

COLORADO SCHOOLS START ON ANOTHER YEAR'S WORK 1,152 STUDENTS ENROLLED

High School Receives Largest Registration In History; Enrollment At All Other Buildings Show Slump

The Colorado schools opened Monday morning with an initial enrollment of 1,152 students for the six buildings, a total approximately 350 below that expected by school authorities. The declining figure is explained in fact that many of the students living in rural homes are assisting their parents in the cotton and grain harvest.

While total enrollment for the system was 83 below that of a year ago, the high school registered the largest enrollment in history with 434 students received in the four grades. Last year initial enrollment in high school was 430. Total enrollment in all buildings a year ago was 1,235 for opening day.

There was no formal program at any of the buildings. At the high and junior high schools students met in the auditorium for a brief chapel meeting to hear announcements by faculty members. There were no visiting speakers present.

Following is enrollment Monday for the respective buildings: High school, 434; junior high, 293; Hutchinson school, 148; Coleman school, 159; Mexican school, 48, and Negro school, 70.

The loss of students for opening day this year as compared with a year ago was distributed as follows: Junior high, 17; Hutchinson, 7; Coleman, 51; Mexican, 2; and Negro, 10. A gain of 4 in high school placed net loss for the year at 83.

Superintendent J. E. Watson stated Tuesday morning that the deficit in student enrollment was expected to be taken up within the next few days as rush of the cotton harvest is out of the way. The district has the largest scholastic population in history with a total of 1,513 students listed, and he is confident that not less than fifteen hundred boys and girls will be attending classes regularly before long.

Little Disturbance Listed As Frontier Celebration Is Held

Sheriff and Police Indicate Quiet Prevails Through The Three Days, Nights

There was little reports of law violation coming to attention of the police and sheriff's departments during the three days and nights of the Frontier Round-up, heads of the law enforcement units reported Monday morning.

A few rowdies and drunks were rounded up and jailed and even these offenders of the law were not bothering any one, it was indicated. Sheriff Gregory and Police Chief Hickman both stated that it had been one of the best behaved celebrations held here in years.

"The officers appreciate very much this exemplification of good citizenship as indicated by the thousands of visitors in Colorado during the celebration," said the sheriff. "The fine record maintained by these visitors is another reflection of the splendid citizenship of this county."

Several special police were commissioned by the city for duty during the celebration. Five members of the State highway patrol, too, were detailed for duty in Colorado during the time.

A number of prominent attorneys in this section of West Texas are to attend patriotic program in Ruddick Park Friday evening in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States, the directing committee stated Tuesday.

All three justices of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, including Chief Justice W. P. Leslie and Associate Justices O. C. Punderberg and Clyde Grissom, will be present. The Honorable Thos. E. Hayden, Jr., of Abilene, former mayor of that city, is to deliver the principal address.

EIGHT THOUSAND WITNESS PARADE STAGED IN HONOR OF MITCHELL OLD TIMERS

Eight thousand West Texans, the most of whom were pioneers and descendants of those citizens of Mitchell county, jammed streets in the business district Friday afternoon to witness passing of the longest and most picturesque parade ever staged in this city. The pageantry was presented as one of the high lights on three days celebration in honor of the pioneers.

Covered wagons and other antedated vehicles of the vintage in popular usage when men and women turned their faces westward to establish the first homes in this section, rumbled through the street. There were chuck wagons, long sections of cowboys and cowgirls and other units to depict the Colorado City and Mitchell county of years ago, along with the modern motor car and beautifully decorated floats.

Three bands, one of which brought fame to Colorado in other years, blasted popular music as the parade moved. The old band was that of the chamber of commerce organization under direction of Sam Goldman that in the early twenties won distinction of being the gold medal band of West Texas and the official musical organization of the Broadway of America. The others were the high school band, led by its drum major, Nina Katherine Quinney, and the Stamford American Legion band, led by C. M. Watson, a former Coloradoan.

A squad of five State highway patrolmen, detailed here from the Big Spring and Abilene offices, led the line of march. Police Chief Dick Hickman and Sheriff R. E. Gregory, parade marshals, rode next with Little Joan Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mills, leading the parade proper. She rode on horseback.

Congressman George Mahon, recently home after eight months in Washington; C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, and Mayor J. A. Sadler, parade chairman, all attired in four gallon hats and other cowboy regalia, were next. A detachment of Boy Scouts served as color bearers.

Then came into view the memorial section—a portrayal that sent a feeling of reverence through the throng and caused hundreds of citizens to remove their hats. In the unit were 25 paint-riders on ponies with the saddle stirrups turned up and carrying name of a deceased pioneer. The ponies were led by Boy Scouts with U. G. Hardison in charge.

DEARTH OF LABORERS FOR COTTON HARVEST RETARDS MOVEMENT OF CROP HERE

Pickers Needed In All Parts Of County, CC Indicates Thursday; Prices Remain Unchanged During Week

The cotton fields of Mitchell county are offering employment to 2,000 people and in consideration of the fact that the cotton, as a rule, is good, and the price for picking listed at 75 cents per hundred pounds, the jobs should prove lucrative, according to the chamber of commerce.

Scarcity of pickers is holding up movement of the crop into Colorado and other concentration centers of the county, Carl Blasig, manager of the CC, stated. Cotton is opening rapidly in all parts of the county and weather conditions are most favorable for picking. Farmers are offering 50 cents per hundred pounds for pulling "bolies," Blasig said.

The chamber of commerce has filed application with the Texas Employment Service regional office in Abilene that pickers be routed to Mitchell county. Picking is slowing up in many parts of South and East Texas, it was indicated and laborers employed in the cotton fields there have already started moving westward. Blasig expressed the opinion it would be next week, probably ten days, before pickers in any appreciable number could be obtained locally.

More than five thousand bales had been received at gin plants of the county Thursday noon, weekly report at The Record office disclosed. No report was received from gins at Valley View and Hyman and plants at Colorado, Loraine, Westbrook and Buford had received 4,954 bales.

Prices paid the producer remained practically unchanged during the past week, a condition that has prevailed since soon after opening the season. Cotton quotations here Thursday morning were based around nine cents a pound. Seed, posted at $20 a ton during the past two weeks, was still bringing that figure.

Colorado continues to lead all other points in the county in the number of bales received for the season with 2,984 bales ginned. Loraine reported 1,657 bales received, Westbrook an even thousand and Buford 213 bales, placing total for the season in the county at 4,954.

In spite of a scarcity of pickers in practically all parts of the county, receipts during the week climbed to 2,165 bales, an increase of 729 over the previous week when 1,366 bales were reported ginned.

OLD STREET CAR TRUCKS EXHIBITED IN COLORADO

A set of flanged trucks on which the little street cars rolled through the streets of "Colorado City" a half century ago, was on display here during the Frontier Round-up. They were brought to town by Bill Berry of Cuthbert and exhibited on the curb at Second and Walnut.

Another pair of the car trucks are owned by Robert Scott, Hyman rancher. Several of the pioneers here for the celebration, including residents of Colorado, recalled that they had ridden on the small, mule-drawn cars.

Death Claims J. N. Burk, 69, Who Carried Petition For County's First Rural School

Death claimed John N. Burk, 69, familiarly known to many Mitchell countyans as "Uncle Johnny" Burk, at a local hospital Tuesday night at 11 o'clock. He had undergone emergency surgery for appendicitis Monday.

Mr. Burk was a resident of Mitchell county for over 40 years. Traveling from farm to farm on horseback, he circulated the petition which resulted in the organization of the first rural school district in the county more than 30 years ago. That district was the Longfellow school. From that time forward, he was closely connected with rural education in Mitchell county, serving as trustee at Longfellow, Looney, Shepherd and other rural schools.

Born in Clay county, Alabama, January 2, 1868, Mr. Burk came to Texas as a young man and settled in Williamson county. It was while living there that he met and married

Pioneer Leader In Song Ass'n To Be Honored In March

Four-County Convention Will Convene Here In Tribute To W. L. Doss, Sr.

W. L. Doss, Sr., pioneer leader in organized song conventions in this and other West Texas counties, is to be honored by the Four County Singing association as its next semi-annual convention is held on Second Sunday in March, 1938. The 3,500 singers attending convention in Snyder Sunday voted to hold the next gathering here in tribute to the Colorado drug-gist and music enthusiast.

Doss, speakers addressing the convention in Snyder recalled, pioneered organized singing of gospel hymns in this section of West Texas. He led in organization of the Mitchell County Singing association some 35 years ago and has since been an active official in that group. He has served the organization as president several times.

Due to illness Mr. Doss was unable to attend the Snyder meeting.

FIVE GAITED HORSE SHOW SATURDAY NIGHT RECEIVED AS HIGH SPOT ATTRACTION

Frank Kelley Brings First Of Such Features To The City As Royalty Is Presented To Cheering Spectators

The five gaited horse show presented in arena of the Frontier Round-up rodeo Saturday night was accepted by hundreds of West Texans witnessing the feature as one of the high spots offered visitors during the three days and nights.

The show marked first time that such an aggregation of royalty in the way of highly bred and trained horses and colts had been presented here. The five saddle horses entered in the special event each displayed strong technique and poise as they carried their graceful mounts about the arena under lights of Cantrill Field.

Dixie Pride, one of the mares rode in the show, was bred and foaled on the Spade ranch, a fact pointed to with pride by several of the visitors present. The individual was ridden by Frank Kelley, her owner and trainer.

Another Colorado owned individual was ridden in the show, in Mackey's Mickey, owned by P. K. Mackey and ridden by Robert May. May trained the animal.

Rex Dupont, owned by Bay Robertson of Midland and ridden by Chappel Davis of that city, won first place in the five gaited arena.

June Bride, owned and ridden by Jeanne Davis of Midland, was given second prize, and Sandman, owned by Chappel Davis and ridden by Mrs. Lloyd Summers of Tulsa, Oklahoma, won third.

In the gaited colt division first prize went to C. E. McLaughlin of the Diamond M ranch and stock farm of Seurry county. Scarlett O'Hara, owned by Mrs. Frank Kelley of Colorado, won second, and Colonel Kelley, owned by J. J. Billingsley of Colorado, third.

The attraction drew horse fanciers from Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder and other points in West Texas. Wade Winston of Snyder was judge of the show.

Presentation of highly bred and trained horses as feature attraction at Future Colorado City Frontier Round-up gatherings is already assured, according to Kelley. Organization of a five gaited horse circuit, including Colorado, Midland, San Angelo, Abilene and probably other cities, is being considered among citizens of these communities.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Nancy Ann Porter, 3, died instantly during tonsillectomy at the hospital Wednesday morning. One tonsil had been removed when the heart and respiration suddenly ceased. Forced oxygen inhalation by artificial respiration and other methods of resuscitation were employed for almost an hour, but to no avail. Dr. C. L. Root, attending surgeon, made this statement later: "Our regrets cannot be expressed, yet our conscience is without remorse. It was just one of those unforeseen tragedies that come occasionally to all hospitals."

Two tonsillectomies were performed Thursday morning for Joe Bob Conaway and John Miller Conaway of Colorado. They are doing nicely. Appendicitomies have been performed during the past week for Lucille Berry on Friday morning and for Hubert Murphy on Friday afternoon. Both are doing well. A daughter, Glenda Darlene, was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hines of Westbrook last Thursday night. Patients for minor surgery during the week were Mrs. C. L. Boyd of Coahoma and Mrs. M. B. Nail of Colorado.

Mrs. V. A. Hale, night nurse, has moved to Robert Lee to live. Her place is being filled by Patsy Miller Fowler.

Methodist Women Plan To Open Study Course

Plans to open their study course with a tea some time in the near future were made by members of the Arnett-Wulfjen circle of First Methodist church Monday afternoon.

The opening affair will be arranged by Mrs. J. T. Pritchett, study superintendent, and circle leaders. The study is to be on "What Is This Moslem World?" The women were urged to hear a Persian lecture to be given at the church on Sept. 26.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, circle chairman, welcomed returning members and outlined plans for work to be undertaken with the beginning of the fall season.

It was reported that 40 women had registered at the cooking school preceding the circle meeting. Mrs. Mattie Merrill read the opening scripture, and Mrs. W. H. Garrett offered the opening prayer. The circle sent a love offering to the circuit pastor and his wife. A rummage sale was planned for Saturday.

Deb Taylor was the only guest. Twelve members were present.

MERITS OF TRENCH SILO WILL BE SEEN BY VISIT TO ONE, BASKIN STATES

Merits of the trench silo will be easily understood by a visit to one of these underground feed containers, Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, is suggesting.

On a placard on display in lobby of the City National bank the county agent suggests that visits be made to any of the following silos:

The J. B. Mills place near Horn's Chapel; S. O. Wulfjen ranch, 20 miles south of Colorado; T. L. Holman, Colorado, Route 3, or Gus D. and W. J. Chesney of Dorn community.

Mills is feeding out of his silo at the present time, it is stated. The Chesney silo, filled in November, 1935, was opened a few months ago and closed again after about one-half of the silage had been used.

LORRAINE COMMUNITY FAIR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Plans are going forward in arrangement of exhibits and entertainment for Lorraine's two-day community fair Friday and Saturday, Sept. 17 and 18th.

An exhibit of farm, school and textile display, is to be housed in the theater during the two days. Entries are being made with promise of this department being good.

Street parade Friday afternoon, fiddlers contest at the band stand Friday night, concert by the town band directed by Harold Martin, merry-go-round and fairground concessions are listed as entertaining features as stated by J. W. King, general chairman.

FUNERAL RITES FOR JOHN W. TIDWELL

Funeral rites for John W. Tidwell, conducted by Clyde Childers, Baptist pastor of Westbrook, were held from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. T. Comer, Monday morning. Interment was made in the Lorraine cemetery.

Decensed, age 58 years, came here from Cleburne last March in interest of his health. He passed away at the home of his sister Saturday morning. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. He united with the Baptist church at an early age. A large crowd attended rites.

Active pallbearers were: Frank Beights, Clifton Henderson, Bud Shepherd, Bailey Tolson, Messrs. Carlock and Herrington.

P. T. A.

The first meeting of the Lorraine P. T. A. met in business session at the school auditorium last Thursday afternoon. Committee reports were given and business plans were made. The P. T. A. work has started its new year and as stated by publicity chairman needs everybody to make Lorraine school a progressive school. Much may be accomplished in its progress if all will get interested, cooperate and work.

All old friends, former patrons and particularly the new patrons from the bus line districts are invited to come. The Lorraine school will now be your school home and hearty invitation is extended to all your children and the Lorraine school needs your presence and interest.

There is to be a play "The Flapper Grandmothers" presented for the benefit of the P. T. A. soon. Please watch for future announcements as this play is going to be good. The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be the annual social meeting October 7th.

Farmers Advised Not Take Heavy Loan On Cotton

Sell Amount Equal To That Placed With Government Is Suggestion Given

A warning against placing too much cotton poundage under government loans unless the price drops far below nine cents was sounded Wednesday by County Agent O. P. Griffin of Howard county.

He reminded farmers that it is not necessary to take the loan in order to get the adjustment payment promised for cooperation in next year's program.

"With the information we now have, it appears to be the best policy to sell an amount equal to the poundage on which the adjustment payment can be had (65 per cent of your base acres multiplied by the adjusted yield per acre)," said Griffin.

From that point on, it becomes a matter of decision—whether the farmer wants to sell or holds for a better price. If he elects to hold, it probably will be the wise move to take the government loan as a precautionary move.

He added that the adjustment payments are dependent upon cooperation in the 1938 program. An additional incentive to get into next year's program is the soil conservation and improvement payments.

In commenting on the loans, Griffin said in reviewing the provisions: "Cotton loans will be made to farmers on cotton they produced this season. If the cotton is middling or better grade and 7-8 inch or better staple the loan value is nine cents per pound; if 13-16 inch staple and middling or better eight cents per pound and if 7-8 or better staple and low middling or strict low grade 7 1/2 cents per pound. There will be no loan on cotton below 13-16 staple no matter how high the grade. Likewise no loan on 13-16 staple below middling grade, and no loan on any staple below low middling grade.

"The purpose of the loan is to stabilize the price. All farmers are free to sell any or all of their cotton and it would be best that this be done rather than place it under loan just because the government is offering the loan. In other words a farmer who sells will be considered just as loyal to the government program as one who takes the loan.

"The subsidy or adjustment payment will be made as a part of the 1938 program. Three cents per pound is the largest payment that can be made. If practically all growers qualify for this payment it will be made on approximately 65 per cent of the base yield of each farm. If

Football Schedule Adopted At Parley Held Monday Eve

C. A. Wilkins, Area Chairman Presides At Meeting In Sweetwater

Official football schedule for District 6-B was adopted during meeting of the executive committee convened Monday night in Sweetwater with Principal C. A. Wilkins of Colorado, chairman, presiding.

All seven of the schools in the district were represented at the meeting. Wilkins stated after his return to Colorado, the schools are Colorado, Lorraine, Merkel, Roby, Roscoe, Rotan and Snyder.

The following schedule was adopted for the Wolves:

- Sept. 17—Stanton at Colorado.
- Sept. 24—Hamlin at Colorado.
- Oct. 1—Merkel at Colorado.
- Oct. 8—Rotan at Colorado.
- Oct. 15—Lorraine at Colorado.
- Oct. 22—Roscoe at Roscoe.
- Nov. 19—Roby at Colorado.
- Nov. 25—Snyder at Snyder.

BASKINS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Baskin returned home Sunday after being away for over a week. Mr. Baskin attended a meeting of county farm agents at A. & M. while Mrs. Baskin visited her parents in Iowa. They returned home via Cameron.

only a part qualify for the payment it may extend to a larger percentage of the base yield.

"The base yield is the base acres multiplied by the yield per acre as adjusted by the county committee.

"For example a farmer has a 100 acre cotton base adjusted to 120 pounds per acre, the base yield for this farm is 12,000 pounds of lint cotton. If it qualifies, the adjustment payment will be 65% of this or 7,800 pounds of lint. If the average price of cotton should remain at or below nine cents the payment will be three cents per pound. Bales sold on a day when the average price of middling 7-8 cotton is above nine cents the payment will be the difference between 12 cents and the market on the date of sale. The farm used in the above illustration must have sold 7,800 pounds of lint before July 1st of next year. It does not appear advisable to place this 7,800 pounds under the loan unless the market goes considerably below nine cents. We want to emphasize the fact that a farmer does not have to take the loan in order to get the adjustment payment."

Dawson Is Charged With First Degree Murder By Jurors

Nolan County Court Will Try Defendant On Indictment Based On Parker's Death

Bill Dawson, former Roscoe peace official, was indicted by grand jury in 32nd district court at Sweetwater Friday afternoon on the charge of first degree murder. The indictment was based on death of A. J. Parker, mayor of Roscoe, who was shot to death on a street in that town on June 4 of this year.

The bill of indictment charges that Dawson "with malice aforethought" fatally wounded Parker as the two met on the street. Trial of the case has been tentatively set for September 27. Under the indictment Dawson may be assessed the death penalty upon conviction.

Twenty-two other indictments were reprinted by the grand jury at the same time. Thirteen of the bills charged were based on drunken driving charges.

ERWINS ON TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Erwin, John Erwin of Lamesa, and Mrs. Arlie Taylor left Monday morning for a two-weeks visit in Huntsville and Smithville, Tennessee, all Scottsboro, Alabama. These towns are the places where they spent their childhood. Mr. Erwin's family is to have a reunion while he is there. They will also visit a daughter in Loggotee, Indiana.

Seal Bros. Circus To Visit Colorado During Fall Season

Free Street Parade Will Be Attraction For Kiddies, Advance Agent States

With the coming of Fall means the coming of the circus, the advance men of the Seal Bros. Circus were in the city this week making the final arrangements for the coming of their circus. Seal Bros. Circus needs no introduction to the circus loving people of Texas as they come to Colorado well recommended from other towns and cities where they have exhibited this season as well as in former years as having one of the cleanest and most pleasing circus performances ever to visit this territory. The advance men promise some of the worlds best and greatest features to be seen this year among some of the new and added features this season are the Romig Rooney troupe of international barback riders unquestionably the greatest riders of all time—six in number, the Henry Duo, dancing, bounding somersaulting wizards of the tight wire; Jimmie Goodwin, daredevil deluxe; Miss Lolo Unrath, the queen of the air, the worlds greatest trapezist; the Smith Troupe of Australian horsemen and equestrians; an army of famous funny clowns to furnish the fun.

The wild animal displays are presented by Ali Ben Rowman who presents the worlds greatest herd of trained elephants, tigers, lions and pumas. The Horse Fair of Kentucky bred gaited High School Horses are presented by Col. Fred Anderson and a dozen lady riders.

Sunny Mexico which is a gorgeous, glittering procession of the Rio Grande is the pageant which is presented as a prelude to the circus proper. A grand free street parade will be held at noon where you will see every known animal from the animal kingdom.

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE

25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

25 YEARS AGO

Continuation of the Sneed-Boyce feud in Amarillo through the murder of Al Boyce, Jr., by Beal Sneed made front page news in The Record for Sept. 20, 1912, twenty-five years ago.

Another front page story was on the dissolution of the "largest ranch in the world," the old XIT ranch which originally included 3,000,000 acres of land.

A tragedy had narrowly missed happening on a Wednesday night when several boys were examining an "unloaded" gun in the O. M. Mitchell barn. . . . The gun was in the hands of Harry Schroeder when it discharged, and Huron Costin received a scalp wound. . . .

Farmers of Mitchell county were said to be deeply interested in irrigation. . . . The white wife of Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight boxer of the world, had committed suicide because she was shamed by former friends. . . . The Record commented: "The sensitive thing—why didn't she do it before she married him?"

Mrs. C. M. Adams and children and Elsie Hooper were home after a visit in Clouderoff. . . . Leftwich Shepherd was serving drinks at the W. L. Doss Drug store. . . .

Mrs. Looney and daughter were home from the Davis mountains. . . . Sterling Dozier and family had gone to live in Clarksville, Texas. . . .

Carl Phenix was working at the Studebaker garage. . . . City Marshall Stell had "overtaken" two in the act of spitting on the sidewalk. . . .

Mrs. Ernest Keathley and sons were home from a visit in Stephens county. . . . A. J. Payne had been visiting here from San Angelo, where he had moved only a short time before.

Homer Simpson had gone to Georgetown to enter Southwestern. . . . Miburn Doss was leaving for state university. . . .

Roderic Cromer had celebrated his birthday. . . . Prizes were won at the party by Margaret Davis and Myrtle Fields. . . .

Omeira Terry was to teach at Coahoma, Miss Grace Williams in Nolan county. . . . Mrs. W. R. Smith and daughters, Frances and Dorothy, had gone back to Washington. . . . Mrs. Frank Smith of Iolanthe was visiting homefolks here. . . .

Hazel McKenzie was entering Our Lady of Victory school at Ft. Worth. . . . W. W. Watson was home from Roswell. . . . Ruby Schroeder had had a birthday party. . . . Lucille Hightower had entertained for her guest, Maxie Curry. . . .

10 YEARS AGO

Purchase of the Jack Garrett Buick agency in Colorado by H. B. Allen of Sweetwater was announced in The Record for Sept. 23, 1927. . . . B. A. Allen was to have charge. A. J. Herrington had added Pontiac and Oakland cars to his sales agency. . . . The Community Gas company was ready to start laying its mains, according to Manager Lowrey. . . .

Nelle Harper Greene was to be "Miss Colorado" at the Nolan county fair in Sweetwater. . . . Tom Hughes was making a flying helmet to be presented to Lindbergh in Abilene by the Colorado Flying club. . . . Alvin Owsley was to be here for the Colorado chamber of commerce banquet. . . .

Beatrice Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Logan, had been elected vice-president of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority in Oklahoma University. . . .

Gordon Powell, who had been working in the men's department of the Colorado Bargain House for four years, was going to work in Carlsbad, New Mexico. . . .

The Palace theater was advertising Lon Chaney in "The Unknown." . . . Walter Whipkey was architect for the building of the Midland country club. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Watson had a daughter. . . . Mrs. Andrews was recovering from an operation. . . .

Attending a Methodist missionary meeting in Big Spring from here were the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Beavers, Mrs. W. H. Garrett, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Mrs. J. W. Shepperd, Mrs. Roy Dozier, Mrs. C. L. Jones, and Miss Ruth Booth. . . .

Virginia Welch was entering Simmons University. . . . Raymond Gary was off for Texas university. . . . Q. D. Shepperd and Prentiss Viles were going to Tech. . . .

Sam Sloan was having the Colorado flying field put in shape. . . . J. H. Greene, W. S. Foster, J. T. Johnson, and W. E. Reid had attended the Scurry county fair. . . . Willie Fae Hall and Grace Hunter were entering Texas Tech. . . . Loyse Price was going to T. C. U. . . .

Laura Pearson, Emily Dulancy, Frances Dulancy, Roselle McKinney, and Mildred Cook were to be in C.I.A. . . . Jessie Stell was in McMurry. . . . Mrs. D. M. Merritt was home after a visit with her mother in Long Beach. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Haney and son, Joe Tom, had visited in Sweetwater. . . .

Ruthel McKinney was home from McMurry college. . . . Mrs. Jim Smith was home from a visit in Cisco. . . .

15 YEARS AGO

Words were being passed on the failure of the county commissioners' court to construct a temporary bridge over the Colorado river while the new viaduct on West Second street was being constructed 15 years ago, according to The Record for September 22, 1922. . . .

J. H. Greene, president of the Booster club, said that 21 vehicles had been pulled out by assistance of the "snatch" team during one day. . . .

Stores and offices were to close for the big fair opening on Friday morning from 9:30 until 12 o'clock. . . . The fair was to be officially opened "on the courthouse lawn." L. W. Sandusky was to deliver the opening address. . . .

On the program of the Christian Endeavor meeting were Darrell Skinner, Eloise Pond, Raymond Jones, Mary Broadus, and Ida Bell Bean. Teachers in the Colorado school system included G. D. Foster, L. E. Randall, Miss Gladys Steadham, Miss Flora Watts, Miss Alma Lois Lane, F. C. Lewis, Mrs. Oma Potts, Mrs. Charlie Reems Earnest, Miss Elvie Mae Saling, Miss Eril King, Mrs. Clara D. Bynum, Mrs. F. C. Lewis, Miss May Collins, Mrs. Ada Davis, Miss Una O'Neal, Miss Caroline Chambers, Miss Miriam McNutt. . . .

Loraine Hems said that Ernest Rhodes and Burr Brown of Colorado had enjoyed an outing at Lake Trammell with Misses Lois Coon and Jewell Spikes. . . . That Mr. and Mrs. Hall DeGarmo of Colorado had an 8-pound boy. . . . That Misses Swann and Cleo Farrar had entered A.C.C. . . .

It was reported that the road leading south from the highway east of Coorado and passing near the old salt works was open to traffic. . . . This road was to be used in case a heavy rain should prevent traffic from crossing the river on West

TEXAS TO REALIZE SOON TENANCY ACT BENEFITS

Benefits of the Bankhead-Jones farm tenancy law will be brought to Texas swiftly, officials of the new farm security administration announced at Austin Tuesday.

Cy Evans, regional director for Texas and Oklahoma, is now in Washington where programs for the farm security work are being formulated by Secy. Henry Wallace and FSA executives.

V. R. Smith, director for Texas of the farm security setup conferred with 10th Dist. Cong. Lyndon Johnson, and with Joe E. Stewart, district supervisor. Mr. Smith came over into this work from the rural resettlement administration which is replaced.

In the Austin district he studied particularly the needs of the rural rehabilitation section, which deals with individual loans. The broader phases of farm security will be to select suitable tenant farmers to be placed on their own land, with government assistance to permit their becoming independent home-and-land-owners.

Cong. Johnson, who helped secure passage of the farm tenancy act, expressed confidence it will materially change and better the typical status of tenant families capable of becoming farm owners.

WESTBROOK P-TA ASS'N IN ORGANIZATION MEET

The Parent-Teachers' Association met for the first regular meeting of the year Thursday, Sept. 9th, with about thirty members present. Enthusiasm was running high, and this promises to be a most successful year. We were very happy to have a number of parents from other communities, and we hope to enroll a large number of them in our association.

The treasurer reported a balance of $20.00. The program committee had the yearbook ready to print. The books will be completed and ready for distribution in a few days, and each member will be asked to pay a small charge for a copy. We voted to assist the school board in paying for chairs and tables for the primary room—this to be our major project for the year. We bought a new stove, and several needed articles for the cafeteria; and the cabinets and tables have been freshly painted. Each member present agreed to send a glass for the cafeteria, and our dishes will be replenished throughout the year by showings which will be sponsored by room representatives.

We were favored with two piano duets by Mr. Hood and Mr. Fowler, after which Mrs. Jeff A. Jones gave a most interesting and instructive discussion on "Approaching School," which is the first topic of the year's study course, "The Child in School." The members then retired to the cafeteria, where the officers served iced watermelon.

Our study group will meet with Mrs. L. E. Gressett Thursday, Sept. 23rd, at 3 o'clock p.m. Mrs. Van Boston will lead the lesson, "Getting Acquainted With His World"—the first of a series of lessons on "The Young Child in the Family." We hope to make this an interesting and profitable study course; and we especially urge the attendance of mothers with children who are pre-school age.

Vega Man Drops Dead In Colorado Tuesday Afternoon

Jobe Jackson Attacked With Heart Ailment As He Is Entering Court House

Jobe Jackson, 63, who came to Colorado from Vega on a visit two weeks ago, dropped dead as he was entering the Mitchell county courthouse shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Jackson complained of feeling badly while walking to town with Mr. Bloodworth, a friend. They entered the courthouse to get a drink of water and Jackson slumped to the floor. He was dead before medical aid reached him.

One of Jackson's daughters, Mrs. A. F. Feaster, is a pioneer resident of the Buford section of Mitchell county. Jackson lived in Mitchell county for 10 years, leaving here about 10 years ago. He lived in Stanton for a time before moving to Vega. Mrs. Jackson died in Vega in February, her death occurring in a manner similar to that of Mr. Jackson.

Funeral services for Mr. Jackson were held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Church of Christ here with J. P. Greshaw of Sweetwater officiating. Pallbearers were W. L. Lindsey, Jack Smith, John Ellis, L. F. Feaster, R. Y. Hammond, and Sam Curry.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Feaster are three sons and two daughters, Hobart Jackson of Espanola, N. M., Leo Jackson of Nashville, Tenn., Grady Jackson of Vega, Mrs. E. Jones of Vega, and Maxine Jackson of Vega. Three brothers and four sisters also survive.

Kiker & Son had charge of funeral arrangements.

Street Parade

Included in the list of pioneers to whom the memorial was dedicated were the following:

W. L. Ellwood, D. N. Arnett, Charlie Mann, Fred McKenzie, John Nunn, R. H. Looney, W. G. Jamison, J. C. Prude, Guff Beal, Tom Morrison, H. N. Gary, C. P. Conaway, Dr. P. C. Coleman, Tom Smith, Frank Robinson, Wes Allen, D. C. Byrne, J. D. Wulfjen, Dave Robinson, A. B. Robinson, Ben Van Tuyt, Nat Smith, J. M. Jenkins, Ben Piaster, and I. C. Sheffield.

Another section to elicit more than passive comment was that representing a detachment of Texas Rangers of fifty years ago. Will Warren was in charge of the unit. Others riding in the contingent were W. W. Jenkins, E. Enyart, Homer Jamigan and Charles Jamison. They carried rifles and camp equipment of the type used by those law enforcement officers.

The longest cowboy section of the parade, that entered by the Spade ranch, followed next. O. F. Jones, manager of the ranch, and 24 other cowboys and cowgirls, most of them riding the dun-colored horses for which the cattle domain is noted, and a chuck wagon drawn by two large dan mules, made up the section. Among women riding in the section were Misses Pauline and Frances Jones and Mrs. Shorty Northcutt.

Another chuck wagon, entered by J. H. Humphries of Cedar Bend, led a section of 18 horseback riders. Sixteen Shetland ponies ridden by children came next with two covered wagons following. The Stamford American Legion band was next. Joe Scallion, negro, last survivor of the old Crosstie outfit, established on Deep Creek in 1879, led a pack horse bearing band of that cattle domain and date of its establishment.

Twenty-five decorated bicycles, for the most part ridden by children, was the next section. Coach Jack Christian and his Wolves for 1937 followed on a decorated truck. The commercial section in which 35 business firms and individuals had entered decorated trucks and cars was the next section to pass in review.

Listed in this section were Barber Floral Company, J. C. Penney, Ben Franklin store, Max Berman, Hicks Rubber company, Ritz Theatre, John L. Doss, Bedford Grocery, Dr. Williams veterinary hospital, Col-Tex Refining company, Texas Electric Service company, Henry Vaught, Tidwell's Repair shop, Alexander's Garage, Wimberley Motor company, Pick & Pay grocery.

Humble Oil & Refining company, Hague & Nowell, Wilkes Motor company, Logan & Son, Dallas Morning News, City Market, Jones, Russell & Company, W. L. Doss, Palace theatre, Kiker & Son, Piggly Wiggly, Colorado Drug company, Thomas Bros., Shell Pipe Line company, Whitaker's Bakery, Mills Chevrolet company and Price Bros.

The following clubs and other organized groups entered decorated cars and trucks:

Lions Club, Shakespeare club, Zetaganian club, baby typists, in charge of Miss Elizabeth Grantland, Daughters of the King, Mitchell County Federation of Womens clubs, 1934 Sewing club, Self Culture club, Art club, American Legion Auxiliary, Hesperian club, Business & Professional Womens club, U. D. C., D. A. R. and 1921 Study club.

Chief Baldwin Parker and his group of Indians, brought here for the celebration from Cache, Oklahoma, and a car in which rode two pioneers over 90 years of age, attracted considerable interest. The pioneers were Mrs. W. J. Miller, 92, who came to Colorado in 1881, and Mrs. J. D. Sherwin, 95, a resident citizen since 1882. They rode in a car driven by Mrs. Sherwin's nephew, J. Riordan. Judges awarded first prize of $10 for the best decorated vehicle to the Lions Club. Similar prize for the most unique vehicle in the parade went to the Wolves. Why order your office supplies out of town? Get them at the Record office.

Pallbearers for Mr. Burk were all Masons, the group including Joe Pond, Benton Templeton, Jake Merritt, A. F. King, James Herrington,

J. Lee Jones, Jack Helton, N. T. Womack, and Ford Merritt. Survivors are his wife and seven children, Earl and Johnny Burk, who live near Colorado; Lester Burk of Rotan, Mrs. Ed Roach of Seven Wells, Zula Burk of near Colorado.

Mrs. Calvin Oliver and Mrs. Alice Gengrich of Greggton. One brother and five sisters, living in Alabama and Illinois, also survive. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Jones and Russell. Want ads in The Record pay.

PENNEY'S J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

FRONTIER ROUND-UP GLIMPSES

"Where's Allen Payne?" Nearly every little group of old-timers was asking that question while visiting around before they got together around the Palace theater Friday morning. . . . Allen Payne, who's still a Coloradoan, we betcha, even if he is one of Slaton's leading citizens, was tardy but he got there before the program was over. . . . With him came Mrs. Payne and, so I hear, his brother, Victor Payne. . . .

Watching the parade from in the City Hall block Friday afternoon was great fun. . . . Everybody was in a good humor, even the ones who had to yell and almost cuss their part of the parade into line. . . . Chuckwagons, covered wagons, mounted cowboys everywhere. . . . Three bands tuning up. . . . Staff photographers from two large daily newspapers snapping shots here and there. . . . Spatterings of rain now and then out of huge blue and silver clouds that passed and let the hot September sunshine through. . . .

Last surviving member of the old Crosette outfit which was established on what is now Deep Creek in 1879 is Joe Scallion, well-known Colorado negro. . . . He rode in the parade and led a packhorse-bearing the old ranch brand and date. . . .

It was a great day for two remarkable old-timers of Colorado. . . . These two were Mrs. W. J. Miller, 92, who came to Colorado in 1881, and Mrs. S. N. Sherwin, 95, who came here in 1882. . . . They rode in a car driven by Jerold Riordan, nephew of the latter, and applause greeted them all along the line. . . .

The swift, stirring tempo to which Colorado lived back in its oil-boom days was recalled vividly by a surprise feature of the parade. . . . That feature was the music which Sam Goldman, now of Big Spring, drew from a hastily-gathered band composed of the musicians who were in the Colorado Gold Medal Booster band of more than a decade ago. . . . The smiling group had no uniforms and no rehearsals, but they made the same sort of music that won prize after prize in the old days. . . . Sam Goldman doesn't direct bands for his living any more, but Friday afternoon proved that he still can if he ever wants to. . . .

Speaking of people who can make pianos "talk"—well, I nominate Mrs. Kirk Taylor of Loraine, who played while the old settlers were assembling for their get-together program Friday morning at the Palace theater. . . . When she swang (or is it swung?) I'll let you guess, like I'm doing) into "Dixie" there was applause from those old enough to remember first-hand tales of the Civil War days. . . .

Glimpsed among the old-timers: John Rix of Dallas talking to J. Wright Moor of Scurry county. . . . Remembering when with gestures. . . . Claude Gill of Abilene greeting folks he used to know. . . . Bowlin Ellis of Pecos. . . . Mrs. A. H. Hastings of Lamesa. . . . Jim Fulkerson and Bryant Fulkerson of Lamesa. . . . S. H. Kelsey of Sweetwater. . . . G. Miller and C. M. Thompson of Loraine. . . .

Am sorry I didn't think to time Congressman George Mahon on how long it took him to move from the doors of the Palace theater to the Colorado hotel door after the old-timers' get-together Friday morning. . . . Not anybody was moving very fast, for that matter. . . . Handshaking and reminiscences took up the time. . . .

If you wondered why all the horses in the memorial section of the parade were painted with one exception, here's the explanation: The one exception was the horse which bore on its empty saddle the name of the late Nat Smith, you will recall. . . . That horse was really the one which he rode all during the latter years of his life, which ended only a few months ago. . . . The other horses were selected by U. G. Hardison, memorial section director, with an eye to having all of them painted. . . .

Shaking hands with his old friends here during the Round-up was Harve Means, Fort Worth negro who owned and operated a barber shop here for a number of years more than 20 years ago. . . . He rates as a real Mitchell county pioneer and is always welcomed at Colorado homecomings. . . . He reads The Record every week and is deeply interested in everything that happens in these parts. . . .

Old-time cowboy singing was illustrated for the old-timers at the Palace theater Friday morning by Claude Cosper, who sang about the killing of a man on the old XIT ranch. . . .

Everybody seems to have gotten a thrill out of the showing of five-gaited horses between rodeo events Saturday night. . . . It was the first thing of its kind ever held in Colorado, but it won't be the last, if public reaction is any indication. . . . Frank Kelley, who learned to know and love fine horses while a boy back in Kentucky, is to be complimented on the show, along with his committee helpers, P. K. Mackey and J. J. Billing-ley. . . .

There were two four-generation groups of the J. P. Majors family at the Round-up. . . . These were J. P. Majors, Oscar Majors, Marvin Majors, and Marvin's infant son. . . . Then J. P. Majors again, Sam Majors, Mrs. L. G. Mackey (formerly Elsie Lee Majors) of Midland, and young Graham Mackey of Midland. . . .

Having a great time was J. P. Majors of Sweetwater. . . . He never misses a home-coming in Colorado, he says, although he has been living in Sweetwater for the past 25 years. . . . He came to Colorado 40 years ago—in January, 1897, to be exact. . . . He established the jewelry store which bears his name today, and it has the distinction of being the only Colorado business which has existed as long as 40 years without changing its name. . . .

"Twas a barbecue-less homecoming for the fellow whose coupe "went dead" going up the hill after crossing the Ruddick park creek and rolled back into the creek. . . . Luckily, it didn't turn over as it went in, but there was a long, hard pull to get it out of the water and back on the road. . . . All the barbecue was gone long ere the car was free. . . . The possibility of rolling back down those hills on either side of the Ruddick park crossing and into the creek is something which has caused many a driver to have nightmares. . . .

Sam Wilkes, manager of the Wilkes Motor company, moved back to Colorado just about in time for the home-coming. . . . He lived here a number of years before going to Tulsa, and he greeted many old friends during the Round-up. . . .

Among those holding up their hands when a call was made for old-timers who had lived here as long as 50 years or who lived here 50 years were Mrs. P. C. Coleman, J. W. Shepperd, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, C. M. Adams, R. O. Pearson, J. A. Buchanan, and others. . . .

"Big Business" is the name of the paint pony which 10-year-old Joan Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills, rode as she led the Round-up parade Friday afternoon. . . . She's had him about five years, and the name was of her own selection. . . . Joan, I hear, has penchant for giving unusual names to all her pets. . . . For instance, there's a cat named "Prunes." . . .

The mule which Earl Morrison ejected to ride caused quite a bit of fun. . . . Morrison is an old-timer of the vintage of 1892. . . . His father was the late Tom Morrison, Sr., well-known in early West Texas cattle circles. . . .

Although both its owners have passed on, the "old Jim Smith place" was still a gathering place for old-timers during this homecoming. . . . Mrs. Frank Ramsdell, daughter-in-law of the late Mr. and Mrs. Smith, gave flowers to all old timers Friday afternoon in memory of the Smiths and other old-timers. . . . Mrs. Jim Smith, better known during her later years as Mrs. Clara Smith, established the first floral business in Colorado—indeed, it is now the oldest such business between Fort Worth and El Paso. . . . The Smith place, rambling and roomy and shaded by huge trees, was a popular gathering place for young and old in years gone by, especially during the years when the Smith children—Isla, Lorena, Lillian, Claudia, Ann, Jim, Allen, and Robert—were growing up. . . .

Spurs which he won for steer-riding in the Frontier Round-up rodeo will be something for Jesse Jones, cowboy son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones, to show his new classmates at A. & M. when he enrolls there late this week. . . . This will be Jesse's second year in college. . . . He attended Texas Tech last year. . . .

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crockett were responsible for the clever little Dallas News' unit in the Frontier Round-up parade. . . .

"Handsome" is the word for Mrs. T. H. Conner of Fort Worth, best remembered here as Miss Ella Dry. . . . She greeted many old friends during the Round-up. . . . Her white hair is softly waved about a glowing face, set off by deep, sparkling brown eyes beneath unusual brows. . . . This writer went to kindergarten to "Miss Ella" and one of said writer's most embarrassing memories is of the day that a smart little boy "turned her down" on spelling her own name. . . . But that wasn't "Miss Ella's" fault—she'd done her best. . . . Mrs. Conner now has a lovely home in Ft. Worth, and takes a very active part in social things, especially those things dealing with welfare work. . . . She still loves her painting, too. . . . Apparently, she's a busy and contented woman as well as a handsome one. . . .

Nothing she likes better, she says, than to have Colorado friends look her up in Fort Worth. . . .

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF MITCHELL.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Mitchell County, on the 21st day of August A.D. 1937, by J. H. Bullard, Clerk of said District Court of Mitchell County, Texas, for the sum of Four Thousand Five Hundred and One & No/100 ($4,501.00) Dollars, with interest thereon from the 12th day of March, 1937, of 10% per annum, and costs of sale, under a judgment, in favor of A. A. House in a certain cause in said Court, No. 3025 and styled A. A. House vs. Robert C. Scott and wife, Evalle Scott, filed in my hands for service, I, R. E. Gregory, as Sheriff of Mitchell County, Texas, did on the 22nd day of August, A.D. 1937, convey certain Real Estate, situated in Mitchell County, Texas, described as follows, to wit:
West one-half (1/2) of Section No. 8, Block No. 19, Levee Navigation Company Survey in Mitchell County, Texas, and East Sixty Acres (E 60 A.) of the North one-half (1/2) of Section No. 2, Block 33, Levee Navigation Company Survey in Mitchell County, Texas.
The above described lands being a total of 260 acres, more or less, and being located approximately 15 miles in a South-West direction from the town of Colorado, Texas, out of the original Scott estate lands, and now commonly known as the Bob Scott farm.
And being upon as the property of Robert C. Scott and wife, Evalle Scott, and that on the first Tuesday in October, 1937, the same being the 26th day of said month, at the Court House door of Mitchell County, in the town of Colorado, Texas, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said Robert C. Scott and wife, Evalle Scott.
And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Colorado Record, a news paper published in Mitchell County, Texas, witness my hand, this 23rd day of August, 1937.
R. E. GREGORY,
Sheriff Mitchell County, Texas.

With some of his "cronies" of other days about him, Mr. Majors was recalling the Ananias club which flourished here in the old days. . . . The club, Mr. Majors confesses, was composed of "liars, chicken-eaters, and beer-drinkers," and he modestly admits that he was president because he was "the biggest liar in town." W. R. Morgan came up and denied ever having belonged to the organization, but Mr. Majors said that very denial made him more of a member than ever (you can figure that out for yourself). . . . R. O. Pearson was secretary and the late John T. Johnson was the original treasurer. . . . "Colonel" Charlie Adams was a charter member. . . . "Uncle Fred" Whipple became an "apprentice" after he moved here in 1905. . . . The club had a "kangaroo" court session every now and then. . . . The late Judge R. H. Looney was the original kangaroo judge. . . .

The Round-up meant busy times for the whole family of J. E. Watson, school superintendent. . . . Mr. Watson headed the county fair division of the Round-up. . . . Besides that, he had to take his place on the "ducking stool" of the Lions club Friday night. . . . The Watson daughters, Freddie and Martha Jane, played in the band when it was on duty, then sold sodapop on the rodeo grounds when it wasn't. . . . Mrs. Watson, in addition to helping get the Hesperian club's car into the parade, ran errands for her husband and daughters and did the "odds and ends" of their jobs. . . .

Speaking of the Lions' "ducking stool"—there was one of the merriest features of the rodeo concessions: until the chilly breezes which blew up late both evenings made ducking inadvisable. . . . Jack Helton, Ralph Lee, Joe Pond, John Watson, Louis Elliott—they and others took their turns. . . . Congressman George Mahon, who used to be star pitcher on the Loraine baseball team, proved that he can still put a ball just about where he wants it to go by ducking five in a row. . . . All the money made on the concession went into the Lions blind fund. . . .

Cattle Shortage Is Source Of Revived Activity In Capitol

Farm Credit Administration Interested In Scarcity Of Butcher Stock

A cattle shortage in the West and soaring meat prices brought new activity at Washington to the Farm Credit Administration.

The Regional Agricultural Credit corporation, which the administration hoped would be extinct by this date, has been revived to meet an acute situation among stockmen in three states.

Sharing the new activity also was the Production Credit association. This association, the administration hopes, will thrive and finally pass into ownership by the farmers and ranchers themselves without government control.

The Regional Agricultural Credit corporation, created under a Republican administration, was placed in liquidation May 1, 1934. Its work was revived, however, last April in three states—Nevada, Wyoming and Montana.

FCA authorities point out that the RACC was created during a period of need, was resumed in three states during an emergency, and that, consequently, its inactivity in a region is indication of more prosperous times.

"Better conditions are reflected in the growth of the production credit associations," said E. B. Reid, director of information and extension for the FCA. "For example, conditions in Texas are constantly improving and the number of production credit association units there has increased to 37, which made loans from January through June totaling $9,386,000, compared with $7,474 in the same months for 1936.

"About half of the loans were for cattle ranch and breed improvements, one-fourth for sheep and goat development, and the balance for general farm programs."

Reid said the Production Credit associations were made to order for the highly specialized credit field of livestock program financing, functioning so money can be paid back before revenue is realized in the breeding of cattle and sheep.

Applicants submit a budget making provision for necessary expenses year by year and the loan is disbursed to the borrower upon the basis of the approved budget. Interest rate is 5 per cent a year on the unpaid balance and security is usually a first mortgage lien on cattle, with personal property and real estate acceptable as additional security.

Borrowers are required to own $5 worth of stock in the association for each $100 or fraction thereof advanced on loans. This stock comes under class B and gives the borrower voting privilege in the association. A member does not purchase stock each time he borrows, but must hold stock equal to 5 per cent of his total indebtedness.

Class A stock is that owned by the government, and originally made up the entire capital of the organization. Now, however, class B stock totals 13 per cent of the stock. It is planned that farmers and ranchers will eventually control all the stock and then will be able to realize a dividend on their holdings, made up of the 5 per cent investment they were required to make on taking out loans and which they may retain after paying them out.

Loans and discounts outstanding in the 37 Texas units on August 1 totaled $11,317,404.

Referring to liquidation of old RACC loans in Texas, Reid said the uncollected balance now totals only about $1,250,000. Headquarters for the RACC in Texas are in Houston and liquidation operations are done under direction of Production Credit association officials. Branches are maintained in San Angelo and Harlingen.

There is still $22,068,681 outstanding in RACC loans throughout the nation; loans outstanding with the growing production credit associations total $163,552,931.

"There is an important distinction between the two units," concluded Reid. "One was created to make straight loans in emergencies. The other makes loans to develop the livestock industry, and the borrower is required to be a shareholder in the organization which is designed to operate for maximum benefit."

Death Of Nancy Ann Porter, 3, Shocks Colorado

Little Daughter Of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Porter Dies During Operation

Shocking Colorado more than any tragedy of recent months, the death of 3-year-old Nancy Ann Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Porter, occurred at a local hospital while she was undergoing a tonsil operation Wednesday morning.

It was Nancy Ann's third birthday. A cake with three candles had been prepared for her to admire following the operation. She had been given a little party by her mother on the afternoon before.

Nancy Ann was born on September 15, 1934, in Colorado, and had spent all her three years here.

Her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porter, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Olive Lipp, are well-known Colorado residents. Her mother was formerly Lena Lipp. The parents, the grandparents, and a number of aunts and uncles survive in addition to a sister, Fannie Bess, 7.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Harvey Childers, now minister to the Church of Christ at Midland and formerly minister here, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. A. L. Haley, pastor of First Christian church.

The four pallbearers, Jack Richardson, L. C. Scarborough, Neal Prichard, and A. C. Benson, are all co-workers with the father at Col-Tex refinery.

Loraine Fair To Be Opened Friday With Big Street Parade

Boosters Visit Colorado On Good Will Trip; Exhibits Well Patronized

Twenty-five or thirty business men and local citizens have entered cars or trucks in the big parade which will be a feature of the opening of the Loraine community fair Friday. The parade will be held in the afternoon.

A large merry-go-round has arrived and is being installed. The exhibition hall—formerly the Riotheater—is humming with carpenters preparing booths and exhibit departments. Entries are expected to be brisk today. J. W. King, editor of the Mitchell County News (Loraine), chairman of the fair association, expects a rushing business in all fair departments.

All business streets have been lavishly decorated with large flags, including the Bankhead highway which passes through the principal business section.

The old fiddlers' contest is expected to bring many wielders of the resined strings to Loraine. The local high school band is getting ready with other local musicians to provide a variety of harmony and melody for the two-day entertainment.

A trade and fair booster trip embracing Roscoe, Pylon, Wastella, Inadale, Hermleigh, Snyder, Dunn, Buford, Colorado, Bauman, Champion and intermediate communities, will take Loraine business men Thursday into the heart of the area to be served by the fair. The trip is being arranged by Odin Griffin, local telephone manager and president of the Loraine chamber of commerce.

LOCAL NIMRODS REPORT SUCCESS AT HUNTING AS DOVE SEASON IS OPENED

Colorado nimrods had their first chance for dove shooting in this area Wednesday as the open season designated by Federal laws opened. Hunters who were among the first to go afield in quest of the game birds report success. The feathered creatures are said to be plentiful.

Hunters have been warned by game wardens that written permission to hunt on anyone's place other than their own must be procured. Any hunters going out of the county to seek the birds must have hunting licenses or be subject to fine.

Nimrods have been further cautioned to stop all automatic and pump shotguns up to three shells in the magazine at a time. They are allowed to kill 15 birds a day, with the bag limit for one week 45.

CONSERVATION ASS'N IS ORGANIZED BY TEXANS

A permanent organization of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation association was perfected at Temple Monday in the first state convention ever called in Texas solely for discussion of soil and water conservation problems.

V. C. Marshall of Heidenheimer, Bell county, was elected president; Tom C. Heffner of Crystal Falls, vice president, and Joseph C. Peacock of Palestine executive secretary. Temple was selected as permanent association headquarters.

Directors elected for a year's term included W. M. Deck of Perryton, E. H. Grimes of White Deer, William G. Kennedy of Muleshoe, H. H. Pierce of Menard, S. H. Burchard of Gonzales, Miller Harwood of Taft, R. Roy Ruff of Brownsville, J. S. Sharp of Paris, J. R. McCrary of Calvert, and John T. Smither of Huntsville, Hefner and Marshall.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

That college list we promised last week is in The Record this week. . . . We repeat: If you know of someone we've left off or sent to the wrong place, please tip us off. . . . There are more than 60 names on that list, and mistakes are almost inevitable unless the list is checked and double-checked. . . .

Incidentally, a college list including more than 60 names is very reminiscent of the lists that Colorado used to have back in pre-depression days. . . . Is this a prosperity indication, or something?

A wedding that this column predicted back in 1936 for "sometime after Christmas" will probably take place on Sept. 20. . . . At least, one of the supposed-to-be contracting parties says it will. . . . We'd appreciate your forgetting that first prediction—and we may appreciate your forgetting this one. . . . Time will tell. . . . To save our face we remind you that we didn't say what time after Christmas, nor which Christmas. . . .

HOSPITAL BONDS AT BIG SPRING SOLD TUESDAY

The city of Big Spring sold its State hospital site bonds Tuesday night at par and accrued interest of the rate of four per cent and a premium of $1.061. The money will be used to purchase site for the hospital located near there a few weeks ago.

The bonds, voted in the sum of $50,000, will add a dime onto tax rate of the city.

APPENDICITIS CREDITED WITH 786 TEXAS DEATHS

During past year 786 persons died of appendicitis in Texas, according to vital statistics compilations of the State Department of Health. Many of these deaths might have been prevented had the patient been more aware of the disease and its symptoms.

There are two forms of appendicitis, acute and chronic. The form that appears sudden, with great pain and sickness, is acute. Chronic appendicitis may extend over a long period of time and consists of a slight attack at intervals, but, at some time, there will usually occur an attack worse than any before and the disease may then become serious.

"In the presence of abdominal pain, give nothing by mouth. Never give laxatives. Apply an ice pack. Call your family physician. Abdominal pain which persists over a period of six hours is usually serious," advises State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox.

Hospital records show that the above advice has reduced appendicitis deaths 75 per cent. When otherwise healthy people are operated upon soon after the beginning of the "pain in the stomach" caused by appendicitis, little danger is experienced, but the surgeon's work is made more difficult and the patient's chance of recovery considerably lessened when there is a long delay in seeking medical help, and especially if a cathartic has been given.

How to prevent appendicitis? Keep the body in perfect health as long as possible. Watch your teeth, your tonsils, any place where an infection may occur. Get plenty of good food, plenty of sleep, plenty of exercise. Have a thorough medical examination at least once a year and have your teeth examined and cleaned by a dentist at least once every six months. This kind of watchfulness will not only help you to avoid appendicitis, it will help you to avoid many other illnesses as well, says Dr. Cox.

IMPROVED RAIL SERVICE OBJECTIVE AT LORAINE

LORAIN.—Passenger traffic in to and out of Loraine over the Texas & Pacific has been so good recently that the officials have decided it necessary to stop the crack Sunshine Special here. Loraine, Roscoe, Westbrook and Coahoma are "non stops" for this train, except in case of emergencies.

Towns in this area feel the need of an early morning train eastward, so that persons desiring to shop or transact business in Abilene may do so and return in the afternoon or evening. At present no such convenience is afforded by the Texas & Pacific railroad, which accounts for the increased bus patronage from these points.

The Texas & Pacific railway estimates each stop of its Sunshine Special at smaller points costs $12.

Efforts soon are to be made to have the midnight eastbound train, reaching here about 12:40 a.m., pick up "crane mail," an institution terminated several years ago. Roscoe is now enjoying such service. As it is, mail dropped in the Loraine post-office after 3 p.m. does not leave here until 1:30 the following afternoon.

G. W. WEBB IMPROVING

G. W. Webb, who has been critically ill in an Oklahoma hospital for several weeks, is reported to be showing much improvement and now has a good chance to recover completely. All the Webb children with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Webb have come home. Mr. Webb cannot be moved home for about 30 days yet.

STRONG CONTENDERS WILL

Snyder Tigers and Plowboy
Clubs Pictured By Fan
Writers As Plenty Tough
In District B Arena

Jack Christian and his Wolves are to face strong opposition from more than one quarter as they enter annual conference schedule. Practically every Class B outfit to be encountered by the Wolves report an improved club over last year and all of them have been practicing for from two to four weeks.

Play this year is expected to have more of the latest strategy and formations as several coaches of the district are new in the field and recent graduates of colleges and universities where the technique of pigskin fighting assumes greater consideration than in the smaller educational institutions. Colorado will be no exception to that rule, due to addition of Newby Pratt to the coaching staff. It was under leadership of this chap that the Loraine Bulldogs last season gave the Wolves their first defeat at hands of the Eastern Mitchell county club.

Sports writers of the area are picturing the Snyder Tigers and Roscoe Plowboys as probably the pace setters of the district. "Colorado should be following close behind," one of these prophets told his readers recently.

The Roscoe team, expected to scale around 160 pounds, will be piloted by Robert Caruthers, graduate of Abilene Christian college and a football star throughout his college career. He replaced Dalton Hill, coach of an outfit that in other seasons has given the Wolves plenty to

Wolves Will Open Season Friday Night
In Non-Conference Affair With Stanton

The new coaching combination under which the Wolves are to be directed during the season will make its debut at local fandum Friday night out at Cantrill Field as the locals engage Stanton's Buffaloes in a non-conference affair.

Chief Coach Jack Christian is not new to Colorado and local football. He is returning for his second year as skipper of the Wolf pack. But Newby Pratt, assistant mentor, will be before customers at the stadium as a leader of Colorado's hopefuls for the first time. At any rate the football public of Colorado should have some idea before passing of the week-end as to what to expect from their coaches and their Wolf eleven.

Coloradoans are receiving the proposition that they should patronize this the initial game of the Wolves for the season, even though the battle is not to be given reckoning on the scoreboard in conference standing. The moral support as reflected in a well filled grandstand would add considerably to morale of the Wolves.

The opening whistle is set for 8 o'clock but the kick-off might be delayed thirty minutes, Christian stated Tuesday morning, due to patriotic program scheduled at Ruddick Park by members of the Mitchell County Bar association.

Christian's probable starters for the opener against Stanton Friday night are Carter, l. e.; Smallwood, l. t.; Hodges, l. g.; Wood, c.; King, r. g.; Simpson, r. t.; Chadwick, q.; Jackson, l.; J. Smith, l. h.; E. Smith, r. h. Reserve backs are Chesney, C. R. Glover, and Hamrick. Subs in the line include Ballard, Churchill, Caffey, Blassingame, Hunter, Dearen and Jones.

Six thousand West Texans were guests of the Fortniter Round-up at the Old Timers barbecue given in Ruddick Park Friday afternoon. The barbecue committee purchased 5,500 plates for serving the visitors. After all these were gone at least five hundred people were served in sandwich style.

So great was the jam about the serving chutes that difficulty was experienced by the committee in feeding the people. Members of the Lions Club acted as waiters, dispensing plates filled with barbecue, bread, pickles and other foods as the long lines passed through a battery of fenced in lanes adjoining the barbecue pits.

Newby Pratt, assistant Wolf mentor, was among fifty coaches and football officials of West Texas to attend an all-day rules interpretation meeting in Abilene Monday. Vic Payne, veteran arbiter and a former Coloradoan, was in charge.

Sessions are to be held each week during the football season to discuss problems arising in the grid sport.

worry about. Snyder, last year's championship team, has been training since August 16 and has one of the largest teams in the district. Coaches W. W. "Red" Hill, and his assistant, Glen Berry, are well pleased with the showing their charges are making just now. They have 12 lettermen back and 22 other youngsters working for berths on the Tiger eleven.

Merkel, Roby, Rotan and Loraine are other schools in the district conference from whose football camps have been received reports of optimism as the season is soon to open.

The Wolves offense will be built around Captain Boone Jackson, 172 pound fullback with two years of experience behind him. Other letter men are Van King, a guard, and Charles Carter, end.

Representative Gives Picture Of Official Washington;
Garner Is Popular

The American people, through its congress and other administration branches of government, are going to be slow in entering into war again, because we have learned our lesson in that respect," Congressman George Mahon told the Lions Club Friday.

"It will take considerably more than the sinking of the Lusitania and the insults that have come to this government more recently in China to draw us into conflict with another people. We have learned to take it on the chin, even though it may seem hard to do at times," he said.

Mahon termed Vice-President Garner as "the most popular man in Washington. In fact I was surprised to find him such an outstanding favorite in the National Capitol when I went there in 1934," he declared. Advanced age of the Texan as potential presidential timber will be a strong factor in event the Garner boom is carried to the National Democratic convention, Mahon stated.

The congressman accounted for 5 victims who had mounted the stool.

Several members of the Lions Club took turns on the stool, suspended in mid-air over a tank of water.

Among them was District Governor Joe Pond, Jack Helton, president of the club; Ralph Lee, J. E. Watson and several others. Mahon was excused by the ducking committee, due to fact he sustained an injury a few years ago when dumped into one of the contraptions.

PICKERS ORDERED LEAVE
COUNTY AFTER GUN PLAY

A group of transient cotton pickers, said to have been out of Oklahoma, were told to get out of Nolan county Saturday after a farmer of near Roscoe reported to the sheriff's department the crew was causing trouble and had threatened him with a gun.

The trouble started, so it is reported, when the pickers started work while a heavy dew was still on the cotton. Request by owner of the cotton that they wait for the moisture to dry brought on an argument and one of the pickers is said to have brought a shotgun menacingly into play.

Vie With Their Elders In Taking Honors; Quality Of Products Given Praise

The agriculture exposition given as an attraction on program of the Frontier Round-up proved to be one of the popular show places in Colorado during Friday and Saturday. Four-H club boys and girls vied with their elders in capturing prizes at the show.

George Sampson of Post, one of the farm show judges, was profuse in his praise of the high quality of products displayed in the booths. Cotton and other field crops, with special reference to those entered by the boys and girls clubs and women of the Extension Service home demonstration, were especially good, Sampson stated.

The show was held in gym building on the high school campus through courtesy of the board of trustees. Winners in the agricultural department were:

TRADITIONS OF EARLY ERA IN COUNTY LIVE AGAIN AS PIONEERS REUNITED HERE

Reminiscences Indulged By Honored Visitors Occasion
Smiles, Tears; Mahon Is
Speaker At Gathering

Vividly the traditions of an early day citizenship in Mitchell county and Colorado City lived again in the lives of scores of pioneers who Friday morning attended reunion given in their honor at the Palace theatre. Smiles of joy, mingled with tears of sadness were in evidence over the gathering as reminiscences were exchanged and speakers extolled the fidelity and privations that usually attended the founding of a home in this section during the days when first settlement outposts were being established.

C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce and the son of Mitchell county pioneers, was master of ceremonies as the old timers came together at 10 o'clock. B. L. Templeton, a native of Sterling county but who has called Mitchell his home since a small boy, welcomed the honored guests in an address offering strong tribute to the pioneer. Mrs. J. G. Merritt, daughter of one of the early day ranch pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett, spoke in tribute to the pioneers who have passed on. Her father was listed on that roster.

The Colorado high school band, under direction of R. P. Rose, played a concert in front of the theatre building as the pioneers assembled. Piano numbers were given by Mrs. Kirk Taylor of Loraine. Her offering of "Dixie" elicited applause. Invocation was offered by the Rev. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church. Mrs. C. A. Wilkins sang with Mrs. O. B. Price as accompanist.

George Mahon, congressman from the 19th Texas district, delivered the principal address, carrying his auditors back to pioneer days in this section. His picture of transforming the open range into fenced cattle domains after the Ellwood interests, owners of extensive ranch property, had introduced barbed wire into the territory, was interesting. He offered high tribute to the men and women about whom the program was being given and added the declaration that the high character and determined will to succeed as exemplified in the men and women living here fifty years ago and more had done more than any other factor in preserving the good qualities of our present day civilization.

Many of the old timers present were men and women who have lived in the county fifty years or who lived here more than fifty years ago and have since established residence elsewhere. For some of them it was the first time in years that they had come together in a personal way. The hearty handclaps and smiles accompanying these exchanges of greetings were impressive.

Listed in this honored group were Mrs. P. C. Coleman, J. W. Shepperd, J. A. Buchanan, C. M. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Merritt, R. O. Pearson, "80 John" Wallace and others. J. P. Majors of Sweetwater boasted that he had never missed an old-timers meeting in Colorado although he had lived away from Colorado 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Payne of Slaton, Jim Fulkerson and Bryant Fulkerson of Lamesa, S. H. Kelsey of Sweetwater, Bowlin Ellis of Pecos, Mrs. A. H. Hastings of Lamesa, G. Miller and C. M. Thompson of Loraine were among the pioneers to exchange reminiscences during the program.

Among local pioneers taking part in the impressive program taking them back to days of the long ago were W. J. Pritchett, Lige McCreeless, John Ellis, G. D. Bynum, Mrs. John Vaughan, U. D. Wulfjen, S. O. Wulfjen, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Berry, Mrs. Ben Plaster, H. B. Cook.

COLES ATTENDS SCHOOL CONFERENCE AT SNYDER

Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, was in Snyder Monday to confer with the Severy county commissioners' court on matters having to do with $6,000 in bonds voted a few months ago by the Buford district.

ODESSA SCHOOL ROSTER INDICATES BOOM THERE

That Odessa continues to build under boom proportions is indicated in figures announced there by superintendent of the schools. A total of 2,201 boys and girls were enrolled in the system. A new $72,000 ward building is being rushed to completion.

TWENTY FOUR BILLS OF INDICTMENT RETURNED

The voting of 24 bills of indictment was listed in final report by the Howard county district court grand jury, filed Monday afternoon at Big Spring. Twenty-one of the bills were based on felony charges. Twelve of the number were voted during a brief session of the jury.

SEVENTH GRADE REPORT

Joan Hines, Reporter

The seventh grade had their first meeting Thursday, Sept. 9, 1937. The following officers were elected: President, Marilyn Sue Lewis; vice-president, Perry Anderson; secretary, Fay Nell Gillam; librarian, Dick Wynne; reporter, Joan Hines.

The Parent-Teachers' Association appointed Mrs. A. J. Anderson and Mrs. J. M. Ellis as room representatives for the seventh grade.

FISHES FUN—Elzan Castleman

After a whole week of going in one room and learning that we should be somewhere else, we poor Fish have finally learned where our classrooms are. Now, its to real work and how! We feel certain that some day Westbrook High will be proud of our wonderful accomplishments in music. We can already sing do, re, mi, so, please don't laugh at all the weird sounds coming from the auditorium. Remember that even Madame Sheumehank was once a beginner.

We are very glad to have the following pupils enter our class this year: Mary McKenney from Itan, Joyce Rees, Melba Ruth Adams, Geneva Lowry, Rufus Jackson, Floyd

Largest Number Of College Students In Years Sent Out From Colorado This Week

More than 60 young people of Colorado and vicinity will be enrolled in colleges and universities in and out of the state this year, a check-up made this week reveals. This number is the largest sent out from Colorado in recent years.

A number of students have already gone. Others will be leaving this week and during the week-end.

Leading all other schools in number of Colorado students enrolled will be Texas Tech at Lubbock, which will claim around 20, or approximately one-third of the total.

Tech students left for Lubbock early this week. Among them were Betsy and Ewing (Rusty) Lee, children of Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Lee; Frances Elaine Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Price, who enrolls as a senior; John Tom Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Merritt, also a senior; Etta Fern Harkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Harkins; Rilla Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Payne; Martha Nell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Nell; Charles Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hicks; Ora Jane Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Williams; Mumpsey Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wallace; Robert Earl Wulfjen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen; Julius Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith; Pauline Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Jones of the Renderbrook; Angel Van Horn, daughter of Mrs. Van Horn of Westbrook; Clayton Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Porter; Mary Eleanor Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers; Ed Morrison, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrison; Walter Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Rankin; Earnest Burdine, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gary; and Bill Galey, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Galey.

Second in line is T.S.C.W. (C.I.A.) at Denton, where the following eleven will enroll as the school opens Monday:

Langley, Irven Grant, Walter Turner, John Turner, Kenneth York, and Ansel York from Carr; Fannie Merle Read, B. B. Mills, and G. C. Roach from Hyman; Bobby Lynne Dockery, Nell Grace Hart, Buck Moody, Alvin Moody, John Millard Conaway and Mack Walker from Conaway.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

Ruby Joe Fortune, Reporter

The Sophomore class has been trying to get their subjects straightened out in the past week and we haven't had time for entertainment.

Scandal: Ruth Smith was caught slipping notes to John Bob Taylor in the study hall. We can't find out what they were about.

Rena Oliver was caught in the study hall with a new boy friend. How about an introduction, Rena?

Earl Neal, what do you mean holding hands with Ruby Joe in class?

Van Boston seems to be the new "ladies man" since all the new girls have started to school here.

JUNIOR NEWS

Iris Costin, Reporter

The Juniors have finally got straightened out, (we hope), although two of them were worse than any Freshman about finding classes. (One day they went to typing before they should have and the next day they waited too late. (What about it June and Lucille?) But it takes all kinds to make a real Junior class and that's what we have here (??).

The Juniors are going to think about a skating party when Mr. Hood gets his check and is able to save a quarter.

SENIOR ICE CREAM SUPPER

Flonelle Davis, Reporter

The Seniors have met several times since last week. They are working very hard on the ice cream supper to be given Friday night. It will be at the schoolhouse beginning at 6 o'clock. There will be tables for playing "42" and possibly other games, free. Everyone be sure to come and help the Seniors out and they will appreciate your patronage.

EVERY DAY HAPPENINGS

AROUND W. H. S.

Lena Lee Bird, Reporter

The students are back this year for a more successful term, we hope. Everyone seems glad to be back, although we miss the ex-seniors very much. The Freshmen have certainly been good sports this year about their initiation. Although they didn't know how long, they would have to wear their clothes wrong-side-out and ropes in their hair. They took it with a grin.

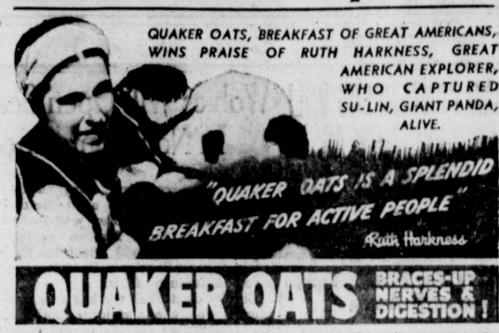

We are sorry to speak of it but the Sopomores seem worse than the Freshmen. They are still getting their classes mixed up. Oh, you Sophs.

We have two high school girls to become brides since last spring. One of the girls is a senior and the senior class is proud to have her still in school. One of the Junior girls stated last week that you were an old maid at the age of sixteen. So now some of the girls go around with a gloomy look on their face. Because you see, W. H. S. is like any other high school, some girls know they'll never have a chance.

The Seniors are giving an ice cream supper at the school house Friday night. Don't forget it!

Well, we'll sign off this time for the whole school seems to be violets and roses this year, and everybody loves everybody else.

Myra Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, left nearly two weeks ago for Los Angeles, California, to enter the University of California in Los Angeles. Her brother, Reynolds Brown, has been attending California Tech in Los Angeles for some time.

Students bound for A. & M. at College Station are leaving this week. Among them will be Jesse Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones; Joe Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cooper; and Marion Hardison, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Hardison. Red Church, son of Joe Church, went back last week after a visit here. Church is a star member of the Aggie football team.

Mae Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watson, left early this week to begin her second year at Abilene Christian college. Mary Belle Crosthwaite, who was graduated here last year but who is now living in Abilene, will also be enrolled in A. C. C.

Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, has been in Fort Worth since last week, enrolling in T. W. C.

Departure of John Elliott for the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, is planned for this week. He will visit in Marshall, Atlanta, Ga., and other points enroute to Louisville. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott and is studying for the ministry.

Hiram Duffer, son of Hiram Duffer, Sr., of Payne, has enrolled in Howard Payne at Brownwood.

Many Splendid Animals Seen At Horse, Mule and Jack Show During Saturday

Many splendid animals, both in the saddle and draft classes, were shown at Colorado Saturday in the horse, mule and jack show division of the Colorado City Frontier Round-up.

The class for draft stallions drew the heaviest entry with half a dozen individuals in the arena. A beautiful dapple gray horse, owned and exhibited by Tom Draper of Lorraine, was first.

Attracting much attention was a 17-month-old Palomino stallion from the Spade ranch shown by O. F. Jones. The horse won his class in a walk-away.

R. M. Milhollin, superintendent of the soil conservation camp at San Angelo and former livestock judging team coach at Texas A. & M. college, was judge of the animals and placing was completed before the rodeo which started at 2 o'clock.

Exhibitors of winning animals in respective classes follow:

Jacks—Lee Kidd, Lorraine, first; J. W. Riechburg, Lorraine, second.

Mule colts under one year old—E. S. Miles, Colorado, first; J. W. Riechburg, second.

Mule colts over one year old—E. S. Miles, Colorado, first; E. S. Miles, second.

Draft stallions—Joe Tom Draper, Lorraine, first; W. H. Yater, Colorado, second; Lee Kidd, third.

Draft colts under one year old—Archie Kidd, Lorraine, first; Ted Miles, second.

Draft colts over one year old—J. D. Berry, Westbrook, first; Ted Jackson, Westbrook, second.

Saddle stallion—L. W. Ramsey, Westbrook, first.

Saddle colts under one year old—Mrs. Frank Kelly, first; J. J. Billingsley, Colorado, second; Frank Kelley, Colorado, third.

Span of mares—Shorty Yater, Colorado, first; E. S. Glover, Colorado, second; Jack Humphreys, Colorado, third.

Saddle colts over one year old—O. F. Jones, Colorado, first; J. L. Jones, Colorado, second; Humphreys, third.

Draft mare—Archie Kidd, first; J. D. Berry, second; E. S. Miles, third.

Saddle mares—Joe Jackson, Colorado, first; Allen Riechburg, Lorraine, second; Leon Cullen, Lorraine, third.

Individual mule—Shorty Yater, first; E. S. Glover, second; Jess Thomas, third.

Kid ponies—Francis Reynolds, first; Joe Ann Mills, second; Imogene Rogers, third.

Shetland pony—first, N. A. Rogers; Frank Lessly King, second; Kirk Perry Kidd, third.

Horn's Chapel News
The Horn's Chapel school began Monday, September 13 with a number of parents and friends present for the opening program. Judge A. F. King and Mr. W. W. Porter made interesting talks about the value of modern education. The trustees then discussed the work of the coming year.

Horn's Chapel was only a one-teacher school last year but Miss Vivian Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cook of Colorado, has been added to the faculty. Mrs. Blesse Cathcart who was principal last year still retains that position. The school was standardized last year and new equipment is now being added. Everyone is looking forward to a most successful school year.

TRANSFERRED
Jack Hale, who has been with the WPA office at Amarillo during recent months and who was with the district office at Big Spring prior to that, has been transferred to the Shamrock office, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hale.

MAHON TO BE HONORED AT BIG SPRING TUESDAY

BIG SPRING.—The four service clubs of Big Spring—Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and American Business—will honor Rep. George Mahon, congressman from the 19th congressional district, at a luncheon here next Tuesday.

Announcement of the meeting was made by J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, after a conference with Rotary leaders. Since the Rotary meeting falls on Tuesday, that club has extended an invitation to the other clubs to join in the luncheon.

Mahon advised that he would accept the invitation to address the combined group, thus making his first appearance here since he returned from Washington.

Details of the program have not been completed. However, it was made plain that the meeting will not be restricted to club members but any interested citizen will be invited to attend the affair in the Settles ballroom.

"MEET THE MISSUS"

Palace—Thursday, Sept. 16th

Here the great American time-waster—household contests sponsored by manufacturers—is held up to an unmerciful and screamingly funny expose. The comedy is drawn out along broad, obvious lines, and that expressive fun-maker, Victor Moore, carries it out to a riotous climax that will have most audiences in howls. As a top programmer this is slated for excellent business. Moore, a barber, is also man-about-the-house, cooking, sewing, and housecleaning, while his wife, Helen Broderick, spends her days entering every new contest that comes along. When notified she has won a place in the Mrs. American Housewife contest finals, Helen drags Victor to Atlantic City with her. From here on the picture is a madhouse. Anne Shirley and Alan Bruce furnish the romance. Joseph Santley directed. Players are Victor Moore, Helen Broderick, Frank M. Thomas, Anne Shirley, Alan Bruce, Virginia Sale, William Brisbane.

"SUPER SLEUTH"

Palace—Friday and Saturday

September 17 and 18

Audiences will love this farcical-murder mystery. It's a real laugh rump from start to finish, and if the patrons don't die from fright they'll guffaw themselves to death. Jack Oakie goes to town as the movie detective. Ann Sothorn plays the romantic interest well, while Edgar Kennedy and Eduardo Ciannelli garner laughs and hisses, respectively, in supporting roles. The entire production rates as a grand comedy. The story opens with Oakie, a screen sleuth, the recipient of poison-pen letters. He attempts to track the author down without the aid of police, whom he has offended by his critical remarks concerning their efficiency, but only succeeds in getting himself trapped and almost shot. Miss Sothorn rescues him and he retaliates by marrying her. Directed by Ben Stollhoff. Players are: Jack Oakie, Ann Sothorn, Eduardo Ciannelli, Alan Bruce, Edgar Kennedy, Bradley Page, Paul Guilfoyle, Willie Best.

First Annual Rodeo To Open At Snyder Friday For 2 Days

Seven Hundred Dollars Cash Prizes Will Be Paid To Rodeo Contestants

SNYDER, Sept. 16.—Cowhands and cowgirls began arriving Monday for the first annual rodeo of the Scurry County Rodeo Association. The two-fisted event will be held at well-shaded Wolf Park, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Backed financially and actively by leading Scurry and Borden county ranchers and cowhands, plus Snyder business men, the two afternoon and two night performances of the rodeo promise to attract one of the best line-ups of top ropers and riders that has been action in a West Texas show this season. So says Joe York, veterinarian of the local rodeo.

A parade will usher in the show Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. It will be led by Mayor H. G. Towle, J. Wright Moore, first white man to settle in Scurry county, and J. M. Stewart, veteran rancher, who is president of the rodeo association. Snyder school band, dressed in new black and gold uniforms, will parade ahead of the cowhands, and will play later for all rodeo performances.

George Parks, secretary-treasurer, points out that money is in the bank for an even $700 in prize money. Featured events are wild cow milking, bronc riding, calf roping, steer riding and wild mare roping. In addition, four leading cowhands of this area—Raymond Berryhill and Steve Parks vs. Joe York and Aubrey Stokes—are putting up a purse of $100 in a special match roping.

Stock for the rodeo has been obtained from some of the best known outfits in Texas, says York. Cows and calves are to come from Bill Lyons' herds at Petrolia. Red Lyons' horses at Byars, just back from top shows in Colorado state, will be used. Curley Daugherty's steers, outstanding for their bucking qualities, are on their way to Snyder.

The loud speaker system will be handled by Jack Hoey of San Antonio, internationally known rodeo announcer. Jim Weatherly of Anson, bookkeeper for the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford annually, will handle that end of the local rodeo.

Plenty of chutes and pens are ready to help make all events snappy and interesting. Wolf Park, just a few blocks from Snyder public square, is one of West Texas' most distinctive rodeo sites, for it offers dozens of large shade trees for stock, spectators and concessions.

There are 15,800 Banks

—composing the present American banking structure.

THEY are neighborly banks—their interests and their activities are based on those of the citizens of their Community.

They have intimate, first-hand knowledge of local affairs, are responsive to local financial needs and are diligent to aid in maintaining sound local business conditions.

In addition to this local touch which is characteristic of American banking, these 15,800 banks are bound together by many ties of common practices and voluntary working relationships and associations.

Through these means they interchange information and experiences that promote and broaden scientific banking progress and render service reaching beyond their own localities.

This bank participates fully in the field of inter-bank cooperation.

EDITORIAL

EDUCATION

Now that our schools are open I direct this column this week to the entire faculty. If I were on the faculty in my teaching and lectures to the classes this is about what I would say:

Every person who has reached what is termed "middle-age" looks upon the little child in his cradle and hopes for his development into a useful and happy citizen. He looks upon him in his youth and involuntarily speculates sympathetically as to what direction his talents and inclinations will lead him. He sees him again in his young manhood and feels gratified because his steps are directed to the road that leads toward the light, or he is pained that they are inclined in the wrong direction.

The mature man knows that the only road fit to travel leads upward.

He knows that it is the only way that will take the traveler to a destination worth striving to reach. He knows, too, that one travels either upward or downward. There is no continuously level highway in life any more than there is on the earth's surface.

He knows also that if one's gaze is downward he will travel downward.

That is why all mature, right-thinking persons are anxious to be of service to the young travelers when they begin their journey.

Facts To Be Considered

There are a number of things that should be considered seriously and earnestly by every parent. Every child born to any family is entitled to and should have whatever is needful to its health, comfort and education. Those not prepared to furnish these to many children should have but few.

Mental soundness, physical normality and proper cultural training are the birthright of every child. No parent can guarantee that each of his children shall be perfect mentally or physically, for there are many things that make such a guarantee impossible, notwithstanding all that medical science can do. But necessary food and clothing, education and cultural training can be guaranteed, and should be, otherwise the child is an unfortunate product of ignorance and stupidity.

Soldiers who are qualified and equipped are expected to win victories. This principle obtains in the battle of life just as it does in military warfare. Not much is to be expected of an unqualified and unarmed man, and not so much is to be expected of one without proper education as of one who has prepared himself.

Square Pegs and Round Holes

The early choice of one's life work with proper consideration of his fitness for it, makes it certain that he will not become what is about the most unfortunate individual one meets—a square peg in a round hole. This means a person who is not at all fitted for the work in which he is engaged as a means of livelihood. The life of such a one is a long-drawn-out tragedy.

The earlier one begins to prepare himself for his work, the better he can qualify for all the emergencies he may meet in pursuing it. Many a fine mechanic has been ruined in the effort to make of one with mechanical bent an attorney, or physician, and vice versa.

Unfitness presages failure in advance, and failure means unhappiness.

Many proud parents have ruined the lives of sons and daughters by having them undertake trades or professions for which they were in no way fitted. Such a one is a pathetic spectacle. Besides being a failure and realizing himself to be such, the constant conscious feeling of unfitness is of itself like a haunting, brooding specter of fear.

First Essentials

Before one begins a journey he decides where he is going and prepares for the trip. If you have booked passage in an airplane, you will have an advantage of one going by automobile. If you are going by automobile, you will arrive at your destination before he does who is traveling by horseback.

First thing necessary is to select your vocation and study for knowledge and practice for skill in order that you may reach the goal you have set for yourself. This means to use what you possess. No use having airplane or automobile if you are not going to use it.

An ideal as to life is as necessary as the goal which you hope to attain. To have no ideal is like having no destination. Both are absolutely necessary, and the sooner one makes his choice of these the more time he will have for qualifying—getting ready.

The elevation of one's thought, and therefore of his character, naturally conforms to his ideal of life. The higher the ideal, the nearer perfection he attains, and perfection is the goal for which we all strive. You say we can not attain perfection. True, but it is our business to try and thus reach greater heights than we otherwise would.

He who strives to reach the mountain peak will not remain in the valley. He will at least reach a height that is above the miasma of the uncouth, indifferent and sordid.

One's desire for light will lead him out of the shadows. Those who have light should show the way to others less fortunate. Your ideal is your closest and best mental associate; your best friend and counselor.

It is most potential in molding your character and therefore exercises most influence in making you and your life a success.

Ethics and Economics

It is well enough to stress the moral side of ethics, but it will probably be found also effective to stress the economics of ethics.

It is well to emphasize the fact that RIGHT is economic. This carries with it the corollary that a thing that is ECONOMIC is right. These are proven facts, otherwise both ethics and economics would be destructive, when the truth is that both are constructive.

These facts should be included in exhortations as to moral obligation. They should be added in moral instruction given students. It might help to include them by those who teach Bible schools. They should be added to the statements that wrongdoing is provocative of the wrath of God.

Such instruction would help in impressing the fact that righteousness is an economic principle as well as a spiritual prerequisite. Thus is would be shown that to do right means happiness in this world as well as in the next.

The time must come when every man will be outstanding and upstanding; when he will be physically rugged and virile, and sturdy morally and physically. If such time is not to come, then are our hopes vain and the accomplishments promised by growth in knowledge and intelligence will fail in the achievement they now promise.

Most Wonderful of Buildings

The "house not made with hands," the real man, gives opportunity for beauty of design and magnificence of construction that make all material structures dwindle into comparative insignificance.

St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome is said to be the finest of the world's buildings. It is largely the product of the mind and skill of Michelangelo, the greatest of all sculptors, artists and architects of his day, if not of all time. The brilliance of his work in these several lines of art impels one to class him as one of the world's greatest men, if not its greatest artist.

What is perhaps the most beautiful building in the world is the Taj Mahal, at Agra, India. It is of white marble, and was built by Shah Jehan in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal. It is said that 20,000 skilled men were twenty-two years in building it. Shah Jehan furnished the authority and the money, but not the genius for the design nor the skill for its erection. Its cost is given as $15,000,000. That is said not to be so great as the cost of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, now building in New York.

Artemisia, the widow of Mausolus, King of Caria, built a magnificent and magnificent tomb for her deceased husband at Halicarnassus, ancient Greek city in Asia Minor. It has been called one of the "seven wonders of the world."

In the cases of the Taj Mahal and the tomb of Mausolus the glory they reflect is not that of the Shah Jehan, nor of Artemisia, but of the men whose genius conceived their designs and whose skill brought about their fulfillment.

It is much more deserving of fame to design and build a great building than simply to be the one who orders it done. Any man can say do such things, but there are few who can do them.

Must Be 'Good Losers'

Good losers are usually winners. The qualities characteristic of a "good loser" are those which also qualify a man for a consistent winner. Such a one is not afraid to put his best into the effort. Generally he is one who has had to struggle and make sacrifices. One who has never had to make sacrifices knows nothing of self-denial, and is therefore a "bad loser." Such a one has not even begun his education.

Avoid extremes. It is never necessary to carry even the practice of the virtues beyond reason. Self sacrifice is a wonderful demonstration of generosity, but it is silly to emulate the example of Gautama, who is said by the good Buddhist to have given his body to a tigress in order that she might have milk for her cubs.

The virtues, attributes and characteristics, the practice of which make certain success in life, are developed through well directed and persistent effort, self-sacrifice and worthwhile tasks.

The Price Must Be Paid

This is a world of quid pro quo, give and take, of compensation. You can't get something for nothing. Many are unwilling to pay the price. From the time when men first began to exchange objects, some of them have tried to "get something for nothing." It can't be done without paying in pain or sorrow, or both.

The thief or robber undertakes to get something for nothing. He may elude the law and sidestep fate for awhile, but ultimately the law of "fair exchange" must be satisfied and its penalty of suffering physically as well as mentally; and during the time of his evasion of the law he is punished by mental anguish.

If you are not willing to pay the price you can't have the goods.

Try to be proof against things unworthy of your time or attention. Also try to associate with those who know more than you do, at least more about something you want to learn about.

Things that are undeserving of your time and attention you may consider as "static." The need for getting rid of "static" in life's activities is even more imperative than getting rid of it in your radio. Life's static is not so noisy, but it is more troublesome and costly. Petty annoyances are static.

People's tongues often produce only static. Gossip is usually pure static; scandal always is.

England can write of her feudal barons; France of its ancient aristocracy; America only of its Colonial period.

An average Texan is a man who works hard all winter to fill his home with comforts and conveniences, and spends his Summer in trailers, tourist cabins, fishing boats and mountain shacks getting along nicely without comforts and conveniences.

One thing the Colorado police won't stand for is to have stolen cars parked in front of their station.

Speaking about co-operation, remember the banana; every time it leaves the bunch it gets skinned.

Humidity and Rain Are Now Threat To Texas Cotton Crop

Many Regions Too Wet For Favorable Progress Of Crop, Dallas News Notes

Increasing rains and showery weather are having an unfavorable effect upon parts of the Texas Cotton Belt where the crop is reported either as made, at a standstill or declining. The Dallas News summary for the week ended Friday indicates. The unfavorable condition, however, is not prevalent in this immediate section of Texas.

Excessively humid weather is encouraging insects which are attacking late bolls and likely to reduce a top crop promised two weeks ago. Unless dry, warm weather sets in the Texas crop on the whole appears to be made. With wet weather and rapidly increasing weevils, leafworms and bollworms it is certain to deteriorate.

Insects only the last week have become a threat in lower Central Texas, East Texas, Northwest Texas and Northeast Texas, in which areas new fruit is being riddled. Root rot damage is heavier than in several seasons, but developed later than usual and did not prevent the plant from setting a more than normal crop. This normal crop now being harvested needs clear, warm, dry weeks to escape possible damage. Showers and rains which began about Aug. 20 have continued intermittently until the present and during the last week show marked increase in extent as well as in volume.

Picking is 50 to 75 per cent completed in Central Texas, 35 to 50 per cent in North and East Texas and getting under way on the South Plains. Heavy downpour in the latter region did considerable damage last week.

Oklahoma reporters construe recent rains as beneficial and helpful to late cotton, except where excessive. Only 10 per cent of crop has been picked to date, mostly in south and central counties. Insects show increasing activity and may become a last-minute factor.

New Mexico cotton is still making with weather conditions mostly favorable, but irrigation water becoming scarce in Otero county.

The cash value of principal field and commercial crops harvested in South Carolina during 1936 was estimated at $132,169,000 by U. S. Department of Agriculture statisticians.

SNYDER EDITOR IS 'LION TAMER' IN REALITY; HE SUBDUES ROARING BEAST

Jake Smyth, editor of the Scurry County Times and leading member of the Lions Club at Snyder, demonstrated his ability as a "lion tamer" here Friday noon. The visitor, with one of the roaring beasts being dragged at end of a rope, entered the Lions Club here and after cowing his charge by liberal use of a rope, gave the animal several well directed kicks and ordered him to leave the banquet room.

It was a stunt arranged by Smith and other Snyder Lions to advertise their softball game, played on donkeys, at Snyder Tuesday night. He invited Coloradans to attend the affair.

COMMODITIES TO RELIEF CLIENTS BEING HANDLED THROUGH LOCAL OFFICES

The local commodity room, discontinued a year ago, was reopened this week and articles of food and clothing going to relief clients on the Mitchell county rolls are to be distributed locally. Mrs. Bonnie Burt, in charge of the local office, stated Monday afternoon.

The room will again be in charge of Miss Corinne Montgomery, who directed this phase of relief work during time the commodity stocks were carried locally before. She and Mayor J. A. Sadler were in Sweetwater Monday to conclude plans for opening the room.

During the past year commodities for local distribution have been handled by truck out of Sweetwater.
