Approaching Wedding Of Julia Mae Root And Jimmy Cook Announced At Luncheon

An approaching wedding which will be of wide interest in Colorado and vicinity was announced when Mrs. C. L. Root entertained with a small, informal luncheon Tuesday in honor of her daughter, Julia Mae Root, who is to be married on November 6 to Jimmy Cook of Colorado.
The luncheon table at the Root home was laid for six guests, including the honoree. Arranged on the center runner was a low silver bowl in which giant yellow chrysanthemums floated. The bowl, surrounded by fern, stood on a circular reflector, which was flanked on either side by two graduated yellow tapers in silver holders.
Three places were marked with tiny cupid holding wedding rings in which scrolls were placed, three others with china pigeons holding envelopes in their beaks. On the scrolls and in the envelopes were the words, "Julia Mae Root and Jimmy Cook, November 6, 1937." Place favors were Colonial bouquet novelties with the flowers made of varicolored gum drops.
The menu included creamed chicken in waffle potato baskets, asparagus on toast, pickled peaches, coffee, yellow-iced cake, and pineapple sherbert. The cake bore the initials of the engaged couple and the date.
Places were laid for Mary Frances Majors, Josephine Chesney, Mrs. Sifton Pickens, Mary Alene Mickley, Mrs. Jack Cox, and the honoree.
Miss Root, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Root, has been reared in Colorado. After graduation here she attended Abilene Christian college and the University of Texas. Mr. Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicol Cook of Fillmore, California. For the past year he has been employed at the Col-Text refinery here. He attended the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Committees And Objectives Outlined By Mrs. Ferguson, Head County Federation

Her main objective for the year and personnel of most of her committees were announced this week by Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs.
Planting of a tree for every person in the county is to be the main objective of the federation during Mrs. Ferguson's leadership under the year. Closely linked with this will be yard beautification and a continuation of the best-kept yard contest held during the past year. Yards of the town are to be checked for neatness, cleanliness, and attractiveness during all seasons of the year, Mrs. Ferguson points out.
Naming of the federation committees completes organization for the year's work. Elective officers are: President, Mrs. Ferguson; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. B. Elliott, Mrs. John Colson and Miss Vera Crippen; recording secretary, Mrs. Truett Barber; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. B. Broadbent; historian, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey; trustees, Messdames M. J. Dawson, J. T. Pritchett, and J. G. Merritt.
Member organizations are the Heperian club, 1921 Study club, Zeta-gathian club, Self Culture club, Daughters of the King Sunday school class, Art club, Business & Professional Women's club, and Fairview Home Demonstration club.
Committees already announced are as follows:
Federation counselor: Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr.
Courtesy: Messdames Merritt, Broadbent, Whipkey;
American Citizenship: Messdames Leslie Crowder, C. C. Thompson, Charles Wyatt, Mary Lee Brown; Miss Lillian Pond;
Department of Education: Messdames Whipkey, Ed Majors, J. W. Randle, B. L. Templeton, and P. K. Mackey; Miss Vera Crippen;
Fine Arts: Messdames L. A. Costin, Jeff Dobbs, M. J. Dawson, and W. H. Garrett;
International relations: Messdames C. P. Gary, Farris Bass, M. L. Kirschbaum, and Lee Lavender;
Legislation: Mrs. S. H. Millwee;
Press and publicity: Mrs. J. G. Merritt;
Public Welfare: Messdames Sam Majors, A. D. Kiker, R. P. Price, Bennett Scott, and E. B. Willbanks;
Membership: Mrs. L. B. Elliott;
Transportation: Mrs. Sam Wulfjen;
Finance: Mrs. J. W. Shepperd.
Appointment of committees not already named will be announced in the near future. Work of the federation will be launched in definite form when the October meeting is held Tuesday, October 26, at the city hall at 5 o'clock. All committee members and officers are especially urged to be present.

Miss Ingle And Mr. Cope Are Married

Facing an altar banked with large white chrysanthemums and fern, Norine Ingle and M. L. Cope recited their wedding vows Friday evening at the First Baptist church in Westbrook. The Rev. Clyde Childers read the ceremony.
Winnie Faye Gressett and Mary Kent were the bride's attendants. Miss Gressett wore a navy suit and Miss Kent's suit was wine. Both wore large white chrysanthemum corsages.
Mr. John Hood sang "Oh Promise Me," accompanied by Mr. R. Fowler as pre-nuptial solo.
The bride was dressed in a navy crepe frock trimmed in cream lace. Her hat was navy with a halo veil. She wore navy shoes and cream gloves. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.
R. W. Crouch acted as best man. Ruth Mahon and Ralph Ramsey were ushers.
Mrs. Cope is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ingle, Greenville. She completed her high school work at Burleson Academy and later attended Baylor University. She was graduated from State Teachers College, Commerce. Mrs. Cope is now teaching in the Westbrook school.
Mr. and Mrs. Cope are making their home in Westbrook.

Marking Historical Spots DAR Objective

Marking of historical spots in Mitchell county was named as one of the outstanding objectives of Mrs. Arlie Martin of Lorraine, now president of the D. A. R. chapter, when the chapter held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. J. E. McCleary Saturday afternoon.

General upbuilding of the chapter is Mrs. Martin's other main objective, she told the chapter members in a brief message.

Two new members, Mrs. Sallie Dozier and Miss Hennie Merrivether, were presented. Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, charter member and organizing regent of the chapter, was present for the first time in months.

Mrs. R. B. Terrell was made chairman of the student loan fund, all of which is being used by an A. & M. student. The November meeting of the chapter will be at the Roy Dozier home with Mrs. Sallie Dozier as hostess.

Art Club Meets At Costin Home

Featuring bachelor buttons, cosmos, and goldenrods in her decorations, Mrs. L. A. Costin entertained the Art club Wednesday afternoon.

Six members were present, a number of the members being kept away by illness. Four new pictures were shown. Mrs. Annie Glover and Mrs. Jeff Dobbs told of having visited the art exhibit at the West Texas fair in Abilene.

Dues to the federation were voted. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. F. King.

Rogers Ramblings

We had a splendid Sunday school Sunday morning with 37 present and some interesting lessons. We can happily say that our Sunday school is growing and at the same time it is becoming more interesting for us. We had Brother Mathews of Roscoe with us Sunday, who delivered a wonderful message and who is planning to be with us each third Sunday, we hope. We will have Brother Leach of Colorado with us Sunday and we sincerely hope that each of you will try to be with us for the services which will be at 11 o'clock. The classes are still working to "beat" one another in their reports for Sunday school each Sunday and we are very pleased with the reports from each class, especially the adults. They are leaving "footsteps" for the other classes to follow in— if they can manage to stay in the lead long enough. How about it, Seniors.

SCHOOL NEWS

Willie Ruth Howell
New pupils! Yes we have five of them: G. B., Dorothy and Lona Lora Hunt of Buford; Milton and Tildon McMahon of this community. Maybe you think we weren't glad to have them. Our teachers were glad too, "because it seems that they have begun to give us double work already," says a certain fourth grader. However with the new pupils our classes as well as play periods have become more interesting.

Because of slow working carpenters, painters, and boys doing some of the sewing, our "marionette" family (for the show) is slowly growing. We hope to present the show very soon perhaps this month and we want each of you to come. Our dolls not only walk but they dance and perhaps a boxing match will be presented if we can persuade a "certain" person to let us. There will be entertainment between acts and before the show.

Better Cotton

"Our Federal and State experiment stations are doing all within their power through endless experiment, to find just what type of improved cotton is best suited to your climate and soil conditions," Saunders declared. "Private seed breeders, too, are doing the same thing, and it will be easy enough to ascertain from those sources the cotton you should produce in Mitchell county."

The speaker referred to strides credited to farmers in Alabama and other States in the deep South who a few years ago realized that continued production of inferior cotton meant disaster. He pictured a county in Alabama in which a short time past farmers were facing bankruptcy, simply because they planted half and half and other undesirable varieties. "Today, these same citizens are prospering and rebuilding their homes into the better type of which every one of us should claim a right to attain," he stated.

"Production of an inferior cotton in this county—even by a few farmers in a given community—is to be accepted as drastic penalty to the growers as a whole, whether he offer inch cotton or this inferior stuff that the spinner refuses to consider," Miller stated after returning to the floor for second time. "You must organize, accept an accredited cotton and work together for the good of all."

The proposition that Mitchell county might not be fitted as to soil, weather or other requisites, for growing inch cotton is all the bunk, Mr. Lichte charged. "This county will reclaim its once enviable distinction among the cotton producing areas of Texas, once you boys determine to cut out this foolishness and turn to high quality staple."

Lichte, a former gin operator, paid strong tribute to the ginners. "Your ginners is the best friend you have in this cotton business and no person desires more sincerely to give you a good sample than he," he said. "You are unfair to your ginners when you force him into the cotton buying arena. Let him alone in the business of ginning your product to best advantage and both he and yourself will profit in the end."

Lichte offered strong tribute to vocational agriculture training in the schools after pointing out that several of those students were in the audience. "Here are your farmers of tomorrow and they are equipping themselves to go places," he exclaimed. "I hope that every one of you will follow these boys right down the road. They are doing a wonderful preparatory work for the problems that soon are to confront them."

The meeting was called to order by Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent. Baskin presented Congressman George Mahon as the first speaker who talked briefly on the cotton situation and the probabilities that adequate Federal legislation would be aggressively sought during the next congress. He referred to a recent address by Secretary Wallace in Memphis, which he described as "most encouraging to me."

Several cotton farmers present spoke briefly on the subject, advocating organized effort in improving cotton in the county. Vote to endorse such a plan was reported without a dissenting voice.

That the county is making progress to production of improved cotton was detailed by Baskin. In 1936 forty per cent of the staple grown in Mitchell county was undesirable, he stated. This year's crop will show only 20 per cent in that category, he concluded.

The trips were made as a culminating activity in a transportation unit which has been studied this year by the third grades.

Among those mentioned by Mrs. Quinney and her teachers in their thanks were Mrs. A. C. Benson, Mrs. H. I. Berman, Elizabeth Grantland, Mrs. Bob Fee, Katherine Price, Mrs. L. E. Jordan, W. B. Crockett, Floyd Quinney, Mrs. Pete Dillard, Mrs. J. A. Morgan, Mrs. George Mahon, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, and Mrs. Earl Bibby, all of whom assisted in some way. Some made the trip to help care for the children, others carried the pupils to the train here or met them for the return trip from Lorraine.

The teachers also thank Ed Williams, superintendent of Lorraine schools, for meeting some of the pupils at the train and taking them to visit in the room of Miss Bobbie Williams, to whom Mrs. Quinney and her teachers are also grateful.

McMURRY EXTENSION CLASSES TO BE HERE INSTEAD OF SNYDER

Announcement was made Thursday morning that extension classes which McMurry college planned to hold in Snyder this year are to be held in Colorado hereafter.

The classes, offering courses in English, education, and music, will be held each Wednesday evening at Junior High school, beginning at 6 o'clock. Three hours credit will be given on each course.

Teachers and others interested in availing themselves of this opportunity to acquire college credits are urged to report at the Junior High school Wednesday night at 6 o'clock. Several Colorado teachers had enrolled for the classes at Snyder and will continue their work in the classes here, as will teachers from Snyder and other nearby schools.

HERE FROM STANTON

Mr. and Mrs. Riggs Shepperd of Stanton, who have been visiting the J. W. Shepperd, Jr., family in Alpine for the past week, arrived in Colorado Tuesday. Mrs. Shepperd remained here for a few days visit with relatives while Mr. Shepperd went on to Austin Wednesday on business.

HIGHWAY CRASH NEAR HERE INJURES 2 MEN

A highway crash on Highway One 6 miles west of Colorado shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night put one man in a Colorado hospital with painful face injuries and resulted in minor injuries to another.

A. B. Allen of Breckenridge is in Root hospital with a broken nose and a broken bone beneath his nose as his principal injuries. D. Selvidge of Hobbs, N. M., was dismissed from the hospital after receiving treatment for minor injuries. The men were brought to the hospital by a Jones-Russell ambulance.

Selvidge was traveling east to Roby and Allen, who had been to Roby on Wednesday, was traveling west. The two cars sideswiped, both wheels on the driver's side being ripped from Selvidge's Oldsmobile Eight. Allen's car went 150 feet down the highway before coming to a standstill. It was badly damaged.

MUSTANGS CONTINUE IN FIRST PLACE AS CLASS A CLASHES ARE STAGED

The Sweetwater Mustangs continue their parade toward pennant in the Oil Belt district as play in conference Class A progresses. Friday night the Ponies routed Harry Taylor's San Angelo Bobcats 20 to 0.

A week before the Sweetwater boys sent Breckenridge back to their home corral under sting of defeat.

Big Spring won over Cisco, 20-6; Abilene held Eastland 21-6 and Brownwood romped all over Ranger for a 46 to 0 score as other conference games in the district were played Friday night.

Bulldogs Stronger Than The Club Of 1936. Boosters Of Boys Declare

Scores of enthusiastic fans from Eastern Mitchell county are to follow Loraine's Bulldogs into Cantrill Field Friday night and offer all the moral support they can muster in support of the gridsters as they engage Colorado, an ardent Bulldog fan stated while in Colorado Monday night.

That the Loraine schoolboys will present a better club than the one that sent Colorado into defeat a year ago is suggested. The Bulldogs realize they have a hard fight ahead but they are going to play the hardest fought football contest ever in hopes of retaining their present undefeated record in the district, it was stated.

ABILENE PAPER PLEASED OVER CALIFORNIA FUNCH

The title, "little cowtown in Texas," and "hick town," was applied to Abilene recently by Los Angeles sportswriters detailing defeat of Loyola's Lions by Cowboys from Hardin-Simmons university, so The Abilene Reporter details in its edition for Wednesday morning.

Editor Frank Grimes outlined that Abilene would take no offense at the jibes, however. "The Cowboys themselves took care of the situation with admirable skill," he retorted.

Near-Record High Cotton Production Is Federal Guess

Prices, Already Falling, Go On Plunge After Report Is Announced Friday

The federal crop reporting board at Washington Friday boosted its estimate of cotton acreage yield to record peak of 249.3 pounds, forecasting a United States production of 17,573,000 bales, based on October 1 conditions.

If this production figure is realized, this would be the second largest crop ever harvested, more than 5,000,000 bales larger than last year, and nearly 3,000,000 bales above the 5 year average of 1928-32. The largest crop harvested was 17,978,000 bales in 1926.

The federal crop board made an upward revision of more than 1,500,000 bales over its last previous estimate by raising its estimated yield more than 20 pounds for each of the 33,736,000 acres reported in cultivation.

A month ago the yield per acre was reported at 228.5 pounds, the previous record.

Administration farm leaders who have been urging a special session of congress this fall to enact a broad new federal farm program said the large increase in estimated cotton production probably would bring more pressure from the cotton belt for prompt federal action.

Total payrolls of employers now reporting to the Unemployment Commission approximate 75 to 80 million dollars per month.

LOCAL FFA BOYS TO BE WELL REPRESENTED AT NATIONAL PARLEY

The Colorado chapter of the Future Farmers of America will probably be better represented at the national FFA convention in Kansas City than any other in this vicinity. Four members of the local chapter will be in attendance.

Two of the four, Virgil Easterwood and Jack Long, left Wednesday to join the State FFA band in Denton. The band is to play for several college gatherings between now and time to leave for the convention.

The other two Colorado boys to attend the parley will leave Saturday. They are Quinton Hamrick, local president, and Raymond Fuller, state FFA treasurer.

The convention opens Sunday and will last through Friday.

HOSPITAL NEWS

C. A. Wilkin, high school principal, was reported Thursday morning to be in "favorable" condition following emergency surgery for appendicitis shortly before noon Wednesday.

A. B. Allen of Breckenridge was admitted to the hospital Wednesday night with his nose and the bone beneath it broken as the result of a car accident west of Colorado.

Dismissals during the week were E. B. Ellis, appendectomy patient, who went home Monday; Willie Maude Nonack, appendectomy patient, who also went home to Hyman Monday; Mrs. Pete Ainsworth and infant daughter, who were moved to their home at the Rendenbrook ranch Thursday afternoon.

Two patients whose lives were almost despaired of following surgery for ruptured appendices seem to be well on the road to recovery. J. J. Mahan of near Colorado is now out of danger. D. W. Moore of Spade is "doing nicely" and apparently will recover.

James Wulfjen was a medical patient in the hospital Friday and Saturday.

Flonell Davis underwent an appendectomy last Friday and will go home this Friday.

Mrs. Homan Posey had minor surgery Monday and went home Thursday afternoon.

Emergency surgery for appendicitis was administered to Mrs. Bryan Porter Tuesday. She was given a favorable report Thursday morning.

Another emergency appendectomy was that of Mrs. O. L. Simpson of Fairview. She was given surgery early Monday morning and is doing well.

Tonsils of R. C. Scuddy, son of Mrs. C. W. Scuddy of Silver, were removed Tuesday.

Vernon O'Neal of Odessa, formerly of Colorado, has been in the hospital since Monday, suffering from a malady resembling sleeping sickness. He arose from his stupor Wednesday and Thursday however, and was apparently improved.

RAYMOND JOHNSON, FORMER COLORADOAN, SUCCUMBS AT PHARR

Word was received by Mrs. R. S. Brennan and Mrs. Henry Doss, Sr., Wednesday morning of the death in Pharr, Texas, of their brother-in-law, Raymond Johnson, a former Coloradoan.

Mr. Johnson, who lived in Colorado for a number of years 25 years ago, was about 65. It was while living here that he married Sue Wulfjen, sister of Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Brennan.

Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Brennan left early Thursday to attend the funeral in Pharr Friday afternoon. They were to be joined in San Antonio by another sister, Mrs. Harry G. Watson of Alpine.

SURGERY PATIENT

C. A. Wilkins, high school principal, who underwent emergency surgery for appendicitis at Root hospital Wednesday morning, was reported Thursday noon to be in a "favorable" condition. The attending physician stated that, although the appendix was gangrenous, recovery is confidently expected unless complications develop.

SO-CALLED CANCER CURE QUESTIONABLE, COX SAYS

AUSTIN.—"The increasing number of persons in Texas dying from cancer justifies a warning at this time against quacks and so-called cancer cures," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"While newspapers, as a rule, do not carry the cancer type of advertising, there are many other ways for misinformation to reach the public. Undoubtedly there are persons who, being thus detoured from seeking proper advice, unnecessarily become cancer victims, while others not having cancer are fleeced out of much money for a cure," Dr. Cox continued.

"There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by surgery; and second, by the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage in one-third of the cases, frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, sebums, colored lights, pastes, salves and diets are valueless.

"The great bulwark against cancer is early diagnosis. Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of these with cancer do not seek medical advice until beyond a permanent cure. No hope should be placed in fake cancer prophets and their treatments. Rather, the annual physical examination, and an immediate reporting to your physician of any symptoms which may be suspected to be the beginning of cancer, should be relied upon. These symptoms are: any unusual bleeding from any body opening, any lump in the breast or other part of the body; any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth, and chronic indigestion. These conditions may not be cancer, but sometimes they are forerunners of the more common types of this disease. Where cancer is suspected, do not delay, but consult your family physician at once," Dr. Cox admonished.

COTTON PICKERS SOURCE OF 'RUSHING BUSINESS'

Cotton pickers that during Saturday merged at Big Spring from fields of Howard county became the source of a "rushing business" for the police, sheriff and constables' departments there Saturday night. A total of 48 negroes and Mexicans were jailed on charges of drunkenness and gaming.

UNDEFEATED 6B CLUBS TO ENTER CRUCIAL BATTLE AS SCHOOLBOYS MEET FRIDAY

Loraine, Colorado Holding Perfect Record As Annual Conference Affair Set To Open At Cantrill Field

Backed by all the power that enthused fandom may be capable of mustering the Loraine Bulldogs have the scene set for invading Cantrill Field Friday night to annex another annual victory over the Wolves. Loraine won over Colorado last year in a last minute struggle that created a spectacular sensation in football history of this community.

The two 6-B clubs are to enter the contest with creditable records for the season. Neither the Bulldogs or Wolves have been defeated this year. Rather than defeat both have achieved creditable distinction in the district and are to enter the conference argument under realization that the eleven to go down in defeat will have been shunted from an enviable perch in the championship parade.

Due to unusual interest centered about the contest in this county officials of the Loraine and Colorado schools are agreeing that the largest fan aggregation to pass through gates at Cantrill Field during the season will be present. Loraine, enthused over creditable record written into football history so far during the season by their schoolboys, are to send largest visiting delegation seen at the local stadium in some time.

"The friendly rivalry so well established between Mitchell county's two largest high schools in the realm of football and the hopes fans of both the Wolves and Bulldogs have pinned upon them in this crucial battle indicates a game equaling that of last Friday night in stellar performance," an official of the Colorado High school stated Tuesday morning.

Byron Landers, 81 Pioneer Of County Buried On Friday

Ranchman Who Came Here In 1883 Died Thursday At Mineral Wells

Another of Mitchell county's pioneers was claimed by death Thursday morning in the passing of Byron Landers 81, resident of the county 54 years. Mr. Landers died at a Mineral Wells rest home where he had been receiving treatment for a heart ailment for two weeks.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Kiker chapel with Dr. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery, pallbearers being U. D. Wuljen, Frank Smith, Randolph McEntire, J. G. Merritt, Jess Lee, and Dave Stubbfield.

With his brother, Harry Landers, Sr., Mr. Landers came to Mitchell county from Vermont in 1883. The brothers had a small herd of sheep and launched into the sheep business at a time when hatred between cattlemen and sheep raisers was rife. They had little trouble, however, and in a few years they were running cattle as well as sheep on their ranch, which was located then, as now, on the banks of South Champion creek in southeastern Mitchell county.

It was usually the job of Byron Landers, familiarly known as "Uncle Bye," to supervise the sheep herding. In early days the sheep were kept on the Mitchell county ranch during the warm months then moved southward onto the open range of the Big Lake and Devil's River country about November 1.

Mr. Landers spent the winters with his sheep and their Mexican herders on the open range. He spent many bitter winter nights sleeping in a hastily thrown-up tent or in a "tarp." He always preferred the quiet life of the open range and his ranch to any other. He was never married. He and his brother, Harry, were always closely associated.

Survivors in addition to Harry Landers, Sr., are another brother, Robert Landers of Dallas, and a sister, Mrs. Will Bemis also of Dallas. Kiker & Son had charge of arrangements, going to Mineral Wells for the body Thursday afternoon.

"We have every confidence that customers will not be disappointed, in so far as thrills are to be reckoned."

While Colorado was holding Rotan's Yellow Hammers Friday night in conference dispute, the Bulldogs were entertaining the powerful Clyde Class B eleven in a non-league affair. Loraine routed the other boys in definite fashion to turn in a score of 27-0.

In her first and thus far only conference argument of the 1937 schedule, Loraine defeated Roby at Roby October 1 after opening up a devastating air attack.

In the Colorado-Loraine game last year the two clubs played on an even keel through most of the contest. They stood dead-locked under a 6-6 tie until during final minute of play when Loraine connected for a long pass and in the next play pushed over the Wolf pay stripe just before the final gun.

Roscoe is third member of 6-B Conference school boy organization with an undefeated record, and Colorado is to entertain the Ploboys on the night of October 29. Roscoe ran roughshod over Merkel Friday afternoon to roll up a score of 41 to 0. The Ploboys routed Colorado in conference game a year ago.

THREATENED AIR BLAST BY ROTAN CLUB IS FOLDED UP BY SUPERIOR WOLF SQUAD

Visitors Outplayed In Second Conference Affair Friday Night; Passing Spree Is Costly To Yellowhammers

The threatened attack from out of the air calculated to blast the Wolves out of 6-B district schoolboy parade here Friday night folded up completely as Colorado offered the better football even in battle with the Yellowhammers of Rotan. Rotan attempted several passes during the game to complete only one for a gain of five yards. The others were either wild, knocked down by a Wolf or intercepted by damaging gains by the locals.

One of the big thrills offered spectators at the game came when Jack Smith took a clewhammer pass on his 35 yard line and raced through a broken field to chalk up a touchdown.

The Wolves effected another pay counter after taking a Rotan pass and battering through enemy defensive lines for several yards.

The score of 52-13 in favor of Colorado does not portray the spirited grid battle as it was reeled off for entertainment of one of the largest crowds seen at Cantrill Field in several years. The visitors played a game of power and technique through all four periods. Through most of the third quarter Rotan held the Wolves and at times actually demonstrated a superior club. Both teams carried the ball over for a touchdown during that period of the contest.

Colorado received the kick-off and as first minute of the game was enacted these looks gloomy for the Wolves. Rotan returned the ball for good yardage and paraded well into Wolf territory on successive line plunges. The locals tightened on the third down, however, and held. Colorado scored early in the first period after receiving punt far into her territory and returning to the 48 yard stripe before being downed. A series of damaging plunges through Rotan's wall and around end carried the ball over.

Colorado scored again in first minute of the second period by taking the ball from the Wolf 20-yard line after gapping holes had been torn through the Rotan line by Christian's well oiled blocking machine. Colorado scored again during this bracket after recovering the ball on a Rotan fumble on the visitors' 20-yard line. Score 19-0 in favor of Colorado.

The Yellowhammers opened up an air attack in all fury at this point but the Wolves were equal to the bombing raid and broke it up without material loss. First of the aerial attempts sent the ball thirty-five yards directly to a Yellowhammer receiver, but the oval was knocked down by a tightening Wolf defense. Another long pass was incomplete and Rotan lost ten yards on a fake play for third down. Colorado held on Rotan's 30.

Fumbles and offside penalties were costly to both teams at this point in the game. Glover was thrown back 10 yards after losing the ball but ran 14 yards on the next play and chalked up another six for first down on the next. Both teams were offside on the next play, as Glover plowed through broken end to carry the ball 15 yards. Rotan punted out from her goal line to the center stripe where the ball is downed.

Colorado opened passing attack, Boone Jackson to Charles Carter, and picked up a couple of 20 yard gains in two attempts through the air. Earnest Smith raced around end for 15 yards and another touchdown late in the period. Score 26-0 in favor of Colorado.

Rotan takes punt deep in her territory and on first play attempts to connect a long, lateral pass. Earnest Smith snags the ball and races through to the visitors' 25 yard stripe as the half ended. First downs for Colorado during the first half were 14; for Rotan, 3.

Rotan came into play as the third period opened with a harder fighting eleven. Colorado was held on downs and Smith of Rotan, one of the best field runners to be presented spectators here in several seasons, took the punt on his 35-yard line and raced 65 yards for a touchdown. Placement kick for extra point was good. Score 26-7 in favor of Colorado.

In the next parade across the field Colorado opened up a triple pass attack that clicked and carried the ball from Rotan's 39-yard line across the goal stripe. The play was originated in punt formation and swung around

Funeral Service Held Here Monday For Crane Coach

Arthur Niebuhr, Husband Of Former Laura L. Pearson, Succumbed Early Sunday

With members of his football squad acting as pallbearers, Arthur Niebuhr, Jr., 27, coach of Crane High school, was buried here Monday afternoon.

Mr. Niebuhr, who was the husband of the former Laura Louise Pearson of Colorado, was brought here from Crane for an appendectomy on the Sunday night before his death. He was given emergency surgery at a local hospital Monday morning at 3 o'clock.

Although his condition was critical from the beginning because the appendix had ruptured, some hope for his recovery was held until a second major operation became necessary Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Death occurred shortly after midnight Saturday.

One of the largest floral offerings ever seen in Colorado was banked around the casket as funeral services were held in Kiker chapel Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The simple, impressive service was in charge of the Rev. W. L. McAllister of Crane, with the Rev. T. A. Patterson of Colorado assisting. As the body was lowered into the grave at Colorado cemetery, taps were sung by J. A. Ferguson.

Born December 4, 1910, at Brenham, Mr. Niebuhr was reared there. He was an outstanding football player on the Brenham High school team and later on the Blinn Junior college team at Brenham. While at the University of Texas, where he received his degree, he was characterized as one of the best tackles who ever played for the university. He coached at Baird before going to Crane, where he was in his second year.

Niebuhr's team at Crane had been unbeaten this season until they met Odessa at Odessa Friday night after a week without their coach. They were defeated 20-7.

A large number of Crane people were here for the funeral, the number including the entire Crane faculty. Niebuhr was said to have been one of the best liked members of the faculty. The eight football players who were active pallbearers wore their sweaters.

The marriage of Mr. Niebuhr to Miss Pearson who is librarian at Crane High school, took place here on July 15, less than three months before his death. In addition to her he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Niebuhr, Sr., of Industry, near Brenham; and three brothers, Harold Niebuhr of Mabank, Clarence Niebuhr of Shreveport, and Edgar Niebuhr of Austin.

Kiker & Son had charge of funeral arrangements.

COOPERATIVE EFFORT WILL SUSTAIN HOPE OF SUCCESS DALLAS EXECUTIVE STATES

Roger Miller Pictures Better Times For Cotton, Other Industries In So Far As The Public Demands

Cooperative effort directed to attain realization of objectives that are needed for community progress should be the time table about which the citizenship of this community would measure their industrial and economic pace, Roger Miller of Dallas, manager of the Southwestern division, United States chamber of commerce, said during an address at the CC luncheon club Tuesday noon.

"There are too many of us who continue to entertain the assumption that when we put our tinances into the chamber of commerce we have done all that responsibility of good citizenship demands," Miller said. "There is importance to the money feature of your chamber of commerce, but finance is of secondary consideration. Team work and man power is what you gentlemen of Colorado ought to prescribe in your organization if the better things are to be attained."

Cooperative effort always pays dividends, whether it be in the chamber of commerce, agriculture or other realms of endeavor, the speaker continued. "I have been approached for an opinion on the cotton question. I regret that I do not have information sufficient to answer that problem intelligently. I have approached many leading men in the industry—from production up through the manufacturing phase of this great farm industry—and they express themselves reservedly in offering solution."

"But there is one essential that must be respected and put into active practice if the Southern cotton producer is to pull himself out of the dilemma into which he has been cast. We must unite under a single flag to improve quality of the product and otherwise meet changing conditions that are regularly entering the picture as a factor in altering market stability and world consumption."

Miller referred to conditions in North Carolina and Eastern Tennessee, scene of his boyhood. "I recall that a few years ago farmers of that section of the South were practically on starvation because they devoted all their effort to the production of tobacco. That farm commodity, like our cotton of today, suffered reversals that brought chaos to the planter. Today those farmers are independent and none of them, I accept, are looking to a government subsidy, simply because they saw the handwriting on the wall and adopted a coordinated program to improve their business."

That cotton is destined to take an ever expanding place in the world's commerce was stated by the speaker. "Even today, due to efforts of our chemists, we have ladies dress shoes, imitation ivory and hundreds of other articles of commerce manufactured from cotton. The rayon industry is yet in its infancy and as time passes your cotton will continue to follow in the path of profitable industry, just to the degree serious thought is given its production and marketing, as can only be attained through organization of all agencies interested."

Miller urged the business and professional interests of Colorado to sustain the chamber of commerce in all of its objectives. That the organization will be enabled to accomplish much for the community good, under the prompting of universal support was stated with definite conviction.

The regional chamber of commerce executive arrived here Tuesday morning for conference with Carl A. Blasig, manager of the local CC. He was presented at the luncheon club meeting by Blasig.

J. Y. Fraser presided at the meeting. Report by committee named a few days before to meet with the city council with petition that steps be taken to keep trash removed from the streets and alleys outlined that Mayor Sadler and members of the council were sympathetic toward such a civic undertaking.

ROTAN BUSTLING AS OIL ATTRACTS TEXANS THERE

TEXAS RANGE PROSPECT REPORTED UNFAVORABLE

Rotan is bustling with activity due to attraction of its oil wells of gusher proportions. Saturday not less than 5,000 visitors were on streets of the Fisher county town, it was estimated. A check of cold drink dispensers disclosed that 8,664 bottles of pop were sold during the day.

An unfavorable outlook for winter range feed in Texas came from the United States crop reporting board at Austin Tuesday. Condition of all ranges in the State was listed as several points below the average indicated at the same time last year.

Sweetwater will operate another special train this week-end when several hundred Mustang fans follow the Class A grid-ters to Stephenville to engage Stephenville. A special train was operated to San Angelo last Friday for the Pony-Boat battle.

The special is to be operated over the Santa Fe lines, leaving Sweetwater at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

NEGRO KILLED IN FIGHT NEAR ROSCOE SATURDAY

Joe Wilson, negro employed to pick cotton at farm three miles west of Roscoe, was shot to death Saturday afternoon as sequel to an altercation originating in bunk house occupied by three negro men. The black charged in the shooting was being sought by Nolan county officers.

Wilson's body, with nine buckshot in his breast, was found outside yard gate near the cabin.

PEP SQUAD NEWS
 The Pep Squad girls are yelling and doing their best to help the Wolves to win.

Last Friday night the Colorado pep squad girls walked proudly on the field to their formation after the Rotan pep squad had finished. The first thing they made was an R for Rotan. After the R had been made and the girls dominated they marched around and made a C for Colorado.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS
 "How to Cook a Cook, Digestible Breakfast." This is what the first year classes have been doing this week. Under the able instruction of Miss Cole, the girls cooked eggs and bacon Monday with every precaution. Mr. Foster was selected as the connoisseur and even if the food was not digested, his smile was deceiving.

The H.E. IA class is anxiously awaiting the planned field trip on marketing. Since this has been the current unit, the experience will be of some advantage to all of the girls. The definition of jelly that was practically unanimous on an H. E. test was: "Jelly is a soft, gummy, glovey, gooey substance." The source of this definition was unknown to Miss Cole. Her only solution was that they were defining their own results of jelly-making.

SENIOR NEWS
 With vim, vigor, and vitality the Seniors of 1938 are opening this school year with a bang!

"Kid Day" is scheduled for October 26, and is being anticipated with great interest. The Seniors will be enjoying a second childhood (or will it be a continuation of the first); short dresses, short trousers, big bows, all-day suckers, and (best of all) "big wads" of chewing gum.

THEY'RE SPEAKING AGAIN
 As the old saying goes, "Clothes make the man." Yes, but he must know how to speak and speak with influence to be a man! Now, don't you agree?

Miss Miller seems to have a habit (or is it a habit, Miss Miller) of giving "little easy tests" on Fridays. Yes, the very day she said she was going to. And so you know, she means what she says!

The class is learning to speak with "ever so many different tones of voice"—and laugh, too. Ask Joe Lee to laugh his five different ways for you, sometimes. Will you Joe—in assembly, maybe?

ATHLETES OF THE BIBLE
 Athletics seems to be the main topic of discussion everywhere lately. Last Wednesday in the assembly period Rev. T. A. Patterson of the First Baptist church was the speaker of the hour. His subject was "The Great Athletes of the Bible."

One of the athletes whom he spoke of was Jacob, who wrestled with God until daybreak, but who never obtained depth of happiness until he accepted His will. Another that the Reverend spoke of was David, the famous stone thrower, who, because of his faith in God, won a great battle for his people.

The other athlete discussed was Enoch, the great walker. The Reverend told the story in the language of a little child. Enoch was walking unflinchingly with God. When he started to go home, God told him that His home was nearer than Enoch's, and for him to go home with Him. Enoch went on with God to His Heavenly Kingdom.

Each Wednesday the high school enjoys a lecture of character building from some local minister. The students look forward to these Wednesday programs with interest.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomores last week walked unknowingly into a surprise party given on her birthday. Needless to say, she was quite thrilled, but irked at being caught with no lipstick and a shiny nose. But anyway, it was a swell party! Beulah received among other things, a lovely Sheaffer's pen and pencil set. "Now I have no excuse for not writing my English," she mourned while admiring the shining set.

CHEM CLASS VISITS ROOT HOSPITAL

The chemistry class made a field excursion Wednesday of this past week. The hospital has been remodeled and Dr. Root invited the students up mainly in the interest of his new X-ray apparatus. The students were shown entirely through the hospital and Dr. Root explained every detail of the operation of the various machines. The class was asked to write a theme on what they had seen and Mr. Wilkins received some very good ones.

WE WONDER:
 Why Harry Etta Landers ran from Dooky Cox Sunday morning when she suddenly saw him in the Colorado Drug?

Why Mr. Wilkins drew the conclusion that the English language of his chemistry class was composed of three words: "I don't know."

WE OFTEN WONDER:
 If there is anyone who knows to take a hint any better than Betty Hodges.

If John Colson prefers study hall the sixth period to do his public speaking.

All the C. H. S. boys are wondering how Coach Pratt gets all that "umph" that keeps the girls a-flutter.

Robert Kirschbaum: Mr. Rose, this music will haunt me forever.

Mr. Rose: It should, because you certainly are murdering it.

CHORAL CLUB AT WORK
 The Colorado High School Choral Club under the instruction of Mrs. Charles Moerer will begin the year with fifty members. This is the largest choral club in the history of the high school.

They will meet this year at the fourth period, just before noon. The girls will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays and the boys will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays. On Friday they all meet together in the auditorium.

No definite plans have been made as to what the program will be for the year but we know that whatever it is it will be interesting.

Frances Merle Cooper.

FRESHMEN OPINIONS

We Freshmen have been making known what we think about high school. Some of us say, "hard," and fuss over lessons and wonder why the teachers find the time, when we have the most work to do, to give us a long lesson. Well, at least, we should have expected it to be a little harder than last year's work.

Others of us say, "Oh, it's fun." A nice thing about high school is that we have three minutes between each class to run around and talk between classes. The only thing bad about that is, that when we are rushing down the halls, anxious to get to our next class, we have to run over the big Seniors. They just won't hurry and get out of our way. We suppose they don't care whether they get to class or not.

We Freshmen are having quite a bit of trouble working our lockers, but some day, perhaps, we will learn the combinations to the lockers, and learn the new ways of doing things. We are looking forward to the day when we can look down upon Freshmen and murmur, "My, how dumb."

We Fish are boosting the Wolves 151% strong! We know that the Wolves will keep up their excellent playing. We wonder if they would do quite so well without our football team.

Mary Price.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

The typing classes of Colorado, according to Mr. Wheeler, are progressing—ah—normally! They have done nothing but exercises so far, but have completely covered the keyboard. The Victrola is used three times weekly for a special rhythm drill. The pupils especially enjoy the musical accompaniment to their typing.

The bookkeeping classes are wading deeper and deeper into debits and credits. It seems that if they don't soon strike bottom they will drown in the depths of trial balances.

Louise Dockery and Dorothy Hagler have already started on the first practice set, and others lack only a few exercises. If they keep going at this "tempo" they will run out of something to do by Christmas.

The Vocational classes welcome several new students to the rolls of typewriting, bookkeeping, and shorthand. These students are: Pete Warren, George Shelton, Catherine Sue Motley, Lula Brazil, Mrs. Wheeler, and Irene Tiller.

We notice that since all these pretty young women of Colorado have entered these vocational classes, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Brazil have taken a sudden interest in commercial work.

Lucille Goode.

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

About twenty-five members of the Junior and Senior English classes have become interested in corresponding with students of foreign countries. They have sent their names, ages, main interests, and the countries they wished to correspond with to the Student Forum of International Communication in San Francisco. The countries most popular with the students were Germany, France, and England. When the names of students in a foreign country are returned to the twenty-five students here correspondence will begin at once.

right end through wreckage in the Yellowhammer-wall effected by the power of Colorado's blocking attack. Score 32-7 in favor of Colorado.

Rotan takes kick on her 31 and completed her only pass on the next play. The gain was for five yards. The third period ended with both teams fighting on a parity and usually holding on downs. Rotan again brought her aerial attack into play but without success.

Rotan scored again in the fourth and this counter, like the other, came after Smith had taken the ball deep into his territory and raced across the field. In this play the ball was downed on Colorado's 2-yard line. A driving line plunge carried the ball over to set the score at 39-13.

Rotan's splurge at racing the ball through broken field for touchdown was taken up by Colorado as Glover received a punt on his ten-yard marker and sped over the intervening 90 yards to score. Colorado scored again a few minutes before end of the game after Jack Smith snagged a Rotan pass on his own 35-yard stripe and ran 65 yards to register last counter of the contest.

Pep squads of the two schools appeared on the field in uniform during the period between halves. Fifty-two Colorado girls with their yell leaders and sponsor, little Miss Vivian Giddens, were presented. The Colorado school band did some fancy marching about the field under the baton of Joe Lee.

Rotan was penalized 75 yards during the game. Two 15-yard reverses were assessed the visitors on charges of clipping. Colorado drew 25 yards in penalties, all of them being based on offside charges.

Rotan attempted seven passes, two of them being intercepted. Colorado passed once during the game, connecting for a gain of 25 yards. Colorado punted four times for 119 yards. Rotan punted six times for 150 yards.

The starting line-up:

Fairview's achievement day included also a visit to the newly remodeled home of Mrs. J. C. Womack and to the new teacherage, where Mrs. Claude Willis, wife of the Fairview principal, acted as hostess.

Guests at the Fairview event were Mesdames Tom Daughtrey and J. C. Franklin of Plainview; Mesdames Will Berry, J. L. Strain, O. L. Simpson, E. R. Uzzle, Lon Strain, Claude Willie, and P. H. Pace, all of Fairview; Mrs. J. L. Bundy of Lindall; Mrs. T. L. McKimney, Rozelle McKinney, and Mrs. E. C. Grant of Iatan; Mrs. Carl Blasig and Miss Varn Crippen, county home demonstration agent, of Colorado.

The stories which Mrs. Daughtrey and Mrs. Jenkins told of their work were as follows:

Mrs. Jenkins: "I do not like to think of my kitchen as it was, since I have enjoyed all the improvements. My walls were covered with old brown building paper which made the room very dark. It had fallen and was tacked back with boards, tacks, and anything to hold it up. I often wonder how I ever did my work there. I had a kitchen cabinet and table with water piped to a lavatory.

"My first improvement was the kitchen cabinet. It was made mostly of second hand lumber. I bought my sink and drain board and a little lumber for doors, also hinges and the door fasteners.

"I had intended to paper the room myself, but when I would look at the high ceiling, I was afraid. I had a paper-hanger to look the room over and he said I would have to put on new canvas. My canvas cost $2.10, paper $2.50, and he charged me $4.00 to put them on. My paint cost $3.50. I sold my old cabinet for $5.00. My new cabinet and ironing board with the labor cost me $35.00. My rug cost $4.95. Total expense was $47.05. It is such a pleasure to work in there now. I am enjoying it so much."

Mrs. Daughtrey: "When I was appointed kitchen demonstrator, the first thing I thought of was money to get floor covering for my kitchen. Then my husband gave me the money for a birthday present, and it cost me $11.50. Then I thought of the wall which was a dark green. I was undecided what to use. I looked at oilcloth paper and it was so high, then I looked at a kitchen which was done in ivory enamel and I used that. I had to put three coats on walls to cover the green. This cost was $4.00.

"Then I had a box which I used for a water table, since I do not have water piped into the house. This did not look well, so I bought a marble top wash stand, for which I paid $1.00. I already had a built-in cabinet and Frigiraire.

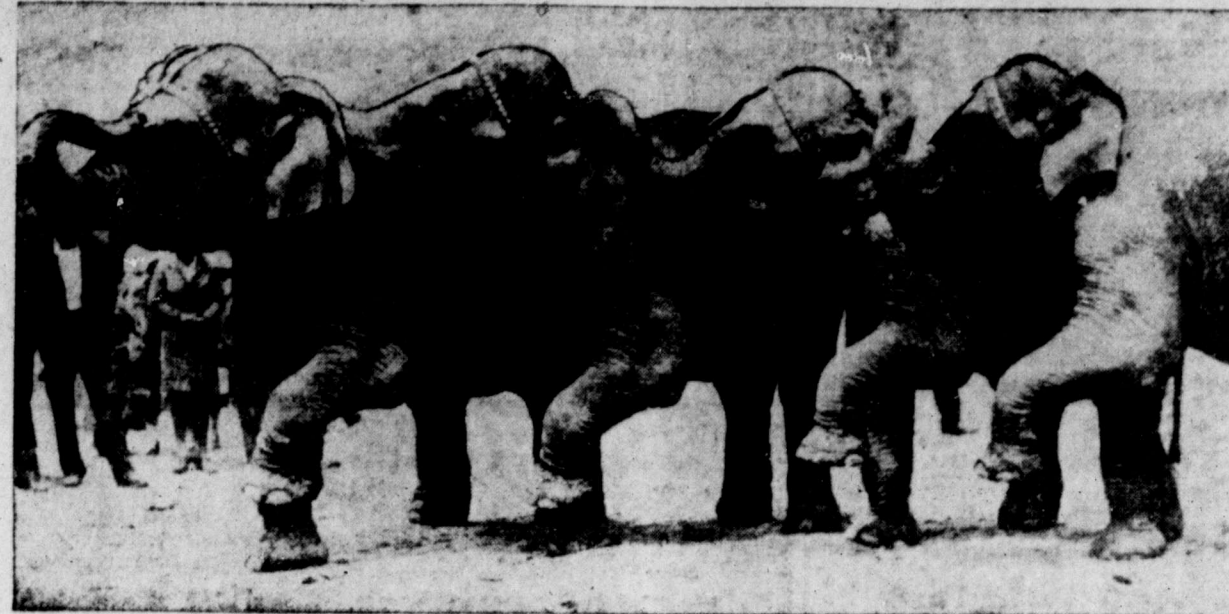

"Then I turned to the windows. I had two in the kitchen, so I looked at materials for curtains. I looked at serim and ABC prints and decided on the print. I chose one with ivory background and small green check, because of its laundering quality. This cost me sixty-six cents. Then I needed a garbage can, as I had used a bushel basket before, so I bought one with a light green body and ivory color lid which cost sixty-nine cents. Then I needed a small shelf so I made one out of a small box and varnished it dark oak. Miss Gunter gave me a lamp for my kitchen wall which I placed on the shelf.

"One goal which we did not reach was to get the water piped into the house, which I expect to do next year. I enjoyed the work in my kitchen."

FIVE HERDS OF ELEPHANTS WITH BIG CIRCUS

Just a few of the five herds of elephants with the great Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus.

"What in the world do they ever do with all those elephants." This question is often asked about the five herds of huge pachyderms with the great AL G. BARNES AND SELLS FLOTO COMBINED CIRCUS. The answer is simple. All but a few of the mighty beasts are needed for the colossal spectacle OLD MEXICO that opens the gigantic program. In this pageant of unrivaled splendor hundreds of persons, as well as scores of animals take part. The bejeweled costumes worn by the performers are the most elaborate ever designed for a circus. And the elephants, who play an important part here are bedecked with houdahs trimmed with mammoth ostrich plumes. Indeed, the five herds of elephants with this super circus are used each performance.

Only six of the big-eared fellows, after many years of performing have been relegated to the working class, while younger elephants have taken their places in the saddest rings, and about the hippodrome track, where they carry comely girls on their backs in stirring new routines. But even the working elephants play an important part in moving the big circus, for it is their strong heads that gently shove wagons into exacting places.

Another factor, not commonly known, but one that has been true for these many years, is the love circus people have for elephants. Elephants symbolize the circus and the spangleland folks believe the pachyderms bring them good luck, so the more the merrier.

When the great AL G. BARNES AND SELLS FLOTO COMBINED CIRCUS comes to Colorado Wednesday, October 20th, it will usher in a new idea in "whit-top" entertainment, made possible only by the uniting of these two giants of the tented world. Hundreds upon hundreds of the foremost arenic stars of the world, as well as the finest and largest group of beautiful equestriennes and horses in America today, are part of this mammoth circus. Sixty clowns and 800 furred and feathered creatures all do their respective parts in the program. Then too there is the largest group of ferocious jungle beasts ever assembled. Beauty too, has its day with this glittering new, but tested circus, with an aerial ballet employing 100 comely young women. Not in years has a circus displayed so many new wonders.

Performances will be given at 2:00 and 8:00 P. M., the doors opening one hour earlier to permit inspection of the amazing international features and the mammoth new menagerie.

Trench Silo Given Consideration At Rural Gatherings

Night Schools Held By C. V. Cox At Westbrook And Hyman This Week

The trench silo and its importance on the farm and ranch was given practical study during two night schools conducted during the week by C. V. Cox, vocational agricultural teacher in Westbrook high school. First of the meetings was held at Westbrook Tuesday night and the second at Hyman Wednesday night.

Following the community mass meetings members of the Westbrook vocational agriculture class are to conduct a practical trench silo demonstration to which all interested citizens of the county are to be invited. The trench has already been dug and is to be filled with maize. Cotton burrs are to be used for placing carpets between layers of the maize stalks. Date and location of the demonstration are to be announced later. Cox stated while in Colorado Tuesday afternoon.

INVITATIONS TO ATTEND PARENTS DAY RECEIVED

Programs and invitations to attend Parents Day October 23 at Texas Tech, Lubbock, have been received by Colorado parents of students attending the school.

The program will include registration from 10 to 12 a.m. in the women's dormitory lounge; a reception at which administration council, faculty, and student council members will welcome parents and assist them in registration; inspection tours of the campus from 2 to 4 p.m.; the Tech-University of New Mexico football game at 8:30 p.m.

Prizes will be given to parents coming the longest distance; parents with the largest number of children now in Tech; and to parents who have furnished the largest number of students to Tech since the college opened, providing those parents attend the Parents' day program. In case of a tie, the prize will be given to parents furnishing the largest number with the highest scholastic average.

The day's program will be sponsored by the student council, athletic council, and administrative council. Invitations were signed by Dr. Bradford Knapp, college president, and Maxine Fry, student council president.

MORE ABOUT BAPTISM

A Georgia creek, a Tennessee stream, an Alabama river—any body of water in the south was a likely place last week for a ceremony that has long been part of the old theological dispute over the meaning and method of baptism.

It was late August; the crops were laid by and the waters were warmed by months of the summer sun. It was the traditional time for Baptists to baptize by immersion. Into the creeks and streams and rivers waded groups of fully-clothed converts to slosh out to the spot where the minister stood waist-deep, ready to duck them completely under water.

Although immersion—as distinguished from aspersion (sprinkling of water) and affusion (pouring of water over the head)—has been the established form of baptism among Baptists, it has been denounced by followers of other creeds. Immersion is adhered to by all Baptists, but immersion outdoors is not practiced in all localities.

Theologians long ago delved into ancient records in an effort to determine whether the baptismal rite came from the Hebrews, who baptized all converts, or whether it originated with John the Baptist, who baptized those wishing to be cleansed of their sins and to experience a spiritual rebirth.

The early debate was not confined to a discussion of baptism's origin but branched out into differences over its purpose and form. The subject involved arguments about whether baptism cleansed a person of the Original Sin, desecrated mankind by Adam, or whether it cleansed a person of all past sins. One group favored baptism for infants. Another insisted that such a custom was useless since children could not understand why they were being baptized. One sect believed baptism should be simply "in the name of the Lord." Another steadfastly held to trine immersion "in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost."

Among some Christian sects, the rise of rationalism during the Renaissance (1300-1500) destroyed belief in the Original Sin and weakened dependence upon divine grace. Accordingly, many came to regard baptism as an outward sign, signifying adherence to the church, rather than as a means of grace or a seal of spiritual regeneration.

Out of the long-standing theological dispute emerged the Baptist sect. Theoretically, it held that baptism should be administered only to believers and that the correct method was immersion. Yet, the Baptists in turn were sub-divided by internal debates. Varying doctrinal differences gave rise to such groups as the Mennonites, Anabaptists and Amish and to the formation in this country of the Northern and Southern Baptists.

Although baptism by immersion, as seen last week in the south, is still practiced by all true Baptists, most Protestants hold that sprinkling and pouring are valid forms and follow methods similar to that of the Roman Catholic Church. Modern churchmen believe that the baptismal form is not fundamentally important and that any application of water in the divine name is adequate.

TEACHERS TO TEACH

We submit this editorial this week and would like to have some of our critical readers to reply to it with their criticism:

Do teachers risk their contracts nowadays if they dance, smoke and play bridge? Maybe—in small towns. But the general opinion is that Colorado is "liberal" and "broadminded." Colorado does not require its teachers to live in "glass houses." The day seems on the wane when teachers are not permitted to indulge themselves as does the representative public. Teachers no longer are set necessarily upon a pedestal. The prim, bespectacled teacher is disappearing as a formidable factor in the selection of a teacher. To the Colorado School Board, beauty isn't everything. "Just so they have the interest of the kids at heart and see that they learn their lessons," are general requirements. The ban has not quite been lifted from smoking, however. It is all right, "if she smokes in the privacy of her home and not in public places." Teachers consider Colorado a good place to teach.

The business world, at last, or so it appears from the above, is undermining that last stronghold of conservatism, the public school system. Board members apparently are applying some of the standards in electing teachers that they have used for years in selecting secretaries for their own offices. It is a sign of progress, undoubtedly, that a pretty face is no longer considered a handicap in a school-marm. Even better news is the fact that an increasing number of school authorities are recognizing that teachers are human beings and allowing them to act as such. Young women who are permitted to join in the normal social activities in the community in which they teach are much more wholesome influences on their young charges than those who are forced to pretend to stoical way of life. If dancing, bridge playing and smoking are no longer considered "sins" for the mothers of the school kids in a given community, they should not be counted as "sins" for the schoolteacher. All the same, the standards of conduct and behavior set by the "smart set" of young matrons are not always infallible guides for the intelligent schoolteacher. The shrewder pedagogues, for instance, who wish to hold on to their jobs would do well not to spend too much of their time or money in bookie shops or cocktail bars, no matter how fashionable in "liberal" towns.

A good mother of this town returned home with her little daughter from church and said: "Were you a good little girl at church today?" "Yes, mother. A man offered me a big plate of money, and I said, No thank you."

Speaking of the "Old Timers" convention in Colorado our friend A. J. Payne of Slaton writes: To the Columnist, My Dear Fred:

I read with quite a good deal of pleasure the comment you made on my visit to Colorado this month. What you said is true all right, and I could add some more, and which I commented on quite freely, and that is the old business houses in Colorado need a coat of paint. The old Colorado National Bank building, the Burns & Bell store, and numerous others. The business portion of the town needs a paint up week. The residential section looks all right, so far ahead of the business section that it is very noticeable, and the business section is first seen by the new comer as well as the old timer.

Colorado should be proud of her newspaper plant. Wish we had a paper as good. I like the 25 years ago. It is interesting reading to we old-timers.

Best wishes to thee and thine from me and mine.

Yours sincerely,

ALLAN J. PAYNE, Manager

HAY FEVER

The Dallas News had this item last week: A conservatively estimated 10,000-odd sneezing, coughing Dallasites, rubbing aching heads and wiping watery discharges from noses and mouths, caused the city's physicians Saturday to label 1937 the worst hay fever year of the last decade.

Doctors said at least 3 per cent of Dallas' estimated 349,000 metropolitan were afflicted to a greater or less degree, and perhaps many more who had not sought medical attention.

It may be humorous to those who care not how much pollen floats in the air, but it is not funny at all to the sufferers. They get to the point where a clean handkerchief is life's greatest boon and sneezing is torture.

There is one, and only one, consolation. Surveys have shown that hay fever is virtually confined to the more intelligent classes.

This accounts for why Editor Cooper at the Record office has a severe spell of Hay Fever.

MAJORITY NOT ALWAYS RIGHT

This writer has always been in the large minority. We have voted and fought for prohibition all our life and even voted for Hoover. The writer with the usual minority expresses the shame of keeping insane people in the county jails, of treating dope victims as criminals instead of sick people and as to the undesirability of gambling, dog races, marble tables and booze joints in our larger cities. Probably I may be the only one in town who advocates the saving of men and souls. But what is the difference? It is sometimes good to be lonely. If the good old horse and buggy days are out of fashion, gone with the wind, what right has anyone to the old-time, two cinch saddle to live? But the race is not always to the swift, nor the victory to the strong. Like a good old friend I have I often fought for hopeless causes and fruitless quests. Not until now, when the end of the road and the pearly gates are almost in sight, have I discovered that after all the majority may prefer evil and that a small minority only may stand for the right.

In a long conversation with Congressman Geo. Mahon trying to get an expression of his experience in Congress, he avoided the subject and from his statements we made up that he said, It is natural for every determined statesman, who means to make statesmanship his life work, to visualize a throng of needy people voting for him because of his having buttered their bread from such men's crumbs. It may look all right on the surface to skin the taxpaying animal to make a fur coat for the nontaxed, yet the more favors given to the nontaxed the more favors are demanded. It could happen that nobody will have anything and everybody have nothing. That is the way life is.

So few people understand the Government finances or what the "gold standard" means that it brings about this thought.

One of the things funny enough to make angels laugh if they have any sense of humor, is the notion that the gold standard has been abandoned by any nation or by any class of trades people. We are on the gold standard, and have never been off of it. The British Empire has never been off of it. Neither Italy nor Germany is off of it.

Every price that is quoted—on everything priced in money at all, no matter what the coin, whether it be the United States dollar or the English pound sterling or the peso or the lira, the price is made on the basis of what the coin is worth in gold, as compared with the paper promissory notes of the Government whose standard is quoted.

In one of the grade classes the pupil was asked to paraphrase the sentence, "He was bent on seeing her." He wrote, "The sight of her doubled him up."

RAIN INDICATORS

E. K. Galey, a good farmer, said to his wife: "I've bought a barometer, Misses, to tell when its going to rain." Mrs. Galey said: "I never heard of such extravagance. What do you suppose the Lord has given you the rheumatism for?"

SARCASTIC AND MORDANT

One of our religious friends came around the other day and made us mad by accusing us of being a hypocrite. He explained by saying there were two kinds of hypocrites, the one who pretends to better than he is and the one who pretends to be meaner. This religious friend said this writer was not half as mean as he claimed to be, but we are, and as old age creeps on we intend to get meaner. We admit this is wrong. Those who are growing older should grow in grace.

A cynical Englishman once said that Job would have been happier with his flocks and herds than with his family, for he could not have enjoyed his family without his flocks and herds, but could have enjoyed his flocks and herds without his family. Now wasn't that a mean thing to say? It sounds like something you may say when you get really old and really mean. Personally we are not truly wicked. We are a bit sarcastic at times, perhaps less sarcastic than mordant. Wickedness as a minister understands it goes deeper than sarcasm or mordancy. Wickedness is transgression of the law, the higher law and the lower legislative law. It may not be wicked to say what one thinks, but it may be wicked to think what one refrains from saying only because it would be unpopular to say it.

The dividing line between goodness and badness becomes dim sometimes, as it is in the case of those who contend that the end justifies the means. The end doesn't always justify the means, because the end isn't necessarily the same at the finish as it was at the beginning.

ROOSEVELT AFTERMATH

Now that the distress is over and the hunger of the land has been appeased, the critics who are filled with the good things which this great benefactor had found a way to provide, are now throwing everything from rotten tomatoes to bricks at him. They are like the old range cow which I once dragged out of a boghole, the moment she could stand on her legs, she rewarded me for saving her life by trying to kill me. These fellows are like that old cow. They have forgotten all the wise and good things that he did for them and can only remember the human mistakes that he made in ministering to their needs in times of want. They cuss him for the money that was spent to keep them from starving.

The children of Israel railed at Moses when some little thing happened that they did not like. They forgot that he led them out of the Egyptian bondage. They failed to remember that Moses delivered them out of the hands of Pharaoh by leading them dry shod through the Red Sea. They forgot that Moses watered the thirsty hosts from the rock of Horeb. All they could think of was "them good old days" back in Egypt where the task masters beat them on their tails with a bull whip. Roosevelt's critics are like these.

New Oldsmobiles Shown At Dealers During This Week. 1938 Machines Carry Many Improvements Over The Cars of Last Year. Oldsmobile, America's oldest manufacturer of automobiles, today announced its 41st series of cars, the Oldsmobile Six and the Oldsmobile Eight for 1938. Distinctively different in appearance and styling, the two cars are now on display at local Oldsmobile dealers. Both the Six and Eight present much that is new in performance and mechanical design and both now offer as an extra-cost option the new automatic safety transmission, developed and introduced by Oldsmobile. This new development, regarded as one of the major automotive advancements of modern motoring, was first offered as optional equipment on the Oldsmobile Eight of last year. Among other features of particular interest is the new Oldsmobile safety instrument and safety dash, a departure in the modern manner from the conventional type of instrument panel. The safety panel, free of projecting knobs, is but one of many details which contribute toward passenger security in the redesigned safety interiors of the new Oldsmobiles. Safety glass, of course, is standard throughout. A choice of new upholstery fabrics is available, tailored to the deep cushions in an effective pleated treatment. As was the case in the 1937 Oldsmobiles, the designers have preserved complete individuality in styling the new Six and Eight. Body lines are lower and cleaner than before. Fenders are unusually wide, deeply banded and of heavier gauge metal than in previous models. Bullet-type headlamps are mounted low on the crowns of the front fenders. While the headlamps appear to the eye as part of the fenders themselves, actually the headlamps are demountable for economy's sake in case of fender damage. Although both the Six and Eight are unusually fast and responsive when equipped with conventional transmissions, they attain even higher peaks of performance when equipped with the Oldsmobile automatic safety transmission. This transmission also contributes importantly to both driving ease and operating economy, the latter resulting from a fourth gear direct drive which reduces the number of motor revolutions and improves fuel economy by 18 to 20 per cent. Operation is extremely simple. Control is by a short lever on the steering column. There are four positions for the control lever: Neutral; First forward (first and second gears); Second forward (first, third and fourth gears); and Reverse, which can be entered only by pressing a safety button on the end of the control arm. With the automatic safety transmission, the foot clutch is used only to start and stop. With the clutch disengaged, the control arm is moved to first forward position. When the clutch is released, the car starts forward in first gear, automatically changing to second at a road speed of about 10 miles per hour. Without decelerating or releasing the accelerator, the driver then may flick the control lever to second forward position which permits a shift to third, an extremely fast acceleration gear. At about 23 miles per hour, the transmission automatically shifts on to fourth gear or direct drive, which is the economy or cruising gear. If the driver wishes to remain in the third or pickup gear, he may do so merely by holding the accelerator all the way down. The car then will continue to pick-up in that gear to a road speed of 65 m.p.h., at which speed there is an automatic change to fourth. If it is desired to move back from fourth to the third gear for hill climbing or quick pick-up in traffic, the driver, at any road speed below 55 m.p.h., may go into that gear instantly by fully depressing the accelerator pedal. On down grades, the driver may flick the control from second to first forward position, thus employing second gear as a decelerating force. "This automatic safety transmission, which was offered only after five years of development and testing, represents one of the most important contributions that Oldsmobile has made to modern motoring," asserts C. L. McCuen, general manager. The wheelbases of the Six and Eight respectively are 117 inches and 124 inches. The Six develops 95 horsepower and the Eight 110 horsepower. Each series is offered in seven attractive new body types by Fisher: the Two Door Sedan; Two Door Touring Sedan with trunk; Four Door Sedan; Four Door Touring Sedan with Trunk; Business Coupe; Club Coupe and Convertible Coupe. All closed Oldsmobiles are built with seamless steel turret tops and Fisher Unisteel body construction.

Dealers Enthused In 1938 Outlook For Chevrolet Car. Mills Representatives Return After Attending Showing At Dallas This Week. L. Short, sales manager and others associated with the Mills Chevrolet company, returned today filled with enthusiasm over the outlook for 1938 after attending a meeting of zone dealers at Dallas Thursday where they obtained their first inside information on the new 1938 Chevrolet soon to be introduced to the public. The new car embodies so many advances as to assure heavy demand, Short reported. Plans for the most spectacular new car introduction in Chevrolet history are being rounded out. Accompanying Short to the Dallas showing were Homer Moon, Floyd Quinney and John Holt. Each of the Mills company representatives advanced the opinion that the approaching announcement period will see a greater public interest in the new model offerings than has ever been seen before. The statement was based on the fact that the new models embody many vital advances in safety, performance, economy, comfort and style. SHOP IS IMPROVED. Roy Dozier has added considerably to attractiveness of his barber shop by giving interior of the building a new coat of paint. Cotton Harvest Is Checked After Rain Falls During Week

Pickers Turn From Fields To Town To Increase Trade At The Stores

Rains that have fallen at intervals during the week served to check progress of the cotton harvest and turn attention of pickers from their work in the field to that of coming to town and doing some shopping. The result has been a material boost in business at Colorado and other points in the county.

The rains were "spotted," reports gathered by The Record show. In some communities only light sprinkles fell, while in others heavy downpours that sent creeks and canyons on a rampage fell. Some damage to field crops and public roads resulted from flood waters in remote localities.

Due to absence of high winds the rain is believed to have brought little damage to open cotton in the fields.

WHEN DAYS GET SHORTER THEN IT'S PANCAKE TIME

When days get a little cooler and shorter and appetites a little keener, then everyone knows it's pancake time. Of course, to make 'em quick, and get 'em fluffy there's nothing quite so good as prepared pancake mix. However, for a change one can surprise the family with oatmeal pancakes.

Oatmeal pancakes are baked from the following ingredients:
3 cups Quaker Oats 2 cups milk
1 cup water 1 egg, well-beaten
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons melted shortening
Sift flour, measure, and sift with baking powder and salt. Combine water, oatmeal, milk, shortening, and egg. Add to first mixture. Beat until blended and drop by tablespoonfuls on hot griddle.

BETTER SIGHT LAMPS WERE DESIGNED FOR SEEING . . .

All of the experience of lighting specialists and scientists interested in better vision was combined in designing this new type of lamp. The result was a lamp that is scientifically correct—and in addition, is attractive.

This lamp is the Better Sight Lamp, with the tag of approval from the Illuminating Engineering Society, which provides the right kind of glareless light for easy seeing.

The glass diffusing bowl serves two purposes—it softens the light that is thrown downward on the reading surface, and reflects light to the ceiling and throughout the room to provide general illumination and reduce shadows.

"LOOK FOR THIS TAG"

Tri-lite floor lamps provide a good light for reading, and also a general illumination throughout the room.

Lounge lamps are placed by lounges or easy chairs to provide a good light for reading comfortably.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Found out who's mainly responsible for the beauty of the Colorado High school campus, a beauty mentioned in this column last week. . . . The responsible party, according to school authorities, is Ronald Winchester, school janitor. . . . A tip of our hat to you, Mr. Winchester. . . .

The town was filled Monday with Crane people here for the funeral of Arthur Niebuhr, Jr., Crane High school coach. . . . All the Crane football boys were here, and practically all the Crane teachers, to say nothing of many other carloads of Crane people. . . . Eight of the football boys were pallbearers. . . . Little more than a week before they had played their last football game under Niebuhr's direction. . . .

But Niebuhr's closest friend, a man who was his roommate in the University of Texas, didn't get here in time for the funeral after traveling hundreds of miles since dawn. . . . Having spent the week-end in another state, this friend returned to his home in Henderson Monday morning and received word of Niebuhr's death. . . . He immediately started for Colorado. . . . Traveling fast in an effort to reach here in time for the funeral, he was arrested in Sweetwater, fined for speeding, and held so long that the funeral was over when he finally got here. . . .

Went to the football game Friday night prepared to ward off the shivers I'd been suffering from nippy breezes the other Friday nights. . . . And then the nippy breezes didn't materialize and I nearly suffocated, what with getting so excited and all. . . . Others around me were in the same shape. . . . Such weather this Texas has. . . .

It's whispered about that Newby Pratt, assistant coach of the Wolves, carries a rabbit's foot. . . . Well, if that rabbit's foot has anything to do with the kind of team we have this year, then some of us fans are in favor of a good, old-fashioned rabbit drive in Coach Pratt's honor. . . .

People exclaimed "What!" with widened eyes when they heard Tuesday afternoon that, for the second time within less than a month, a man had dropped dead of heart failure in the main hall of the courthouse. . . .

It was brought to our attention recently that when Sam J. Smith, former Coloradoan, died in McAllen some months ago, the Waco Journal devoted all of J. M. Pittillo's "Folks" column to a tribute in his memory. . . . Mr. Smith and Mr. Pittillo were long-time friends. . . .

Here's my predicament, and probably yours and yours, very aptly expressed by a Mexican cotton-picker in Max's Wednesday morning: He said, dolefully, that he had used all his money to buy ice to keep cool in the summer time and now he doesn't have any left to buy clothes to keep warm in the winter time. . . .

If someone has visited you recently soliciting ads to finance the buying of new song books for the White Church of Christ near Colorado, H. L. Baker wants you to know that his church is not sponsoring or endorsing any such movement. . . . Three women, all strangers in Mitchell county, are said to have canvassed a part of the town for such ads late last week. . . .

LEAVING ON VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Millington plan to leave Friday on a two-weeks vacation. Their first stop will be to visit the Rev. and Mrs. Dick O'Brien in Stamford. Other places they plan to visit are Oklahoma City and Mineral Wells. They plan to spend a week in the latter place.

WOLF SQUAD CHALKS UP 155 POINTS TO ONLY 29 CREDITED TO OPPONENTS

In four games for the season, two of them conference affairs, the Wolves have chalked up a total of 155 points to 29 credited their opponents as the annual schoolboy parade is taking definite form in District 6-B.

Largest score for the Wolves was registered Friday night in dispute with Rotan. The figures were 52-13. In initial game with Stanton a few weeks ago the score was 38-0 in favor of Colorado. The Hamlin Pied Pipers were routed 26-0 a week later, and the Merkel squad went down in defeat on night of October 1 to the ratio of 39-7.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)
