

Colorado Ready For Historic Jubilee Opening Today

CONGRESS STILL FRIENDLY TO AGRICULTURE, DECLARES COLORADO HOUSE MEMBER

Demo Split Not Serious For Party, Is George Mahon's Opinion; Roosevelt Still Popular With Americans

Looking forward to weeks, perhaps months, of visiting with the people of his district, Congressman George Mahon of the 19th district was back at his home in Colorado Saturday after more than eight months in Washington.

He and his wife and daughter, Daphne, arrived late Friday after driving from Washington via Shreveport, La., and Dallas, visiting relatives in both places.

Mr. Mahon would venture no prediction as to the probability of a special session of Congress, he said, smiling. "The guess of the average citizen is as good as mine."

A continued belief in the leadership of President Roosevelt was expressed by the congressman, who is serving his second term as the first, and so far only, representative of the four-year-old 19th district.

"In my judgment Roosevelt is still popular with the Congress and with the majority of the American people," Mr. Mahon said. "He has lost some ground, of course, but he could not be expected to maintain the highest peak of popularity. It is well to remember that no president has ever been extremely popular throughout eight years in the White House."

Belief that Congress, when it convenes, will pass a minimum wage and maximum hour bill for industry was expressed by the congressman. But he would express no preference for the bill in its present form.

"My district is an agricultural rather than an industrial section," he explained. "As the wage and hours bill stands now it would be of little assistance to agriculture. It would tend to increase the cost of retail products to the consumer, and people living in an agricultural section are largely in the consumer class. Furthermore, it might adversely affect industry and business."

While believing that the Democrats will be "reasonably cooperative" during the next session of Congress, Mr. Mahon regards the threatened split in the Democratic party as particularly dangerous to the cotton

An estimated yield of 25,000 bales from the present cotton acreage in Mitchell county is low, in opinion of Joe H. Smoot, vice president of the City National bank. Smoot stated Saturday that he felt confident that the crop would reach 30,000 and probably 35,000 bales.

COLORFUL CELEBRATION TO OFFER HONOR TO PIONEERS AS JUBILEE OPENS FRIDAY

Representative George Mahon To Address Old Timers At Session Set To Open Friday Morning At 10

Lending strong emphasis to the pioneer and the role he played in establishing foundation upon which Mitchell county and Colorado were built, an impressive program is to open at the Palace Theatre Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Every pioneer citizen of the county, whether he be living here now or not, is invited to attend this feature of the Frontier Round-up.

Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, representing the 19th Texas district in the Lower House at Washington, is to deliver the principal address. The speaker will review some of the privations and dangers met and overcome by men and women in this then frontier of Texas civilization.

After the principal addresses have been heard, members of the honored guests are themselves to be called to the stage and given opportunity to recall again some of the high lights attending their presence in this section in the long ago. During similar programs of strong interest, this feature has proven of strong interest.

Another high spot on the celebration program to be built about pioneers and the early traditions of this county and city will be seen as the long parade moves through the streets Friday afternoon. Twenty-five paint ponies with the stirrups of their saddles upturned in memorial to deceased pioneers, are to make a section of the pageant. Names of the citizens thus remembered will be done on cards attached to the saddle.

WILKES FAMILY LOCATES AT EAST 14TH ADDRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Wilkes and their daughter, Miss Erin, have established their home at 517 East Fourteenth street. They are from Tulsa where Wilkes was engaged in the motor car business several years before he and associates purchased the Ford Motor Company agency here from the Arnett-McLarty Motor Company.

OVERTON MINISTER WILL PREACH IN CITY SUNDAY

R. L. Colley of Overton, Texas, minister of the Church of Christ at New London, is to deliver two sermons at the Colorado Church of Christ Sunday, at 11 o'clock in the morning and 8 p.m. Members of the congregation are requested to keep the services in mind.

Big Bend National Park Pictured As Asset To Colorado

Tourist Business Would Get Boost By Improvement, Smith Tells Lions

Improvement of the Big Bend National Park would bring additional tourist business to Colorado and thereby prove of direct benefit to the business interests of this community, Ben Smith, secretary of the Pecos chamber of commerce, told members of the Lions Club Friday. Smith is devoting much of his time in building interest in the project and soliciting finances to purchase the property.

Members of the club expressed interest in the project and some of them contributed to a local fund to be applied on purchase of the land. Additional cash will be received here, Smith stated Saturday morning before leaving for Pecos.

Improvement of the park would attract thousands of Americans annually, large numbers of whom would drive their motor cars through Colorado, Smith declared. He pointed to statistics showing the average amount expended by tourists in the communities through which they passed.

SCATTERED RAINS TUESDAY OVER COLORADO TERRITORY ADVANCE COTTON OUTLOOK

County Gin Receipts Reported At 2,789 Bales Thursday Noon; Local Quotations Unchanged During Week

Scattered rains that averaged from near an inch in some localities to light sprinkles in others covered much of the Colorado territory Tuesday afternoon, adding further to outlook for a good cotton yield. The rain at Colorado was .55 of an inch. North and northeast the rain was heavier. But little moisture was received south and west of the Colorado river.

The rain retarded cotton picking somewhat, although 1,336 bales were received at Colorado, Lorraine, Westbrook and Buford during the week ending Thursday noon, advancing total for the season to 2,789 bales. No report was received from gins at Hyman and Valley View.

Local cotton and seed markets have remained practically unchanged during the past week. Thursday cotton was selling at nine cents and better. Seed, posted at $20 a ton seven days ago, was still holding that figure.

A few days of hot weather during the week, immediately preceding the rain, stepped opening process of the commodity ahead considerably. Picking is under way in all sections of the county.

That Mitchell county pioneers and members of their families will attend the Frontier Round-up in large number was indicated at the chamber of commerce Thursday morning in report that 3,200 of those citizens had been registered for the barbecue Friday afternoon.

Miss Billie Wyatt in charge of the registration desk, was busy listing names of additional citizens who during the three days are guests of the round-up. The number was expected to reach 4,000 before the final complimentary admission ducat was issued.

"We are going to have plenty barbecue and other foods to feed these guests," Sheriff Dick Gregory stated Thursday morning. ### VANGUARD OF THROGS TO CONVERGE HERE FOR FETE BEGAN ARRIVING THURSDAY

Frontier Round-up Chiefs Are Optimistic In Supporting Claims Celebration Will Be Mitchell's Greatest

Colorado is ready for staging one of the most colorful and largely attended celebrations within its history of fifty-six years, officials of the Frontier Round-up announced Thursday noon. And these men and women directing detailed program for the three days and nights were being backed by an enthused public of the host city and county.

Vanguard of the thousands expected to converge here for the historic jubilee was arriving Thursday and indications pointed to presence of hundreds of others before passing of the day. Included in personnel of early arrivals were rugged pioneers, about whom the celebration has been built. For some of these honored guests this is to be their first visit in some time to the "Colorado City" they knew years ago.

Messages pouring into the chamber of commerce, clearing house out of which each minute detail of the colorful program has been arranged, indicate that visitors, representing former citizens of the county and those never having lived here, are to attend during the three days from every point of the compass. Every facility will be provided by Round-up officials to offer accommodations and otherwise impress that Colorado is delighted to have every guest within her gates.

"Looks as if we are standing at the gates of the greatest public celebration this county has ever known, in point of attendance, impressiveness of the patriotic and amusement features offered and other factors making up the jubilee program," was statement by Carl A. Blasig, chamber of commerce manager. "The fact that Colorado and Mitchell county has gone far in the universal determined will to stage an event worthy of the name, 'Colorado City Frontier Round-up,' has done much in interesting the people in this section."

ATTRACTIVE SCHOOL AT BUFORD WILL BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY OCT. 1

Alice (Ditty) Hughes Marries Mr. Henning

Of considerable interest here was news of the marriage of Miss Alice (Ditty) Hughes, former Coloradoan, to Mr. Hue V. Henning, who spent some time here with the highway department about three years ago, in Long Beach, California, on last Friday.

The ceremony took place at the Long Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hughes, parents of the bride and former Coloradoans. Romance of the couple is said to have begun while both were employed in the WPA offices at Abilene, Mrs. Henning in the division of finance and statistics and Mr. Henning in the engineering department.

Mrs. Henning was employed in the WPA office at Lubbock for a time after the district office closed at Abilene, but for the past several weeks she has been with her parents in California. She was born and reared in Colorado.

Mr. Henning is now employed in El Paso. He and Mrs. Henning are at home in the Hilton hotel there.

Frontier Round-up Bringing Many Guests Into Colorado Homes During The Week-end

While the Frontier Round-up has brought the "organized" social life of Colorado to something of a standstill this week, it has at the same time brought to the fore a more fundamental form of "society"—namely, that of hospitality in the home.

Scores of Colorado homes are thrown open this week to former Coloradoans who are here to attend the old-timers' homecoming and other events of the Frontier Round-up.

MRS. CONNER HERE
A true old-timer of Colorado is Mrs. T. H. Conner of Fort Worth, a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hale. As Ella Dry she lived in Colorado for years, teaching art and a kindergarten during much of that time. She came to Colorado early last week and will remain through the Round-up.

FORMER RUBY HELTON COMING
From Lamesa will come Mrs. T. B. Moore, the former Ruby Helton, and her husband and child. Mrs. Moore is the sister of Jack Helton and Mrs. Percy Bond, and will stay with the latter while here.

IN PORTER HOME
Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porter, prominent old-timers themselves, are to be in the Porter home during the Round-up. They are Clifford Porter and wife of Marshall, Worth Porter and wife and daughter of San Angelo.

NEVER MISSES HOMECOMING
Keeping up her record of never having missed a homecoming event in Colorado, Mrs. Floyd Beall of Lubbock is to spend the two days of the celebration visiting with her mother, Mrs. D. N. Arnet. Mrs. Beall was Ophelia Arnet before she married. Her daughter, Ophelia, will be with her.

COMING FROM MIDLAND
From their ranch home near Midland will come Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith and their son, Carl, Jr., to visit Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren, during the Round-up. Mrs. Smith was Lois Warren before her marriage.

COMING FROM ROTAN
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., are expecting to have as their guests during the Round-up Mrs. Jones' brother, J. B. Jones, and wife of Rotan. The Rotan couple lived here several years ago.

IN HARGROVE HOME
Miss Pauline Hargrove, formerly head of the Colorado High school home economics department and now county home demonstration agent at Apermont, plans to visit her mother, Mrs. R. F. Hargrove, and attend Round-up events.

TO VISIT POWELLS
The Lay Powells are expecting Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith of Pecos to visit them during the Round-up. Smith is manager of the Pecos chamber of commerce. Mrs. Smith was formerly Virgie Powell.

JACK SMITH GUESTS
Among those who may accept invitations to be guests in the Jack Smith home for the celebration days are the Smith's daughter, Mrs. Bryan Lawless of Abilene, and Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, and husband of Hamlin. Mrs. Ferguson lived here several years ago when she was Robie Dickson.

VANCE PHENIX HERE
Vance Phenix arrived a few days ago from Houston to join his wife, the former Ida Richardson, and children here for a visit with his mother, Mrs. N. J. Phenix, and Mrs. Phenix's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson. Both Mr. and Mrs. Phenix rate as "old-timers" and will remain for Round-up homecoming events before returning to Houston.

MRS. HOMER COSTIN HERE
Mrs. Homer Costin, the former Daisy O'Neal, and one of her two children are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. O'Neal, and her friend, Mrs. Lester Manning. They will be here during a part of the Frontier Round-up.

DUNBARS TO BE HERE
Round-up guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Doss will be Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Dunbar of Lubbock, who will stop over enroute home from their vacation in East Texas.

HERE FROM MIDLAND
Mrs. D. C. Sivalis of Midland, the former Fannie Bess Earnest, is expected to be a guest in the home of Mrs. C. H. Earnest, her mother, during the celebration. Mrs. Sivalis' daughter, Mary Martha, has been visiting in the Earnest home since early this week. The younger Sivalis daughter will come with Mrs. Sivalis.

EXPECTED FROM FORT WORTH
Expected from Fort Worth is Mrs. J. A. Ross, the former Myrtle Waller of Colorado, who will be a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Leon Jenkins, if she comes.

IN BRIDGDFORD HOME
Although Mrs. T. E. Arledge of Roscoe isn't a Mitchell county old-timer, she is vitally interested in the ranching history of West Texas as the wife of a prominent Roscoe ranchman, so she will attend Frontier Round-up activities as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Bridgford. Mrs. Arledge will be accompanied by her daughter, Mary Virginia.

J. P. MAJORS FAMILY COMING
A homecoming of Mitchell county old-timers would fall far short of what it should be if such prominent pioneers as J. P. Majors and family of Sweetwater should fail to be on hand. Consequently the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Majors, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Majors, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Majors are waiting to receive members of the family from Sweetwater during the Round-up. Among those planning to come are Mr. and Mrs. Majors, Mrs. Myrtle Vaughan and daughter, and Mrs. Carl Mayfield from Sweetwater, also Mrs. Merlin Toler of Rotan.

The Texas Planning Board has recommended to the Legislature that Texas be represented at the Golden Gate International Exposition at San Francisco and at the New York World's Fair in 1939, by a replica of the historic Alamo in which 7,000 feet of sound and color film depicting Texas as it is today would be shown in an air-conditioned auditorium seating 500. The cost of the exhibits will not exceed $225,000.00. The above drawing is an artist's conception of how the proposed State of Texas building will look in a world's fair setting.

"Almost unbelievable" improvement in the condition of Mrs. D. N. Arnett is reported. Mrs. Arnett has been confined to her bed since fracturing her hip about a month ago. (Continued From Page One)
 The celebration title, "Colorado City Frontier Round-up," should not be interpreted as indicating this is a Colorado program. Blasig continued, "The ranchers, farmers and other citizens of this county have manifested just as much interest in this program as any other group of our citizenship, a pleasing combination that has already assured success. I have never observed greater unity among a citizenship in working to attain a given goal."

First event on the program is to open Thursday evening at 9 o'clock with a dance in Walnut street opposite the Colorado hotel. Here pioneers will be joined by the younger set in tripping to strains of popular music of the long ago in doing the square dance, Virginia reel and others in vogue when Colorado and Mitchell county were young.

The celebration proper will get underway Friday morning as doors of the agricultural show are opened. This attraction is to be held in gym building at the high school building. Exhibits in this division are many and the quality of products to be seen should be of special interest to the visitor.

An hour later, in the Palace theatre, will be formally opened initial program honoring Mitchell county old timers. Patriotic addresses and reminiscences of times and events of the long ago are to dominate.

The colorful and historic parade, arranged under personal direction of Mayor J. A. Sadler and a corps of assistants, will pass through the business district at 3:30. Sadler is promising that this spectacle will be over a mile in length and the most auspicious ever staged in this city.

Starting at 5:30 Friday afternoon pioneers and members of their families are to be honor guests of the citizenship of this county at a barbecue in Ruddick Park. Sheriff Dick Gregory, in charge of this part of the celebration, states that every honored guest will be given sincere personal consideration and all the choice food they may desire. Beesves, goats, mutton and chickens donated by the public are being barbecued under supervision of Everett Winn and a corps of expert chefs.

The first rodeo show is to open at arena in Cantrill Field at 7:45 that evening with Pete Ainsworth of the Spade ranch in charge. A herd of wild Brahma cattle, trained in the art of rodeo performance, brought to Colorado by Gaston Brock from the Doble Heart ranch, and a herd of high bucking broncs will give contestants plenty to worry over. Wild cow milking and other events are on the rodeo card. Additional rodeos are to be given Saturday afternoon at 2 and that evening at 7:45.

The horse, mule and jack show, the first of its kind held in Colorado, is to open at Cantrill Field Saturday

NEW NAMES FOR SAME AGED TROUBLES RURAL CITIZENS ARE INFORMED

COLLEGE STATION. — Catch words change, but the fundamental problems of agriculture remain the same and workers still must turn to the Land Grant Colleges for their most helpful advice, Paul V. Maris, acting for the regional director of the Resettlement Administration, told 325 Texas rural rehabilitation workers in their annual conference here recently.

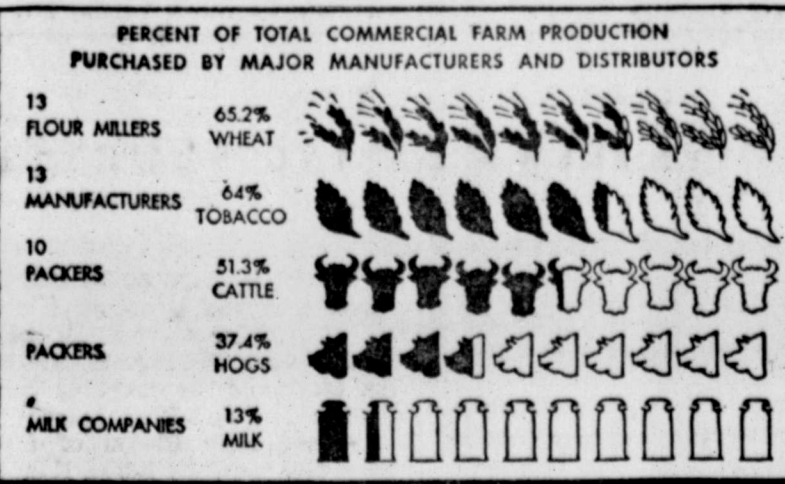

Dr. T. O. Walton, President of A. and M. College, had previously told the rehabilitation staff that low-income farmers of Texas whom they are serving have "in many instances been discriminated against economically and socially." Dr. Walton said that if this discrimination continues, there will also continue a downward trend in the farm life of Texas and the nation. He said that the basic task of rural rehabilitation is to raise the intelligence level.

Recently returned from Denmark, Dr. Walton said that nation is great because thirty per cent of all its farm people have been trained in adult "folk schools." He estimated that the intelligence level of Denmark is twice as high as in the United States, and three times as high as in Texas.

Maris said that recent passage of the Bankhead-Jones Act and recent appropriation of funds to put it into effect, marks the third stage in rural rehabilitation's development. The first stage began in March 1934, when Relief Administrator Hopkins ordered his rolls cleared of all farm families, on the theory that farmers should be able to grow their own subsistence. The work has now been established and stabilized, Maris said, and has received endorsement in the permanent program authorized by the Bankhead-Jones Act.

Sixteen committees, each composed of 15 to 20 farm and home supervisors from all parts of Texas, were sales were but 47 per cent of the total.

Purchases of 10 leading packers for a year equalled 51.3 per cent of the total production of cattle and calves, and 37.4 per cent of the hogs. The three largest companies purchased 40.8 per cent of the beef and 25.3 per cent of the hogs. Thirteen millers bought only 65.3 per cent of the commercial wheat flour crop, while 13 tobacco manufacturers bought the equivalent of 64 per cent of the nation's tobacco crop, selling 97 per cent of the cigarettes and 90 per cent of the smoking tobacco.

With milk the so-called big companies are but a minor factor as 12 major concerns purchased only about 10 per cent of the total milk production in 1934 and about 13 per cent of the commercial milk. Eleven leading companies marketed 18 per cent of the fluid milk and cream sold in cities and villages and about 25 per cent of the butter.

 growing South.

"A serious split would imperil the future of all farm legislation," he said. "Heretofore, Democrats from New York and Philadelphia and most non-agricultural areas under the leadership of the president have voted for farm legislation almost as enthusiastically as representatives from farm districts. This has contributed to the charge that the present Congress has been a 'rubber stamp.'"

"If Congress breaks up into factions and refuses to cooperate, it will thereby refute the charge of being a 'rubber stamp,' but it can accomplish little worthwhile legislation if a lack of harmony prevails, with the city representatives voting only for the direct interests of the city while the wheat and cotton representatives vote only for their interests. In my judgment, strong party leadership is subject to some criticism, contributing as it can to the passage of some ill-advised legislation, but the lack of it means confusion and legislative inaction."

Congress is still "extremely friendly" toward farm legislation, Mr. Mahon declared, in spite of the fact that no new farm bill was passed as a substitute for the present AAA.

He pointed out that Congress appropriated $500,000,000 to make AAA payments as an offset to the adverse effect of the tariff on agriculture, continued the 3 1/2 per cent interest rate on Federal Land Bank loans, expanded the soil conservation program, continued the CCC camps, and brought about a liberal expansion in the vocational education program. "All this would not have been done by an indifferent or unfriendly Congress," he said, "and I predict that at the next session of Congress a new farm bill will be passed as a substitute for the present program. This administration continues to realize that an appropriate farm program is essential to our national well-being. In the formation of a new program great care must be taken to safeguard the West Texas area."

No fear that the United States will rush into the Sino-Japanese conflict in the Far East was expressed by Mr. Mahon. He has taken a particular interest in developments in China because he visited the Far East two years ago this fall with Vice-President Garner's delegation to the inauguration of the first president of the Philippines.

"The treatment accorded American citizens in Shanghai is deplorable," Mr. Mahon conceded, "but I have no fear that we are going to rush into war. The President, Congress, and, above all, the people, are determined to keep out of war. Twenty-five years ago the same conditions which exist today might have plunged us into the conflict, but we learned a lot from the World War. The cost is too great for us to go to war to protect the Shanghai dollars of American nations."

Mr. Mahon left his Washington office in charge of his chief secretary, Lloyd Crossin of Lubbock. After about ten days in his Colorado office, he plans to devote most of his time to visiting and conferring with people over his district.

The program will be given under direction of W. H. Garrett, Truett Barber and B. L. Templeton, committee representing the county bar. The public is invited to attend, bringing with them, if convenient, an American flag.

"The program will be better than the amateur hour," is claim advanced by members of the committee. The high school band will give a concert and the singing of patriotic songs, along with oratory, is included.

LORAINIE HOPEFUL THAT HER BULLDOGS WILL BE STRONG 'B' CONTENDERS

LORAINIE.—Eight regulars of last year's football team, which threw a scare into all of the clubs in this district, are on hand for another season that opens Sept. 24 with Coahoma.

The foremost worry for Coach Pinkie Brooks, succeeding Newby Pratt, is finding a replacement for big W. F. James, triple-threat star of the '36 club. Of course, there is the lack of reserve strength, but that is the case in most class B football camps.

William Simmons, 145-pound half-back last year, will step into James' shoes this year at the quarterback slot. The battery back of the quarter will be Will Albright, 160, converted center, at full; Roy Baird, 150 pounder back at one half, and Robert James, 140, at the other half.

All players who have been at end, have graduated. Charles Glass and G. W. Albright were lost via that route, and Lanthas Brains is unable to play because of an injured ankle.

Linemen returning are Garland Faulkenberry, 175, tackle; Arco Mathews, 165, tackle; Marion Rhodes, 156, guard; Edward Bauman, 154, guard, and Glenn McWhirter, 166-pound guard. Lewis Brains, 185, will play either center or fullback.

New members of the squad are Pete Daugherty, 160, end; Edgar McCollum, 150, guard; Eldridge Trott, 145, back; Elton Mathews, 150, center; and Armando Bauman, Harold Simmons, Marvin Hall and Travis Lucas.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

About the unhappiest man in Colorado Friday night and Saturday was "Doc" Barber, and he doesn't care who knows it. . . . It was all because his memory did him false on one score when he made his "Thank You" speech Friday night at the close of the Ruddick park amateur hour season. . . . He forgot to publicly thank the band and R. P. Rose for the half-hour concerts which have opened each amateur hour. . . . He made up for it every way he knew how, apologizing to every member of the band and voicing his regret to everybody else he talked to. . . . He's "cussed" himself, rather unfairly, for forgetting the very thing that was right "under his nose" at every program. . . . But it's human nature to forget the most obvious things. . . . We all know that and can sympathize with Mr. Barber. . . . Incidentally, it's a shame that after working as hard as he has to make the amateur hours the success they have been, Mr. Barber's feeling of having completed "a task well done" had to be so marred. . . .

Aha! At long last (it's the King Edward influence) this column can make another matrimonial "prediction." . . . An ultra-blond girl who was reared here but who has been living in towns to the west during recent years is to marry a Hobbs, N. M., man on or about Sept. 28. . . .

Quite the "hit" of the towns visited by the Colorado Frontier Round-up motorcade last Thursday and Friday was 8-year-old Yvonne Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ward. . . .

The minute the motorcade stopped in any town Yvonne was gone with an armful of circulars, which she handed out with a grin and the cordial invitation, "Come to Colorado to the Round-up!" . . . She didn't stop delivering and inviting until it was time to leave. . . . In fact, she put out more circulars than any grownup in the gang. . . . She had a great time, but when bedtime came she was a very little girl who said to mamma, "My legs ache." . . .

And so it's "homecoming" time again in Colorado. . . . Preparations for the homecoming and the Frontier Round-up have meant a lot of work for a lot of people who won't be repaid in any material way for their time and trouble. . . . We should all remember that if we run into something that isn't arranged quite to our liking Friday and Saturday. . . . Next year the Frontier Round-up will have a home all its own out east of Ruddick park, and this column here, by submits a prediction that, if Coloradans do their part in the future as they have in the past, it will grow to be as widely-known and as well-attended as some of the more highly publicized celebrations held over the state each year. . . . Because of the homecoming and Centennial celebration last year proved that Mitchell countians and former Mitchell countians are celebration-minded in a big way. . . .

Personally, this writer is looking forward to seeing her first rodeo, Born and "brung up" in West Texas, she should be ashamed to admit that but the bald truth is that she's such a comfort-loving creature that she never went to one before because of the dust and the heat. . . . There'll be neither dust nor heat at the rodeo events on Cantrell field both nights of the Frontier Round-up, and that ought to be comfort enough for anybody. . . .

Another thing this writer is anticipating is the gaited horse show which Frank Kelley and other members of the horse and mule show committee will sponsor Saturday night between rodeo events. . . . The only gaited horse I've ever seen in action was in the movies. . . . I like to read about thoroughbred horses, I like the picturesque language used in telling about them, I like the names they bear. . . . In fact, I think some of my ancestors must have lived in the Blue Grass country, or something. . . .

This is an SOS, kind of: Will folks please help The Record get up a fairly accurate college list for next week's issue? There's no way that we've ever heard about to get such a list except by phoning and asking and phoning again—only to find that several somebodies have been overlooked, in spite of all our work. . . .

A number of college students are leaving this week-end, others will be leaving all next week, and still others will go the following week. . . . Because of the Frontier Round-up this week The Record decided to carry its college story next week. . . . If you have a son or daughter going to college, or know of someone who has, won't you please give us a tip? And if, when the list is published, you know of someone we've overlooked, please let us know. . . . A college list is used over and over during the year, and if there is an uncorrected mistake in the first list it pops up 'time and again. . . . We make enough mistakes, we are sorry to say, without repeating. . . .

Increase In Texas Cotton Crop Over Last Year Is Seen

Average Regions Report The Plant Making Fruitage; Top Crop Is Factor

A substantial increase over last season's cotton crop in all Texas regions, with possibility of further increase following well-distributed rainfall of the past two weeks and cooler weather, is shown in the summary of The Dallas News for the week ended Friday.

A top crop is in the making except where insects are present in strength such as in Northeast Texas and in parts of Central, North and East Texas. The South Texas crop is made and more than 75 per cent gathered. Cotton harvest is well advanced through Central Texas, rapidly gaining momentum in North Texas and just beginning in Northwestern counties.

The South Plains are likely to gather one of the largest crops on record if weather continues favorable. Many counties report increases of 206 to 300 per cent over a year ago. Leafworms are increasing, however, and might injure late fruit.

Poorest cotton prospects are reported from Northeast Texas where top crop chances are slight due to too much rain and high humidity. Southern counties of Central Texas report little chance for top crop at this writing because of weeks of hot, dry weather. Bottom cotton, however, generally is yielding much above average, but weevils, leafworms and bollworms are taking new fruit in many counties.

NEWS STORY STIRS NATION

Perhaps no news story ever aroused the American public to such a pitch of indignation and resentment as the revelations of the operations of the notorious Lucky Luciano gang of white slavers that filled the newspapers and were featured in Liberty magazine recently.

"Smashing The Vice Trust" which shows at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 14 and 15, is said to be an authentic picturization of the inside workings of this gang as revealed at their trial. It is stark, tense drama that cannot fail to create respect for the law enforcement agencies battling continuously to curb the activities of the underworld.

Featured in the cast as Lucky Lombardi is Willy Castello, the great Continental artist who is called the Clark Gable of Europe. Supporting him are such sterling performers as Selmar Jackson, Augusta Anderson, Vyola Von, and Paul Perry. ### FARMERS INVITED ASK FOR WORKERS FROM WPA GROUPS

SAN ANTONIO.—Farmers desirous of obtaining WPA workers to assist in seasonal crop-gathering have been invited by State Administrator H. P. Drought to direct their requests to county judges, county farm agents, or to the offices of the National Re-employment Service and Texas State Employment Service.

"These offices are familiar with our policy that Works Progress Administration projects will be suspended if necessary to provide workers for private employers," Drought said. "They are anxious to cooperate with farmers who need labor and I am sure that they will convey any private employer's request promptly to the proper WPA office."

Policy of closing WPA projects temporarily when outside job opportunities are available for workmen is in line with the provisions of the 1937 appropriation act. Drought stated:

"The 1937 appropriation act provided that the Works Progress Administration may employ no certified person who refuses a bona-fide offer of private employment under reasonable working conditions which pays as much as or more than he receives for WPA employment. It provides furthermore that any person leaving WPA rolls for private employment is entitled to immediate resumption of his previous employment. If a person is still in need of relief, he has lost the private employment through no fault of his own. The private employer is assured that no WPA worker will turn down a legitimate offer of work and WPA workers are assured that they will not lose employment status with this agency by accepting such work."

College Students Honored By Methodist Women With Banquet Tuesday Evening

Honoring Colorado young people who will be leaving during the next few days for colleges and universities, women of First Methodist church entertained with a banquet at the church Tuesday evening. Garden flowers and college scenes centered the banquet table at intervals. The Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor of the church, was toastmaster. Favors and place cards were made to represent Gladstone bays, bearing the name and college of each guest. The main program feature was a talk by Congressman George Mahon. Musical numbers were given by Hazel Grubbs, Gladys Miller, Inez Rogers, and J. T. Williamson, the last two playing as guests assembled also. A playlet dealing with college life was staged under the direction of Gladys Miller with the following taking part: Doris Flo Doss, Willie Grace Doss, Nina Katherine Quinney, Ruth Elliott, Gerald Montgomery, Van King, and Weldon Hunt.

AGRICULTURAL AID WILL BE SOUGHT BY SENATOR

Closing of United States markets to foreign farmers and establishment of a new government corporation to dispose of domestic surpluses have been proposed by Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, D., Calif., as a solution of the agricultural problem. McAdoo, wartime secretary of the treasury and one time aspirant to the democratic presidential nomination, advocated his program before a recent meeting of the senate subcommittee on agriculture and forestry. New deal farm chieftains are reported giving it careful consideration. McAdoo's plan calls for disposal of domestic surpluses on the world market through the medium of a corporation, with particular attention to the vexing cotton problem. Under the program, the secretary of agriculture would first determine the amount of each crop to be used for domestic purposes. The price of the crop would then be fixed to insure the producer a "reasonable" profit on his entire production. This would apply to cotton, a crop largely marketed abroad. Secondly, the secretary would establish a corporation to take over farm surpluses, at no cost to the government and no immediate additional profit to farmers. Next the corporation would sell surpluses on the world market or to American processors and manufacturers at prices low enough to enable them to compete with foreign finished products. Profits on such sales, McAdoo pointed out, would be returned to American farmers. Manufacturers from such surpluses would be forbidden entrance to domestic markets.

OIL PROPERTIES

AUSTIN—Unusually good prices are expected for the oil and gas rights to 93 tracts of land embracing 15,076 acres owned by The University of Texas and situated in Crane, Ector and Andrews counties, which will be offered for lease at public auction October 22. The fact that most of these tracts are in or adjacent to areas where lease and drilling activities are receiving much attention on the part of major and independent operators is regarded as placing the University lands in an unusually favorable position at this time. Another factor that promises to stimulate the demand for leases of oil and gas rights on land owned by the University in Andrews county is that marked success has recently been had in opening up big production in Gaines county, located just to the north of Andrews. Only a few days ago the Continental Oil Company completed a well in Gaines county which had a reported initial flow of nearly 1,400 barrels daily. The block which the University owns in Andrews county is regarded by petroleum geologists as unusually well situated as far as oil possibilities are concerned. This land lies on the southern edge of the South Plains, an altitudinal and comparatively level region covering eastern New Mexico and a group of about fourteen counties in Texas. It is part of the 2,000,000 acres of land endowment owned by the University in West Texas, and upon which there are already several oil fields. Not a great many years ago the theory that oil and gas in commercial quantities were to be found in that area, which has an elevation ranging from 5,000 to 3,400 feet, found little if any support of geologists. Outside of the Hobbs and one or two other fields in New Mexico which are situated on the South Plains, comparatively little exploration for oil has been made in that region. On the Texas side of the South Plains oil and gas production has been obtained in Andrews, Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran and Dawson counties. A number of the major companies during the past year have purchased extensive leases in all of the southern and western group of counties of the plains territory. Attention was turned recently to Lynn county by the fact that one company has blocked 12,000 acres upon which it will drill several tests. Considerable wildcat drilling is also being done at this time in Terry county. With oil production on all sides of the 294,000 acres of University lands in Andrews county, the situation is regarded as very favorable for production on that acreage.

SISTER IS ILL Mrs. Brice Webb was called to Midland this week by the serious illness of her sister, who is in a Midland hospital. The ill woman had shown slight improvement when Mrs. Webb returned home Wednesday.

Mexico Offers The Tourist Much, Is Travelers' Version

Highways There Being Built For Safety, Pleasure Of Motoring Public

Mexico as a land of mystery—at least where the motorist is concerned—will soon be no more. As a country of glamour and romance, of unsurpassed natural beauty, of inspiring contrast between a civilization that was and one that is to be, and of new challenge to the exploring traveler, Mexico as a tourist mecca soon will have new appeal as a result of the mapping of the country's roadways by James D. McClure, American map-maker.

Commissioned by the Mexican government and working in close cooperation with its departments of education, interior, forestry, fish and game, communications and highways, McClure and his bride recently completed a 14-months' tour of the country, an extension of what was to have been a 6-months' honeymoon jaunt.

After covering more than 22,500 miles in their survey of Mexican highway facilities, the McClures returned recently to this country with this report:

"It is absolutely safe to motor in Mexico." That is the one fact motorists to Mexico should know, said McClure, a National Automobile Road Scout and authorized investigator for the Mexican Automobile Association as well as the national tourist department.

According to McClure, Mexico has performed miracles in carrying out her tremendous program of highway construction. The first completed link in her network, and the first division of the proposed Pan-American highway to the Panama Canal, is the excellent road between Laredo, Tex., and Mexico City, D. F., the nation's capital.

Mexican engineers have spanned the desert barrier just south of the Rio Grande, pierced the jungle lowlands of the "tierra caliente," and crossed the lofty peaks of the Sierra Occidente onto the high plateau where lies Mexico City. Excepting a short stretch now being paved, the McClures report, this entire route may be traveled in comfort and safety—the section under construction is rough but passable. For the first time, the American motorist may drive his own car from any part of temperate America directly into the tropics. The continental south from Mexico City 300 miles, over good, safe roads, to Acapulco, a city set in tropical surroundings which might have been lifted bodily from some South Seas paradise.

"Picking orchids in the morning and having a snowball battle in the afternoon," stated McClure, "are comparisons which show the nature of the country through which we traveled, but they also testify to the diversified conditions under which our Chevrolet was operated."

"From sea level to volcano summit; from the extreme heat and humidity of the lowlands to the cold rarefied atmosphere of mountain top, without carburetor adjustment, our car made an excellent showing, without noticeable depreciation in power or performance."

Obviously looking for the most adverse traveling conditions, the McClures drove over burro trails that never had felt the imprint of auto tires; on crude roads built for primitive native vehicles; through swampland and mountain passes never before undertaken by auto.

The honeymooning couple, who drove a standard half-ton panel Chevrolet truck, reported a mileage record of 18.3 miles per gallon and economical oil consumption. This showing was made in spite of the fact that the engine was tuned but once on the entire jaunt, and in spite of the fact it was necessary to omit changing oil in one period when they covered 8,000 miles of rugged travel. "One five-week trip of ours can best be visualized by thinking of a continuous—and mighty bad—detour from Seattle to San Diego," said McClure, "and I mean a detour that would have been called bad 50 years ago!"

The McClure itinerary took in the four principal roads of Mexico as well as the uncharted by-paths. These main highways are from Laredo to Mexico City, Mexico City-Acapulco, Mexico City-Vera Cruz and Mexico City-Guadalajara. Those roads were logged mile for mile by the American map-maker, and thoroughly photographed. The work of the McClures has been lauded by the Mexican government, while their maps have been certified as official by all interested government departments.

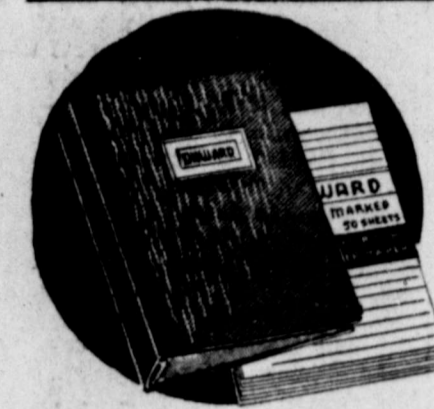

"It is safe to say," McClure asserted, "that in our travels from sea level in the tropics to an elevation of 15,000 feet, we encountered every conceivable type of road and operating condition under which a car could perform. And we have nothing but praise for the performance of our Chevrolet. Rugged and dependable, combining thrift and pow-

ROTAN FIELD EXTENDED AS TEST IS COMPLETED

The Rotan oil field was extended one half mile eastward shortly before noon Wednesday, when the Tidewater Associated Oil Co. No. 1 B. A. Waddell eastern outpost well was completed for an estimated daily potential production of 3,000 barrels.

This test had been regarded by oil men as one of the most important in the field, and is the fifth producer to be brought in in the area. Potential was estimated with tools still in the hole. The drillers encountered a show of gas Tuesday night and closed down until early Wednesday. The pay sand was topped at 3,492 feet and the drill stem penetrated to a total depth of 3,505 feet.

Structure of the No. 1 Waddell was said by drillers to run approximately 15 feet higher than the Tidewater's No. 1 Ernest Smith, which oilmen regard as highly significant in relation to the pool.

The No. 1 Waddell was delayed in reaching production when drilling machinery had to be replaced.

The potential production of the Morrow No. 2 is estimated at 6,000 barrels.

Magnolia Production Company was still drilling plug in its No. 1 Smith Wednesday afternoon, the well expected to be brought in sometime during the day. This well is an east offset to the Tidewater No. 1 Smith, which is making 2,700 barrels daily.

Anderson, Galbraith and Cooper, it was reported, had been ordered by the Railroad Commission to correct plug the No. 1 Colwell, which has been oozing salt water through a faulty metal cap.

WILL ROGERS SHRINE TOUCHES THE HEAVENS

Up on Cheyenne mountain, half a mile above the Broadmoor hotel near Colorado Springs, Colo., Spencer Penrose has built this beautiful Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun. On the backbone of America, it is as near as man can build to Will's celestial resting place. The picture seemingly shows Will Rogers in the heavens, smiling his approval of this memorial, which is now open and will be dedicated Sept. 4, 5 and 6 with a world-wide Will Rogers memorial rodeo on the Broadmoor polo grounds. This is the bronze bust of Rogers, made for the shrine by Jo Davidson, noted sculptor who also recently was commissioned to make a similar bust of Rogers for the state of Oklahoma to be placed in the National Statuary hall in Washington, D. C.

RODEO ARENA WILL OFFER CONVENIENCE ALONG WITH BEST IN WESTERN TALENT

Long Tiers Of Seats Placed
For Visitors; Chutes and Other Facilities Will Be
New and Adequate

That Chairman H. F. Ward of the rodeo committee and his aides mean to provide every facility for comfort of visitors at the rodeo and horse, mule and jack show at Cantrill Field Friday and Saturday is to be realized when one visits the stadium.

Long tiers of seats have been built onto those already in place at the field. The chutes leading from pens to the arena and other facilities for staging the rodeo are all in place and were built with the idea of stability in mind. Spectators should have no fear of dodging a wild steer that has crashed a fence.

The powerful arc lights atop towering poles about the field have been given inspection by electricians in that there be no disappointment there as the two night shows are being staged.

Patrons of the rodeo shows are requested to obtain admission tickets before reporting at the gate. This will avoid confusion and delay in handling the crowds. The tickets may be obtained at the W. L. Doss drug store.

FIRST, THERE'S AN IDEA

All good things begin with an idea. Improved motor fuels, better motor oils are no exception to that rule. So Humble's continuous improvement policy puts a premium on ideas. First, a technician gets an idea; he and his fellows elaborate it, theorize about it, satisfy themselves it's sound. Then they test it in the laboratory, that graveyard of many ideas which look good on paper. If the idea passes the laboratory test, the supreme test of all awaits it—the open road. The new product, the improved product, goes through a gruelling grind no ordinary driving would ever give it. Then—if it stands up—it's offered to you.

When, therefore, we invite you to test our Humble products in your car, we're confident you'll like them. We have tested them ourselves and we know they're good!

EDITORIAL

MORE ABOUT BAPTISM

Some time ago we had an article on Baptism, showing that Baptism was a church ordinance and one was baptized for church membership and not for salvation. Some of our good friends answered it. Since then the following questions have been submitted:

1. Is baptism a part of the Gospel?
2. Does baptism belong to the righteousness of God, or to the righteousness of man?
3. Does baptism belong to the law as given by Moses, or to the grace and truth which came by Jesus Christ?
4. Can a man be a Baptist, without baptism?
5. Does a man become a Baptist by faith or baptism?
6. Does he look to Christ or water baptism for church membership?
7. Is baptism a commandment of God?
8. Will a man be saved while in disobedience to God's commandments?

Answered

1. "Is baptism a part of the gospel?" If by the term "gospel" is meant that part of the word of truth the Holy Spirit uses in the salvation of a lost soul, it is not. Baptism does not enter into the making of a Christian. Repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ are the only essentials to life and salvation. As baptism is the answer of a good conscience toward God, the sinner's conscience must be made good before he can be baptized. As the blood of Jesus is the only thing that can purge the conscience and purify the heart, one must experience the blood of Jesus before he is baptized. Salvation first, then baptism.

2. "Does baptism belong to the righteousness of God or the righteousness of man?" Baptism is an act of righteousness only when it is observed by a child of God; a born-again one, a Christian. If one who is not a Christian is immersed in order to become a Christian it is neither the righteousness of God nor of man. It is disobedience.

3. "Does baptism belong to the law as given by Moses, or to the grace and truth which came by Jesus Christ?" Baptism is a Christian ordinance designed to set forth in symbol the burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ as the Lord's supper does His death. Baptism is not an Old Testament law which one must obey or he damned; it is a New Testament command to be observed through love of Christ.

4. "Can a man be a Baptist without baptism?" In belief only. 5. "Does a man become a Baptist by faith or baptism?" By both. One who believes the New Testament as interpreted by Baptists since the days of the Apostles is a Baptist at heart. He cannot however identify himself with the Baptist people and be known and recognized as a Baptist until he is baptized upon a credible profession of his faith.

6. "Does he look to Christ or to water baptism for church membership?" He looks to Christ first for regeneration, and then to the church for baptism, both of which are prerequisites to church membership.

7. "Is baptism a commandment of God?" Yes, it is a commandment given to disciples, or Christians, but not to unsaved persons.

8. "Will a man be saved while in disobedience to God's commandments?" No; an unsaved man will not be saved while in disobedience to God's commandments to him, but God has not commanded an unsaved man to be baptized. He commands him to repent of his sins and to believe on Christ. To thus repent and believe is to "obey the gospel." He receives life and forgiveness, and becomes a fit subject for scriptural baptism.

Remarks: Jesus commands us to "Go and make disciples of all the nations," and then baptize them. Matt. 28:19. "Disciples were called Christians at Antioch" (Acts 11:26). A disciple is a Christian. "Jesus made and baptized disciples" (John 4:1). He made disciples before He baptized them, just as He has commanded us to do. He baptized none but disciples, or Christians. He has commanded us to baptize none but disciples, or Christians; no infants, no seekers, no probationers, no unpardoned sinners. Hence to be obedient we must insist on a regenerated church membership, and baptize none except those who claim to be Christians. "Obedience is better than sacrifice."

P. S.: This closes the discussion in this column. No more from either side. They told me down at the Record office if I did not quit trying to make Baptists out of the Record readers they would take this column away from me.

READ GOOD BOOKS

We direct this article this week to the school faculty from the football coach on down to the superintendent. Our object is to have the teachers encourage the students to read good books.

The book containing the most important knowledge man can possibly acquire, knowledge which he needs most, is the Bible. Whether one be a Christian or not; whether he be pagan, or one who is indifferent to all things called religious, he can find every word of advice, every admonition, every suggestion as to right living and right dealing within its pages.

With regard to the correctness of the assertion made by some that a book is the best company one can have, it depends upon the nature of the book's contents. If a good book, it is true; if a bad book, it is worse than a bad person who is a companion for a while, then leaves you. The bad book may be always at hand and the association much more often and more intimate than that of a person who is seen only occasionally.

No teacher can do any one service calculated to benefit the student, that will do more to promote his welfare and happiness, than to cultivate in him the habit of reading. The teaching of ethics, right conduct and the practice of the virtues can be done perhaps more successfully by inducing studious habits, especially the reading of good books.

If the student becomes disposed to resent the study of books that bear on religious subjects, the teaching of ethics and social obligation can be done more successfully perhaps by taking up these matters from the standpoint of their everyday application. He should know why the wrong IS wrong, which is because it injures, hurts, destroys, makes unhappy.

He should be told that the fact that great and wise men say these things does not make them right. Even that which Jesus said was not right because HE SAID it, but that HE SAID it because it was RIGHT.

So it is with the teachings and admonitions of all men and women who have learned by experience, or from books of wisdom written by others, what the most important things of life are. They do not try to induce others to accept them as right because they say they are, but that they say they are right because the experience of the ages has found them to be so.

Fortunate is the boy or girl who in early childhood finds books of value agreeable companions. Fortunate are the parents who have such children. Fortunate the city and community in which they grow to manhood and womanhood. Fortunate to have a school faculty teaching the students to read good books.

LET'S COMPROMISE

The writer is persuaded that if the world's problems are solved without bloodshed it must be through the method of compromise. The word compromise, to many, has come to have a sinister suggestion, an implication of weakness, of yielding convictions, of surrender. Yet it is the only method of peaceable, orderly progress.

I have always been a great admirer of Henry Clay, who is known in history as the Great Compromiser. If we had had more Henry Clays in the period from 1826 to 1860, the great, cruel, useless, destructive Civil War, with its terrible aftermath of hate and misgovernment, would have been prevented. Slavery would have been abolished gradually without the awful holocaust of bloodshed, suffering and economic loss that overwhelmed the Nation.

If civilization is to advance, nay, if it is to survive, the nations of the earth must adopt the spirit of compromise. They must learn the give-and-take attitude, willingness to recognize the rights and claims of other nations, disposition to make concessions and sacrifices for the good of the whole world. If America is to solve the critical social-economic-political problems that threaten to engulf us and to lead to disaster, we, too, must learn the lesson of compromise. The power and the greed of entrenched wealth must become willing to yield some of its asserted rights, its rugged individualism, its laissez faire philosophy, or we are heading for revolution. The extremes of capitalism on the one hand and Communism or radical Socialism on the other must be willing to find a middle ground of social democracy, where all can prosper without oppression of any, or we are headed toward catastrophe. Some compromise between employers and employees must be worked out if the health of industry is to be conserved and promoted.

NEWSPAPERMEN AND PREACHERS

Preachers and newspapermen have lots in common, only a preacher doesn't have to describe a bride's dress and how she blushed when the groom kissed her and that the groom is a big oil man when he is only running a filling station, or a drygoods man when he has just started clerking in the store. A preacher has a congregation and a newspaperman has a subscription list and the non-paying members in both instances are the ones who give you fits.

We told you all the time that it would not do for Bro. Jameson and Bro. Patterson to live in the same yard. The first thing Bro. Jameson tried to do was to make a Methodist of Bro. Patterson and he got along very well until it came to infant baptism then the whole argument went with the wind.

All of which reminds us of an oft-repeated rural joke that has two farmers, neighbors, agreeing that it is not best for all of us to hold the same opinions. As an illustration, one remarked that if every man saw as he did every man would want his wife. The other replied, "And if all were like me nobody would have her." Bickering ferments but a many-sided discussion preserves the truth.

Ten years ago the railroads were sniping quite a bit on their own account while the general public had hardly awakened to the possibilities in this field. Today the common carriers on both steel rails and highways seem to have effected a truce. Both are essentials of public convenience and necessity. It is to be hoped that the public has outgrown the childish and shortsighted policy of harassing these legitimate agencies. Truck and bus operators welcome reasonable regulation and they are paying their fair share toward the highway bill through a vast sum of annual taxes. They deserve, along with the railroads, a break in the form of freedom from oppression.

Our city farmers are so many beehives swarming with ideas about rural rehabilitation. Nothing gives us greater pleasure than to tell a dirt farmer how to run his business. Next to Uncle Sam, we have more bright ideas than you can shake a stick at. Secretary Wallace is journalism's greatest gift to scientific farm management. We have never been asked to serve as Secretary of Agriculture, but there is always the chance one of these agricultural clubs will be foolish enough to ask us to air our views before them. And are we loaded for bear when it comes to this ever-normal creamery, the cotton contract tear-up campaign or even this soil-corroding plan!

We notice where a merchant who had been boarding paper money for years in an old suitcase, upon opening it recently found to his great surprise a large wasp nest covered with wasps. They had used his entire fortune to build their nest. Must have been a stinging revelation indeed.

The Ten Commandments apply to all and the Sermon on the Mount and thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians give good rules by which to live. Just what will happen to our souls after death we know not. But we do know that it is best for us to live sober and righteous lives here on earth.

This writer was accosted this week by a "downtown citizen" who said, "Your wife is a very systematic woman, isn't she?" Answer: Yes very. She works on the theory that you can find whatever you want when you don't want it by looking where it wouldn't be if you did want it.

The big boss down at the Record office in handing Bill Turner his salary check said, "Your salary is your personal business and should not be disclosed to anyone."

Bill said, "I won't mention it to anyone. I'm just as much ashamed of it as you are."

Alf Landon, whom some might remember as being a candidate for president on the Republican ticket, is now in the chicken business in Kansas. He should do well, considering the chickens he was counting before they were hatched.

After a sunny vacation, its undeniable that a woman's well-tanned shoulder blades in an evening gown seems much more virile than her husband's sunburned bald spot.

One of our preachers in the town was bragging to another preacher about having a large crowd to preach to. Yes, said the other preacher, I would not want a crowd of the same brand you have.

If we would cease inquiring what the future has in store and take as a gift whatever the day brings forth, we would probably have fewer gray hairs.

Some of our sluggish individuals, of course, won't believe the government has kept its promise until every house is piped for running, milk, soap, and honey.

Another thing every married man knows is that he usually gets a better dessert for dinner on the day his wife entertains her bridge club—especially if there's any left.

Yachts are called she because their rigging is so expensive.

NEGRO BOY EFFICIENT AT 'FICKING' CHICKENS

A local negro boy admitted to Sheriff Gregory the other day that he might be good "at picking chickens." "All right," said the sheriff. "You report at the Abbott poultry house Thursday and we will see how fast you can get those feathers off." "I thought you meant picking 'em off the roost," the boy explained with evidences of confusion spreading about his face.
