PROSPECTS FOR EXTENSION OF HIGHWAY 101 BRIGHTER AS ROAD TOPPING STARTED

Contractor Shaping Mitchell County Segment For The Asphalt; Project Will Be Finished In 3 Weeks

Roadbed in the Mitchell county segment of Highway 101, extending north through Buford to the Mitchell-Scurry county line, is being shaped by the contractor, H. B. Zackery Company of Laredo, in preparation for placing the asphalt seal coat. The work was started at the county line and is being extended toward Colorado.

Paving of this thoroughfare, extending approximately nine miles, along with continued progress on grade and drainage construction in Scurry county, have brightened hopes of local enthusiasts that the highway is soon to be completed between Colorado and Snyder to open an important traffic artery to those communities. Prospects for realizing an extension of the road to the south from here are made more promising as paving on the local segment is started, it is suggested.

That the road is soon to be improved for handling traffic from the county line into Dunn is being considered with a considerable degree of assurance here. At present there is over a mile of the Mitchell county road not open due the dead end at county line. Engineers have found that asphalt paving deteriorates rapidly when not subjected to the "ironing out" process of traffic.

Paving of the highway in Mitchell county should be completed and opened to traffic within three weeks, County Judge A. F. King stated Tuesday. Judge King and other citizens here were in Austin Monday and conferred with officials of the State highway commission on the local road project.

The contracting firm has other highway improvement jobs in this section of the State, one of which is the laying of new topping on Highway One from the Mitchell-Nolan county line east into Sweetwater.

LACK OF FINANCE HOLDING PROJECTS IN ABEYANCE IS CHARGE BY CC SECRETARY

Carl Blasig Speaks At Lions Club Friday; Cooperation By Every Citizen Invited In Strive For Goal

There are a number of projects about which this citizenship through its chamber of commerce should lend definite and aggressive support but an inadequate budget subscription continues to hold those objectives in check, Carl A. Blasig, manager of the chamber of commerce, told members of the Lions Club Friday.

The chamber of commerce is no stronger than its weakest link, as represented in affiliated membership and the organization may be expected to progress ahead just so far as the spirit of community cooperation permits, the CC manager continued. He recalled that executives of the organization were entertaining the belief that Coloradoans would underwrite the annual budget of $5,000, in that the organization have opportunity of doing a constructive service.

"This community should push ahead in consequence of the splendid advantages extended here," Blasig stated. "The resources of this city and county are dependable and resourceful sufficiently to assure material strides ahead if the people will make proper use of them," he continued after reviewing the agriculture, livestock, oil and other industries from which the source of income is realized to the varied interests of Colorado and adjacent territory.

He detailed briefly plans of the chamber to revive a county fair at Colorado, to be staged in conjunction with the annual home coming celebration and possibly other events. "Colorado has been lax in this respect—that of providing attractions that would bring the people of this territory together at regular intervals," he charged. "The people are going to have entertainment and if their own community fails to provide that recreational diversion they will look to other towns in which worthwhile entertainment programs are supported."

Cooperation with Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, and Doyle Williams, director of vocational agriculture in high school, should be listed as a definite responsibility by every citizen, he said, because "these agents are doing an outstanding work in Mitchell county and working to overcome obstacles that would retard progress. Give them your support."

The speaker suggested that in all probability dates for the proposed fair and homecoming would be announced within the next few days, in event committee appointed last week by President Thompson of the CC found that the events should be sponsored. He recalled that these occasions during other years had proven successful.

Jean Harlow Lives In 'Saratoga' Last Picture She Made

Mary Dees Double For Late Star In Picture Opening At Palace Saturday

If you see this picture it would be grossly unfair to comment on it with the fact of Jean Harlow's death in mind.

'Saratoga' had been in production exactly 40 weeks before Jean Harlow's untimely passing with but one eighth of the film left to shoot.

As a result of this clever work the star's "double" appears in the picture without her face once showing full on the screen, and save for those who knew Jean Harlow intimately, few will be able to detect her absence from any portion of the film.

LILLIPUTIAN COWS One of the many strange facts to be learned in any study of nature is turned up by The Progressive Farmer in the following dissertation on a pest absorbed by gardeners:

"On succulent shoots of lawn and garden plants you'll find clusters of soft-bodied insects which we disgustfully call plant lice. But they're the ants' 'milk cows'."

Legion Fire Boys Softball Schedule To Open July 28

Legion Can Beat Them At Anything, Fighting Fire Included, Is Challenge

The American Legion and Fire Boys announce a series of three softball games to open at Cuytrill Field Wednesday night of next week to settle contention of the veterans that they can "beat the fire boys doing anything, including fighting fire."

In the pool tournament the Legion club won in a walk and this contest is being referred to as desperate effort upon part of the losers to retrieve at least a part of their lost prestige in the field of softball.

Dates for other games in the tournament are to be announced later by chiefs of the two teams.

Lingering Heart Illness Fatal To
Mrs. Bassham, 60

Resident Of County Nearly 30 Years Succumbed At
Root Hospital Monday

A lingering heart ailment which had kept her confined to Root hospital for several weeks claimed the life of Mrs. W. P. Bassham, 60, Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Bassham had been a resident of Mitchell county for nearly 30 years, living all that time in the Seven Wells section.

She was born Ida Mae Van Sickle in Des Moines, Iowa, on December 5, 1876. Her family moved to Texas when she was only five, living in Fannin county near Bonham. It was there that she met and married W. P. Bassham on April 26, 1896. They came to Mitchell county in 1908.

Mrs. Bassham's parents, three sisters, and three brothers all preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Harvey Childress, minister, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. C. E. Jameson of First Methodist church.

Growth Of Cotton

Widely Scattered Rains Will Encourage Weevils, Worms
Dallas News Believes

A week of moderately hot weather aided progress of Texas cotton, but temperatures have not been sufficiently high to be a deathblow to insects, as many farmers had hoped, the summary of The Dallas News for the period ended Friday shows.

Thriftiness of the cotton plant is somewhat offset by a smaller proportion of blooms, safe squares and bolls at this time of year. The crop has not overcome its lateness of two weeks or more and the wide variation as to time of planting and development since.

Especially marked is the lateness of the South Plains cotton crop. Moisture, while mostly sufficient for present crop needs, is rapidly being exhausted due to high evaporation and constant winds. North Texas reports 60 per cent of cotton blooming. Central Texas about the same, and South Texas blooming is reported as general.

Picking has begun in the Rio Grande Valley.

Rains seem to have begun over widely scattered areas, and though needed in the drier counties, may be expected to give weevils and leaf-worms a new start. The latter are now as far north as Brazos and Burleson Counties in Central Texas. Bollworms also are a threat.

In Memory of My Loving Niece
MINNIE LEA ANDERSON
Who passed away June 23, 1937
It was on a bright June Thursday morning.

When the sad news was quickly spread,
It came to all so suddenly that
Minnie Anderson was dead.

Dearest Minnie, I can see thee
Like a rose in fairest bloom
But I know that thy art sleeping
In the cold and silent tomb.

Dearest Minnie, you made us happy
With your bright and smiling face
And we know there is no other on earth
Can take your place.

We will ever miss thee
And our days will be dark and drear
But we can hear a still voice whisper:
"Don't weep I am happy here."

Your road in life was hard to travel
Your burdens were hard to bare
Your earthly friends forsook you,
But your Heavenly Father still loved and cared.

When your days seemed the darkest
And no light on earth for you did shine
There was a still voice whispered,
"Come rest dear child of mine."

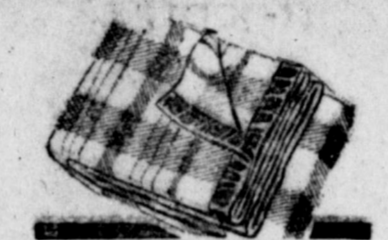

The sun was slowly sinking in
The far and distant West
When your life was slowly
Ebbing to its eternal rest.

But your steps, they did not falter
Thou it was the close of day
You kept on going upward, for you
Cared not here to stay.

Director Carpenter Expects Returns Not Later Than
July 31

Forms issued last week to more than 12,000 employers subject to the Texas Unemployment Act will form the basis of payment of contributions for the month of June, Orville S. Carpenter, director-general announced Monday at Austin.

These reports will also contain detailed information on employees' wages for the months of April, May and June, 1937, and must be returned to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Austin, on or before midnight, July 31, Mr. Carpenter said.

Return of these reports will indicate the number of employees to whom wages were payable during the quarter and the amount of such wages for each employer, as well as the total amount of wages payable during each of the three months therein. The information returned on these reports is used by the Commission in setting up wage records for each covered employee in the State and is a part of the basic data upon which benefit payments will be reckoned next year. No person will be eligible to receive benefits unless his wages have been reported to the Commission and contributions thereon paid by his employer and a wage record set up for him.

Hundreds of Texas employers have become subject to the Unemployment Compensation Act since the first of the year. Such employers, although exempt during the first quarter due to a provision of the law that requires an employer to employ as many as 8 persons for some part of twenty or more weeks in order to establish liability under the law, are required to file both first and second quarterly summary reports with the Commission by July 31.

Director Carpenter advised all such employers, if they do not receive forms through the mail, to write to the Commission at Austin at once. Failure to receive the necessary forms will not absolve employers of their liability, he said.

More than 4,000 feet of cement sidewalks for school children have been constructed alongside Highway 35 at Berry School in Houston by National Youth Administration crews working under the supervision of the State Highway Department, W. RUDDICK PARK GIVES THIS CITY UNIQUE DISTINCTION
BIG SPRING VISITOR SAYS

Five Thousand People Attend
Program Friday Evening
Given By Guest Artists
At Amphitheatre

Ruddick Park and its amphitheatre has given this city unique distinction and placed it in the first rank among other communities of West Texas in so far as public entertainment appointments are concerned, visitors from Big Spring stated while here Friday night to attend program at Ruddick Park. A group of entertainers organized and brought here by Big Spring citizens were presented on the program.

Shine Phillips, Grover Dunham, Jimmie Greene and other Big Spring citizens head on the program were profuse in their praise of the park theatre. Such an asset was doing more to bring the citizenship of Mitchell county together into one band of people than any other requisite the public might provide, Phillips stated.

Five thousand people jammed the terraces and overflowed onto the sides of the amphitheatre as the Big Spring entertainers were presented. "The people of Big Spring should pride in the reception given their entertainers and the splendid quality of entertainment given," a Big Spring newspaper later stated.

In commenting on the occasion the Big Spring Daily Herald for Sunday morning said:

"An additional 500 seats had been provided for the occasion, Carl Blasig, manager of the Colorado chamber of commerce, disclosed.

"Voyt 'Sonny Boy' Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Voyt Williams, Sr., climaxed a series of West Texas competitions with a first place decision

Taps Sounded Friday For R. E. Grantland, 90, One Of County's Two Civil War Vets

Taps were sounded Friday for R. E. Grantland, 90, one of Mitchell county's two remaining Civil War veterans. Mr. Grantland died at his home here Thursday afternoon at 5:30 after a lengthy illness. His death leaves T. Y. Pool of Colorado as the only Civil War veteran in Mitchell county.

Funeral services for Mr. Grantland were held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at First Methodist church with the Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor, and the Rev. O. P. Clark of Abilene officiating. Four grandsons were among the pallbearers, the pallbearers being Emmett Grantland, Leldon Shipp, Clyde Young, Horace Young, Sam Wulfjen, and J. F. Bodine.

Mr. Grantland, whose full name was Robert Emmett, was born in northern Alabama in 1847. Orphaned at the age of three, he was reared by his grandparents, who brought him to Texas with them in 1850. His early boyhood was divided between the homes of his grandparents around Goliad and Beeville and Alabama, where his sisters were being brought up by other relatives.

When only 13 he ran away from home and enlisted in the Confederate army, serving in Company 4, 25th

Texas Dastiler Brigade. In the three-day bloody battle of Chicamauga he was badly wounded in the arm. Doctors said the arm must be amputated, so Mr. Grantland ran away from the hospital, spending the night with his arm in a cooling stream. The arm eventually healed.

His wound well, Mr. Grantland went back on duty with the army, being stationed at Galveston with the Second Texas regiment. While at Galveston he helped to build the first causeway across Galveston bay.

Mr. Grantland was married to Lizzie Boyd in Morgan county, Alabama, on September 23, 1880. They lived in Alabama during the first twelve years of their marriage, coming to Texas in 1892. They lived in Miltam and Eastland counties before settling in Colorado some 25 years ago.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Grantland, but four died in early childhood. The two children surviving Mr. Grantland are H. E. Grantland of Colorado and Mrs. S. H. Young of Sweetwater. The children are in addition to Mrs. Grantland, who is 89.

Kiker & Son had charge of funeral arrangements.

Another Thriller On Double

Refinery Crew and Gulf
Fight Thru 12-Innings

The race in the second half of the Lions Club softball league promises to be much tighter than the first half. Standard Oil, who finished the first half schedule with five wins and no losses has already lost two games, to Col-Tex and the Young Business Men. The Young Business Men at the present time are the hottest team in the league and are tied in the top position with Col-Tex with three wins and no losses. Championship of the second half will probably not be determined until Thursday, August 5, last game of the season when Young Business Men meet Col-Tex in a regularly scheduled game. The Gulf team has also shown much improvement and is one of the strongest teams in the league although having won only one game in three starts. They lost a 12-inning game to Col-Tex Tuesday night by a one run margin.

Initiative Of CC In

Organization Originated And Is Maintaining Amateur Hour Programs

Initiative of the chamber of commerce in having originated and maintained the weekly entertainment programs at Ruddick Park is receiving praise by a number of citizens at Colorado and other communities of the county. The fact that as many as five thousand people have attended some of the free entertainment attractions during this and last summer is pointed to with emphasis. That the amateur hour program had its inception here is claimed by these citizens, who advance that the CC established a precedent that is rapidly finding popular favor in other communities in West Texas. Big Spring has started work on a large open air amphitheatre, similar in many respects to the one at Ruddick Park. Drive to provide the open air community center was opened after

TWO CITIZENS ELECTED AS CUBS IN LIONS CLUB

Carl A. Blasig, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Kelley Treadway, manager of Thornhill's, were elected to membership in the Lions Club Friday. Application for membership was offered by another Coloradoan.

Police Chief Dick Hickman, elected to the club a few weeks before, was presented during an address by District Governor Joe Pond.

MRS. HARVEY HERE
Mrs. J. D. Harvey and daughters of Paducah, Ky., were here Monday and Tuesday visiting the John Hales and other friends before going on to Big Spring to visit Mrs. Mead, the former Dotu Frances Harvey, while Mr. Harvey is in a revival meeting near Longview. Mr. Harvey was formerly minister to the Colorado Church of Christ.

Civilian leaders there had visited the one here. "One of the longest strides the chamber of commerce could have taken in blending the people of this county closer together," exclaimed a local citizen last Friday night as he stood on elevation back of the terraces and scanned the large sea of faces present.

Citizens of this and other communities interested in drive to vote bonds to purchase the C. L. Root hospital plant will be called here for an organization conference within the next few days, C. C. Thompson, general campaign chairman, stated Wednesday.

An aggressive drive to interest voters in merits of the proposal is to be inaugurated, Thompson outlined. The bond issue, to be carried to the polls in special election Saturday, July 31, will, if authorized, be utilized to acquire the hospital by the county for operation as a general hospital.

in the Friday evening show. He left with his parents Saturday for California. Mrs. Anne Houser accompanied him.

"Second place went to Jane Marie Tingle, accompanied by Mrs. Houser, for her vocal and specialty number. Jean Kuykendall, vocalist, also accompanied by Mrs. Houser, was third place winner. Others who participated were Helen Blount, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. E. Blount, Edith Gay, accompanied by Mrs. Houser, Joe Robert Myers, who gave imitations, W. Dale Kay, vocalist, the Warren (Paul and Loren) brothers, musical novelties, the Ditters, string band, Luther McDaniel, diminutive vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Houser.

"The Big Spring municipal high school band, directed by D. W. Convey, was presented in a brief concert at the opening of the program.

"Jimmie Greene, Big Spring chamber of commerce manager, formerly manager at Colorado, was given a rousing round of applause when introduced by Blasig. Greene in turn introduced Clarence Barnes, radio station KBST staff member, who presided as master of ceremonies.

"Shine Phillips spoke briefly, declaring that 'this a great thing. I could hardly believe that 5,000 people would turn out for these programs. We want something like this at Big Spring and we are going to get it.'

Grover Dunham, immediate past president of the Big Spring chamber of commerce, and Greene each made short talks. Among others making the trip to Colorado were Mrs. V. H. Flewelen, Mrs. M. M. Edwards, and Buster Johnson."

Proposed to stage a horse and cattle show in Colorado later during the year in conjunction with a county fair, rodeo and probably other entertainment and educational features, is meeting with the enthusiastic approval of Frank Kelley, executive of the chamber of commerce and member of committee named recently by President Thompson of the CC to determine whether or not the attractions should be staged.

Kelley is a fancier of blooded horses and prides in ownership of some of these individuals.

COLORADOAN TEACHER IN PANAMA ZONE SCHOOL

Miss Orlena Elliott, former Coloradoan, is spending the summer in Panama where she is a member of the teaching staff at the University of Panama. Since leaving Colorado several years ago Miss Elliott has taught in the Dallas public schools.

After a disastrous first inning in which Gulf scored 11 runs and in which Shell had some doubts as to their ever retiring the batters for three outs, the Shell boys settled down and scored 5 runs and made a nice game of it last Thursday night at Cantrill Field. Displaying a new pitcher, Ennis, a new first sacker and a new outfielder, Ray Womack, the Shell team with Manager Nix moved to second base had some trouble for a time fielding the ball. Lauderdale at second base played a nice game of ball for Shell as did Lester, Scott and Nye for Gulf.

The nightcap affair was a game between Standard Oil and Gulf of Sweetwater, a non-league game, that furnished its full quota of thrills for the paying customers and ended in a 13 to 12 decision for Gulf after Standard had the tying and winning runs stranded on second and third when the last out was made.

In a regulation 9-inning affair that dragged out until almost 10 o'clock Monday night the up and coming Young Business Men pounded Dick Thompson of Standard Oil almost at will and came out with a 14 to 6 decision. The Standard boys were unable to solve the offerings of Aycock with any degree of success with the exception of Pitcher Thompson who hit a home run inside the park with two of his mates on base.

Little Sulphur played an independent team from Roscoe in the nightcap the score being 12 to 9 in favor of Roscoe.

Tuesday in the longest drawn-out game of the year to date Col-Tex nosed out Gulf 12 to 11 in 12 innings. The game was sprinkled with good fielding and good hitting at times but was marred by arguing over decisions of the umpires.

Cowman Who Was Foreman Of Bush & Tillar Ranch For 20 Years Visitor Here

A man who knows the West Texas that used to be as few living today do know it was a visitor in Colorado Friday, swapping memories with his old-time friends, John Doss, Will Doss, Sr., and J. C. Erwin.

The visitor was Baylus Wagnon, 85, who served for 23 years, first as cowhand and then as foreman, on the famous old Bush & Tillar ranch, which has its headquarters in Seccury county and sprawls out to touch three other counties.

Mr. Wagnon stopped here enroute to El Paso to visit a daughter, Mrs. Milton Buttry, after spending two months in a hospital at Santa Anna.

He came to West Texas in 1869, long before there was a Colorado, a Mitchell county, or a Texas & Pacific railroad. He was born and reared in Coral county in the famous "Cherokee valley" of Mississippi.

He practically grew up with the civilized, peaceful Cherokees who gave the valley its name.

With his family and four other families he moved from Mississippi to Louisiana while still a youth. His parents died in Louisiana, and he came to Texas when 17 years old with 14 other families who had "Texas fever."

Both journeys were made in covered wagons drawn by oxen.

The people with whom he came to Texas settled in Smith county, but Mr. Wagnon "came right on to West Texas." His first job was herding cattle for Sam Maglin and Harry Catlett on their EH ranch in Borden county.

Then trail driving caught his fancy, and he went on his first trail drive in 1870. With a man by the name of Williams as trail boss, Magnon and 11 other cowboys drove 4,000 head of 3- and 4-year-old Longhorn steers from a ranch near Austin to market in Coffeyville, Kansas.

The drive took three months. They had to cross dangerous Indian territory in Oklahoma, but encountered no real trouble. It was, Mr. Wagnon says, "a fine trip." He has no tales to tell of the hardships of the trail. Grass was fine after they crossed the Red River and the cattle were sleek and fat when they reached Coffeyville.

Back in Texas Mr. Wagnon went to work on a farm up on Bull creek in Seccury county. But farming didn't satisfy his longing for activity, so he soon went to work on the Bush & Tillar ranch as a cowhand.

Tom Love was foreman of the ranch when Mr. Wagnon began work. Four years later Love was elected sheriff of Borden county, and Wagnon succeeded him as foreman. He filled that post 17 years until the ranch owners, A. P. Bush and Ben J. Tillar, sold out. When they sold they gave him 3 sections of land lying just north of the Mitchell county line in Seccury county.

Romance came into Mr. Wagnon's life a second time shortly after he went to work for the Bush & Tillar. He was sent down into Brewster county to pick up some cattle which cattle thieves had driven from the ranch. There he met and fell in love with Drura Morrow, who died 11 years ago. His first wife was Barcie White, whom he married while in

Smith county. She lived but seven months.

After the death of his second wife Mr. Wagnon "quit everything." He served for a short while as government cattle inspector in Seccury county, but gave that up. Now he divides his time between his five children—G. M. Wagnon of Van Horn, Hugh Wagnon of near El Paso, Mrs. Buck Phillips of Balls, Mrs. Graham Evans of Winston, New Mexico, and Mrs. Milton Buttry of El Paso.

He's an "old-time fiddler" who knew fame in the days when "fiddling" was necessary to every dance. He tells of playing for dances in Colorado, playing one tune on and on in his sleep until dancers awoke him and requested that the tune be changed. He always complied, and went back to sleep on the next tune.

One Fatally Hurt, Second Injured In Crash At Midland

Howard County Citizens In Motorcycle Crash Last Friday Midnight

One man was fatally injured and another seriously hurt at midnight Friday when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into the rear of an automobile one mile west of Midland on Highway One.

J. L. Hopper, 20, of the Fairview community near Big Spring, was killed outright in the crash. Ray Prather, 22, of Coahoma, sustained a broken left leg, the bone being badly fractured and the flesh severely lacerated below the knee. Both had been employed in the oil fields at Eunice, New Mexico, and were enroute home to visit their parents.

Reports said that the youths, enroute east at high speed, struck the rear fender of an automobile being driven by Harold Voight, Midland oil man, who was driving westward. Voight stopped and assisted passing motorists in giving aid and summoning ambulances. His machine was not overturned. Officers were quoted as reporting the motorcycle speedometer had been locked at 82 miles per hour.

Hopper is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Hopper of Fairview community, (Howard county), one sister and seven brothers. Funeral services were held at Coahoma Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FEDERAL LOANS ASSIST MANY TEXAS RESIDENTS
Money advanced by insured savings and loan associations in Texas for June in the home financing field totaled $1,612,253.00 in 761 loans, according to a report for the month compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock.

The Colorado Federal Savings and Loan Association is a member of the Little Rock Bank and participated in the total lending activities of the State by caring for local needs.

Throughout the State of Texas, greatest volume of lending activity was reported in the new construction field, with 271 loans for $762,368.00 being made for that purpose.

"This activity of insured associations in the State is indicative of the service the associations are to their communities," said B. H. Wooten, president of the Little Rock Bank.

"Through local investments, which are insured up to $5,000.00 against loss by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and through credit which may be extended by the Little Rock Bank, these associations have sufficient funds at all times with which to make all reasonable loans in the home financing field."

HISTORY 50 YEARS AGO

On May 4, 1886, occurred in Chicago what has since been known as the "Haymarket riot." This riot resulted in the death of eight policemen and the wounding of sixty-eight more. Anarchists were responsible for this massacre wherein bombs, guns and other weapons were used. The arrest of those charged resulted in nine of the principal Anarchists being arraigned as accessories before the fact. Four of them were hanged, one shattered his jaw in jail with a bomb and died, two were sentenced for life, and one for fifteen years.

This result of the trial seems to have had a very salutary effect on the Anarchist morale, as afterward there were comparatively few important controversies with Anarchists. This historic incident of fifty years ago is mentioned here, not to imply that either of the two organizations of labor in this country is composed of Anarchists, for there may be relatively few in them. But it is to warn the leaders of these two principal groups, the American Federation of Labor, and the Committee for Industrial Organization, that it would be well for them to take such action as may be necessary to rid their organizations of such desperate characters as those taking part in the Haymarket riot half a century ago, otherwise the people of this country may conclude that they form a considerable part of their membership.

This warning will be conceded as justified when we recall another "massacre" which took place at Herrin, Ill., on June 21, 1922. It was asserted at the time and since that there were a number of Anarchists among those who did the "butchering" of men at Herrin. That evening there was posted a notice in a business place which said, "Twenty-five seals are dead, nine are in the hospital and the mine is closed."

Our comment: Under the circumstances as they now are, the people would do well to OPPOSE ANY PROPOSED IMPORTANT CHANGE IN THEIR GOVERNMENT OR SOCIAL CUSTOMS AND AMENITIES. They should not forget those who are fighting such proposed changes, but should give them the encouragement they deserve and need.

One of our lady friends and reader of this column was asked to write and this is what she handed in:

ESSAY ON NEWSPAPERS

A small boy wrote an essay on "Newspapers" and this is what he said in part: "The Newspapers is sheets of paper on which stuff to read is printed. The men look it over to see if their names is in it and the woman use it to put on shelves 'n' sich. I don't know how newspapers cum into the world and I don't think God duz. The Bible don't say nothin' about editors and none ever went to heaven that anybody knows of. An editor is probabul the missin' link. An editor never dize, at least, I nev saw one dead. The paper dize sometimes, but not the editor. And that's enuf about nuzepaper editors."

The Baptists of Colorado have called a new pastor and this writer being a Baptist submits the following:

The preacher has a great time. If his hair is gray, he is too old. If he is a young man, he has not had experience enough. If he has ten children, he has too many. If he has none, he is setting a bad example. If his wife sings in the choir, she is presuming, and if she does not, she isn't interested in her husband's work. If the preacher reads from notes he's a bore, and if he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough. If he stays at home in his study, he doesn't mix enough with people; if he is seen around the streets, he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on the poor, he is playing the grandstand; if he calls at the homes of the wealth he is an aristocrat. Whatever he does, someone could have told him how to do it better. Yes, the preacher has a great time!

Evidently the preacher has a hard job. He is in a tough spot. If we may inject slangoid terms into a serious discussion. Admittedly we are here exploring unfamiliar ground. Our intention was to ask a square deal for the pastor, all pastors. Bad as his situation may be, you can make it double tough by failing to pay your church assessment!

One of the teachers asked his class to give a true definition of the word "neighbor." Tommy spoke up and said, "It's a woman who borrows things."

One of Colorado's auto dealers asked a late customer, How's your wife getting along with her driving. He answered, She took a turn for the worst last week.

Plato said, "Good education is that which gives to the body and to the soul all the perfection of which they are capable."

Our Presbyterian lady friends recently held a rummage sale for the church. One of the ladies assisting in the sale took off her new $2 hat and somebody sold it for 30c.

COSMETICS AND BEAUTY SHOPS

The critics of cosmetics are as old as cosmetics themselves, and cosmetics are as old as the woman race. We learn from the mummified remains of Egyptian beauties of 5,000 years ago that they beautified themselves with fatitious aids from their color boxes. They wanted to appear attractive in the eyes of the Egyptian men, although it is hard to understand why any woman ever wanted to captivate an Egyptian. We read in the Good Book how Jeremiah rebuked the Jerusalem girls for rouging their lips and curling their hair. Jeremiah was really angry with them, and went so far as to hint they were no better than they should be. He predicted woe for Jerusalem, and the woe came in plenty. But the girls didn't bring the woe. They were victims but not causes. Our Indians used to paint themselves, artistically as they thought, grotesquely as we thought. And woe came upon them. But in the latter case as in the former the paint was not responsible. There is always something back of everything that brings calamity.

This is a machine age with the beauty parlors. The women's wrinkles can be safely and quickly removed by an electrical device. All you have to do is to pay the price, press the button and the wrinkles are gone.

Don't you believe it. And for pity's sake don't try it yourself. The shallower wrinkles may be ironed out temporarily, but they come back. They come back with a bang. Wrinkles do not start from the surface. They start from the inside. They can't be quelled by exterior applications, no more than a knot in a cord can be removed by dabbling it with a powder puff. Yet the beauty shops can do a good deal for the enhancement of physiological pulchritude. If you are disposed to try it out experimentally you have little to lose and much to gain. But if you are satisfied with your present looks, and your friends have made no objection, it might be better for you to go ahead as is. In case you do go to your local beautician for a trial order, it will be necessary for you to remove your wing collar. You will have to be treated from scalp lock to collar bone. No half-way job would satisfy you or the public, certainly not the beautician. A haircut and a shave is about as far as we would advise you to go unless you are desperate. A shave and haircut makes a wonderful improvement in some men's looks.

CONTRIBUTED

Let me live in my house away from the road where the cars and the trucks go by; Where the noise and the smell as they race-like hell where the dying victims lie. Where sirens shriek like a fire alarm and cars tumble o're and o're; I've moved my shack a mile further back where I won't have to see it any more. The cottonwood stood where it looked good to have picnics beneath its shade. A gave it a jump leaving a stump when racing in the mad parade. At the lane's end on "Death Bend" where many human wrecks die; And auto lights make ghostly sights and mangled children cry. A roadhouse crowd often stopped at my very door; With loud hoots and plenty of toots—I won't hear that mess any more. I've moved my shack off the old race track down in a canyon deep; I'm wanting to see if they'll let me be where I can rest and sleep. I'd like to live by the side of the road and be a friend to man, But with all this din and rattling tin I just don't think I can.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

We live in a world of rapid and constant changes. Modes of travel, methods of communication, means of commerce, and inventions for pleasure and comfort change so frequently as to keep the whole industrial world in a stir. An automobile, a Pullman car, a radio, or a home that was thoroughly modern yesterday is discarded today for a newer model. Our Texas Centennial last year, with its great exhibits in Dallas and other cities, has served to remind us of these rapid and marvelous changes. Man is no longer content to read by a tallow dip, he must have his Mazda reading lamp and indirect lighting. He will not ride in the pioneer stage coach or in a buggy behind "old Dobbin"; he must have an eight-cylinder automobile, a stream-lined train or a transcontinental plane. He no longer lives in the quiet of the humble cottage immortalized by Burns in his "Cotter's Saturday Night," but on a busy and crowded street in his "Cotter's Saturday Night," but on a busy and crowded street in his electrified flat. His food no longer comes from the garden, smoke-house and cellar, but from the corner grocery store and delicatessen. His music comes to him by the way of the radio. His children (if any) are born in a hospital, reared in a nursery and educated in a boarding school. The wife and mother no longer rules the world by the simple expediency of rocking the cradle, for the old adage,

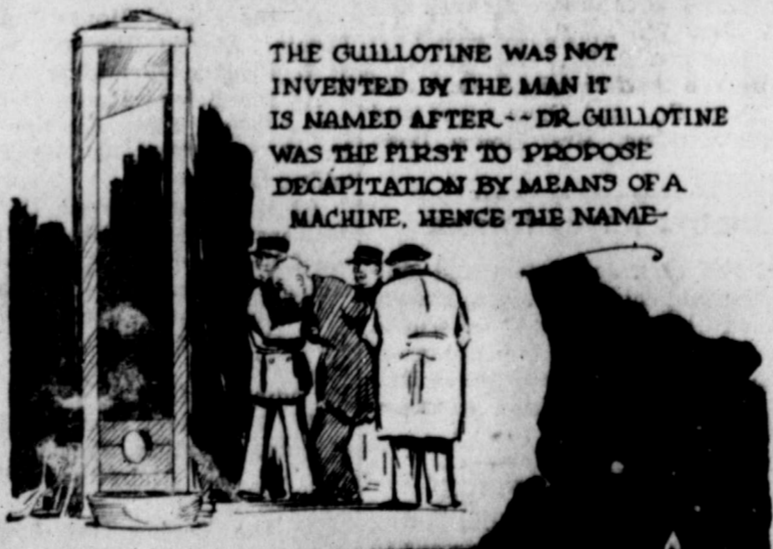

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," is only true when the hand rocks the cradle, and the hands of most modern women have far too many other things to do to rock cradles. Governments rise and fall over night. The map of Europe has been made over in this generation and certain belligerent forces armed to the teeth seem determined to make it over again. Social customs, political principles and religious beliefs change so frequently that many find it difficult to know whether they are puritans or liberals in behaviour; Democrats, Republicans, Socialists or Communists in politics; Christians, skeptics, agnostics or atheists in religion.

Ideals of conduct and standards of behaviour which for generations have been thought necessary to personal purity, the sanctity of the home and the safety of the nation have been discarded. Countless millions rush pell-mell down the primrose path of "self-expression" and sinful indulgence to blighted hopes of wasted lives. One wonders if the three greatest inventions of the modern world, viz the automobile, the radio and the motion picture machine, have not become our greatest curses.

W. W. Porter and John Ellis are partners, the public say one is an optimist and the other a pessimist. The pessimist was telling of his woes and worries when the optimist said, "There is sunshine behind the clouds." "Yes," said the pessimist, "There is land at the bottom of the sea but it's no good to the guy who falls overboard."

At a recent Methodist baptizing Brother Jameson asked the baby's name please. The proud father replied, "Robert William Montgomery Morgan Maxwell." The minister said, "More water please."

NOTICE to Gas Customers

In compliance with a law passed at the last session of the Legislature, Your Gas Company will begin to odorize the gas supplied to its customers within the next few days.

If you should notice an unusual odor about your premises, your gas piping and connections should be checked for leaks. For this purpose we advise that you call your plumber in order that any necessary repairs can be made.

Odorization of gas does not affect your gas service, but it may enable you to determine whether your gas piping needs attention.

Caution:

Do not look for leaks with matches or an open flame of any kind.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

I see as how some enterprising members of the Promising Oil company have been out getting themselves some more publicity. The following appeared in the "Crude Paragraphs" column of the Abilene Reporter-News Sunday: "R. A. May, who said he was chief scout and land man for the 'Promising Oil company' from Colorado was a visitor in Abilene yesterday. He said the company had a good chance for production, its offices and domoio parlors being next door to the Magnolia offices in Colorado. His title could not be verified. Earl D. Cypert, Magnolia scout from Colorado, accompanied May but could give the 'Promising Oil company' no recommendations. Cypert's hobby in the West Texas city is fine horses. He has an educated mare that recently foaled a colt out of Anacacho Rubeen, five-gaited saddle horse owned by C. T. McLaughlin of Midland. Frank Kelly, chief geologist for Magnolia at Colorado, is another fine horse fancier."

Those who have been close enough to look tell me that a well-known Colorado girl, not long out of college, is wearing a new ring on "the" finger these days. . . .

If you find out about the honors which come every now and then to J. W. Watson, you do so without any tips from Mr. Watson. . . . But for the friendly hint of a friend we would have missed this week's little story about Mr. Watson's talk at the group meeting of six PCA associations in Mineral Wells last week. . . .

When You Need a Laxative

Thousands of men and women know how wise it is to take Black-Draught at the first sign of constipation. They like the refreshing relief it brings. They know its timely use may save them from feeling badly and possibly losing time at work from sickness brought on by constipation.

If you have to take a laxative occasionally, you can rely on BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

The reason that talk made news was the fact that Virgil P. Lee, president of the Houston Production Credit corporation, "Papa" of all the PCA associations, requested Mr. Watson to let him have a copy of it for future use. . . .

Probably no single event that has taken place in Colorado in recent years has drawn so many prominent, prosperous people from so wide a territory as did the funeral Tuesday afternoon for John L. Johnson, vice-president of the Burton-Lingo Lumber company, who died in El Paso Sunday evening. . . . They came from Fort Worth, El Paso, and all points between and even some points in New Mexico. . . . Colorado florists were swamped with wire orders for flowers, and box after box of floral sprays arrived all during Tuesday by truck and train. . . . It is said that no funeral in this vicinity in a long time has been marked by such a profusion of floral offerings. . . .

I know nothing of Mr. Johnson's private life, but there's something touching in the loyalty that brings a man back to a long-ago home to be buried by the side of a wife who has been dead nearly half a century. . . . Since 1893, to be exact. . . .

All the dignity of things judicial was forgotten by Judge W. P. Leslie of Eastland, now chief justice of the eleventh court of civil appeals, when he visited his old friend, Urdia Wulfjen at his ranch last week. . . . Having the ranch to themselves one morning, Mr. Wulfjen and Judge Leslie climbed in Mr. Wulfjen's pickup, with James Wulfjen on one fender and Robert Leslie, on the other and struck out across the rolling pastures to show their sons the places where they made "big killings" of blue quail and so forth in years gone by, long before James or Robert were born, back when Judge Leslie was just beginning his climb to the position he holds today. . . . They drove all morning, returning to the ranchhouse at 3 o'clock completely famished—and with nothing cooked and nobody but themselves to cook it. . . . However, they raided the cellar, donned aprons, and did so well by themselves that Judge Leslie had to have a long nap after the meal. . . .

Soil Conservation Will Assist Farmers In Event Insect Or Hail Loss Sustained

The County Agricultural Conservation Committee received this week a revised ruling on the classification of land devoted to cotton that will be of interest to cotton producers complying with the program this year.

The ruling is: "That land planted to cotton shall be considered to have been devoted to cotton, if the cotton remains on the land beyond a stage published. This can be determined by whether a good stand has been established. This can be determined by the time squares are beginning to form."

If cotton should be destroyed by floods, hail, drought or insects after reaching the stage indicated above, such land will be classified as having been devoted to cotton, and a certification by the producer, approved by a Community Committeeman, designating the area on which the crop was destroyed should be made to the County Agricultural Conservation Committee as soon after destruction of such crops as possible.

This ruling will help the producers in this county in allowing them to plant to feed crops the acres of cotton destroyed and will not receive a penalty for overplanting their feed base.

Example: A producer has 169 acres in cultivation, with 100 acres cotton base and 60 acres feed base. He reduces his cotton 35 acres, and plants 65 acres of cotton, 60 acres of feed and 35 acres of Soil-Conserving crops, but later 20 acres of his cotton was destroyed by insects and he wants to plant this 20 acres to feed, but cannot do so because he would overplant his feed base and receive a penalty. This new ruling allows him to do this, and at compliance time we will count this 20 acres as being devoted to cotton even though feed will be growing thereon at the time.

The committee also wants to call to the attention of all landlords that they must have signed Work Sheets for all farms owned by them in the county, before payment can be made to any farms owned by them. If some of the landlords have farms that are under Work Sheets and some that are not, they are urged to get in touch with the County Agent's office immediately.

Baskin stated that flea hoppers and grasshoppers were appearing in several localities of the county, but

FORMER TEACHER TURNS POETIC AT WASHINGTON

Robert Coffman, former teacher in high school and who several months ago left for Washington to accept position as an under secretary in office of Congressman George Mahon, is turning poetic.

The following is verse written by Mr. Coffman and published in recent edition of a well known farm publication:

THE DESERT BLOOMS AGAIN I walked through deserts bare And saw broad extending plains Where desolation and despair Became living prayers for rains.

Baking sands, a bitter weed, Skeleton, bone, and thorn— Hate sov'ht companionship with pain And dust would steal the morn.

But today there's beauty, Answered prayers for rain There are fowers and fruit And golden grain.

The desert blooms again. —By ROBERT COFFMAN.

Solution Of Feed Shortage Offered Thru Trench Silo

'There's A Place For One On Every Farm, Ranch, County Agent States

With an unusually good feed crop practically "in the bag" Mitchell county farmers are faced with the problem of storing their excess feed. Having sold feed for 1c per bundle and $8.00 and $10.00 per ton in the years gone by, and then having to buy the same kind of feed of an inferior quality at 5c per bundle and $25.00 to $30.00 per ton has proven to be very costly to our farmers. Use of the trench silo for storing feed raised in the years of good feed crops will insure farmers of having plenty of feed of good quality in the dry years.

Trench silos may be constructed at a very low cost—labor expense being the only item involved. Feed stored in trench silos will keep indefinitely. Feed stored in trench silos cannot be damaged by wind, rain, weevils, rats or fire. One acre of good feed stored in a silo is equivalent to two acres of bundles in the stack. Feed stored in a trench silo cannot be damaged by flood waters or leaks. Too much water cannot be added to trench silos.

Over 6,000 trench silos were used in Texas in 1936. All of these silos have given satisfactory service, and have insured their owners of plenty of feed of excellent quality.

Trench silos may be filled with grain sorghums, corn, sudan, cowpeas, soybeans, alfalfa and peanut hay as well as Johnson grass, cotton stalks, sunflowers and bloodweds. Black-strap molasses should be added at the rate of 50 pounds per ton of silage when filling the silo with cowpeas, sudan, alfalfa, Johnson grass, cotton stalks, bloodweds, soybeans and peanut hay. The addition of Black-strap molasses insures perfect fermentation and thereby makes the silage keep in good condition.

Water should be added to the silage as the silo is filled. Green feed should have at least one barrel of water per ton added. Matured feed should have at least three barrels of water added. However, when filling a silo one should remember that silage has never been injured by adding too much water. The one outstanding mistake made in filling a silo is the failure to put plenty of water to the feed.

There is a place for a trench silo on every farm and ranch in Mitchell county. Anyone interested in filling a trench silo is urged to contact their county agent.

IN MEMORY OF HICKMAN NICHOLS

By A. J. Moore

I knew him when in young manhood
With youth just passed, and facing life,
Into my mothers home he came
And took my sister for his wife.

I watched him on down through the years,
And saw the life he dared to live,
While others to their earnings clung
I saw him give and give and give—

As down lifes road he onward went
No hungry soul would he pass by,
But gladly would he stop to heed—
And ease the anguish of their cry.

No night too dark—no day too cold
When someone called he'd always hear,
What ere the need this man would go
And to them give the needed cheer.

This his philosophy of life;
It attained a glorious end—
Appealing to men both rich and poor,
And each one called him friend.

In all the years I knew him—
Some twenty odd in fact,
I can't recall an instant
When he did a selfish act.

I watched him when wracked with pain
And ne'er a moments rest,
He lay on a bed of suffering
And my: how he stood the test.

For eleven long months he suffered—
He knew the end was near,
But to all who came to visit
He had a word of cheer.

With never a word—complaining;
A real hero was he,
With a smile for those around him
He met his Gethsemane.

And now may those who knew him,
And we who loved him best—
Draw strength from his example
For the journey when we "go west"—
