns apothegm we stepped into Nealy Mills millinery shop and overheard this:

What we were wearing this week. To which inquiry, she replied "Hats." We expressed our opinion to her that if women today paid more than six-bits for a hat they were being cheated. The modern hat creations are brainstorms of an over-imaginative designer. Women's hats have a very little brim with a strap or two across the tops of their heads. The entire top is out which ought not to be. Women's heads need protection from the hot rays of the sun. It is possible that we lean a little toward substantial head gear. If we leave in the middle of the night we might not be wearing socks, but we are wearing a hat.

When you quit the practical affairs that constitute your day's work and your town's life you get into misadventures of unknown danger. It is evident that you are inexperienced as a millinery critic and have only a vague idea of why the ladies wear hats. They wear hats of varying sizes and frequently changing patterns to give themselves variety. The nun, dedicated to piety and good works, can live her life in the same style of garment, the same style of headdress. She wants no change, because her spirit is unchangeable. The other women, all of them, do want change, not that their hearts are inconstant but that their minds crave adornment for their heads and bodies. They are eager to look different today from the way they looked yesterday, hoping the difference may add to their attractiveness. Women wish to be attractive because their souls are artistic—and because men want them to be attractive. Job clothed himself in sackcloth and ashes. He didn't care how he looked, and probably wasn't much of a looker anyway. But his wife didn't adopt the old man's mode. She thought he would be better off dead than the way he was. This was not because Mrs. Job was wicked. It may have been because she herself would have preferred death to sackcloth and ashes.

SALVATION BAPTISM

Let us turn the picture to the positive side and see if we can find out what the new birth really is.

First of all it is a spiritual experience. Jesus answered and said, "Verily, verily I say unto thee, except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." John 3:5. Separate and apart from the fleshy birth referred to by Jesus in the sixth verse, there must be a birth from above. Whatever the birth means, of one thing we are sure, it has no reference to baptism. Baptism in the Scripture is always connected with death and represents a burial. Buried with Christ is a prominent passage in the New Testament. Paul says, "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost." Titus 3:5.

You will observe that the washing is in regeneration, but regeneration is not in the washing, as water washes and cleanses outwardly, just so does the spirit wash and make clean inwardly. According to the teachings of Jesus, all who enter God's kingdom must be born of the spirit, and have as a present possession a spiritual experience.

The new birth is an inward transformation that always results in an outward reformation.

The future has always taken care of itself. It always will for those who take care of today. The happiness or woe of tomorrow depends largely on what we do today. "Whosoever you sow, that shall you also reap." In a large measure at least, tomorrow is only the echo of today.

If things go wrong as they sometimes will, that is only a part of the play. What are we in the world for anyway, but to play the part of heroes and heroines? Crowns are but the price of crosses; and where there is no fight, there will be no victory.

Dear Uncle Fred:

Am a reader of your column, and in reply to the little poem in last week's paper, I send the following one:

A WOMAN'S PRAYER

Turn backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight

And give us more men who wish not to fight,
When women take off the shambles of old,
And don something comfortable, which men say is bold.
Oh give us more men who won't raise a fuss,
And stamp and jibe and say "it's a muss"
When woman's style changes from old into new,
Just as men's clothing, and minds do, too.
Oh give us more men with the courtesy not to say,
"Ah, women are not as they were in Pa's day,"
For as sure as the years continue to roll,
We'll do as we please, and not as we're told.

The true definition of an optimist is the guy who gave up a throne to marry "the woman I love."

Bro. C. E. Jameson had taken special care in preparing his sermon and after a long discourse one of his stewards (deacon) said to him, "Bro. Jameson, I have a book at home that has in it every word of your sermon today." Bro. Jameson was astonished and said, "You must be mistaken for this was a specially prepared sermon, what is the name of the book?" Webster's Dictionary.

POETRY?

Pluck wins. It always wins,
Though days be slow,
And nights be dark 'twixt days that come and go.
Still pluck will win. Its average is sure.
He gains the prize who can the most endure,
Who faces issues, he who never shirks,
Who waits and watches and who always works.

What if, trouble comes along!
Smile an' keep a-pluggin',
Right'll always foller wrong,
Smile an' keep a-pluggin',
Though old Sol is hidaway,
Clouds ain't always goin' to stay,
Smile an' keep a-pluggin'.

If yer row is hard to hoe,
Smile an' keep a-pluggin',
Turtle gits there, though he's slow,
Smile an' keep a-pluggin',
This despairin's wrong indeed,
Grit is what a fellow needs,
A quitter never did succeed,
Smile an' keep a-pluggin'.

When you want to get ahead, Dig in!
When you're up to work you dread, Dig in!
When Dame Care comes down your way,
Days are sad instead of gay,
When there's nothing seems to pay, Dig in!
When the other fellows lead, Dig in!
When you're short on things you need, Dig in!
When the rent is over due
And the landlord says he'll sue—
When the world is looking blue, Dig in!
Never mind the other man, Dig in!
You can win, you know you can, Dig in!
Better luck will come your way,
Just make up your mind to stay,
Every dog will have his day, Dig in!

The protest of the minority in one age becomes the accepted creed of the majority of the next. The martyrs of one generation are the heroes of the next.

"Ye shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child. If you afflict them in any wise, and they cry at all unto me, I will surely hear their cry, and my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows and your children fatherless."—Ex. 22:22-24.

Moffett makes that read, "My wrath shall blaze, till I kill you in war!" That is the way people are killed with the sword. That was said some 3500 years ago. Men have been afflicting widows and the fatherless ever since. People have been killed in war with the sword. I suppose they will continue for all time to come. Why don't these people who are running around making a living talking about peace and opposing war go to the real cause of war?

Every young man is now a sower of seed on the field of life. The bright days of youth are the seed-time. Every thought of your intellect, every emotion of your heart, every word of your tongue, every principle you adopt, every act you perform, is a seed, whose good or evil fruit will prove bliss or bane to your after life.—Henry A. Wise.

Scouts Defended In Address By George Mahon In Congress

Coloradoan Speaks In Reply To Another Representative On Merits Of The Boys

The Boys Scouts of America and their methods of preparing for and conducting the National Jamboree in Washington were defended during delivery of an address by Congressman George Mahon in debate on floor of the House at Washington recently.

During debate on a tax bill Rep. O'Connor of New York charged that the District of Columbia was the tax dodgers' paradise; "that people came there from all parts of the country to dodge all sorts of taxes." The speaker charged that the Boy Scouts being brought to Washington to attend the jamboree were being financed by the federal government.

A few minutes later the floor was yielded to Mr. Mahon, who said:

"I do not want to break the gentleman's trend of thought, but it has been said during this discussion, by the gentleman from New York (Mr. O'Connor) that the federal government was paying the expenses of the Boy Scout jamboree in Washington.

"I am afraid the statement of the gentleman is liable to be misconstrued. I agree with his statement that the District of Columbia does not make a just and adequate contribution to the federal treasury or to civic enterprises, but I think in justice to the Boy Scouts of America that it ought to be said that the federal government is not paying their expenses in connection with the jamboree that is to be held in Washington. The federal government is not paying the expenses of the scouts in coming to Washington. It is not paying the expenses of the scouts while in Washington. There are about 30,000 scouts expected in Washington during the jamboree.

Some of the finest boys in the world from all over the United States and several foreign countries will be here. It will cost the scouts and their friends much money to come to Washington and it will cost the scouts about $800,000 to be maintained in Washington during the jamboree. It is not costing the federal government anything.

"It is true that the government is furnishing the scouts with certain camping equipment, such as tents, and so forth, but the scouts pay for the delivery of this equipment and its return after the jamboree to the government, paying for any necessary repairs to the equipment used. A few C. C. boys are helping install the camps, but all carpenter, plumbing and general work is being paid for by the scouts.

"I am sure that the government is furnishing the scouts with certain camping equipment, such as tents, and so forth, but the scouts pay for the delivery of this equipment and its return after the jamboree to the government, paying for any necessary repairs to the equipment used. A few C. C. boys are helping install the camps, but all carpenter, plumbing and general work is being paid for by the scouts.

ANTI-GAMBLING DRIVE TO END FRIDAY NIGHT

The legislature will come to the end of the anti-gambling trail this week.

The special session called by Gov. James V. Alfred to repeal the law authorizing horse racing under the certificate system of betting and strike at other forms of gaming must end by Friday night.

Both houses had passed bills prohibiting dog track betting and tightening statutes against horse race bookmaking with majorities sufficient to make them effective when signed by the governor. Amendments inserted by the house will necessitate senate concurrence or conference committee deliberation.

Some believed these would complete the slate of major legislation. There still was a chance, however, for bills disposing of blooded jacks and stallions purchased and distributed with horse racing proceeds, authorizing the supreme court to mandamus local officers to enforce the law and restricting market dealings in futures.

Roll call was answered with fly control measures. Each woman present read an article on fighting insects, such as moths, flies, cockroaches, silver fish, etc. Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on making inexpensive fly paper by mixing one-half pound of resin with one-half pint of castor oil, heating the mixture and then smearing on newspaper or wrapping paper.

Mrs. Frank Andrews gave a report of the council meeting. Others present were Mrs. Edgar Andrews, Mrs. J. T. Vest, Mrs. Otto Schuster, Mrs. Carl Lowery, Miss Gunter, and the hostess. The first meeting in July will be with Mrs. Bill Fowler.

MEET MRS. BLASIG

Things you should know about the wife of Colorado's new chamber of commerce manager

This introduction, to do justice to its subject, should begin with words like "charming, intelligent (and intellectual), poised" . . . For Mrs. Carl Blasig, wife of the new chamber of commerce manager, is all of those things, and more.

If her ability and personality and intelligence accomplish half the things in Colorado that they have accomplished elsewhere, then you'll be hearing so much about her before long that you really should know a few of the things I've learned about her.

I visited her Tuesday morning in her apartment at the Colorado Hotel. The morning was hot, plain hot, but it took nothing from Mrs. Blasig's poise, nothing from her charm.

She isn't tall—just average. She wears her long brown hair straight, drawn back in a hairdress of severe simplicity. Her eyes are blue, her complexion very nice.

She was born in Texas, near Houston. Most of her girlhood was spent in towns of Illinois and Iowa because her father, being a Lutheran minister, moved about. His name is the Rev. H. Smith, and he is now Lutheran minister at Giddings.

Mrs. Blasig has her B.A. degree from the University of Iowa, and lacks only her thesis having her master's from the University of Texas. She majored in history and education.

She taught at the University High school at the University of Iowa. Later she was head of the history departments at New Braunfels and Brady high schools. She taught at Brady for seven years. That was after her marriage to Mr. Blasig, whom she met while visiting her father at Giddings. At that time Mr. Blasig was attending the Theological Seminary at St. Louis, Missouri. Her master's degree work was done after her marriage.

While at the University of Iowa her scholastic record admitted her to membership in a national educational fraternity, Pi Lambda Theta. . . . Because of her membership in this body she received an appointment three years ago to serve on the National Education committee, the appointment coming through the United States Department of Education. . . . The Blasigs moved to Brownwood from Brady two years ago. . . . While in Brownwood Mrs. Blasig devoted her time to club work, educational work—and to little Anne Blasig, who is now 5 years old.

Her abounding energy finds outlet in all kinds of club activities—Parent-Teacher associations, federated study clubs, civic organizations, music clubs (she plays the piano, and used to sing a great deal). . . . In addition to all this she writes feature stories, educational articles, sometimes poetry.

Her feature articles have appeared in the larger papers of Texas and nearby states. . . . One of her educational articles was used by the State Bulletin of Citizenship, published by the State Department of Education. . . . She served a year as vice-president of the Mid-Texas Teachers' association while teaching at Brady.

For seven years she was an officer in the Seventh district of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. . . . She headed the McCollough county P.-T. A. council while living at Brady. . . . In that connection she campaigned for, worked for, and achieved a county library.

At present she is chairman of preschool and kindergarten work in the Sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs. . . . In that capacity she works with Mrs. S. H. Millwee of Colorado, chairman of the education division of the district. . . .

She holds charter membership in two federated clubs at Brady, the Sorosis and the Damrosch Music club.

Snyder Man Lost Life In Fire That Burned Residence

Body Of Cafe Employee Is Taken From Building By Firemen Early Monday

Grady M. Owen, 30, employee in a Snyder cafe, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed the residence in which he lived early Monday morning. Body of the victim was charred beyond recognition after firemen had brought the flames under control and taken his remains from the smoldering inferno.

Neighbors described frantic efforts to rescue Owens after they had discovered the home in a mass of flames. One of them found the victim in a bedroom and dragged him to a door only to find it locked. When the door was battered down Owen was not to be found.

News of the fatal blaze was received by a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lewis of Snyder, as they listened to a radio broadcast in a San Angelo cafe, where they had a short time before arrived for a fishing trip on the Concho.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner. Owens was buried at Snyder Monday afternoon, following services conducted by Rev. Lawrence Hays, pastor of First Baptist church there.

She was president-elect of the American Association of University Women at Brownwood before she had to leave. . . . Last year she served as chairman of Brownwood's Centennial beautification campaign committee. . . . In Brownwood she belonged to, among other things, the Schubert Music club and the Garden club. . . . She was recording secretary of the City Federation at Brownwood last year and was to have been corresponding secretary this year. . . . Another office she held last year was that of secretary of the Civic Advisory Council of Brownwood. . . .

Asked about her hobbies, she smiled and replied, "Anne, first of all." Anne likes to sing, and lately has been "making up" rhymes. . . . All of which makes it appear likely that she will follow in at least a few of the footsteps of her talented mother.

Records of the Unemployment Compensation Commission show that approximately 12,000 Texas employers are paying contributions to the unemployment trust fund, and that benefit accounts have been set up for more than 600,000 wage earners. The Commission's field agents estimate that between 1200 and 1500 additional employers will be brought under the law this year, and that protection will be provided for about 700,000 eligible unemployed.

Boyd Dozier First In Lions Drawing For Chicago Trip

Jake Merritt Club Delegate To State Gathering; Joe Pond Will Attend

Boyd Dozier drew first place for delegate to annual convention of Lions International to open in Chicago July 20, as names of members qualified for chance at the coveted trip were taken from a box at the club meeting Friday. Carl C. M. Adams, charter member of the club and who served as its first president, was first alternate; J. E. Watson second, and Dell Barber third.

In order to qualify for chance at the honor a Lion must not have missed more than three meetings during the year, reasonable excuse excepted, have his club dues paid up and never have attended one of the International gatherings at expense of the club. Jack Helton, incoming president, will be the other Colorado delegate.

Jake Merritt, incoming secretary-treasurer, was elected by popular vote of the club as delegate to annual State convention, that opened in Galveston Tuesday for a session of two days. District Governor Joe Pond is another Lion attending the convention from Colorado.

FREEDOM OF PHILIPPINE ISLANDS HIS OBJECTIVE

Complete independence of the Philippine Islands by 1938 or 1939 as a needed economic measure as well as one to have strong bearing in preservation of peace as affecting relationship of the United States with European powers was strongly advocated during an address on floor of the House last week by Congressman George Mahon of Colorado. Mahon stated that the islands had cost America $900,000,000 since they were acquired in 1899 and cited further that this country was spending annually $14,500,000 in army and navy expenses in the possessions. Their independence would eliminate all those obligations, he pointed out.

Life is Easier FOR THE MODERN WIFE AND HOMEMAKER

Years ago the daily life of the homemaker was just one task after another with no time for recreation and play. Today, the modern homemaker uses the new developments in gas appliances which do most of her kitchen work for her.

A modern gas range cooks better with less effort because it affords every convenience. The exact cooking temperature is always available. Top simmer burners light automatically. Automatic oven heat control does away with oven-watching and gives you flakier pie crusts and juicer roasts. Oven insulation and ventilation assure success every time you bake. A modern gas range is just as good looking as its performance is outstanding!

A gas automatic water heater that provides gallon after gallon of hot water at the turn of a faucet is a home convenience that speeds along many of the household's cleaning tasks to make housekeeping much easier. An automatic gas water heater, like other modern gas appliances, costs little to operate.

Go modern with gas for more home conveniences and leisure hours.

First Half Lions Club League Gets Curtains Thursday

Standard Oil Continues Out Ahead With Col-Tex Into Second Position

The curtain will be rung down on the first half of the Lions Club Softball league tonight (Thursday) when Col-Tex plays the Young Business Men. Off to a poor start the Young Business Men have shown much improvement of late and should give the Col-Tex aggregation a fight for their money. The game will be sort of an anti-climax due to fact that Standard Oil has already sewed up the first half race with 5 wins and no losses. Col-Tex will be fighting for second place in the league standings and will hold undisputed possession of that position should they win tonight. If they lose there will be a three-way tie for second place with Col-Tex, Gulf and Young Business Men trying. The Shell Oilers have possession of fifth place with one win and four losses and Little Sulphur winds up in last position with no wins in five attempts.

Shell was under a handicap during the first half race due to being rained out in a number of games at the start of the season. When these postponed games were finally sandwiched into the regular schedule by means of double-headers the Shell aggregation was called upon to play a number of games in rapid succession which proved to be more than a one-man pitching staff composed of Gale Billings could stand up under. Better breaks in the matter of weather is hoped for Shell in the second half.

Little Sulphur youngsters should have gained enough knowledge during the first half to make things interesting for the other teams in the future. They lost some close decision games and should break into the win column in the race yet.
