Geo. Washington Party For Bluebonnet Club

Carrying out a George Washington theme in her arrangements, Mrs. Alvin Myhre entertained the Bluebonnets Monday afternoon.

Her players were Mesdames H. H. Bennett, George Plaster, J. C. Ehrig, J. L. Pidgeon, H. P. Slagel, Harry Landers, Sr., E. A. Barcroft, Oscar Majors, A. C. Anderson, W. R. Motley, H. E. Grantland, and D. C. Hendrickson.

Colonial hats filled with mints were favors with refreshments of individual cherry pies, whipped cream, cheese and coffee. Mrs. Oscar Price and Miss Martha Earnest were tea guests. Mrs. Bruce Campbell assisted in serving. The club is to meet next with Mrs. Lay Powell.

Shower Honors Mrs. Finley, Recent Bride

Friends of Mrs. Estes Finley, the former Vivian Carpenter, honored her with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. M. L. Adrian in the Landers section last Thursday afternoon.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Lester Finley and were registered in a book presided over by Ethel Adrian. Games were played, one of them creating an occasion for the presentation of the gifts, which were brought into the room in bushel baskets.

Refreshments of wafers and punch were served to the following: Mesdames W. D. McAdams, J. T. Duffer, Less Duffer, J. A. Merket, Carter, Lester Finley, Fry, Luke Finley, S. P. Carpenter, Brooks, Oran Carpenter, D. R. Smith, Sr., Russ Mathers, Burdette Lee, Mary Yarbber, P. G. Carpenter, Tom Smith, Austin Higgins, and Elvie Smith; Misses Letha Mathers, Lucille Porgus, Flossie Finley, Mary Merket, Velma Cranfill, and Gladys Merket. Twenty-one others sent gifts.

STILL WITH MOTHER
Mrs. A. L. White continues to be in attendance at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Atkinson, in Knickerbocker, near San Angelo. Mrs. Atkinson suffered a stroke in December.

Seventeenth Birthday Celebrated By 1921 Study Club At Rhode Home Tuesday

The seventeenth birthday of the 1921 Study club was celebrated with an anniversary party arranged by Mesdames W. W. Rhode, A. R. Norred, Ray Womack, W. C. Hooks, and N. H. White, at the Rhode home Friday afternoon.

Cut flowers were house decorations, snapdragons, calendulas, jonquils, and white daisies being arranged on the mantle and at other prominent places. The dining table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with lilies of the valley.

Five tables were arranged for bingo, each player receiving a bingo gift in the course of the afternoon.

At the refreshment hour the tables were centered with bowls of yellow nasturtiums, candytuft, and fern, carrying out the club colors of yellow and white.

The club colors were further carried out in the refreshments of white and yellow brick ice cream and individual white cakes. A birthday candle burned on each cake.

The flowers in the center bowl were arranged as corsages, each guest drawing one at the close of the social hour.

During a brief business session Mrs. A. C. Anderson, president, announced the John Nicholson water color exhibit arranged by Rod Merritt for Friday afternoon and the Episcopal women's antique tea on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett.

Members of Methodist Church Honored Mr. and Mrs. Stoneroad Tuesday Night

Over 125 members of First Methodist church gathered at the church Tuesday night to honor Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stoneroad, Jr., who are leaving the latter part of the week to live in Lubbock.

The entertainment was sponsored by Mrs. J. T. Pritchett's Philathea class. Guests were met in the church vestibule by a receiving line composed of the following: The Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Jameson, pastor and wife; Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, teacher-emerita of the Philathea class; Mrs. Stoneroad and Mr. Stoneroad; Mrs. J. T. Pritchett, Philathea teacher; and Mrs. Lee Phenix, Philathea president.

While guests were still in the church auditorium they were led in a sing-song by J. A. Ferguson, then went to the church basement, where a George Washington setting had been arranged. Games which caused much merriment were planned and directed by Mrs. J. A. Ferguson.

As the evening came to a close the Rev. Mr. Jameson paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Stoneroad, reviewing their service to the church. Mr. Stoneroad is a member of the board of stewards, a former chairman of the board, and has been teacher of the business men's class for the past 20 years.

Refreshments of cherry pie and coffee were served. The evening was closed with a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Jameson.

Children attending the affair were entertained in the Sunday school rooms by Miss Inez Butler and some of the young people.

Institute Date Named Tuesday At Federation Meet

Date for the long-planned federation institute was set for Tuesday, March 29, when the Mitchell county federation of women's clubs met in monthly session Tuesday afternoon at the city hall.

Club reports were made by Mrs. Jeff Dobbs for the art club, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey for the Hesperian club, Mrs. A. R. Norred for the 1921 Study club, Mrs. Jack Cox for the Zetaganian club, Mrs. Charlie Shell for the Self Culture club, and Mrs. Dobbs for the Daughters of the King.

Further plans were made in regard to the county health unit. Mrs. J. E. McCleary made a library report.

Supper Club With Walter Whipkeys

The supper club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whipkey Monday night.

Dinner was served at the Colorado hotel, with bridge later at the Whipkey home. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Latham made high score. Other players were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Baskin, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Randle, the Whipkeys, Joe Mills, and Mrs. C. A. Wilkins.

Over 100 Visit Water Color Exhibit Friday

The exhibit of John Nicholson water colors which Rod Merritt arranged at Jones & Russell Friday afternoon was viewed by over 100 Coloradans during the afternoon.

Nicholson's pictures ranged in value from $15 to $150. In addition to these Merritt had on display several wood carvings of his own and some of Nicholson's water colors that belong to him. Merritt and Nicholson became personal friends while the former was working in Abilene, Nicholson's original home, though he spends much time now in Chicago.

Real camellias floating in containers on the exhibit shelf added a note of unusual beauty to the show room. The flowers belonged to Mrs. Neal Prichard, having been sent to her from California by her mother.

Arnett-Wulfjen Circle Meets

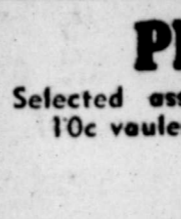

The home of Mrs. Chester Jones was the meeting-place for the Arnett-Wulfjen circle Monday.

Mrs. C. E. Jameson was devotional leader and Mrs. P. C. Shillingburg, chairman, presided. It was decided to use the early waking hour as quiet hour for prayer. Mrs. J. G. Merritt reported on conferences which she has attended over the state recently. A paper on "What a Methodist Is" was read by Mrs. Shillingburg.

Resignation of Mrs. D. L. Buchanan as treasurer was received and Mrs. A. B. Erwin was elected to fill her place. Plans were made for two Stanley Home Products demonstrations, one at the home of Mrs. Chester Jones, the other at the home of Mrs. Tom Pritchett.

THOMPSON GETS REPORT ON GROWTH OF TECH; TO ATTEND CEREMONY SOON

C. C. Thompson, who was appointed on the board of trustees of Texas Tech at Lubbock last September by Gov. Allred, has received a letter from Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college, reporting on the growth of the college. Texas Tech now has the greatest enrollment in its history, Dr. Knapp wrote. Its enrollment for this year, counting each student who is there for either or both semesters as one student, follows: Agricultural department, 448; engineering department, 778; home economics department, 432; arts and sciences. The total is 3,492. Thompson plans to be in Lubbock on March 8 for the laying of the cornerstone of the college's new $275,000 library.

Bernie Grable was in Fort Worth Sunday.

MOTHER OF MRS. JNO. SUMMERS SUCCUMBS

Friends of Mrs. John Summers, formerly of Colorado and now of Odessa, have received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Louise Harris, in a Dallas hospital on Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Summers had been called to Mrs. Harris' bedside early in the week. Her home was in Dallas. In addition to Mrs. Summers she is survived by a son, Philip Harris of Dallas.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

For a time Monday morning women, children, and non-aggressive men ventured out on the downtown streets at their own risk. Snowball fights were going on everywhere. A pitched battle in the neighborhood of the Keybrook with Lester Mannering, Jenks Powell, Lee Carter, and others trying to "get" Bob Scott, who had taken refuge behind a car in front of the theater. Finally Lee Carter "flanked" him, and Jenks and the others charged. Bob's hat fell in the muddy street and he was pretty well snowed out, but seemed to enjoy it. Lester let fly one snowball that went through the door of the Keybrook, but I suppose that was all right, since he happens to own the Keybrook. Jim Cantrill aimed seldom, but well. Frank Kelley leaned out his office window to see what was going on, and nothing but the screen saved him from getting a face full. Porter Richardson and T. J. Goss exchanged some slinging, and Brady Warren went up and down the street, taking on all comers. Saw one youngster out in a yard giving his Dad "fits" while his mother supplied him with ammunition.

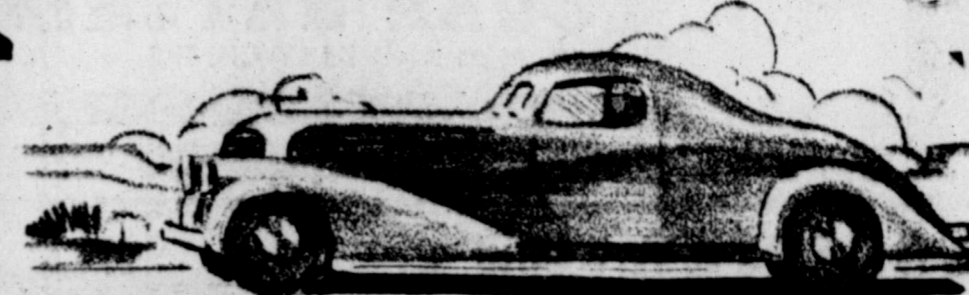

Funny how snow, coming as seldom as it does in these parts, brings out the "kid" streak in all of us. I went through the day longing for some cream, some vanilla, some sugar, and a big bowl of clean snow—all mixed together, it went by the name of "snow ice cream" when I was a kid. I remember that when the big snows came, my mother had to hide her "crocks" of creamy milk in order to have enough cream left for a "churning."

that "there will be snow on the ground here Monday morning." Even if he were just guessing, you'll have to admit it was pretty good guessing, considering the infrequent snows we've had in these parts. Joe Henry Smoot, son of the Joe Smoots, had "snowman motor meter" on the Smoot car Monday. In fact, the town was well-populated by snow men. W. W. Porter was almost one when a "gang" of snow-balls and snow-rollers got through with him.

It was recalled this week at The Record office that T. W. Stoneroad, who is moving to Lubbock to live, was one of the paper's first subscribers when it was established 33 years ago. He will, of course, continue to take the paper after moving to Lubbock. There will be a vacancy in nearly every civic organization of Colorado when he goes, and something more than a vacancy in the Methodist church. An attempt has been made elsewhere in The Record to list the various organizations with which Mr. Stoneroad is connected, or has been connected recently. And compiling that list was some job, you may be sure. Mrs. Stoneroad, you know, is a native Coloradan, and has lived here all her life.

This couldn't go in the news story on the party which the Methodists gave for the Stoneroads Tuesday night, but it clamors to be told, so here it is in the "Picked Up"—catch-all for everything that doesn't seem to fit in just right anywhere else: The highlight of the evening in point of hilarious merriment was J. W. Randle's feminine attire, which he had to don as part of a game arranged by Mrs. J. A. Ferguson. In the game the Randles and the Stoneroads were each given a suitcase and sent behind screens, Mrs. Randle and Mrs. Stoneroad behind one, the men behind another, with instructions to put on whatever they found in their suitcases. The two women emerged dressed as men. Randle as a woman. Mr. Stoneroad didn't emerge, because the dress he found in his bag turned out to be too small. If you remember C. D. Judd—and you should if you've lived here around 22 years, because he was superintendent of schools here about that long ago—you probably noticed his picture in Sunday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram. He's Dr. C. D. Judd now of the T. S. C. W. (C. I. A.) facility in Denton, and a recognized authority on governmental problems. Reading Sunday's article about his being scheduled to speak on "National Defense" during the Texas Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, and remembering what an ardent advocate of the League of Nations he was when I was in C. I. A., I couldn't help wondering how—and if—world developments and war outbreaks of the past few years have altered his beliefs. Did you ever see a new home that fitted into its surroundings more beautifully than that of Mrs. C. H. Lasky? She's in the house now, she and her nephew, O. B. Trulock, Sr., and her grand-nephew, O. B., Jr. Moved in last Saturday. The home is air-conditioned, steam-heated and everything. But to me the loveliest feature of all—not that I've seen the inside yet, mind you—is the gables. I understand that the home was planned by Mrs. Lasky with Mr. Trulock's help, and whoever thought of the gables ought to feel more than a little pride in his or her idea. It would be nice if they'd call it "The Gables"—now, wouldn't it?

FFA AND 4H BOYS TAKING ANIMALS TO BIG SPRING SHOW

ANIMALS TO BE EXHIBITED THERE NEXT TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

Eight calves and a number of sheep will be exhibited by FFA and 4-H club boys of Colorado and Mitchell county at the first annual 4-H club and FFA livestock show in Big Spring next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 1 and 2.

Three of the calves will be exhibited by 4-H club boys, who have been carrying on their feeding projects under the direction of E. J. Baskin, county farm agent. The other five calves have been fed by Colorado High school FFA boys under the direction of F. C. Shillingsburg.

The club calves, their breeders and their feeders, are as follows: "Curly," bred on the Spade ranch, fed by Billy Joe Hale of Loraine; "Albert," bred by A. B. Erwin of Colorado, fed by Garland Strain of Cuthbert; "Buster," bred on the Spade ranch, fed by Elden Adrian of Colorado.

FFA calves to be shown are: "Mac," bred by P. K. Mackey, fed by Jack Long; "Dick," bred by Erwin, fed by Waddell Strain of Cuthbert; "Otto," bred on the Spade, fed by James Cox; "Oscar," bred by Chester Jones, fed by Oscar Roberts; "Jess," bred by Erwin, fed by Raymond Uzlo of Cuthbert.

FFA boys who plan to exhibit sheep include J. F. McCade, Lee Brown, Ross Glover, Charles Stevens, Fred Jones, Clay Smith, and Harry Webber.

The boys and their calves will be accompanied to Big Spring by Baskin, Shillingsburg and John Mogford, assistant in Baskin's office.

SCHOOL BOARD BUYS BLOCK OF LAND NORTH OF CANTRILL FIELD

Purchase of the block of land lying north of the Colorado High school's Cantrill field was authorized by the Colorado school board at its meeting Monday night.

The land is to be used as a playground, or for any future need of space that the school may develop. The land was bought from R. T. Manuel.

WARNING AGAIN GIVEN ON FLYING OF KITES

With the kite flying season at hand, Texas Electric Service Company issued today its annual appeal to parents to warn children flying kites to keep away from electric power lines.

"That the innocent pastime of kite flying can be exceedingly dangerous is brought out forcibly by the fact that many fatal accidents occurred in the year just past because of children getting their metalized kites tangled in power lines," according to A. S. Legg, district manager of Texas Electric Service company.

"Too often children use metal wire in the place of string on their kites and when this wire comes in contact with a power line the result is instantly disastrous. Even plain kite strings sometimes carry current, especially if the string is wet. The best idea, regardless of how the kite is built or what kind of string is being used, is to see that it is flown in open spaces where no power lines are located," Mr. Legg stated.

"If a kite should become entangled in power lines, be sure that children do not climb the poles or use long sticks to try to get the kite down. Call our company office and a trained lineman will be sent to rescue the kite if it is possible to do so."

Employees of the electric company will pay their annual visit to local schools shortly and will make a detailed explanation of the dangers of flying kites near power lines.

CARD OF THANKS
Although it was a tragic death for our darling Jessie Claire, God through his gift of friends has greatly dispersed the shadow. To the following individuals would we especially give thanks:

Mr. Carpenter and family, Mr. Russell, The Kiker Funeral Home (Mrs. N. H. White in particular), Rev. T. A. Patterson and wife, Mrs. J. O. Dockery, Rev. Alvin Swearingen and wife, Mr. A. L. White, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Lowery, Mrs. D. L. Phillips, all those who offered their homes.

To the following groups: The Sunbeam leaders, the Dorcas class, the Intermediate Department, the people of Westbrook Baptist church and community, the pallbearers, the choir; and every word of sympathy and every deed of love.

May none of you meet with such a tragic experience, but if you should, give of his sufficient grace.

ABILENE FAIR BOOSTERS TO BE HERE FRIDAY P. M.

A communication received from T. N. Carswell, secretary-manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, states that a group of Abileneans, mostly members of the Abilene Lions club, are to arrive in Colorado Friday afternoon about 3:35 on their goodwill tour to advertise Abilene's spring livestock show and rodeo March 1, 2, 3.

The trippers will arrive from the west, and will spend about 30 minutes in Colorado, Carswell says.

LET'S FIGHT SYPHILIS
This column is sponsored by the 1921 Study club and the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs. It is written by Mrs. Carl Blasig, member of the 1921 Study club, in the interest of the nation-wide campaign now being waged against syphilis. campaign was initiated locally by the 1921 Study club and endorsed by the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs.

"Syphilis is Texas' greatest menace. It heads the list for all communicable diseases in Texas and is a greater killer than even tuberculosis," according to statistics compiled on social diseases by the Texas State Health Department.

"Public health is in danger. Families are in peril and the physical progress of Texas is retarded because this deadly disease continues to be secret. It has become permanently entrenched in 250 counties and is spreading its tipped tentacles into one of every ten homes," state health officials point out. This is a warning which all thoughtful citizens may well heed.

This fearful malady is causing 100,000 deaths annually in the United States and the appalling number of seven million people in our nation is suffering from this disease, according to national statistics.

More information on this subject will be published in future articles in this paper.

STOP GAMBLING ON TIRES

THIS IS A TYPICAL BLOW-OUT ACCIDENT

EVERY year blow-out accidents kill or injure thousands. A blow-out gives no warning. It strikes when you least expect it—throwing your car out of control.

But there's no reason why you should take this risk. Goodrich engineers have invented an amazing new safety device, the Life-Saver Golden Ply to give you real blow-out protection. This Golden Ply is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific blow-out-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. The Life-Saver Golden Ply is found in only one tire—the Goodrich Safety Silvertown, yet Silvertowns actually cost less than other super quality tires. Come in and let us demonstrate to you how this invention protects you against blow-outs.

STONEROADS LEAVING THIS WEEK FOR THEIR NEW HOME IN LUBBOCK

Colorado loses two people whose names have played prominent parts in the town's history for the past several decades when Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stoneroad, Jr., move to their new home in Lubbock the latter part of this week.

The Stoneroads have leased a home at 2215 Eighteenth street in Lubbock. They have sold their home here to Drs. Wm. S. Rhode and Oscar Rhode.

Mr. Stoneroad, who resigned as president of the City National bank here in January after 37 years' connection with banking interest in Colorado, has not yet definitely announced his plans for the future. He is considering two positions, either of which will require him to live in Lubbock.

He still holds his place on the board of directors of the bank here, and will continue to hold it after moving to Lubbock, it was announced Tuesday morning.

Mr. Stoneroad has always been a leader in civic, church, and social welfare activities of Colorado and Mitchell county. He is past president and a present director in the Colorado Lions club, a director in the Colorado chamber of commerce, a director in the Colorado Federal Savings and Loan association, a past president of the Colorado country club. He has been connected with the Mitchell County Red Cross chapter for over 20 years, serving as treasurer until his recent election as chairman. For more than 20 years he has taught the business men's class of First Methodist church. He is now a member of the board of stewards of that church, and was formerly chairman of the board. In addition he is a trustee and steward of the Sweetwater Methodist district.

Mrs. Stoneroad is a native Coloradoan. Before her marriage she was Mary Arnett, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett, Colorado pioneers. She is a member of the Shakespeare club and other organizations.

BAND MUSIC FURNISHES MUSICAL SCORE BY WHICH J. LEE JONES, SR., HAS WATCHED HIS TOWN AND COUNTY GROW SINCE 1890

The stirring martial rhythm of band music, sometimes silent, sometimes heard, might be called the musical score by which J. Lee Jones, Sr., of Colorado has watched his town and this section grow since 1890.

For playing in and directing bands has been Mr. Jones' life-hobby—a sharp and satisfying contrast to his life-work of bookkeeping.

It would require no student of character to discern what these two things, his life-hobby and his life-work, have contributed toward making him the kind of man he is today. His patient, quiet carefulness have come from years of accurate dealing with intricate figures—he has been called time and again, one of the best bookkeepers Colorado has ever produced. The ready laughter in his eyes and his colorful memory have come from his love of and participation in creating band music.

Jones is the only man living in Colorado today who was a member of the famous Stockman band of Colorado back in the late nineties and the early years of this century. The band, including 16 members, was organized in 1898, and was called the Stockman band because one of its main sponsors was H. A. McEichan, publisher and editor of the West Texas Stockman, one of the most famous newspapers of early West Texas.

McEichan, C. M. Adams, and the late R. M. Webb guaranteed the salary of the band's director, W. T. Cox, who had come here from St. Louis. The salary was supposed to be paid by contributions from Colorado business men, and these contributions were taken by H. E. Grantland, now of the City National bank in Colorado.

Members of the Stockman band, in addition to Jones, were Phil Pettitt, who was manager of Colorado's first telephone exchange; Vic D. Payne, now of Abilene; John Persons, deceased; Will and Hal Lay, sons of a Christian minister here at that time; Charles (Sig) Jones, now of Big Spring, brother of Lee Jones; J. B. F. Wigginton, printer on the Stockman who later went to El Paso (he passed thru Colorado not many years ago, operating a flea circus with a carnival); Harvey Doyle, now in Kansas; A. Ragland, Stockman printer who was a street car motor-man in Fort Worth when last heard of; Tubby Mullin, deceased, printer on the Stockman; John Rix, now of Dallas; Harry Hall, now of Carlsbad, New Mexico; C. C. Blandford, who died in Fort Worth a few years ago; Will Fortner; Matt Churchill; Cack McBurnett, who now owns the Angelus and other hotels in San Angelo, also in Brownwood.

The band, resplendent in blue uniforms with silver braid, was in great demand all over West Texas. One year it was official band for the West Texas Fat Stock show in Fort Worth.

Another year—one year in the early 1900's, Jones can't be sure just which—it was official band for the Abilene fair. The fair was held in autumn, and the Stockman band spent the entire week there, parading downtown every morning, going out to the fair grounds in the afternoon, and playing in the pit of the old opera house just south of the railroad tracks in the evening.

"Home talent" plays were given in the opera house each evening, and the Stockman band furnished music. The plays, Jones recalls, were excellent, and drew packed houses. The year that he was there the feminine lead in all the plays was done by Mae Anderson, who had moved to Abilene from Colorado. She and Harvey Doyle, the band's bass drummer, developed something of a friendly feud.

One night Miss Anderson, trying to make her play-sweetheart believe that she cared nothing for his rival, said "Why, I don't think any more of him than I do that bald-headed man in the band." Harvey Doyle was the bald-headed man to whom she pointed. The next night Doyle slipped a huge bouquet of artificial flowers into the opera house—a bouquet with a long, almost invisible string attached to it.

When Miss Anderson was receiving tumultuous applause after a certain number Doyle threw the bouquet on the stage at her feet. She took bow after bow and threw several kisses in the time-honored way of actresses before stooping to get the bouquet (the origin of which, incidentally, Doyle had taken care that she didn't see.) Just as she reached for the flowers he yanked the string and pulled the flowers from the stage. The incident "brought the house down," and Miss Anderson, being a good trooper, laughed with the convulsed audience.

In 1903, or thereabouts, the band played officially in the last mid-winter carnival at El Paso. It played at Fourth of July celebrations in Big Spring, rodeos in Midland, and at gatherings without number in and around Colorado. Business men of Colorado cooperated in making the band trips possible by letting band members who worked for them lay off without docking their pay. Most of the money that the band made—and there was very little of it—was used for buying music.

Mrs. Chapman accompanied him to Dallas. They left here last Tuesday.

Keeping Up With Mitchell Girls At TSCW

By Nina Laura Smith
Mabel Earnest Cooper spent Saturday night at Lake Dallas on a cabin party of the L'legro Club. Saturday morning Miss Cooper played with the college orchestra on a radio program over WFAA.

Did you hear the voices of the Mitchell county girls over the same station Tuesday afternoon on the college program, which is given every week from 4:15 to 4:30? Tuesday was the celebration of Founder's Day, and also announced the contributions for the newly-formed Chapel Fund. The building of a chapel is the next goal for the students of T.S.C.W. The college chorus, of which Melba Slaton is a member, had a prominent part on the program. The entire student body joined them in the singing of the Alma Mater.

Last week brought the first of the new series of concerts and lectures to the campus. First, the Federal Little Symphony of Dallas made its second appearance, and it was followed by John Mason Brown, one of the foremost drama critics, who discussed the current Broadway plays. Congratulations to Mabel Majors for making the only straight A record this semester at T.S.C.W. for Mitchell county. Miss Majors has been on the honor roll for six times. This last achievement is even more noteworthy because she has been practicing teaching during the entire past semester in addition to her duties as president of the Intermediate-Grammar-Grade Education Club and a member of the Philomathia Club. Miss Majors is now working

Mitchell Schools Lead District In Launching Visual Education Work

Two visual education machines, the first two purchased for any schools in this educational district, have been in use in Mitchell county rural schools since early this year.

Use of visual education is just now being launched in Taylor county schools and in schools in other parts of the district. A delegation of Taylor county education officials recently visited Conaway school in this county to see how one of Mitchell county's machines worked before buying one for Taylor county schools.

Mitchell county's two machines are circulated among the schools which can use them. Either Delco or electric current is required. Eight of the county's eighteen rural schools are equipped with one of these types of power. The machines are also available to Loraine and Westbrook.

The machines are projectors for either slides or motion pictures dealing with various subjects and stories used in the primary and elementary grades. Slides made by the children themselves can be used, but mostly the slides and pictures are supplied by the loan division of the University of Texas extension department.

Both machines used in this county are silent, according to Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent. Talking and sound machines are much more expensive.

Geography and reading lend themselves admirably to this new type of education, teachers say. All other subjects, including history, science, and others can be successfully taught with the aid of the machines, however.

HOLDENS LEAVE FOR LECTURES AT A. C. C.

Woodie Holden, minister to the Church of Christ, and Mrs. Holden left Monday night to attend the Abilene Christian college 21st annual Bible lectureship.

Mrs. Holden will visit with her parents while in Abilene.

HERE FOR COCREHAM RITES
Among those coming for the W. A. Cocreham funeral Sunday afternoon in addition to members of the immediate family were the following: Mrs. Cocreham's sister, Mrs. Lizzie Scott of Martindale; Alva and George Cocreham of San Angelo, nephews of Mr. Cocreham; Mrs. Hubbard Herring, niece of Mr. Cocreham, and her husband of San Angelo.

ALSO GIVES HALTER
Name of the H. H. Herrington Boot and Saddle shop, which is managed by Elmer Picken, has been added to the list of business houses donating show halters for the use of FFA and 4-H club boys of the county.

They did not want to risk getting the looks of disapproval of the faculty by leaving. A milquetoast complex would have to spoil the only fire that ever was within sight and smell of the campus.

Scene: The sidewalk beneath the window of Erna Lou Merrill and Elizabeth Taylor. Time: One night last week. As Erna Lou was talking to friends below, she suddenly became enveloped in a cloud of white. The curtains over the window had just fallen down for the second time. The stubborn curtains were persistent, for Saturday night it happened again. This time Elizabeth was the victim, but Erna Lou got the worst of it after all, because once again the same thing happened, and for good measure, both the curtains and the window-shade descended upon her head. Such is life!

Wolves Defeated By Snyder In One Of Best Games At District Cage Meet in Abilene

Although they were eliminated in the first round of play, the Colorado Wolves played what spectators described as "a grand game of basketball" when they represented Mitchell county in the district Interscholastic League cage play at Abilene Friday and Saturday. The district championship was won by Abilene's powerful, undefeated Eagles.

The Wolves were eliminated by Snyder 26-24 in a game that was one of the highlights of the tournament. The last time the Wolves met Snyder they were defeated 28-8. This time they put up a game fight all the way, and were in the lead several times during the game.

The score at the first quarter was 9 to 6 in favor of Snyder. At the half it was 15-14 in Colorado's favor, and at the third quarter 22-20 for Colorado. Ten seconds before the close of the game the score was 24-24. Snyder scoring its two winning points in that final 10 seconds.

Ernest Smith was Colorado's high point man with 8 points. Autry of Snyder was high point man for the game, having 9 points.

The Wolves, accompanied by Coach Jack Christian and Robert Coffman, remained in Abilene through the semi-finals Saturday. Abilene downed Hamlin's Pied Pipers, defending champions, 40-19, in the championship game Saturday night. It was Abilene's first district championship since the Eagles defeated Colorado in 1930.

Years of History And Memory Hovered Over Bennett Home As Antique Tea Given

Years laden with history and memory hovered over the home of Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett Tuesday afternoon as the "antique" tea of the woman's auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal church was held.

Old silver, rare glass, foreign displays, and garments which were worn by Coloradans or their relations half a century ago or more were arranged in the spacious hall and three large rooms of Mrs. Bennett's home, which is generally known as "The Prude place." The house itself, still regarded as one of Colorado's most beautiful homes, was an appropriate setting for the display because it was a social center of Colorado during the lifetime of its builders, Mr. and Mrs. John Prude, pioneer Coloradans.

Guests were greeted by a costumed house party, which included members of the auxiliary and their friends. Much interest was attracted by Mrs. Bennett's wide plumed hat and by Mrs. John Arnett's dark blue velvet riding habit. The habit was the property of Mrs. Thos. R. Smith's mother, Mrs. B. R. Russell, who is now in San Saba. The long, full skirt of the habit trailed the floor in the back.

Displayed in the old clothing division were a fur-and-bead trimmed black velvet coat and a black alpaca dress which belonged to Mrs. Lay Powell's mother; a riding habit jacket which was worn by the late Mrs. B. S. Van Tuijl—it was bought in Boston; George Washington suit which Douglas Burns wore when 5 years of age; a sateen, long-skirted and bloomed "Swim Easy" bathing suit used by Mrs. Thos. R. Smith years ago.

A carriage parasol used in the early nineties by Mrs. C. M. Adams; a bound edition of Harper's Bazaar for 1877 belonging to Mrs. C. H. Earnest; a black satin beaded blouse belonging to the late Mrs. J. E. Riordan; an 80-year-old paisley shawl and a handwoven spread belonging to Mrs. Anna Simon; Honiton lace 100 years old, Mrs. Adams; christening dresses, very long and elaborately made, used by Mrs. Roy Buchanan and the Frank Lupton girls. The Buchanan dress was lace over satin.

Among the most interesting things in the clothing display, however, were the wedding dresses and trousseau garments of pioneer Colorado women.

One of these was the satin wedding dress of the late Mrs. B. S. Van Tuijl. Elaborately made with trimming of real rose point lace, a bustle, and a train, it was almost unbelievably small in the waist.

The wedding dress of the late Mrs. R. A. Jeffress (Ida Wooten) was also displayed. It had hoops under its satin skirt. Now it belongs to Mrs. Jeffress' great granddaughter, Dana Marie Merritt.

Included in this wedding group were the wedding dress of Mrs. Lay Powell and one of the trousseau dresses of Mrs. P. C. Coleman. Mrs. Powell's dress was trimmed in beads and lace.

Mrs. John Doss had a table of articles, including oil paintings of her father's sisters, the paintings now nearly 100 years old. Also on her table were a decanter, glass plates and a cut loaf sugar bowl brought from Ireland by her maternal grandmother over 100 years ago; her maternal grandmother's prayer book and Bible from the Church of Ireland; a French-made music box over 150 years old; a tobacco jar nearly 200 years old; Malolica ware, milk glass, and silver pieces, all from 50 to 200 years old. Mrs. Doss also had on display a valuable white fringed shawl from South America.

A collection of "Dolls of All Nations" was displayed by Mrs. Earl Cramer, Mrs. S. T. Shropshire had some 70-year-old dresser ornaments. Mrs. Chester Jones had a display of both her famous slipper collection and her equally well-known pitcher collection.

Among the oldest things shown were antique vases and pitcher belonging to Archdeacon and Mrs. J. W. Heyes. A lovely hand-painted kerosene lamp which was carried by Kentucky to Missouri in a covered wagon by the parents of Dr. R. D. Bridgford attracted much interest.

Too numerous for special mention were the pieces in the glassware exhibit. Those who had pieces in this exhibit were Mrs. J. Lee Jones, Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Mrs. H. B. Broadhus, Tommy Dawes, Mrs. Ray Womack, Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mrs. Chester Jones, Mrs. Ed Majors, Mrs. Byron Byrne, Mrs. Ledger Smith, Miss Margaret McComas, Mrs. A. R. Norred, Mrs. Harry Ratliff, Mrs. Hubert Smith, Mrs. C. H. Earnest, and the late Mrs. B. S. Van Tuijl.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson had a special table. On it were pieces of malolica ware, a conch shell bought by Mr. Anderson's father in New Orleans in 1836 and used by him to call the slaves in from the fields on his Hinds county, Miss., plantation at noon and in the evenings, a real daguerrotype of Mr. Anderson's great-great-grandmother in Ireland over 125 years ago, a what-not shelf brought from Scotland by Mrs. Anderson's grandmother, a silver soup tureen made in England in 1865.

A 300-year-old urn belonging to Mrs. Joe Smoot, a "sampler" made for Dr. P. C. Coleman in 1834, a 100-year-old caster belonging to Rod Merritt, an ancient cracker jay that was the property of Mrs. F. M. Burns, a platter over 100 years old belonging to the late Mrs. H. B. Smoot, an antique doll and a soup tureen belonging to Miss Nellie Riordan were among other items displayed.

Joe Earnest contributed to the exhibit a book which once belonged to the famous theatrical producer, David Belasco. The candelabrum from All Saints', which were old when brought to the church from Ireland over 50 years ago, were also on display.

Adding to the antique atmosphere of the afternoon was the tinkle of music from Benjamin Daves' 60-year-old music box.

Merriment was furnished by "mildred's bath," a chair-like bathing tub of many years ago, and by the first "panties" worn by H. B. Broadhus.

A Chinese display had been arranged by Mrs. Bennett, who lived in the Orient for several months a number of years ago, and a South American display by Mrs. Roy Buchanan, who lived for a time in Dutch Guiana, South America.

Another special display was an Indian collection, including arrowheads, a tomahawk, and other Indian items collected and arranged by Joe Fraser and Elmer Pickens.

Tea was served from a silver service over 300 years old, the property of Mrs. P. C. Coleman. Elaborate crystal candelabra belonging to Mrs. B. R. Russell and Mrs. Frank Lupton adorned the lace-covered dining table which was centered with yellow jonquils on a reflector. Those assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Dudley Snyder, Mrs. Jamie Morgan, Miss Lou Heyes, Mrs. Merle Morgan, and Miss Frances Lupton.

Over 100 guests called during the afternoon. Silver offerings were received at the door, and will be used by the auxiliary to carry on church work.

CHEVROLET TRUCK DRIVE PROVES FUEL ECONOMY

DETROIT—Chevrolet's truck slogan, "Thrifty Carriers for the Nation," was given further factual backing today, on receipt from Washington of official AAA figures showing that the truck in which Harry Hartz drove from Ottawa, Canada, to Mexico City established a fuel economy record of 67.04 ton-miles per gallon. The unit is a 1½-ton stock Chevrolet model carrying a "payload" of 4,000 pounds of steel.

W. E. Fish, manager of the Chevrolet commercial car department, released the official data, covering the 12-day period which began Jan. 14, and summarizing the log maintained by AAA Observer Stanley Reed, who is riding the truck on its run. The "vital statistics" on the trip show that the truck covered 3,022.2 miles between the two capitals, averaging 252 miles a day, and completing the journey in an actual driving time of 97 hours 21 minutes. Average speed was 31.04 miles an hour.

It took 208.73 gallons of gasoline, costing $40.46, to make the trip, which works out at a fuel cost of $.91339 a mile. The gasoline cost per ton-mile was $.00289. These figures reveal the remarkably high ton-miles-per-gallon figure of 67.04, based on the vehicle's gross weight of 9,260 pounds.

Oil economy figures were similarly striking, Fish pointed out. Oil actually consumed totaled 2.92 quarts in 3,022.2 miles, the cost of the oil amounting to $1.07, he said. Total cost of gasoline, oil, and lubrication, Ottawa to Mexico City, was $43.84, for a total per-mile cost of $.0145 and a per-ton-mile cost of $.00313.

Special interest attaches to the results, in Chevrolet officials' opinion, by reason of the fact that the run was by no means laid out to favor the truck. The first several hundred miles were made through snow and near-zero weather, the intermediate stages through rain, with occasional stretches of mud, and the last 265-

The Constructive View

—of present business conditions warrants forward-looking policies.

WE do not prophesy, but we are telling our business customers who consult with us that there have certainly developed a number of stabilizing factors in general business conditions.

Foremost among the stabilizing factors of the present is the sound banking situation. Official reports show substantial growth in resources and a greatly strengthened structure for the nation's banking system. And a nationwide survey by the American Bankers Association's magazine, Banking, shows that a restoration of public confidence in the banks has become general throughout the country.

Public confidence is just as important to a bank as dollars and cents for it gives the assurance of stable deposits which can be loaned with confidence to sound business enterprise.

UNEXPECTED DEATH CLAIMED MR. W. A. COCREHAM, AGE 79

CEDAR BEND RESIDENT DIES WHILE DRESSING FOR DAY; FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Death came unexpectedly Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to W. A. Cocreham, 79, Cedar Bend, a resident of Mitchell county for 27 years.

Mr. Cocreham, who was recovering from an illness of flu, was dressing for the day when he died. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He had been able to be up and about the house for several days.

He was born in Somerville, Tennessee, and came to Texas when young. He was married in Martindale, Texas, and lived there until coming to Mitchell county in 1911.

Funeral services were held at Kiker chapel Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The Rev. T. A. Patterson of First Baptist church officiated, assisted by the Rev. C. E. Jameson of First Methodist church. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery. Nephews served as pallbearers.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Cocreham are the following children: Mrs. J. D. McDonald of Wickett, Wallace Cocreham of Martindale, Mrs. Cleveland Witten of near Colorado, Mrs. Octavia Beard of Beaumont, Mrs. Fred Hamner of Houston, George C. Cocreham of Cedar Bend, and Dan and Jake Cocreham of Cedar Bend.

Mrs. J. D. Wulfen of Colorado is a sister, and C. R. Cocreham of Austin is a brother.

Kiker & Son had charge of arrangements.

LONGFELLOW LOCALS

The news of the death of Mrs. G. I. Brasuell of Looney on Sunday morning was received with sadness in this community. The Brasuell family were Longfellow residents for many years before moving to Looney some three years ago and Mrs. Brasuell was known to be a noble, Christian woman, loved and esteemed by all who knew her. We extend to the bereaved family the sincere sympathy of the people of this community.

Jesse and Woodrow Thomas visited in the M. D. Mitchell home Sunday.

Misses Maxine and Leja Jane Hamrick spent Sunday afternoon with Joyce Griffith, who is recovering from measles. The little ladies enjoyed a tea party, and games, and left Joyce feeling that measles are not so bad after all.

The Guy Thomas family visited Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Mitchell Saturday night.

The J. M. Hamrick family attended the funeral of Mr. Cocreham Sunday afternoon.

Shelton and Allen Miles are recent measles patients.

MAHON SEES GAIN FOR FARMER UNDER THE NEW PROGRAM

Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, representing the 19th district at Washington, was listed by an Associated Press news story recently as being among Texas congressmen who regard the new farm bill as a "step forward" in spite of being "far from perfect."

The story follows:

"Texas congressmen from principal agricultural districts in the state have agreed generally that the new farm bill, while being far from perfect, is at least a move forward in the quest of economic justice for the farmer."

"Typical of their opinions was that of Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house agricultural committee, who said:

"The bill is the best that could be worked out under the circumstances. I do not believe it is perfect, but I think it is a step in the right direction."

"Among the most outspoken opponents of the measure was Rep. Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi, a member of the agricultural committee, who described it as 'unworkable, impractical, and unconstitutional, and a step toward loss of democratic self government in this country.'

"Representative Mahon of Colorado gave this opinion:

"The farmer wants an adequate price for at least a portion of his crop. This bill does not insure such a price, and therefore cannot be wholly satisfactory."

"More reduction in the production of American cotton by marketing quotas or otherwise will not adequately raise the price of cotton in view of enormous production abroad."

"Some provisions of the bill represent a distinct improvement over the old AAA program."

"ROSALIE"
 Palace—Saturday Midnite, Feb. 26 Sunday and Monday, Feb. 27 and 28
 Producer William Anthony McGuire's celluloid edition of his popular operetta will be sweet music to the boxoffice. If for no other reason than the magnitude and lavishness of its production, numbers, seldom paralleled and certainly never surpassed, the feature must be placed high among the season's best film musical hits. Further, it has Nelson Eddy, who, besides being in perfect voice, inculcates into his performance a human, down-to-earth quality which will add much to his already abundant popularity. Frank Morgan, as the doddering, undecided king of a mythical kingdom, whose hobby is ventriloquism and who consults his dummy on all matters of state, furnishes a hilarious comedy background and easily wins second place for thespic honors. Tops in all departments, W. S. Van Dyke directed.

Players are Nelson Eddy, Eleanor Powell, Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Ray Bolger, Ilona Massey, Billy Gilbert.

"RACE SUICIDE"

Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday March 1 and 2

The intense interest of the public in crime, and the sinister developments arising from the prosecution of racketeers is reflected in screaming newspaper headlines, magazine articles and current fiction. One of the most interesting and thrilling phases of organized crime, the deadly work of fake medical practitioners who perform illegal operations, is vividly dramatized in "Race Suicide." It's an expose of the most dastardly traffic in human blood and agony that ever came to the screen! It's a moral lesson to all beholders that you'll never forget! "Race Suicide," which comes on Tuesday and Wednesday to the Ritz Theater, is one film that you can't afford to miss.

IATAN CRASH FATAL TO BIG SPRING WOMAN

A crash just west of Iatan early Friday morning resulted in fatal injuries to Mrs. L. D. Chrane, 24, of Big Spring. Mrs. Chrane died in a Big Spring hospital Friday night.

Mrs. Chrane and her husband, known as "Blondy" Chrane, were driving home from Abilene, where Mr. Chrane had wrestled in the Sportatorium on Friday night. Chrane was driving. He said he was blinded by snow and fog and did not see the tank truck of John C. Short, which had stopped just ahead of him.

Investigation was conducted by the highway patrol, but B. N. Carter, Mitchell county attorney, stated this week that no charges have been filed against the truck driver, who said he stopped behind another car because traffic was blocked by efforts to get still another car out of the ditch. He had been stopped only a few minutes when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Chrane was the former Margaret Weed of Abilene. Funeral services for her were held in Abilene Monday afternoon.

FUNERAL HELD FOR MRS. G. I. BRASUELL MONDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Mrs. G. I. Brasuell, 54, who died at her home in the Seven Wells community Sunday morning at 8 o'clock after an illness of more than a year.

Mrs. Brasuell had recently returned from a Houston hospital where she received treatment. She had lived at Seven Wells 26 years.

She was born Etta Lou Walker in Comanche county, Texas, on May 4, 1883, and was married there in 1902. The family lived in Comanche county until moving here.

Eight of the nine children born to the Brasuells survive Mrs. Brasuell in addition to Mr. Brasuell. They are Buell and Gerald Brasuell of Houston; Morris Ray Brasuell of Corpus Christi; Mrs. O. W. Watlington and Mrs. Curtis Britton of Colorado; Mrs. D. D. Coles of Midland; Maxine and Nettie Joe Brasuell of Seven Wells; Mrs. Brasuell's father, I. B. Walker, is still living in Rising Star. She also has four brothers, John, Walter of Rising Star, Jerry Walker of Silver City, N. M., E. O. Walker of Loraine, and B. Walker of Big Spring.

The funeral service Monday afternoon was conducted by Woodie Hol-

There's a right and wrong way TO SHOVE WITH YOUR CAR!

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT ADVISES...

Try to have the two cars slightly "staggered"—not exactly in line with each other. This often helps if bumpers lock, especially when the car with its bumper below can reach a drain or similar depression. Another way is for the car with its bumper on top to get up on a curb or "hump." All of that is "just in case."

Now ask the poor fellow who wants your help to get into HIGH. Tell him to keep his clutch pedal down, letting it come back gradually only after you get his car under way.

Do your pushing with your LOW gear. That's easiest on your car... for half a block. Then if the other fellow's car hasn't started, have him get into neutral and push him up to a nearby Mileage Merchant for Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze like yours. That can't help but get him started... (the Mileage Merchant will know what to do if the battery has entirely given up the ghost). And then the rightest way to dodge further battery trouble, dangerous oil dilution—and embarrassment—is to make a point of getting sure-starting Conoco Bronze all winter! Continental Oil Co.

BAND NEWS
At last after waiting for so long a time, several of the band members have purchased sweaters. Those are: Drum Major Joe Lee, Lee Whitton, G. D. Bryant, and Hardison Allmond. These sweaters are black and red. On the left arm sleeve are the red stripes showing how many years they have been in the band.
The band has been working hard on their contest number also for their program which is to be given Sunday week.
They also plan to give a popular music program Monday week at the high school.

Typists—Chrystal Neff, Annie Louise Shoemaker, Theda Howell, Ruth Hardison, Joy Hinton.

HOWL STAFF NEWS
Part of the Howl staff met Friday morning at 8:30. Those present were Ruth Hardison, Ruth Elliott, Nancy Price, Catherine Slagle, Mary Alleen Mickle, and Louise Dockery. Changes on the staff have been made. Since Freddie Watson is no longer taking Home Economics, Nancy Price is now the reporter. Moncure Carter is the assembly news reporter since Marjorie Burgess has moved.
The staff will publish another Howl Magazine the second term of this semester.

HOME MAKING NEWS
If you have chance to be around the Home Economics department during the past few weeks, you've probably noted the well-organized activity which goes on there. First year sewing classes are starting the study of simple cotton dresses and the foods class is busily preparing breakfasts at their class periods. Silk, wool, and rayon dresses are coming along nicely with the second year girls as seamstresses behind the projects. These girls are trying hard to complete their dresses in order to enter them in the State Rally contest in the early spring. Probably one or two representatives will be taken there from both the first and second year classes.
Nancy Price.

F.P.A. NEWS
There are sixty-five members in the F.P.A. organization who have paid their State and National dues. This includes all the boys who are taking agriculture and several who are not taking the course this year. More interest is shown each day in the organization. The club meets one night out of every two weeks and the attendance is steadily growing. At the last meeting there were forty-five members present and everyone took part in the business. The club looks forward to having one hundred per cent of the members present at these meetings.
In addition, the organization was selected by the area Supervisor, as being one of the outstanding clubs in his area. This area covers approximately sixty schools. He also selected the club to compete in the National F.F.A. contest.
The club feels honored in having the State F.P.A. president visit their chapter today.
Billie Blackwell.
LIBRARY RECEIVES BOOKS ON MANNERS
The library has received some of the etiquette books that were ordered. The Senior classes have had assignments from them this week. These books are in demand since they are the first books of this nature we have had. Only ten etiquette books have come, the others will arrive later. Etiquette Jr. and Every Day Manners contain material that answer many questions we have been in doubt of.
Ruth Hardison.

SENIOR NEWS
The Seniors are at last getting ready to start on the much talked about annual. In order that they will not interfere with the class work they will work at night. There will be "midnight oil" burned between now and the time that the annual is finished.
The snow that fell Sunday night inspired a lot of "snowballing" and "picture taking" etc. John Farquhar was the hero of the day with the Senior girls, he and his candid camera. Many of the Senior girls had their pictures taken with the most handsome man! Shhhh! (Don't tell any one that it was just a snowman!) Yes, snow is positively irresistible to some people. Some of the students felt that the snow was calling them and so they played hooky. Well, it doesn't snow very often, and we must have our fun.
By the way it seems that the "love-bug" has bitten some of our Seniors and has bitten them hard. For instance, what makes that dreamy look in Quinton Hamrick's eyes every time he looks at Margie Hamilton? It looks suspicious to me. He came to school the other day with lipstick on his neck. He said that he had been in a lipstick fight. What do you think? Mary Elizabeth Seth seems to be "hitting it off" quite well with Buzzy Majors. It must be getting to be spring, or is it the snow?
Lucille Goode.

IN AND OUT OF C. H. S.
There are ghosts and goblins in the making! Mystery, shivers and anticipation pre-dominates! Have you heard? We're going to have a mystery play? Not the same old: "Girl barely escapes being killed; boy comes to rescue." Nope, it's an all girl cast. And the fact that it's all girls is a guarantee of the mosta' of the besta'. The public speaking class is really going to show us how it's done. Be watching for the date, March 1, 1938.
Snow, snow and more snow! A lovely thing, but sometimes the scene of tragedy. One nearest to ole C. H. S. was the dire calamity that one of our own Howl Staffers had. Catherine, we're surely sorry to learn that our first real snow had to cause you to get your head split open.
Say, have you heard the latest? The proceeds from "The Mystery of the Masked Girl" is going to buy a radio for our school. But what has me going in circles is where are they going to put it.
Teacher: "Jack, how did you get your hands so dirty?"
Jack Long: "Washing my face."
The basketball boys seem to have had the time of their lives in Abilene even though they did lose the game. I think one or two even met their "Waterloo."
Jeanette Simpson has a "lost my last friend" look. "Chicago seems to have claimed it" (reference to the friend).
I want to know when they started giving free picture shows. You mean you didn't know about it? Ask four couples that were in a certain Buick last Sunday night.
GOSSIPY GOSSIPERS
Despite the efforts of some people to break up the Doris Richardson-James Wulfjen affair, it is reported "coming right along."
Margie Hamilton seems to have quite a string of masculine admirers but we hear that Quinton Hamrick still rates first.
Maybe your reporter misjudged Dorothy Morrison in last week's column or maybe she has had a change of heart, at any rate we hear she gave Robert Lacy a break last Tuesday night.
Last Tuesday night two of the new clubs made up of C. H. S. students met. The 1938 Sub-Debs club and the Pard's club—brother and sister clubs, so the members say. However it didn't look like that when the boys sent representatives Buzzy Majors and Barry Joyce to the girls club with a petition for dates.
Three couples who at present seem to have no trouble at all are:
Harriet Pritchett—Howard Lewis.
Harry Etta Landers—Dookie Cox.
Hazel Brookover—Joe Robertson.
Some couples who are off-again, on-again:
Catherine Slagle—Sam Richardson.
Beulah Robinson—Dick Jones (leaning towards off-again).
Cora Mae Bodine—Earnest Smith.
Talk about perfect triangles (if there can be such a thing):
Buzzy Majors, Barry E. Seth, Regal Porter.
George Mallard, Betty Hodge, Glen Churchill.
Chick Carter, Katherine Hodges, Boone Jackson (better known as Bob Taylor).

WOLVES PARTICIPATE IN DISTRICT MEET
The Colorado basketballs left Friday for the District Interscholastic Meet held in Abilene. Friday afternoon they engaged the Snyder Tigers, the fray being called by spectators and attending coaches one of the best games in the meet. The final tally was 26-24, a last minute basket by the Snyder forward accounting for the Tigers' slim margin. The Wolves had previously played and bowed to Snyder three times, each encounter being lost by several points. The game at Abilene was hard, fast, and well-played. C. H. S. players giving Snyder all they had. Many compliments and favorable statements were heard concerning the excellent coaching of the team, and its tremendous improvement since the early part of the season. It was said that Colorado was looked upon as second in ability only to Abilene but results did not favor this.
Ten players made the trip. They left Friday morning at the end of the third period and spent Friday night in private homes in Abilene. The boys returned Saturday night. Coach Christian and Manager Coffman accompanied the players.

HORRORS! A MYSTERY
The public speaking class of Colorado high is presenting for the entertainment of the Colorado people, a mystery play. It is the promising show of the season. This play, entitled "The Mystery of the Masked Girl" by Helen A. Monsell is under the direction of Miss Gladys Miller, who has directed the winning class tournament play the last two years.
The class is not giving this play for a selfish motive. The proceeds are to buy a radio for Colorado high. With a goal like that the cast will naturally work harder on the play.
The cast is as follows:
Mrs. Moss, rooming house keeper—Rachel Wood.
Mora Moss, Mrs. Moss' daughter—Lucille Goode.
Judith Atkins, who rents the room—Mattie Bell Harvey.
Ann Bradley, Judith's room-mate—Johnnie Clay Smith.
Hulda, who cares for the rooms—Fae Porter.
Rose Lawn, college student—Shirley Kiker.
Kathryn Tremayne, college student—Amarie Gann.
Miss Pruden, college student—Cleo Franklin.
Miss Carney, college student—Theda Howell.
Scene: A rooming house near the college campus.
Time: The present.

Everyone is cordially requested to be at the high school auditorium on March first at 7:30 p.m. Ten cents admission to all.

FRESHMEN NEWS
Your reporter was sorry for not getting in her news last week, but sickness does interrupt things.
Last Friday, the Freshman magazine, "Just Fishin'" was on sale. This first copy was a poem issue, the poems being recently written in English I classes.
These classes have since been studying the short story. They have read sixteen and have discussed them in separate groups. Mr. Mason then led in discussion before all groups.
The six-weeks tests was given Wednesday over these stories.
Mary Price.

PUBLIC SPEAKING
The public speaking class spent this week on business interviews, salesmanship talks, and conversation and courtesy. One day Mr. Coffman helped the class by representing the head of a large department store, and Raymond Fuller interviewed him for a job. The very interesting interview took place before the class. This was followed by an interview between Lucille Goode and Mr. Watson for a job as librarian.
There were several salesmanship talks. John Colson sold a house, Barry Joyce sold a watch, Marie Phillips sold a phonograph, and Dale Simpson sold an automobile. Some of them would never get rich as salesmen, but most of the sales talks were good.
One day the class answered to the roll call by giving a current event of the day, and this was followed by two minute talks on conversation and courtesy.
Friday was spent in group conversations on the news of the day with hostess for each group.
The public speaking class is presenting a mystery play, March first, which promises many thrills, and chills. Everybody come.
Marie Phillips.
F. P. A. NEWS
Last Thursday night the chapter conducting team went to Roscoe for the district contest. There were four teams competing including Colorado, Roscoe, Divide, and Wingate. Colorado won first place, Roscoe second, Divide third and Wingate fourth.
Colorado's team consisted of Quinton Hamrick, president; Duff Chesney, vice-president; James Cox, treasurer; Ross Glover, secretary; Charles Stevens, reporter; F. C. Shillingburg, advisor; Corley Rogers, conductor; Rudell Glover, parliamentarian; Raymond Fuller, and Hubert Watson, green hands; and Maurice Watson, farm watch dog. This team will be rewarded a free trip to Alpine in the summer for the area contest.
Next Friday night at 7:30 at the Colorado hotel the F. P. A. boys are giving a banquet in honor of their fathers and mothers. The main speaker of the event will be Charlie Thompson and the toastmaster will be Quinton Hamrick. About 200 will attend the banquet.
