ROSCOE PLOWBOYS ARE INELIGIBLE, ACCORDING TO NEWSPAPER STORIES

Stories to the effect that Roscoe's Plowboys had been declared ineligible for the 1937 championship of football district 6-B and suspended from league play in 1938 were carried in state papers Wednesday and Thursday.

The player on whom the ineligibility charges were based is Carrol Toone, guard on the bi-district championship team, according to the state paper stories. It is charged that the boy's birth certificate in the bureau of vital statistics at Austin had been altered. His real age is said to be 4 days over the age limit for league play.

With Roscoe's championship forfeited, the championship cup of district 6-B automatically goes to Loraine, leaving Colorado tied with Roby for second place.

John E. Watson, superintendent of Colorado schools, and other Colorado school officials made no comment on the ruling except to say that they believe that any alteration, if there was alteration as charged, was done without the knowledge or consent of Supt. I. R. Hutchinson and other Roscoe school officials.

THEATRE NEWS

By SHERMAN HART, Mgr. "EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY" Palace—Friday and Saturday January 21 and 22

With the gay '90s furnishing the period and background so well suited to the popular Western talents, curvaceous Mae's current starring picture emerges as a robust and vigorous comedy, sure to please her many fans as well as anything she has ever made and endowed with the qualities to win her new admirers since it avoids to a large degree the suggestive innuendoes which have heretofore been identified with her screen appearances.

Players are: Mae West, Edmund Lowe, Charles Butterworth, Charles Winninger, Walter Catlett, Lloyd Nolan, Herman Bing.

"STELLA DALLAS" Palace—Saturday Midnight, Jan. 22 Sunday-Monday, Jan. 23 and 24

"Stella Dallas" has become a motion picture legacy for a new generation, for Samuel Goldwyn has given it such brilliant and beautiful production that it will certainly be regarded as one of the year's finest films. Fundamentally a sob-sister story, the picture has, by the sheer artistry of its fabricators, been spared any maudlin tendencies. It will be smash boxoffice. Barbara Stanwyck draws her portrayal of the title role with superlative, if erratic, skill. Anne Shirley's sincerity and simplicity stamps her performance as great, but it is the remarkable artistry of Alan Hale which adds the master touches to the picture's highlights.

Directed by King Vidor. Players are: Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles, Anne Shirley, Barbara O'Neil, Alan Hale, Marjorie Main, Edmund Elton, Tim Holt.

"TOAST OF NEW YORK" Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday January 25 and 26 Bargain Nites

A surging saga of finance when America was young and Wall Street was the unrestricted hunting grounds for those whose raids laid the foundations for many great fortunes, this more or less historically accurate portrayal of the life of Jim Fisk and his contemporaries is screen entertainment of the highest order. It has action, romance, comedy and every other recognized element necessary to making a great audience picture, and it is academic to observe that these qualifications assure rich box-office returns. In the part of Fisk, Edward Arnold finds one of those made-to-measure roles which he assimilates with the same fine-shaded gusto that characterized his work in "Diamond Jim" and "Come and Get It." Rowland V. Lee directed.

Edward Arnold, Cary Grant, Frances Farmer, Jack Oakie, Donald Meek, Thelma Leeds, Clarence Kolb, Billy Gilbert.

"ESCAPE BY NIGHT" Ritz—Thursday Only, Jan. 20th

Gangster story with a new and refreshing slant, this first of Harold Shumate's productions for Republic, easily transcends in entertainment values and production excellence the budget class in which it was made. It can proudly travel in the company of many a more pretentious screen offering. William Hall, innocent, becomes embroiled in a gangster war and because of circumstantial evidence is forced to flee with three mobsters and a moll. The quartette hides out, posing as summer boarders, on the farm owned by blind Charles Waldron and his daughter, Anne Nagel. The influence of decent people and the rural community has its effect and the trio decides to go straight after working hard to rehabilitate the rundown farm. Directed by Hamilton MacFadden.

Players are William Hall, Anne Nagel, Dean Jagger, Steffi Duna, Ward Bond, Charles Waldron, George Meeker.

"SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES" Ritz—Friday and Saturday January 21 and 22

Easily the best of the current crop of Gene Autry's in which there is a happy blending of songs and action. In this one, Autry is the foreman of a ranch owned by Polly Rowles, newly graduated from an agricultural school, who arrives with her two girl friends. Not realizing the ranchers' hatred of sheep, she is duped into buying a truckload from an unscrupulous neighbor. The rest of the story keeps Gene busy rectifying her mistakes, saving her ranch in a nicely accelerated climax and falling in love with her. Some pleasant numbers are sung by Gene and Polly's girl friends.

Players are Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Polly Rowles, Ula Love, Ruth Bacon, Jane Hunt, George Chesebro, Edward Hearn.

"IT HAPPENED IN HOLLYWOOD" Ritz—Sunday and Monday January 23 and 24

Out of the ranks of Grade B pictures, there occasionally comes one that is loaded with surprises. "It Happened in Hollywood" is one of those, telling an interesting story with a novel twist for a climax. It deals with the rise of a western star, his fall with the advent of sound films and his come-back. Hollywood's secrets are unveiled in scenes of a picture in the making and of unsung actors and actresses working as stand-ins for their more famous counterparts. Richard Dix is a cowboy star who fades into oblivion when the screen becomes vocal. He stays out of pictures rather than portray gangster roles. A homeless lad who is an admirer of Dix is indirectly responsible for his getting a break. Richard Dix handles his role nicely. Harry Lachman's direction rates plaudits.

Players are Richard Dix, Fay Wray, Victor Killian, Franklin Pangborn, Charlie Arnt, Granville Bates.

"THANK YOU, MR. MOTO" Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday January 25 and 26

Audiences who saw and liked the first "Mr. Moto" film will be enthusiastic over this second in the series. It is replete with the action, thrills and melodramatic suspense which were strong selling points in the first. The action, however, has been refined, the thrills have been toned down and the drama has been developed in a less spectacular manner. Lorré again gives a faultless portrayal as the dapper Japanese detective and the support by Pauline Fredrick, John Carradine, Philip Ahn and Sidney Blackmer is laudable. Blackmer steals a group of ancient scroll paintings which show the location of a priceless treasure. Before he can

LORAINIE CAGERS DOWN WOLVES IN THRILLING GAME

Four of The Five Lorainie Winning Points Are Made In Last 30 Seconds

With Lorainie scoring four of its five winning points in the last 30 seconds of play, the Colorado Wolves were defeated by Lorainie 24-19 on their home court Tuesday night in one of the most thrill-packed cage games of the season.

The Wolves led Lorainie 3 to 1 at the end of the first quarter, and the teams were tied 9-9 at the half. Lorainie was leading 18-17 at the third quarter closed. The score was 20-19 in Lorainie's favor 30 seconds before the game ended. Lorainie made two free pitches and one field goal in that 30 second period.

Tommy Chadwick, one of Colorado's high point men, fouled out early in the fourth quarter. Hoover of Lorainie was high point man of the game with 9 points to his credit.

Curtis Woods of Colorado scored five points to lead Colorado's field. Each Colorado player scored. Chadwick making four points, Junior Cox four points, Grover Williams two points, Sam Richardson two points, Burl Ballard two points, and Earnest Smith one point.

The next scheduled game for the Wolves will be with Roby at Roby Friday night.

Truett Barber Of Colorado Enters Race For Office Of 32nd District Attorney

Truett Barber, Colorado lawyer, announced today that he will be a candidate for election to the office of District Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, composed of Mitchell, Scurry, Nolan and Borden counties. Relative to his candidacy, Mr. Barber said:

"I fully realize the importance of the District Attorney's office in the affairs of local and State government. I further realize that any man who successfully administers the affairs of that office must put forth a maximum of study and hard work, regardless of experience or other qualifications. As a lawyer, I have always been especially interested in the type of legal work encountered and administered in the District Attorney's office, but in announcing for the office, I would make no unusual statements or promises. It is elementary that the successful District Attorney must aggressively prosecute all law violations that come within the jurisdiction of that court, and that he must fully cooperate at all times with the grand jury and local peace officers in all matters pertaining to investigations and law enforcement. In this connection I believe the office should practice economy in all investigations to eliminate unnecessary expenses in trivial matters and to conserve public funds.

"I will very much appreciate a sincere investigation by the citizens of the 32nd Judicial District of my fitness and qualifications for the office of District Attorney. I will make an active campaign, but I will no doubt fail to contact some of you personally and I take this opportunity to solicit your support."

Truett Barber is the son of a Mitchell county family, and the grandson of the late C. P. Conaway, pioneer rancher and stockman of that county. He has spent the greater part of his life in the county, having received his early schooling there. He attended the University of Texas at Austin, and returned to Colorado several years ago to associate himself in the general practice of law with Chas. C. Thompson and his brother, Dell Barber. He is married and has two children.

Truett Barber, who is candidate for the office of district attorney in the 32nd judicial district.

TWO DEFEATS HANDED TO MERKEL BY C. H. S. CAGERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Two top-heavy defeats were handed to Merkel High school cagers by the Colorado High school Wolves and the Colorado freshman team in games at the Colorado gym Friday night.

Jack Christian's quintet, winning 29-8, took the lead early in their game and held it throughout the play. The starting lineup included Earnest Smith, Junior Cox, Burl Ballard, Thos. Earl Chadwick, and Curtis Wood.

Also victorious by a big margin was Newby Pratt's junior quintet, which won the Highland junior invitation tournament last week. These boys, all freshmen in Colorado High school, played Merkel's second team and won, 23-5.

He promises to do his utmost to turn in a satisfactory, conscientious record of work if elected.

WESTBROOK GIRLS WIN IRA CAGE TOURNAMENT

Westbrook's girl and Ira's boys won hard fought games Saturday night to take the championship trophies in Ira's invitation basketball tournament.

Ira nosed out Sylvester, 22-21, in the boys final, a tight game all the way. The two teams were deadlocked at the end of the third period. Bryant of Ira was high scorer with 9 points.

The Westbrook girls came from behind in the closing seconds of play to nudge Byron, 18-17. Seale, Byron forward, was high scorer with 14 tallies. Westbrook's leading point maker was Coston with 9.

In the consolation finals, Coahoma's boys downed Dunn, 20-12, and Ira's girls beat Hermligh 34-12.

Cecil Laniers Here

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lanier of Midland spent the week-end here. Mrs. Lanier's mother, Mrs. R. B. Mrs. McDonald will also visit in New Mexico and Monahans before returning home.

Editorial From Col-Tex 'Safetygram' Gains Interest Of Business Men Here

At the suggestion of some Colorado business men the following editorial is being reprinted from "The Safetygram," monthly publication of the Col-Tex refinery, one of Colorado's largest industrial concerns:

"THINGS COLORADO SHOULD HAVE"

"More harmonious relations with surrounding towns would mean a great deal to the welfare of Colorado and the county as a whole. Time was when petty jealousies between neighboring towns added a bit of spice and spite to the prosaic job of living, and in a small way detracted from the tedium of doing nothing at all. But that time has passed. We are now living in a day of keen competition in all lines, and none of us can live to ourselves, be we individuals or communities. We have outmoded the horse and buggy transportation days and time and distance have been annihilated.

"People in outlying communities from major trade centers are no longer isolated. They no longer need to wait for weeks and months in order to find out what is happening round about them. Radio and automobiles have brought the world to their very doors. It seems strange, then, that some towns should still be practicing the antiquated methods of our pioneer forefathers, by allowing little petty differences stand in the way of progress for the entire community. Such actions are child-like and indicate a lack of mature judgment on the part of those responsible for such practices.

"In this connection, we feel that something should be done by those in position so to do, in our own backyard. For years a feeling of jealous enmity has existed between adjoining towns, which has retarded every movement brought up for the betterment of the county as a whole. Seems to us that a rare opportunity exists for us folk of Colorado to shed the juvenile and petty practices of the past and start catching up with the present. Organize goodwill trippers and go at the thing as individuals to bring about a feeling of common good among our communities. A kind word—a thoughtful gesture on our part might start the ball rolling. Let's try it, Colorado—what do you say?"

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

(Received too late last week)
"Happiness grows by our firesides, and it is not to be picked in strangers' gardens."

We are very proud of our faithful Sunday school members who try to find their places with us each Sunday morning. Sunday there were 34 present, but my, oh my—there were only 154 chapters read. Seniors! What has happened? These adults think you only read for socials, well lets show them that we can "out read" them—socials or not. Perhaps they had better start a few contests of some sort if they think that has so much influence on our "chapter reading." Come on boys and girls lets show mamma and papa that contests are good for enthusiasm.

Each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock there will be Sunday school classes at Rogers. Any age person any size person can and may find a place there for himself. We extend a very hearty welcome to each of you. Come!

WOMEN IN THE STUDY CLUBS

Hesperian

One of the outstanding programs of the year for the Hesperian club was the "International Good Will Day" meeting at the home of Mrs. John E. Watson—Friday afternoon.

Literature for the program was furnished by Congressman George Mahon. Mrs. S. H. Millwee, secretary of state in the club, presided, and at the close of each topic conducted a round table discussion which added much to the interest of the meeting.

All topics came under the general heading of the United States' cooperation with other nations in dealing with affairs of the world. Mrs. J. W. Randle talked on "Keeping Peace in the Orient," Mrs. Nat Thomas on "Keeping China From Being Further Partitioned," Points on "How Nations May Be Induced to Keep Their Treaties" were outlined by Mrs. Sam Wulfjen. A discussion of "The Importance of the Philippines from the United States Point of View" was made by Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, while Mrs. J. G. Merritt gave "The Native Philippines' Point of View."

Business included the paying of initiation fees by Mrs. Bennett Scott and Mrs. J. D. Williams and the appointment of Mrs. Bill Coffey, Mrs. Vivian Shropshire, and Mrs. Rees Jones on the year book committee, with Miss Gladys Miller to work out Better English drills. Mrs. Millwee was appointed critic, and Mrs. Merritt historian. Members were asked to report next time on a course of study for next year. A loan fund report was made by Mrs. Thomas. The club voted a card to Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, its honorary life member who recently underwent an appendicitis operation in San Antonio.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Coffey.

Standard

Studying scenes three and four from Act One in "Merry Wives of Windsor," the Standard club met Friday with Mrs. Hubert Smith at the Harry Ratliff home.

Mrs. J. A. Buchanan was leader. A comparison of Falstaff in this play with Henry VIII was given by Mrs. J. Lee Jones.

Tea hour guests were Miss Hennie Merrivether, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, and Mrs. J. E. McCleary. Members present were Mesdames J. A. Buchanan, P. C. Coleman, R. D. Buchanan, R. B. Terrell, H. L. Hutchinson, Jr., L. W. Sandusky, Jones, and Hubert Smith. Next hostess is Mrs. Hutchinson.

Self Culture

An original child welfare program which won first place in a contest sponsored by the department of education of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs during the state convention in Austin in November was presented when the Self Culture club met Friday with Mrs. Lee Lavender.

Mrs. Dell Barber, who worked out the prize-winning program, was leader. Roll call was answered with "A Childhood Problem and How I Solved It." Mrs. Barber opened the program with a talk on "What Mothercraft It."

Other topics following her introduction were: "Some People Never Grow Up," Mrs. W. D. McClure; "You and Your Child's Teacher," Mrs. M. J. Dawson; "Give Them Freedom to Read," Mrs. L. B. Elliott; "Education for Marriage," Mrs. Lee Phenix. Mrs. Barber closed the program by reading a poem, "A Mother Remembers."

During a business session the club voted to sponsor a health examination of school children in February. All doctors and dentists of the town have agreed to cooperate in the examination, it was reported.

The club will meet next with Mrs. McClure.

1921 Study Club

"Art Appreciation" was the study topic for the 1921 Study club Friday at the home of Mrs. Sam Majors, who is again an active member in the club after a leave of absence covering the months before Christmas.

Leader was Mrs. W. W. Rhode. "The American Scene in Art" by Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr., and "Influence of Art in Industrial Design" by Mrs. J. M. Doss were the opening topics. Mrs. Harry Ratliff read a paper sent from San Antonio by Mrs. F. R. Sproule on "Federal Art Projects," and also substituted for Mrs. Ray Womack in giving a paper on "American Murals." Mrs. Womack has been voted a leave of absence from club work.

The club's meeting this week will be with Mrs. J. E. McCleary.

Zetagathian

Meeting of the Zetagathian club was held on Tuesday rather than Friday because some members who were to take part on the program planned to be out of town Friday.

Mrs. Jimmy Cook was hostess with Mrs. Truett Barber as leader.

Review of Elizabeth Bowen's "House in Paris" by Mrs. Jack Cox was the main part of the program. A salad course and coffee were served.

and her sister Bonnie Mundell. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Moore were visitors in the Rogers community Tuesday night.

NEWS

You said it! Watch this part of the paper for the date, price and other features pertaining to "Phantom Bells" that breath-chilling mystery that's soon to be here. Don't miss it folks. It's the biggest show of the season bar none. Watch for it, it's almost here.

EDITORIAL

MORE ABOUT BAPTISM

This column does not care to go into a scriptural argument but here are statements made that should be corrected.

Minister J. C. Taylor of Georgetown jumps on The Snatcher in the Georgetown Sun. Here is his letter:

The Editor of "Snatches of here and there" gets back on the subject of baptism in The Sun of Dec. 24.

If I were he I certainly would let that subject alone so far as denying its place in the plan of salvation is concerned until I met the arguments based on plain Bible teaching which I set forth in "The Sun" last spring.

However, I am glad he has come out again, for it gives me an opportunity to show how far from reason and Bible teaching he goes in his statements. He said: "Persons can believe on the Lord and be saved without baptism." Jesus Christ said: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Mark 16:16. And Peter said: "Repent, ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins." Acts 1:38. Christ and Peter make baptism a condition of pardon in the age in which we live.

Should we believe Christ or the Snatcher? He knows nothing about the covenants and the changes in plan since the old covenant was taken away and the new became operative, for if he did he would not make such statements as he made in the discussion last spring or those he made in the recent issue of the paper.

He says: "Belief and salvation open the door to the triumphant church." But that "Salvation and baptism open the door to some branch of the militant church."

How about a little proof for such a statement, Mr. Snatcher? Where do you read about a branch or branches of the church in the Bible? Do not go to John 15th Chapter and say that these branches referred to are churches or denomination. Jesus said they are men. You say, "Persons can not be baptized and saved without belief on the Lord." Certainly not. But will you tell us just what your position is concerning the relation of faith to salvation? What about the non-elect as per your doctrine? If your doctrine of election and unconditional salvation is true, I want you to tell us if a non-elect baby could die in infancy?

Too, what about your practice of doing what you call baptism to babies? Do they get salvation before baptism? I am talking about your position now. I do not believe little babies are lost. They are safe till they reach the age of accountability and go astray. But your church teaches they are born lost. When you baptize a baby is it saved? If so it was saved and baptized without belief, for it is too young to believe.

If you will just continue with me I will make you deny the doctrine of your church or say that people can be saved without faith. You do not believe that people have to believe to be saved.

Tell us, can a non-elect baby die in infancy?

JOHN C. TAYLOR

Here is the answer:

Mr. Taylor does not quote all of Mark 16:16. He quotes only the part of the verse which he thinks supports his particular creed. The remainder of the verse reads: "But he that believeth not shall be damned." Thus, salvation is a matter of belief and condemnation is a matter of unbelief. Besides, all Bible scholars know that Mark 16:9-20 is not included in the oldest manuscripts.

The New Testament was inspired by the Holy Spirit in the Greek language. We must accept it that way. In regard to Acts 2:38 (he has it Acts 1:38 which is incorrect), the Greek preposition translated "for" is sometimes translated "because of." Without a doubt, people who have been saved ought to be baptized "because of the remission of sins." Baptism does not save them, but because they are saved, they ought to follow Christ in baptism. If anyone doubts what Peter means let him read Peter's epistles. In I Peter 3:21, he makes this statement: "The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God), by the resurrection of Jesus Christ." Surely this Scripture ought to settle the matter once for all. Baptism is a figure. It does not and cannot save, but it does symbolize the great experience of salvation, that one has died to sin and has arisen to new life. He is cleansed by the blood of Christ. Baptism is a figure of these things.

The only place in the New Testament where the specific question is asked "What must I do to be saved?" is in Acts 16:30. The question is answered immediately. Paul does not tell the jailer to join a church, to be baptized, and etc., but "believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." In Ephesians 2:8 we read, "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast."

The thief on the cross was saved (Luke 23:43). He had no choice to be baptized or join a church. In the tenth chapter of Acts we have the account of Peter's preaching to Cornelius and his household. Cornelius and the members of his household were unsaved (Acts 11:14). But while Peter preached Christ to them the Holy Spirit fell upon them (Acts 10:44) and they magnified God (Acts 10:46). Then it was that Peter proposed that they be baptized (Acts 10:47). Certainly any man who has received the gift of the Holy Spirit is a saved man (Ephesians 1:13), for the Holy Spirit is given to all those who believe on Christ. Therefore, it is clear that Peter did not propose baptism until after Cornelius and his household were saved.

Mr. Taylor is right in saying that there are no branches to Christ's church. He is also right in denying infant baptism for there is no record of such a thing anywhere in the New Testament. Children who die in infancy are taken care of through the efficacy of Christ's blood, but children who live long enough to reach the age of accountability must make definite choice of Christ for themselves. When they believe on Jesus Christ, they are saved. "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." John 3:36.

My good friends, Jno. A. Thompson and H. L. Baker, who are always jumping on me, and all others who preach that we are saved in the Act of Baptism, quote with great acclamation a portion of Mark 16:16 as positive proof of their position. But they only quote one half of the verse, which reads, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." remainder of the verse, "he that believeth not shall be damned." Why leave out the last clause? It spoils his doctrine.

Who is to be baptized? The believer. What is the condition of the believer? He hath everlasting life (John 3:36). He is justified (Rom. 5:1). His soul is saved (I Pet. 1:9). He is born of God (I John 5:1) Christ said, "Thy faith HATH SAVED THEE, go in peace" (Luke 7:50). That is the person to be baptized, being saved at faith, "shall be saved" throughout life.

Note this parallel sentence: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." He that entereth the train, and is seated shall reach his destination. Suppose a man enters the train, but does not take a seat, will he not reach his destination? The taking a seat involves his comfort, but does not involve his getting there. It is Faith that gives salvation. Baptism is for him who obtains salvation through Faith.

Note the words of Christ: "He that believeth and is baptized, he that believeth not . . . shall be damned." The contrast here is between salvation and damnation. To what point of time does the word "damnation" here look? To the future. It word of contrast must also look to the future, so while we are saved by faith, we "shall be saved" continuously, even in heaven.

The absolute essentials to salvation are stated in God's Word both affirmatively and negatively as in John 3:36. "He that believeth on the Son, HATH EVERLASTING LIFE: and he that BELIEVETH NOT the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." Not even a hint on Baptism in the above passage, but believe and have life, and believe not and not have life, making belief (not Baptism) essential to salvation.

In Baptism believers show forth in symbol the death, burial and resurrection of their Lord (Rom. 6:3-5 with Col. 2:12). Baptism is therefore, essential to Christian obedience and not salvation.

This writer is nearly 80 and now comes from an authoritative source the announcement that a writer usually cracks up at the age of 60 and becomes psychopathic, cool cool to you, and, if out of sight of the guard, is likely to go down the street turning hndsprings. The question arises. At what age do the writer's readers go off into silly symphonies?

Mamma: "Do angels have wings?"
"Yes, dear," replied the mother.
"And can angels fly, mamma?"
"Yes, dear."
"Daddy said nurse was an angel last night. When will she fly?"
"Tomorrow," replied the mother.

An Associated Press dispatch from Isabel, S. D., informs the world that "James Russell emerged victorious in battle with a big eagle recently, but he received painful wounds in the encounter."

That was a mighty bad place for a fellow to get hurt. We read of fellows getting hurt in the difficulty or the fracas, but it is not often that a fellow's encounter gets hurt.

I confess that I am ignorant of the location of the encounter in the human body, and I intend to ask Dr. Swann about it, but in all probability he will say that the encounter is located between the fracas and the difficulty near the lower culmination of the viaduct.

A few years ago, I read where a San Angelo nigger beat a nigger woman on the viaduct. Since then I have been wondering about these medical terms, and one of these days I am going to ask Doc Swann to explain them to me in Texas language.—Uncle Bill.

LADIES' HATS

We heard a man in this town criticising the ladies hats. This man never bought his wife a hat in all their married life and for his benefit we write.

The style of ladies hats is changed by tossing a last year's model on a splitbottom chair and sit upon it by a lady who has not dieted for a long time and after sitting upon it for an hour, whatever shape it happened to be in when she got up, that would be the style of the season.

From the shape of some of the hats we see worn on the streets it is taken for granted that they had been pressed in the manner above stated.

The latest styles in ladies' hats have been criticised by some, but not by this writer. Whatever a woman wants to wear on her head, she is going to wear it if she can get it, and she will come mighty near getting it. So it does no good to say anything about it.

If I do not like it, I will be comforted in knowing that the style will change in the next three months, so what's the use of aching about it?

A woman looks good to this columnist with or without a hat, old or new style. She would look good to me even if she wore nothing but a smile. She is going to wear or not wear what pleases her anyhow.

CHEERFULNESS

It will help us in learning the lesson of cheerfulness if we persistently train ourselves to see the good things in our common life. There are some people who seem to have eyes only for the unpleasant things. They find every bit of roughness and hardness in their daily path. But on the other hand they forget their blessings. They have no memory for the beautiful things, the things of gladness.

IN OTHER DAYS

In my passing days I like to think and dwell on the past. I often think of the many thrilling events children miss today because they have never known what it was to be astonished, or surprised about the major interest of modern living.

In the days back in the early 80's life in the South was rather serene. The postbellum hard times had been lived through, reconstruction had been completed or defeated, the carpetbaggers routed out and old mortgages paid off. Cotton was worth 8 or 9 cent a pound, sweet potatoes were plentiful, the hunting was fair and peanuts worth 50c per bushel. There was not politics only a leftover hate outlasting the efforts of the skalawag element to profit by the political exploitation of the Negroes. In such times, with plenty all around, wrought out of the land and the forests, the people of the South had no time for recreation or amusements, they had no taste or opportunity to see what was supposed to be great theatrical performances, performances in which the Booths and Barretts, the Mars Andersons and the Bernhards strutted their hour on the stage and retired pompously to oblivion.

If the moving pictures had done nothing else they would be entitled to acclaim for having made ridiculous the pomposity and egotism of the so-called legitimate actors. I look back to my early boyhood days in loving memory of the magic lantern days. The magic lantern was the forerunner of the cinema, and the gifted gentlemen who manipulated that instrument, lecturing the while, were paving the way for our Hollywood contemporaries. Yes, we progress.

"QUAKER OATS" is the breakfast I bank on!
says Great American All-Star Quarterback,
VERNE HUFFMAN, pilot of the 1937 winning All-Star Football team!

Mothers by the millions give this wonderful whole-grain cereal to children because it's so rich in food energy, so rich in flavor. Yet costs but 1/2 cent per portion. There is no other oatmeal like Quaker Oats!... And Quaker Oats has the extra value of Nature's Vitamin B—the precious vitamin you need daily to combat nervousness, constipation, poor appetite... Lay in a supply today! It's a way to save money!

OATMEAL GINGER COOKIES HAVE PLENTY OF SNAP

Many mothers with a cookie bill to fill like to bake cookies that have an unusual flavor—a flavor that will ever after be associated with the holiday season. What flavor could possibly serve that purpose better than Ginger, and what cookie could sound more tempting than Oatmeal Ginger Cookies?

Oatmeal Ginger Cookies require the following ingredients:
1/2 cupful molasses
3 tablespoonfuls bacon fat
1/4 cupful brown sugar
2 tablespoonfuls milk
1 cupful pastry flour
1 cupful Quaker Oatmeal
1/2 teaspoonful salt
1/4 teaspoonful ground ginger
Heat the molasses, shortening, sugar and milk combined. Sift together the flour, soda, salt, and ginger and add with the Quaker Oatmeal or rolled oats to the first mixture. Cook roll on a well-floured board, cut into cookies, and bake on an oiled pan about fifteen minutes in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.

QUAIL SEASON ENDS

Final day of the quail season Sunday found many Colorado hunters in the field for their last fling at this sport for several months. The season had been open since December 1. Fishing is now the only major sport open. The closed season on bass and crappie will become effective on March 1.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed, and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. Adv

Would you guess this to be an automatic gas water heater?

If you think a water heater is good for only one purpose, you should see this one. So smart in design you'd never guess it to be a water heater. Built table-high (36 inches) and with porcelain top it fits right in with modern kitchen cabinets to form extra working space! And being gas operated it provides hot water in any amount at the instant it is needed for mighty little running cost. See this new heater. It's decidedly new and practical, too!
